The address by Senator Bailey was preceded during the early sessions of the day by those of President Frank Gorham of the University of North Carolina, President W. P. Few of Duke, and others. John A. Lang, of Charlotte, president of the federation, presided at the sessions, which were attended by delegates from twenty North Carolina colleges.

In the election of officers, Frank W. Gorham, of North Carolina State, was elected president; Charles Ross, of the University of North Carolina, vice-president; Miss Martha Pierce, of Duke University, secretary, and J. H. McKinnon, a Davidson student, treasurer.

Next year the third annual congress of the federation will be held at North Carolina College for Women in Greensboro.

In addressing the student group, which is made up of young men and—Continued on page 2.

PROFS ACCEPT BIDS ALPHA SIGMA SIGMA

Taylor, Brown, Clark, and Moore Voice Satirical Replies

For the first time in the history of Alpha Sigma Sigma bids were mailed out to elected members. And for the first time in the history of the organization some of the newly-elected members have replied to the bids, writing letters of acceptance that are appropriate to the spirit of the organization, and that tend to ridicule the principles upon which the "donkey society" was founded.

Dean Carl C. Taylor, of the Graduate School, whose letter is printed below, quotes the Bible frequently in his satirical letter to the Agromack editor in an effort to make clear the meaning and significance of the word "ass." The importance of asses in the early history of the world is also delineated.

Prof. J. D. Clark, chairman of the English department, writes a letter of acceptance filled with humor—the kind of humor, presumably, that Alpha Sigma Sigma sponsors. Getting down to the soil, upon which asses devote the major part of their time, he revels in such phrases as "... your noble experiment station, whose blue ribbons symbolize the highest grade of soils and the greenest pastures."

Yet another letter written in a satirical vein, but suggesting reasons for his election, comes from Joe E. Moore, associate secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and self-help director. "... It has been my steadfast ambition to be elected to at least one organization with the possibilities of cataclysmic growth," writes Moore.

Entering into the spirit of Alpha Sigma Sigma, Dean B. F. Brown, dean of the School of Science and Business, devotes the major part of his letter to an almost perfect—in the sense of completeness—exhibition—Continued on page 4.

Confidentially

By GOLLY
Dean B. F. Brown admits he is proud of his membership in Alpha Sigma Sigma. "When I look around and see all the people who don't belong to the fraternity, it makes me proud to be a member."
Paget wouldn't let the orchestra play at the show "Dulcy" Wednesday because he didn't want the piano moved. Guess he'd rather toot his own horn.
Maybe that old phrase about "The pen is mightier than the sword" will be analyzed. Mike Whitehurst goes from editor to colonel.
There'll never be a memorial on this campus for President Brooks. Every rain is a memorial—brooks every other step.

LEAZAR DEBATERS WIN INTER-SOCIETY AFFAIR

Winning Team Composed of LeRoy Clark and Lee Mercer, Upholding Negative

The Leazar Literary Society won the annual senior intersociety debate last Friday night, May 15, from the Pullen Literary Society, 2-1.

The query debated was "Resolved, That the air service department of the United States should be a separate department of our national defense."

The winning team was composed of LeRoy Clark and Lee Mercer, Leazar, who were on the negative. The Pullen debaters were R. W. Davis and H. F. Lichty on the affirmative side. Lee Mercer was selected as the best speaker of the evening.

The judges were Dr. Tommy Harrison, of the English Department; Dr. Bernstein, of the School of Science and Business, and A. S. Brower, comptroller.

The sophomore intersociety debate will be held next Friday night, May 22, at 6:45 o'clock in Leazar Society Hall. The junior debate will be held on the next Friday night, May 29, on the query, "Resolved, That our past peace conferences have not justified their intrinsic worth."

The winning of the Leazar Society marked the second win of the year. They won the freshman debate on Friday night, May 8.

ORDER OF 30 AND 3 FOUNDED BY SOHPS

W. F. Hanks President of Initial Chapter
With 11 Men

The "Order of 30 and 3" was founded at North Carolina State College yesterday with eleven charter members of the sophomore class, selected for their good character, ability for leadership, scholastic standing, and great interest in the college welfare.

W. F. Hanks, of Charlotte, was elected first president, with Mark K. Wilson, Jr., of Chatanooga, Tenn., as vice-president; Archie F. Ward, Jr., of Lumberton, secretary-treasurer, and Louis H. Wilson, of Raleigh, corresponding secretary.

E. L. Cloyd, dean of students, presided at the initial meeting and was selected, with L. P. Denmark, alumni secretary, as honorary members. At the conclusion of the meeting Dean Cloyd said that he did not believe that the organization would be "just another organization," but would add materially to the welfare of the college and promote leadership, with a better alumni contact and spirit on the campus.

The maximum student membership of the Order of 30 and 3 will be limited to 33 active men. Eleven of the outstanding sophomores will be picked at the beginning of the winter term each year beginning in 1932.

The eleven selected charter members are: Charles E. Cobb, Jr., of Newark, N. J.; Dan J. Torrence, Jr., of Petersburg, Va.; Blain Chapman, of Charlotte; James A. Croach, of Florence, S. C.; James E. Stroupe, of Raleigh; A. L. Drumwright, of Norfolk, Va.; William H. Espey, of Hickory, and the officers of the order.

Delayed

Work on the Blue Key bulletin board is expected to be delayed this week-end, due to the fact that the cornerstone ordered does not meet specifications.

The stone was not correctly cut for use in the construction and will have to be sent back. In the meantime the completion of the board will be delayed.

The board, however, is expected to be completed early next week.

Membership in the organization is limited to twelve seniors, and is considered to be the highest honor that a senior can attain in student life.

For several weeks President Mercer has postponed the tapping of members because a speaker could not be secured.

We wish Josephus Daniels would let the legislature go home.

A corner-stone is holding up the Blue Key bulletin board, but the bulletin board is not being held up by the corner-stone. In other words, one corner-stone was cut the wrong size, which keeps our "Little Auditorium" from being completed today.

One of the enjoyable and enlightening associations at the meeting of the North Carolina Student Federation at Duke Saturday was with the editors of The Daily Tar Heel and Chronicle. These men are thinkers as well as doers.

At Duke the new editor is troubled about those freshman caps. An institution as large as Duke would be out of date with these monkey lids.

On our campus, since the abolition of freshman caps last year, not a single frosh head of hair has been removed. Last year at this time more than thirty-three yearlings knew the humiliation of the scissors.

It can be truly said that a better school spirit has resulted on this campus since the caps have been removed. Especially among the athletes this spirit has been manifested.

We sympathize with the editor at Duke and wish him success in his efforts to abolish the imbecile cap.

HERE'S THE REASON

Until an educational program is undertaken by the Student Government this phase of our college will cease in purpose.

The great majority of the student body is not familiar with the functions of its campus government. Is it any wonder that they take as little interest as they do?

Student Government should be as the name implies—STUDENT government. As it is now, sectionalism would be more appropriate.

Any government must have a head or representatives, but behind these men there are other men who are interested in making the government a success.

There is not a single phase of Student Government that appeals to the mass—student body.

Practically every student feels that he is separate and apart from his government. With the election of his officers he feels that his obligation as a college citizen has been fulfilled, while there they just begin.

Open trials would serve as a medium of creating interest and loyalty to student government. A jury of twelve, picked from the student body, will be democratic, practical, and equitable.

Make our government STUDENT government.

At the North Carolina Student Federation meeting at Duke, Dean Justin Miller, head of the law school there, endorsed the trial by jury. At this institution they are trying the open trial by jury. It will inevitably meet with success.

Our problem is twofold: A need for interest in government and good college citizens. By good college citizens we mean the type that believes and practices the principles set forth in our student constitution.

IS IT A FARCE?

If you can't afford the expensive humor magazines, get hold of the Student Government Constitution and By-Laws and read Article III, Section 2.

It reads like this:

Drinking or having in possession intoxicating liquors by any student is strictly forbidden. The penalty for this offense shall be immediate suspension. The length of suspension shall be at the discretion of the Student Council.

Of all the huge jokes, as regarded by State College students in general, this is the greatest. This clause in our Student Government Constitution has labeled it ineffective, and has been more than once the cause of the expression: Student Government is a farce!

Student Government is exactly what you want it to be. The duties are administrative. Student Government Councilmen are not your police force.

When more than half the student body takes a drink this law should be repealed or enforced. State College must convert one-half of the student body to a certain regard for this law.

At the University of North Carolina the student body operates under an unwritten constitution. They do not say that a student may not drink—they govern his conduct when he has had too much. Whether this plan is practical for State College is uncertain, but it is generally agreed that Student Government on our campus will never be a success until respect for student law is obtained. Students can respect our written law or repeal the law.

Student opinion runs somewhat like this actual statement made at a meeting of the Upperclassmen and Freshman Fellowship Council last Sunday.

"I heard of a fraternity that has several gallons of home-brew in their basement. They're getting ready for the final dances."

The student who made this statement will not give the name of the fraternity. Why? He knows campus opinion will be against him. He knows fraternities are no worse than dormitories. He knows that he would be ostracized should he name the fraternity.

You cannot blame him. Students don't condemn liquor drinking, only in a hypocritical way.

Our situation is serious in that our present liquor law teaches disrespect for Student Government, and this disrespect is gradually undermining our government.

Repeal this law or modify it!

ALFRED THE GREAT

Alfred S. Brower, comptroller of our college, has come to be known upon the campus as one of the most efficient and best administrative officers at State College, especially among those who have had business dealings with him.

He is ever sympathetic to the needs of the campus and student body and ever pleasant to deal with. When with him he is one of the gang—one of the student body—always interested in student activity and willing to lend a hand in trouble.

His advice is always given in a spirit of helpfulness and accepted with the knowledge that it is for the best interest of the students and college.

Alfred S. Brower is now central purchasing agent for the State.

But there is one item that he will not have to purchase, and that is the appreciation, admiration, and loyalty of the student body.

COMMENTS From Other Colleges

If this were to happen on this campus, we are wondering just what would be the result. The co-eds at the University of Alabama are stepping to the front in the political life of the campus. The co-eds had a candidate up for the editorship of the Crimson-White, the college newspaper.

Due to the actions of the legislature of South Carolina, the University of South Carolina put out a special edition. If the legislature of North Carolina would do something, then the State would be surprised. Josephus Daniels could stop talking over radio, and we would have something to talk about in classes. South Carolina is lucky.

They don't need to sleep, or rather they are planning to stay up until the wee hours of the morning. A night club is being planned for the students of Washington and Lee. The motive for such actions came from the students who didn't like the idea of not having something to do after the dances were over and the beginning of classes the next morning.

Hagop Hagopian, our student from the Near East, received quite a hand for his talk to the Y. W. C. A. at N. C. C. W. He spends quite a bit of his time traveling about North Carolina delivering addresses about his native country.

THROUGH THE TRANSOM

BY DICK YATES

What a Change!

"The old order," our elders tell us with a sigh of despair, "gives way to the new." So it is with the membership of Alpha Sigma Sigma, donkey society of Agromeck fame. Not only has it given way to the new from the point of view of membership, but it also seems that even the purpose of this eminent and somewhat fictitious organization has undergone a decided change.

Some years ago when State College enjoyed the reputation of being a man's school and one heard of co-eds only through college stories, Alpha Sigma Sigma had a membership entirely appropriate to its name. Students and faculty members who were so unfortunate as to be chosen as members truly deserved the description that the initial letters in the name implied. They were, with a few notable exceptions, a bunch of bouncers who had irked the student body throughout the year with their asininity. There was a reputation known all over the campus; theirs a personality almost detested by students who deemed themselves to be decent.

In those good old days a man had only to make an ass of himself and he found the students wholehearted in their denunciation. "He'd make a good Alpha Sigma Sigma," they'd say, and forthwith the editor of the year book would receive a number of requests to enroll the student. And these requests, if the editor hearkened to the god of public opinion, would result in the membership of the student. Those were the days when the editor of the annual dealt with his inferiors; he placed men in the organization who were obviously below him.

Now all this is changed, it seems. Alpha Sigma Sigma is, except in a few isolated cases (my slight build and peaceful nature caution me to mention no names), simply a roll call of the campus lights. Students who have really done something, but who at the same time have made a few enemies, are given the somewhat questionable honor. Faculty members who have discharged their duties so well that they have irked some of the students are appended to the list, making what was once a list of the campus asses into a list of students and teachers who far outrank those who gave them the "honor."

Voicing the cry of El Brendel in Just Imagine, "Give me the good old days." Changes are all right when they accomplish some good, but when novelty is the only result obtained, change sinks to the depths of absurdity and asininity.

There have always been, and as long as the student body is composed of human beings I suppose there always will be, a group of individuals who make asses of themselves every time the opportunity presents itself. But membership in the so-called donkey lodge no longer forms fitting punishment for these animals. A year or so ago, one had only to term a student a "co-ed lover" if one wanted to place a stigma upon that person's name. But even this time-honored bit of fun has been taken from us. Now (I am told) one may go with co-eds as much as he wishes and nothing but his studies will suffer. This co-ed business, however, is a minor consideration; I mention the change only in connection with the donkey fraternity's decadence.

Since there is a group on the campus who deserve membership in some organization having as its purpose the promotion of the higher and more subtle forms of asininity, and since the group seems to be increasing with a speed considerably greater than the biological rate, it seems fitting to sponsor some means of ascertaining the identity of these individuals. The Agromeck, which held the flaming torch on high with such commendable results, seems to be losing its grip on life. Last year the Wataugan attempted to initiate a list of "H'All Americans," but this failed miserably, the staff of that admirable magazine falling into the same difficulty that now prevents Alpha Sigma Sigma from being a true reflector of the campus asses.

Obviously, something should be done, or else the campus asses will continue to multiply too rapidly for comfort; for unless they are ridiculed in some way they increase with a muchroom-like growth. The destructive criticism with which I am credited will not, however, allow any deviations from the path of the critic, which, my friends tell me, will lead me to disgrace, and later—much later, I hope—to hell.

The campus prototypes of school-marks, business men, engineers, and loom-fixers will have to take up the task. Theirs is the duty to improve the order of things; mine, only to find fault. Select Frank Gorham as Second President of Student Federation women with a particular interest in student, local, and national government, Senator Bailey challenged them to continue their interest and make definite contributions to the national welfare. He spoke of political parties as vehicles of service in which both citizens and officeholders can accomplish much toward the ends of good government, and urged the students as individuals to study the parties, their background, records, and programs. The State College delegation was composed of Romeo LeFort, president-elect of the Student Body; Dan M. Paul, retiring president; C. E. Brake, vice-president-elect; Frank Gorham, retiring treasurer; Mark Wilson of the Student Council; Louis H. ## Wake Forest Again Defeats State For Year's Second Win

The Wake Forest Deacons took a second victory from the N. C. State baseball team Saturday afternoon, 16, by the close score of 1-0. Four hits were collected by both during the entire game, Wake getting three of them.

Edwards pitched the entire game and pitched wonderful ball. Deacons' score came in the fifth, when Benton hit to Duke, who bled, then went to second on Barnes' bunt, and to third on Hicks' infield out, scoring on Barnes' hit to first.

Barnes, Deacon hurler, was robbed of a no-hit game when Bill Ebey came up to bat in the ninth inning, pinch-hitting for Morris. There were already two strikes and one ball on Morris when Ebey took over the bat. Ebey got a clean hit by short, but it counted for nothing, as the next two batters were easily disposed of. Barnes pitched good ball for the Deacons.

The game was quickly played, requiring only one hour and thirty minutes.

Most PRINCETON men smoke—

If you walk along Prospect Street in Princeton you'll notice how many men load their pipes from the familiar blue Edgeworth tin. At Senior Stinging on the steps of Jessup Hall this spring the pipes will glow with Edgeworth.

A pipe and Edgeworth—this is the smoking combination that has won the college man. Yale, Dartmouth, Cornell, Illinois, Stanford—all agree with Princeton.

College men everywhere respond to the appeal of pipes—packed with cool, slow-burning Edgeworth. Be guided by their choice: Try Edgeworth yourself. Taste its rich natural savor that is enhanced immeasurably by Edgeworth's distinctive eleven process.

You will find Edgeworth at your nearest tobacco shop—15¢ the tin. Or, for generous free sample, address Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 2d St., Richmond, Va.

George McGinn Wins Final Meet Of Year

Capt. George McGinn of the State College track team wound up his three years on the varsity cinder path last Saturday by taking first place in the half-mile run in the Southern Conference track meet at Birmingham.

McGinn is one of the greatest track stars ever developed at State. In his three years on the varsity, he has been beaten three times in the 880 and has finished first 22 times. He was also a member of the freshman track team.

Coach Ray R. Sermon says McGinn is one of the best runners he has ever seen, and a man to take his place next year and in years to come will be hard to find.

McGinn is from Charlotte and will be graduated in June with a B.S. degree in the Textile School.

State Frosh Defeat Campbell College Lads

"Fins" was written over N. C. State's athletics, as far as the freshman baseball team is concerned, last Thursday afternoon, May 14, when they defeated Campbell College in a one-sided affair, 11-3, on Freshman Field.

The freshmen poked out 13 safeties off Daniels and Thigpin, collecting three of Thigpin and ten off Daniels. Nance allowed the Campbellites nine safe hits, and Cooper gave them one.

McQuage and Ware led the hitting for the freshmen, McQuage getting a triple and two singles, while Ware got two hits, each good for two bases. Spivey got two safe licks, one of which was a two-bagger.

Lowe and Wells led the visitors in the stick, work with two safe licks each. One of Lowe's hits was a double, while one of Wells' was a triple.

Maglio, better known to students as "Primo," was given his first chance on the mound for the freshmen in the ninth inning, when the stands yelled for "Primo." With one man already out, Primo disposed of the other two in big league fashion, not allowing any hits.

Below are published the letters in the order received:

DEAN CARL C. TAYLOR
Honorable E. G. Couch, Jr.,
Supreme Alpha Sigma Sigma,
State College,
Raleigh, North Carolina.

Dear Brother Couch:
Pardon me if I address you incorrectly. I presume that you are the Supreme Alpha Sigma Sigma of the campus, but not yet having been initiated into the ancient and honorable order, it may be that your title is "Worthy," "Honorable," or "Consummate" instead of "Supreme." I presume I will know in due time the correct salutation by means of which a simple Alpha Sigma Sigma should address his worthy superior.

Ever since the appearance of the April 1st Technician, by which you will remember I was made head of the Military Department of State College, I have assumed that I was eligible for Alpha Sigma Sigma. To tell the truth, I was somewhat peeved not to have received an invitation the day after I was made commandant. As I said above, I know very little about this order. I have, however, always had the deepest respect for all kinds of Alpha Sigma Sigmas. I remember the proverb which says, "A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the fool's back." (Prov. 26:3.) Also, the ancient Hebrew law says, "Thou shalt not plow with an ox and an ass together." (Deut. 2:16.)

Undoubtedly you yourself know enough about the Scripture to remember that Jesus made His triumphal entry into Jerusalem on the back of the young ass. (Matt. 21: 4-9.) I doubt whether you know that Saul, the son of Kish, was in search of his father's asses when he was anointed by Samuel, the prophet, as king of the Israelites. (I Sam. 9.) I am sure that you and all other Alpha Sigma Sigmas, together with myself, are proud that it was the ass upon which Balaam rode, and not Balaam, which saw the angel of the Lord, and by seeing kept Balaam from the unpardonable sin. (Num. 22:30-33.) And the angel of the Lord said, "And the ass saw me and turned from me these three times; and lest he had turned from me, surely now also I had slain thee and saved her alive."

I therefore with gladness accept the appointment to the Sigma H. A. chapter of Alpha Sigma Sigma, but warn you before becoming a full-fledged member that I shall be hard-boiled in blackballing future candidates who may be oxes and not asses.

Fraternally yours,
CARL C. TAYLOR,
CCT:RT Graduate School Dean.

JOE E. MOORE
The Right Hon. E. G. Couch,
Supreme Muck-ity Muck of the Alpha Sigma Sigmas,
State College, Raleigh, N. C.

Dear "Jack":
I hereby accept the invitation to become a member of the Alpha Sigma Sigma fraternity to which I have been elected, and I am proud to accept for the following reasons:

1. Because to be associated with the other members who have been thus honored this year, and especially with you at their head, is in itself a thing of which I am not a little proud.

2. I am sure that it was organized with a definite and worthy purpose, and it has been my steadfast ambition to be elected to at least one organization with the possibilities of cataclysmic growth.

3. Election to this most worthy organization is sufficient acknowledgment of my consistent activities in behalf of and association with the R. O. T. C. here at State College. Having once been one of the extinguished corporals of the R. O. T. C. here, it gives me a peculiar pleasure to find myself grouped with such officers, as a former commandant phrased it, "the cream of the crop."

4. It was evidently the sincere purpose of the election board to select those upon the campus who dare to be different. This is another flattering element in my acceptance. It is well known that those few people who rise above the average anywhere, in any group, are recognized as leaders, in spite of the fact that they may at first be criticized. But as so many thinkers in the past and in the present have said, those who are never criticized should be watched closely.

In accepting your most kind invitation to become a member of the Alpha Sigma Sigma I purpose to be a most active and enthusiastic member. I want to warn you that I am a "stand-patter," and will always "kick" viciously, and "bray" loudly at the "non-conformists." Here's to those who think like we do—may they prosper; and those who do not—may seek pasturage elsewhere.

Thanking you for considering me worthy of such stupendous honor, I close with a gentle bray.

Headfastly yours,
JON E. MOORE,
Alpha Sigma Sigma.

moisture-proof Cellophane wrapping the rich aroma and full flavor of choice Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos have been air-sealed in Camels for your enjoyment.

If you have not tried Camels in the Humidor Pack all we ask is that you switch over to this brand for one day.

After you have learned how much milder, how much cooler, how much more enjoyable it is to smoke a perfectly conditioned fresh cigarette, go back to the harsh hotness of stale cigarettes if you can.
