PROF. FOSTER SUFFERS STROKE OF PARALYSIS

Prof. John Foster, instructor in the mechanical engineering department, is in a serious condition at the Rex Hospital after he suffered a slight stroke of paralysis Tuesday afternoon. Attendants at the hospital said last night that while Professor Foster's condition was critical, they expected him to recover. He is not allowed any visitors.

He was stricken Tuesday at a meeting. While introducing a speaker, he had the attack and was immediately carried to the hospital.

Has Operation

L. C. Liles, Jr., of Zebulon, a junior at State, was taken to Rex Hospital last Friday and operated on for appendicitis. He is recovering rapidly and will be brought back to the college infirmary today. This was the only serious case the infirmary handled this week.

ROLLINS INVITES STATE DEBATERS TO CLIMAX MEET

FIRST DECISION DEBATE TO BE HELD NEXT FRIDAY

Debaters Have Received Invitations From All Parts of Country to Demonstrate New Method; Have Appeared Before Many Conventions; Have Traveled 14,000 Miles in Two Years; Meet Campbell College Debate Team Tonight

The State College debate team has received an invitation to demonstrate the "direct clash" debate plan at Winter Park, Florida, as the feature and climax of the Rollins College entire forensic season. The demonstration is scheduled for the latter part of March.

The "direct clash" debate plan was originated at this institution during the winter of 1931-32. Since that time, the debaters have received invitations from all parts of the country to demonstrate this new form. In December, 1932 they appeared on the program of the National Association of Teachers of Speech at Los Angeles, California; in March, 1933 at the Tri-State Tournament at Salisbury; in April, 1933, they demonstrated their new plan before the annual convention of the Southern Association of Speech at Berea, Kentucky. In December, 1933, State College met Bates College in a demonstration of the plan at the New York Convention of the National Association of Teachers of Speech; and in April, 1934 they appeared before the entire membership of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary debate fraternity, at Lexington, Kentucky. During the past two years and two months the State College debaters have traveled approximately 14,000 miles and have appeared before every leading speech and debate society in America.

The first decision debate of the year, standard style, will be held Friday, February 15, with the University of Pennsylvania, one of the leading debate teams in the East. State will defend the negative of the munitions question and will be represented by J. D. Pendleton and R. L. Batts. In preparation for the Pennsylvania debate, two non-decision meets will be held tomorrow with the Campbell College team. The first will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the second at 8:45 p.m. in Pullen Hall. State will be represented by R. L. Batts and J. D. Pendleton, upholding the negative, and E. B. Singleton and S. B. Moss, upholding the affirmative.

STATE SENATOR URGES INTEREST IN POLITICS

Senate President to Speak at State College Young Democratic Banquet

State Senator Julian Allsbrook, of Halifax County, urged that young people take an active interest in government affairs so that they might be of greater service to the state in their later life at a meeting of the State College Young Democratic Club Wednesday night.

Other speakers on the program were Mrs. May Thomas Evans, past president of the North Carolina Young Democratic Club; Mrs. Bessie Phoenix, president of the Wake County Club; and S. Y. Ballentine, former Wake County commissioner.

The club discussed plans for a banquet to be held in the college Y. M. C. A. next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. State Senator Grady, president of the Senate, will be the featured speaker. Music will be provided during the banquet by some campus musical organization.

The club also voted to attempt to secure speakers from both houses of the North Carolina General Assembly to speak before the Freshmen and Sophomore Class meetings.

PAINT OFFICIAL SPEAKS TO CHEMICAL ENGINEERS

J. W. McArthur, technical director of the John T. Lewis Paint Company of Philadelphia, addressed the student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers Friday evening.

Mr. McArthur gave an illustrated lecture on "The Manufacture of Various Kinds of Pigments and Paints," giving the history and development of the paint industry and also giving the requirements of good paints. About seventy-five members of the student chapter were present for the lecture.

METCALF SPEAKS TO AG STUDENTS

One of Largest Gatherings in History of Club Hears Speech on Education

At the last regular weekly meeting of the Ag Club held in Patterson Hall one of the largest gatherings in the history of the organization heard Dr. Z. P. Metcalf, Director of the Zoology Department, give an address on "Education."

Opening his talk Dr. Metcalf stated that he was here to give advice as that at present was the cheapest commodity on the world market. Looking out over the group of students he said that students had changed but very little since the time that he was in college, the evolution being very slow and that records of these men who have taken their places in the world would be a fair indication of what to expect from the present college students. Contrary to the opinion of many industry still finds that it is the student who make the outstanding workers in their respective fields.

According to Dr. Metcalf the essentials of life are comparable to the five fingers of one's hand. The thumb representing education; the index finger, moral character as it points in the direction the person shall go; the third finger, physical development; the fourth, social development; and the fifth, your vocation. All five are necessary components of a well rounded life but the first two are the most important. Man evolved from aquatic animals and the first appendage that set man off from the rest of his landmates was the development of a thumb. With it he was able to make tools, and with tools products, and with products came his civilization of speed. And so it is with education.

In conclusion he stated that some people spell success "Success" but they are wrong as it is not a money making scheme.

PINE BURR TO SPONSOR CONSOLIDATION PROGRAM

Local Honor Society Makes Tentative Plans to Secure Graham and Legislator

The Pine Burr, honorary scholarship society, made plans yesterday for the securing of Dr. Frank Graham and a member of the State Legislature to speak before the student body on the consolidation of the three largest State supported educational institutions.

The society will solicit the aid of the other campus honor groups to help make the program a success. The program in charge of enlisting the aid of President Frank Graham is composed of J. R. West and F. C. Johnson.

The department of Chemical Engineering will be in charge of the weekly radio broadcast sponsored by the Pine Burr society next Wednesday. F. C. Johnson and John Pendleton will have charge of the program.

At the meeting the society discussed a new ruling by which three consecutive absences from regular meetings would automatically expel the absent member from the society.

DEAN HARRELSON URGES INCREASE FOR INSTITUTION

Administration Dean Formally Asks Appropriations Committee for $340,512

SHOWS SEVERAL REASONS FOR INCREASE IN FUNDS

Points Out Heavy Teacher Load, Stating That Increased Funds Would Remedy Situation; Estimate Includes Increase in Salaries and Wages Amounting to $165,076; Says Increased Living Costs Call for Higher Wages and Salaries

Appearing before the Joint Committee on Appropriations yesterday afternoon, Col. J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration, formally requested for State College an appropriation from the Legislature of $340,512 for each year of the biennial 1935-36. The amount requested by Dean Harrelson represents an increase of $63,000 over the recommendation of $277,700 made by the governor and his Advisory Budget Committee.

Declaring that an increase in enrollment of more than 300 students necessitated a reduced teacher load, Dean Harrelson pointed out that during the year 1933-34 the teacher load was 276 students in classes or laboratories and 13 credit hours per term. He added that the graduation requirements in credit hours for the next entering class will be raised from a minimum of 198 and a maximum of 222 to a minimum of 225 and a maximum of 250.

Dean Harrelson's estimate includes an increase in salaries and wages amounting to $165,076 and provides for the addition of 26 staff members, salary increases of 25 per cent, and adjustments on salaries reduced during the year 1933 by more than 32 per cent. Explaining his action in regard to salary increases, he stated that all living costs have advanced during the past two years and will continue to advance during the next two years.

Total expenses for the next fiscal year, Dean Harrelson placed at $895,412, and includes $597,317 for salaries and wages, and $298,095 for all non-salary items. His estimate of the college was $554,900.

While Col. Harrelson has asked for $1,000 for each of the current years, it is highly doubtful that a figure even near that requested will be granted. The budget committee has recommended only $277,700 for this institution. Other units of the Greater University were recommended increases over those of the past two years.

HONOR AG FRATERNITY ENTERTAINS AT SMOKER

Professor Weaver Speaks to Prospective Initiates on Purpose of Alpha Zeta

The State College chapter of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity, entertained at a smoker in Polk Hall last Monday night, for prospective sophomores and junior initiates into their order. The principal speaker was Prof. D. S. Weaver, of the Agricultural Engineering Department and chairman of the Faculty Advisory Committee of the organization.

Professor Weaver pointed out that the fraternity was organized at Ohio State in 1897 by two students in the Agricultural School whose aim was to form a brotherhood of agricultural students who would become leaders in that field in their state, and their community in later life. Since that time such has proved to be the case. At present there are 41 chapters in forty-one states. Members are chosen on four fundamental principles, scholarship, leadership, personality, and character. They must have attended their institution four successive terms and be in the upper two-fifths of their class.

It is customary at State College that the chapter undertake various projects of benefit to the college. Last year they conducted the individual rating of professors of the Ag School and a rating of the courses, these to be used as part of the basis for the reorganization of the school. Each year they maintain a booth at the State Fair.

Officers of the club are as follows: Chancellor, A. F. Hoffman, scribe, M. A. Culp; treasurer, J. E. Foll; censor, J. A. Lutz; chronicler, W. E. Boykin; and Sergeant-at-Arms, G. R. McColl.

Baptists Lead

Reflecting the influence of the South on its people, the number of Methodists and Baptists at State College is almost equal, the former having 450 followers and the latter, 457.

Other denominational preferences are: Presbyterians, 256; Episcopalians, 121; Roman Catholics, 45; Christians, 48; Lutherans, 45; Hebrews, 29; Congregationalists, 15; Christian Scientists, 7; Quakers, 5; Unitarians, 5; Moravians, 4; Disciples of Christ, 3; Church of God, 3; Church of Christ, 2; Adventists, Dutch Reformed, Greek Orthodox, and Unitarians, one each. Eleven stated their preference merely as "Protestants."

No data were available from 36 students, and 140 had no church preference.

Twenty Out of Twenty-one Vote Not to Bear Arms if United States Invades

SENTIMENT ABOUT EQUAL ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

State Students Vote, However, 538 to 150 to Bear Arms if Country is Invaded by Another Power; Equal Vote on Large Navy and Air Force; Favor Government Control of Munitions; Poll Conducted by Literary Digest

Twenty out of every twenty-one State College students voted that they would not bear arms if the United States should invade another country, semi-final results of the Literary Digest Peace Poll, conducted in 115 leading American institutions, indicate.

State had 693 students vote on the question, 659 being opposed to bearing arms in case of invasion of another country, and 34 expressing a willingness. Taking an average of all the institutions voting, 82 per cent of the American undergraduates stated that they would not fight under such conditions.

In reply to the question "Do you think the United States can stay out of another war?" 522 State students voted "yes" and 170 voted "no," or a three to one majority. Other institutions had voted two to one on the question.

Differing again with the other institutions, 150, or 29 per cent of the State students, voted that they would not fight if the United States were the object of invasion by another country, 538, or 71 per cent, voted that they would fight under these circumstances. Of the other students voting 83 per cent indicated that they would fight if this country were invaded, while 17 per cent voted their unwillingness to bear arms.

Sentiment on an American navy and air force voted to none was about equally divided here, 351 voting for the question and 337 voting against it. A totally different picture was presented in the vote of other colleges with only 33,870 voting for, and 58,025 voting against, or a majority of those opposed of about 24,000.

The vote on "government control of munitions and armaments" was about the same here as elsewhere, approximately 90 per cent of all students voting for Federal control.

On the seventh question of "in alignment with our historic procedure of drafting man-power in time of war, would you advocate the principle of universal conscription of all resources of capital and labor in order to control all profits in time of war," the vote was about the same among State College students as it was among other State students, 17 per cent of the State students voting against it. A 18 per cent of the other students.

While the entire vote on the entry of the United States into the League of Nations was split evenly, State College students voted against the measure, 352 stating that the country should stay out of the League while 304 thought that joining would be the best policy.

The contest is being conducted by the national weekly in conjunction with the Association of College Editors.

"The vast majority of the college editors," the Digest states in its columns, "devoted much space and enthusiastic writing to drumming up interest in the poll. The percentage of ballots returned in the College Peace Poll has already been higher than in the returns in any past Literary Digest poll."

Of the 1,700 students at State College approximately 700 marked and returned the ballots sent them.

DUKE TEACHER TO SPEAK ON "RAMBLING RESEARCH"

Dr. A. S. Pearse, head of the department of zoology at Duke University, will deliver an illustrated lecture entitled, "Rambling Research," before the Sigma Xi Club of State College Thursday, February 4, in the Electrical Engineering Building.

Dr. Pearse has traveled widely all over the world in carrying out his extensive studies of the relation between the cold blooded animals and their environment. He is a recognized authority in this field, and his experiences in the Philippines, Japan, and the East Indies make his talks occasions of unusual interest.

The public has been invited by the members of Sigma Xi to attend the lecture.

ACTION AGAINST FOOTBALL

Persistent rumors about the campus would have it that some concerted student action will be taken in the near future in attempting to secure more funds for the neglected minor sports.

The movement, if it takes place, boils down to the attempt to take away from King Football some of its old grandeur. This, of course, would mean that by diverting some of the funds which football receives each year, the other sports on the campus will have a chance to at least exist on a more satisfactory basis.

Just how much money football gets from the $15 athletic fee which each student pays is not known, but as a venture, it would almost be safe to say that if sports other than football got at least one-fourth of the entire fees, they would be able to carry on satisfactorily. From deductions, it would appear that football gets about all of the students' money at the present. Basketball should pay its way, as does boxing. While the wrestling, tennis, baseball, and track teams do not pay for themselves, they do not receive a great deal of appropriations.

The trouble, it appears, is that too much emphasis has been placed on football, and, as a result, there has been too much money thrown its way. High salaried coaching staffs at an institution which really cannot afford such a luxury has caused, along with other things, the balance sheet of the athletic department to show a large deficit. Although the deficit is being wiped out, the process is so slow that it is almost infinitesimal. It will take a great many years for a complete cleaning of the slate.

Many on the campus have long realized that the lesser sports were not receiving their just share of the athletic fee, but until now no definite action has been heard of from the student body. If the students do rise up and demand that the lesser sports be given a fair deal, the athletic officials cannot deny their demands. It is the students' money which is largely supporting the sports here, and they should be given a primary consideration, the general public being only secondary. If student support were withdrawn, the entire athletic program, including football, would have to be suspended. If the students should make such a demand, they are entirely within their rights, contrary to what some might say or think. Athletics were inaugurated primarily for the enjoyment of the student body. When one such as football begins to "hog" the entire show, it is time that it is knocked from its high and mighty roost. Unless this is done, the other sports may suffer so that they may be finally abandoned, although this is not likely.

The old notion that football draws students to a college has never been proved to any great degree of satisfaction. Recently there appeared an account of a college which discontinued football last year. The result was not what some would have people believe a tremendous drop in enrollment; rather on the contrary, the attendance at the college jumped the following year. While nothing can be definitely proved by the statement, it does go to show that football is not necessary for an institution of higher learning to exist.

It might also be taken into consideration that only three, or four, or five football games are scheduled on the home field each year. The number of other athletic meets will probably be ten times that number. Yet football gets the biggest part of the students' fee. There should be no doubt in any one's mind that such a set-up is entirely fair. Football should receive its due amount, but never the slice which it now receives.

Uncle Sam should pass a law against hoarding pennies, or at least clerks in the Treasurer's Office probably think so, since a freshman brought in 1600 to pay his board bill.

STRANGE—OR IS IT?

Coming from a school which requires military training, it was indeed startling to observe some of the State College answers to the questions asked in the Literary Digest Peace Poll.

Only one student out of every twenty-one indicated his willingness to bear arms should the United States invade a foreign power. This was an average of only about five per cent. Taking an average of all the other colleges polled, it was found that 18 per cent stated that they would fight if the United States invaded another power.

Perhaps it is due to the large amount of peace propaganda which has been circulated in recent years, or it may be due to other forces which have been brought to bear on their decisions. Whether or not the students would adhere to their present convictions should the United States invade a foreign power is a matter of conjecture. There have been a large number of papers who have chided the Peace Poll for its utter futility and for the drawing out of superficial opinions. However, the poll will go a long way towards the creation of a peace psychology, and will aid in the making of more level-headed decisions in times of stress.

The sentiment against war as a means of solving problems is increasing to tremendous proportions, especially among the American colleges and universities. When pacifists have thoroughly soaked the minds of the collegians with horrors of war, they will have done much towards the outlawing of the ancient practice of men killing each other. The college students of today will be the governmental leaders of tomorrow, and if they have a firm conviction that strife is not the best method of settling disputes, then one of the world's oldest problems will have been solved.

Probably one of the reasons why we have had war is due to the old notion that war is inevitable, and that there is little that a country can do about its prevention. War will never be abolished as long as people hang on this false idea. In other words the people must be educated to see the futility, the losses, both in life and in money, and the suffering which war brings about. The loss in human lives is never commensurate with the winnings which a country derives.

Any thinking man can see that the only ones who profit from war are the industrialists. They are the ones who have forced unwilling countries into conflicts with other unwilling countries. The recent Senate munitions inquiry brought to light some of the clandestine dealings of a few of the world's leading munitions manufacturers, and even showed how these companies may actually start wars between countries. If this group of pseudo-patriots were brought under some kind of control, the world would see fewer wars, as the mercenary element would be removed. However, until the Federal Government brings these industrialists under its thumb, there will be threats of war and actual wars.

RECOGNIZE THE SCHOLAR

Unlike a large number of other institutions, State College has for a long time seen fit to give those attaining a high standard of scholarship no special privileges.

The only reward which comes to honor students is recognition at the annual Scholarship Day exercises. While this may be considered by some as adequate compensation, it is by no means all that those deserving students should have.

They are allowed no more unexcused class absences than are those who grades are either poor or mediocre, that is, ten "cuts" a term, and not more than twenty in any year. It is easily seen that such an arrangement is not only unfair, but impracticable. The student who makes good grades does not necessarily have to attend classes with as much regularity as does the remainder of the class. It is probably wise to cause those having poor grades to attend classes by restricting the number of absences, but it is certainly unfair to the good student.

While State College is not ready to inaugurate the informal system of study which exists in some of our larger American colleges and a greater number of European universities, there is no reason why some steps should not be made in that direction. The institutions of higher learning of the future will, beyond the shadow of a doubt, use the plan, as it is highly more satisfactory than the current system, and it tends to develop scholars rather than robots which so many of our American colleges turn out annually.

The student who has a scholastic average of 85 per cent should be allowed to have an almost unlimited number of class absences. He has shown by his grades that he has devoted a great deal of time to his studies, and the granting of a privilege would not cause him to become slack. Students of this type do not find it necessary to attend all classes to be able to keep up with their work, as do some of the poorer scholars. To the latter group, class attendance is almost necessary if they are to derive any benefit from their college career. They are the ones who have not learned how to study or do not care to study. Only by compulsory classroom attendance will they be able to get by.

In view of all the advantages of a Dean's list and as a forward step, the State College administration should not let scholarship go begging as it is at the present, but rather it should supply those incentives which would encourage poor students to make better grades, and at the same time reward the honor students.

It is rumored that some more important student government legislation will come up before long. The boys have been about as busy passing bills this year as their elders in the Legislature and in Congress.

HERE and THERE

By G. W. FORD

Every one seems to be going around with dark rings under his eyes as a result of the past week-end. Well, Mid-Winters come only once a year... some think that Gene Kardos pulled one on us... they say that the members of the band met for the first time on the orchestra stand down here... and that torch singer... she seemed to be quite popular with some of the boys... just one bunch of Greeks going for another.

Headline in the Crimson and White: Vandy Kentucky Neck And Neck... Is that all they do over there?

Last Sunday, for the first time, I actually saw a boy chasing the train out of the Union Depot. Just as the train started to leave the station this boy, without hat or coat and with the most pitiful look on his face, came hoofing it after the last car. Everything in the depot came to a halt, except the boy and the train, and people turned to watch the race between man and machine. After about two hundred yards the boy overtook the train and hopped aboard... much to our relief.

And then there was the fan dancer who tried to do her dance with an electric fan... every one was shocked.

How about this fellow who runs around the campus wearing a riding outfit all the time? Hasn't anyone put him wise... this isn't the school that he thinks he's going to.

Here's a queer one: A. H. Daves was driving his girl friend home Sunday afternoon when he came upon some buzzards in the road. One of the birds flew up and was struck by the windshield of the car, completely smashing the glass... it will cost him something to replace the glass too... it was non-breakable.

I see where Ahman and Williams are going into the picture business. But "Fubby" has a hard time keeping the subject out of the shadow while he's taking the picture.

Sam Fowler had the same girl down to the houseparty for Mid-Winters that Paul Warlick had down for Pledge dances. How about finals?

I read one of Hans Anderson's stories the other day. It was called "The Emperor's Clothes." The story went on to tell about an Emperor who was cheated by two crooks who told him that they had made a new cloth which was beautiful but which could not be seen by those who were unworthy of their position. In reality they made no cloth at all but the Emperor and his men were ashamed to admit they saw nothing. As a result the Emperor went out to a procession with no clothes on, thinking that he was wearing this new material. Just look around and see how many examples of the Emperor and his men we have around here today.

Bill Sullivan, Colin Kerr, Bob Setton, Dave Morrah, and Larry Martin had quite a time getting back from Greensboro last Sunday. With no lights on the car, each had to take his turn running out in front to chase the cows off the road and otherwise direct the course of the vehicle.

SPECIAL RATES ALLOWED TO COLLEGE STUDENTS

State College students will be admitted at a reduced rate to the concerts to be given next week by the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra in the Memorial Auditorium, according to Major C. D. Kutischinski, director of music.

The series of concerts will be given on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights at 8:30, and on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at 2:30. The orchestra will be under the direction of Lamar Stringfield and Edwin Frank Golan, famous director of Goldman's band.

The regular fifty cent tickets may be secured by students from Major Kutischinski or the R. O. T. C. office for the reduced price of thirty-five cents. Season tickets for the five performances may be had for two dollars.

DR. WELLS IDENTIFIES TWO BEAUFORT PLANTS

Two Beaufort County plants have recently been identified by Dr. B. W. Wells, head of the botany department.

The first is the Venus Fly Trap which is found in the Small and Edward sections near Aurora. This is a rare and interesting plant found near Wilmington, but not before this time known to botanists to be found further north than New Bern. The Venus Fly Trap actually catches and utilizes insects for food. It has tiny flesh leaves for jaws with spikes around the edge, reminding one of teeth. When the unfortunate fly crawls within, the jaws snap shut and he is devoured. However, a rain drop, no matter how heavy, does not cause the jaws to close.

The second variety of plant identified by Dr. Wells is a lovely evergreen red berried shrub found by J. H. Austin on his farm at Campbell's Creek. It has small, narrow leaves and bright red berries similar to holly berries. The botanical name is Ilex Myrte-Folia. The common name is Myrtle leaved youpon.

Bell System engineers long ago began to work out a way to clear city streets of overhead wires. The first telephone cables were crude affairs—a few wires drawn through a pipe. Continuous research brought forth improved designs, better manufacturing methods, cables of smaller size yet far greater capacity. The cable with the greatest number of wires today—3636—is 2 1/2" in diameter.

REX AND FLYTHE LEAD STATE SCORING ATTACK

Sermon and Norman Keep Starting Line-ups in Whole of Hard Fought Contest

By CLARENCE GALE
Pandemonium reigned in Frank Thompson gym last night as State College's basketball team staved off a last minute rally by South Carolina's Gamecocks and came through to win 30-25 what will probably be termed the most exciting and spectacular game seen in this section in a long time. The State freshmen won 42-35 over Raleigh Hill in the other half of a twin bill to make it State's night all the way.

With the count 24-21 in their favor, in the last five minutes of play, the Terrors held the Gamecocks at bay while gathering six themselves to pull the game out of the fire. South Carolina broke the scoring ice when Laurie, Gamecock forward, sank a long shot after one minute of play. Lambeth missed a chance to tie the score a short time later when he missed two foul shots. The Terrors tied the count when Captain Ray Rex made one from the corner after four minutes of play. Immediately after this Stuart Flythe sank a short shot after taking a beautiful pass from Charlie Aycock, to put the Techs ahead. From this time on State was never headed.

Sermon's Terrors held a 12-5 lead at the half, limiting the Birds to one basket and three free shots on the first half. South Carolina came back in the second half to outscore the Techs 20-18, but State's first half lead proved enough to be the margin of victory. Gooding, Bird guard, opened the scoring for the second half by sinking a crisp after just 45 seconds of play. Aycock immediately matched this by sinking one 15 seconds after Gooding's shot. From this fast start, hardly a minute of the second half went by without a score.

The closest the Gamecocks came to tying the count was six and one-half minutes from the end of the game when the score was 23-21 in favor of State. Here the Red Terrors got going again and put on their great defensive and offensive action.

With the score at this point, Charlie Aycock started the Techs on their way by making good a free shot. Laurie counted for the Birds with four and one-half minutes left and then Aycock scored again. One minute and forty-five seconds were left when Rex er made good his gratis shot and with one minute left Woody Lambeth counted another free shot. Gooding then sank a basket for the Gamecocks and their scoring for the night was over. With less than a minute left to play, State froze the ball until just before the gun ended the game when Neill Dairymple shot a long shot that swished the net as the gun banged.

Neither team went in a substitute, the starting regulars playing throughout the whole game. Gooding and Henderson were the leaders of the Gamecocks and the latter with six points tied Laurie and Rowland for the scoring honors of the South Carolinians. Rex led the scoring for the Terrors and for the game with twelve points. Stuart Flythe was second with ten points. No individual star could be picked out of the State line-up as the Terrors displayed a splendid brand of team work.

A feature between the halves of the game was the gymnastic exhibition put on by some of the physical education students. The gymnasts performed on the horizontal bar and the parallel bars. Those participating were Dave Morrath, Craig Furr, Jack Dossback, "Red" Getts, Howan Hoccutt, W. R. Mann, and Hill Hoffman.

Sport Glimpses

By BILL GOAD

"Red Hot," that's the way Smoky Joe expresses it, and that's what I call it too. Sure, we're speaking of that 30-25 win over South Carolina last night. I've never seen two teams scrap as hard as did the Red Terrors, and the Gamecocks. Individual stars? No, not a one. That State quiet clicked like a well oiled machine.

Add Warren is bringing his Duke boxing team over here tomorrow night. Add has the best boxing team that the Durham school has had in many years. Freddie Lloyd, one of the best featherweights in the conference, is back after a year's absence. This is the State team's first home meet. State will go into the ring, as they have done in both previous meets, as the underdog, so come on down and give those boys your support.

Any team that can hold that South Carolina club to a short stop in the first half has to play good ball. The Gamecocks got only one basket from the field and three free shots during the first half. They got hot and made twenty points to go with them during the last half, but that just wasn't enough.

Last week I mentioned Clipper Smith signing up for next season, and now we have a report of Ed Hunsinger signing. Ed was end coach at State during the winter practice last year. He has been named head coach at Niagara University. Hunsinger teamed with Chuck Collins, former Carolina coach, to fill the end positions on that famous four horsemen team at Notre Dame.

Dave Morrath's crack wrestling team takes on the conference champions from Washington and Lee tonight. Dave's team has won two matches, and dropped one so far this season. Last year W&L defeated the Tech grapplers. The heavyweight tonight will be handled by Frank Kubisa. At least that was the news yesterday. Well if Kubisa wrestles, he'll give Bonial a bit before it's through.

Wake Forest fell before the Red Terrors Tuesday night. Doc gave everyone of his substitutes a chance to play. The team as a whole looked very impressive. Woody Lambeth got plenty hot. And speaking of All-Southern, Woody has a plenty good chance to land a berth. He always has been a good floor man, and his shooting has improved tremendously.

There's one man on that Basketball club that I've spoken about several times, and I'm still talking about him. That's Chub Wombie. Chub is out with a broken wrist, but I have seen him down at the gym almost every day with uniform on working out. Chub is planning to get back in there in about two weeks, and he wants to be in shape. If that's not spirit then I've never seen it.

I just can't seem to get away from that game last night. I noticed that neither team made a substitution during the entire game. Any team that can go through four periods of the brand of Basketball that was played last night are Iron Men. "Footy" Knight had a mighty hard time keeping the game from becoming a football game. Nothing intentional, but both teams seemed to get just a little too rough at times.

In the excitement of the varsity game, we almost forgot to mention the Freshman game. That also was a humdinger. The Raleigh High quint held an early season victory over the Techlets, but Bob Warren's team went out last night with determination in their hearts, and gained a 42-35 win. As usual Connie Mack Berry was the big shot. He's my idea of an ideal basketball player. Give that boy just a year on the varsity and he'll put the Tompkins, Weathers and

FORFEITS DAMAGE INTRAMURAL CARD

Two Fraternity Teams Forfeit Games Last Monday Night to Merit Miller's Comment

BOXERS HAVE MATCHES SCHEDULED FOR FUTURE

Intramural Boxing Preliminaries Are to Be Held in Gymnasium Next Wednesday Night

Fraternity league intramural basketball got a bad start this week with two forfeits on Monday night. The Theta Kappa Nus forfeited to the Kappa Alpha, and the Pi Kappa Phis forfeited to the Pi Kappa Alphas. Mr. Miller suggested that the reason for these forfeits was that the effects of the Mid-Winter Dances had not worn off.

On Monday night February 4, in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium the Delta Sigis defeated the Alpha Lambda Taus with a score of 21-13. The men taking part in the contest were as follows: For the Delta Sigis—B. Furr, L. Martin, J. Davidson, O. Horton, Gomo, Williams, Griffin, and Dossback. For the Alpha Lambda Taus—W. Jones, Aycock, Martin, Nelson, C. Karr, E. Jones, and Newcomb.

The smooth working Sigma Nu team defeated the fighting Sigma Pi squad with a score of 23-6. The game was played on the afternoon of February 5 in the gymnasium. The teams were composed of the following players: Sigma Nus—Ware, Ashcraft, Trotsell, Falls, Oliver, D. Oliver, and Trussell. Sigma Pis—Sisell, Bayne, Amadon, Browning, Powers, Palmer, Saunders, and Abernathy.

The four Independent League teams have been showing a great deal of interest in their games. There is also a great deal of interest for the teams in this league on the campus because the Independent League teams are chosen from the whole campus and should be faster than the teams in the other two leagues.

In the Dormitory League the First 1911 team defeated the Fourth Dormitory squad by a score of 14-10. The game was played on February 4 at 7 p.m. in the gymnasium. The squads were composed of the following men: Bounous, Fallon, Layton, Hooks, Cox, Parham, Bundy, Hyde, Boney, and Stalem for First 1911 and Duriland, Wilson, Watson, Skinny, Smith, Maculoch, Walling, Cardo, and King for Fourth Dormitory.

Both the fraternity and dormitory intramural preliminaries will be held at 7 o'clock on February 13 in the Frank Thompson gymnasium. The names of the entries should be in Mr. Miller's office by February 12, and Dr. Campbell's O.K. should be with them.

The matches will be held in regular intercollegiate weights and four pounds leeway will be allowed the contestants. In the preliminary bouts two one minute rounds will be fought. All entries may weigh in at any time on Wednesday, February 13.

Last year unusual interest was shown by the students in the intramural boxing matches, and a large number of students attended them. Sufficient interest was shown in finals last year that by charging a small admission fee Mr. Miller was able to buy the winners in each weight a small silver boxing glove. It is hoped that the same interest will be shown this year.

Shorts? Yeah, we have a few. . . All of you fellows who have never seen an International champion in action, may see one tomorrow night. Arrangements are being made for Danny Farrar, Duke freshman welterweight, and one of Charlie Garners' freshman boxers to put on an exhibition. . . This is not definite however. . . The college band has been playing school songs of the Terror opponents after every game this past week. I think it's a plenty good idea. Hope they keep it up. . . There was some good stunt work done on the gym apparatus during the half of last night's game. Every one who took part did some nice work. Congratulations boys. I hope to see some more later on this season.

Meet Duke Tomorrow Night

Above are pictured three members of the State College varsity boxing team and Coach Peele Johnson. The State Fugs will meet a strong Duke University ring team tomorrow night. Captain Jack Fabri will box in the middleweight class. Seaman Hudson and Glenn Penland will undertake the welterweight and lightweight assignments respectively. The match promises to hold plenty in store for the fight fans.

BOXERS TO MEET DUKE TOMORROW

First Home Boxing Matches of the Year to Be Run Off in Frank Thompson Gym Saturday

The first home boxing meet of the year will be run off in Frank Thompson Gym tomorrow night with the State glove slingers playing host to the strong Duke University team. Just as in the previous two fights, the State team will enter the ring as the underdogs. Before, they have won one and dropped one.

The meet tomorrow night promises at least seven bouts and probably a couple of exhibitions before the meet starts. The first fighter is scheduled to go into the ring at 8 o'clock.

The State team will be led by Capt. Jack Fabri, only State fighter to get a win at Carolina last week. Henry Garlington, member of last year's freshman team has recovered from his attack of influenza and will take the bantamweight berth. Powell appears to be Coach Johnson's choice in the light heavy with Johnson, only undefeated State scrapper to fight in the unlimited. Tuttle, Penland and Hudsons will be Coach Johnson's selections in the featherweight, lightweight and welterweight bouts.

The Duke team is led by Freddie Lloyd, about the best featherweight in the Conference. Matulewicz, star Blue Devil middleweight, probably will not see action as State does not have a 165-pound man out for the team. The Freshman fight has been cancelled.

State Boys Win

Of interest to State sports followers is the news that two State boys won their matches last night in the Carolina Golden Gloves Tournament in Charlotte. This amateur boxing tournament is conducted annually by the Charlotte Observer.

Ben Mayfield won his second round in the semi-finals of the tournament by a technical knockout over Bassinger. In the semi-finals, Mayfield beat Melchor, who was two times champion of the tournament. Bassinger was runner-up in his weight last year.

Red Beaver won a decision over George Diehl, Charlotte High School champ, in the featherweight class. Diehl did some brilliant boxing last night, but Beaver had it over him.

TERRORS DEFEAT W. FOREST, 39-20

Woody Lambeth, State Forward, is High Scorer Getting Eleven Points for Terrors

WAKE FOREST HAS LEAD FOR ONLY TWO MINUTES

Offensive and Defensive Work of Entire State Team Shows Up Well Against Deacons

The State College Red Terrors and the State freshmen won their basketball games with the Wake Forest varsity and frosh quintets for their second double win against Wake Forest cage teams this season. The games were played in the Frank Thompson gymnasium here last Tuesday night.

State's victory over Wake Forest put the Red Terrors in a tie with Carolina for top berth in the Big Five Standing. Duke defeated Carolina to give both State and Carolina a percentage of .800 with a record of four wins and one loss each.

The Red Terrors won by a substantial margin, 39-20, but they did not defeat the Deacons by as lopsided a score as they did when they played Wake Forest in the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium earlier in the season.

The State scoring was started by Stuart Flythe, Terror center, on a foul shot. Shortly after, Flythe shot a long field goal to add to the State score. The Terrors had a six point lead when Brunt, Wake Forest forward scored a field goal for his team after three minutes of play had elapsed.

The Wake Forest quintet then started cutting down on State's lead until, after eight minutes of play, Dolight Morris dropped in a goal from an angle to knot the count at 9 all. Shortly afterwards, Morris repeated with an other field goal to put the Deacons ahead for the only time of the evening. The Deacons were in the lead for only two minutes, when Woody Lambeth tied the score again with a field goal.

After this, the State offense started clicking smoothly, and the Deacons tallied only four more points during the first half, while the Terrors shot ahead to hold the long end of a 26-15 count when the half ended.

When the score had gone to 37-19, Dr. Ray Sermon, State cage coach, sent in the second string State team, with eight minutes left to play. Sam Wombles scored State's only tally after this on a short field goal.

GRAPPLERS MEET W. & L. GENERALS IN GYM TONIGHT

VIRGINIA TEAM HAS WON 57 OF PAST 58 MATCHES

Match Tonight Will Come in the Middle of Week-end of Competition for State Teams; Generals Will Bring Two Conference Champs and Two Runners-up to State for Matches; Techs Are Given Position of Under Dogs, But Are Expected to Give Keen Competition

N. C. State's mat team will meet the Washington and Lee wrestling team in a feature bill at the Frank Thompson gymnasium tonight at 8 o'clock. The Washington and Lee Generals hold the present Southern Conference wrestling championship, and they hold the unique record of having won 57 out of 58 scheduled matches over a period of the last six years.

The Tech wrestlers will start the match as the under dogs, but Coach Dave Morrath's proteges are expected to put up a stiff fight. The score of the match last year between Washington and Lee and State was 18-4 in favor of the Virginia team. This season the Generals defeated the University of North Carolina 23-0.

The Washington and Lee team will bring to State College two Southern Conference wrestling champions, and two runners-up in the last year's conference wrestling tourney. The champions are Rowland Thomas, 118 lb., Southern Conference champion in 1933, and Hugo Bonino, captain of the team, and present holder of the conference heavyweight championship. The runners-up are Frank Crew, runner-up in the 118 lb. class, who will meet Colin Kerr in the 126 lb. weight, also a runner-up in last year's meet; and Ed Seltz, runner-up in the 165 lb. class, who will meet Craig Furr tonight.

Cliff Croom and C. J. Krach on the State team are undefeated thus far this year, and Croom's total time on the mat this season in three engagements is twelve minutes and thirty-nine seconds.

TERRORS INVADE VIRGINIA SCHOOL ON MONDAY NIGHT

Game With V. P. I. at Blacksburg Monday Night Opens Three Contests in Virginia

There will be somewhat of a lull in sports activities in the Frank Thompson gymnasium next week after the wrestling and boxing matches scheduled for tonight and tomorrow night have been run off.

The Terrors' stock has probably risen to a much higher level since their great surprise defeat of the strong University of South Carolina team in the Frank Thompson gymnasium. The surprise was very similar to the one which came last year in the Southern Conference Basketball Tournament held in Raleigh, when the Terrors defeated a Gamecock quintet which should have won easily according to all the pre-game dopsters.

The State team will engage the Virginia Techs on Monday, February 11, the V. M. I. Cadets on Tuesday night, and the Washington and Lee Generals on Wednesday night. All three opponents are Southern Conference foes, and the wins over them will boost State's rating in the Conference a great deal.

The number of college students in the United States has increased approximately 900 per cent since 1900, while the population of the country has increased only 62 per cent.

TAR HEEL PUGS WIN OVER STATE

Captain Jack Fabri Gets the Only Decision for State in Match Held Last Week

The University of North Carolina boxers punched out a decision over the State College ringmen in the Tin Can last Saturday night 6 1/2-1 1/2, Captain Jack Fabri of State being the only member of his team to come from the ring with a win.

Fabri's decision was at the expense of Sam Giddens, Tar Heel captain. Big Nellis Johnson got State's half point by fighting to a draw with Alderman, Carolina heavyweight.

Carolina presented a well balanced team which should give places in the Southern Conference race this year. Jules Medynski, junior middleweight fighter for the Tar Heels, scored the only knockout of the meet when the towel was thrown in during the first round of his fight with Dick Parker.

The lightweight bout between Penland of State and Edwards was one of the best bouts on the card. Edwards came out with the referee's decision, which proved to be unpopular with the fans.

Ralph Powell, fighting his first varsity fight, did a good job in staying with Max Novich for the whole three-round fight, making things plenty interesting for the more experienced Novich.

The summary: Bantamweight: Forfeit to Carolina. Featherweight: Eustler, Carolina, decision. Lightweight: Edwards, Carolina, decision over Penland. Welterweight: Fisher, Carolina, decision over Hudson. Junior middleweight: Medynski, Carolina, technical knockout over Parker in first round. Middleweight: Capt. Fabri, State, decision over Capt. Giddens. Light heavyweight: Novich, Carolina, decision over Powell. Heavyweight: Johnson, State and Alderman, fought to draw.

STATE FRESHMAN QUINT DEFEATS RALEIGH HIGHS

Berry and Swann Lead Play of Frosh in Making Their 42-25 Victory Over Locals

A scrapping State college freshman team evaded its basketball score by defeating the Raleigh High team in the Frank Thompson gymnasium last night by a 42-25 score. Earlier in the season the local high school handed the frosh quintet one of the few drubbings they have taken this year.

The State Frosh stayed in front for the whole route. They scored five points before the high school team found the basket when Riddle made a good one-handed shot.

The high's principal trouble seemed to be too much Berry and Swann. The former tallied 19 points for the Techlets and the latter 16. At the beginning of the second quarter, the Raleigh High quint experienced trouble in holding the ball.

Fuller, of the Highs, had a shot in the air when the whistle blew for the end of the first half. The shot was good and made the score at the half 28-18 in favor of the Techlets.

The starting Frosh lineup stayed in the game until one minute and thirty-seven seconds before the end of the game when Brock was sent in for Berry who went out of the game on too many fouls.

Riddle and Mangum showed up best for the Raleigh High team, and Berry and Swann were the leading State Frosh players, although the whole Frosh team turned in a good performance.

The teamwork of the Red Terrors showed up well during the entire game, and the second team as well as the first showed up well in this phase of the game. Woody Lambeth proved high scorer in the game with eleven points, and he was ably assisted by Charlie Aycock, his running mate. Stuart Flythe also played a good game for State and his floor work and passing was especially good.

SPORTS RESULTS BAFFLE EDITOR

Technician Sports Editor in Dilemma Over Intramural Results in Last Paper

By HALL MORRISON Seemingly contradictory statements on the sports page of last week's TECHNICIAN caused the sports editor considerable worry when he was reading the proof of the page before the paper went to press at Edwards & Broughton last Thursday night.

In reading the proofs of intramural activities of the week, the sports editor discovered that in the intramural write-ups of the week, Ed Quintard, who covers all intramural activities for the campus paper, had stated that the Faculty Club had dropped a game to the Ohio Valley Club in the Independent League basketball race.

Later on, in Bill Goad's "Sports Glimpses," it was discovered that Goad had congratulated the faculty members for winning their game, and had invited everybody down to the gym to watch them play.

It appeared as if one of the two write-ups was bound to be incorrect. Quintard is nearly always correct in his write-ups and so is Goad. To the puzzled sports editor, there was presented a real problem.

It was one a.m. in the morning, and there was no way of finding out whether the Faculty or the Ohio Valley boys were the winners.

The editor had about decided to toss a coin to decide the matter when Brock Sissel, who generally writes the society news, but who manages to keep up with college sports, asserted that he had heard one of the members of the Faculty quintet bragging about winning their game a few days ago.

With this help, the head of the sports department of the paper decided that Goad's write-up was correct and that Quintard had made a mistake for once.

With mental reservations to see Quintard the first thing in the morning and gave him a lecture, the editor rewrote Quintard's story, making the Faculty the winners of the game with the Ohio Valley Club, and left Edwards & Broughton to climb in bed.

Friday morning, after the TECHNICIAN had already made its weekly appearance on the campus, the sports editor called Mr. Johnny Miller, intramural athletic director, to find out the truth of the matter.

To his immense surprise, he found that both Goad and Quintard were correct in their statements. The Ohio Valley Club defeated the Faculty, but the game Goad was discussing in his column was the game between the Faculty and the Home Club, which the Faculty won, to their great delight.

Therefore, the sports editor wishes to apologize for the mistake in the intramural write-up of last week's paper. He also thinks an apology is due to Quintard and Goad for having the temerity to doubt the veracity of their write-ups.

REDS WIN BY BIG SCORE WEDNESDAY

Crimson Set of 25-0 is the Largest Yet to Be Tallied in Intrasquad Grid Games

The Reds got sweet revenge for the drubbings that the Greens have been handing them as a usual thing when they defeated the Greenies 25-0 in an intrasquad game held at State College last Wednesday afternoon.

The contest was part of the off-season grid drills now being conducted at State College by Coach Hank Anderson.

The work of "Cowboy" Robinson, freshman, furnished most of the fireworks in a game that ended up with the most top-sided score to be tallied as yet in the intrasquad drills.

Robinson scored two of the four touchdowns. One of these was on a 38-yard dash and the other on a 4-yard end run.

Ed Berlinsky was substituted for Robinson on the Red squad after Robinson's second touchdown, and he did a pretty bit of running for 32 yards and the third touchdown for the Crimson.

All the scores came on long runs except Robinson's 4-yard trip over the final marker. The fourth and last touchdown was made on a play in which Hayden passed to Fox, who in turn passed a lateral to Joe Schwerdt, Red quarterback, who scored on the play. The passes and the run netted a total of 28 yards.

The starting Red backfield was composed of Robinson and Howard Bards in the halfback positions, Willie Dusty, quarterback, and Joe Ryneska at fullback. Schwerdt and Berlinsky ably carried on the work of Robinson and Dusty when they were substituted for them on the Red team.

Charlie Gadd and Pete Kuzma led the backfield of a Green team that never offered much of a threat to the Crimson, while E. V. Helms, Odell Smothers and Carroll Conrad looked good in the Green line. Best in the Red line were Cara, Steve Sabol and Plioseno.

The line-ups: Reds: Ends—Mass, Cara, Tatum, Berry, Fox and Branson; tackle—Goad, Fry, Sissel; guards—Plioseno, Browne, Worth, and Kirschner; center—Sabol and Eppy; backs—Dusty, Robinson, Bards, Berlinsky, Schwerdt, Hayden, and Gattis. Greens: Ends—Conrad, Thompson, Fateransky, Farfello, and Richman; tackle—Helms, Kubisa, Edwards, Mastrolia, and Goodwin; guards—Brown, Chemigio, and Woodan; center—Smothers and Wilson; backs—Gadd, Kuzma, Lawler, Entwistle, Abrams, Davis, and Kretz.

STATE TECHLETS BEST BABY DEACLETS 38-25

Warren's Freshman Team Turns Back Wake Forest Frosh Second Time This Season

State College's freshman basketball team administered their second licking of this season to the Wake Forest freshmen by a score of 38-25 in a preliminary game to the contest between the varsities of the two schools in Frank Thompson gym last Tuesday night.

The win was the second for the Techlets over the Baby Deacs, but it wasn't as decisive as the first meeting of the teams when the Wolflets came out on the large end of a 61-21 score.

Both teams went scoreless for the first two minutes of play, until Rennie, State guard, sank a short shot to break the ice. After some splendid pass work, Satterfield made a basket and then Berry sank a free shot to put the Techlets ahead 5-0.

After four and a half minutes of play, Byrd, Wake Forest forward, sank one from the corner to score the first points for the Baby Deacs. This was the only scoring the visitors did until only thirty seconds were left of the first half, when, with the count 17-2 against them, Sitton sank a shot to add two more points.

Immediately after this Brock, substitute center, counted a short basket to make the score 19-4. The half ended at this point.

The second half of the game was a different story with the Deacleets outscoring the Warrenties 21-19. Barnes, Deacleet guard, started Wake Forest on its way by dropping in a basket after only ten seconds of play. This was soon matched by two free shots, one by Rennie and the other by Satterfield. The Techlets appeared to be away to another overwhelming score, but the Baby Deacs tightened up and most of the scoring in the latter half of this period.
