

Students Refer Action Pending Faculty Council Meeting

Harrelson Raps Freshman Group In Heated Debate

Censures Student Conduct In Protest to Faculty Action On Dance

Faced with a barrage of questions as he met yesterday with the freshman class, Colonel John W. Harrelson mildly reprimanded the students for their participation in the demonstration that took place on the campus and in the business section of Raleigh Tuesday night.

"State College's reputation in the city of Raleigh is not of the most desirable degree," he stated, "and since the affair Tuesday night, when a veritable riot occurred, we have lost ten supporters among the residents for every one that the incident may have gained for us."

Greeted by Boos The dean was greeted for the most part with hissing and booing. To this he remarked, "I see I am not received by some of you."

In outlining the college's side of the question concerning the demonstration of the commencement night dance he stated that the faculty council had made arrangements for representatives of the student body to appear before them and discuss the matter in a logical manner.

Upon the failure of several of the members of the council to be present for the meeting, no action could be taken, so the whole controversy was put on the table for another week, he said.

Before the final hearing of the case, said the dean, the students brought the matter to a head by their parade Tuesday evening.

He commented on the unfavorable publicity that was afforded State College, not only in North Carolina, but in the United States as a whole, in view of the fact that an announcement of the demonstration was made over the nation's leading radio stations. He pointed out that the impression of the school which the residents of this state gather goes a long way in determining the amount of moral and moral support that State College will receive.

Taxpayers Disapprove Urging that the student body look at the situation in a rational manner, he stated that the action of the faculty council was fostered by general disapproval on the part of different groups of taxpayers in the state. The same conditions existed at Chapel Hill several years ago, he said, but when action of a similar sort was taken there, the student body accepted the solution as the wisest course.

"Why should we be forced to copy any other institution?" queried one student.

In answer to this, Dean Harrelson pointed out that there is hardly a university in the country in which there occurs any function of import following the presentation of diplomas, and that this would indicate the course which is best.

Parking Rules Now In Effect

Harrelson Appoints Committee to Study Traffic Conditions; Hope to Relieve Congestion

In an effort to relieve congestion of traffic and to promote safety on the campus, Col. J. W. Harrelson has appointed a committee of faculty men who are to study traffic conditions on the college drives.

It is the function of this committee to find the causes of traffic congestion and to make recommendations to the Faculty Council in regard to relieving these conditions.

Up to the present time the only suggestions made by the committee and passed by the committee concern parking on the drives. In general, "no parking" signs have been painted before entrances to buildings and on one side of narrow streets.

Violators of these parking regulations receive tickets similar to those issued by police departments. No action will be taken at the first and second offenses, but those guilty of a third offense will be reported to the Faculty Council.

WHAT NEXT?

This last minute flash came flying over the wire to The Technician office late last night:

Join the C. S. O. (The Committee for Student Organization) for collective bargaining. This organization has no affiliation whatsoever with the American Federation of Laborers.

Watch for the publication of further information.

The Colonel Says . . .

"If the representatives of the Student Body wish to be heard on the Monday night dance question, they will be given an opportunity to speak early next week," stated Colonel Harrelson late yesterday afternoon in commenting on the subject.

He explained that the Faculty Council cannot meet until next Tuesday due to the fact that three of the Deans are out of town.

Report Suggests State-Carolina Consolidation

Recent Events Turn Spotlight on Consolidation Measure Defeated In Legislature

The events of the last week on the campus have attracted attention to a report made in June, 1933, by a group of three experts on consolidation of both the Chapel Hill branch and the State College branch of the Greater University at Chapel Hill.

Guy S. Ford, dean of the Graduate College at the University of Minnesota, President Frank L. Meyers of the University of Kentucky, and Dean George A. Works of the University of Chicago, who were authorized by the General Assembly in 1931 to study conditions here, recommended that the Raleigh unit be moved to Chapel Hill and that the plant here be turned into a junior college. The Greensboro unit would remain the same.

There was much sentiment for the adoption of this recommendation when it was first made, although it did not pass. If the action of the students here attracts unfavorable attention, sentiment may be aroused again by the General Assembly in favor of the consolidation, "which is not a dead issue in spite of its first defeat," Colonel Harrelson stated today.

Leigh R. Powell Chief Speaker For Final Exercises

Receiver for Seaboard Railway to Deliver Commencement Address

Leigh R. Powell, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., receiver for the Seaboard Air Line Railway, has accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement address at North Carolina State College June 6, Administrative Dean J. W. Harrelson announced today.

Graduation exercises will begin in Riddick Stadium at 6:30 p. m. that day.

The commencement program will get underway with undergraduate dances Friday and Saturday, June 3 and 4, and the baccalaureate sermon will be preached Sunday evening at 8 o'clock by the Rt. Rev. Robert E. Gribbin of Asheville, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Western North Carolina.

Monday, June 6, has been designated as Alumni Day, Dean Harrelson said. The business meeting of the General Alumni Association will convene at 10:30 a. m. and the annual alumni luncheon will be held at 1 o'clock.

Meetings of classes holding reunion programs will begin at 3 p. m., and class suppers will be held in the college cafeteria at 5:30 p. m.

The Faculty Council has ruled out the customary finals dances Monday.

ASME Students Elect Officers

A meeting of the student branch of the ASME was held in Page Hall last night for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year.

J. B. Lasley was elected president, defeating R. M. Bloodgood.

Other officers elected were: C. N. Moore, vice president; J. T. Power, secretary; G. J. Bell, Jr., treasurer; R. A. Loos, senior council member; and M. M. Dalton, alternate council member.

Symphony Orchestra To Present Program

The State College Little Symphony Orchestra will terminate National Music Week by a concert on Sunday afternoon, May 8, in Pullen Hall.

Members of the orchestra are reminded of the necessity of full attendance at the remaining two rehearsals, which will be held on next Tuesday night at 7:45 and the following Saturday night at 7:00.

STUDENTS MARCH IN PROTEST TO COUNCIL'S DECISION

A portion of the thousand State College students are shown here in the midst of a mob demonstration which was staged in protest to the Faculty Council's ruling prohibiting the Monday night Finals Dance. The students carried their march up to the Capitol square, where they burned in effigy the Council and E. L. Cloyd, dean of students. Prominent in the picture are the huge placards clearly expressing the student's disapproval.

Whiteman and Hal Kemp To Play For Final Dances

The music for this year's final dances will be furnished by not just one famous orchestra, but two — Paul Whiteman and Hal Kemp.

The Interfraternity Council, headed by Tom Ragdale, announced this week that the contracts have already been signed, and that Whiteman and Kemp definitely will play for the dances. This year a new plan is being adopted, in that the two orchestras will alternate between the dances here and also at Carolina, which occur simultaneously. The dance committees at both schools worked together to bring about this arrangement, thus making it possible to have two top-flight dance bands instead of the usual one. This will be the first time that two different bands of such high calibre have ever played for a single set of dances here, although there have been times when two bands of lesser importance have played here.

Student Group Discusses Honor Lefort Speaks To Senior Class

Representatives from 15 N. C. Colleges Convene In Raleigh; Governor Hoey Addresses Group

Beginning a three-day convention at the Carolina Hotel today, more than 50 members of the N. C. Student Federation, representing 15 North Carolina colleges, met to discuss its theme, "Student Honor."

This morning at 10:30, Governor Hoey will address the delegates, and following his address, the remainder of the day will be devoted to discussions by the groups of current student problems.

J. C. Frink, president of the Student Body at State College, will address the groups this morning on the topic, "Honor system, its functions and advantages in comparison with other systems."

Other topics to be discussed are: Means of promoting and encouraging student honor; the legitimate place of athletics, fraternities, and other extracurricular activities; and the cooperation of faculty, honor societies, publications, etc., in the maintenance of an honor system.

Jim Waller, star basketball player for Wake Forest this year, will speak on the place of athletics in relation to the honor system.

There will be a dance at 9:00 o'clock in the ballroom of the Carolina Hotel for the delegates and their dates.

Dobson and Handy Selected To Head '38 Agriculturalist

At the regular Wednesday night meeting of the Ag Club, S. H. Dobson of Statesville and R. P. Handy of Grassy Creek were elected to head the editorial and business staffs of the Agriculturalist for the next school year.

Culminating a hotly contested campaign, Dobson defeated J. C. Pierce of Grassy Creek for editor and Handy defeated B. G. Andrews and Robersonville for business manager.

Ed Boyette of Smithfield was elected chairman of the Barnwarming to be held next year.

J. D. Thompson of Goldsboro defeated R. L. Edwards of Spring Hope for treasurer of the club.

Newly Elected Business Managers and Editors of College Publications to Meet With Outgoing Officers In Charlotte

The newly-elected editors and business managers of all the college publications in the State will meet with the outgoing officers when the spring convention of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association gets under way next Thursday, May 5th, and continues through Saturday, May 7th, at Hotel Charlotte, in Charlotte.

Queens-Chicora and Davidson Colleges will act jointly as hostess and host to the delegates.

Registration on Thursday afternoon will be followed by a reception in the evening. Business sessions will fill the greater part of the following day.

On Friday evening D. H. Ramsay, editor of the Asheville Citizen and one of the leading newspaper publishers in this section, will address the group at their regular banquet. During the program, awards will be made to the outstanding college newspaper, magazine, and annual in both classes of colleges, those having more than one thousand students and those having less than that number.

Saturday morning will be given over to the election and installation of convention officers for the ensuing year.

While the delegates from State College have not as yet been definitely decided upon, all editors and business managers of campus publications are eligible to attend the convention.

Upperclassmen To Get Rooms On Merit Basis

Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors to be Given Choice of Rooms in Order of Their Scholastic Standing; Rule

"Beginning in the school year 1939-40, upperclassmen will be given their choice of rooms in order of their scholastic standings, rather than class rank as is now the case," stated W. L. Mayer, director of registration.

Under this new ruling sophomores with high averages will be placed on the same plane with juniors and seniors. A list will probably be compiled with upperclassmen listed in order of their scholastic averages. Those highest on the list will be given first choice of the available rooms.

"This does not mean that men with slightly higher averages can force others to give up their rooms as long as other rooms are available," said Mayer.

For next year the rules for securing rooms will remain as they have been for some time. Tomorrow is the last date for rising seniors to apply for rooms. Juniors may apply from May 2 to May 7, and sophomores from May 9 to May 14.

Band To Continue Sunday Concerts

Sunday, May 1st, at 3:00 o'clock, in observance of National Music Week, the State College Band will present another free public concert.

Attention is called to the earlier time — 3:00 o'clock instead of four. This change has been made to accommodate those who wish to attend the presentation of "The Holy City" at Meredith College later in the afternoon, in which some of the State College Bandmen are assisting in playing in the orchestra which accompanies the choral groups. Next Sunday, will be the third consecutive Sunday the band has presented a concert. The one on Easter Sunday was the first purely sacred concert given by the band. Last Sunday the band was well received in a popular concert in connection with the "Safety Sing" held in the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium.

Men Selected For Advanced Military Work

Sophomores who have earned advanced military work were selected by the military department this week.

Those selected were given letters which instructed them to report to the infirmary for a physical examination.

Men were selected on a basis of ability shown on the drill field and in class work. The selections are not final, however, and others may be chosen to fill the places of those who do not pass the examinations.

NEW AUTOMATICS

Eight new Draper automatic looms arrived for installation in the Textile school yesterday, making a total of fourteen automatic looms the school has purchased during this quarter. The last shipment of looms cost approximately $4,000.

Your "Agromecks"

The 1938 "Agromecks" will be distributed starting May 10. All organizations must pay in full before the members can get their books. The "Agromeck" office will be open for collections every afternoon from 2:30 till 4:30 to receive payments.—Rodney Graham.

Student Leaders Stop Thursday Night Mass Meeting; Fraternity Committee To Meet With Faculty Council Tuesday to Reconsider Monday Night Finals Dance

Student leaders last night broke up a planned mass meeting which was to be held in Pullen Hall to agitate action on the Monday night Finals dance. The matter of the dance will be brought up at a meeting of the Faculty Council Tuesday, at which time they will reconsider the bill and hear student opinion in favor of the dance.

Tuesday night about 1,000 State College students staged a mob demonstration in protest to the Faculty Council ruling prohibiting the Interfraternity Council's Monday night Finals Dance.

The mass meeting began with a bonfire on 1911 field, and included a march about the campus, which was followed by a parade down Hillsboro Street to the State Capitol. Here the demonstrators burned in effigy the Faculty Council and E. L. Cloyd, dean of students. The march was marked by flaming torches and huge placards expressing the student disapproval of the Faculty Council action.

This action was propagated when the students learned that the Faculty Council had passed such measures prohibiting the dance on Monday night.

No Quorum The mob demonstration was staged Tuesday night after a meeting of the Faculty Council had been postponed due to a lack of a quorum in attendance. Believing that the council had walked out on them and had refused to give further consideration to their pleas, the mob demonstration began.

The matter of the Monday night dance at Finals was brought up last year at a joint meeting of a committee from the Interfraternity Council and the Social Functions Committee. At this time the matter was postponed due to the fact that the council had much more urgent business and was unable to hold the discussion on the bill at that time.

The bill was tabled by the Faculty Council to be brought up at a later meeting, and its discussion was resumed by the council in February, when they found that they had time to open discussion on the matter. After much discussion the council passed the measure which did away with the Monday night dance, due to the fact that they thought that graduation

New Debate Forms Started At State Accepted At Meet

State College assumed the leadership in both the introduction of contest forms and the legislative part in the first bi-annual forensic convention, tournament and Student Congress of Pi Kappa Delta at Topeka, Kansas, April 18-23.

The new contest forms in Problem Solving, Stimulating Group Discussion, and Impromptu Speaking, all originating at State College, and tested for the last three years by the Southeastern Experimental Forensic tournament, were adopted by the South Atlantic Province for their inter-provincial tournament in 1939. Other provinces are seriously considering the use of these forms next year. These three forms were the only new forms officially accepted by a Pi Kappa Delta province since the introduction of after-dinner speaking in 1930.

State College played a prominent part in the first bi-annual Student Congress. C. K. Watkins and E. A. Fitzmaurice organized the Young Democrats and C. K. Watkins

LISTENING IN

Every organization on this campus gives what they call the "best" dance of the season. It is true that most of them are good, but favors one cannot be the best. For the "best" I point with pride toward the annual Junior-Senior Prom, because we like to go down and see the lads and lassies get together in little public osculatory practices. This dance strikes me as being a place where you would find more "juniors" that could be counted. Because it would be mighty easy for some upstart senior, low-souled classmate to slip out and borrow him a ring, or use his old one, then slip down town and tell some young thing that he was a full-fledged "junior," just get that free kiss which is the colleen's admission price to the dance.

GLEANINGS

Greetings, fellows! Every cloud has its silver lining (maybe we will have a Monday dance), and the silver lining here, is when you finish this column and turn the next page to Charlie Dunnagan's numerous ads. State College has become one of the foremost social localities of the country with the budding romances, hearts-beating-as-one, etc. This a pleasing sight to behold the various students gathering in shaded nooks and quiet places... waiting to succumb to the darts of one Daniel (commonly known as Dan) Cupid. But it is an old adage that names and not places make the news, so let's leave the places and hit the names.

What Are the Pet Grievances?

Boys, I am like the rest of you: I wanted to find out just what was the pet grievance of those who were in the demonstration Tuesday night. Well, I asked some of the boys and found out plenty. It seems that the Monday night dance was simply the match that set off the explosion. The Dean of Administration, Col. John W. Harrelson, through the Dean of Students and the Faculty Council, has, for the past few years, passed rules and regulations which have gradually changed our mode of living from that of the average college man to that of the high school student. They do this without consulting our student government representatives or our interfraternity council. Not only have they passed these biased and narrow-minded rules without consulting us, but they even ignore our petitions and pleas. It all sums up to the fact that our so-called student government is nothing more than a joke, and our interfraternity council has no more say-so than if it were non-existent. This certainly is not as it should be; we should have some voice in issues which vitally concern us, and, until we do, our plight will grow steadily worse. S. B.

Carrying This Matter Too Far

Fellow Students: Does it not seem that the fraternity men (and it is mostly fraternity men) are carrying this matter concerning our Monday night dance most too far in demanding Dean Cloyd's removal from office? I have been at State College for only two and a half terms, but I have formed the opinion that Dean Cloyd is one of the finest men on our campus today and that his services are nothing less than the best. Personally, I do not see why the dance should have been prohibited, but does it not seem that the student demonstration Tuesday night was an extremely childish way of seeking its reinstatement? It appears that the leaders should have had enough foresight to have realized how sickening it was to the general public. Come on fellows! Let's think these things over before we act so hastily next time! What are we, anyway? R. C. A.

State Men Rebel...

The following editorial is taken from the Daily Tar Heel, official organ of the University of North Carolina: State College students burned their Dean Cloyd in effigy on the steps of North Carolina Capitol Tuesday night. No outsider can judge the Dean's stand or the students' cause until the ashes of the bonfire and the cry of marching men have completely died away. We are waiting for more student opinion. We are waiting for Dean Cloyd's return from Wisconsin to hear the other side of the story. But, as fellow students of the rebels, we can ask one question now: Is the demonstration a sensational proclamation to the rest of the Greater University that State College students have been denied the right of student self-government?

Here is Charlie Gilmore's column, "My Day, or Life on a Raft," which appeared in yesterday's Daily Tar Heel:

I have been told they are having a little trouble over at State College. It seems the administration has decided the students don't want a dance after graduation. It's sort of a remote control project. A dean by the name of Cloyd was burned in effigy. Late reports say, however, that he wasn't seriously injured and will be back at work as soon as he decides the students really want a dance. Secretary Needed Raleigh newspapers say Cloyd is "a man of few words." At least he isn't smiling today. Student posters describe him as a "dictator." The only trouble is nobody is taking his dictation. We haven't had a strike here since last year when students decided not to go to classes between 10:30 and 11 a.m. in order to prove they hate war. This year they bought poppies and proved just about as much.

Students Defer Action Pending Council Meeting

(Continued from page 1) should be the last thing on the college calendar. At a meeting of fraternity representatives and Assistant Dean of Students Romeo Lefort yesterday afternoon, the students learned that the Faculty Council is going to give further consideration to their arguments, which they planned to do at the last meeting Tuesday. This meeting was necessarily postponed. When the Faculty Council meets next Tuesday they will have a student committee present to defend the Monday night dance, and they will further consider their arguments for the continuance of the dance. During the meeting Tuesday, Lefort expressed the opinion that the Faculty Council was willing to cooperate with the students and that they desired to give them a fair hearing in the matter. The meeting of the Council will be Tuesday, May 3, at which time the Monday night dance bill will be again brought to light.

Lefort Speaks to Senior Class

(Continued from page 1) will again be brought up and reconsidered. Dave Gilbert, president of the senior class, made a report on the funds that had been raised toward the gift of the class to the college. A total amount of $366 has been raised by the seniors on the clock which the class expects to donate to the school. Dean Lefort thanked the seniors for the gift, and stated that this would be the first time in about 15 years that a gift has been left to State College before the seniors left school. Sidney Rogers was elected to serve as Chief Marshall for the graduation exercises, and the class voted to let Gilbert appoint the marshalls from the sophomore and freshman classes.

Announcements

yelled one freshman. "The rest were home asleep."
The student commented on the rumor that though the ruling had passed the faculty council some time during January, the announcement was not made public until two weeks ago.
"I do not know the exact date of the passing. I signed the letter and it was held three or four days before it was sent out," said the dean.
"But you will grant that three or four days isn't several months, is it?"
"No, it isn't," the dean agreed. Dean Harrelson then read excerpts from letters from several nearby residents complaining about the incoherent conduct of the students during the final dance. He pointed out the seriousness of the charges. He closed by warning the assembly of the proposed action to abolish the unit of the greater university in Raleigh, and to move the branch to Chapel Hill as a part of one consolidated university.
"Nothing," he said, "can do more to bring this about than conducting yourselves in the future as you have during the past week."

New Debate Forms Started At State Accepted at Meet

(Continued from page 1) served as chairman for the first caucus. The Young Democrats' candidate for Speaker of the House, Bedford Black of Wake Forest College, who served as Speaker of the North Carolina Student Legislative Assembly in November, was elected Speaker. E. A. Fitzmaurice became the Democratic "whip" in the House, with the task of organizing the voting strength on each major measure. The petition from State College that George Lippard be granted the order of Special Distinction was granted by the national secretary, Professor G. W. Finley. Lippard now becomes one of the few freshmen in the two-decade year history of Pi Kappa Delta to be granted this distinction. Lippard's recognition came as a result of his outstanding work in the Appalachian Mountain Tournament and the Grand Eastern Tournament. In oratory, Harold Zerkaria finished ahead of forty-two orators and narrowly missed entering the final elimination rounds. The debate team did not reach the final rounds, and the final comparative standing in extemporaneous speaking has not yet been announced.

Carolina Opinion Favors Students on Demonstration

(Continued from page 1) en, and student opinion and government at State will become a fact at Carolina. Col. J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration, said yesterday in a statement made to the Raleigh Times, that he contemplated no action against the demonstrators, and announced the Faculty Council will not meet again until Dean Cloyd, its head, returns Saturday from a trip to Madison, Wis. Fraternity Leadership The Faculty Council had ruled that the first day of commencement should end with the presentation of diplomas and should not be followed by a dance after the college had officially ended its year. Fraternity groups took the leadership in opposing the rule. THE TECHNICIAN, student newspaper, claimed the campus would be deserted by many students and their friends who would stay for the graduation exercises if the Monday night dance were in prospect.

Campus Bonfire

Open demonstration started Tuesday night when the demonstrators built a bonfire on the campus whipped up their spirits with yells and pep talks and then marched to the residence of Dean Cloyd, where they shouted their animosity. Next destination was the Capitol, to which the students marched with placards depicting Dean Cloyd as "Hitler and Mussolini." On the lead banner was the swastika symbol and the words, "Hell, Hell Der Fuehrer Cloyd."

Harrelson Raps Freshman Group in Heated Debate

In Which We Show How to Straddle a Fence

The policy of this paper has always been to print the news, and during this school year, we have never been censored by the administration, although at times we have written some rather strong editorials about them. This is a newspaper, so we attempt to print the news as it is and to think later of the consequences. Some students will wonder why we do not take a definite stand on the student demonstration of the past week. The answer is simple. The writers of these editorials are students, the same as you. Their personal views might not correspond with the views of the students at large, and, being students, their views are probably no better than yours. Bearing these facts in mind, and having a great quantity of open forum letters which express every possible side of the question, we turn the editorial pages this week over to the students in order that they might have the chance to present their views.

We Want Our Commencement Night Dances

We want our commencement night dance! This is the cry of the whole State College student body—and a just cry it is. The State students, though the Faculty Council thinks otherwise, certainly should have some sort of say-so in matters which concern them and only them. More than 600 (the papers erroneously stated only 400) shouted their disapproval of the action of the administration authorities concerning the abolishment of our Monday dances the day of commencement; the same number howled for the removal of Dean Cloyd, and, Buddy, they meant it! All of the demonstration that was held was done with less than two hours notice, and that is the only reason that there was less than a thousand students in the parade. The student body of State College has gone along long enough under some of the narrow-minded rules that exist. The worm has turned! Everyone who has ever had any connection with State College has always thought that State students were too meek and subordinate to buck the administration, and this is the reason that the administration dance away from us when it was doing absolutely no harm (and was really doing the boys a lot of good) just seems to be the last straw. What good has it ever done us to try to have a say in matters at State? None! We have signed petitions every year, trying to put the Council ever consider the way we students feel? After all, the school should exist for the best interests of its students, and it is certainly not in their interest to abolish something that they all want and which is not doing them any harm. Do you know what the vote was concerning the Monday dances? Well, it was 1,122 for and 39 against, or 96 per cent for the dances. Why was the matter voted on at all if it was to be ignored? We students really don't want to demonstrate the way we have been doing, but we have tried arbitration too long. We have talked to Dean Cloyd; to Colonel Harrelson; and the Faculty Council would not, or at least did not, form a quorum to talk with us last Tuesday. We are being stalled off by the administration, and we aren't going to stand for it. We want a new deal or a new administration. We demand our rights! R. C.

There are a Few Who are Not Narrow-Minded

Dear Mr. Editor: I am only a freshman here at State College, but I thought that when I entered school here last September that I would be associated with a group of gentlemen and not a group of narrow-minded hoodlums. Understand this fact, however, that I do not say that all State College students are narrow-minded, but there are a group of students here that think that this school can be run by mob spirit and not by representative cooperation. This matter of the "Monday night dances" can easily be taken care of in a way that will not create a lot of disturbance among the students and among the citizens, not only here in Raleigh, but in the other communities throughout the State of North Carolina. When I sat in the Freshman Assembly yesterday and saw the way the fellows, not only freshmen, but upperclassmen, acted about this case, I thought of how their parents would take the question. Would they like for their mothers and fathers to see their parade through the business section of Raleigh acting in an ungentlemanly way? Would their parents be willing to spend their hard-earned dollars to send them off to school if they knew that they could not stand a little discipline and could not meet questions such as these with a level head and listen to reason? If a boy of mine were to do a thing like that he would never go to school at my expense and I believe that their parents feel the same way. As a parting shot, I would like to ask the students of State College—are we going to act like a bunch of bull-headed, narrow-minded hoodlums because things are not just as we think they should be, or are we going to meet this thing in a democratic way as young gentlemen should? The dance protest sponsored by members of the State student body last Tuesday night reminded your correspondent of the coming football season and that "Old State College Keep Fighting Along" spirit. We have plenty of tough games coming up next fall, but with that kind of spirit present on the campus, Doc Newton's griders will surely come through. There has been plenty of genuine spirit behind everything this year, and with a big-time football season just around the corner, we'll need that much more.

But to get back to the present sports calendar: Coach Doak has come up with a better-than-average hurling corps this season in Holshouser, Bruinooge, Green and Kaufman. Holshouser, number one, showed the fans plenty Monday in limiting the Davidson sluggers to six scattered hits. Vic is easygoing and keeps the game under his control at all times. Green and Bruinooge pitched masterful ball against Duke last Saturday, limiting the Dukes to only five bingles. Bruinooge, in his first appearance on the mound this year, gave up but one safe hit in the six innings he labored on the mound. Pete has plenty of control and puts some real stuff on the old horseshoe.

In the stands at the State-Davidson game were a group of big-league scouts from Detroit and St. Louis, attracted here by the showings several members of the team have made so far this year. Quoting Pat Crawford, former St. Louis star and at present their number one scout, "That kid," Pat said, pointing to Cader Harris, State's hard-hitting first-baseman, "is going places some day. He has what it takes to make a real ball player." Seconds later Harris proved this contention by coming through with a rousing single to score two runs.

My hand is out to Captain Jordan Dulin and his mates of the tennis team for the way they have come through on the courts this year. Building a good net team is a long process that requires plenty of work and Dulin and his men have put more than one rung in the ladder. Overheard in the cafeteria the other day from one of the leading members of the team who has just come out of the infirmary after a siege of influenza, "We need to win that match today, and fu or no fu, I've got to play." It's spirit such as this that produces real men and brilliant teams.

Techlets Clash With Tar Babies Today

The State College freshman baseball team, fresh from a rousing 10 to 5 victory over Louisville College, will get back into the Big Five circuit competition today when it tangles with the Carolina Tar Babies on Freshman Field.

The Techlets were slow getting started at the beginning of the diamond campaign, but have begun to hit their stride during the past weeks, and are favored to avenge an earlier defeat at the hands of the Carolina yearlings. Smith, Carter and Winstead have been going great guns to lead the State attack.

Coach Nig Waller's charges are also slated for action on Tuesday, meeting the Baby Deacs of Wake Forest in a return engagement.

Jordan Dulin, N. C. State tennis captain, was a crack kid golfer in his pre-college days in Charlotte, where his father is general manager of the Myers Park country club.

Doakmen Tangle With Duke Tomorrow At 3

Local Nine Seeks Third Win In Tilt With Blue Devils

Holshouser Slated for Mound Duty in Important Big Five Diamond Clash

The State College baseball team, fresh from its impressive march through Virginia, returns home this week-end to clash with the Duke Blue Devils in a feature game of the Big Five circuit to be played at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on Freshman Field.

In the two previous encounters with the Dukes, the Doakmen have romped all over their highly-touted rivals in a convincing fashion. In the first clash Vic Holshouser, ace of the State hurling corps, pitched inspired six-hit ball to set Jack Coombs' 400 hitters down with ease. Last Saturday the Statesmen garnered a 5-to-3 win over the Devils in a tight game at Durham.

State's hard-hitting murderers' row, led by Wicker, Beam and Harris, jumped all over the Duke twirlers for a total of 21 hits in the two contests.

Coach Doak's boys have been playing improved ball all season, and plenty of fireworks may be expected from this source before the Big Five loop ends its season. The Duke nine, on the other hand, have been unable to break the State jinx so far and will be out there tomorrow gunning for revenge.

Golf Tournament To Start Today

Captain Remmey to Lead State's Linksmen In Big Five Battle

Picturesque Sedgefield golf course, situated just outside of Greensboro, will be the scene of this year's Big Five links tournament to be held today and tomorrow. Entries have already been received from all members of the circuit, and an excellent tourney is expected.

Ernest Remmey, State's diminutive captain, will team up with White, Waldin and Schreiber to take on some of the best collegiate golfers in the South.

Teams from Duke, Carolina, Davidson and Wake Forest will be competing against the Techs for top honors in the circuit. Duke, fresh from an impressive showing in the Southern Interscholastic Tournament at Atlanta, is seeded to take the match, but Captain Remmey and his mates are looking forward to giving the Blue Devils plenty of trouble.

In a match held at the Carolina Country Club course last Tuesday, State defeated the Catawba linksmen, 13 to 5.

The State team was paced by Captain Remmey, who turned in a 78 for low-scoring honors.

Chick Doak is coaching his 15th N. C. State College baseball team.

WALLOPING WICK

Here is Bob Wicker, who created a mild sensation in Southern Conference baseball circles by smashing out three home runs in as many games for State. In his first five games the third baseman's batting average was .616 and he has connected for eight hits and a total of 20 bases.

Techs Break Even On Virginia Trip

Romp Over W. and L. Bow To VMI; Wicker, Beam and Harris Lead Hitters

The State long-range bat wielders began their swing through Virginia in an impressive manner, shelling three Washington and Lee pitchers for a total of 16 hits and pounding out a 17 to 1 victory.

Harris, Wicker and Beam led the Techs' attack at the plate, Harris getting a homer and a triple, Wicker came through with a pair of booming triples and Beam added a triple and a double.

Bruinooge, State's dependable number two finger, added to his laurels by limiting the Generals to six safeties.

One for VMI
In their second game of the Old Dominion invasion, Chick Doak's baseballers were snowed under by a barrage of home runs and went down at the hands of the Virginia Techs, 15 to 3.

The Virginians reached Green for three resounding home runs, two of which were contributed by Paul Shu, who is better known for his gridiron performances.

The State nine was only able to solve Luger's delivery for seven hits, Charlie Beam garnering two of these, a double and a single.

The game with Richmond which was scheduled to be played yesterday, was cancelled.

Tracksters Bow To Deacs, 73-53

State Spike Artists Show Decided Improvement In Spite of Loss

State's inexperienced track team bowed to Wake Forest last Monday at Wake Forest to the tune of 73-53.

The Pack's greenness was a decided handicap to them, but there was a noticeable improvement over the Richmond meet in that the times turned in were, on the whole, lower. For instance the 100 yard event was won by Richmond in the slow time of 10.7, but the Demon Deacon's had to put on the pressure to take this event in 10 flat.

Two new track records were set, one by Davis of State in the mile run, and the other Staton of Wake Forest. Davis did the mile in 4:36, clipping 5 seconds off the old record. Staton broke the old school record by 1 second when he turned in a 2:04 for the 880 yard event.

State was noticeably stronger in the distance events than Wake Forest, copping 2 firsts, 2 seconds and 2 thirds.

Wally Thompson encored his Richmond performance by copping first place in the broad jump. It is reported that the big fellow has earned for himself the right to compete in the coming AAU meet at Chapel Hill by virtue of his outstanding performances.

Milan Zori, gigantic discus thrower, treated the spectators to a rare show when he heaved the Greek platter clear out of the park. Zori is the holder of a number of records, including the Southern Conference record and the AAU record.

100-yard dash - Castello, Wake Forest, first; Braswell, Wake Forest; Caldwell, State. Time: 12 seconds.

220-yard dash - Castello, Wake Forest; Day, Wake Forest; Caldwell, State. Time: 22.5.

440-yard dash - Davis, State; Tyson, State; Donald, Wake Forest. Time: 52.8.

880 - Staton, Wake Forest; Tyson, State; Matson, State. Time: 2:04 (New school record. Old time: 2:05).

1 mile run - Davis, State; Johnson, State; Hart, Wake Forest. Time: 4:36 (New track record. Old record: 4:41).

Two mile - Burgess, State; Hart, Wake Forest; Ross and Hunter, State, tied for third. Time: 11:09.

120 high hurdles - Byerly, Wake Forest; Owen, Wake Forest; Thompson, State. Time: 17 seconds.

220 low hurdles - Gibbs, State; Braswell, Wake Forest; Byerly, Wake Forest. Time: 26.3.

High jump - Castello, Wake Forest; Byerly, Wake Forest; Cromartie, State. Height: 5 ft. 8 1/2 in.

Broad jump - Thompson, State; Braswell, Wake Forest; Harris, Wake Forest. Distance: 21 ft. 6 inches.

Shot-put - Pate, Wake Forest; Hoek, State; Helms, State. Distance: 41 ft. 2 3/4 inches.

Discus - Zori, State; Lozier, State.

STAR PUPIL

Pictured here are Coach Doc Sermon, left, and Captain Bill Davis of the newly organized State College track team. Davis has been performing in brilliant style so far this season, coming through with double wins in both the Richmond and Wake Forest meets. He runs the mile and the 440.

Statemen Trounce Devils and 'Cats In Big Five Tilts

Bruinooge Shines Against Dukes; Holshouser Twirls Another Six-Hitter

For the second time this year Chick Doak's baseball team triumphed over the Duke hitters when the Techs stopped the Devils by the score of 5-3 at Durham last Saturday.

Pitchers Pete Bruinooge and Allan Green went the route for State, allowing the Duke hitters five safeties. In the third and fourth innings the Devils bunched three hits and a couple of walks to get their runs off Green. They were unable to score off Bruinooge.

Smith, the Duke hurler, lost his first game in four starts.

Bob Wicker led the State sluggers with two out of four, followed by Bill Hoyle with two out of five.

Romp Over Wildcats
Behind Vic Holshouser's six-hit pitching job and some tight ball playing, State trounced the Davidson Wildcats 4-1 last Monday on Freshman Field.

The 'Cats' only score came in the first inning, when centerfielder Griffin let Kellam's hot grounder get away from him, which gave Kellam a single and sent Hand home. However, Griffin recovered the ball and relayed it home, where it caught Kellam coming in.

State started its scoring in the second stanza, when Griffin smacked out a single, advanced to second on a wild pitch, and came home on Cader Harris' single. Holshouser singled and Harris scored on a double steal as Holshouser stole second.

In the seventh, singles by Holshouser, Hoyle and Honeycutt sent in another run for State.

The day's scoring was closed when Cader Harris scored on Tommy Kearns' single.

Interested spectators included Scouts Zinn Beck of the Detroit Tigers and Nap Rucker of the Atlanta Crackers.

Bill Bailey was a star football center when he entered N. C. State three years ago, but gave up athletics for his books. Now he has been called back into athletics, automatically becoming a student representative on the college's athletic council when elected president of the student body for 1938-39.

Students Retreat To Hill Forest To Hear Talks

Something new, which proved to be a success, was tried by several of the State College faculty members and student members of the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday when 22 faculty members and 17 students gathered at Hill Forest for the first Student-Faculty Retreat.

The speakers for the occasion were Dr. John Rustin, Pastor of Mount Vernon M. E. Church, South, at Washington, D. C., and Dr. Arthur Raper, research secretary of the Commission on Inter-Racial Cooperation, and professor of sociology at Agnes Scott College.

Dr. Rustin, speaking at the morning service, stated that science outgrew God, and people thought that they no longer needed God, because it seemed that science had more nearly satisfied their wants and needs than God had. "But after a man's physical satisfactions are filled, he is still longing for a spiritual and moral satisfaction which no science can give," said Dr. Rustin.

"Happiness does not consist of money, wealth, or social prestige, but rather in the principles of the teachings of Jesus Christ, and the wealthiest people are often the most miserable," concluded Dr. Rustin in the morning talk. Dr. Rustin refused to preach in the Duke University Chapel in order to come before this group of State College students and faculty.

After lunch, Dr. Arthur Raper spoke on "The Agricultural Policy of the United States and Its Effect Upon Society." He stated that approximately one hundred and fifty million acres of land in the United States has been permitted to erode to such an extent that it has to be abandoned, and is no longer capable of supporting anything other than grass, trees, or, in some instances, a very poor crop.

"In an effort to keep the Southern Negro in his place," the people in the South have caught themselves in their own trap, because reliable statistics prove that share tenancy and share cropping have increased very much among white families, and has decreased among Negro families since 1930," said Dr. Raper. An open forum was held after each of the speaker's talks, with many students and faculty members taking an active part.

Games of horseshoes, softball and "friendly arguing" were engaged in by those present in the afternoon.

To the tune of Dick Ballou's orchestra, guests and brothers of Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma fraternities will dance in the two fraternities' jointly sponsored Spring Frolics Saturday afternoon and night, April 30, in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium.

The 1938 edition of the Frolics, one of the most popular events on the crowded State College social calendar, this spring will consist of a tea dance, banquet, and ball. In the afternoon at 4:30 the ball will open with a tea dance, followed by a banquet in the Mantoe Room at the Sir Walter Hotel. The evening ball will conclude the occasion, beginning at 9 o'clock and closing at midnight.

Frank Thompson Gymnasium, for years the scene of North Carolina's most exciting events, will be adorned in green and white. A huge crystal ball will be the centerpiece. On each end of the orchestra pit, amid palms and other flora, will be the crests of Kappa Sigma and Kappa Alpha.

"Cleopatra" is packed full of fun, being a burlesque on modern college life. The principals in the cast will be Joe Renn, "Doug" Allison, G. L. Yingling, George Radke, G. M. Sheets, and J. H. Ellis.

All Glee Club members are urged to give precedences to all the remaining rehearsals (Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, and the following Monday and Tuesday). The principals are asked to report at 5:00 p. m. each day that classes do not conflict, and other times by appointment.

Alpha Zeta Banquet

Plans for the annual banquet of Alpha Zeta, honorary fraternity at State College, were announced yesterday by Chancellor L. N. Hall.

Present officers in the organization, in addition to Hall, are J. W. Pou, G. C. Alexander, L. E. Thornton and H. L. Brant.

Newly elected officers are L. E. Thornton, J. T. Frye, R. C. Larkin, R. W. Brake and J. P. Gibson.

Military Ball Friday Night

The annual State College Military Ball will be held Friday night, April 29, in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Dick Ballou and his orchestra, the same band which is playing for the Kappa Sigma-Kappa Alpha dances Saturday. Ballou has a really big-time band. Several years back he and the band were the featured stars of the Lucky Strike radio broadcasts, and he has made numerous recordings for Victor and Decca, besides appearing in several movies.

There will be a dress parade by the ROTC regiment Friday at noon in honor of the Military Ball sponsors. All of the senior officer's dates will be guests of honor at the parade.

There will be a special figure composed of all of the senior cadet officers of the ROTC and their dates. The figure will be led by Cadet Colonel Joe Massey and Cadet Adjutant J. T. Frink with their sponsors for the evening.

The dance will be formal, with all of the cadets wearing their military full-dress uniforms. Tickets will be sold at the door at fifty cents each, plus tax.

Chaperones for the evening will be: Colonel and Mrs. C. S. Caffery, Major and Mrs. K. G. Althous, Major and Mrs. Thornton Chase, Major and Mrs. R. E. ### Street Construction Short Course Planned

Municipal street superintendents and their assistants will come to North Carolina State College May 12-13 for a short course on street construction and maintenance.

The program was announced today by Edward W. Ruggles, director of the College Extension Division, who said representatives from a large number of North Carolina communities are expected to attend. In charge of the short course will be Prof. Harry Tucker, head of the highway engineering department and director of the engineering experiment station.

First round matches of the eleventh annual bridge tournament sponsored by Gamma Upsilon Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha will officially get under way at the Lambda Chi fraternity house at 2:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, May 3, announced Heston Martin, chairman of the bridge committee, yesterday.

Games in the preliminary round must be played Tuesday at any time suiting the convenience of the members of each fraternity's team. Quarter finals will be played Wednesday afternoon. According to schedule, both semi-finals and finals will be run off on Thursday afternoon.

The name of the winning fraternity, together with the names of the men playing on its team, will be engraved on the tournament plaque which will become the property of the winner until the next tournament.

The defending champions this year will be the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, whose team last year captured the plaque from a field made up of the best bridge players from every fraternity on the campus.

Preliminary pairings as announced by Lambda Chi Alpha are as follows: Sigma Nu and Theta Kappa Nu, Alpha Lambda Tau and Theta Phi, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma and Kappa Alpha, Alpha Kappa Pi and Pi Kappa Phi, Phi Kappa Tau and Sigma Pi, Delta Sigma Phi and Alpha Gamma Rho.

Whiteman To Appear At Duke University

When Duke University's Quadrangle Theater celebrates its tenth birthday May 13 and 14, the world famous Paul Whiteman will bring his band to help make it a big occasion.

Whiteman will have his entire troupe with him — the "Swing Wing," the popular baritone, Robert Lawrence, Jack and Charley Teagarden, Mike Pingatore, and Goldie — the gable trumpet player who "hates to play encores." The Whiteman group will appear for an hour's stage show on Friday, May 13, at 3:15, 7:15, and 10:15 p. m., and on Saturday, May 14, at 3:15 and 8:15 p. m.

A portion of the Friday evening stage performances will constitute Mr. Whiteman's regular CBS nationwide broadcasts. One hundred and three of the CBS network stations will carry these programs. There will actually be two broadcasts which the audience will be privileged to watch. The 7:15 show will be broadcast for the Eastern and Central stations, and the 10:15 performance will be re-broadcast from 10:30 to 11:00 p. m. for the benefit of the Rocky Mountain and Pacific zones.

There will be a few seats reserved for these stage and broadcast shows. They may be reserved now by contacting W. M. Upchurch, Box 4814, Duke Station. However, on Friday evening, reserved seats will be obtainable only for the first stage performance at 7:15 as the holding of these seats precludes the possibility of reserving them for the later Friday evening performance.

Following the shows on Saturday night, Whiteman and his world-famous symphonic jazz orchestra will play for the annual Inter-Fraternity dance. If you are interested in attending, contact Don Sheehan, president, of Pan-Hellenic at Duke University.

During exam week at Elmira College, tea is served every afternoon accompanied by salon music; all of which goes to soothe the worried students.

The University of Texas has profited to the extent of $17,500,000 through the discovery of oil on its land.
