MR. 4-H SAYS

Welcome to State College! Whether you are here for the first time, the tenth time, or the last time - the welcome is still the same. Prior to your arrival your friends put forth great effort and in some instances much expense to provide a program that will make your stay here more meaningful. But without you the whole structure would be meaningless because in the final analysis, the things you learn here, which will enable you to return to your Club and to your community and help to make 4-H more meaningful there, will be the true measure of the success of the 1961 4-H Club Week Program.

You are here simply because someone else stayed at home - some to tend the crops, some to harvest tobacco, some to look after livestock--yes, some 100,000 or more boys and girls remained at home, because your Extension Agent considered you to be the Club member who would best represent your Club, your community, and your county at this 4-H Club Week--and in so doing will bring back information and inspiration to strengthen your program back home. And so with this welcome to the campus of North Carolina State College is an invitation to share with others your own experiences in 4-H, and to learn from all who participate in the program the things that will help you and others to broaden the scope and the influence of 4-H Club work in North Carolina.

You hold in your hand the key that will open the door of opportunity for greater achievements in 4-H Club work. Twist the key to the left and the door will be locked. Gently turn the key to the right and the door will be opened.

Robert W. Shoffner

NEW DIRECTOR OF EXTENSION NAMED

Robert W. Shoffner assumed duties as Director of North Carolina Agricultural Extension, July 1. He has been assistant director of the Extension Service since 1950.

In selecting Mr. Shoffner, the college chose a man with more than 32 years of experience in extension work.

His appointment climaxes a start from assistant county agent.. to Farm Management Specialist.. to district agent.. to assistant director.. to director.

As an undergraduate student at State College, he was a member of Alpha Zeta, Lambda Gamma Delta, Blue Key and Epsilon Sigma Phi--all honorary groups.

In 1958 he was honored by the USDA when they presented him with a Superior Service Award. Once more he was honored last year when the Progressive Farmer named him "Man of the Year in Agriculture."

Mr. Shoffner is a native of Burlington. He and his wife have a son. Besides being assistant manager of the N. C. State Fair since 1946, he has been quite active in civic affairs.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING ELECTION OF STATE 4-H OFFICERS

Candidates Eligible for Office: Only present or former district 4-H officers (those elected in 1958, 1959, 1960, and at the 1961 District Demonstration Days) now active in 4-H work may be nominated for one of the State 4-H Council offices of president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and historian. Club members who have completed one year of college work and are currently enrolled in college are not eligible for nomination. The officers this year will follow the usual rotation plan: President - girl; Vice-President - boy; Secretary-Treasurer - boy; and Historian - girl.

Election Regulations: (The 1960 State 4-H Council members voted for the following new procedure.) The State 4-H Executive board will meet on Tuesday afternoon, July 25 from 4:30 to 6:00. The first part of the meeting will be devoted to the approval of officer candidates.

Nominations will be made at the morning assembly on Wednesday, 9:30 a.m. in the Coliseum. Short qualification speeches for each candidate should be made by campaign managers at this time and the candidate should make a short speech. Time allotted for campaign manager and candidate together - two minutes.

Votes will not be cast by ballot on an individual basis. One representative must be selected by each county. This county representative will cast all votes in the General Assembly on Friday afternoon, July 28. Each county will have a certain number of electoral votes depending on its 1960 4-H Club member enrollment. Every county will have 4 votes plus one additional vote for each 200 enrolled 4-H members. Therefore: County A receives 3 votes in addition to the 4 votes for a total number of 7 votes. Any number less than 200 such as the 58 members remaining in the above illustration of County A, are disregarded.

All officers will be elected at the Friday afternoon assembly. There might be any number of candidates for any one of the four offices. To be elected, a candidate must receive a simple majority vote. For example, if the total number of electoral votes held by all counties combined is 600, a candidate for any one office must receive at least 301 votes before being declared the winner. If the total number of electoral votes held by all counties combined is 900, a candidate for any one office must receive at least 451 votes before being declared the winner.

There will be a roll call of counties at which time the representative will call out the county's vote for each office. Any candidates not elected on the first roll call will be voted on again. A short caucus period will be allowed for county groups following the first roll call. During this caucus period, campaigning will be allowed if desired. After this period, a second roll call will be held. The county representative will again cast the votes for the respective candidates as determined in the caucus. As many additional roll calls will be held as necessary to obtain a majority vote for each office.

Once one candidate for each office has received a simple majority vote, the General Assembly will adjourn.

The decision of how each county's allotted electoral votes are to be cast must be made by the County group. The County representative will assist in conducting the County Meetings. Counties will decide in the County meeting to be held on Thursday how their votes are to be cast on the first ballot. Votes must be cast in whole numbers, no fractions. For example: County A has 7 electoral votes. But, County A has 10 4-H delegates at Club Week. These 10 delegates vote on candidates for the various offices in their county meeting on Thursday. Their vote may be split - five for candidate R and five for candidate S. Therefore, 4 of the electoral votes may be cast for candidate R, and the other 3 for candidate S. Another example: County B has 24 delegates at Club Week and has 12 electoral votes. These delegates split their vote - 10 for candidate R, 9 for candidate S, and 5 for candidate T. Therefore; County B's electoral vote may be 5 for R, 5 for S, and 2 for T. Another example; County C has 6 electoral votes and 16 delegates and cast all votes for candidate R so all electoral votes go for R.

Campaigning: Campaigning may begin immediately following the nominations on Wednesday morning. Posters and campaign literature may be used. Posters may be used if they are placed on or near the bulletin boards in the YMCA, Dining Hall, Gymnasium, Coliseum, and dormitories. There is a limit of eight posters per candidate. Other campaign literature may be distributed only in the dormitories and cafeteria or carried by club members as portable banners or posters. Glue, nails, or any other materials which will harm structures are not to be used. Candidates should be conservative in the amount of money spent in campaigning. Large numbers of posters or other materials do not win elections. The State 4-H Council Executive Committee has gone on record opposing candidates conducting expensive campaigns.

No campaigning will be permitted during classes or assemblies, except Wednesday morning assembly when time is provided.

State College and personal property must be respected at all times. No campaigning is allowed within 50 feet of the polls. The candidate is responsible for seeing that all literature is taken down and picked up after the elections. No cars are to be used by anyone for campaigning purposes.

On Tuesday afternoon, July 25, at the State 4-H Executive Board meeting, each candidate for a state office is asked to submit to the State 4-H Executive Board 200 mimeographed copies of a summary of the candidates qualifications. These must be 8½" x 11" printed on one side only. These sheets will be distributed at this time to each county group for them to use in helping their fellow club members study the candidates qualifications to decide how to cast the county's electoral vote.

The 2nd Marine Division Band from Camp Lejeune, North Carolina

MARINE BAND TO APPEAR TONIGHT

A real treat is in store for 4-H members Monday evening during assembly. The 2nd Marine Division Band of the U. S. Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina will give a concert.

Whether playing popular marching music or a classical concert, this band creates a stirring atmosphere wherever they go. In recent months the band has played to hundreds of thousands of people in the Carolinas--at various civic and social events.

This is the second trip to Raleigh for the band this year. Thousands of people applauded them as they marched through the capital city on Armed Forces Day in May.

The band is under the leadership of Chief Warrant Officer Karl W. Rhine, who studied music at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles. He has been directing bands in the Marine Corps for over 13 years in the Far East and the United States.

In 1959 the band completed a highly successful tour of Great Lakes cities where it entertained more than half a million people. This same band lined the streets of Chicago to serenade the Queen of England upon her visit here.

It has also entertained television audiences with performances during half-time ceremonies at several football Bowl games during the past few years.
