KITCHIN WELCOMES STUDENT WRITERS TO PRESS MEETING

Delegates Registered Yesterday for Spring Convention of Press Association

RESPONSIBILITY IS URGED ON STUDENT JOURNALISTS

President of Wake Forest Tells Group that Responsibility is Leadership Penalty; First Business Session of Meet Will Get Underway in Sir Walter this Morning; Convention Will Close With Tomorrow Morning's Business Session and Election

College journalists from schools all over the state assembled in Raleigh yesterday afternoon as registration was held for the spring convention of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association.

The journalists were welcomed to the convention by Dr. Thurman D. Kitchin, President of Wake Forest College. Dr. Kitchin spoke at an informal reception and tea which was the opening feature of the convention.

Responsibility
Dr. Kitchin urged the student journalists to remember the responsibility which rests upon them. "Remember your responsibility," he said. "This is a penalty you have to pay for being the best in your line in your particular school. The biggest question is just what you are going to do with this responsibility. There is a difference in the average newspaper in this state and in the college publications with which you are connected. This difference is the time element, and it should give you a greater chance for accuracy and force in the articles which you print."

The speaker stated that the influence possessed by the journalists should be used in constructive criticism and not in tearing down the powers that be. A college newspaper, he said, should be a major in constructive criticism and minor in laundry work.

This morning at ten o'clock the first regular session of the convention will get under way with the appointment of all committees. Following this will be group meetings for editorial heads of papers, magazines, and yearbooks, and one meeting for all business managers. These discussions will be led by men well acquainted with each particular phase of work.

Banquet Tonight
This afternoon, the delegates will be guests at the Raleigh theatres. Tonight a banquet for the assembled group will be given in the Sir Walter ballroom. At the banquet the principal speaker will be Jule B. Warren, Secretary of the North Carolina Education Association and Editor of Education.

Tomorrow morning, the closing business session of the convention will be held. New officers will be elected for the coming school year, and reports from all the committees will be heard.

W. L. Brown of Davidson College is president of the association this year. Susan Rudisell of Meredith is vice president, Philip M. Russell of Duke is treasurer, and Elizabeth Yates of W.C.U.N.C. secretary.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED TO HEAD CIVIL SOCIETY

H. M. Schrock Selected to Head ASCE During Coming Year at Meeting Tuesday

A new roster of officers was elected to head the local student chapter of the ASCE at a meeting of the society held last Tuesday night.

Holding present Carl Stein conducted the elections. The officers who were elected are: Harold M. Schrock, president; Henry Forner, vice president; R. I. Simpkins, secretary-treasurer; J. O. Lambeth, sergeant at arms; and Robert F. Coleman, reporter.

President Stein stressed the importance of a meeting of the North Carolina section of the ASCE which will be held in Pinehurst, May 2. It was announced that several of the high officials of the national ASCE are expected to be present and take part in the program. Tentative plans were made to secure a bus in which the local society will make the trip, providing a sufficient number wish to go.

Sponsors For Sophomore Hop

Pictured above are the sponsors for the Sophomore Hop to be given by the class of 1938 in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium tomorrow night. Eva Cio Cotner of Raleigh will be the dance partner of J. C. Frink, president of the class. Mary Jean Bronson of Durham will be the sponsor of her brother, Pete Bronson, vice president of the sophomores. Eleanor Badger of Raleigh will be sponsor for Jimmy Thiem, chairman of the class dance committee. Jimmy Poyner and his Collegians will furnish the music.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR STYLE SHOW

Invitations to Exposition To Be Held Here Thursday Already Distributed

Plans for the seventeenth annual State Textile Students' Style Show and Exposition, to be held next Thursday, April 23, has just been completed.

Hundreds of invitations to the show, woven on Jacquard looms by textile students, have been sent to alumni of the Textile School and to prominent mill men of the south.

Literally scores of fabrics have been woven by juniors and seniors, these either being used as dress goods for the girls in the style show, or put on display in the exhibition room in the textile building. Some 2,000 yards of goods were made especially for the girls who will represent eleven different schools in the style show proper, which will begin Thursday at 2 o'clock in Pullen Hall. Judges for the Style Show will be Mrs. H. H. Dalton, Raleigh stylist, Miss Willie N. Hunter, extension clothing specialist, and Mr. Calvin Zimmerman of the Equus Style Shop in Raleigh.

Immediately following the Style Show the textile building will be open for inspection. All the machinery in the building will be shown in operation. Those who visit the Exposition will see cotton taken from its first process through to its last, including the dyeing of yarn. All the colored fabrics to be used in the Style Show were dyed by textile students.

The teachers of home economics in the various schools taking part in the show have worked laboriously in conjunction with the State College officials to make this year's Style Show and Exposition the most outstanding since its inception.

F. N. PHILLIPS ELECTED TO PRESIDENCY OF AGC

The AGC elected officers for the coming year in its regular meeting held last Tuesday night at 6:30 in the Civil Engineering Building.

The officers, who were elected under the direction of J. R. West, retiring president, are: F. N. Phillips, president; E. L. Whitton, vice president; C. S. Gale, secretary-treasurer; and John Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

W. A. Edwards was elected alternate on the Engineer's Council for both the AGC and the ASCE in a joint meeting of the societies, which was held later.

Names

All students who want their names printed in gold letters on their copy of the 1936 AGRO-MECK have been asked to leave their names at the AGRO-MECK business office between 4:30 and 6:30 p. m. today, according to a recent announcement made by Tommy Jenkins, business manager of the yearbook this year.

There will be a small extra charge for this service that will be collected when the students leave their names.

INTENSE ACTIVITY SEEN ON CAMPUS PRIOR TO VOTING

Candidates Electioneer for Many Campus Offices As Monday's Final Vote Nears

STUDENT BODY TO VOTE ON CHANGES IN BY-LAWS

Proposed Change in Election of "Agromeck" Heads to Be Voted on by Students; Lloyd Brown and Charlie Matthews Are Opposing Candidates for Student Body Head; Close Race Is Expected in Election of Editor for Campus Humorous Magazine

The results of two weeks of intense political activity on the part of candidates for campus offices will be determined for three days during the 1936 final elections take place.

The ballots will list candidates for every major student body office. In addition, students will vote on proposed changes in the student government by-laws.

The voting will be conducted as usual in the Y. M. C. A. with student body officials in charge. The polls will open at eight o'clock, and will stay open continuously until six-thirty in the afternoon.

Student Body Head
In the election for president of the student body, Lloyd Brown and Charlie Matthews, two high men in the primary held on April 7, will scrap it out with the high man getting the president's office and his opponent vice president. In the same way the secretary and treasurer of the student body will be decided in the race between Dick MacKenzie and J. C. Frink.

Only two campus publications will elect their heads on Monday. The editor and business manager of the annual will be elected in the near future at a meeting of the Junior Class. Hal Morrison is unopposed for the editorship of THE TECHNICIAN. Running for business manager of the campus weekly newspaper are Frank Curry and Red Dunn. A scrapy race is expected between Hal Overman and Charlie Stinnette for the job of Watawain editor, while Tommy Goad and Dick Garbrandt will run for business manager of the humorous magazine.

Y Officers
The nominating committee of the Y Cabinet chose six men Wednesday night to run for three Y positions during the coming year. Jack Gaw and Andy Gray will run for president, Dwight Durham and Joe Rabb for secretary, and John Ogletree and M. M. Dall for treasurer. The low man in the race for president will receive the vice presidency.

Fraternity men will vote to elect a president and vice president for the inter-fraternity council. Jack Dossbach, Delta Sigma Phi, and L. B. Webb, Lambda Chi Alpha, will run for president, and M. D. Saunders, Sigma Pi, and Charlie Boger, Sigma Phi Epsilon, are in the race for vice president. Dean E. L. Cloyd is the permanent secretary-treasurer of the fraternity group.

Red Dunn is unopposed for the head cheer leader's job. Connie Mac Berry and Steve Sabol are very much in the running for the battle to see which will receive the coveted Alumni Athletic Trophy.

The proposed changes in the student government by-laws will affect, if passed, the election of student government and Agromeck officials and the set-up of the present court of appeals for student government cases.

By-Law Changes
The first change to be voted on reads as follows: "That no man be permitted to run for the presidency of the student council without having first served as a member of that body for a minimum of two terms sometime during his college career. Such a rule will not affect any of the officers of the council or the right to serve as a member of it." If this rule is passed by a two-thirds vote of the students, it will not go into effect until the 1937 elections.

The second proposal states: "That the court of appeals be called the board of review and that the membership of the group be changed from its present status to be composed of the Dean of Students, one faculty member selected by the student council and two students elected by the student council from the student body at large, and one member from the student council selected by the student council. It shall be the privilege of the president of the council to be present throughout the hearing, but he shall not be privileged to vote." At present, the court of appeals is composed of the Dean of Students, the president and vice president of the council, and one faculty member and one student selected by the council.

Yearbook Election
The last proposed change states that: (Please turn to page four)

Attends Convention

W. B. Aycock, student body president, left Raleigh Wednesday morning for Memphis where he is attending the sessions of the Southern and Southeastern Regional Conference of the National Student Federation of America. Aycock will return to Raleigh Sunday.

FINALS PROGRAM BEING COMPLETED

Gammom and Geer to Be Principal Speakers at Commencement to Be Held in June

The program for State College's forty-fourth annual commencement exercises are rapidly being formulated. Dr. T. P. Harrison of the English Department, who is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, announced here yesterday afternoon.

The commencement exercises are to be held through two days and three nights beginning Saturday morning, June 6, and closing Monday evening, June 8, with the graduating exercises which will be held again on Riddick Field.

Saturday's program comprises the announcement of honors and the awarding of medals and prizes. The Senior Orations will also be held in Pullen Hall.

The baccalaureate sermon on Sunday evening in Pullen Hall, will be preached by the Reverend Edgar G. Gammom, D. D., pastor of Myers Park Presbyterian Church, Charlotte.

Dr. Gammom was called to Myers Park Church about eight years ago. Since that time he has built his church into one of the largest and strongest churches in both Charlotte and the state of North Carolina. Dr. Gammom, during his services in Charlotte and elsewhere, has shown special interest in understanding young men. He knows their problems and how they might be solved. He will have a frank and an inspiring message for the graduating class.

Monday morning will be devoted to a meeting of the alumni, which is to begin at ten o'clock. Following the election of new officers, the Senior Class will be received as members of the Alumni Association, and will be given a banquet at one o'clock in the college dining hall.

President Bennett E. Geer of Furman University, Greenville, S. C., has been asked to address the outgoing seniors at the graduation exercises to be held Monday evening at twilight.

Dr. Geer was formerly the president of a large chain of cotton mills in South Carolina, in which position he made conspicuous success as a great industrial leader. He has also attained equal eminence in the educational world. It is quite appropriate that President Geer should be invited to speak to the technical graduating class of this college.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS SELECT NEW OFFICERS

F. L. Connell Elected President of Society At Meeting Held Tuesday Night

Election of new officers for the coming year took up most of the business meeting of the ASME held last Tuesday night.

Fred Connell was elected president of the society. Tommy Goad vice president, E. L. Guerrant secretary, and Jimmy Bishop treasurer. Bob Bourne was elected as the department's second representative to the Engineer's Council. Connell's election having automatically made him a member of the council. Hal Overman, an incoming junior, was chosen as the alternate on the council.

Following a motion, unanimously passed, which proposed an addition to the fees of engineering students for the purpose of supporting the Southern Engineer, the meeting adjourned.

JEFFERSON SHOWN AS BEST EXAMPLE OF GREAT SCHOLAR

Speaker Urges His Audience to Become Familiar with History of Great American

BROWN EXPLAINS REASON FOR SCHOLARSHIP MEET

Dean of Administration Presides Over Eleventh Annual Scholarship Day; Cloyd Reads List of 78 Students Who Received High Honors During Past Year; Rann, Gregory and Ward are Awarded Pi Kappa Phi Scholarship Medals in Assembly

"Thomas Jefferson, the great educator, still lives," said Dr. Walter Clinton Jackson, Dean of Administration of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, in an address before the faculty and students of State College at the Eleventh Annual Scholarship Day exercises held yesterday at 11 o'clock in Pullen Hall.

Jackson stated that a student could find no better man to study than Thomas Jefferson. The speaker urged his audience to become familiar with the history of Jefferson who portrayed the finest type of Americanism.

Character Traits
The speaker said that Jefferson's success could be attributed to two traits of character. The first was his ability to master himself and organize others. The second characteristic which led Jefferson to success is that he had an inquiring mind. The speaker said most great men in history had an inquiring mind.

The speaker closed with the statement that Americans could not find a better pattern to base their lives on than Thomas Jefferson.

Purpose of Day
An explanation of the meaning of Scholarship Day was made by Dean B. F. Brown of the School of Science and Business. He stated that the purpose of the day was to recognize the scholarship records of the leading students, and added that the characteristics of a scholar are: a trained and orderly mind, a broad point of view, an adaptable nature, and powers of original thought.

Colonel J. W. Harrelson, Dean of Administration, presided over the assembly. The list of high honor students was read by Dean of Students, E. L. Cloyd. He commented on the fact that the honor lists were so long. There were 78 students on the high honor list and 203 on the honor list.

Awards
Following is the list of awards: Alpha Zeta cup, given to the sophomore who was a freshman made the highest grades in the Agriculture School, W. L. Colwell; Textile School cup, awarded to the student in the Textile School who has made the highest average during the past three years, Robert L. Rogers; the Tau Beta Pi cup, given to the student in the Engineering School with the highest average, J. T. Massey, sophomore, and L. C. Brooks, freshman; Phi Kappa Phi medals, senior, J. D. Rann, junior, I. C. Gregory, sophomore, L. A. Ward; J. C. Steele cup, given to the student in the Ceramic Department with the highest average, Arthur Dammann, and the Moland Drysdale cup, given the freshman in the same school with the highest average, William Arthur Scholer; Delta Sigma Pi key, given to the senior in the Business School with the highest average, this year two were given—Micou F. Brown and James D. Rann; the plaque given by the same school to the student who shows the most improvement, Walter L. James; AICHe award given to the sophomore making the highest average, J. G. Bronson; 30 and 3 cash awards, given to the freshman living in the dormitories making the highest average, L. C. Brooks; Sigma Phi Alpha award, W. A. Bain, Jr.; White Spades cup, given to the fraternity member having the highest average, H. F. Schoof; Mu Beta Psi musical award, Paul M. Cox; Music keys, Paul M. Cox, J. Clarke Owen, F. D. Newcomb, Jesse Womble, Wayne F. Corpening, L. M. Porter, Kenon Brookwell, K. W. Clark, T. S. Teague, S. A. Ward, J. Weathering, T. F. Osborne, S. Robert Watson, H. L. Bowling, Thomas Harper, A. S. Cherevko.

MASQUERS START WORK ON SPRING PRODUCTION

"Ten Nights in a Barroom" Expected to be a Huge Success; Play Not Fully Cast as Yet

"Ten Nights in a Barroom"—the play to be given by the Red Masquers this spring term—got under way last Tuesday evening at try-outs held at the Red Masquers meeting.

The play is only tentatively cast as yet and there are still a good many vacancies. Final try-outs will be held Tuesday, April 22, and everyone interested in dramatics is urged to be present. Professor Lyell will direct as heretofore.

Owing to the elaborateness of the set desired, there are quite a few opportunities for any one interested in work on the technical staff, electrical or otherwise.

Caps and Gowns

After voting favorably on the plan of W. L. Mayer, registrar of the college, concerning the money payment covering the cost of invitations, diplomas, and caps and gowns, the Senior Class will be measured for their commencement vestments in the Y. M. C. A. next Wednesday.

A representative of the McCarthy and Simon Company, from whom the class is renting its caps and gowns this year will be at the Y from 9 to 4 for the purpose of measuring the seniors.

Verity is Guest
Mr. Ben Verity, one of the most prominent of the members of the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists, who is also an officer of the providence chapter, was the guest of the student chapter at State College this week.

THE FIVE-YEAR CURRICULA

The Executive Committee of the Board of Regents at the University of Alaska has outlined five-year courses of study leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in their engineering school. The new curricula will go into effect with the registration of students this fall. This step was taken by the committee neither hastily or ill-advisedly. They came to their conclusions after a thorough study of engineering curricula in technical schools throughout the country.

Of course it must be stated that conditions at the University of Alaska are somewhat different from those prevailing in the United States. With the short summers and long winters of the far north, the school system must necessarily operate somewhat differently. However, the majority of reasons guiding the trustees of the Alaskan institution would apply just as well to the technical institutions all around us. That the trustees decided upon the major change is indicative of the fact that there must be a real reason for such a change to be made.

The eyes of education officials throughout the United States will be watching the working of this five-year plan in Alaska, because many have felt that the present four-year courses of study for engineering students have several weaknesses. In the first place, engineering schools of recognized standing this country over give their students 15 to 35 per cent more work than the average liberal arts student is required to take and from 10 to 25 per cent more than the bachelors of science take. These figures were taken using the average of many different colleges and universities.

The increased load placed upon the engineering students has been required because of the vast increase in technical knowledge in the past two decades. Though engineering fields have been divided and subdivided since the days when civil, mechanical, and electrical were the only three fields open, yet the courses required have continued to pile up on the engineering student.

However, the heavy load of scholastic work under which the engineering student labors is not the chief reason for changing to the five-year plan. If an average engineering student is taken as a typical example, he will also be found to be an example of overspecialization. He is well-versed in the laws of physics, mathematics, and chemistry, but of the social sciences he knows little or nothing. His usefulness as a citizen will be greatly minimized if he is not able to fit into the complex social organization of which he is a part.

The engineer is a bridge between the highly developed technical knowledge of the research scientist and its application to modern society. If he swings in either one direction or the other, he is worth less by just that amount to the community or enterprise he serves.

It is impractical and not advisable to lessen the technical requirements in the engineering profession. Engineering standards are rising all the time, and examinations are becoming more stringent and thorough. Yet it is most advisable to more thoroughly acquaint the engineer with psychology, sociology, to give him more of a foundation in language and literature—in short to add to his cultural background and to his ability to work with people as well as technical problems.

With the present load placed on the engineering student, it is practically impossible to add more courses under the four-year set-up. However, if the University of Alaska's system of an additional year of engineering work for a degree works out, probably other technical schools will follow suit. The five-year plan appears to be the best solution to a very pressing problem in the technical school.

YEARBOOK ELECTIONS

One of the questions brought up for student vote in the final campus elections Monday is that of the manner of electing the editor and business manager of the Agromeck. Students will decide whether in the future the heads of the yearbook will be elected with other publications heads in a general student election or whether they will be elected by the rising Senior Class as is done at present.

When the Agromeck was established as the yearbook of the college early in the nineteenth century, its publication was left entirely to the Senior Class and the book was looked upon as the sole property of the graduates. With the passing of the years, however, the Agromeck has come to be a record of the student body for a particular year, and members of the Sophomore, Freshman, and Junior Classes are just as concerned with and have just as great a part in its publication.

With the coming of the Uniform Picture Fee Petition, every student shares alike in the cost of publishing the yearbook. Therefore, in view of these considerations it would seem that every student should have a part in electing the annual's editor and business manager. It would certainly be more democratic.

Certainly seniors should hold the two most important positions on the yearbook. That is only as it should be. In addition, if the proposed change in the manner of election went through, candidates would still have to be recommended for office as they are now by the Publications Board.

Thus there would be no change in the fitness of the candidates allowed to run, and they would be elected from the Senior Class of the coming year. The proposed change would merely mean that the election of Agromeck heads would take place in a more democratic manner than at present with every student allowed to vote. Such a change should be approved by the students Monday.

PRESS CONVENTION

Yesterday delegates registered for the Thirty-first Semi-annual Convention of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association. Today and tomorrow sessions will be held in the Sir Walter Hotel.

These semi-annual press meetings give college journalists of the state a chance to meet each other, exchange ideas, and compare notes. In addition, leaders in the field of newspaper, magazine, and yearbook work are on the list of speakers and much valuable information is received in this manner.

College journalists are prone like everyone else to get in a rut and these press gatherings do a great deal to clear the cobwebs away. So to the visiting collegians and to others in town for the convention we extend a welcome, even though it may be somewhat out of our province to do so as Wake Forest is acting as host to the group.

HERE and THERE

By DICK MACKENZIE

At last the work has begun on the tower, and they wanted to impress it on our minds so much that they put signs out which read "Men Working." . . . It is a good thing, too; otherwise you couldn't tell it.

When Lloyd Brown reads a menu, it is very easy to understand. After the name of a fancy foreign dish, Lloyd adds that much needed explanation. . . . It is nice to have someone who is so well educated in your midst.

I hear a certain faculty member makes the statement that our student body president's actions for the past year have been quite immature. It must be remembered that Bill is one of the youngest student body presidents in the entire country, but we think that he has done a fine job of everything that he has undertaken.

Duke has added a new campus publication the Duke 'n' Duchess, which holds the same place on the Duke campus as the Watauga does on State campus. Here's hoping that they have more success than we seem to have.

When Gene Knight came in the office all dressed up in his Easter suit and yellow shoes, we were quite puzzled, but it was soon explained as Gene returned with about three or four girls on his arm. Since Gene loves nick names, we might call him "Heart Breaker" Knight.

Is the old seat in front of Holliday Hall the one that Hal Overman lost? If it isn't Hal might be able to use it as it matches his car very well.

Johnny Feather, the bouncing drummer of the Poyner Collegians, did some prize bouncing last Monday afternoon. His horse, somewhat disatisfied with the manner in which Johnny insisted on riding, very effectively removed him. He didn't approve of the animal's misconduct and refused to remount the ill-humored beast. Personally, I can't blame him.

The price of feathers have advanced in the past few days according to Clark Erwin. On a recent trip, a pillow was demolished entirely, and the total cost was only five dollars. The moral to this is—never have a pillow fight in a hotel.

We Need a Five Year Plan

LISTENING IN

By JOHNNY BING

Radio comedians come and radio comedians go, but JACK BENNY goes on forever, or so it seems. And long may he do so! It isn't often that a comedian allows himself to be the butt of all the nasty cracks that a good gag writer can produce, but Benny has made a reputation for himself by letting that go by the board, and he deserves the credit. He's getting it, too. In a national poll now being taken to determine the leaders in various fields of entertainment, Jack stands well to the front. Upsets feature this vote every week, but Jack is sitting serenely on top. In a tabulation of the star of stars, Jack is Number One, and has been since the poll started. In the Comedian or Comedy Acts, Benny holds forth as favorite also. I might also mention in passing that Maestro Wayne ("The WALTZ") KING holds top honors in the dance orchestra division, despite such favorites as GUY LOMBARDO, FRED WARING, JAN GARBER, and HAL KEMP being runners-up. Wayne has held this enviable position for three or four years, and he has my vote again. To some, this may seem surprising, but sitting here listening to those smooth, rhythmic orchestrations, it isn't such a surprise after all. He really is "The King."

MARIE DE VILLE, petite brunette and swell-looking newcomer to the radio, got her start in an unusual manner. She was employed in the Music Rights Division of WGAM in Cleveland, an affiliate of WJZ. An argument over a certain song arose one day in Radio City, and to settle it, an official phoned WGAM. Marie answered. She couldn't remember the name of the song, but she did know the tune and sang it over the phone. Impressed by the quality of her voice, the listening official promptly invited her to come to Radio City to sing on the air. You may now tune in on her, not over the telephone, but over an NBC network on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

A sure-fire way for an aspiring orchestra to reach the top in a hurry is to be picked by the Lucky Strike people to sponsor their week. The latest of these maestros to go to the top is CARL HOFF. No one had ever heard of him when he first went on the air, but now! Evidence of this is clearly shown by a release from the Hotel Pennsylvania. When Hal Kemp leaves the Hotel on May 15, Hoff will succeed. Batonists for the Strike in the past who received a similar boost are LENNIE HAYTON and BENNIE GOODMAN. The announcer on the Hit Parade pulled the best one of the week, in my opinion. Said he: "Perhaps the reason 'Lights Out' is the favorite at Hotel Lord Baltimore in Baltimore, is because 'Sleepy' Hall and his orchestra are now playing there." Pretty good, yes?

Red Blount Slated to Hurl First of Two Game Series

State Pitcher Has Turned in Fair Performance in Games So Far This Season

NINE HAS WON AND LOST IN PAST WEEK'S GAMES

Doakmen Took Easter Monday Classic From Deacons, But Dropped Tilt to Devils

State College's varsity baseball team meets Carolina on freshman field at 3 o'clock tomorrow in the first of their four game series.

The Techs have come out even in games played so far this week with a victory over Wake Forest and a defeat at the hands of Duke University. They have a record of one win and two losses in Big Five competition. Both defeats were administered by Duke's Blue Devils. State took its only win from Wake Forest in the annual Easter Monday game.

The Tar Heels have dropped two contests this week, one to Richmond University and the other to Georgetown.

Rivalry between the Techs and the Tar Heels has always been keen and a large crowd is expected for tomorrow's battle.

Fred Blount who pitched the first six innings against Wake Forest Monday will probably start on the mound for the Techs. Coach Bunn Hearn has not announced his pitching choice, however, Johnny Humphries probably will get the nod.

Neil Dalrymple, regular Tech third sacker, will not play tomorrow. Dalrymple injured a finger in Wednesday's contest with Duke. Beverly who finished out the Duke game at the hot corner will be Coach Doak's choice tomorrow. Coach Doak indicated that he will stick to the line-up that started the two previous games this week.

The Techs broke even with the Heels in four contests last year. In last season's Big Five circles State wound up in third place and Carolina finished fourth. The Tar Heels led the Doakmen until the latter part of the season. Last year's team got off to a bad start but during the last half of the season they came from bottom position in the Big Five to win third place honors. The Carolina team had a chance to nose the Techs out of their position but the championship Duke University team proved too much for them in the last two games on their schedule.

SCHEDULED TILTS DELAYED BY RAIN

Many Games Postponed Because of Heavy Rains and Numerous Varsity Contests

According to Mr. Johnny Miller, Riddick Stadium may be used in the near future for the playing of the intramural baseball games.

The heavy schedules have caused such a congestion that games have been played this spring on a field out on Clark Avenue. The games carded for Clark Avenue will be played in the stadium.

Heavy rains and the numerous varsity and freshman games have prevented the playing of many scheduled tilts. 2nd Watauga and 3rd 1911 engaged in the only battle of the past week. The game was close all the way, with the boys from Watauga coming out ahead by a score of 2 to 1. Baldwin, Cayton, and Green were the stars for the winners, while Ginsberg, Ferrell, and Auman hit hard for 1911.

Most of the teams swing into action next week, playing postponed and scheduled games.

Monday—A.K.P.'s vs. K.A.'s; 6th Dorm vs. 1st Watauga.

Tuesday—Local All Stars vs. Kentuckians; Ohio Valley vs. State Bearcats.

Wednesday—Phi Kappa Tau's vs. Theta Kappa Nu's; 1st South vs. 3rd South.

Thursday—Delta Sig's vs. A.L.T.'s; Basement South vs. 2nd 7th.

Mr. Miller would like to have the tennis matches played off as soon as possible, as the team cards are rather long for this short term.

Varsity Tennis Team Loses to Blue Devils

Duke University's tennis team won four singles matches and made a clean sweep of the three doubles events to defeat State, 7-2, here Tuesday. The Techs meet Carolina here this afternoon.

Renn, State captain, defeated Caton; 6-3, 6-2, 6-2 and Dull, defeated Birch 6-1, 6-4, for the Tech's two points. For Duke, Ashby defeated Brown, 6-2, 6-3; Carsons defeated Nading, 7-5, 6-1; Gill defeated Smith, 11-9, 6-2, and Kellmeger defeated Crews 6-2, 6-1.

In the doubles, Kelly and Caton won from Renn and Brown, 6-3, 6-1; Wright and Gill defeated Dulin and Smith, 6-2, 6-1; Gill and Doyle defeated Crews and Nading, 6-2, 17-15.

This week-end seems to be Carolina week so far as State College athletic teams are concerned. This afternoon, the freshman baseball team goes over to Chapel Hill to meet the Tar Babies in the first contest of the season between the two yearling teams of the Greater University. While the baseball team is in Chapel Hill, the strong Carolina tennis team will come over here to meet the State varsity. Then tomorrow afternoon, the big game will come off. Mr. Charlie Doak's ball club vs. Bunny Hearn's nine on Freshman field here.

You sport fans don't want to miss either one of these home events. The Tar Heels have a strong tennis team that is capable of taking most any net team in the East. However Coach R. W. Green's men will be out there to give them a battle. The Carolina boys did some nice playing over in Pinehurst this week in the annual North-South tournament.

But the climax will be reached down on freshman field tomorrow afternoon when the two ball clubs get together. Red Blount, who hurled six innings of beautiful ball against Wake Forest, will likely draw the mound assignment tomorrow. He will probably be opposed by Johnny Humphries, ace of the Tar Heel mound staff.

State sure did go to pieces somewhere about the sixth inning of the ball game with Duke Wednesday afternoon. It really was a good ball game up through the fifth inning. But then Stuart Plythe went wrong and just couldn't get the ball over. He blew up, and the whole team went with him. That game was almost in direct contrast to the Duke-State game played over in Durham last Saturday.

D. C. Williams' home run against Wake Forest in the ninth inning Monday is still giving the State fans something to talk about. Williams stepped up there and popped that ball right on the nose. If I ever saw a ball take wings and fly—that one did it. But despite D. C.'s homer that broke up the ball game, let's don't forget that four-base knock of Farrar's. The bases were full, and that's what started the Techs on their hitting streak. Jake Mahoney hit one almost good for a home run, and Charlie Gadd's only hit of the day was hit far and wide. Charlie must have been shooting too much pool, he had the old back english on that ball, and it hopped up into centerfielder Wall's hands on the first bounce. It went for two bases, but it had a home run tag on it.

I want to give Porter Sheppard, Wake Forest catcher, a big hand in this column. He is one of the best catchers I've seen in collegiate baseball. Sheppard has everything that goes to make a ball player, but most of all, he's a regular sport. Some of the pitches that the umpire called Monday were mighty close, but nary a word did Sheppard say about them. He's the kind of fellow who works hard and plays clean.

Duke has one of the best little shortstops I've seen this year. This fellow Corbett can get around that shortfield position in fine style. He took about everything coming his way Wednesday, and got some of those that were a little out of his way. And Bill Hainskamp showed his speed on the bases by stealing home. That's the first time I've seen that done in quite awhile. He stole three bases during the afternoon.

Charlie Gadd fattened his batting average by hitting safely the first three times at bat against Duke. Charlie had a hard time against Wake Forest, but he made up for it in the Duke game. Mason Bugg and Jake Mahoney are cracking that apple for some nice wallops too. Mr. Charlie has about the hardest hitting team this year I've seen at State in a long time. There are several extra base hitters, mixed up with several who are good for that old bingle in a pinch.

Bob Warren's baseball team has had a couple of games that will rival any games played in this section for thrills. They lost to Duke by a close score and then eked out a 2-2 win over Burlington High in eleven innings. Bill Huck looked like a jackrabbit going two bases on Charlie Beams' bunt.

These men will be the big guns in State's game with Carolina with the possible exception of Eddie Berlinski who injured his hand in the Duke game Wednesday.

TECHS WIN TWO IN WEEK'S TILTS

Doakmen Lose Two to Blue Devils Twice and Win Easter Monday Contest from Deacons

By defeating the Wake Forest Deacons, 8-7, in the annual Easter Monday classic for the first time in five years, the State College baseball team managed to come through with a percentage of .333 for their play of the past week. The Doakmen lost their two engagements with Duke, the first, 2-0, and the second, 14-3, in the past week.

Wednesday Game with Duke Losing their second game with Duke University this season, the Techs scored only three runs to their opponents' 14 in a contest played here on Wednesday. It was a real ball game for the first five innings, at the end of which the score was 2-2. Duke scored in the first and second innings, and State counted in the second and fifth. From the fifth inning on State's defense blew up.

Charlie Gadd led for State with three singles in four trips to bat. Rabb's work at short and Mason Bugg's play in rightfield featured the field play for State.

Bugg threw out two runners at the plate with perfect pegs. Easter Monday Battle The Doakmen were victorious over the Deacons in the annual Easter Monday game by a score of 8-7. The Techs gained their victory in the home half of the ninth inning when Captain D. C. Williams hit a home run to break the 7-7 tie. Two more homers were lined out during the game, one by Farrar of State and the other by Yount, rightfielder for the Blue Devils.

There was not a dull moment in the game, which offered about everything one might care to see—good pitching, hard hitting, plenty of scoring, and brilliant play afield.

On Saturday the Techs were defeated by the Blue Devils by a score of 2-0 in a hard-fought contest. Barley, Duke pitcher, was the star of the game.

"I EXPECT TO LICK HIM," SAYS JIMMY ABOUT JOE

"You can say that I expect to lick him," said Jimmy Braddock, world's heavyweight boxing champion, last night when asked about the foremost contender for his crown, Joe Louis. Braddock, a quiet, young-looking fellow, was sitting in his dressing room at Memorial Auditorium where he referred a professional wrestling show. A constant stream of boxing fans and autograph seekers was pouring into the room. He was accompanied by his manager, Joe Gould, and one of his sparring partners, Jack McCarthy. Braddock meets McCarthy in a three-round exhibition tonight. The champion said that "Baer quit" in his bout with Joe Louis last fall. "Baer gave him no fight."

And After So Long a Time, State's Wolves Get Here

Homerun Formula

Ball players knock home runs every day—there's not so much news to that—but when a player says he's going to hit one, steps up to the plate and does it, breaking up the ball game—then that's news.

Captain D. C. Williams did that very thing in the annual Easter Monday game with Wake Forest. But there's "news behind the news" of that home run. Williams wasn't the only man responsible for the hit that broke up the game.

While Williams was selecting his bat, which incidentally was brand new, a well-known State supporter stepped up, rubbed D. C.'s head and placed a small object in his pocket. Williams stepped to the plate and cracked the first ball pitched to him for a home run.

Who was the well known State supporter? None other than Smokey Joe. And what was that small object that only a few fans saw placed in Williams' pocket? Smokey's old and much used rabbit foot.

The moral of this little story is "always put Smokey's rabbit foot in your pocket before going to the bat."

FROSH TENNIS SCHEDULE OPENED HERE WEDNESDAY

Opening their 1936 schedule Wednesday, the State College freshman tennis team was defeated by New Hanover High, 5-2, on the Tech courts.

Joe Canady played the number one position for the State frosh. He played a fine game and defeated White 6-1, 6-1, to score one of State's two points. The Techlets' other point was made by David Satterfield when he won from Jackson 8-6, 3-6, 6-2.

In the doubles match between Satterfield and Giles of State and Jackson and Head of New Hanover High, the match was called on account of darkness. However, a decision was reached by tossing a coin. Luck was against the Techs and the netmen from New Hanover High were victorious.

Summary of matches with State players listed first: Canady defeated White, 6-1, 6-1; Kline lost to Head, 6-2, 6-4; Satterfield won from Jackson, 8-6, 3-6, 6-2; Foushee was defeated by Boney, 6-2, 6-0; Murray lost to Caldwell, 6-4, 9-7; Canady and Kline lost to Boney and White, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3; Satterfield and Giles lost to Jackson and Head.

Huck Scores Winning Run in Eleventh Frame to Halt Moran's Winning Streak

Coach Bob Warren's State Freshman nine journeys to Chapel Hill today for the first of three games with Big Five teams to be played away from home.

The Techlets meet the Baby Deacons in Wake Forest Monday, and play the Duke frosh in Durham on the following day. The frosh have an even break in two games played so far this season. They lost to Duke's Blue Imps 2-0 in their first game, and defeated Burlington High, 3-2, here Tuesday.

Coach Warren said yesterday that either Derward Harper or Allen Green would take the mound against the Tar Babies tomorrow. Bill Huck will do the catching. Other starters for tomorrow's game are: Beverly, 3b; Sandfoss, ss; Hoyle, 2b; McDonough, 1b; Lucey, lf; Beam, rf; and either Haskell or Wickler, cf.

The Warrenites were forced into two extra innings in order to defeat the Burlington High team, 3-2. Bill Huck walked to open the eleventh inning. Charlie Beam laid down a bunt, and Huck went all the way to third base. He scored a few minutes later on a fielder's choice.

This game marked the first defeat for Kendall Moran, Burlington star pitcher, in 18 starts—two years of pitching for the textile city boys. It was the third defeat in 31 starts for Burlington, two of these coming at the hands of the State frosh.

Score by innings: R H E Burlington HI 000 200 000 0-2 8 5 State Frosh 000 000 020 01-3 8 4 Batteries: Moran and Cross; Steele, Green and Huck.

SPRING FOOTBALL ENDED WITH GAME LAST WEEK

Varsity Squad Defeats Second String 20-0 in Last Practice Game of Spring Season

Spring football practice ended here Saturday afternoon as the varsity squad took a 20-0 win over the second-stringers.

Scoring on the second play of the game, the varsity lost no time in showing who was master. Nick Hayden completed a 20-yard pass to Tatum who ran 40 yards for the score.

Ending a 52-yard drive, Ryneeka scored the second touchdown on a 12-yard run around his left end. McDonough, freshman quarterback last fall, who had replaced Dusty, kicked the extra point.

The final score was made by Odell Smothers, center, when he intercepted a pass and ran 41 yards to a touchdown.

The second-stringers completed a pass netting 52 yards which placed them on the varsity's 15-yard line. However, they were unable to move it but two yards further.

Lineups: Varsity: Ends—Cara, Tatum, Rose, Dick Thompson. Tackles—Fry, Goode. Guards—Kirschner, Plooseno, Woodson. Center—Smothers. Backs—Dusty, McDonough, Hayden, Barbes, Ryneeka, Traylor, Lawler.

Second String: Ends—Mass, Hennessey, Tackles—Novich, Matheny, Hines. Guards—Ausi, Rhodes, Center—Bailey. Backs—Jaskwich, Davis, Murphy, Uvalorsky, Yost.

State Represented Coach R. W. Green sent two players, Captain Jimmy Renn and ex-Captain Jack Brown, to the annual North-South tennis tournament in Pinehurst this week. Both dropped their first-round matches to members of the Carolina tennis team. Brown lost to Johnny Foreman, while Renn was defeated by Eddie Fuller.

H. L. COOPER TO HEAD BEAUX-ARTS NEXT YEAR

All Officers Selected At Meeting Held in Architectural Building Tuesday

Harry L. Cooper was elected president of Beaux-Arts at the meeting of the society held last Tuesday night.

The meeting was held solely for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year, and the following were selected to fill the remaining offices: John H. Mackay, vice president; K. P. Gomo, secretary-treasurer; Louis Asbury, representative to the Engineer's Council; John McClurd, alternate on the council; and Owen Smith, reporter.

Following the balloting for these new leaders, the meeting was adjourned.

Intense Activity Seen on Campus Prior to Voting

(Continued from page one) "The editor and business manager of the annual be selected by the student body as a whole, instead of from the members of the rising Senior Class." At present yearbook heads are elected by the rising Senior Class. This is a custom handed down from the days when the annual was financed and published by the Senior Class. As each student shares alike in the present publishing of the annual, it was thought fairer for the students as a whole to vote in election of these officers. If passed, the proposal will not go into effect until next year.

Candidates have been urging their supporters to be at the polls on Monday, and an unusually heavy vote is expected in the final balloting.

GRANITE BEING PLACED ON MEMORIAL TOWER

Raising of Stone Begun Tuesday Morning With First Being Raised at 11:30

After being delayed several days by the recent inclement weather, the actual laying of the stone on the State College Memorial Tower was begun last Tuesday morning with the first stone being raised at 11:30.

The preliminary work on the tower has been going on for several weeks prior to the placing of the granite blocks, and the placing of the blocks was scheduled to start in the earlier part of last week. However, weather conditions held up part of this preliminary work and the actual construction was delayed as a result.

Two courses and a half had been placed on the monument yesterday when the day's work was completed, making a total of twenty-five blocks.
