

ROOMS ARE SOUGHT FOR HIGH CAGERS IN STATE MEETING

Tournament Success Depends On Students, Says Miller

TOURNAMENT CALENDAR TO SEE MORE ENTRIES

More Than Hundred State High School Basketball Teams Already Entered for Tournament—Raleigh High Cagers Prefer National Tournament At University of Pennsylvania—"Bunk With Your Roommate," Says Miller.

A representative from the athletic department this week is canvassing dormitories to secure rooms and beds for high school basketball players who will come here March 5 for the sixth invitational high school basketball tournament.

"The success of the tournament depends upon the support and cooperation of the students," said Johnny Miller. "The boys have been doing their share in preceding years, and they must not fail us this year."

To take care of the visiting teams the department plans to use the same methods employed in the past. Students will be given an opportunity to take care of boys from their home towns, or if their town is not represented they will gladly be furnished with representatives from other schools.

"Don't think that you can't take a man because you don't have an extra bed," continued Mr. Miller. "Bunk with your roommate for three days and let two boys sleep in the empty bed. They'll have a swell time and you'll enjoy watching them."

One hundred and three rural high schools and eight special charter high schools in North Carolina have filed applications for entrance in the Sixth Invitational High School Basketball Tournament to be conducted at State College, March 5, 6, and 7. J. F. Miller, physical director, announced this week.

The tournament this year, will be run in two groups, Class A for char—Continued on page 2.

Gatlin Gunning On Singing Team At State Prison

The State College quartet, headed by Bob Gatlin, will sing for the benefit of inmates of State's Prison Sunday afternoon at 2:15. From the prison they will go to the Wake County jail, where they will render a program of sacred music to the prisoners.

The quartet is composed of J. H. Mauney, first tenor; Bob Gatlin, second tenor; J. L. Shepherd, first bass, and M. L. Shepherd, second bass.

Plan Engineers' Grand Brawl Year's Biggest Social Event

From an elaborate green and white throne, Saint Pat, G. W. Dameron, and Princess Pat, Mary Sue Borders, will preside jointly over the "Grand Brawl" of N. C. State College engineers on April 4, planned to be the most outstanding college social event of the season.

In a court-room surrounded by nearly 700 young engineers, Princess Pat will greet the engineering world of State College and confer knighthood upon those students who have achieved outstanding recognition in their respective fields. To be a Knight in the Order of Saint Patrick is aspired to by every student engineer, and only a "chosen few" are selected each season to kneel before their princess and kiss the "Blarney stone."

Schaub To Review State Cadet Corps Monday Afternoon

To Ird Obed Schaub, dean of the School of Agriculture at State College, falls the distinction of being the first of the directors and deans of the college to review the 1931 corps of cadets.

Following its parade next Monday noon, the R.O.T.C. regiment at the college will pass in review before Dean Schaub. This parade will mark the beginning of a series of parade ceremonies to be held this spring, one each Monday noon, which will be reviewed in turn by deans of the schools at the college and by outstanding citizens of the State.

The custom of weekly ceremonies, to which the general public is invited, was started by the military department at the college six years ago. It was designed to acquaint the public with the military organization of the students and to give the corps a greater incentive for perfection in their drill.

The parades have grown in popularity yearly among Raleigh townpeople, according to college authorities. They state that last spring large numbers motored to the campus each Monday noon, faculty members and their wives, young matrons from the city, and young ladies from the several colleges for women, parents of R.O.T.C. students from neighboring towns, and visitors in general uniting to form colorful gatherings.

The corps numbers approximately 800 students, organized into a regiment of three battalions. One-eighth of the total number belong to organizations that furnish the martial music for the ceremonies. There is both band and drum and bugle corps.

As guest of honor Dean Schaub will see two seniors from the School of Agriculture functioning as officers in the regiment. These seniors are Captain Lt. Colonel W. T. Clement, Jr., of Enfield, and Cadet Captain H. B. Merriam of Albany, N. Y.

JAY RELEASED BY INFIRMARY; CAUSE OF INJURY NOT KNOWN

Investigation By College Authorities Fails To Throw Light On Mystery of Wund

LeRoy Jay, freshman basketball player, who was injured last week in an unknown way, has fully recovered, leaving the infirmary the first of this week. The wound on his forehead, evidently caused by a blow from a blunt instrument, was of a slight nature, and quickly healed.

Authorities who have been investigating the case for the past few days are unable to find just how the student was injured. Dr. Campbell, college physician, stated last week that the injury was probably sustained from a blow by a blunt instrument. Dean Cloyd has, after an investigation, been unable to arrive at the cause of the injury.

Jay was found by friends Thursday morning lying across his bed in Fourth Dormitory with an open wound on his forehead. He was immediately carried to the infirmary, where he regained consciousness, but was unable to explain his injury. Opening the door to his room Thursday morning, he says, is the last thing that he remembers.

OWEN PORTRAIT

Contributions to the Owen Memorial Fund, started two weeks ago by the Alumni News, have been coming in regularly, announced L. Polk Denmark, editor. "At this time $75 has been received, approximately one-third of the amount necessary to pay for the portrait that is to be painted of Mr. Owen with the completed fund."

"We are expecting the members of the faculty and the officers of the college to respond readily after receiving their pay checks this week," declared Mr. Denmark.

LAW AND ORDER

Law-makers observed law-enforcers here Friday, when the legislators left Capitol Hill long enough to review the weekly parade of the N. C. State regiment, held on Red Field. This was the first of a series of parades which will be given at the campus.

Practically all of the representatives and senators, with their secretaries, were present for the parade.

SCABBARD-BLADE INSPECTOR ADDRESSES LOCAL CHAPTER

Major Silvester and Captain Thorsen Recently Voted Membership

Charlton Keen, fourth corps area inspector of Scabbard and Blade, military fraternity, addressed members of the local chapter at their regular meeting Friday night, February 20, on the activities of the fraternity.

Recently voted into the fraternity were two faculty members, Major L. McD. Silvester and Captain F. C. Thorsen, and two students, D. S. McCullen and W. W. Greenhalgh.

Scabbard and Blade was founded at the University of Wisconsin in 1905. The preamble follows:

"Believing that military service is an obligation of citizenship, and that the greater opportunities afforded college men for the study of military action place upon them certain responsibilities as citizens, we, cadet officers in various colleges and universities conferring baccalaureate degrees do form this society and adopt this constitution in order to unite in closer relationship the military departments of American universities and colleges; to preserve and develop the essential qualities of good and efficient officers; to prepare ourselves as educated men to take a more active part and to have a greater influence in military affairs of the communities in which we may reside; and above all to spread intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country."

The local chapter was installed in 1922. Members of the local chapter of the Scabbard and Blade are: R. H. Gatlin, captain; R. F. Montany, 1st lieutenant; C. L. Clark, 1st sergeant; D. C. Abee, J. G. Albright, J. C. Andrews, H. E. Atkinson, W. C. Brake, W. T. Clement, F. S. Culbertson, G. W. Dameron, N. C. Davenport, C. H. Estep, R. B. Gardner, J. T. Geoghegan, H. H. Hartman, F. C. Herbst, W. J. Honeycutt, W. S. Lee, M. W. Lowe, H. A. Lyerly, G. H. McGinn, H. N. Massiott, L. R. Mercer, H. B. Merriam, M. L. Shipman, C. B. Turner, C. D. Whaley, W. J. Whitaker, D. S. McCullen, W. W. Greenhalgh.

State College Band Will Give 3d Concert Sunday

The third concert by the North Carolina State College Concert Band will be given in Pullen Hall at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, March 1.

The feature of this concert will be the presentation of the overture to William Tell, Rossini's famous opera. The program, however, will be well balanced with the tunes that the music-lovers will appreciate. The program of the concert is as follows:

Concert Sunday, March 1, 1931, in Pullen Hall at 3:30 p. m.

Selections from the Comic Opera
Robin Hood..... R. DeKoven
William Tell..... G. Rossini

Rossini's opera "William Tell" relates the story of the Swiss patriot who liberated his country from the rule of the oppressor. The overture begins with a slow introduction, played by the baritones and clarinets, which suggests the majestic beauty of sunrise in the Alps. Presently a muttering of distant thunder (kettle drums) warns of an impending storm. A cold wind struts uneasily among the branches (baritone and clarinet) and a few scattered raindrops fall (trumpet and flute). Then the storm bursts, with thunder and lightning, howling wind and driving rain. As the tempest subsides a shepherd's pipe is heard (oboe with flute) playing a calm pastoral melody. This is suddenly interrupted by a fanfare of trumpets and horns introducing a—Continued on page 2.

Subjects Will Be Given Next Year To Men Interested In Managing State Preserves and Other Units—North Carolina Has Unusual Opportunities for Hunting and Game Propagation, Declares Dr. Metcalf.

Because of the demand for men trained in game management, Dr. Z. P. Metcalf, professor of zoology at N. C. State College, announces a four-year course next year for men interested in managing state preserves and other units for the propagation of game animals.

"There is an increasing interest in game and with the scarcity of game animals in North Carolina becoming more evident, this course will serve an increasing need for scientifically trained men to manage and propagate game," says Dr. Metcalf.

North Carolina State College will be the first institution in the United States to place a game management course in its curriculum. Dr. Metcalf says that Michigan and Pennsylvania are the only other states now planning such a course.

"With a mild climate, the lay of the land, and a nearness to large eastern cities, North Carolina has unusual advantages for hunting and game propagation," he says. "Large tracts of swamp and cut-over lands in eastern Carolina not now used for cultivation might offer a much larger revenue in game under proper management."

"With a limited number of scholarships in game management offered by Joseph P. Knapp, principal, owner of Crowell Publishing Company and Thomas H. Beck, managing editor of Collier's Magazine, this new course will have an exceptionally good beginning next year."

State Debaters Win Contest With Catawba

After losing two consecutive contests to Wake Forest, the State debaters broke their losing streak on Wednesday night by winning a unanimous decision over Catawba.

State was represented by Milburn B. Amos and Dwight Stokes. C. W. Warlick and Raymond Winter represented Catawba.

VARSITY DEBATE TEAM LOSES TO WAKE FOREST

Team Loses Second Consecutive Debate Thursday Night, February 19th

The State College varsity debating team lost their second consecutive debate this season Thursday night, when the negative team, composed of M. B. Amos and Dwight Stokes, lost a two-voice judges' decision to the affirmative team of Wake Forest College, at Wake Forest.

This defeat leaves the college debating with two losses (both to Wake Forest) and five wins for the season thus far. Wednesday night the affirmative team will debate the negative of Catawba College, in a decision debate.

On the 28th of February the State College affirmative team will meet in Pullen Hall the negative debaters of the University of South Carolina. On March 2 the affirmative of the University of Georgia will debate the negative of State in Pullen Hall, and on the 8th the negative of this same institution will be on our campus to clash with the State affirmative howlers.

The negative team of State College will make their first trip outside the State when they visit the University of South Carolina on March 6. J. E. Gill and Dwight Stokes will probably make this trip.

Board of Trustees Hold Meet Saturday

The Board of Trustees of State College will meet Friday, February 27, at 11 a. m. in Governor Gardner's office. The board always meets during sessions of the General Assembly and this year the meeting will be held in the Governor's office instead of at the college, as is usual. Governor Gardner is chairman ex officio of the board.

Pledge Three Men To Blue Key Frat At Friday Meeting

The Blue Key National Leadership Fraternity at North Carolina State College today issued bids to two students and an alumnus.

J. I. Couch and Elmer Meents were voted upon for active membership and L. Polk Denmark, alumni secretary, was made an honorary member of the fraternity.

Mr. Crouch is president of Gamma Sigma Epsilon national honorary chemical fraternity, chairman of the inter-racial committee of the college Y. M. C. A., and a member of Tau Beta Pi National honorary engineering fraternity.

Elmer Meents, who came to State College from Illinois University in 1929, is president of the American Ceramic Society, member of the engineers' council, and Beta Pi Kappa honorary ceramic fraternity.

Blue Key membership is limited to the leaders of the campus and has long been considered one of the highest achievements obtainable by a State College student, according to President E. C. Brooks.

Robert Gatlin, of Raeford, is president of the State College chapter.

Nine Leave Campus For Carolina Meet Of 'Y' Delegates

Nine students and E. S. King, secretary of the college Y. M. C. A., will leave here this afternoon for the University of North Carolina, where they will attend a three-day students' conference on missions, to which 34 colleges and universities are expected to send delegates.

Two State College students, Hagop Hagopian and K. K. Thomas, are scheduled to make speeches on "Messages from the Nations." Other delegates from here are LeRoy Clark, O. T. Shelton, D. K. Clodfelter, M. L. Shepherd, Elizabeth Gaither, Karl Vickers, and R. C. Bennett.

WATAUGAN GIVEN LUKEWARM REVIEW BY FRANK C. CAPPS

On Whole This Issue Is Decided Improvement Over Past Editions

By FRANK CAPPS

The observation of "Oscar" in the February issue of the Wataugan is somewhat of a temptation to anyone attempting to write a review of the current issue of the Humorous-Literary College Magazine. He says: "Some professor of State College who wants to acquire a reputation for originality now has his big chance. All he has to do is to write a review lauding the Wataugan to the skies." Fortunately this fourth number elicits praise in its own right, though perhaps not "to the skies." On the whole it comes nearer to being just what it holds forth to be than any previous number in the present volume. There is a marked trend from the predominating "humor" of the past few numbers to—Continued on page 2.

NEVER KNOW

Students will never know just who were the ten men voting against the giving away of the Sunday bag lunches, according to L. H. Harris, steward of the dining-hall.

One student, feeling rather strongly against the men who voted to retain the lunches, declared that he intended to get and present for publication the names of those who voted against the measure.

Mr. Harris, the story goes, declared that no such thing would be done. He collected the votes and locked them up, declaring that students would never know just who voted against the measure.

SELECT DAMERON AS BEST CAPTAIN IN FINAL DRILLS

Company "B" Is First Winner of President's Trophy Cup

MILITARY DEPARTMENT TO AWARD MORE PRIZES

Second Place In Company Competitions Won By Company "D" In Second Battalion—Cadet Captain H. H. Hartman Leads Next Best Company—Corporal W. E. Tulluck Winner of Two Prizes.

Cadet Captain G. W. Dameron led his young soldiers to a marching victory in the final drill competitions concluded this week at North Carolina State College.

First place in the company competitions brought to Company B of the first battalion the President's silver trophy cup, and Captain Dameron's name will be the first to be engraved upon the coveted prize.

Other officers in the winning company are Lieutenants L. H. Angell, W. F. Hargrove, and J. L. Shepherd; Sergeants S. W. Bright, H. B. Crumpler, Jr., J. A. Duncan, C. P. Fortune, F. A. Gelle, C. W. Gibson, C. B. Griffin, D. A. Rose, W. F. Wilson, and the following corporals, P. F. Blankenship, C. E. Riedell, W. N. Watt, A. S. Marchese, K. L. Ponzer, F. A. Thomas, Jr., and W. J. Clark.

Second place was won by Company D of the second battalion, of which H. H. Hartman is cadet captain. Officers assisting Captain Hartman are Lieutenants J. C. Andrews, B. S. Mauney, A. B. Harrison, E. J. Nesbitt, and the following sergeants, T. O. Pardue, G. S. Pate, W. C. Marley, A. B. Campbell, J. B. Meacham, Jr., and Corporals G. B. Chapman, Jr., S. J. Gurnea, L. Hurst, W. C. Keel, Jr., J. F. Rogers, Jr., H. E. Benton, H. S. Bliven, W. J. Ellis, Fred Jones, J. M. King, and G. C. Nye.

State Potters Return Sunday From Cleveland

Six students and three professors in the School of Ceramic Engineering will return to the campus Sunday, March 1, from Cleveland, Ohio, where they are now attending a convention of the Society of American Ceramic Engineers.

They are Prof. N. H. Stoltz, Prof. E. H. Shands, and A. F. Greaves-Walker, head of the ceramics department; Everett Couch, Elmer Meents, F. N. Summerell, J. C. Purnell, J. E. Rankin, and G. V. Harris.

The delegation traveled to the convention in different ways, some motoring and others going on the bus.

City's Children Get Milk From Sunday Lunch Money

Poor school children will receive $115 per month to provide them with milk from the money derived from the Sunday bag lunches, according to an action of the committee dealing with the expenditure of the money at a luncheon meeting Wednesday. The money will be turned over to the Welfare Council of the Parent-Teachers Association.

According to an estimate made by A. S. Brower, more than $50 will be derived each week from the lunches. Boxes will be placed in the library, Y. M. C. A., and cafeteria to receive the donations that students wish to make toward relieving the hunger of school children in the city. "The students in the dining hall have certainly done their part," declared E. S. King, "and now the students who board elsewhere have the opportunity to give what they will."

Elect Clodfelter Council President At Sunday Meeting

D. K. Clodfelter was elected president of the Student Fellowship Council at the business meeting of the new student group Sunday.

Other officers of the council are: O. T. Shelton, vice-president; C. S. Simmons, secretary and treasurer; A. L. Drumright, chairman of the program committee, and W. C. Huband, Jr., reporter.

This organization was formed to discuss problems confronting undergraduates, to which the membership is limited.

More than 25 students were taken in as charter members when the club was organized on February 14, under the leadership of C. Leroy Clark, president of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Clark says there has been an increasing need for such a society where undergraduates may express the "needs and problems" of college.

President Clodfelter announced that the council will sponsor talks of the open forum nature, beginning Sunday.

STUDENTS ATTEND Y.M.C.A. AT GREENSBORO SATURDAY

Four State College students and E. S. King, State College Y. M. C. A. secretary, attended the North Carolina Student State Cabinet Conference held in Greensboro last Saturday.

At this meeting at which were representatives from Carolina, Guilford, High Point, State, and Davidson, Claude D. Nelson, Southern field secretary of the Student Y. M. C. A. for the Southern region, was present at this conference.

The following cabinet officers attended the meeting: Henry Brock, A. L. Drumright, Archie Ward, Leroy Clark, and Mr. King.

"This is Station ABC, broadcasting from North Carolina State College, Raleigh," so said the announcer over an improvised "radio" station Saturday night.

It was quite a gala occasion for the amateur radio artists, who were giving the initial program of their station over in seventh dormitory. Poems were recited and phonograph records played, being run something on the same style as WPTF.

The radio station consisted of a couple of amplifiers, a microphone, and other paraphernalia which all together made quite a noise. So much so, in fact, that a policeman came out about 2:30 a.m. and asked the boys to quiet down, that it was keeping the people on Hillsboro Street awake. Thus ended the first broadcast of State College's new "radio" station, operated by M. A. Rhyne, Earl Ashe, "Skinny" Williams, and Alan MacCallum.

STATE STUDENTS PLANT 45,000 PINE SEEDLINGS

A total of 45,000 pine tree seedlings were planted on the Hill demonstration forest by students of forestry of State College during this past week, according to Dr. J. V. Hofmann, head of the forestry department.

The plantings consisted of 36,000 two-year-old loblolly or old field pines, 6,000 longleaf pines, 2,000 shortleaf pines and 2,000 slash pines. The longleaf and slash pines were planted to see whether these species will do well north of their natural range. The seedlings were furnished by the State Nursery and were taken up by the junior and sophomore classes of the college and packed for transportation. Planting in the field was done by junior students, who put in the entire week in this work. The sophomores and freshmen were at work two days.

This reforestation activity is offered students for the purpose of instructing them in the handling of nursery stock and in putting in plantations in the field.

Porter Will Speak In 'Y' March 8-9, King Announces

Paul S. Porter, field secretary of the League of Industrial Democracy, will deliver a series of lectures here March 8 and 9. Mr. Porter comes under the auspices of the College "Y". Secretary Ed. King announces.

His lecture subjects include: "Starving in the Midst of Plenty," "Electric Power from the Consumer's Viewpoint," "Adventures in Industrial Democracy," and "Stopping the Next War."

The exact schedule for his speeches has not yet been worked out. Mr. Porter spoke here last year.

Wataugan Given Lukewarm Review By Frank C. Capps

more sedate literary efforts. Not a revolutionary change it is true, but nevertheless one that is easily noted. Briefly justifying the foregoing conclusion, one's attention is directed to the article, "What is Consciousness?" This is a brief history of the term soul or consciousness, whichever it may be termed by the different philosophical or psychological writers, since the early Greek and Hebrew philosophers to the modern psychologist. How the term has evolved from the mystical, powerful "souls" of Plato to the "biological functions" of Watson. It should be a delight to the more serious-minded readers to have access to an article on such a subject in such readable form.

The article, "Keeping State College's History Straight," by Dick Yates, is not only timely, but most interesting. The writer has been careful to accurately record his historical facts and has at the same time succeeded in writing an article that should be of paramount interest to all who are interested in State College.

Just why L. C. Vipond is so capable of outlining "What Every Modern Young Woman Should Know" is certainly a puzzle, but his article certainly puts the stamp of "expert" on him. His characteristics for the modern girl apparently leave nothing to be desired. Surely his conclusions come from many years of observation or from an exhaustive study of feminine traits and their reaction on the opposite sex. No doubt this article will be read with interest by the majority of both students and faculty.

Berryman's short story, "One Thousand Dollars Plus," is, on the whole, fair. It lacks consistency, however, as is well illustrated when his main character walks down the street whistling while at the same time smoking his old clay pipe. The story lacks originality, as it is typical of so many of the present-day short stories. There is the honest banker, who is a victim of circumstances; the tubercular wife, money gone, desperation, sacrifice to provide for loved ones. With all this, however, it is as good a story as one usually finds in an undergraduate magazine.

The editorial page shows true college spirit and the ideas presented are timely. It is a good supplement to the editorial of the last issue, as the entire subject dealt with is of paramount interest to all who are connected with the college.

The book reviews are good. To be able to creditably portray a book in short space is a rare accomplishment. The verse is about the usual caliber to be found in an undergraduate magazine. It is not the best nor the worst.

And now for the humor as portrayed by cartoon, verse, and prose. One does not have to read suggestive jokes, and in this issue there are some that are rather suggestive. The attitude of one's mind largely determines, in many instances, whether or not a joke is crude, suggestive, or clever. The one in charge of the humor section should be congratulated in warning the reader when the end comes to decent jokes, and when the other kind begins. But will not this action on his part have the same effect as far as further reading is concerned as that of having a novel banned from sale in Boston? The cartoons speak for themselves; some are good, but some are like the jokes, rather suggestive.

On the whole, there is a decided improvement in this issue of the Wataugan, beginning with the cover page and continuing through.

If the literary side of the magazine is to predominate more contributions similar to those appearing in this issue would no doubt raise the standard. If humor is to be emphasized, then that is another question. Perhaps the editors are attempting to cater to their readers. If so, what do the readers want? There is no reason why the proper median can not be reached between the literary contributions and humor. I am convinced that this issue is nearer that median than the immediate past issues have been.

After the initiation ceremonies in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium, awards will be presented for the best departmental exhibit in the Engineers' Fair, for the best float in the parade, for the best individual exhibit, and for numerous other individual achievements.

Saint Pat and his princess will follow the presentations in the grand march, prior to the dancing, which will last until midnight. The State College Collegians will furnish the music for the occasion.

The annual engineers' parade will open the Engineers' Fair, beginning April 2.

A colossal green snake, manned by more than half-hundred freshmen, will feature the parade. Gov. O. Max Gardner recently accepted an invitation to review this spectacle. Pres. E. C. Brooks, Dr. Bidick, and many outstanding North Carolina engineers will also be in the reviewing stand.

... as in 42 other leading colleges, there is one favorite smoking tobacco

ENGINEERS walking across campus to a lab in Sibley... arts students gathered on the porch of Goldwin Smith... lawyers on the steps of Boardman... Not much time between classes... but enough for a pull on a pipe of good old Edgeworth!

Cornell men know their smoking tobacco. And they're not alone in their choice. Harvard, Yale, Illinois, Michigan, Stanford, Dartmouth, Bowdoin—all report Edgeworth's favorite in the lead. In 42 out of 54 leading colleges and universities Edgeworth is the favorite pipe tobacco.

Cool, slow-burning burleys give this smoke the character that college men like. Try a tin of Edgeworth yourself—pack it into your pipe, light up, and taste the rich natural savor of fine burleys, enhanced by Edgeworth's distinctive eleventh process.

At all tobacco stores—15¢ the tin. Or, for generous free sample, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

Red Terrors To Play Kentucky Cagers Today

SERMON'S TERRORS LEAVE FOR ATLANTA TO ENTER TOURNEY

Gammon and Atkinson Play Last Game for State—Kentucky Cagers First On Menu for Red Terrors—Game Scheduled for 5 o'Clock E.S.T.—None of North Carolina Have Big Threats—Sermon Does Not Make Any Promises Before Game—Kentucky One of Best Teams In Conference.

By J. DAVID BRITT

At 3:20 Thursday afternoon "Doc" Sermon sounded his bugle for the call of the men who journeyed down to Atlanta to engage in the Southern Conference basketball tournament. Immediately after 3:20 the conductor hollered "Board!" and the boys were on their way, accompanied by "Doc" Sermon and Manager Russell.

The boys who went were John Gammon, "Varsity" Morgan, "Skeet" Atkinson, "Johnnie" Johnson, Sam Gurneau, Gilbert Clark, "Bud" Rose, Allen Nelms and "Bill" Brake.

Forty-one diamond candidates answered the first call for baseball at State College this week, "Chick" Doak, baseball coach, said this week.

"Doc" Sermon stated that he had a fifty-fifty chance in the conference and that you never could tell just what would happen in conference tournaments. If you remember, we have won from some of the best teams this year, splitting even, losing five and winning five games. But who knows just how we will come out in the tournament? Back in 1929 we went down to Atlanta as no favorite, but we came back as Southern conference champions. We have a fair chance to repeat this feat.

Georgia, Alabama (with Hood), Tennessee, and Kentucky are touted as the bad teams in the conference this year. Georgia has only lost one game. That game was lost to her friendly enemy, Georgia Tech. Tennessee, Alabama, and Kentucky have lost only one and two games. This gives them a "Highly-tight" look when you compare the score columns.

Neither of the teams from North Carolina have any percentage in the won column to boast of, but figures don't mean everything in the conference tournament.

Johnnie Gammon and "Skeet" Atkinson will be singing their own songs in N. C. State uniforms, also will Bill Brake.

The starting players for the first game will be "Johnnie" Johnson, John Gammon, "Varsity" Morgan, Gilbert Clark, and "Bud" Rose. These boys all will be in there for a win. There will be three of the old men who have been tried in the furnace, but it will be Clark and Johnson's first trip to Atlanta. All of these boys have been playing steady ball during this season except at times when they were injured or sick.

Morgan is good in the pinches and pretty sure of himself all of the time. Gammon has the experience and coolness that is needed, while "Bud" Rose has always showed his steadiness and sureness in his floor work and looping the baskets. Three nontemperamental and experienced men will steady the two sophs, and the team will be in there fighting. Not too much can be said of the showing that Clark and Johnson have made this year, it being their first on a varsity team.

Two other veterans will be there in case they are needed. These two men are "Skeet" Atkinson and "Bill" Brake. Atkinson has played in most of the games this year, although he has been sick and unable to play all of the time. Brake has also played in a number of games this year and has shown up well.

Allen Nelms has been in most of the games and has shown some real ability.

Gurneau has shown some flashy work at times and is likely to get into the game at Atlanta.

Our team will face Kentucky Friday afternoon. If the Wolfpack wins over Kentucky and Duke wins also, State and Duke will clash for the second game. We are hoping that this will happen, as State had to play off the finals with Duke in 1929 for the Southern conference.

Duke plays Clemson Friday afternoon. State plays Kentucky Friday also. Friday night Carolina meets Vanderbilt. Carolina has the easiest first meet of the North Carolina teams. Who knows what will happen? Read the papers Saturday!

HERE HE IS

Frank Reese, assistant coach, who is using the sunny afternoons to whip into form the backfield for the 1931 Wolfpack. Reese is an old friend of Head Coach "Clipper" Smith, their friendship dating back to days at Notre Dame when Reese was coaching backfield and Smith was captain of the Rockne team.

State Red Terrors Defeat V.M.I. Cadets To End Cage Season

The N. C. State Red Terrors closed their basketball season last Friday night in Frank Thompson Gymnasium when they completely swamped the V. M. I. Cadets by the score of 25-13. This win for the Terrors evened their record in Southern Conference play, since they have won five and lost five.

The game proved slow and uninteresting from the start. The Techs had the better of the battle from the beginning and held the Virginians without field score until twelve minutes of the first half had passed. The V. M. I. team registered only three points—and these by the free-throw route—in those first twelve minutes.

The State aggregation led 13 to 6 at the halfway mark, and because of the lead which these early players piled up, "Doc" Sermon sent in seven subs during the latter half of the fray. These subs even held the visitors' scoring down.

Claude Morgan, besides outjumping his opposing center, who stood several inches above Morgan, was high scorer of the night by ringing up eleven points—two less than the entire score of the visitors. Morgan opened scoring activities of the night with a field goal, but had this evened a few moments later by R. Brown, who in spite of a bandaged shoulder, scored six points of his team's thirteen. Also, 'twas this Brown lad who scored the V. M. I. first field goal.

Coach Sermon sent in substitutes Brake, Johnson, Gurneau, Biggs, and Nelms in the early part of the last half.

Bud Rose played a brilliant game at guard and made frequent basket tries which netted him six points.

Varsity Punchers Win From P.C. Men Saturday 4 To 3

State's varsity punchers won over the Presbyterian mitmen, five to one, on the West Raleigh campus, after the Tech Frosh had lost a match to the young Tar Heels, four to two, last Saturday night.

The two thousand fans saw several interesting bouts. One bout in each of the meets was called a draw after an extra round.

The "South Carolina Christians" were without the services of their star bantamweight, Truesdell, because of sickness. Karig won the first bout on a forfeit. Immediately following, State took three straight, with Foreman, Bowling, and DIMEO receiving decisions to take the meet. McQueen, 160-pounder for P. C., was the outstanding star for the visitors. This boy Hinson, for State, made things interesting for the P. C. fighters by gaining an extra round before losing on a decision.

Capt. Sam DIMEO was in his best form of the season. Both he and Parker traded wallops on even terms for the first three rounds. DIMEO shot swift blows to his opponent in the extra round to win by the decision route.

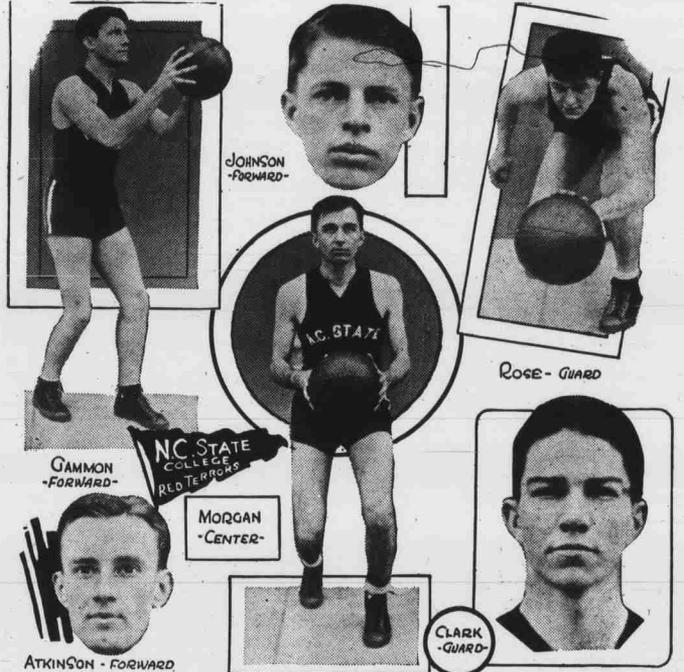

"Red" Espey, the Wolfpack's center and heavyweight punching ace, scored his sixth win in as many matches by gaining a decision over Cheatham. The P. C. fighter could not keep a consistent pace with the State flash.

Three of the Tech yearling bouts ended ahead of the schedule by the knockout route. Welling, State's bantamweight, fought Williams four rounds to a draw. Franklin and Garner scored the only wins for the Techmen.

"Little" Chick Doak and Johnnie Miller, Jr., both of the romper age, thrilled the crowd in a preliminary bout.

The varsity summary follows:
115 pounds—P. C. forfeited to Karig, State.
125 pounds—Foreman, State, won decision over Boyd.
135 pounds—Bowling, State, won decision over Dunlap.
145 pounds—Captain DIMEO, State, won decision over Parker.
160 pounds—McQueen, P. C., won decision over Hinson.
175 pounds—Ball, State, and Hor-

Play Kentucky In Initial S. I. C. Atlanta Meet

Starting line-up of "Doc" R. R. Sermon's Red Terrors will include John Gammon, C. V. Morgan, Bud Rose, all lettermen, and Ralph Johnson and Gilbert Clark, both sophomores, who will visit "big city" for first time. "Skeet" Atkinson and Gammon will be the duet to sing the swan song on this year's team. These men have been mainstays on the team for three years, and expect to get a parting dribble or so on the Atlanta floor today when they tie up with the Kentucky "Wonders" at 5 o'clock, E.S.T.

lon, P. C., fought to a draw in four rounds.

Unlimited—Espey, State, won decision over Cheatham.

The summary of the freshman meet between State and Carolina follows:

115 pounds—Williams, Carolina, and Welling, State, fought to a four-round draw.

125 pounds—Raymer, Carolina, won technical knockout in third round over Rhyne.

135 pounds—Franklin, State, won over Langdon on decision.

145 pounds—Garner, State, won over Allsbrook on decision.

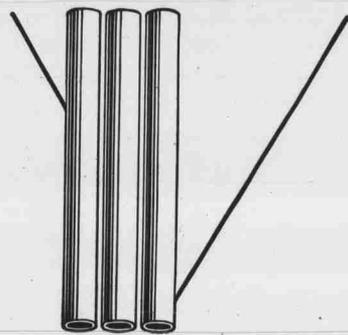

160 pounds—Guthrie, Carolina, won by technical knockout over Newman in second round.

175 pounds—Forfeited by State to Pace, Carolina.

Unlimited—Brown, Carolina, won technical knockout over Skinner in second round.

HE ALWAYS LOSES

Police this week raided two uptown gambling dens and arrested over 25 persons, caught red-handed at the game. The list, given out at police headquarters, did not reveal the names of any State students. Whether this was luck or not is a conjecture.

Gambling is a sport indulged in by many college students—and one which few can afford. The moral side of the issue, we turn over to the "Y." But from a financial viewpoint it is unound.

Nine cases out of ten, the addicts are students who cannot afford to lose. And any good gambler will tell you that you cannot expect to win always.

There is a clear line between betting on games and playing with cards. The betting between students on the outcome of athletic events is usually limited to small stakes and the money stays in the college circle. But when the amateur chance-taker mingles with professional gambling sharks he will get his toes burned.

It's hard times and few can afford to lose. Why take the risk?

HOW ABOUT A RADIO?

Three radios will probably be presented Sunday to inmates of Wake County jail and State's Prison—one to the jail, two to the State institution. The combined Y. M. C. A.'s of Duke, Carolina, and State are paying for two of the receiving sets; Dr. Carl Taylor's Sunday School Class is standing the cost of the other.

The radios will enable the prisoners to get a glimpse of the outside world—the events that happen outside the prison walls. Many of the convicted men and women did not have the advantage of an education and cannot read. The gifts will enable them to turn from poker and dice to the loud-speaker to listen to music, lectures, and news flashes. Both Dr. Taylor's Sunday School Class and the Y. M. C. A.'s are to be commended.

But radios, equipped with extra loud-speakers, would not be amiss in the college cafeteria and in the mess hall. The headwaiter could select the stations and the students, along with their food, could assimilate the news of the world, or listen to music. It would be a beneficial luxury.

Radios should also improve table manners of the students. If soft, dreamy music was played at meal time, it is likely that the collegians would not be so swift about cramming their food. Instead they would leisurely eat—enjoying the food and radio at the same time.

How about it, Dr. Taylor and Mr. King?

DOUBLE UP

Representatives of the athletic department are now canvassing dormitories to secure rooms for high school basketball players, who will come here March 5, for the sixth annual State College tournament.

The tournament is good advertisement for State College. If we take the youngsters into our rooms, treat them regally, and make their stay pleasant, they will naturally think of State when it comes time to go to college.

Bunk with your roommate and give the spare bed to two of the basketeers. They'll appreciate it and you'll enjoy seeing them have a great time.

Conditions Are No Better

Approximately a month has elapsed since two men were killed by automobiles on Hillsboro street, yet nothing of a permanent nature has been done to remedy the conditions that made these accidents possible. A motorcycle cop, it is true, patrolled the section for a few days, but about all that he did was to arrest a few harmless individuals who didn't park within the white lines so carefully painted.

The thing so obviously overlooked is that fast driving, not indiscriminate parking, made the accidents possible. A stop-light has been promised; yet that device to slow the traffic down seems to be no nearer to being an actuality than it was a year ago.

What has so obviously happened is this: After the accidents had occurred quite a feeling for reform pervaded the campus and community. A few days passed and students were told that a stop-light would be installed, thus making future accidents unlikely. Content with this knowledge and bundle of promises those most interested in the project have assumed, with no good reason, it is true, that the affair would be attended to without delay.

And the authorities, on the other hand, have noticed the falling off in demand for the reform and they have likewise lost interest in the matter.

Another accident at about this time would make a few individuals more aware of the facts. And with the traffic racing by as it now is, another accident is not only possible, but probable.

These Fast Collegians

Fast driving on Hillsboro Street, however, is not the only type of imbecility indulged in by automobile owners. Many students who own, or have access to, cars have decided, in their own inimitable way, to show us how fast their cars will run over the roads of the campus.

No one having the barest knowledge of mechanics is ignorant of the fact that a certain car, if it be in good condition, will travel at a certain rate of speed. But these campus speed-hounds, assuming that their knowledge of their cars should be had by every student, voluntarily attempt to prove their tacit contention by driving over the campus at a most ungodly speed.

If a certain student has a fast car, we congratulate him. He is, in a way, fortunate. But no one, attempting to cross the street, wants concrete proof of the car's speed. I would suggest, while in a mood of constructive criticism, that every student owning a car show on a placard the exact rate of speed his car can attain if pushed to the limit. Let this placard then be attached to the car in some conspicuous spot, where students having an interest in speed can read at their leisure the rate at which the car can travel.

COMMENTS From Other Colleges

Clemson and University of South Carolina are great rivals! However, it is not in athletics at this phase of collegiate life. Clemson is under quarantine for meningitis and now South Carolina is trying to develop enough cases of measles to be able to receive a little of the advertising.

Mississippi A. & M. held meetings and decided to change its Student Government Constitution. It looks as if there is going to be some radical changes in the "Mississippi Mud."

What have we here? The students of Agnes Scott College have asked for the privileges to be allowed to smoke and to have a formal dance each week. Good luck! We bet that they will have a merry time making the change.

Sport Department In State of Coma On College Campus

The usual period of quietness that follows two active months of basketball, boxing, and wrestling has descended upon the sports department at State College and full three weeks will elapse before it will be going at full blast again.

The basketball team ended its home engagements last Friday night, when the varsity defeated V. M. I. and the freshmen team won over Oak Ridge. Both games were played at Raleigh.

The varsity boxers put their gloves away Saturday night, after defeating Presbyterian College, at Raleigh. The freshman leather pushers will wind up their schedule Saturday night when they meet Oak Ridge, at Oak Ridge.

The varsity wrestling team has already closed its season and the freshmen will cease mat performances this week, after meeting Bragtown High School Monday and Oak Ridge Saturday.

Baseball, track, and spring football are scheduled to get going at full practice swing this week, but it will be two weeks before the track season opens and over a month before the first baseball game. Spring football practice is expected to last six weeks.

Although the basketball team has ended its 14-game schedule, Coach Ray Sermon will enter the Southern Conference tournament, at Atlanta, the last of this week.

State's boxing team won two out of six meets this winter, but will not enter the Southern Conference meet at the University of Virginia Friday and Saturday of this week, Lieut. C. H. Elmes said.

Tells How To Avert Communism's Threat

Serious Social Conflict May Be Avoided
By Higher Living Standard
Than Reds Can Offer

Durham, N. C. — (IP) — Serious social conflict between capitalist nations of the world and adherents of communism may be averted if the capitalist nations are constantly able to offer labor a higher standard of living than could be obtained under communism, according to Prof. Calvin B. Hoover of Duke University. Describing Soviet Russia as a land in which "force and fear reign supreme and individual liberty, freedom of speech, or conscience, and of the press are nonexistent," he characterized their way of life as "farther removed from the 'good life' of Utopian philosophers than is our bourgeois civilization."

"At the same time, the Soviet economic system has scored some impressive successes," he said, citing the 16 per cent industrial production increase of the Soviet in 1928-29; while production in the United States increased at a rate of only 4 per cent. Voicing his belief that peaceful coexistence of capitalism and communism is impossible, Professor Hoover said survival of the Soviet regime through the next two or three years will mean a beginning, with the decade, of a desperate conflict between the two. The only question, he says, is whether the first conflict will come on the German or the Oriental front.

"Whether the Soviet regime can survive the present difficult situation," he declared, "depends primarily upon the incredible capacity of the Russian population to endure strain."

Cornell University students recently won the 14th annual intercollegiate judging contest at the Madison Square Garden Poultry Show, thus taking a silver cup for the fifth time in eight years.

It costs the American taxpayer approximately two cents of every $100 he pays in taxes to keep up the expenses of the president and vice president and to keep up the White House.

It is said that war preparations are costing Europe $6,000,000 a day. If the nations of the world had sense enough to forget war until they get the last one paid for they might get out of the fool notion of trying to settle differences by going to war and shooting each other.

What an interesting experiment it would be if all the fellows who want liquor back could be segregated on an island to run things as they please, without interference from the other element. On another island could be gathered all the fellows who are opposed to paying a fair tax. Let them see what kind of a country and government they could run. Then we would put all the tightwads on an island, the fellows who never give a dollar to anything, who pull down the curtains when the Red Cross solicitor comes around. It would be interesting to see what kind of a community they would run.

BASEBALL

When Charlie Doak's baseball warriors step out on the field for the 1931 season they will find a brand-new diamond. The new playing field, beside the Frank Thompson Gymnasium, is ideal in every respect. Bleachers will be erected before the opening game with Maryland on April 3.

Doak's First Call For Baseball Team Brings 41 Batters

Forty-one diamond candidates answered the first call for baseball at State College this week, Chick Doak, baseball coach, said this week.

Seven of the 41 were letter men of last year's team. These are: Meade and Hargrove, outfielders; Gerock, first base; Bill Averette, pitcher and captain; Wilkie, short; Furtado, second; and Turner, catcher. Bill Brake, outfielder, was the only letter man not reporting. He is busy with basketball.

Other men were: Fuller, Wood, Hall, and Russ, second basemen; Marchese, Mintz, and Thompson, shortstops; Culbertson, Goodman, Mauney, Pritchard, and Jones, outfielders; Rudicell, Davenport, Scott, and McLawhorn, pitchers; Dodd, Hays, and Brown, catchers.

Frosh Cagers Win From Oak Ridgers In Last Game Here

N. C. State frosh cagers turned back an Oak Ridge invasion in the preliminary bill by winning, 25 to 16.

Roach led the State frosh with his ten points, while McCoy, for the losers, tallied for six points. McCoy also played a great floor game for the Cadets.

The State quint led 16-6 at the half.

McGinn Captain State Cindermen For Coming Year

George H. McGinn, Mecklenburg farm-boy and textile senior, will lead the State cindermen this spring. This captain-elect never participated in a track meet before coming to State College.

McGinn, while a freshman, outran the State varsity half-mile in his first tryout for this sport. He outstepped every opponent the first year out.

The State record for the half-mile was broken by George in his sophomore year from one minute 59 and 4-5 seconds to one minute 58 and 3-5 seconds. He won second place in the Southern Conference meet held at Birmingham, Alabama, in his second year also.

The boy won first place in the Southern Conference meet last spring.

In addition to being captain of the track team, he is a member of Phi Psi, professional textile society, Scabard and Blade, president of the Tompkins Textile Society, and a lieutenant in the local R. O. T. C. unit.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY
MAKING PROGRESS
ON "CORNER IN ART"

The Red Masquers are making rapid progress on their new production, entitled, "A Corner in Art," according to the announcement of Professor Paget, faculty director of the playmaking organization.

The play will be given before the Woman's Club in about three weeks. Afterwards, about the first of April, the Red Masquers will present it before the student body in Pullen Hall.

According to authorities the play will be "fast" and "snappy," full of thrills and romantic excitement. The play deals with whether a girl should marry a man below her own calibre, or cast her lot with the "Blue Blood." The cast includes characters representing typical university characterization, and also characters representing high pressure salesmanship.

The outstanding members of the cast include the following: "Tubby" Hanks, University professor. Blain Chapman, young lover; Emily Cheek, fair young lady; Anne Robertson, wife of Henpecked Thurlow; Catherine Harding, wife of the University professor, and Milbourne Amosias, Dr. Hannah, of the University, who is the University's most popular lecturer, and its most deserving bachelor.

The play deals with what a henpecked husband should do to compensate himself for being abused by his wife.

"Charley's Aunt"

COMING—
Doug. FAIRBANKS in
"Reaching for the Moon"

Marilyn Miller scores another triumph in "Sunny," which is coming to the State Theatre next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

The picture is a delightful romance, and abounds in some of the cleverest comedy that has come to the screen for a long time. It is easy to understand why "Sunny" ran for three years in New York with Marilyn Miller as the star.

"Sunny" has the quaint and glamorous background in its early sequences of a small circus, playing at Southampton, England. Miss Miller, in the title role, is a bareback rider and a dancer.

But above all the picture is radiant with Miss Miller. There is a wistful glamor about this start that has tremendous appeal. She dances three numbers in the picture, an eccentric dance, a tap, and an adagio, and to anyone who saw her on the stage, or in her first talking picture, "Sally," no new praise need be added. There is nobody in the show business who dances with such grace and charm. She also sings several numbers. The "Divorce Song," a duet with Joe Donahue, is highly entertaining.

"Sunny" is very nearly the perfect picture for Marilyn Miller, even more so than "Sally." Through it all runs a delightful strain of tomfoolery. There is a clever supporting cast, including Judith Vosselli, Barbara Bedford, Clyde Cook, Mackenzie Ward, and Inez Courtney.

Other features on the program will be a Paramount Sound News, a clever dog comedy, "Hot Dog," and a novelty cartoon, "Hurry, Doctor."

"Resurrection." Universal's picturization of Tolstoy's immortal story of love and sacrifice, with John Boles and Lupe Velez in the principal roles, opens Monday at the Palace Theatre for three days.

This is one of the most realistic pictures ever brought to the screen, and congratulations are in order to all concerned in its making.

John Boles in the role of Prince Demetri has never appeared to finer advantage than in his dramatic characterization of the handsome youth whose love for Katusha Maslova was at first sweet and innocent, later changing to heated passion. Boles makes his changes from early youth to sophistication in a masterful manner. This is by far the finest performance in his entire screen career.

A new Lupe Velez is hailed on the film horizon in "Resurrection" and the little Latin star rises to great heights in the role of Katusha, generally regarded as the most dramatic part ever created for an artiste of stage or screen.

Both Boles and Miss Velez reach the peak of their performances in the final chapters which Carewe has molded carefully to conform to Tolstoy's original story.

"Resurrection" is advertised as Universal's biggest film contribution of the year.

And to complete the program, "The Great Pants Mystery," a comedy riot, and Pathe Sound News will also be shown.

Lewis Ayres, the handsome youth who won such universal praise for his work in "All Quiet on the Western Front" and whose rise to fame has been consistent since, in the brief screen career that has been his, scores again this time as the big shot of the racketeering world, Lou Ricardo, in "Doorway to Hell," which is coming to the State Theatre next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Audiences have given loud and continued evidence of their approval of the play and players. The cast includes such well-known players as James Cagney, Robert Elliott and the child star, Leon Janney, remembered for his work in "Conway" and "Old English." Dorothy Matthews, a striking newcomer, excellently portrays the alluring gun-girl who plots with her mate to lay a trap for the king of the underworld, including marriage with him, and consequent capture of the fortune he has amassed by many crooked deals.

The program will be completed by a Paramount Sound News, "Expensive Kisses," a talk comedy, and a novelty talkartoon, "Accordion Joe."

If "Charley's Aunt," the Columbia farce of Oxford University student life, produced by Christie, opening Thursday at the Palace Theatre, had been written in an American locale, the play would not have been at all possible. The informality of English student life compared with the strict regulations of American universities allowed for certain situations to exist.

This informality is even present in the presentation of courses. In a great majority of the courses given at Oxford, attendance at lectures is not compulsory. If a student passes the examinations at the end of the semester, that is all that is essential. He may have derived his knowledge from the lectures at the University or conducted his studies privately, American

Quite a bit of excitement was caused by the firing of two pistol shots back of Riddick Field last Monday night. Reports have it that there was considerable hesitation on the part of would-be investigators after several shrill feminine screams were heard immediately following the shots.

One group, led by Mack Stout, set out armed with flashlights to find the source of the trouble. They searched the ground between the railroad and Riddick Field, but found nothing. As the party entered the football field through the rear gate one of the flashlights fell upon a crumpled figure lying near the end of the west bleachers. At this point several members of the group precipitately abandoned the investigation. Three unnamed heroes, however, bravely approached the object of concern, to find a tacking dummy! The perpetrator of the hoax is unknown.

universities demand attendance at lectures. Of course a few cuts are permitted. These are just a few of the comparisons which the film presents. Charlie Ruggles, June Collyer, Hugh Williams, Rodney McLennan, and Halliwell Hobbes are included in the cast. Al Christie directed.

A Pictorial Scenic Review and Fox Movietone News complete the program.

Summer School Bulletin
To Be Released In March

Director T. E. Browne, head of the summer school, announces that the summer school bulletin, which is now in the hands of the printer, will be issued early in March. This bulletin carries a full description of all the force and faculty, with the names of persons giving the course.

Study in all the departments of college will be offered in the summer school. This will be not only suitable to teachers and prospective teachers, but for regular college students who wish to make up their back work or wish to take advantage of summer school to graduate early. Such a privilege should appeal especially to those students behind in their work.

Special provisions will be made in summer school for teachers of commercial subjects. The subject-matter courses will be given by the School of Science and Business, and professional courses by the educational department. Director Browne stated that as far as he knew, this was the only college offering courses especially for those teaching commercial subjects.

For the past few years there has been a steady increase in summer-school work, having last year an enrollment of over 400. More are expected this summer in spite of the business depression.

College Engineers
Take Civil Service Exam

Three Electrical Engineering students, two civil and two aeronautical and three Mechanical Engineering students, took the civil service examination in Raleigh Wednesday, given by the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C.

Those taking the examination are as follows: Civil Engineering, George Tartton and J. H. Gibson; Mechanical Engineering, H. L. Luther, H. J. Bingham, and L. X. Hinkley; Electrical Engineering, H. J. Mauney, H. J. Cobb, and F. L. Pentress; Aeronautical Engineering, W. B. King and J. L. Shepherd.

All the students who took the examination will know how they came out within the next fifteen days. All those who passed it successfully will be given jobs by the government, rated as a junior engineer, and will receive a salary of $2,000 a year at the outset.

Cornell University students recently won the 14th annual intercollegiate judging contest at the Madison Square Garden Poultry Show, thus taking a silver cup for the fifth time in eight years.

Two radios, bought by the Y. M. C. A.'s of Duke, Carolina, and N. C. State, are now stored in the local "Y" and will probably be installed at State's Prison and Wake County Jail Sunday. Dr. Carl C. Taylor's Sunday school class is also presenting the inmates of the prison with a radio.

Electrical Engineers
To Meet In Sir Walter

The spring meeting of the North Carolina section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will convene at the Sir Walter Hotel on Tuesday, March 10. Electrical students and business men from over the State are expected to attend.

The meeting will begin at 2 p. m. with a short business session, after which O. J. Huis, engineer, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, and Blair Jenkins, Jr., communication engineer, Carolina Power and Light Company, Raleigh, will discuss "Telephone Facilities Used by Power Companies."

Other speakers on the afternoon program are R. M. Spurck, assistant engineer, Switchgear Department, General Electric Company, on "Oil Circuit Breaker Developments"; and J. A. Jones, assistant superintendent of power, Carolina Power and Light Company, Raleigh, on "Insulation Value of Woodpole Lines for Lightening Protection."

At 7 p. m. the attendees will meet in the Sir Walter for an informal dinner, after which they will listen to Dr. C. L. Fortescue, consulting transmission engineer, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, on "Influence of Recent Lighting Investigations and Studies on Practical Design and Operation of High Voltage Transmission Systems."

Good Skate

Roller skating, popular high school sport, is becoming a fad among local collegians. Led by Johnny Geoghegan, a group of students were seen rolling over the streets of Raleigh this week.

It is not a laughing age. Notice how little laughter you hear on the streets.—Sherwood Anderson.

Deserves Credit

"RED" ESPEY

Here is a young man who deserves credit in sports at State College. He was the man at center on the Wolf-pack's team the past year. Although "Red" was just a sophomore, and the games lost by the football team were greater than those won, he played a smooth and steady game the entire season. He is now on the field every afternoon, taking his drills of spring practice and preparing for the team which will be winning games in October. And you can bet your "grandma's silver dollar" that "Red" will be on the team. After the football season, which ended just before Thanksgiving, "Red" went out for boxing. The result was: He landed a berth on the boxing team and won every bout that he engaged in, which is an outstanding record. Most of the men whom "Red" fought were two- and three-year experienced men at the game. But if you remember, "Red" never did any boxing before. Espey's fights were not luck wins, either. He is cool and cautious and a clean-cut "scrapper." If you will notice, his left "jab" does plenty of damage. He will be one of Coach Elmes' great hopes for next year.

To Give Hunt

Los Hidalgos, language fraternity, will sponsor a treasure hunt directly after spring holidays, according to a report made by the entertainment committee at the meeting of the society Tuesday night.

MEASLES!

The following students were confined to the infirmary Wednesday afternoon: S. F. Harris, J. H. Rutledge, P. E. Stone, J. B. Hughes, Walt Jones, and J. W. Workmen, suffering from colds.

The following students were confined on account of measles: L. W. Edwards, E. W. Britt, C. W. Stryon, C. E. Brake, L. R. Sutton, and M. M. Troublefield.

Warren H. Chase, engineer for the Bell Telephone Co., has invented a pad on which to rest the telephone, which, when the telephone is lifted to be used, automatically turns off the radio.

Old Dominion Club and White Spades Dances This Week-End

The annual spring dances will be greatly missed on the campus this year, but the formal dances to be given this week-end by the Old Dominion Club and the White Spades will, in a large measure, help to replace them.

The Old Dominion Club will give its dance in Frank Thompson Gymnasium on Friday evening, February 27. The N. C. State Collegians are going to play.

The Virginians have given out quite a number of invitations and a large attendance is expected for the dance. The dance committee has made elaborate plans for the affair.

The Old Dominion boys will have a figure to be led by C. S. Treson, president of the club, with Miss Elizabeth Starherd, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and M. G. Elliott, chairman of the dance committee, with Miss Margaret Britt, of Raleigh. Those assisting in the figure will be: Miss Mildred Carlton, of Franklin, Va., with J. L. Seal, of Franklin, Va.; and Miss Sheldon Shaw, of Raleigh, with Lee Mercer, of Norfolk, Va.

Chaperones for the Old Dominion dance will be: Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Brooks, Dean and Mrs. E. L. Cloyd, Dean and Mrs. B. F. Brown, Dean and Mrs. T. H. Nelson, Maj. and Mrs. McD. Silvester, Lieut. and Mrs. C. H. Elmes, Prof. and Mrs. Hayes Richardson, Prof. and Mrs. Greaves-Walker, Prof. and Mrs. R. R. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Dana, Prof. and Mrs. Gelle, Mr. and Mrs. Grimshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Paulson, and Prof. and Mrs. L. L. Vaughan.

The White Spades Club is a national collegiate organization. Its membership includes representatives from most of the fraternities on the campus and its purpose is to promote better friendship between the Greek Letter Orders. The State College chapter was organized in 1924. The club is noted for the dance with which it entertains annually.

This year the dance will be given in the gymnasium and the Collegians will furnish the music. Miss Eleanor Layfield, of Raleigh, will lead the figure with Walter Greenhaigh, of New Britain, Conn., president of the club. They will be assisted in forming the spade by Miss Grace Hutchinson, of High Point, with Horace Pennington, of Greensboro, vice president, and Miss Frances Whitehead, of Ramseur, with H. B. Merriman, of Albany, N. Y., secretary and treasurer.

Chaperones for the White Spades dance will include: Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Brooks, Dean and Mrs. E. L. Cloyd, the deans of the several departments of the college, and other prominent members of the faculty.

Delta Sigma Phi House Dance

The Delta Sigma Phi fraternity were hosts at a dance given last Friday evening in the chapter house on Clark Avenue.

A large number of invitations were given out and many young people from the campus and from Raleigh attended the entertainment.

Kappa Sigmas Give Dance

The members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity gave an informal dance in their chapter house on Enterprise Street, Friday evening, February 20.

Some of the young ladies who were present were: Misses Carolyn Mann, Virginia Thompson, Molly Allen, Mary Simmons Andrews, Marion Cobb, Davetta Levine, Florence Briggs, Eloise Barwick, Anderson York, Emily Storr, Sarah Clay Paylor, and Nancy Fish.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Slaughter chaperoned.

Y.M.C.A. SPEAKER FINISHES WORK, LEAVING FOR ATLANTA

Nelson Spends Several Days on This and Nearby College Campuses

Claud D. Nelson, Southern field secretary of the Student Y. M. C. A., left here Tuesday night after several days speaking and working on the campus at State College and nearby colleges.

Mr. Nelson came to State College Saturday from a speaking tour of Virginia colleges and universities. He went to his home office in Atlanta after leaving here.

Cabinet members, Freshman Friendship Council men and members of the Students' Fellowship Council attended a meeting led by Mr. Nelson Sunday night in the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Nelson spoke over WPTF Tuesday morning and then went to Duke to deliver an address there.

Outstanding in the student Y. M. C. A. program are the annual conferences in State and inter-state areas, while the association influences the campus life of the individual college through enlisting and training a leadership group, said Mr. Nelson in his talk broadcast from WPTF Tuesday morning.

Mr. Nelson succeeded O. R. Magill,

The smart outfit for sportswear this spring and summer is the reddish-brown sports jacket combined with gray flannel trousers. The idea originated with university men and spread rapidly over the entire eastern seaboard. Its general acceptance seems assured for 1931. A typical ensemble based on this theme is as follows: Jacket of reddish brown flannel; trousers of slate gray light-weight flannel; boater straw hat; plain canary yellow tie; plain white buck shoes.

Urges Standardization

Dr. R. Y. Winters, director of the North Carolina Experiment Station, declares if North Carolina cotton growers will standardize on varieties producing a staple length of between fifteen-sixteenths of an inch and one and one-sixteenth inch, they will find a more readily available market.

Pullen Literary Society Debates College Military

"Military training in American colleges and universities should not be compulsory," was the subject of debate by four members of Pullen Literary Society Friday evening at 6:30.

H. F. Lichty, senior in electrical engineering, and H. F. Anderson, junior in mechanical engineering, took their stand against this compulsory method of military training. In the course of their argument, they contended that compulsory military training is entirely un-American in that it forces students to do "squads right" and "right shoulder arms" without the students' consent.

M. A. Carpenter, junior in textiles, and D. J. Crowell, also a junior in textiles, voiced their opinion in favor of the compulsory system of military training, contending that military training trains the individual in qualities of leadership, and that better citizens are the result of this form of training.
