State 4-H Club Week / North Carolina State College

STATE DRESS REVUE

When Mary Beth Fudge of Orange County planned her 1962 ensemble, her goal was to create an outfit that would be both versatile and practical.

And her plans paid off Wednesday night, when she was crowned as state dress revue winner for 1962.

Mary Beth, Chapel Hill, Rt. 2, achieved her goal by making a jacket, skirt and blouse combination. The boxy jacket opens to reveal a lining that matches the blue and green on beige pongee blouse. A second skirt, pleated for a sporty look can change the entire silhouette and spirit of this fashion-wise ensemble.

As second-place winner, Judy Kay Parker from Johnston County modeled an ensemble in the autumn tones of rust and gold for a semi-fitted coat featuring a stand-up collar with one over-sized button.

The Wake County Miss, Helen Doggett, was declared third place winner while modeling a black and white checked gingham dress with a solid red top.

Fourth place winner was Agnes Gray Shipley of Watauga and fifth place winner was Sandra Walker of Warren County.

Others in the top ten included Carol Porter, Sampson County; Sally Hunter, Mecklenburg County; Janice Raye Stanton, Perquimans County; Veronika Haun, Vance County; and Loretta Elledge, Wilkes County.

SWIMMING POPULAR

Swimming is among the most popular recreational activities available to 4-H'ers attending Club Week.

In the new ultra-modern and spacious gymnasium, the olympic-size pool accommodates many more swimmers than the old Frank Thompson gym.
There is ample room for the non-swimmer as well as the swimmer. Life-guards are on duty at all times when swimmers are permitted in the pool.

Certain rules are expected to be followed such as taking a shower before entering the pool. (By Johnny Winborne)

This group has been busy throughout the week reporting 4-H Club Week events on local radio stations. From left are Wendell Jones, Sampson County; Bob Bryan, radio editor, Dept. of Agricultural Information; Peggy Newman, Henderson County, Hamp Howey, Union County; and Lenna Halsey, Alleghany County. They also make daily news recordings.

KING, QUEEN TO BE CROWNED

Thursday night, the 4-H king and queen of health will be crowned by Dr. Fleming Fuller, first vice president of the medical society of North Carolina.

Pender County 4-H'ers will stage the health pageant, "Alice in Microbeland." The health pageant was written by Mary Ellen Ross, Jane Batson, Donna Hoover, Abbey Foy, Brenda Edens, Sandra Costner, Theresa Ann Moore, all Pender County 4-H'ers. It will be directed by Mrs. Helen M. Tatum.

Around 150 kings and queens of health from all over North Carolina will take part in the pageant. The state king and queen of health will receive a trip to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago with their expenses paid by The Medical Society of North Carolina and the Eli Lilly Company.

ORGAN MUSIC

Four-H'ers have been as fortunate this year as in the past in having beautiful organ music played before each assembly. It would be worthwhile to each club member to come in time to listen to at least half of the soothing music.

The musicians we have to thank for this week's music are: Pantha Watts, Alexander County; Cecil Griffin, Nash County; and Melvin Williams, Duplin County. (By Patsy Evans)

MESSAGE FOR RUSSIANS

"Show the Russians we're free!"

That's the picture of America that Tar Heel 4-H'ers would like to send Cousin Ivan and Cousin Olga via Telstar.

The answer given by Wilson Lowery of Trenton, Jones County, sets the tone for other delegates to State 4-H Club Week who were quizzed:

"I made my own decision about which way I should go and what I should do with my life. I wish we could show that kind of freedom to the Russians."

From Sheryl Waller of Pinnacle, Stokes County, came a note about freedom of religion:

"I would show a child in worship with his family. Show them, too, that there is fellowship in our churches."

Paul Revis of Marion, McDowell County, said, "Let them see that no one tells us how to vote. If we don't like a candidate, we can say so and vote against him."

To Henry Turlington of Salemburg, Sampson County, and Mabel Hildebran of Hickory, Rt. 4, Burke County, the Telstar feature could be about how and why Americans work together freely and share material freedom:

"Show them a picture of family life," said Mabel. "It doesn't matter whether it's a farm or city home--- there's not much difference now. What is important is that they see you don't have to be rich in America to have the comforts of life." (By C

MORNING THOUGHT

Each day at morning assembly,

4-H'ers attending Club Week are very fortunate to have Dr. Albert Edwards, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Raleigh, bring an inspirational thought for the day.

Yesterday, Dr. Edwards outlined the following three guides to happiness:

1. Look for and admire something beautiful each day.
2. Do some good deed each day.
3. Commit something uplifting to memory each day.

Dr. Edwards also stressed the fact that these guides were simple and easy enough for anyone to do. (By Loretta Elledge)

USHERS AND PAGES

You have probably noticed the group of outstanding 4-H'ers chosen from the district officers to serve as pages and ushers at the morning and evening assemblies.

These 4-H'ers are always on hand to help you. Duties of the pages include delivering messages, becoming familiar with the day's program, classes, etc. Giving out special programs and making guests feel welcome is the responsibility of the ushers.

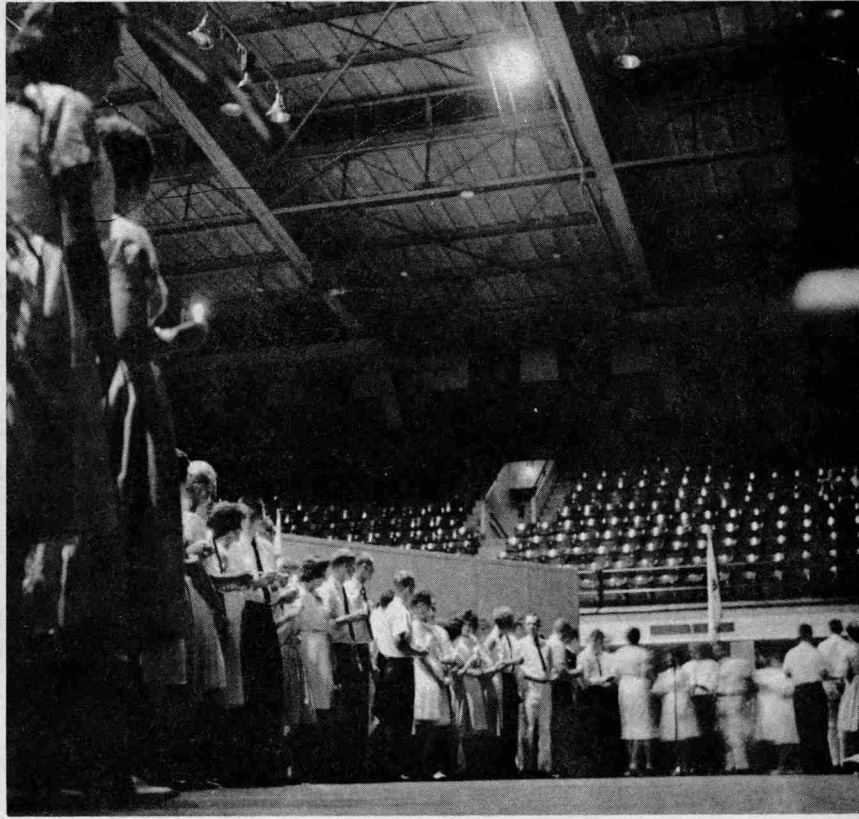

Oscar Fender, Jr., Mary Lois Kale, George Brake and Emma Jean Lawrence are serving as pages. Ushers for the morning assembly are Stuart Harris, Barbara Wrenn, Linda Nance, Billy McLaurin, Susan DuVal, Annette Casada, Michael Reid, Ronald Boyd Outen, Betty Scott, and Hoke Smith. Ushers for the evening assembly are Judy Kay Parker, Richard Bowen, Mary Linda Grady, Wilson Lowery, David Hendrix, Mary Sue Grindstaff, Anne Hostettler, Smith Stokes and Joyce Moser. ## HOWARD JOHNSON INTERVIEWS

RECREATIONAL LEADERSHIP

Question: What has been the highlight of Club Week to you?

Carol Ann Dixon, Halifax County:
"I'm looking forward to the health pageant tonight. "

Lynn Abbott, Vance County: "OH! That Honor Club initiation. "

Stuart Harris, Vance County:
"Being nominated for a state office. "

Sidney Sauls, Johnston County:
"I am looking forward to what I think will be the climax of Club Week, the candlelight ceremony Friday night. "

Susan DuVal, Jones, County: "The Honor Club initiation. "

Anne Cooke, Iredell County: "I am looking forward to the health pageant. "

Marcia Davis, Iredell County: "I really enjoyed the dress revue and the initiation. "

Charles Evans, Dare County:
"Meeting people and becoming friends with all of them. I am looking forward to the elections. "

Linda Lee Harris, Jackson County:
"Health pageant and talent show. "

Rosemary Cameron, Hoke County:
"Seeing people again this year that I met at Club Week in the past. "

Wayne Clark, Chatham County:
"This is my first year and I have enjoyed the whole week. "

Cole Porter, New Hanover County:
"Meeting all the fine fellow 4-H'ers from all over the state, and exchanging ideas with them. "

Under the direction of Miss Hulda Lineberry, about 130 selected club members have been studying recreational leadership this week in the Frank Thompson gym.

The class has been learning new square dances as well as other things related to recreation. When these club members go home they will be able to lead 4-H recreation in their respective counties. (By Larry Horne)
