PLANS COMPLETE FOR GRADUATION OF LARGE CLASS

Forty-sixth Annual Commencement to be Held at State College June 8-10

NEARLY THREE HUNDRED TO BE GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Bishop Edwin Mouson of Charlotte returned to Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon; Other Speakers at Exercises to Be Governor Ehringhaus, Dr. Graham, and Colonel Harrelson; Alumni to Hold Number of Class Reunions During Three-Day Period

The forty-sixth annual commencement exercises of North Carolina State College will be initiated at exercises to be held in Pullen Hall at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday evening, June 8 and close with the graduation exercises at 7 o'clock Monday evening, June 10, on Riddick Field when approximately three hundred students will receive diplomas.

On Saturday evening the orations by members of the graduating class will be held in competition for the orator's medal which will be presented to the winner at that time. A senior selected from each school will deliver an address pertinent to the occasion. At this time the Elder L. P. Gold Citizenship Medal will be given the senior selected as the most outstanding citizen during his stay on the State College campus, and the Alumni Trophy will be given to the senior chosen as the most outstanding in athletics for the past four years. This year the Alumni Trophy will go to Ray Rex, four-letter man and this past year's captain of the basketball team. The trophy will be presented by W. H. Sullivan of Greensboro, president of the General Alumni Association of State College. The list of honor students will be read by Dean of Students E. L. Cloyd.

On Sunday afternoon the State College concert band will give a concert at the base of the Memorial Tower in honor of the graduating class. The baccalaureate service will be held Sunday night, at 8:30 o'clock, in Pullen Hall, with the Reverend Bishop Edwin Mouson of Charlotte delivering the baccalaureate sermon.

The General Alumni Association will hold its annual business meeting in the Y. M. C. A. at 10 o'clock on Monday morning. At 11 o'clock the banquet will be held at the hotel. President Frank P. Graham of the Greater University of North Carolina will deliver an address to the Association. A luncheon of the combined Alumni Association and Senior Class will be held in the college dining hall at 1 p. m. As a feature of the afternoon, a baseball game has been arranged between a team composed of alumni members and a faculty team. Following this event a class reunion will be held in groups. The first group will be composed of the classes of 1934, '35, '36; the second, classes of 1913, '14, '15, '16; and the third, 1932, '33, '34. The class of 1910 will hold a reunion celebrating its 25th anniversary.

The conferring of degrees at the twilight graduation exercises on Riddick Field will bring to a close the commencement exercises. Departing from precedent, several short talks will be delivered by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, President Frank P. Graham, and Colonel J. W. Harrelson. Dr. T. P. Harrison is acting chairman of the Commencement Committee.

TWENTY-FIVE STUDENTS PASS FIRST AID COURSE

Group of Students Completes Red Cross Standard Course Under Direction of C. G. Stott

Twenty-five State College students recently completed the Red Cross standard first aid course conducted by Charles C. Stott, Red Cross first aid instructor. Assisting was J. E. Porter of Raleigh, who is a senior first aid student.

The following students passed the first aid course: W. W. Mowbray, J. W. Hunter, Sam Hayworth, J. W. Hunter, J. R. Killam, J. U. Teague, T. L. Hines, J. B. Hines, C. L. Chambers, O. W. Smothers, R. E. Rettew, J. G. Getz, J. W. Espey, R. W. Murdock, A. Dammann, W. Pollard, V. Karavia, W. W. Woodard, S. J. Childs, R. H. Grady, R. C. Nicholson, I. W. Smith, C. D. Harris, J. F. Redding, and H. L. Darden.

ACTORS PRESENT WESTERN DRAMA

Red Masquers Go Wild West and Present "The Bad Man" in Pullen Last Night

By GENE KNIGHT
Complete with genuine Mexican props, the second and final Red Masquers play, "The Bad Man" was presented in Pullen Hall last night before a large and appreciative audience.

The Mexican costumes and scenery which formed a most realistic background were furnished through the courtesy of Mrs. Josephus Daniels, Jr., daughter-in-law of the Mexican Ambassador, Josephus Daniels. The scenic background was painted by Miss Velma Wingate, local young lady. Music was furnished by the State College Orchestra under the direction of Major C. D. Kutschinski. The play was directed by Professors Albert Stanbury and Lodwick Hartley.

In the opening act Gilbert Jones, played by Frank Dixon, was in a state of mental anguish because he was on the verge of losing his ranch through the foreclosure of a mortgage held by Jasper Hardy, played by Charles Dunningan. All of this caused the eccentric uncle of Jones, Henry Smith, played by H. D. Carpenter, to rave wildly and tear all over the place in his wheel chair. Later the holder of the mortgage arrived and gloated over the fact that he was soon to become the owner of the ranch. However, a visitor to the place, Morgan Peel, a millionaire business man, played by Paul Cox, made an offer to buy the place by paying the mortgage and giving the owner a large sum besides, since he thought the land to contain oil. The end of the act came when Pancho Lopez and his band broke in on the proceedings with a great display of firearms.

The second act consisted mostly of a monologue by the bandit when he attempted to straighten out the puzzle and at the same time make everyone as happy as possible. Pancho Lopez did not seem to have too much respect for American law and morals, since he kept insisting that the wife of Peel, played by Marguerite York, go to young Jones as his "woman." The act ended when Pancho ordered one of his henchmen to shoot the husband in order to get him out of the way.

The third act found the cook, incriminated in the first and second acts, still a little bit woozy. It also found that the husband was not dead after all, but only slightly wounded. He made a scene and threatened to kill the wife and young Jones, but the dramatic arrival of Pancho and the way in which he disposed of the villain in the play saved the lovers' climes. Of course, all ended well with the lovers closing the play in a clinch and with the ranch being restored to the hero.

Honors for the best acting of the night went to H. D. Carpenter as the eccentric uncle, and Fred Walsh as the bandit, Pancho. All, however, acted their parts well and the producers are to be congratulated for the excellent way in which they directed the efforts of their actors.

Those taking part in the cast were: Frank Dixon, H. D. Carpenter, Paul Cox, Marguerite York, Richard Dunn, Charles Dunningan, Helen Scott, Frederick Walsh, Paul Obst, Lewis Ginsberg, Douglas Doak, and Charles Stinnette.

The production staff was composed of E. L. Guerrier, Betty Valentine, H. L. Bowling, J. E. Thiem, I. G. Murphy, Ernest Ford, Frederick Walsh, Wallace Bourne, and Bob Bourne.

Exam Schedule

The schedule for final examinations is recently released by the registrar's office places arranged examinations on the first day of examination week. The complete schedule is as follows: Arranged Examinations, Monday, June 3, 9-12, and 2-5; classes meeting Tuesday at 8, Tuesday, 9-12; classes meeting Monday at 8, 2-5; classes meeting Tuesday at 9, Wednesday, 9-12; classes meeting Monday at 9, 2-5; classes meeting Tuesday at 10, Thursday, 9-12; classes meeting Monday at 10, 2-5; classes meeting Tuesday at 11, Friday, 9-12; classes meeting Monday at 11, 2-5. Examinations will all be completed by Friday, June 7, at five o'clock.

New Campus Officers

BLUE KEY ELECTS SEITZ PRESIDENT

Stacey W. Wade and Judge Michael Schenk Made Members of Honorary Fraternity

Bob Seitz was elected president of Blue Key fraternity at a formal initiation and banquet of that honor organization held at Carolina Pines Wednesday night.

Other officers elected for the coming scholastic year were: Harrie Keck, vice president; Tommy Jenkins, secretary and treasurer; and Perry Wilson, corresponding secretary. At the formal initiation, four new men were taken into the organization, and Judge Michael Schenk and Stacey W. Wade, Secretary of State of North Carolina were made honorary members.

The newly initiated members of the organization are: J. R. West, Perry Wilson, Kenneth Krach, and Micou Brown. Professor W. N. Hicks administered the oath of membership to these men as well as to the honorary members.

Dave Morrah, the retiring president of the organization, was elected its alumni secretary for the next year.

This is Blue Key's eighth year on the State College campus. It is a national honorary leadership and scholastic fraternity, and membership in the organization is coveted by every member of the Junior Class, the class from which the new members are chosen.

UNRUH LECTURES HERE ON TEXTILE PROCESSING

L. R. Unruh, of Concord, representing the Hart Products Corporation of New York, spoke to the members of the Junior and Senior Classes of the Textile School last week.

In his address, Mr. Unruh explained the great need of a better understanding of the spinning process, and the materials that are used in the spinning of cotton and the artificial fibers. In another lecture, he spoke on the many uses of the different finishing compounds that are used on cotton, rayon, and silk. The students were supplied with formulas and information for making commercial compounds that are used in the mills of the south.

Reviewer Is High In Praise Of New College Year Book

1935 Red and Green Backed Agromock Reviewed by Professor Alvin Fountain

Editor Todd Includes Many Novel Features and Innovations in New Agromock

By ALVIN M. FOUNTAIN
The 1935 "Agromock" has bloomed out in all beauty of the Santa Claus colors of green and red; but the hues have been toned down in such a way that they have no semblance of the gaudy. In fact, the book doesn't even remind one of the murals.

The front cover announces that the new volume will honor all the presidents State College has ever had; and the dedications of the several sections make good the promise by inserting brief biographical sketches of all our administrative heads from Dr. Alexander Holladay to Dr. Frank Graham.

Sundry subsections of the book have been dedicated to members of the faculty and administration who have rendered special service to the institution or to the student body. Indeed, the whole volume, with its insertion of snapshots of faculty and the omission of those same gentlemen from the roll of the Alpha Sigma Sigma (where most of us would have been more at home), seems to do honor to the staff. In a day when every student questions the ability and intentions of every teacher, this tribute shall not go unappreciated.

Outstanding in the book is its feature section, where campus personalities and occurrences are presented in a very close imitation of "Time" magazine. This arrangement makes possible a most gracious mixture of originality and the sublime and the ridiculous. Side by side with fitting note of outstanding student and alumni doing stand the usual jokes and take-offs that make an annual worth reading. The idea has almost endless possibilities, and the editors have pounced on those opportunities to the fullest extent.

The class sections are much the same as last year, except for slight changes in arrangement. The sponsor section receives additional attractiveness by having the pictures enlarged to full page proportions instead of the half-page size used last year. The editors continued the custom of putting in the boy-friend's picture alongside that of the lady. (Some very fine engraving has been done.)

Professor Fred Wheeler, member of the Y.M.C.A. Board of Trustees, reported during the evening that $7,000 would be spent during the summer on renovating the "Y" building.

LEADING JUNIORS TAPPED TUESDAY BY GOLDEN CHAIN

MUSICAL GROUPS FINISH BUSY YEAR

College Musical Organizations Have Taken Active Part in Events During Year

Concluding an active year, the State College musical organizations will take part in the forty-sixth annual commencement program.

Since national Music Week, in which all the organizations participated, the orchestra has furnished music at convocations, for the Golden Chain tapping ceremonies last Tuesday, for the annual farmers' banquet last night, and for the Red Masquers' production given last night, during which they played several Mexican and Spanish selections in keeping with the atmosphere of the play.

At the freshman assembly last week, individual members of the glee club, orchestra, and band put on a miscellaneous musical program.

The remaining appearances of the orchestra will be in connection with the senior declamation contest on June 8, and the alumni banquet on June 10. The band will play three more concerts. The first will be at the Memorial Tower on Sunday afternoon, May 26, at 4 o'clock. The band will also play at the Memorial Tower on Sunday afternoon, June 9, and Monday night, June 10, in connection with the final exercises on Riddick Field.

The State College band will give another campus concert in front of the Memorial Tower on Sunday afternoon, May 26, at 4 o'clock.

The concert will be coordinated with the American Legion memorial service, which will follow immediately after the band program instead of on Memorial Day.

The program will feature several numbers with cathedral chimes played by Bob Bourne, a sousaphone solo by Carl Plaster, and a descriptive piece "Easter Chimes."

FIRST MUSIC FESTIVAL HELD ON RIDDICK FIELD

Approximately 10,000 Music-Loving North Carolinians Attend Celebration

Under threatening skies 10,000 music-loving North Carolinians turned out for the first annual state Music Festival which was held on Riddick Field Sunday afternoon.

Long before the beginning time, cars containing visitors to the event crowded the campus and by the time of the starting, the campus appeared to be a veritable beehive of activity.

Included on the program were songs rendered by select vocal choruses, band music by the combined musical organizations of State College, Wake Forest and the Chapel Hill unit of the University, and songs by a junior choir.

Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus acted as master of ceremonies. Other state notables were in attendance.

STUDENTS ATTEND MEET OF CHEMICAL INSTITUTE

A group of State College students, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Randolph and Prof. C. S. Grove, attended the meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers held in Wilmington, Delaware, from Monday until Wednesday of last week.

They also attended the conference on Chemical Engineering Education on Thursday and Friday, and the conference on student chapters of the A. I. Ch. E. held at Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, on Saturday.

Students making the trip were: W. F. Chambers, D. F. Behney, S. J. Boyles, and R. A. Walker.

Agromocks

Jim Barnhardt, business manager of the "Agromock," has announced that the new 1935 yearbooks will be distributed to the members of the Senior Class today from 2:00 p. m. until 5:30 p. m. at the west entrance of the college warehouse. Juniors may get their books Saturday afternoon between the hours 1:15 and 3:30; sophomores, Monday afternoon; and freshmen, Tuesday afternoon. Students have been requested not to come before their regular class day, and to bring their registration cards.

Dr. B. B. Kendrick of Womens College Speaks On Cooperative Leadership

ANNUAL EVENT IS HELD NEAR MEMORIAL TOWER

Browne, Turlington, Pierce, Canady, Seitz, Sabol, Jenkins, Hudson, Krach, Wilson, Aycock, and Keck Elected to Membership; Bob Warren Tapped as Honorary Member; Carter Williams Tells of Organization's Founding

In a ceremony marked by dramatic dignity, twelve outstanding members of the rising Senior Class were tapped as new members by Golden Chain, senior leadership organization, last Tuesday, as they sat in a circle around the sun-dial near the World War Memorial tower.

The new members of Golden Chain are: Micou Browne, president of Pine Burr Society; Charlie Turlington, past business manager of THE TECHNICIAN, and president of the Interfraternity Council; W. H. Pierce, president of the Y. M. C. A.; Joe Canady, business manager of The Watsonian, and past president of the Junior Class; Bob Seitz, president of Tau Beta Pi, and past treasurer of the Student Council; Steve Sabol, vice president of 30 and 3, and an outstanding football player; Tommy Jenkins, business manager of The Agromock; Seaman Hudson, president of 30 and 3, and captain of the boxing team; Kenneth Krach, captain of the wrestling team, and secretary and treasurer of the rising Senior Class; Perry Wilson, president of the rising Senior Class; W. B. Aycock, president of the Student Council; and Harrie Keck, editor of The Agromock. Bob Warren, State College alumnus, and at present freshman coach at the college was tapped as an honorary member.

Dr. B. B. Kendrick, professor of history at the Womens College of the University of North Carolina, was the principal speaker for the occasion. He was introduced by Col. J. W. Harrelson as "a friend of progress in education in North Carolina."

Dr. Kendrick spoke on the subject of "Cooperative Leadership." The managerial and technological experts hold the key to the present situation," said Dr. Kendrick. "The engineer is the true successor to the artisan—I say even the artist—of an earlier day, who found his greatest satisfaction in his work."

The speaker explained at some length that in the present economic situation, there was enough technical knowledge in the country to produce an abundance of everything necessary for the consumer. "America needs your ability as producers," the speaker concluded. "It needs you more as social engineers. Sociologists, economists, political scientists even historians, are all right in their way, but they alone cannot save us. I bid you go forward in your quest—in your high adventure of leadership in cooperation."

Carter Williams, president of Golden Chain, presided over the tapping, and prefaced the ceremonies with a few remarks concerning the history of the organization. "One hundred and twenty men have preceded you," he said, "and this band of picked leaders has always served N. C. State College."

Some interesting sidelights concerning the founding of Golden Chain eleven years ago were revealed recently. Professor A. F. Greaves-Walker was the writer of an article appearing in THE TECHNICIAN in which he suggested the establishment of an organization of outstanding members of the Senior Class of the college. Details of the organization of the group were worked out by a committee appointed by Dean E. L. Cloyd.

The initial twelve members of the society were chosen by a vote of the then Senior Class, and the name "Golden Chain," suggested by Professor Greaves-Walker, was accepted by the class. All the members of the committee concerned with its establishment were initiated into Golden Chain as honorary members.

Last Tuesday's ceremonies were held just at twilight, and the old members of the organization made an impressive spectacle as they slowly filed out of Holladay Hall and into the circle of juniors around the sun-dial. The old members successively walked slowly around the circle of juniors. Each member chose one man and placed a ribbon containing the link of a chain around his neck. Then old and new members went to the center of the circle where the old members gave their robes to the new members. After this the group filed back into Holladay Hall.

IN RETROSPECT

In this our twenty-ninth and last issue of the year, it seems fitting that we view in retrospect the important developments, the significant trends, the successes and failures of the past nine months. Many have been the organized efforts and suggested reforms. In the spirit of the times, thorough changes have been effected. In short, these constitute State College's New Deal. Altogether, numerous improvements have been made, some few having objectionable features. A number of worthwhile projects were begun, but were either rejected or failed in securing support. With critical commentary remarks, we will briefly review this period of transition.

More than eighteen hundred students matriculated at State College in September under a new administration. With a revised University set-up, Col. J. W. Harrelson succeeded Dr. Eugene Clyde Brooks as head of the college in the capacity of dean of administration. Selected by the Board of Trustees in June, Col. Harrelson had planned ahead during the summer months. Incoming freshmen were herded into a separate dormitory quadrangle, there to be coached in conduct and studies by selected seniors and faculty members, acting as counsellors and living with the first year men. With its good features, the plan has dealt a severe blow to fraternities with excessive housing costs, and a harness on the part of some of the counsellors has frequently been heard. However, Col. Harrelson has to his credit the fact that the number of freshmen meeting the scholastic requirements of Phi Eta Sigma has doubled over last year.

Experimentally continued from last year, the faculty-student proctor system met with increasing favor this year both among students and faculty members. Although technically abolishing the honor system here, it represents the first workable plan for dealing with those who abused their privileges under the old set-up. Evidencing their favor for the new system, a large majority of the students voting in the recent elections went on record to have its provisions made a permanent part of the Student Government Constitution. Also passed in the student body elections was an amendment abolishing the House of Student Government, which had long been an unwieldy and non-functioning group. Both of these amendments await the final action of the Board of Trustees. The third important change effected in Student Government during the past year was the measure voted by the Student Council giving only senior members the right to pass on trial decisions. This act was designed to restrict the consideration of trials involving the possible expulsion of a student to the more mature judgment of the older Council members.

Perhaps one of the most successful student movements during the year was the one which secured the greater recognition of minor sports. Urged through the editorial columns of THE TECHNICIAN, and with the cooperation of two newly formed organizations, the State College Unity Council and the Faculty Athletic Council, provisions were made which will provide for larger appropriations for the minor sports. Long subordinated to King Football, other sports were greatly handicapped from lack of funds. The more equitable distribution of the athletic fee will in no way injure the prospects for a winning football team, and will do much to increase student interest in all forms of year-round athletics.

The proposal of the Senior Class to exempt those seniors from term examinations who had averaged eighty per cent or better was forthwith killed by unfavorable action of the Faculty Assembled. Not killed, however, was a determination to revive the issue later. The suggestion was a serious gesture on the part of the seniors, and it received the support of a number of the more modern-minded faculty members. It was brought out that its adoption would create an incentive which would result in a higher standard of scholarship, partially eliminate the pre-examination furor of cramming, and constitute a privilege that should be accorded a senior and an honor student. The plan is now in effect during the third quarter, and its experimental application should be made throughout the entire year.

Despite relentless agitation for their removal, the grotesque McLean murals continue to hang in and clash with the colonially architected rotunda of the Library. An eyesore to both many students and faculty members, the modernistically painted murals will probably rest in their niches until a face-saving disposition is made.

A sweeping revision in the curriculum of all departments was instituted by the Policies Committee and Faculty Council of the college. This change, to take effect in September, marks the first major alteration in courses during the past several years, and is in accordance with the policies of the Greater University toward the inclusion of a broader study of cultural courses in the basic training of technical students. Upping the graduation requirements by as much as twenty-five credit points, the increased units will for the most part be absorbed by additional hours in the humanities and social sciences. This represents one of the most progressive steps yet taken by the new administration, and is an indicative trend toward the establishment here of technical training on a five-year basis.

The proposed dean's list, which would give unlimited class absences to honor students is still under consideration. Its adoption would do much to raise scholastic standards, reward honor students with a definite privilege. The dean's list is in effect at many of the nation's leading institutions. State College would do well to follow suit.

The past year witnessed the revival of the Red Masqueurs Dramatic Club and the return of the memorized play to the State College stage. Off to a good start this year, the reorganized group should receive a lagging student interest in dramatics. Also inaugurated was official "Hello Week" by the new State College Unity Council. Following this experiment, a noticeable improvement was reflected in the cordiality of students meeting on the campus.

The college having been granted a substantial increase in appropriations, indications are bright for a successful coming year. The first year of the Harrelson administration has been a memorable one and the measures which have been instituted this year will have a far reaching effect. Greater things are predicted for State College.

TO THE THREE HUNDRED

Within a few more days nearly three hundred students will be graduated from here, equipped with a measure of preparatory training, an idealistic attitude towards life, armed with a certificate testifying to four years of requisite study. It would at least be interesting if we could contrast their composite mental attitude with that of a year hence.

At no time in history has the college graduate faced such an uncertain future as in the past five years of depression. In a country torn by economic and social strife, a diploma has been no guaranty of employment. Technically and professionally trained men have been glad to accept any employment which they could find. Today perhaps jobs are more plentiful, but the uncertainties are just as great.

The three hundred of State College will assume citizenship in a country in which nothing appears secure. Even the time honored principles of constitutional rights have been threatened, in many cases winked at by public authorities. Legislative bodies the country over have been rampant with experimental radicalism in an effort to stem the tide of deflation. Huge expenditures of public money have artificially and temporarily proved a partial success, but following this unrestrained raid on the nation's coffers no one can foresee.

Well might these future leaders of industry and government reflect on the state of the nation, and prepare themselves to combat the forces which are tending to subvert our entire existing order. The rise and influence of Huey Longs and Father Coughlins has reached such proportions that a vicious cycle of plunder is being instituted. The term "red baiter" has been irrevocably applied too often to those who have taken a combative stand. Yet for every cure-all adopted another is necessary to cover the damaging effects. By degrees we are being led from our constitutionally chartered course.

It has been said that no law can long survive when not based on a natural law. The truthfulness of this statement is apparent from a study of the wreckage of artificial restrictions. The government has projected itself into the realms of private business to the point where diminishing tax returns have necessitated higher and higher levies. The economic Utopias conceived in the minds of theorists have utterly failed in practical application.

Taxation for revenue alone has ceased to be a primary objective in government. Righteous yells of indignation have been repeatedly heard from the halls of Congress against the watering of corporation stock, yet these representatives of the people have gone on record as favoring a greatly devalued currency. The pressure of lobbyists has demonstrated the power of special interests over the nation's lawmakers. These and many other evils that have gained momentum during the past few years of distress are trends which should be carefully analyzed by every thinking American.

Those who will receive their diplomas this June will become keenly aware of the sensitiveness of industry to hasty and radical legislation. Not until this fear of legislative irresponsibility is dispelled will recovery come.

By JERRY FORD
Have you ever felt as though the ground had started to drop away from under you? Well, if you stop to think how near to the end of the term we are, you'll get that feeling. Old Man Time has done a smooth job of cutting the pages off the calendar. Before long they'll be telling you that it's all over but the shouting... and you have to shout mighty hard to make the echo last any time too... Agromecks coming out... collecting autographs... sending things home... catching up on reports... lawn mowers chugging... professors reviewing... cramming... and all of a sudden everything has vanished like yesterday's smoke rings.

The Golden Chain tapping always causes much discussion. You can always hear someone say that they can't see why this fellow was picked and that one was not. The Golden Chain is limited to only twelve members and there are more than twelve leaders on the campus. They may at times miss some good man, BUT, they have never chosen a fellow who was not a leader.

The old slot machine has wiggled its way back again just when we thought that it was gone for good. It seems that when one man thinks of a way to stop something, another one can think of a way to get by it... all because the first one didn't think enough.

Speaking of slot machines, Paul Stahl lost fifteen dollars because of their return. Seems that a boy bet Paul fifteen Iron Men that the machines would be back before the first of June... well, he'll probably make up the money playing the machines.

After two weeks I think that it's about time that you should know who was elected to head the Engineers' Council and to be Saint Pat. The boy so honored this time was J. R. West. Rumors have reached me saying that one Professor Grove had the votes all lined up and that there was some double-crossing done the last minute... that's politics for you.

During the past week three seniors in Aeronautical Engineering have passed the required tests for entrance to both the Army and Navy flying schools. Jimmy Blair, Ronald Campbell, and Carl Isaacs will soon be buzzing around the skies doing their loops and rolls in high powered ships. Before long State College will be well represented in the air.

With the Agromeck coming out the Alpha Sigma Sigma announces its new list of members. Among the new officers we have, Marshall Gardner, Johnny Stanko, and Larry Martin. Our old friend Hamilton Hutchinson has become inactive in the lodge. Too bad... after all these years.

added to the attraction of this section. As of last year, the editor and business manager slipped their own sponsors out into a section all their own, but had the good taste to use photographs instead of drawings.
The campus scenes at the front of the book are most attractively arranged, and embody the excellent photography and engraving in evidence in other sections of the volume. The scenes have the innovation of using one large and one small picture on each page.

The organizations, including athletics and military, have been moved further back in the book, in the space usually allotted to features, advertisements, and jokes. They have suffered none from the transfer, but have made a better balanced volume. No doubt the advertisements have gained, in both position and arrangement.

I am your Lucky Strike

Try me I'll never let you down

IT'S THE TOBACCO THAT COUNTS. And there are no finer tobaccos than those used in Luckies

The baseball team got off to a bad start this year, but they certainly did bring the season to a close with a bang. The Techs made a dash in the last two weeks from the cellar of the Big Five to third place in the standings, and almost nosed out Wake Forest for the runner-up position. Mr. Charlie got some mighty good pitching out of his moundmen during the last half of the campaign, and the whole team was out there hustling.

I want to congratulate the members of the baseball team on their selection of D. C. Williams as next year's captain. D. C. sure has been the spark plug in that infield this year. He has been out there hustling all the time keeping pep in the infield, and doing his part as lead-off man in the batting order. I've seen him go plenty high in the air to take big throws.

The election of Jimmy Renn as 1935 tennis captain brings to five the number of Raleigh boys slated to lead State College teams on the field next year. Barnes Worth will lead the Wolfpack next fall. Charlie Aycock, Seaman Hudson, and Boyce Holoman are the winter sports leaders. Charlie is captain of the basketball team; Seaman captain of the 1936 swimmen; and Holoman leads the swimmers.

And now that this year is almost over, thoughts are turning to next year's teams, and of course the first thought is of football. Coach Anderson promises to have a team out there that will win some football games next fall, and that's more than has been done during the last few seasons. We can't hold Hank responsible for the poor showing of the Wolfpack last year because he was new here, and we've got to give a man time to look around. However, this year indications point to a "red hot" team. Here's one who thinks Hank will come through with flying colors.

Here's a hand for one of the best coaches ever to land at State. He is Bob Warren, freshman coach. Bob can coach anything and do it well. His teams have always gone a long way in North Carolina freshman circles. Bob was an outstanding football and basketball star here several years ago. His play on the football field would make any of the star backs today look foolish. If I can predict anywhere near right, Bob Warren will be head coach at some big school, and it won't be long. The Golden Chain deserves a hand for recognizing his worth.

Fred Newnham, Sr., pro at the country club announces an invitational tournament to be held next week-end, May 30, 31, and June 1. The tournament will be over 54 holes and Mr. Newnham is especially anxious that State College students enter the tournament. This does not only mean members of the golf team, because there are quite a few pretty good golfers on the campus.

If I'm not mistaken Clarence Gale owes Woody Lambeth a couple of bottles of beer. Clarence offered a bottle of beer to every member of the team who knocked a home run, and Woody pulled that trick twice in the last week of the season. I guess "Pop" had better see Gale pretty soon before he forgets it.

"Cowboy" Robinson sure did gallop off with the fraternity track meet Wednesday afternoon. The Cowboy took three first places to pace all entries. And that's just another reason why we should have a track team next year. We certainly have a discus thrower that can toss the platter into the next county, and if "Cowboy" can run the century in 16 seconds over a rough field with very little practice, he could do much better on a good track. The Southern Conference record is 9.3 seconds, and Robinson's time Wednesday was only two-tenths of a (Please turn to page four)

State Clinches Third Rung By Victory In Final Game

Techs Lower Curtain With Win Over Wake Forest to Place Third in Big Five

D. C. WILLIAMS ELECTED CAPTAIN FOR NEXT YEAR

Nineteen to Get Varsity Monograms for Participation in Past Season Baseball

By CLARENCE GALE
By closing its season with a win over Wake Forest on the Deacons' home diamond last Saturday, State College's 1935 varsity baseball team clinched third place in the standing of the Big Five for this year.

Duke's Blue Devils took the top position in the Big Five, Wake Forest came next, then came the Doakmen, with Carolina and Davidson trailing in the order named. State's final standing showed a record of 7 wins and 3 losses.

For their whole schedule the Techs did slightly better than this as they turned in 11 wins and 9 losses. Their only loss outside Big Five circles was to the Boston Braves in an exhibition game. The four wins outside of the Big Five were over High Point, Clemson, South Carolina, and Lenoir-Rhyne.

Williams Elected Captain
At a meeting held last Monday, D. C. Williams was chosen to lead the Doakmen next year. He will succeed Johnny Johnson, second baseman who headed the Techs during the past season.

Williams held down first base during this season and turned in a good job of it. He was leadoff man in the batting order and ranked second in the final batting averages. D. C. has demonstrated in the past season his ability to lead as he was in there heading scrapping all the time.

Nineteen to Get Monograms
Nineteen men will get variety letters as a result of the past season's work. Seventeen will be players and the other two will be the manager, Charlie Maneri, and Tommy Kerr. Those receiving players' monograms will be, Stuart Flythe, Dave Rowell, Mason Bugg, Lefty Freeman, Jimmy Staton, Jack Fabri, D. C. Williams, Johnny Johnson, Neil Dalrymple, Woody Lambeth, Billy Croel, T. L. Ware, Ray Rex, Uriah Norwood, Fairley Scales, Venice Farrar, and Hyman Dave.

Uriah Norwood led the hitting of the 1935 team with an average of .300. He was closely followed by D. C. Williams with .325 and Stuart Flythe with .324.

Tech's Defeat Deacons
Coach Chick Donk's Techs ended their season at Wake Forest last Saturday by taking the Deacons 5-3 in what was the final game of the season for Wake Forest also.

State came through with 11 bingles to collect their six runs. The Doakmen tallied in each of the first four innings and again in the seventh to gain their total.

D. C. Williams hit a double and Woody Lambeth followed with a home run to bring the first two runs across in the first inning. In the second Johnny Johnson and Jimmy Staton both singled. A wild pitch advanced them and then Williams got his second hit in as many trips to score Johnson.

Lambeth opened the third with a double and scored on two infield outs. Staton started things in the fourth by singling. Rodwell bunted and reached first when Rhodes threw wild, Staton going to third on the play. Williams bingle tallied the Tech catches the State's final run was counted in the seventh by Woody Lambeth who singled, stole second and then crossed the plate on Norwood's base knock.

Wake Forest tallied twice in the second frame on a single by Patton, a triple by Chappell, and an outfield fly by Doigt Morris. In the fourth the Deacs counted again. Wall bunted, Patton was passed, Chappell sacrificed, and Wall came home on a play that caught Patton off second base.

A sideline disturbance held up the game for fifteen minutes.

MILLER REPORTS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

More Cooperation Shown in Intramurals During Past Year Than Ever Before

By ED QUINTARD

According to Mr. Johnny Miller, intramural director, this year's intramural activities have attained a high standard. Excellent cooperation has been given by the participating teams and it is hoped that the same brand of cooperation and interest will be given in future years.

During the fall term, the Dormitory and Fraternity Leagues were engaged in football, horseshoes, and swimming. The winter term held their interest with basketball, handball, and boxing, while baseball, track, and tennis were the spring term activities.

In intramural football, the Pika's were the winners in the Fraternity League with a hard-fought victory over the S. P. E.'s in the final game. In the dormitory section 8th th became the football champions.

The Theta's Phi's gathered some points by winning the Fraternity League horseshoe championship. Fourth Dorm headed the dormitories in this sport.

The S. P. E.'s proved themselves to be the best swimmers among the fraternities and won the swimming meet while the K. A.'s, last year's winners, ran them a close second. In the dormitory meet the 3rd 1911 team was victorious.

The S. P. E.'s were best on the basketball court also and won the fraternity championship in this sport. 2nd 1911 was the victor in the Dormitory League. In the Independent League the Y. M. C. A. squad won the championship.

Handball, another winter sport, was taken by the Theta Phi's in the Fraternity League and 3rd 7th came out ahead in the Dormitory League.

This year's intramural boxing was run off in fine style. A great deal of interest was shown. The Delta Sigma Phi's won in the Fraternity League and 4th Dorm was victorious in the Dormitory League. A large crowd was present to witness the finals, and a number of K. O.'s furnished plenty of excitement.

Spring term baseball and tennis have not been completed as yet. The Fraternity and Dormitory League track meets took place on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. In the Fraternity meet the Phi Kappa Tau's scored 31 points which enabled them to take first place. 2nd 7th was victorious in the Dormitory meet.

METCALF OPPOSES BROWN IN ALL-FACULTY CONTEST

An all-faculty intramural baseball game, the first ever to be held at State, will come off at 4:30 next Thursday on Freshman Field according to latest reports from Romeo Lefort.

Lefort, who has been making plans to have such a game for some time, said that this was the first of a series and that it is hoped to continue the tilt as an annual feature. Providing that interest in the affair is enough to warrant it, the contest will be continued.

The tilt will be a regulation nine-inning contest and will be featured by the batteries of both teams. Metcalf and Grove will take on the duties for the aggregation from the Ag and Engineering schools, while E. F. Brown and Shulenberger will do the pitching and catching for the Textile, Science and Business, and Education team.

Lefort has been interested in getting faculty teams in intramurals for some time. During the winter quarter he collected a team that entered the Independent League in basketball.

Captain-Elect and Captain

Immediately above is pictured D. C. Williams, spark plug of the State College infield, who was recently elected captain of the baseball team for the coming year. Williams will succeed Johnny Johnson (right) who led the team during the past season.

The Tech captain-elect held down first base this year and was lead-off man in the batting order, while Johnson took care of the keystone sack. Both are North Carolina boys, Johnson being from Elizabeth City and Williams from Rosemary.

ATHLETIC AWARDS TO BE MADE SOON

Event, Held for First Time This Year, To Be Known As "Athletic Awards Day"

For the first time in the history of the school, official recognition will be given to athletes when next Tuesday at noon on Riddick Field, approximately 100 will be awarded certificates of distinction for participation in sports during the past school year.

The event will be known as "Athletic Awards Day" and will be held annually hereafter. Dean J. W. Harrelson and Doctor R. R. Sermon will be the principle speakers.

The awards were drawn up by Johnny Stanko, past president of the Monogram Club, and Folk Denmark, alumni secretary, and were passed by the Faculty Athletic Council as being official awards. They will be given only to athletes who have actually participated in their particular sport and will not be given to managers. However, those getting awards will not be required to be members of the Monogram Club.

Participants in all sports recognized by the Athletic Council such as football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, golf, swimming, boxing, wrestling, and members of the rifle team, will be eligible for the awards.

An invitation has been extended to the entire student body to attend the exercises and the Faculty Athletic Council is especially asked to be present.

DUSTY AND RENN TO LEAD GOLF AND TENNIS TEAMS

Selection of Tennis and Golf Leaders Completes Roster of Next Year's Captains

The election of Jimmy Renn as tennis captain and Willie Dusty golf captain completes the roster of leaders of State College teams for next year. Renn played number one on the tennis team, and had the best average of anyone on the team. He is a junior and a high honor student.

Dusty has played almost every position on the golf team. He has been low score man in several of the teams matches. He also is a junior.

Dusty hails from Maine, and Renn is a Raleigh boy.

Dusty will succeed Bill Baerthlein, and Renn succeeds Jack Brown.

ZORI TAKES FIRST PLACE IN S. C. MEET AT DURHAM

Huge State Entry Hurls Greek Platter 146 Feet to Come Out Ahead in That Event

State College gained its usual five points in another track meet when Milan Zori won the discus throw in the Southern Conference meet held at Duke last Friday and Saturday. Zori's toss was for 146 feet and the resulting five points gave State ninth place in a ten-team meet.

The University of North Carolina took the meet with 53 points. Maryland was second with 49 3-4, and Duke came in third with a 47 1-2 score. It was the third straight time that Carolina had taken the meet and it was taken this time in spite of the fact that the Tar Heels gained only three first places.

Grever Everett, of Virginia, was high scorer of the meet with 11 points and set a new record in the 220-yard low hurdles to take this event. His time was 23.6 seconds, one-tenth of a second faster than Brownlee of Duke ran when he set the old record in 1933.

Final Dances

Climaxing the social activity at North Carolina State College for 1934-35 will be the fifth annual group of Final Dances to be given on June 7, 8, and 10 under the sponsorship of the Interfraternity Council.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the five dances which will begin with an evening dance Friday night, June 7, and continue with tea and night dances Saturday, June 8, and morning and night dances Monday, June 10. All the night dances will be formal and the others informal.

Three nationally-known dance orchestras have been secured to furnish the music. They are Paul Tremaine and His Orchestra, well-known radio artists, who will play for Friday dance; Glen Gray and his Casa Loma Orchestra, featuring two well-known stars, Kenneth Sergeant and "Fats" Hunt, playing for Saturday night dance; and Red Nichols' Orchestra, features on the radio "College Prom" program, playing for Saturday tea, Monday morning tea and night dance.

Lavish decorations of the Frank Thompson Gymnasium, where the entire set will be held, are planned. The theme of the decorations will be in conjunction with the popular song "Blue Moon." While complete details of the decorations have not been revealed, the dance committees in charge promise that the ornamentation will be more magnificent than it has been for any previous Finals. Each of the fourteen Greek letter fraternities comprising the Interfraternity Council will have a booth in the gym, and the individual fraternity insignias in colored lights will line the walls.

The dance leaders for the figure to be formed at the Monday night dance are Walter F. Greenwood, of Rocky Mount, Kappa Sigma, president of the Interfraternity Council; Miss Elizabeth Parks, Raleigh; and Bill Shaw, of Winton, Theta Kappa Nu, vice president with Miss Katherine Williams, Raleigh. Assisting them in the figure will be the dance committees and their partners. They are Bill Wallin, of Raleigh, Phi Kappa Phi, with Miss Bonnie Cox, of Marion; Brock Sissel, Winston-Salem, Sigma Pi, with Miss Marjorie Galceran, of Galveston, Texas; Jack Aycock, Wilmington, Phi Kappa Tau, with Miss Mary Louise Parker, of Raleigh; and Minor Hunter, Charlotte, Sigma Nu, with Miss Billie Harrelson, of Raleigh.

Sponsors for each of the fourteen fraternities comprising the Interfraternity Council are: Alpha Chi Beta, Miss Myrtle Brown, Enfield; Alpha Gamma Rho, Miss Marion Bigham, Raleigh; Alpha Lambda Tau, Miss Sarah Buchanan, Edenton; Delta Sigma Phi, Miss Christine Derby, Fayetteville; Kappa Alpha, Miss Eloise Carawan, Columbia; Kappa Sigma, Miss Elizabeth Park, Raleigh; Lambda Chi Alpha, Miss Marion Mitchell, Winston-Salem; Phi Kappa Tau, Miss Mary Louise Parker, Raleigh; Pi Kappa Alpha, Miss Eleanor Doster, Monticello; Pi Kappa Phi, Miss Bonnie Cox, Marion; Sigma Nu, Miss Billie Harrelson, Raleigh; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Miss Eleanor Hayes, Charlotte; Sigma Pi, Miss Marjorie Galceran, Galveston, Texas; and Theta Kappa Nu, Miss Katherine Williams, Raleigh.

The Interfraternity Council, under whose auspices the colorful Pledge, Mid-winters, and Final dances are given each year, is made up of two representatives from each of the fourteen lodges on the campus. Senior council members this year are: R. M. Bruce, Alpha Chi Beta; W. W. Hood, Alpha Gamma Rho; Joe Long, Alpha Lambda Tau; L. A. Martin, Delta Sigma Phi; Walter Smith, Kappa Alpha; Walter Greenwood, Kappa Sigma; G. W. Ford, Lambda Chi Alpha; Jack Aycock, Phi Kappa Tau; D. A. Brannon, Pi Kappa Alpha; Bill Wallin, Pi Kappa Phi; Minor Hunter, Sigma Nu; Jim Barnhardt, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Brock Sissel, Sigma Pi; and Bill Shaw, Theta Kappa Nu.

Student tickets for non-fraternity members for the entire set are accessible for $9.00 provided they are secured from the Dean's office before Friday, June 7. If individual tickets are bought, the night dances are $2.50 except Saturday night dance which is $2.75. Price of tea dances are $1.25. All the fraternities are planning to have house parties over the week-end.

Mu Beta Psi Dance

Mu Beta Psi, honorary musical fraternity at State, will entertain members of the college faculty and their friends at a dance Monday night, May 27 from 9 until 12 o'clock. The dance will be the last of a series of entertainments given for the faculty by the fraternity.

The dance will be held in the Frank Thompson gymnasium. Bob Bourne and His State College Orchestra have been secured to play for the occasion. During the past year W. E. Boykins of Charlotte, as president, has led the fraternity in its activities.

Thirteen Club Dance

The Thirteen Club will give its annual Spring Dance tomorrow evening from 9 until 12 o'clock in the Virginia Dare ballroom of the Sir Walter Hotel. The dance will be informal.

Music will be furnished by Jimmy Poyner and His State Collegians. Admission will be by bid and seventy-five cents script.

Alpha Gamma Rho

Professor and Mrs. R. H. Ruffner were host and hostess at an enjoyable party and dance Thursday night at their home on Park Drive. The affair was given in honor of the members of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity and its senior members graduating this year.

Mrs. Ruffner served as house mother for the fraternity during the past year. During the evening members and their dates enjoyed dancing. Later punch and wafers were served to the group.

Prof. Geile Honored

Professor and Mrs. W. G. Geile were the honored guests at a banquet, held at Carolina Pines, given by the seniors in Construction Engineering. In appreciation of his cooperation, a token was presented to Professor Geile by W. M. Porter.

The seniors decided to keep in touch with one another after graduation, and to hold a similar banquet in the future. R. C. Patterson was selected to be the group's contact man.

Professor Geile announced that J. E. Czel, Jr. had won the Associated General Contractors' award for maintaining the highest average during the sophomore, junior, and senior years in Construction Engineering.

After the dinner those present enjoyed dancing.

Glen Gray

GLEN GRAY
Pictured above is the popular leader of the nationally-known Glen Gray and the Casa Loma Orchestra. The orchestra will be one of the three outstanding orchestras which will play for the colorful Final Dance series at State College beginning Friday, June 7.

Sigma Pi Dance

Members of Rho Chapter of Sigma Pi fraternity entertained at one of the most enjoyable house dances of the spring season last Friday evening at the fraternity home on Clarke Avenue. This will be the last social event of the fraternity until the final house party in June.

The lower floor of the home was attractively decorated with pennants and emblems of the fraternity. Throughout the evening punch and wafers were served to the many guests who enjoyed the hospitality of the fraternity.

Guests included alumni, friends and members of other fraternities of both State and Wake Forest Colleges. Chapter members and their dates attending were: E. B. Smith with Miss Helen Page, Brock Sissel with Miss Nan Burgin of Asheville, Max Saunders with Miss Katherine Glascock, Hank Amadon with Miss Joan McIntyre, Carl Bayne with Miss Margaret Waddell, H. C. Hill with Miss Emily Hunt, Harry Brown with Miss Laura Ball Hadler, J. Lester Bowers with Miss Lillian Covington, W. M. Jones, Jr. with Miss Phyllis Sargeant, Ben Wade with Miss Virginia Weathers, Getty Browning with Miss Sarah Maraburn, Gus Palmer with Miss Decie Palmer of Raeford, A. D. Warren with Miss Frances Mayone, and Johnny Powers with Miss Patricia Holt. Other young ladies present for the occasion were Miss Nell Lowe, Miss Barbara Harris, Miss Jean Edgerton, Miss Garnett Eighme, Miss Louise Grove, Miss Virginia Bray, Miss Katherine Williams, and Miss Melba Byouck.

Alumni members, who were chaperones for the dance, were Randall B. Eberidge with Mrs. Eberidge, and Professor A. F. Greaves-Walker. Professor J. D. Clark was a special guest for the evening.

Alpha Mu Picnic

The Alpha Mu sorority will close its activities for the year with a picnic tomorrow afternoon at Lake Myra. Members and their dates and a few invited guests will attend the affair. During the past year the activities of the sorority have been led by Miss Sue Pearce, president. Newly elected officers for next year are: Miss Mary Mathers, president; Miss Sue Pearce, vice president; Miss Douglas Doak, secretary; and Miss Eleanor Green, treasurer.

Mrs. Wallace Honored

An informal dinner was given in honor of Mrs. Lillian Parker Wallace, member of the Meredith College music department and of the State College summer school faculty, Wednesday evening in the college cafeteria by a group of State students.

Those present were the honored guest, Mrs. Wallace, and the following students: Paul Cox, Clark Owen, Floyd Troxler, W. A. Corpening, Walter Chambers, Clement Chambers, C. J. Squires, L. A. Wood, Joe Abernethy, T. Osborne, Cliff Croom, and Ed Reed.

Who Killed Cock Robin?

By GEARDINE FORD

A bunch of the boys were whooping it up Down at Bennie's Bar, When a flatfoot come bustin' in And they shouted, "Who goes that?"

"It's the law with a warrant to close the joint." In each eye there appeared a tear "Youse mugs will have to make yer corn But you can't buy any more beer."

But a Zeppelin came flying over And a parachute burst in the sky, And into the midst of them landed A regular State College guy.

He was short, he was tall, he was lean, he was fat And his blonde hair was as black as the night, In his left hand he carried a terrible punch And he wasn't half bad with his right.

So he ups to the cop and the cop ups to him Then he starts with a left from the floor, And the last thing we saw of the flat-foot Were his feet as he flew through the door.
