

SMALL VARIATION IN STUDENT VOTE SHOWN IN BALLOT

State Students Vote Against Entry of United States Into League of Nations

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN BY AMERICAN STUDENTS

State Votes Not to See Service if United States Should Invade Foreign Power; 566 Believe That This Country Can Stay Out of Another Great War; 185 Vote Negatively; Students Favor Universal Conscription in War Times

Final results of the Literary Digest Peace Poll indicate that there has been but little change in the sentiment of State College students over the seminal results.

In the final tabulation twenty out of every twenty-one students expressed an unwillingness to fight if the United States should invade the borders of another country. The vote was 718 to 35.

Should the United States be invaded by another power 583 voted to bear arms, while 163 voted against the defense of their country, or a 3 to 1 majority.

In answer to the question "Do you believe that the United States can stay out of another great war?" 566 replied in the affirmative while 185 voted negatively, or in about the same ratio that other colleges had voted.

Sentiment on the League of Nations changed between the time of the semifinal returns and the final returns. At the time of the incomplete counting, the advocates of the League held a slight majority. At the final counting, however, the vote was 545 for entrance of the United States into the League and 55,689 against. State College students voted 334 for, and 411 against.

The vote on the question as to whether or not the United States should have a navy and air force voted to none was about equal, 353 voting affirmatively and 365 voting negatively.
The national vote was greatly different as 69,715 voted against such a proposal and 41,407 voted for it.

The State undergraduates voted almost five and one-half to one that for universal conscription of all resources of capital and labor to control profits in time of war. National sentiment was almost the same. By an overwhelming vote of 11 to 1, the State students showing their advocacy of government control of all armament and munitions industries. The national vote was about 9 to 1.

The Literary Digest has been conducting this poll in cooperation with the Association of College Editors whose members are editors of campus publications.

"More than a third of the ballots were returned." The Literary Digest states in its columns, "the highest percentage of returns ever obtained in a Literary Digest poll. The heavy returns indicate the interest which has been aroused in the colleges by the Peace Ballot.

"In view of the reputation for accuracy which the Literary Digest polls have established with smaller percentages of returns, it is safe to say that the results of the College Peace Poll portray an accurate cross-section of opinion in American colleges.

"In general, those colleges which have well established reputations for liberal educational policies, are the colleges in which a majority of undergraduates voted in favor of entry into the League of Nations.

"All women's colleges voted in favor of entry into the League. All the Catholic colleges on the list opposed entry."

"It is interesting to note that in the 'Cotton South,' where economic internationalism is synonymous with economic security, with few exceptions the colleges voted against entry into the League of Nations.

"The College Peace Poll was extended to one university in Canada to serve as a test vote of Canadian sentiment.
Queen's University in Kingston, Ontario, was selected. The questions asked the Canadian students were substantially the same as those on the ballots for American colleges—altered, of course, to fit the special case.

"For instance, the fifth question on the Canadian ballot was phrased: 'Should Canada remain in the League of Nations?' An overwhelming majority, 97.14 per cent of the voters advocated that Canada should remain in the League.

"Only on question five, the League question, did the Canadian percentages vary appreciably from the ratios returned by the American colleges."

DEAN HARRELSON RELATES HISTORY OF THIS COLLEGE

Administration Dean Speaks to Freshman Class on School's History and Purposes

COLLEGE ESTABLISHED THROUGH MORRILL ACT

Harrelson Outlines Purposes of Various Schools of Institution;
Also Tells of Work of College Extension Department and Work and Plans of Agriculture and Engineering Experiment Stations; State is Land Grant College

Col. J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration, addressed the freshman class assembly in Pullen Hall last Wednesday. His address consisted of a brief historical review of the events leading to the foundation of State College and its purpose and organization.

Col. Harrelson stated that State College was established by an act passed in 1887 by the General Assembly of North Carolina. The college was known at the time of its establishment as the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanics and was founded as the result of a movement for education in the fields of applied science, and upon the act passed by the Congress of the United States in 1862, known as the Morrill Act, he continued.

The Morrill Act, Harrelson said, provided for the giving to each state of public lands for the purpose of endowment, support, and maintenance of at least one college, whose main object shall be to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and mechanic arts, and including military tactics. The term mechanic arts, he explained, has been interpreted as meaning all fields of engineering and other applied sciences.

Outlining the purpose of each of the three-fold purpose of the School of Agriculture as: To secure through scientific research, experimentation, and demonstration, accurate information relating to agricultural pursuits;
to provide college instruction in agricultural fields; and to disseminate reliable information through publications and extension agents.

He explained the purpose of the School of Education as being to provide preparation for teachers in the high schools of the state in the fields of agricultural education and industrial arts.

The purpose of the School of Engineering, Harrelson said, is also threefold: To educate men for professional service in the several branches of engineering; to aid in the development of commerce and industry; and to cooperate in the solution of engineering problems with private companies, municipalities, and public authorities.

Continuing, Col. Harrelson outlined the purposes of the Textile School as:
To provide instruction in the theory and practice of all branches of the textile industry; to cooperate with the mills of the state in the securing of reliable data pertaining to the textile industry; to demonstrate the value of economic diversification; and to coordinate experiments in cotton breeding and other research to the end that the consumer will receive better values.

EXPERIMENTAL THEATRE TO APPEAR AT CAROLINA

Next Public Appearance Will Be at Duke University as Guest of Duke Players

The Experimental Theatre Players have received an invitation to appear at Chapel Hill on Friday, March 29, as a part of a joint program of the North Carolina Drama Association and the drama division of the North Carolina Teachers Association.

The players will present an impromptu play and Prof. E. H. Paget will follow the play with a lecture on the technique of producing extemporaneous and impromptu plays and on the work in general of the Experimental Theatre at State College.

The group has received a great number of other invitations to appear before various organizations.
The next public showing will be before a Duke University audience where they will play as guests of the Duke Players. The following will compose the company for the Duke engagement: J. E. Thiem, Frank Dixon, Helen Scott, Eleanor Doak, Veronica Paget, Fred Walsh, Roy Cunningham, H. D.
Carpenter, Wade Lewis, and A. R. Buffalo.

HOUSE MAY BE WIPED OUT AS COMMITTEE SANCTIONS MOTION FOR ABANDONMENT

Masquers Score Smash Hit With Comedies Last Night

Revived Dramatic Organization Plays to Packed House; Largest Attendance Seen at Plays in Years; Give Two One-Act Comedies, "The Lost Silk Hat" and "Magnolia's Man"; Directors Pleased With Reception

Showing for the first time since their reorganization, members of the Red Masquers dramatic club last night were enthusiastically received by an audience that filled Pullen Hall.

The players presented two one-act plays, "Magnolia's Man" and "The Lost Silk Hat." The former play was written by Gertrude Coffin and the latter by Lord Dunsany. The actors were directed by Professors Albert Stansbury and L. C. Hartley of the State College English department.

The play "Magnolia's Man" dealt with the love affair of a spinster maid who ordered a husband through an agency. The antics of the ordered male and the spinster kept the audience constantly laughing. The man who finally won the love of the spinster was also comical.

In "The Lost Silk Hat" the experiences of a young man who has just had a falling out with his lady love, and who is afraid to go back in the house for his hat which he left. His conversations with men of different ranks were highly amusing.

The cast for "Magnolia's Man" included Miss Eleanor Doak, H. D. Carpenter, Miss Helen Scott, and Charles Dunagan. The cast for "The Lost Silk Hat" was composed of Wallace Bourne, Howard Gray, Roy Cunningham, Fred Walsh, and James Thiem.

The music for the plays was furnished under the direction of Robert Bourne, and the vocalists were Miss Betty Wright and Philip Moeszinger.

The Red Masquers were revived shortly before Christmas due to the growing discontent which had been openly expressed with the Experimental Theatre, which gives only impromptu and extemporaneous plays.

FORESTRY GROUP HEARS HOFMANN

Europe Far Ahead of America; Women Perform Manual Labor on Forests

Dr. J. V. Hofmann, head of the Forestry Department, gave an illustrated lecture on European forestry at the Forestry Club meeting held in Patterson Hall last night.

The series of slides were taken on his last trip to Europe when as director of Mt. Alto Forest School it was customary for him to take a group each summer to Europe to study forest conditions there.

According to Dr. Hofmann forestry has been practiced in European countries particularly Germany for over four hundred years. The condition of the forests there are far ahead of what can be expected in this country for generations to come. The trees are raised as crops and cut as soon as they reach maturity. Under one method of cutting, a section of the forest that has reached its maximum growth is cut over entirely everything being taken off the land. For the next two years this portion of the land is cultivated usually in potatoes or some such crop at the end of which time it is planted with tree seedlings about 12,000 to the acre thus insuring an excellent stand, which will again be logged at the end of its full growth period. Another method shown was the strip method, a strip of mature timber being cut out of the forest and then planting this with young stock and allowing it to get a good start before an adjacent strip is logged. Other methods where seed trees are left standing in a newly logged area, and where various aged trees were in a single stand were pictured.

It is interesting to note that on many continental forests women do all the hard manual labor such as planting seedlings, gathering up brush, trans-planting, and pulling the various implements while the forester or foreman directs the work. A forester in these communities is considered the leading citizen, is regarded with the utmost respect, and is the center of the social life of the community.

Several slides showed the reforestation work in France in the sandhill region. In 1874 the portion shown was a valueless strip of shifting sand dunes.
This was first planted in grass, followed by a strip of trees for windbreaks and this was followed by pines. Today this strip is the basis of France's great naval stores industry and supports several large commercial cities. In addition slides of various municipal forests were shown. These though very small rarely over several thousand acres in extent are owned by cities and municipalities. Through sale of the timber on them the cities have their annual taxes taken care of, their poor are supported, fuel is furnished to the city, and some even pay small dividends to the citizens.

MONOGRAM CLUB CAST AS ACTORS

'Stupendation,' Featuring 'Dance of Spring' By Goode, Comes Off Tuesday Night

One of the most unique shows ever presented at State College is expected when the Monogram Club throws open to the public Tuesday night at 8 o'clock its "Stupendation."

The idea originated as a take-off on the Walkathon, and all female parts will be taken by various males. A troupe of chorus "girls" will go through all the motions of intricate dance steps, Miss Lib Dees, director of a local dancing school, is directing.

One of the features of the show will be the "Dance of Spring" as executed by Carl Goode, 238-pound football tackle.
Goode has had an especially prepared pink ballet skirt in which he will go into the dance.

Other features will be Alex "Bull" Regdon and his violin, Cecil Brownie pulling a Bing Crosby act (this should prove especially popular with the Meredith girls who are expected to attend); Kenneth Stephens as the preacher and his blackface quartet; the Bailey and Kennedy dance act; tumbling acts by members of the wrestling team, and a boxing exhibition by Turner Billorey and Allan Nease.

Proceeds from the show will go towards the annual Monogram Dance fund. The admission price for students will be twenty-five cents.

SOPHOMORES INITIATED INTO 30 AND 3 ORDER

Organization Composed of Eleven Students From Each of Three Upper Classes

Eleven outstanding sophomores at State College have been admitted into the Order of 30 and 3 leadership fraternity, it was announced yesterday.
Those extended this honor are: Hall
Morrison, Jack Gaw, Fred Kingsbury, Amil Gerlock, Clarence Gale, Fred
Gore, Lloyd Brown, Paul Warlick, Charles Roger, Charles Matthews, and Dwight Durham.

The organization is composed of 11 men from each of the three upper classes and the object of the group is the promotion of the welfare of the college. Qualifications for membership include good character, ability for leadership, scholastic standing, and interest in college welfare.

Claude Carrow is president of this group; Kenneth Stephens, vice president; and Harrie S. Keck, secretary-treasurer.

Faculty Members Are Guests State College faculty members were guests of the Institute of International Relations at a luncheon given in the Carolina Hotel last Tuesday.

Luncheon speakers were: Dean B. F.
Brown; Lonnie Knott, State alumnus; Rev. Thomas Sykes, of High Point; and Ray Newton, of Philadelphia.

Although Quorum Not Present,
Those at Meeting Act as Committee and Vote for Removal of House

COUNCIL WOULD ASSUME ALL POWERS OF HOUSE UNDER NEW PROVISION

Proponents of Abolishment State That House is Not Needed for Smooth Operation of Student Government; Would Set Up Unicameral System as Was Recently Established in Nebraska; Student Council Forms Nucleus of House; Committee Also Recommends to Strike Several Articles From By-Laws

Although a quorum was not present at the meeting Monday, the House of Student Government with those present acting as a committee recommended the complete abandonment of that branch of the student government delegating all of its erstwhile powers to the Student Council.

The meeting was the second called within a week, a quorum falling short at each meeting by at least ten members. The House quorum calls for the presence of at least 30 members at the winter and spring term meetings.

Proponents of the establishment of a unicameral system of government at State College stated that at the present the House, or the legislative branch, was not needed since only two or three meetings were called each year and that at each of the meetings, it was difficult to secure a quorum. They also declared that the Council, since it contains 18 members, is a large enough and representative enough body to create all legislation.

When opponents of the plan stated that the Council could pass unfair measures without a House to check them, the proponents brought out the fact that all important legislation is voted upon by the entire student body at the general elections.

Although the House has not met to abolish itself, it is felt that the sentiment of the committee will be that of the body which represents.

This year the House is composed of 44 members, the 18 members of the Student Council forming the nucleus of the body. Should the House decide to abolish itself, the student body will be given a chance to have its say at the spring elections.

Other Changes
It was also recommended and passed by the committee that Article I of the by-laws be stricken. This article had to do with the requiring of all officers and members of the Council and House to take a course of instruction in Student government.

Article V of the by-laws was also recommended to be stricken. This article declares it to be an offense on the part of any student who fails to report any violation of the by-laws observed by him.

It was further recommended that under the Point System, the editor of the Pi-Nu-Tum, forestry annual, be given three points, and the business manager of the same publication two points. Also, it voted to remove from the Point System list four offices which have become extinct due to the abandonment of certain clubs. These were the literary societies, county clubs, Junior Order of Saints, and the Old Dominion Club. At one time these were flourishing organizations, but all have died within the past two or three years.

House Structure
The organization and duties of the branch of student government voted to be abandoned follows in detail:

ARTICLE V Legislative Department

SECTION 1. MEMBERSHIP. The Legislative Department shall be known as the "House" and shall be composed of the sixteen members of the Council and another group elected as follows: Membership from each School shall be according to the number of undergraduate students enrolled in that school. Two members from each school shall be elected from the Freshman Class at large. The other three classes shall have twenty-two members, to be appointed by the Student Council as follows: The total number of undergraduates enrolled in the second quarter shall be divided by twenty-two. The constant thus obtained shall be divided into the number enrolled in each school to obtain the number of representatives for that school. In the event of a fraction, the nearest whole number shall be used. One-third of this number shall be allotted to each class, viz., Senior, Junior, and Sophomore. In case this number is not exactly divided

THE FALL OF THE HOUSE

For the third time this year important student legislation has been recommended which will have a far-reaching effect. A committee of the House of Student Government meeting Monday recommended that the Student Council be given all the powers of the House and that the latter body be entirely discontinued.

Thus it would seem that State College is following the lead of Nebraska, who, with the aid of her son Senator Norris, has been seen fit to establish a unicameral legislature. While the two houses at this institution could not be compared with the legislative branches of different states or with the national Congress, they are in some ways the same. The House at State College has only one power, the power of legislation while the Council has legislative as well as executive powers. The House, although it is supposed to be separate and distinct, has the entire Student Council as a nucleus. This, of course, would have a natural tendency to cause the House to vote as the Council members wished.

It has been felt for a long time that some steps should be taken towards making for a better student government at State College, and the abolition of the House seems to be one of the first and foremost of such moves. A meeting of that branch is called about two or three times a year, and even at meetings, it has been difficult to secure a quorum. When a body such as this takes no more interest in student affairs than has been exhibited by the House, it has no right to complain about being disbanded. If an active interest had been exhibited, there might be some objections raised as to the removal, but there has been but surprisingly little enthusiasm shown.

As the situation now stands, the Council can very well take over the duties of the House and execute them properly. A group of five students from each of the three upper classes and one member from the Freshman Class constitute a democratic and representative enough body to represent the entire school. The student body will have nothing slipped over on them as they will be given a chance to vote on all important measures passed by the Council at the general elections. This should erase one objection to the plan which may have arisen in the minds of some students. As a representative group, the Council will not machinate delusive plans which would take advantage of the student body.

While the abolishing of the House is only a recommendation of the House committee and should be treated as such, there is a general feeling that the legislative branch to be disposed of will not show opposition to the committee's recommendation, since that group voted almost unanimously against retaining the House.

BUSINESS ENGLISH PROBABLY STAYS

That the course in Business English will be retained at State College seems almost a certainty now, since pressure has been brought to bear by a large number of students and several members of the faculty.

It would have been most unwise to have removed a course such as this from the curriculum, because in so doing one of the most practical courses here would have been abandoned. It is easily seen that a college graduate will be forced to lean heavily on his ability to write business letters in his later career.

So much concern was exhibited by certain students that the course would be dropped that they circulated a petition pleading for its retention. After such a move the faculty could not very well afford to discontinue the subject without giving it further thought and a more thorough consideration.

COMMON COURTESY

Nothing will give a school a bad name quicker than the practice of booing or cat-calling when the officials make a decision that does not appeal to the students. Such a practice not only hurts the standing of the school with the visiting team but it also hurts the chances of the home team.

This practice has been noticeable at State College's basketball games and other athletic contests for some time, and the practice has seemed to grow worse instead of better.

Of course, it is readily admitted that there are sometimes decisions given out which seem unfair. And in addition to this, the officials, being human being, are apt to make mistakes. But although the officials may not always be right, booing the decision does not remedy the situation, even though it may make the over-enthusiastic fan feel better.

However, though the officials may not always be right, they are in most cases. Officials at athletic contests are a group of trained men. They see what is going on much better than the average fan, and they are trained to observe infringements of the rules of the game.

Taking your individual anger out on a member of an opposing basketball team when he is getting ready to try a foul shot is not only childish, but it is inexcusable. And in some cases at the Frank Thompson gymnasium recently, the officials have been perfectly justified in granting the visiting team an extra foul shot because of the boos and cat-calls State supporters have given vent to when the first foul shot was tried.

Recently a most commendable movement was gotten underway to endeavor to raise the morale and school spirit of State College. Such a movement will fall flat, or in common parlance, it will not even "get to first base" if such outbursts are given visiting teams and officials.

The officials and the members of the visiting team should be accorded as much consideration as if they were visitors in your own home. The type of gentleman which the State student should try to exemplify will show self-control and courtesy at athletic contests by cheering his team whether it wins or loses, and by preserving a tactful silence whenever the officials render a decision which is personally distasteful to him, or when he thinks the visiting athletic team is getting away with something.—R. H. M.

THE MURAL'S FATE

Within a week the general faculty assembled will vote as to whether or not they sanction the permanent hanging of the McLean murals in the rotunda of the D. H. Hill Library.

It is generally felt about the campus that the professors will vote against the permanent placement of the murals which do not blend with the quiet, Colonial atmosphere of the Hill Library. Although sentiment has died out to some extent concerning the decorations, there is still the majority of the students who do not wish to see the library rotunda marred by the inappropriate decorations. Painted along modernistic, grossly exaggerated lines, they have raised a storm of protest over the campus, this criticism coming both from the professors and from the students. When such a wave of discontent is in evidence over some subjects, there is evidently some cause for the reaction. The McLean murals are not suitable, and the majority of those on the campus have realized it.

Just what disposition will be made of the murals will present another problem should the faculty members see fit to remove them from the library. In solving one problem, the professors will encounter another almost as large. The decorations are the property of State College, and although they were painted expressly for the library, they may be placed anywhere should the teachers remove them from their present positions.

The teachers should not feel duty bound to approve the murals just because they had been painted for the library. The work was financed by the Federal Government through CWA funds, which were doled out to put money into circulation.

The result of the teachers' vote, should prove interesting, and it will be closely watched.

RED MASQUERS PROVE WORTH

Those who have taken an active interest in the revival of the Red Masquers dramatic group have a right to be pleased with their efforts after reviewing the enthusiastic reception accorded the players last night in their first performance after the rebirth when one of the largest crowds ever to see a dramatic presentation in Pullen Hall saw the two plays offered.

That the players received such a response goes to prove that the students and the townspeople are interested in a dramatic organization which offers memorized plays and not the spontaneous variety offered by the Experimental Theatre. Presentations given by the latter group lack in the popular appeal which a good memorized play has, and as long as those types of plays were offered State College audiences, there was a most unfavorable response, both on the part of the students and on the part of the people of Raleigh. The extemporaneous and impromptu plays have proven so unpopular here, in fact, that the group presenting them has had to resort almost entirely to outside towns and institutions for audiences.

The Red Masquers have shown to the world their power as well-organized and well-directed drama group, and as long as they remain as such, they will have the whole-hearted support of the State College community.

HERE and THERE

By G. W. FORD

This is the season in which the old midnight oil comes into play again. Since the midterm reports have been sent out the boys are beginning to realize that the old sword is still hanging over their heads and that running around has worn the thread some. The gentle art of dancing has given away to the more gentle art of "hitting the books." Are you keeping up with the times?

Jimmy Blair has been given to day dreaming for the past week or so. And why? ... Because the girl friend from "way-up-thar" is coming "way-down-hyar" for the week-end.

Watauga Hall boys must be taking beauty naps these days. At least the alarm clocks ringing in the afternoons give indications of such.

To add another simile to that long list I may put, "As unnoticed as Lincoln's Birthday in Raleigh."

The gym team which has been performing during the halves of our last two basketball games has come in for quite a bit of favorable comment from all sides. As I get it, the only one who objects to this team is a certain member of the basketball squad who would like to come out and show the people how he can shoot baskets during the half.

You will probably wonder why we have let up writing about Jimmy McLean's murals. We're waiting for Gertrude Stein to come to town and write us a feature story about them.

For those who have forgotten it I repeat: A snob is a person educated beyond his intelligence. Many such specimens can be found walking around our own campus.

Walter Chapman drives what is known as a "college car." It smacks of the old days when garters were out of place on the campus and baggy trousers were the mark of a college gentleman. What we need is more such buggies to revive that old college atmosphere.

DEBATE SQUAD PREPARES FOR ANNUAL TOURNAMENT

The State College debate squad is taking part in an active week of debating in preparation for the decision debates with Wake Forest and the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament.

Yesterday both the affirmative and the negative teams debated Campbell College at Bales Creek. The affirmative was represented by E. B. Singleton and S. B. Moss and the negative by J. D. Pendleton and R. L. Batts. This afternoon the negative team of Pendleton and Batts will debate the affirmative team of the Women's College of U. N. C. at Greensboro. Tomorrow morning and afternoon both the affirmative and the negative will debate High Point College at High Point and in the evening a dual debate with Lenoir-Rhyne is also to be held at High Point.

Those who will make the trip are E. B. Singleton, S. B. Moss, William Smith, J. D. Pendleton and R. L. Batts.

The work which Professor Foster handled will be divided among the other professors in the aeronautics department. Dr. J. G. Estes taking over the directing of the experiments with the wind-tunnel, and Prof. R. P. Kolb assuming charge of the course in airplane design.

NO ONE TO BE SELECTED TO FILL FOSTER'S PLACE

The State College Engineering School has decided definitely to go through the remainder of this school year without securing a successor to Prof. J. M. Foster, aeronautics head, who died last week.

The work which Professor Foster handled will be divided among the other professors in the aeronautics department. Dr. J. G. Estes taking over the directing of the experiments with the wind-tunnel, and Prof. R. P. Kolb assuming charge of the course in airplane design.

On Thursday, February 28, the affirmative team will engage in its first decision debate of the year with Wake Forest College at Wake Forest. Although neither Singleton nor Moss has ever taken part in a decision debate and although they will be opposed by a Wake Forest team in its fourth year of decision debating, the State debaters have high hopes of making a good showing.

Red Terrors Play Davidson Tonight and Duke Tomorrow

Basketball Team Enters Last Week of Competition With Tournament Next Week

TWO VICTORIES WILL BEST DUKE IN BIG FIVE RACE

White Phantoms Have Best Pre-Tournament Rating; No Special Teams Favored to Win

The 1935 varsity Red Terrors will enter their last week of basketball competition when they meet Davidson College here tonight in the Frank Thompson gymnasium at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow night, both the varsity and the freshman squads go to Durham to meet the varsity and freshman teams of Duke University.

The Southern Conference Basketball Tournament opens in Raleigh at the City Memorial Auditorium next Thursday, February 23, and continues through Friday and Saturday. All Southern Conference teams will probably be represented with the exception of the University of Maryland team, and that of V. P. I.

The University of North Carolina White Phantoms took first place in Big Five basketball circles last Tuesday night when they defeated the Red Terrors by a two-point margin, but the Terrors will be given a chance to take second place if they win their games tonight and tomorrow night.

The game with the Davidson Wildcats tonight should not be an exceedingly difficult contest for the Terrors to take. Davidson and Wake Forest have been trailing State, Duke and Carolina throughout the present season. But the Blue Devils will put up a keen fight against the Raleigh team tomorrow night with second place in the state title at stake.

However, the Terrors have been coming right along, and their loss to Carolina came after they had held the lead for almost three quarters of the game, and the game tomorrow night should be a hard fought contest.

Tourney Next Week
The Terrors are listed as possible dark horses in the conference tourney next week-end, also, and with the breaks, the State team should go a long way. Their teamwork has improved throughout the whole of the season.

The Southern Conference Basketball Tournament always offers a feature attraction to the fans. Spectators are always thrilled over some of the really good basketball playing they do witness. Raleigh is an ideal place to hold the tournament, as it is centrally located, and the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium is ably suited to take care of affairs of this kind.

Last year the Terrors upset the favored South Carolina Gamecocks in the first round of play, but they were eliminated in the second round of play. This year, according to the dopesters, there should be no very strong favorites, although the Carolina team is conceded to have a slight edge.

Indications are that Maryland and V. P. I. will be the two schools not represented at the tournament. V. P. I. has the poorest record of any team in the conference and Maryland does not wish to enter.

Two games in the tournament will be played Thursday afternoon and two Thursday night. Semi-finals will be played Friday night, and the finals on Saturday night. Tickets for the tournament games are now on sale at the treasurer's office at the State College.

INTRASQUAD GAME CLOSES SIXTH WEEK OF FOOTBALL

Hayden, Robinson, and Entwistle Feature Winter Scrimmage With Long Runs

Long runs featured both the intrasquad football games, in which the Red teams were victorious, that were played last Saturday to wind up the sixth week of winter football drills. The No. 1 Red team came through with a 7-6 win, while the No. 2 Reds won their game by a 14-0 score.

Nick Hayden, varsity halfback of the 1934 team, starred for the No. 2 Red Team, scoring both its touchdowns. He counted first when he twisted 67 yards through the Greens and his second score came on a two-yard run around end. Eddie Jaskywich added both the extra points. Hayden returned a punt 41 yards to put the ball on the nine yard line and get it into position for the second score.

"Cowboy" Robinson exhibited some beautiful running to score the No. 1 Reds' touchdown. The "Cowboy" counted when he got loose for a 73 yard jaunt. He was aided on his run by the blocking of Joe Schwerdt, Mason Bugg, and George Murphy. Schwerdt added the point.

Ed Entwistle counted the No. 1 Greens touchdown and, incidentally, the only scoring the Greens did that day when he intercepted a pass and traveled 88 yards for a touchdown.

Feature back field work for the day was turned in by Drexwick, Hayden, Kusma, Karleva, Murphy, Robinson, Entwistle and Mahoney. The various lines were led by Chiemlego, Fry, Kubisa, Thompson, Tatum, Bugg, Nicholson, Conrad, and Kirschner.

Lineups: No. 1 Reds—Tatum and Carr, ends; Bugg and Helms, tackles; Woodard and Brown, guards; Sabol, center; Schwerdt, Robinson, Murphy, Ryneska, and Hoek, backs.
No. 1 Greens—Nicholson, Conrad,

Sport Glimpses

By BILL GOAD

The boxing team didn't put it on V. P. I. much the other night. Four knockouts in a row is about a record for this school. Tuttle got a plenty tough decision in the featherweight class. It's too bad to beat a man in the last fight of your career and then have it taken away from you by a seemingly unfair decision.

Charlie Aycock, as usual, got hot in that game with Carolina the other night. He caged up almost half his team's points. Charlie hit the hoop for a total of fifteen points. Woody Lambeth was the last to send one through, however, a long one from mid-court. That's a Lambeth special here lately.

Captain Jack Fabri brought his college career to a close in a blaze of glory last Saturday night. Fabri was in there for a knock-out, and he was well rewarded. Incidentally, Jack has lost but one home fight, and that was one of the first of his varsity fights. This one he dropped to Willard, conference champion from South Carolina. Fabri was a sophomore when he dropped three others in three years on the road.

Coach Bob Warren's Techlets also dropped a State title to Carolina in the preliminary to the varsity game Tuesday night. The Techlets had previously defeated the Tar Babies. State had a good yearling team though and there's some good material coming up for next year's varsity.

Joe Ryneska gave the crowd a surprise when he hopped into the ring and disposed of his man after thirty-five seconds of fast fighting. Ryneska played football during the afternoon before the fight. He made the remark that he would finish him in the first round, and that's what he did. It's a shame that Joe could not have gone through the season with the boxing team.

Let's not forget Ralph Powell and Nellis Johnson when we begin talking about knockouts. Ralph got his man in fifty seconds and it took Johnson a little over two rounds to finish his man. Powell sure did throw a nasty uppercut. Well we're off for the tournament and maybe we can get one man through.

Doc Sermon's Terrors still have two Big Five games left and a chance at the runner-up berth in the State. They play Davidson here on Friday night and then close the season over at Duke Saturday night. The Terrors hold victories over both the Wildcats and the Blue Devils.

Gee whiz, almost through and haven't mentioned Dave's wrestling team. They go to Davidson Friday night to bring to a close their chase after the State title on the mat. The wrestlers gave both Duke and Carolina a good licking. Davidson, however, does not appear to be a large stumbling stone in the way of the wrestlers. And when they get through with Davidson, they'll give somebody a fit for that Conference mat crown.

There are a lot of boys bringing their careers to a close this week in different lines of sport. Jack Fabri and M. M. Tuttle have fought their last dual meet. Woody Lambeth and Ray Rex are through with basketball, although both will be out for baseball. Colla Kerr, Cliff Croom, Craig Furr, Carl Bernhardt, and a couple of other wrestlers who have won two championships, are through, too. Oh yes, Dave Morrah, wrestling coach, has been here his four years.

Shorts. . . Lots of tournaments along now. . . Boxers are at their now and basketball and wrestling come next week. . . State is rated dark horse in the tournament. . . Congratulations to Seaman Hudson, that's two Raleigh boys already elected to captain teams next year. . . Barnes Worth is the other. . . heard several boxers say just how bad they hated to turn in their uniform after the last fight. . . that's the kind of spirit they've shown all season. . . They even had to dream in their dressing room after the scraps last Saturday night.

Richman, and Fox, ends; Edwards, Goode and Magistrola, tackles; Clark and Kirschner, guards; Smothers, center; Gadd, Entwistle, Lawler and Mahoney, backs.

No. 2 Reds—Mass and Farfallo, ends; Griffith, Fry, and Goodwin, tackles; Chiemlego and Pilsoneo, guards; Esbisa, Thompson, Tatum, Bugg, Nicholson, Conrad, and Kirschner.

No. 2 Greens—Thompson, Richman, Robinson, and Benson, ends; Mathoney, Mastrola, and Stinescalchi, tackles; Brown, and Campbell, guards; Kubisa, center; Dusty, Kusma, Kareiva, Krefit, and Futeransky, backs.

U. N. C. DEFEATS TERRORS 37-35

White Phantoms Win By Small Margin to Take Exciting Contest and Big Five Title

TECHLETS LOSE TO TAR BABIES BY 37-33 SCORE

Fine Playing of Aycock and McCachren Featured in Varsity Match Tuesday Night

State College's scrapping Red Terrors lost their chance for first place in the Big Five title race last Tuesday night when Carolina's White Phantoms managed to score a rally and gain the contest by a slim margin of two points to win 37-35. The Frank Thompson Gymnasium was crowded to capacity with partisans of both teams.

The preliminary game between freshmen outlets in a basketball game came near being as close as the varsity, but here also, the Carolina team won by a final score of 37-33.

The Red Terrors were in the lead for most of the contest. They were, in fact, ahead until seven and a half minutes before the end of the game. Then Jim McCachren sunk two shots in quick succession to put the Phantoms in the lead. Then, for a few minutes, Melvin Nelson, ace forward for Carolina, gave the Terrors something to worry about. He shot three baskets in a row, and McCachren tallied another in less than three minutes to run the Carolina score up to 37 points and to end their scoring for the night.

The Terrors put on a rally, but the time was too short. Rex Aycock, and Lambeth shot baskets in succession, and Stuart Fichte added a free throw to put the Terrors within two points of Carolina's score when the game ended.

The game was speedy throughout, and fans were wildly excited from the beginning to the end. Although Carolina proved rather slow in getting started and trailed State 17-15 at the end of the first half, their spurt in the second half gave them the needed margin of victory.

During those final minutes of the game, both Carolina and State were putting up a great brand of play, and a minute or so more of play might have given the game to anybody.

Charlie Aycock, Terror forward, won individual scoring honors of the game. He was trailed by one point by Nelson. Aycock scored 15 points, Nelson 14, and Jim McCachren 13. Aycock and McCachren also turned in the best floor games for their respective sides. The work of Melvin Nelson cannot be discounted, either. He made some good shots and played a great game throughout.

Techlets Also Lose
By making good seven free throws Carolina's Tar Babies turned back State's Techlets 37-33 in a game played here as a preliminary to the varsity game—and thus the Carolina yearlings took the Big Five frosh title.

The game was close throughout with the Techlets holding a 20-19 lead at the end of the first half. Both teams came through with 15 field goals, but the Tar Babies counted seven free throws to the free for the Techlets to come out with a victory.

The loss was the second in Big Five circles for the State yearlings. The Carolina frosh have lost only one tilt in the Big Five, that loss being to the Techlets at the previous meeting of the two clubs.

Connie Mack Berry was the high scorer of the game, hitting the basket nine times for action shots to give him a total of 18 points and the honors. Keating and Satterfield turned in the best floor games for the Techlets to rank with Berry as the leaders.

Earl Ruth led the Tar Babies with 13 points and showed the best floor game to easily be the Carolina yearlings' best. Mills, right forward, and Grubb, left guard, garnered six points to rank next to Ruth in the Carolina scoring.

Berry was given a great hand as he left the floor with just 40 seconds to play. He was removed for fouls.

RIFLE TEAM WINS THREE MATCHES IN PAST WEEK

On their Southern trip last week-end the State College rifle team came through with three straight victories. The Wolfpack defeated Davidson, 861-847; Wofford, 878-853, and Presbyterian, 866-828. Captain J. S. Whitley led his teammates in scoring in the Wofford match and A. W. Brown was the high scorer in the other two victories. In addition to Brown and Whitley, W. A. Corpening, J. J. Griffith, and J. Seawell made the trip accompanied by Captain Venable, rifle team coach.

The State squad has been preparing this week for a shoulder-to-shoulder match with Georgetown University to be held on Saturday afternoon on the Frank Thompson gymnasium range. A squad of 15 men are expected on March 7 from Louisiana State University to engage the Wolfpack rifle team in another shoulder-to-shoulder match.

Deacons Win
The Wake Forest Deacons gained a one-point decision over the Davidson Wildcats last night in a basketball game played at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium. The final score was 23-28. The Wake Forest victory took the Deacons out of the Big Five cellar position. Previously, neither Davidson nor Wake Forest had won a game in Big Five circles. State meets Davidson here tonight.

'36 Ring Captain

Seaman Hudson, State College's star welterweight boxer, who was recently elected captain of the 1936 boxing team, is pictured above. Hudson, a Raleigh boy, has turned in a fine record throughout the season. He is the second Capital City boy to captain 1936 athletic teams at State College. Barnes Worth, elected captain of the '36 Wolfpack, is the other.

LEFORT'S SWIMMERS WIN OVER RANDOLPH-MACON

Team Leaves for Virginia Today to Meet Fort Monroe and William and Mary

State College's tank team turned back the Randolph-Macon team 50-34 last Friday night in Frank Thompson gymnasium pool to break even in their meets of this season. The Techs had previously lost to Fort Monroe.

Coach Romeo Lefort's swimmers won six first places while holding the Virginians to three. One of the Techs' firsts came when Randolph-Macon defaulted in the 400 yard relay.

Although his team lost, Rowland Clayton, captain and coach of the visiting team was high scorer for the meet with 13 points. He finished first in the 50 and 100 yard dashes and second in the 220 to garner his points. Boyce Holoman, with 9 points, was high scorer for State. His points came on a first in the 440 free style, and as a member of the 440 relay medley relay teams.

The tanksters leave this morning for Fort Monroe, Virginia, where they will meet the army team in the first of a two-meet trip through Virginia. Their other opponent will be the William and Mary team whom they meet tomorrow. The summary of the Randolph-Macon meet:

400-yard relay—State won by default.
200-yard breast stroke—Washam, State, first; Getz, State, and Kaempf, Randolph-Macon. Time: 3 minutes.

440-yard swim—Holoman, State, first; Jones, Randolph-Macon, and Hudson, State. Time: 6 minutes, 33 seconds.

Seek Mat Title
Close fights are expected at Davidson College tonight when the State College mat team meets Davidson in a try for their third straight Big Five mat title. Neither Davidson nor State have been defeated in the state this year. The match tonight will close State's season for 1935.

SEMI-FINALS ARE STAGED IN BOXING

Mr. Miller Makes Plans to Hold Finals in Intramural Boxing in Gym on March 7

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL STANDINGS ARE RELEASED

Pi Kappa Alphas and Second Floor of 1911 Dormitory Lead League Standings

An interested group of spectators was present for the intramural boxing semi-finals staged in the Frank Thompson gymnasium on Wednesday night.

The eight bouts fought, seven in the fraternity league and one in the dormitory league, were filled with excitement. In the bout between Edwards (Pi Kappa Alpha) and Aycock (Alpha Lambda Tau), Aycock's reach defeated the hard-hitting Pika. During the second round Edwards received terrible punishment when he stumbled to a feet after being practically knocked out, and on falling to the floor for the second time, lost the bout to Aycock by a technical K.O.

Mr. Miller announced that finals will be held on March the seventh in the main part of the gym. No admission fee will be charged but a collection will be taken up in order to buy the winners in the various weights, small trophies.

Semi-final matches: Fraternity League—125 pound class: Truesdell (Sigma Nu) was defeated by Ormond (Alpha Kappa Pi); Atrial (Sigma Phi Epsilon) defeated Davis (Alpha Gamma Rho). 135 pound class: Bandy (Pi Kappa Alpha) won a hard-fought bout from Hunter (Sigma Nu); Garrett (Pi Kappa Phi) won from Teitelman (Theta Chi). 145 pound class: Davis (Sigma Nu) defeated Horton (Delta Sig); Scales (Pi Kappa Alpha) was victor over Truitt (Sigma Phi Epsilon). 155 pound class: Aycock (Alpha Lambda Tau) gained a technical K.O. over Edwards (Pika). In the only match of the Dormitory League, Walling, 155 pound Fourth Dorn fighter, defeated Abraham (Third South).

Basketball Standings
According to Mr. Miller, interest shown in intramural basketball and handball this term has been excellent. A high brand of intramural athletics has been exhibited by the teams taking part in the contests and the number of forfeits has not been excessive.

Semi-finals have been reached in fraternity and dormitory league handball with the exception of the consolation matches. These brackets are not entirely completed up to this point.

The following teams have reached semi-finals in the main bracket: Fraternities—Pika's, Sigma Nu's, S. P. E's, and Theta Phi's; dormitories—Second 1911, Third Seventh, Sixth Dorn, and Third 1911.

Three State Boxers Enter Southern Conference Meet

KAYO'S FEATURE BOXERS' VICTORY

State Wins Over V. P. I. in Last Match of Season for Coach Johnson's Team

Coach Peele Johnson's boxing protégés evened the count for their dual meets of the season last Saturday night by scoring a 6-2 victory over V. P. I. in Frank Thompson gym. The boxers had previously won over South Carolina and lost to Duke and Carolina.

State took the last four bouts on the card by knockouts to give them the win. The fighting up until that time had been even with each team having two points. The Polys' two came on half points for draws in the 115-pound match and in the 135-pound match together with a point scored when Blacklock, 125-pound V. P. I. fighter, declined Tuttle. The Techs' points had come from the draws and their other point when Seaman Hudson, 145-pound State man, had decided Gagliher.

Captain Jack Fabri started the series of K.O.'s when he finished Rothery with a technical knockout after 1:40 of the second round. Fabri's K.O. gave him his 14th win in three years of boxing. He has lost only four fights and only one of these at State.

Ralph Powell, fighting in the 165-pound class, landed four successive rights on the chin of Carmel and the Gobbler hit the resin after only 50 seconds of the first round. The V. P. I. seconds threw in the towel and Powell's work for the night was over.

The fastest K.O. of the meet followed when Joe Ryneska, 175-pound State fighter, swarmed Cooney and finished him in 35 seconds. Ryneska hit the Virginian with everything during the short time that the fight lasted.

Nellis Johnson, State unlimited man, had to go into the third round to put his man away. The fight was over after 25 seconds of the third round.

Immediately after the meet Seaman Hudson was elected captain of the mittmen for next year. This is the second year in succession that a Raleigh boy has been elected to lead the boxers. Bill Dunaway was elected last year, but dropped out of school before boxing season.

The summary:
115 pounds—Garlington, State, and Hull fought to draw.
125—Blacklock, V. P. I., declined Tuttle.

Coach Peele Johnson Enters Hudson, Tuttle, and Powell in Charlottesville Meet

RING TEAM GETS PAIR OF WINS AND DEFEATS

State Entrants in Tournament Will Face Tough Opposition From Other Contestants

Coach Peele Johnson has entered three members of his boxing team in the Southern Conference tournament to be held today and tomorrow at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Va. The University of Virginia team is defending champions.

Captain-elect Seaman Hudson heads the State entries. He will fight in the lightweight class. State's other entries are M. M. Tuttle, featherweight, and Ralph Powell, middleweight. Powell has divided his time between the middleweight and light heavyweight this season, but will enter the tournament in the middleweight. Hudson has fought welterweight all season but is down to the 135 pound class for the conference meet.

All three State men will hit strong opposition in the three conference rounds. Tuttle is in the class with Rainey, Virginia's defending featherweight champion. Another ranked high among the 125 pounders is Freddie Lloyd, Duke captain. Lloyd holds a knockout over Tuttle.

Hudson is slated to go far in the lightweight class, although Maryland offers the stiffest opposition. The Maryland lightweight has won all his fights on knockouts so far this season. However, Hudson's right hand has accounted for several knockouts this season also.

Powell will run into several good men at the tournament in the middleweight class. Willard, South Carolina champion for the past two years is gone, but Matulewicz of Duke appears the choice to take his place. The Duke fighter is undefeated. The lightweight champion of last year from Maryland is reported to be campaigning in the middleweight class this year.

In looking back at the team's record, State has victories over South Carolina and V. P. I. and losses to Duke and North Carolina. The Athletic Council was considering cancelling the schedule because of lack of material but enough material was scrapped up to finish with an even break for the season.

Following is a record of all varsity (Please turn to page four)

That bundle of screen magic, five-year-old Shirley Temple, will soon be thrilling and delighting her army of local movie fans in a new picture. ### TECH GRAPPLERS BEST BLUE DEVILS AT DUKE

State and Davidson Now in Tie For Top After Both Get Wins Friday Night

State College's varsity wrestling team continued its march toward another Big Five title last Friday night by defeating Duke's Blue Devils 15-9 at Duke. The State frosh team had previously won their meet with the Duke frosh by a score of 17½-10½.

By virtue of this win, and by virtue of Davidson winning from Carolina on the same night, the Tech grapplers go into a tie with the Wildcats for the Big Five title. The title will be decided tonight when the Techs meet Davidson at Davidson. This meet will end the regular season for the State team and they will begin preparing for the Southern Conference tournament.

The varsity summary:
