KAUPP PRINCIPAL SPEAKER
AT 1929 INITIATION HERE

Phi Kappa Phi Is a National Science Scholarship Society Which Seeks to Foster Learning in Competition With Numerous Attractive and Conflicting Interests Affecting Modern-Day Life, Says Dr. Kaupp.

The initiation of the sixteen newly-elected members of the Phi Kappa Phi National Honor Fraternity was held November 11 in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Ada Spencer was unanimously elected student vice-president of the organization.

The Phi Kappa Phi fraternity is a national honor fraternity to promote and sustain high scholarship in the colleges and universities of America. At the present time there are 44 chapters in the United States. The North Carolina State College chapter was organized in December of 1923.

Dr. B. F. Kaupp was the principal speaker of the evening. His remarks were relevant to scholarship and the high ideals of the chapter. His speech, in part, follows:

Crop Judging Team Leave With Cotner For Missouri Meet

The State College Crop Judging team, composed of I. A. McLain, L. Dow Eagles, and A. D. Stuart, accompanied by Dr. J. B. Cotner, coach, left Wednesday for Kansas City, Missouri, where they will compete in the international Crop Judging Contest tomorrow with teams from more than a dozen states.

Coach J. B. Cotner apparently has high hopes of winning the contest. Speaking to the team shortly before their departure he predicted that if one member of the team held his own and the other two improved as expected, the State team would have the

New Debating System Adopted For Selection Forensic Students

The new system which has been adopted for debating at State College is expected to bring forth the largest number of contestants for the debate and oratory squads in the history of the school. All men will be given inter-school debate experience who demonstrate their ability to meet the standards of inter-school forensics. Thus the size of the squad will depend upon the quality, energy, and enthusiasm of the men trying out. Since over 20 men have already been heard in the special try-outs conducted in the literary societies and before the public-speaking classes, the number of men representing the college in inter-school competition will probably be considerably larger than last year.

Members of the Leazar Literary Society will try out at their meeting on Friday, November 15, at 6:30, in Leazar Hall, Y. M. C. A. Building. The general try-outs for both varsity and freshman debate and oratory squads will be held from 3 to 5 Monday afternoon, November 18, in Room 109, Pullen Hall.

PROMINENT LECTURER TO GIVE THREE TALKS

PAUL PORTER, L.D.

Porter Will Speak To State Students On Labor Problems

Paul Porter, field secretary of the League for Industrial Democracy, will speak at State College, Thursday, November 21, on labor problems confronting America today. He will give three lectures, at 10, 11, and 12 o'clock, in Pullen Hall to the Economics, Human Relations, and Sociology classes, and to all others who care to attend. The subjects of his lectures are: "Is Capitalism Efficient?" "The Folly of Work," and "The South's Industrial Revolution."

Mr. Porter is an able speaker on social and economic problems. Although he is quite youthful, he has had wide experience as a world traveler and as a lecturer.

He is a contributor, with Sherwood Eddy, John Dewey, George A. Coe, J. Stitt Wilson, and others, to a symposium, "Am I Getting an Education?" and is a frequent writer for current periodicals.

Mr. Porter was graduated with honors from the University of Kansas in 1923. While there he achieved distinction as a debater, editor of the daily paper—"The Dove"—and president of the University Y. M. C. A. He was organizer and for three years chairman of the Midwest Student Conference.

Mr. Porter has traveled extensively in China, Japan, Manchuria, and Korea. He was in Peking when it fell to the Nationalists in 1925; in Nanking he narrowly escaped an anti-foreign riot. In the spring and summer of 1929 as the Southern representative of the Emergency Committee for Strikers' Relief and as correspondent for the Nation and the New Leader, he was a close observer of the major textile strikes in Tennessee and North and South Carolina.

Mr. Porter is being brought to Raleigh largely through the influence of Milton A. Abernethy, student representative of the League for Industrial Democracy at State College, and the Sociology and economics departments of the college.

societies will also be held at that time. Officers from both societies will be on hand to hear all speakers. Each contestant is to give a five-minute speech on any phase of the question: Resolved, "That the United States should advocate the world-wide disarmament of all armed forces except those needed for police purposes." All contestants desiring further information should see Prof. Edwin H. Paget, director of forensics, in his office, 109 Pullen, at noon of any school day. A bibliography on the question may be had at the main desk of the library.

Professor Paget urges all those to try out who have had previous debate experience, or have made creditable records in public-speaking classes, or have taken part in oratory or declamation contests or literary club activities; or who have a desire to debate. Previous experience is helpful, but not essential. Some of our best debaters have had no previous experience before coming to college. "Don't be a modest volunteer. Let us decide whether or not you have the ability." Candidates for the freshman squad will be given the same consideration shown to upperclassmen.

Prominent Army Officials Praise Regimental Parade Armistice Day

North Carolina State's R. O. T. C. unit again justified the care and training by Lieut. Colonel Early and his staff with the fine showing made in the annual Armistice Day parade. The personnel of the regular army were well satisfied and feel that the showing made in the parade was better than at any time previous. The march down Hillsboro street, aided by the Drum and Bugle Corps, was exceptionally good.

In past years the column has marched at ease until the Capitol was reached, but this year as the head of the column reached St. Mary's School, the regiment was called to attention and remained at attention until the Capitol was reached, where the command, "At Rest," was given.

Following are letters of commendation written by prominent officials who witnessed the parade:

Col. C. C. Early, Commandant, N. C. State College, Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Colonel Early:

On behalf of Raleigh Post No. 1, I wish to thank you and the students of the R. O. T. C. for participating in the Armistice celebration yesterday. I have never seen any troop, with so short a practice, look as well as they did. They certainly added materially to the success of the parade, which, I think, was the greatest that the American Legion has ever held in Raleigh.

With sincere good wishes, I am
Yours truly,
JOHN P. STEDMAN,
Commander.

My dear Colonel:

I desire to thank you and your staff and the R. O. T. C. Regiment for the splendid support which you gave us on Armistice Day. Our parade would not have been a success without the magnificent regiment which is under your command. The showing that these boys made was wonderful. Each year they show up better than the preceding year.

Again thanking you for your cooperation, and with kindest personal regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,
SPRAGUE SILVER,
Chairman Armistice Day Parade Com.

After the parade the regiment marched back to the college, where R. L. McMillan gave a very stirring speech concerning the American Flag. He began by giving the history of the Flag and then showed what it should mean to every American.

The speaker found striking conclusions in America's part in the World War, stating that this country has at last acquired world vision.

FAMOUS BRITISH LECTURER TO SPEAK HERE WEDNESDAY

"An Evening With the Stars"
Will Be Topic of Professor
Baumgardt

Prof. B. R. Baumgardt, F. R. A. S., British lecturer, scientist and explorer, is scheduled to appear here Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, giving his illustrated lecture, "An Evening with the Stars."

Professor Baumgardt has prepared for delivery no less than 35 lectures. The subjects of these lectures range from art, travel and history, to astronomy.

His lecture here is based upon years of observation and scientific research in this country and Europe. He is a distinguished scientist and knows his subject, but possesses the faculty, rare among men of science, of making his lectures popular.

Professor Baumgardt has spoken at Carnegie Hall, New York City; for the University of Chicago, Extension; Belasco Theater, Washington, D. C.; Academy of Science and Art, Pittsburgh, and before the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.

The following from the Washington, D. C. Star is a typical press comment on Professor Baumgardt:

"It would seem a difficult task to create a new impression in the lecture field, yet this is precisely what Mr. Baumgardt has done by adding to the elements of instruction and entertainment the charm of poetic interpretation. His enthusiasm is contagious, his personality peculiarly at

Newton Works 25 Hours To Decorate Gymnasium Without Accepting Pay

"When a man will voluntarily go out to a school which he has attended and work 25 hours without accepting a penny he should be appreciatively thanked," said C. B. Perry, while commenting on the pledge dances.

R. E. Newton, known to the boys as "Newt," came to the gym every time the decorating committee was there and put up the varicolored triangles which constituted the futuristic designs of the pledge dances.

Without the aid of this most generous man the gym would never have been completed, and the Pan-Hellenic Council is honored in offering him their appreciation.

When hearing that "Newt" was a representative of Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co., one of the committeemen said that he was changing to Chesterfields in the morning.

ELECT CADET COLONEL DANCE COMMITTEEMAN

LT. COL. W. T. GARIBALDI

Garibaldi Is Elected Ball Committeeman By Scabbard-Blade

Cadet Lieut. Col. W. T. Garibaldi, on the staff of the R. O. T. C. Regiment, is chairman of the ball to be given Friday night, November 22, in the auxiliary gym of the Frank Thompson Gymnasium. Other than his military duties he has undertaken other forms of work. He is a member of the social fraternity, Phi Kappa Phi; Beaux Arts Club, a professional architect fraternity; Golden Chain, honorary society; Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society. He is enrolled in the Architectural Engineering School.

The music for the ball will be furnished by the Carolina Tar Heels, with Alex Mendenhall directing. Elaborate decorations have been planned by the committee in charge. The committees now working on the ball are as follows: Representative of the Junior Class, First Sgt. C. B. Turner; committee on invitations, Maj. J. W. Workman, Maj. G. H. Jourdan, and Capt. E. L. Meekins; committee on decorations, Col. C. H. Belvin, Capt. R. C. Tucker, and Sgt. S. Demio; committee on publicity, Regt. Sgt. Maj. H. B. Merriam.

Engineering Department Makes Arrangements For Annual Engineers' Fair

Arrangements are being made now to make this year's Engineers' Fair the best ever held. This fair comes off on March 17, and all the engineering departments contribute in the form of exhibits and floats.

The greatest surprise will be the Electricals' float, which will be original and interesting in every particular. The nature of the float is being kept a secret for the present.

"Dare To Be Different," Urges Wilson in Lecture To Students

"My Philosophy of Life," "Science and Religion," and "The Technique of Creative Personality" were discussed by J. Stitt Wilson in a series of talks to State College students which was begun at 12 o'clock Tuesday and ended Thursday night.

Mr. Wilson is a speaker of national reputation, and has been visiting State for six years.

"There has never been an age," he said, "when it has been more difficult to come to conclusions in regard to life."

"In the great fields of the sciences, religion—in everything—there has, in the last few years, been more wonderful progress than ever before in man's history. We are passing through a revolution in science and religion."

Mr. Wilson turned to a blackboard which was on the rostrum and wrote, "Evolution of Personality."

"That will be my theme through all my lectures," he said. "Don't be scared by that word 'evolution.' I'm not using it in any forbidden sense."

"The first characteristic I want to discuss with you is this," and he turned to the board again and wrote, "Physico-Chemical."

COURT OF CUSTOMS ACTION

"I Have Talked to Several Up-perclassmen and They Are Opposed to the Freshmen Having to Wear the Cap," Says Student Councilman Henry Love—Gerneau Says Football Teams Are Not Exceptions to Rules in Freshman "Bible."

Four hundred excited freshmen, angered by the penalty imposed upon a football player by the Court of Customs, met yesterday in front of the College Cafeteria for the purpose of destroying forever the freshman caps.

"Get the paper!" "Burn the caps!" were cries of the mob of State College freshmen; but before the frosh could get under way Henry Love, vice-president of Student Council, appeared on the scene to bring the crowd to normal order.

Love said the freshmen could get rid of the cap in a legal manner, but burning the caps now would only

Dormitory Council Votes To Establish Quiet In Dormitory

The Dormitory Council, composed of the presidents of the dormitory clubs, and Paul Chopin, president of the council, met Tuesday night to work out a program of work for the dormitory clubs. The main feature of the program now is to establish and enforce a quiet hour. A committee was appointed to draw up detailed rules for quiet hour. It was decided that at 8 o'clock every night quiet hour should begin and that after that time boisterous noises and music of all kinds should cease. After 8 o'clock the peddling of anything, candy, smokes, clothing, etc., would be prohibited. All boys seeking for cleaning and repairing establishments must canvass the dormitories for their

"If you want to stand out from the mob you must protect your health at all costs—even if it means to leave school. I had to do that once, and when I came back I was in a much better condition."

"A man is wise who can see ahead—look at the things that have not yet happened. Will you be strong, clear-complexioned, and clear-minded when you are forty? It all depends on what you do now."

"I wish college students were fed as well and as carefully as are the animals at State College. College students eat anything at any time, but the animals' food is carefully selected and weighed and given to them at specific times."

"The greatest thing you can do for yourselves is to undergird your sexual life."

In part of his lecture on "Science and Religion" he said:

"This is a difficult age for men to think their way through. Everybody everywhere is perplexed. There are things that have been accepted as true for many generations; but now that so many discoveries have been

DRAMATIC SOCIETY ELECTS JOHN WHITE 1929-30 PRESIDENT

Organization Will Study
the American Stage
This Year

OBERHOLZER WILL AGAIN
PILOT "RED MASQUERS"

First Production, Last Year,
Was Very Successful and Played in Most of the Larger Cities of North Carolina—Association Will Investigate as to Whether the American Stage
Is on the Decline.

The "Red Masquers," dramatic organization of this institution, at their first meeting of the season held last Friday, November 8, elected John H. White, of Boston, Mass., president of the organization for the ensuing year.

* White has had quite a bit of experience in dramatics, playing in the north as well as carrying a leading role in "R. U. R." "Red Masquers" dramatic success of last year. He is also a member of THE TECHNICIAN staff and a member of "Los Hildagos," honorary modern language fraternity. Outside of school, White is doing some work on one of the local newspapers of the city. It is thought that "Red Masquers" have used splendid judgment in choosing their leader and that White will be a very capable one, as he has shown quite a bit of interest in dramatics throughout his stay at State College.

To help White carry on the executive work of the organization the following staff members were elected: J. D. Britt, of Clinton, vice-president; Ada Spencer, of Raleigh, secretary, and Harold B. "Skip" Merriam, of New York City, treasurer and business manager. Professor E. H. Paget, of the Public Speaking Department, is the faculty adviser. He will be assisted by Professor H. J. Oberholzer, of the same department, who will do most of the coaching this year. Oberholzer made a very creditable name for himself last year coaching "R. U. R." Elbert M. Overton, Jr., is general press representative and Roy H. Park is Associated Press man to see that the name of "Red Masquers" is carried throughout the South.

The dramatic organization has a very extensive program planned for the year. They are planning to investigate the question as to whether the American stage of today is on a decline or not, and will probably confer with some of the outstanding artists of today on that subject.

For the first production of the season an even greater success than "R. U. R." their production of last year, which was observed by cheering audiences in Raleigh, Greensboro, and Winston-Salem, and proclaimed by dramatic critics in these cities as being the greatest success staged by amateur players they had ever witnessed, is planned. The directors and play-reading committee have been very busy during the past few weeks reviewing plays in order that "Red Masquers" will select one of the best dramas for their coming production.

It is thought that in the near future State College will offer, in the English curricula, several courses in dramatics. The "Red Masquers" are sponsoring such a movement, and it is thought that the organization, as well as the student body, will be greatly benefited by such an addition.

All this week old members have been busy rushing new students to select the best men to add to the membership of the organization. A meeting will be held Friday, November 15, at 12, in the Leazar hall at the "Y." At this time new men will be entertained and will be presented to the club as prospective pledges. It is very necessary that all old members be present at the meeting Friday, as they will be dropped from membership if not there to answer to the roll-call. Tryouts will be held at a later date.

made in the last few years, are we to throw aside all these old beliefs? "The average college man finds himself in difficulty about what to believe about religion. He finds it difficult to make what he learns about science and what he learns about religion fit. His first tendency, then, is to throw away his religion entirely. That's a sophomoric way of doing. If your car breaks down you don't throw it away. You try to fix it. You ought to treat your scientific and religious problems the same way.

"If you can't settle your problem in a bull session, don't ditch it! Don't be a child. Give it thought. Learn all the science you can. You'll never go crazy from what you learn. But don't get too proud of what you know. There will always be a plenty that you won't know.

"Any honest-seeking human being can learn. The attitude, not the sect, is what counts. Theology is one thing; religion is another. Religion is what counts.

necessitate the buying of new ones, or trouble. Love further urged the freshmen to appoint a committee which would confer with Dr. E. C. Brooks, Dean E. L. Cloyd, and representatives of the student body.

"I have tried to several upperclassmen, and they are opposed to freshmen having to wear the cap," said the student councilman, "and a referendum can be taken to determine the will of the student body on this question. If it is their will, the cap can be abolished."

Sam Gerneau, prominent freshman football player, said it was not the will of the football team to become exceptions to any of the freshman rules, but the freshman class opposed action of the Court of Customs when they sentenced Comiskey, another gridman, to wear a conical dress for thirteen days when he did not wear the "F" cap.

The crowd was finally dispersed when the upperclassmen promised action on the "frosh cap question."

clothing and shoes before the beginning of quiet hour.

The council also decided that there will be in every dormitory a directory hung in a conspicuous place of that dormitory, with the occupants' names in alphabetical order along with the room number. A committee was appointed to work out a telephone system for each dormitory. The floors will be oiled and the beds painted to help the boys with their continuous war against ants.

The formation of a Boosters' Club was announced at the meeting. This club will have the same purpose as the dormitory clubs and will also take in the fraternities and honor societies, as the Pine Burr and Blue Key.

By Friday of this week Paul Choplin's room, 221 Watauga, will be completed as an example of what the Dormitory Club is trying to do. The Student Government office, 115 Holladay Hall, will be open for inspection on Friday of this week.

tractive, and his delivery modulated to a nicely, which shows him to be the possessor of historic abilities. He is a man of the rarest intellectual attainments."

"An Evening With the Stars," spectacular lecture on the wonders of the heavens, which the distinguished scientist, Prof. B. R. Baumgardt, F. R. S., will deliver here Wednesday evening, is illustrated with the most remarkable presentation of celestial photography ever seen.

"An Evening With the Stars" is one of the foremost popular lectures on the fascinating subject of astronomy. Ever new, always revised and kept down to date, abreast with the most recent explorations of the starry universe with the world's greatest telescopes, this great lecture is presented in language so simple that even a child can understand it. It conveys to the mind graphically, poetically, what everybody ought to know about the wonders of the starry universe.

Here is a celestial journey to the frontiers of our universe, billions of miles away in the bosom of immeasurable space. Oon the wings of science we traverse the circuit of the universe, and are then brought safely back again to our earth.

Sixteen Students Given
Membership In Phi Kappa Phi

honor society was organized in 1897 for the purpose of promoting scholarship among American college students. It seeks to foster learning in competition with numerous attractive and conflicting interests affecting the modern-day life of the undergraduate by offering him membership on an equal basis with the faculty.

"It is the greatest honor that can come to any student of science, and one selected to wear its emblem can be justly proud. The fraternity is not made up of a few bathed in snobbery. It is the few who have been selected for their outstanding accomplishments, their manhood, and their citizenship. They are the men who will go from the various science colleges and become leaders among men. Surely the fruits of industry and accomplishments will be theirs and not the fruits of indolence and unworthiness."

One of the greatest contributions the Phi Kappa Phi can make is to find means of awakening in the freshman the feeling that from the start he must conceive his inspiration of some definite and specific objective and drive for the goal—play hard when he plays—work hard when he works. The fact that scholarship day, sponsored by the fraternity, does not draw a larger crowd of students on its special day of program is indication enough to point to some serious fundamental defects which should be searched out and remedied.

This fraternity is a scholarship fraternity. It has high ideals. It requires inspiration, industry, and perseverance.

It should be the proud ambition of every man to wear the scholarship key of the Phi Kappa Phi—the Science honor society. A freshman should have inspirations even before entering college, and it is to the members of the Phi Kappa Phi—both faculty and student members alike—to stand for high ideals on the campus.

The following students were initiated: E. W. Buchanan, business ad.; A. L. Cook, const. eng.; F. W. Cooke, poultry; G. G. Fornes, M.E.; M. A. Holjes, const. eng.; B. J. Kaston, biology; W. E. Koonce, chem. eng.; H. G. Love, B.A.; E. H. Proctor, C.E.; E. H. Roberts, B.A.; A. C. Ruggles, chemistry; R. E. Singletary, B.A.; Ada Spencer, journalism; W. W. Weltmer, E.E.; E. B. Worth, M.E., and William Wright, M.E.

State Meets Duke In Durham Tomorrow At 2:30

LAST BIG FIVE TEST OF SEASON FOR '29 GRIDIRON WOLVES

First Game In New Stadium for Tebell's Men

State will take on its last big five foe of the current football season tomorrow, when it meets the Duke Blue Devils in the Methodists' new stadium at Durham. The game is set for 2:30.

The Wolfpack has counted one victory in three starts with North Carolina teams this season and will be endeavoring to score its second win at the expense of DeHart's men, although the odds are in favor of the Methodists.

State lost a hard fought game to Davidson last Saturday, but came out of the fray without serious injury. The starting line-up in tomorrow's game, however, will find several changes. "Flip" Edmondson has been working in the backfield in Devant's place, and will probably start. The line will offer several changes, as Gus Tebell has been shifting his men in various positions in an effort to find the "punch" that has been lacking so far this season.

Duke Strong

Fresh from their surprising victory over Louisiana State, Duke will be out to cop its first big-five victory of the season. The affair will be the third home game for Duke.

DeHart has one of the strongest teams in North Carolina and has in Sam Bule the best passer in the South, and the air is expected to be filled with these over-hand heaves from the Duke pass-finger. Godfrey, the big line-smasher, will be another Blue Devil man expected to give State much trouble.

Yank Spaulding and Jim Ward, of Carolina, have wrestled the lead from other North Carolina players in individual football scoring honors.

REPORTS FROM BASKETBALL "NIGHT CAMPS" PROMISING

Acting Coach Goodwin Has Seventeen Men On Hand At Present

Reports from the night camp of "Coach" Frank Goodwin state that the pre-season basketballers are surely rounding into mid-season form, with much interest being taken in the sport.

With such gaps left open by All-Southern material, such as ex-captain Hank Young, Bob Warren, Frank Goodwin, Johnny Mason, and Owens at center, forward, and guard, Frank Goodwin, present coach, and future Coach Gus Tebell will have a full job on their hands to materialize a team that will bring home a Southern Conference title. The above men were lost to State College by graduation.

However, the present coach is not pessimistic over the outlook of the ensuing year, as such hardwood artists as Captain Johnny Johnson, Gus Wright, Brake, and Larry Haar are back, and around which will be formed the State quintet. The above gentlemen, with the exception of Haar, are practicing the great fall sport, and will not report until later to the basketball squad.

The total of seventeen men on hand at this week's practice include: John Gammon, Hunkey Waring, Woodward, McCloud, White, Joe Ellington, "Spivis" Stevens, Red Morgan, Garfield Tew, "Skeet" Atkinson, Shorty Atkinson, Jackson, Brown, Gaylord, Bunning, and L. A. Edwards.

WOLFLETS USE VARIOUS METHODS TO COUNT WIN

Mope Comiskey Leads Drennan's Men in 45-0 Victory Over Baby Deacons

The N. C. State Wolflets defeated the Wake Forest Baby Deacons in a feature of the Armistice Day program by the one-sided score of 45 to 0, last Monday.

Throughout the game the Wolflets presented an untiring attack that never was checked by the visitors. Drennan's men used the ground, air and all kinds of trick plays to gain yardage through the air and over the ground.

The first quarter consisted of an exchange of punts with State having a decided edge on their opponents. The one bright spot in this period was a sixty-five-yard punt by Gresson, of the Wolflets.

In the second quarter State started its scoring. "Snoozy" Harris scored easily in this period, after Comiskey, Kavell, and Waddell had advanced the ball deep into the Deacons' territory. The kick for the extra point was wide.

A few minutes later "Mope" Comiskey added another marker on an off-tackle play. Incidentally this Comiskey guy scored 25 points for the afternoon. In the closing minutes of this half Willie Duke grabbed a pass from Waddell for another touchdown.

The Deacons' defense stiffened in the second half, but Comiskey came through with another score. He also added the extra point.

In the closing period of the game Comiskey added two more touchdowns and Cook and Kavell added the extra points.

Goodman joined the scorers of the afternoon when he snagged a pass and ran 30 yards for the last score of the afternoon.

DIXIEGRANDS
By FRED DIXON

We were lost altogether last week, but here we are again with a new column head donated by our old friend, Mr. P. A. Reynolds, cartoonist of the News and Observer.

The Wolfpack lost a hard fought game to the Davidson Wildcats last Saturday. The newspapers said "breaks" had a lot to do with the 13-0 score.

The freshmen counted their fourth win of the season over the Wake Forest fresh Monday. A victory over Carolina—then, hail the 1929 freshman football champs.

The name "Mope" Comiskey needs no identification. He counted 25 points for the Wolflets in the game Monday.

When you start talking about freshman stars there is no limit to quiting, but "Red" Espey, at center, looks like All-State material next year—and his Junior year.

The war-whoop of Sam Gurneau, big Indian from Wisconsin, will not be heard again this year on the freshman team, but he will be all set for the varsity next year.

Yesterday we heard of a new wrinkle in sports. There's to be a spelling match down at the City Auditorium Friday, November 22d. The fellow who spells the highest number of words correctly will be awarded five touchdowns, in football language, but which means five dollars in English. Here's the catch, however, to enter you must pay 10 cents. Let's go down and win!

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

Here's another list of football games to be played tomorrow. Check your teams and turn in your results at The Technician office by Saturday noon.

WAITING

Sam Gurneau, big Indian star of the 1929 freshman team, pictured above, will not be seen in action any more this season. Gurneau, who claims Superior, Wis., as his home, attended the University of Wisconsin for three months last spring, but withdrew before taking the examinations. Dr. S. V. Sanford, Southern Conference head, stated that under the ruling of the Southern Conference Gurneau would not be eligible for football until next year, on account of attending the University.

STATE HARRIERS MEET DUKE'S CROSS COUNTRY TEAM IN SECOND TEST

The State College cross-country team will get its second big-five test, if they have such things in track circles, tomorrow, when it runs against the Duke Harriers between halves of the State-Duke football game to be played at Durham. At the same time the freshman team will take on the Blue Imp trotters.

State took a clean-cut defeat from Carolina in its first run of the season, but Coach and Captain Alex Redfern has given his men plenty of work since that race and expects a better showing tomorrow.

The freshmen have been defeated by Carolina and have wound up in a 28-all tie with the Winston-Salem High School team in their first two appearances this season.

Duke won the Southern championship last season, but have been defeated by Carolina this season.

"DeHart," at Duke, is beating with a little more pride now.

THIRTY TEAMS ENTERED IN INTRAMURAL COMPETITION

Seventeen Organizations Have Entered Men in Contests Held So Far

The following teams are entered in the intramural athletic events being promoted this fall by J. F. Miller, director of physical education:

Pi Kappa Alpha, Alpha Gamma Rho, Sigma Nu, Sigma Pi, Alpha Lambda Tau, Theta Kappa Nu, Sigma Tau Beta, Delta Sigma Psi, Kappa Sigma, Alpha Chi Beta, Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Pi Kappa Phi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Tau Rho Alpha, Ag Club, Tompkins Textile, DeMolays, Poultry Science, the New Jersey Club, Animal Husbandry, Co. A, Co. B, Co. C, Co. D, Co. E, Co. F, Co. G, Co. H, Co. I, and Mechanical Engineers.

Seventeen teams have entered the names of their representatives so far, and Mr. Miller wishes to have the other teams sign up at once.

A silver cup will be given to the winners in the horseshoe pitching and the swimming events.

"ANIMAL CRACKERS"

Ninety football teams, selected at random, have nicknames that run from sweet zephyrs to hurricanes, from terrapins to tigers, and back again. Twenty-two teams have animal nicknames, thirteen are named for birds, bees, and insects. The elements rank third, while the lone flower is the violet of New York U.

It's too bad that the band can't play at the Thanksgiving game. But the call of turkey and the old home town means more than seeing the game.

Red Masquers are launching efforts toward another dramatic attempt, and with the interest being created, the result cannot be other than a success.

The students are glad to see that the trainmen are again waving the red and white flag when they pass during a football game. Sure does help old State spirit!

State-Duke game in the new Duke stadium should be a drawing card for the football fans. State is going to fight for a win, and every student possible should be there to back the team.

The result of the co-ed questionnaire proved and disproved many things; but, according to the whole editorial staff except E. M. Overton, the best example of a real co-ed is Ada Spencer.

The visit of J. Stitt Wilson to our campus each year is very beneficial, not only to the freshmen who are able to hear him for the first time, but also to the many upperclassmen who attend his addresses.

NEW STADIUM

Duke University on October 5 opened its new stadium with much pomp and ceremony; last fall the University of North Carolina opened the new Kenan stadium for the use of intercollegiate athletic contests; Davidson has had a small stadium for several years. But State College has had the same athletic field, with only a few improvements, for the past twenty years.

Are we to be classed with the smaller colleges of the South in the matter of an adequate athletic field? This year the attendance at the games has not been so great, but then the showing of the team has not attracted wide attention. The freshman team this year has drawn large crowds and gives promise of a wealth of material for next year's varsity. With such a drawing card as is expected in the near future, we need a stadium. Such an idea is not a newfound one, because the future plans for the college as shown on the picture of the future State College in the comptroller's office calls for a stadium to be erected on the present site of Riddick Field. The past has not justified the need of such a structure, but now the time is ripe. Other schools have stadiums, and we want one of which the people of North Carolina, the alumni, and the students will be proud.

It has been rumored that State will receive donations on the project, and also that money can be borrowed. The money can be raised by state legislation without question if sufficient influence is brought to bear. This influence can come in the form of a demand from the students.

State College men, now is the time to begin work for a real stadium that will be a credit to our school. Talk it up!

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

State College tries to keep up to the standards of other colleges, and in many cases leads the other colleges in certain fields; but never have the junior and senior classes had the right relationship between each other.

Last year the junior class, the now present senior class, started a move to have a junior-senior prom, but the project fell through because of lack of co-operation among the members of the junior class. Some of them thought that a barbecue would be more appropriate. Well, as the co-eds say, we can also jump in the river, but who wants to do either? A final outcome of the situation was a midnight show at the Palace that proved a slight success.

The juniors this year are starting early and are determined to make the junior-senior prom a success. We are glad to hear that a class has come to realize that the school needs a thing like this. It is the most logical form of entertainment of seniors by which their girls may partake of the enjoyment without additional cost.

Midnight shows are taboo. They are as bad as freshman parades, unless some good show can be seen, such as "Padlocks of '29," or some other good road show. A movie show is no unusual treat for anybody, as most everyone goes once or twice a week, anyhow. A good banquet, on the other hand, is more expensive and less entertaining than a dance. Furthermore, there are few places available that would accommodate the number who would be eligible to attend.

In all the big schools the annual junior-senior prom is the outstanding event of the year. The members of the two classes look forward to the annual affair with great anticipation, and the girl that is asked to go feels highly honored. Also, a prom is an excellent advertisement for the school.

Such an event with the Governor or some other notable as guest of honor would add much to the interest and wide advertisement of the affair. Cannot such a prom be planned that will be a credit to State College?

The Ag students have their barn-warming, the engineer students their brawl, and the other organizations something which leaves out someone each time. This dance would include all juniors and seniors, and they could all feel that it was their affair regardless of their ability to dance.

The cost would not be over $1.50 per junior, and the seniors could come free, or if necessary would be glad to give a small sum to make the thing a success.

In the past the junior class has been too small to sponsor such a move, but now the enrollment is sufficient to justify such a venture. State College is on the road to higher things if we have more changes like this.

WHERE THE COURT STANDS

There are certain criticisms being offered against the Court of Customs and its rulings—particularly those governing the freshman football players. The court offers no apology—and begs constructive criticism—but its rulings will stand because they were made with this retrospect:

During the first part of the year some of the freshmen football players were going consistently without freshman caps. The court, realizing that its duty was to put caps on them, had two or three up for trial. Some agitation developed from this move—the sum total being: (1) The football players said theirs was a very conspicuous position on the campus and they were watched too closely, and it was not fair to them, since other freshmen got by without wearing their caps; (2) Dr. Brooks was consulted as to what should be done; (3) Dr. Sermon was asked to present to the players the wisdom of wearing their caps; (4) certain players who were due for trial were taken personally by Judge Vann, who explained the position of the court, and their cases were dropped; (5) the boys got caps and wore them for a while.

Now, after three weeks, some are charged with not wearing caps. The court, using its last resource, called these men to trial with intention of letting the students decide what was to be done. They decided, by finding the men guilty, some with recommendations for mercy. Judge Vann sentenced these men just as if they were any other freshmen on the campus.

Two weeks ago certain freshmen were tried by the court (not football players); they were found guilty and were given sentences which were practically the originals of the ones given the players. Nothing has been said. These freshmen were never given the benefit of a private consultation and dismissal. It might be said here, in these cases the court was guilty of discrimination.

When the court proceeded in its regular channels it did so with the intention of treating all alike. That was fair enough, especially after the court's good will had been betrayed.

Why the kick? One player had no money with which to buy a cap after having his stolen. The judge warns him and tells him to come get an excuse and he would be given 48 hours in which to get a cap. Does he come for the excuse? No! Does he tell the judge he is broke? No! Instead, he goes for thirteen days without one. The gentleman was tried and found guilty. He was sentenced to wear a dress for every day he did not wear his cap. The court gave a fair notice—the defendant cried in the first place by not giving his real reason to the judge. The Student Council has two caps to lend to freshmen unable to buy one.

The other cases need not be mentioned, for they parallel a half dozen others the court has tried. The same sentences were meted out to all.

Now, the court itself—in so far as it has rendered decisions—cannot be criticized. There should be a better spirit among the student body. They come with the idea—I say some of them—that a freshman is guilty, regardless of facts. So far the decisions have been fair—and the juries have shown variation in rendering them. This is what the court is for and what it wants to do—to correct and not to punish, to aid and not to hinder, the spirit and good will on the campus. This it has endeavored to do, and will so continue regardless of who is brought before it.

Sheriff of Court of Customs.

DORMITORY QUIET HOUR

Since the liberation of State College from military rule we have felt the need of quiet in the dormitories at certain hours of the night, so that students may pursue their studies. The students have felt this need and have been anxious to establish some kind of house rules so as to maintain quiet, but the students have had no organization through which to work.

Public sentiment in the dormitories has now risen to a plane where the students are clamoring for a chance to study—barring a few exceptions. The writer wishes to state that the dormitory clubs are now working on regulations to take care of a proposed quiet-hour period. These regulations, along with a student directory of the section, will be framed and placed in each dormitory section.

It is not the purpose of the Dormitory Council, which is composed of the presidents of the various dormitory clubs, to make rules for the students, and I wish to state that whatever regulations are passed will come from the dormitory men.

J. STITT WILSON MEETS WITH DISCUSSION GROUP

Monday night the discussion group leaders held their weekly meeting in the seminar room of the library. The presidents of the dormitories met with them to hear J. Stitt Wilson discuss ways in which the campus conditions might be improved and how the problems could be dealt with best.

"THIS WEEK"

By E. H. ROBERTS

Someone about the campus should start a move to encourage the smoking of Chesterfield cigarettes, if for no other reason than the fact that the makers of this cigarette are being so nice to this institution.

Mr. R. E. Newton is the local representative for Chesterfields. Last week the Pan-Hellenic gave the customary pledge dances. One of the features of this series of dances was the modernistic decorations around the gallery. To the best of my knowledge, all of this intricate and back-breaking work was performed by Mr. Newton. I am sure that he did more actual work toward decorating the Frank Thompson gymnasium than any other one man. This work was greatly appreciated by the dance committee, especially B. Perry. This is not the first time Mr. Newton has volunteered his services in decorating the gym, either.

Then, too, remember the help Chesterfields are giving the school in the form of advertising in the various campus publications.

Attention, Mr. Vipond (a suggested article for The Watagan): Is it better to burn the candle at both ends, have a hot time, and kick off at fifty, or mope around in the dark and pull through to a hundred?

Notice: I will pay $1.00—no, I'll make it $1.50—for the best joke or bit of scandal on any faculty member or prominent student. Remember, the subject must be worth a laugh. Don't be afraid that anyone will be embarrassed. Mr. Weaver is a very conservative editor.

Well, here's to more and better-looking co-eds!

"Padlocks of 1929" Are Represented At State Pledge Dances

The wheel of social activities on the campus was started rolling this past week-end when the pledges of the different fraternities entertained their older brethren with a series of pledge dances. The merrymaking, beginning Friday afternoon with a tea danced from 4 to 6, followed by a dance from 9 to 12 Friday evening, was closed Saturday only by the coming of Sunday morning.

The dances, sponsored by the pledges and controlled by the Pan-Hellenic Council, were attended by many collegians from over the state, the peak of attendance being reached at the informal "shag" Saturday night.

Three chorines from "Padlocks of 1929," then playing at the State, breezed in for a few minutes Saturday night and showed the "rah-rah" boys a step or two.

Ray Miller and his Brunswick Re-

It Takes Great Explosions to Wake Some of Us

cording Orchestra furnished music for the dances. The pledge dances are the first of the season, and are the only social activities controlled by the Pan-Hellenic Council until the finals next spring. The German Club has control of the mid-winter social events. Many a shipping clerk has been promoted to traveling salesman after his wife interviewed the boss.

REWARD TECHNICIAN MEN WITH BANQUET FOR WORK

Professor O. J. Coffin from the University To Be Main Speaker

As the reward for efficient service THE TECHNICIAN will hold its first periodical banquet at the Mere Mont Tea Room next Tuesday night, November 19. The special guest of the evening will be Prof. O. J. Coffin, head of the journalism department at U. N. C., and also author of the column in the Greensboro Daily News entitled "Shucks and Nubbins."

THE TECHNICIAN began four weeks ago requiring all reporters to hand in two stories a week to be eligible to hold their places, the reward for four stories being invitation to the banquet. Result of such a contest has enabled the paper to cover its news field to cover most of the college activities and departments.

The entire editorial, business, and circulation staffs were complimented by the editor on their good work for the past four issues, most of the reporters bringing in four stories each week, and the staff worked smoothly.

The men eligible for the banquet are: Staff members Louis H. Wilson, Roy H. Park, H. B. Merriam, J. E. King, A. D. Thomas, Fred Dixon, G. B. Chapman, Bob Biggs, T. S. Ferree, Jr., John White, L. W. Watkins, R. M. Lightfoot, B. A. Streib, C. D. Pickrell, W. C. Hubbard, W. F. Bowers, M. A. Abernethy, R. D. Stallings, Beaufort Guy.

Also among special guests will be Prof. Stewart Robertson and Comptroller A. S. Brower.

A Great All-Talking Mystery Thriller

"Rio Rita," the all-talking, all-musical Radio Pictures extravaganza which opens at the State Theatre next Monday for a week's run, is evidence—tuneful, colorful evidence—that the screen has touched a new high mark in entertainment.

Interesting as is the story, lavish as are the sets and costumes, it is the singing and acting of the large cast of principals that lift "Rio Rita" to the peak in audience appeal.

Bebe Daniels, in the title rôle, is no less than a sensation with her new-found voice. No heretofore prima donna of the opera ever so fascinated an audience as does Miss Daniels as she sings more than a dozen of Harry Tierney's beautiful melodies.

John Boles, erstwhile musical comedy star, is excellent as leading man with Miss Daniels. Pressing the leading characters for honors of the piece, however, are Bert Wheeler, Dorothy Lee and Robert Woolsey, who give to the show not only a generous share of comedy, but contribute much to its large share of dancing and singing.

Helen Kaiser, one of the girls Ziegfeld "glorified" in the stage version of "Rio Rita"; Don Alvarado, George Renavent, Nick de Ruiz, and Eva Rista are others who add much to the appeal of "Rio Rita."

Strange camera angles, weird and fantastic shadows, embellishing a strange plot of murder, mystery, and the supernatural—these are the means by which Tod Browning tells the newest mystery tale of the films, "The Thirteenth Chair," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's all-talking film version of the celebrated stage play.

"The Thirteenth Chair," which comes Thursday, Friday, and Saturday to the Palace Theatre, has taken the original stage play and its original star, Margaret Wycherly, and decked them in mysterious effects and fantastic ideas impossible within the limitations of the stage. Uncanny photographic effects, augmented with screams in the dark and a brooding sense of the mysterious in the dialogue, have made this talking picture an entirely new form of mystery entertainment.

Maintaining a tempo of action to keep pace with the swift dialogue in the talkization of "His Glorious Night," the Molnar play, "Olympia," which comes Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday to the Palace Theatre, with John Gilbert in the starring rôle, was the foremost problem Lionel Barrymore had to solve when he began direction of this new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature.

Barrymore, wisely enough, laid a spectacular prologue to this sophisticated comedy in starting it out with a colorful glimpse of a sporty steeplechase event in a smart European watering resort, screening the difficult talking sequences with a breeziness obtainable only through the ingenious use of all the mechanical aid he could command.

three highest individual scorers at the meet. The boys went by train and are to study on the way.

The team has been training, under the supervision of Mr. Cotner, during the afternoons and nights of the past three weeks. Individual as well as group coaching was given the contestants, and according to reports of the marks made, the team is as well trained as any one ever to leave State College.

This year, because of insufficient funds, no alternate is being carried. McLain was an alternate on the team

MUSIC FRATERNITY HOLDS CONVENTION AT COLLEGE

Local Members Entertain Visitors With a Splendid Banquet

A national convention of Mu Beta Psi, honorary musical fraternity, was held at State College November 8 and 9. The convention opened at 5:30 p.m. Friday, with a banquet at the Y.M.C.A. and the seven courses served caused even the "Wolfpack" drum major to confess that as a gourmet he was more than satisfied, although he could have enjoyed more chicken (the kind with dresses on). The banquet hall was attractively decorated in the fraternity colors—red and white—and imported candles served as the means of illumination. The fraternity insignia and newly-engraved coat of arms also added to its appearance.

The national president, J. Mathews, N. C. State '29, officiated as toastmaster, and the speakers included E. J. Cullem, musical director at Davidson College; "Daddy" Price, ditto at State; C. E. Orr, Jr., president of Beta Chapter, and P. Fry, national secretary, Davidson '28—also Bob Smith, far famed for his natural ability as a comedian and joker. A poem, "The Influence of Music," was read by H. E. Altman, one of the new members of Alpha Chapter.

Later the members retired for a business meeting, at which the present national officers were reelected for the coming year. H. W. Horney, Alpha '30, was elected executive secretary, and an executive committee, composed of P. W. Price and C. E. Orr, Jr., was elected.

At 11:00 o'clock all unfinished business was postponed until the following day in order that the guests could enjoy the rhythmic harmony of the "Personality King of Jazz" and his followers, as portrayed at the pledge dance in Thompson Gymnasium. This was made possible through the courtesy of Dean Cloyd.

The visitors spent the night at "Seldom Inn," and the next morning was taken up with a tour of the campus. At 12:00 o'clock a final meeting was called at which it was decided to hold the next national convention April 25, 1930.

The Davidson-State game in the afternoon provided plenty of excitement for everyone concerned. Mr. E. J. Cullem certainly proved that whatever the Davidson band may have lacked in quantity was more than accounted for by the quality of the music turned out.

Members of Mu Beta Psi registered at the convention were L. L. Barr, Jr., C. E. Orr, Jr., R. W. McDermid, A. J. Thompson, Jr., P. Fry, and E. J. Cullem, from Beta Chapter; J. B. Gurley, R. G. Vick, L. E. Hawes, H. E. Altman, H. W. Horney, H. Stochman, R. Smith, G. M. Swicegood, J. H. Brown, L. A. Powell, R. L. Beard, L. V. Lowe, Major Price, and J. Mathews from Alpha Chapter.

last year, and, according to the coach, has been showing up exceptionally well so far. The other two members of the team were out for the team last year, but were shoved out in the elimination bouts.

For the past several years, since the contests began, the State team has ranked high in the contests, winning four first places in six years. Last year E. H. Floyd, highest individual scorer in the contest, made a score of 542.7 out of a possible score of 548 points, failing to identify only one of the 78 samples. This record surpassed by four points the highest mark ever made in identification at the contest.

The team is expected to return Wednesday or Thursday.

Conservative Co-eds Choice Of State College Students

362 say the ideal co-ed does not run around in summer without hose—177 think it is all right.

Sun-back dresses are opposed by 323 students, but are sanctioned by 210.

The average ideal weight is 121 and three-fifths pounds, and the average ideal height is five feet five and one-half inches.

379 prefer brunettes, 110 like blondes, one prefers red hair, and 43 profess to hate all women alike. One gentleman said he would like two of each.

The average ideal age to marry is twenty-three and one-half years. For the characteristic most to be considered in choosing a wife character came first with 407, intelligence second with 76, and personality third with 52. For the characteristics least to be considered, personal beauty led with 332 and education was second with 219.

"I think the efficiency in training men will be weakened by admitting co-eds," says one student, while another answers, "There's no reason why we shouldn't have co-eds here."

Bill: "Hurry, Will, my wife wants to get some real alligator shoes."
Will: "What size does her alligator wear?"

FRESHMEN OFFICERS WILL BE SELECTED WEDNESDAY NOON

The election of the Freshmen Class officers will be held next Wednesday, November 20, at 12 o'clock.

The State has been divided into eight districts with a chairman for each district. These districts are to meet and name their nominees for the presidency of the freshman class. The students from out of the State for a ninth district.

Dean Cloyd urges that all districts meet as soon as possible in order that nominees be ready at the freshman class meeting next Wednesday.

Paul Choplin, president of the Student Government, will preside over the meeting.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROMENADE TO BE HELD AFTER EASTER

Dance Will Be First In History of North Carolina State College

The juniors met in the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday, after dinner, and decided that the best way to entertain seniors would be to have a junior-senior prom.

If the present plans of the committee, which is working on it, are carried out N. C. State will hold its first junior-senior prom. here sometime after Easter. There was much discussion and some dissension when the motion was first put on the floor, but it was eventually passed by a large majority.

It has always been the custom for the juniors to entertain the seniors in some fashion each year, and the majority of the juniors felt that a prom. would be an excellent way to do this.

The junior class will in turn be entertained next school year by the present sophomore class. If the precedent of a junior-senior prom. is successfully established it is expected that the annual affair will be a red-letter day in State's social calendar.

People who live in sedans shouldn't throw stones, either.

COMMENT from other COLLEGES

By R. M. L.

Certain legislators, professors, and columnists like to think that "hitchhiking" is a terrible practice. Somebody might hold up his motorist benefactor. The tables were turned the other day at Wake Forest, however, when a freshman was held up by the man he was riding with. Everything turned out all right, though, because the motorist gave everything back when he found the youth had no pistol.

Down at Mercer, freshmen co-eds (both of 'em) are freshmen too. All last week they had to wear their dresses backward, wore old shoes and hose, brought their books to school in pillowcases. They also wore green ties and red caps, and entered the cop by the rear door.

If American college students are the objects of criticism because they place too much apparent importance on football games, they may point their critics to Central Europe, where the winning of international football contests has become second in importance to the honor of the various countries only to that of winning military scraps.

According to the outlook of the Czechoslovakian press, if this nation loses its football game with Hungary, the future of the nation is lost.

Last year when Austria beat Italy in a game at Vienna the Italian press was so outraged at the loss that it seriously asked for a military invasion of the opponent's territory.

Laurence Snyder Writes Book On Blood Grouping

a book, written by Dr. Laurence H. Snyder, of the local Zoology Department and entitled "Blood Grouping in Relation to Chemical and Legal Medicine," has recently been published.

Dr. Snyder has been at State College only a short time, but is doing some very valuable work in the zoological and blood research fields.

In his new book Dr. Snyder treats on all the aspects of blood grouping, including medical, anthropological, genetic, and physiological.

Three copies of the new book, one which he presented, are now available at the D. H. Hill Library for the benefit of the students.

Winning the war against weather

In the telephone business, research man, manufacturing engineer and construction supervisor are carrying on a successful war against the unruly elements, enemies to service.

Cable, for example, housing many circuits and covered with protective coatings of proved strength, withstands storms which might seriously threaten open wire lines.

Thus in the Bell System growth is intensive as well as extensive, improving present facilities as well as adding new ones. And there is no end to all this development.

Pledge Dances

The week-end of November 8th and 9th proved to be quite a gay one for students of State College, and with dances, football games, and formal parties the campus was a scene of much merrymaking. The festivities began Friday afternoon with a tea dance from 4 to 6 in the Frank Thompson Gym.

The gym was beautifully decorated with balloons and crepe paper of every conceivable color in a futuristic design.

The dances were sponsored by the pledges of the different fraternities on the campus. The Friday afternoon dance was followed by a formal one Friday night, at which time the pledge figure was held. The State-Davidson game proved to be the entertaining feature of Saturday afternoon, followed by a tea dance at the Pi Kappa Alpha house and an informal dance Saturday night in the gym. This dance was one of the largest ever given at State College. Many guests from Davidson, Carolina, Duke, and Wake Forest were present.

Music for the dances was furnished by Ray Miller and his Brunswick recording orchestra, which is making a tour of southern colleges and universities.

S. P. E. House Party

The members of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity entertained a number of guests at a house party given over the week-end of the pledge dances. Numerous entertainments were furnished to the guests.

The members of the fraternity are: N. C. Bellamy, J. M. Boone, W. R. McCracken, J. N. May, H. B. Ormand, C. S. Schaub, N. J. Shevell, W. P. Walker, J. B. Meacham, Jr., R. C. Cochran, W. F. Hanks, H. A. McClung, Thurman Mauney, Horace Pennington, and D. M. Woodside.

Pipes save no midnight oil

IF PIPES made the man, anybody at all could rise in the world just by smoking a few pounds of Edgeworth. But pipes don't make the man.

Men make the pipe—most men do. Somewhat depends on the individual, more on the pipe, and the tobacco is most important of all. Things must be congenial.

Edgeworth is a congenial tobacco, cool, slow-burning, fully flavored. Edgeworth has poise, kindly good nature, real tobacco personality—Edgeworth welcomes new friends. Many a good man has been pledged to pipes by Edgeworth alone.

Like to meet Edgeworth? Just ask with the coupon—and the postman will bring your first few pipefuls of the genuine, three years seasoned if it's a day. Our treat, if you please.

Others have found Edgeworth and quit their discontent.

So may it be with you!

EDGEWORTH

Edgeworth is a careful blend of good tobaccos—selected especially for pipe-smoking. Its quality and flavor never change. Buy it anywhere—“Ready Rubbed” or “Plug Slice”—15¢ pocket package to pound humidifier tin.

Pullen-Brooks

In a private service of distinctive beauty and dignity the wedding of Miss Sarah Brooks to Edwin Tilmon Pullen, Jr., was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Brooks, on Hillsboro Street. Relatives of the couple and a selected group of friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. F. S. Love, pastor of Edenton Street Methodist Church.

Snowy-white chrysanthemums in tall floor urns of ivory wicker stood throughout the rooms of the residence, while towering palms and low ferns formed the background. At the extreme end of the drawing-room an altar was improvised and surrounded by burning white cathedral candles. A stately urn of white calla lilies stood immediately back of the altar, which was banked with chrysanthemums and French daisies. White calla lilies were laid across the altar. Tall standards held perfect white chrysanthemums, the bases of which were tied with folds of tulle intertwined with smilax, and served as demarcations of the aisle.

Wedding guests were entertained with a musicale by Ray's orchestra prior to the ceremony. MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" being softly played as the concluding selection. The bridal chorus from the opera "Lohengrin" announced the approach of the bridal party, which descended the spiral stair, crossed the hall, and entered the drawing-room walking on a white satin tread which was spread prior to the ceremony. The stairs were lined with ivy and smilax and banked with chrysanthemums.

The bride entered the drawing-room with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her bridal gown was of lustrous white panne velvet modeled along graceful lines. The sleeves were long and close-fitting and the snug waistline terminated in a voluminous circular skirt, which was worn in front and reached to the floor in back. Her veil was of misty white tulle, cap-fashioned with real lace, which was caught to the hair with clusters of orange blossoms. Her slippers of white satin were trimmed with sprays of orange blossoms. She carried a sheaf of white calla lilies tied with a graceful bow of white satin ribbon. The bride's only ornaments were a string of pearls and a pearl pin, heirlooms in the family.

The bride was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Forest Wright of Greensboro. Groomsmen were Joe Jenkins of Raleigh and Eugene C. Brooks, Jr., of Durham. Gentlemen in the wedding party wore boutonnieres of valley lilies and the bridegroom wore a single bride's rose.

Following the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Brooks were hosts at an elaborate reception, to which hundreds of friends in Raleigh and elsewhere in the state were invited.

Tea Dance

The Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity entertained at a tea dance last Saturday afternoon following the Davidson-State football game, at their home on Hillsboro Street. Many members of other fraternities and visitors from out of town were present. Young ladies attending the tea dance were Eula Beth Varner, Martha Galloway, Letitia Mason, Mary Lou Coffey, Ann Vaughn, Elizabeth Bryan, Ann White, Annette and Carolyn Tucker, Julia Andrews, Virginia Gill, Davita Levine, Emily Pemberton, Mary Helen Keller. Members of the fraternity present were Ailie F. Baggett, H. D. Atterton, W. D. Avera, R. J. Ballard, W. T. Clement, H. C. Carter, J. L. Carter, E. L. Davant, E. M. Fennell, J. H. Lardner, J. T. Geoghegan, J. B. Gray, J. H. Lee, E. E. McCanness, J. E. Rankin, T. S. Stuart, Stamps Houston, Geither Scott, James Vaughn, and Burke McConnell.

Gamma Sigma Epsilon Smoker

The Gamma Sigma Epsilon, honorary chemical fraternity, held a smoker Tuesday at 7:30 in Winston Hall.

A very interesting lecture on Chemical Warfare was delivered by Prof. A. D. Jones of the chemistry department. There were some interesting views on the next war given by Professor Jones. He stated that the next war will be the perfect war, and will be as unlike the World War as it was unlike the Civil War.

Prof. A. H. Grimshaw, one of the foremost men in the textile field, also gave a lecture. The subject of it was The Relation of Chemistry to the Textile Field. Professor Grimshaw also gave an enjoyable motion picture which concerned the chemical and textile world.

Philokroonian Club Meets

The Philokroonian Club, one of the most outstanding social organizations of Raleigh, held its first meeting of the year on Thursday, November 7.

The following officers were elected for this year: Arthur D. Thomas, president; Alec Webb, vice-president, and Willie York, secretary and treasurer.

The organization is planning to give many dances and entertainments in the near future.

Brooks at Convention

Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of this institution, left Sunday for Chicago, Ill., where he attended a convention of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities. The meeting was for three days, November 12, 13, and 14.

Dr. Brooks has not yet returned from the trip, but he expected to arrive Saturday, having spent a week away from the worries of this institution.

Ninety days to go— teamwork wins

While you Seniors were juggling worries about machine stresses and saturation curves with those of football last fall, a group of your predecessors, not so many years ahead of you, were playing the game with grim realities.

The Columbia Steel Company of Pittsburg, California, completed plans on September 12th to build a new tinplate plant. On the 13th they gave an order to Westinghouse for two 5,000 horsepower synchronous motors to drive the rolls, to be physically the largest synchronous motors ever built. Delivery of the first was wanted in ninety days.

College Entertainers To Give First Program At Tabor Thursday

The State College Entertainers will give their first out-of-the-city program next Thursday night at Tabor, N. C. They will follow this program by one at Whiteville on the following night, Friday, November 22. These are the only two places scheduled for the trip, as the Entertainers expect to return to school the following Saturday.

This troupe has a very unusually entertaining program this year, due possibly to the way it is made up. It is composed of members of the Glee Club and the Orchestra, as well as a quartet, the Hill Billies, and a soloist.

The men who will make the trip are L. E. Haws, A. L. Jackson, J. C. Byrum, M. B. Amos, F. A. Gelle, E. E. Isley, R. W. Smith, J. H. Dunning, S. M. Justice, W. H. Warrin, S. Brockwell, C. H. Rabon, G. ble, test and ship any large unit, let alone a new achievement in size and type of construction, affords no time for idle speculation. Westinghouse men went at the job as only an experienced and thoroughly equipped organization could do. And on the scheduled date, four flat cars and a box car rolled out of the Westinghouse plant, carrying the completed and tested motor.

It was an industrial victory, as satisfying as any athletic gain. Teamwork and individual skill had won. Westinghouse had once more made good and upheld the reputation that earns the big electrical jobs for Westinghouse men.
