

CLOVER LEAVES

1964

State 4-H Club Week / North Carolina State

WINNERS AND RUNNERS-UP-- Left to right, Larry Horne, Scotland Co.; Brenda Anne Templeton, Iredell Co.; C. G. Sorrell, Durham Co.; Vickie Lee, Lenoir Co.

TEMPLETON AND SORREL WIN HEALTH CROWNS

Reynolds Coliseum was the scene of North Carolina's 1964 4-H State Health Pageant Tuesday night. The program was dedicated to Dean I. O. Schaub who served as second Director of the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service for 26 years and who organized a Corn Club in Hertford County in July 1909, the forerunner of today's 4-H Clubs. An informative program skit was presented by the Chatham County 4-H'ers concerning proper dental hygiene.

The parade of health followed with 83 counties represented. Blue Ribbon Winner group consisted of: Donna Thompson, Alamance; Harriet McRae, Anson; Jeanne Teague, Caldwell; Anna Lee Hawes, Duplin; Edna Annette Tilley, Durham; Linda Snipes, Guilford; Libby Jones, Hertford; Sheila Blanton, Jackson; Linda Hay Haddock, Jones; Vickie Lee, Lenoir; Jean Hubbard, Moore; Linda Bright, Pasquotank; Margaret Abbey Foy, Pender; Janice Hancock, Randolph; Peggy Barnes, Robeson; Judith Cozart, Rowan, Elizabeth Jones, Rutherford; Linda Chisholm, Scotland; Reenil Grant, Swain; Rachel Garrett, Vance; Ronald Dean Payne, Alexander, Sammy Hester; David Snelson, Buncombe; David McLawhorn, Carteret; David Hunt, Davidson; Ellis Leagans, Davie Ray Roberts, Jr., Duplin; Clyde L. McSwain, III, Edgecombe; Kenneth Clapp, Guilford; Philip Davis Taylor, Jr., Hertford; Gilbert Tunnell, Jr. Hyde; Roger Sharpe, Iredell; Thomas Davis Clayton, Jackson; C. J. Reynolds, Montgomery; Johnny Cozart, Rowan; Rhett White, Tyrrell; Gary B. Bennett, Yancey; Runners-Up were: Vickie Lee, Lenoir; and Larry Horne, Scotland; crowned State 4-H Health Queen was Brenda Anne Templeton; and C. G. Sorrell, Durham, received State 4-H King crown.

The 4-H Health records submitted were all excellent and competition was very good.

--Kay Miller and Sara Sholar

"LEARN, LIVE, SERVE, THROUGH 4-H"

July 22, 1964

The 4-H Radio Committee is making daily tapes for use by stations around the state. Serving on the committee are, left to right, Donny Allen, Guilford Co.; Bob Bryan, Radio Editor; Linda Bright, Pasquotank Co.; Douglas Carroll, Sampson Co.; and Carrol Mode, Franklin Co. Annett Tilley, Durham Co., could not be present for the picture.

CLOVER LEAVES

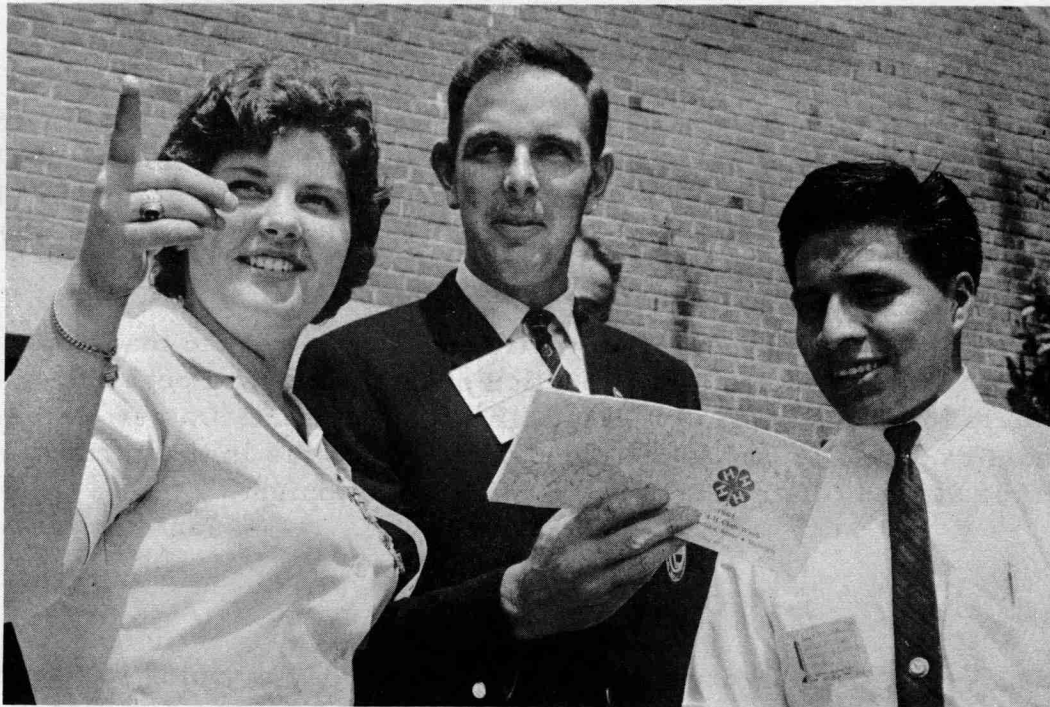

Published Daily During
North Carolina State
4-H Club Week

Advisors

Agents-in charge: Bryan Smith,
Orange;
Frances Sanders, Tyrrell;
State Staff Consultants, Editor W. H.
Sears, Jr., Assistant Publications
Editor and
William M. Garmon, Eastern District
Agent

Editorial & Circulation Staff

Eugene Blackwell, Granville; Lillie Pearl
Hinton, Edgecombe; Bill Proctor, Robeson;
Kaye Miller, Bladen; Steve Hart, Caldwell;
Ann Avery, Burke; Bryan Carraway,
Craven; Joan Stroud, Jones; David Snelson,
Buncombe; Janie Shipley, Watauga;
Francis Mullis, Yadkin; and Linda Pool,
Alleghany

INTERNATIONAL TRIO -- Brenda Creech, Henderson, Rt. 1, discusses Club Week program with James Forbes (center) of Scotland and Oscar Salazar of Peru.

State 4-H Club Week is taking on an international flavor.

Participating in the activities this year are Oscar Salazar from Peru and James Forbes of Scotland. Both young men are here under the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) program and have been living with Tar Heel farm families for several weeks, sharing information from their own country and picking up ideas to take back home.

Salazar, 22, hopes to use the information he gathers to help him become a county agent in Peru. He is currently a university student, working toward a degree in animal science. He and his brother operate a 25-acre farm.

Forbes, 26, hopes to put the information he is gathering to work on the 400-acre farm he and his brother operate in Scotland. He is a member of the Scottish Association of Young Farmer Clubs, which is an adult equivalent to 4-H.

Tar Heel farmers would find both advantages and disadvantages to Scottish farming. Selling eggs for 32 cents per dozen, which Forbes says he is now doing, would be hard on the pocketbook, but selling cattle for 33 cents per pound, would seem like a dream for hard-pressed Tar Heel cattlemen.

Forbes is currently staying on the J. W. Daughtery farm at Grayson. Prior to that he visited the Theodore Lowery and Harry Stone families near Rowland. He will visit farm families in Minnesota at the end of his North Carolina stay and return to Scotland in early October.

Salazar has just completed a three-week visit with the Albert Coates family of Smithfield, Rt. 1. He has also visited the Weldon Idle farm, Kernersville, Rt. 3, the George Carraway farm, Havelock, Rt. 1, and the Fronnie Jones farm, near New Bern. He will visit farm families in Nebraska before returning to Peru in October.

Dress Reviewers "Sweating it Out"

The Alumni Building Tuesday afternoon was the scene of anxiety to thirty-six girls participating in the State Dress Revue. Each hoped she would be a winner but knew there could be only one. Thoughts such as "it couldn't be me, though" were running through the mind of every girl as she observed the garments with which she was competing.

This was the showdown! The participants have worked many hours and long anticipated the results of this portion of the judging. Feet aching, the girls waited while the judges, Mrs. Daisy Collier, Mrs. Doris Dosier, Miss Marie Scott and Mrs. Jane Saunders observed the participants in the garments in which they will be attired for the State 4-H Dress Revue tonight.

-----Janie Shipley

On Charles T. Vetter, Jr.

Mr. Vetter gave a very interesting talk Tuesday morning in Assembly. Mr. Vetter has toured many countries and knows their ways and ideas. Mr. Vetter's talk was mostly on Russia and Communism. He had several posters which he used to show the 4-H'ers how the Russians avoid answering questions.

Another important topic of Mr. Vetter's wonderful speech was the different forms of government. He explained that Russia helps those in need just to the point where they can change the government in Communism.

I think this was one of the best speeches so far at Club Week. This speech was very educational and interesting.

-----Bryan Carraway

WINNERS

Vegetable Judging, Grading and Identification--Dianne Jones, Hertford Co.

Boy's Public Speaking--Burton Brinson, Jr., Pamlico Co.

Fruit and Vegetable Use--Lynne Mincher, Warren Co.

Egg Cookery--Jane Morris, Mecklenburg Co.

Fruit and Vegetable Production, Dianne Jones, Hertford Co.

Livestock Conservation--Tommy Cohoon and Ronnie Armstrong, Tyrrell Co.

Beekeeping--Linda Martin, Onslow Co.

Farmer Cooperative--Kenneth Clapp and Betty Scott, Guilford Co.

WHICH ONE? One of these three young men will be your new President. They are, left to right, Timothy Brindle, Burke Co.; Bob Shipley, Watauga Co.; and D. A. Cockman, Moore County.

HE'S 'BIG' IN RUSSIA-- Charles Vetter, Jr., U. S. Information Agency, uses a Russian poster to illustrate to delegates to 4-H Club Week the popularity of Cuba's Fidel Castro in the eyes of the Soviets. Looking on with interest are, left to right, Betty Ross, Wake County; Bryan Carraway, Craven; and Leonard Cox, Johnston. Vetter Addressed the 4-H assembly at Reynolds Coliseum yesterday.

"I AM 4-H"---A Presentation by Robert Wood, Foundations Office

Symbolic of the quiet valleys and gentle meadows in which I was born,
I am a four leaf clover, in verdent green, in a pure white field.
I drew my first breath in the resolve of responsible men and women to help

American youth

Nurtured on the land, I now embrace the busy town.

My goal is to learn

And my testament - to learn by doing

I am 4-H

Over two million boys and girls are under my wings
Twenty million others walked my ways in bygone years
My voice is heard in the halls of Congress
And the President of the United States knows my name.
I am a citizen in the making.

I am 4-H

I'm old yet I'm forever young.

I'm local. I'm state - yet my philosophy has gone around the world.

I am the International Farm Youth Exchange, a worker in the Peace Corps,
An explorer of careers and a student of public affairs.

I am hand in hand with the United States Department of Agriculture,
The Land-Grant University, my county government, my unselfish local Volunteer 4-H leader and the great industries of our nation.

I am 4-H.

I'm an Eskimo on the tundra by the Bering Sea,

A boy on a tractor on the Great Plains,

A girl with a lamb, a boy with a calf,

A youngster with a seeing eye puppy,

A knock at your door to get out the vote,

A Future scientist,

Or a little girl's first cake.

In quest of the pattern of life

I bow my head in church

And with confidence look to the days that lie ahead of me.

To this end, I have pledged my Head, Heart, Hands and Health

To greater loyalty, larger service clearer thinking and better living.

I am 4-H

And with God's help I will be a finer woman, or better man.