JUNIORS SELECT CLASS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

Perry Wilson Wins Presidency of Rising Senior Class in Meeting Held Tuesday

AGROMECK POSTS GIVEN TO KECK AND JENKINS

No Candidates Oppose Men Recommended by Publications Board For Agromeck Posts; Brown Elected Vice President of Class, and Krach Wins Out for Secretary-Treasurer; Plans Also Discussed for Junior-Senior Prom

Perry Wilson, chemical engineering student, was elected president of the rising senior class at a class meeting held Tuesday. Harry Keck and Tommy Jenkins were unopposed for editor and business manager, respectively, of The Agromeck.

Receiving a sizeable majority over four opponents in the field, Wilson polled 70 votes out of a total of 123, thus stepping up in official class rank from vice president his junior year and secretary-treasurer the preceding year.

Other men in the race for the class presidency were Milton Brower, Steve Sabol, Harry Brown, and Steve Ward. In the race for vice president, Micou Brown defeated Tommy Hurst, George McColl, Joe Moore, and W. A. Tripp. Failing to receive a clear majority in the first voting, Brown was easily elected in the run-off with Moore. Ken Krach was elected secretary-treasurer of the class over Winston Gardner, R. H. Evans, and W. A. Corpening.

A mere formality, no vote was taken on next year's annual heads, only two candidates being offered by the Publications Board. In explanation of the Board's action, Jim Barnhart, retiring business manager of the Agromeck, stated that Keck and Jenkins were the only Junior Class members on their respective annual staffs. The floor was thrown open for other nominations, but none were offered. It would have been necessary for independent candidates to have had the sanction of the Board.

Technically a Senior Class publication, the Agromeck is annually headed by seniors elected in a class meeting. Following a short-lived discussion, continuation of this practice was agreed upon in the meeting Tuesday. It was brought out, however, that in certain other institutions yearbook heads are either selected by a publications committee or the candidates voted upon in a general student body election.

Preceding the class elections, Joe Canady, retiring class president, appointed a dance committee to arrange for the Junior-Senior Prom, tentatively set for May 18. The committee membership is composed of Henry Keck, Perry Wilson, W. A. Wallace, J. R. Marks, and Joe Canady. No easy job will the committee members have in staging the Prom from a depleted class treasury. Expected profits from the Junior Minstrels were not forthcoming, and an effort will be made to collect one dollar from each Junior Class member to finance the annual dance. Failure to do this, it was pointed out, might result in the necessity of selling bids at the door.

NEW TRUSTEE MEMBERS ADDED TO STATE BOARD

The state legislature last week made a number of additions to the Board of Trustees of N. C. State College. Information as to the exact personnel for next year's Board is not yet available, but the principal changes are listed.

R. J. Reynolds, '27, of Winston-Salem, A. L. Monroe, '23, of Raleigh, and Edwin Pate, '21, of Laurel Hill are the new additions to the Board.

The college officials had hoped to again secure W. H. Sullivan, last year's president, who had been with the Board for the past two years, but he was unavailable this year.

STATE GLEE CLUB HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Paul Cox, Newport News, Va., was elected president of the State College Glee Club Wednesday. Other officers elected were: Wayne Corpening, Fletcher, vice president; Lloyd Troxler, Elton College, secretary-treasurer; Thomas P. Osborne, Fletcher, Librarian; Bob Bourne, Hadron Heights, N. J., pianist.

The following seniors, who have been members of the glee club for four years, were presented with distinctive keys: Marion Gatlin, Beaty Lee Bass, Brock Sisell, L. G. Gerrard, and Elmer Dowdy.

COMPLETE PLANS MADE FOR FINALS

Paul Tremaine, Glen Gray, Red Nichols Orchestras Definitely Signed for Final's Set

Paul Tremaine and his orchestra will be the third of the three orchestras which have been engaged to play for the Final Dances to be held at State College June 7, 8, 10, announced Walter Greenwood, president of the Interfraternity Council. The other two orchestras which were contracted two weeks ago are Glen Gray and his Casa Loma orchestra and Red Nichols and his orchestra.

"With the definite signing of these three popular and well-known orchestras, I believe we will have the best assortment and variety of musical entertainment ever brought to a State College Final Dance series," commented Greenwood. "Our purpose, in departing from the custom of engaging one orchestra for the whole series, is to get a type of orchestra which will appeal to the whims of every student here."

The contract calls for Paul Tremaine's orchestra to play for the opening dance on Friday night, June 8; Glen Gray and Casa Loma orchestra for Saturday afternoon and night; and Red Nichols and his orchestra for the Monday morning tea and night dance, June 10.

The Final Dance committee, which was appointed by the president at the last meeting of the Interfraternity Council, will have charge of all arrangements concerning the dance set. The committee is composed of W. C. Wallin, chairman, Phi Kappa Phi; Brock Sisell, Sigma Phi; Jack Aycock, Phi Kappa Tau; Minor Hunter, Sigma Nu.

Since the Council has secured such well-known orchestras to play, the set is expected to be the most lavish and elaborate ever put on for a Final Dance set here. The committee has tentatively decided again to place booths for each fraternity in the gymnasium and to give favor programs. There is also a plan being worked on whereby more room will be made for spectators who will attend the set.

CAMPUS CARNIVAL TO BE PRESENTED ON RIDDICK FIELD

Second Annual Event Sponsored By Raleigh Commerce Body to Take Place May 16

R. O. T. C. GROUP TAKES MAJOR PART IN EVENT

Tickets to Carnival to be Distributed by Members of State R. O. T. C. Unit; Agricultural Convention and Reserve Officers of the State to be Guests of Honor; Many Special Exhibitions to be Given by Crack Military Units and Raleigh Groups

Plans for the second annual Campus Carnival to be staged on Riddick Field at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 16, are practically complete, according to Lieutenant Colonel Bruce Magruder who has charge of the affair. There are expected to be approximately 1,000 participants in the carnival. The State R. O. T. C. unit including the band and drum and bugle corps, the Raleigh High School Band, and the Boy and Girl Scouts of Raleigh will each have a part in the program.

Tickets to the carnival, which is again sponsored this year by the Raleigh Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be mailed to the faculty, and four tickets will be given to each student in the R. O. T. C. unit. The tickets will be free this year as they were last year. Seats on the east side of the stadium will be reserved and any overflow will be accommodated in the stands on the other side.

Special guests at the carnival are expected to be delegates to an agricultural convention at the college and members of the Officers Reserve Corps of North Carolina, which will be holding a meeting in Raleigh then. Faculty and students of Peace, St. Mary's and Meredith College have also been invited to attend.

A full program of the events of the Campus Carnival follows: At 7:30 the State College Band, the Raleigh High School Band, and the State College Drum and Bugle Corps will march on the field. At 7:40, a first aid and scoutcraft demonstration will be given by the Boy Scouts of Raleigh. The Girl Scouts will present a May Pole dance.

Company A of the R. O. T. C. unit, under the leadership of Captain Kenneth Stephens, will give a wall scaling exhibition at 8:15. At 8:15, a group of gymnasts from the physical education department will give a tumbling, boxing, and wrestling exhibition.

The annual Graduation Parade of the R. O. T. C. unit will take place at 9:15. During the ceremonies, Col. J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration of the college, will present awards to the best freshmen and the best sophomore in military science and to the best drilled company and platoon.

Between the various events of the evening, the Drum and Bugle Corps under the leadership of Captain C. H. Bronson will present a number of comedy skits similar to those which went over so well with the spectators at last year's carnival.

In case of rain, the carnival will be postponed to another date which will be announced by the Raleigh newspapers and by radio station WPTF.

COLONEL EARLY RETURNS TO RALEIGH FOR VISIT

Colonel C. C. Early, who left State College campus for duty in Washington in 1930, after five years as professor of military science and tactics, arrived for a visit in Raleigh yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Early.

Numerous social events have been planned for the Earlys by friends here. They expect to remain in Raleigh until tomorrow.

Colonel Early was president of the first Faculty Club on the campus, and active in its organization. He was chairman of the Faculty Committee on Public Relations. During his term here, the R.O.T.C. unit attained recognition as one of the best in the southeast. At present Colonel Early is senior instructor of the Virginia National Guard, with offices in Richmond.

To Speak Here

Josephus Daniels, United States Ambassador to Mexico, will speak at a college convocation to be held Wednesday noon. He will also review the regimental parade on Monday noon. Ambassador and Mrs. Daniels are on a six-weeks vacation from the Embassy in Mexico City.

WOMEN STUDENTS ELECT OFFICERS

Martha Smith Wins Presidency of Women's Government in Tuesday Elections

Miss Martha W. Smith, of Raleigh, was elected president in the fifth women's student government elections held in the co-ed room in Peele Hall last Tuesday by the co-eds of State College. Miss Smith is a junior in chemistry, a recent initiate into Phi Eta Theta, an active participant in woman organizations at the campus.

Virginia Reinheimer, of the Textile School, was elected vice president, and Margaret Owen and Antrine Nichols, both of the School of Science and Business, were named secretary and treasurer, respectively.

A majority vote was not cast for senior members of the Council and the House of Representatives, and a revote will be held for these offices on next Tuesday. Those running for office are, for the Council: Sue Pearce and Eleanor Greene; for the House: Birtene Seligson, Mary Matthews, Eleanor Greene, and Sue Pearce.

Women's student government at State was organized in 1930 and was patterned after the men's organization. In the past this group has sponsored a series of lectures by well known persons on pertinent current topics and at the end of each school year have submitted recommendations of changes that will benefit co-eds on the campus.

Other members elected to serve on the women's student government are as follows: Thedia Thomas will serve as junior member and Margaret Spoon as sophomore member in the Council. In the House, Helen Scott will serve as junior member and O'Neal Branch as sophomore member.

HUDSON CHOSEN TO LEAD 30 AND 3 ORGANIZATION

Other Officers of College Leadership Group Elected at Meeting Held Last Night

Seaman Hudson was elected president of the Order of 30 and 3 at a meeting of that group held in Holladay Hall last night. Steve Ward was the other nominee for the chief office of the group.

Other officers elected were: Steve Sabol, vice president, Lloyd Brown, secretary and treasurer, and Jack Gaw, corresponding secretary. Sabol was elected unanimously. Brown defeated Paul Wreckle and Frank Kingsbury for his office, while Gaw ran against Fred Gore for the job of corresponding secretary.

The organization decided to drop plans for a banquet to be held in the near future. The reason was given as the fact that there were so many other conflicting activities taking place towards the close of the school year that there was not much use in attempting the banquet.

PUSH BALL TO BE USED IN PLACE OF MISSILES

Bill Aycock Elected Vice President of Student Federation for Next Year

Bill Aycock, president of the student government at State College was elected vice president of the North Carolina Federation of Students for the coming year at the annual convention held last Friday and Saturday at the Sir Walter Hotel in Raleigh.

The convention consisted of round table discussions and general group meetings on student government problems with student government members from the various North Carolina colleges participating. Approximately eighteen colleges were represented at the gathering of which Meredith College of Raleigh acted as hostess.

Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus delivered the address of welcome at the luncheon on Friday. Professor Albert Coates of the University, Dr. Shelton Smith from South Carolina, and Dr. R. H. McDonald of the State Assembly gave addresses on subjects pertaining to student government.

The convention adjourned on Saturday evening with a banquet and installation of the new officers in the Virginia Dare Ballroom following which the delegates were entertained at a theatre party given at the State Theatre.

Other delegates to the convention from State College were Bob Seitz and John Stanko, retiring vice president of the Federation, and who were members of last year's student government, Fred Gore and Lloyd Brown.

New officers for the coming year are Jack Pool of Carolina, president; Anne Bradshaw of Meredith, secretary; and Annie Laurie Newsum of Duke, treasurer.

STATE ALUMNUS TO HEAD FEDERAL INVESTIGATION

Former Governor Max Gardner to Head Investigation of Telephone Companies

O. Max Gardner, State College class of '03 and former governor of North Carolina, accepted a position Monday, April 29, with the Federal Communications Committee as head of a national investigation of the American telephone systems, particularly the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Mr. Gardner accepted this position, which commands a salary of $10,000 a year, at the personal request of President Roosevelt.

The sum of $750,000 has been appropriated by Congress to be used in the investigation, which is expected to require over a year before being completed.

MONOGRAM CLUB ELECTS LEFLER HONORARY HEAD

Dr. Hugh Leffler, member of the faculty athletic committee and former tennis coach, was named by the Monogram Club Wednesday night as its first honorary president.

Leffler will be installed at the alumni banquet to be given at Carolina Plaza next Wednesday night.

The suggestion that the election of an honorary president be made an annual practice was unanimously accepted by the club. Leffler was elected honorary leader without opposition.

EXCELLENCE AWARD WON BY CERAMIC ENGINEERS

The Department of Ceramic Engineering received the general excellence award for its art pottery exhibit at the annual Dogwood Festival, held last week in Chapel Hill. This is the highest award made at the Festival.

President of Blue Key Honorary Society Will Present Push Ball to Classes Before Eight; Fight Officials to Consist of Athletic Staff and Col. Harrelson and Governor Ehringhaus; Jerseys to Be Used to Distinguish Between Contestants of the Two Classes

The second annual freshman-sophomore rush is to be held next Saturday afternoon, May 11, from 2:30 to 3:30 on the hill on 1911 field. This year's interclass contest takes the form of a "push ball" fight.

The field of honor will be 150 yards long and 60 yards wide. The sophomore goal is to be situated approximately one-third of the way up the hill, while the freshman goal will be at the bottom of the hill on the other end of fighting field. The length of the goals has been set at 25 yards. The weapon chosen for the affair is a huge push ball weighing approximately 150 pounds and about six feet in diameter. This ball has been secured and donated by Blue Key, national honorary society, and will be presented by Dave Morrish, president of the society, just before the beginning of the battle.

Following final instructions by the officials, the ball will be placed in the middle of the field and the starting signal given. From their respective goals, the opponents will then rush forward and strive to get first possession of the ball. Each time the ball is pushed over a goal line, the successful side is given one point, but if the ball is pushed out of bounds the side responsible for it will be forced to retreat 10 yards back of the ball. The ball itself will be moved to the center of the field opposite the point of departure. The side possessing the highest score at the end of the hour will be declared the winner, and is to be rewarded by having their numerals stamped on the ball. In case of a tie, a 15-minute extension of time will be granted.

All sophomores must appear with jerseys of some kind on and the freshmen must appear without jerseys. No military clothes of any kind can be worn, and no cleated shoes will be allowed on the field of action.

Special notice should be taken of the ruling that no rotten eggs, fruits, vegetables, or anything of that nature will be allowed this year. This ruling has been made as a result of the large casualty list of last year's battle, which Dr. Campbell says was caused by the use of rotten materials.

Whether fire hoses will be allowed is still uncertain. However, the committee hopes to be able to secure permission to use them since they would make the battle more enjoyable and interesting.

The nature of the battle and all the rules and regulations have been prepared by the special committee, whose co-chairmen are A. J. Gerlock and F. C. Ziegler, and the faculty advisers, Captain P. W. Ricamore and Romeo L. Forte.

The fight officials will be Mr. J. F. Miller and his athletic staff, with Colonel J. W. Harrelson and Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, as honorary officials.

BAND TO GIVE CONCERT ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

In keeping with the celebration of the 12th annual National Music Week set over this nation, the State College band under the leadership of Major C. D. Kutschinski will give a concert at the World War Memorial tower Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The music department of the school is trying to popularize the State musical organizations with the students. The program of the Sunday concert is as follows: Onward, Upward March, by Goldman; Light Cavalry Overture, by Suppe; Sobre Las Olas, by Rosas; Merriment Polka, by Barnet; featuring Ben Culp, W. M. Porter, and W. L. Colwell, Jr.; Tobani's Echoes from the Metropolitan Opera House; Beethoven's Turkish March, from "Ruins of Athens"; Ballet Suite, "Le Lac des Cygnes," by Tschalkovsky; In a Chinese Temple Garden, by Kethelby; Holmes Overture, the Trojan Prince; and Goldman's Baldie City March.

Major Kutschinski announced that the program of the band would be interspersed with several feature encore numbers.

Caps and Gowns

All seniors and those faculty members who wish to be measured for caps and gowns come to the Y. M. C. A. on Monday morning from 8 to 11, or Tuesday morning from 10 to 12, or Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 6. This is absolutely the last chance to be measured, according to John Stanko, chairman of the cap and gown committee.

INCREASED APPROPRIATIONS

After a wrangling session lasting for 115 days, the Legislature finally completed action on the biennial appropriations bill, to be ratified and become law today if enrollment is completed. The measure represents a partial victory for the exponents of a more liberal allotment for public education, and a compromise in the request made by the administrative officials of the three units of the Greater University.

The solons have finally agreed to allot the Consolidated University funds totalling $1,173,000 for next year, with a slight increase provided for the following year. This figure is $105,000 in excess of the budget recommended by the Governor and his Advisory Budget Committee, but is less by $205,000 than the request of the University. However, it is encouraging to note that the amount granted this year is far in advance of the University appropriations over the past few years of depression.

Of the total amount to be given the three units of the University, State College will receive $290,000 next year if it is allotted on the basis of the original request. College officials had asked for approximately $340,000, but the Governor's Advisory Budget Committee had scaled this down to $277,000. However, when it is considered that the college has received only $181,000 annually for the past two years, the compromise effected in the Capitol building is not as one sided as it apparently seems. State faculty members' hearts will be gladdened with salary boosts amounting to about 20 per cent. A few much needed major and minor improvements will be made about the campus with money left over.

It is to be regretted that the University was not successful in securing the entire amount requested. The budget submitted by heads of the institutions was of a certainty not unreasonable. Much of that asked for was to be used in repairing the damage wrought by the past several lean years of economic strife. All three units have received severe blows as a result of inadequate appropriations. The enrollment of State College increased this year to the extent that the teacher load is highly in excess of what it should be. In every activity the college has been forced to retrench. Research work carried on by the departments here in the past has been of a necessity curtailed to a minimum.

Public schools and other state supported institutions over the state will share in the increased appropriations during the coming two years. Altogether, about $20,000,000 will be authorized for public education in the state the first year and $21,000,000 the second year. Proponents of salary increases for school teachers and other state employees should feel somewhat jubilant after their long fight. Some municipalities have already voted special school levies, but the great majority of schools throughout the state are still entirely supported by appropriations of the Legislature.

But few high schools in the state are now operating for nine months out of the year. There is no question but that education has suffered along with industry, and now that business trends are apparently on the upgrade, it is only fair that state institutions and employees share in the benefits. The income of the majority of state employees is still below the level of the predepression days.

The legislators waged a bitter fight over the revenue bill in an effort to find new sources of income to provide for the increased appropriations. As the two bills now stand, best opinion is that the budget will be balanced within one per cent.

THE SUMMER SESSION

Administration officials are this year emphasizing the work to be carried on at the three units of the Consolidated University during the coming summer term. New plans and policies have been adopted which are in keeping with the tendency of educators to lay greater stress on the advantages of uninterrupted and more rigorous courses of study.

As heretofore, only one six-week term will be held in Raleigh, but unlike previous summer sessions the administration will be in the hands of the regular college officials. This is significant in that it indicates a step in the right direction, toward the establishment here of a full twelve-week summer quarter. Many colleges and universities provide an optional fourth quarter in addition to the regular work. Particularly is this true in schools of law and medicine where more than four years are required of a candidate for a degree.

All too few technically trained men are graduated with a well-rounded foundational training. In the past few years specialization has in some cases been carried to an extreme. In an effort to keep pace with the leading technical schools of the country, many engineering colleges have subordinated extra-departmental work to the point where only the most introductory courses are offered. Forward seeing educators realize that a knowledge of literature, economics, the social sciences, and correlative subjects are as essential to the engineer as to other professional men. Although there is no indication of the establishment here of requirement for a degree in engineering or other subjects which cannot be met in the traditional four-year period of three quarters each, yet the administration has recognized the importance of extra-departmental work in the revised curriculum. In almost every case the additional requirements include cultural subjects outside the respective departments. As many as twenty-five credit hours have been added to graduation requirements in some instances. All this represents a step forward in the training of future engineers, but it is to be hoped that still greater opportunities will be forthcoming in the form of a full summer quarter.

It looks now as if Uncle Joe Daniels came home just in time. Before his return to the States from Mexico, the passage of the whiskey bill in the North Carolina Assembly seemed almost a certainty. However, since his return, sentiment among the solons seems to have changed, since the Senate yesterday voted not only to kill the bill but at the same time they placed a "clincher" on it which will keep it from being brought up again at this session. Mr. Daniels has long been known for his dryness and his repeated attacks on any effort which would flood North Carolina with legal whiskey.

HERE and THERE

By JERRY FORD

Was up in Norfolk this time last week and who do you think is up there? Well, it was like this: We were riding along and someone turned on the radio in the car. A familiar voice came over the air. "And now, all you folks who are listening should come out and visit the Walkathon and cheer these boys and girls along. We're going to have a great time out here... only the best people visit the Walkathon... etc... etc."

Advice in the springtime: It's not what she knows; it's what she no's.

Most comical scene of the week: a well known bootlegger's delivery man and agent sipping 3.2 in a soda shop.

Our own Charlie Parrott has turned to the study of Chinese philosophy. In fact, he even goes as far as to pour forth a few phrases of his own teachings... for example, "The man who stands out in the rain without an umbrella will get wet sooner or later."

A professor asked some of the seniors who had gone to Virginia on the inspection trip last week. "How many ABC stores did you visit?" He should have asked, "How many times did you go back to the same ABC store?"

Another big week-end in view with the Military Ball, the Kappa Alpha-Kappa Sig dance, and the Tea Dance at the Country Club. The time sure flies in the last term of the year... before you realize it you'll be slipping into your "monkey jacket" and getting ready for the Finals... and then what?

The freshman-sophomore rush this year promises to be of a less violent nature than that of a year ago. There's not much difference between pushing a big ball and protecting a flag pole... the difference is in the eggs and old vegetables.

Jimmy Lamerson over at the News Bureau catches the devil these days. When the pictures of the dance sponsors are put out all the boys hop on Jimmy because their girl friend's picture was not put in the most conspicuous place on the cut.

Brock Sissell, society editor, came into the office today with poison ivy all over both his knees. This calls for an explanation.

REPLIES TO CRITIC

To the Editor:
 In the past issue of the TECHNICIAN there appeared a letter from the president of the Monogram Club in which he attacked my general stand on athletics when I was editor of the TECHNICIAN.

I would not answer the letter had all the statements which he brought forth been true, but the whole letter was such a series of exaggerated utterances that I am inclined to believe that the only issue of the TECHNICIAN which he read during my regime was the April Fool's issue. In that particular issue all things pertaining to sports were ridiculed, but other than that the only occasion on which the TECHNICIAN lifted a voice against sports was to point out the seemingly overemphasis on football. I think if Mr. Thompson will examine the files he will find this to be true.

In connection with this point, I wish to point out something which the president has evidently overlooked, and which heightens my belief that he has not kept up with the editorials in the TECHNICIAN. Mr. Thompson is a member of the swimming team; one of the aims of the TECHNICIAN under my regime was to secure more funds for the minor sports. Now it appears that with the aid of the administration and interested parties all minor sports (including swimming) will be given more money to carry on their functions next year. Yet Mr. Thompson attacks me for knocking all sports.

In making his statement that the Monogram Club supported Mr. Knox for editor of the TECHNICIAN, this appears to me to be a deliberate attempt to coerce Editor Knox into blindfolding and gagging himself should the club of which Mr. Thompson is head decide to carry out something about which articles or editorials of a derogatory nature could be written. If Mr. Knox is wise, he will not head such a show of sudden friendliness.

I was also attacked for divulging certain information about the ritual and initiation of the Monogram Club, and Mr. Thompson inferred that I, apparently, had no newspaper ethics. I did not learn that the initiation was secret until the day following the editorial. Since everyone on the campus seemed to know at least a little about the initiation, I took it for granted that there was no secretness about the initiation. Had I known that the initiation was secret, I would not have published what I did. The letter admitted that the initiation is a rigorous one, and declared that fifteen of the sixteen would give an unconditional approval of it. I am not so sure of the latter statement. They keep their mouths shut and pretend to like it, because they know what it would mean to raise a protest against it. I hope that this letter clears up certain delusions which have entered into the minds of Mr. Thompson and other individuals on the campus.

To loneliness—I bring companionship

I'm your best friend
 I am your Lucky Strike

I am a friend indeed. A better friend than others, because I am made only of mild, fragrant, expensive center leaves. I don't permit a single sharp top leaf nor a single coarse bottom leaf to mar my good taste or my uniform mildness. I do not irritate. To loneliness I bring companionship. I am the best of friends.

Military Ball

The eighth annual Military Ball will be staged by the R. O. T. C. Cadets tonight in the Frank Thompson gymnasium.

This affair is probably the most colorful event which takes place at the college during the year. The gymnasium will be decorated with flags, brilliant banners and streamers. All R. O. T. C. officers and students will be in uniform.

Emil Velasco and his famous broadcasting orchestra will furnish music for the ball and figure, which will feature a military movement. The figure will be led by Cadet Colonel John Stanko of Steubenville, Ohio, with Miss Ethel Rowland of Raleigh; assisted by Cadet Captain Bill Price, Burlington, with Frances Ross, Burlington; Cadet Captain Romulus Stephens, Jr., Apex, with Miss Doris Surlis, Dunn; Cadet Captain Raymond Redding, Decatur, Ill., with Miss Jessamine Bland, Raleigh; Cadet Captain Joe Summers, Schenectady, N. Y., with Miss Helen Kerr, Schenectady, N. Y.; Cadet Major Hayes McCulley, Lenoir, with Miss Elizabeth Dees, Raleigh; Cadet Major W. E. Barnes, Raleigh, with Miss Bobbie Quinn, Raleigh; and Cadet Major Walter L. Smith, Raleigh, with Miss Alice Woolcott Smith, Raleigh.

Colonel Bruce Magruder, head of military department of State College, will give a tea dance this afternoon at the Carolina Country Club prior to the ball tonight. The tea dance is given in honor of the military officers and their wives, of State College and Raleigh, who are changing their stations this year.

Invited guests for this delightful occasion will be members of the college faculty, friends of the college and R. O. T. C. cadet officers.

Ag Ball

The annual Ag Ball, given by the students in the agriculture school, will be held this year on Saturday night, May 11, according to an announcement by Connie Gay, chairman of the dance committee.

Final arrangements for the dance are now nearing completion. In past years the ball has always been an enjoyable event. The dance committee is planning this year to make it even more elaborate than last year. Les Brown and his Duke Blue Devil orchestra have been secured to furnish music for the occasion. The orchestra is well-known in this locality but it will be his first appearance on the State campus.

The Frank Thompson gymnasium will be attractively decorated in green and white colors. The orchestra pit will be decorated with the emblems of the various departments of the agriculture school.

The sponsors for the dance and their partners will be Miss Ruby Gillis of Durham with Connie Gay, Zebulon, and Miss Rachel Dunnagan, Womens College at Greensboro, with Robert Sims, Harrisburg. They will lead the figure in which all seniors of the department and their dates will participate.

Admittance to the dance will be by bid. Students in the agriculture school will be admitted with their registration cards.

Spring Frolic

The annual Spring Frolic given by the members of the Kappa Sigma and Kappa Alpha fraternities will be held in Frank Thompson gymnasium tomorrow afternoon and night.

In the past the Kappa Sigma-Kappa Alpha dance set has always attracted wide attention, and it is expected that this year's affair will be one of the outstanding social events of the spring season.

Emil Velasco and his orchestra, which has been heard during the past season over the CBS network from the Taft Hotel in New York, will furnish the music for the set. His orchestra is featured by a portable organ and Edna Day, noted vocalist.

The gymnasium will be beautifully decorated for the occasion. The color scheme will be carried out in blue and white festooning, and the center decoration will be a revolving crystal ball. The orchestra pit will be banked with palms and spring flowers and the insignia of both fraternities will be placed on the side walls.

The tea dance will be held from 4:30 until 6:30 o'clock and the formal dance will take place from 9 until 12 o'clock in the evening. An intricate figure will feature the evening dance and will be participated in by members and dates of both organizations.

The sponsors for the dances and their dates are as follows: Kappa Sigma—Miss Roberta Brunner, Rutherford, N. J., with Harrie S. Keck, West Englewood, N. J.; Miss Muriel Blackwood, Raleigh, with Walter L. Flournoy, Raleigh; and Miss Jean Gray Scott, Graham, with George R. Ross, Raleigh. Kappa Alpha—Miss Eloise Carravan, Columbia, with Walter L. Smith, Raleigh; Miss Katherine Harris, Raleigh, with Gordon Smith, Jr., Raleigh; and Miss Jean Poe, Raleigh, with Charles Aycock, Raleigh.

Alpha Mu Dance

One of the enjoyable affairs given last week-end was the Alpha Mu sorority dance given Saturday night in the Frank Thompson auxiliary gym. The dance is given each year at this time to celebrate the founding of the sorority.

The gym was beautifully decorated in lavender and pink, the sorority colors. Music was furnished by an amplifying system playing the latest recordings.

After the dance the members of the sorority and their guests were invited to the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. O. Moen. There a beautiful three-tiered birthday cake decorated with lavender sweet-peas and pink rosebuds, was cut by Miss Sue Pearce, president of the sorority.

8,271 men and women visited the Chesterfield factories during the past year...

LIGGETT AND MYERS TOBACCO COMPANY

A man who visited a Chesterfield factory recently, said: "Now that I have seen Chesterfields made, I understand better than ever why people say Chesterfields are milder and have a better taste."

If you too could visit our factories you could see the clean, airy surroundings; the employees in their spotless uniforms, and the modern cigarette making machinery.

You could notice how carefully each Chesterfield cigarette is inspected and see also how Chesterfields are practically untouched by human hands.

Whenever you happen to be in Richmond, Va., Durham, N. C., or San Francisco, California, we invite you to stop at the Liggett & Myers plants and see how Chesterfields are made.
