TEXTILE EXHIBIT OPENS TO PUBLIC TODAY AT 2 P.M.

College Girls to Model Cotton Fabrics Designed and Woven By State Textile Students

THIRTEENTH EXPOSITION TO BE HELD AFTER SHOW

Sixth Annual Style Show to be Held in Pullen Hall; Thirteenth Annual Textile Exposition to Show Complete Process of Making Fabric and Operation of Textile Machinery; Purpose of Show is to Demonstrate Student Work and Desirability of Cotton and Rayon

The annual Student Textile Fair opens today at 2 p.m. in Pullen Hall, when eighty-one girls from the Home Economics Departments of Catawba, Lenoir, and Queens-Chicago Colleges will model the textile displays designed and woven by the textile students for exhibition.

The models include thirty-seven girls from Queens-Chicago College of Charlotte, under the direction of Miss Margaret L. Collins, teacher; nineteen girls from Meredith College, Raleigh, under the direction of Miss Jennie M. Haney, teacher; thirteen girls from Peace Junior College, Raleigh, under the direction of Miss Anne Hall, teacher; six girls from Catawba College, Salisbury, under the direction of Miss Katherine French, teacher; six girls from Lenoir College, Lenoir, under the direction of Miss Anne E. Denison, teacher. The style show will be conducted in Pullen Hall today at 2 p.m.

This is the sixth style show to be staged and it has increased in size and popularity each year. The show demonstrates to hundreds of visitors that cotton fabrics can be made into beautiful and useful garments. This is also the thirteenth annual Students Textile Exposition to be held and will be open to the public immediately after the style show is over. Exhibits of dyeing, spray printing, fabrics and hosiery prepared by textile students will be on display in the exhibition rooms.

Machinery will be in operation so that visitors may see the various processes in the manufacture of cotton from the opening of the bale of cotton to the weaving of the fabrics and the finished products. Research laboratories and testing equipment will also be open for inspection.

The purposes of these Textile Exhibitions are, according to Dean Thomas Nelson, "to aid in the popularization of cotton and rayon fabrics by demonstrating their utility and beauty, with the hope of increasing the consumption of products from Southern farms and manufacturing plants; to demonstrate that the instructions given textile students at State College is thorough and practical in that it enables them to design and weave fabrics of commercial value from yarns which they have manufactured and dyed; to demonstrate the high calibre of work done by the Home Economics Departments of North Carolina colleges."

The officers of Students Textile Exposition are: J. B. Lamar, spray superintendent; C. N. Cone, Jr., Greensboro, assistant superintendent; E. W. Crow, Mocksville, foreman of yarn manufacture; A. H. Willis, Raleigh, assistant foreman of yarn manufacture; N. R. Whittier, Gastonia, foreman of weaving; J. A. Duncan, Raleigh, assistant foreman of weaving; M. A. Law, Paw Creek, foreman of designing; J. L. Padgett, Cliffeide, assistant foreman of designing; E. W. Freeze, Jr., High Point, foreman of knitting; Wilson Adams, McColl, S. C., assistant foreman of knitting; J. E. Gill, Henderson, foreman of dyeing; K. A. Bridges, Griffin, Ga., assistant foreman of dyeing.

COLLEGE HONORS IN SCHOLARSHIP BREAKS RECORDS

Sixteen Athletes Make Honor Roll This Year With 21 Per Cent of Students

SCHOLARSHIP DAY HELD IN AUDITORIUM APRIL 13

Dr. W. T. Laprade of Duke University Principal Speaker for Occasion; College Honors 349 Students; School Heads and Society Presidents Make Awards for Outstanding Scholarship During Year; Brooks Presides

The Seventh Annual Scholarship Day, under the auspices of the honor societies on the campus, was held in Pullen Hall Wednesday morning, honoring students who had stood high scholastically during the year.

There were 349 students who made honors and high honors this year, 124 making high honors and 225 making honors to set a new record. This is twenty-one per cent of the entire student body. Four athletes made high honors and twelve made honors. The entire group of athletes were monograms and numeral wearers.

Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of the college, presided over the meeting and introduced the different speakers.

Dr. E. C. Pew, pastor of the Edenton Street Methodist Church, delivered the benediction. He was followed by Dr. L. E. Hinkle, of the language department, who gave the purpose of Scholarship Day. Dr. Hinkle discussed briefly the value of scholarship to the student, saying that the term scholarship means the development of our own mental personal efforts.

Dr. Brooks introduced next the principal speaker on the program, Dr. W. T. Laprade, professor of history at Duke University. Dr. Laprade spoke on the difference between scholarship and pseudo-scholarship. He likened some that were seeking scholarship to the men that sought the treasure at the end of the rainbow. One of the men went after the treasure in a scientific manner, while the other using the old guess method accomplished nothing.

"Scholarship," said Dr. Laprade, involves honesty. A man cannot achieve true scholarship unless he does his own thinking and his own work.

"Scholarship breeds tolerance, and enables you to see both points of view. The road to wisdom is priceless; that is the reason it is worth while."

After Dr. Laprade's address Dean Cloyd read out those students' names who had made high honors during the year.

A number of scholarship prizes were made next, with the head of the society or school making the award. The Phi Kappa Phi scholarship medals were presented to R. E. Yates, senior; James Lee Zimmerman, junior, and W. C. Moorman, sophomore. The awards were presented by W. J. Dana, president of the society. The school of Science and Business award, which goes to that student in the business school who shows the greatest improvement during the year, was presented to Willie Duke by Dean B. F. Brown.

The Ceramic awards, consisting of the J. C. Steele scholarship cup and the Noland-Drysdale Scholarship cup were presented to C. C. Morrison and W. R. McLean, respectively. The Steele cup is awarded to the senior making the highest average during the year and the Noland-Drysdale cup to the freshman making the highest average. These awards were presented by Professor A. F. Greaves-Walker. The Alpha Zeta Scholarship cup, presented to the sophomore in agriculture, made the highest average during the year, was presented to Perol V. Harris. The Sigma Tau Sigma award, made by the textile school, was won by Marvin A. Law. Dean Thomas Nelson of the textile school made the presentation.

T. J. Raber, sophomore in Mechanical Engineering won the Tau Beta Pi award. This cup is presented to the sophomore in engineering who, as a freshman, made the highest grades. It was presented to Raber by Dean W. C. Riddick of the engineering school.

The White Spades scholarship cup was presented to LeRoy Thiem, Jr., junior in ceramic engineering, by Max Wolfe, president of the order. The fraternity scholarship cup, presented to the social fraternity whose members make the highest average, was awarded Alpha Kappa Pi, which had an average of 80.29. The Delta Sigma Pi scholarship key was awarded C. E. Brake, senior, by Dean B. F. Brown. Music was furnished by "Daddy" Price and the State College band.

IEWS AND REVIEWS

The editorship of this paper changes hands with the present issue and at this time a review of the progress this year and a statement of future policy seems appropriate.

Under the editorial guidance of Louis H. Wilson journalistic improvement was made this year which has placed the newspaper in the front rank of college weeklies. The news policy, news quality and make-up have drawn praise from prominent journalists, and his liberal and vigorous editorial policy has produced specific and direct results in the college community. While in two or three instances disagreement in the outside world brought undue and unfortunate publicity, the editorial stand of the paper has been welcomed as a positive expression of student opinion.

The paper was enlarged, beginning with the opening of the present school year, by one column in width and two inches in length. New type and makeup principles improved the appearance of the paper. News coverage on happenings up until Thursday midnight and a high standard of news writing has given students an authoritative and interesting. Complete elimination of jokes, trivialities and stereotyped "filler" matter and a genuine effort to obtain news with a local feature interest has served to bring the paper nearer to the standards of a good college newspaper.

During the next year the mechanical improvements in the paper will be retained and carried forward. Coverage of news up until Thursday midnight will be continued and all the news will be written as completely and impartially as possible. The policy in regard to sports news, as in the past, will be to give prominence to the events ahead, in the belief that interest lies in that direction.

Worthy campus projects and commendable individual effort will receive the fullest support of the paper. The pages will be open to the Student Government or any organization as a medium for conveying information to the student body.

In the editorial policy of the paper, attempt will be made, as in the past, to stay above the average run of "school spirit" and "hooray for us!" matter printed as intelligent student opinion. Everything is not bad and commendation of the good is not only expected but appropriate, but when situations arise where the student body needs a positive expression in print of a criticism or the airing of an honest opinion formulated after due survey of the facts, then the college paper is the logical place for it.

Under ideal conditions no news or editorial opinion should be outside the scope of a college newspaper, since it should inform generally and express appropriate opinion on events of more than local significance. However, space limitations and the immediate necessity for news and opinions about the college community prevent the paper from going outside the realm of campus life, except where outside events affect the college directly.

THE TECHNICIAN will not attempt to save the world or any part of it, nor drag up controversial matter for mere theatrical effect, but the editorial column will be considered a place for free student opinion with the interest of the student body always paramount.

The Open Forum column will be available for any signed expression of student opinion, including criticisms of the policy of the paper.

Realizing that THE TECHNICIAN is the organ of the student body and mutual support will work towards the common good, the new management requests the cooperation of every student in order that the responsibility of the staff may be fulfilled creditably.

1,138 students went to the polls Tuesday to set a new record for the total vote in a campus election. Whether the choices made were for the best or not will never be known—but the fact that 70 per cent of the student body cast votes indicates a highly desirable pitch of interest.

TRUE STUDENTS

State College furnishes a local answer to charges that college students neglect the purpose for which they came to school—studying—with the publication of the scholastic standings of the student body for the first two terms of the present school year.

Twenty-one per cent of the entire student body made honors or high honors for this period and the average of the student body was raised materially to break all previous scholarship records. The celebration of Scholarship Day in Pullen Hall last Wednesday took on new meaning with this remarkable record and the administration may feel that the opportunities offered to students are not neglected.

One significant feature revealed in the compilations is the fact that four monogram or numeral wearers made high honors and twelve were listed for honors. The popular conception of the athlete as merely a person who plays on the team and passes his work must be revised somewhat in the face of these figures.

Too many things have been laid to the depression, but it seems logical that in this time of stress students have applied themselves more diligently to their scholastic work after the realization that grades do count and money expended for a college education should bring a tangible value received. This assumption of cause and effect is borne out by the fact that last year the record topped that of previous years. Whether the percentage of excellent students continues to grow next year or not, the college can point to a highly desirable increase in the number of collegians worthy of the designation "student."

AULD LANG SYNE

At the last meeting of the senior class the suggestion was made that the departing classmates gather for a banquet in the college dining hall immediately after the morning graduating exercises. The matter is under discussion now among the seniors and final action will be taken soon.

The class would also elect permanent officers at this gathering to serve the class in the years after graduation. The men selected at such a time would feel their responsibility all the more if charged with their duties at such an hour.

No gathering could be more appropriate. For these men to meet for the last time just before they scatter forever to take their place in the world outside the college community would be an expression of the finest sort of sentiment. The event would be one well worthy of being made a tradition for all departing senior classes.

CONSTRUCTIVE VOTING

The ratification Tuesday by the student body of the House of Student Government's legislation to provide a compulsory picture fee for the Agromeck is taken as a sign that citizens of the State College community are interested in the progress of the institution.

Without any influence for or against the issue except that of intelligent student discussion, the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of the attempt to make the annual representative and complete.

Next year's Agromeck officers can face the year 1932-33 with the knowledge that the book will contain every student's picture except in isolated cases of sheer negligence. On this basis, economies can be effected and all sections of the yearbook can be made larger and more attractive.

The student body as a whole will spend comparatively little more money and the value received will be more than enough to justify the additional cost.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY

Tomorrow night State students will have an opportunity to further a worthy student endeavor and purchase an evening's amusement knowing that their money will be expended for the direct good of the student body.

The Golden Chain Charity Ball in Frank Thompson Gymnasium has been planned by this organization to bolster a depleted loan fund established last year by money obtained through students giving up Sunday night suppers in the dining hall. This project, voted almost unanimously by the students concerned, allayed a pressing need which still exists. There are students on the campus to whom a small loan at this time may mean the continuation of their college career, and the student loan fund committee assures that the money will go to worthy students.

NOT JUST ANOTHER TEAM

Last Saturday night the work and hopes of an enthusiastic group of students came to fulfillment when State swimmers scored a decisive victory over the Duke team. Defeated by the same team in the recent state meet, they came back and proved their mettle.

The mere fact that another athletic team has been organized, even if it is unusually successful at the outset, does not mean much. However, the perception of talent and the hard work of these boys merits approval. They were handicapped at first by a breakdown in the purifying apparatus of the college pool and had no financial assistance whatsoever, but in spite of these things they persevered and their efforts were met with success.

Their recently-appointed coach, Professor Joe Moore, can be sure that he has a hard-working and hard-fighting squad under his direction.

Confidentially

By Louis H. Wilson

With due enthusiasm, note is taken that Norman Thomas spoke at the University of North Carolina Tuesday. Mr. Thomas is an eminent Socialist and ran on that ticket in 1928 for the presidency.

With gratification, note is taken that Mr. Thomas spoke to a packed hall at Carolina.

Jog your memory, Mr. Thomas is the man unwanted at State College. He is a radical, socialist, communist, bolshevik, red, and all these naughty names that makes one alumnus, David Clark, all hot and bothered.

But Mr. Thomas should be as welcome at State College as Mr. Clark. Both men have ideas and messages that would prove enlightening to the student body. Mr. Clark's ideas and message would make Mr. Thomas' more appreciated.

Just thirty miles away, Mr. Thomas speaks, but receives no invitation from State College.

The University of North Carolina is recognized throughout the United States as one of the most liberal of universities. Education teaches liberality.

The United States' noble gesture at giving the Philippines freedom is similar to freedom of the press in North Carolina colleges. "Do anything you want to do. Write anything you desire to write. Think anything you want to think, but be sure to let us know all about it before you think, write or speak. We'll let you know if it's okay."

The value of extra-curricular honor is not appreciated without scholarship. One is essential to the other in a well-rounded education, but scholarship is a prime requisite.

C. E. Brake of Rocky Mount had a red letter day Wednesday. At noon he won the Delta Sigma Pi scholarship key and high honors in scholarship; in the afternoon, he got a job with a prominent American firm; in the evening, he received a check from home.

Brake is an exception among State College students. He is president of Delta Sigma Pi International, commerce fraternity, president of Pine Burr scholarship fraternity, president of Leazar Literary Society, vice president of the study body which carries the presidency of the House of Student Government. He will leave behind more than he brought—an enviable reputation in scholarship, leadership and statesmanship.

According to "authorities," Editor B. L. Ahman of the campus humorous-literary magazine, did not know "anything about the April Fool section of The Watagan." But the real problem is, when advising Editor Whitehurst is graduated, leaving no one to advise Editor Ahman, who will become advising editor—who's going to advise the incoming advising editor how to advise the editor?

Advice is usually worth just about what is paid for it. Advising editors are not paid. Ah Men! Ah-Man!

L. M. Knott won the Southern extemporaneous speaking contest at Asheville. Knott was not tied, his win is not without humor, we're not trying to be "punny." Edwin H. Paget has not been at State College a single year without producing an outstanding speaker. Knott speaks for the college and Paget's work speaks for itself.

Now that campus politics are over, politicking will begin at Golden Chain members (it has been done). Here's a selection: Mark Wilson, Archie Ward, A. L. Drumwright, Dan A. Torrence, Jr., Henry Russ, Robin M. Williams, Red Espey, Blain Chapman, Ralph Cummings, Reid Tull, J. G. Grimes, J. E. Stroup. And the Norfolk boys by virtue of their residence. Henry A. McClung lives in West Virginia and may have a chance.

Take your choice of these men for president of the Senior Class: Reid Tull, Goodie Elliott, "Doc Pepper" Snowden, Dave Whitehead.

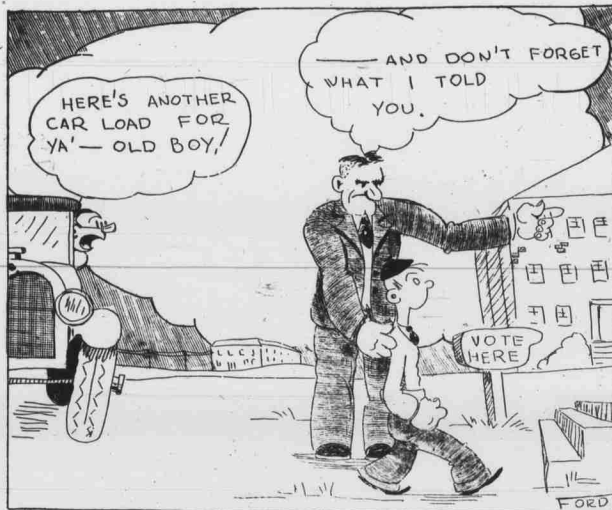

William "Bill" Tullock stands A-1 chance of being cadet colonel of the regiment. Dan Torrence will also be in the race.

Raleigh police detectives made a trip to the office of the Dean of Students yesterday at 4:02 p.m. Freedom of the press prohibits an explanation.

A. L. Drumwright was the only candidate who was not worried over the elections. His office was unopposed.

One high honor student (whose name we can give) complains frequently of his course under Major Michael A. Perry. This high honor student went to another faculty member and this faculty member went to Perry. Perry was bothered, and justly so. He will doubtless not be back next year. We could give you the name of the senior, but to date he has never failed a subject nor received a grade below a "C."

"Political Machinery" in Operation

Any student taking "American Legion at 9 M.W.P." can verify these choice words.

Major Perry sent his stenographer to The Technician office to get ten more copies of the April Fool edition. These have increased his supply to sixteen and decreased the Legion lessons to a minimum.

April Fool issues reflect real Freedom of the Press. Students can call a spade a spade and criticize without being reprimanded.

Wynant C. Moorman of Clifton, N. J., sophomore in mechanical engineering, won the Phi Kappa Phi bronze scholarship medal at the Scholarship Day exercises. He was not on hand to receive it. He is a high honor student.

Wednesday night, the A. S. M. E. elected him to the Engineers' Council. He refused the honor (a high one).

He has refused numerous bids in high honor societies. Here is a student.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS MEET WITH UNIVERSITY

Carolina and State Plan Annual Get-together at College Next Tuesday

The student branches of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at North Carolina State College and the University of North Carolina will have their annual get-together meeting next Tuesday at State College.

The meeting will be held in Room 106, Page Hall, at 7:30 p.m. At that time student delegates and faculty members who attended the Student Conference at Chattanooga, Tennessee, on April 3 and 4, will report on their experiences at the conference. J. C. Whitehurst, one of State College's delegates, won a prize of $50 for the best paper submitted at the meeting, and a gold medal.

The branches at State College and the University are the only student chapters in the state.

Seventy dollars was raised at the mid-night show given last week by the Order of 30 and 5, State College campus organization, for the purpose of raising money for the freshman baseball team.

"Hello, Hawaii"

Bringing Hawaii within speaking distance of the United States is one of the latest achievements of the Bell System in its program of telephone service extension.

Five years ago the United States had telephone connection only with Canada, Cuba, and the Mexican border. Since then, Bell engineers have so developed radio telephony that handling calls to Europe, South America, Australia, Bermuda, Samoa, and Hawaii is daily routine. Today more than 31,000,000 telephones can be reached—approximately 92% of all the telephones in the world!

Making the telephone practically worldwide in reach promotes understanding between nations. It has far reaching effects commercially and politically. That's what puts the thrill into such Bell System pioneering.

DUKE-STATERS SET FOR CLASH

STATE BALL CLUB TO PLAY DEVILS TOMORROW AT 3

Feature Baseball Tilt Between College Teams Staged on Freshmen Field Tomorrow
WILL MARK FIRST TIME STATE PLAYED THIS WEEK

John Lanning, State Ace, to Oppose Coombs in What is Expected to be Mound Battle Between Two Lads; Remaining State Line-up Probably Same as Against Raleigh Last Saturday; Duke Has Nice Club

One of the feature baseball tilts of college ball this week will be played here tomorrow when the Duke Blue Devil team invades State College in a game against Coach "Chick" Doak's proteges. The affair will be staged on Freshman Field, and is booked to start at three o'clock.

Enthusiased with its 6 to 5 win over the Raleigh Caps last week-end, the Staters have been through a successful week of practice featuring intrasquad games.

Second College Team Duke is the second collegiate team to face State this season. The other was Wake Forest and the Deacons won 5-2. However, the Techs have played three exhibition games with professional teams.

One of the big features of Saturday's game between the Blue Devils and the Techs will be the expected pitching duel between John Lanning of the West Raleigh school and Bobby Coombs of the Durham institution. Lanning did State's hurling against the Caps Saturday and except for two innings, kept the press well in hand. Coombs hurled Duke to an 8-0 win over Guilford the same afternoon, limiting the Quakers to three hits while striking out 14.

State's infield will shape up in the regular manner Saturday—Geroch, 1b; Wood, 2b; Morris, 3b; and Brown, ss. The outfield positions are undecided. Elmer W. N. Fuller or Troy Miller will do the catching. State continued its heavy hitting in the Raleigh game, getting nine safeties to run its total to 36 in 24 innings. Outen Geroch, captain, and Joel Morris, got two hits each. Geroch led the Tri-State League in hitting in 1930, but last year, suffered a severe slump.

FOOTBALL SEASON ENDS WITH 0-0 FINAL SCORE

The reign of King Football at N. C. State was jeopardized somewhat last Friday for a while when two Wolfpack teams splashed and swam through a formal grid game for a perfect 0 to 0 final score. The contest was one of the regular features sponsored by the football department here at State. The game was originally scheduled for Saturday, but moved up a day due to a conflicting baseball game. Coming-Captain Red Espey and ex-Captain Charles Cobb were selected as chiefs of the afternoon, and two teams were chosen by the captains from the spring training rosters.

ANNOUNCE NEW FEATURE Dixon To Have New Grid Program

By BEAN CHAPMAN With the 1932 edition of the N. C. State Wolfpack warriors, a feature for home games is being arranged by the publicity department of the college in a new gridiron program of particular interesting make-up. The program is being managed by Fred Dixon, sports publicity agent for the West Raleigh College, and he announces that a very modernistic book is planned for next season. The football program will consist of 36 pages, including the covers; which is an enlargement of twice the number of pages used in last year's program. There will be 7,000 books printed for the entire season of five home games. There will be a complete change of cover and layout in every issue, it was announced. The covers, printed by a newspaper syndicate, will be of a most modernistic style and will be printed in four colors. Each issue, the cover

STATE COLLEGE RIFLEMEN WIN FINALE FROM 'CATS

E. R. Daniels Tops State Scorers With 184 Out of 200 for Practically Perfect Record

The State College Rifle Team ended their season last Saturday with a victory over Davidson College by a score of 885 to 860. The match was fired on the range at Davidson College and was the first shoulder-to-shoulder match between the two institutions.

Each team-member fired five shots in each of four positions, prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. Six men composed each team with the scores of the high five counting. The State team gave an excellent exhibition of good team shooting by having three of its members tied for the low State score, this same score being the same as that made by the second high Davidson firer. E. R. Daniels of State was high individual scorer with a total of 184 out of 200, which is extremely good shooting. Other scores were as follows: (State) J. M. LeRoy 178, P. E. Stone 175, F. D. Whitehead 174, F. R. Nail 174, J. L. Pleasants 174; (Davidson) Graham 178, Green 174, Wiley 173, Brohard 172, Mills, 163, Scott 156.

FRESHMEN TO SHOOT

The Freshman rifle team leaves today for Lexington, Virginia, where they will have a rifle match with the freshmen of Virginia Military Institute. This is the freshman rifle team. So far they have had a very satisfactory season, winning about half of some twenty-five postal matches. The V. M. I. shoot will be their first shoulder-to-shoulder match. Men making the trip will be: P. O. Stahl, M. L. Andrews, E. E. Strickland, J. J. Griffith, C. L. Rascoe, and T. C. Kendall.

CAKE RACE PLANNED FOR ALL STUDENTS

Physical Ed Department to Sponsor New Feature for Students in Cake Racing

A Cake Race in which all students at State College can enter and with about 25 cakes as prizes, will be held at the college on either May 5 or 6. The race is sponsored by the Department of Physical Education and the Student Government organization of which Romeo Lefort of Greensboro is president. A three-mile course beginning at the college and extending to Meredith College and back has been mapped for the race. State highway patrolmen will assist the runners as they make their way out to Meredith on Hillsboro Street and return. Not Bad The Woman's Club of Raleigh, has stated that it would supply 17 homemade cakes. Lefort says several other cakes will be contributed for the event. First prize will consist of a cake weighing five pounds. This run is expected to become an annual event at the college, says Lefort.

ATHLETES WANT PARTY

Milo Stroupe, prominent State College athlete and new president of the Monogram Club here, announces that the initial project of the letter men will be to sponsor a Monogram Club dance next year. It is hoped, President Stroupe said that the affair will become an annual social function of the club, and many elaborate plans are already under way for a successful ball. One feature of the occasion will consist of having all the former letter men of State College back for the dance.

DOAK IS LABELED AS UNIQUE COACH

Reviewer Fred Dixon Says 'Chick' Doak Oldest Tutor Sports in Service in State

COACHED FOUR SCHOOLS SINCE STARTED COACHING

Doak Began Coaching Career at Guilford College; Next to University of North Carolina Then Trinity; Was Officially Annexed to State Staff in 1924 as Diamond Tutor

By FRED DIXON Charles "Chick" Doak, head coach of baseball at N. C. State College, is North Carolina's oldest coach in years of service. He has worked at two colleges and two universities in the state. Chick Doak began his coaching duties in 1911 at Guilford College. Since that time he has coached at the University of North Carolina, at Trinity College (now Duke) and State. During these years most of Doak's time has been spent with baseball, but he has also been head coach of track, football and basketball teams and has seen service as a professional baseball player and manager and as an athletic official.

While a student at Guilford College, Doak was a star in football, basketball, track and baseball and was named for an all-State berth in football, baseball and basketball.

Doak was born in Greensboro, October 7, 1884. His childhood days were spent at Guilford College where his parents moved when he was 12 months old. He attended the public schools there and in 1906 entered the preparatory school of Guilford College. He completed his student days there in the spring of 1911 and soon afterwards was named head coach of three sports—baseball, basketball and track—at Guilford. His first basketball team won the championship of North and South Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee. In 1913, his court quint tied with Wake Forest for the State title in a race in which neither team lost a game.

At Carolina In 1914 and 1915, Doak was coach of baseball and basketball at Carolina. His baseball club won the State title the first year and the basketball team was runner-up for the State title both years. In 1916 and 1917, he was coach of basketball and track at Trinity College. In 1917 he was given charge of baseball in addition to the other two sports. His basketball team won the State championship in 1916.

Doak gave up coaching during the years of 1918-19 and entered the grocery business in Raleigh. In 1920 he went back to Trinity as coach of baseball and did not coach the next year. His first duties at State College were as freshman coach of baseball in 1922 and 1923. His teams won the State yearling title both years. Doak was not officially connected with the college during the two years, but continued to run his grocery business. It was in the spring of 1924 that he became a regular member of the State College coaching staff as head coach of baseball. That year his charges won the State title. In 1925, State was runner-up in the State race and two years later—the West Raleigh school won the Southern Conference baseball title. That was the last diamond title that Coach Doak has won for State College, but every year he has turned out a team which has ranked among the best in the South. In addition to his baseball duties at State, Doak assists in physical training and intramural sports.

Is Old Timer Doak began playing professional ball in 1908 as a member of the Greensboro club. He stayed there until 1914, going to Charlotte in 1915. In 1916 he played with Charleston and Montgomery of the South Atlantic League. After 1916 Doak did not play professional ball again until 1926 when he became manager of the Raleigh Caps late in the season. He was also manager of the Greensboro club in 1913.

ROSE WINS SPORTS CUP GIVEN BY STATE ALUMNI

Annual Alumni Athletic Trophy Won by Former Cage Captain and Grid Star

Bud Rose, ex-captain of the State College basketball club who broke into sport limelight last week as the result of being given honorable mention by Les Gage, again proved to be a favorite of sport followers by being chosen as winner of the Alumni Athletic Trophy. This award is given yearly to the athlete, selected by the student body, whose record is most impressive in regard to sport ability, leadership, and on general qualifications. This is the second year it has been awarded. Last season, Mack Stout, of Sanford, won the trophy. This Athletic Cup, given by the Alumni, is given in place of the former Norris Athletic Cup. Polk Denmark is secretary of the Alumni Association.

CHANGE IN NAME

At the suggestion of several State College students, the Technical sports department is starting a move to have the name of Freshman Field, or Southside Field, changed to "Doak Field."

There have been current rumors of this about the campus for several weeks, being brought to a climax yesterday when this department was asked to take the initiative. Coach "Chick" Doak has been one of the main cogs in the coaching staff of this institution for several years, and it is felt that his loyal work should be compensated in some manner such as this, it was said. It is requested that students drop a note in the Technician box this week-end as to the change of Freshman Field to the name of Doak Field.

The local natators exhibited wonderful form on each event and it was clearly shown from the starting gun who was to reign supreme. The Techs won seven first places in the ten-event program with the Blue Devils, who nosed out the Raleigh team for honors in the recent State-wide college meet at Durham. The closest event of the meet was the 440, in which Sipple, of Duke, shaded Carter of State by a "finger nail."

DUKE GOLF TEAM DEFEATS STATE LINKMEN IN MEET

Visitors Conquer Local Golfers by Score of 15½ to 2½ on Raleigh Golf Course

Duke University golfers scored a 15½ to 2½ victory over N. C. State linkmen in a meet over the Raleigh Golf Association course here last Saturday.

State's only points came in singles play. Chick Murray broke even with Rodgers Peacock, Duke ace, to count 1½ points for State while Tom Mott won one point from and lost two to Earl Stokes, Duke's No. 2 man. In other singles matches June Caldwell won three points from Charles Stron of State and Fred McCaules added three more points to the Devil's score by blanking Myron Rinn.

Peacock Shoots 72 The best medal score of the day was turned in by Peacock in the morning singles matches, the Duke star covering the tough R. G. A. course in 72, one over par.

PLAYS DUKE AGAIN

The N. C. State golf team will depart tomorrow morning for Durham where the Duke Blue Devils will be met for a return engagement on the links. Captain Murray will probably play the same men that were against Duke in their last week's match here, and Duke's line-up will remain unchanged, it was announced.

RALLY IN NINTH WINS FOR STATERS

Raleigh Caps Defeated by Collegians 6 to 5 in Game Played at League Park

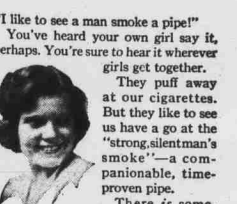

N. C. State College sprang a surprise on the Raleigh Caps, Piedmont league team, in the ninth inning of their diamond tilt played last Saturday at League Park by scoring three runs and thus captured a rather litesome ball game by the count of 6 to 5.

The Capital boys took the lead early in the contest and only the rally, sponsored by substitutes, enabled the college lads to win. Nelms was sent to bat and he doubled. Bob McQuage, another hitter, singled. Then Roach fanned, Fuller was sent into the game, poling a triple and coming home on Catcher Benton's error.

The smoke you like... is the smoke she likes for you!

"I like to see a man smoke a pipe!" You've heard your own girl say it, perhaps. You're sure to hear it wherever girls get together. They puff away at our cigarettes. But they like to see us have a go at the "strong, silent man's smoke"—a companionable, time-proven pipe.

There is something satisfying about a pipe. It's a slow, reflective, hard-thinking smoke—or a calm, relaxing, restful smoke. The hunter's smoke, the fisherman's smoke, the engineer's smoke—a man's smoke, through and through.

And pipe smokers who know their fine tobaccos tell you there's no blend quite like the fine selected burleys of Edgeworth—the favorite tobacco in 42 out of 50 leading colleges.

Do try Edgeworth. Perhaps you will like it as well as most men seem to. Edgeworth is at your dealer's. Or send for free sample if you wish. Address Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d Street, Richmond, Va.

Fraternity Dances

Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, and Kappa Alpha Fraternities entertained with a series of dances, Saturday afternoon and night in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium.

The gymnasium was attractively decorated with the respective colors of the fraternities and a beautiful background of evergreens served to complete the festive appearance of the gymnasium.

The ball officially opened when Dr. and Mrs. Brooks and party were escorted to the guest platform by Lieut. Col. Mann, Major Ricks and Major Gorham, while the orchestra played the State College song, as the entire audience stood at attention.

The decorations were red, white and blue. Flags, pennants and balloons with a green background of pine completed the decorations. The orchestra pit was decorated in red and white.

Immediately following the entrance of Dr. Brooks and his party a grand march was held in which all the couples participated, led by Miss Dorothy Taylor of Wilson, N. Students Taken in Last Night Required to be in Music Work Two Years

The Mu Beta Psi, national honorary musical fraternity, initiated seven men into membership last night at the regular spring initiation.

The members selected by this organization must have at least two years membership in one of the college's musical organizations. This requirement demands that the candidate be a junior or senior.

The men who were initiated last night, according to C. N. Cone, president of the local chapter, were J. C. Geddie, E. M. Geddie, both of Raleigh; Hyman Dave, Durham; O. M. Schuster, Charlotte; J. L. Eubanks, Raleigh; C. R. Goodman, Raleigh; and J. C. Poag, Lancaster, S. C.
