State's Basketeers Will Battle Wake Forest Tonight

Salaries Survey To Be Conducted To Aid Students

Survey Will Contact Graduates to Find Their Average Wage Earnings Over Period Of Four Years

In an effort to bring to the students a true picture of their probable financial future after their graduation from college THE TECHNICIAN is conducting a survey in which 35 members from each of the five schools, who were graduated in the class of 1933, will be asked to list their average earnings per year for the first four years after their graduation.

Selected at random from the Alumni Office files, the men do not represent any particular type of student, either the smart or the dumb. To entice the former students to aid in the survey, they are specifically asked not to sign their names nor to make any comments other than those called for in the letter.

The survey will give the rankings of the various schools according to the importance of the salaries their graduates have received during the past four years. In order to prevent the different schools from offering their best graduates to participate in the survey, which would naturally give the large schools an unfair advantage over the smaller ones which probably did not graduate more than thirty-five or forty men, the Alumni Secretary, Dan Paul, has cooperated by making an impartial selection of the men to whom letters will be sent.

The form letters will be sent out Monday and the men who receive them will be given two weeks to submit their answers to the survey. Many students have openly voiced approval of the proposed survey, claiming that such a project would bring absolute facts concerning their prospects for good jobs after their graduation and also give them an idea as to which school offers the best salaries for its graduates.

The survey will be conducted as a project of THE TECHNICIAN and it is hoped that the results will be of great interest and value to students, graduates, students' parents, and to the citizens of North Carolina who pay taxes to support the school. Complete returns should be ready for publication the first week in March.

State Graduates In All Sections Show Enthusiasm

Alumni Gatherings In Norfolk, Richmond, and Elizabeth City Show Reawakening Interest In College Needs and Activities

State College alumni expressed their loyalty to their institution in three large meetings last week held at Elizabeth City, Norfolk and Richmond.

According to Dan M. Paul, Alumni Secretary, all three meetings were well attended. Colonel J. W. Harrelson and Dan Paul attended each meeting. Coach Doc Newton attended the meeting at Norfolk, and Wade Ison went to the meeting at Richmond.

Colonel Harrelson reported on the progress made by the college during the past year, and plans for the future. According to Dan Paul, the Colonel's remarks were received with much enthusiasm by the alumni at each of the meetings.

Reports on the alumni activities and the work of the Alumni Office were made by Dan Paul.

Alumni in all sections were enthusiastic about the successful football season last year, and also the present basketball season. Pictures of the Boston game were shown at each meeting, and Berlinkski's run, which was one of the five outstanding runs of the football season, received much applause when it was shown.

DEBATING TEAM WINS TOP RANK AT APPALACHIAN

Win Three Championships Out Of Five At Mountain Tournament; 150 Delegates From Many Colleges Participate

By BRUCE HALSTED
Competing against 150 representatives from twelve universities and colleges, the State College forensic squad dominated the third annual Appalachian Mountain Tournament held last Thursday and Friday at Boone, North Carolina, capturing three of the five championships.

Harold Zekaria won the Appalachian Mountain Championship in both oratory and after-dinner speaking. George Lippard won the championship in extemporaneous speaking. H. R. McSwain tied for second place in oratory. C. K. Watkins of State, was one of the four finalists in after-dinner speaking, continuing the record of the State College Will Rogers after-Dinner Speaking Club of having a finalist in the last six after-dinner contests held at both the Dixie and the Appalachian Tournaments.

On Friday morning, the State College debate teams demonstrated the Direct Clash Debate Plan, originated at State College in 1932, before the entire convention. With Dr. Warren Keith of Winthrop College acting as judge, Harold Zekaria and H. R. McSwain lost to an Appalachian team, two clashes to none. At the same time, another State team, composed of E. A. Fitzmaurice, R. S. Marsh, George Lippard, and C. K. Watkins, defeated another Appalachian team by three clashes to one. Professor Robert Cox of Eastern Tennessee State acted as judge.

The clash was so successful that all the colleges represented decided to use this form for the third Friday evening. The entire State College squad acted as chairman for these debates. Most of the 150 debaters who participated expressed their interest in the sport.

Freshmen Are Given Information On the Fine Art of Osculation

Just a Few Gentle Hints About These Kissing Games and a Few Little Suggestions That Might Keep Our Freshmen Out of Trouble

We received an article taken from The Georgia Tech which we believe will interest the male of the species on this campus. After reading this column on love, romance, and the gentler art of osculation—there is no disappointed love affairs on this campus. "Kissing is, or should be made one of the fine arts. While there is no immediate danger of becoming one of the lost arts, or even lapsing into innocuous desuetude, still it is just as well to do what we can to keep it up as an art standard. For heaven's sake don't make a business of it, and don't jump at it; don't pounce down on a woman's lips as you would on a piece of watermelon, or a ripe tomato, and bend her head back until you hear the bones crack in the back of her neck. Don't give your face to hers and have a good time all to yourself while you're flattening her nose on one of your cheeks. Don't take her by both ears and look into her eyes and try to grab it quick; you are sure to bump noses. There are a few general rules which may at all times be safely observed.

"Stand a little bit behind her, just on the right side. Place your left arm diagonally about her form extending from her right shoulder down to and partially around her waist until the ends of your fingers touch her belt buckle. If she doesn't wear a belt buckle, the arm will get there just the same. Take it easy; don't get excited. Take your right hand and gently brush the golden ringlets from the left side of her alabaster brow, looking in the meantime into the liquid depths of her azure eyes. Take it easy.

"Don't get excited. Let your hand rest gently for a moment on the warm velvet of her pink-and-white left cheek. Then gently work the muscles of the right arm until her right cheek rests firmly on your left shoulder, just over the watch.

Sherwood Eddy, famed economist, who will address State College audiences in a series of three lectures here next week.

SHERWOOD EDDY AGREES TO GIVE LECTURE SERIES

Noted Authority On Economics Will Appear Next Week Under Auspices of YMCA; To Give Three Lectures On Current World Problems

Dr. George Sherwood Eddy will arrive by plane at the Raleigh airport on Tuesday, February 15th, from Jacksonville, Florida, to deliver a series of three lectures under the auspices of the State College Y.M.C.A.

Last summer, as has been his custom for many years, Dr. Eddy conducted a traveling seminar, which visited most of the European countries. The group talked with statesmen, economists, government officials, as well as men in the street. The party was composed of educators, ministers and students. Dr. Eddy visited Loyalist Spain last August, going to Madrid and right up into the front line trenches.

Sherwood Eddy is author of twenty volumes on international economic, social and religious questions. He has just returned from making a fresh study of the situation in Europe. Thirteen times he has visited Russia, Poland, Germany, Austria, France and Great Britain and the League of Nations at Geneva. In intimate conference.

COLLEGE WOMEN TO PARTICIPATE IN STYLE SHOW

Women From Home Economics Departments of N. C. Colleges Accept Invitation To Join Textile Event

Dr. Thomas Nelson, Dean of the North Carolina State College Textile School, announced today that the home economics departments of eleven North Carolina colleges for women had accepted the invitation to participate in the 1938 State College Style Show which will be held on April 21.

The institutions which have signified their intentions to cooperate with the Textile School in its efforts to popularize cotton and rayon products are:

- Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone, N. C.; Catawba College, Salisbury, N. C.; Elon College, Elon College, N. C.; Flora MacDonald College, Hot Springs, Greensboro College, Greensboro; High Point College, High Point; Louisiana College, Louisiana; Meredith College, Raleigh; Peace College, Raleigh; Queens-Chloro College, Charlotte; St. Mary's College, Raleigh.

Fabrics designed and woven by textile students at State College have already been distributed to the cooperating institutions. These fabrics will be made up into costumes depicting the latest styles by the young ladies, as a part of their classroom work in home economics, and then modeled by them at the Style Show on April 21.

Dean Nelson stated that approximately 14 young ladies from each cooperating institution would participate in this annual event which always draws a large crowd to State College. It demonstrates to hundreds of spectators the utility and beauty of cotton and rayon products, and also shows the high calibre of work done by the textile students at State College and the home economics departments of the cooperating institutions.

Other details regarding the Style Show and the Students Textile Exposition which will be held in connection with it will be announced later.

The Technician Sponsoring Bus For Deac Game

THE TECHNICIAN is cooperating with the students of this college in an effort to secure them means of transportation to Wake Forest tonight for the Wake Forest-State basketball game, since bus and train schedules do not make possible good connections.

The largest, most modern and comfortable buses of the Carolina Coach Company will be at the students' disposal if enough tickets are sold to warrant chartering the bus. THE TECHNICIAN is not trying to make money on the proposition but is merely trying to help the students and a means of transportation to one of the best basketball games of the season.

Tickets will be on sale in the cafeteria at the three cashier desks and will cost only 55 cents for each round-trip fare. To protect itself, THE TECHNICIAN must reserve the right to refund the buyers' money if not enough tickets are sold to warrant chartering a full bus. On the other hand, if the demand for the tickets warrants the chartering of two or three buses, we will be more than glad to arrange for them.

The bus will leave from in front of the D. H. Hill Library at 6:30 tonight and will return 15 minutes after the game is over. If you wish a ticket, get it immediately so you will have your seat reserved.

State Basketeers Seek To Bolster Big Five and Southern Conference Standings With Victory Over Demon Deacons

Starting their drive down the home stretch, State's Red Terrors will swing across to Wake Forest tonight in an effort to make it two straight over the Deacons.

The last game played between the two teams turned out to be one of the thrillers of the season, with a fighting State team pulling up from behind and barely edging the Deacons, 45-44. Tonight's battle should be equally close with the game being played on the Baptist's court and with both teams riding the crest of a winning wave.

The Wake Forest squad will be fighting all the way in an effort to win the first of two games necessary to put them in the Southern Conference tourney to be held here March 3, 4, and 5. The Deacs also have a shot at Big Five honors, having won one and lost three games.

Since their last meeting State has shown a better record than their rivals, having racked up wins over Clemson, South Carolina, and The Citadel and having lost to Duke and Carolina, while the Deacons were winning over South Carolina and The Citadel and losing to Clemson, Richmond and Washington and Lee.

As in the previous game between the two fives, tonight's scrap will be a battle of stars and Berry and Mann representing the Tech and Waller tossing goals for the Deacons. Waller leads the Southern Conference in scoring and was able to drop in 18 points against the Terrors, while his total during the course of the evening.

State's starting combination will be the same as that which has begun so many successful games this winter, having Jones and Berlinkski at guards, Berry at center, and Hill and Mann at the forward positions.

To Award Prizes For Best Photos Made On Campus

Supply Store and "Technician" Co-sponsors of Picture Contest Beginning Today; Suggestions Requested On Method of Running Competition

With the cooperation of THE TECHNICIAN, the Students Supply Store will today launch a campaign to encourage and recognize amateur photographers on the State campus.

For the five best suggestions as to how the campaign, which will be in the form of a contest, should be conducted, the store will give one roll of film and develop and print it free. For the second five winning suggestions the award will be free developing and printing for eight-exposure roll of film.

According to L. I. Leyer, manager of the store, all suggestions must be handed in by six o'clock Thursday night, February 18. Ideas must be submitted in writing in a sealed envelope to the Students Supply Store.

Suggestions should take into consideration such topics as methods of judging, awards, number and description of classifications into which photos should be divided, recognition to be accorded winning pictures in each group, publicity and interest-arousing stunts, etc. The ideas submitted will be judged on a basis of originality, suitability, and effectiveness.

State College Publication Men To Be Guests At Annual Banquet

Plans For Building To Be In By March 9

Thirty-one architects met at State College last Tuesday to consider plans for the construction of the new four-story chemistry building to be erected on the campus. The architects present represented nineteen firms from various parts of the State.

From what was learned Tuesday about the requirements for the building, the architects will submit competitive drawings on March 9, and a jury of award will select the winning design. The firm submitting the winning design will immediately begin work on the plans, and it is hoped that construction of the building will begin in the near future.

The banquet, honoring the men who labor on collegiate papers and magazines, will be held in a special banquet hall at the Carolina Hotel. Following the dinner members of the various editorial and business staffs, and their dates will join in dancing.

Speaker of the evening is to be E. G. Moore, chief of the press service of the United States Department of Agriculture. F. H. Jeter, State College agricultural editor, will act as master of ceremonies, according to Charles Dunnagan, chairman of the banquet committee.

One of the most eagerly-awaited features of the evening will be the awarding of publication keys to men who have served most diligently in the work on their publications and who are eligible to receive a key the candidate must be at least a junior, have served a college publication for at least three terms, and be recommended by his fellow students as being definitely worthy of the honor.

To provide amusement to the basketeers, the staffs of each annual, paper and magazine will be invited to work out humorous skits for presentation during the festivities.

PRESIDENT OF TAU BETA PI ADDRESSES LOCAL CHAPTER

C. H. Spencer, president of the National Executive Council of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary scholastic fraternity, spoke to student, faculty, and alumni members of the fraternity at a banquet held Thursday night in Tallyho Inn.

On Thursday afternoon he made a tour of inspection through the engineering buildings on the campus under the guidance of Dean B. R. Van Leer and A. G. Bronson, president of the local chapter of Tau Beta Pi.

Spencer was accompanied by his wife, who was entertained at a buffet supper and tea given in her honor by Mrs. B. R. Van Leer and Mrs. Ted Johnson.

Campus "Wags" Really Sweat Alpha Sig's a Certain Threat

Voting in the Agromeck's Alpha Sigma Sigma campus election reached an all-time high during the past week with 2,382 votes already cast and with the prospect of many more votes coming in before the election closes tonight at 12 o'clock.

This is the hottest election ever held on the campus, and the voting indicates that a new, all-time record will be set for the total number of votes cast. Ballots were so scarce yesterday that boys were even using their last year's TECHNICIAN ballots, according to James Catlin, editor of the Agromeck, who is in full charge of the election.

Following close on his heels is one of the most brilliant sophomores electrical engineers the campus has ever had, and this young man is running a rather close second with 337 votes.

A lad who bears the same name as one of the favorite radio crooners has polled over a hundred votes. There are about ten men in this middle bracket, and indications are that it will take a hundred votes to barely get a man elected this year, whereas in the past years ten votes would have made a man's election a certainty.

One boy who has led the voting for three consecutive years has not polled a vote in this election. The "red menace" we mentioned in last week's article is a sure winner.

And a student connected with the boxing team is also certain of his office. Two of the rising senior football players have definitely clinched their offices, and another boy who "means" well is also in the running.

But the man who has polled the greatest number of votes in the shortest time and which were cast by different students (many were framed) is from the Forestry School. The gentleman in question squealed on his fellow students to a professor in forestry, and as a result the students in that class had to copy nearly half their textbook.

Many students received twenty or thirty votes, but unless more votes come in before the election closes tonight, they may rest easy because all the higher offices are clinched. Minor offices are still open, however.

Publication Finances

THIS issue of The Technician carries the yearly report of the finances of the many publications on the State College campus, which are carried on through the work of the students.

The reports show that a tremendous profit was not made by any of these student publications, and yet it indicates that they are self-supporting and independent.

The share of profit which is received by the students who have charge of these publications is not extremely large. It comes as a reward for four years of work in this field, four years of interesting but also hard work.

The reward received does not exceed the efforts put forth, and is the achievement of four years of earnest work, long hours, and extreme patience. It is a deserved reward which they are due.

OPEN FORUM

Advocating a Course in Marriage

IT IS only fitting to express appreciation to Dr. S. Ralph Harlow for the time he spent on our campus. The meetings of the week-end were very fine and meant much to us all. In behalf of the YMCA and the student body I take this opportunity of expressing our gratitude and best wishes.

I also want to thank the students and organizations for cooperating to make these meetings a success.

Dr. Harlow touched a very vital issue in his discussion: the ignorance of students, especially in a school like this, of matters pertaining to sex, marriage, and the home.

We claim national recognition here at State for breeding fine cows and chickens, but our students are taught nothing of how to successfully rear their future children. It will take well-trained fathers and mothers to build successful homes in the days that confront our generation.

We should have a course in marriage and the home offered at State. It should be an elective in either sociology or perhaps religion and would then be accessible to students interested in taking it.

Dr. Grove of Chapel Hill is the nation's best authority on this subject. We have unlimited resources within easy reach. In such a setup there is no reason why we should not have a course of this nature.

I know a number of students who already favor having such a course. If enough of us express interest we can get it included, perhaps by next fall. Let's hear some discussion on this subject and urge that steps be taken to do something about it.

-SAM MOSS.

Veneral Diseases and Society

IT IS well known that, due to the extremely contagious nature of veneral diseases, it is possible for the most virtuous individual to contract them. Furthermore, it is also common knowledge that these infections can be successfully treated when discovered in time. It follows, then, that all members of society who are aware of these facts and who are financially able to do so, should gladly submit to a Wassermann test which will positively determine whether an infection is present in the blood.

The college infirmary will test the blood of any State College student, free of charge. The author believes that submission to the test should be compulsory. There will be howls from those who are afraid that the test may show syphilis, when they are innocent of any relationships.

An innocent man, with any character, will not be worrying about his reputation; he will be concerned with getting rid of the disease as quickly as possible and will thus show himself to be much bigger than the fools who believe him guilty. And the man who has reason to suspect that he has contracted the infection, who feels that detection of the disease will put him on the spot since his past activities indicate that he most likely did not contract it accidentally, even if he has no concern for his fellowmen, in his own best interests, let him get private medical attention. We wonder how many students know that the State of Connecticut considered the matter so important that it does not issue marriage licenses to any couple until both parties have submitted to the Wassermann test and show themselves to be free of infection.—WALTER D. JACOBSON.

One Student Speaks His Mind

DEAR SIR:

I should like to quote the last paragraph of the article in the January 21 issue of THE TECHNICIAN entitled "Let Us Criticize Favorably." It reads:

"The faculty and administration work constantly to make the college better. Shouldn't we at least be interested enough to get the facts about some of the more glaring shortcomings on our campus, and then try to do something about them?"

Since you imply that you'd like the students to bring up the defects they observe on the campus, I am here taking advantage of the opportunity you afford by telling you what I think of the Students' Supply Store on the campus, much better known as "The Mop-up."

The "Mop-up." Nice fellows work down there, very nice. But the prices! Holy smokes! Are they favorable? (In composition a question should not be left unanswered.) So I'll answer: "They are positively ludicrous." Perhaps "ludicrous" is not a very suitable adjective to use here, but on the spur of the moment I cannot think of a very fitting word. You, dear editor, can undoubtedly insert a more appropriate one.

Is that store run on a racketeering basis, or is it my imagination? The other day I bought a tiny paper-covered book of mathematical tables, which couldn't have cost more than 25 cents to publish. The selling price down there was 77 cents.

I heard two freshmen conversing. They were complaining about the abominable prices of their books and the fact that so many new books were being used this year—physics books, English grammar and literature books, foundry books, algebra and trigonometry books, dictionaries, etc. A glum-faced upperclassman, who was just putting two cents change in his pocket, happened to overhear them, and he remarked: "Listen, fellows, you haven't seen anything yet. Wait 'til your junior year rolls around. Wow!" Fine thing for the lads to look forward to, especially if they are working for part of their expenses.

Oh, well, I guess they'll have become accustomed to it by then, unless the students of this college show enough gumption and initiative and try to do something about this "Mop-up." They have enough gumption. It merely must be brought to the surface by some forceful, stirring influence advocating a definite goal.

As far as I am practicably able, I shall be a part of that influence if I have to wear my pen to a stump writing for "the cause." What is this goal for which we should strive? It is a cooperative students' supply store, where State students will be able to purchase their books and supplies at little above manufacturing cost, by the elimination of middlemen's profits.

Very truly yours,

H. W. E.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The above letter may not represent every person's views. However, if the student who wrote the article has such thoughts, THE TECHNICIAN is glad to print them for your praise or condemnation. The editorial columns are always open, under the present management, for the expression of student opinions.

Connie Mac Berry just can't let the women alone. . . Now he is coaching the Carolina Beauty School basketball team . . . and doing a swell job, too.

Do you remember Reggie? Not you, freshman. If not, she was the finest lady dog (we've got a better name but can't use it here) that ever masoleted a State College team. The forestry trip last year was the death of Reggie, and if you want to know why, ask any forestry student.

There was a real fist fight in Watauga dormitory the past week-end, and rumor has it that chairs and mean words were flying fast and furious. Maybe Shapiro and Waits could explain more in detail.

Bill Duff, of the Kappa Sigma ranch, greeted his girl over long distance to Leland, Fla., one night the past week with this salutation: "Who do you love, honey? Instead of using sugar for coffee, the K. S.'s now use Duff's fingers for a sweetener. By the way, Duff, this is the second call to Florida in three weeks, and money doesn't grow on trees."

Red Shimer's middle name might possibly explain his love for beer and ale. You'd never guess, but the moniker is "Bender."

The rising seniors already have a prospective class gift for next year. They plan to give John McClure to the school and use his barren head as a sun dial.

Looms in the Textile Building ran wild, along with Dean Nelson, when the Meredith girls entered the building on Tuesday afternoon to choose their cloth for the style show. Every boy on lot took on one of the little fannies.

Hank Smith was sitting peacefully at his date's house one night last week while his best friend, Dave Gilbert, was making a date with the date via telephone. Speaking of red faces. . .

Dean Cloyd tells this one: Back in the days when women smoked pipes a prominent doctor was called to the bedside of an ailing woman. He prescribed medicine that was put up in large capsules, and the old woman jumped out of bed, what reluctantly. When the doctor had gone, the oldest son lit his mother's pipe at the fireplace and started to get her beside with it. The old woman jumped out of bed screaming, "Get that fire away from me, son. Is you trying to blow up dese cartridges I got inside o' me?"

The Piccadilly Club of Raleigh will entertain at a dance to be given at the new armory on the State College campus, Friday evening, February 18.

The music will be furnished by Jimmy Gunn and his Dixie Siders. Sponsoring the dance are many members of eastern North Carolina's younger social set.

LISTENING IN

by JOE MICHAEL

Reggie Childs, the maestro chosen to play for the midwinters, has reached the forefront in the dance orchestra world because he is a keen student of dancing in his modern generation. Childs is another one of those individuals who rose from the ranks of symphony to become one of the nation's most popular dance band leaders. He studied all phases of music for seven years at the Conservatory of Music in Paris, which enabled him to develop a smooth precision of rhythm and a sparkling beauty of melody in his dance arrangements. Reggie's soft rhythms lull the listener into contented attention and lure him into smart dancing. His arrangements are built around an instrumentation of featured reeds and basses in an exciting manner that are noted for the fact that they blend perfectly, producing a contagious effect.

Childs, an violinist-director, has a fine musical background. He was born in America and spent his early life in England, receiving his early musical education in London and Paris. As a young man, he took his violin to Canada and thence to New York. After playing in some of America's leading orchestras he started directing musical shows, which included the Broadway hit "Little Jesse James." From that score Childs took his famous theme "I Love You."

As an eye-fall for the stage line and an eyecore to sponsors, Reggie Childs uses "The Three Youngsters," a featured vocal trio. "Ginney," the tiniest of the trio, plays piano, arranges and sings top voice. She is five feet tall, has big brown eyes, dark brown hair, is twenty years old and is very athletic. . . oh, hum . . . carries the nickname "Atom." Wilma, tall, slim, has brown hair and blue-grey eyes, said by some to have a startling resemblance to Joan Crawford, is the lead singer and also plays sax. June is the baby of The Three Youngsters. She is nineteen years old, of Norwegian parentage, has natural gold hair and blue eyes.

While Childs was playing on Broadway the "Exclusive" San Diego Country Club in California asked him to bring his orchestra out, which he did. New York began to hear his music over the air, and when Guy Lombardo closed a long engagement at the Hotel Roosevelt, Reggie was called back from the West coast. He was invited to attempt one of the most difficult assignments—to follow one of the country's leading bands into a spot which the public had come to regard as permanently Lombardo's. Such was his success that he remained at the Roosevelt for a year. Reggie has been featured at such spots as the Essex House in Newark, the Sky Club in Pittsburgh, and the Commodore Perry Hotel in Toledo. He has made phonograph records for Victor and Decca and is the favorite orchestra on many college campuses throughout the nation. Let us hope that his band will be a favorite on the State College campus.

GLEANINGS

By THE STAFF

Well, once again I find myself sitting at this time-worn typewriter vainly trying to get into the semi-conscious state required to fill this column. . . I still wonder how mid-term got here so fast. . . Then tucking the old market basket under my arm and fearfully moping over to the "House of Cloyd" to collect my flunk slips. . . only to stagger back in a daze, mumbling incoherent nothings about doing better the remainder of the term.

Dropping by the Agronomy office and being thoroughly surprised to find Jimmy Catin actually at work. . . Learning that the balloting for Alpha Sigma this year has been the liveliest in the history of the organization. . . what, with one "campus oddity" polling over fifty votes in the course of only one day, to say nothing of the thirty which were credited to his account the previous day. . . Such popularity certainly must be deserved, or spiritedly thinking that it's too bad certain members of the teaching profession are not eligible for this traditional honor.

Wondering how Charlie McCarthy has escaped receiving an honorary degree from some enterprising university. . . he wouldn't be the first blockhead so honored.

Glancing through some student publications from other campuses and being quite amused to find that a few of our present-day college students are applying scientific methods to their pursuit of the "glorification" system. . . One crafty New York University lad has discovered a new way to crib. . . he's found that notes written on spectacles or watch crystals in grapefruit juice become visible when breathed upon.

From what we have been given to understand, those mournful cries coming from the direction of the Textile Building do not indicate the presence of ghosts or spirits of the dead, they are merely the wailings of some of the lat-dodging janitors after losing a one-sided decision to some of Short Doc's production boys.

Home again to find my roommate hurriedly throwing clothes in a suitcase and setting out for New York to spend a few precious hours with his one and only. . . Funny thing what love will do to college boys. . . But then again look what it did to poor old Herb Whitley.

Hearing a rather belated rumor from down New Orleans way that a certain blonde has been desperately searching for any information concerning the whereabouts of Art Raymond. . . Elwin Hamilton tells us that he is finally going to marry the girl during the spring vacation. . . Won't a certain well-known photographer and one of our big politicians be surprised when they attempt to stage a celebration at one of the nearby hotels this week-end.

Downtown Wednesday to take the roll at Boone-Isley's daily lab. . . and once again finding Tommie Cain at his usual outdoor reviewing stand. . . Eddie Berlinski pacing the floor inside and casting worried glances at the clock. . . Bunny Hines telling of his secret ambition to enter the professional wrestling field. . . Jake Marsh and Walt Cline surrounded by a bevy of St. Mary's best. . . Merril Davis waiting for someone to put a nickle in the phonograph.

An official bulletin of a large western university ranks love as one of the ten most common causes for college students flunking out in their examinations. . . Time is given as the only cure and petting is listed as another very common cause.

By the looks of all the back-slapping and hand-shaking that is going on, the annual election rumbles are in the air again. . . my own nomination is Ed Davidson for campus street cleaner. . . Talking to Ed Koon, who came through with this bit of advice about the fairer sex. . . If they look young, they're old—if they look old, they're young—And if they look back, follow them.

Chuckling at Russel Barcham as he sat through the basketball game Monday night with a thoroughly disgusted look on his face. . . it seems that his Meredith heartbeat brought a friend along to the game! . . . Pretty Lillian Wicker of the Treasurer's office has been worrying all week about what was going to appear in this issue of "The Technician." . . Relax, pal. . . Merril Davis has become an ardent booster of the local police department since last week. . . See Bob Blackwood for further details.

And then there is the story about the freshman who tried to purchase some credit points at the "Mop-up." . . Poor old Virgil Lane again finds himself playing second fiddle to the "Technician." . . They say that the picture his girl promised him in the possession of a former member of the staff who was the big moment last year. . . A big hand to Professor Baker Wayne who showed a swell sense of humor by responding to last week's "Here and There" item with a really funny letter.

And so to close with this oldy. . . Who was that lady-I saw you eating with last night? . . . That was no lady, that was my knife. . . Wow! . . . BY STEPHEN SAILER.

Don't Forget . . .

OIL FROM WATER

DOWN on the shores of Lake Maracaibo in the steaming jungles of Venezuela, the Dutch Shell Company owns rights to a fifty-mile frontage. There it has drilled hundreds of wells to make available the rich oil found in deposits ranging from 1500 to 5000 feet below the lake surface.

The natural gas which accompanies the oil deposits has for years been used to power the wells. In spite of this cheap source of power, General Electric engineers under the supervision of E. E. Thomas, Kansas State '22, were able to convince officials of the Dutch Shell Company that it would be more economical in the long run to use electricity instead of natural gas and gas engines for operating power. As a result, a high-voltage line will be erected along the lake shore, from which step-down transformers will distribute current to the motors in the producing areas.

The Lago Petroleum Company has wells in a section paralleling the Dutch properties and extending ten miles out in the lake, which has already been electrified. The combination of these two companies makes the largest electrified system of its kind in the world, from which 400,000 barrels of oil are shipped daily to refineries in Aruba and Curaçao, N. W. I.

TEST ALUMNI DAY

To celebrate the third annual reunion of engineering graduates of General Electric Test, men all over the world gathered in groups to listen to the international radio broadcast of the reunion at Schenectady, N. Y. Officers and prominent members of P.T.M., or Past Test Men's Association, sent greetings to their fellow Testmen over the General Electric shortwave stations, W2XAD and W2XAF.

HELLO G-E TEST ALUMNI EVERYWHERE

More than 15,000 men have graduated from G-E Test—a course which enables them to supplement their theoretical knowledge with a practical training. Test graduates today hold many responsible positions in the Company. Others have gone into every walk of life—engineers, lawyers, utility executives, farmers, industrial leaders, bankers, and many other professions. There is, however, one tie which binds them all—their experience "on Test," and to many of them that experience is recalled with somewhat the same enthusiasm as days in college.

There is no doubt that listening to a football game over the radio is good fun, but it makes the average American's participation in sports more limited than ever. We used to go to games to see another fellow play for us. Now we sit at home and hear another fellow describe the fellow who is playing the game for us.

Rutgers beat Princeton 6 to 4 in 1849 in the first intercollegiate football game ever played, but has been unable to repeat since then, although 34 games have been played.

Sportsmanship to the nth degree is shown every year when the West Point hockey team meets the players from the Royal Military College of Canada in the annual international game. Not only does each player cooperate to the fullest extent by personally seeing that his opponent in the game is well entertained but the entire cadet corps of the school at which the game is being played also does its part by organizing into two cheering sections—one for the home team and one for the visiting group. Whichever corps acts as host at least has the satisfaction of knowing that half of its members have backed the winning team.

"Perhaps the importance of ping-pong balls never occurred to you... perhaps you have danced along your merry way with never a thought for the life of a ping-pong ball. Could we but bring to your mind the real tragedy in this careless attitude toward this important little object we would not have lived in vain."—The Collegian, Greensboro College.

Let's organize The Association for the Protection of American Ping-Pong Balls.

Advice to girls: Don't go out with: Track men—they're too fast. Football men—they'll tackle anything. Swimmers—they're all wet. Tennis players—they're like all good rackets, and play too many love games. Baseball players—they hit and run. Basketball players—they're always taking time-outs and getting "out of bounds."

NEW BRIDGE CONSTRUCTION PULLEN HALL MOVIE THEME

Through the courtesy of the Bethlehem Steel Company, a moving picture depicting the construction of the Golden Gate bridge will be shown next Wednesday, February 16, in Pullen Hall at 8 p.m.

The picture "Golden Gate Bridge" graphically portrays the history of this great engineering feat from the time the first rivet was set in place until including its actual use.

All members of the faculty and all students, whether in the School of Engineering or not, are cordially invited to attend.

State Fire Marshall Addresses AGC Group

"North Carolina is populated with fire-conscious people," said Sherwood Brockwell, State fire marshal and alumnus of State College, when he spoke to the members of the AGC at their regular bi-monthly meeting last Tuesday night. He went on to say that the fire damage in North Carolina is less each year than any other state with like rural and urban population. "It is not the fire departments that prevent fire damage," said Brockwell, "but the construction engineer. The fire departments are willing to fight fire in any building that the engineer may construct, but it is up to the construction engineer to uphold the name of his profession by erecting fire-resistant buildings of concrete and steel of which he will be proud to have built and not ashamed of." Brockwell related many interesting experiences and after a short business discussion, the meeting was adjourned.

RED TERRORS RUN ROUGHSHOD OVER PALMETTO QUINTS

Continue On Victory Trail With Impressive Wins Over University of South Carolina and The Citadel

State College's basketball team routed South Carolina, 41-22, Saturday night to notch another Southern Conference victory and make it two in a row over the Birds.

State lost little time in getting started. Scrapy Eddie Berlinaki dropped in a free throw at the 30-second mark to start things rolling; two-pointers by Jones and Berry gave State a 5-0 lead in the first minute of play.

The Terrors led by 21-9 at the half and set about the same scoring pace in the second half to control things through the entire evening.

Bill Mann, forward, took evening-scoring honors for the Terrors on three field goals and five free shots. Lanky Mac Berry was runner-up with nine points. Eddie Berlinaki cruised up and down the floor in his best style, thrilling the spectators and worrying the visitors.

ROMP OVER CITADEL

N. C. State's Red Terrors made the score 1,000 over South Carolina teams when they gained a victory over the Bulldogs of The Citadel by the time of 43 to 29.

The Techs took the lead 45 seconds after the opening whistle. The Bulldogs fought back to take the lead at 6:55 at the 4:50 mark. Two free throws by Mann and one by Berry put the Techs on their way. From here the Terrors gradually pulled away to a 14-6 advantage after ten minutes of play. The half ended with State leading 24 to 11.

Connie Mac Berry, with 16 points, and Mann, with 8, led the State scorers. Selby Jones played a brilliant defensive game and was easily the outstanding fireman of the night. Jake Burrows led The Citadel, garnering nine points.

Golf Call Gets Poor Response

Outlook Gloomy as Only Seven Candidates Show Up for Early Spring Drills

Doc Newton has had very poor response to his call for candidates for the golf team this year, having only seven reporters so far. "It seems that the boys aren't interested enough to get the qualifying rounds out of the way so we can get started," stated Coach Newton Wednesday.

The seven candidates who have reported thus far are: Captain A. E. Remmey, Greensboro; G. R. Allen, Fort Bragg; E. L. Waldin, Charlotte; W. A. Salabie, Charlotte; Bill Ford, Asheville; H. B. Everett, Greensboro; and Bob White, Winston-Salem.

DOAKMEN BEGIN DIAMOND DRILLS

Popular Baseball Mentor Is Greeted By Large Turnout Of Young Collegians

Spring, the season of love and baseball, has served notice on the campus that it is just around the corner. Soon we will be hearing the crack of the bat and the smack of the ball in the glove. Coach "Chick" Doak and the varsity and freshman baseballers have been holding meetings to plot the downfall of Old Man Winter.

Last Tuesday Coach Doak met with about fifty diamond aspirants, and spent the time in explaining a few of the most important rules of the game. These meetings will continue to be held in order that hopefuls may learn fundamental plays and the fine points of the game.

Varsity baseball will probably start around the first of March, and freshman ball a few weeks later. Although many lettermen will not be back, the prospects for a winning club are bright. Coach Doak has last year's freshman Big Five champions to fill in the places left vacant by graduation.

Coach "Nig" Waller will handle the freshman team this year in place of "Bob" Warren. He will also have a large squad of candidates with which he will try to retain the championship won last year.

The baseball schedule: March 28—W. and M., here. April 1—W. and L. here. April 11—North Carolina in Rutherford. April 16—Duke, here. April 18—Wake Forest, here. April 20—North Carolina in Chapel Hill. April 21—Wake Forest in Wake Forest. April 23—Duke in Durham. April 25—Davidson, here. April 26—W. and L. in Lexington, Va. April 27—V. M. I. in Lexington, Va. May 2—Duke, here. May 7—North Carolina, here. May 9—V. M. I., here. May 13—Catawba in Salisbury. May 14—Davidson in Davidson. May 17—Wake Forest in Raleigh.

THE WEEK IN SPORTS

Friday, Feb. 11: Basketball, State vs. Wake Forest, at Wake Forest. Friday, Feb. 11: Wrestling, State vs. Duke (freshmen and varsity) at Raleigh. Saturday, Feb. 12: Swimming, State vs. V. M. Tar Heels Defeat State Tank Techlets

Nose Out Duke Frosh

The State College freshman swimming team, following in the footsteps of its varsity brethren, came through with a Big Five win here last Saturday afternoon, nosing out the Duke yearlings by a score of 36 to 30.

The Techlets took the lead at the start of the meet, winning the 150-yard medley relay, and managed to hold the lead for the remainder of the afternoon. Cox paced the State attack, taking first in both the 220-yard free style and the 100-yard dash. The fancy diving event was forfeited to the State tankmen.

Carolina's conference-leading quint reversed two previous defeats by soundly beating N. Y. U. last Saturday 57-39 before a crowd of 5,000 in the biggest inter-sectional game of the year. Carolina played heads-up ball and clicked beautifully. Handy Andy Bershak played his usual bang-up game, using everything except the seats to subdue his man. He led the Heels with 16 points, followed by "Poison Pete" Mullis, who swished the hoop for 12 points.

Boardman with 16 points and Carnvale with 11 paced the Gophers. Bobby Lewis, sensational sophomore and Danny Down, outstanding varsity end turned in fine floor games.

Records Fall As State Swimmers Thrash Dukemen

Reynolds and Payne Turn In Stellar Performances As Tanksters Soundly Trounce Conference Rivals

Coach Romeo Lefort's State College swimming team turned on the heat here last Saturday to splash out an impressive 51-24 victory over the strong Duke tank squad in a conference meet. The State mermen, displaying a world of power and confidence, took seven out of nine firsts, setting one new Southern Conference record and coming within a fraction of a second of breaking another. Ross Reynolds, swimming the 220-yard freestyle, churned through the distance in the amazing time of 2:25.4 to establish the new mark. The Tech relay swimmers, Bailey, Rooney, Payne and Reynolds, barely missed beating the record time in their event.

It was a vastly improved State team from the one that bowed to William and Mary in the season's curtain raiser. Moe Barber, diminutive diver, began to hit his stride, taking the fancy-diving event in convincing fashion. Hereofore, the Lefortmen had been woefully lacking in this department.

Captain Dick Payne paced the Techs' attack, garnering a first, a second and swimming on the winning relay team.

The summary: 300 Medley Relay: First, State (White, Garber and Bailey)—time 3:28.4. 220-yard Freestyle: Reynolds (State), Payne (State), and Jenkins (Duke)—time: 2:25.4 (new conference record). 50-yard Dash: Rooney (State), Bailey (State), Donniger (Duke)—time: 26.1.

Fancy Diving: Barber (State), Heller (Duke), and Gardner (Duke). 100-yard Dash: Payne (State), Reynolds (State), and Jenkins (Duke)—time: 57.8. 150-yard Backstroke: Emmet (Duke), Gardt (Duke), and White (State)—time: 1:48 (new pool record).

200-Yard Breaststroke: Rowland (State), Tucker (State), and Fowler (Duke)—time: 2:53.5. 440-Yard Freestyle: Bailey (Duke), Walker (Duke), and Peit (State)—time: 5:57.8. 400-Yard Relay: First, State (Bailey, Rooney, Payne and Reynolds)—time: 3:54.

DOC SCRIMMAGES GRID CANDIDATES

Reds and Whites Battle It Out In Riddick Stadium As Spring Football Drills Begin In Earnest

Spring football training hit its full stride last Saturday when genial Doc Newton divided his boys into two squads, the Reds and Whites, and scrimmaged them against each other in Riddick Stadium.

"DOC" NEWTON

The Red team enjoyed a slight advantage over the White teams in the scrimmishes. (On the winning combination were W. Thompson, Sullivan, Wagenfeld and Crawford, tackles; Matheny, Wooden, Pate and Savini, guards; Retter and Stroup, centers; Sands and Di Yesso, quarterbacks; Sabolyk, Miller, Feibley and East, halfbacks; and Pavlovsky and Lozier at fullback.

The White team consisted of Yost, Stewart, Krochmal, Avery and Ross, ends; White, Conrad, Brown, W. Melver, tackles; Williams, Windley, Jones and J. McIver, guards; Carter and Acquilla, centers; Cathey and Mielke, quarterbacks; Traylor, Smith, Hindricks and Shawp, halfbacks; and fullbacks Lennon and Polly. Feibley and Di Yesso ran well, Thompson proved good at breaking up plays, and Wooden, J. B. Thompson, Retter and Savini did well on the line. Ken Sands was individual high scorer of the day, scoring twice on blocked kicks. Doelgal Doc has instituted blackboard drills every day at one-thirty in the Y. M. C. A.

"SMARTEST FASHIONS OF THE DAY AND NIGHT"

By BOB COLEMAN, JR.

The manly art of leather pushing was ably demonstrated last Tuesday night in the gym when pugilists from both dormitories and the fraternities were fighting for a place in the finals which are to be held in the gym Wednesday night.

The finals will include 16 bouts, eight dormitory and eight fraternity. These boys have been working hard getting ready for these finals. From the fight and ability demonstrated in the preliminary matches, these bouts should rival those found anywhere. The boys go in that quarried ring to give everything they've got to win. Several of these fighters were Golden Glove contenders and past champions.

Among the outstanding matches for the evening will be Rudill (Phi Kappa Tau) vs. Means (Kappa Sig). Both of these boys have had comparatively little trouble in reaching the finals. Waldin (Pika) will meet Clarke (Kappa Sig) this afternoon for the privilege of meeting Riddick (KA) in the finals. Waldin got a TKO over Grady (AKII) in the semi-finals. Guy (Phi Kappa Tau) vs. Marsh (SPE) should be another thriller.

In the dormitory fights Pavlosky (2nd 7th) vs. Coons (1st 7th) is the headliner. Another fight rivaling this one for interest will be that between Rooney (2nd 7th) and East (1st Watauga).

In fraternity basketball the Delta Sig, led by Bruinooge with eight points, upset the Sigma Nu, 19-8. Second Watauga made a strong comeback in an attempt to overcome a 20-4 margin at the half, but the final score was 28-31 in favor of 1st 1911. Third 7th being paced by Sabolyk and Thompson, continued its victory march with a 30-19 win over 1st South.

Teams in the semi-finals in soccer are AKII, Kappa Sig or Pika, Spe, and Sigma Nu. In the dormitory league 1st and 2nd 7th, 1st Watauga, 2nd 1911, and 3rd 1911. In handball teams entering the semi-finals are Phi Kappa Phi, AKII, SPE, and Pika. Due to forfeits and postponements the dormitory teams entering the semi-finals are not definite.

Finals: 115-Foster (Lambda Chi) vs. Meadows (Sigma Nu); Nelly (3rd 7th) vs. Rollins (1st South); 125-Rudill (Phi Kappa Tau) vs. Means (Kappa Sig); Powers (2nd 7th) vs. Cannon (3rd South); 135-Benton (Lambda Chi) vs. Bing (Sigma Nu), or Smith (Phi Kappa Tau); and 145-Hunter (2nd 1911) vs. Teague (3rd 7th). 145-Burrage (AKII) vs. Henley (TKN) or Plummer (Sigma Nu); Thomas (3rd 7th) vs. Turner (2nd 1911) or Elliot (1st Watauga); 155-Riddick (KA) vs. Waldin (Pika) or Clarke (Kappa Sig); Hurst (2nd 7th) vs. Baker (2nd 1911).

165-Crawford (Kappa Sig) vs. Westerfield (AGR); Hunter (2nd 1911) vs. Trevathau (1st South); 175-Rooney (2nd 7th) vs. East (1st Watauga); Guy (Phi Kappa Tau) vs. Marsh (SPE); Unlimited—Harris (Pika) vs. White (Sigma Nu); Pavlosky (2nd 7th) vs. Coons (1st 7th).

Semi-final results: 115-Meadows (Sigma Nu) over Sigmon (Kappa Sig); 125-Rudill (Phi Kappa Tau) over Plowe (Pika); Means (Kappa Sig) TKO over Atkinson (AKII); 135-Bing (Sigma Nu) over Pletcher (AGR); Benton (Lambda Chi) over Frasier (Kappa Sig); Teague (3rd 7th) over Boney (1st Watauga).

145-Burrage (AKII) TKO over Jones (AGR); Plummer (Sigma Nu) over Towers (Phi Kappa Phi); Thomas (3rd 7th) over Watt (4th); Elliot (1st Watauga) over Zerilli (3rd 1911); 155-Waldin (Pika) TKO over Grady (AKII); Riddick (KA) over Brooks (SPE).

165-Westerfield (AGR) over Jones (Sigma Nu); Hunter (2nd 1911) TKO over Radke (5th). Basketball schedule: Monday—Lambda Chi vs. SPE; Phi Kappa Phi vs. Theta Kappa Nu; 3rd 1911 vs. 2nd Watauga, and 5th vs. 4th. Thursday—Lambda Chi vs. Sigma Nu; AGR vs. Pika; 1st and 2nd 7th vs. 1st 1911.

Stunt Program Given In YMCA

Last Wednesday night in the YMCA auditorium the Ag. Club put on a competitive stunt program between the different schools in the Ag. school.

A very large crowd was present to witness the humorous sketches and exhibition of local talent. The Ag. Education School was awarded the prize for presenting the best performance and originality of the evening. The cast was presented with two quarts of ice cream in reward for their efforts. Following the stunts Jim Patton and his string band played some old-fashion country music, and E. R. Perry was persuaded to exhibit his talent as a tap and clog dancer. After the entertainment refreshments were served.

BOXERS FELLED IN HOT BATTLE

Regionmen Show Much Improvement In Bowling To Experienced Tar Heels

State's boxing team lost its fourth straight match of the season to a previously victorious Carolina group. The final score was 6-2.

Carolina scored on a technical knockout, four decisions and two draws, while State garnered its points on a win by Captain Sorrell, the only man to win his bout, and on draws by Brown and Yost.

In the preliminaries the State frosh defeated the Carolina frosh 4 1/2-3 1/2, to garner their first win of the season.

The feature match of the night was the bout between varsity football players Crowell Little and Don Traylor. Both boys mixed it up freely and gave the customers their full money's worth. In the first round Traylor went down from a hard right and a slip. He stayed down for the count of eight and then came up fighting. The second round had the crowd roaring. Both boys stood toe to toe and slugged. In the third round both were tired and began to miss their shots. The decision went to Little.

State's first score came when Brown of State and Fisher fought to a draw. In the first round Brown was the aggressor and carried the fight to Fisher. Fisher opened up in the second and landed several telling blows to Brown's face.

State won when Captain Russ Sorrell decided Sapp. Sorrell drove Sapp into the ropes several times. The third round saw Sapp try to put on a wrestling exhibition, using arm-locks, head-locks and so forth. Despite his win, Sorrell did not look as good as he did last year.

The summaries; varsity: 115-lb. Winstead of Carolina decisions Debye; 125-lb. Murnick of Carolina decisions Young; 135-lb. Fisher of Carolina and Brown draw.

145-lb. Sorrell of State decided Sapp; 155-lb. Little of Carolina decided Traylor; 165-lb. Moore of Carolina TKO over Charley Smart.

175-lb. State forfeited to Carolina. UNL, Hubbard and Yost fought to a draw.

Freshmen summaries: 115-lb. Bess of Carolina decided Shaw; 125-lb. State forfeited to Carolina; 135-lb. Nicholson of State decided Gennett; 145-lb. Robertson of State decided Caste; 175-lb. Bartlett of Carolina and Abrams draw.

UNL, Saunders of Carolina decided Moore.

Forensics Squad Holds Discussion

Preparing for a direct clash with the University of Pennsylvania orators, the State College forensics squad held a lively discussion at the College YMCA for an hour and a half last night on the subject, Resolved: "That the United States should maintain a fleet in the Pacific Ocean approximately fifty per cent greater than the Japanese fleet."

The debate with the Pennsylvanians will be held next Wednesday night from 7:45 until 9:30 o'clock in Pullen Hall, and will be heard by the public for the forty-five minutes over Radio Station WPTF.

The discussion last night was staged by members of the squad who will participate in the clash with the men from Pennsylvania, and they discussed the subject on both the affirmative and negative sides. Following the debate a vote was taken of the opinion of the audience present, and they decided that the negative side won the upper hand in the argument. Copies of the resolution will be sent to President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Navy Swanson, and the two North Carolina Senators. Members of the State College debate squad taking part in the discussion were H. R. McSwain, Harold Zekaria, George Lippard, C. K. Watkins, E. A. Fitzmaurice, and R. S. Marsh.

It is probable that the debate will be recorded in the national annual, Intercollegiate Debates of 1938, which is one of the highest honors that any school may receive.

Debating Team Wins Top Rank at Appalachian

(Continued from page 1) pressed enthusiasm for the Direct Club Plan. Other winners at the tournament were James Wall of Appalachian and George Naft of Emory and Henry, tied for first in debating; Earl Hunt of Eastern Tennessee, second in debate; and Dudley Crawford of Lees-McRae and Earl Hunt of Eastern Tennessee, first and second respectively in impromptu speaking. Among the colleges participating were Winthrop, Emory and Henry, Appalachian, Eastern Tennessee State, Tusculum, Western Carolina Teachers, Lees-McRae, Mars Hill, Brevard, Maryville, and Lenoir-Rhyne.

STAR OF THE WEEK

Pictured above is Clarence "Red" Shimer, captain of the current wrestling team and one of the most skilled mat artists ever to sport the State College colors. Despite the fact that Red never even saw a wrestling match before enrolling in college, he has piled up a record impressive enough to rank him among the top notchers in collegiate grappling circles. During the course of three years of varsity competition, he has lost only two matches and fought one draw. Shimer was born in Dare County on the 3rd of February, 1916 and celebrated his birthday last week by adding two more notches to his victory belt. He attended high school in Windsor, N. C., playing two years of varsity football and holding down numerous honorary positions. Red entered the State portals in the fall of 1934, enrolling in the Forestry School. In addition to leading the wrestling team, he is president of the Monogram Club, vice president of Golden Chain, a member of Pine Barr and a major in the ROTC.

Then remove your right hand from her right cheek, letting it drop gently under her chin. Take it easy; don't hurry. As the chin rises, work neck muscles and let your head fall gently forward. Now a little more action down the left arm and as the ripe lips, like twin rosebuds part, then, well, you know the rest as well as I do—only take it easy; don't hurry; it can't get away, and it wouldn't if it could! On Dr. Eddy's last visit to Russia with his group of writers and speakers, he endeavored to study the situation in government industry and collective agriculture. During 1937 he is making a fresh study of racial and religious discrimination in the leading countries of Europe and of the outlook for war or peace. The following lectures will be given at State: Tuesday, 12th, 7:00 p.m., Y. M. C. A. Auditorium—"Europe Today." (Including the Spanish situation). State Tankmen Leave For Clash With VMI

Previous Wins Give Lefortmen Odds In Virginia Swim Meet

The powerful State College swimming team, fresh from an impressive win over the Dukesters, will entrain today for Lexington, Virginia, where they will do battle with the Cadets of V. M. I.

The Tech narrators flashed their best form of the season last Saturday in coming out on the large end of the 100-yard dash and the 230-yard freestyle. Moe Barber has come around nicely to fill the vacancy left by Jim Grantham in the fancy diving department, and Art Rooney is due for his share of points in the sprints.

The Lefortmen, by virtue of their win over Duke, are now safely perched at the top of the Big Five standings. This term somewhat differently from past years. One platoon is instructed at a time for two drill periods by battalion instructors and their assistants. The First Battalion meets in the gallery range, the Second Battalion in the armory and the Third Battalion in Pullen Hall. All officers in charge of the instruction have a Red Cross First-Aid Certificate, as do some of their assistants. The cadets are instructed in application of bandages, treatment for shock, artificial respiration, carrying wounded men, how to stop a man from bleeding, and personal hygiene. The period of instruction will last from January 17 to February 21, inclusive, and the platoons are expected to meet their schedules regardless of weather conditions.

STATE MATMEN PLAY HOST TO DUKE TONIGHT

Hickman's Warriors Favored To Stretch String of Wins With Victory Over the Blue Devil Grapplers

State's wrestling team makes its first home appearance after a successful trip on the road when it meets Duke University's grapplers tonight at 8 p.m. in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium. The frosh matmen meet the Duke freshmen in the preliminaries at 7:15 p.m.

Coach Herman Hickman stated Thursday that the Dukesters have one of the strongest teams in the Big Five and will probably give his boys plenty of trouble. Duke holds almost the same kind of jinx over State in wrestling that Carolina holds in football. Maybe the State boys are a wee bit scared. Jake Marsh, newcomer to the 165-pound class this year, has been lost to the squad for the remainder of the season announced Coach Hickman Wednesday. Marsh was one of the most promising aspirants of the year. The Techs have lost only one match in four starts this season, bowing only to Washington and Lee. Washington and Lee has been Southern Conference champions for the past two years. The State grapplers have won their three victories at the expense of V.P.L. Maryville College, and the University of Tennessee.

With Captain "Red" Shimer back on his feet again after a severe ankle injury the State boys will be at full strength.

last from January 17 to February 21, inclusive, and the platoons are expected to meet their schedules regardless of weather conditions.

HE SEES WHO BUYS WHAT TOBACCO

Like so many other independent experts, Bill Whitley, Tobacco Auctioneer of Henderson, N. C., smokes Luckies

WILLIAM D. (BILL) WHITLEY sold over 15 million pounds of tobacco last year. It's easy to see that he's an expert who knows tobacco.

So it's important to you when he says... "At 14 different markets in Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky, I've seen Luckies buy the best tobacco. I figure it's good tobacco that makes a good smoke. So my own cigarette is Lucky Strike!"

"I've noticed, too, that independent buyers, not connected with any cigarette manufacturer, smoke Luckies more than any other brand."

Mr. Whitley is correct. For sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes put together. Remember: The men who know tobacco best smoke Luckies 2 to 1.

Press Convention Planned For May

Delegates to Convene in Charlotte May 5-6-7; Guests Of Davidson, Queen's

The spring convention of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association will be held May 5, 6 and 7 at the Hotel Charlotte in Charlotte, N. C., with Davidson College and Queens College acting as co-hosts.

Plans were made for the convention at a meeting of the executive committee of the association held in Charlotte last Sunday and Monday. This convention promises to be one of the most outstanding ever held. Over one hundred delegates from North Carolina colleges are expected to attend.

Dean Romeo Lefort, permanent secretary and treasurer of the organization, and Charlie Dunnagan, president of the association and business manager of THE TECHNICIAN, attended the meeting of the executive committee. Other members of the committee are Warren Stack, of Duke, first vice president; Bill Staton, of Wake Forest, second vice president; George Underwood, of Queens-Chloro, secretary; and Dick Vowles, of Davidson, treasurer.

At the Theatres

STATE

"Brother Rat," the hilarious military college comedy by Fred F. Flakheoffe and John Monks, Jr., will be presented by George Abbott at the State Theatre on Wednesday night, Feb. 16.

This play, which now boasts one of the three longest Broadway runs, is the work of two young graduates of the Virginia Military Institute, who wrote it from a background of their own experiences. It is a lively combination of comedy and farce, with all of the players approximating in age the characters they portray.

The play's title comes from the fact that freshmen at V.M.I. are called "Rats," just as they are called "Plebes" at West Point. And the gay, romantic "Brother Rats" are by far the most lovable crowd of youngsters to hit the stage in many a year.

The fun is fast and clean, and the sentimental, educational and athletic problems of the V.M.I. undergraduates are presented with sympathy and humor. It speaks volumes for the play that V.M.I. cadets and alumni recognize it as a splendid caricature on life at their Alma Mater, which is known as "The West Point of the South."

The players which will be seen here comprise the cast which played on Broadway for two seasons before Abbott sent it to the road and put a substitute cast in New York. It includes Clare Hazel ("Honey Chile" of the radio), Jean McCoy, Renee Alsop, James Gilles, Eddie Bracken, Gary Merrill, Mary Ella Ferry, Anna Franklyn, Mary Rolfe, Richard Jones, Lyle Bettger, John Foster, Juan Root, Robert Scott, Burke O'Connell, Hollis Mitchell, Walker Penner and Frederick de Witte.

Seats are now on sale at the box office.

Has Wake Forest Taken Our Frosh?

Here's What a County Newspaper Has To Say About "Peahead" Walker's Team

This little anecdote is going the rounds of North Carolina, and it is very amusing. Take it for what it's worth, and with a grain of salt. It comes from the Rockingham Post-Dispatch.

Here's a story going the grapevine rounds, tho' we've never seen any of it in print. It is said that last year Dave Clark, daddy-rabbit of State College athletics, assembled from far and wide a first-class bunch of football players for entry into State last September. But when the Council failed to oust Dr. Sermon, he decided not to send these players to State. What to do with them was the question. And then he thought of little Eion Coley, a junior institution. He knew and liked Peahead Walker, the Eion Coach. Reasoned Dave, "If these boys can be kept together for a year under Walker, things might work out better at State so I can send them there in the fall of 1938."

And so to Eion they went. But in the meantime, Walker was promoted to head coach at Wake Forest, and naturally Walker carried his gold mine with him. And that is the alleged story of how Wake Forest last fall had such a bang-up freshmen football team. And why Wake Forest next fall is already looked upon with unusual respect by the other colleges. It is even said that the best players Wake Forest's varsity had last fall will hardly make the first team next fall—so good are those new imports, via Dave Clark and Eion.

And so if that story is really true, Dave may live to see Wake Forest rub it in on State good-fashioned for possibly the next three seasons. And he would have no one but himself to blame.

Professor's Wife Taken By Death

The career of Mrs. Edna Metz Wells, wife of Dr. B. W. Wells of the State College faculty, was closed by death early Sunday morning after an illness of several months. Her condition had been critical since last Wednesday and she died at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mrs. Wells was a native of Southern Nebraska and graduated from Kansas State Agricultural College, majoring in general science. In 1917, she was married to Dr. Wells and two years later they moved to Raleigh, where her husband became head of State College botany department and she joined the faculty of the old Raleigh High School.

For 17 years, Mrs. Wells was an instructor in biology in the Raleigh high schools, and became widely known outside of her school circles for her interest in gardens and North Carolina's plant life. She was a member of Kappa Gamma Delta, national teachers' honor society, and was also affiliated with Sigma Xi, science honor society. While teaching here, she continued her studies at the University of North Carolina and won her M.S. degree in 1936, and was working towards her doctorate at the time of her death.

In delivering a eulogy at her funeral Sunday, Dr. Z. P. Metcalf of Mrs. Wells: "She has been cut down like a flower, while her life seemed fullest. But I am sure, that if she could express her wishes here on this quiet Sabbath afternoon, it would be that we, the living, carry on the tradition which she has established—that we live, love, work and understand."

Meredith Girls Invite Baptists For Conference

The N. C. State College Baptist Student Union has been invited to attend the evening meetings at Meredith during Evangelistic Week, February 14-19. Dr. W. K. McGee, pastor of First Baptist Church of Thomasville, will conduct meetings and conferences throughout the week. The event is sponsored by the Meredith College B. S. U. Miss Katherine Aldridge, of La Grange, is president of the Meredith Union. The meetings are held each evening from 6:45 to 7:30 in the Meredith College auditorium. The State College B. S. U. Council will hold the Monday meeting in a body. All students who are interested are invited to attend all meetings.

The Meredith and State College B. S. U. councils are to have joint meetings monthly to plan projects on which they will cooperate. The Meredith Union has aided in the establishment of the State College botany department and was of much help during the recent B. S. U. Emphasis Week. (Signed) JAMES E. MOORE, Pres., N. C. State B. S. U.

A junior at Ohio State attended a wrong class for three weeks before he discovered he had taken the course in his freshman year and had gotten a "B" on it. His explanation was that he had slept through the classes and hadn't gotten around to buying a textbook.

Moving Pictures Shown To AICHE

Three moving pictures, a discussion of the Engineer's Fair, and amendments to the by-laws of the chapter featured the meeting of the A. I. Ch. E. Tuesday evening. The moving pictures, two of them depicting life in the U. S. Navy and one which showed the complete steps in the manufacture of a Ford V-8 engine, were presented by Dr. Roy Norton of the North Carolina State Board of Health.

The amendments to the by-laws, which were recommended by the executive council, were voted on and passed unanimously by the chapter. They have to do with methods to be used in admitting new members to the society, and are primarily intended for use during the current year to facilitate the entrance of freshmen who have not gone through the required formalities for admission. Also included in the amendments were provisions for suspension of membership and for recommendation for the Order of Saint Patrick.

In discussing the fair, Dr. J. D. Lindsay and Prof. W. G. Van Note told of the most desirable types of exhibits for display of the work of the chemical engineer. Following the meeting the fair committee met to further its plans for this work.
