CLOVER LEAVES is published daily, Tuesday through Friday, of 4-H Club Week by the Extension Department of State College.

EXTRA !

Tomorrow's final edition of CLOVER LEAVES will contain three pages filled with pictures of various personalities and events which, this paper hopes, will make the Silver Anniversary 4-H Week gathering of 1950 a memorable one.

The staff appreciates the cooperation of Extension Visual Aids in making this added feature possible.

COMING UP TONIGHT: DRESS REVUE

Tonight brings the long-awaited double-header, the State Dress Revue and the Folk Dances by Columbus, Beaufort, Cleveland, Haywood, and Alamance Counties. The attraction is scheduled for 7:30 tonight in the Coliseum with James W. Jackson presiding.

Helen Dauncey will direct the recreation and Davie County will be in charge of evening vespers.

TO HELP YOU ON

As you walk to grave from birth;
Think not of yourself alone,
For there are many others
 about the Earth,
Who are here to help you on.
You are here for only a short stay
And anything one can do
To help a fellow travel along the way,
May in turn help you.

MAX BALLINGER AND SHIRLEY BROWN CROWNED

Max Ballinger, Guilford County, and Shirley Brown, Johnston County were crowned State Health King and Queen. Dr. J. W. R. Norton, State Health officer complimented all of the Kings and Queens as he crowned these State winners.

A beautiful festival preceded the coronation ceremony entitled "Echoes from Mother Nature." In charge of this pageant were Halifax, Nash, Greene and Edgecombe Counties.

Kings and Queens of Health from 69 counties participated in the program, top honors went to court members; Frances Brown of Iredell County, Elsie Lawson of Robeson County, Patricia Gordon of Surry County, and Billy Bryan of Bladen County, Jack Rhyne of Lincoln County, and Joseph Husband of Rockingham County.

SEEN AND HEARD
AROUND THE CAMPUS

Some 4-H'ers seem to enjoy sliding down the banks, eh Robert Williams?

HHHH

Add dancing to the many accomplishments of our director, L. R. Harrill. 'Tis rumored that he is a good teacher too.

HHHH

All those swoons you heard were for Norman Cordon, North Carolina's first gift to Metropolitan Opera. One cute little girl in the right balcony decided that Mr. Cordon had "a real pretty" voice. Well, she's "pretty" near right, 'ain't she?

HHHH

How does Mary Plato get around to attending meetings (which she does) and yet have time to write so many letters?

HHHH

Everybody misses Dr. Frank Jeter, State College Extension Editor, who is away teaching a short course at the University of Arkansas. However, he sends greetings to all his friends and promises to be at home next time you come.

HHHH

And here is an urgent announcement that just came in: Officials of the Snuff Social Club will meet Friday afternoon at 1:30 in the YMCA. Requirements for membership will be discussed at that time. President Sue Wagner of Davie urges a large attendance.....Do keep us informed, Sue.

HHHH

Wasn't that a wonderful report that Margaret Lee Stevens of Wayne gave on the National 4-H Congress in Chicago? Certainly her enthusiasm and inspiration ought to be contagious. Margaret was too modest to say that her trip was the highest honor that a member can win.

HHHH

Question: Someone wants to know who that cute girl and the good looking boy are in that green striped dress and white uniform. If you know, please call information at the YMCA.

HHHH

Seen working on CLOVER LEAVES (not as a reporter but as an assembler): Paul Wagoner, Honor Club member and candidate for State President. Paul's father is Farm Agent of Guilford. A brother, Fred, is known to all 4-H Club members.

HHHH

There was a lifting of gay voices as three of the girls on 2nd floor, Bagwell left for breakfast. They harmonized on the 4-H Club pledge - They evidently had breakfast with three boy friends for they returned singing "Tell Me Why" -- It was beautiful girls.

HHHH

Who is this person who is so against Hadacol??? His slogan, which he shouts from the window of a green chevie is "Hadacol is good, but God is better," maybe he has a point there.

HHHH

Some of the new Honor Club members seem to have had a hard time finding properties for their initiation. One member, it is said, even had to go to the cemetery.

HHHH

A State College man gives his impression of Europe, "I didn't see anyone there I wanted to copy."

HHHH

I wonder if the girls are healthier than the boys? It seems there were more queens for the health festival than kings - but then there is a "Man - Shortage" the campus over. Tough luck girls!

HHHH

What happened to our five-thirty arisers??? Couldn't take it, huh ? Seems they now awake at seven....

HHHH

Did anyone notice the lovely moon that finally broke through grey clouds to spell romance last night? The girls at Bagwell Manor would like to have taken advantage of it but "five minutes" the counsler said, and five minutes it was -- Cheer up girls, maybe they will make it ten minutes tonight -- if they can take a hint.

HHHH

Cute pet that two certain boys in group of eight have - a lizard. Not a real live one but it looks real enough. Just ask the girls who sat in front of them in the Coliseum this morning.

HHHH

Everyone admits that he is tired. The long walks are so much exercise!

HHHH

Alice Harris has decided that the next dress she enters in the dress revue will be a sun dress. Her wool dress is too hot.
