

North Carolina Grange Men Meet At State On Thursday

Dr. Carl Taylor, Dr. Clarence Poe and Harry Caldwell Speakers on Program of October 22; Women Praised for Part Played in Farm Work; Faculty and Education Students Are Eligible for Membership

The North Carolina State Student Chapter of the Grange national farmers' organization, met last Thursday, October 22, at 6:30 p. m. in Pullen Hall with eighty faculty members, students in the schools of Agriculture and Education and members of other Granges. Harry Caldwell, State Grange lecturer, Dr. Clarence A. Poe, Editor of the Progressive Farmer and Dr. Carl C. Taylor addressed the meeting.

A recent change in the policy of the student organization makes students and faculty in the School of Education eligible for membership. Heretofore only the Agricultural faculty and students were members.

Caldwell told of the growth of the organization from a group of a few hundred in the 1870's to its present membership of almost a million. "The purpose of the organization," says Caldwell, "is, to provide education, recreation and a better standard of rural life through co-operation. In addition to this the Grange has fostered national legislation which has been invaluable to the farmers of this country. The Grange is responsible for the rural free delivery postal system which has been such a boon to rural sections and only last year it was instrumental in getting a tariff on oleomargarine through Congress."

Dr. Poe said that "a committee of five, who studied the farm organizations of the state, selected the Grange above all others. One of the major reasons for this was that the Grange accepts women members on a par with men. Women fill a more important place in farm life than they are given credit for and they are important in any movement for the betterment of rural life."

Dr. Taylor spoke on the instructive part of farmers organizations. He said that "farm organizations are receiving sets by which the farmers are able to tune in and receive the information being distributed through broadcasting stations such as extension work, farm bulletins, and county agents."

"More money is being spent by the government to aid agriculture than for any other industry," said Dr. Taylor, "and my belief that this information, which will help the farmers to lift themselves by their bootstraps, can best be acquired through farm organizations."

The next meeting of the Grange was announced for Thursday evening, November 5.

FROSH CROSS COUNTRY MEET WINSTON-SALEM

The State freshman cross-country team engage the Winston-Salem high school in a meet here Saturday at 11:15, just before the Carolina-State football game. The course will be run over the varsity track, which leads out by the gymnasium by the Catholic Orphanage. State will meet the Duke team on the date of the State-Duke varsity football game.

SOUTH DORMITORY MEN WANT NEW DOOR LOCKS

The Dormitory Clubs of South have decided to appoint a committee of their number to appeal to T. T. Wellons, Superintendent of Buildings, to put new and modern locks on their doors instead of the present locks that can be easily opened by almost any key.

The dormitory is close to the football field, and when there is a game it is visited by many strangers, and things have been stolen from the rooms in the past.

X-Raying Mummies
 A new use of the X-Ray is in the taking of pictures of the mummies of alleged Pharaohs. In recent years, there have been a large number of cases in which some food collector found his recently purchased mummy to be a collection of old rags, cleverly stuffed in some old skin. The X-Ray machine prevents this fraud by showing the bones of bona-fide mummies and exposing the lack of same in the bogus ones.

Tire Tester

Various weights and speeds of automobiles under road conditions are reproduced in the laboratory of North Carolina State College to study the effect of rolling resistance on automobile tires with what is known as the "North Carolina Tire Tester."

The tire tester consists of a wheel and tire mounted so that the tread of the tire rests on top of the face of a large wooden drum which is rotated at the desired speed.

Special weighing devices make possible the regulation of the weight of the tire on the drum and in this manner valuable experiments and studies can be made.

The tire tester was designed by Dr. H. B. Shaw and James Fontaine of the Engineering Experiment Station of North Carolina State College.

The Number Forty
 In Biblical Times, great significance was placed on the number forty. This was not without reason for: The Israelites wandered in the desert 40 years, Noah was set afloat by rains of 40 days and 40 nights duration. Ninevah was given a respite of 40 days before being destroyed, the spies of Canaan investigated Israel for forty days before rendering a report to their king, and King Solomon was supposed to have had some trouble with 40 thieves.

AGRICULTURE FACULTY HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Economics Department Hears Addresses From Professors on Summer Work

The first meeting of the faculty and students in Agricultural Economics was held Friday afternoon, October 23 at 4:30 p. m. in Ricks Hall.

Dr. G. W. Forster, head of the department, opened the meeting by making a short talk on his work with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company this summer in New York.

Dr. Forster made various farm surveys and investigated the value of first loan mortgages held by the insurance company and farms in the south. He was assisted in this work by W. C. Weldon who took graduate work in the economics department last year.

Other members of the faculty gave a brief account of their work during the past summer. The others were: Dr. J. G. Knapp, R. H. Rogers and L. R. Parmore.

J. F. Griswell formerly of Texas, who is now doing extension work for the Department made a brief talk in which he expressed his willingness to cooperate with the entire department and in turn wanted their aid in his work.

Dr. R. Y. Winters, director of the experiment station expressed his interest in Economics and made a brief talk concerning his work in connection with the department.

G. Horace Hamilton, Rural Sociology Professor, also addressed the meeting. After the technical discussions all enjoyed refreshments served under the direction of Miss Clara Gilbert, secretary of the Economics Department.

CONTRACTORS INITIATE SIX NEW MEN THURSDAY

Six new men were initiated into the Associated General Contractors, Student Branch, in the Civil Engineering building last Thursday night.

After the initiation, old and new members assembled for a short get-together meeting, in which President R. H. Weisner welcomed the new members and explained the purpose of the organization. During the discussion of plans for the coming year, it was reported that several prominent contractors would speak before the society. President Weisner announced that the secretary of the state organization, whose office is in Raleigh, had secured a speaker for the next meeting, to be held Thursday night, November 5.

Goat

Edward Geisler felt the pang of depression this week when a goat butted in on his date with Miss Nancy Bunn.

Sitting on the porch with Miss Bunn, "Ed" was enjoying life until the Bunn dog grabbed his head-gear. A half hour's labor brought the hat back.

"Ed" went back to State College, forgetting his lid. Monday he called by telephone.

"I've got awful news for you," Miss Bunn informed him. "Our goat ate your hat." John was mad, but declared he'd see Miss Bunn again. "But, I'm never going to wear a hat," he added.

TRUEBLOOD IS SPEAKER TO RELATIONS MEMBERS

International Relations Club Hears Pacifist Lecturer Tuesday Night

"How May Another War be Averted?" was the subject of an address by D. E. Trueblood, pacifist lecturer and minister of the Friends Church, in an open meeting of the N. C. State International Relations Club in the Y. M. C. A. last Tuesday night at 7:00 p. m.

Trueblood is a pacifist lecturer and executive secretary of the Baltimore Council of Friends and has held several positions in the Friends Church. He was formerly Dean of Students at Guilford College. At the present time he is studying for his Doctor of Philosophy degree at Johns Hopkins University.

Trueblood gave a vivid mental picture of what the next war would mean to the western world. "Another war will mean the end of our western civilization," said the speaker.

According to him, Germany furnishes a potential threat to peace on account of its low wages and unrest. He told the audience, "If Hitler becomes dictator of Germany and puts into vogue his militaristic theories it will mean war between Germany and France, especially since he advocates rejection of the Versailles Treaty and repudiation of the reparations payments. This would inevitably draw other nations into the conflict."

"War is built on propaganda," he continued, "and there have been confessions that a great deal of the stories circulated in the United States before the World War were invented but the instigators excused their actions on the ground of patriotism."

Trueblood opened the discussion part of the meeting with the question, "Can a person be a Christian and participate actively in a war?" The trend of the discussion was to the effect that war and Christianity could not be reconciled.

Comparing the next war with previous ones, Trueblood said "It is like comparing plane and solid geometry. The next war will be a third dimension affair—that is, it will be fought in the air. Imagine playing football in three dimensions if you want a smile."

As a preventative measure for war, Trueblood suggested a world police force, composed of a portion of all the armies and navies of the world under the direction of the League of Nations. "If we need city police forces, do we not also need international police forces?" asked the speaker.

Trueblood was of the opinion that competitive armament is one of the outstanding causes of war. Discussion on the point brought out the opinion that the proper human spirit would have to exist along with actual disarmament if it were to be effective.

Further discussion on the next war revealed the opinion that it would destroy life on a wholesale scale and that it was impossible to make war decent or clean.

Further discussion on the next war at the Edenton Street Methodist Church of Raleigh to a capacity crowd. The assembly was a joint meeting of all Raleigh churches.

COLLEGE EXTENSION MEN TEACH 5,000 STUDENTS

State College Listed With Seven Other Institution Extension Divisions

More than five thousand persons receive instruction of a college grade in the state-wide program of extension education under the direction of the North Carolina Association of College Extension Representatives.

The Association promotes cooperative relationships among the institutions of higher learning in the conduct of extension teaching; encourages adult education; and provides a medium for discussion of the various phases of extension work. The member colleges are: Catawba College, Salisbury, N. C.; Davidson College, Davidson, N. C.; High Point College, High Point, N. C.; Lenoir-Rhyne College, Hickory, N. C.; N. C. College for Women, Greensboro, N. C.; N. C. State College, Raleigh, N. C.; Salem College, Winston-Salem, N. C.; University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C.

By means of combined extension service, instruction of college grade is obtainable in practically every community of the state. The association aims to avoid duplication of effort among member institutions, and give the extension service at the lowest possible cost to both college and student.

The requirements for these services are practically the same as for regular college work. The high school graduate who is not financially able to go to college may start his work at home and receive credit toward a degree. The former college student, who has dropped out of school for some reason, can do the same. Even the ordinary citizen can take these extension courses and receive college credit if he likes.

The courses are practically the same as those given in regular classrooms, and the teachers are approved college faculty members. These instructors give regular examinations, and it is only upon passing the exam that the student may receive credit for his work.

These courses are given both as correspondence classes and as lectures. Where enough students can be gathered together, lecture courses will be given. Thus it is possible for any citizen of North Carolina to take the course.

The member colleges also maintain other cooperative activities and the three state institutions foster close cooperative contact with the secondary schools of the state by means of academic, debating, athletic, dramatic and musical activities.

The officers of the Association are R. M. Gruman, chairman, Director of the Extension Division, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C. C. E. Teague, vice chairman, Director Extension Department, N. C. C. W., Greensboro, N. C.; J. C. Hadley secretary, Director Extension Department, Catawba College, Salisbury, N. C.

TAR HEELS MET IN TWIN BILL

LAST HOME TILT FOR STATE TEAM WITH TAR HEELS

Wolves and Carolinians Gathering for Home-Coming Classic on Saturday

SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT IS PLANNED FOR ALUMNI

State expects to find one of strongest walls in South with meeting of Collins' Gridmen; Game will be only Big Five affair staged in State; Expected capacity crowd for fight called for 2:30 p.m.

N. C. State College will celebrate Home-Coming Day tomorrow afternoon when it plays the Carolina Tar Heels on Riddick Field at 2:30 in a Big Five game which will also be the Wolfpacks last home game.

The battle between the Heels and the Wolves is expected to draw the largest football crowd to Raleigh this year. The two schools are ancient rivals on the gridiron and a game between the two is the only incentive needed to draw the crowd.

State Lost Last Year Carolina defeated State at the Hill last fall 13-6. The Tarheels were considered a stronger aggregation at that time than they are today and State a bit weaker thus meaning that Saturday's scrap ought to be a nip and tuck affair.

Carolina has played two of the leading eleven in the country on the last two Saturdays. Two weeks ago, Georgia plastered the Heels with a 32-7 win and last Saturday, Tennessee was played at Chapel Hill.

The Heels have won one game this year and that was over Wake Forest with a 37-0 score.

It is believed that State found itself last Friday in the Catholic U. game and will be in perfect condition for the invasion of Carolina. Much emphasis was put on State's defensive game in drills during the first part of the week while the heels were getting most of the attention in Wednesday's work.

State will find one of the best lines in the Southern Conference opposing it Saturday in the Carolina wall. Tennessee and Gene McEver could do very little with it. In fact, only Georgia has been able to find holes. State's line has been greatly strengthened with the return of Milo Stroupe, Rudy Seltz, another 200 pound tackle has been taking part in drills this week and he will probably be used along (Please turn to page six)

Richard B. Sheridan Paid Tribute by Sports Writer and State's Student

By BLAN CHAPMAN The sports department of the Technician, with the students of State College, wish to express their sympathy and pay humble respect to Richard B. Sheridan of Augusta, Ga., who was fatally injured in the Army-Yale football game last Saturday.

Sheridan, 21-year-old Army grid star and honor student, died in New Haven hospital late Monday afternoon of a broken neck. Little hopes were issued for his recovery, although artificial respiration had been administered since the accident and prominent physicians summoned.

Sheridan was given a military burial by the West Point School, and interred in the West Point military cemetery, a resting place of several of the nation's most noted military men.

Tentative line-up for tomorrow's game is as follows:

State	Position	Carolina
Scholl	Walker
Espey	Left Guard	Gilbreath
LeFort	Center	Fysal
Stroupe	Right Guard	Underwood
Greason	Right Tackle	Brown
Jeffrey	Right End	Ferebee
Cook	Quarterback	Croom
Kinken	Right Half	Chandler

MILLER TO HAVE SPORTS FOR ALL UNTIL DECEMBER

Intramural Sports Program Is Announced by College Physical Director

HORSE-SHOE CONTESTS AMONG GAMES ON LIST

No Monogram Men Will Be Allowed to Participate in Games According to Director Miller; Tag Football Scheduled in Physical Education Program; Consolation Series Planned; Dates Are Announced

Non-official athletes at State College will be given the chance to demonstrate their ability in various sports as Johnny Miller, physical education chief, outlines an intramural sports program, lasting until December.

The program calls for tag football and horseshoe pitching at this season, and the sports are open to all fraternities, lodges, clubs, and the like.

CONSOLATION SERIES A consolation series will be run-off, starting probably next week, and every team given another chance after their first defeat. It has been arranged that a silver loving cup be awarded to the winners of the regular schedules, and winners of the consolation series.

DINK DELLINGER—HALFBACK

State College will play last respects to the above gridsters in tomorrow's game, as McLawhorn, LeFort, and Dink Dellinger all leave the Wolfpack squad via the route of graduation this commencement. Another State senior and player, whose picture was not available, is Frank Gorham and who will also perform here for the last time tomorrow.

CAROLINA LEADS IN BIG FIVE

TAR HEEL GAME SETS RECORD

Loop's Social Rating Will Depend on Outcome of State-Tar Heel Meet

Standing Big Five teams including games of week ending October 24.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Carolina	1	0	1.000
Duke	1	0	1.000
N. C. State	1	1	.500
Wake Forest	1	2	.333
Davidson	0	1	.000

*Played to scoreless tie October 17.

N. C. State and the Tar Heels of Carolina meet tomorrow in the only Big Five encounter of the week, with the result of this game being weighed in the balance in regard to topping the loop's social rating.

Carolina has played only one State loop game, and that a seasonal opener against Wake Forest. The game was recorded in the win column. The Wolfpack has met two foes of the State, with a 500 average. This record includes a win over Davidson and a loss to Wake Forest.

Wolves Have Chance The game tomorrow between State and Carolina is exceedingly interesting as the local Wolves will have a chance to get above the half-way mark in Big Five standings.

Other teams in the State league face opposition from varying sources, including two Southern Conference clubs and one minor machine.

DIXIEGRANDS

est is playing at home with Erskine; and Davidson will meet the V. M. I. military lads on local territory.

It will be remembered that "Wild Bill" McEver and his Tennessee Vols were held to a small score last week by Carolina, and fans are asking the question if the Blue Devils can duplicate the feat.

The Davidson-V. M. I. scrap is sure of an interesting place on the program. The Wildcats have demonstrated their ability this season in upsetting the old well-known duke bucket and V. M. I. comes to North Carolina with a high standing.

Wake Forest, suffering from a defeat from Duke last week and a badly battered-up and crippled club, meets Erskine. The Erskine team managed to tie Davidson in their past game and intercollegiate influence for Erskine will be laid before the fans in the Deacon section.

BOXING CANDIDATES DUE TAKE PRACTICE MONDAY

Candidates for boxing will report for initial practice Monday afternoon at the gymnasium. It was announced by Coach Elms yesterday.

VARSITY DEFEATED BY CATHOLIC U.

State Wolflets Lick Little Cats, 14-7

Featuring a game of Cardinal wild and shifty backs, consecutive penalties, and very creditable Wolfpack playing, some 7,000 football enthusiasts saw two red-clad grid teams of Catholic University and N. C. State College battle here last Friday night with the Cardinals taking the game, 12 to 7.

The State Wolves played nice and conservative ball during most of the game, and exhibited more punch and power than had been seen this season. However, two bad breaks for the local club spelled destruction. It was not straight football tactics that licked State, but rather a strange grid phenomena which every club faces.

State Deserved To Win The actual touchdown came in the second quarter, following the Cardinal counter. Bob Greason kicked to C. U.'s 35 yard line. Catholic was penalized 15 yards for backfield in motion; they regained 5 yards through the line, but were penalized another 15 yards for the same offense.

Score by Quarters: State 0 7 0 0—7 Catholic 6 0 0 0—12 Scoring Touchdowns: State: Greason; Catholic U.: Whelan (2); points after touchdown: State: Kinken (placement).

CAPTAIN "KID" BREWER BIG DEVIL IN CONTEST

Davidson Held to Scoreless Tie With Team From South Carolina; Second Up-Set for Wild-Cat Team, But Tables Turned; Carolina Praised for Hold Against Tennessee Vols; Only Beaten One Touchdown

Scores of games played in North Carolina last week were as follows: Duke 28, Wake Forest 0; Carolina 0, Tennessee 6; Davidson 0, Erskine 0. Duke ran wild over the "Demon Deacons" of Wake Forest by a score of 28 to 0. The game was played Friday afternoon on Hanes Field, in Durham.

Carolina lost to Tennessee by the close score of 6-0. The only score of the game came in the second period when Tennessee recovered a fumbled punt by Carolina. The Vols then marched to their touchdown. The "Heels" held the great McEver in check and constantly were in scoring position themselves.

Carolina lost to Tennessee by the close score of 6-0. The only score of the game came in the second period when Tennessee recovered a fumbled punt by Carolina. The Vols then marched to their touchdown.

It's hard to land an all-State berth on a losing team, but Capt. Charlie Cobb has certainly won his at tackle. He annexed that job as a sophomore last year and it's his again as a junior.

Little Techlets Victorious Over Davidson Kittens in Last Play 14-7

UNIVERSITY YEARLINGS RATED AS STRONG TEAM

Carolina will be meat in the first of a two game series this afternoon when the freshmen team of the schools clash at 2:30 o'clock on Riddick Field in an important yearling battle. The game was originally scheduled for 4:00 p.m., but moved to the early hour by popular request.

Two freshmen on the State yearling club who received injuries in the past Davidson-State game reported to the squad yesterday for practice and will be seen in the game this afternoon against Carolina.

State has already demonstrated its strength but the game this afternoon is the first this fall for the Tar Babies. However, reports have it that Carolina has a good freshman club. With both State and Carolina varsity weak this year, today's freshmen may play an important role in varsity games during the next three years.

The Techlets rated some of the best material seen in freshman circles. The team is rated above the 1929 team which won the State title. Only one game has been lost this fall and that to Duke. In that scrap, State held the lumps to one first down while counting 11. Against Davidson last week, State (Please turn to page six)

Sigma Nu Dance

The Sigma Nu fraternity of North Carolina State College entertained their pledges at an informal dance given at their home on Clark avenue, Saturday, October 24.

The lower rooms of the fraternity house were given entirely over to dancing during the evening. Light refreshments of punch and small cakes were served to the guests during the dance. Following the dance the fraternity members were honored at a buffet supper at the home of Allen Rogers.

Girls attending the affair were: Miss Helen Britt, Miss Kildie Tucker, Miss Louise Kennedy, Miss Eleanor Kennedy, Miss Minnie Rogers, Miss Lois McNeal, Miss Julia Lunny, Miss Sheldon Shaw, Miss Arabella Cox, Miss Mary Helen Stuart, Miss Elizabeth Park, Miss Yannah Lee Hunsucker, Miss Ulla Beth Warner, Miss Letitia Mason, Miss Caroline Tucker, Miss Mary Crow, Miss Jane Jolly, Miss Anderson York, Miss Mabel York, Miss Theodora Cameron, Miss Evelyn Blackley, Miss Emily Storr, Miss Edythe Holloway, Miss Elsie Rose, Miss Julia Drake, Miss Sadie Root, Miss Haley Covington, Miss Pat Moore, Miss Mary Frances Stronach, Miss Sally Pat Kaffer.

Chaperones were: Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Rogers of Raleigh.

Kappa Phi Kappa

Kappa Phi Kappa, national education fraternity, entertained its members and friends at a smoker Wednesday evening from seven until eight-thirty o'clock in Polk Hall.

Six tables of bridge were in play until eight o'clock at which time the members were served sandwiches and cold drinks. Eddie Poole, vice president of the local chapter, rendered several selections on the banjo. Visitors from the high school teaching school were introduced by Jimmy Gerow and the visitors from the school of Agriculture and Education were introduced by W. C. Boyce.

Those present during the evening were: C. G. Mumford, faculty adviser, A. S. Crosby, Prof. C. V. Brantley, M. L. Barnes, E. R. Poole, J. A. Gerow, W. T. Jordan, H. B. James, C. E. Murray, W. C. Boyce, A. E. Bennett, H. B. Crumpler, R. J. Lyday, J. G. Pollock, Wesley Wallace, C. V. Morgan, M. C. Freeman, C. H. Drye, R. M. Holder, R. R. Smithwick, H. C. Colvard, A. D. Williamson, E. G. Odom. Faculty advisers who were unable to attend were Prof. E. W. Boshart and Dean T. E. Browne.

Delta Sigma Pi

The Beta Delta chapter of the Delta Sigma Pi National Honorary Accounting Fraternity held a smoker Wednesday night in the Y. M. C. A., for the purpose of interesting prospective pledges in the fraternity. Prof. E. E. Goehring was the principal speaker of the evening, reading a satire by Bruce Barton on ending the depression. C. E. Brake, president of the chapter, told of the history, ideals and purpose of the fraternity, and welcomed the prospective members.

The chapter announces an open meeting Wednesday, November 4, in Peel Hall, at seven p.m. There will be a lecture by a prominent speaker and an open discussion. All students in the School of Science and Business are cordially invited to attend.

The following students were the guests of the occasion: H. M. Dickens, Charlie Cannon, Jimmie Webb, W. J. Edwards, Mack Fortune, W. G. Link, C. H. Palm, E. T. Bayless, G. W. Finch, W. F. Scarborough, M. H. Hutchinson, Charlie Parks, W. E. Lynch, Henry Russ, Rawls Guthrie, C. D. Franks, J. P. Abernathy.

The following members were present: C. E. Brake, A. J. Wilson, W. L. Schoffner, D. A. Rose, R. C. Bagby, Jack Bagby, R. A. Thomas, R. I. Van Hook, W. C. Keel, W. C. Massey, M. L. Shipman, R. R. Moore, Lewis Warren, D. F. Cade, C. V. Lane, Dr. R. O. Moen, and Prof. E. E. Goehring.

President Entertains

Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Brooks will entertain a number of friends with a buffet luncheon at their home on Hillsboro Street, Saturday, October 31.

After the luncheon, those present are to be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Brooks at the Carolina-State football game.

Those invited include: Governor O. Max Gardner and Mrs. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Josephus Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Gold, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Bland, President Frank Graham and Miss Graham, Lt. Col. Bruce Magruder, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Poe, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Lyster, Judge W. J. Adams and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Griffin and Miss Margaret Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lineberger, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Mann.

Junior League Dance

The Junior League of Raleigh will sponsor a dance Saturday, October 31 at the Sir Walter Hotel. The dance will be held in honor of the Carolina State football game. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the State Collegians.

Like Women

College men prefer college women as life companions, according to the nation-wide poll of the College Stories Magazine. The poll revealed that men preferred college girls because they have "it," intelligence, and a knowledge of the higher values of life.

There were some, however, that thought that college did a girl more harm than good. A statistician in Kansas revealed that figures show that the Kansas divorce rate is one to every five among non-college graduates, and only one to every hundred among college graduates. College people have ninety-nine more chances of being right.

Big Sale of Bread

The depression doesn't seem to have affected the bakery industry much. According to census figures, the total sale of bread in 1930 brought in over $1,500,000 in revenue.

CAROLINA FROSH FIGHT WOLFLETS THIS AFTERNOON

rolled up 18 first downs. Coach Bob Warren of State has developed a passing combination of Robert McAdams to Glenn Goodwin that is especially dangerous to opponents. Roy Rex was added to this team in the Kitten game, taking one of McAdams' passes for some 40 yards and a touchdown. Rex is the fullback. State's line is big and strong. The weakest spot seems to be the ends, but a capable flankman was discovered in last week's game in Carroll who will be alternated with Redding. Kenneth Stephens and Allen Bailey. The tackles are Farrar and Daucherty; guards, Fabri and Bardhardt and the center Hamrick.

Along with the three backs already mentioned, there are Peterson, Roscoe Roy, Boyer, Komlos and Dunaway as dangerous runners. Other line stars may be found in the issues brothers, Fabessa, Benko, Sabel, Thompson, Worth, Troshkin and Telchman. The freshman team, after having defeated the strong Davidson machine, Monday began pointing for its game this afternoon with Carolina's first-year men.

These Boys in Particular

Roscoe Roy, State's diminutive quarterback, is already being hailed as the Homer Key of North Carolina. Press men commenting on his play last Friday said that he ran a lot like the famous Johnny Branch of Carolina, but that he was more of a daredevil type of player. Roy has starred in all State's freshman games this fall. Another Tackle back that Carolina must watch is Roy Rex, 215 pound fullback, who is the fastest man on the squad. Rex runs the hundred yards in 10 seconds and has complete control of his speed and weight in a football uniform. He has wrecked yearling lines this fall in a more convincing manner than did Mope Cumskey in his freshman days. Peterson, a big 200 pounder, is another good bet.

ARMY GRID STAR KILLED IN PLAY

valuable life was felt universally, as Yale and Harvard football officials and players hastened to express sympathy and the Notre Dame football squad requested that a special mass be said in the university chapel.

Outstanding Student

Sheridan, whose 149 pounds made him the lightest man on the army squad, was a varsity end from the start of the present season and his work had been outstanding in the Cadets' early games. Last season, the first of which he was eligible for the varsity, he worked his way from the scrubs to a starting post in several games. After his graduation from Augusta (Ga.) junior college where he was president of his class, treasurer of the student council, lieutenant colonel in the college cadet corps and member of the varsity football and basketball teams, Sheridan joined the regular army and was assigned for duty to Fort Benning, Ga. Later he went to Fort McPherson, Ga., receiving his West Point appointment in 1929. One of the most popular students at the "Point" he was president of his class, the second year men.

Tough Nut

Women assistants sought assistance in the Registrar's office Tuesday.

A squirrel invaded the sanctum of six women's office on the third floor of Holliday Hall and screams of pity and fear echoed throughout the building. The military department was called; the animal secretary was called; the editor of the paper was called for aid.

Thirty minutes of labor and the moving of most of the furniture in the office brought results. The squirrel was dislodged from a radiator crevice as the women sought desk tops for "safety." Down three flights of stairs Mr. Squirrel was chased. Heading for H. H. Hutchinson of the Treasurer's office. Reaching the door, he hesitated, then traveled on. "He won't get Hutchinson," a student said, "He's too tough a nut."

Wants Knowledge

The story of an Alaskan youth who travelled seventeen hundred miles from Sitka in a sixteen foot dory in order to attend school at the University of Oregon, rather puts to shame the tales of our grandfathers who boasted of traveling twenty miles for an education in the good old days.

with Arthur Wilson who occupied Stroupe's tackle while injured. From all possible angles, the game Saturday should be the best in the State. The game will be the only big affair in the East.

Carolina, in the last 11 games with State, has won seven and tied one. The scores since 1920 are:

- 1920—State 13, Carolina 3.
1921—State 7, Carolina 0.
1922—State 9, Carolina 14.
1923—State 0, Carolina 14.
1924—State 0, Carolina 10.
1925—State 0, Carolina 17.
1926—State 0, Carolina 12.
1927—State 19, Carolina 6.
1928—State 6, Carolina 6.
1929—State 0, Carolina 32.
1930—State 6, Carolina 13.

The Wolfpack went through strenuous scrimmage drills all week as Coach Clipper Smith groomed his machine for the game tomorrow.

The Pack's first string was the same as used in the Catholic U. game last week. Francis Schell and Bob Gresson, ends; Capt. Charles Cobb and Milo Stroupe, tackles; Willie Duke and Romeo LeFort, guards; Red Espey, center; Charles Jeffrey, quarter; Bob Cook and Bo Bohannon, halves and Phil Kinking, full.

During the scrimmages Smith used practically every man on the squad. Dink Dellinger, senior back who has been the mainstay of the Tech backfield this fall, was used frequently for the first time since the Clemson game in which he received an injured hip. Dellinger has played in State's two games since the tilt with Clemson, but had to take things easy. He is expected to be ready for the Tar Heels.

Another Good Back

Hank McLawhorn, senior back who has seen very little action this fall, but who is believed to be one of the best backs in the State camp, ran wild over a freshman team Monday afternoon. Should McLawhorn continue to improve, he will no doubt see lots of action against the Heels. Hank weighs 160 pounds and is the fastest man on the squad.

Saturday's game will put two of the best tackles in the State together in Capt. Charlie Cobb of State and June Underwood of Carolina. Cobb was all-State material last fall and seems destined for the honor again this year. Underwood has played brilliant ball for Coach Chuck Collins and will be hard to leave off the 1931 all-State selection.

Another fight of positions that will be interesting will be staged by Red Espey and Red Gilbreath, rival centers. Espey is State's pivot man.

Facts.. FACE-UP
Let's talk Straight from the Shoulder
WHAT you want in a cigarette is taste, you want mildness... smoothness... and satisfying pleasure when you smoke.
All right then... get this straight.
CHESTERFIELD pays top prices... yes, and a premium for the ripest, mellowest, sweetest-tasting leaf that grows.
The curing and conditioning is done by specialists... men carefully trained in handling these fine tobaccos.
IN BLENDING, also, Chesterfields are different... Instead of merely mixing the tobaccos together... we cross-breed them. It's like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco. That's how we get that Chesterfield flavor. Milder... and a more pleasing aroma.
Cigarette paper? Only the purest that's made is good enough for Chesterfield.
PICK UP a package. Note its clean appearance... free from heavy inks. It's moisture-proof, too.
And three big factories at Richmond, Durham and San Francisco—operating under the strictest sanitary standards—rush them fresh to you.
Good... they've got to be good. Because they're made that way. And most important of all... you can taste this goodness in the cigarette. You can tell it in the smoke.
Light up, Mister! Try Chesterfield.
Let the cigarette do its own talking.
You'll get the whole thrilling story, in just two words... "They Satisfy"!
"Yes Sir—Mild yet they Satisfy"
