

CLOVER LEAVES

State 4-H Club Week / North Carolina State College

OPENING ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Dr. George Hyatt, Associate Director of the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, offered greetings to 4-H'ers at the opening assembly program here last night.

"4-H Club Week is a highlight of the year at State," said Dr. Hyatt. He reminded the audience that the Land Grant colleges are celebrating their 100th birthday this year. He also pointed out the significance of the 4-H Club movement.

The first of many introductions made by Dr. Hyatt was the one of "Mr. 4-H himself," Mr. L. R. Harrill. Mr. Harrill and his devoted staff were recognized for their wonderful work. (Continued on page 4)

July 24, 1962

Tuesday

"LEARN, LIVE, SERVE, THROUGH 4-H"

CLOVER LEAVES

Published Daily During
North Carolina State
4-H Club Week

Advisors

Rone Lowe, Editor-Department of Agricultural Information
Harold Lineberger, Agents Chairman--
Anson County
Fred H. Wagoner, District 4-H Club
Agent
Barbara Kistler, Cabarrus County
Cleo Jones, Edgecombe County

Editorial & Circulation Staff

Billy Berry	Currituck County
Betty Jean Crews	Vance County
Loretta Elledge	Wilkes County
Patsy Evans	Columbus County
Linda J. Garriss	Northampton County
Susan Duval	Jones County
Larry Hancock	Randolph County
C. P. Hathaway	Gates County
Larry Horne	Scotland County
Howard Johnson	Johnston County
Rita Linker	Cabarrus County
Jane Morris	Mecklenburg County
David Sanderson	Pender County
Agnes Gray Shipley	Watauga County
Betty Reece	Onslow County

4-H'ERS ENJOY BAND CONCERT

Monday night, 4-H'ers gave a standing ovation to the 82nd Airborne Division Band from Ft. Bragg. The band presented a concert at the Coliseum, and 4-H'ers who anticipated a great show were not disappointed.

Chief Warrant Officer J. T. Winters led the band of 60 members in several stirring numbers. He has led Army bands for the last 15 years and has been at Ft. Bragg for the past three years.

He stated that the band gives 8 to 10 performances each week, and practices from 12 to 15 hours a week.

Some of the numbers that 4-H'ers especially enjoyed were: National Anthem, Lady of Spain, and the last one on the program, the Division theme song. (By Patsy Evans)

EACH COUNTY REPRESENTED

State College was invaded yesterday by 1191 4-H Club members representing each of the 100 counties of our Tar Heel state. Some 200 more club members are expected to arrive during the week.

All of these 4-H'ers are to "Learn, live, and serve through 4-H."

Davidson County has the largest delegation of 37 4-H'ers. Buncombe County is next with 31 members. The leaders total approximately 45, while agents registered numbered 185. (By Jane Morris)

FASHION SHOW

Five thousand years of fashion will be seen at the Coliseum Wednesday evening.

As one of the highlights of the week, Rutherford County 4-H girls will present a show "Five Thousand Years of Fashion" while modeling authentic costumes dating from ancient days to the "new look" of recent times.

Phyllis Lamm of Raleigh and Philip Saunders of Montgomery County cast critical eyes on onions and potatoes in the 4-H Vegetable contest. Winners will be announced later. It was one of the first events of State 4-H Club Week, which began here Monday.

LIVESTOCK JUDGING CHAMPS

A crack at the national livestock judging championship awaits North Carolina's top 4-H livestock judging team.

Members of the livestock team were the first state winners to be announced, as State 4-H Club Week wound up its first day here Monday. On the team are:

Willis Martin of Northampton County, high-scoring individual with 503 of a possible 600 points; Larry Newton of Lincoln County, second-high individual with 500 points; Curtis Satterthwaite of Edgecombe County with 494, and Walter Cherry of Edgecombe county with 486, both from the top-scoring team.

This team will go to Chicago late in the fall to take part in the national contest and visit the International Livestock Exposition. With them will be their coaches: Animal Husbandry Specialist Bob McGuire of State College and Charlie Lockhart, assistant agricultural agent in Edgecombe County.

The group will drive to Chicago, stopping several times along the way at outstanding farms to practice judging livestock.

Competing Monday at the college livestock farms were the top four teams from some 30 teams which competed for state honors during preliminary judging here in June.

Purpose of the livestock event is to train farm youth to judge animals for breeding and market qualities.

HOWARD JOHNSON INTERVIEWS

Question: After your first day at North Carolina State College, what is your first impression of State 4-H Club Week?

Janice Havner, Moore County, "I like it, because I get to meet people from all over the state. "

Ruth Justice, Buncombe County, "I am tired of walking. We need an elevator. "

Betty Jean Lynch, Johnston County, "It's different. I like it!"

Gerry Wilder, Nash County, "It is nice to meet boys and girls from all over the state. "

Emma Jean Carter, Buncombe County, "It's very exciting and it's very interesting to watch the old-timers in action. "

Helen Rogers, Buncombe County, "It's very educational. "

Carol Ledford, Buncombe County, "To me, it's helping us to be builders of America. "

Sandra Coston, Henderson County, "I really haven't had time to form an opinion. "

Nancy Shannon, Gaston County, "You have a good opportunity to meet and make new friends. It's a wonderful experience. "

Jack Elliott, Beaufort County, "I like it much better than 4-H Camp. "

Steve Barefoot, Johnston County, "This 'SPACIOUS' campus!"

Brenda Hart, Pitt County, "I have enjoyed it so far. There's too much walking. "

Jeannette Gardner, Pitt County, "It's just unbearably HOT!"

Edna Dickerson, Rockingham County, "I like it. I think it's a lot of fun. "

Charles Puckett, Granville County, "I like the way the buildings are situated. "

Ted Currin, Granville County, "I like the dormitories. "

Cheryl Ayers, Graham County, "I like everything, especially the boys!"

(Continued from page 1, Opening Assembly Program)

The dean of the school of agriculture, Dr. H. Brooks James and his daughter, Sarah, were also recognized.

People of special interest to us this week who were introduced were Dr. Walter J. Peterson, Dr. James Young, Bob Long, Dr. E. W. Glazener, Mr. Merrill Davis, and Hulda Lineberry. These people will be in charge of our special interest programs each morning.

Dr. Hyatt closed his greetings by wishing all the 4-H Club members a wonderful and educational week.
(By Linda Jane Garriss)

CHANCELLOR SPEAKS

Dr. John T. Caldwell, Chancellor of N. C. State College, addressed 4-H'ers at the morning assembly program. Subject of his address was "The Education of Youth."

Dr. Caldwell called the 4-H Club one of the most important parts of the educational services of State College. Goals for Americans, which represent what Americans can do for the fulfillment of personal goals, was discussed by the Chancellor.

Dr. Caldwell told 4-H'ers to "promote chance" for improvement of their lives.

"Education is the servant of all your purposes," he said as he encouraged all 4-H'ers to use education to improve and make the best of their lives. The Chancellor told club members to pursue their ambitions and work to make the best better. (By Larry Horne)

BUSY DAY FOR 4-H'ERS

Club members had a busy day Tuesday, the first full day of Club Week.

They heard Chancellor John T. Caldwell at the morning assembly program. Also on the morning program was Dr. Albert G. Edwards of the First Presbyterian Church of Raleigh, and Mr. L. R. Harrill, State 4-H Club Leader.

Special interest periods following assembly. After lunch, State finals, 4-H demonstrations, were held in Boys' public speaking, Beekeeping, Dairy Foods, Farmer Cooperative, Forestry, Fruit and Vegetable Production, Livestock Conservation and Poultry Production.

The State 4-H Executive Board met this afternoon with nominees and campaign managers for State Council officers.

Tonight's schedule includes a box Supper at Riddick Stadium at 6:15 p. m.

This evening's assembly program will feature the tapping of 4-H Honor Club members. State demonstration winners will be announced at tonight's assembly.

AN AMERICAN INNOVATION

Four-H Club work, an American innovation that developed some of its first roots in North Carolina, is now being used "to train youth in the art of living" by most countries in the free world.

More than 50 countries have 4-H programs going. The number is increasing rapidly.

Some foreign countries call it 4-H. Others use the abbreviation in their language for head, heart, hands and health. In Brazil, for example, the result is a 4-S Club.

North Carolina was the first state in the nation to sign an agreement making 4-H Club work part of the land-grant college program. That was back in 1909.

About two years later, four or five Granville County 4-H boys set the stage for State 4-H Club Week by spending a day or two at the A & M College, as State College was then called.

The boys stayed in the college infirmary, met the governor and got acquainted with such new fangled things as electric lights.