FRESHMAN CLASS TO ENGAGE SOPHS IN "BAG BATTLE"

Proposed Fight Between Two
Classes To Be Held Near Ag
Hill on May 5

GROUP MAKES DECISION AFTER HECTIC SESSION

Committee to Take Plan to Dean
E. L. Cloyd for Approval; Class
Officers State That Fight Is Being Held to Promote a Better
School Spirit; Committee Composed of Twelve Men From Two Classes; W. N. Hicks and Romeo
LeForte Advise

The proposed Fresh-Soph Rush will take the form of a "bag" fight on the top up field close by "Ag" Hill at 2:30, on Saturday afternoon, May 5. This decision was finally reached by the Fresh-Soph Rush Committee at a meeting held in Peele Hall last Tuesday evening. This committee is made up of twelve men in all. Representing the sophomore class are Harry Keck, chairman, "Joe" Canady, vice president of sophomore class; Charley Lynch, Bob Setz, and Charley Stott. Those representing the freshman class are Carroll Conrad, chairman; Amil J. Gerlock, president; Bill Weltman, "Bunny" Underhill, W. T. Gill, Dick Thompson, and M. Dalrymple.

While all the details have not been completed, the general plan of action has been clearly mapped out. An odd number of stuffed sacks will be placed on some sort of supports in the middle of the field. These sacks will be heavy enough to require at least two or three men to handle them and will be placed in supports so the obtaining of them will be made difficult. The two classes will then be divided into two groups each. While a definite side of the field will be designated to each class as their goal, half the trash and half the sops will be placed at one end of the field and the other two halves at the opposite end. This is to make the rush for the bags a more fair and even affair.

At a signal all contestants rush for the "bags" and the battle begins. The class which has the majority of the "bags" over their assigned goal line at the end of the announced time limit, will be declared the victor. To make the battle more interesting and hazardous, the committee has planned to play several five-hoses over the line of "bags" in the middle of the field. One of these hoses is seen to be close to either goal line, at least one hose is sure to turn in that direction as an aid to all concerned. The idea that a quantity of flour would be an added handicap, and would be enjoyed by the contestants was also approved by the committee.

The committee encountered many difficulties at the meeting. Their first job was to find a suitable event, and this required a great deal of time. At least ten different kinds of events were suggested by the various members of the committee, and each of these had to be discussed in full and the best one picked out. Carroll Conrad, chairman of the Freshman committee, suggested the "flour" fight used in so many of the Northern colleges, while Romeo LeForte, who was asked to act with W. N. "Red" Hicks as advisers, explained the "water battle" as used here in earlier years. Bill Weltman suggested the "tug-of-war," but this was decided as impossible since no suitable field could be found on which it could be held. The "flag pole rally," and "push-ball scramble" were also vetoed as being either impracticable or too expensive. Several other suggestions, including the "bag fight," were made and discussed.

In the process of elimination a showdown was reached between the "water fight" and the "bag battle." The committee being exactly divided as to opinion. After troublesome points were straightened out, the final vote was unanimously in favor of the "bag battle."

Following this was a discussion as to the time and place of the fight.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS NAME ROGERS PRESIDENT

The State College student chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at a meeting Tuesday night elected C. N. Rogers president for 1934-35.

Other officers elected were: H. P. Cotton, vice president; Joe Abernethy, secretary-treasurer; Bill Price, Engineers Council member; and J. A. McBrayer, Jr., alternate member to the Council. The president, Rogers, automatically becomes a Council member.

EUGENE KNIGHT

CHARLES TURLINGTON

In the race for editorship of THE TECHNICIAN, Knight polled a large majority over his opponent. Turlington was unopposed as business manager of the paper. The new heads take over the paper with this issue.

LITERARY BOARD DISCUSSES COSTS

Hardison Tells of Increased
Costs in Printing State
College Publications

By E. J. LASSEN
J. H. Hardison, vice president and manager of Edwards and Broughton Company, publishers of several of the State College publications, told the Literary Board of a raise in printing costs brought on by the NRA rulings governing printers at a meeting of the group held in Ricks Hall yesterday afternoon.

The Board was told that THE TECHNICIAN would be the one affected to the greatest degree by the cost rulings, beginning the next school year. He stated that competition between printing companies in getting contracts for publications will be practically done away with, since a uniform price scale has been necessitated by the rulings. Hardison suggested that a pool of publications and other such literature on the campus be made, to an amount of over $5,000, and contracts be given in a lump to one printing company, for this would mean a large saving for individual publications, since above the sum mentioned, the Franklin Price List, which now regulates prices on contracts between $500 and $5,000 would not be in effect. The Franklin Price List would make practically impossible the publication of respective blades on the campus, as the costs imposed would be too high.

It was decided to consider Hardison's suggestion, and to study the price situation of the publications.

The Agroneck, State College annual, will not be seriously affected by the NRA price list. Edwards and Broughton Company also publish The Watanagan, the Agriculturist, the Pi-Ne-Tum, forestry annual, and several other State College publications. E. J. Lowrance, business manager of The Watanagan, reported on a study made of the possibilities of combining the magazine with the Agriculturist and the Southern Engineer. The plan is not feasible, according to Lowrance, for the circulation of the magazine would have to be increased three fold, to take in outside subscribers to the Agriculturist, and besides, neither the Ag Club nor the Engineers' Council are in favor of the combination. He also said that there would be no incentive to work on the magazine, because it would not give editors of the various departments in it the honor and the salary that would be expected in the holding of an office on such a magazine.

The Board discussed the vote of the (Please turn to page three)

"Dirty Politics"

During the past few days, much trouble has been encountered in the Forestry School over the selection of officers for the coming year.

Two distinct factions have been fighting each other to name officers of the club, and one of the most spirited campaigns seen on the campus has ensued. Officers down to the sergeant-at-arms have been fought over. It seems that one of the factions was organized recently to fight the other because it scented evidences of alleged "dirty politicking."

The outcome of the election was settled last night, but the losers will still continue to talk of the "dirty politics" of the other side.

CIVIL ENGINEERS MEET NEXT WEEK

Prof. C. L. Mann, State, Will Preside at Meeting to Be Held at Pinehurst

The annual meeting of the North Carolina Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers will be held at Pinehurst Saturday, April 28, Prof. C. L. Mann, of State College, president of the Section announced yesterday.

The meetings will be held in the Carolina Hotel and the morning session will be devoted to the reading of technical papers. Professor Harry Tucker, director of State College Engineering Experiment Station, will present the paper, "Engineers' Part in Prevention of Motor Vehicle Accidents."

A luncheon will be held at the Hotel at which time Professor T. S. Johnson, professor of Industry at State College, will act as toastmaster and William Chevalier, formerly publishing director of the Engineers News Record will be the after-dinner speaker.

At the afternoon meeting papers on the American Engineering Council will be given by Frederick M. Feiker, executive secretary, and E. P. Coles, president of the North Carolina Division of the Society.

Most of the afternoon will be devoted to the Students Activities Conference which will be presided over by Professor T. S. Hickerson of Chapel Hill, and assisted by Frederick McDonald, Atlanta, Georgia, who is district director of the Society. Student members of the societies from Chapel Hill, Duke University, and State College will attend. Over 25 delegates from State College, headed by William New, Waynesville, president of the student chapter, are expected to attend.

GRAHAM STRESSES NEED OF CURRICULUM CHANGES

Says North Carolina Public School
System Passing Through Transition Stage

Declaring that a revision is necessary in the existing curriculum in order to comply with the new requirements of this era, Dr. Frank Graham, president of the Greater University, spoke to 300 delegates at the fifteenth annual convention of the North Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers in Durham Tuesday night.

The reason for this revision, he declared, is that the public school system of the state is passing through a great historical transition. He also issued a warning against "complacency" and stated that the State of North Carolina is "robbing the personality of the teachers and cheating the children of the state by reason of its drastic curtailment measures enacted during the present legislative regarding the public education system."

Miss Gantt Winner
Miss Elizabeth Gantt's name was omitted through error in last week's issue of THE TECHNICIAN as winner of the Sigma Pi Alpha Language Award at the Scholarship Day exercises.

COLLEGE WOMEN WILL HAVE PART IN TEXTILE FAIR

One Hundred and Three Young Ladies to Model Dresses at Annual Exposition

ENTIRE TEXTILE SCHOOL TO BE OPEN TO VISITORS

Eastern Carolina Section of Southern Textile Association to Hold Semi-annual Meeting Thursday Morning at College; College Girls to Model Dresses at 2 p.m.; Textile Building to be Opened at 4 p.m.; Large Crowd Expected for Fair

The 1934 Textile Exposition and Style Show which will be held here on April 26 will be the largest style show and the best exposition ever conducted by the textile students of this institution, judging by the extensive preparations which they are making for this annual event, according to Thomas Nelson, dean of the school. On Thursday morning the Eastern Carolina Section of the Southern Textile Association will hold its semi-annual meeting in the Textile Building to discuss problems of interest to manufacturers. It is expected that many mill officials who attend this meeting will bring their families with them and remain over for the other events of the day.

At 2 p.m. one hundred and three young ladies representing the home economics departments of Meredith College, Peace Junior College, Catawba College, Elon College, Louisburg College, Flora Macdonald College, Queens-Chicora College, St. Mary's and the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, will model a variety of costumes which they have made as a part of their classwork from fabrics designed and woven in the Textile School by State College students. Valuable prizes contributed by North Carolina manufacturers and the merchants of Raleigh will be awarded to the young ladies whose garments are adjudged the best.

At 4 p.m. the Textile Building will be opened to the public, and students will demonstrate many of the processes involved in the manufacture of fabrics and hosiery. In the carding and spinning department, on the upper floor, visitors will see cotton taken from the bale and transformed through succeeding processes into fine and fancy yarns. In the knitting department, on the same floor, knitting machines will be in operation and the manufacture of fancy hose will be demonstrated.

On the main floor looms weaving floral effects, woven pictures, marquisettes and fancy leno curtain goods, suitings, sports goods, dress goods, towels, narrow ribbons, ginghams, and wide sheeting will be in operation. Many fancy rayon and cotton fabrics, designed and woven by Textile students, artistic examples of spray printing, half hose, fancy yarns, and other products of student work will be on display in the exhibition room. On the lower floor the dyeing department will demonstrate the bleaching and dyeing of rayon and cotton yarns and the spray printing of fabrics.

The research laboratories which are equipped for test work on fibers, yarns, fabrics, dyes, textile chemicals and oils, will also be open for inspection. The exposition and show will be free and an invitation has been extended to the public to attend.

NEW MAGAZINE APPEARS ON CAMPUS THIS WEEK

Forestry Students Dedicate First
"Pi-Ne-Tum" Issue to Dr.
J. V. Hofmann

The first edition of Pi-Ne-Tum, a journal of forestry to be published annually by forestry students at State College, made its appearance on the campus Wednesday.

The journal will appear once each school year. The first edition is dedicated to Dr. J. V. Hofmann, who founded the Forestry School at State in 1929. Many pictures of North Carolina's scenic spots are contained in the journal along with individual pictures of members of this year's senior class in forestry. There also are numerous interesting forestry articles written by students, graduates, and members of the forestry faculty. Several nature poems are also included. R. H. Page, Jr., Charlotte, is editor of the journal and B. H. Corpening, Lenoir, is business manager.

THIRTEEN BALLOTS DECIDE ELECTION OF DARK HORSE FOR STUDENT BODY LEADER

President and Vice-President

MARSHALL GARDNER CLAUDE CARROW

In the final elections held Tuesday Gardner won the election for president of the State College Student Government by a scant margin of thirteen votes. Carrow automatically becomes vice president. Gardner ran in the primary as an independent candidate and polled a larger vote than any of the other five candidates.

GRAHAM TO TALK AT STATE FINALS

Large Number of Seniors Being Graduated Prevents Long
Speech at Exercises

The final program of North Carolina State College's Forty-second Annual Commencement exercises was announced here yesterday by Dr. T. P. Harrison of the English department, who is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

The exercises will be held through two days and three nights, beginning Saturday evening, June 10, and closing Monday evening with the graduation ceremonies. Dr. Harrison announced that due to the lack of time and the large number of graduating seniors that there would be no formal commencement address but instead short informal talks would be given by Dr. Frank Graham, president of the Greater University, and Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of State College.

The graduation exercises will probably be held out of doors again this spring and will begin at twilight. The plan of holding the ceremonies out-of-doors was begun in 1932 and met with the instant approval of the graduating class and those in attendance.

Saturday's program will begin in the evening with the announcement of honors and the awarding of medals and prizes to those receiving them. Senior orations will also be held in Pullen Hall.

The Baccalaureate sermon will be given Sunday night at 8:30 in Pullen Hall by Bishop Edwin Anderson Penick of Raleigh.

The alumni will meet Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The Board of Trustees are also scheduled to meet Monday morning. At twilight Monday the three-day program will be brought to a close with the presentation of diplomas to the seniors of the Class of '34.

DUKE PRESENTS PLAY AT STATE WEDNESDAY

The Student Volunteer Movement of Duke University presented "Ordered South," a three-act play, in the N. C. State College Y. M. C. A. auditorium Wednesday evening, April 18.

The drama, which was produced under the direction of James H. Phillips, Jr., included four men and two women and has been successfully presented before a number of audiences. W. J. Noble is author of the play. This was the third play presented by this group of State College audiences in the past three years. Last year "The Color Line" was given and the year before, "Be Thane." No admission was charged, but a silver offering for work of Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions was taken.

Marshall Gardner Polls 436 Votes
To Lead Claude Carrow For Student Government
President

KNIGHT TAKES ELECTION FOR TECHNICIAN EDITOR BY SWEEPING MAJORITY

Bill Aycock Wins Election of Secretary of Student Body; Seitz Becomes Treasurer; Sullivan Wins Editorship of Watanagan; Martin Takes Business Management of Magazine by Close Vote; Cotton Receives Largest Number of Votes for Y. M. C. A. President; Williams Becomes Vice President; Herlocker Voted Secretary of "Y"; Greenwood to Head Interfraternity Council; McQuage Wins Alumni Cup

In one of the closest sets of elections seen at State College in years, Marshall Gardner of Greensboro polled thirteen more votes than Claude Carrow of Kinston for president of the State College Student Government. Gardner received 436 votes, and Carrow received 423.

Gardner ran as an independent candidate for the position in the primary elections and led the field of six candidates. Carrow being second. Carrow automatically becomes vice president.

W. B. Aycock, Selma, with 447 votes won the position of secretary of the student body over R. W. Seitz, Camp Hill, Pa., who received 401 votes to become treasurer.

In the race for the editorship of THE TECHNICIAN Eugene Knight of Goldsboro staged a landslide over Brock Sissell of Winston-Salem for the post. The final returns gave Knight 622 votes and Sissell 191. This was the only election in which there was a great difference in the number of votes. Charles Turlington of Fayetteville was unopposed as business manager of the newspaper.

The selection of an editor of the Watanagan was the closest race of the day. Bill Sullivan of Greensboro polled only six more votes than his opponent, Oscar Irgens. Sullivan received 420 votes and Irgens polled 414. Irgens got into the race on the day before the election after petitioning the Faculty Council for permission to run. He had been refused permission to run by the Publications Board.

In another close vote Larry Martin of Nyacks, N. Y. polled only 25 more votes than Colin Kerr of Lawrence, Mass., for business manager of the magazine.

H. P. Cotton of Red Springs, received 442 votes for the presidency of the Y. M. C. A. to take the election while his opponent, Carter Williams of Greensboro received 367. Williams automatically becomes vice president of the "Y." V. C. Herlocker, Albemarle, polling 416 votes, won the position of secretary of the Y. M. C. A. over N. B. Dozier, Rocky Mount, who received 364 votes. Marion Gatlin, Raeford, was unopposed for treasurer of the "Y."

Bob McQuage, Salisbury, prominent in athletics at State College for four years, received 516 votes to win the Alumni Athletic Trophy given annually to the athlete doing the most good for the college. His opponent, W. B. Buchanan, Louisville, Ky., received 338 votes.

The Interfraternity Council, composed of members of fourteen Greek letter fraternities on the campus, elected Walter Frank Greenwood, Rocky Mount president. Greenwood is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, C. W. Eldridge, Charlotte, a member of Theta Kappa Nu fraternity, was elected vice president.

The incoming officers of the Student Council will be installed today at the Freshman Assembly. A prominent Raleigh man will be secured as speaker for the occasion.

CERAMIC SOCIETY GROUP TO MEET IN ASHEVILLE

Hundreds of ceramic and electrochemical engineers from all over the country are expected to attend the national joint meeting of the American Ceramic Society and the Electrochemical Society to be held in Asheville on April 26, 27, and 28.

Professor A. F. Greaves-Walker, head of the department of Ceramic Engineering at State College, is in charge of the arrangements for entertaining the visitors.

Wanted

Two ladies in Bridgeport, Connecticut would have a much clearer conscience if they could locate two students here, so they could declare in a letter addressed here.

The writers state that they had car trouble and that two students from the State University who addressed each other as Ranny and Ace went to get aid for them. While the students were gone, the ladies got the car from the ditch before the boys came back. They have asked that they be added in locating the students so that they might repay them for their trouble. If the students are here, a letter awaits them in the Dean's office. The letter was addressed to the State University. It is not known whether they meant State College or the Chapel Hill division of the University.

State Regiment to Parade In Annual Review Monday

Col. H. G. Davids to Inspect First Spring Dress Parade of R. O. T. C. Corps

UNIT TO HONOR NELSON AT PARADE ON APRIL 6

Large Number of Raleigh People Attend Parades of Regiment Each Year

The State College R. O. T. C. regiment will inaugurate a series of spring dress parades at noon Monday, April 23, when it parades for the annual review and inspection conducted by Colonel H. G. Davids, senior instructor of the North Carolina National Guards.

Colonel Davids' review of the Corps is part of the annual proficiency inspection. He will also make an inspection of classroom and drill field work while here. On the basis of his report will depend the rating the State College Corps will make this year. For the past nine years State has been awarded a grade of Excellent.

A second parade will be held either Thursday, April 16, or Monday, April 30. The parade will be in honor of Thomas Nelson, dean of the State College textile school, members of the textile faculty and textile students, and will be held in connection with the annual Textile and Style Show at the College Thursday, April 26. Additional parades will be held May 7, May 14, and May 24. The annual graduation parade will take place May 24. All of the parades will take place at noon on Red Field on the college campus.

Guests already invited to review the parades are Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, General Mannus McCloskey, commanding officer at Fort Bragg; Dr. Frank Graham, president of the Greater University of North Carolina; and Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of State College.

Large numbers of Raleigh people attend the parades each spring and Colonel Bruce Magruder, commandant of the State College regiment, states the public will be cordially invited to witness the parades this spring.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED FOR PRESS CONVENTION

State and Meredith to Act As Hosts to Delegates from North Carolina Schools

Arrangements for the annual spring press convention of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association have reached the final stages of completion. State College and Meredith College will act as joint hosts to the assembled delegates.

Representatives from most of the North Carolina schools having publications are expected to attend the meet. The convention will be held May 3, 4, and 5 at Carolina Pines, popular resort about three miles from Raleigh.

E. J. Lassen, past editor of THE TECHNICIAN, is chairman of the committee on arrangements; J. E. McIntyre, past business manager of THE TECHNICIAN is having charge of the entertainment; Miss Cornelia Atkins, business manager of THE TWIG, Meredith newspaper, is also on the entertainment committee; and Rawlings Poole, business manager of THE AGRICULTURIST, is in charge of transportation.

Among the speakers who have been secured are John Park, publisher of THE RALEIGH TIMES; Jonathan Daniels, editor of THE NEWS AND OBSERVER; and Dr. William McNeill Poteat.

Awards will be given the best newspapers, magazines, and annuals at the convention.

APRIL 26 PUBLICATION DISTRIBUTED ON CAMPUS

The April issue of the Agriculturist recently made its appearance on the campus.

The issue contains an article by C. L. Davis on "The Pender County Project" which describes the development created by the Federal Government to study conditions and bring about a greater degree of subsistence farming.

A. F. Hoffmann contributes "The Flower Garden" which gives a set of rules for growing flowers.

"With the Agricultural High Schools," a regular feature by Roy H. Thomas, and methods and value of meat curing by Thomas Sears complete the features of the magazine.

DIRECTOR PLANS MUSIC PROGRAM

Annual Spring Band Concerts Will Begin During Last Week of April

Major C. D. Kutschinski, director of music at State College, has outlined an extensive music program this spring for the music organizations on the campus. The practice of giving spring band concerts on the campus, instituted by the late Major P. W. "Dad" Price, will be continued says Kutschinski. The first of this spring's concerts will probably be held the last Sunday in April, the weather permitting. During the fifteenth annual Textile School Fair to be held the latter part of April, the State College orchestra will play for the Fashion Show to be held in Pullen Hall.

When asked what he had planned for the observance of National Music Week, May 6-13, Major Kutschinski announced that he was planning to cooperate with this nation-wide music observance by having all the college musical organizations participate in concerts. The group of college musical organizations includes the military band, the concert band, the jazz orchestra, the glee club, and the concert orchestra.

Through an invitation extended by Mrs. E. E. Randolph, a member of the Federation of Women's Clubs committee for the observance of National Music Week here in Raleigh, the State College glee club will join the glee clubs of Meredith, St. Mary's and Peace College in presenting a "songfest" in the Memorial Auditorium on Tuesday night, May 8. This presentation will be the local college contributions to the nation-wide observance. All during the week the various State College musical organizations will also participate in other programs both on the campus and off.

Major Kutschinski approves of the observance of National Music Week and says he hopes that the observance of National Music Week by students of colleges and schools in this vicinity will create an interest and further appreciation of music.

EDITOR ARRANGES STAFF FOR COMING SCHOOL YEAR

Students Interested in Trying Out for Positions on Paper Urged to Apply

With this issue of THE TECHNICIAN, a revision is made in the staff of the paper. Eugene Knight is editor-in-chief of the paper and has appointed Brock Sisell as managing editor. Charles Turlington is business manager.

J. W. Lamberson and H. B. Hines, Jr. are feature editors; R. W. Stephens, Jr. and Hal Morrison are assistant sports editors; G. W. Ford retains his old position of cartoonist and columnist; and reporters are C. A. Ryther, John Pendleton, Fred Gore, and C. M. Matthews.

Any student who is interested in writing for the paper, either straight news matter or sports will be given a try-out by applying at THE TECHNICIAN office in the basement of Holladay Hall Tuesday night, Wednesday afternoon and night, or Thursday afternoon.

Streets Almost Completed
Streets around 1911 Dormitory have almost reached completion. The appearance of the dormitory has been helped much by the new streets. Following an application of material to eliminate a great deal of the dust, the streets will be completed.

CHEMICAL GROUP NAMES NOMINEES FOR OFFICES

Election for Offices to be Held on Tuesday Evening At Called Meet

At its meeting Tuesday night the A. I. Ch. E. chemical society nominated candidates for next year's tenure of office. The society's constitution specifies that candidates must be nominated for office one week before election.

Candidates nominated are: president, D. P. Behney and L. I. Rankin; vice president, C. P. Gorman and F. C. Johnson; secretary, R. E. Bowen and T. F. Abernethy; treasurer, S. H. McKinnon; and recorder, C. C. Stapleton, Joe Canada and Bob Seitz.

Election will take place next Tuesday night at a called meeting.

Announcement was made of the semi-annual meeting of the Institute in New York on May 15, 16, and 17. Special arrangements for student members has been made.

A committee was appointed to work out the details of a social for the State College chapter to be given later on in the term. Serving on the committee are Dixon, Broadmeadows, and Doggett.

FINAL CO-ED ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD TODAY

Final elections for officers in the Women's Student Government at N. C. State College will be held today.

Candidates for president are Miss Mary Estelle Doyle, Raleigh, and Miss Christine Shepherd, Raleigh. The loser will be made vice president. For secretary, Miss Martha Smith, Raleigh, and Miss Eloise Gibbs, Columbia. The loser will be made treasurer.

Retiring Editor

E. J. LASSEN

Editor of THE TECHNICIAN for the past year, Lassen retired from office last week. The new staff takes over the policies of the paper with this week's issue.

A. S. M. E. Elections

The election of officers of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers for the academic year 1934-35, will be held Tuesday night at 7:00 in Page Hall. Following this announcement made Tuesday night at the weekly meeting of the society, the members discussed possible nominees for the offices.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS VISIT STATE TOMORROW

Livestock Judging and Public Speaking Contests Will Be Main Program

High schools from the eastern and northeastern sections of North Carolina will send representatives to the livestock judging and public speaking contest to be held at State College Saturday, April 21 under the sponsorship of the Division of Vocational Education, State Department of Public Instruction. About 73 schools are expected to participate.

The livestock judging contest in Polk Hall will be under the direction of R. H. Ruffner, R. E. Nance, E. H. Hostetler, and J. E. Foster, animal husbandry professors.

The District One public speaking contest will be held in Learner Society room in the College Y. M. C. A. at 9 a. m. and the District Two contest in the Pullen Society Room at 10 a. m. Judges will be Prof. W. N. Hicks, Prof. J. D. Clark, and Dr. J. G. Knapp, all of the college, and the contests will be supervised by E. N. Meekins, district supervisor of agricultural education, and J. H. Coggins, his assistant.

Play Try-Outs

Try-outs for the new Red Masquers play will be held next Wednesday and Thursday. All students wishing to try out for parts should see Prof. E. H. Paget in his office in Pullen Hall at that time. The class in dramatics will act as judges during the try-outs in determining the actors for the play.

DEBATER PLACES IN TOURNAMENT

Stokes Wins First Place in Interpretive Speaking Contest At Birmingham

Dwight Stokes again brought forth honors to State College Wednesday night by taking first place in Southern Championship Interpretive Speaking Contest held in Birmingham, Alabama.

This contest was a part of the debate tournament sponsored by the Southern Association for Teachers of Speech. This makes the eighth Southern championship won by the State orators in the past four tournaments.

At this tournament the State debate team will also compete for Southern honors in debating. The team is composed of R. L. Batts, Frank Busbee, and Dwight Stokes. H. D. Carpenter is representing State in the oratorical contest to be held by the association.

With this tournament State will close a highly successful debate season, having tied with Wake Forest for second place at the Tri-State Tournament at Greensboro and placing above 101 teams out of 118 in the National Pi Kappa Delta Tournament at Lexington, Kentucky.

The Experimental Theater will appear in the most important production of its history, when it presents a program of impromptu and extemporaneous plays before the Association to night. The Experimental Theater, which was organized during the fall term of this year has shown a decided progress in experimental dramatics. The work of the group is based on impromptu and extemporaneous plays, which were first produced by the club here at State College during the fall term. This work which originated at State College has brought considerable recognition to the dramatic organizations at State. The Experimental Theater has appeared in ten productions before dramatic clubs throughout the South. There are several more engagements booked for the club during the season.

The cast of the Experimental Theater is H. D. Carpenter, Frank Busbee, Prof. and Mrs. E. H. Paget, and Dwight Stokes.

"Y" TRAINING CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT COLLEGE

Session Begins Friday, April 26 And Closes Two Days Later On Sunday

The joint officer's training conference for Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. officers which is to be held at N. C. State College, will begin Friday evening, April 27 and will close Sunday at noon with a sermon by Rev. E. McNeill Potat at Pullen Memorial Church.

Miss Rosabelle Cook of Duke University is chairman of the conference. Other leaders are: Rev. J. F. Fletcher of St. Mary's; Harry Conner, secretary of the University of North Carolina; Y. M. C. A.; Claud Nelson who is the supervising secretary for all student Y. M. C. A. work in the ten Southern States; Miss Lucy Cherry Crisp, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at N. C. C. W. Among those colleges sending delegates are: Carolina, Duke, N. C. C. W., E. C. T. C., Guilford, Elon, Davidson, Greensboro College and other North Carolina schools.

"The purpose of the conference is to give the newly elected officers a more adequate idea of their duties and the opportunity that is theirs, to exchange ideas about programs, and to plan for a more effective Christian work in the Colleges in North Carolina," says E. S. King, secretary of the State College Y. M. C. A.

An effort is being made to get David R. Porter, executive secretary of the National Y. M. C. A., Student Division to address one session of the conference.

REGIMENT STAFF PLANS FOR GRADUATION SHOW

Will Consist of Wall-Scaling, Tent-Pitching, Rifle Drills, and Other Stunts

The student regimental staff of the State College military department made plans today at a meeting in Col. Bruce Magruder's office for a graduation exhibition to be given during the last week in May. Staff captains were appointed to take charge of the various "shows" to be put on, and a discussion was held on the possibilities of the permanent institution of the exhibition.

The demonstration, as planned, will consist of wall-scaling, tent-pitching, unique rifle drills, and other stunts, and will be given on Riddick field, before the public, as a night event. The Boy Scouts of Raleigh will be asked to take part in the spectacle. Students at Saint Mary's School have offered to take part; so a varied program is expected. The entire State College regiment will participate.

Cadet Captain Bob McQuague was appointed to take charge of the wall-scaling; Cadet Captain Thomas Raber will be in charge of tent pitching; Cadet Col. D. L. Bohannon will be in charge of a final parade demonstration; Cadet Captain W. P. Kanto, head of the Drum and Bugle Corps will be Master of Ceremonies. E. J. Lassen will handle publicity.

FRESHMAN CLASS TO ENGAGE SOPHS IN "BAG BATTLE"

(Continued from page one) to the time and place of the chosen event. Having decided these points the committee made a move to leave the completing of the details to a sub-committee consisting of three men from each class, to be appointed by the presidents of the respective classes. This was done because the committee thought that six men could handle the matter with less difficulty and trouble than could twelve. The members of the sub-committee are to be chosen during the week and will meet next Tuesday evening to complete the final arrangements for the "Soph-Frosh Battle." In the meantime, Amil J. Gerlock, president of the freshman class, and Joe Canady, vice president of the sophomore class, are to consult Dean Cloyd and get his permission to hold a Soph-Frosh Rush, and his approval of the "bag light" as the type of battle. They will report the result at the meeting of the sub-committee next Tuesday and will act with Romeo LePorte and W. N. Hicks as advisers.

The committee expressed the hope that this battle would not only be a huge success but would also become a treasured tradition of the college. If this is to come true, all members of both classes will have to cooperate fully. When asked to give the main purpose of the Soph-Frosh Rush, the reply was that the rush was being instituted mainly to improve and liven the school spirit.

BILL NEW TO MAKE TALK AT GREENSBORO SCHOOL

To Be One in Series of Talks Sponsored by Golden Chain, Senior Society

Bill New, president of the Engineers' Council will go to Greensboro today to make a talk before the high school students in that city as a means of establishing good-will between State College and high school students.

These talks which are being sponsored by Golden Chain, senior honorary society, are being made by different members of the society before high school audiences.

Letters have been written to various schools in the state asking whether or not they wished speakers from State College. Answers have been received from Charlotte, Durham, Greensboro, Rocky Mount, and Asheville asking that speakers be allowed to come. Golden Chain members will make these talks in the near future.

JUNIOR CLASS TO ELECT COLLEGE ANNUAL HEADS

Class Will Also Elect Senior Class Officers at Meeting Wednesday Noon

Elections for editor and business manager of The Agromeck, college annual, and for officers in the Senior Class will be held by the rising Senior Class in Pullen Hall Wednesday.

Hubert Todd is unopposed for editor of the annual, and J. H. Barnhardt and W. H. McCullen will run as candidates for business manager.

Unlike other publications, the heads of The Agromeck are not voted upon at the general elections but at a special meeting of only the Junior Class.

E. G. ROBERTS TO HEAD STATE FORESTRY CLUB

E. G. Roberts, Junior in Forestry, was elected president of the Forestry Club last night, at a meeting of the Club.

The other officers elected were: O. R. Douglas, vice president; C. M. Matthews, secretary; W. C. Aiken, treasurer; B. R. Koler, sergeant-at-arms; W. E. Boykin, editor of the annual; and H. F. Bishop, business manager. Chairman of the different committees elected were: R. H. Page, program; H. R. Bishop, rollo; T. B. Gardner, fair booth; L. K. Andrews, social; and E. S. Layton, athletic.

30 AND 3 ORDER TAKES IN SOPHS

Eleven Sophomores Taken Into Order at Freshman Assembly Friday Noon

Eleven sophomores were initiated into the Order of Thirty and Three at freshman assembly in Pullen Hall last Friday. Those initiated were Charles Turlington, George McCall, Seamond Hudson, Steve Sabol, "Chub" Womble, Bob Seitz, Joe Canady, Walter Pierce, T. M. Jenkins, Harris Keck, and Stephen Ward.

Bill Braswell opened the ceremony by giving a short talk on the purpose and founding of the Order. He explained that the class of 1933, in their sophomore year, decided that there was a great need on the campus for an organization which would promote the welfare of the college and bolster up school spirit. So the class got together and formed an organization with this purpose as its basis, calling that organization the Order of Thirty and Three. Each year this organization selects the eleven members of the Sophomore Class who they consider have shown the most interest and activity in the betterment of the college.

D. Locke Webb, president of Thirty and Three, acting as chairman for the initiation committee, read the names of the men chosen to be initiated into the Order. As he called the names, each of the eleven members of Thirty and Three present on the stage stepped down and escorted one of the new members up to the stage.

J. H. Barnhardt administered the oath to which the initiates swore to in unison. At the conclusion of this pledge each sponsor presented the man he carried to the stage with a white rose which he wore in his lapel. The white rose is the emblem and flower of the Order of Thirty and Three.

FORESTRY SENIORS LEAVE ON LONG TRIP TOMORROW

Trip to Take Foresters on 4,500 Mile Tour Through Southern Forests

A 4,500-mile inspection trip through the forests and parks of the South will complete the college education of twelve seniors in the School of Forestry at N. C. State College.

The group will leave tomorrow and will return to the campus June 6 in time for the graduation exercises. The purpose of the trip is to acquaint the students with forest conditions as found in general practice, especially in the fields of utilization of forest products and in logging and lumbering as found in the South.

The trip will include stop-overs for study in Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Tennessee. Those taking the trip are: W. J. Barker, Burlington; E. E. Chatfield, Peach Creek, West Virginia; B. H. Corpening, Lenoir; A. B. Crow, Pittsburgh, Pa.; F. A. Doerr, Massapequa, L. I., New York; L. B. Hairr, Faison; F. H. Hube, Wise, Va.; F. H. Ledbetter, Marion; D. C. Plaster, Winston-Salem; C. T. Prout, Owens, Md.; A. G. Shuart, Yorkville, and W. R. Smith, Charlotte. G. K. Slocum, Instructor in Forestry, will accompany the students.

Romeo LePorte, secretary to Dean Cloyd, is chairman of the committee on the constitution. Other members are: Bill Barker, retiring president of the student body, and Dave Morrah.

GAMMA SIGMA EPSILON ELECTS CLUB OFFICERS

The Gamma Sigma Epsilon, honorary chemical fraternity, met Monday night to elect officers and decide upon a program for the coming year.

L. J. Rankin was elected to the office of Grand Alchemist for 1935. Other officers elected to assist in carrying out next year's program are G. W. Hedgecock, recorder; R. A. Walker, visor; and C. C. Stapleford, sergeant-at-arms.

Business discussed included the taking in of new members. Prospective members will be tendered bids later in the term.

SABOL NAMED PRESIDENT OF ARCHITECTURAL CLUB

Sam Sabol was elected president of the Beaux Arts Society at a meeting of the group Tuesday night. This Beaux Arts is an architectural society.

Other officers elected were R. O. Peterson, vice president; J. M. Page, Jr., secretary-treasurer; and Wilmer Barnes, member to Engineers' Council. Sabol, being president, automatically becomes a Council member. H. P. McLawhorne, Jr., was named alternate Council member.

Announcements

Gamma Sigma Epsilon will meet Monday evening at 8:45. C. A. WILLIAMS, President.

Dean B. F. Brown will speak at an open meeting of the Delta Sigma Pi Tuesday evening, April 24 at 7:15. His subject will be "Social Planning for the Future." Everyone is cordially invited to attend. This will conclude the series of open meetings held by the fraternity.

The April edition of The Wataugan will be distributed about Monday. Watch for the dates of distribution on the Blue Key bulletin board. E. J. Lowrance, Business Manager.

Retiring President

BILL BARKER. President of the State College Student Government, who will retire from office today. He will be succeeded by Marshall Gardner, who was elected president Tuesday.

LITERARY BOARD DISCUSSES COSTS

Faculty Council, which overruled a motion passed by the Publications Board, allowing O. K. Irgens, losing candidate for the editorship of The Wataugan, to run again this year. Irgens had done little work on the magazine under the editorship of Dave Morrah, during the past term; so the Board last week, upon consideration of his plea, would not recommend him as a candidate. However, when Irgens gave a long speech before the group at its meeting last week, showing up the faults of the present Wataugan, and his ability to change them, the faculty voted that he could run. Irgens's main points seemed to be his super-maturity over the present editor of the magazine, and the fact that Dave Morrah had not given him a chance to show his "ability." He also stated that Morrah had apparently shown too much favoritism to Bill Sullivan in nominating Sullivan, who was elected to the office Tuesday.

The Board then considered the proposed constitution, which was the original purpose of the meeting. After a long discussion, the paper was sent back to the committee which had been working on it. The chief argument against its passage was that the departmental publications on the campus, which have no seats on the Board, were proposed to take part in the Legislative department of the Board, and so long as these publications were not under the immediate jurisdiction of the Board, they should have no part in the Board's proceedings.

Romeo LePorte, secretary to Dean Cloyd, is chairman of the committee on the constitution. Other members are: Bill Barker, retiring president of the student body, and Dave Morrah.

CIVILS TO ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING

Twenty-five Delegates From State College to Meet At Pinhurst April 28

The annual meeting of the North Carolina Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers will be held at Pinhurst Saturday, April 28, Prof. C. L. Mann, of State College, president of the Section announced today.

The meetings will be held in the Carolina Hotel and the morning session will be devoted to the reading of technical papers. Prof. Harry Tucker, director of State College Engineering Experiment Station, will present the paper, "Engineers Part in Prevention of Motor Vehicle Accidents."

A luncheon will be held at the Hotel at which time Prof. T. S. Johnson, professor of Industry at State College, will act as toastmaster and William Chevalier, formerly publishing director of the Engineers News Record will be the after-dinner speaker.

At the afternoon meeting papers on the American Engineering Council will be given by Frederick M. Feiker, executive secretary; and E. P. Coles, president, of the North Carolina Division of the Society.

Most of the afternoon will be devoted to the Students Activities Conference which will be presided over by Prof. T. S. Hickerson, of Chapel Hill, and assisted by Frederick McDonald, Atlanta, Ga., who is district director of the Society. Student members of the Societies from Chapel Hill, Duke University and State College will attend. Over 25 delegates from State College, headed by William New, Waynesville, president of the student chapter, are expected to attend.

Officers of the North Carolina Section of the Society are: Prof. C. L. Mann, president; Mr. J. L. Becton, Wilmington, vice president; and Prof. Harold Bird, of Duke University, secretary.

NIGHT LIFE...

You'll see this White Palm Beach Tuxedo in the smarter night clubs...in fact, wherever folks assemble to be gay. It is in very truth the latest note of Fashion.

The jacket...single or double breasted, with shawl collar. The trousers...tuxedo style, of black Palm Beach.

The nice thing about it is not just its good looks, but the way it keeps them. For it's made of the newly developed Palm Beach Cloth that resists wrinkling and musing.

It washes or dry-cleans perfectly, of course, and presents that smooth, shapely, unruffled exterior that proclaims the well dressed man.

See your clothier for Palm Beach formal wear. (Why not a single breasted ensemble, and an extra double breasted tux jacket for a change...and just in case one coat is at the laundry).

A NEW CREW TAKES HELM

With this issue of THE TECHNICIAN, a new pilot and crew take over the helm of the paper for the long voyage through next year, hoping to weather safely all the storms that beset the ship during the voyage.

Each year after elections the new heads of this publication make a general rearrangement of their staff so as to make the system of news gathering more efficient. Students who have worked long and faithfully will be given just consideration when promotions are made. The only reward that most staff members get from their diligent labor is the chance of promotion or an opportunity to run for the two highest offices, namely, editor and business manager. Their work has been freely and unstintingly given during the year with no remuneration to offset their gratuitous services. It was to them that the success of the paper was at stake, and week after week they did a thorough and commendable job of covering the campus news. Working with a larger staff this year than last, the task of securing news has been minimized somewhat, but at times many difficulties were encountered.

THE TECHNICIAN this year will cover all important happenings until late Thursday night as it has in past years. The staff has been greatly helped in the past by tips from students as to the last minute news. Several times when the paper was about ready for press some thoughtful student would call the office with the information that some important news event had just happened or was happening. To these students we owe a debt of gratitude. Praise must also go to those students not on the staff who have taken the time and trouble to bring news stories to the office.

During the past year much was said of the policy of the paper in taking up so-called personal issues with Student Government heads. In the coming year, seeing the utter futility of such arguments which might go on for years and years unless one faction gives in to stop the whole affair, attempts will be made to refrain from entering into such arguments unless the welfare of the student body is at stake. If such a situation arises that need is seen to take the part of the student body, THE TECHNICIAN will enter unhesitatingly into the fray. The paper is published by the student body of State College, not by a small faction whose sole purpose is to work constantly against the welfare of the student.

Taking a retrospective view on past college editors at State College and other colleges, evidence is seen that, although he sometimes becomes popular by his fighting, in most cases his striving for that which he thinks best meets with the disapproval of the majority of students. They label him radical and promptly declare him to be seeking publicity or working for his own benefit. In most cases this is entirely false. Almost anyone enjoys arousing sentiment to a high pitch, and it is only natural that the editor, in one of the most influential positions on the college campus, seeks to arouse the interest of the students on important campus affairs or affairs that directly affect the college. He should not be criticized too severely for his views without first taking into consideration that for which he is struggling. In almost any public office the same situation exists. As long as the official meets with the wishes of the masses, he is popular, but one false move on his part, and he immediately becomes the object of scorn.

There have been some cases in which the editor should never have taken the stand he did, and it shall be the policy of the paper this year to analyze all problems before taking a pro or con attitude. It has been said that the minority is always right, but this declaration is not always true. It is for this reason that when we set sail this year, the student's viewpoint shall be heard before discussion on the topic is entered into.

It is the desire of the present heads that THE TECHNICIAN during the coming year will be the best ever published.

A MERE FIGUREHEAD

During the day before elections, there was illustrated an example of the seemingly small powers of the Publications Board.

The Faculty Council, meeting a day before elections, heard the case of a student who had petitioned the student body for permission to run for a publication office. The student had been refused permission to run by the Board because he had failed to meet the requirements set by the Board. One of the requirements specifically states that to be eligible for a publication office, the student must have worked on the publication for which he desires to run, the two terms preceding elections. The student who circulated the petition had not worked on a publication for the past two terms. It is true that he worked on that publication the year before and was a candidate in the elections last year, but an entirely different Board passed upon him then. The present Board, after hearing the editor state that the student had done no work on that publication this year, refused to pass him as a candidate, which was only right.

However, after the petition was presented the Faculty Council meeting in session Monday, the student was allowed to run by a group of men who knew but little of the work of publications at State College, and who disregarded the testimony submitted by the editor altogether.

This is not the first time that the Publications Board has been overruled. The body that is best fitted to pass on candidates is disregarded by a group that knows little or nothing of the qualifications of candidates. The Publications Board has become a figurehead with merely the power of suggestion.

The Council ruled that one of the principal reasons that the student was allowed to run was the fact that the other student who had shown an interest in the publication and had worked on that publication during the year was unopposed. The Board, however, had offered two candidates for the office, but one of the candidates withdrew before the ballots were printed. There was no partiality shown, as was rumored on the campus. The editor recommended to the Board those candidates that had shown an interest and whom he thought capable of handling the position of editor. The other man entered the race on the grounds that he had worked on the publication the year before.

This case had a parallel two years ago. A student who had not worked on the newspaper during the year of the elections was rejected by the Board, but was passed by the same body, the Faculty Council, that passed the candidate this year. That student had absolutely no grounds on which to base his candidacy other than the fact he had worked for the College News-Bureau, and THE TECHNICIAN used some of his material. He was paid by the College to gather news and send it to the daily papers of the state, THE TECHNICIAN receiving some of his copy at the same time. But even at that, he probably had more right to aspire to the editorship of the paper than the student who had contributed but one article to the magazine this year.

The Faculty Council, it seems, turns a deaf ear to the Publications Board when a student presses them strongly enough. There would be less misunderstanding and more fair play if the Council would thoroughly investigate such a case before passing hasty decisions.

A BETTER SET-UP

Last week the Athletic Council was considering the abolition of monogram sweaters for members of the wrestling team. This week, however, after persuasion, they agreed to let the wrestlers have the sweaters.

The above is merely an example of the trouble that is experienced at State College in eking out funds for the minor sports. In the eyes of the Athletic Council, apparently, there are no sports but the three major sports, football, basketball, and baseball.

Minor sports at State College have suffered severely from a lack of funds. While money has been poured into the major sports, little has come the way of their lesser brothers. To give more students a chance to participate in sports at this institution the minor divisions were taken up with the hope that they could somehow get along. The attitude seems to have prevailed constantly since then.

At other institutions in this state and in this country the minor sports claim almost as much attention as football, basketball, and baseball. Students here pay an athletic fee of fifteen dollars a year. If this were multiplied by 1,500 a total of over twenty thousand dollars would result. Football should clear a large amount of profit, as well as basketball and baseball, or at least enough to pay for coaches and for equipment.

A great deal of interest has been shown in the minor sports by students this year. Boxing is increasing in popularity each year, as well as wrestling. If the students show an interest in these sports, the Athletic Council should take this into consideration when apportioning funds.

The entire discussion leads to student representation on the Athletic Council. As it is now, students have absolutely no word in the appropriation of the funds which they pay out for athletics. Other schools have found student representation on the Council to be satisfactory, but not at this college.

As long as students are not represented on the Council there will be, as Prof. W. H. Hicks points out in an Open Forum letter, "misunderstanding, friction, and a growing discontent among those whom the athletic program is supposed to serve."

Although the major elections are over, the campus will still be kept in a more or less state of unrest for two or three weeks by the various societies finishing their elections and taking in new members.

HERE AND THERE

By G. W. FORD

The old campus will get a chance to settle back to normal now that elections have passed. And what elections they were. . . "Politics" is no word to describe some of the methods used in the various campaigns. Seems as though everyone running had promised every fellow who was running for another office, the backing of his crowd if he would return the favor. . . The pay off came when everyone voted just as they pleased.

It seems that every time I mention the fact that Spring is at hand Old Man Weather goes and dumps two or three cloud-loads of snow on us just to show us that he can play his cards any way he feels like. But here's what I started to say: Things ain't what they used to be. . . Professor Fisher would say, "No, and they never were." To get back to what I started to say, Spring used to be the time to fall in love; now it's the time to announce the weddings that have taken place during the winter.

Don't know how I ever got this far without saying something about the Military Ball. Balls may come and Balls may go but they'll have to go a long way before they can beat that of Friday the Thirteenth. It sure looked good to see all of the staff and so many of the faculty taking an active part in the dancing. They were neat outfits that the members of the staff were wearing. . . those white coats with the scrambled eggs on the shoulders. . . Another interesting slant was the best fitting G. I. uniform was worn by Dave Young who doesn't take military. . . The Grand March was a little drawn out but the climax, when they lowered the colors, was very impressive. . . It went down to everyday language, it set chills up the back of my neck.

W. D. Goad was paying a visit to the Raleigh police station the night that the elevator broke. . . same night that Noble Sissel was playing for the dance at the Auditorium.

Bill Barker ought to be glad to have Marshall Gardner take his place. This job of being president of the night club is a little bit of a fellow's time and of late Bill seems to be spending all of his spare time in the company of a certain little co-ed.

I was in the State Drug Store the other day having a bit of ice cream when a fellow came in and recognized Stoney Keith. "Hi, Stoney," he said, "how long have you been working here?" "Six years," replied Stoney. The fellow turned and went on his way, too embarrassed to say any more.

We have a lot of fellows around this campus who are the same as the one who came in the drug store, they don't know what's going on around them. Campus elections were held last Tuesday and over one-third of the student body either didn't know about it or didn't care. . . A few days ago a boy asked Pat Pastore who the captain of the golf team was.

A couple of days ago two girls, strangers on the campus no doubt, were looking for the library. As they walked along, Watauga Hall looked as though it might be the place so they walked in. I don't know what they saw inside that let them know that it wasn't the library but they didn't take long in coming out again.

And one or two short sayings: If the boys march as badly as the hand plays, we had better pray for rain on Monday. . . The new road in front of 1911 is completed. . . It would be a good idea to use it. . . Some of the fraternities are having their "Hell Week" this week. . . I'd like to be able to tell you about the fellow who had to run around the block in his pelt but he's a good friend of mine. . . The Agromeck will be out early in May. . . More elections soon for editor and business manager of the Agromeck. . .

Open Forum

This column is conducted for the expression of student opinion. Opinions expressed below are not necessarily in accordance with the editorial policies of this newspaper.—ED. NOTE.

The following letter is a copy of a letter sent Dr. R. R. Sermon by W. N. Hicks, professor of sociology and wrestling coach, explaining his position in regard to the wrestling team.

Dr. R. R. Sermon, Athletic Director:
Dear Dr. Sermon:
For fear the editorial "Consider the minor sports," which appeared in THE TECHNICIAN last Friday, might put personalities and fundamental purposes in unfair perspective, I am writing this letter to make clear certain fundamental matters. Since the editorial made specific mention of my name, I am also requesting the college paper to run a copy of this letter in its columns.

An Old State College Custom

First, I believe that as a matter of policy, students should have a voice in the direction and control of college athletics. So long as we proceed on any other basis I fear there will be misunderstanding, friction, and a growing discontent among those whom the athletic program is supposed to serve.

Second, I have not officially severed relationship with the wrestling team. In the first place, because my connection has never been "official," and in the next place, my interest in wrestling is too great and genuine. The fact is that I have realized for a long time that I could not go on indefinitely carrying a double load. So, last fall I approached J. T. McLaurin, captain of this year's team, with the suggestion that he carry on the enterprise next year. Mr. McLaurin, knowing quite well the load I carried, agreed to assume the responsibility if I thought it was best. I further suggested that I hoped some arrangement might be made next year whereby he could receive a reasonable sum for his efforts in this connection, and that more adequate facilities for the promotion of wrestling might be secured. This matter we had planned to take up with you in due season.

Third, I have given my time and energy (and as you know some actual cash) because of my love for the sport, and because of the fine comradeship and the deep loyalty of those who have participated in wrestling. I did not expect pay (in fact we agreed some years ago that there would be no remuneration) and I could not be so petty as to make an issue of that point. I have seen, and still see, something so fundamentally worth while in wrestling as a college sport that I think it absurd to quibble over the above mentioned matter, or the relatively small sum that it would require to make the name of State College well known in wrestling circles.

Fourth, I am not a professional coach and have no aspirations in that direction. My task is teaching, and my highest ambition is to be a useful and effective teacher.

Fifth, I have worked faithfully, I hope, in this enterprise. I coached the first State College team that was officially recognized by the Athletic Department, about nine or ten years ago. When Mr. Drennan came a couple of years later he took over the wrestling team. Upon his departure I was requested to help out again in this matter. My interest in wrestling and my desire to serve the institution caused me to agree to assist you by doing what I could. Later wrestling was abolished and then reestablished after a petition had been prepared by the student body requesting its continuance. I remember meeting with the athletic committee and agreeing to do what I could to keep things going until more permanent arrangements could be made.

Sixth, I feel that the efforts of the wrestlers and the interest of the students, faculty, and others, have possibly justified more encouragement than the sport has received. I would be in no wise sincere to say less than this, and yet I wish to make clear that there is no littleness or viciousness in the suggestion. In fact, my personal enthusiasm for wrestling has probably produced a biased judgment. But surely one sportsman can forgive another for that, even though he can't quite understand.

Seventh, the future of wrestling as a sport I hope will not be jeopardized or neglected. At any rate I have sacrificed too much to be willing to allow this sport or my motives in this connection to be thrown into wrong perspective. Trusting that this letter may help to clarify my position, prevent any semblance of strained relationships, and encourage us to push forward in unison toward a greater appreciation and utilization of sports and sportsmanship, I am

Sincerely,
W. N. HICKS

CIVILS SELECT MANERI AS SOCIETY PRESIDENT

At the regular meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers Tuesday the following officers were elected for a period of one year: president, Charles J. Maneri; vice president, M. S. Wilkinson; secretary-treasurer, G. W. Gillette, Jr., and sergeant-at-arms, Carl Stein. The society also decided at this meeting to attend en masse the state-wide convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers, which is being held at Pinehurst, N. C. on April 27.

McLAIN ELECTED HEAD OF CERAMIC ENGINEERS

W. R. McLain, Statesville, was elected president of the student chapter of the American Ceramic Society at a meeting Tuesday night. Other officers elected were: Barnes North, Raleigh, vice president; A. S. Lloyd, Charlotte, secretary; H. M. Hamberger, Norfolk, Va., treasurer; and E. B. Smith, Henderson, Engineers' Council member from the Ceramic department. McLain being elected president automatically becomes a member of the Council.

Selling by telephone gets results. In many lines of business, salesmen are finding they can cover more customers more often—and close more sales at lower cost—by telephone.

Bell System men have worked out a number of plans for systematic market coverage by Long Distance telephone. They have also devised telephone plans for more efficient handling of production, purchasing, administration, distribution, collections.

Because Bell System service is fast, economical, adaptable to specific needs, business more and more turns to the telephone.

State Diamond Team Meets Duke Here In Feature Game

Game Will Be Played on Freshman Field Beginning Tomorrow at 3:15 p.m.

STATE WINS AND LOSES GAMES ON VIRGINIA TRIP

State Loses 6-0 to Generals But Swamp V. M. I. Team With A 7-0 Score

State's varsity baseball team will meet the Duke University nine here tomorrow afternoon at 3:15. The game will be played on Freshman Field. It is expected that the game will be a nip-and-tuck battle with both teams out in full strength. In the first meeting of the two teams this season, Duke won.

"Click" Dock, veteran coach of the State team, said late last night that he would probably act on Stewart Flythe to pitch for the game tomorrow. Flythe, a sophomore, has been the sensational "find" by Coach Dock this season. The rest of the State line-up will be practically the same.

State's invasion into Virginia last week netted a loss to Washington and Lee and a win over V. M. I. A scheduled game with Wake Forest last Wednesday was rained out. The game will be played later in the season.

Joe Pette, Washington and Lee sophomore, yielded only three hits to blank the State team, 6 to 0, in a game devoid of thrills.

The Generals drove Rodwell, State pitcher, to the showers in the third inning with four hits and five runs. Lynn, State relief pitcher, pitched steady ball for the remainder of the game. State threatened to spoil the shut-out when they got men on second and third in the ninth inning but Pette struck out the next three men to make a total 13 men struck out on the Tech team.

V. M. I. Game

After losing a heart-breaking game to Washington and Lee the day before, the State nine played almost perfect ball to win 7 to 1 over the V. M. I. team last Saturday.

Striking out 12 men, Flythe, star State twirler, held the Cadet team to six scattered hits. The State team found little trouble in hitting Irving Smith, Cadet pitcher, although checked by Neal, and finally stopped by O'Brien in the last two innings.

McQuage and Roach, each with a homer and single, led the Doakmen 13-hit attack. Kirkman, Lambeth and Farris also made two hits each.

TECH FRESHMEN PLAY TOMORROW

State Freshman Nine to Wake Forest Freshmen Tomorrow Afternoon Here

The State College freshman baseball team will play its first Big Five game of the season when it meets the Wake Forest freshman team on Freshman Field tomorrow.

A scheduled game with the Louisville College nine during the past week here was postponed until Tuesday, April 24. The game will be played here.

In a pre-season game last week, the Raleigh high school baseball team won a 12 to 10 victory over the State freshmen. A five-run rally in the ninth inning gave the Raleigh highs the game.

Michaels and Almond divided pitching duties for State. Michaels was yanked in the fourth and was followed by Almond who pitched well until the ninth when the Raleigh team bunched five hits to put them in the lead. In the seventh inning, State got three runs to have a 10 to 7 lead.

Trophy Winner

BOB McQUAGE

Three-sports star at State College, who was voted at the student elections last Tuesday the Alumni Athletic Trophy offered annually at State to the student excelling in athletics and scholarship, McQuage, a senior from Salisbury, has starred in basketball, football, and baseball. During the past year he was a star halfback on the football team, captain of the basketball team, and a co-captain of the State baseball team this spring.

Buck Buchanan, football guard and president of the Monogram Club, was McQuage's only opponent for the trophy in the final poll.

TAR HEEL TENNIS TEAM BEELNS STATE COLLEGE

The State tennis team was thoroughly squelched by the University of North Carolina netters, 9 to 0, last Monday. State did not annex a single set during the nine matches and the only close scrap came in the doubles.

Members of the State team playing were: Renn, Wright, Fisher, Brown, Westbrook, and Foley.

WORK ON STATE'S NEW TRACK BEGUN

Track Being Built on Freshman Field to Rank With Best in North Carolina

Work was begun this week on a new track at State College. Dr. Ray R. Serron, athletic director, says several months will be required to complete the track, and that, when finished, it will rank with the best in the state.

The track is being built on Freshman Field, just west of the Frank Thompson Gymnasium. The field is now used for State's home baseball games. Additional ground is being leveled on the south side, and when this is added the entire field will be 200 yards long, north and south, and 135 yards wide, each end west.

In addition to its use for track and field events, the site will continue to contain the baseball diamond and this will be divided into three grids. The baseball diamond, now in the northwest corner, will be moved to the southeast corner of the field for 1935.

The straightaway of the track will run along the east side of the field and will be approximately 160 yards long. State has not had a track team in several years, but expects to make full use of the new track in 1935.

STATE RIFLEMEN NAME ANDREWS 1935 CAPTAIN

M. L. Andrews of Parmele has been elected captain of N. C. State's 1935 rifle team.

Andrews led members of this year's state championship team in individual scoring with 363.3 points out of a possible 400.

E. R. Daniels of Spring Hope was captain of this year's team. He had an average of 360.7 points out of a possible 400. Captain B. W. Venable, popular R. O. T. C. instructor, is the coach of the team.

ADDITIONAL BLEACHERS SET ON BASEBALL FIELD

Additional seats were placed on Freshman Field yesterday to handle the large crowd expected to witness the baseball game between State College and Duke University tomorrow.

Golf Captain

Captain Pat Pastore, of Newark, N. J., who is leading the 1934 State golf team in its sensational play this season, Pastore was one of the leaders in organizing a golf team at State several years ago. Fred Newnam, Jr., of Raleigh, and Pastore are leading players for the State team.

EIGHT FROSH NUMERALS TO BE GIVEN IN BOXING

Boxing numerals for eight freshmen at State College were announced this week by the Athletic Council. The delay in announcing the freshman boxing awards was due to no report given the Council at the regular meeting for passing on candidates for awards.

Four of the eight students receiving awards are Raleigh boys. They are: Jack Dunaway, Roger Norman, Harry Garlington, and Thomas Goad. The other winners of numerals are Glenn Penland, Asheville; Albert Edwards, Danville, Va.; Alex Regdon, Kenwood, Pa., and Joe Ryneska, Amherst, Mass.

Pairings and points won follow:

Newnam, State, 3, vs. Ferguson, 0; Daves, Furman, 2, vs. Pastore, 1; Styron, State, 3, vs. Smith, 0; Baerthein, State, 2, vs. McGee, 1; Newnam and Pastore, 2, vs. Ferguson and Davis, 1; Styron and Baerthein, 3, vs. Smith and McGee, 0.

STATE TIES DUKE IN GOLF MATCHES

Styron, State, Brings Final Score to 9-9 With a Par Three On Final Hole

Goal teams of State College and Duke University played to a 9-all tie last Wednesday at Durham on the Hope Valley Links. The collegians played over a wet course, but all had cards below 80.

Fred Newnam, Jr., State's ace, and Cliff Perry, star of the Blue Devils, met in the feature match and both checked in cards of 73, three over par, to halve their match. Newnam took 37 strokes going out and 36 coming in. Perry had to swing 39 times on the first line, but had a brilliant 34 on the way back.

Joe Powell shot a 74 to win, 4 and 3, and make three points from Pat Pastore, State's captain, who had 79. Charlie Styron, State, evened the score, however, when he won three points from Jake Sullivan with a card of 73. Sullivan had 75. Styron won 2 up.

The fourth singles match saw W. P. Budd, Jr., defeat Bill Berthein, of State, 2 1/2 to 1/2, with a card of 75. Styron shot a 78.

In the best ball matches, Newnam and Pastore teamed to defeat Perry and Powell, 2 1/2 to 1/2. The second four-some resulted in a tie between Styron and Berthein, of State, and Budd and Sullivan, of Duke. Styron saved the day for State with a par three at the final hole.

It was the second meeting of the two teams this year. In the first match Duke won 9 1/2 to 8 1/2.

Furman Match

The team swamped the Furman University team 14 to 4 in matches played at the Carolina Country Club last Friday. The day before State defeated Washington and Lee golfers, 15 to 3, on the same course.

State took three of the four single matches and won both best ball matches. Fred Newnam, Jr., State, had the best medal score. He shot a 74, two above par, to win three points for Ferguson, Washington and Lee.

Pairings and points won follow: Newnam, State, 3, vs. Ferguson, 0; Daves, Furman, 2, vs. Pastore, 1; Styron, State, 3, vs. Smith, 0; Baerthein, State, 2, vs. McGee, 1; Newnam and Pastore, 2, vs. Ferguson and Davis, 1; Styron and Baerthein, 3, vs. Smith and McGee, 0.

Annual Dances

The Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma fraternities of State College entertained at a delightful series of dances last Saturday, a tea dance and an evening dance being held in the Frank Thompson gymnasium on the college campus.

For the dances, the gymnasium was lavishly decorated in green and white, streamers of green and white crepe paper being festooned from the ceiling and from the balcony rails, with masses of evergreens forming a wall of green around the dance floor. Directly over the orchestra pit, the illuminated symbols of the host fraternities were placed.

Music for the dances was furnished by Hiliary Thurston and his North Carolinians, featuring Johnny Johnson, golden-voiced tenor and a rhythm trio.

Three sponsors for each fraternity led the dance figure at the night dances, the presidents of the two fraternities and their partners being the leaders of the figures.

Kappa Alpha sponsors were: Miss Frances Thompson of Raleigh with Charles Coldiron of Wilmington, president; Miss Mary Stewart Lackey with James Long of Roxboro and Miss Sarah Snipes of Raleigh with Henry Mayo of Raleigh.

Sponsors for Kappa Sigma were: Miss Mary Helen Stewart of Raleigh with James Wright of Norfolk, Va., president; Miss Elizabeth Davidson of Raleigh with Morrison Campbell of Raleigh and Miss Frances Huff with Albert Couch of Darlington, S. C.

Chaperones invited to attend the dances included: Governor and Mrs. J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Judge and Mrs. W. C. Harris, Colonel and Mrs. Gordon Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Hubert M. Potat, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Winborne, Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Haywood, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Allen, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Weathers, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. ## Theta Phi Banquet

Theta Phi fraternity entertained a number of alumni, guests, active members, and pledges at a formal banquet at the Carolina Pines Country Club Monday night.

The banquet hall was decorated with the fraternity colors, blue and white. The walls were adorned with evergreens and the oval table was brilliantly set off by candles appropriately placed. On the side wall there was suspended a rectangular blue banner with the white letters Theta Phi. At the opposite end of the hall there was a beautifully electrically lighted replica of the fraternity pin in blue and white.

After the elaborate five-course dinner, the toastmaster conducted a program which consisted of short talks concerning the origin and development of Theta Phi at State College. After the welcoming address by Sam Eisenberg, president and toast master, Hyman Schachtman, alumnus and charter member spoke. Frank Kline, another alumnus, then gave an interesting account of his days at State. Dr. E. M. Bernstein, faculty member expressed his sentiments along with Rabbi Frank, adviser. Hyman Dave, Frank Perlmutter, R. Berson, R. Cohen, E. Coban, S. Gershowitz, I. O. Garodnick, and L. L. Sarin also spoke.

The guests of the fraternity included Mr. Paul Barker, Miss Lillian Gordon, Miss Beatrice Kline, Miss Vivienne Crane, Miss Belle Schachtman, Miss Rosalie Dave, Miss Sara Dave, Miss Frances Knott, Miss Adele Lober, Miss Josephine Cohn, Miss Frances Levitt, Miss Virginia Eisenberger, Mr. Hyman Schachtman, and Mr. Frank Kline. Chaperones were Dr. E. M. Bernstein, Mr. and Mrs. Goldberg, Mrs. Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Sokoloff, and Rabbi F. Frank.

Bridge Party

The members and pledges of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity entertained with a bridge party at their house on Clark Avenue Wednesday night of this week. Bridge was played at six tables throughout the evening. Refreshments were served in the form of ice cream and cakes. Prizes for the highest scores were awarded to Miss Alice Poe and Elmore Walker.

The young ladies present were Misses Margaret Vass, Alice Poe, Mildred Thrift, Emily Hunt, Elizabeth Wade, Lillian Williams, Elizabeth Weathers, Jane O'Bar, Nancy Campbell, Katherine Mason, Edith Bagby, and Lutrelle Le Frage.

The chaperone for the evening was Prof. R. O. Moen.

Sigma Nu Dance

Featuring the collegiate social calendar for this week-end will be two dances given by the Beta Tau Chapter of Sigma Nu fraternity of State College.

The fraternity will entertain at a tea dansant from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, followed by an evening formal from 9 to 12 o'clock, Saturday evening. The dances will be given in the Frank Thompson gymnasium on the college campus.

The gymnasium will be decorated in a novel and attractive fashion in black, white and gold, the fraternity colors. A large replica of the Sigma Nu pin will be hung from the ceiling with streamers attached in the aforementioned colors. These will extend to all sides of the large hall.

Jimmy Poyner, who is a member of the fraternity, and his State Collegians, will play for the set of dances.

At the formal dance on Saturday evening, a unique figure will be presented by the members of the fraternity, with their escorts. Miss Elizabeth Everett of Rockingham, with Minor Hunter of Charlotte, will lead the figure. They will be assisted by Miss Mary Smedes Poyner of Raleigh, with James Coachman of Clearwater, Fla. Each young lady in the figure will wear a corsage of lilies of the valley with white roses, the fraternity flowers.

Each of the seven seniors in the fraternity has invited a young woman to sponsor for him at the dance. These include Miss Minnie Hughes Rogers of Raleigh, for John Shinn of Miami, Fla.; Miss Elizabeth Davidson of Raleigh, for Karl Bridges of Griffin, Ga.; Miss Martha Ruth Kendall of Raleigh, for Philip Kinken of Marshalltown, Iowa; Miss Pickette Kendall of Raleigh, for Frank Edmondson of Charlotte; Miss Elizabeth Everett of Rockingham, for Minor Hunter of Charlotte; Miss Nell Joslin of Raleigh, for Charles Styron of New Bern; and Miss Mary Smedes Poyner of Raleigh, for James Coachman of Clearwater, Fla.

Immediately following the night dance, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Beneford, alumni adviser, will entertain at their annual buffet supper honoring members of the fraternity and their dates. The supper will be given at the fraternity house on Hillsboro Street.

Members of the fraternity have invited the following to be chaperones at the dance: Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Beneford, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Knapp, Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Johannesen, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kelly, Mrs. Mary Smedes Poyner, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. George Ross Pou, Commander and Mrs. Lorain Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Kuble, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Allen, Mrs. A. G. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Howard White, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Powers, Dean and Mrs. Thomas Nelson, Dean and Mrs. E. L. Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Ashby, Mrs. S. A. Ashe, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. John Phil Cooper.

Alpha Zeta Banquet

The North Carolina Chapter of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity, held its annual spring banquet last Saturday evening at seven o'clock at the Carolina Pines Club-house.

The room was decorated appropriately for the occasion with overhead streamers in mode and sky blue, the colors of the fraternity, and candles for the table to match.

The group attending was composed of a large number of active members, alumni and faculty members, together with their guests. Each guest was presented a corsage tied in fraternity colors and her escort received a carnation for his lapel.

After the invocation, a delightful four-course dinner was served. The toastmaster of the evening, D. M. Whitt, gave a few words of welcome and introduced B. J. Smith, formerly of the Iowa Chapter. Following this, an interesting program was enjoyed by the group.

The toastmaster introduced the outgoing and incoming officers of the North Carolina Chapter. The incoming officers introduced were: A. F. Hoffman, chancellor; J. A. Lutz, censor; Max A. Culp, scribe; J. E. Foll, treasurer; and W. C. Boykin, chronicler.

A brief intermission followed the banquet, after which the group enjoyed dancing and card games. Guests of the fraternity were: Miss Beulah Weathers, Miss Jean Edgerton, Miss Rosa Atkinson, Miss Margaret Owens, Miss Ruth McCullers, Miss Myrtle Umstead, Miss Nell Robbins, Miss Loma Price, Miss Gertrude Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. David S. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Worth, Miss May Libby Smith, Miss Velma Wingate, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Foster, Miss Betsy Jane Senter, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tilson, Miss Mittie Talton, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. ## DeMolay Spring Dance

The Raleigh Chapter of the Order of DeMolay will entertain at its annual spring dance tonight in the Virginia Dare ballroom of the Sir Walter Hotel.

The collegiate social set is anticipating eagerly the affair and large numbers of the younger contingent of Raleigh are expected to be in attendance. Sponsors for the dance will be Miss Mary Neal with James Renn, Miss Marion Crowder with Warren Beck, Miss Elizabeth Wade with Micou Brown, and Miss Margaret Vass with George Ashby, Jr.

Music for the evening will be furnished by Jimmy Poyner and his State Collegians. Admission to the dance will be by bid only.

The dance will be in honor of the newly elected officers of the chapter. The Raleigh Chapter of DeMolay, which includes 30 members, entertains at four dances during the year and this week's affair marks the third in the series. The final dance of the season will be held the latter part of May.

Chaperons will be Dr. and Mrs. Charles P. Eldridge, Professor and Mrs. A. H. Grimshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Polk Denmark and Rev. and Mrs. Harvey Cox.

The Junior-Senior Prom honoring the Senior Class will be held in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium May 11, Claude Carrow, president of the Junior Class, has announced.

Work has already been begun by the committee in charge of the Prom, and one of the most successful dances of the college social year is anticipated.

Decorations will consist of the school colors of red and white.

WATAUGAN TO EMULATE NEW MEN'S MAGAZINE

The Wataugan, humorous magazine, will make its appearance on the campus about Monday, according to Dave Morrah, editor of the magazine.

The issue is following the same general make-up of Esquire, magazine for men which was only recently started but has gained widely in popularity since then.

The cover is a reproduction of the cover used by Esquire, and follows the colors, drawings and type used closely. The Esquire issue will be ready for distribution about Monday. The dates for distribution will be posted on the Blue Key Bulletin Board.

Summer Employment Solved

Student representatives to distribute educational literature, "Three months' steady work. Local or traveling. Liberal compensation. Address: College Dept., 1006 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

At the Theatres

Ronald Coleman in "The Masquerader" comes to the State Theatre on Thursday and Friday.

After "The Masquerader," there won't be another Coleman picture for a long time, according to report. Ronald has gone to the Aegean to spend the summer sailing the Hellenic waters far from thought of Hollywood and the films.

Completing this program is a cartoon, comedy and news.

In "Gallant Lady," Ann Harding outdoes all her past performances on the screen in scaling the heights of emotional artistry.

This picture, which will be shown at the State on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, deals with the experience of a young and unwed mother who is forced to assign her child for adoption immediately after its birth. Sara Busbee will present her annual dance revue on the stage, Monday only, matinee and night. An Organologue, Souvenir and News complete this program.

The long-awaited appearance of Katharine Cornell in Rudolf Bester's "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" will occur in the State Theatre for one night only, Saturday, April 28. The curtain rises at eight o'clock sharp.

Basil Rathbone, well-known English actor of the stage and screen, appears as Robert Browning.

ANN HARDING
in
"GALLANT LADY"

These humble quatrains are composed
To tell a sprightly tale
Of how a witty junior nosed
A senior with a frail.

Now Bert had honors, letters; he
Was quite the well-known lad.
While two-bucks-ten and faith-in-me
Were all that Tommy had.

The tale, ye hearties, goes like this:
It seems two lads were nuts
About a certain little miss
Whose name, we'll say, was Lutz.

When blond Miss Lutz declined to go
With Bert, he wondered why.
That Tommy should get all the show
Was quite a blackened eye.

The junior's Christian name was Tom;
The senior's name was Bert.
They both considered for the prom
The same blond, blue-eyed skirt.

He learned the night the prom was thrown
Why he had lost the date.
For Tom had made the timely loan
Of someone's Ford V-8!
