"IMPROVING FAMILY AND COMMUNITY LIVING"

4-H Club Week

JULY 25-30, 1955

NORTH CAROLINA STATE COLLEGE
RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

HONOR AND FUN TOO... Faytie Cox, Currituck County, and Jackie Jackson, Sampson County, seem to be enjoying the Honor Club initiation. Faytie's costume represents her work in Clothing and Leadership projects. Jackie's main work has been in Safety projects.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH FASHIONS

By Joyce Routh (Randolph)

Last night 4-H'ers took an imaginary trip to fabulous countries all over the globe. The county Dress Revue winners, modeling pretty frocks, ranging from fresh cottons to taffeta, visited such countries as France, The Orient, Egypt, and our own country.

Sampson county was in charge of the revue and did an outstanding job on presenting one of the most beautiful dress revues ever held at state 4-H Club Week.

Congratulations to Gretchen O'Neal of Beaufort County, who is our 1955 Dress Revue winner. Willie Mae Johnson, of

"THERE'S MUSIC IN THE AIR"

Mr. N. C. Lindsay's class on music is very interesting and profitable.

The group sang several songs and Mr. Lindsay sang songs used in Canadian camps.

One of the songs, "A Place In The Sun", will be the theme of the Health Pageant.

Mr. Lindsay explained that singing is one project in which all club members can participate. He showed the group several ways to direct singing.

For the members who have not yet attended his class, I am sure you will enjoy the singing and also 'Mr. N. C.' himself.

BROADENING OUR COMMUNITY HORIZONS

By James Gold (Rutherford)

This morning in assembly we had a very interesting panel discussion by International Farm Youth Exchange Delegates from eight countries. Mr. Harrill led the discussion on "Broadening Our Horizons."

All the students thought that our 4-H organization was one of the best and said they hope to have similar organizations in their countries in the near future.

They also said, "American teenagers are the best people in the world." Some of the exchange students brought out the point that the people of our country and theirs have the same ideals.

All of them were enthusiastic about the IFYE program and firmly believe that it will help us understand each other better.

The entire panel thought the program will help in obtaining World Peace. The students commented on the warm welcome they had received here in North Carolina and they said they would take the good news back home.

Margaret Stevens, one of our own Exchange students, said that in Japan they told her to ask the American people not to use atomic weapons for destruction, but for peaceful purposes.

TAPS AND REVILLE

Ray Chancey, of Union County, is the fellow responsible for all noise as he plays Reville at 6:30 every morning and Taps at 10:30 every night. As you've probably already guessed he's no beginner.

Ray has been in the school band for six years and is in the State 4-H band. Also, he played Reville and Taps when his county was at Camp Millstone.

MADAME VICE PRESIDENT

By Erwin Fuller (Franklin)

That pert young miss with a warm smile serving as our State Vice President this year is Nancy Mason from Iredell County. A 4-H member for 8 years, Nancy has compiled an enviable record of achievement, completing more than 75 projects.

Nancy's main activities have been in Citizenship and Better Grooming. Because of her outstanding record and hard work, Nancy was declared National Winner in both of these activities. Nancy has also stressed Dairying in her project work, and she has received quite a few honors in this field.

Nancy plans to enter the University of Maryland this fall, majoring in Home Economics. Her future ambition is in the field of public relations, possibly co-ordinating the effort of industry and 4-H.

North Carolina 4-H'ers will miss Nancy's fine leadership but we wish her success in the attainment of her goal.

COTTON DEMONSTRATIONS

James Potter and Kenneth Scarboro, Hoke County took first place in the cotton demonstration with "This Bale of Cotton Went to Market."

Second place went to Charles Lamm, Nash County, and third to Joe Rogerson and Belmont Perry of Perquimans County.

This was the first year we've had cotton demonstrations and all the contestants did a good job.

Judges were Dr. E. R. Collins, State College; R. L. Cooper past President of the Atlantic Cotton Association; and J. T. Wright, Buckeye Cotton Oil Company.

YES, IT'S VERY NICE TO KNOW HOW

By Ruth Temple (Wake)

"You learn something new everyday" was never truer than in the class, "It's Nice to Know How," taught all week by Mrs. Corinne Grimsley.

Class begins with a panel of four who look the group over for looks on the outside and try to figure out what the person is like on the inside. Then we began tests for voice control and we soon discovered that Mrs. Grimsley was to teach us how to make "that special someone" think that we are special. We saw a movie "Party Lines" and slides on Dating, Table Manner, and Manners Away From Home.

The fun really began when we rated ourselves from a check list on manners. We received a special thrill in the letter from Miss North Carolina, Miss Faye Arnold, who is at Morehead City and could not participate in the program as she had planned.

To sum up this class would be a little hard so we'll just say - it is nice to know that beauty is from the inside shining out and that manners are really consideration and kindness. Yes, it is nice to know how!!

Dress Revue

Johnston County, was second place winner, Lucy Mae Harris, Granville County, third, Roselyn Waters, Pitt County, fourth, and Catherine Rogerson, Martin County, fifth.

Others placing in the top ten were Gail Lineback, Forsyth, Nancy Tuttle, Stokes County, Florence Payne, Davidson, Betty Ann Barefoot, Sampson, and Connie Fulghum, Nash County.

BLADEN BEEKEEPERS WIN

Maurice Edwards and Hal Collier, of Bladen County, walked away with first place yesterday in the Beekeeping Demonstration. Their topic was "The Bee's Home."

They stressed the importance of using the proper equipment and how to assemble it correctly.

Second place went to William Hopper of Caldwell County. His topic was "Diagnosis and Control of American Foulbrood."

Third place went to Bill Dunstan of Pasquotank County, and Fourth place to Linda Bailey, Wake County.

Judges were: Professor Nahikian, Dr. Scott, Dr. Westmoreland, Dr. Wright and W. A. Stephens.

(Overheard on the way to Raleigh)

"How far is it to the nearest Service Station?"

"Two miles as the crow flies."

"How far would it be if that crow had to walk and roll a flat tire?"

VEGETABLE MARKETING WINNERS

State winners in the Vegetable Marketing demonstrations were Lois Violet Winslow and Charles Chappell, Jr. from Perquimans County. The topic of their demonstration was "Marketing Green Peppers."

Lucretia Ellege won second place with her demonstration on "Marketing Irish Potatoes." Midgie Honeycutt and Frank King from Rowan County were third with "Midgie Goes to Market."

The first place winners will receive a free trip to New Orleans sponsored by the National Junior Vegetable Growers' Association.

IREDELL DAIRY FOODS TEAM WINS

By Clyde Templeton (Iredell)

Milk - - - and more milk products were displayed before the Heart group yesterday in Withers Hall during the dairy foods team demonstration.

Our hats are off to Betty Jean Myers and Rebecca Tulbert from Iredell for placing first. They used as their title "Swoop Away Your Troubles with Dairy Foods," as they prepared a most tasty looking supper of Royal Cheese Soup, Vegetable Salad, Lime Sherbet, and milk. Second place went to Jeanette Farrell and Nancy Scott from Alamance.

The "milk maids" who gave these winners a close race were Vivian Britt and Judy Reese, Buncombe County; Sarah Jane Jordan and Joan Watson, Columbus County; Jean Edwards and Rachel Spivey, Perquimans County; and Ruby Lassiter and Jessie Mae Davis, Northampton County.

Judges for the contest were Miss Virginia Wilson, Mr. Dave Worth, and Miss Rita Dubois.

INDIVIDUAL DAIRY FOODS DEMONSTRATION

By Jo Anne Mills (Beaufort)

The large group that gathered at Withers Auditorium yesterday saw a group of outstanding demonstrations that really did their particular districts justice.

Competition was keen and the race close with Peggy Ann Carroll of Buncombe emerging as state winner.

The winning demonstration was entitled "A Soft Custard For Everyday Use". It was presented and displayed beautifully, and the product was delicious.

Tied for a close second were Vivian Thomas Tucker of Moore County and Omia Sue Rummage of Stanly.

VEGETABLE PRODUCTION WINNERS

Sherwood Harrell and Dick Lowe, of Chowan County, Took first honors in the Vegetable Production demonstrations yesterday. Wayne and Lewis Bailey, Halifax County, were second, and Johnny and Shelby Raymer, Mecklenburg County, were third.

HEAVY VOTING EXPECTED

Voting at dormitory precincts for 1956 State Council officers begins as we go to press. And from the amount of 'politicking' candidates have engaged in the past couple of days there will be hot races for all offices.

As one candidate expressed it, "it looks good now, but you can't tell until the last vote is counted."

Official results of the election will not be available until later today.
