HOUSE ABOLISHES HONOR COMMITTEE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Amendment and Changing of Elections Must Pass Trustees and Student Body

TENTATIVE PRIMARY DATE NOW SET FOR APRIL 10

Constitutionality of Point System Questioned; Point Ratings Undergo Minor Changes; Members Vote Not to Take Course in Parliamentary Procedure; Fresh Creed Not to be Signed at Registration; Brooks Society Abolished

The constitutional amendment establishing an honor committee was abolished Wednesday night in the House of Student Government meeting and approval was given to changing student body election dates to hold them one week later. The Board of Trustees and the student body must ratify these changes for them to become law.

The tentative date for the primary elections is now April 10 and the date for the finals April 18. The constitution specifies that the primary shall be held not later than the fourth week in March, but the unconstitutionality of this is necessary because of this year's change in holiday dates. The student body will vote on the amendment at the elections, thus presenting something unusual—voting to change a constitutional amendment on an unconstitutional date.

Article Nine relating to the Honor Committee reads, "Section 1: An Honor Committee composed of three students and two members of the faculty, to serve one year, shall be elected by the House of Student Government. Section 2: All cases of infractions of honor may be first reported to the Honor Committee for consideration. Should the committee consider it advisable, it may refer such cases to the Student Council for further consideration." Opposition to the amendment was on the grounds that it was an unnecessary duplication because a recommendation for trial was indication of guilt before the trial was held.

Heated discussion was held on the Point System, one member bringing up that it was illegal because the student body did not vote on it last year. However, consideration by officers revealed that the Point System was a by-law and needed only the vote of the House to pass. A canvass of campus opinion was made last year before the Point System rules were passed.

An article which provided that a member of the Council or the House of Student Government should be subjected to a course of study in parliamentary proceedings was stricken from the books, and at the suggestion of Mark Wilson, president of the Student Body, presiding officers of the Student Council and members of the House shall be governed by "Robert's Rules of Parliamentary Order."

Of 48 members of the House, a quorum, 30 members, attended the meeting, Robin Williams, vice president, presided.

Mark Wilson told members of the House that about twelve years ago the requirement that presiding officers take courses in parliamentary procedure was observed, but that lately this had not been found necessary.

Themes written by Freshmen were discussed. It was found that the sentiments of the Freshman class were that a student upon entering did not have enough knowledge of State College student government to commit himself to the creed which each Freshman is asked to sign when he registers. It was found that many Freshmen consider themselves hypocrites when they sign the pledge, for in their hurry to finish registering they have no time to read and fully understand the purport of the creed.

A suggestion was made that instruction be given Freshmen during chapel periods during Freshman week concerning the constitution and by-laws. Each student would be given the creed to sign afterwards.

The number of points allotted to several offices which come under the point system which was adopted last year were changed at the meeting. The points for following offices were lowered: Editor of Agriculturist, from 10 to 8 points; Delta Sigma Pi president, 6 to 4 points; Phi Psi president lowered from 6 to 4 points; Theta Tau president, 6 to 4 points; president Kap (Please turn to page two)

BUDGET QUESTION TO BE REPORTED ON MONDAY NIGHT

Sub-committee Advocates Abolishment of Free Tuition and Raising of Fees

TRUSTEES COMMITTEE ASKS INCREASE IN BUDGET

Scheduled Action Not Taken Thursday; 4,000 Receiving Free Tuition of Which 414 Are at State; Tuition Rise Would be to $100.00 For State Students and to $200.00 For Out-of-State Students; Poe Makes Plea for More Funds

Harris Newman, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said Thursday morning that the appropriations bill will be reported to the House Monday night unless new bills interfere with work of the committee.

The appropriations committee met Thursday afternoon to discuss various appropriations, and adjourned without touching on the subject of allowances for the Greater University of North Carolina.

A sub-committee report embodying suggestions for economies in the state's educational appropriations was filed with the Joint Senate and House Appropriations Committee Tuesday afternoon.

According to the report 297 students are at present receiving free tuition at the University of North Carolina; 414 at North Carolina State College; and 1,093 at North Carolina College for Women, who are under an agreement to teach.

The sub-committee's report advocated the abolishment of the system by which approximately 4,000 students are receiving free tuition in state supported institutions of higher learning and recommended an increase in tuition fees paid by other students. Recommendations of the sub-committee were for increases in tuition fees at the University of North Carolina from $75 to $125 per session for residents of the state, and from $175 to $250 for non-residents; from $80 to $100, and $125 to $200 at State College; and from $45 to $100 and $100 to $200 at North Carolina College for Women.

Wednesday afternoon a special trustees' committee appointed by Gov. J. C. B. Ehringhaus to investigate and report upon plans for consolidating the three leading state supported institutions of higher learning into the Greater University of North Carolina, asked the joint appropriations committee of the Legislature to increase Budget Bureau allotments of $760,240 by approximately $390,000 for operation of the three schools during the next two years.

The pleas were made on the basis that larger appropriations are necessary if the institutions are to be operated efficiently. Of the increase, the University of North Carolina would receive $206,000, State College $50,000, and North Carolina College for Women $125,000.

Dr. Clarence Poe spoke in behalf of State College. He said that during the last four years appropriations to the college had been decreased 35 per cent. He stated that regardless of any outside suggestions for economies, expenses had been lowered wherever possible. Doctor Poe talked from a stand point of the agricultural benefits offered to improvements in farming by the college.

Dr. Frank Graham, president of the Greater University, and Doctor Brooks were present at the meeting, but neither addressed the committee.

STUDENT COUNCIL FINDS FOUR STUDENTS GUILTY

Four students were found in courses and placed on probation by the Student Council.

Three freshmen were tried Friday, February 17 and found guilty. An appeal by one of the freshmen was heard Monday, February 20 and the sentence of the Council was upheld.

Tuesday night sophomores were tried on the same charge. He pleaded guilty and was given the same sentence.

LUNCHEON GIVEN CABINET BY Y. M. C. A. WEDNESDAY

A luncheon was held in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday at noon for the members of the Junior-Senior Cabinet, and the officers of the Freshman and Sophomore Councils.

The purpose of the meeting was to aid in formulating a program for Jack Hart's stay on the campus.

To Visit Campus

JACK HART Pennsylvania University chaplain, who will be at State from March 15 under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. to speak and hold conferences with student groups.

"Y" ANNOUNCES HART'S SCHEDULE

Jack Hart, chaplain at the University of Pennsylvania, will visit the campus under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., March 1 to 5.

The proposed schedule begins when, on Wednesday, March 1, he will meet with the Interfraternity Council and other fraternity men at noon. At 1 p.m. he will attend a luncheon of campus leaders. At 7 p.m. he will speak to the State College athletes and at 8 p.m. he will attend a faculty smoker.

Thursday morning, March 2, he will attend the classes to which he is invited. At 6:30 p.m. he will speak at an open meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinets and at 7:30 p.m. he will make a public address in Pullen Hall.

Friday morning, March 3, he will again attend any classes to which he is invited and at noon will address the freshmen assembly. The tentative subject for this noon address will probably be "Education—Present and Past." At 1 p.m. he will address the Kiwanis Club, and at 4 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. parlor he will address the women students, women employees, and wives of the faculty, after which tea will be served. At 6:45 he will talk at St. Augustine and at 8 o'clock he will make an address at St. Mary's.

On Saturday morning, March 4, he will again attend classes and Saturday night members of the "Y" organizations and friends will stage a "Retreat" at Powell's Cabin.

Sunday morning, March 5, he will preach at the Christ Church at 11 o'clock and Sunday night he will preach at 8 o'clock at the United Church. The St. Augustine choir will sing at the services.

Hart is recommended by many educational leaders as a fluent and impressive speaker.

He has received his degrees from the University of Pennsylvania.

Frosh Class Misspells "Too"

More Than Any Other Word

By J. W. LAMBERSON "Too" is the most commonly misspelled word in the English themes handed in by the freshmen during the fall term.

The tabulations of the errors occurring in the themes were made by twenty students in Education 340, a course pertaining to the methods of teaching English, under the direction of Prof. J. D. Clark, chairman of the English Department.

The results of these tabulations will be available to secondary schools for their use in teaching English, and will indicate the weak points of the average student in college, aiding them to correct the errors earlier.

In determining the number of misspelled words, 1,936 English themes were considered.

The twenty-five most misspelled, with number of occurrences, were: too, 45 times; there, 31 times; until, 29 times; grammar, 27 times; to-

CHIH MENG SAYS SINO-JAP PROBLEM IS WORLD AFFAIR

RELATIONS CLUB AND "Y" SPONSOR APPEARANCE

Associate Director of China Institute Says Manchuria Has Larger Percentage of Native-born Than New England; Imperialism is Cause of Trouble; China Has Weak Army and Navy; Claims Japan Has Violated Peace Pacts Since War

Chih Meng, of Peking, China, spoke to a large audience Wednesday night, February 22, in Pullen Hall, on the subject of "The Manchurian Situation."

Meng, associate director of the China Institute in America, came to State College under the auspices of the State College Y. M. C. A. and the International Relations Club.

Meng stated that "inasmuch as the United States and the League of Nations have both intervened in the occupation of Manchuria by Japan, it may be considered a world-wide problem and not confined to Asia."

Dr. Meng pointed out that "Manchuria is rich in natural resources, and has a larger percentage of natural born Chinese than our New England States has full-blooded Americans."

China's difficulties today are the results of an expansion program that was decided upon forty years ago in Tokyo and Moscow. Japan in each of her successive acquisitions of Chinese territory gave as her excuse that it was a matter of "self defence," and conditions are similar to those experienced by the American government in its fight for freedom.

Japan has adopted the Prussian system of militarism while China possesses a very weak army and navy.

Dr. Meng said "that in case of a long struggle between China and Japan, Russia would intervene for her own good when they were weakened."

"Japan has signed all three of the great peace pacts since the World War, but has violated them all, and there can be no hope of world peace as long as she continues to ruthlessly overrun China," stated Meng.

Meng has lectured extensively in the United States and Europe. On Wednesday afternoon, the wives of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. gave a tea in honor of Mrs. Meng, who accompanied her husband.

NINE MEMBERS INITIATED INTO RELATIONS CLUB

Six new men were taken into the International Relations Club as permanent members, and three as temporary members February 16.

The permanent members taken in were: T. A. Betts, William New, H. D. Carpenter, Sam Leager, Van Shuping, and J. W. Lamberson. Those made temporary members were E. E. Parker, W. G. Butler, and H. P. Cotton.

The club selected the countries they wish to represent in the League of Nations program, a new basis of discussion on international affairs.

The next meeting will be held March 6.

SOUTHERN MEET TO BEGIN TODAY IN AUDITORIUM

Conference Play to Start at 3 P.M. With Carolina Meeting V. P. I. in Opener

STATE AND W. & L. MEET AT 4:30 IN SECOND GAME

Duke, State, Carolina and South Carolina Seeded in Eight-team Series; Maryland Rated Best of Outside Teams; Large Crowds Expected; Tourney Will be First Since Division of Conference; Finals Come Monday Night

The first round of the Twelfth Annual Southern Conference Basketball Tournament will get under way in Memorial Auditorium this afternoon at 3 o'clock with two games and then followed by two more at 8 p.m. Semifinals, with two games, will be staged Saturday night at 8 o'clock, and the finals will come off the following Monday night.

Eight teams participating in the tourney, announced by Dr. Sermon, basketball committee chairman, are South Carolina, North Carolina State, Duke, Carolina, Virginia, Washington and Lee, Maryland, and Virginia Polytechnic Institute. Clemson and Virginia Military Institute are members of the Southern Conference but their season records did not allow them to enter this tournament.

Officials are Paul Menton, Baltimore; "Gummy" Proctor, Richmond; and J. Gerard, Duke. Official scorers are A. J. McKelvin and I. M. Cheek.

The pairings for the first round are: 3 p.m., Carolina and V. P. I. 4:30 p.m., State and W. & L. 8 p.m., Duke and Virginia. 9:30 p.m., South Carolina and Maryland.

The second round Saturday will bring the winners of the Carolina-V. P. I. and Maryland-South Carolina together at 8 p.m.; while the winners of the State-W. & L. and Duke-Virginia games come together at 9:30 p.m.

South Carolina is one of the seeded teams, and flashed considerable power in their Conference victories. They are undefeated in the loop race.

The three North Carolina teams, State, Duke, and Carolina, are also seeded teams in this tourney. Last year Carolina lost to Georgia in the final.

Duke, considered one of the strongest teams this winter, was given a surprise setback last week by State, 40-23. Duke won the state championship by defeating the powerful Tar Heels.

State College's Red Terrorists were back in the spotlight as a result of their victory over the Blue Devils and their close loss to Carolina last Monday night. Doc Sermon's team is "on" and "off." Their real power is still a question. They showed some powerful offense and air-tight defense against Virginia teams a few weeks ago.

The Old Liners of Maryland started the season in championship form, but slipped a few weeks later and last week started a courageous drive upward that has again stamped it as a possible tournament winner.

The University of Virginia cagers are being talked of as possible dark horses of the tourney. The Virginians have shown much improvement lately and many figure Coach Tebell will have a team to be feared in this tournament.

One of the big features of this tournament will be the battle for the All-Southern positions. State's chances to place on this mythical team rests on the outcome of this tourney. If Clark continues his fine work he will surely make one of the selections. Ralph Johnson and George Beagham have a fair chance along with Allen Nelms and Bob McQuage.

Those who were initiated were: W. C. Aiken, I. S. Bagwell, W. A. Bain, J. R. Boykin, C. W. Comfort, J. D. Dyer, J. T. Patrick, W. H. Pierce, R. W. Settz, T. S. Teague, L. B. Webb, W. H. Wesson, T. L. Hurst, M. A. Wright, A. L. Johnson, H. S. Keck, J. T. Nicholson, H. S. Keck, C. W. Surratt, Jr.

The initiation will be held March 10. A banquet will be given to all members of the fraternity following the initiation.

Food for Learning

A number of students at N. C. State College sell enough farm produce to the college dininghall each year to pay a large part of their expenses, according to L. H. Harris, steward at the college.

Harris prefers to trade with students who have produce to sell and always gives them first refusal in contracting for college foodstuffs. Last year, he says, a student supplied the college with all the meat it used and this year he expects to buy virtually all the sweet potatoes, meal, chickens and eggs from boys now enrolled at the college.

CORPS TO PARADE FOR LT. REYNOLDS

Naval Officer to be Honored at First Regimental Review Of Year Monday

The first regimental review of the R. O. T. C. Corps this year will be held Monday at noon in honor of Lieutenant John L. Reynolds, U. S. Navy.

The occasion is the presentation of the Yangtze Service Medal, which was recently awarded Lieutenant Reynolds, by the Secretary of the Navy, for service under fire in China, and which will be presented in behalf of the Navy Department by the Honorable Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy.

Lieutenant Reynolds is to be awarded the decoration in connection with his services in China from March 1, 1930, to April 22, 1931, when as executive officer and second in command of the U. S. S. Oahu which was on patrol duty on the Yangtze River protecting foreign ships of commerce, he was on three occasions under fire and was temporarily in command on the last occasion.

The announcement of the award came at the same time as the notice that Lieutenant Reynolds will be transferred from Raleigh, where he has been on duty for the past two years as district recruiting officer for the Navy to Norfolk, Va.

While on duty in Raleigh, Lieutenant Reynolds has evidenced his interest in the R. O. T. C. regiment and has assisted annually in the examinations of the freshmen and also as judge in drill competitions.

The regimental combined band and drum and bugle corps, consisting of more than 100 instruments, will participate in the review.

SCABBARD AND BLADE WILL INITIATE SUNDAY

Twenty-one Cadet Officers to Become Members of Military Organization

In a formal ceremony terminating at dawn Sunday morning, twenty-one cadet sergeants in the State College R. O. T. C. unit will be initiated into Company "Q," Third Regiment of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, according to W. C. Keel, cadet captain and president of the local chapter.

Scabbard and Blade has been holding its informal initiation all this week, according to Keel, and will complete all ceremonies at Tom Powell's cabin, several miles from Raleigh, during the early hours of Sunday morning, with the Regular Army officers of the post, senior cadet members, and alumni members attending.

The initiates are: Cadet Sergeants J. M. Poyner, T. F. Kelly, J. G. Riddick, J. E. Buchannon, G. C. Newcomb, C. R. Harrell, W. W. Hewlett, H. S. Plonk, H. S. Hunt, M. P. Theim, J. S. Suggs, W. L. Curry, P. W. McCullum, W. D. Ford, H. F. Cameron, S. A. Troy, J. A. Hodnett, R. S. Poole, W. L. Hadlow, W. H. Scaf.

FROSH CONTEST TO END AT WEDNESDAY MEETING

The contest that has been going on in the Freshman Friendship Council to secure additional members will come to a close Wednesday night at the next meeting.

A WORTHY VENTURE

Several faculty members have been considering the possibility of establishing at State College a quarterly or monthly magazine similar to magazines or reviews at other colleges. The suggestion has gained approval by many who feel that a dignified, comprehensive and interesting magazine of this nature is a rather necessary complement to a mature college, and that it would stimulate creative and instructive work on a number of topics. There is an abundance of opportunity for contributions; State College does not lack knowledge and talent among its faculty members. The duty of the college to emanate learning is not completely filled at present. Instruction in the classroom is necessarily limited to the matter at hand and the number of professors writing for newspapers and magazines, while gratifying, is also necessarily small. Many would appreciate an outlet for their efforts.

The proposed magazine would be interesting, above all. Research findings, the opinions and observations of interesting and intelligent men, a small section devoted to undergraduate and college activities would round out a magazine that will have universal appeal.

The only approach to such a publication now is the Alumni News. Unless you are a follower of State athletic teams or an alumnus, there is nothing in the publication for you. Its general interest is zero. The proposed publication would go to other colleges, to libraries and to subscribers generally interested in the kind of thought the college is able to produce. If the magazine was successful, the public interest would add prestige both to the contributors and to the college.

The cost, of course, is the principal consideration. Printing costs have been reduced greatly, and the magazine could be published locally with no great outlay. If faculty members, as editors and business managers, could build up a subscription list and make arrangements with a national advertising agency to secure the type of advertising such a publication attracts, probably the publication could become self-supporting.

Surely State College has friends and alumni who would be willing to back the inception of such a venture, and the college, even with limited funds, might find that some investment could well be made. The whole college community should be interested enough in the possibilities to lend support to any efforts to launch the publication.

Such a magazine would be undoubtedly worth while, and those progressive faculty members who are considering the idea are to be commended for their zeal.

TOURNAMENT DAYS

Today the Southern Conference tournament starts; State College welcomes the rival teams, and offers to officials any aid that it can provide to make the tournament a success. Interest runs high; the new geographically smaller Southern Conference has produced more keen competition and undoubtedly the event will be of great interest to sport fans.

Next week, too, there will be an important tournament—the annual high school competition sponsored by the college, in Frank Thompson Gymnasium. Several hundred youths will visit the campus with high hopes for a championship. The student body can assure a successful tournament by attending the games and helping to quarter these boys during their stay. A reputation as a good host means much to the college.

DIMINISHING RETURNS

Proposals to increase tuition will find little favor with students, and Dr. Brooks told the joint appropriations committee recently that the point of diminishing returns had been reached with the previous raises.

With a plant set-up designed to handle about 2,000 students with little more cost than for 1,500, it seems that it would be wise to refrain from discouraging an increase in the student body by raising fees.

The extra cost will be the margin which will prevent many from returning, especially in a time of unprecedented financial distress when a large number are just able to stay in school.

AMUSEMENT PROGRAM

Something very welcome to the entire college community would be a lecture and entertainment program sponsored by the college.

It is useless to elaborate upon the benefits of such entertainment; everyone will agree that a varied series of musicians and entertainers would be enjoyable. Many colleges have such events and they are an integral part of the collegiate calendar.

The whole program, as in the case of most plans, lies in the cost. The reduced depression scale of prices of such entertainments is a help, but there would still be considerable outlay for such a program if it was at all worth while. Possibly some organization of student leaders could furnish the solution, sponsoring the series partly with college assistance or an admission charge. It is not intended that the college enter the amusement business, but there would be no attempt to do anything other than cover the costs.

The usual rejoinder when this is mentioned is, "State College students would not be interested enough to come." This criticism is based on the fact that students do not turn out in large numbers to hear speakers. No wonder they do not, because the speakers obtainable at no cost are not particularly interesting. Anyway, there are too many speakers. The proposed program would feature music and good entertainment more than speakers. Students attend moving pictures unceasingly, and there is no reason to believe they would not be interested in a good program.

It is, in a sense, the duty of the college to somehow provide such amusement as a necessary element of the round of college activities. The Y. M. C. A. does more than any other organization to fill the need, but their programs are limited by the particular type of program which their purposes and ideals permit. The response to a general college program would be much greater.

This subject deserves the attention of both student leaders and college administrators as a very tangible improvement which could be more easily accomplished than many of the other things which are suggested by those interested in changing the old order for the better.

MANY PAY FOR ACTIONS OF THE FEW

The Student Council, after footing a bill of $62.50 for repair of dormitory telephones, is attempting to prevent future losses by posting besides each instrument a sign warning that it will be removed if further damage is done. Already it has been found necessary to remove two telephones after repeated damages.

These placards may help—the vast majority of dormitory residents who appreciate and respect the convenience hope that they will. It is truly unfortunate that the unsocial few can deprive the dormitories of telephone service. Student leaders worked for the opportunity to try the experiment, and their efforts are to go for naught unless the damage stops. The Council cannot continue standing the costs of willful disrespect for property.

It seems that the student body will be forced to devise a campus Supreme Court if the House of Student Government argues about constitutionalities as much as they did Wednesday night.

College Opinions

INTRA-MURAL ATHLETICS

The development of intra-mural athletics at the University during the past two years has been little short of phenomenal statistics show. Prior to 1931, when Wilmer Poyner, its present director, took over the department, the only intra-mural sports engaged in were Pan-Hellenic basketball and baseball. During the second semester of that year, however, 873 individuals took part in five different sports.

Last year the total number of students taking part in the athletic program jumped to 1783 and over 2,000 are expected to participate during the present year. The total number of entries for last year was 4,896. Thus the average number of sports for those participating was over three.

The figures cited above include male students only. Practically every woman student takes part in the program of the Women's Athletic Association. Neither do the figures include those who went out for the various teams but did not get to play.

Thus during the short span of two years the percentage of the student body engaged in some form of athletics has jumped to about 70 per cent. Were it not for intra-mural sports, only about 4 per cent of the entire student body would be given the privilege of engaging in some form of athletics. Not only would the student lose the benefits of actually participating, but the money spent would be divided among a comparatively small group.

The rise in interest has not been confined to the mere increase in the number of students taking part. Over 500 spectators were counted in attendance during one afternoon. Each fraternity, dormitory, and boarding house has a team entered in practically every tournament and the competition is invariably keen.

Not content with the eleven sports offered last year, the intra-mural department has added soccer, a free throw contest, and a cake race to its program for the coming semester. This will mean a decided increase in the total of 787 events and games held last year. Other games now staged are football, baseball, basketball, volleyball, handball, swimming, golf, tennis, and track.—Alabama Crimson-White.

IN DEFENSE OF FLAMING YOUTH

And still they come! With the opening of the second semester at the University, there has appeared a new group of students on Mt. Oread. They have come from every corner of the state with high dreams of success and hopes of getting something out of college that will make them better men and women.

Many of them have come with empty pockets. The first of the month will not bring a check from home. But the lack of financial support has not kept them from driving on to the goal they have set for themselves.

They will be found in the laboratories and the library long after the average student has gone to more pleasurable fields. This student with the empty pockets will be found in the kitchens of the restaurants, behind counters in stores, and every place where a few pennies can be earned.

The student will have to sacrifice for his mind and his ambition, but he will do it—just as fifty per cent of the rest of us are doing now. And we are called "Flaming Youth."—University Daily Kansan.

of the total errors were found in this group. In section B, 442 or 22.8 per cent of the total themes were found to contain 729 errors, or 26.9 per cent of the total number of errors.

In section C 821, or 42.4 per cent of the total themes were checked and found to contain 1,422 errors, or 52.4 per cent of the total number of errors made.

The types of errors was also considered and of the 1,936 themes examined there were found to contain 112 different types with a total number of errors of 10,822.

In the A section, 34.8 per cent of the themes were considered and found to contain 31.2 per cent of the errors. In the B section 22.8 per cent of the total theme were checked and found to contain 26.2 per cent of the total errors made, and in the C section 42.4 per cent of the themes netted 42.6 per cent of the total errors.

In all the cases the A section had the least number of errors, with the B section next and the C section contained the greatest number.

A few type of errors in order of their frequency were: Unnecessary capitalization, main titles which were not italicized, commas not before pure conjunctions, redundancy, omission of words, no apostrophe with possessive, miscellaneous misuse of the comma, necessary capitalization not used and the failure to use a period at the end of the sentence.

But no college man ever pulls boners with a good pipe between his teeth. There's something about a pipe and tobacco that soothes a man, helps him think straight. The Seventh Annual Southern Conference Boxing Tournament will be held in Charlottesville, Va., on February 24 and 25 with about sixty pugilists competing.

In the preliminary rounds Friday afternoon and night the field will be cut to half and the semi-final bouts Saturday afternoon will eliminate all but the 16 men who will contest for individual honors in the final matches on Saturday night.

The entries by weights from the North Carolina schools are as follows: 115—Billisoy, State; Riddick, Duke; and Glover, Carolina.

135—Saults, State; Scott, Duke; and Quarles, Carolina.

175—Hull, State; Winslow, Duke; and Brown, Carolina.

Unlimited—Stephens, State; and Landis, Carolina.

Turner Billisoy and Jack Fabri are two more dependable fighters. Fabri has been in the infantry for the past week, but is expected to be ready for the tournament.

The Techs won from the Georgia fighters 6 1/2-1 1/4 as they lost only one bout.

Captain Garner will defend his title in Virginia, but the rest of the boxers will have nothing to lose and all to gain in seeking a championship.

Bill Dunaway emerged with a clean record for the season. He did not score a knockout in his last fight of the season but gave the Georgian a severe beating in the three rounds.

Ken Stephens made the best showing against the Bull Dogs when he knocked Bennett through the ropes twice for a technical knockout in the first round.

FROSH BEAT CAROLINA TO TAKE CHAMPIONSHIP

Techlets Average 42 Points in Thirteen Game Schedule; Ten Receive Numerals

The freshman basketball team ended their season with the state championship as a result of their easy victory over Carolina last Monday night. They have five wins and two losses in conference competition.

The complete record for the season includes two victories over E. C. T. C., one each over Jonesboro, Mt. Pleasant Institute, two over Carolina, two over Wilmington High, two over Wake Forest, one over Davidson. The only two losses came at the hands of the Duke yearlings.

Led by Flythe and Aycock, the team has averaged 42 points per game.

The faculty council has awarded freshman numerals to the following men: Aycock, Sherrill, Harris, Pratt, Flythe, Zori, Hockfield, Wombie, Guzas, and Williams.

A professor at New York University recently told his class they must read eighteen books on social control of business. He also told them to adopt a practical attitude toward labor problems. After a whispered conference of the students, one of them arose and said: "We believe your assignment is unfair. We are taking a practical attitude toward labor problems. We are ready to reach a compromise through collective bargaining. If you don't agree I'm afraid there will be a strike. We can, of course, employ sabotage."

Professor Edwards compromised at six books on social control of business.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED ... IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

Illusion: Josie, the lovely trapeze artist, stands upon a small platform. At the will of the magician she leaps twenty feet into the air to reach her trapeze. She uses no ropes, no ladder! A phenomenal leap for a woman... or a man!

Explanation: Josie didn't jump... she was sprung! The twenty-foot leap is not dependent on Josie's ability, but on a powerful spring mechanism hidden beneath the stage which propels the artist upward through the air. The force is so violent that the lady wears a light steel jacket which protects her from injury as she starts her astonishing leap.

Magic has its place... but not in cigarette advertising.

Consider the illusion that there is a mysterious way to give cigarettes a superior "flavor."

Explanation: Cigarette flavor can be controlled by adding artificial flavorings. By blending. And by the quality of tobaccos used.

Such magic, however, seldom holds the audience. Your taste finally tells you the truth.

The cigarette flavor that never stales, never varies, never loses its fresh appeal, comes from mild, ripe, fragrant, more expensive tobaccos... blended to bring out the full, round flavor of each type of leaf. It's the quality of the tobacco that counts!

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Because Camel actually pays millions more every year for choice tobaccos, you find in Camels an appealing mildness, a better flavor.

BARBER TELLS AG CLUB ABOUT LIFE INSURANCE

Speaker Says Idea of Life Insurance Originated in Time of Julius Caesar

Speaking at the Ag Club meeting Tuesday night J. Marshall Barber says that Life Insurance Companies date back to the time of Julius Caesar.

The first real Life Insurance Companies began in the latter part of the seventeenth century in Great Britain, but they amounted to very little. These companies were called Life Assurance Companies. The first scientific company began in 1760, but it wasn't satisfactory. About 1845 more prominent Life Insurance Companies were formed.

Insurance increased to two billion dollars up to 1870. Since then the natural trend has been fluctuating. From 1890 to 1915 insurance increased by leaps and bounds and now there are billions of dollars tied up in insurance.

In 1932 the insurance companies paid $4,244,245,000 to living policy holders. The distributions were as follows: Cash Loans $2,048,678,000, Mutual Endowments $230,948,000, Surrender Values $230,942,000, Dividends $212,582,000, and several others including sick claims, etc. $337,882,000. The total amount paid to beneficiaries was $1,924,666,000. The total amount that the companies paid out in 1932 was $6,169,009,000.

Barber then explained the different policies sold and the premiums paid on them.

C. D. Thomas was elected social chairman of the Ag Club for next year. Thomas resigned his office of vice president of the Ag Fair in order to take over the new office. J. L. Reitzel was elected vice social chairman. The social chairman will have charge of the "barnwarming."

Another vice president will be elected to succeed Thomas at the next meeting of the club.

Palace Theatre

For laughter and thrills, the mystery comedy, "Whistling in the Dark," which plays at the Palace Theatre Monday and Tuesday, can be recommended without reservation.

There is not a single dull spot, and with such comedy experts as Ernest Truex, leading comedian of the New York and London stage, and Una Merkel, who head the cast, the laughter crowds fast upon the dramatic action. "The Mouse Trap," Tom Howard Act, and Sound News complete the program.

Karloff, noted creator of sinister green roles, and today acknowledged as filmdom's supreme make-up artist, has achieved a new and startling masterpiece of the make-up art with the mummy countenance which he uses in his latest picture, "The Mummy," which plays at the Palace Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. "Lion and the Mouse," Mack Sennett comedy, and "Hollywood on Parade," an act, completes the program.

"Man Against Woman," the forceful drama of the eternal conflict of the sexes, brings Jack Holt to the screen of the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday as the star of an entertainment that skillfully combines action and suspense with an unusual romance. "Hook and Ladder," Our Gang Comedy, and Sound News complete the program.

State Theatre

The first Cecil B. DeMille spectacle drama since the advent of sound, "The Sign of the Cross," has been booked for a week's engagement beginning Monday, at the State Theatre.

He made the greatest spectacle of silent pictures, the memorable "Ten Commandments," and entered the Hollywood lists anew determined to surpass even that achievement.

A Sound News completes this program.

Capitol Theatre

The management of the Capitol Theatre takes great pleasure in announcing the engagement of the "Hollywood Revels" for Monday and Tuesday, February 27 and 28. The vaudeville features five big time acts, including Powers and Wallace in "Georgia on Broadway," one of vaudeville's most laughable comedy acts, direct from the R. K. O. circuit. The vaudeville will be presented three times daily at 3:30, 7 and 9 p.m., on Monday and Tuesday.

"Seabee" Hayworth, famous comedian and this season's star of James Adams' Showboat, the original one on which Edna Ferber wrote her famous novel, "Showboat," comes to the Capitol Theatre stage for a two day engagement, Friday and Saturday, February 24 and 25. Hayworth is an old-time favorite comedian in Raleigh.

A Mickey McGuire comedy and an installment of "The Last of the Mohicans" will also be shown.

There will be no advance in admissions and the performance will be given three times Friday, at 3:30, 7:15, and 9:15, and four shows Saturday, at 2:30, 4:30, 7:15, and 9:15. The feature picture for Friday and Saturday will be Bill Cody and Andy Shatford in "Mason of the Mounted."

"So Big" is coming to the Capitol Wednesday only. This announcement should be of interest to admirers of Barbara Stanwick, who stars in the picture, of Edna Ferber, who wrote the novel from which the film was adapted, and to lovers of good pictures in general. For "So Big" is regarded as one of the ace productions of the season, and newspaper critics in all the cities where it has been shown agree with them in this view.

To complete the program the Capitol offers "Betty Boop's Busy Bee" cartoon, and Screen Souvenirs.

Wake Theatre

Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor play the leading parts in "Tess of the Storm Country," which comes to the Wake Theatre Monday and Tuesday. A comedy and a news reel will complete the program.

"Rackety Rax," a comedy that tells how the gangsters establish a college to reap the profits from a football team, will be seen at the Wake Theatre Wednesday. Victor McLaglen will play the feature role. A comedy and cartoon will be added to the program.

"Air Mail" will be shown at the Wake Theatre Thursday and Friday. Ralph Bellamy, Gloria Stuart, Slim Summerville, and Pat O'Brien will play the leading parts.

A comedy and Sound News will be seen in addition to the feature picture.

A Mickey McGuire comedy and an installment of "The Last of the Mohicans" will also be shown.

SPICY leaves of TURKISH tobacco are strung to dry and cure in the sun.

Well, that's something about cigarettes I never knew before

I'd never thought much about what's inside a Chesterfield cigarette. But I have just been reading something that made me think about it. Just think of this, some of the tobacco in Chesterfield—the Turkish—comes from 4000 miles away! And before it is shipped every single leaf is packed by hand. All because Turkish tobacco is so small and delicate.

Of course I don't know much about making cigarettes, but I do know this—that Chesterfields are milder and have a very pleasing aroma and taste. They satisfy—and that's what counts with me!
