

State Self-Help Students Earn More Than $53,000

LAST YEAR'S FIGURES SPEAKS HERE

NYA Allotments Furnished Major Portion of Student Aid; College Jobs and Off-Campus Work Account for Remainder; Stallings Makes Public Complete Work Statistics for 1936-37

During the school year 1936-37 State College self-help students earned a total of $53,257.97, according to R. L. Stallings, self-help secretary here and this amount was divided among approximately 476 boys whose labor helps keep them in school.

Of the sum earned by students, NYA allotments provided $33,142.96, while the remainder was made up of $17,515.00 paid by the college for student work...

Average Wage Despite the large totals for last year, the average amount earned monthly by self-help students was fifteen dollars.

Work This Year On the basis of the estimated hours to be worked monthly, approximately 56,556 hours of work will be performed by students here during the school year 1937-38.

ORIENT TOPIC OF YMCA TALK Major Althaus Tells Group of Situation in Hawaii and Japan

Before one of the largest audiences to assemble in the YMCA this year, Major K. G. Althaus delivered an address last Tuesday night on the topic, "The Japanese Situation in Hawaii and the Orient."

During the interesting lecture, motion pictures of Hawaii were shown to the group, estimated at 150 students on the faculty.

Major Althaus said that the Japanese population in Hawaii now totaled forty-two per cent of the entire population on the islands, and their numbers are increasing rapidly.

VOCATION FORUM ENJOYS SUCCESS AT INITIAL MEET

Meeting of Vocational Forum Brings Discussion of Opportunities Offered by Public Health Work; Data To Be Made Available for Prospective College Students

Success crowned the first meeting of the Vocational Forum on the State College campus when the new members convened in the College YMCA last Wednesday night to discuss the subject of public health as a vocation.

The main purpose of these forums is to gather material concerning the many vocations that will be under discussion, and prepare the material in a form which will be available to high school students and any others who are considering attending college or entering vocational fields.

Abby Speaks To emphasize the individual branches of the Public Health Service, Dr. Reynolds, chief of the State Hospital for Insane and chairman of the committee on mental hygiene, spoke briefly on the subject of mental hygiene.

STATE IS FAVORED TO CAPTURE GAME WITH RIVAL TEAM

Newtonmen Out To Get Revenge for Last Year's 9-0 Setback At the Hands of Their Neighbors; Wake Forest To Put a Revamped Team On Field for Contest

Sports Glimpses

by Bob Blackwood

State's gridders will journey to Wake Forest on Saturday to take on the Deacons who will attempt to repeat their feat of last year when they defeated the Pack, 9-0. However, their chances of doing this are very slim, in view of their poor showing against North Carolina University and of the brilliant game State played against V. P. I.

The battle will decide which team will be the champion of the Wake County section of the Big Five. Over at Wake Forest, Coach Walker has been trying to strengthen his line which has been glaringly weak. It is expected that Captain Boots Mumford will be sufficiently recovered from the injuries he received in the Tennessee game to be in the starting line-up. The Deacons' team will be as follows: Forest Glass and Fred Hoyle, ends; Rupert Bran and Roy Evans, guards; Allen Powers and Rupert Pate, tackles; Captain Boots Mumford, center; Dave Fuller, Bill Eustler, George Warty and Red McCarthy, backs.

Red McCarthy is the outstanding passer of the Wake Forest team. Abandoning New System. Coach Newton has abandoned the two-team plan he started in the Virginia Poly game in favor of the first and second team plan he used at the beginning of the season. The first team backfield will consist of Ed Berlinki, Art Rooney, Paul Loxier and Kenneth Sands, while the forward wall will probably consist of Jess Tatum and Mac Berry, pace-setting flankmen; the guard post will be held down by Cecil Brown, Allen Powers and George Fry at the center of the defense and offense, and Danny Plooseno, who has recovered from the injury he received in the VPI game; E. V. Helma and George Fry at the tackle positions, and versatile Louie Mark at center.

Coach Newton has not been able to decide on a second string backfield, but it will be taken from these players: Joe Schwerdt, quarterback; Fred Gardner and Pete Kuzma, fullbacks; George Murphy and Tony Di Yesso, halfbacks; and Bob Sabolyk and Don Traylor in the threatback positions. The Deacons will of necessity have to resort to the air-ways in order to counter-balance State's hard, fast-charging line. State's offense will most likely confine itself to ground rushes, with scattered passes.

Coach Walker has been emphasizing tackling and blocking in the past week's practice, two fields in which his boys are weak.

STATE DEFEATS V.P.I. GOBBLERS BY 13-7 COUNT

State Scores First After Rooney's Toss To Berry Is Good for 30 Yards and Puts the Ball on the Gobblers' 1-Yard Line; V.P.I.'s Fumbles Are Costly

State's football team started on the comeback path last Saturday night after its 7-7 tie with Furman two weeks ago, with Virginia Polytech falling victim in the Wolfpack's search for revenge. The game was played before a crowd of 7,000 shivering spectators who saw the Gobblers go down to defeat by the score of 13-7.

State drew first blood after a 70-yard drive down the field early in the first quarter. The ball seemed destined for Pierce, but he took the break came for State. Tech punt-ed to the State 45-yard line. Rooney was unable to gain anything through center. On the next play he carried the ball through left guard for a five-yard gain. He then faded back and uncorked a long 35-yard pass to Connie Mac Berry on the 15-yard line, who advanced it to the one-yard stripe before being downed. On the next play Rooney dived over center for the first score of the game. Helms, tackle, converted, to put State ahead, 7-0.

The second quarter was featured by a stronger Tech line, which held the Wolves in check, and a punting duel between Phil De Muro and Art Rooney. The outstanding play of this period occurred when Rooney intercepted a long bullet-like pass thrown by Henry and intended for Pierce. Berlinki took the ball to State's 32 for a five-yard gain. Rooney picked up two yards at tackle, and then kicked to Tech's 31, where it was run back to the 41. The first half ended with an incomplete pass from De Muro to Henry.

Second Half

Tech took the ball on downs, and DeMuro kicked-quick on State's 29. Rooney, Murphy and Berlinki took turns at carrying the ball and brought it down to the ten-yard line. Rooney picked up four yards. He then attempted a pass, but it was too wide. Berlinki spiking the ball on a left end reverse, carried the ball across the goal line. Helms' attempt to convert was blocked.

At this point Tech came to life and "Red" and "White" played some real ball. Behind beautiful blocking and interference, Henry and De Muro passing and running, brought the ball to State's nine-yard line. De Muro carried it around right end for the touchdown. The Gobblers converted, and that finished the evening's scoring.

The final period again featured De Muro's long punts, which averaged over 40 yards, and an increasing use of passes by V. P. I. In a spectacular play, which brought the game to its closing stage, Rooney intercepted a pass on his own 30, ran it up five yards, then lateralled to Berlinki who carried it 25 yards to Tech's 40-yard line. There was time for one more play before the final whistle blew, and then the game was finished. Score: N. C. S. 13; V. P. I. 7.

This Week's Star...

Pictured above is Lule Mark, versatile State center. Lule was born in Birmingham, Ala., December 21st, 1914. He moved to White Plains, New York at an early age and spent most of his boyhood there. He attended the large high school in the city and became famous around high school circles in New York as a center on the football team. He played four years of ball and in his senior year was chosen All-Metropolitan center.

Mark came to State in 1934 and again proved himself a top flight pivot man by being chosen All-State Fresh center that year. His sophomore year was spent as an understudy to the All-American Steve Sabol, but last year and this year has seen Lule holding down a number one position on the State varsity.

He is enrolled in the School of Education and will graduate this year with a BS degree. He is a captain in the college ROTC Corps and is a member of the Monogram Club.

Editor Gangs Tulane Coach

After Much Red Tape, the Sports Editor Finally Interviews Red Dawson; Finds Him To Be a Swell Fellow As Well As a Great Coach

By BOB BLACKWOOD

Coach Lowell "Red" Dawson's Green Wave was in town and, what's more, they were practicing in our own Riddick Field. What an opportunity, mumbled I to myself, to get an interview with said coach and get some first hand info on the doings of the famous Tulane team.

I left a long and drawn out EE experiment at 4:30 and trotted down to the stadium and started to enter when a stout looking officer of the law accosted me and told me to "seram." Well, I was stumped for the time being, but after telling him that I was Sports Editor of the Technician and letting him get a good look at my noble profile (after one look he must have been convinced that I was too dumb to be a Carolina scout), he let me through the peary gate.

The Tulane team looked just as all college teams do, big and fast, but as they ran through their assortment of plays I could detect the machine-like precision of the eleven and could see the fitness of each man as he executed his duties. My wandering eyes finally came to rest on a middle-aged, slight, and well-dressed man whose gaze was following the first team. I inquired as to his identity from the team trainer and he informed me that he was Coach Dawson, and that the coach definitely hated to be interrupted while at work.

I decided to wait until the end of the session before approaching "Red" and spent the next two hours chatting with the manager, trainer and team doctor. The main subject of the conversation was the love Tulane has for L. S. U. If they don't win this year half of the team will lose their co-eds lives.

Coach Dawson was just the opposite from what I expected he would be. Judging from his nickname "Reticent Red." He spoke long and fluently on the cooperation shown him here and said that he was delighted with the scrimmage between Phi De Muro and the Wolfpack held last Monday. He said, "the spirit was fine between the two clubs and we had a real

'MURAL MUSINGS

by BOB COLEMAN, JR.

The fraternity grippers open the intramural wrestling season Wednesday night at 7 p. m. in the gym when the preliminary bouts are held. The dormitory prelims are held on Thursday night at the same time.

All entries should be registered with Mr. Miller by Monday or Tuesday. Doctors OK's must be filed for each man entered.

Hard fighting and good wrestling has been the standard in the past and I expect to see even finer spirit this week. Grappers Shimer and Cheslock have invited the intramural matmen to work out with their squad to get in shape.

The AGS's have gone one up on "Doc" Newton. They have a huddle and cards in calling signals. Each player carries the diagrams of the plays, and when that play is called he turns to the diagram and sees just what he is supposed to do. However, this didn't stop the Sigma Nus who won the game on Rgd Diamond, 14-0.

The Sigma Pi's fought a hard game against the SPE's but were unable to hold the powerful SPE team. The SPE's drew first blood by scoring in the second quarter. On the second play of the third quarter the Sigma Pis scored to tie the game up 6-6. It wasn't until the last quarter that the SPE's were able to score again. The final score was SPE 18; Sigma Pi 6.

In the other fraternity game of the week the Pi Kappa Phi's decidedly outplayed the Lambda Chi's in running up 12 first downs to 1, but they were only able to push over one score.

There were two tie games in the dormitory league, but the team getting the most first downs is declared winner.

2nd 1911 tied 1st and 2nd 7th by a score of 7-7, but won the game by worthwhile workout. I think that the State team is well coached. They have an original system of attack and have plenty of power and deception. They should go to town this season.

In answer to my question about the comparative strength of the Southeastern and the Southern Conferences he stated: "The top teams in both leagues are of about equal strength. We have a few more top notchers than you have and that is the only difference. As far as national competition is concerned the leaders of both conferences are as good as, if not better than those in any other group in the country."

Tech-Deacon Scrap Only Big Five Game

Only two of North Carolina's Big Five will be battling each other this week-end — State's engaging Wake Forest in a night game on the Deacons' home field. Duke, Davidson and Carolina will take on out of state teams.

Wake Forest's Reverends took the Techs last season by a 9-0 margin but with State's improved performance and the Deacon injury list the result this year is hoped to be a different story.

Duke journeys to Hamilton, New York where they will tangle with Colgate's Red Raiders in a return battle. Last year's Blue Devils won from Andy Kerr's eleven by a 6-0 count in a game played in Duke Stadium.

Tulane will leave Raleigh and travel to Chapel Hill to pay a visit to the University's football team. The Tulane eleven has a decided advantage in weight and its backfield boasts several hard running backs. Carolina's star fullback, Art Ditt will be back in harness and should give the Tar Heels added strength.

Davidson meets Center College in an attempt to get back in the win column. The absence of Toney Lafferty from the Wildcat backfield has caused them to drop several titles.

STATE HARRIERS TRAVEL TO DUKE

Sermon Team To Run Against Blue Devils Tomorrow Afternoon; Davidson Wins Handily Against Green Tech Team

The State College Cross country team will meet Duke University tomorrow at 2:00 on the Duke course.

Both teams have been defeated by the strong Davidson outfit and on a basis of comparative scores the State team should emerge the winner. Davidson defeated Duke by a 19-43 count and took the Tech harriers by a 21-41 margin.

In the meet with the Wildcats last Saturday, Hunter was the top man for the Sermon-coached team, placing fifth. He was followed by Ross in seventh place and Mattson who came in ninth.

According to Coach Sermon, the State team is just getting into condition and should give a much better account of themselves in future meets.

FORESTERS HEAR STEVENS TALK GAME PRESERVATION

Head of Game Management Department of State Department of Conservation Guest Speaker At Forestry Club Meeting.

Members of the Forestry Club had as their guest speaker at a meeting last night Ross O. Stevens, head of the game management department of the State Department of Conservation, who spoke about the game preservation program that is now being carried on throughout the State.

This program has been developed in three ways: (1) by ceding property-owners' lands for five years as a sanctuary; (2) by leasing land for two years as a temporary sanctuary; (3) and by regulated hunting which keeps a hunter from the permission of the property owner before he can use the lands as a hunting ground.

Stevens especially stressed the fact that the department would not be able to make the program a success without the full cooperation of the farmers of the State. The meeting was well attended and student members expressed their appreciation for the enjoyable and educational lecture.

Stevens, besides maintaining his position with the State, is also serving as instructor in game management at the college. He came here three years ago from the University of Wisconsin.

At the Theatres

PALACE

Monkeyshines, melody and merriment with the Clown Princes of Laughmania going to town with their inimitable tomfoolery, mark the latest comedy co-gagging Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, "On Again—Off Again," which plays at the Palace Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

The amusing story deals with a marathon feud between two business partners whose arguments always end up with a mutual decision to dissolve the partnership.

Most of the hilarious action transpires while Wheeler is working as valet to Woolsey as a result of a wager. With the diminutive comedian literally at the mercy of his cigar-chewing master. Wheeler endeavors to reverse the tables by breaking up Woolsey and his wife. This intrigue and Woolsey's counter-plot come to a climax during a house party at which a group of plug-uglies masquerading as servants, a gold-digger and several other guests launch a crazy campaign to acquire two important contracts lodged in Woolsey's safe.

Music from Hollywood

"Music from Hollywood" ... songs of the movies ... sung by the stars ... and played for dancing America. That's the idea behind the popularity of Alice Faye-Hal Kemp's Chesterfield radio programs, heard over the Columbia Network every Friday evening at 8:30 E.S.T. (Western Stations 8:30 P.T.).

Kemp's famous dance orchestra and Miss Faye's charming voice make one of the smartest and brightest programs on the air.

In addition to the mad antics, here is a bevy of beautiful girls in several gay dance numbers and two catchy songs by the comedians.

Wheeler and Woolsey are seen at their nonsensical best in this production.

A miniature "Pacific Paradise," a Betty Boop cartoon "Poxy Hunter" and the latest Palace News completes the program.

STATE

Once again the screen improves on an outstanding stage hit. "The Bride Wore Red," which comes to the State Theatre on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday was Ferenc Molnar's "The Girl from Trieste."

Remembered, of course, as a rich human experience depicted on the stage, the story has gained in celluloid. Joan Crawford unquestionably was a happy choice for the starring role and she has two excellent leading men in Franchot Tone and Robert Young. Nothing has been overlooked on the score of perfection in all departments.

The Cinderella story of a poor beautiful girl who acquired luxury for a fleeting time and then became rich in love, has been directed with the delicate feminine influence of Dorothy Arzner, Hollywood's only woman director.

But aside from the technical charm of this picture, there is the superb acting of the cast, which includes lovely Lynne Carver, Reginald Owen, Billie Burke, George Zucco and Dickie Moore.

CAPITOL

Wednesday night at 9 p. m. the Capitol Theatre will present on the stage the second in a series of Raleigh Discovery Nights. Several local talent acts will compete for the cash prizes being offered. The winners are decided by the applause of the audience. Anyone who can sing, dance, play a musical instrument, or perform before an audience is eligible and may make application at the Capitol box office. Regular screen performances from 11 a. m. to 11 p. m. will be presented and there is no advance in admission prices on Discovery Night.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN ENGINEERING JOURNAL

Initial Appearance of New Southern Engineer Shows Changes in Style

The first issue of The Southern Engineer of the current school year which has been distributed among the engineering students of State College and 10 states throughout the South is a credit to the staff of Southern Engineer journal which edits a technical magazine said to be the only one of its kind published in the South.

Under the guidance of its editor, George R. Kilham, and his competent staff, The Southern Engineer has undergone many improvements. A new cover plate, made very attractive by the use of colors, dons the magazine, giving it the desired effect to catch one's eye. Also, varied articles and features are included in the makeup which should be of interest to every engineering student.

The first two pages are taken with a picture of Dr. Blake R. Van Leer, dean of engineering, and an official welcome to the new dean by the magazine. The remaining pages consist of articles, features and announcements written by students, faculty, alumni and members of the N. C. Society of Engineers. Practicing engineers W. Vance Baise, highway engineer, State of North Carolina, and William Bowie, retired chief of the Division of Geodesy, U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, are included among the contributors.

C. L. Mann, head of the civil engineering department will present before the State Board of Examiners the proposition of making The Southern Engineer the official publication of the board in publishing the names of those who pass the State examinations for engineering.

VIENNA TOPIC OF TALK GIVEN AT AG MEETING

Dr. D. S. Anderson, of the botany department, presented a very interesting talk on "The City and University of Vienna" at the Ag Club meeting Wednesday night and illustrated his lecture with lantern slides.

According to Dr. Anderson, Vienna is one of the most beautiful cities in the world. The city dates back to Roman times when walls were built around cities for protection against invaders. The old wall is still standing, and outside the wall a beautiful court, about one-fourth mile wide, is laid out in perfect symmetry. Living Conditions The city is controlled by a Socialist government, and the working people live in the best apartments available at a cost of $1.50 to $2.00 per week. All the water in the city is free, and the streets are carefully washed every morning. Due to the fact that all the garbage is kept in hermetically sealed cans until its disposal, Vienna is one of the cleanest cities of the world. The University is run in an entirely different manner from American universities. A student, ex-

Tonight in the Virginia Dare Ballroom, Sir Walter Hotel, the Bachelor Club will give their annual fall dance from nine until one. Music will be furnished by Jimmie Fuller and his Carolinians. Sponsors for the dance are Sarah Oliver, Katherine McCall, Cathrine Noel, Phyllis Sargeant, Helen Morton, and Jane Womble. All State students and their dates are cordially invited to attend. There will be a floor committee for stags desiring introduction to the ladies. Attractive bids have been issued for this, the Bachelor Club's first fall dance, which promises to be one of the most outstanding dances of the Raleigh social set.

OVER 5,000,000 Frank MEDICO PIPE SMOKERS AGREE WITH DR. MILLING, M. D.

Feb. 10, 1937

S. M. Frank & Co., Inc. New York, N. Y. Gentlemen— About eighteen months ago I was forced to quit smoking a pipe because the tarry products in the heel kept me chronically nauseated. Too bad, but it couldn't be helped. No use feeling miserable every time I fired up. So I stayed off tobacco for over a year.

Then one day I saw a few Frank's Medicos in a drugist's showcase, and half-heartedly decided to try one. So many patented filter systems on the market. But I'd risk a dollar on one anyhow, just in hopes ...

For six happy months, now I've been smoking that Frank's. This afternoon I bought my second one, and have it sending up income as I write. I want to tell you—in case you don't already know it—that you're one of the benefactors of society. Lo! the poor Indian! Lo! Sir Walter Raleigh! Lo! everybody who died before you brought out a filter that really works. I'm telling my friends by the dozen, but not fast enough.

You may use my name if you care to, and add that this letter is absolutely unsolicited on your part.

Very cordially yours, Chapman J. Milling, M.D.
