The Granite Quarry 4-H Team composed of Cottie Bess Welling-ham and Hazel Shuford, gave the demonstration: "How to Prepare and Pack a School Lunch" at their club meeting. The demonstration included: Producing meats and vegetables at home for the school lunch; preparing and packing the lunch; types of lunch boxes, and serving the school lunch.

Each school child was weighed and his weight recorded.

Twenty per cent were found to be under-weight through underfeeding and malnutrition. This weight survey seemed to arouse interest in the school lunch problem and bring it home closer to a large number of parents.

As an outgrowth of this demonstration the club people at Granite Quarry have established a permanent school lunch department that they provide for and receive some food stuffs for from the surplus commodity administration. Nevertheless, a large number of children still bring a well planned, neatly packed lunches to school.

This team represented the County at the State Short Course in 1938.

Since 1932 he has been farming for himself. He now has 19.5 acres of land in his possession. He stated that one reason for his owning a home and some land was that he always wanted to have a home and farm of his own. In 1938 he planted three acres of wheat, and produced an average of 12 bushels per acre, and three acres of corn and produced an average of 35 bushels per acre.

In 1939 he grew 512 chickens and had an income of $224.30 and a cost of $184.03,

He is now President of the Farmers Community Organization and has served in this capacity for four years.

For two years he was President of the County Parent-Teacher's Association.

His home is a six room bungalow, furnished modestly, comfortably and conveniently.

When he was asked about his income for 1938, he wouldn't talk until he had gone in the house and gotten his record book, which had the cost and profit on each item produced on his farm. In response to the question whether or not he would recommend farming to the young 4-H club boy today, he at once said: "Agriculture was quite a good occupation provided they did not mind work."

This young man is quite intelligent, reads a number of books, magazines, papers and is well informed upon matters of an agricultural nature.

Bertie County 4-H Club Camp

olderovet wier A labeston

For the first time in 1937 an outing for 4-H club boys of Bertie county was planned. This outing or Camp was to be held in the county at a site on the Chowan River near Colerain.

On the first day of the encampment severe rain, because of improper camping equipment, drove the campers from the river. Discouraged, the group of club boys along with their Agent started back home. On their way, however, they encountered Mr. J. T. Mountain, Principal of the Ashland School, who invited them to use the School building as their Camp Headquarters. Glad of the opportunity to continue the camp, Mr. Mountain's invitation was accepted as the School was located near the site first selected. This arrangement met the hearty approval of the Campers and the people of the community in which the school was located. At the close of the encampment it was decided that they would use the school as their camping headquarters in 1938.

More and more the people of the county became interested in the idea of a 4-H Club Camp in the county and from a suggestion from Mr. S. B. Adams, prominent white citizen of that community, that the set-up be made permanent, an effort was begun to make it such.

In keeping with that suggestion, it was decided that all the organized 4-H Clubs in the county be petitioned in an effort to raise enough funds to construct Camp cottages. The clubs were petitioned, but the method proved a failure. However, enough money was secured to construct a cook shed for the 1938 Camp and to get a few other necessary supplies.

In 1938 more interest was shown in the Camping idea when more than thirty boys attended the encampment. Following this manifestation of interest it was decided that the State WPA Administration be petitioned. Plans were worked out to be presented to the WPA. These plans were presented and finally approved for the construction of the project at a cost of approximately five thousand and two hundred dollars.

This project known as the Bertie County Rural Recreation Center for Negroes or 4-H Club Camp consists of six cottages that will accommodate from eight to twelve persons each, an assembly hall and play grounds. It is located on a State paved highway, has electric lights and is easily accessible from all points. Another advantage is, that it is located near a Church and School.

For the three years this County Camp has been held the boys of the county have been very anxious to attend. A very favorable attitude has been shown on the part of club members, patrons and others of the county toward the completion of the Center.

4-H Camp - 1939

The 4-H Club Camp for boys, an annual affair in Bertie County came to a close Tuesday, July 4th after six days camping at the Bertie County Rural Recreation Center for Negroes.

The encampment began Thursday, June 29th with the following boys enrolled: Henry Hoggard, William Gaskins, Willie Capehart, Richard Holley, Willie A. Jordan, Stephen Hayes, Clarence Moore, Mack Moore, Lee Drake, Prelo Drake, James L. Holley, Johnnie Chavis, Joseph Warren, James E. Holley and Calvin H. Hubbard.

Assistance in conducting the Camp was given by Mr. J. T. Mountain, County teacher, who has had much to do with the development of the Recreation Center and Mr. Gilbert Cherry, a student at Shaw University.

As the week-end idea of camping was carried out, on Sunday the group held Sunday School at the Ashland Church, with the St. Elmo Baptist Sunday School of Windsor in attendance. Following Sunday School, the Rev. J. E. Ramsey of Windsor preached to the group. Sunday evening vespers were held at seven o'clock with the Rev. H. L. Mitchell, Negro County Agent, Gatesville, N. C., in charge. He was accompanied by a very favorable quartette from Gates County.

A schedule was carried out giving periods for instructions, recreation, etc. The boys were given instructions in agriculture, supervised recreation, health and other activities.

On Monday, July 3, Mr. C. L. Spellman, Negro County Agent, Wilson, visited the Camp to give a demonstration in chair caning.

Other interesting features of the Camp were the assembly and program held each night, weiner roast and camp fire, swimming, lectures by visitors, and the outing to Chowan Beach to attend the 4-H picnic. More than eight hundred club members, Agents and others attended the picnic.

Prominent visitors to the Camp included Mr. C. R. Hudson, State Agent, Mr. J. W. Mitchell, Negro District Agent, Mr. R. E. Jones, Negro 4-H Club Specialist, several Negro County Agents and people of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. White of Norfolk, Virginia, representatives of the Journal and Guide arrived at the Camp Monday to cover Camp events for publicity. They also lectured to the group of campers on Monday night.

Each boy attending expressed himself as having found the camp very interesting from an educational as well as recreational point of view.
