IN MEMORIAM

1911 - 1995

Chancellor, NC State University 1959-1975

John Tyler Caldwell was born in Yazoo City, Miss., on Dec. 11, 1911, and earned a bachelor of science degree from Mississippi State College in 1932, master's degrees from Duke University and Columbia University and a doctoral degree from Princeton University in 1939. He was a Julius Rosenwald Fellow at Princeton.

He taught at Holmes Junior College in Mississippi and at Vanderbilt University. After serving in the U.S. Navy he was named president of Alabama College and subsequently was president of the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville.

While Chancellor at NC State, from 1959-1975, the university grew from 6,100 students to more than 15,700, and the size of the campus doubled. He served as president of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges in 1962.

Awarded the Watauga Medal in 1986, Caldwell was cited as the "chief architect in the development of NCSU as a comprehensive and internationally acclaimed institution of higher education." He was instrumental in founding the School of Liberal Arts, now the College of Humanities and Social Sciences and the College of Physical and Mathematical Sciences. He took an active role in the planning and development of the School of Veterinary Medicine. While he was Chancellor, the university was designated a Class I Research University by the Carnegie Commission (1973).

Following his service as Chancellor, Dr. Caldwell taught political science at the university and was president of the Triangle Universities Center for Advanced Studies (TUCAS). He also served as trustee of Princeton University, the National Humanities Center, and Warren Wilson College.

He was recipient of numerous awards, including the UNC Board of Governors' University Award in 1989. Caldwell Hall was named in his honor in 1987. The university's most prestigious merit-based scholarships are also named in his honor, the John T. Caldwell Scholarships. In 1987, he was recognized with The North Carolina Award, the highest honor that the state bestows.

THE HONORABLE BURLEY B. MITCHELL, JR.

Burley B. Mitchell Jr. was sworn in as the 24th chief justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court in January, 1995, promising to continue the court's "great history of protecting rights."

A Raleigh native, Mitchell graduated from North Carolina State University cum laude and the University of North Carolina School of Law, after serving in the U.S. Navy from 1958 to 1962 as a member of the 7th Fleet, Asia. Mitchell also is a graduate of the Senior Appellate Judges Seminar, New York University School of Law, and the Institute of Judicial Administration.

His career in justice began in 1969, when he became an assistant attorney general of North Carolina. He served as district attorney for the 10th Judicial District (Raleigh) from 1972 to 1977, prior to being appointed to the North Carolina Court of Appeals, where he served until 1979.

He was named secretary of the N.C. Department of Crime Control and Public Safety in 1979 and served in that post until 1982, when he was appointed as an associate justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina. He was elected to retain his seat in 1982 and reelected in 1984 and 1992.

Gov. James B. Hunt, Jr. appointed Mitchell to succeed the former Chief Justice James Exum, who retired in late 1994.

Mitchell's career of public service includes serving as chair of the Governor's Advisory Board on Prisons and Punishment; member and chair of the Governor's Crime Commission; member of the N.C. Courts Commission; and member of the N.C. News Media Administration of Justice Board of Advisors.

He is a past recipient of numerous awards, including the Outstanding Young Man of the Year Award from the City of Raleigh, the Freedom Guard Award of Community, Religious and Governmental Activities from the N.C. Jaycees; the National Guard Citizenship Award; and N.C. State Outstanding Alumnus Award.

Justice Mitchell is married to the former Mary Lou Willett of Raleigh and has two children.

RAYMOND H. DAWSON

Raymond H. Dawson has been an integral part of the University of North Carolina for nearly four decades.

For 20 of those years, Dawson served as vice president for academic affairs and senior vice president of the 16-campus system. Upon his retirement in 1992, he continued as a member of the political science faculty at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

A native of Arkansas, Dawson earned his bachelor's degree at the College of the Ozarks and his master's degree at Vanderbilt University. He completed his doctorate in political science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and joined the faculty there in 1958. He was named dean of the university's College of Arts and Sciences and General College in 1968.

When the state's public universities were restructured in 1972, Dawson left the Chapel Hill campus to become the top academic officer in the General Administration of the newly formed UNC system.

The author of two books and numerous scholarly articles, Dawson earned distinction for his achievements in teaching. He received UNC-Chapel Hill's Tanner Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching and the Danforth Foundation's E. Harris Harbison Prize for Distinguished Teaching.

In 1987, the UNC-Chapel Hill General Alumni Association honored him with its Distinguished Service Medal.

During Dawson's tenure with General Administration, he guided the university system's academic programs, advised two presidents of UNC, and helped defend the UNC programs before the N.C. General Assembly. During his tenure, UNC's enrollment rose from 88,000 to 147,000, systemwide minimum admissions requirements were adopted, and academic standards were raised on many campuses.

He also was the key negotiator in the system's 10-year conflict over desegregation methods with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and was the principal architect of the 1981 consent decree that led to a resolution of the crisis.

The Alma Mater

Words by:

ALVIN M. FOUNTAIN, '23

Music by:

BONNIE F. NORRIS, JR., '23

Where the winds of Dixie softly blow o'er the fields of Caroline,

There stands ever cherished N.C. State, as thy honored shrine.

So lift your voices; Loudly sing from hill to oceanside!

Our hearts ever hold you, N.C. State in the folds of our love and pride.

Academic Costume

Academic gowns represent a tradition handed down from the universities of the Middle Ages. These institutions were founded by the Church; the students, being clerics, were obliged to wear the prescribed gowns at all times. Round caps later became square mortarboards; the hoods, originally cowls attached to the gowns, could be slipped over the head for warmth.

Many European universities have distinctive caps and gowns which are different from those commonly used in this country. Some of the gowns are of bright colors and some are embellished with fur. A number of these may be noted in the procession.

The usual color for academic gowns in the United States is black. The bachelor's gown is worn closed, the master's and doctor's may be worn open or closed. The shape of the sleeve is the distinguishing mark of the gown: bachelor--long pointed sleeves; master--oblong, square cut in the back with an arc cut away in front; doctor--bell shaped.

Caps are black. The tassels for the Ph.D. degree are gold and those for other graduate and professional degrees may be of the color corresponding to the trimmings on the hoods.

Of all the components of the academic costume, the hood bears the heaviest symbolic burden. The hood must make clear the level of the degree, the faculty in which it was given, and the institution which awarded it. The level of the degree is shown by the size of the hood, the width of the velvet trimming, and in the case of doctors, by the shape. The bachelor's, master's, and doctor's hoods are three feet, three and one-half feet, and four feet long, respectively. The velvet trimming in the same order is two, three, and five inches and extends all around the hood on the exposed edge. This same trimming identifies the faculty in which the degree was awarded. For each faculty there is a corresponding color; so a glance at the trimming is all that is needed to identify the faculty. A partial list of the colors follows: Agriculture, maize; Architecture and Art, brown; Science, golden yellow; Economics, copper; Education, light blue; Engineering, orange; Forestry, russet; Physical Education, sage green; Religion, scarlet; Speech, silver gray; Veterinary Medicine, gray; Textiles, wine red. The following faculties have the same color--dark blue: Anthropology, History, Languages, Literature, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology.

Academic Honors

Honors participants benefit from a more individualized and rigorous approach to their desired degree through special classes, seminars and individual research.

Undergraduate degree honor designations are:

Cum Laude--for GPA 3.250 through 3.499 (white sash)

Magna Cum Laude--for GPA 3.500 through 3.749 (red sash)

Summa Cum Laude--for GPA 3.750 and above (gold sash)

IN MEMORIAM

Chancellor, NC State University 1959-1975

John Tyler Caldwell was born in Yazoo City, Miss., on Dec. 11, 1911, and earned a bachelor of science degree from Mississippi State College in 1932, master's degrees from Duke University and Columbia University and a doctoral degree from Princeton University in 1939. He was a Julius Rosenwald Fellow at Princeton.

He taught at Holmes Junior College in Mississippi and at Vanderbilt University. After serving in the U.S. Navy he was named president of Alabama College and subsequently was president of the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville.

While Chancellor at NC State, from 1959-1975, the university grew from 6,100 students to more than 15,700, and the size of the campus doubled. He served as president of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges in 1962.

Awarded the Watauga Medal in 1986, Caldwell was cited as the "chief architect in the development of NCSU as a comprehensive and internationally acclaimed institution of higher education." He was instrumental in founding the School of Liberal Arts, now the College of Humanities and Social Sciences and the College of Physical and Mathematical Sciences. He took an active role in the planning and development of the School of Veterinary Medicine. While he was Chancellor, the university was designated a Class I Research University by the Carnegie Commission (1973).

Following his service as Chancellor, Dr. Caldwell taught political science at the university and was president of the Triangle Universities Center for Advanced Studies (TUCAS). He also served as trustee of Princeton University, the National Humanities Center, and Warren Wilson College.

He was recipient of numerous awards, including the UNC Board of Governors' University Award in 1989. Caldwell Hall was named in his honor in 1987. The university's most prestigious merit-based scholarships are also named in his honor, the John T. Caldwell Scholarships. In 1987, he was recognized with The North Carolina Award, the highest honor that the state bestows.

THE HONORABLE BURLEY B. MITCHELL, JR.

Burley B. Mitchell Jr. was sworn in as the 24th chief justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court in January, 1995, promising to continue the court's "great history of protecting rights."

A Raleigh native, Mitchell graduated from North Carolina State University cum laude and the University of North Carolina School of Law, after serving in the U.S. Navy from 1958 to 1962 as a member of the 7th Fleet, Asia. Mitchell also is a graduate of the Senior Appellate Judges Seminar, New York University School of Law, and the Institute of Judicial Administration.

His career in justice began in 1969, when he became an assistant attorney general of North Carolina. He served as district attorney for the 10th Judicial District (Raleigh) from 1972 to 1977, prior to being appointed to the North Carolina Court of Appeals, where he served until 1979.

He was named secretary of the N.C. Department of Crime Control and Public Safety in 1979 and served in that post until 1982, when he was appointed as an associate justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina. He was elected to retain his seat in 1982 and reelected in 1984 and 1992.

Gov. James B. Hunt, Jr. appointed Mitchell to succeed the former Chief Justice James Exum, who retired in late 1994.

Mitchell's career of public service includes serving as chair of the Governor's Advisory Board on Prisons and Punishment; member and chair of the Governor's Crime Commission; member of the N.C. Courts Commission; and member of the N.C. News Media Administration of Justice Board of Advisors.

He is a past recipient of numerous awards, including the Outstanding Young Man of the Year Award from the City of Raleigh, the Freedom Guard Award of Community, Religious and Governmental Activities from the N.C. Jaycees; the National Guard Citizenship Award; and N.C. State Outstanding Alumnus Award.

Justice Mitchell is married to the former Mary Lou Willett of Raleigh and has two children.

RAYMOND H. DAWSON

Raymond H. Dawson has been an integral part of the University of North Carolina for nearly four decades.

For 20 of those years, Dawson served as vice president for academic affairs and senior vice president of the 16-campus system. Upon his retirement in 1992, he continued as a member of the political science faculty at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

A native of Arkansas, Dawson earned his bachelor's degree at the College of the Ozarks and his master's degree at Vanderbilt University. He completed his doctorate in political science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and joined the faculty there in 1958. He was named dean of the university's College of Arts and Sciences and General College in 1968.

When the state's public universities were restructured in 1972, Dawson left the Chapel Hill campus to become the top academic officer in the General Administration of the newly formed UNC system.

The author of two books and numerous scholarly articles, Dawson earned distinction for his achievements in teaching. He received UNC-Chapel Hill's Tanner Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching and the Danforth Foundation's E. Harris Harbison Prize for Distinguished Teaching.

In 1987, the UNC-Chapel Hill General Alumni Association honored him with its Distinguished Service Medal.

During Dawson's tenure with General Administration, he guided the university system's academic programs, advised two presidents of UNC, and helped defend the UNC programs before the N.C. General Assembly. During his tenure, UNC's enrollment rose from 88,000 to 147,000, systemwide minimum admissions requirements were adopted, and academic standards were raised on many campuses.

He also was the key negotiator in the system's 10-year conflict over desegregation methods with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and was the principal architect of the 1981 consent decree that led to a resolution of the crisis.
