

IS HONOR SYSTEM HERE FAILURE? DEBATE TO BE GIVEN BY LEAZAR CLUB

"Is the honor system at North Carolina State College a failure?" will be discussed by members of the Leazar Literary Society at their next meeting. This topic was not originally one of the series of programs planned for the first term, but members of the society interested in the problem have asked that it be discussed.

These members have stated their intentions of disclosing several surprising facts concerning the working of the honor system on this campus. Friends of the honor system within the society are also planning a vehement defense of this custom. The decision which the society reaches will probably be placed in the form of a resolution to be considered by the student council. If the proposed discussion leads to some constructive action, Leazar will later in the year sponsor a "Greater State College" movement, leading to the passing of a series of resolutions for the general improvement of the college.

At the last meeting of Leazar the members voted to accept the challenge sent to it by members of Pullen Literary Society, for an inter-society debate early in December. The subject for the debate will be: "Resolved, That the government should maintain an air fleet at every college in the country, and that specially trained members of the senior class be prepared to fly these planes in the event of war." Leazar will defend the negative.

This inter-society debate will be an innovation at State College in that the entire permanent and temporary membership of each society will take part in the discussion. At the close of the debate, Prof. H. T. Oberholzer of the department of English will decide which society did the best debating. Mr. J. H. McKinnon will act as captain for the Leazar forces. The Pullen leader will be appointed at the next meeting by Mr. J. A. Broadwell, president of Pullen, and Mr. J. B. Litchfield, program manager.

THE BLUSHING BRIDE

They tell us of the blushing bride
Who to the altar goes,
Down the center of the church
Between the friend-filled rows;
There's Billy whom she motored with,
And Bob with whom she swam.
There's Jack, she used to golf with him,
And Steve, who called her lamb;
There's Ted, the football man she owned,
And Don of tennis days;
There's Hubert; yes, and blonde
Eugene,
Who had such winning ways;
And there's Harry, high school beau,
With whom she used to mesh.
No wonder she's a blushing bride—
Ye gods! she ought to blush!

Powell To Meet Greek Letter Men To Discuss Fraternity Problems

Dr. John A. Powell, a student of fraternity problems, will visit the campus beginning November 4th and for two and one-half weeks following, under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A., in order to meet with the fraternities and discuss with them any problems that may be facing them.

Dr. Powell is a young man who is a fraternity man himself and has made a wide study of fraternity life and its problems. These studies have carried him all over the country.

He is very highly educated, having a degree from the University of Illinois, one from Yale, and has obtained his Ph.D. degree from Edinburgh, Scotland.

Eighteen fraternity groups have invited him to visit their chapter houses and to discuss fraternity problems with them. These meetings will be entirely informal. He has no set lectures to deliver, but will talk informally with the men on any problems or questions that may be troubling them.

He is vitally interested in fraternity welfare and is interested in coming here that he might share his experience and knowledge about the problems with the fraternities themselves, with the hope that they may help some in overcoming certain difficulties.

Dr. Powell is connected with the Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church and spends most of his time in the colleges of the South.

Mr. W. N. Hicks, who has been making some special studies of the problems of the fraternities on this campus and who was very influential in bringing Dr. Powell here, says: "It is certainly fine that we can get such a man here at this opportune time while the fraternities are endeavoring to face and solve pertinent problems." The arrangements for Dr. Powell's meetings with the different groups are in the hands of Mr. Hicks and Jimmie Halstead, who has charge of the fraternity problem as a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet.

MODERN DESIGN TO BE USED IN DECORATING GYMNASIUM FOR DANCE

A blaze of color in a modernistic setting will feature the State Pledge Dances, which begin Friday afternoon, November 8, at 4 o'clock, and end Saturday night, November 9, at midnight.

Three thousand nine-hundred balloons will arrive in Raleigh this week to do their part in transforming the Frank Thompson gymnasium into a modernistic hall of many colors.

Seven hundred rolls of many colored paper will fill the gym, with thousands of many size triangles, all varying in color and shape. Dozens of lights will change color and intensity throughout the dances. This is the first time that vari-colored lighting effects of this nature have been attempted at State College dances.

Music will be another feature of this fall's pledge dances. Ray Miller, who is traveling in the South with his famous Brunswick Recording Orchestra, has been engaged to furnish the music.

Of the different improvements at the dances, there is the pavement in front of the gym, which will simplify the egress and ingress of the dancers.

The 152 pledges are giving the dances and they are sponsored by the Pan-Hellenic Council. A committee composed of the three officers and three appointed members of the council have the job of putting the dances into reality.

The personnel of this committee is: Allie Baggett, Arthur Thomas, Bob McCracken, Mac Hughes, E. H. Roberts, and Burgess Perry.

Gymnasium Future Scene Of First Military Dance Given by R. O. T. C. Units

The first military dance of the year will take place Friday night, November 22, in the auxiliary gymnasium. This dance will be given by the junior and senior members of the R. O. T. C. Regiment.

Alex Mendenhall and his Carolina Tar Heels will furnish the music for the occasion. Elaborate plans for decorations have been made and the auxiliary gym will be transformed from a place of exercise to a place of fun and frolic. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

The committees in charge of the affair will be listed in this paper next week. A great deal of interest has been shown since the announcement of the dance.

PROFESSOR GIVES IDEA ON SCHOOL TEACHERS IN INTERVIEW AT ELON

Professor Etkinson, of Elon College, in speaking to a group of friends, gave his views on popularity for teachers. "There are not many popular teachers in college any more. Popularity belongs now to the college coach or to the leader of a fraternity or sorority," said the professor.

He gave one of his friends a second to speak and then he continued: "For a college teacher to be popular he or she must be fully acquainted with college athletics, sports, and games and be able to tell about the same on class or on the campus. "The popular teacher must read the sports columns in the papers much more closely than the textbook that he or she is teaching.

"Another thing that helps to make a teacher popular is to conduct classes and examinations as to get the reputation of being easy. If the teacher can convince the school that he or she is easy on classes and will not put up hard examinations, that teacher becomes popular."

The professor ended by saying, "I have learned from observation and experience in college that the popular teacher is the one who knows how to pass the day and pass it agreeably with his or her classes."

used by the freshman English instructors and a good response is expected. The December issue will contain the announcement of a prize offered to undergraduates.

The book review section, "Books, B'Gosh," by L. P. London, is one of the bright spots in the magazine. These reviews all show originality and wit. Only the latest books have been reviewed, and most of these are among the best sellers at the present time.

Annual Barn-Warming Will Be Held Tonight of popcorn, 15 gallons of ice cream and ten gallons of punch.

Until 10 o'clock, when the dancing starts, Earl Meacham, chairman of the decorating committee, has arranged to offer clog dancers, toe dancers, and stunts for the entertainment of the crowd. A treasure hunt by the girls will take place, with several prizes hidden in shocks of corn. It is also understood that Meacham has a few surprises to spring on the "warriors" tonight, the secret of which he would not divulge. Chick Edwards and his Carolina Aces, "all spades," will furnish music for dancing from 10 till 12. A square dance has been arranged, with Squire Gaston calling numbers and getting the couples started off on the right foot.

The juniors and seniors of Meredith, in addition to many local girls, will be present. I. A. McLain, president of the Agricultural Club, having successfully conferred with the Meredith matron.

Every one seems to have an optimistic outlook for the "farmers' frolic," with the exception of L. D. Eagles, treasurer and a veritable Shylock, who has complained that the dues are not being paid promptly. Although tardy swains may pay at the door tonight, they will be charged an extra quarter as a penalty for procrastination.

The "barn-warming" is exclusively for agricultural students and neutral members of the faculty. Last year many non-agricultural students were bounced out. The same hefty bouncer will be there this year, according to President McLain, who has admonished uninvited guests to stay away and save themselves possible embarrassment.

GOVERNOR FINDS GAME AT HILL LITTLE TROUBLESOME

Has Played Football at Both Schools; Will Probably Split His Yelling

When Carolina and State College play this afternoon, Governor Gardner will be on hand, but at this writing he will probably be sitting in the middle of the field, as he does not know where to sit, having played at both schools in his college days.

It is a problem that gives the Governor as much trouble to solve as does some of his most taxing State problems. In fact, he might reach the point where he will have to call in his advisory board to solve the question.

But, the architect of the Kenan Memorial Stadium took such dilemmas into consideration, perhaps, when he was designing the stadium, and constructed a box on the north side of the stadium for the president of the University, in which will also sit State College's president and other officials. It will be in this same box that Gov. O. Max Gardner will do his rooting.

To solve matters as to who he shall root for, the Governor will probably yell for Carolina during the first half and the last two quarters for State.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT WILL TRY NEW STUNT

Of interest to sport lovers will be the announcement that they will have the privilege of picking winners in football for each week now, and from now on during the season. The list will be composed of State teams and those of the Southern Conference.

The sports department of The Technician will print the games of each Saturday, the time the paper is released, and the reader will check his selection, return it to The Technician office by 3 o'clock that same day, and the person picking the most winning teams will be announced as winner. The only prize that can be offered is to print the winner's name, but a lot of fun can be had in seeing how close one can come to naming all the winners.

The idea is a new one to this paper, and may not carry, but has met with the success in all the newspapers and colleges, and there is no reason why interest cannot be shown here.

Remember, cut the list of teams out of the paper, check your winners, return the same to The Technician office before 3 p.m. on Saturday, and look in the next issue to see who won.

Here are the teams:
Duke vs. Boston College.
Wake Forest vs. Furman.
Davidson vs. V.M.I.
State vs. Carolina.
Lenoir-Rhyne vs. High Point.
Catawba vs. Bridgewater.
Georgia vs. Tulane.
L.S.U. vs. University of Arkansas.
Sevanee vs. Mississippi University.
Clemson vs. Univ. of Kentucky.
Univ. of Virginia vs. Maryland.
V.F.W. vs. W. and L.
W. and M. vs. George Washington.
Alabama vs. Vanderbilt.
Auburn vs. Univ. of Tennessee.
Florida vs. Harvard.
Georgia Tech vs. Notre Dame.
Miss. A. and M. vs. Miss. College.

Barnum and Bailey Brothers, asking him if he would join the circus as a rider. He did not accept, but took a commission in the infantry as a second lieutenant, which sent him to the Philippines for two years. In 1907 he returned to the United States and went to Monterey, Calif., where he spent three years mapping that State, as well as giving instructions in athletics and gymnastic work to two regiments. The latter part of 1909 he went back to the Philippines to do military survey work, and while there received his commission as first lieutenant. During the period of the World War he was first in Utah and later transferred to Tientsin, China, with the American forces. After the war he came back to the States and became a member of General Staff Corps, at Washington, D. C., doing mobilization and a short while after, demobilization work. During this period he received his commission as captain of the infantry. After the demobilization period had passed, he was sent to the 16th Infantry at Governors Island, N. Y. It was here that he held until last August, when he was promoted to lieutenant-colonel. From 1922-24 he was stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, in charge of the advanced Infantry School. From Fort Benning he was transferred to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, on the general staff. When he finished there in 1925, he came to State College, and from that time on, by the ratings which inspecting officers have given the R. O. T. C. Regiment, it is known that his work has been the best.

best amateur production ever playing in that city. The decision of the faculty in regard to this year's work has not been made. Dean B. F. Brown, in charge of the finances, was forced to cover personally a large portion of the deficit, and naturally feels a trifle hesitant when further expenditure is mentioned. But there will be no failure this year. Advance outside publicity on a large scale will be set forth and with the favorable newspaper criticism, and members that are driving for success, the backers of the play will not be disappointed.

A meeting of the old members will be held next Friday, November 8, in the league room of the Y. M. C. A., with Professor Page in charge, and 1929-30 officers will be elected.

Following the election, new members will be selected, and plans for the production formulated. The first meeting will be exclusively for old members, and it is very necessary that they all be present if they expect to be considered a member this year.

State and Carolina Play At Chapel Hill Today

WILL BE TWENTY-SECOND CONFLICT BETWEEN SCHOOLS

Marks Wolfpack's First Game In Kenan Stadium

Today is the day of days for State and North Carolina football fans.

At 2:30 this afternoon the annual football game between the Wolfpack of State College and the Tar Heels of Chapel Hill gets under way. It will be played in the beautiful Kenan Memorial Stadium at Chapel Hill, and will be the twenty-second meeting between the two schools.

The game is expected to draw the largest football crowd in the State today, as a battle between these two schools attracts state-wide attention. It will be the only Big Five game on tap, as Duke will be playing in Boston, Wake Forest in Greenville, S. C., and Davidson will be the other Big Five team in action. The Wildcats will meet V. M. I. at Davidson.

According to newspaper reports, State has little, if any, chance to win today. The Wolves were doped to lose last year, but gave the Tar Heels one of the hardest battles of the season, only to have Carolina tie the count at 6-all when there were only a few seconds left to play. However, pre-season games that have been played by State this season are not as commanding as they were last year, but Gus Tebell has made several shifts in his forward wall, and State will have a much stronger team to count on for a victory today than at any other time this season.

In between the halves the cross-country team of Carolina will run against the hill-and-dale steppers from State.

Governor Gardner, President Brooks of State College, and President Chase of Carolina will be on hand for the game.

THREE OF ELEVEN FRESHMAN STARS THAT LICKED DAVIDSON

WILLIE DUKE

"SHAG" WADDELL

CHARLIE COBB

Coach Redfern To Lead Track Team Against Carolina

Captain and Coach Alec Redfern will lead his cohorts of cross-country men against the Carolina varsity today at Chapel Hill, and at the same time Captain J. H. Troutman, of the freshmen, will push his followers against the Carolina yearlings. Troutman was elected captain last week.

The squad left this morning at 9:30 o'clock. Eight freshmen and nine varsity men journeyed to the Hill, and all men will be entered. If Carolina will permit it, State is the ordinary number of men entered in any meet.

The varsity men going are: Captain Redfern, J. N. Johnson, R. E. Truesdell, M. M. Alexander, J. R. Ash, Henry Ricks, A. B. Peary, H. Y. Brock, and W. E. Lawrence. The freshmen are: Troutman, L. L. Rich, W. R. Humphrey, A. L. Drumwright, W. C. Hubbard, A. E. Bennett, and J. H. Ballard.

"If only permitted to enter seven or eight men today," Coach Redfern said, "I won't know who I will run until the last minute."

The varsity will run a course of four miles, and the freshmen will cover three miles in their run, it was announced from Chapel Hill.

Not much is known of this year's cross-country team at Carolina, as they lost their best men last year, but real stiff competition was assured to the Statemen before they left.

WRESTLERS FAST GETTING INTO SHAPE FOR '30 TEAM

Showing of Smithwick, Last Year's Freshman Star, Encouraging

The mat team that will represent State College this season is fast getting into shape down at the Frank Thompson gym. Nine men are working hard at this writing, but as soon as football season is over, the wrestling squad is expected to number around 20.

The showing of Smithwick, big husky chap who scrambles with the heavyweights, has caused many a smile to slip across the faces of the coaches. Smithwick was a star grappler on the freshman team last year, and is expected to be one of the chief men on the team this season.

Eason and Beard are two other men that are showing lots of promise. Other men out are Caldwell, Stovall, Perry, King, Karl, and Fisher. Several of these are beginning their first work on the varsity.

Paul Choplin, Crowson, and Mack Stout are three mainstays who will report when football season is over.

Freshman Game Between Wake Forest and State Will Be Played Nov. 11

The N. C. State-Wake Forest freshman football game, scheduled for Wake Forest on yesterday, has been moved up to Armistice Day, at the request of the local post of the American Legion, and the game will be played on Riddick Field, according to the announcement of Dr. Ray Sermon, Tech athletic director.

The change in the game with the Baby Deacons left the State Wolflets without a game this week, and the Davidson game that was to be played later in the year was shifted up to yesterday.

The fifth and final game for the Wolflets is with the Tar Babies of Carolina, and the game will be played here on the Wednesday before Thanksgiving Day.

The three men pictured above had a lot to do with the freshmen defeating Davidson yesterday, 6-0. A pass from Waddell to Duke for 50 yards scored the touchdown, and it was the line work of Cobb at tackle that gave Davidson so much trouble.

STATE WOLFLETS COUNT 6-0 WIN OVER KITTENS

Pass, Waddell to Duke for Fifty Yards, Counts in Fourth Quarter

A 20-yard heave by "Shag" Waddell and then a run of 30 yards by Willie Duke, after receiving the pass, gave the State College freshmen a 6-0 victory over the Davidson freshmen Wolflets yesterday at Davidson.

It was a hard-earned victory and a clear-cut one at the same time. Davidson could do very little with State's forward wall and they counted but five first downs, and these came principally through the air. State counted ten first downs, and most of these came through the Kitten line.

The only score of the game came at the beginning of the fourth quarter, after both teams had fought for three quarters to nothing-all. Gurneau's try for placement, kick was low.

Davidson had two good chances to score, but on both occasions State held and the ball went over. On one occasion the Kittens were stopped on the one-yard line. Their first chance came when Clarke, Davidson quarter, intercepted a State pass and ran 55 yards to State's four-yard line. On the second play Davidson tried a pass, and the ball went to the winner's 20-yard line. A blocked punt put the ball again in the loser's possession on the four-yard line. Four plays missed by a yard of going over the line.

Stars were found on both teams. The playing of the State line was the best bit of work of the day, with Duke and Cobb leading. Comisky and Waddell led the Wolflet backfield.

Davidson presented their best stars in Captain Gardner and Pierce in the line and Fleagle in the backfield.

Davidson Wildcats Meet Southern Foe On Richardson Lot

Davidson College will take on a Southern Conference foe in the machine of Virginia Military Institute today at Richardson Field, in hope of winning and establishing themselves as the team that held the Army to a comparatively low score against them.

The Flying Squadron boasts victories over The Citadel, University of Virginia, and Maryland, and have suffered one defeat this season. The Presbyterians also have a victory over The Citadel.

Nevertheless, both teams will enter the playing field on more or less even terms, with V.M.I. having the edge, if any. Davidson lost to the Cadets last year by a count of 13 to 6, but Coach Monk Younger has instilled the spirit of revenge into his charges, and a tight, bang-up game is scheduled to be on tap.

The Wake Forest game took the services of one regular Wildcat when Mason, center, twisted an ankle; and Baker, a tackle, will be out of the game on account of sickness in his home.

A lad by the name of Roy Dunn, who hails from Rocky Mount, is the only casualty in the Military camp. His services will be missed greatly, however, because it was his plugging that enabled the Cadets to conquer Maryland last week.

Governor Gardner has a problem to solve this afternoon that taxes his mind just about as much as a State problem—which side will he root for in the State-Carolina game? He'll have to do like the governor down in South Carolina did when Clemson played the Gamecocks—sit on one side during the first half and on the other during the last two quarters.

The Wolflets sure did play a whale of a game to defeat the V. M. I. team 19-0.

October 9 was officially celebrated in the public schools and colleges of Wisconsin as Left Erickson Day, in honor of the man whom many claim was the first to discover America.

DEACONS MEET FURMAN TODAY IN GREENVILLE

Several Men On Injury List of Baptists; Passing Attack to Be Used by Miller

Happy over their hard-earned victory with the Davidson Wildcats last week, the Demon Deacons of Wake Forest will, this afternoon, play Furman in Greenville, S. C.

However, the winning of this game over the Wildcats has given Pat Miller, mentor of the Deacons, many a headache, as it put several of his stars on the shelf for a game or two. His two first-string ends were hurt. Bob Edwards is still in a Greensboro hospital, and Brogden did not report for work until the middle of the week. But several new men have appeared on the field, and the end positions are reported to be well taken care of.

Honingman, who played end on last year's team, made his appearance for the first time this week, and at the same time Ty Jones, star center on the 1928 basketball team, reported. Jones was a high and prep school football star, and Miller hopes to make the big fellow into a worthy end before the season is over.

Johnny Cox and Hicks were injured in scrimmages held on Gore Field during the week, and indications are that these two first stringers might not get the first call. Tex Quillen is also suffering from an eye injury received in the Davidson game. But, with all these men on the injured roster, Wake Forest will send a dangerous team against the South Carolinians, and the Furman players will be given an example of what a passing game will look like.

COLLEGE BAND WILL PLAY AT CAROLINA GAME THERE TODAY

"Daddy" Price and the bandmaster from Carolina will carry out a very unique idea Saturday when State and Carolina meet at Chapel Hill. Instead of the usual plan of parading across the field several times the bands will march on the field, face one another, and play together "The Old North State," then Carolina will play State's song and "Daddy" Price's band of noise-makers will play Carolina's song. After this demonstration the bands will leave the field together.

That freshman backfield star, Shag Waddell, is one of the best triple-threat men seen around these parts in quite a while.

EARLY SEASON PRACTICE BEGINS FOR BASKETBALL

Frank Goodwin to Have Charge of Team Until Football Season Is Over

Football season may be just half-way over, but hardwood floor aspirants here are hard at work for the 1930 basketball team. Twelve men reported for work Monday night, and several more are expected to start practice next week. The work is being carried on in the Frank Thompson gym.

While Gus Tebell is busy on the football field, Frank Goodwin, All-Southern center of the 1929 team, will have the men in charge.

Heading the present list is Hunky Waring, of the 1926 freshman team. It was during this year that Frank Goodwin was also playing, and a merry race was constantly being staged among these two men as to which should be at the starting center post. Waring dropped out after his first year and will not be eligible for the team until after Christmas, at which time he will have completed three terms of work.

Captain Johnny Johnson, of this year's team, will not report until football season is over, at which time Gus Wright, Brake, and Larry Haar will make their appearance.

John Gabin, Skeet Atkinson, and Red Morgan, members of the varsity squad last year, are already on hand.

Several of the State freshman champions are among the 12 candidates at work. Leading the list is Captain Jimmy Brown and his running-mate, Bill Woodward, of Washington, D. C. Joe Ellington, Jimmy White, Spivis Stevens, Marvin Tew, Bob Ballard, and C. J. Jackson are other men taking advantage of the early season practice.

Practice is held on three nights a week, and only fundamentals of basketball are being taught. Several pre-season games are to be arranged.

STATE'S BASKETBALL TEAM TO HAVE NEW UNIFORMS

State College will present a newly equipped basketball team this season when Captain Johnson leads his quintet on the hardwood floor, it was announced last night by Coach Gus Tebell.

Fifteen new red and white uniforms have been ordered for this year's work, along with a new set of sweat trunks and shirts.

The old uniforms are used to practice in and then turned over to the freshman squad.

It is rumored that someone is organizing an anti-coed league to prevent the overrunning of our alma mater by the "future stronger sex."

Sometimes we wish the band had never gotten a drum corps, especially after trying to write with them raising "little hell" directly under us.

If we are to lose Colonel Early next year, let every student show his appreciation now in order that he will not think that his work has been in vain.

Athletics will never take the place of scholarship as long as the deans and professors use the bleachers to discuss economics and present marketing trends.

State College has the best aggregation of cheerleaders that has been seen in years, but they exceed their duties when, in an effort to draw forth cheering, they call on the "squaws" to yell. Maybe some of the ladies present resented the name.

Freshmen at High Point College are not required to wear the cap, and, according to reports, hazing has been abolished. State College abolish hazing a long while ago. Yet it is rumored that it still exists on the top floor of South Dormitory. Pity the poor freshmen.

NEED OF BULLETIN BOARD

State College has made wonderful progress in the past decade, and improvements have been made to conform with the change in conditions. As civilization and fashion calls, so does the mass. We have more modern adjustments each day. But at the present time we are sadly in need of a central bulletin board.

This move was sponsored last year by the Blue Key, but failed to materialize because the college architect, who lives in New York, and who visits State College only occasionally, said that it would ruin the landscape, the proposed location being in front of the mess hall. That is the center of the campus and the place that would be most easily seen by the majority of students. Why would this ruin the landscape? Do not our fine churches have nice looking bulletin boards and do they ruin the looks of the church? In some instances it adds to the landscape. With the advantage of an architectural department at this college we could easily get them to draw up the design for a real board.

The college has felt the need of such a step for several years. At the present time 1,100 of the 1,829 students are eating in the mess hall, and even if announcements were read in the mess hall they would only reach half the student body. Up until a few weeks ago announcements were read, but are now discontinued.

How are the men to know when they are to attend meetings, when important things are to happen? How are they to have communication with the rest of the campus? State College is made up of several different schools, and if there is no way whatever of communicating with the divisions, can we expect to secure cooperation? Take the case of the freshman who knows nothing of the campus. He is lost, and when a meeting occurs he knows nothing about it. The result: he is carried up before the court of customs and given a sentence. Is that justice? I ask you. No, that is a violation of the principles upon which our organization is founded.

Something must be done to establish this board as a permanent fixture. State College can and will do it if the students demand it.

COLLEGE TRAFFIC COPS

After every athletic contest or other gathering that causes a number of motor vehicles to come on the campus, a big jam is the result. Cars trying to get out on Hillsboro at the same time with the traffic moving along Hillsboro cause much confusion and delay.

The State Patrol sent several men here a few weeks ago, but they should not be necessary. Do we not have on this campus as good guards as found anywhere? Are they not always ready to help State College and their country in time of need? These boys would be glad for the opportunity to act as traffic directors, and why not utilize them? Each Saturday a number of the members of the R.O.T.C. are seen walking round and round the infirmary as if in a trance.

Here is the answer to the situation: Cannot the useless services of the delinquent military student be turned into one of usefulness? Men could be drawn from the ranks of these errants as the merits of good behavior or personal appearance and given the position of official traffic cops. In case of darkness they could even wear the red and green stop-and-go signs of the patrol.

This matter of traffic is one of growing importance and should receive the early consideration of the college authorities. Every year, with the increase in automobiles and the attendance on the games, the need for traffic management grows stronger.

WHAT CO-EDS THINK

How many girls get? How many dates does the modern girl have a week? What do girls think of smoking and drinking?

The above questions have been asked of a group of college girls individually. It is quite interesting to note how frank the girls were in answering questions of this nature. Unabashed and with enthusiasm the girls spoke their minds. When one girl was quizzed she exploded, "Gee whiz! I have a date every time mother will let me. I tell her that my eyes hurt and I can't study; she weakens and lets me have the date. We never do much—dance or go to the show, but I am satisfied to stay at home if I have a date. I smoke, but I never drink, and I don't believe in promiscuous petting."

An argument between three girls was found quite amusing. Two of the group were having quite a bit of fun out of one girl, who declared she had never kissed but two boys in her life; and furthermore, she had kissed only one boy in four years—"but I kiss him every time I see him," she said. "I guess that makes up for all those I do not kiss." She was pronounced by the other girls as being the original innocent girl.

One girl declared that a girl should have five dates with a boy before she kissed him, while another girl saw no reason why she couldn't kiss her boy friends on their second date.

What do boys think of these things? Do they like their girls to pet, drink, and smoke? Why don't the boys give us a treat and tell us what they think about this? A CO-ED.

REPLY TO CO-EDS QUESTION

To give the girls a treat if they need one, I take great pleasure in answering these questions. In the first place I think that a girl should have a date when she wants one. Of course her mother has something to do with kissing when she needs a date. I think that the plan of telling her mother that her eyes hurt is very good, but there are some better ones than that pulled in some cases. I also like her attitude of staying at home, for you know her mother can look after her.

About the kissing matter, that brings up a serious thought that must be considered from every angle. I think that the girl that must have five dates with a boy before she will let him kiss her is far wrong, and that not many boys will have the honor and pleasure of kissing her because they cannot afford to go to see her five times without getting a kiss. I think that the girl has a right to kiss her boy friend on the second date if she sees fit to do so and if she wants the boy to come back around to see her. Of course there are some rare cases, but they are few in number.

I think that a girl should pet to a certain extent, but she should be the judge of how far she must extend the welcome. The thing for a girl to do is to give a boy a little loving and no neck.

As to drinking, it is out of the question for a girl to consider this, for it should not be done in any case, and a girl runs down her character that indulges in it. Smoking is a question left up to the girl herself, and if she thinks it does her any good, she is welcome to do it. But as a general rule a girl that smokes does not put a good impression on a boy. It makes him have curious thoughts in his mind about the girl. So take it as you will—that's my judgment of the questions. A STUDENT.

FRESHMAN SCHOOL SPIRIT

The freshman school spirit of North Carolina State College, to my knowledge, is fairly good. The authorized freshman cap ruling has been diligently carried out by the freshman pupils. This was very evident on registration day when the majority of the frosh procured their caps.

The freshman school spirit was also obvious with the first football game between Washington and Lee. The freshmen were gathered in a body at the lower end of the field, each willingly delivering his outburst of cheers for the old "Alma Mater," cheering the "Wolfpack" as if it were their only duty of the day.

The freshmen are always ready to lend a helping hand to fellow upperclassmen in running errands of all kinds. Some upperclassmen may assume the idea the freshman is not willing to give his all for his "Alma Mater." This is a blunder and an oversight by the upperclassmen. In every school you will find some freshman who does not take part in any of the activities which it is up to him to fill. This goes on everywhere, but to my mind the freshmen of North Carolina State cannot be considered delinquent in carrying out their duties.

My offense is one which I believe the court of customs does not consider serious, but as the penalty has been inflicted on me, I am big enough to carry out my part of the bargain.

Incidentally, freshmen cannot help feeling that they are the underdogs of the school; but, taking it all in all, we cannot help admit that the upperclassmen have thus far treated us royally.

Every freshman loves his school; most every one of us has that feeling of regard which is in us for N. C. State. We as freshmen realize how much we rate in the school, and it is up to us freshmen and young men to support it in every phase of school activities. We don't mind the razzing and the fun of the upperclassmen, but we do mind the fact that some of the upperclassmen "run it in the mud." Oh, well! I reckon it is all in the game, and I, as a spokesman, if I may do so, of the freshman class, say that we are men enough to take our medicine.

Summing up: the freshman school spirit of State is rather good, disregarding the fact that some have disobeyed; but, nevertheless, the freshmen as a whole are undoubtedly trying to live up to their requirements. So keep up the good spirit, freshmen, and next year we'll have our way concerning the enforcement of freshman rules and regulations. Yes, "thirty-three."

the court of customs for not wearing the freshman cap. The sentence imposed upon him by the court was that he write an article for the Technician on "The Freshman School Spirit at State College." "THIS WEEK"

By E. H. ROBERTS

It isn't often that this column will enter into a literary criticism, especially when that criticism has to do with a sister publication. But an article in the "Wataugan" strikes me as being so base and misleading that I feel justified in saying something about it.

The name of the article is "Letters of a Freshman." The author I don't know.

The cardinal point of criticism is the damnable type of English the author saw fit to use in representing the freshman. Such a use of Mother English is a slap in the face to State College. No freshman of that type could have entered State College. I will admit that we have some mighty "green" students here, not only freshmen, but upperclassmen as well; but I will never be made to believe we have any of the type described in the "Wataugan."

The author of the article no doubt attempts at humor. However, the misrepresentation and reflection contained destroys any possible humor that may exist.

"Daddy" Price is certainly to be complimented on getting the new band uniforms. Further, he seems to be developing a new drum major with the "strut" that was so characteristic of "Diddy" Ray. The only thing I hope is that he will be able to have the band present at the Thanksgiving game.

The administration seems to have the fraternities where they want them; or, to say the least, they have made a good start to reach that point. And well enough. If a selected group of men cannot maintain a scholastic average as high as the student body, something is wrong.

Of course, the fraternities themselves will be the ones to benefit. But some of them are going to have to watch their step if they don't want to be embarrassed. A freshman's high school scholastic record will take its place with athletics and social activities in the list of "requirements."

FACULTY POSTPONE MEET TO DETERMINE METHODS COLLECTING FINES HERE

Action to perfect a collection system for the 50-cent fine ruling passed last March, but never perfected to a degree sufficient for the collection of the penalties, was postponed by the faculty council at their meeting Tuesday until a committee, to be appointed by President Brooks, have given it further consideration. Another meeting of the faculty council, according to Dean E. L. Cloyd, secretary, will probably be held within the next two weeks and a collection mechanism inaugurated.

The ruling, passed the first part of last March, authorized that a 50-cent fine be charged students for the privilege of making up all laboratory and written work missed unless the absence was excused. The ruling met with adverse criticism from the student body, some students even threatening to leave school if it became effective. Later in the same month it was revised to refer only to announced written work.

It developed, however, that the college authorities had no right to enact a ruling imposing fines on the students without the authorization of the board of trustees, so the rule was never effective, because payment could not be enforced.

Power to levy fines on the students was vested in the faculty council, if they thought best, by the board of trustees at a meeting during the summer. The meeting of the faculty council this week was the first attempt to inaugurate a system to enforce the payment of the fines since the rule authorized by the board of trustees.

PAUL A. TILLERY SPEAKS TO ENG. PROMOTION GROUP

At the first meeting of the year of the State College branch of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, Mr. Paul A. Tillery, of the Carolina Power & Light Co., made a most interesting and informing address on public utilities. Mr. Tillery's company is expanding rapidly and largely because of his wise management and his serving and promoting the industries in the Carolinas. One of their greatest enterprises, the Pigeon River development in Western North Carolina, will soon be distributing power.

5 FOREIGN COUNTRIES REPRESENTED AT STATE SAYS REGISTRAR MAYER

One student out of every 180 of the 1,800 at State College this year is from some other country than the United States, and one out of every eight is from some state other than North Carolina, says Registrar Mayer. Altogether there are 28 states and five foreign countries represented.

Next to North Carolina, the largest are from Pennsylvania, 51 are from the Keystone State. Next in point of number comes Virginia with 46, and after these come South Carolina with 30. New Jersey, with 18 representatives, takes fifth place. Incidentally, six of New Jersey's men are from one small town—Hasbrouck Heights, Georgia and Massachusetts tie for next place. Each is lucky enough to have 13 here. Ter of those from Massachusetts live in New Bedford.

Alabama, New York and Connecticut follow in close order with seven, six, and five, respectively. Ohio comes next with four (including Capt. John Lepo). Tennessee, West Virginia, Delaware, Maryland, and Minnesota have three each.

Two men are sent from each of these states: Michigan, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, and the District of Columbia. Six more states, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, Florida, and New Mexico, squeezed their names in, with one representative each.

South Africa leads the foreign countries, with five representatives. Mexico is next with two, and Egypt, India, and Porto Rico have one each.

ROADS BEING IMPROVED BY COLLEGE OFFICIALS

Many improvements are being made about the campus this year. It is planned to make a better looking State College. Workers here have been busy for the past week leveling the streets, spreading thin coating of ground rock on the walks and making numerous other improvements that will in the end help to improve the beauty of the campus.

One of the much-needed improvements has been to construct concrete dormitories, and another has been to straighten the road running from Superintendent Wellons' office to the zoology building.

Tobacco's at its best... in a pipe

MEN'S preference for a man's smoke—the pipe—is plenty positive. But do you know why? We'll tell you.

First, pipe tobacco's different—for instance, Edgeworth. Second, tobacco smolders as it should in a pipe. And third, these mean you get more satisfaction—greater relish of the good old savory burley, soothing fullness of rich smoke.

There's even a fourth reason: you like good company. The pipe-smoking brotherhood is that.

Tobacco's at its best in a pipe. It gets a chance to be itself there—to loosen up as it comes to life, to expand and take in air and glow. Only the choicest leaves get that chance, moreover, for pipes tell the truth about tobacco. Choice leaves, choice blends, and mighty careful handling. Edgeworth comes up through eleven distinct processes before we're willing to pass it on to you.

If you keep on missing all this, that's your fault—for we're waiting to send you your first pipeful of Edgeworth. See the coupon? Fill it out, get a good pipe and the postman will bring you a neat little glad-to-meet-you packet of good old Edgeworth.

Edgeworth is a careful blend of good tobacco—selected especially for pipe-smoking. Its quality and flavor never change. Buy it anywhere—"Ready Rubbed" and "Plug Slice"—15¢ packet package to pound humidifier.

Raoul Walsh's most recent directorial effort, "The Cock-Eyed World," an all-talking Fox Movietone picture, which comes to the State Theatre for five days beginning Monday, offers first-rate entertainment with special vocal and instrumental specialties. This picture emphasizes Walsh's versatility. In fact, we believe it to be one of the season's outstanding productions.

It's keynote is the continual battle between Flagg and Quirt of "What Price Glory" fame. Their love affairs provoke a series of laughs. In fact, some of the situations were so amusing that the audience howled. There is a consistent balance of pathos and well sustained tensely-human situations. It's playing at State Theatre all next week. We advise you to see it, for it is one entertaining production one should not miss.

Jazz is the rhythm of the era put to music and is constantly improving, according to Arthur Lange, musical director of the "Hollywood Revue," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's huge all-musical and talking spectacle, coming all next week to the Palace Theatre. Lange is a noted musical arranger, the author of 100 songs of his own and the musical arrangements for some 2,000 others.

"Jazz and its improvement, or the development of our American idiom, depends entirely upon the thoroughly-schooled musician. As yet our natural exuberance is such that few of our melody writers take the time to study music. In Europe an arranger would be called a composer, because he does the actual writing of the music brought to him by the melodist."

At the age of 10, Norma Gallo, one of the decorative features of "Padlocks of 1929," which comes to the State Theatre for an engagement of one day only, matinee and night, Saturday, November 9, made her first stage appearance as a child actress in Will Morrisey's "Overseas Revue," and later appeared as Peter Pan in the New York Winter Garden production of "Cinderella on Broadway." Then followed engagements in "Sally, Irene and Mary," "No, No, Nanette," and last season she costarred with the famous stars, Clark & McCullough, in "The Ramblers." Miss Gallo is an American by birth, but her parents came from Tuscany, where the family name is a household word. Familiar with practically every style of stage dancing, Miss Gallo has evolved a style of her own, and with the sumptuous costumes which she wears in "Padlocks," she is said to present a striking picture not soon to be forgotten.

It is the absence of the co-ed, claims Knute Rockne, that brings success to his football teams more than any other single factor.

DEBATE TEAM TRY-OUTS TO BE HELD BY PAGET AT STATE NOVEMBER 18

During the coming debate season, North Carolina State College will debate the University of North Carolina, University of Florida, Duke University, University of South Carolina, Washington and Lee, Birmingham-Southern, Wake Forest, and several other schools to be announced later.

A team will probably be sent to the Pi Kappa Delta tournament held early in April at Wichita, Kan. General try-outs for the team will occur from 3 to 5 Monday afternoon, November 18, in room 109, Pullen. All contestants will give a five-minute speech on either side of the proposition: "Resolved, That the United States should advocate the world-wide disarmament of all armed forces except those needed for police purposes." Try-outs for the freshman contestants will speak on the same subject. Those trying out for the oratory squad will give similar speeches. All contestants are urged to begin their study of the question at once.

Possible phases of the question which might serve as a basis for a try-out speech are: The world-wide battle for oil; the increase in the destructive methods used in warfare; the increase in defensive weapons; the present-day use of airplanes and poison gas; the proposed Anglo-American agreement; the place of the church in the movement for world peace; the possible increase in the relation of international finance to world peace; forms of propaganda; and the attitude which the World Court would take towards our immigration, war debt, tariff, and Monroe Doctrine policies.

Any person in doubt concerning the phase of the question which he will discuss should see Prof. Edwin H. Paget, director of forensic, at the earliest opportunity. He may be found in his office in 109 Pullen, at noon on any school day.

Members and temporary members of the Pullen Literary Society will tryout for the debate and oratory squads by giving a five-minute speech on the disarmament question at the regular meeting Friday evening, November 8. Mr. J. A. Broadwell, the president of Pullen, anticipates a larger number trying out than ever before in the history of the organization. The spirited discussions which occurred in the society during the past month have unearthed several promising speakers.

These 1933 men can't be downed, it don't seem like. They handed the Davidson Kittens a licking yesterday at Davidson.

The game over at the hill should be good this afternoon. Last year Carolina tied State at six-all when there were but 40 seconds left to play. It was a long pass back of the goal. Yes, the upperclassmen remember it.

The sport department wanted to run several more pictures of the varsity line last week and also this week, but the pictures have given out and we are now going to give you the profile of some of the freshman stars—there're plenty of them.

The University of Texas has the picture of the student owning the student athletic ticket on the back. Right good idea, as no one else can use his book then. State might find it right valuable.

Carolina got back into the winning column last week by defeating the V. P. I. team. Not wishing them any hard luck—but here's hoping they get back into the losing column this week-end.

Frank Goodwin is getting in a few extra nights work along now. He has a gang of 12 men down at the gym every Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights working for the 1930 basketball team.

Sigma Pi Secretary Impressed With Fraternity Condition at State
Harold Jacobson, of Elizabeth City, N. J., the grand secretary of Sigma Pi fraternity, visited the local chapter October 29 and 30. He was the guest of the State chapter at their home on Clark avenue.
While here, Mr. Jacobson interviewed officials regarding fraternity problems on State campus and expressed himself as well pleased with the situation. He also stated that conditions in general were much better than on many other campuses.
While here, Mr. Jacobson was guest of honor at a banquet given at the Carolina Hotel.

MEXICAN ORCHESTRA TO PLAY HERE NOVEMBER 4

Many Notable Lecturers Will Also Appear at State Soon

The following program of lectures and entertainments has been announced by the N. C. State College Lecture and Entertainment Committee:

On November 4, the Ramos Mexican Orchestra will play. On November 20, there will be a lecture given by Dr. B. R. Baumgardner. This lecture will be followed by another in late February by Elbert R. Moses, a prominent speaker. At an early date in March, the Mulvaney Concert Orchestra will entertain.

Announcement is made that the celebrated Ramos Mexican Orchestra will appear here Monday, November 4, under the auspices of N. C. State College Lecture and Entertainment Committee. This company overlays rare artistry and musicianship with the glamour of old Castilian Mexico. The colorful costumes of the senoritas induce an atmosphere of picturesque charm. Also, the fire and rhythm and graciousness which have come down to the Ramos family from a long line of Castilian ancestors are pleasing and unique.

Hesiquio Ramos, director of the orchestra, is one of the best-known musicians in his native Mexico. He was born in Puebla, the son of a noted painter, some of whose pictures now hang in the National Palace in Mexico City, and hence, grew up in a world of music and art.

Music, however, proved to be his forte, and at the age of 22 he won first prize in the international piano contest at Mexico City, playing his own composition. Thirty-one nations competed in the contest. Hesiquio Ramos became famous as a concert pianist and composer of distinction. He has been director of the National Symphony Orchestra of Mexico City, and of the orchestra at the Opera, Puebla.

The Ramos Mexican Orchestra consists of Senor Hesiquio Ramos, his son, Rafael, violinist, and three daughters—Lupe, Rosa, and Concepcion, who play delightfully upon the mandolin, mandocello, and other instruments typical of Old Mexico. The senoritas are not only instrumental musicians of high rank, but they sing with unusual charm. Each member of the orchestra is a graduate of the National Conservatory of Music at Mexico City.

The Ramos family left their triumphs in Mexico City to take Havana by storm. From Havana, they arrived in New York, where concert appearances at the Hotel Astor and at the Pennsylvania Hotel soon established them as a general favorite. Concerts broadcast over W.E.A.F., New York, built up a tremendous popularity for them.

TEXTILE SOCIETY ELECTS DANIEL RYAN PRESIDENT

A meeting of the Tompkins Textile Society was held at the Textile Building Tuesday night for the purpose of electing new officers.

D. S. Rhyme was elected president, W. F. Isom vice-president, and W. R. Rogers, secretary and treasurer. It was also agreed that meetings should be held every two weeks.
The purpose of this organization is to promote fellowship among the textile students and to enable them to get more from their course. Many prominent textile executives will address this society concerning the various phases of that business.

Several recent graduates were spoken of and their work commended. J. H. Ripple, for some time assistant superintendent of Fieldale Mills, Fieldale, Va., was recently promoted to superintendent. Mr. Ripple is a graduate of the Textile School of N. C. State College, and while in school was selected as a tackle on one of the All-American football teams. W. H. Smith, a graduate of the Textile School of North Carolina State College, has resigned his position as overseer of dyeing at the Keystone Finishing Company, Burlington, N. C., to accept a position with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

NEW JERSEY CLUB FORMED WITH ITALIANO PRESIDENT

The New Jersey Club of North Carolina State College, a newly-formed organization, has made its appearance on the campus. The purpose of the club is to promote fellowship among students from New Jersey and to bring them into closer touch with their alma mater. It is hoped by the organizers in the future the club may start an alumni association so that they may help keep in touch with N. C. State in future years. At present the club has 17 members.

Officers elected were: President, F. M. Italiano; vice-president, H. W. Scheid; secretary, H. E. Karig.
The club has already sent in its entrance for the international competitions to be held this fall. The newly-formed organization plans to take an active interest in both social and athletic activities of State College.

"Eyes" for blind flying!

Three new G-E contributions to the conquest of the air

LINDBERGH, flying blind much of the way, hit Ireland "on the nose" as he winged toward Paris. Now, as an aid to air navigation comes the magneto compass, a product of General Electric research, which gives pilots a navigating instrument of extraordinary accuracy. Meanwhile, two other General Electric contributions to aviation have been developed—the electric gasoline gauge and the radio echo altimeter. The ordinary altimeter shows only height above sea level. The radio echo altimeter warns the pilot of his actual distance above ground or water by flashing green, yellow, and red lights on the instrument board.

Every year hundreds of college-trained men and women enter the employment of General Electric. Research, similar to that which developed "eyes" for blind flying, is one of the many fields of endeavor in which they play an important part.

Meeting of Chemical Frat
Gamma Sigma Epsilon, national chemical fraternity, met Tuesday night in the Chemistry Building to outline a literary program for the fraternity and to elect a delegate to the national convention, which is to be held in Columbia, S. C., on November 9.

A banquet was planned to honor the freshmen chemistry pupils, in view of adding new members to the fraternity.

Pledge Dances

"The Annual Pledge Dances" given by the Pan-Hellenic Council are to be held on November 8th and 9th in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium. The group of dances will consist of a tea dance Friday, November 8th, 4 to 6, and dances Friday and Saturday evenings, November 8th and 9th, 9 to 12.

The figures will be led by Dan Torrence of the Chi Alpha Sigma Fraternity, assisted by Horace Pennington of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Frat. Over one hundred pledges will be in the figure.

The gymnasium will present a scene of great festivity, decorated in a blaze of color in a modernistic setting, and with Ray Miller, the "Personality King of Jazz," bringing his noted Brunswick Recording Orchestra direct from sensational engagements at the Gibson Hotel, Cincinnati, and the hotels Arlington and Eastman, Hot Springs, Arkansas. A special treat is thereby in store for local dancers, as this is reputed to be one of the most original orchestras that has ever scored the triple distinction of being ballroom, theatre, and recording stars.

Ray Miller's rise to prominence in the musical world has been steady, rather than meteoric. That means he has taken years to study his public, and has learned just what kind of music pleases the popular taste. It was at the famous and historic old Maxim's in New York that Mr. Miller first made his bow as director of the Black and White Melody boys.

From Maxim's, Ray Miller went to the Follies Bergere, where he attracted the attention of the comedian-producer, Ed Wynn. Mr. Wynn wanted the Miller orchestra for his big Broadway show, "Carnival." At this time there never had been an orchestra in a musical revue, but Ray Miller took the first step which so many have since followed. His organization was a hit with the Wynn show, and played in it eighty weeks.

Other distinctive engagements held by this orchestra have been the Blossom Heath Inn, Newark; the Beaux Arts, Atlantic City, and the Arcadia Ballroom, New York. A few years ago a contest of all recording orchestras was held, and the Ray Miller Orchestra won first prize.

Ray himself has a fine genial personality. His big golden smile and syncopating shoulders combine perfectly with the rhythmical undulations of the sad saxophones and wishing to attend the pledge dances November 8 and 9 be sure to see the treasurer of the Pan-Hellenic Council when he visits their chapter Monday night.

Wanted!—Jokes, etc.
Will any one who has read the current issue of the Wataugan, especially Life, Jr., and who has in the back of his mind or whatever name it goes under an idea for a joke, cartoon, comical (?) writing, or anything else under the sun that he can print, please get in touch with Mike Whitehurst either at the Wataugan office in the Y, at room 205 First Dormitory, or at any other place that he can be found, stumbled across, or in any other way encountered?

mutated cornets in his well-trained orchestra. This engagement should prove one of the dancing sensations of the season.

The German Club met at the Y. M. C. A., Friday noon, for the purpose of outlining plans for the ensuing year.

Dean E. L. Cloyd told new members of the club's expenses and the importance of the budget was stressed. After the report an election was held in which W. T. Garibaldi was elected president, W. E. Koonce vice-president, and Floyd Isom secretary and treasurer.

The club planned to give ten dances this year, three the first term and seven after Christmas.

Attend Textile Meeting
Dean Nelson and Professor A. H. Grimshaw attended a joint meeting of the southern section of the Dyers' Association and the southern section of the American Association of Textile Colorists and Chemists, which was held at Charlotte, N. C., last week.

State College took a prominent part in this meeting, as more than forty State College alumni were present.

Foresters Entertain
Members of faculty were guests Monday evening at a reception given by the State College Forestry students from Pennsylvania at their homes on Park Avenue. Mrs. J. U. Hofmann, wife of Dr. Hofmann, head of the forestry department here, acted as hostess. Among the celebrities present were Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of the college; Lt. Colonel C. C. Early, head of the military department; Dean E. L. Cloyd, dean of students; State Forester Holmes, and Assistant State Forester Plonk. Refreshments were enjoyed in the senior house, where the receiving line was held.

The two houses, leased by the 44 boys, all of whom are from the Pennsylvania State Forestry School, were thrown open for the inspection of the faculty, who were greatly impressed with the houses and their management.

German Club Meets
The German Club held its first meeting of the year at the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday at 12 o'clock. At this time the officers for this year were elected, as follows: President, Wm. Garibaldi, Pi Kappa Phi; vice-president, W. E. Koonce, Theta Kappa Nu; secretary and treasurer, Floyd Isom, Sigma Nu. The club is expecting to begin giving dances in a few weeks.

Phi Pi Phi Entertains
The pledges of the Phi Pi Phi fraternity entertained the old members at a dance last Friday night. Two rooms were filled with laughing and dancing boys and girls.

An added attraction, which gave many thrills to the guests, was a number of popular selections sung and played by Eddie Pool, the campus pride.

Delicious punch was served to dampen the dry throats of the collegiate dancers.

Among those attending were: Jimmie Richardson with Cleo Ashley, Bill Chestnut with Thelma Patterson, Buck Patterson with Rebecca Brand, Cradup Rogers with Elizabeth DeBoy, Leroy Woodbury with Levenia Fuller, Herbert Elliot with Eloise Shearin, Bill Dick with Hilda Fuller, Jackie Andrews with Anne Robertson, Frank Cook with Ruth Stanton, Ned Wood with Virginia Dixon, O. N. Henly with Mary Little, Dewanna Stallings with Clyde Walker. Mrs. Dixon was the chaperon.

Stags: Roger Rhea, Tom Harris, Jeff Walker, Henry Winecock, Frank Phillips, R. C. Seitz, Jimmie Craig, Faison, Eddie Poole, and others.

Old Dominion Club
The Old Dominion Club will send out in a few days invitations to their prospective new members. This organization is one of the oldest on the campus.

At the last meeting the revised constitution was read and adopted. The design for the new key was also shown to the club, and after some consideration it was passed on by the members as a standard key.

A most elaborate social program is being planned for this year.

Dr. Leigh Guest Here
Dr. Leigh, head of the pharmaceutical and chemical department of Florida University, visited the local chapter of Gamma Sigma Epsilon last Thursday. While here he was entertained by Alec Redfern, president of the chapter.

His purpose in coming was to visit the school of chemistry and find out the standing of the state chapter. Dr. Leigh gave suggestions for improvement, and complimented the club as a whole.

Marriage Announcement
Daughter of President Brooks, Miss Sarah Brooks, whose wedding to Mr. E. T. Pullen will take place in November, was honored this week on a number of occasions, first of which was at afternoon bridge at

New Men Selected For Phi Kappa Phi At Recent Meeting

The membership of Phi Kappa Phi was increased by 16 at the election of new members for 1929-30 held October 14.

Phi Kappa Phi is a national honorary fraternity. Its purpose is to promote scholarship in the colleges and universities of America. There are 44 chapters of this organization in the United States at the present time. Some of the outstanding schools having the chapter are: Cornell, Georgia Tech, University of Maine, Penn State, Syracuse University, V. P. L. University of Wisconsin, and many others.

North Carolina State College chapter of Phi Kappa Phi was established in December of 1923.

At the meeting of October 14, Dr. B. F. Kaupp was elected president for the year of 1929-30. Dean B. F. Brown is the retiring president. H. K. Witherspoon was elected vice-president protem. A student vice-president will be elected November 11. Other officers elected were: W. J. Dana, secretary; L. L. Vaughan, treasurer; and Dean E. L. Cloyd, historian.

There are over 40 Phi Kappa Phi members of the faculty on the campus at present.

It is quite an honor for a student to become a member of Phi Kappa Phi. To be elected to this organization, a student must have an average of 85 per cent or above.

Initiation of the newly-elected members will be held Monday night, November 11, in the Y. M. C. A. banquet room. Dinner will be given the new members. At this time business will be transacted as necessary.

The following students were elected to membership of the organization: E. W. Buchanan, B. Ad.; A. L. Cook, Const. E.; F. W. Cooke, Poultry; G. G. Farnes, M. E.; M. A. Holles, Const. E.; B. J. Kaston, Biology; W. E. Koonce, Chem. E.; H. G. Love, B. Ad.; E. H. Proctor, C. E.; E. H. Roberts, B. Ad.; A. C. Ruggles, Chemistry; R. E. Singletary, B. Ad.; Ada Spencer, Journalism; W. W. Weltmer, E. E.; E. B. Worth, M. E.; and William Wright, M. E.

For the past few weeks the professors of the Animal Husbandry and Dairy departments have been judging live stock at fairs in various counties of this State. Prof. Earl H. Hostetter, professor of Animal Husbandry, judged live stock at the county fair held in Tarboro this past week. Prof. R. E. Nance, instructor of Animal Husbandry, attended Lenoir County Fair, held in Lenoir, N. C. Prof. J. E. Foster, also a member of the Animal Husbandry department, judged swine at the fair held in Fayetteville.

SCHAUB SPEAKS VIA RADIO ON NATIONAL GRANGE ACTS

State's Farmers Will Have a Sound Organization, Says the Speaker

Dean I. O. Schaub of State College, last night spoke on the benefit of the National Grange, the recent farm organization in North Carolina.

Dean Schaub made it plain that the time is ripe for the farmers of North Carolina to organize on a sound footing as do merchants, bankers, lawyers, doctors, and business men in general.

The Grange, while not a new organization, is, however, new to North Carolina farmers. Mr. Schaub is a firm believer that the farmer is entitled to as much happiness and joy as any other group of people. To bring this about, says Mr. Schaub, the only hope is to organize. He is certain that N. C. farmers are aware that to accomplish anything they must get together as all others have done. The time seems close at hand when the farmers of the State will have a sound organization.

A business man may be down, but he's never out of conference.

OLD GOLD

gives throat EASE

THE SMOKE SCREEN THAT KEEPS OUT THROAT DANGERS

WHY RISK SORE THROATS?

No one had ever heard of a "Coughless" cigarette until OLD GOLD came . . . Barely three years ago this smoother and better cigarette was introduced to the nation. Its clean, ripe and better tobaccos gave smokers new throat-ease. No rasping. No coughing. And it won a national following. It made millions of friends . . . Why not sample its honey-like smoothness and its wonderful flavor? Change to OLD GOLDS. Play safe with your throat.

Better tobaccos make them smoother and better . . . with "not a cough in a carload"

On your Radio, OLD GOLD—PAUL WHITEMAN HOUL. Paul Whiteman, with his complete orchestra, every Tuesday, 9 to 10 P. M., Eastern Standard Time
