The final decision of the judges in yesterday's ninth annual Style Show of the State College textile department awarded the grand prize to Mildred Covington of Flora McDonald.

Miss Covington, whose home is in McColl, South Carolina, received, among other things, a ten-dollar check donated by the American Association of Cotton Manufacturers, and a bouquet of roses.

A wide variety of garments prepared from cloth designed and woven by State College textile students, was modeled by the girls at the Style Show in Pullen Hall yesterday in competition for prizes offered by North Carolina manufacturers and Raleigh Merchants.

The seventeenth annual Students' Textile Exposition was held in connection with the Style Show. All processes used in the textile industry, from the converting of the raw cotton into finished goods, were shown during the Exposition, as well as many intricate textile machines operated by students.

Rogers Presides
Robert L. Rogers, a member of the textile senior class, presided over the day's program as superintendent. He was assisted by the following students: R. C. Going, assistant; J. H. Moore, foreman of yarn manufacturer; E. H. Warren, assistant foreman of yarn manufacturer; W. P. Bannier, foreman of knitting; T. R. Mohr, assistant foreman of knitting; D. A. McCleskey, foreman of weaving; E. W. Blackwood, assistant foreman of weaving; Carl Wynn, foreman of designing; J. A. Boland, assistant foreman of designing; A. E. Shumate, foreman of dyeing and E. S. Horney, assistant foreman of dyeing.

Began in 1928
The Style Show was originated in 1928 by Dean Thomas Nelson, head of the Textile School, in an effort to stimulate interest in cotton products by demonstrating the utility and beauty of garments made from all-cotton or cotton-and-rayon fabrics.

TEXTILE STUDENTS HEAR INTERESTING LECTURER

C. W. Gilchrist Speaks to Textile Classes on "Calgon and Water Treatment"

The State student chapter of the Textile Chemists and Colorists had as its guest speaker recently, Mr. C. W. Gilchrist, secretary and treasurer of the Charlotte Laboratories.

The speaker was here for some time and spoke to classes on "Calgon and Water Treatment." Mr. Gilchrist's firm, the Charlotte Laboratories, have been experimenting widely on the preparation and uses of calgon, which is sodium hexametaphosphate, and they now have a product which is in use in the leading mills throughout the state. Calgon was made for and is used chiefly for water softening, but it is also used widely by hospitals for washing as it does not leave harmful salts on the fabrics.

GAW WILL SPEAK IN PEACE CONTEST

State College Declamation Contest to be Held May 15; Prospective Contestants to Register

Jack Gaw will attempt to add to his impressive list of titles which have made him one of the outstanding student speakers in the nation when he represents State College in the State Peace Oratorical Contest to be held tonight at Guilford College.

Gaw has been an outstanding member of the debate team and has won many titles in impromptu, extemporaneous, and after-dinner speaking.

The debate team won three debates and lost three, giving them a record for the year of fourteen victories and eleven defeats, against the leading debate schools of the nation, including Redlands (California), Florida, Louisiana State, Oklahoma Baptist, Maryville, and others. This is the seventh straight year that the State College debate teams have won more debates than they have lost.

Following the Southern Tournament of the Southern Association of Teachers of Speech held their seventh annual convention. Professor Edwin H. Paget, who was one of the founders of the association and served for two terms as president, appeared several times on the program.

The State College squad has already begun pointing for next year's tournament. In the last six years State College has won ten southern championships in debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and after-dinner speaking. The runners-up in number of championships won are Baylor University with five titles, and Wake Forest College with four.

Professor E. H. Paget, forensics coach, recently made the announcement of the annual State College declamation contest which will be held on or near May 15. A gold medal will be awarded the winner. Professor Paget also announced that he is desirous of getting in touch with all students who intend to enter in the contest.

Check Your Cuts

A recent announcement from Romeo Lefort, assistant to the dean of students, stated that all students are requested to check their cuts in his office any afternoon from 2 until 4:30.

The ruling of the Faculty Council which states that all excesses must be in within a week of the date of the cut has been called to the attention of the students, together with the probation ruling of 10 cuts per term and 20 cuts per year.

Noted Botanist Selected by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as Best Fitted to Make Study

WILL BEGIN ON JUNE 15
IN COTTON CELL STUDY

Instructorship Offered to Fill Place of Departing Professor of Plant Physiology

Dr. D. B. Anderson, professor of botany and specialist on cellular wall structure, has been given leave of absence by the Agricultural Department of State College for one year to do research work in cotton plant physiology for the United States Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Anderson will assume his new duties on June 15. The Department of Agriculture offered him a permanent position, but Dr. Anderson refused to accept on these conditions. The present temporary arrangement was then made. Dr. Anderson will set up laboratories in Polk Hall.

Outstanding
Dr. Anderson is considered the outstanding plant physiologist on the subject of cellular wall structure. He has done considerable research, and is especially fitted to the position he is to occupy.

The United States Department of Agriculture after extensive investigation, stated that he was the man most suited to carry out the experiments with the cotton plant. Work will be done with cotton plants in determining the effect various soils and types of cultivation have on the cell development.

The main object of the experiments will be to determine actually what the cell wall structure of the cotton fiber is, its chemistry, how it grows, and its physical nature.

Dr. Thomas Kerr, of Harvard University, will be the second member of the research committee. The third member has not been selected as yet. Dr. Anderson's appointment was confirmed by Washington authorities on the sixteenth of this month.

Fellowships
Dr. B. W. Wells, head of the Botany Department, has announced that an instructorship in plant physiology of $1,500 for nine months, is open to fill the temporary vacancy made by Dr. D. B. Anderson's leave of absence. An applicant with a Ph.D. is preferred for this position.

Two fellowships of $500 each were also announced by Dr. Wells. These fellowships require one-half time teaching. An opportunity is offered for the fellows to pursue graduate work along with their teaching. Persons with master's degrees are preferred for these fellowships.

A pathology fellowship of $600 is also offered. The applicants for this fellowship are requested to communicate directly with Dr. R. F. Poole, who is in immediate charge of this fellowship. The fellowship involves assistantship work in the plant pathology department of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

STATE STUDENT RECEIVES MASTER MASON'S DEGREE

F. D. (Pete) Newcomb, State College senior in chemical engineering, received his degree as Master Mason last Monday night in a ceremony preliminary to the convening of the Grand Lodge on Tuesday.

Newcomb is the son of Grand Master Newcomb, of Wilmington, and received the first two degrees of Masonry through St. John's Lodge, No. 1, of Wilmington, the oldest in the state.

The dress parade held by the ROTC corps in Blidick Stadium today at noon will honor Captains Thorson and Ricamore, who are being transferred from State at the end of this year, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Colonel Bruce Magruder, commandant of the corps.

During the parade ceremonies, sweaters will be awarded to the members of the varsity rifle team. Those to receive the award are: W. A. Corpening, team captain; A. W. Brown, J. D. Sewall, H. S. Whitley, Raymond Myers, W. C. Repony, V. L. Holloway, Carl Wynn, T. F. Osborne, H. A. Rosser, A. G. Lancaster, and T. W. MacLeod.

Caps and Gowns

All seniors and graduate students who have not had measurements taken for cap and gown are requested to come to the business office in Holladay Hall any time today and tomorrow morning until noon. It is imperative that these measurements be taken before noon tomorrow as the order will be mailed then.

Junior Class

A meeting of the Junior Class originally scheduled for last Tuesday was postponed at that time and will be held next Tuesday, April 28, at one o'clock in Pullen Hall, according to an announcement made yesterday by Carroll Conrad, president of the class.

Several important items will be taken up at this meeting. Among them are:

1. Election of editor and business manager of the AGRONECK.
2. Election of class officers to serve during the coming year.

All Juniors are urged to be present at the meeting prepared to act upon these things.

Magruder to Be Transferred After Close of School Year

State R.O.T.C. Commandant to be Replaced to Colonel Chas. W. Weeks Next Year

Colonel Magruder Holds Respect and Admiration of State Faculty and Students

BY CLARENCE GALE
"My chief regret in leaving State this year is the fact that in the five years I've been here I have never seen the Wolfpack defeat Carolina in football," said Colonel Bruce Magruder, commandant of the State College ROTC corps when interviewed recently on the subject of his transferring from the college.

IS POPULAR
Colonel Magruder, who has been probably the most popular commanding officer ever to take charge of the corps at State, went on to say that he had done his best every year in every way, but that he had yet his first time to see the "Pack come out victorious in a tilt with the Tar Heels. If he is stationed anywhere within a reasonable distance, the Colonel says that he will certainly be on hand next year to witness the contest and cheer for State.

An example of the popularity enjoyed by Colonel Magruder at State was his election as president of the Faculty Club this year. In commenting on this, Magruder stated that he was very appreciative of the friendly attitude shown him by the faculty members when he first arrived here and throughout his stay. That the commandant was popular with the students is shown by the fact that he was an honorary member of several of the student organizations.

Magruder has not received his orders as yet and was uncertain as to whether he would be transferred this year or not until the announcement of the appointment of Colonel Charles M. Weeks, of Fort Benning, Ga., as commandant at State was made public recently.

Here Five Years
The completion of duty here this year will round out a full five years for Colonel Magruder. He came here as a lieutenant colonel in the fall of 1931, after serving in the office of the chief of infantry in Washington, and was promoted to the rank of full Colonel during the past summer.

Prior to his service in Washington he was an instructor in the Infantry Service School in Columbus, Ga. During the World War he was with the intelligence section of the American forces in General Headquarters in France.

Made Improvements
Numerous changes have been made by Magruder during his stay at State, the chief among them being the changing of the uniform of the advanced course students. A different tailoring firm was employed by the college before the arrival of Colonel Magruder and the uniform of the advanced course students was rather uncomfortable and unsightly. The year following his arrival, Colonel Magruder awarded the contract for the uniforms to another concern and the uniform now worn by those taking the advanced course is one of the best in the corps area.

Another beneficial change made by Magruder was that of changing the old "bull tour" to the make-up period, thereby turning the demerit system into something instructive. Two years ago Scabbard and Blade was reorganized by the Colonel and at the present time it is one of the strongest organizations on the campus. The national convention of this fraternity will be held in Raleigh next year with the local chapter as host.

The Armistice Day ceremony held at the base of the Memorial Tower was also instituted by Colonel Magruder as was the final award and campus carnival held in conjunction with the Raleigh Junior Chamber of Commerce. Various additions of military equipment have been made during the stay of Magruder also.

Increase in Enrollment
The enrollment of ROTC students has steadily gone upward in the past five years, the total enrollment soaring from 810 five years ago to 1225 this year, while that of the advanced students went from 110 to 175. Records show that the attitude of the entire campus towards military training has changed completely. Records of the Sophomore Class of last year showed that a percentage of 92 per cent of those taking the basic course had asked for the advanced course.

In addition to turning out reserve officers for the army, Colonel Magruder has accomplished another mission while at State, that of helping students to be better citizens by giving them some leadership, initiative, and all-round education in plain common sense.

Transferred

After being commandant of the ROTC corps at State for the past five years, Colonel Bruce Magruder will be transferred elsewhere after the end of the school year. He will be replaced by Colonel Charles W. Weeks of Fort Benning, Ga.

SENIORS CHOSEN FOR FRATERNITY

Nine Seniors and One Faculty Member Initiated into Phi Kappa Phi Wednesday

Nine State College seniors and one faculty member were initiated into the State College chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity, Wednesday night.

Selection of the seniors into this organization is the highest campus scholastic honor obtainable at State College and is based on their excellent scholarship records for their three years of completed work and other qualities of character and leadership.

The new student members are: L. M. Porter, Jr., C. W. Surratt, N. B. Dozier, Jr., H. F. Scoof, W. S. LeRoy, Mary E. Matthews, J. T. Nicholson, J. R. West, and W. H. Pierce. Professor W. N. Hicks of the Sociology department was the faculty member initiated into the organization.

Dr. R. Y. Winters, director of the State College agricultural experiment station, is president of the State College chapter and presided over the initiation. Other officers are: Miss Martha Smith of Raleigh, vice president and Dr. K. C. Garrison, secretary.

Members of Phi Kappa Phi are chosen twice a year. Those chosen last Fall are: W. David Poole, W. H. Wasson, Jr., Thomas L. Hurst, James D. Renn, William A. Bain, Jr., Martha Williams Smith, Micou F. Browne, Herman R. McLawhorn, Max A. Culp, and Robert W. Seitz.

A banquet for old and new members of the organization was held at Carolina Pines last night at which time new officers were inducted. The new officers were Dr. K. C. Garrison, president, Martha Smith, vice president, A. H. Grimshaw, secretary, and G. H. Satterfield, corresponding secretary.

Scholarship awards were also made at the banquet. These awards went to J. D. Renn, W. C. Gregory, and L. A. Ward.

Hinkle Honored
Dr. L. E. Hinkle, head of the State College department of modern languages, was elected president of the national language fraternity, Sigma Pi Alpha, at the congress held in Wake Forest last week-end.

Delegates from five chapters of the ten year old language fraternity were present at the meeting which was concluded by the election of national officers.

Co-Ed Elections

Women's Student Council elections will be held next Tuesday all day in the co-ed room.

The following have been nominated: for President—Margaret Owen, Melba Byunk, Antrine Nichols; (the one receiving the second highest number of votes will be vice-president) for Secretary—Edith Poole, O'Neal Branch, Honore Pierce; two of the following for Senator Council: Dorothleen Hales, Melba Byunk, Thedie Thomas, Helma Scott; and two for Junior Council—O'Neal Branch, Edith Poole, Honore Pierce.

STUDENTS ELECT LLOYD N. BROWN TO HEAD COUNCIL

Record Number Vote in General
Student Body Elections Held on Campus Tuesday

OVERMAN, CURRY, GOAD WIN PUBLICATIONS RACES

Election of Secretary and Treasurer of the "Y" Turns Out to be Closest Races; Sabol Wins Alumni Athletic Trophy by Overwhelming Majority; J. C. Frink is Elected Secretary of Student Body; Changes in By-laws Approved

Piling up a top-heavy majority in the final elections last Tuesday, Lloyd Brown won the office of president of the student body for the coming year, defeating Charlie Matthews to the score of 693 votes against 279. Matthews automatically becomes vice president.

This year's voting was the heaviest in the history of the school with over 1,000 students casting their votes at the polls at the "Y." In the elections last year, the student vote was only 875.

Frink Wins Also
J. C. Frink captured the job of student body secretary, also by a large majority. He polled 587 votes against 389 for his opponent, Dick MacKenzie, who will be treasurer. Brown and Frink were pre-election favorites for their positions because of the majority they received in the primary elections held on April 1.

The closest votes of any in the final elections were for YMCA officers for the coming year. Although Jack Gaw defeated Andy Gray for the presidency 688 votes to 269, races for the two other positions were so close that several recounts of the ballots were necessary. Gray will be vice president for the next school year. In the election for "Y" secretary, Dwight Durham polled exactly eleven votes more than his opponent, Joe Rabb. The final count was 468 votes for Durham and 457 for Rabb. John Ogletree eked out a twenty-two vote victory for the position of treasurer over M. M. Dail, the final tally being 467 and 445 respectively.

Publications Races
The races for heads of the various publications are usually more hotly contested than any other on the campus. However, in Tuesday's election most of them were won by comfortable majorities. The closest race was between Hal Overman and Charles Stinnette for the editorship of the Watawgan. At that Overman received 164 more votes than Stinnette to win 579 to 415. The election for business manager of the Watawgan was won by Tommy Goad who received 682 votes to 239 for Dick Garrabrant.

Frank Curry was elected business manager of THE TECHNICIAN over Red Dunn 606 votes to 385. Hall Morrison was unopposed for editorship of the paper.

Steve Sabol scored an overwhelming majority over Connie Mack Berry to receive the Alumni Athletic Trophy.

Amendments Approved
Jack Dossenback, Delta Sigma Phi, as president and Max Saunders, Sigma Pi, as vice president of the Interfraternity Council. Dossenback defeated L. B. Webb, Lambda Chi Alpha, 70 votes to 39, while Saunders defeated Charlie Boger, Sigma Pi Epsilon, 152 votes to 48.

Red Dunn was unopposed for the position of head cheer leader for the coming year.

All three amendments to the student body constitution passed by a large majority. The passing of the third one means that the election of yearbook heads in the Junior Class meeting next Tuesday will be the last time the election is carried on in this manner, as the election next year will take place with the general elections, and the editor and business manager will be voted upon by the entire student body.

Last night at the Carolina Hotel a banquet was held for the retiring and incoming student body heads and student council members. Dean E. L. Cloyd was the principal speaker of the evening.

The student body heads have actually already begun on their new assignments. They will be formally installed, however, on next Thursday at the freshman assembly period at noon. Heads of THE TECHNICIAN and the Watawgan elected last Tuesday have already taken over their respective positions.

PREPARATORY COURSES

The decision by the college authorities to offer special preparatory courses for high school students in the 1936 summer school should make the going much easier for those planning to matriculate here next fall. Statistics compiled by the registrar's office indicate that most first year men are deficient and poorly prepared in English and mathematics. The summer school courses in these two subjects should give the freshmen who take them a much better foundation upon which to build their college work.

Figures from the Dean of Students' office show that eighty-six freshmen were asked to leave school at the end of the first term and forty-nine the second term. In the opinion of the authorities the large majority of these men did poor work not because of lack of study, but because of poor preparation in high school. In most of the cases, the freshmen were advised by the Dean of Students to take junior college or preparatory work before trying again to enter college.

The raise in number of hours required by State College together with the tightening down on the amount and kind of scholastic work required has been a hardship on the freshmen. Of course the raising of the school's standards and requirements is all to the good and is to be desired. For upon the standing of the school depends in a large measure the kind and number of jobs secured for its graduates.

At the same time there seems to be a growing rift between the place where high school stops and college work begins. The majority of high schools in this state give insufficient and inadequate preparation for regular college work. While this is a situation to be deplored, nevertheless it exists and should be taken into account by the high school student before he enrolls for college work.

Many students who would not have the money to attend junior college or college preparatory schools should be able to attend the summer school-college preparatory sessions which begin here on June 10. At a nominal cost they will be able to receive much of the essential work which they will need in their first year courses.

It should be interesting to note next year, after the registrar has completed his statistical work, the effect which these preparatory courses have on the grade of work done by the incoming freshmen. It is sufficient to say that many of the unfortunates who left State College during the past two terms would have given a great deal to have been able to take the preparatory work here last summer.

FOR BETTER SERVICE

Each week complaints come in to the newspaper office because some item did not appear in the paper the week before. In the majority of cases this omission was caused by the fact that the news did not reach us in time for printing it in the paper. With the size of the staff working on THE TECHNICIAN, it is almost sure that from time to time something will be omitted.

The more complete coverage of all news items would be greatly expedited by the cooperation of various campus organizations in making sure that their meetings, elections, banquets, and other transactions are turned in to the newspaper office as soon after they happen as possible.

In this way the newspaper staff can give a more complete coverage of campus news than has heretofore been possible. This is what the readers wish and what the staff wishes. With a bit of cooperation it can be effected.

NOT WHAT THEY USED TO BE

"Politics at State are surely not what they used to be!" said a State graduate of not so long ago in speaking of the recent elections. "Why, when I was here at school, politics was as much of a sport as football. The candidates made charges against their opponents, distributed literature, and ran their campaign on a large scale."

We think perhaps many of the undesirable elements in campus politics died down with the elimination of much of the mud-slinging which went on in former days. And yet, we wonder if the pendulum has not gone too far towards the other extreme. Using the final elections of last Tuesday as an example, we find that a great many of the students were unacquainted with the men who were running for some of the offices, and that in many of the cases, their vote on the ballots went in the square their pencil happened to land in, or they merely flipped a coin to decide the issue.

There is much that is undesirable in this haphazard method of voting. Of course in a school as large as State has grown to be, it is practically impossible for each student to know personally all the candidates for office. At the same time, some time should be set aside by the college authorities for the candidates to state their views, air their opinions, and let the student body know what they look like.

This plan should not be at all hard to bring about. Of course Pullen Hall is too small to hold a gathering of the entire student body. But with the general campus elections coming in the spring, it should be easy enough to call a student body meeting in Riddick Stadium for the sole purpose of acquainting the students with the candidates for office.

A certain amount of color in politics is to be expected and to be desired. Our definition of a colorful candidate is not one who spends all his time in talking about what a poor specimen his opponent is, but one who attracts the students by his personality and policies. It would certainly be detrimental to return to the old days of mud-slinging, but it would certainly be better to acquaint the student body with the men running for office.

A LOSS TO STATE

State College students will lose a valued instructor and a personal friend when Colonel Bruce Magruder, professor of military science and tactics, leaves at the close of school in June after having held that position for the past five years. The college will lose a man who has always had its interests at heart, and Magruder's position will certainly be hard to fill.

Probably one of the strongest indications of the popularity of Colonel Magruder and of the way he has handled the affairs of the college's military department is the fact that there exists on this campus no strong anti-ROTC movement such as exists at many other land grant colleges. And even those who oppose compulsory military training at the college are unanimous in their approval of Magruder.

Another indication of the popularity of Colonel Magruder was his election during the past year to the head of the Faculty Club, thus putting the stamp of approval of another group upon him.

Colonel Charles W. Weeks, who has been ordered transferred here by the War Department from Fort Benning, Georgia, will have a hard time filling the place of the popular commandant.

To list just a few questions, the answer to which every State College student knows or should know: What faculty member was most interested in the project of getting two live wolves as mascots for the college? Who instituted mass cheering by the ROTC regiment at college football games? Who was responsible for the establishment of the Armistice Day services at the base of the Memorial Tower? What man did not use his position as one of stern authority, but handled his authority in such a manner that students felt they could approach him at all times with the surety of getting a friendly hearing? The answers to all of these questions are just more reasons why State College will hate to lose Colonel Bruce Magruder.

Although he has not yet received his transfer orders, State College wishes him the best of luck in his new assignment wherever it may happen to be.

TEXTILE STYLE SHOW

Yesterday's ninth annual Style Show and seventeenth annual Student Textile Exposition was a credit to the college and to the textile students. The Style Show, originated in 1928 by Dean Thomas Nelson, head of the Textile School, has definitely carried out its purpose, that of stimulating interest in cotton products and demonstrating the beauty and utility of garments made of cotton or rayon fabrics.

The cooperative work of the State Textile School and the home economics departments of the eleven North Carolina women's colleges who took part in the show does a great deal towards keeping the state's chief industry before the eyes of the people, and both the industry and the school taking part have profited thereby.

It has been just such cooperative work that has given the textile industry its prominent place in the economic history of the state. The visitors who entered the Textile Building were enabled to see all the operations of a modern textile plant. Students explained the details of the machines they were running to the visitors and gave them a better knowledge of the processes involved.

Thus State College played its part in giving the people of the state a concrete illustration of the workings of its principle industry, and in bringing into closer contact the producer and consumer of textile goods.

HERE and THERE

By DICK MACKENZIE

What could a fellow mean when he says that he just "piddled around"? I don't know the answer, but some of those that were on the press convention said that they "piddled around" and how they showed it.

Clarence Gale left the St. Mary's Junior-Senior with a little note across his tux shirt which read, "Call Mabel 651-J." Have you forgotten, Clarence?

I am informed that Professor "Sleepy" Meacham occupied a fourth row seat at the vaudeville presented at the Capital. Well, why miss anything after you have paid for it.

A new industry is invading the campus. Jake Marsh has gone in for repairing compact cars for the fairer sex.

Thursday afternoon most of the boys around here donned their best in honor of the numerous girls that invaded our fair campus. Maybe the textile school should give an exposition about once a week.

Andy Gray received an invitation from E. C. T. C. to the Junior-Senior dance and has been taking dancing lessons every day since.

The Scabbard and Blade Initiation reached a peak Thursday night when three of their pledges stood up and rendered a song. A little color was added to their song by their blushing faces.

When Company "A" became somewhat bemuddled while drilling Wednesday, the officer had only one command that would work and he gave it, "Fall out and fall in like you should be!"

"Lefty" Freeman pushed eagerly forward to buy razor blades and receive a watch as a prize. Hurriedly he offered the salesman his quarter, received the goods and then his face lengthened . . . the watch was a dummy.

Hal Morrison was somewhat irritated when he heard that his home town paper printed the news that he was editor of the Wataugan. That error would have made anybody mad.

The February issue of the Duke Alumni News contains a picture of "Red" Lewis, ex-professor of our institution. "Red" is now in Turkey in charge of athletics, and is taking up the science of skiing. Maybe the track was a bit too slow for him.

James Clinton Frink would like to inform his numerous friends that his name is not Jessie. Someone happened to call him J. C. rather rapidly and since then his name has been Jessie. He prefers the name Clinton.

When Lucky Strike went into radio advertising, they went in big. They now send out on the ether waves "Your Hit Parade" twice a week. Carl Hoff on Saturday night, and Al Goodman on Wednesday night. Two full hours that cost more than you may realize. Let's analyze the cost. To begin with, an hour costs $200 a minute—$12,000! Singers, quartets, will run into $8,000; extras, $4,000. A total of $24,000 for one hour! And they have two hours a week now. In one year, this will amount to something like $2,500,000. And now, from the CBS comes an announcement to the effect that on May 2, they will add still another hour. Freddie Rich, dean of CBS maestros, and his popular orchestra will furnish the tempo for the "hits." He began by playing the piano in N. Y. super clubs and then formed his own orchestra and went on tour. He gained nationwide popularity and took it on a European tour. The crowning triumph of this tour was a command performance for the King and Queen of England. Listen in for the first of this new program, May 2, from 10:00 to 11:00 p. m., eastern daylight saving time.

Off The Cuff: It is not generally known that frog-voiced Foley McClinck noted for his rasping renditions of novelty choruses with Fred Waring's boys, has a fine first tenor voice. Foley switches to the opposite range and sings tenor in the serious glee club numbers. He's also singing a soft contralto mezzo voice these days to his young son, Junior, born April 4. . . . Phil Baker calls the accordion he wears strapped around his neck a "pleate vest."

...but the squirrels were disgusted

TELEPHONE engineers had to find a way to stop gray squirrels gnawing holes in the lead sheath of telephone cables. Even a tiny hole may let in moisture—short circuit the wires—and put a number of telephones out of service temporarily.

Many ideas were tried, but the squirrels gnawed on. Finally the cables were painted with black asphaltum and sprinkled with sand. The gnawing stopped.

Not a major engineering problem, to be sure. But thousands of strange little problems, too, have been solved to assure you the world's most reliable telephone service.

Techs Meet Devils There Today; Sabol Wins Alumni Award

State Varsity Meets Duke In Durham This Afternoon

Doakmen Seek Revenge for Two Defeats in Previous Games at Hands of Blue Devils

CONTEST WAS SCHEDULED FOR EARLIER PLAY OFF

Game Scheduled to Be Played on Wednesday But Was Postponed Until This Afternoon

Seeking revenge for the two defeats handed them by the Blue Devils earlier in the season, the State College varsity baseball team will meet the Duke University team at 3:00 in Durham today. The game was scheduled to be played on Wednesday but was postponed because of bad weather.

Duke Won First Two
The Techs met the Blue Devils in their first Big Five game of the season and were defeated by a score of 2-0. State lost the second game with Duke on April 15, on the Doakmen's home diamond, scoring only three points to their opponents' 14. The second contest was a real ball game for the first five innings at the end of which the score was 2-2, but from the fifth frame on State's defense blew up and the visitors went on a batting spree which netted them 12 points.

Duke's baseball squad has a perfect record up to the present time, having won all their scheduled games. The Blue Devils have been aided in their victories by consistently fine pitching on the part of Claude Caskey, Dave Smith, Pete Naktans, and George Barley. These men will give the State slugs plenty of trouble in today's contest.

Flythe or Davidson to Start
According to Coach Charlie Doak, either Stuart Flythe or Jerry Davidson will have a part in the pitching activities this afternoon. Some of the probable starters are Williams, Scates, Gadd, Berinsky, Dalrymple, Buggs, Farrar, Rabb, and Mahoney.

A crowd is expected to attend the contest as the rivalry between the two teams is always great and because a contest between the two schools usually furnishes plenty of excitement. The Blue Devils are favored to win today's game as they are undefeated this season and have defeated the Techs in their two previous engagements. The Doakmen showed that they could play good baseball when they defeated Carolina here Saturday and if they play the same brand of baseball that they exhibited in this game the Techs will get their revenge.

STATE DEFEATS CAROLINA TEAM

Techs Win From Tar Heels by Score of 3-1 in Hard Fought Battle Here Saturday

Behind the airtight pitching of Stuart Flythe, ace of Coach Chick Doak's mound staff, the State College nine defeated Carolina, 3-1, here Saturday. Flythe allowed the Tar Heels only five hits, and these were scattered over as many innings. He fanned eleven batsmen. Three of the Carolina hits came after two men were out. The other two, coming after one man was retired, were nipped by snappy double plays started by Walter Rabb, State shortstop. Johnny Humphries, hurling for Coach Bunn Hearn's men, gave only four hits. He hurled hitless ball after the third inning. State connected for two hits in the first frame and two in the third. These hits mixed with Humphries' wildness produced their three runs.

State scored in the first inning. Captain D. C. Williams drew a walk to open the stanza. He stole second base and scored on Charlie Gadd's single. Mason Bugg singled to right field, but Gadd was cut off at third base by a beautiful throw by Buck McCarn, Carolina right fielder.

Jimmy Barb opened the third frame with a single into center field. He went to second on a passed ball and scored on Gadd's second single of the day. Williams flied out, but Drewick was hit by pitcher Humphries, advanced to third on Gadd's hit and scored on a wild pitch. Gadd again was picked off third base, this time by a snappy throw from catcher Strayhorn.

Carolina broke into the scoring column in the eighth inning. After one man was out, Strayhorn gained life at first base when Barb dropped his high infield fly. He went to third on McCarn's single and scored as the ball got away from Williams in left field. Rabb ended this rally with an unassisted double play. He made a beautiful catch of a line drive over second base off Shapiro's bat.

Coach Hearn sent in five pinch hitters in the ninth inning, and they proceeded to fill the bases with one out. Burnette and Austin walked, and Yeager was hit by Flythe to fill the sacks. However, the State hurler settled down to whiff Webster and Bullard and the game ended with a long fly to deep center field that sent Charlie Gadd racing back to make a beautiful circus catch.

Winner of Alumni Trophy

TECHLETS BATTLE BABY DEACS HERE

Frosh Baseball Team Meets Wake Forest Today for Second Time This Season

State College's freshmen baseball team will meet the Baby Deacs of Wake Forest here this afternoon at 3:45.

The freshmen team has been rained out of several practices, but looked good yesterday afternoon against the second stringers.

Coach Warren will pitch either Steele or Harper with Santore or Huck doing the catching. Fred Steele, Derward Harper, and Allen Green have looked mighty good on the mound for the freshmen this year and should be of value to Coach "Chick" Doak next year.

Other starters for this afternoon's game will be McDonough (1b); Hall or Wicker (2b); Beverley (ss); Miller (3b); Lucey (1c); Haskell (cf); and Beam (rf).

On Monday afternoon the Techs will meet Raleigh High here and on Thursday will play the Blue Imps of Duke. The Duke team has two wins over the State frosh. Raleigh HI is undefeated this season.

SABOL WINS CUP GIVEN BY ALUMNI

Football Star Polls Majority of Votes in Election Held Monday to Win Coveted Trophy

Polling an overwhelming majority of votes, Steve Sabol, State College football star, came through in the elections held here Monday to win the Alumni Athletic Trophy for this year.

The trophy is an annual award made by the alumni and is given to the athlete who, in the opinion of the student body, is the most prominent on the campus.

Mac Berry was Sabol's only opponent as Stuart Flythe withdrew from the race. It is very unusual for a sophomore to run in the finals for the trophy and, as Berry is a sophomore, he received a great honor from the student body. Berry holds the center position on State's basketball team and was high score man in Southern Conference basketball for the past season. Berry also turned in a good performance at the end position of the 1935 Wolfpack.

Steve Sabol has held down the key position on State's football team for the past three years. The powerful center captured positions on two all-southern teams for the past season and received honorable mentions on several All-American lists. The first all-south, that of the NEA service, placed the State center on the first team while the United Press all-south selection placed Sabol at the pivot post of the second team. The two all-south teams were selected from both the Southern and Southeastern Conferences. Coaches and athletic directors played a large part in the choosing of the UP all-south.

The Alumni Trophy winner has a high scholastic standing and is a leader on the State College campus. He is a member of two honorary leadership fraternities, Blue Key and Golden Chain. The Alumni Trophy is the most coveted athletic award given by the college and the athlete who achieves it is indeed honored. The award was first made by the alumni of State College in 1931. Since that time, the winners of the award have been Mac Stout in 1931, Red Espey in 1932, Bud Rose in 1933, Bob McQuage in 1934, and Ray Rex in 1935.

PLAY IS RESUMED IN INTRAMURALS

Games Get Underway in Intramural Baseball After Long Delay by Bad Weather

After being delayed by the rainy weather and the many varsity contests, intramural baseball finally got under way this week.

Several teams took advantage of the ideal weather and played off some of their postponed and all of their scheduled games. There were four games played in the Fraternity League and three in the Dormitory Group.

The Alpha Gamma Rho's and the Delta Sig's played the closest game of the week, with the former team winning by a 13 to 12 score. Thorne, Horne, and Hube were outstanding for the winners, while Furr, Mauro, and Gomo led the Delta Sig's.

The A.K.P.'s walked over the K.A.'s, 22 to 3. Snook, Anderson, and Dozier were the stars for the former team, while Bell and Smith bore the brunt of the attack for the losers. Amudson, Norman, and Southerland led the P.K.A.'s to a 16 to 8 victory over the Pi Kappa Phi's. The Alpha Gamma Rho's played the only other fraternity game and they defeated the Lambda Chi's 10 to 7. 3rd 7th and 5th Dorm fought it out with the lads from 5th finally winning, 18 to 16. Osecki and Traller starred for 7th, while Waldin and Harris came through in the pinches for the victors.

Another close game was played between 1st 1911 and 2nd 1911. Smith and Vann led the ground floor boys to a 11 to 9 victory over their neighbors. First Watauga continued undefeated by taking a 25 to 5 victory over 6th Dorm. Musso, Estes, and Johnson smacked the ball for 1st Watauga and Bullock and Cofey played well for the losers.

Mr. Miller wants the Independent League's to play off their scheduled games, as he will be forced to stop the league unless more interest is shown.

TECH NETTERS DEFEATED BY HEELS AND WILDCATS

With one match called off because of darkness, the State College varsity tennis team was defeated 6-2 by the Davidson netters here Monday.

Dulin and Finley of State won the first set of the unfinished doubles match, 6-2, with Hornbeck and Carson of Davidson taking the second, 6-2.

Summary with States men first: Finley defeated Hornbeck, 8-6, 8-6; Nading defeated Frampton, 6-3, 6-4; Renn lost to Lewis, 6-4, 8-6; Brown lost to Kenney, 6-4, 6-3; Dulin lost to Bell, 6-4, 11-9; Smith lost to Carson, 6-1, 10-8; Brown and Renn lost to Lewis and Bell, 6-4, 6-3; and Crews and Nading lost to Frampton and Kenny, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Frosh Win and Lose
During the past week, N. C. State's freshmen baseball team chalked up victories over the Carolina Tar Babies and the Wake Forest Frosh and suffered a defeat at the hands of the Blue Imps of Duke.

Coach Warren's men went to Chapel Hill last Friday and defeated the Tar Babies 7-5. On the following Monday the team met the Baby Deacs here. Bob Warren's boys connected for 14 hits to score 11 runs and defeat the Wake Forest team 11-4. On the following day the team was defeated 11-5 by the Blue Imps there.

Stuart Flythe sure did get hot last Saturday afternoon. That was one beautiful pitching performance. But Flythe didn't stand alone in pitching. He had an opponent out there on the mound that was hurling almost as good a brand of ball as he was. That opponent was Johnny Humphries, sophomore ace of the Carolina mound corp. Flythe allowed the Tar Heels only five hits, no two of them in the same inning. Humphries allowed the Techs only four bingles, however they were bunched in the first and third frames.

Let's take a glimpse at that pitching performance Saturday. Flythe fanned eleven Tar Heels, while Humphries sent eight Techs back to the bench via the strikeout route. Seven Tar Heels got on base because of Flythe's wildness, five drew walks and two were hit by a pitched ball. Humphries walked three State batters and hit two. Mr. Humphries cut loose one wild pitch, that coming with men on base and letting in State's last run. A passed ball put the Techs in position for their second run, while a walk and a stolen base set the stage for the Tech's first score. A couple of errors and a hit let in the lone Tar Heel tally. The Heel's put on a threat in the ninth when Flythe went up in the air for a few moments.

So you folks who weren't there just take a look that preceding paragraph and you will see what I call a real pitcher's battle. Ten Carolina base runners were left stranded on the bases, while the Techs had only four left on. With the exception of a couple of walks and a hit batsman, Humphries hurled perfect ball during the last five innings. There wasn't a single extra base knock during the entire ball game.

Hunk Anderson is being considered by Villanova as head coach along with several others. Hunk was reported some time ago to be the next Southern Conference coach to go to "Greener Pastures." Will the Pennsylvania school be the "Greener Pastures?" Hunk says no—they're green as green can be at State.
