FRATERNITY MEN MAKE NEW RULES AT RECENT MEET

Bring About Radical Changes in Plan of Rushing and Pledging of Men

PRIVILEGES OF GREEKS RESTS ON SCHOLARSHIP

New Rulings Make Certain Scholastic Attainment Necessary Before Fraternities Can Give Social Functions; Rulings Based on Campus Average of Student Body Grades

Far-reaching changes in the fraternity set-up at State College were advocated by the Interfraternity Council as it adopted measures last Wednesday night to defer rushing, and to place the privileges allowed the Greeks on a scholastic basis.

The resolutions are subject to the approval of the Faculty Council which meets today to take up, among other things, the resolution adopted by the Interfraternity Council.

The group adopted, except for slight modifications, the resolutions submitted by two committees appointed by President Jack Dossbach during the first of this year.

Deferred Rushing

Probably the most talked about proposals dealt with delayed rushing as submitted by the committee composed of J. F. Curry, Jack Dossbach, and L. Webb.

The thirteen proposals submitted by this committee seek to defer fraternity rushing until the first week after the beginning of the winter term, with provisions that freshmen will not be permitted in fraternity houses except on Sundays during the fall term; no fraternity men will be able to entertain freshmen during the week days; and that a freshman must accept an invitation extended by fraternities for Sunday visiting, unless a legitimate excuse is tendered.

Scholarship Resolutions

The Scholarship committee, composed of C. E. Beger, R. T. Edmonson, and J. G. Gaw, submitted resolutions stating that a man must have a "C" average in order to remain a pledge to a fraternity; that house dances will not be permitted if the lodge is more than 2 points below the student body average; and participation in intramurals will be barred if the fraternity is more than one point below the student body average.

The resolutions also stated that the Interfraternity Council shall give prizes to the fraternities having the highest averages.

The first part of the recommendation pertaining to the "C" average will go into effect with opening of the college year 1937-38, and the other rules to become effective at the beginning of the term 1938-39.

Rushing Committee

The recommendations as approved by the Interfraternity Council Wednesday night in regards to rushing to become effective at the beginning of the college year 1938-39 are as follows:

1. Freshmen shall not be allowed in fraternity houses or on the premises during six week days; nor shall they be entertained by fraternity upperclassmen during the week days. (To be entertained shall be defined as spending money on freshmen or otherwise.)

2. Freshmen shall be allowed to visit the fraternity houses on Sundays, which shall be known as Fraternity Visiting Days, and they must accept all invitations extended for Sunday visiting. Failure to accept the invitation without a legitimate excuse shall prohibit a freshman from pledging to a fraternity for the remainder of the school year.

3. All fraternities must turn in to the secretary of the Interfraternity Council by closing hours Monday of each week after the Sunday visit a list of freshmen whom they invited, checking those who attended.

4. These Sunday entertainments shall be so regulated that a fraternity shall not have a social on two successive Sundays, but shall be so arranged that a fraternity shall have an equal number of Sundays.

Fraternity Men Barred

5. Fraternity men shall not be debarrred from the dormitories during the week days, but if a visit is made for friendly purposes, fraternity talk is barred.

6. Visiting days shall begin at 8 a.m. the first Sunday after the winter term registration and continue to 5:30 p.m. Monday. During these two days all freshmen receiving invitations from all fraternities extending such invitations.

7. At each fraternity house each freshman shall be required to fill out in triplicate his "Date Card." One copy is retained by the freshman, one retained by the chapter, and the third sent at once to the office of the secretary of the Interfraternity Council.

8. The rushing period shall begin at 6 p.m. Monday and continue to midnight Thursday and continue to Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

9. Silent period shall begin at midnight Thursday and continue to Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

10. All bids must be accepted between 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 a.m. on Sunday unless granted special permission by the secretary of the Interfraternity Council.

The committee recommends the following amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws, to become effective at the opening of the college year 1937-38:

Tower Nears Completion

Shown above is the Memorial Tower, a monument to the State students and faculty who gave their lives in the late World War. The tower, begun in 1920, is now nearing completion, the bell having already been hung. The tower lacks only the laying of a few cobbles to be complete, with the exception of the clock which will not be added until more funds are available.

Outstanding Men Selected As Freshmen Counselors

Prominent Upperclassmen Chosen to Supervise Freshmen Living in Dorms

SEVENTY-FIVE APPLIED FOR COVETED POSITIONS

Large Number of Students Made Application for Jobs That Begin Next Year

A complete list of the freshman counselors for the coming year of 1937-38 was announced yesterday by Professor W. N. Hicks, chairman of the faculty committee on freshman welfare.

The counselors will be upperclassmen and professors who will live in the freshman dormitories in the quadrangle. The chairman of the committee stated that it was difficult to select the counselors this year as there were over seventy-five applications for the jobs for which there were only twenty openings.

According to the present plans there are two counselors on each floor of the smaller freshman dormitories, and in the larger dormitories there are several on each floor.

Committee Picks 34

The faculty committee that has directed the State College freshman housing and guidance program since its inception three years ago is composed of Professors F. M. Hais, Lovick C. Hartley, W. N. Hicks, J. S. Meares, C. G. Mumford, and Romeo Lefort, assistant dean of students.

The upperclassmen who have been chosen to act as freshman counselors for the coming year are J. C. Aldrich, A. A. Gyers, J. W. Bartlett, John R. Barnette, Homer T. Boling, J. W. Brown, A. Damman, T. R. Frazier, J. C. Frink, W. W. Gaskins, F. J. Johnson, C. D. King, C. W. Kirkland, H. R. McSwain, J. P. Moorefield, W. W. Nickels, O. P. Owens, J. D. Patton, J. W. Poul, D. L. Ramsey, Chester Reed, F. P. Sabo, C. B. Shimer, H. G. Snipes, J. L. Sullivan, L. E. Thornton, Sam Whiteside, T. D. Williams, J. P. Woodward, J. A. Worrell, and M. M. York.

The other counselors consist of Professors W. L. Cleverger and C. B. Shulenberger, and Instructor W. P. Seagraves.

Soon Finals Will Be Here, But In Us Exams Put Fear

By JOHNNIE BING

Oh, Friday night, Friday night, wherefore art thou? Not this coming Friday night in particular, but the Friday night, June 4. Finals! Boy, oh boy! I'm for it, definitely.

Streamers, soft lights, sweet music, beautiful girls, a smooth floor, gaiety. That is really going to be a night of celebration. Exams will be over (by the skin of a hen's tooth), and, for many, a new life in store. So there's but one thing to do—enjoy life, and dance until you know you will whirl even after retiring for the night (what's left of it). Yeah, wise guy; dancing can make you whirl also!

Little Emie Mae and I are really going to trip the light fantastic that night, and so will you. Why shouldn't we? Exams are over! Emie Mae (how'd yuh like that name?) is shore gonna look right pert that night, and I'm gonna be proud of her, just as you are going to be proud of your girl. We might all act kinda crazy that night; after a week of "ritals by crowd" (mostly error in my case), you get as light-headed as a country boy dating Mae West (and is that light-headedness?) To be on the safe side, you better tell your little woman that it's an old State custom to "let yourself go" that night. I might not be able to go to myself (you know how it is), but don't let that stop you boys. I'll stand by with that look "please-give-me-that-bone"-dogs sometimes wear.

And when you "snakes" get tired of practicing that ancient and dourly honorable pastime, and have nothing else to do, go watch the orchestra. Eddie Parley will be down there that night. (Please turn to page two)

SCHOLARSHIP WON BY VIRGINIA BOY

High School Graduate Selected as Winner of Valued Tuition Scholarship

WASHINGTON DAILY NEWS SUBMITS SIX CANDIDATES Large Newspaper Left Final Choice of Winner to Discretion of Judges

Bruce C. Halsted of the Washington-Lee High School in Arlington, Va., has been announced the winner in the Washington Daily News' scholarship contest which annually offers high school students in the Southern States a free tuition scholarship for the college of their preference.

Six of the major colleges and universities in the South award the scholarships, and the Washington Daily News selects the men that are eligible for the coveted awards. The Greater University of North Carolina receives three scholarships each year, one for each of its three units.

Contest Here

The six high school graduates that were eligible for the scholarship given at this school arrived here last Friday and were entertained by a special committee during their stay, which lasted until Sunday morning. They were shown all points of interest on the campus, and visited many of the schools and departments.

No official work was done by the contestants on their arrival Friday, but on Saturday morning they went before the four judges, who made their decisions from previous high school records, papers submitted in semifinals and oral quizzes which were given on the campus, scholastic aptitude, and oral interviews.

Competing in the contest for the scholarship award were: Bruce C. Halsted, Arlington, Va.; Harold Gerson, Washington, D. C.; Calvin Martin, Sandy Spring, Md.; Courtney Overstreet, Washington, D. C.; Thomas Roby, Silver Spring, Md.; and Paul Smith, Washington, D. C.

These boys were interviewed by J. D. Clark for their writing ability, by K. C. Garrison, who gave tests and quizzes, by W. N. Hicks, who gave oral quizzes on essay contents, and by Registrar W. L. Mayer, who checked their high school records.

Winner Chosen

Following the interviews, the competing students roamed about the campus at their will while the judging committee met with Romeo Lefort, chairman, to decide the winner who was chosen on the recommendations of the committee members.

After the winner was made known, the contestants turned the rest of the day into one of enjoyment, roaming about the city and visiting points of interest, leaving early Sunday morning for their respective homes.

ADVANCED COURSE MEN LEAVE FOR ROTC CAMP

Bronson, Ruddock, Sener Attend Chemical Warfare Camp; Others Go to McClellan

One hundred and nine State College junior and senior ROTC officers will attend training camps this summer. It was announced by the military department yesterday.

J. G. Bronson, H. A. Ruddock, and Donald Sener will attend the Edgewood Arsenal chemical warfare camp in Maryland from June 8 to July 17. The others will be at Fort McClellan, Ga., an infantry camp, where the training period lasts from June 8 to July 17.

"C" Average

The registration office requests all students who think that they do not have a sufficient average for admission next September under the "C" average rule, and who would attend summer school to make up these points, come to the registration office and address an envelope to himself at the address when he will be during the week of June 8.

The office also will be glad to give students a statement concerning their total credits and points since September 1925. However, they stated that after June 1 the office will be busy putting grades and cannot assist students in this manner.

The registration office desires a list of the students who are planning to stay for summer school, and any student who is returning for summer school is requested to come by the office and leave his name, or drop his name in any of the college mail boxes, indicating that he plans to return.

SEAWELL SPEAKS TO CROWD AT GOLDEN CHAIN CEREMONY DURING TAPPING OF NEWMEN

FORTY FRESHMEN FOR HONOR ROLL

Committee on Freshmen Welfare Selects Men Living in Quadrangle for Honors

The forty most outstanding members of the class of 1940 living in the freshman quadrangle have been named for the quadrangle honor roll by the freshman counselors and the faculty committee on freshman welfare.

According to Professor W. N. Hicks, chairman of the committee, the basis of selection was for all-round ability and achievement, with special consideration being given to effective cooperation in protection of college property and in the promotion of dormitory social life. He also said that the fine enthusiasm manifested by the students living in the freshman quadrangle this year certainly justified certain much needed improvements in rooms, halls and bathrooms in order that physical surroundings may more appropriately match social achievements and inspire even greater fellowship and better scholarship.

Dormitory Activities

Among the significant dormitory activities sponsored by the freshman class this year were the decoration of the dormitories in the quadrangle for Homecoming Day, a lively intramural athletic program throughout the year, and "open house" night in the dormitories for the faculty.

The present freshman housing and character guidance program at State College was inaugurated by Dean J. W. Harrelson three years ago, and has been directed by the committee on freshman welfare, with Hicks as chairman.

New Program

Professor Hicks said that the work of the freshman housing and character guidance program will be enlarged next year to include a character rating on the part of new students, which rating will be made a part of the permanent record of new students. Destruction of college property, and general thoughtlessness, and indifference towards the rights and welfare of others will pull the student's character rating down, while any extreme behavior along the above lines will deprive the student of the privilege of living in the college dormitories.

IRC REORGANIZED HERE IN MEETING LAST NIGHT

R. V. McPhail Elected President of New Group at Meeting in Peele

The International Relations Club met at 7:30 last night in Peele Hall to reorganize and elected R. V. McPhail to head the group for the coming year. The club has been reorganized on this campus for the past few months but was at one time one of the most prominent organizations at State. Recent demands for the revival of the club have met with immediate results, and many interested students were present at the meeting held for the selection of officers for next year.

Officers elected last night were: R. V. McPhail, president; D. M. Pollock, Jr., vice president; W. A. Zachary, secretary; and J. V. Kirkman treasurer. These men will assume office at the beginning of next school year.

Long Waited For Pi-ne-tum Is Now A Thing Of Reality

On Monday the Pi-ne-tum, the annual journal of the department of forestry, made its annual appearance, showing the results of the untiring work of Charles Matthews and J. B. Heltzer who have served as editor and business manager respectively during the past year.

This year's issue is bound in an attractive green cover, with a portrait of a tall, stately, pine, superimposed upon the silhouette of a mountain in the background.

In the front of the book is the page of dedication, this year's publication being dedicated to George Watts Hill, whose initial grant began the land program of the forestry division. Following this is the photographs of part of the faculty of the forestry school, which includes Dr. J. V. Hoffman, Dr. W. D. Miller, Professor Len-

Last Chance

Over four hundred "Agromecks" await distribution from the college warehouse today to the students who have not received their copies during the past week, and the warehouse office will be open from two until six o'clock.

Business Manager Ashby said that this would be the last day the yearbook will be given out, and students who did not receive their copies will have today as their last chance. After distribution this afternoon, the "Agromeck" office will be officially closed for the year.

Bills still owing to the "Agromeck" must be paid before organizations or students belonging to organizations can get their copies, and the office in the publications building will be open this week to receive all payments.

FORESTRY CLASS COMPLETES TRIP

Ten Southern States Visited on Required One Month Annual Inspection Trip

Forestry seniors returned last Thursday, May 13, from an inspection trip that lasted for four weeks and took them into the vast forest regions, lumber camps, and lumber mills throughout ten southeastern states, being extensively entertained all along the route by the civic organizations in many of the towns they visited.

The party left Raleigh on the fourteenth of April and went to Savannah, Ga., where they were shown through one of the Plant Introduction Gardens of the Bureau of plant industry which is used for the purpose of testing new species of plants to determine their suitability for adoption into native flora.

Party Entertained

In Brunswick, Ga., the group was shown the interesting features of the Downing Company, the largest single naval stores unit in the country, and following their inspection of this company, they were the guests of the company at a banquet.

The manager of the Superior Pines Corp., William Ottemler, a graduate of State, took the seniors over the 208,000 acres of forest land he supervises, showing them the latest improvements in fire control equipment. Fire trails, roads, and cars equipped with radios were in use in the company to combat fire, the deadly enemy of the forest.

Logging Camps Visited

In a logging camp owned by the Southern Lumber Company, outside of Bogalusa, La., logging operations and lumber training were observed by the students, and an inspection of the experimental work carried on by that company, in cooperation with the state forestry department, was made.

A little lumber town in the Western North Carolina mountains, Waynesville, was the next stop for the inspection group, and they visited the large furniture factories there, following which they were entertained by the Junior Chamber of Commerce (Please turn to page two)

Impressive Ceremony Held on Lawn of Holladay Hall During Tapping Exercises of New Members

TWELVE JUNIORS PICKED TO RECEIVE MEMBERSHIP FOR OUTSTANDING WORK

Shimer, Pou, Ragsdale, Bronson, Dunnagan, Watts, Graham, Frink, Bragaw, Ramsey, Catlin, and Clark Chosen for Membership Because of Campus Activities

Golden Chain, campus senior leadership organization, last night tapped twelve rising seniors to membership in a very impressive ceremony held on the lawn east of Holladay Hall.

A. A. F. Seawell, Attorney General of the State of North Carolina, was the speaker for the occasion.

The twelve men were selected for qualities of leadership and all-round ability in all phases of campus life.

Ceremonial

The juniors gathered around an improvised sundial on the lawn east of Holladay Hall at 6:30. They were arranged into a large circle with the dial as its center. Shortly afterwards as the State College orchestra played, the old members of Golden Chain, dressed in white robes and red hoods, filed slowly out of Holladay Hall and sat down on the ground in a small circle within the waiting juniors.

After a prayer led by Dean E. L. Cloyd, A. R. Blackburn, retiring president of Golden Chain gave a brief history of the organization and told of its qualifications for membership.

Leadership

Col. J. W. Harrelson then introduced A. A. F. Seawell, Attorney General, who spoke on leadership. Seawell said that it was only appropriate on such an occasion to think for a while of the qualities demanded of a leader. He stated that the educational institutions of North Carolina are built on the type of leadership that Golden Chain honors. Seawell said the world today, the old traditions and ideas of government are being challenged and that youth is coming to the forefront.

After the tapping ceremony on the lawn, the new members retired to the dean of students' office and elected Claude Clark president for the coming year. The other officers elected are: C. B. Shimer, vice president; Chas. Bragaw, secretary; and Rodney Graham, treasurer.

Romeo Lefort, former member of Golden Chain, officiated in the tapping ceremony in the place of F. C. Gore who was not present.

New Members

The members of next year's Senior Class who were tapped at the ceremony last night, and their qualifications for membership are: Claude E. Clark, secretary-treasurer of Sophomore Class, vice president Junior Class, 30 and 3, Scabbard and Blade; J. T. Catlin, III, 30 and 3, Scabbard and Blade, associate editor of Agromeck, editor of Agromeck; David L. Ramsey, student government, 30 and 3, secretary-treasurer Junior Class, Blue Key, Scabbard and Blade, vice president Student Council, vice president Blue Key;

Churchill Bragaw, business manager Pi-ne-tum, editor of Agriculturalist, Alpha Zeta, Life Saving Corps, vice president Ag Fair; Rodney Graham, assistant manager Agromeck, Blue Key, 30 and 3, business manager Agromeck; J. C. Frink, president of Sophomore Class, secretary of Student Council, Alpha Zeta, Blue Key, president of Student Government; N. B. Watts, forestry club, Red Masquers, YMCA council, new student committee, Blue Key, vice president of YMCA, secretary of N. C. YM-YWCA State Council, secretary and treasurer of Blue Key.

Other Men

UP AND AT 'EM!

Tomorrow, the Freshman and Sophomore classes will meet on Riddick field to settle who is the mightier. The contest this year will be very much tamer than similar rushes of five years ago. Though the Freshman-Sophomore Rush is a tradition at State College, only last year was the "melee" arranged so that it could properly be called a "game." Many and wonderful are the tales that are told in "bull sessions" of the annual encounters of a few years back, and of the damage done to both sides—when, so the narrator says, "Men were Men." However, just as freshman hazing, and freshman caps have gone into the limbo of forgotten things, so the blood and gore of the traditional State rush have been done away with and in their place rules and regulations have been made which keep the class competition within the range of the term "game" rather than a fistie encounter. Tomorrow will see evenly matched sides of 50 selected boys opposing each other at the ends of Riddick field. Judges and umpires will be evenly placed to see that the simple, but effective, rules are enforced.

The game will be as much a trial of skill as of force, and when the contest is over and either side has won, there will not be the bodily reminders that were so frequent in past years. Each side will have an equal chance to win—contrary to the situation which existed here prior to last year when the Freshman Class generally won because it could mass more men behind the ball. Last year for the first time, a committee composed of members of both classes under the direction of Romeo Lefort, drew up rules and regulations for the contest.

These rules proved very successful, and everyone agreed that it was not necessary to adhere to the rough and tumble melee in order to have a good time—in fact quite the contrary. This year these rules have been reworked slightly. The number of men in play at one time has been cut in half to facilitate better cooperation between the members of the teams.

Remember, "Play the game, fight like men. . . ." We are in favor of retaining the harmless competition between the classes. Won't you cooperate?

EXIT THE CO-EDS!

We were reminded of a fast-fading feature of our campus life last week when we could not obtain a story of the co-ed elections for Woman's Student Government officers for the coming year. Why? Because no election will be held by that organization. According to the report that we have received, there will be only two women who are attending State College at the present time back next year. The retiring officers of the Woman's Student Government deemed that two would be too few to elect governing officers.

And so the co-eds have gone. Under the consolidation of the Greater University, women are not permitted to register at State and Carolina until they have completed sufficient work at other schools to rate them as sophomores when they enroll.

Under consolidation, the School of Education has been dissolved at State. Most of the co-eds who have registered at this institution have registered in that school.

And so it looks like State will be more "woman-less" than ever with the beginning of next year. . . .

RUSHING RENOVATION

Last Wednesday night, the Interfraternity Council approved the recommendations on deferred rushing of freshman pledges as suggested by the committee appointed by President Jack Dossenbach.

The resolutions provide that the measures shall go into effect at the beginning of the fall of 1938-39, and in brief provide for visitations of freshmen to fraternity houses on Sundays, and Sundays only, during the fall term; the rushing period to take place the seven days following the first Sunday in the winter term.

To us, it seems that the entire foundation of the plan lies around the willingness of the individual fraternities to stick to the rules which they have helped adopt. Notably there are many loopholes in the recommendations which have been passed by the council. Its instigators would be the first to admit that, yet we think that it is a step in the right direction.

We are inclined to think that there are many days of unremitting toil in prospect for the secretary of the Interfraternity Council, and his annual helpers, before the question of how fraternities should rush becomes a decided measure at State College.

Still, in spite of their imperfections, we believe that the delayed rushing rules will go far toward alleviating the many ills now common to the fraternity rushing situation at State.

We wish to emphasize the fact that the plan, if it is to succeed, will demand the cooperation of every fraternity man. We suggest that the plan be given a fair trial, and as quickly as possible changes be made to iron out the wrinkles and make the regulations more workable.

THE TECHNICIAN believes that Romeo Lefort, President Dossenbach, and the committees who have worked out these resolutions, should be commended for their work, which is a start in the right direction.

We think that the scholarship requirements adopted by the council at the same time will be of lasting benefit to the fraternity students at State College, and through them to the entire student body.

CONGRATULATIONS, MEN!

Yesterday afternoon just at twilight, Golden Chain, campus senior leadership society, tapped twelve new men into membership. Golden Chain has one of the most impressive tapping ceremonies that we have ever seen. There is a certain thrill that comes to the onlooker when he sees the white-robed, red-hooded retiring members of the group pace slowly into the center of the juniors gathered around the decorated sundial, and then the thrill when the first, the second . . . the twelfth man is selected. And how much more that thrill when one is among the chosen few. . . .

THE TECHNICIAN rises to congratulate each and everyone of the new members: Clark, Catlin, Ramsey, Bragaw, Graham, Frink, Watts, Dunnagan, Bronson, Ragsdale, Pou, and Shimer. You have attained prominence among your fellow students as leaders; you will wield more influence on the State College campus than any other student group, because you are all leaders.

If you are to be the true type of leader who will be a benefit to State College, you must take cognizance of the influence you wield, and think well before you act.

Remember, the old saying, though compounded years ago, is just as real today, "A chain is just as strong as its weakest link."

We wish to congratulate you old members as you turn over your link in the chain to a junior, and prepare to step out into the world of business and industry for which you have been preparing these many years. You have made an enviable record during your four years here, and during your year of membership in Golden Chain, that organization has done good work on the campus.

Congratulations, both!

THE EXTENSION DIVISION

The Extension Division of State College, though an integral part of the College, is little known to the majority of the resident student body.

According to figures recently released by Director E. W. Ruggles, there are 2,344 students now enrolled through the Extension Division. These students number more than the present student body carrying regular courses here. Out of this number, 849 are studying through correspondence courses, while the remaining 1,495 meet regularly at some designated point of study under a professor furnished by the College.

During the past few weeks, there has been a great deal of evidence of the other work that the Extension Division is doing, both entirely, and in conjunction with other groups: there are at present 22 students here in a short course in air conditioning and ventilating conducted by the division; only lately the master plumbers of the State have met here for their annual convention and a coal conference has been held under the supervision of the State College Extension.

We believe that the Extension Division under the impetus of its present director, E. W. Ruggles, is doing some splendid work for the citizenry of the State.

The conferences which are held under the direction of the Extension department are helping to bring the people of the State more closely in contact with State College, and are enlarging the sphere of influence that this institution wields among the people of North Carolina.

We wish to compliment Mr. Ruggles personally for the fine work that he is doing, and through him, his personnel for their able assistance.

HERE and THERE

By DICK MACKENZIE

With the reign of spring and the aid of ones who wish to remain unknown, I present the following poem. Little did Alexander Pope realize that his poem the "Rape of the Lock" would be revised to apply to modern fair damsels. My apologies to Pope, and so . . .

An Ode to the "Raleigh Pinks"
What nonsense of puppy love springs. And contests arise from trivial things! We apply this to the "Raleigh Pinks." It is their due:

This will do for Sally High to view. Some are too conscious of their face. In this predestined life for one to embrace.

What guards the purity of these maidens in courtly balls and masquerades. When kind occasion prompts desires. When music softens, and dancing fires? We smell their "strings" and pride. Our offers seized but love's denied!

"Tis these that taints their souls; And starts eyes of Pinks to roll; Teaches pink cheeks a blush to know, And simple hearts to flutter at a beau. Show in her cheeks roses of eighteen. Their affection with sickly mien, Practices to lip and head aside, Feigns airs, and surveys with pride, Wrapped in gown for a sickening show. Our heads remain bowed in greatest woe.

After the dance we take off in flight To the Pink Boot to be admired by all in sight. Then start for home in a race. And she slams the door in our face. This discloses all I think, Beware of all, Yes all "Raleigh Pinks."

THE TECHNICIAN believes that Romeo Lefort, President Dossenbach, and the committees who have worked out these resolutions, should be commended for their work, which is a start in the right direction.

We think that the scholarship requirements adopted by the council at the same time will be of lasting benefit to the fraternity students at State College, and through them to the entire student body.

AS WE SEE IT

By JOHNNIE BING

Ten years ago the cockpit of a young man alighted in the company of a silver monoplane, shut and locked the door, called a cheery "so long" from the open window, asked an overworked mechanic to pull the chocks from under the wheels, roared down a muddy runway, and disappeared into the fog and mists that hung over Long Island. "Way out in Detroit, a gray-haired mother calmly went about her business of teaching a class of high school boys and girls. Never a flicker of facial expression to betray her innermost thoughts. Some thirty-three hours later, that same plane soared to a landing on a rain-soaked field outside Paris, and with the amazing introduction "My name is Charles Lindbergh," a youth became famous. Lindbergh did more than bring fame to himself. He renewed a faith in youth, a faith that our elders had thought waning. That calm young man brought fame and fortune to himself, yet he was the same "Slim" who had flown the mail from Chicago to St. Louis. I often wonder if today Lindbergh doesn't wish he had never seen the Atlantic from the controls of a frail airplane. Ironical fate thought that fame and fortune weren't enough; misery had also to be his.

Today, the world's number one flying "ace" is a voluntary exile, living in a foreign land, shut off from all the heart-warming contacts of his fellow men. Lindbergh was literally run out of the United States. It certainly wasn't his fault; to be truthful, the blame must be laid to you and I. We caused him to become an exile. We couldn't be content to let matters rest; we had to morbidly delve into his own private affairs and make his life about as private as a goldfish in a glass bowl at Times Square. I wouldn't hesitate to say that we Americans disrupt more happy lives than any other race of people on earth. We blasted the British Prime Minister for muddling around in the love affair of Edward, yet we are just as guilty in principle. If Edward had been over here, I really pity the lot that would have befallen him. We are hypocrites, pure and simple. We publicly disavow the very practices we are guilty of in private.

We wish Lindbergh all the best of luck; we wish he would come home. We claim that our efforts to make his life bearable would be gladly given. Yet if he did return, we would forever be bringing before him the painful memory of that dark blot in his life, a blot that will never be removed. And it's the same with any man who rises to fame, largely by the pull of his own bootstraps. I only hope that some day, we, as a nation of people, will realize our past mistakes, and try to remedy them in the future. After all, a man is a man, regardless of genius or station in life.

Summer Reading

State College men will be able to read to their heart's content this summer, according to information received from W. P. Kellam, Librarian here, who announced yesterday that the library staff will mail books to all students desiring this service during the summer vacation.

All that a student has to do in order to secure this service is to make out a list of the books he wishes to read, on a form which may be secured from the library. Books may be kept for two weeks with the privilege of renewal if necessary.

And it's all free, states Librarian Kellam, the only charge being the return postage on the books.

Forestry Class Completes Trip

(Continued from page one) at a supper at the country club. Norris Dam, a portion of the Tennessee Valley Authority program, was visited by the students after leaving Waynesville, and an inspection of the methods used by the State of Tennessee in forestry and erosion control was made.

The party then went into West Virginia where they were shown points of interest by a State College graduate of '31, now a state forester, and after leaving that state, the group made their way back into North Carolina to visit the furniture factories in Hickory and Statesville.

Winding up their four-week inspection trip with their visit to Hickory, the students returned to the campus Thursday. The inspection trips are a required part of the senior forestry student's work that must be completed before graduation. Every year, the forestry students take a trip throughout the Southern States, visiting all mills, logging camps, and factories in that territory.

"Pi-ne-tum" Now Reality

This year's production dwelt at great length on subjects of interest in the field of forestry, and thus is much larger than the publication of last year. Throughout there are more snapshots than the previous issue contained, most of which were taken during the inspections.

This issue of the Pi-ne-tum represents the untiring efforts of the members of the staff, and this year their job has been fulfilled to a great degree of perfection. Inside the covers the reader can find the complete activities of the forestry division of the school of agriculture, and at the same time enjoy the interesting, educational, and sometimes amusing material that is found within its pages.

Senior Invitations

The senior invitations are now ready for distribution in the purchasing office, according to an announcement yesterday from the registration office. Director Mayer said the college also had a limited number of additional invitations for students that desire extra ones. He also stated that it would not be necessary for the students to pay the commencement fee before securing these invitations, and seniors are therefore requested to secure them immediately.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY NEXT YEAR'S SOPHS

C. P. Harris of Elizabeth City was elected president of next year's Sophomore Class in the freshman balloting in Pullen Hall last Thursday, with R. C. Stuckey, of Charlotte, elected as vice-president, and A. E. Withrow, of Charleston, W. Va., secretary-treasurer.

The balloting in all of the elections was close, the tightest race being that for secretary-treasurer. Withrow edged out D. Y. Buckingham by a scant twenty votes, 207 to 187. Harris defeated E. Koella, Jr., in the presidential election by a vote of 251 to 148, while Stuckey polled the biggest majority, receiving 288 votes to 140 for his opponent, B. A. Heidebach, Jr.

The field was narrowed down to the six above-named men in the primaries on May 6, each school originally having entered one man for each position.

All of the new officers are popular campus figures. Harris, besides his regular college duties, is a basketball and baseball star, and Stuckey and Withrow also take part in numerous extra-curricular activities. The men all promised to do their best for the interest of the class, and asked for the support of each man in the class.

FRATERNITY ELECTS MEN TO GOVERN ORGANIZATION

Newly Elected Heads of Alpha Zeta to be Officially Installed at Banquet

The local chapter of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity, elected new officers for the coming year at a recent meeting held in the chapter room in Polk Hall.

The newly elected officers are: L. N. Hall, chancellor; Joe Pou, censor; L. E. Thornton, scribe; G. C. Alexander, chronicler; and H. L. Brake, treasurer. The new officers immediately took over their offices, but will not be officially installed until the annual banquet which will be held on May 22 at the Carolina Hotel.

Alpha Zeta was founded to foster the advancement and betterment of the agricultural schools. Membership is limited to men whose scholastic average places them in the upper two-fifths of their classes.

The local chapter has always been very active, and out of all of the southeastern chapters, the State chapter is the only one that has ever had a member of the High Council. At the bi-annual convocation which was held in Chicago in December, D. S. Weaver, faculty adviser of the local chapter, was chosen as one of the five members for this council.

Techs Meet Deacons Tomorrow There; Warrenites Win Title

Doakmen To Meet Baptists In Final Clash Of Season

State Varsity to Attempt to Wind Up Season With Break in Long Losing Streak

The State College baseball nine will meet Wake Forest's Demon Deacons today at Wake Forest in their final game of the season.

Limping down the home stretch with five losses in the last five games played, the Doakmen are but a shadow of their original team. One after another, the mainstays on the team have been dropped through ineffectual rulings; first it was Blount and Rabb and this week found Gadd, Norwood, and Sandfoss dropped from the team.

According to Coach Doak, the game with the Deacons should be a good one regardless. The tilt played here last Tuesday demonstrated the strength of the substitutes now filling the vacant shoes and excepting for the erratic play of Johnnie Miller at third, the team should be given much credit.

The Doakmen closed up a 4-0 Wake Forest lead and at the start of the eighth the score stood 7-5. The Techs should give a better demonstration today, with Neil Dalrymple back in his regular berth at third. Dalrymple was called off Tuesday on an interview.

Game Important to Deacs

The game is not of much importance to the Techs who seem destined to remain in fourth place in Big Five standings, but a win would come in mighty nice as a closing gesture by the team for their coach, Chic Doak. The tilt is a mighty important one for the Deacons, however, as they are mighty near the Duke Blue Devils and still have a chance to tie them or beat them out for the top rung of the league.

New Men Look Good

The new men gave real indications of talent in the Wake Forest fracas, Tuesday. Hoyle, filling in for Sandfoss at second, came through with some nice stick work and a couple of fielding gems. He roared out in deep territory behind first in the third to nab a ball that was scheduled for a Texas leaguer. Later on, he made a perfect play at second on a Wake Forest base runner whose long lead off of first had practically insured him of a piffling sack. Berlin'sky's throw was low but Hoyle came up with the ball to get the runner as he slid in.

Wicker, who has appeared several times this season as a pinch hitter, was filling the big shoes left by Norwood in center field. He shone at bat and made some good catches. His pegs in from the field also were very accurate.

Several of the members of the squad will be making their last appearance in a State uniform. Among them are Tom Hines in right field, W. H. Cutchins at first base, Jimmy Barb at short stop and J. T. Richardson at catcher who graduate this spring.

SPORTS GLIMPSES

By CLARENCE GALE

And so I again give you Fred Dixon. It seems that last week's mixup was my fault, but Fred promised to turn in a column this week, and from its looks, it promises to be something different. Take it away, Fred.

Summer time is the time to fish, the time to fish is summer time, and if you do not believe that then you may not be congenial with Dean I. O. Schaub, Dr. A. J. Wilson, Dr. R. F. Poole, Dr. R. R. Sermon, Prof. H. Page Williams and a dozen or more notables to be found on the college campus.

State's faculty roll lists a number of men who are ardent followers of Isaac Walton and when they are not busy with their prescribed school activities they most likely will be found on some eastern water fishing for bass.

Dean Schaub is the deep sea fisherman of the college anglers. He likes nothing better than to go down to Oregon Inlet and there battle with channel bass. The Dean has many a big catch to show that he really knows the art of deep sea fishing.

I was talking to Prof. Williams on Monday night of this week. He had just returned from a successful fishing trip in the eastern part of the state. I believe he told me that he and his partner caught 18 bass, the combined weight of which was more than 60 pounds. Now that's good bass fishing, but Williams is a good fisherman and generally can be depended upon to come home with his share.

According to Dr. Sermon there is no such thing as fisherman's luck, especially in bass fishing. Doc has watched experienced and inexperienced fishermen in the same boat and he has seen the veteran pull fish out of holes where the tenderfoot only a second before had not been able to get even as much as a "rise."

Dr. Wilson says that just like in anything else it takes practice and patience to make a good bass fisherman. There will be days, he says, when you will not hook a single fish. There will be others when, after riding a hundred miles or more to your favorite stream, you will be unable to fish due to an unexpected rain storm. But, says Dr. Wilson, there are days when the fish strike and those are the days to be remembered.

Fishing is a great game and it appeals to all those who love to get out of doors. It is a sport that really affords a man the opportunity to "rough it." It brings to the surface his real sporting blood. The thrill of a strike and the excitement that comes with battling with the bass as he churns the water into a foam in a desperate effort to shake the plug from his mouth is something that makes a man glad that he is alive.

If you ever develop a bad case of spring fever, take a day off and spend it on some creek, river or lake. Fishing is the best cure for spring fever known to man.

YEARLINGS TIED FOR LEAGUE TOP

2-1 Win Over Wake Forest Here Puts Techlets on Big Five Top With Deaclets

The Duke Imps defeated Wake Forest Freshmen yesterday at Durham by a 4-3 count in a 13 inning battle. The victory by the Imps gave State's Techlets the State title, as the Wake Frosh and the Warrenites were tied up with records of 4 wins against 1 loss before the game.

Bob Warren's Techlet baseball team climbed into a tie with Wake Forest for the top of the Big Five frosh standings by taking the Deaclets, 2-1, in a 12-inning pitchers' battle here last Tuesday.

Both teams have won four and lost one in Big Five play, and the outcome of the Wake Forest-Duke game played in Durham yesterday afternoon, which had not been heard from at this writing, will decide whether the Deaclets move on to the top alone, or drop into second place behind the Warrenites.

It was the steady pitching of Vic Holshouser that gave the Techlets the edge in the contest with the Baby Deacs. Vic went the full route for State and was just as strong in the twelfth as he was in the first. Just three men faced him in the twelfth, an event that occurred in nine of the twelve innings, and he whiffed the last one in that inning.

Holshouser allowed just two hits and whiffed 13 men to turn in one of his best pitching performances of the year. Denning, Wake Forest hurler, allowed 11 hits, and also fanned 13. The Techlets started in business-like fashion and apparently were on their way in the first inning, but with three on, Marshall Washam struck out. A double by Tommy Kearns in this inning, and a single by him in the fifth were the only hits of the ball game until the seventh, when Holshouser and Charlie Fowles both singled, and Don Freeman, on base on a fielder's choice, scored for State.

Freeman's run tied the count, since Barnes had already counted for Wake Forest in the first of the seventh on a walk, an infield out, and two errors. The count stayed at 1-1 until the last of the twelfth, when Larry Smith singled, went to second on Fred Gardner's single, and came home with the winning run when Bill Barnette followed out.

Tommy Kearns hit a double and two singles in four trips to lead the Techlet hitting. Charlie Fowles had three singles for six trips to come next.

Bill Barnette's racing catches in center field shared fielding honors with two nifty double plays the Techlet infield pulled.

The tilt rang down the curtain on the season for the Techlets, unless a possibility of playing a rained-out game with Carolina becomes a certainty. The yearlings finished with eight wins and two losses.

The score:
Wake Forest 000 000 100 000-1 2 3
State .....000 000 100 001-2 11 2

'MURAL MUSINGS

By GEORGE BETHELL

As the spring term draws to a close the intramural sports reach a climax. In the dormitory softball league we find 1st 1911 fighting their way to victory. First 1911 has lost only one game, that being to 1st South, causing a tie-up in their bracket. Freeman and Peterson pitched for 1st 1911 South. Ford went all the way for 1st South. Both teams scored three runs each in the first inning. First 1911 then forged ahead in the second with a two-run lead, but 1st South tied the score again in the fourth frame and then took the lead with two in the fifth and one in the seventh to gain a total of nine runs to eight for 1st 1911.

In the play-off game, however, it was a different tale. Peterson pitched a 3-0 shutout victory against 1st South. He not only pitched a good game, he also helped win his own game with several hits. First 1911 scored two in the fourth and one in the sixth to win 3-0.

In the dormitory intramural tennis tournament 2d Watauga and 2d 1911 after winning three matches apiece found themselves facing each other in the finals. Previous to this final match the winner had to take three out of five sets to win, but because of the length of time it took to play off the matches it was decided to let the best two out of three sets decide the winner. Second Watauga won the first set easily by a score of 6-3, but 2d 1911 came back strong in the second set to overwhelm 2d Watauga, 6-1. Then with the score tied at one all 2d Watauga came through in the pinch to win the last set, 6-3, making them dormitory tennis champions and adding 130 points to their total toward the intramural cups.

The Pikas yesterday helped to break this tie-up in their bracket when they defeated the AGR's 13-2. Scales and Davis were the battery for the Pikas, while Thorn and Shimer went all the way for the AGR's. The first score came in the first inning when the AGR's made the first of their two runs.

The tragic inning of the game for the AGR's was the first of the third when the Pikas scored six runs. Upchurch, the first man up, hit a three bagger and came home on a single by Bailey. Reeves then singled to advance Bailey to second and they both scored on Pollock's triple. Scales, Pollock, and Smart scored three more runs to bring the total runs for the inning to six.

The AGR's chance to score in the last half of the third was lost when MacLaughlin fied out with two men on.

The other Pika scores came in the fifth and the sixth innings. Remmey hit a home run deep in centerfield with two men on to score three runs and Smart scored on Norman's single. Three other runs came in the sixth when Kale placed a nice hit over first that was good for three bases. Scales then scored from third on a long fly into left field. The AGR's other run came in the sixth when MacLaughlin scored on Sear's hit just inside third base that was good for three bags.

TECHS DROP TWO TO RIVAL TEAMS

Doakmen Unable to Stop Duke and Wake Forest in Hard Fought Games

STATE-DUKE

State College failed to register a single run at Durham, Saturday and were blanked by Duke, 3-0. Duke opened the game with one run in the first when Bergmann's single followed by three walks off of Connie Mac Berry, State pitcher, forced one home. The Techs caught the next three batters in quick succession, however, and the Blue Devils were retired. From this point the game rolled along with no scoring done until the Duke half of the sixth. A total of three hits by Tipton, Liana, and Cheek chalked up two more runs for the Blues and this ended the scoring for the day.

This was the first time that the Techs have been shut out this season. Berry, State pitcher, allowed only six hits as against seven for Watson of Duke, but Connie Mac's leniency in passing batters caused the Doakmen a great deal of woe.

STATE-WAKE FOREST

A crippled State College baseball team fell before the Wake Forest nine in a slugfest on Freshman Field at State on Wednesday, by the score of 16-5.

Mac Berry carried on for the Techs from the mound during the first three innings. Berry gave out five hits which netted four runs for the Deacons. Mr. Charlie replaced Berry with Allen Greene in the fourth, but the Deacs closed in on Greene for one run in the fourth and piled up five runs more in the eighth before he was relieved by Hart.

Second baseman Hoyle and center fielder Wicker of State, who were substituting for Sandfoss and Norwood, set a fine example in their performances at the plate. Wicker had three singles to his credit with Hoyle an Beam following right on his heels with a three bagger and a double, and a triple and a single respectively.

Warren led the Demon Deacons in hitting for the day showing a homer and three singles for a fine afternoon work.

PENLAND BOXES TONIGHT IN PROFESSIONAL DEBUT

State College Captain and Star 135 Pound Man to Meet Haney in Durham Tonight

Glenn Penland, State's boxing captain for the past year, will make his professional debut tonight at 8:15, in a match with Archie Haney to be held at the Durham ball park.

Penland will be one of three Big Five boxing stars of last winter to enter the ring. Ray Mateulewitz, Duke stellar 175 pounder will meet Red Lewis of Richmond, Virginia, in a 10 round bout and Captain Max Novitch of Carolina will meet Wesley Dean of Columbia, S. C., in a 5-round affair. The fights are being put on by Ab Warren, Duke boxing mentor.

Penland will be meeting a tartar in Archie Haney. Haney hails from Burlington and has been active in the professional ring for some time.

Glenn's college record shows participation in 36 bouts and boasts 21 victories. Last winter he was an outstanding scrapper in the 135 pound division, winning five and losing one. He has gained 10 pounds since the close of the season but he claims to be in tip top shape. He will enter the ring weighing 148 pounds.

If he is successful in the professional field this summer, Glenn intends to go on with his fistie career.

THREE MEN LOST TO BASEBALLERS

Gadd, Norwood, and Sandfoss Declared Ineligible Under Conference Ruling

The State College baseball team suffered another blow this week when three members of the varsity were declared ineligible for the remainder of the baseball season.

The men involved by the charges were Charlie Gadd, junior and an outfielder, Uriah Norwood, senior and an outfielder and Sandy Sandfoss, sophomore and a second baseman.

The ineligibility of Sandfoss and Gadd may have further reaching effects on the destinies of State teams. Both of these men are star backs on the football eleven. At present there is a difference of opinion about the interpretation of the clause which states: "No college player is permitted to play on an athletic team other than that of his own college during the college year." Whether this ruling will keep the men out of football next fall, or just keep them out of baseball for the remainder of the spring, is an uncertainty. The final decision on the affair will rest entirely in the hands of a Southern Conference Executive Committee whose job is to pass judgment on all such problems that arise.

TRADITIONAL RUSH SLATED SATURDAY

Annual Conflict Between Freshmen and Sophomores to be Staged on Riddick Field

The traditional annual freshman-sophomore push ball contest will begin on Riddick Field tomorrow at two o'clock, when fifty men from each class will clash in an effort to score a victory for their classmates.

These contests have become a traditional way for the underclass struggles to be decided, and so during the last year a rubber ball was substituted for the heavy canvas ball that was used previously. The ball was obtained from the Firestone Rubber Company, and is six feet in diameter, weighing seventy-five pounds when inflated.

Contestants Limited

The number of men on each side has been limited to fifty, but substitutions may be made at the end of each quarter. This year the rush will include the entire football field, and the freshman goal will be on the east end, the sophomore goal on the west end. The ball will be held up by ten men from each side, and at the sound of the whistle, one hundred men will rush together to push the big rubber ball toward their opponents' goal.

Judges Named

The judges for the contest this year will be Johnnie Miller, head judge, Doc Newton, Doc Sermon, Charlie Doak, Bob Warren, Herman Hickman, "Bull" Regdon, and Mac Cara.

The committee from the classes that decided upon the rules and who have been in charge of the arrangements are: Freshman committee, J. N. Strawbridge, A. E. Withrow, and P. J. Losier; sophomore committee, Paul Hoover, Ed Coora, and Dick Thompson.

Notice To Seniors

W. L. Mayer, director of registration, made the following announcement concerning seniors yesterday:

"All seniors who are planning to graduate in the June commencement are exempt from the final examinations in all courses in which they have averaged 'B' or better."

"Cards are being distributed to advisers for seniors to fill out and leave with their respective teachers. Each senior who is a candidate for a degree in the June commencement should fill out one card for each course for which he is registered and leave the cards with the respective teachers."

"By the expression 'each senior who is a candidate for a degree in the June commencement' we mean every senior who is carrying sufficient credit points to graduate if he passes with sufficiently high grades to make the needed points. Any student making use of these cards, who is not a candidate for a degree in June, will be considered as absent from the examination. A student who is absent from an examination without an excuse will receive an 'F' on the course."

Fraternity Men Make New Rules

1. Bids shall be sent to students at any time by the secretary of the Interfraternity Council upon approval of the president of the fraternity extending the bid and the secretary of the Council.

2. Broken pledges and suspensions shall be reported to the secretary of the council at any time.

3. The secretary of the council shall report all bids, broken pledges and suspensions at each regular monthly meeting.

Scholarship Recommendations
The scholarship committee submitted the following recommendations to the Interfraternity Council, which were adopted by that group. The first part of the regulations will take effect at the beginning of the college year 1938-39, and the second part will become effective at the beginning of the college year 1937-38.

The recommendations of the first part are as follows:

1. All pledges shall have to maintain a "C" average to be pledged to a fraternity. (By a "C" average, we mean total credit points equal to the total credit hours carried.)

2. For initiation a student must maintain a "C" average.

Second Part
The recommendations of the second part are as follows:

1. House dances are prohibited if a fraternity is more than two points below the Student Body average.

2. Participation in intramural sports is prohibited if a fraternity is more than one point below the Student Body average.

3. For Annual Dances or Gymnasium Dances, a fraternity must maintain the Student Body average of the preceding year.

House Parties
4. To hold a house party, a fraternity must meet the following requirements:

(a) For finals must maintain student body average; (b) For gymnasium dances or annual dances other than the Interfraternity Council dances, the fraternity must have an average one point above the student body average; (c) For midwinter or winter house parties the lodge must have an average two points above the student body average; and (d) For pledges or fall house parties the fraternity must have an average three points above the student body average.

5. Cash prizes of $15, $10, and $5 be given each term by the Interfraternity Council to the fraternities placing first, second, and third in scholarship.

6. The fraternity showing the best scholastic improvement during the school year shall be awarded a cash prize of $10.

Soon Finals Will Be Here

night, and he is really good. Remember "The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round'" (I heard some little kid humming that the other day.) Well, Eddie is the composer of that catching little ditty. Eddie has a style that is something to listen to. It's unusual and distinctive; the kind of rhythm that will make a rheumatic get up and try to outdo Astaire. That peculiar instrumental effect is due to the melophone, an instrument found only in symphonic and concert orchestras. Eddie has only recently concluded a vaudeville tour, and he left plenty of fans and friends in his wake. Of course, you remember him in the Columbia picture, "The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round.'" He has a series of novelties that are really good. I haven't heard Eddie in person, but I listened to some records of his the other day, and did he take "Nero" for a ride! The way he did it would make Al Capone look like a piker! And if you boys get tired of looking at novelties, take a good look at little Muriel Shey (she's only five feet tall), Eddie's vocalist. Now there is something to look at! Big dark eyes that look clear through you— Oh, oh, oh! Something tells me I'm gonna get a lot of dirty looks from Effie Mae over that. And Al Rose and Larry Norman are not to be overlooked as vocalists on novelties, either.

Boy, oh boy, I can hardly wait for that night. Think I'll start practicing now to get in the proper frame of mind (don't you lads get so suspicious). Come on, boys, let's order a milk shake and stay up until ten o'clock.

it must be Chesterfield

..that delicious aroma couldn't be anything else

Aroma is half the pleasure of smoking

Chesterfield's aroma is DIFFERENT
...more pleasing...you like it better.

That's because of the way we blend and balance Chesterfield's mild ripe home-grown tobaccos and aromatic Turkish tobaccos . . . and because the Chesterfield paper is PURE and burns without taste or odor.

Chesterfields will give you MORE PLEASURE

They Satisfy
