A LIBRARY BROWSING ROOM

The library committee meeting in session Wednesday placed its approval on a plan which would inaugurate in the D. H. Hill Library a lounging room where students could pass many many of their leisure hours.

The full plan calls for comfortable furniture to be installed, as well as about 1,000 volumes of light reading matter, such as fiction, by popular authors, suitable non-fiction matter, and periodicals. In this room students would be allowed to smoke and chat and make of it a place where they could spend an enjoyable two or three hours.

Of course, there are some obstacles which will hinder the immediate placing of the plan into effect. A room will have to be provided. There is no available room at the present on the first floor which would be the best location for such a browsing place. There is a room on the second floor which is not being used at the present and which might be used for the purpose. The main obstacle lies in securing equipment for such a room after it has been provided. There is some furniture left from the old Faculty Club, now extinct, which might be used, but that is not nearly enough. More would have to be provided from some other source. Appropriation for the present school year would not allow such a step to be made. There is a possibility that the General Assembly meeting in session next January might set aside an amount for such a purpose, if they were shown the advantages which would arise and benefits which the students would derive from such a place.

The plan has been in effect in a number of large colleges and universities for some while and has met with remarkable success, and it would solve one of State College's most outstanding problems if it were inaugurated here. When students have some leisure time with which they do not wish to waste, they have no outlet for it. If the library provided a lounging room this would take care of the problem.

One of the campus societies might adopt this as a project for this year. It is not likely that it will be fulfilled within a year, but long strides could be made towards that goal, and possibly culminated by the same society in the next two or three years.

CONCERNING FERA GRADING

Quite a great deal of criticism has arisen on the campus concerning the actions of certain professors in using FERA students to do types of work which they should do themselves.

The FERA was instituted at colleges and universities all over the United States for a certain purpose, that is to help needy students pay part of their expenses through college. They were also assigned a certain type of work, and under no conditions were they to attempt to take over any other duties than those specified by the employment director.

There have been many glaring deviations from this requirement. Professors have authorized students to grade papers about which they knew but little more, and in many cases less, than the students who handed in the work. Naturally, the student whose paper is graded by one of the FERA students has a right to object, especially if the grader is not qualified to do the work. Only a certain number were placed on the FERA rolls at this college, and from that number there might be some who could handle the job of grading, but there is likely to be a greater number who cannot. There's where the objection arises. The students were not selected because of their educational requirements, but because of their need. The student whose paper is graded by one of this group is at an unfair advantage, for the simple reason that the FERA help may not grade like the professor, and because it is the duty of the professor to grade personally all the papers of his students.

TO THE YOUTH OF THE LAND

Last week there was assembled in High Point a group of young people connected with college publications who had gathered for the purpose of tying together more closely collegiate journalism in North Carolina and for the securing and exchanging of ideas among themselves and with the speakers.

Featured on the program was D. Hiden Ramsey, president of the North Carolina Press Association and general manager of the Asheville Times-Citizen, who brought a message of hope to the youth of America. Mr. Ramsey declared that "the youth of today is not the lost generation as it is popularly expressed, but the saved one. We older ones are the lost, caught up by Fate and left to flounder. The world today belongs to its youth." Mr. Ramsey seems to have expressed the opinion of a great many thinking people. It is not the older, more conservative reactionaries who are carrying the world forward, but those who have the spirit of youth coursing through their veins. It is not necessary that they be young in years so long as they still feel an urge not to remain inactive and let the world go by them without making an attempt to keep up. It has ever been the spirit of youth which has carried the world forward and it always will be. As Mr. Ramsey expressed it, "God help the young person who is conservative." Age naturally causes a person to become set in his ways and the youth who is conservative will find himself more and more a misfit as he grows older.

It was the fighting, dogged determination of youth which caused the bonds holding young struggling America to England to be severed. Conservatives cried that it couldn't be done, but it was, not by the stubborn dogmatic oldsters, but by those who had not become so set in their ways that they could not see victory and freedom ahead. It was again characterized in the conquering of the West in the earlier days of the American Republic. Only the brave and the stout-hearted dared brave the dangers of the new wilderness. They were the ones who were imbued with the spirit of youth and conquest, not the frightened individuals who preferred to remain with the comforts of their firesides. They were the ones who raised America to its foremost place among the nations of the world and have kept it there. It is true today with the present administration. The country was becoming more and more involved in a hopelessly tangled economic disorder from which the old administration could not seem to extricate itself. The new leaders have not advanced all the way from this tangle, but they have made efforts which have brought results in the right direction, and which have helped to restore some of the prosperity of the pre-depression era. At least they have tried to make changes and in that is the essential thing for which youth is so noted.

The problems of tomorrow belong to the young people of today. They are the ones who will have to solve them. Unless the younger generation derives some benefit from this period of economic stress through which they are going, they may be marked down as not being worthy of becoming leaders in tomorrow's world. The depression has taught the American people a valuable lesson, a lesson which no other generation in a long time has had in such a large dose. It was like an immense quantity of cold water thrown on a groggy person. It shocks the individual, but at the same time, he is brought to his senses. Young people realize the struggle through which this country has passed and is passing, and will always remember the hardships which were encountered.

Another speaker at the Collegiate Press Association convention, Rev. Tom Sykes, district governor of the Rotary Club, urged the young people to abandon the old feeling of helplessness which so seems to pervade their midst. He stated that unless this feeling is thrown off, they will find themselves greatly hindered in life, and never able to do their best work.

With the many ideas cast out by the various prominent speakers at the convention, the delegates learned many new ideas concerning their publications, and at the same time helped delegates from other colleges by a mutual exchange of ideas.

FRESHMAN REGULATIONS

Freshmen at this college probably do not know when they are well off. They have practically no restrictions placed on them, and are subjected to scarcely any hazing. Suppose on the other hand they were placed under the restrictions they have to undergo at some other institutions in the South.

Below is quoted an editorial from the V. P. I. Virginia Tech:

"Last Saturday afternoon marked the turning point in the enforcement of the Freshman regulations when the sub-executive committee ordained that all freshmen march about the quadrangle for one hour, allowing the sophomores to demonstrate to them the art of bracing. This little incident was just a pleasant reminder that someone means business where the first year men are concerned, even if the senior class is not enforcing the regulations like they promised to do last spring when the old "rat system" was abolished.

"We are glad to see that this new system is not slipping after a month and a half, like the old one usually did just about this time each year. This formation proves beyond a doubt that it is being brought to the front rather than discarded as an old plaything 'would be when one is tired of it.

"There is, however, still room for improvement. It may be seen from personal observation that there is entirely too much familiarity between the freshmen and the upperclassmen in many cases, which is not very desirable in keeping new men in their places as should be done. A man can be on friendly terms with a freshman and still border on unnecessary familiarity."

HERE and THERE

By G. W. FORD

The alcoholic predictions that I made last week were by no means blank shots. It seems that each expedition tried to outdo all of the others. Members of the band proved to be good customers for the A. B. C. stores in Portsmouth. Topping the list was the group that went out on the Den-drology trip. They ran across a still in the woods and proceeded to run off three gallons of whatever it contained. All this reminds me of a saying that I ran across not so long ago: It was the fact that the government is catching kidnapers seems to prove that they never really got mad at the boot-leggers.

The average person thinks that he's above the average.

Colin Kerr sat in the Greensboro depot from about four until six o'clock last Monday morning. Could it be that our inquiring reporter was gathering subject matter for his column?

It would be a good idea for you fellows who write to your girl friends and use State College stationery to put your return address on the envelope. Every letter that comes back in a State envelope is turned over to Mr. Mayer, the registrar. He has to open them... well, you see how it is.

Bill Joyce was kept pretty busy last week end when two of his girl friends came to town at the same time.

What two well known seniors, presidents of what two honor societies, received funk slips in what Strength of Materials?

We were very fortunate this year in having as fine a bunch of cheer leaders as State has ever had. This year the boys have followed the team around at their own expense and have worked with a never-dying enthusiasm in lending their support.

And speaking of football and such, Hunk Anderson's little daughter is playing mascot to the Freshman team. She wouldn't go with the Varsity... they lose too many games.

Major Kutschinski is teaching the members of the band a few new dance steps... all to their own music.

Paul Warlick met a girl in Sanford the other day selling poppies for the benefit of the disabled War veterans. Before he bought a flower he had her name, address, and telephone number. That was ten cents well invested.

Here's a clue for you amateur detectives to work on: Someone has been leaving a Plymouth sedan parked on the corner of Clarke Avenue and Horne Street for a couple of hours at night and about twice a week for some time. What can they be up to?

The girl of last year's flower pot episode still has the strings on a couple of State boys. Guess it's O.K. since geraniums are not in season.

Earl Carroll's Vanities are booked for a showing at the State Theatre this Saturday. Here's your chance to see what the well-dressed show girl doesn't wear.

And the movies... the Wake is showing Ginger Rogers in "Finishing School" for the benefit of you boys who have not had the opportunity to see the inside life at Meredith.

Relief Funds Sliced
Raleigh—Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, State ERA administrator, has announced that the federal relief fund allocation for North Carolina for November has been placed at $1,744,325, a reduction of almost $70,000 from the $1,814,000 allowed the state in October.

There will be an important meeting of the Agronomist staff in the office this afternoon at 4:30. All members must be present.

BUNCH DESCRIBES LIFE IN FAR EASTERN LANDS

Pardue Bunch, last year's president of the Duke University Y. M. C. A. and now a medical student at the same school, addressed a group here last Wednesday night in the Y. M. C. A. building.

In his address, Bunch gave an account of his observations on the political, economic, and social life of the people in Japan and Manchuko.

During the past summer, he traveled with a group of American students on a good-will tour through the Orient. The trip was arranged by a group of Japanese students who visited this country last spring.

FORMER STUDENTS SPEAK TO TEXTILE FRATERNITY

The Student Section of the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists had two former students as speakers at meetings this past week.

James Black, now with the Ciba Company as salesman and demonstrator, gave a talk on naming of dye stuffs and also explained how money value of dyes was figured.

H. S. Bliven, past chairman of the Student Section, and graduate of the class of 1934, spoke on his experiences in the dye lab and dye house of the Judson Mills.

Both of these young graduates gave information that was of much interest to the present students.

Techs Clash With Georgia at Athens

Wolfpack Left Last Night to Meet Georgia Bulldogs

University of Georgia Plans Many Festivities for Their Homecoming Game

ANDERSON SHIFTS PONY BACKS TO FIRST TEAM

Rex Out of Practice for a Few Days After Receiving Injuries in V. P. I. Game; Bulldogs Show Great Strength in Their Defeat of Yale University Last Week; Many State Students Plan to Observe Game As Portrayed On Grid-O-Graph

The N. C. State Wolfpack will meet a Southeastern Conference foe when it plays an aggressive set of Georgia Bulldogs in a grid contest in Athens, Georgia tomorrow afternoon. The 'Pack left for Athens via train last night, in order to have final practices on Sanford Field, where tomorrow's game will be played.

After the fine showing which they made in both the Clemson and the V. P. I. games, State's 'pony backfield' has swapped ranks with the heavier backs who have been designated as the number 1 backfield previously during the present grid season. Willie Dusty at the quarterback post, Nick Hayden and Roscoe Roy at the two halfback positions and Joe Ryneska at full are the four high players composing this much-discussed 'pony backfield.' They seemed to put new life and drive into the play of the Wolves in the two games they have played previously. In both cases, they scored a touchdown, when they played behind a line composed mostly of sophomores.

In final practices, the forward wall consisted of Cara and Mass, sophomore ends, Al Edwards and Carl Isaacs in the tackle position, and the regulars John Stanko, Barnes Worth and Steve Sabol in the guard and center posts. The number 2 backfield, which has run the number 1 position previously this season, consists of Lawrence McCulley at quarter, Venice Farrar and Howard Bards as halfbacks, and Ray Rex as fullback. Rex practiced for the first time Wednesday after having sustained a broken nose in the V. P. I. game.

The Georgia Bulldogs have a strong team this season, a team that last Saturday held Yale to one touchdown while running up two touchdowns themselves. Although the Athens team has been previously defeated by Carolina, they are going to give the 'Pack a terrific struggle.

The game in Athens will be the homecoming game for the University of Georgia, and a capacity crowd is expected to be present for the contest and the varied other festivities which have been planned in a gala week-end of entertainment.

The Bulldogs are coached by Harry Mehre who played on the same team with State College's Hunk Anderson at Notre Dame. The 'Pack will have to watch out for Cy Grant, Georgia back who made All-Southeastern last year. Grant is a great runner, and a versatile football player. The Georgia squad is in good condition after their game in New Haven last Saturday, and have shown up well in the practices of the week.

Most of the State College students who cannot attend the game are expected to see it graphically portrayed on the grid-o-graph in Pullen Hall. The grid-o-graph performance will begin at 3:15, some time after the game in order that the plays may be given consecutively and without any halts in the playing.

The probable starting line-ups are:

N. C. State	Pos.	U. of Ga.
Cara	de.	Turbeyville (c)
Isaacs	t.	Shi
Worth	lg.	Johnson
Sabol	g.	McKnight
Stanko	rg.	Brown

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL PRACTICE COMMENCES

For the past two weeks on Tuesday and Thursday nights, Bob Warren, Freshmentor, has been putting his Freshman basketball candidate through their paces in Frank Thompson Gym. Thirty-five freshmen have reported so far and Warren is expecting more to come out soon.

These practices have been devoted chiefly to fundamentals. After the close of the football season, which ends next week with the Davidson game, basketball practice will be held each afternoon instead at night. Any freshmen interested in trying out for the team should report next Tuesday night.

It is too early yet to make predictions, but the outlook for a good team is very bright. This year's team will do well to come up to the record of last year's team, which won the majority of its games and which has sent some valuable material up to the varsity.

STATE DEFEATED 7-6 BY GOBBLERS

Seventy Yard First Quarter Drive Nets V. P. I. Seven Points and Victory Margin

ANDERSON'S PONY BACKS MAKE 'PACK TOUCHDOWN

Last Few Minutes of Game At Portsmouth Similar to Those of Clemson Game

The V. P. I. Gobblers fought down the field in a 70 yard first quarter drive to score seven points and a one point victory over the State College Wolfpack in a game played at Portsmouth, Virginia, last Saturday. The Gobblers outplayed the 'Pack for three out of four quarters, but were unable to stop the Wolves in a last quarter offensive that made the final score 7-6 in favor of the Virginia team.

The V. P. I. team played a great game despite the loss of two of their best players for the contest. "Red" Negri, the Gobblers' star tackle, was declared ineligible just prior to the game when it was discovered that he had played freshman football at the University of Vermont. Duncan Holzclaw, first string halfback played only a few minutes of the game because of an old injury which had not healed up. Their drive down the field after the opening kickoff was a marvel of precision, and the 'Pack seemed unable to halt it.

State's last minute touchdown was striking in its similarity to the one scored against Clemson last week, in that it was practically the same team, consisting for the most part of sophomores and reserves. The 'Pack's fourth quarter drive was a dogged one. The Wolves refused to be stopped after a series of disappointments seemed about to halt their efforts. Hayden, Ryneska, Roy, and Dusty, Coach Anderson's fast, light backfield, made gain after gain. Their first drive was halted when they were penalized on the V. P. I. 25 yard line and the Gobblers' line held. After several more drives had been halted by the V. P. I., with the Virginia team kicking out every time, the touchdown drive finally got underway.

Roscoe Roy, fleet State back, started on the 'Pack's 42 yard line, and on two consecutive plays, he gained first and then 35 yards to advance the ball to the Gobblers' 14 yard line. State made a first down on the V. P. I. two yard line. Ryneska almost lost the chance for State's touchdown when he tumbled in the shadow of the V. P. I. goal, but Ray Redding, State right end, recovered over the goal line to give the 'Pack six points. Alec Regdon, sophomore guard was sent into the game to try for the extra point, but he failed. On the next kick-off, the game was over.

"Foot" Dickerson, the V. P. I. fullback, deserves much credit for his fine all-round playing. His kicking was superb, and put State in a hot spot several times during the game. Smith, Gobblers' quarterback, also did some nice playing. Thomas, the Poly right end, who kicked their extra point, shone for their team until he was removed from the game with a fractured cheek bone early in the fourth period.

The second string State backfield seemed to be able to do much more against the Virginians than could the first string. The game was all V. P. I.'s way for most of the first part of the game. Another of their offenses was barely stopped by the 'Pack. But when the pony backs were put in, they made large gains by passes, end runs, and through the line. Willie Dusty, Roscoe Roy, Nick Hayden, and Joe Ryneska deserve much praise for their performance. Ray Redding, Steve Sabol, and Barnes Worth did good work for the 'Pack in the line.

PROFESSIONAL GOLFERS REACH FINALS IN MEET

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 15—(U.P.)—Victorious in thirty-six hard fought holes of semi-final play in the annual Mid-South Golf Tournament here today, Johnny Revolta and Billy Burke will face Tommy Armour and Bobby Cruickshank for the championship tomorrow.

Willie MacFarlane and Joe Turnesa gave Burke and Revolta hot competition before the day's encounter was finally decided on the thirty-six green. Playing the Scotch foursome system, Burke and Revolta overcame a one-hole disadvantage at the halfway point, to win, one up.

Jimmy Hines and Willie Klein kept their competitors, Armour and Cruickshank stepping lively in order to accomplish a three up victory with two holes to go. Each of the four losing contestants today received $200 for gaining the semi-final round. Members of tomorrow's championship pair will receive $450 each, and runners up, $300.

STEVE SABOL

There have been very few plays that got through Steve Sabol's position in the center of the Wolf line. Sabol has strengthened this pivot position greatly all through the year, and Georgia's Bulldogs should find him a hard man to get through.

EARLY WORMS LOSE 6-0 TO MAGRUDER'S TROJANS

Bruce Magruder, Jr. led his Trojans to a 6-0 victory over Larry Lewis' Early Worms in a junior game that featured the half of the State-Wake Forest Frosh contest here Monday.

The Early Worms kicked off to the Trojan 33 and from here the blue-jerseyed team advanced the ball on a drive to score. Williamson, Magruder, Nowell, and Hinnant with their running were the chief factors in the touchdown march. A pass from Williamson to Nowell gained 20 yards and was an important item also. Hinnant on a one yard line plunge made the score. The extra point play, a pass from Nowell to Hinnant, failed.

The Early Worms started a drive of their own after the following kickoff and pushed the ball to the Trojan's 48 yard line before a fumble ended this advance. Runs by Larry Lee and Frank Fawcett featured.

Techlets Count in Every Period But Third to Run Up Largest Score of Season

HOEK, BERRY, AND KUZMA LEAD WOLF CUBS IN WIN

Gadd and Schwerdt Kick Four Out Of Five Extra Points With Strong Wind Blowing

By CLARENCE GALE

Scoring in every period but the third, the State College Wolfcubs trounced the Wake Forest Baby Deacs 34-0 in a game that was one of the features of the Armistice Day celebration here.

The Techlets counted seven points in the first quarter, thirteen in the second, and fourteen in the last to make their victory most impressive and to roll up the largest score of any of their games this season.

The first State touchdown came as the climax of a 54-yard drive, when Hoek on an off-tackle play ran 31 yards for the counter. The score was made in the first three minutes of the game. Wake Forest had taken the kickoff and, after losing four yards on two line plays, had punted. The ball went outside on the Wolflets 46 and from here they scored in four plays. Gadd's kick for point was good.

Both State touchdowns in the second period were made on blocked punts. The first was made when Berry blocked a kick and Brownie recovered on the Baby Deacs 6-yard line. Bertinski then scored on an off-tackle slant after Hoek had made 2 yards through the line. Gadd again attempted to convert but the place-kick was wide.

State's second counter in this period was made shortly after the following kickoff, when Wake Forest tried to punt. Matheny broke through the line and blocked the kick. Berry picked up the ball and ran 18 yards to score without being touched. Gadd's kick for point this time was good.

Pete Kuzma featured the fourth quarter scoring. He counted first on a one yard line plunge after the Techlets had advanced the ball from the Wake Forest 39 to the 1. This advance was featured by Kuzma's running and a pass from Kareiva to Berry good for 20 yards. (Please turn to page four)

Converts Fumble

REDDING

It was the quick work of Raymond Redding, Wolfpack right end that made good State's touchdown in the V. P. I. game. When Ryneska fumbled on a drive through the line, Redding fell on the oval which had rolled over the goal line, thus scoring for State College.

GRID-O-GRAPH OPERATES LAST TIME THIS SEASON

Large Crowd is Expected to See Grid-O-Graph Presentation of Georgia Game Tomorrow

Tomorrow the State College Grid-O-Graph will bring a play by play summary of the Georgia game from Athens. The kickoff on the Grid-O-Graph is scheduled for 3:15 p.m. in the auditorium of Pullen Hall. This will be the last showing of the Grid-O-Graph this year.

The excitement of the audience during the Grid-O-Graph action of the last two out-of-state games has been almost equal to that shown at the actual game. On the Grid-O-Graph the kickoff is fifteen minutes after the kickoff of the game. This enables the operators to make their presentation similar to the regular game. The Grid-O-Graph has been a great success this year, and it is probable that it will be used again next year. As usual students will be admitted free and a small charge of twenty-five cents will be placed on outsiders. The Grid-O-Graph showing of the V. P. I. game was better than it was for the Florida contest and officials in charge hope to improve the operation of the Grid-O-Graph even more.

A. K. PI DEFEATS PI KAPPA PHIS 6-0

2nd 7th Makes Touchdown in Every Period to Overwhelmingly Beat 1st Watauga

Scoring on a long pass in the third quarter, the A. K. PIs beat the Pi Kappa Phis 6-0 on Red Field last Friday.

The touchdown came when Honeycutt faked an end run and then faded back to pass to Rhyme who was standing over the goal line. The try for point failed.

The losers kept threatening even until the end of the game. On the last play Harris passed 30 yards to Brooks, who was tagged on the 8 yard line before he could score.

Harris, with his passing, was the outstanding backfield man for the Pi Kappa Phis, while Palm and Garrett led the line. Sauls and Honeycutt were the stars of the A. K. Pi backfield and Norlander and Rhyme were best in the forward wall.

The losers led the winners in first downs, getting three while holding the winners to two. Neither team could gain much and kicks were frequent.

The line-ups:
Pi Kappa Phi—Palm, lg; Gibson, lt; Getwood, lg; Taylor, c; Hutchins, rg; Garrett, rt; McLean, re; Brooks, qb; Feather, lb; Lynch, rh; Harris, f; and as sub, Guillet.

A. K. Pi—Marcum, lg; Kugler, lt; Bradley, lg; Ward, c; Norlander, rg; Estes, rt; Rhyme, re; Honeycutt, qb; Sauls, lb; Garner, rh; Baerthelein, fb; and as subs, Rivers, Walsh, and Boykin.

Seventh scored one touchdown in each quarter. Barb scored three of the four touchdowns and Rodwell one. Pendleton and Chase aided the victors considerably by their fine passing.

The scoring plays were as follows: First quarter, pass from Pendleton to Barb good for a touchdown; second quarter, pass from Chase to Barb and a thirty-three yard run by Barb scored the second touchdown of the day; third quarter, repetition of a successful pass play from Pendleton to Barb; fourth quarter, pass from Barb to Rodwell was good for fifty yards and a touchdown.

RIFLE TEAM'S SCHEDULE CHANGED TO AID FIRING

Officers in Charge of Rifle Team Have Been Highly Pleased With Results

Because the indoor ranges in the basement of Frank Thompson gymnasium have been crowded with prospective team members the firing schedule of the Rifle team has been changed to permit more firing. The officers in charge have been highly pleased with the results of the firing so far.

Individual rifles have been issued to a number of last year's candidates who have been practicing and those in charge would like others to come down, pick rifles, and get in some offhand practice. Those eligible to select rifles at this time are: Andrews, Whitley, Corpening, Griffith, Guzas, Wynn, Lancaster, Thorpe, and Martin. Other members of the squad will be allowed to pick rifles for individual use only when they reach certain stages of proficiency.

The new schedule is: Monday, 9:30 to 11:30, and 2:30 to 5:30; Tuesday, 2:30 to 5:30; Wednesday, 9:30 to 12:30, and 2:30 to 5:30; Thursday, 2:30 to 5:30; Friday, 10:00 to 12:00; Saturday, 10:00 to 12:00.

Captain Venable, State College rifle coach, wants any team prospect who cannot work in at least two half-hour periods with this schedule to see him.

A number of freshmen are showing up exceptionally well. They are: R. L. Davis, Barger, Hayworth, H. C. Smith, Muse, Ruppenbrock, Hamlin, Parrish.

Captain Ben Venable states that challenges for matches are coming in every day. Matches with Davidson and Georgetown University are being seriously considered. A challenge for shoulder to shoulder matches with L. S. U. at Baton Rouge and here has been received. The team will gladly entertain them here and give them a guarantee if they will bring "Kingfish" Huey along, according to Capt. Venable.

DEACLETS BEATEN 34-0 BY FRESHMEN

Schwerdt's placement for the extra point was good.

Kuzma scored the second time in the fourth period when, with the ball on the Deacs 3, he ripped through the line and made a touchdown. Kuzma proved himself a great driving back on this play, as he carried at least four Deac backs across the line with him.

Schwerdt again kicked the extra point.

The last counter was made after the Warrenites had moved the ball on a drive from their own 28. State had intercepted a Wake-Forest pass at this point. On the first play Kuzma went off-tackle, reversed his field and did a beautiful bit of broken-field running to the Baby Deacs 25. This 47-yard run was the longest of the game. From here Kareiva, Kuzma, and Mein took the ball over in five plays.

Gadd and Schwerdt deserve commendation for their fine kicking. In extra-point kicking Gadd kicked two out of three tries and Schwerdt two out of two. This was all done with a high wind blowing. Both boys also did some fine kicking on the kickoffs.

Hoek, Kuzma, Entwistle, and Lawler were the outstanding backs of the Tech-Jet array. Berry and Brown led the State line.

Butler and Dowling played the best games of the Deacon backs, while Dale, Dooney, and Bryan were the best of the Wake Forest forward wall.

The Wolfcubs outgained the Baby Deacs 291 yards to 214 yards. The State line plays were their biggest asset, gaining a total of 271 yards for them, while Wake Forest only gained 78 yards on their line thrusts. The Deaclets threw 24 passes, completing 11 of them for a total of 138 yards, while the Techlets took to the air four times and completed one pass for 20 yards.

The line-ups:

BASKETBALL MEN BEGIN PRACTICES

Team is Being Handled by Leroy Jay Until Dr. Ray Sermon Finishes Football Work

The State College basketball team began practice last week with prospects of the best season in recent years. Only one man was lost by graduation and there are seven letter men returning. The lettermen returning are Leroy Jay, Charlie Aycock, and Woody Lambeth, forwards; Stuart Flythe and Milan Zori, centers; Ray Rex, and Don Dixon, guards. Dixon was not in school last year, but earned his letter two years ago. The team will be led this year by Ray Rex. Rex has proven himself a great guard and last year was named on several Southern Conference teams.

There are six men out from last year's freshman team. They are Dalrymple, Allen, and Cook, guards; Wombie, Chase, and Gerlock, forwards. The reserves from last year's team are Smut Smith and D. C. Williams, guards; Bill Myatt, center, and Russell Sherill and Robert Harris as forwards. Chub Wombie may come out later.

The team has been handled so far this year by Leroy Jay. Ray Rex is the only man not yet out for practice. Rex is busy with football. What seems to be a likely starting lineup in the first game looks something like this. Leroy Jay and Aycock or Lambeth, forwards; Flythe, center, and Rex and Dixon, guards. A second team might look like this. Sherill and Wombie, forwards; Zori, center and Smith and Dalrymple, guards.

Bob McQuague is the only man lost from last year's team. The Red Terrors provided the biggest upset in the Tournament when they eliminated the favored Gamecock from South Carolina in the first round. In the second round, the championship team from Washington and Lee, who were the dark horse entry won by a last half rally.

Fair enough

WE tell you that Chesterfield Cigarettes are made of mild, ripe tobaccos. We've told you about the paper—that it's pure and burns right, without taste or odor.

We have said that Chesterfields are made right. The tobaccos are aged, then blended and cross-blended, and cut into shreds the right width and length to smoke right.

These things are done to make what people want—a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better—a cigarette that satisfies.

You can prove what we tell you about Chesterfield. May we ask you to try them—that would seem to be fair enough.

Strictly on their merits
the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER.
