EIGHT COLLEGES TO PARTICIPATE IN TEXTILE SHOW

Eighty Girls Will Model Costumes Made in Domestic Science Classes

PRIZES TO BE AWARDED BY MERCHANTS AND FIRMS

Fabric Styles Shown in Preceding Years Furnish Manufacturers With Ideas; First Style Show Held to Show Attractiveness and Stylishness of Garments Made From Cotton Goods; Hundreds of Women Attracted Annually

Eighty college girls from eight North Carolina women's colleges will participate in the sixth annual State College Cotton Style Show which is to be held as part of the Cotton Ball, April 27. The costumes to be modeled are made by the girls in their domestic science classes.

A large list of valuable prizes donated by textile firms and Raleigh merchants will be awarded to those girls who present winning costumes.

The first of these annual spring style shows was held at State College in 1928 for the purpose of demonstrating to a silk minded population that women's wear made from cotton goods could be both attractive and stylish. Since that time the annual event has attracted an increasing amount of interest and attention. Pictures of winning costumes have appeared in leading papers and magazines throughout the country.

Every garment shown at the style show is made from cotton material designed and woven by students in the State College Textile School. Many of the fabric styles shown in previous years have furnished inspiration for commercial manufacturers in following seasons and the Style Show each year attracts hundreds of women who are interested in new cotton styles.

The colleges which will participate and their representatives are as follows: Catawba College—Mildred Arey, Salisbury; Lucille Bowers, Lexington; Mary Farabee, Raleigh; Elizabeth Fowler, Spencer; Gertrude Laubach, Riegelville, Pa.; Ruth Schaefer, Womelsdorf, Pa.; Mary Wellman, Salisbury and Kathryn Yoder, Codorus, Pa. Elon College—Della Budd, Siler City; Irene Corbett, Sunbury; Isabelle Dunn, Star; Hazel Farmer, Norwood; Virge Leary, Burlington; Erma Lloyd, Mebane.

New Agromeck Heads

JUNIORS APPOINT AGROMECK HEADS

Couch Elected Editor and Poole Made Business Manager at Meeting Tuesday

Albert H. Couch was elected editor and Rawlings S. Poole was made business manager of the 1933-34 Agromeck at a Junior class meeting held in Pullen Hall Tuesday at 1:30.

Couch became editor by virtue of having no opposition. Those running for the business managership besides Poole were: C. M. Hughes; Earl Calhoun, who ran independently. Poole received a majority vote of 71.

Joe Dixon, president of the Junior class, announced at the meeting that rings will be ready April 24 or 25.

AIR SQUADRON CAPTAIN DESCRIBES NEW BOMBERS

Richter Tells of Purpose of Flight to Raleigh During the Engineers Fair

Captain J. P. Richter of the 96th bombing squadron in his address to the seniors in Aeronautical Engineering on Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock in Page Hall said that he expected to return next year in a new type of bombing plane.

In describing this new plane, Captain Richter stated that it was a great improvement over the old type now in use. Its speed equals that of the present parent ship. With its low wings, retractable landing gear, and greater cruising range this plane will add much to the effectiveness of aerial bombing.

Richter, who was in charge of the squadron which visited Raleigh during the Engineers' Fair said that the trip served a double purpose. The squadron not only complied with Colonel Macruder's request to visit the fair, but also carried out part of their program in which they are attempting to familiarize themselves with the states along the Atlantic coast. This program consists of having squadrons from Langley Field visit the different states and christen a plane in each state. In this way the fliers not only learn the landing fields along the coast, but also become acquainted with the people.

Captain Richter is a graduate of V. P. I. and also of the army aviation service school. During his sixteen years in the air service he has seen every side of the game, and is thoroughly familiar with every phase of the service.

Graduate course at M. I. T. and was stationed for some time at Dayton, O.

Breaks Ice Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus strolled into the infirmary Monday night.

Joe Sugg, Allen Nelms, Arnold Peterson, Nurses Hand and Boyette politely and stiffly said, "Good evening." "Red" McAdams, however, unaffected by the aura of high public office, waved his hand jauntily and said, "Hi, Guvna," thus breaking all the ice. The Governor smiled and said "Hi!" The Governor had come to see Frank Snowden, student assistant at the infirmary, who was ill.

POTEAAT PRAISES SCHOLAR'S WORK AT ANNUAL EVENT

Students Honored at Annual Scholarship Day in Pullen Hall Wednesday

HARRISON GIVES SPEECH ON PURPOSE OF OCCASION

100 Students Make High Honors And 209 Achieve Honors; Phi Kappa Phi Scholarship Awards Given Moss, Raber, and Miss Shepard; Alpha Kappa Pi Wins Social Fraternity Scholarship Cup With Average of 81.2

"Scholarship is the acquaintance with the best that has been thought and said in the world," said Dr. William Louis Poteaat, president emeritus of Wake Forest College, in his Scholarship Day address delivered Wednesday morning in Pullen Hall in connection with the exercises held to give recognition to scholarship at State College.

Dr. Poteaat placed particular emphasis upon the commercialization of culture. "Few men," he stated, "come to college to broaden their horizon. Some come for the good time it offers, others for the extra-curricular work they hope to participate in, still others because it is the thing to do. Only six per cent consciously expect to become scholars."

Dr. Thomas P. Harrison presided. Poteaat with a talk on "The Purpose of Scholarship Day." The Reverend J. R. Farris, pastor of the Hillier Memorial Church of Raleigh, pronounced the invocation.

There were 100 students who made the high honor roll during the past two terms and 209 were listed on the honor roll for the same period. In addition, 12 special scholarship awards were made.

The Phi Kappa Phi scholarship medals were presented to L. A. Moss, of Albemarle, representing the senior class; Thomas J. Raber, of Haddonfield, N. J., representing the junior class; and to Miss Christine Shepard, of Raleigh, representing the sophomore class. The awards are made to the outstanding students in these three classes. Raber also won the White Spades cup given to the fraternal man of the junior class making the highest grades among Juniors in the Phi Kappa Delta, forensic fraternity, at the Asheville Normal and Teachers' College. State won the extemporaneous speaking contest, placed second in oratory, and third in after dinner speaking. Lonnie Knott was the college entry in these classes.

From Asheville the team journeyed to Berea, Kentucky, where the convention of the Association of Teachers of Speech was in session. Here the group tied for first place for the Southern Conference championship in oratory and debating. Knott, representing the college, won first place in extemporaneous speaking and after dinner speaking.

The team next traveled to Dayton, Ohio, where they demonstrated the direct clash debate at the University of Dayton. This was the first time that it had been presented north of the Ohio River, and was the same type that was demonstrated by State men in California.

"As far as I can see," Professor Paget, coach of the team, stated, "Knott can lay claim to the national title in extemporaneous speaking. He has won the Southern championship twice, the South Atlantic championship this year, the state title, the National Intercollegiate Forensic Association title twice, and the tri-state title. Although there is no actual recognition of a national champion, Knott could well claim it."

Professor Paget further stated that he had done a certain amount of research into the field and had discovered that Knott has won more major titles than any other man in intercollegiate speaking. Although this is only his third year of college competition, he has won fourteen titles.

STATE MAY GET IMMENSE SLASH IN FEDERAL AID

Executive Committee Reports Say That Slash of $774,152 Is Possible

C. T. WOOLEN SELECTED COMPTROLLER AT MEET

Committee on Reorganization Headed by Josephus Daniels to Make Report on "Quad System" And Coordination of Courses Taught at the Greater University At Meeting in May; Meet of Board of Trustees to be Held in May

Reports were made that the national economy program may cause the loss to State College of $774,152 in Federal funds annually, at a meeting of the executive committee of the Greater University of North Carolina held in the Governor's office Tuesday, at 11 a. m.

Charles T. Woolen, business manager of the University at Chapel Hill since 1914 was elected comptroller of the Greater University at the meeting.

The funds involved in the reports are: Land scrip fund, $33,900; agricultural experiment stations, $90,000; agricultural extension, $363,452; vocational education, $288,000. The latter is matched by $100,000 in State funds.

At the request of the committee, Governor J. C. Ehringhaus sent telegrams concerning the funds to President Roosevelt, Senator Bailey and Senator Reynolds.

Mr. Woolen, who was elected comptroller, has served under four presidents during his 33 years with the University. He has held the following offices since 1901, his first year with the University: Registrar, in 1901; secretary, 1902; purchasing agent, 1903; college proctor, 1908-13; treasurer of the University athletic association, 1910; business manager, 1913. Since 1914, Woolen has been in complete charge of the business management of the University at Chapel Hill.

The special committee on reorganization, headed by Ambassador Josephus Daniels, and which was to have stressed a number of specific economies, together with a discussion of the "Quad System," and suggestions regarding coordination of courses taught at the three divisions of the Greater University, made no formal report Tuesday.

A report will be made at the next meeting in May. The "Quad System" was advocated by Woodrow Wilson. Under this system of education, students taking the same course live together with an instructor who acts as preceptor and guide. Similar plans have been adopted at Harvard and Yale University recently spent $1,000,000 in adapting the Harkness buildings to such a plan.

Members of the reorganization committee are: Josephus Daniels, chairman; A. W. McLean, Charles Whedbee, I. B. Tucker, Dr. Clarence Poe, Mrs. Bertha Cone, and C. W. Tillet, Jr. The spring meeting of the full board of trustees, heretofore held in Chapel Hill, will this year be held in Raleigh in May, before the commencement at the first unit, at the Woman's College in Greensboro on May 27.

DEBATERS TO CONTEST AGAINST GEORGIA TECH

State Team to Argue Tonight for "Cancellation of the War Debts"

A debate between State and Georgia Tech will be held in Pullen Hall tonight at 7 p. m.

The State team take the affirmative side with the subject "Cancellation of the War Debts." The State team will be Lonnie M. Knott, Jr., Horace Cotton, and William B. Braswell.

STUDENTS ELECT CAMPUS LEADERS AT POLLS TODAY

Nineteen Candidates to be Voted On Between 7:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

MOTORCYCLE WRECK

Wills Taylor, Jr., and Dalton Parker, freshmen, are recovering from injuries received when a motorcycle, driven by Taylor and on which both boys were riding, overturned on Hillsboro Street, Tuesday night at 6:30.

Taylor is in the State College infirmary with a sprained knee, and Parker, whose nose is broken, is in Rex Hospital. Both boys received cuts and bruises.

According to Taylor, the boys were riding east on Hillsboro Street, when the wheels of the motorcycle caught in the trolley tracks. The motorcycle skidded underneath a car which was parked nearby.

A large number of students have been involved in motorcycle accidents during the past two years and college officials have seriously considered abolishing them from the campus.

STATE HAS PART IN COTTON BALL

Textile Department Plays Important Part in Staging Cotton Festival

The Textile Department of State College, under the direction of Dean Thomas Nelson, will play an important part in the staging of North Carolina's first State-wide Cotton Festival, which will take place in Raleigh on May 19, in conjunction with National Cotton Week.

The festival, which will include a street parade, a cotton style show, and the Cotton Ball, has been endorsed by the Cotton-Textile Institute, the Association for the Increased Use of Cotton, the Raleigh Merchants Association, and various other civic and social clubs, as well as the State College Textile Department, and the principal cotton mills of the State.

Dean Nelson has announced that the Textile Department will hold "open house" during the afternoon of May 19, to the 150 sponsors and their marshals from every part of the State. The Department also plans to enter a float in the parade, probably a jacquard loom in full operation mounted on a truck. The Department is further co-operating in that Dorrie E. Bennett, a textile senior, has designed and woven the formal invitation that is being sent to the sponsors. This invitation is novel and original in that it is the first of its kind ever designed and is made entirely of cotton, on the jacquard loom, the lettering being woven into the cloth. Ruppert Singletary, another textile senior, is designing the marshals' badges in the same way.

Mrs. E. C. Brooks, wife of the president of State College, is serving on the Cotton Ball Committee, which is in charge of the style show, and cotton ball. Mrs. J. C. B. Ehringhaus is honorary chairman of the committee; Mrs. U. Benton Blalock is active chairman, and Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. G. M. Mann, Mrs. Josiah W. Bailey, and Mrs. Josephus Daniels, Jr., are other members of the committee. Other committees are headed by Mrs. N. E. Edgerton, Jr., Miss Sarah Buxee, Miss Cary Petty, Miss Arabel Cox, and Miss Letitia Miss.

DEBATERS FIRST

J. E. McIntyre and Frank Busbee were the first State College students to drink the new legal beer. They were on a debating trip in Ohio Friday when the ban was lifted.

L. M. Knott and W. E. Braswell, other debaters who were on the same trip, had the opportunity but did not choose to imbibe.

Last night a rousing political rally was held in Pullen Hall, when supporters of the various candidates made campaign stump speeches.

Bill Barker and M. J. Kanto will compete for president of student body. George Culbertson and M. J. Gardner will run for secretary of the student body, the loser to automatically become treasurer of the student body.

W. E. Braswell and Van Shuping are candidates for president of the Y. M. C. A. J. L. Ponzor and J. F. P. will run for secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Kenneth Stephens and John Pindlay are competing for treasurer of the Y. M. C. A.

Riccardelli having withdrawn his name from the ballot as candidate for business manager of THE TECHNICIAN at a late hour last night. Lassen was the only candidate certified for editor.

"Red" Espey and Allen Nelms are candidates for the Alumni Athletic Trophy. Bob McQuage was named after the primaries to compete against Nelms and Espey, but he withdrew in favor of the two seniors.

FORESTRY BILL KILLED IN SENATE WEDNESDAY

Measure Authorized Borrowing of Money for Purchase of Land for College

Senator Angus D. MacLean's bill which would authorize the State College forestry department to borrow $500,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the purchase of forest lands for demonstration and research purposes, was killed in the Senate by a vote of 26 to 11 Wednesday, on second reading.

The measure proposed that the property be held as sole security and that the loan be repaid from receipts accruing through the scientific application of the forestry project.

PHI KAPPA PHI SELECTS FOUR GRADUATE MEMBERS

Four graduate students were elected Wednesday to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

They were: W. H. Dry, R. E. L. Greene, A. C. Hayes, and Wesley Wallace. They will probably be initiated about April 26 along with several undergraduate members who were elected recently.

NEWSPAPER CHANGES HANDS

Next week the new staff will assume the responsibilities of THE TECHNICIAN and the campus newspaper will begin its 1933-34 destiny.

Although the change may bring regrets and a momentary loss of efficiency, it is best that the paper mold itself anew each year to the changing campus scene.

There is every assurance of confidence in the new management and it is hoped that the newspaper will serve the campus better next year, profiting by mistakes of the past.

THE TECHNICIAN has this year tried to merit the name of a newspaper. Coverage of news until late Thursday night, completeness and accuracy limited only by the time and talent of writers, and adherence to its news standards has been the weekly policy of the paper. No sacrifice has been too great to make the paper informative and useful. The chief limitation upon the gathering of news matter has been a reticent attitude on the part of many individuals who thought it best to conceal their information.

Editorially, the paper has crusaded noticeably. Right and wrong become serious matters to a college editor and an effort has been made to right the wrong this year. If the ghost of Don Quixote haunted the editorial columns too much, remember that it was in good faith and with sincere belief that the opinion was thought to be best for the student body. There were outcries when pocketbooks or pet prejudices were touched, but no regrets on the part of the editor for anything that was written.

The paper has scrupulously refused to favor any one group or faction on the campus, either in editorial material or news matter, and while this may not have been good politics, at least what was considered the demands of public duty were satisfied.

A college newspaper should inform interestingly and impartially and its editorial opinion should be formulated with the ultimate interest of the student body at heart. THE TECHNICIAN has been a success this year only in the degree to which these rather high ideals have been carried out.

THE POLITICIANS

Press reports of student elections at Duke University and at Chapel Hill, originating at the college news agencies, describe the contests as "training in citizenship" and other phrases of glowing idealism. Instead of all this, it seems that college elections merely give the college politicians a workout and make politicians of honest men, thus filling one of the major needs of the day: A student democracy, as all others, is cumbersome and inefficient, with opportunities for adroit individuals who can scheme to get things done. Dishonesty and illegal tactics, of course, are to be deplored here as anywhere else.

It would be a terrible thing if the suggestions of some of our idealists were followed and the student body were gagged and blindfolded so that no awful politicians could influence them. The spirited maneuvers preceding the elections contribute a zest to college life that can hardly be underestimated. The best man wins most of the time because the cleverest politicians usually back the best man. The nominee who can deal successfully with the politicians before the elections can deal with them afterwards and this he will surely have to do. It should be no painful disillusion to anybody to remark that most things are done by politicians.

The United States is rejoicing today because one of the greatest politicians of all history is at the helm. So let us not bemoan the fact too much that our democratic platitudes are as nothing to the clever individuals who control the vote of the common people.

HOW FAR AWAY WILL BEER BE?

Legislators are considering new methods to restrict the sale of beer after passing the Francis bill which will legalize the brew on May 1. The first draft of an additional regulatory measure is up in the House now which, along with other provisions, would prevent the sale on the State College campus.

What the final law will be as to the sale of beer on the campus will not be known until the second bill weathers amendments in both houses.

It seems, however, that restrictions concerning the actual distance the beverage will be removed from the college can serve no very good purpose. Two hundred feet, five hundred feet, a half-mile—any arbitrary distance seems rather inane when college students over eighteen years of age will have a legal right to drink the beer. If students really desire a mug, they will go after it. There is no reason for such "protection," since it is not probable that State College students will be worse off with beer than the rest of the population. Such regulations will be a discrimination both unnecessary and ineffective, and may create a problem in promoting drinking "joints" just beyond the arbitrary limit.

STUDENT COOPERATION

Many favorable comments have been made on the manner in which the Engineering students cooperated to make the Engineers' Fair one of the most successful since its founding here seven years ago.

To make for a successful venture of this kind requires that the student give a great deal of his time and attention to the preparation of the many details that go towards the staging of this annual event. Without the cooperation of students of the Engineering School the Fair would lose much of the glamor that has been associated with it.

Each year the attendance increases, a good barometer by which to judge the ever-growing popularity of the event. This year the number of visitors attending the Fair jumped to over 4,000, an increase of about a thousand over last year. The many exhibitions showed the remarkable ingenuity of the engineering students and left them with a good impression of what the school is teaching its embryo engineers.

To the Engineers Council should go a large amount of praise for their direction of the Fair. It is through this body that all details of the occasion are executed and to them comes much of the credit for the success.—E. S. K.

Next week THE TECHNICIAN plans to have a staff member patrol the campus Thursday night for fires. There have been blazes at a late hour for two successive Thursday nights, with staff members temporarily abandoning the final work on the campus newspaper to cover the fire.

And, too, appreciation is hereby given to the friends who have called the printing company to inform the staff that a fire was in progress.

College Opinions

TEST FOR THE COLLEGES

College students and administrators are facing an important problem. Legalization of 3.2 per cent beer has been effected by Congress, and the question now arises as to what regulations, if any, will be necessary or desirable in the nation's several college communities.

No sensible person would be so naive as to believe that there has been no drinking among college men during the prohibition era. But the truth is that most of this drinking has been of the sub-rosa variety, a fact which has tended to keep it somewhat out of sight. Legal beer, however, will drag the whole problem out into the open. With the establishment of authorized drinking places, hitherto illicit beverages will enjoy good standing and will be much more readily available than they have been since 1920.

It behooves students and administrative officials alike to promote the ideals of rational temperance and reasonable restraint from the very start of the new experiment. Education should develop self-control. And people may well look to the colleges for an example of steady conduct in any period of social change. A supreme effort should be made on every college campus, with the weeks immediately ahead, to discourage thoughtless excesses and reckless celebrations. The college reaction will be watched closely and critically. It is squarely up to the American student to show that he has a level head.—Rider College News.

$1,500 FOR A BAND

The Junior Prom committee has just completed unsuccessful negotiations to obtain Cab Calloway of New York and his orchestra for the dance. The committee agreed to pay a minimum of $1,500.

We are surprised at such small thinking on the part of the Junior Prom committee. Has no one of this campus any ambition?

Why be cheap skates and pikers? While we're at it, let's be broadminded. Why not get Strokowski and the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra? It would cost a mere few thousand more. Why not send to Russia and get the Moscow theater musicians?

For that matter, why not transport the entire prom to the Coconut Grove in Los Angeles or Sloppy Joe's in Havana and throw a real celebration? Money isn't everything, you know.

But seriously, even though the banks are open and Roosevelt's unemployment program is well under way, we can see no good reason why the Junior Prom committee should even merely to see Cab Calloway, and besides, the contract is to be underwritten by downtown business men. That's the spirit! If you can't soak the students, soak the visitors and the underwriters!

Senator Long may not be right in saying that a better orchestra can be gathered on the university campus, but he is undoubtedly correct in implying that the Junior Prom committee can come much nearer home and spend much less money and obtain music that will at least satisfy everything except an overgrown desire for publicity.—L. S. U. Reveille.

HERE and THERE

By PHIL SEWELL

I heard such a nice compliment paid State College that I can't resist the temptation to print it so that all readers of THE TECHNICIAN may profit by it.

The compliment came from an elderly lady from South Carolina who through her profession has come in contact with the students at all the senior colleges in North and South Carolina. She said that in all her contacts with students in these two states never had she found a student body with a more ready and willing smile. She went on to say that this was the only college campus that she visited where everybody spoke to her. This so impressed her that she wanted to know more about it. I told her that it was an old custom that had been here for many years. She then asked if the freshmen were not required, by the upperclassmen, to speak to every one they met. To this I replied that if it was not the nature of our freshmen to speak to every one, they soon acquired the habit by the contacts they made on the campus. I was then assured by her that if she was ever in a position to influence a student as to which college he should attend that she would recommend N. C. State.

All of this just goes to prove that it is not the curriculum alone that counts.

From the way plans are being made for dances in the future it looks like the prospects of spring weather have had a social bearing on the minds of many. Every class but the freshmen are going to have a dance and I don't see why someone don't suggest it to them.

While talking of dances the thought comes to my mind, why doesn't some class or organization with a little initiative give a dance that is different? To date there has been only one such dance given and that was the "Depression Ball." Those who attended that dance enjoyed themselves fully and I think they would like to know that there will be another in the future. As a way of suggestion, why not have a fancy dress ball, masquerade or bowery ball? The backers of such a dance would receive more praise and thanks than those who just give a formal or informal dance.

The fashion followers, it seems, have gone back to the gay nineties to keep in style. I am not one to be condemning the styles, but I must say, though, that I would draw the line when it comes to plaid shirts, ties and even plaid underwear. I can see two reasons for plaid shirts and they are: first—to enable you to play checkers without a board, second—it may be an effort to bring back the prosperity that was experienced when plaid suits were first in vogue.

The following was taken from the DAVIDSONIAN who in turn took it from the ROANOKE who clipped it from the WALL STREET JOURNAL. What price news!

"What is the difference between an economist and a broker? An economist is a man that knows a great deal about very little, and who goes along knowing more and more about less and less, until finally he knows practically everything about nothing. A broker is a man who knows a little about a great deal and who keeps on knowing less and less about more and more, until he knows practically nothing about anything."

If the student government at State was one-half as active, or should I say as exactive, as the same body is at Meredith they would be in session as long as the North Carolina General Assembly was year before last.

A young lady from that institution was called up before the student government there, a short while back, for not wearing a sufficient amount of clothing down town. I was not informed as to who reported her or as to what she didn't wear but boys I want to warn you—wear your hose supporters the next time you go down town for the idea might be contagious.

How To Avoid BONERS

MONOTONY IS THE CUSTOM OF HAVING ONLY ONE WIFE

HEAVEN has pity on the poor lad! He also thinks a parapet is a tropical bird.

But where there's life there's hope. If somebody will introduce Bill Boner to a good pipe and good tobacco, perhaps he'll improve. You see, a pipe helps a man concentrate, think right. And be sure you fill his pipe with Edgeworth Smoking Tobacco. As you know, Edgeworth has proved to be the favorite smoke at 42 out of 54 leading colleges.

Ah! There's a smoke for you! Notice how that blend of fine old burleys helps you think out a difficult problem. See how cobwebs fly from a tired brain on its fragrant wisps of curling blue smoke!

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Maybe a New Twelve Mile Limit?

Now that the primaries are over there is one thing that stands out when placed against a background of last year's elections. That is the fact that there were two or three candidates that ran and managed their own campaigns or in other words they ran as independent candidates. I for one was very glad to see this for as long as we have men who are willing to get out and really work and not just sit back and let a machine put them in office it shows to all outsiders that elections on this campus are not framed or crooked in any way. All politics in one way or another are going to be accused of being dirty and also of being settled before the vote is really taken. An independent man running shows that he has enough faith in the elections to know that he has a fair and equal chance with all the others if he is anywhere near the man for the position for which he is running. I hope that in the future we will have more men running who are depending on their own ability to put them in office.

Another aid to business ... a Teletypewriter "Central"

Working out new ways to serve the communication needs of the public is an objective always in the minds of Bell System men. The new Teletypewriter Exchange Service—typing by wire—is an example.

For some years Private Wire Teletypewriter Service has speeded communication between separated units of many large organizations. Telephone men— anxious to make this service more widely useful— have now established Teletypewriter central offices, through which any subscriber to the service may be connected directly with any other subscriber. Both can type back and forth—their messages being reproduced simultaneously at each point.

This new service provides fast, dependable communication and does for the written word what telephone service does for the spoken word. It is one more Bell System contribution to business efficiency.

EASTER MONDAY CLASSIC TO BE PITCHING DUEL

Barnes, Deacon Hurler Will Try to Continue String of State Defeats

The State College baseball team returned today from a successful invasion of Virginia colleges to buck tough opposition in a game with V. P. I. Saturday 3 p. m., at Doak field and in the Easter Monday game with Wake Forest at Doak Field at 3 p. m.

V. P. I. was bested in the first tilt with the Terrors on the Virginia trip. This gives State the edge in the game here Saturday.

On Easter Monday the biggest baseball classic of the Big Five will take place at Doak Field when State College battles Wake Forest.

This friendly rivalry began over a third of a century ago and is the oldest annual intercollegiate baseball classic staged in North Carolina.

This game should draw a large crowd this year because of the pitching duel that will take place. 'Speed' Seitz will hurl for State and 'Lefty' Barnes for Wake Forest. These boys are playing their last year of college baseball.

Seitz will try to upset the dope bucket this year and lick Wake Forest for the first time in several years. Barnes, the State College jinx for the past few years, will try to duplicate his previous work by beating State and thereby setting a record of pitching three consecutive wins in the Easter Monday Classic.

First Scrimmage
State's football candidates for the 1933 team got their first taste of a spring scrimmage Saturday when Backfield Coach Reese sent two picked teams through a short scrimmage.

Too Many Votes
The recent student elections at St. Lawrence University were invalidated because, although only 465 ballots were handed out, 485 votes were cast.

Deacon Hurler

'LEFTY' BARNES

A pitching duel is expected for the Easter Monday Classic. 'Lefty' Barnes, Wake Forest hurler has practically an undefeatable pitching record to his credit. Last year his only defeat was administered by Davidson.

DOAKMEN DEFEAT VIRGINIA TEAMS

State Makes Clean Sweep of
V. P. I., V. M. I., Washington-Lee and U. of Va.

State defeats University of Virginia 4 to 1 Thursday to make a clean sweep of their Virginia invasion. This makes the fifth straight victory this season for the Tech team.

The Techs clinched the ball game in the seventh inning when Catfins drove a smashing home run deep into right field, Willie Duke scoring before him.

Seitz pitched Thursday's game and held the Virginians to six hits.

V. P. I. Game
The Red Terrors defeated V. P. I. 14-3 at Blacksburg, Va., Monday on their opening trip by a slugging match that four Virginia Poly pitchers could not stop.

State scored thirteen hits for a total of 23 bases and were aided in their romping by eight muffs by Virginia Poly.

"Speed" Seitz, Wolpack hurler, held Poly batters to seven scattered hits during the game and up until the eighth inning, to three.

Seitz fanned eight in a nicely pitched game. He also featured with a homer and a single. Ned Wood, State's second baseman, hit a triple and two singles to lead the team in hitting.

V. M. I. Game
N. C. State handed Virginia Military Institute a trouncing Wednesday to the tune of 13 to 3. This was an easy victory for the Techs.

Cooper and Jeffery hurried for the Wolpack, holding V. M. I. to eight scattered hits during the game and coasted to an easy victory.

Jones, starting Cadet pitcher, was blasted from the mound. His teammate Gilbert, who replaced him, struck out 13 men during the rest of the game, but wildness kept him in the hole most of the time.

TWO FULL TEAMS TO GO TO BUIE'S CREEK GAME

Star Campbell College Hurler Is Strikeout King of Junior College Circles

Bob Warren is sending two full freshman baseball teams to battle Campbell College at Buies Creek today for their first game of the season. A return game is scheduled here on Doak Field, Tuesday, 4 p. m.

Their opponents have a fast hard playing ball club having won four out of four games played this season. The yearlings have been practicing against the varsity players that remained here from trip. These workouts have helped whip the freshmen into shape. The yearlings should prove stubborn opposition against Campbell.

The players making the trip are: Pitchers, Freeman and Flythe; catchers, Stator and Robbins. In the infield: first, Raines and Williams; second, Riley and Creel; third, Going and Layton; short stop, Womble and Wynn. In the outfield: Right, Moore and Weston; Center, Cox and Tinsley; left, Johnson and Drinkwater. Freeman is the only southpaw hurler on the yearling squad.

Lefty Fowler, Campbell College hurler, will probably be the opposing pitcher today. He has acquired the title of 'Strikeout King' in the junior college circuit of North Carolina. Fowler has 40 strikeouts in 23 innings to his credit so far this season. He fanned 17 in his first game against Mt. Pleasant; 13 in a game with Presbyterian Junior College, and 10 against East Carolina Teachers College.

DANCING ON GLASS

ILLUSION:
In India, the fakirs present a spectacle to tourists. Two lovely performers break bottles and lamp chimneys before the eyes of the audience, and throw the jagged pieces into a box already filled with broken glass. They step barefooted into the box and do an Oriental dance in the glass without injury.

EXPLANATION:
The performers toughen their feet in a strong solution of alum water and thoroughly rub them with pulverized resin before they appear. They throw the freshly broken glass around the edges of the platform. The glass on which they actually do dance is very thick, heavy, and filed or ground so that the sharp edges are rounded off. The girls just pretend to dance on the sharp glass.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED ... IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

One of the tricks of cigarette advertising is to pretend that "Heat Treatment" is an exclusive process, making one cigarette better than any other.
EXPLANATION: All cigarette manufacturers use heat treatment. It is a routine process of manufacture. The first Camel cigarette ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process. Every one of the billions of Camels produced since has received the necessary heat treatment.

Harsh, raw tobaccos require intensive processing under high temperatures. The more expensive tobaccos, which are naturally mild, call for only a moderate application of heat. Heat treatment never can make cheap, inferior tobacco good.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

This is the most important statement ever made in a cigarette advertisement. Weigh its words. Consider what it means. Then try Camels.

Camels are fresh... in the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack.

Vitally different!

SHREDDED WHEAT

HO, HUM . . . another day, another dollar. But why let it put you in a state of vertical collapse, when the nearest campus eating place has the best pick-me-up awaiting your command?

It's Shredded Wheat, the food that's VITALLY DIFFERENT, that puts the spring in your step. Some folks call it "energy by the bowlful." And it is—for Shredded Wheat is whole wheat, the one cereal grain that's packed with proteins, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins. All these vital, life-sustaining elements—nothing added, nothing taken away—come to you in Shredded Wheat. With just the right amount of bran, measured for you by Nature.

You'll like the taste. Millions say they do. Have it served any way you like—with milk or cream, fresh or preserved fruit. It will even put new life in your pocket-book . . . it's a lot of food for a little!

Why is the Stem removed from the tobaccos used in Chesterfield?

That's a very simple question to answer. The stem in a tobacco leaf, like the stem in most other plants, is "woody". It hasn't any of the flavor or the aroma that you want when you smoke. And it doesn't burn right.

So after tobacco has been properly aged, one of the first things to do is to remove the stems.

But what has this to do with your enjoyment of Chesterfield cigarettes? Just this. It means that we start right when we make Chesterfield—the right kind of leaf with the stem removed, the right manufacture—everything that science knows that can make CHESTERFIELD a milder cigarette, a cigarette that tastes better.

That's why people say "They Satisfy."

Tobacco used to be stemmed by hand—Now this machine stems 14,300 leaves every hour.

Whenever you buy Chesterfields, you get them just as fresh as if you came by our factory door.
