OFFICIALS WORK TO GET STUDENTS ON CWA PAYROLL

General Improvements to be Made on Campus With Money Obtained Through CWA

T. S. JOHNSON HAS CHARGE OF CAMPUS IMPROVEMENTS

Important Streets to be Surfaced; Water Mains to be Built Around Polk Hall; Six Dormitories to be Painted; Ag Hill to be Graded, Fertilized and Seeded; Riddick Field to be Greatly Improved; Y. M. C. A. to be Painted

While the registration of students for employment was done according to directions received from the National Employment Service of the Civil Works Administration, the authorities have not made provisions for the use of student labor on the campus improvements," announced Prof. T. S. Johnson, who is in charge of the campus CWA projects. "Committees are constantly working in the effort to get a student quota in order that student labor may be so used."

The CWA quota which authorizes the expenditure of $75,000 on campus projects includes several important items. Most of the important roads will be surfaced with bituminous surface as well as the construction of a record vault which is already under way in the registrar's office. Water mains for fire control will be built around Polk Hall. There will be general improvements on the buildings which includes the painting of six dormitories, outside only; a new roof on Page Hall; painting and general improvement of the buildings on the poultry farm and experimental station; and painting the Y. M. C. A. inside and out. Also appropriations have been made for general campus improvements. These include such work as grading, fertilizing and seeding the ground, and the grading and seeding of Ag. Hill. Work on Riddick Field which is already under way, includes grading, seeding and rolling and laying of drains. Plans have been approved for the employment of 13 library assistants to catalogue and classify the material in the library.

The CWA has just approved a project calling for the expenditure of buildings and equipment to be constructed on the prison farm. By doing this the State College animal husbandry students will receive better training in animal husbandry and the prison will receive part of the products of the farm, thus economizing on both sides.

COLLEGE ACTORS INVITED TO ATTEND SPEECH MEET

Actors to Present Two New Type Plays Before Meeting in Birmingham, Ala.

The Experimental Theatre of N. C. State College has accepted an invitation of Prof. H. P. Constans, of the University of Florida and president of the Southern Association of Teachers of Speech, to appear on the program of the annual convention of the Association in Birmingham, Alabama, April 19.

The theatre will present two new types of plays before the Association, the extemporaneous and the impromptu play, successfully produced for the first time by the group last December.

Edwin H. Paget, professor of forensics and dramatic director at State College, says that a number of invitations have been accepted to present these types of plays at different colleges, high schools, and little theatres of the State.

In the impromptu play the plot is given the actors when they appear on the stage and without delay they present a full one-act play with a climax worked out as the play progresses. This type of play is easy to produce for all that is necessary is a single simple setting and an idea.

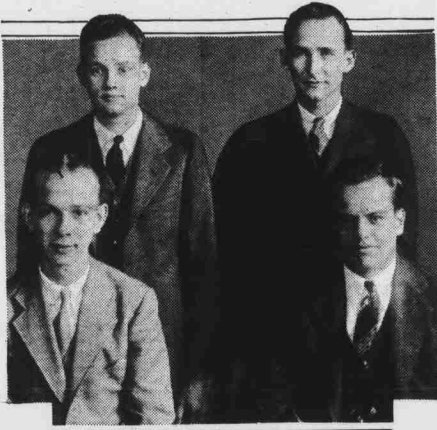

The extemporaneous play requires only the setting as the actors have their own plot, guaranteeing not to give any climax or ending that they have used before in practice.

The basic idea of the impromptu play in Birmingham will be presented by a committee of some of the leading dramatic directors of the country.

Thorson to Return

Captain T. C. Thorson, assistant professor of military science and tactics, is expected to return to the college next week. He was here on a visit last week from the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., where he has been confined by illness.

Debate Champions

N.C. STATE DEBATE TEAM

LITERARY BOARD TO AWARD KEYS

Publications Group Also to Hold Banquet During Winter Term

Keys to be given members of the staffs of campus publications were chosen at a meeting of the Publications Board held Wednesday afternoon at Ricks Hall. A banquet to be held by the Board during the winter term was planned for.

Edgar Lowrance and John McIntyre reported on increases in the costs of publishing the Watagan and The Technician. The Board was told that besides a 10 per cent increase in the price, due to a rise in costs under the blanket code of the NRA, a 7 per cent increase had been proposed by Edwards & Broughton Company, printers. It was decided to await ruling to be made later by the final NRA code to pass on an agreement, since the Publications Board is to be sole judge in the raising of prices on the two publications.

A committee headed by Romeo LeForte, secretary of the Board, to study constitutions of other college publications, and thereby to set up one for the Board was appointed by F. H. Jeter, chairman of the Board.

J. E. McIntyre reported that under NRA rulings, The Technician could no longer carry discount theatre coupons. The Board decided that there would be no refund given to students who, through some fault of their own or through the absence of their names from circulation lists, had not received The Technician. It was brought up at the meeting that students may receive copies they wish at The Technician office and by stressing their having not received the paper to the circulation manager will be placed on the circulation list.

Snow-Bound

Driving along one night, while at home during the holidays, Rhodes and his girl met a snowstorm, and the car in which he was driving suddenly stopped. He managed to get word to friends, several of whom set out to help him, but who encountered like troubles.

Harold Bishop, also from State, and some friends finally managed to get to Rhodes, and the boys made efforts to extract the snow-bound auto. After working for several hours with shovels, the rescuing party gave up in despair, and spent the night sleeping in the snowdrift.

Aid came next morning, and the group returned home to thaw out their frozen near-corpses.

Purpose of Debate Was to Demonstrate the Direct-Clash Method of Debating

GROUP MEETS ROLLINS IN NON-DECISION CLASH

Florida College Begins Ten-Weeks Tour by Meeting State in Pullen Hall

State College debate team defeated the Bates College debate team, of Lewiston, Maine, December 29, before the annual convention of the National Association of Teachers of Speech in session at New York City to establish a satisfactory claim for the national, if not international, debate championship for the second half of 1933.

The State College team was composed of Frank Busbee of Raleigh, Dwight Stokes of Newsum, and Horace Cotton of Red Springs. The team was coached and accompanied by Edwin H. Paget, professor of forensics at State College.

The purpose of the debate before the association was to demonstrate the "direct-clash" method of debating introduced and now employed at State College. The team holds the double distinction of being the first student group to ever appear before the association, which was made last year in Los Angeles, and the only group to ever receive a consecutive invitation to appear again the following year.

The State College team is also present tri-state debate champions and are tied for the Southern championship in debating.

The Bates College team is considered one of the most outstanding debate teams in the country. It is present winner of the Eastern collegiate and Midwest championships; and has recently made a tour of the world, winning all but one match on the tour.

The subject for the debate was, "Resolved, That the Principles of the NRA Should be Adopted as a Permanent Government Policy."

The team last Saturday night clashed with the Rollins College debate team, of Winter Park, Florida, in Pullen Hall in two non-decision debates.

The subject for the debate was: "Resolved, That the Powers of the President Should be Substantially Increased as Set Forth in the following year." The debaters for State were Horace Cotton of Red Springs and H. B. Hines, Jr. of Manteo, for the affirmative, and Frank Busbee of Raleigh, R. L. Batts of Rocky Point, and Horace Cotton, for the negative.

Rollins was represented by Maurice C. Drecker of New York City and Thomas P. Johnson of New Castle, Pa., both veteran members of the Rollins debate team.

The first debate between State's affirmative and Rollins' negative was carried on in the regular style, while the second debate was negative and Rollins' affirmative was with the direct clash system.

This debate was the first one of more than fifty that the Rollins debaters have engaged for the ten weeks tour upon which they are just starting.

Former Notre Dame Football Mentor to be Greeted by Entire Student Body

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS TO PLAY IN RECEPTION

Paramount News Reel to Take Pictures of Arrival of Anderson; Classes to be Cut Short so that All Students May Attend; T. S. Johnson Says Reports Anderson Bringing End Coach Erroneous; Off-Season Drills to Start Monday

The opening of a new era in football for State College will begin tomorrow. The arrival of Hearty "Hunk" Anderson, State College's new grid coach, tomorrow on the State campus will be the occasion for one of the biggest celebrations ever accorded a coach at this institution.

Coach Anderson will arrive on the campus tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. He will be greeted by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus. The student body of State, including football players of last fall's varsity and freshman teams and the military department, alumni of the college and many Raleigh citizens will also be on hand to see that Anderson receives a rousing welcome.

Colonel Bruce Magruder, commander of the college R. O. T. C., will greet Anderson on behalf of the military department. The college military band and the Drum and Bugle corps will be present to play several selections.

The Paramount News Reel Company of Atlanta will take pictures upon Anderson's arrival for national distribution.

No special holiday is to be allowed students Saturday but Dean E. L. Cloyd has announced that students will be permitted to miss fifteen minutes from their 11 o'clock classes to participate in the welcome to the former Notre Dame coach.

Reports that Anderson was bringing an end coach with him are erroneous, say Prof. T. S. Johnson, acting chairman of the athletic council, and Dr. Ray R. Sermon, athletic director of State. They say as far as they know Anderson is planning to make the trip here alone. However, rumors which have been circulating around the school say that it is probable that Frank Reese, backfield coach for State last season, will be named by Anderson to assist in coaching again this season.

Off season football drills at State are scheduled to be started on Monday and thus Anderson will be swinging, without delay, into active charge of football at State.

HONOR SOCIETY GIVES BANQUET

Pine Burr Takes in Ten New Members at Annual Initiation Wednesday Night

Initiation of ten new members of Pine Burr, local honorary fraternity, was held Wednesday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A., followed by a banquet for both old and new members in the college cafeteria that night.

Requirements for membership in Pine Burr is an 85 per cent or better scholastic average and the passing of every subject ever taken at State.

The new members are: A. B. Crow, W. I. Barnes, C. J. Brown, Christine Shepherd, Ben Culp, Astron Epstein, B. C. Herlocker, Joe Summers, A. W. Robinson, and A. F. Hoffman.

Colonel J. W. Harrelson and Dean E. L. Cloyd were guest speakers.

Colonel Harrelson mentioned the founding of the organization and the activities of the group in student affairs and expressed the hope that the interest would be revived. He also stressed the need of more civic work on the campus and urged the members of Pine Burr to do their share in all worthy enterprises.

"If the alumni had been properly organized in the past as they should," Colonel Harrelson said, "the memorial tower would have been completed and the consolidation of the state institutions might have been averted."

New Coach

"Hunk" Anderson, coach of the Notre Dame team last season, who will arrive here tomorrow to take over his duties as head coach of the Wolfpack team of State College for the next three seasons.

MOVE INSTITUTED FOR FERA LOANS

Loan Fund for Needy Students To Be Requested by Self-Help Authorities

A movement to have the Federal Emergency Relief Administration set up a loan fund for needy college students has been instituted at N. C. State College.

M. L. Shepherd, self-help director at the college, said that there is great need for such a fund from which students could borrow money to pay their tuition and other college expenses.

In State College alone, he said, there are approximately 300 students in dire need of help. Many of them are being forced to leave college because of inability to obtain the necessary money.

H. E. York, member of the Senior class and a self-help student, has written a letter to the self-help directors of other colleges and universities in the State asking for information about the needs of their self-help students and appealing for assistance in the movement for establishing a loan fund.

York pointed out that an allotment of $50,000 to each of the 48 states for loan funds would scarcely make a dent in the $3,300,000,000 PWA and CWA budget, from which the loan fund could be set aside.

Colleges in other states are expected to fall in line with the proposal, Shepherd said. In case they do not, the State College sponsors of the plan will ask the administration to set up the desired fund for North Carolina.

It was pointed out that the money will be well invested. The loans will enable students to complete their education, they will keep students from being forced into the ranks of the unemployed, they will find their way into college coffers where they can be used to improve equipment, buildings, and grounds or to increase professors' salaries.

The loans could be considered as an outright gift to the students, it was brought out, since most of the money would be paid back into the treasury within a few years.

PHI KAPPA PHI TO HOLD BANQUET FOR NEW MEN

The initiation meeting and banquet of Phi Kappa Phi, national scholarship fraternity, will be held Tuesday evening in the Carolina Hotel ballroom.

The following students are to be initiated: A. B. Crow, A. H. Couch, M. I. Annetta, Bill New, F. V. Harris, W. E. Kistler, Jr., E. J. Lassen, W. P. Kanto, J. D. Swanson, T. J. Raber, Miss Jean McLean, D. S. Barnes, J. O. Wright, and H. A. Lynch, Jr.

The new members were selected at a meeting of the society during the first term.

No speaker has been secured as yet for the banquet, but it is hoped that Dr. Frank Graham, who was made an honorary member of the society last year, can be secured.

Randolph Speaks

Dr. E. E. Randolph, head of the Chemical Engineering department, spoke on the "Chemical Industries of North Carolina, Virginia, and Tennessee" at the winter meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers held recently at Roanoke, Virginia.

ENGINEERS MEET AT STATE TODAY FOR CONVENTION

Y. M. C. A. TO BRING THREE SPEAKERS

Harlow, Deering, and Elliott Will Talk to State Groups During Term

The State Y. M. C. A. plans to bring three eminent speakers to the campus during this term, announced E. S. King, secretary.

The first speaker to be presented here will be Ralf Harlow, professor of Religious Education at Smith College, Massachusetts, who will speak here during the week of January 27 to February 2. Professor Harlow is a graduate of Harvard and Columbia. He holds the degrees of M.A. and Ph.D. in Sociology.

Professor Harlow is a man of wide experience. At one time he worked with Rev. E. McNeill Potomac on the traveling staff of the Student Volunteer Movement. He has also spent ten years as a foreign field worker in Turkey.

He is an excellent speaker and especially appealing to students, having spoken to most of the leading colleges and universities in the country.

The second speaker, Paul M. Derrin, secretary of the V. P. I. Y. M. C. A., will visit State College for his first term during the week of February 13-18. In spite of having lost his eyesight at the age of twelve, Derrin continued his education through William and Mary College and received his Master's degree at Vanderbilt. The misfortune of blindness has in no way made him hard or cynical. In fact he has a keen wit and a bright philosophy of life.

The third speaker is A. J. "Dad" Elliott. "Dad" who has been here often to lecture on student problems, will return in early March. Since "Dad" was graduated from Northwestern he has been so keenly interested in student affairs that he has devoted most of his life to working among them.

Elliott, who was a star football player at Northwestern, has a special address called "Values in Athletics," which he will deliver to the varsity men. He has been well received at most all of the larger colleges and universities in the United States.

"Y" MEN ATTEND MEETING OF STUDENT CONFERENCE

Shaping, Bradwell, King and Shepherd Attend Conference in Washington

The National Conference of Students on Politics, which met recently in Washington, D. C., was attended by Van Shaping, vice president of the State College "Y," Bill Bradwell, M. L. Shepherd and E. S. King.

The feature of the conference was an address by Henry Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, who branded college football as a "racket."

"As a matter of fact," continued Wallace, "many of us are beginning to wonder if the colleges themselves are as vital as they should be in furnishing the leadership to enable the youth of today to grapple in an adventurous way with the realities of the coming day."

The meeting was made possible by the cooperation of eleven different national organizations, including the National Student Federation and the Young Men's Christian Association.

State Graduate Dies During Xmas Holidays

J. R. Withers who graduated from State last year died Tuesday, December 26.

Withers had just returned from Canton, N. C., to spend a few holidays with his parents when he was stricken with pneumonia.

He was prominent in campus activities and was a member of the Gamma Sigma Epsilon, chemical honorary fraternity.

At the time before his death, Withers held a responsible position with the Champion Fibre Company, paper manufacturers, at Canton, N. C.

SOPHS DISCUSS MEANS OF IDENTIFYING STATE

Means of identifying this institution to passersby was discussed at the monthly assembly of the sophomore class Wednesday.

It was pointed out that nowhere on this campus is there a means of identifying the school to outsiders, except the sign on the stack of the power house. Pine Burr honor society wishes to place an arch across the two posts at the main entrance which would identify the institution.

The distribution of the profit from the sophomore hop was also discussed at the meeting.

THE LIBRARY SITUATION

One of the major problems on the State College campus is that attitude of utter disregard which a large number of students take of the library facilities at this institution.

While the library here cannot class itself as the best in the country, it does contain in excess of forty thousand volumes, and is installed in the most attractive building on the campus. A great many of these forty thousand volumes have never been opened by students. It is not a case of some of these books being of such a highbrow or technical nature that they are not read, as they are not, and would provide a great deal of interest to the reader.

It has been stated that many of the State College graduates never attain the same amount of respect in their communities that is accorded those who are graduated from other like institutions. One of the fundamental reasons for this condition may rest in the fact that in the undergraduate days of the State College student, he made no attempt to broaden himself, and was content with that knowledge which he derived from his textbooks and classrooms. Consequently, when he was graduated from this college and went to take his place alongside other graduates, he was at a loss to express himself and talk intelligently on the topics of the day. Kreisler meant nothing to him other than the name of a popular automobile. This question is not one to be passed up lightly, but one that should require the attention of every student on this campus.

One of the causes that might be offered as a failure of the library to attract students is that this is a technical institution, and that students here are not as interested in those things cultural as are those in the liberal arts schools. There is a great deal of truth in the statement, but a man that is taking or has taken a technical course will quite often find himself at a loss when various topics arise because he failed to take an interest in anything other than his particular line.

While in school, one of the best habits that a student can cultivate is that of extensive reading. If he ignores this while in school, the chances are that he will never have the desire to create a reading habit in his later life. The mind is comparable to the body. A person cannot live on food eaten twenty years ago, and likewise the brain will become starved unless it is constantly fed. In this ever-changing civilization ideas and facts learned years ago do not fit into the scheme of modern life.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a list of desirable books. Each week a new list will be obtained from some member of the Library Committee and published in the columns of this paper. The list will contain works by some of the foremost American and foreign authors.

It is the desire of the Library Committee that the students take advantage of the library facilities offered here for purposes other than required reading.—E. S. K.

A LOAN FUND

A feasible plan for a "Collegiate Loan Fund" has been advanced by H. E. York, senior in Agricultural Economics.

York suggests that the Government set aside a sum of money to be loaned to college students, and gives as what we find his best argument that students who take this loan could remain in school and therefore would be devoting their time profitably rather than joining the ranks of the unemployed—ultimately to receive aid from PWA and CWA funds.

With approximately 300 self-help students on the campus paying all or part of their expenses through odd jobs, the need for the aforementioned loan is self-explanatory.

A college education, which was at one time, and still is by many, considered a luxury, is now a necessity for those who wish to compete with other college graduates for decent employment after graduation. Thousands of students all over the country see the need, and their efforts are proof enough.

Now, while the Government is lending and giving large sums of money for the unemployed and for the purpose of placing additional sums into circulation to ward off radical inflationary measures, a preventive means of overcrowding the market with unemployed ex-college students through loans is of paramount importance.

Here is York's final suggestion: "If students who wish such aid would form an association on each of the college campuses and express their desires, the possibility of obtaining a loan fund could be hastily investigated by the self-help director or some other person interested in their welfare. Students who were compelled to obtain extension of credit in order to register for the winter-term might also be interested in such loans. Action for such a loan should be started at once."

FOR PUBLIC SAFETY

THE TECHNICIAN wishes to ask J. H. Brown, Commissioner of Public Safety what happened to Raleigh's old stop lights which were recently replaced by more modern ones. We also request that one or two of these old lights be placed at or near State College.

One of the arguments used against placing of lights on Hillsboro Street near the college in the past was that none were immediately at hand for that purpose and that the Commission did not wish to buy new ones. The safety of pedestrians when crossing our front-door race track demands that some sort of precautions be used by the city, if enforcement of the speed laws be as lax here as before. Blinker lights would be sufficient to slow down the fast moving traffic.

With the strict enforcement by the Highway Patrol of the law concerning the use of 1934 license plates after January 1, it would seem that in comparison, a move toward speed regulation within the capital city should not be ignored. It should be far more important to apprehend a reckless driver than it is to arrest a man because he cannot afford to buy his license plates during the spending season. The Highway Patrol seems more anxious to collect money than it has ever been to carry out regulations as to traffic on the highway.

Kindly show your interest in the public safety, Mr. Brown, by placing blinker lights on Hillsboro Street near State College.

PUBLICATION KEY

The decision of the Publications Board to award keys to eligible members of staffs of campus publications brings to a head promises made by some former editors and business managers, to be forgotten upon their leaving school, and will establish an incentive to work, for many. The intentions of the Board are that the key will only be given to those who by the grade of work they have done on the publication and by the length of time they have consistently stuck to it will be deserving.

On the staffs of these publications, THE TECHNICIAN, the Watauga, and the Agromech, there are many who are working with no form of remuneration in view. Many students have labored industriously, and when their turns came to run as candidates for editor or business manager, they were found to be ineligible for nomination. Such a set-back naturally causes some to lose interest in their work, while others, becoming attached to their publication, stick doggedly to their tasks. Others work with no particular desire whatever to run for a remunerative office, and do especially good work at their writing or ad selling, with no favorable recognition of their abilities. Some form of reward, whether large or small, was necessary for services rendered by these men.

GOOD WORK

The State College Debating team continued an enviable record in defeating the Bates College debaters before the annual convention of the National Association of Teachers of Speech and the team representing New York University in New York City recently.

The State team has definitely established for itself a national title for the second half of this school year, and should be recognized as the leading debate team in the country. The fact that the Bates College group which was defeated recently completed a tour of victory around the world, with the exception of a loss to a Hawaiian team, and is nationally recognized for its skill in verbal clashes, and that the State team has been invited for two successive years to appear before the National Association of Teachers of Speech gives it a reputation which will not easily be outdone.

Members of the team and coach alike should be congratulated upon their good work.

With the advent of Hunk Anderson to the State College campus, the improvements being made now to Riddick Field, the announcement that the Southern Conference basketball tournament will be held in Raleigh, the grant of $14,000 for the completion of the present stadium project and the rumor that the entire projected horseshoe may be completed in the near future, things are looking up for athletics at State. We want to extend wishes for the best of luck, Hunk Anderson. If you live up to the average State College student's expectations, we'll land in Pasadena next fall.

HERE AND THERE

By G. W. FORD

Good old 1934 is here at last and it looks as though we have found that corner . . . you know, the one behind which our long lost friend, Prosperity, was hiding. Look at Riddick Field being all dressed up in a hundred and twenty yards of new turf. If they haven't given it a prosperous look they've surely taken the depression out of it and that's somethin'.

And speaking of prosperity, what this state needs to completely bring back good times in a repeal of the state prohibition law. Up in New York during these past holidays business was just humming and they were lined three deep at the counters in the liquor dispensaries. And the best part of it was that in the whole three weeks up there I saw only one drunk person in the streets . . . we see more than that around here. Well, the Chinese built the Great Wall and look where they are today. But there is a "Curse of Liquor" . . . paying for it.

It seems that a certain Dav's fellow, if I told you that his full name is Shipp Davis he might get sore, but anyhow he has been "burning up the mails" lately. Uncle Sam ought to print books of up-side-down stamps for fellows suffering from this ailment.

We've coined a new expression lately to take the place of the old "Damon and Pythias" . . . it's "Bill Peck and His Leather Coat."

The new season for petitions has opened. Petitions like—other things, may be put into several classes. Some show a worthy cause, others just show off, and still others show the ignorance of those who originate them.

T. J. Raber, regimental adjutant, foresees the need of spurs for the Regimental Staff of the R. O. T. C. He says that they'll need something to keep their heels from sliding off the desk in the staff room.

I hear that Miss Nancy Steele has given up eating fruit in her office this year. She's probably practicing penmanship in her spare time . . . who knows?

The K. A.'s are leaving their house on Clark Avenue to take up new quarters on Maiden Lane. They most likely have good reasons. You know, the window shades in that house are not as good as they might be. I was passing there last Saturday night and I noticed . . . but that's a long story and we'll have to save it until later.

Someone tells us that Hazel Beacham received six bottles of perfume as Christmas presents from college boys. I don't know what to say about this. . . I wish that I could remember that advertisement I read once . . . it started with something like: "Even Your Best Friend. . ."

We all enjoyed ourselves coming back on the train but it seems that Collin Kerr and Jimmy Blair "brought home the bacon." All of their friends called around the next day and they had bacon and X . . . X being the unknown.

ARTICLES TRANSLATED BY LANGUAGE STUDENTS

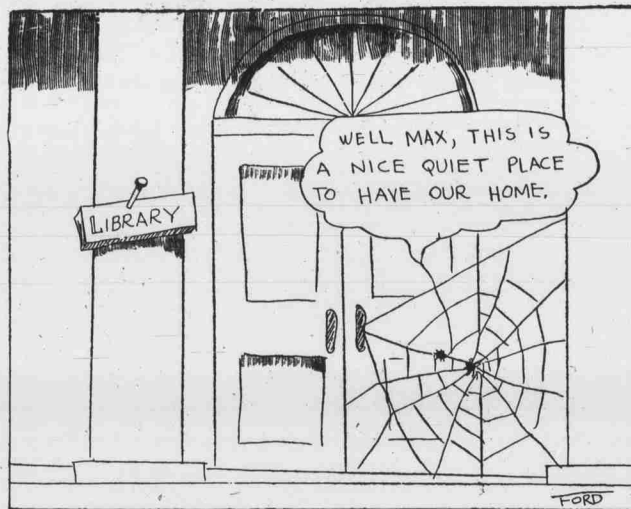

Dr. L. E. Hinkle, professor of modern languages at N. C. State College, has just announced the release of a list of 27 scientific articles in German and French translated by his students under his direction. These articles have been bound and catalogued and are available at the State College Library.

Students of Dr. Hinkle's course in advanced scientific German and French are required to complete a satisfactory translation of an acceptable scientific article in their own field of major interest in addition to the regular class work.

COLLEGE SECURES ADDITIONAL LOAN

PWA Loan of $14,300 to be Used To Construct Eighth Section of Stadium

An additional $14,300 loan from the Public Works Administration will enable State College to increase the east stadium capacity from 6,700 to 7,500. With the old stands on the west side of Riddick Field the total capacity will be about 12,000.

The new loan, which was secured with the aid of Prof. T. S. Johnson, will be used to erect the eighth section of the new east stadium and make other improvements as was originally planned. The total amount of the first loan asked was not granted, only $40,000 being secured. In addition to the new section, a wall will be erected around the north end of the field, and entrance gates and fences constructed.

The ultimate aim of the project is to secure enough funds to build the stadium into the shape of a horseshoe. If further negotiations for additional loans are completed, the old west stands, which accommodate about 4,500 spectators, will be removed and a section similar to that on the east side of the field built. After the new west section is completed, then plans will be gone over which call for the building of a field house and further sections to the stadium to form a horseshoe shape. The entire program may not be finished any time soon, but officials have received much encouragement by the progress made on the project so far.

Coupons Out

W. G. Enloe, manager of the State, Palace, and Capitol Theatres, announces that it will be impossible to continue the discount coupons heretofore published in THE TECHNICIAN. It is explained that the reason for this is due to the three theatres signing the Moving Picture Theatre Code which was approved and signed by President Roosevelt in Warm Springs, Georgia, last December. The code specifically prohibits any theatre reducing its advertised or regular admission price by giving rebates in the form of lotteries, prizes, reduced scrip books, coupons, throw-away tickets, or by two-for-one admissions, or by other methods or devices of similar nature which directly or indirectly lower or tend to lower such announced admission prices and which are unfair to competing exhibitors.

The manager of the three Raleigh theatres regrets that it is necessary to discontinue the coupons and stated that he wishes to thank the students for the splendid patronage they have received in the past and sincerely wishes that this patronage will be continued.

New Library Employee Mrs. Reba Davis Clevenger of Raleigh has been secured to take the place of Miss Emily Cheek, assistant State College librarian, who resigned during the Christmas holidays.

Terrors to Meet Davidson In Second Big Five Match

State Team to Find Greatest Competition Tonight in Harris and Ross

DAVIDSON TEAM LOSES TO CAROLINA AND DUKE

Game at Davidson is Only Big Five Engagement for Remainder of Week

The Red Terrors basketball team of State College will meet Davidson College tonight at Davidson. The game will be the third on the State College schedule.

In its first two games State was the victor. Although Davidson has been beaten this season by Carolina and Duke, the State quintet is expecting a tough battle. Carolina won 33-23 and Duke was pushed to gain a 40-35 victory over the Davidsonians.

Captain Harris, forward, and Ross, center, were the stars in Davidson's two Big Five games. Ross led his team in scoring in both tilts, sinking eight points against the Tar Heels and 11 against the Blue Devils.

Although winning over Clemson and Wake Forest, State still needs experience. Against the Deacons the Red Terrors were especially weak at passing and their execution of plays was off.

However, the work of Capt. Bob McQuage and Ray Rex, guards; Stuart Flythe, sophomore center; and Woodrow Lambeth, diminutive junior reserve forward, has been brilliant.

The State-Davidson game is the only Big Five engagement scheduled for the remainder of the week.

GOLF TEAM TO ENGAGE CAROLINA PINES TEAM

N. C. State golf team will meet the Carolina Pines team on Saturday, January 20. The meet will be the second for the State team. The first time the State golfers defeated the Raleigh Golf Association by a margin.

Other matches are being booked for the team in the near future. Captain Pat Pastore announced yesterday that there are several men still needed to make a well-rounded team. Any one interested should report to Captain Venable, golf coach, in Holiday Hall.

Gym Statistics

The tabulation of grades made in physical education classes for the first term indicates that any complaint that the requirements are too hard is unjustified.

According to the physical education department, of the 754 students who are registered for physical education classes, 301, or more than 40 per cent, made A's on the course. 201 made B's, 117 C's, and 52 D's were given. Only 24 students failed the course, and 59 were absent from examination. Thus over two-thirds of the students made either A's or B's on the course.

TERRORS DEFEAT CLEMSON TIGERS

State Basketball Team Also Take Win Over Wake Forest Quintet Tuesday

State College's 1934 Red Terrors started off in a winning streak by setting down their first two opponents of the season. In the first game last Friday night State took a 32-27 decision over Clemson College. On Tuesday the Terrors scored 27-19 over the Wake Forest Deacons.

Doc Sermon, coach of the Terrors, described his team earlier in the season as green and inexperienced. Only three men with previous varsity experience are on the squad. They are: Ray Rex and Capt. Bob McQuage, guards, and Leroy Jay, a forward.

Now that the Terrors have been under fire and have stood the initial tests, Coach Sermon plans to work the squad in long practices to improve the sophomore material. The most promising sophomores are: Stuart Flythe and Milan Zori, a 6 ft. 7 in. man, centers, and Charlie Aycock, a flashy forward.

Predictions were for a poor season for the State team. But with two games already in the bag, it would not be erroneous to say that the team should make a fair showing in the conference.

Clemson College Game Coach Sermon's cagers were outplayed by Clemson in the first half and were slow in getting started, but they found themselves in the second half to make goals a regular occurrence. With the count 16-15 in favor of Clemson at half time, the Terrors scored 21 points in the second half.

Jay and Rex were the outstanding players for the Terrors. Simmons was the only consistent scorer for Clemson.

So closely did each player keep his opponent covered that 12 minutes of the first half play found the score knotted at 5-5 and the first half saw but 19 points tallied, the Terrors leading 12-7 at the rest intermission.

RALEIGH CHOSEN FOR S. C. TOURNEY

City to Have Southern Conference Basketball Meet for Second Year

The Southern Conference Basketball Tournament will be held for the second consecutive year in the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium, March 1, 2, 3, according to announcements made by the tournament committee. Richmond, Virginia, was considered as a possible location for the tournament but was ruled out due to the successful conduct of the tournament in Raleigh last year.

A look at the calendar will show these dates to be Thursday, Friday and Saturday, which is an innovation in basketball tournaments in Dixie. In other years the tournaments, whether for three or four days, have been scheduled to produce the title game on Monday night. Objection by coaches and players to the Sunday lay-off resulted in the decision to change. It was explained by Dr. Ray R. Sermon of State College, chairman of the conference's tournament committee.

The Raleigh Junior Chamber of Commerce, which secured the 1933 tournament, will again name committees to arrange for various phases of conducting the tournament and entertaining players and coaches. The committee probably will be named at a Chamber meeting to be held January 16.

Last season's tournament—the first since the conference was changed to a ten-member group by secession of the 13 schools making up the Southeastern Conference—was a distinct success. In addition to providing funds to meet all expenses, there was a surplus of $1,500 as a nucleus for staging the 1934 event.

The tournament is held at the close of the basketball season each year to determine the basketball championship. Last year, the crack quintet of the University of South Carolina took top honors in the meet by defeating Duke University in the finals.

S. P. E. WINS FRAT TITLE IN HORSESHOE TOURNAY

Sigma Nu Places Second and Alpha Lambda Tau Takes Third Place in Meet

The Sigma Phi Epsilon horseshoe team won the championship of the fraternity section in intramural horseshoes after a tough tussle with the Sigma Nus.

The Sigma Nus were ahead 2-0, when the S. P. E.'s came from behind to win the last three games and the match 3-2. After this match, the S. P. E.'s were able to dispose of the A. L. T.'s with comparative ease 3-0.

The S. P. E. team is composed of Rudy Bolling of Winston-Salem, and Harris Caldwell of Concord. Both these men are stellar players. Johnny Miller, director of intramural activities, said that Bolling practiced steadily, and that the Twin City player's barnyard pitching had improved remarkably.

Other teams had experienced pitchers, chief among which was Henry Falls of Fallston, crack player for the Sigma Nus's team.

The finals in horseshoes were characterized by an unusual situation. The first time the finals were played, they ended in a deadlock, each team of the three winning from another. The second time the tie was broken, with the E. P. E.'s winning, the Sigma Nus runner-up, and the A. L. T.'s in the third place. These three teams had each reached the finals in their section before the playoff.

By BROCK SISELL
Regardless of whether State College has a winning football team next fall, State officials will be assured of a drawing card in the person of "Hunk" Anderson. "Hunk" is a notable figure in the football world and there won't be many people refusing to pay the price to see Coach Anderson's Wolfpack on the field.

Hunk must have studied the past records of former coaches at State before insisting on a three year coaching contract. With State officials hiring and firing coaches at will, Hunk did right by binding the college to a long term contract. Just wait until the end of three years and if Hunk still holds up good, he truly is a great man.

Someone ought to remind Coach

Anderson against the "friendly" advice which David Clark, alumnus of Charlotte, always has been ready to give out to the coaches and football players of State in the past. Athletics at State would be far better off if Clark would run his own business in Charlotte and let alone trying to interfere with the college affairs.

Much has been said about Hunk but Ye Columbian is for him through thick or thin—and he gets this columnist's sympathy if things don't work out right.

Smoker

The Monogram Club of State College will give a smoker in honor of Coach "Hunk" Anderson Thursday, January 19, at 7:30. Members of the Athletic Committee, Athletic Council, and all members of the college faculty are invited to attend. The purpose of the meeting is to get acquainted with Coach Anderson and to gain a better understanding between student and administrative groups.

MILLER RELEASES SPORTS SCHEDULE

Fifteen Frat Teams and Ten Dorm Teams Entered in Winter Sports Program

The schedule of winter intramural sports has been completed by Johnny Miller, State's director of intramural activities. Miller seemed well satisfied by the enthusiasm shown thus far by the management of the various teams, and by the number of teams entered. Present plans call for three leagues in basketball and handball, the winter sports. There will be fifteen teams entered in the fraternity league, and these will be divided into three sections. The dormitory league has ten teams entered in two sections. There will be an innovation in an "independent league" of five teams. These five teams are entered by the Mechanical Engineers, the Chemical Engineers, the Ag Club, the Forestry Club, and the Demolays.

Miller's future plans call also for an intramural boxing meet. The schedule of sports calls for all basketball and handball games to be played in the gym between the hours of 6:45 and 8 o'clock. These hours were made necessary by the fact that at most other hours of the day, the gym is being used by regular college teams practicing.

If interest in intramurals continues as keen as it has been during the fall term, then the winter season should be an unqualified success.

The fall term sports in intramurals have practically come to an end with the finals reached in horseshoe and football in both the fraternity and dormitory sections. A fraternity swimming meet was also held, and this was won by the K. A.'s.

The second floor of 1911 won the dormitory football championship, by defeating in a hotly contested game, the first floor of South. The fraternity football finals are being played this week and the winner will come from the Sigma Nus, the S. P. E.'s, or the Delta Sig's.

FROSH BASKETBALL TEAM WINS TWO ENGAGEMENTS

The State frosh basketball team, coached by Bob Warren, has an unblemished record of two wins for the two engagements played.

In the first game the Techlet Terrors led by Chase, a fast-playing forward, defeated the National Biscuit Company of Raleigh 24-19. The Wake Forest freshmen were the second victims to fall before the Little Terrors. The score was 24-17. Chase, Gerlock, and Womble were high scorers in this game.

Dunaway Lost
Bill Dunaway, colorful ringster for State College's boxing team, will be lost to the team for the coming season due to a ruling made by the State faculty council. The council stated that Dunaway had failed to pass sufficient work and had "cut" too many classes to be allowed to register for the winter term's work. Dunaway was State College's boxing captain and Southern Conference junior middleweight champion.

Luckies

Reach you fully packed

THE TOBACCO DOES NOT SPILL OUT

Good tobaccos... real good tobaccos... that's the reason for Lucky Strike's fine, smooth quality. We use only the center leaves of the finest Turkish and domestic tobacco plants. Not the top leaves—because those are underdeveloped. Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. We use only the center leaves—because these are the mildest leaves—fully ripe for perfect smoking. Only these choice tobaccos are used to make Luckies—so round, so firm, so fully packed—and no loose ends to spill out. That's why Luckies are always mild and smooth. That's why always "Luckies please". And don't forget—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.
