FINANCES DELAY COLLEGE PLANS FOR NEW COURTS

Construction Work on Tennis Courts to be Completed as Soon as Possible

MONEY EXPENDED SO FAR NOT LOST, SAYS BROOKS

Approximately $200 Already Spent Improving Four Tennis Courts Adjacent to Freshmen Field; Money Used was Surplus of Student Activity Fee; Completed Courts Expected to be Among Best in South

Construction of the four new tennis courts being built on the present site adjacent to Freshman Field has been held up on account of finances, according to Professor L. L. Vaughan, who is in charge of the work. Completion has not been definitely scheduled.

Approximately $200 has been spent in grading and sanding the courts since the letting of the grading contract last winter. This money was a surplus in the student activity fee for last year and before the start of construction was thought to be sufficient to cover the complete cost of the courts. However, the $200 was only enough to finish the grading in accordance with the specifications outlined by Dr. Hugh Lefter and Professor Ralph Greene, faculty tennis enthusiasts and coaches of the tennis team. Tearing of the terrace beside the courts was done with funds from the general college maintenance fees. Additional expense will be incurred in the finishing of the courts, in addition to the cost of backstops and equipment for the courts. When this money will be available is problematical. However, Dr. Brooks and Professor Vaughan both promise that the money expended so far will not be lost, and that the construction will be finished some time between now and July 1 or next fall.

STUCKEY WRITES PAPER FOR GEOLOGY MAGAZINE

State Professor's Article Deals With "Cyanide Deposits in North Carolina"

Dr. J. L. Stuckey, professor of geology at N. C. State College, has been notified that a paper prepared by him on "Cyanide Deposits in North Carolina" has been accepted for publication by Economic Geology, Journal of the Society of Economic Geologists.

Acceptance of an article for publication by this journal is regarded as a distinct honor by geologists as selections are made on a basis of scientific contribution.

Doctor Stuckey's article deals with the distribution of cyanide in the state, its origin and commercial importance. Dr. Stuckey has recently had two other articles carried in outstanding publications. The American Mineralogist published his paper on "Water Resources of Crystalline Rocks of North Carolina," and the North Carolina Journal of the American Waterworks Association has carried his paper on "Mineralogy of Kaolinized Deposits of Volcanic Ash from North Carolina."

Before the end of the present year he will complete two other projects and prepare papers on each. These projects deal with talc and baryte deposits in the state.

THURSDAY NAMED AS TAPPING DAY BY GOLDEN CHAIN

Governor

Governor O. Max Gardner will review the Reserve Officers' Training Corps regiment at N. C. State College next Monday at noon.

This review by the State's chief executive will be the sixth annual such event at the college, the custom having been inaugurated during the term of office of Governor A. W. McLean. Pressure of legislative duties prevented Governor Gardner from being present last year.

To Governor Gardner the ceremony has a double significance. In his official capacity as commander in chief of the State's military forces, he visits the campus to review the only student military organization supported by the State of North Carolina, and as a private citizen, his visit marks the return to the campus of one of the college's most distinguished alumni, to view the cadet corps in which he himself was once enrolled. He graduated from State College in 1905 and the cadet corps has been a part of student life at North Carolina State since the founding of the college.

NEW COUNCILMEN TO GO IN OFFICE

Formal Inauguration of New Student Body Officers to be Held Friday

Inauguration of the Student Government Council members for next year will take place May 13 at noon in Pullen Hall during the Freshman Assembly. The student body at large is invited to the ceremony.

Farewell addresses will be given by the outgoing President, Romeo LeFort and Vice President, C. E. Brake, and the incoming President, Mark Wilson, and Vice President Robin Williams will deliver their inaugural addresses.

The senior council members for the coming year are: J. W. Webb, L. M. Boswell and C. T. Anderson. The junior council members are: W. P. Kanto, W. J. Barker, J. L. Rietzel, R. S. Poole, and J. H. Porter. The sophomore council members will be Marshall Garner, W. H. Sullivan, Jr.

A medal will be presented to the best Dormitory President. The following qualifications were taken into consideration before the selection of the winning dormitory president: His attendance to the Dormitory Council Meetings throughout the year; the condition of his floor as found when inspected by T. T. Wellons, his participation in the inter-mural sports; and the care that he has given the telephone on his floor.

The hand will render selections before and after the ceremony.

PADGETT NEW PRESIDENT OF MUSICAL FRATERNITY

Mu Beta Psi Selects Creek, Hubbard, Geddies and Poole as Other Officers

R. S. Poole and Hyman Dare were initiated into the fraternity.

Flowers

Life is just a path of roses for B. O. T. C. students who have to walk "hull tours" for the remainder of the year.

Nurses Sarah Rand and Ruth Boyette, in keeping with the college grounds beautification plan, have planted roses and other flowers around the college infirmary.

The route military students, who have violated regulations, must take is around the sixty-foot triangle on which the college hospital is located.

Selection of Twelve Outstanding Juniors Will be Held Outdoors at 6:30

J. W. HARRELSON WILL BE SPEAKER FOR OCCASION

The twelve outstanding juniors will be tapped by Golden Chain, senior honor fraternity, next Thursday at 6:30 p.m. on the lawn near the Memorial Tower.

The choices will not be known until the twelve seniors, in ceremonial robes, walk around the circle of members of the junior class and perform the tapping ceremony.

Colonel J. W. Harrelson, Head of the State Department of Conservation, will deliver the address for the occasion.

The ceremony, which annually arouses a great deal of interest on the campus, is one of the most picturesque of the college year.

The twelve links of the chain this year are: C. N. Cone, president; George Hobson, Frank Gorham, J. C. Whitehurst, H. Y. Brock, Neno Gross, Henry Burrus, "Tree" Floyd, Henry Hicks, Romeo LeFort, C. E. Brake.

The band will play at the ceremony.

HARDEN TALKS TUESDAY ON TEXTILE PROBLEMS

Alumnus Tells Tompkins Textile Society Need of Technically Training

M. R. Hardin, '23, superintendent of the Erwin Cotton Mills of Durham was the principal speaker at the Tompkins Textile Society meeting held Tuesday night, May 3.

Mr. Hardin brought to the society some of the specific and acute problems that are faced daily in the textile industry.

"Today the textile industry is wanting young men who are technically trained to carry on its work scientifically, for never before in the history of textiles has there been a greater opportunity for trained men than there is today," stated Hardin.

He said that one of the problems confronting the textile industry at present is the obtaining of clean cotton which is an important factor in cotton yarn manufacturing, and that the Erwin Mills have found by experimenting that humidity should be omitted in the first process of picking or cleaning.

Other questions to be solved, he said, were what kind of cloth should cards be covered with and whether or not long draft affects the strength of yarns.

Hardin stated that his company with the aid of many machine shops, are working out various card and spinning problems and that this was one reason why the mills were continuing to run despite poor business conditions.

MATTERS OF FACT

In an editorial captioned "The Best College Editor," Mr. David Clark brightens the editorial page of his April Southern Textile Bulletin with sarcasm, discrediting the recent award of first place among North Carolina college newspapers to THE TECHNICIAN by accusing one of the judges of communism.

Several misstatements of fact accompany Mr. Clark's remarkable assumptions. He writes that the award was made by Earl Godbey, editor of the Greensboro Daily News, whom he says is "an ardent supporter of communistic efforts." As a matter of actual fact, the award was made by three judges, of whom Mr. Godbey was one, and Mr. Clark is the first to intimate that it was not made on journalistic merit.

He says that Louis H. Wilson, winning editor of the paper and attacker of Mr. Clark's views last fall, "was unable to pass his examinations during two-thirds of the terms he was there (State College) and he was finally dropped." This is also incorrect—Wilson only failed to pass enough work to return the third term of this year. Exaggeration in this case is extremely unparliamentary.

The Daily Tar Heel, Carolina newspaper, is the victim of the third incorrect statement. Mr. Clark writes that he imagines that Mr. Godbey had difficulty in deciding between the Tar Heel and THE TECHNICIAN, stating that the Tar Heel must have had claim to the award in Mr. Godbey's estimation. His quotation of the Tar Heel to illustrate his hypothetical assumption is an isolated statement in an editorial which did not, by itself, represent the Tar Heel's views on the subject at all. The Tar Heel was not even in the contest, but Mr. Clark brings it in for a pen-lashing. The Tar Heel, too, took exception to his attack last fall on colleges of the state for allowing liberal speakers to address students.

The whole issue of the Textile Bulletin seems to be the sling with which he is trying to slay the Goliath of liberalism in colleges. Mr. Clark, presumably, as editor, reprints the Raleigh Times tirade against the appearance of Norman Thomas at the University and the Charlotte Observer's lamentation over Langston Hughes' appearance at the same place. In the last-mentioned article, Mr. Clark again lays himself open to the charge of misstatement of recorded fact—for the Charlotte Observer was called by the Carolina News Bureau as to statements in the editorial. Yet Mr. Clark reprints it quite a while after news stories published throughout the state have discredited the statements appearing therein.

Mr. Clark also writes an editorial "wondering" whether it was a coincidence that a Furman University student should receive a three-year scholarship to Carolina after publishing a platform in the Furman Echo containing some rather liberal recommendations.

Leaving aside Mr. Clark's views, his use of misinformation in flaying THE TECHNICIAN must appear unfair, even to those who think he is doing a favor to education by attacking college editors and advocating suppression in colleges of the state.

BREAKERS OF THE LAW

Another black mark is registered against the student body with the removal of the sign on Hillboro street pointing to the early home of Andrew Johnson. Among some students it is considered an honor to collect such trophies and display them somewhat in the nature of spoils of battle.

An aeroplane propeller, valuable property of the Aeronautical Department, is still the proud property of some student. It is only a demonstration section and can have no material value to the student except for purposes of display.

Things like this are stealing—no more and no less—and realization of this is lacking.

The old saw "misery loves company" becomes an argument for consolidation with the announcement of an additional twenty per cent cut for Carolina professors.

GATHERING FOR COMMON GOOD

Today and tomorrow the North Carolina Federation of Students meets in Greensboro and one of the points of discussion will be the advantages of joint meetings for the several state student organizations.

Two weeks ago the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association met and last week a Y. M. C. A. Conference held its annual meeting. All three have the same goal—the welfare of the student bodies of the state. Yet these organizations hold separate meetings and neglect an opportunity to discuss mutual problems for mutual benefit.

BUGABOO

As the end of the year approaches and professors begin to plan the last few weeks of their courses, many will schedule review quizzes during the week before exams.

Annually students, already worrying about rush of term papers, make-up work, and the necessity of preparation for examinations, must face this bugaboo. At several colleges the giving of quizzes on the week before examinations is prohibited by rule. Considerable sentiment exists on the campus against these quizzes.

Examinations themselves are under fire by many educators and students as doubtful tests of the value received from a course in many cases. An additional examination, for tests on work previously covered can be classed as an examination, seems to be both unnecessary and dubious in value to the student. Time becomes more valuable near the end of a course and many students wish an open forum discussion of the course or, in some cases, the explanation of doubtful points covered earlier in the term, rather than another grade for the work.

While no hard and fast rule seems necessary in view of the fact that particular exceptions might be necessary at times, yet this consideration for the student would be a wise move for the professor who considers the very real difficulties under which the student labors near the end of the term.

SCHOLARSHIP INTEREST

With the marked increase in honor students this year and the rise of the average of the student body, more serious consideration is being given scholarship than at any other time within the past few years.

The Interfraternity Council is conducting a study of fraternity averages with the view of determining exactly why it is that fraternity averages are low in many cases with the view of improving the Greek grades. Factors in individual cases such as residence, class, and attitude will be studied for each lodge and out of this study and the work of a committee to investigate plans for improvement of scholarship in other colleges may come some improvement for a bad situation.

Many factors tend to lower the averages of fraternity members, especially in the case of freshmen. Social life, a place to listen to the radio or virola and opportunities for associations cause neglect of college work unless the fraternity has a vigorous program directed toward scholarship. The fraternity lays itself open to a serious charge when its influence makes for low grades.

STANDARDIZING

Agitation directed toward the adoption of a standard cover for the Agromeck during the past week should end with the knowledge that both the news editor and business manager are heartily against the idea.

The suggestion has advantages and disadvantages. A standard cover would lend certain artistic effect to a collection of the books but would destroy the individuality of any one book. The desires of the new publishers, however, are the first consideration since they must take the responsibility for the annual they direct. The only possible further agitation on the matter would be personal persuasion, since it is a matter of principle that the editor and business manager have a free hand in their work. They were elected to issue the book and may be expected to consider suggestions with the best interests of the annual in mind.

COMBINATION

A combination of the Engineers' Fair, the Student "Ag" Fair and the Textile Exhibition is an idea which is being advocated as beneficial to State College and the student fairs.

The value of such a combination is questionable. Each student group has worked for years to build up an individual exhibit and the spirit established would be lost in a large measure when the student groups were submerged in one display. Publicity for the event, which is now not the direct aim of the exhibits, would be the only justification for the combination, and it is doubtful whether one exhibit would arouse more interest than the sum of the three events now held. A whole week would be necessary for the large fair, and suspension of classes and the attendant "ballaboo" would lay the college open to charges of holding the event only for publicity involved. The fairs would probably get beyond student control and cease to serve their present purpose.

One difficulty suggested immediately is the fact that no possible time could be chosen satisfactory to all parties concerned.

The desires of the student organizations involved should be most thoroughly considered before any such plan is adopted, for it is they who have brought the fairs to their present excellence.

Scissored

Collegiate Morals, Again
 It is with constantly increasing wonder that college students note the continual attacks upon their moral standards. It is with difficulty that they accept these criticisms. In a recent issue of a local paper another attack is launched at the standard of morals at the University of Nebraska. The writer of the article believes, that as a taxpayer, he has a right to object. Granted his right to object to all things, but against the morals of college students he should first be sure of his ground.

He states that college student are living in palatial homes, incompatible with their culture and incomes, and that drunkenness has increased at football games. He makes the statement, advances no proof.

The Daily Nebraskan makes bold to say that the morals of the students of the University of Nebraska are higher in every degree than the morals of a similar age group anywhere else. If those who are constantly bemoaning collegiate vice will show students a college of five thousand young men and women between the ages of 16 and 25 with morals which will compare in any respect to those of students then they will have grounds upon which to base their complaints. The names which constantly adorn the police blotters of the cities of the world are not college students. The youthful breakers of the law are seldom college students. College students are better fitted to reason out their own moral standards than any other group of the same size and age anywhere.

Drunkenness has increased at football games, says the letter writer. He declares that that fact is too apparent to be denied. The Daily Nebraskan would like to know who the drinkers were. Were they college students or were they outsiders? College students are blamed in nine cases out of ten for crimes which they never commit. When any one is drunk on a football trip or at a football game, it is always the students who are blamed, and in almost every instance it is someone not even allied with the group who is causing all the trouble.

Then the cigarette smoking vice. That has been bemoaned for years. Just what is so terrible about smoking a cigarette? What makes it a vice? Some of the greatest men in the world today are cigarette smokers and some are not. Some of the finest and most cultured women in this city are cigarette smokers. Why is it wrong?

To those plaintiffs who see vice in our midst we say come and point it out to us. We shall be glad to show us a group of the same size and age anywhere which has so little of downright evil in it as has ours. Further than that we challenge them to disprove the statement that the moral standard of college students is higher than that of a similar group in other circumstances.—Daily Nebraskan.

MURRAY FINISHES TEST AT LANGLEY FLYING FIELD

State Aeronautical Senior Hopes To Enter Army Air Corps In November

H. H. Murray, a senior in aeronautical engineering, returned from Langley Field, Va., this week after undergoing the physical examination there for selection as a Flying Cadet in the Air Corps of the Army.

Ten students from as many colleges took the examination at the same time as Murray, and he was informed that he was the only one who met the high physical standards required. Murray is hopeful that he will be ordered to Kelly Field, Texas, as a member of the November, 1932, class of flying cadets.

Through Colonel Bruce Magruder, Commandant at N. C. State College, J. T. Winstead, Jr., and G. S. Pate, both seniors, have recently applied for selection as flying cadets.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR PLACEMENTS

Richardson Says Business School Will Place High Percentage of Seniors

Negotiations are underway for the placement of the Seniors in the Business School, according to H. A. Richardson, head of the Science and Business Placement Bureau, and despite the general business conditions he reports surprising success in placing our graduates.

Indications thus far show that over seventy-five per cent of the graduates will be placed.

Dean B. F. Brown said "the placing of the men may be a small indication of an upward turn in business conditions."

Last year the school placed a large number of its graduates.

Here, MEN, smoke a man's smoke

A PIPEFUL of good tobacco is distinctly a man's smoke. The women (long may they wave!) have taken over most of our masculine privileges. But pipe smoking still belongs to us.

In every walk of life you'll find that the men at the top are pipe smokers. And most college men agree that the pipe offers the rarest pleasures a man could ask of his smoking.

When you smoke a pipe, be sure you choose the tobacco that will give you the greatest enjoyment. In 42 out of 54 colleges Edgeworth is the favorite. You can buy Edgeworth wherever good tobacco is sold.

Or for a special sample packet, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va. Sample is free.

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Edgeworth is a blend of fine old buds, with its natural savor enhanced by Edgeworth's distinctive and exclusive eleven-step process. Buy Edgeworth anywhere in two forms—Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed and Edgeworth Plug Slice. All sizes, 1 1/2 pocket package to $1.50 pound hamper tin.

STATE SWATTERS BEAT TAR HEELS

Jimmy Brown Stars in Eleven Inning Victory With 7-6 Score on Tuesday

After tying the count at six-all with a five-run rally in the ninth, State College pushed over a run in its half of the eleventh inning to defeat the University of North Carolina 7-6 here Tuesday, May 3, in a Big Five game.

With two away in the eleventh, Jimmy Brown, Tech's brilliant short stop, doubled to right field. The blow was apparently good for three bases, but in rounding first, Brown pulled a leg muscle and barely reached second. He was taken from the game and Allen Nolms took his place on the keystone sack, from where he scored the winning run on W. N. Fuller's single over second.

Fuller also drove in the tying run in the ninth inning. In addition to hitting three times, he turned in a nice game behind the plate. Smoky Ferebee was the only visiting player being credited with a stolen base.

John Lanning, who had relieved Hank McLawhorn on the mound in the seventh for State, started the ninth off with a single. Pitcher Joe Griffith then walked two men, forcing one batter to ground out in between the tree passes, to fill the sacks. Willie Duke doubled to right and George Hinton took Griffith's place on the mound. Brown and Fuller greeted the new chucker with singles before Hinton could force McQuage and Jeffrey to fly out.

State's first run came in the eighth. Griffith pitched hitless ball for the Tar Heels for the first five innings. Hinton, his successor, got credit for the loss. McLawhorn pitched the first six and two-thirds innings for State, but got ragged support. John Lanning, who relieved him, got credit for the win.

Carolina's runs came in the first, fifth, seventh and eighth. In the first frame, Dunlap hit a home run with Ferebee on second.

DUKE TEAM WINS OVER TECH CLUB

Blue Devils' Pitcher Fans Eleven Doakmen to Take 9-2 Victory Saturday

Duke University collected 13 hits off two State College hurlers at Durham Saturday, April 30, to defeat the Tech 9-2 in a return Big Five game. In the first tilt at Raleigh, State won 3-1.

John Lanning, who hurled the first game for State and limited the Blue Devils to two singles, started on the mound Saturday, but was relieved after the fifth inning. While on the mound, Lanning was touched for seven hits and four runs. Rudy Seitz relieved him and the Devils collected six hits and five runs in the last three innings.

Mort, Flohr, Duke's sophomore southpaw, kept State's ten safe licks well scattered. He struck out 11 men and at bat hit two singles and scored two runs for the afternoon.

Hitting honors for the afternoon went to Willie Duke with a single and triple in two tries, Bob McQuage with two singles in a like number of attempts, both of State; and Weaver and Howell of the Devils who had a single and triple each in four visits to the plate.

Bob McQuage also stole the fielding honors when in the seventh he made a beautiful catch of Mitchell's line wallop near the right field fence. He received a big hand from the filled bleachers.

Neither team scored in the first two innings. State got two singles in the first inning, but a double play in between the hits prevented a run crossing the plate.

Score by innings: R. State 000 100 010-2 Duke 001 033 11x-9

DAVIDSON MEETS DOAKMEN TODAY ON HOME GROUND

Brown and Gerock May Not Start in Second Game With Davidson Wildcoats

RUDY SEITZ SCHEDULED TO PITCH FOR DOAKMEN

Locals Hold 16-2 Win Over Davidson in First Game; State Infield May See New Faces; Game is Second for State in Four Days; Victory Will Give Local Swatters Full Control of Second Place in Big Five Race

State College and Davidson meet today at Davidson in the only Big Five game remaining on schedule for this week. The tilt will start at 4 o'clock. The game is the second for the Techs in four days. Tuesday afternoon they handed Carolina a 7-6 licking at Raleigh in an eleven-inning battle. The win sent State into a tie with Duke University for the second rung in the Big Five ladder. A victory today will give the West Raleigh school full control of second place, as Duke is on a northern trip and will not meet another Big Five foe until next week.

In their first game at Raleigh, State handed Davidson a 16-2 defeat. John Lanning and Hank McLawhorn did the hurling for the Techs. Coach Chick Doak is expected to use Rudy Seitz, 200-pound right hander, in today's battle. Seitz has not started a game this season, but has worked in several as a relief hurler.

A change or two may be made in State's infield this afternoon. Captain Outen Gerock, first baseman, and Jimmy Brown, short stop, were injured in the game with the Tar Heels and it is not known whether they will be ready to start or not. Gerock turned his ankle sliding into second and Brown pulled a leg muscle when he hit a double in the eleventh inning. Should Coach Doak decide to let these men rest, Bob McQuage will play first with either Bill Eby or Fred Wilkie stationed at short.

of this group will run the next day, Friday, May 13.

The winners of the different events in the fraternity group will meet the winners of the different events in the club and dormitory group on Wednesday, May 18.

The scoring in the intramural will be ten points for first, seven for second, five for third, three for fourth, and one for fifth.

In the dual meet the scoring will be five points for first, three for second, and one for third.

The different events to be held are the one hundred yard dash, the shot, the discus, the running high jump, the running broad jump, and the eight hundred and eighty yard relay.

One man can not enter more than two events plus the relay. The number of contestants in the finals will be reduced to six men in each event except the relay.

The rules of the dual meet are as follows: (1) Dual team will be composed of men finishing first, second, and third in each of their respective events. (2) Coaches will choose the relay team (3) three men may be entered in each event (4) no man can enter but two events plus the relay (5) three places will count in scoring 5, 3, 1.

State College will enter seven varsity men and five freshmen in the outdoor state-track meet to be held at the University of North Carolina Saturday afternoon. The events are scheduled to start at 1:15.

Captain James "Twee" Floyd will head State's varsity entries. Floyd will be entered in the 440-yard dash and will also be a member of the relay team. He is one of the best 440 runners in the state, having won the event several times in dual meets. State is expected to offer real competition in the mile relay and in the discus. The relay team will be picked from Floyd, Herbert Lynch, Van Shuiping, Coon Silver and Bernice Copening. Sam Gurneau and Rudy Seitz will be entered in the discus. Both men can better 130 feet. As a freshman, Gurneau broke the Southern Conference record.

Herbert Lynch, a sophomore, in addition to taking part in the relay, will be entered in the 440 with Floyd. Lynch is one of the most promising dash men seen at State in several years. Gilbert Clark, winner of the high jump last year, is again entered along with LeRoy Jay, a sophomore. Both men have been jumping around five feet ten inches in practice this week. Other varsity entries will be: Red Watt, hurdles, and Gurneau, shot put.

IMPS TAKE WINS FROM STATE MEN

Allen Bailey Features Hitting for State Yearling Team; Devils Wins One-sided

Duke freshman scored two victories over State freshman last week in the first game played Friday, April 30, the Little Devils scored six runs off Cox, State pitcher while his teammates collected two from Weaver, Duke hurler.

In the second game which was played Tuesday, May 3, Lynn and Cox, State twirlers, were touched for eighteen hits and eleven runs. Mays, Duke pitching artist, limited the Techlets to three hits and one run. Bell, diminutive third sacker, was the big noise in the Blue Imps' first win. In the ninth, with two away and two-on the sacks, he banged out a home run to sew up what had been a close and exciting game. In addition to his homer, Bell hit a triple and a single in four trips to the plate. Allen Bailey, Raleigh boy, was the hitting star for the Techlets, getting two singles and a double.

Weaver and Cox both pitched the entire first game. The second game was not as exciting as the first. It was a one sided affair with Duke collecting safe hits at will. Seven of the Devils' eighteen hits were good for extra bases.

The batteries for this game were Lynn and Cox and Spence for State and Mays and Wagner for Duke.

First game: R. H. E. State 100 000 000-1 3 4 Duke 336 101 12x-11 18 0 Second game: R. H. E. Duke 003 000 003-6 11 1 State 000 101 000-2 8 1

DO YOU INHALE?

Why is this vital question so much avoided by other cigarettes?

EVER since Lucky Strike created that special process for purifying fine tobacco and told the full facts about cigarette smoking—the industry has been in an uproar. For Lucky Strike has dared to mention things that were considered "taboo" in the cigarette trade.

You may have noticed a striking avoidance generally of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it gives you the protection you want . . . because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!
