Student Council Clarifies Stand

MOTIONS PASSED

Council Holds Special Meeting To Determine Action In Future Violations of College Rules; Pass Motion Prohibiting Destruction of Other College Property

The Student Council of this school met last Friday night to discuss the stand that it would take in future legislation concerning the conduct of the students of State College.

Presiding over the meeting was J. C. Frink, president of the Student Body, who called the meeting following controversial incidents that occurred on this campus and on the Wake Forest Camp us two weeks ago at the State-Wake Forest football game.

Proceeding the meeting, President Frink issued this statement: "The Students make certain laws by which they are governed, and if these laws are to be enacted impartially to all students, the Council must let the students know what its stand will be in legislative matters in the future."

Members of the Council have this week addressed every class meeting that has been held. They have stated their exact stand, and announced that in the future all incidents will be impartially heard and that the Council will pass judgment according to the laws of the Student Government.

Motions passed by the Council at the Friday night meeting were:

1. Motion: That the vote of conviction be changed from three-fifths to three-fourths. (The Council now has only four members.) Passed.

2. Motion: That a student be considered under the jurisdiction of the Student Council as long as he is a student at State College. Passed.

3. Motion: Excessive drinking which results in disorderly or unbecomingly conduct shall be punished at the discretion of the Student Council. Passed.

4. Motion: That after the Council warns a student, and a student member is found in the act of cheating will be expelled for a minimum of one term. Passed.

5. Motion: That any student of a name and the misconduct for which he is convicted will be published in the Technician. Passed.

6. Motion: That any student of this College who willfully disfigure or destroys any permanent property of any college shall be punished by suspension. Passed.

(This last motion does not mean the taking of goal posts.)

Textile Frat Initiates Six

Phi Psi, national honorary textile fraternity, completed last week its fall initiation of six new members.

The new members, who will be given final oaths on November 18, are: Bill Wetzel, Bob Wood, Ed Johnson, Harry McNeill, William A. J. Peacock, and J. V. Kirkman.

The local chapter of Phi Psi, has planned an extensive program for the coming year. Several functions of both social and business nature will be held during the winter and spring terms. The annual banquet for all of the new members will be held in May. Some prominent man in the textile industry will be taken in as an honorary member at the spring celebration.

UNBELIEVABLE

Startling, almost breath-taking reports, came late last night that the Watsonian, supposedly the campus humor magazine, would make its initial appearance today.

Although Editor Lane could not be contacted last night to confirm this report, he presented THE TECHNICIAN staff last week that there would be a Watsonian this term.

Rumors also have it that the incident in the building was caused by a minor injury suffered by the editor when he cut his finger clipping jokes out from other magazines.

GIFT FOR SCHOOL TOPS DISCUSSION AS SENIORS MEET

Students Wrangle At Assembly As Gift For College Is Debated; Clock For Memorial Tower Heads List of Proposals

An important meeting of the senior class was held yesterday in the YMCA for the purpose of discussing the selection of the annual class gift.

The meeting was opened by President Gilbert, who stated the purpose of the meeting and then called on the chairman of the gift committee for a report.

The chairman, Bob Blackwood, stated that suggestions for the gift had been sought from the faculty and that the committee had looked into all of the possible donations from different angles and had eliminated all, excepting that of a clock for the Memorial Tower. He stated that the clock was found to be the logical choice for a gift.

The suggestion was met with a great deal of controversy and a heated discussion was carried on, both for and against the idea. J. C. Frink, president of the Student Body, finally moved that the committee's selection be approved, and after a second had been made and another heated discussion had been quelled, a vote was taken. More than 45 per cent of the class were in favor of the motion but it was decided that two-thirds vote in its favor was required, so a motion was made and passed stating that the committee reconsider and present other suggestions at the next meeting of the class.

The meeting was attended by only 184 out of the 329 members of the senior class.

'Ted' Mercer To Talk Here

Will Visit Campus Under Auspices YMCA November 9-16 To Lecture On Personal Problems Which Confront Youth of Today

E. C. "Ted" Mercer, Christian Missionary to the United States of America, will be at the YMCA during the week of November 9-16 to lecture on the personal problems which confront every student and virtually every man today.

Referring round table discussions with small groups, he will probably give only a small number of lectures to large assemblies, but the time and place for these have not been determined at the present. Most of his work here will be done during several informal discussions with small groups in dormitories and fraternity houses.

Remaining on the campus for a week last year he became well known among those who are now upperclassmen at State College, and it is at their request that he returns this year. Every one of the students who heard his lectures and spoke with him last year is anxious to have an opportunity to meet him again.

Belonging to one of the oldest families in the South, he is a college graduate and fraternity man. He is well qualified to discuss the pitfalls of life because as a young man he sank to the very depths of society. Since then thirty years have passed and, reformed by a mission in New York long ago, he has devoted his life to helping the young and old upon the right path.

Because his work and methods are free from commercialism and sensationalism, he is endorsed by over 1,000 prominent bishops, rectors, ministers, and consecrated laymen throughout America.

Mercer has spoken in hundreds of high schools, colleges, churches, clubs, penal institutions, and before every possible kind of gathering. Millions of people of all creeds and classes have heard his addresses, and thousands owe much of their happiness to him.

While he was here last year, the military department very willingly gave up a drill period in order that the regiment might hear Mercer's life story. He also addressed the freshmen assembly, the YMCA cabinet and the freshmen YMCA council.

VICTORIOUS WOLFPACK WELCOMED HOME!

Finance Report Is Made Public

Publications Here All Showed Profit Last Year; Student Government Statement and Other Campus Organizations Also Given

The financial statement of all student publications on this campus which are supported by student publications fees has been released by Romeo Lefort, assistant dean of students and chairman of the Publications Board.

The report shows the profits and expenditures of THE TECHNICIAN, Agromock, and Watsonian, as well as the Student Government and the other organizations on this campus which derive their financial support from the students activities fees.

The practice of publishing the financial statement of the various publications and the student activities fund was begun year before last in an effort to disprove rumors that excessive profits were being made by the publications heads.

This is the thirteenth year that the publications have been under the jurisdiction of the Publications Board. The organization was founded in 1925 by L. L. Hedges, path who was then editor of the Agromock.

Four years ago a reorganization of the board took place and new laws and a new constitution were established.

The business manager and the editor of THE TECHNICIAN for 1936-37 made only $309.28 profit each, compared with last year each man receiving $299.94 compared to the $264.67 profit for 1935-36.

The Watsonian showed a slight increase in its profits over the year preceding, receiving a profit of $268.60 for 1936-37 for each man as compared to the $254.35 individual profit for 1935-36.

Since the board took control of the publications, not one of the individual publications has shown a loss, and all have shown nice profits.

Fifty per cent of all profits for each publication goes to the college, and the other fifty per cent is divided equally between the business manager and the editor.

STATE CAPITOL TO BE SCENE OF FORENSIC MEET

College Debating Organization To Inaugurate the South's First Student Legislative Assembly at Noon Today; Other Colleges Invited to Participate

The South's first Student Legislative Assembly will be called to order on Friday, November 12, at 12 noon in the State Capitol in Raleigh.

The meeting will be opened with an address by the Honorable Clyde R. Hoey, governor of North Carolina, and Thad Eure, secretary of State, will act as parliamentarian.

The State College Forensic Society has invited representatives from the colleges of North Carolina to attend this assembly, and they expect delegates from about twenty schools in this State.

The meeting will be conducted on the same general basis as our State legislature. Important economic, political, and social problems of the State will be discussed throughout the assembly. Desired legislation will be introduced in the form of measures, discussed on the floor, and then voted on by the entire delegation, and thus made "laws of the State." Many problems have been chosen for discussion, among which are the revision of the criminal code of North Carolina, and advisability of President Roosevelt for a third term.

The discussion carried on at the meeting will be broadcast for one-half hour over station WPTF from the floors of the Senate and the House from nine until nine-thirty Saturday morning, November 12. As such time the people of the State will hear their "future legislators" express their opinion regarding important issues. The assembly will adjourn Saturday afternoon.

A cordial invitation to attend has been extended by Professor E. H. Padgett, director of the Forensic Society, and originator of the assembly, and Joe Frye, president of the legislative assembly.

Anyone who is particularly interested in this field of work and who would like to attend the South's first Student Legislative Assembly should contact Joe Frye or Professor Padgett as soon as possible.

Team Greeted By Large Mob

Rousing Welcome Extended Victorious Wolfpack After Grid Battle With Boston; Station Rocks With Cheers of Students

The State College Wolfpack, fresh from a glorious surprise victory over the powerful and highly-touted Boston College eleven, was greeted by over a thousand wildly cheering students and supporters as it pulled into the Union Station late Sunday afternoon.

As the train came to a screeching halt, a tremendous ear-splitting ovation filled the crowded station. Hats and torn bits of paper were thrown joyously into the air. Then, amid the rousing strains of "State College Keep Fighting Along," the players, grinning wildly, piled out of their two Pullman cars.

Another cheer went up and then the eager crowd broke for the players and coaches. For ten or fifteen minutes they were greeted personally, and finally "Doc" Newton was persuaded to make a speech.

The usually "Doleful Doc" took off his hat and, smiling for all he was worth, said: "On behalf of the team and myself I want to thank you for this fine demonstration. All of us are glad that we won, and I hope that this is the beginning of many successful seasons."

After the students were led in a cheer for "Doc" Newton, they were called for Eddie Berlinksi, Art Rooney and other members of the team. But the tired Wolves had worked their way to the edge of the crowd and were busily engaged in hunting for rides to the college.

It was a splendid reception for a group of red gridiron heroes, who had triumphed to defeat one of the East's leading teams.

Boost Your Team

Tonight at 7 o'clock, in Riddick Stadium, a pep meeting will be held for the Wolfpack in preparation for the Citadel game tomorrow afternoon.

Every student is urged to attend and assist in boosting the Wolves to a victory in tomorrow's grid classic. Coach "Doc" Newman, Herman Hickman, and the captain of the team will speak. Junior Cheer Leader Mosley will be in charge of the meeting.

Delegates Arrive From Far and Near To Lend Our Speakers a Willing Ear

By STEPHEN SAILER

The time has come! That highlight in the life of every publication-minded college man or woman in the entire State of North Carolina, that warm spot in the heart of every editor and business manager, the annual fall convention of the Collegiate Press Association got off to a grand and glorious start when the largest number of delegates in the history of the organization registered here yesterday.

The Hotel Sir Walter has taken on the gain air of a college campus. Chic young co-eds and smartly groomed magnates of the publications world are very much in evidence throughout the many sections of the building. In the language of the theatre world, we have a full house. Beaming, back-slapping delegates are everywhere as greetings are joyously shouted across the lobby and through the corridors. Hands which have already become weary are enthusiastically pumped as new acquaintances are made and old ones renewed. The entire city of Raleigh has literally been taken by storm as only such a group of eager young collegians can take it.

Accompanied by our "glowing" editor, this correspondent visited the scene of all action, the convention headquarters, and was very favorably impressed. A bit of persuasion brought forth numerous introductions to some of the fairer sex. There are, by the way, more of the sweet young things attending this year's session than there ever have been in the past. After all those months spent pounding at a typewriter and accumulating gray hair, I am finally beginning to see that a newspaper man's life does have its good points (and curves) to be behind.

From all that I have seen, there seems to be every indication that the present little get-together will be the principle topic of many a tall story and "bull session" for a long time to come. In fact, quite a few of our worthy delegates seem to have gotten off to an early start in the game commonly known as plain and fancy bull-tossing. Some of the stories and supposed experiences which I happened to listen in on would make Baron Munchausen look like—Continued on page 4.

DELEGATES HERE FOR CONVENTION

STATE STUDENTS TO HAVE CHANCE OVER AIR WAVES

WPTF Conducts "Search for Talent" Campaign To Give State Students Chance At Employment As Radio Entertainers and Announcers; Many Prospects of Permanent Jobs

State students will be given an opportunity to demonstrate their ability over the airways during the month of November, in the "Search for Talent" campaign now being conducted by radio station WPTF, according to a letter to the Technician from J. B. Clark, of the broadcasting station.

During the campaign, which lasts for the whole of this month, WPTF will give auditions at any hour on any day to those who wish to test their talent as radio entertainers. "The station is especially interested in getting as many State College seniors as possible to try out for announcers," said Professor Ledwick C. Hartley, of the English department here, last night.

Professor Hartley, who is in charge of the portion of the campaign on the campus which is searching for announcer talent, also stated that the station would offer part-time employment this year to the boy or boys whose education and speaking ability warrant it, with the possibility of full-time employment in the future should they develop satisfactorily.

Students who have talent as entertainers, singers, actors, readers, orators, etc.—may visit the WPTF studios in Raleigh at any time and an audition will be arranged at the convenience of the applicant. No appointment is necessary.

Regular programs on the air will be given those whose auditions merit radio recognition.

Smith Speaks On Dictators

Chemical Engineers Hear Talk On European Situation Tuesday Night In Regular Meeting

Dr. J. C. Smith addressed the meeting of the AICHE last Tuesday evening, and used for his subject the industrial situation in Europe under the various dictatorships giving interesting side-lights on the lives and rise to power of the dictators.

Dr. Smith is a graduate of Wake Forest, has a degree from John Hopkins University, and has traveled extensively in several European countries obtaining first-hand information on conditions there. He was introduced by Dr. E. E. Randolph of the chemical engineering department.

Also during the meeting plans were discussed for a dance to be held November 26. President G. R. Killam was in charge of the meeting.

3. What was the population of New York City at the last census?
4. How many "moons" has the planet Mars?
5. When was the Constitution of the State of North Carolina adopted?
6. What is a clique?
7. What U. S. President served the shortest term?
8. What is the State flower of North Carolina, and what other states also have the same state flower?
9. How many cities are there in North Carolina with a population of over 25,000?
10. What does osculate mean?

Largest On Record

Over 70 Delegates Representing Twenty North Carolina Schools Have Registered; Program Gets Under Way For Most Successful Meeting In Association History

The largest convention in the history of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association officially opened yesterday with registration of delegates in the Sir Walter Hotel, followed by an informal reception in the Sir Walter dining room last night.

Late last night the number of delegates to register had reached 72, which is the largest record for fall conventions in Association knowledge. There many delegates represent some twenty colleges and universities scattered throughout the State, and the officers in charge expected ten more representatives before noon today.

Three Days

Beginning three days of business meetings, association work, and entertainment of visitors, the convention began officially to convene at a luncheon 2 o'clock when the delegates began signing the roll list. The meeting will adjourn on Saturday following the State-College football game at which the visitors will be the guests of State College.

This year's convention, with State College acting as official host, is predicted to be the best in the history of the association, and Charlie Dunnagan, president, began putting into operation the elaborate program that has been planned for the guests by the committee.

This morning at 9:30 the general meeting will begin at the hotel, which has been made official headquarters for the convention, and at this time the business of the association will be discussed. Following this, the visitors will be the guests of the College at a luncheon in the College YMCA, at which time they will hear an address by F. H. Jeter, head of the State College News Bureau and chairman of the College Publications Board.

Group Meetings

This afternoon the group meetings will be held, each group under the leadership of distinguished men in the field of work which the students represent.

"Rolleo" Held By Foresters

Many Students Attend Annual Forestry Outing At Hill Forest; Seniors Are Winners In Contests

The State College Forestry School gave its annual "Rolleo" last Saturday, October 30, at Hill Forest, in Durham County, which the students represent.

This "Rolleo" was in the charge of Jim Huff, a senior in forestry, and has been proclaimed by many as the most successful in the series of annual forestry outings.

Outside of the 128 forestry students from this school who attended the annual affair, there were also present many members of the Durham University Forestry School, and the faculty of the Forestry School at State.

During the afternoon the faculty and students were entertained by many contests that were held between students from the various classes. The most spectacular feat of the afternoon was the tree climbing contest for speed. The object of this match was to climb a tree thirty feet high and descend to the ground in the shortest time possible. The contest was won by Malcolm Daughtry, who got off to a bad start on the climbing, but gained his lost time by dropping from the top of the tree instead of shinning back down, as did all other contestants.

In the event of tree felling for accuracy, Bailey and Chester cut down an eighty foot tree, twelve inches in diameter, and dropped

Welcome, Pressmen!

N. C. STATE COLLEGE is proud to be your host at the annual convention of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association.

During your stay here, we will try to keep you entertained every hour of the day from Thursday through Saturday, and many interesting programs, both educational and entertaining, have been arranged in your honor.

You are indeed lucky to have as one of your feature speakers the Honorable Clyde R. Hoey, Governor of the State of North Carolina, as well as many noted men connected with the press of the State. Meetings will be held where these men will be able to tell you of the problems and difficulties in the field of publication, and these men will draw from an inexhaustible source of publication knowledge the answers to your publication problems.

And there will be social functions for your entertainment, the best that the largest hostelry in Raleigh can afford, so that you will leave Raleigh with a longing to return again.

We hope that your stay will be a pleasant one.

Protect Your Legislative Rights

THE Student Council has presented its stand on legislative matters pertaining to the students of this school.

And if reports have truth, the Council has a chip on its shoulder to all the students who rise in defiance to the motions passed last week for the regulation of student conduct which does harm to the good reputation of this College.

With the present set-up, the students have a strong voice in legislation pertaining to themselves, and it is very seldom that the faculty interfere with decisions handed down by the Student Council, a body composed of and representative of the students. In years past, punishments for student misconduct were meted out by members of the faculty, and it is only in the past few years that students have gained control of these legislative rights.

Now if the students do not support and protect these legislative rights, and if violations of the laws continue without proper punishment, the administration of the school might be tempted to regain control of student legislation and deny the students the privileges of the legislation they now control.

Students made the laws, and it is the duty of the students to support their laws through cooperation with their Student Council.

Each student of State College can do his share to support the campus publications by patronizing the establishments whose advertisements appear in the TECHNICIAN.

Make Your Talents Pay

IF there is any talent at State College, there is a great possibility that it will find its way through the air lanes via WPTF radio station.

That station deserves the students' vote of thanks, for they are going to give a free audition to any student of the college who requests it at the downtown studios.

Any individual who would like to know whether or not his voice is fitted for radio may have the audition without a bit of expense, at any hour of any day during the month of November.

From more than two thousand students, surely there is talent that will be fine enough to win a place on a salaried commercial program, and even if you cannot win top honors, you will have the enjoyment and thrill of having an audition.

Any type of talent is welcomed — announcers, actors, readers, singers, orchestras or commentators. Surely you know someone on the campus who has some of the qualifications for one of these positions. Help him by urging him to have an audition.

WPTF owes State College no debt; but we owe her one, a great one, for through her channels we have broadcast many important events from our campus that have reached the far corners of the South.

N. C. STATE

Brass Band and Wild Cheers

HIGH praise and merited recognition has been given to the reception that the students of this school accorded their victorious football team which returned here last Sunday afternoon from a game with Boston College.

More than a thousand students turned out on short notice to congratulate members of a team that played a spirited game in the face of predicted defeat and came out victorious.

It has been a long time since the students of this school have shown such a spirit as a cooperative body, and it is this spirit, coupled with a do-or-die spirit of the football team, that has led our team to four victories, one tie, and one loss in this school year.

Nor is our new-found spirit going unnoticed in the South. With any reference to our college by sports commentators in newspapers, magazines, or over radio channels, there is always reference to the "new spirit" we have here. And we deserve that recognition for we pulled easily out of a mess created last year that could easily have proved disastrous to this college.

We are rightfully proud of our football team.

N. C. STATE

Think First of Your Health

IS there anything more dangerous to health than drinking out of a glass someone has drunk from before you?

No, you say. But at the Carolina-State and at the Carolina-Fordham football games, hundreds of people violated this law of sanitation by buying water for five cents from water boys who carried but one drinking glass from which all who bought had to drink.

There are few people who are not willing to pay five cents for a cool drink of pure water in the heat of the afternoon during a football game, but with such a tremendous profit for the seller, he could easily afford to bottle the water in sterilized bottles and still make his profit.

The habit of drinking from the same vessel is one that belongs to an age far in the past, not in our age of careful sanitation and cleanliness.

So if you see boys selling ice-water at a football game, be certain that the glass you drink from is not the one just handed back by a drunk or a tobacco chewer.

N. C. STATE

Wake Forest Helps Celebrate

WHEN the State College team pulled into the Union Station last Sunday afternoon, they were met with the strains of "State College Keeps Fighting Along" by a band which included not only our own students but two students from Wake Forest College.

On the short notice that the band had that the team would arrive at 4:30, all members could not be notified, and quite a few members were absent. And who should volunteer to fill the vacant positions but two Wake Forest students.

And we hope that this act will promote a friendlier spirit between our two colleges, for in the past few weeks, that spirit has been lacking due to certain misfortunes arising out of the State-Wake Forest football game.

But if more of the students show the spirit that these two Wake Forest boys did, we will be able to build up a fine spirit of friendliness between the two schools.

HERE and THERE

by Dick Mackenzie

With Alexander Woolcott, noted critic and author, speaking over the radio, I begin this bit of "Here and There." If I had had the pleasure of traveling as extensively as my radio friend, I would paint a verbal picture of North Carolina State that would convince everyone that we are, no doubt, the greatest college in the State.

There seems to be one most loyal subject of N. C. State abiding in the north of the Seventh Dormitory, or that is my deduction after viewing those red and white draperies which were floating on cool breezes as I passed one day. Well, loyalty does begin at home.

Carolina received a good "Rambling" last Saturday when the Fordham graders caught them unaware, and they know everyone has their ups and downs, and Carolina was just caught down after their visit to the ether on the preceding week-end.

"Curly" Frink and "Casey" Huby were in their glory last Friday night when the high school "sweets" thronged the campus. I hear that they are anxious to have such forms of entertainment as high school football staged more often on our campus.

Have you noted just how "woo" declines? It appears to be declined as follows:
Woo, Whoa, Oho, Oooo-ooo

Johnny Banks seems to have an extra pair of pajamas. In fact, he has so many that he lends a pair to a fair one at Peace.

The Wednesday morning paper stated that a certain minister said the American Legion was "glorifying war" in their celebration of Armistice Day. This appears to be a gross error, from the attitude of the R. O. T. C. which takes an active part in this celebration. I don't believe there is one man in the R. O. T. C. who would glorify war on this occasion, but, rather, glorify the return of peace.

Those who saw the news reel of Eddie Berlink's remarkable score against Boston College should have seen "Doc" Newton's picture of the play. After Eddie made the beautiful run, "Doc" reversed the projector and Eddie saw the fastest reverse playing that has ever been done. I have heard that he could run as fast one way as the other, but it was hard to believe until "Doc" proved it on the screen.

Watauga Hall has acquired some new wire entanglements around the grass lawns surrounding it. Maybe someone was trying to convince the embryo engineers the quickest way between two points is not a straight line.

Russell Burcham seems to be spending a great deal of his time in the mop-up, and not for the purpose of buying books either. He telephoned me to be the chief attraction for the "prex." The odd part of it all is that he always says he's calling a "girl from home."

Some of the Phi Kappa Tau boys called Radio Station WBT in Charlotte last Wednesday night and asked them to play "You Can't Stop Me From Dreaming" dedicated to the dead, dead Meredith lasses. Tish, tish, boys!

LISTENING IN GLEANINGS

by JOE MICHAEL

A buzz here and a squeak there, sometimes called static, Eddy Duchin is signed up for two commercials this fall. His mustache has always been a favorite with the ladies, so it is not news that one of his programs is for a cosmetic creator . . . Sam ("Schlipperman") Hearn who has been absent from the Jack Benny program since it "went Hollywood" rejoined the crew October 3. "Hello Stranger" . . . The Lyman gives his ideas on the most popular waltz tunes of all times. In order: "Dear Old Girl," "Missouri Waltz," "Down by the Old Mill Stream," "Beautiful Ohio," and "Kiss Me Again."

Johnny Davis, former Waring "Scat" singer, is doing a bit for the movies now . . . Rudy Vallee, who turned out to be a real head on Paul Whiteman's Texas Dude Ranch, has gone strictly urban again and will do a ballet dance in his next picture for Warner Brothers. Julie try and picture Malastro Vallee in almost every big city from the Atlantic to the Pacific, selling every thing from artificial eye lashes to sewing kits. He advises people to "see America first" and "Now how is this for good advertising? Not long ago Hal Kemp announced that his band would next play Duke Ellington's "Caravan," smartly added "when you hear the camels, think of Camel fields." No wonder Kemp's band is so popular with sponsors as well as listeners . . . Deanna Durbin sure sets a high price on her chirping. When the promoters of the San Francisco Auto Show asked her to appear on their program, she asked a record fee of $25,000 a week, and was turned down . . . The Phi Sphialas Ag Girl Orchestra is made up of thirty-two "Charmgirls" who own stock in the band, something on the order of the Casa Loma outfit. Spitznally was at first the laughing stock of the radio world, but he soon snowed the chucklers that girl musicians could climb as high as the gentlemen "horn tooters," by breaking all existing records at New York's Paramount Theatre last summer. Realizing that an all-girl band must be perfect to gain recognition, Spitznally holds a six-hour rehearsal every day. He has to call an intermission every time a big parade goes down Fifth Avenue because the femmes almost refuse to do anything but watch . . . Charlie McCarthy will be back after a newsboy that Bergen used to know . . . Can you tell the difference between the voices of Bing Crosby, Jerry Cooper, and Perry Como?

Running over to the TECHNICIAN office to tell friends Saller and Davidson a new joke . . . an antique joke is even better than none at all . . . empty office in the front . . . hearing snores from the back office . . . finding Charlie Dunnagan, the loquacious lug who rubs his hands with glee at the mere thought of an eight-page issue, sprawling peacefully with his feet propped on the desk . . . ambling down to the football field.

Handing out congratulations, greetings, salutations, top-of-the-afternoons, and a few pip-pips to the boys for their fine performance last week-end against the Boston Eagles . . . watching Mac Berry over in a corner by himself doing the "little apple" . . . maybe he is practicing for the trouble and found on the awful truth . . . terms the contents of which they had completely assimilated . . . ### EARLY REPORTS SHOW INCREASE IN "Y" CANVASS

Record Amount Already Reported As Only Five Out of Twenty Have Reported

In the first week of its canvass for funds from the faculty members of this College, which money will go into a fund for the support of the YMCA, a total of $177.00 has already been donated, according to officials of the YMCA who believe that contributions this year will be far in excess of the contributions of previous years.

Since only five of the twenty members of the faculty given assignments as canvassers have reported, YMCA officials in charge of the canvass are of the opinion that the total will exceed the $600 goal by a good margin. In completing their assignments these five canvassers have already covered the best parts of the entire territory assigned to all twenty faculty solicitors, and much work remains to be done in the remaining weeks of the canvass.

Every faculty member who has not already contributed to the fund is urged to give as much as he can.

Rendering invaluable services to students and faculty members the YMCA provides a self-help bureau, assembly room, reading room, and many other aids to all. Officials of the YMCA are always glad to give advice based on long experience to any student about any problem, no matter how large or small.

Every resident of State College should contribute to the YMCA fund not only during membership drives but whenever he feels that he can spare any amount, large or small.

The average southern college spends $279 a year exclusive of college charges, the largest item of which ($270) is for clothes, a study at Hollins College, Virginia reveals.

Forum Decides Court Problem In Hot Debate

In a very heated debate upon the topic "Resolved: That Justice Black Be Urged To Resign," the Public Forum met Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the YMCA and voted in the negative by an overwhelming majority.

First, sixteen students gave prepared speeches and ten gave rebuttals. Then the audience joined in the rebuttal. The debate was so heated that at times as many as six or seven people tried to express themselves at one time.

At the conclusion of the debate a vote was taken on the topic of debate, and Justice Black was urged to resign in office by the large majority of thirty-one to nine.

This year B. R. Knott is chairman of the Public Forum and J. T. Frye is parliamentarian. The next meeting will be held on November 16 when some subject pertaining to the Japanese boycott will be debated.

Mrs. Clyde R. Hoey Talks Temperance

Speaking at the YMCA Wednesday night at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Clyde R. Hoey, wife of the Governor of North Carolina, chose as a topic "Success in Character Building and Financial Success."

In addressing her audience, made up of students and several visitors, she made its members realize that success in a financial way means little unless it is accompanied by success in building character. Mrs. Hoey stated that she believes the love of money is the root of all evil and asked the students not to lose sight of the finer things in life in a mad pursuit of money.

For years Mrs. Hoey has spoken in favor of temperance and she devoted most of her lecture Wednesday night to this subject. She urged that the young men, and especially the young women of today, abstain from the use of any form of alcohol. "If you will refuse drinks when they are offered to you a few times, your friends will soon take your abstainance as a matter of course," said Mrs. Hoey.

In closing her lecture she advised the young people present to save in order that they may be independent financially when they are no longer able to work.

Sam Moss, president of the YMCA, opened the meeting by introducing Horace McSwain. Since McSwain is a native of Shelby, N. C., the home of Mrs. Hoey, he has known her a long time and was called on by Moss in order that he might introduce her to the audience.

The Type of Dance Is Not the Thing But Listen Sister, You Gotta Swing

At the Theatres

THE SWOOPER INNER—who wraps his arm around your middle, hauls you in, and after you're completely plioned and powerless tries his best to find out how many interesting twists your backbone can manage without cracking. If it cracks in the swooping, you are not a good dancer. The least this type, could do would be to make an honest woman of you afterwards.

THE CHISELER—is he, lowest of beasts, who after cavorting around with you in breathless ecstasy (he is in ecstasy, you breathless) switches his grip to a lean on your right shoulder, propa his weight there and moves his legs like all hell while you're more or less anchored to the spot—except the back of your lap which displays a tendency to buckle up from the strain.

THE LONDON BRIDGERS—or a variation of the cheek-to-cheek dancer who presses your heads together and presses his cheek comfortably and permanently against yours. Then aghest at his own audacity, he does his best to get the rest of his body as far away from yours as possible—giving the effect of a bridge. The only commendable thing to be said for this type is that if the floor is crowded a smaller couple can very easily dance in the gap between the bodies without disturbing anyone.

THE PUMPER—He is a more enthusiastic member of the hand-shaker family. After he has sized you up, he grasps your right hand firmly in his left and without further ado proceeds with the pumping process which consists of hauling you up on your toes with a yank and setting you back again with a downward push on the same arm. It may be very vigorous or gracefully slow as the falling of leaves according to the tempo of the music and the strength of his arm. Of course, this is more or less unpopular with the fellow dancers who may lose a tooth or an ear from too intimate contact with these arms but then it's all in the spirit of the thing.

THE BY-DAMNED - I - CAME-HERE - TO - DANCE - AND - I'LL DANCE type which is restricted to the athletic, especially the football player and the wrestler. He is inclined to start you at one end of the dance hall. Then after he has tucked you securely under his arm so you won't fumble, he takes a deep breath, gathers his strength, looks for an open stretch and you're off. Anything's likely to happen. Of course the open space may have vanished in the meantime but never let it be said that that mattered. Nay, nay. If you're able to spot this type of dancer beforehand you can leave previous instructions to be revived and have the bones set at the infirmary.

Finally, there is the ingenious sinner who tries the double-dip, in which he clamps a finger in the middle of your backbone which automatically collapses you into a dip—which is well and good since a little relaxation never hurt anyone. The jar comes when he quickly sneaks up on himself just as you are in an upright position, and without the signal slips the foot out again, which leaves you astride his leg. This gives the effect of horseback riding or the remains of the childhood complex of banister sliding. Dignity is no help.

"Through proper education of American youth, and only through such means, will this country be able to ward off the menace of Fascism and Communism," said Dr. Allan Wilson Hobbs, dean of the college or arts and sciences of the University of North Carolina to his students.

More than 100 Georgetown University students were used last spring as human guinea pigs in test of the personality-changing effects of the drug, benzadrine sulphate.

State's 1937 Graduates Working In Many Fields

The latest batch of Alumni, the class of 1937, are doing well for themselves out in the wide, wide world, to judge from the news which periodically seeps back to their "Alma Mater." Practically all of last year's seniors seem to have jobs, and many, no doubt, have collected wives.

Hall Morrison, last year's Technician editor, is with the Eastman Kodak Company, Kingsport, Tenn., and with loads of State's physical chemistry under his belt, he seems to be making good. Hall was present at the State-Davidson game, and will make another public appearance when he attends Carl Lange's wedding on November 12 as best man.

Frank "We're losing money" Curry is with the American Cast Iron Pipe Company, Birmingham, Ala., holding down a "white collar" job. We hear he is teaching a Sunday School class!

Lloyd Brown, last year's student government president, is in Charlotte with the DuPont Company in their chemistry and drying department, while Jack Gaw, State's "silver-tongued orator" and "Y" president, is located in Milwaukee, Wis., with Allis-Chalmers Company.

George Ashby, the financial wizard of the Agromech of 1937, is working with Firestone's in Charlotte, making a temporary stop on his way to Akron. Charlie Matthews has just completed a stay in the vicinity of Marathon, Texas, where he held down a temporary job making a map and survey. His transportation on this job was, we hear, a pack animal. This fall Matthews plans to go to the University of New Mexico.

Peter Ibric is in Covington, Va., with the Draper Corporation. Fred Gore is in Hammond, Ind., with the Grassell Chemical Company—lonesome but getting along.

Clarence Gale is in Savannah, Ga., climbing telephone poles for the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. He is reported to have a special hat to keep that "cue ball" head from getting blistered.

Dr. Robert H. Goddard, Clark University physics professor seeking to develop a rocket plane which can be sent up 100 miles or more, has succeeded in driving his test rocket to a height of 7,500 feet at a speed of 700 miles an hour.

Some people are so painfully right that they would rather be right than pleasant.—Bail.

Phi Eta Sigma Chief Subject Of Hicks' Talk

Freshmen Are Told Of Honorary Society In Regular Assembly; Harrelson Speaks; Means Introduces Members

At the Freshman Assembly yesterday in Pullen Hall, which was attended by practically all of the 230 freshmen enrolled in State College, Romeo Lefort, assistant dean of students, turned the meeting over to Henry Means, president of the Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary fraternity.

Means introduced W. N. Hicks, associate professor of sociology and religion, who made a short talk on the history and growth of the Phi Eta Sigma throughout the country. Hicks said that through the efforts of Dean Cloyd the chapter at State College was established. Hicks added that for his minor assistance he was made a member, of which he was very proud.

The aims and requirements of Phi Eta Sigma were given by Means, who said that an average of two and a half credit points for each hour taken must be made the first term of a student's freshman year or maintained all three terms.

Harrelson, dean of administration, spoke on courtesy and gentleness, and said that "there is nothing to keep us from being gentlemen, and it does not cost us anything." He praised highly the fine spirit of our football team and said "Our team went to Boston and played a gentlemanly game, and the spirit of the game will be remembered long after the score is forgotten."

Colonel Harrelson spoke of the fine reception given the team upon their return, and said that there was many favorable comments made about this in the city of Raleigh and throughout the State.

The freshmen were reminded that there will be a pep meeting in Riddick Stadium tonight at 7:00 p. m., and all were urged to be present as it will be broadcast at exactly seven o'clock.

Region Selected To Fill Vacancy Left By Johnson

"Bull" Region, Former State Star, Becomes New Boxing Coach For Varsity and Freshmen

Announcement was made today by J. F. Miller, Director of Athletics, that Alex "Bull" Region, former varsity boxing star, has been appointed to fill the vacancy recently created when Peelo Johnson resigned his position in order to pursue a business career.

Region, who completed his athletic career in a blaze of glory last year, is taking graduate work at the present time. He fought in the 175-lb. class and was undefeated in college competition. He was also captain of last year's ring squad and an outstanding member of the varsity football team. In his senior year, Region was honored by being selected as All-Southern guard, was the mythical eleven chosen each year by sports writers of the South's leading newspapers.

Tonight the delegates will be entertained at a banquet in the dining room of the Sir Walter, at which time they will hear short talks by several men of prominence in publication work, and short talks by various delegates. Music for the banquet will be furnished by "Sunny" Murphy and his State College Collegians.

Saturday morning the Honorable Clyde E. Hoey, governor of North Carolina, will give the address to the conventioners, after which they will be the guests of the College at the State-Citadel football game in Riddick stadium.

This convention is the first of two annual conventions which are conducted at the various colleges in North Carolina for the members of the NCCPA. The spring convention for this year will be held in Charlotte.

they are expected to be back in harness for the Citadel game, as will be Jesse Titum, who was injured at the start of the game. Louis Mark made his presence known frequently. The spring ball carriers, while Ed Coon did his share of the work.
State over Boston—The Wolves have been gaining power as the season has progressed. This year's team is far better than the one which lost to Boston last year 7-3.
Fordham over Carolina—When Ram meets Ram there's bound to be fireworks. The seven blocks of granite from Rose Hill should smother Carolina's running attack. It'll be close.
Duke over Washington and Lee—The Blue Devils should swamp the team which Alabama shellacked 19-0.
Tennessee over Georgia—It won't be a one-sided fight by any means, but Tennessee's 24-0 victory over Sewanee was very conclusive.
Alabama over Kentucky—Kentucky's win over Manhattan was negligible, and Kentucky will see red.
Clemson over Wake Forest—Wake Forest will continue on the small end of the final score. Clemson's defeat of South Carolina leaves no doubt as to their power.
Tulane over Mississippi—The Green Wave is looking for vengeance for its defeat by Carolina, and it looks as if Ole Miss is going to be the sacrificial goat.
Georgia Tech over Vanderbilt—This is going to be close, but the law of averages is on Tech's side, and it's their turn to win a game.
Maryland over Florida—It won't even be close. Maryland is going up, up.
Mercer over Oglethorpe—The Bears will claw Oglethorpe.
Auburn over East Tennessee—Auburn will continue its winning streak.
And I predict, against my better judgment, but because it's my old Alma Mater, NYU will subdue Andy Kerr's Red Raiders of the Chenango. Mal Stevens' boys should be "violent violets" after the 19-0 defeat Lafayette handed them. It hurt the NYU boys most because last year they massacred the Lafayette Leopards 47-0.

WE WELCOME YOU!

To you, the members of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association, State College extends a warm and hearty welcome. This year's meeting will undoubtedly be the best in the history of the organization according to the increased attendance and the greater interest already manifested.

N. C. State feels proud to act as host. We hope that as host we will offer the members of the association every convenience and aid materially in putting on a larger and much improved convention.

"Find Yourself" Idea of Speech

John W. Sexton Tells Mechanical Engineers of the Importance of Choosing Right Career

John W. Sexton, president of the General Alumni Association, and in business life, trainmaster for the Seaboard Air Line Railway, spoke to the ASME last Tuesday night and issued a challenge to all undergraduates in two words: "Find Yourself."

Stressing the importance of choosing a career in which one is vitally interested and for which one is talented, Sexton laid great emphasis on the problem confronting engineering students in their work, the economics of engineering work, and relations with fellow workers, or the "human equation." He also stressed "Safety First" with the engineers, telling them that safety to workers is an important function of any organization.

The inspiring talk was the feature of the regular meeting of the ASME which was the first for the new initiates who joined the club this fall.

Thirty-one coeds at the University of Nebraska were exposed to infantile paralysis when a grade school teacher rooming in their rooming house became ill with the disease.

State Harriers Trail Tar Heels

Hunter Is First State Man To Cross Finish, Ending In Seventh Place

A valiant, but not fast enough, State harrier team met Carolina's runners last Friday on the Tar Heel 3 1/2 mile course and lost by a 1 to 55 score.

Hall, Crockett, and Troutman, all from the University of North Carolina, finished hand in hand to make it a triple tie for first place. The first State man to cross the finish was Hunter, who ended seventh.

In the closest game of the week Fourth Dormitory upset the dope bucket by tying the favored Fifth Dormitory team 6-6. Fourth was given credit for the game by virtue of six first downs to five.
Last week my average fell to .762. I picked two correct, missed two, and tied one, for an average of .500. This week we find several undefeated teams opposed to each other. Below is printed a sport calendar with my picks marked *.
1911 is for 1911 field, and RD is for Red Diamond.
Today—Football: Second 1911* vs. First 1911 on 1911, and Kappa Sig* vs. Sigma Pi on RD.
Monday—Football: Lambda Chi* vs. AGR on RD, and Third 1911* vs. Second Watuga on 1911.
Tuesday—Football: Pika vs. AKII on 1911, and First and Basement South vs. Second and Third South on RD.
Wednesday—Wrestling: Fraternity finals.
Thursday—Football: Delta Sig* vs. ALT on RD, and First and Second 7th vs. First Watuga on 1911.

The football results were: Pika 20, Phi Kappa Tau 9; SPE 8, Delta Sig 6; Sigma Nu 12, Pi Kappa Phi 7; KA won by forfeit over Theta Kappa Nu; Second and Third South 42, Third 7th 0; First and Second 7th won by forfeit over Second Watuga; and Fifth 6, Fourth 6.

The wrestling results from last night's semi-final matches in the Fraternity League were: 125—Purvis (SPE) over Meadows (Sigma Nu) F. 125—Remmey (Pika) over Morgan (AGR) F. Murdoch (Kappa Sig) over Smith (Phi Kappa Tau) F. 145—Mathenson (Sigma Nu) over Barnhart (Kappa Sig) F. Bell (Pi Kappa Phi) over Brown (Delta Sig) F. 155—Davis (Sigma Nu) over Grady (AKII) F. Bosewell (Pi Kappa Phi) over Santore (Delta Sig) T. Unlimited Honeycutt (AKII) over Hays (SPE) F.

In the Dormitory League the results were: 135—Elliott (1st Watuga) over Foster (3rd 7th) T. 145—Beaty (1st 1911) over Kaughman (1st and 2nd South) F. ### Cadets Come to Raleigh With Fine Record and a Small But Scrappy Club; Techs Favored

All pre-game indications point to a State victory when the Wolves clash with the Citadel on Riddick Field tomorrow afternoon. If the Pack is victorious, not only will it be their fifth straight victory this season, but they will be the third team since the 1927 team to have a season average of games won of .625.

The Citadel will bring a small team to Raleigh, but one which is extremely fast. The smallest man on the team is Cooks Robinson, 134-pound, five-foot seven-inch halfback, and probably the smallest college football player in the country. Robinson is reputed to be a dangerous man in the open field, but it is extremely doubtful that he'll get an opportunity to exhibit his prowess, as State's boys are going to fight awfully hard to keep their string of victories intact.

The heaviest man on the Bulldog team is Andy Sabados, 200-pound star center. Sabados is rated as one of the best centers in South Carolina. Last year, when he played in the backfield, he was voted the best blocker in the Palmetto State. Sabados' understudy is Bill Spain, a Raleigh boy who played on the Raleigh High's State championship team of 1935.

Two other outstanding players on the Cadet's team are Francis King, end and captain (brother of Army's Bill King), and Orville Roper, gargantuan tackle, and noted as a boxer.

Although Citadel lost to South Carolina last week, in doing so they displayed a fine offensive power, rolling up 205 yards by rushing, and amassing 15 first downs. State's gridgers, worn out from their battle with Boston College, Saturday rested. Monday, and scrimmaging did not begin until Tuesday afternoon.

Tuesday night Coach Newton showed the boys moving pictures of the Boston game, and gave them an opportunity to see themselves in action and to notice their mistakes. The high-spot of the picture came when Eddie Berlinski ran 74 yards for the winning touchdown. For several minutes the room in which the picture was shown rang with the cheers and applause of the audience.

Doc Newton sent the team against the B team, which used Citadel plays. Line plays were emphasized, as Doc's boys seem to have their passing plays well-mastered, as the 180 yards they gained in the air ways in the Boston scrap will well bear testimony.

For the first time in several weeks, the team will be at its full strength. Fred Gardner, Cecil Brownie, Danny Piloeno and Jesse Tatum have all recovered from their injuries, and all will be in the game Saturday.

State's lineup will probably be as follows—Ends, Sullivan and Mac Berry; guards, Brownie and Piloeno; tackles, Helms and Coons; center, Louie Mark; Fred Gardner, Paul Lozier, Ed Berlinski and Art Rooney will be in the backfield.

State will have ample and seasoned reserves in Tatum, Thompson, and Conrad, ends; Wooden and Hines, State's best-pocket size guards; tackles, Thompson and Fry; center, Retter. Replacements for the backfield will include Traylor, Murphy, Di Yesso and Kuzma.

The Cadets will arrive in Raleigh on Friday morning, and will spend the afternoon in a light workout. They are bringing with them their special company of 90 cadets, which executes maneuvers without commands, and which will entertain the spectators between halves of the game.

An East-West collegiate ski meet, matching teams of Dartmouth College and University of Washington, is being prompted for Idaho's spectacular Sun Valley course.

Sports Glimpses

by Bob Blackwood

They're gone and done it! . . . The Wolfpack, which has been dubbed "toothless" by most sports writers has become a savage, running animal. . . . It was a sad day for Boston College last Saturday because of the Pack's reverse in form. . . . Bostonians expected the Eagles to return to the win column this week—a place where they rightfully belong, judging from their wealth in material. . . . A lot of credit for the win goes to little Eddie Berlinski who astounded all of the 12,000 spectators with his dazzling 72-yard sprint for the winning tally. . . . I take my hat off to the seven men in the State line who held the big Eagle forward wall throughout the game and stopped their touchdown marches. . . . Another good omen coming from the victory was the play of two new men in the State backfield, namely, Tony DiYesso and Don Traylor. . . . A sign of the appreciation of the student body for the fine win turned in by the Newtonmen was shown Sunday afternoon, when 1,000 students gathered out to greet the victorious eleven. . . . Bahful "Doc" had to be virtually dragged up to the makeshift speaker's platform, and then he merely stated that he was glad that the boys had won and hoped that it was the beginning of many successful seasons for State teams. . . . Herman Hickman said that usually he couldn't sleep the night before tough games but that he was so sure that the Pack would take the Eagles that he slumbered like a baby last Friday. . . . I hope that he has many such Friday nights in the next five or six years. . . . I chanced over to see the Fordham-Carolina game and I never will regret going. . . . What a team those Rams are. . . . Especially that you spell it. Whatever his name is, he is sure an All-American center. He not only centered the ball on the offense but was a receiver on several laterals and proved himself as a ball carrier. . . . The goat of the afternoon's play was Ditt. On one play he found a large hole in the Fordham line and was bowling along for a Carolina goal when he suddenly noticed that the old pig skin was no longer in his possession. . . . Mr. Wojie had snatched it and was at that time running toward the Carolina goal. . . . Sat next to a Fordham rooster who couldn't figure out the warm weather for this time of the year and also was amazed when I told him that Fordham would probably find a little opposition when they began their efforts to pull down the goal posts after the game. . . . The Fordhamites did their best to uproot the posts but only succeeded in bending them out of shape before a contingent of Carolina roosters stopped them. . . . The Citadel game tomorrow is going to be a tough one for the Wolfpack. . . . There is liable to be a let down after the Boston game and that would be bad. . . . The Bulldogs have lost only one game and they outplayed South Carolina in that one, only to have the breaks beat them. . . . It will be a great scrap and I have a feeling that the Pack will come through with its fifth win of the season by a 13-6 score. . . . Everyone should be out for the rally tonight at seven o'clock in the stadium and show the team that we are right behind them. . . . Davidson will give Tar Heel roosters a few touchdowns, but will succumb by three touchdowns. . . . The State freshmen will attempt to stop the mighty Duke Imps this afternoon at the stadium but will have tough going. . . . Last week's trimming at the hands of the Tar Babies has given Nig Waller charges some valuable experience and should help them to cope with the star-studded opponent today.

STATE WOLFPACK BREAKS THROUGH TO DOWN EAGLES

Dazzling Run in Last Period by Eddie Berlinski Paves Way for 12-7 Tech Win Over Tough Boston College Team.

Within the space of four minutes—the last four of the game—State College's gridgers came from behind to defeat a fighting Boston College team 12-7.

The winning touchdown was greeted by 60 seconds of wild, delicious cheering from the stands in Boston as well as State roosters taking part as little Eddie Berlinski carried the ball 72 yards to give State its winning touchdown. Boston took the lead early in the first period after Horvat went thru center from the three yard marker for their only score of the game, Di Natali converted.

State's First Score

State's first score came in the second period on a 24 yard pass to Berlinski. Previously he had carried the ball 38 yards to Boston's 28. He picked up 5 yards on the spinner thru center. On the next play Rooney carried the ball for no gain. Then Rooney uncorked a long pass which was completed to Berlinski waiting in the end-zone. Helm's attempt to convert went wide.

The outstanding feature of State's playing was its ability to come through in the tight spots. The Eagles outrushed the Wolves on the grounds but were deluged by a rain of passes. Art Rooney completed six for a net gain of 180 yards. In the opening minutes of the first quarter, after Don Traylor had punned out on Boston's 13, Tom Guin went around left end for 74 yards, putting the ball on State's 8. State's line stiffened, and Boston lost the ball on downs.

In the second quarter Gil Dobbie's boys drove down the Wolves' 15 but on fourth down with one yard to go, Louis Mark, State's brilliant center, smeared Bismark for no gain.

In the Riddle Dazzle

In the third-quarter Rooney pulled a play which should be included among "The Best Plays of the Week." He stood deep in the end zone, in kick formation, but instead of kicking he heaved one of his enthusiastic team-mates carried him off the field on their shoulders.

It was in the last quarter that Smiling Eddie made his second touchdown. When it was over, his enthusiastic team-mates carried him off the field on their shoulders. Don Traylor, Bob Sabolyk and Paul Lozier turned in fine performances in the backfield; on the line Mac Berry showed up well offensively and defensively, Warren Wooden did noble by himself, and Danny Piloeno and Cecil Brownie, spark-plugs of the team, turned in their usual brilliant games. Both were hurt, Brownie suffering a deep gash in his forehead, and Piloeno spraining his ankle, but—Continued on page 4.

This Week's Star . . .

Pictured above is Danny Piloeno, one of State's mainstays in this year's line. Danny was born 23 years ago in Martin's Ferry, Ohio, but moved to Bellaire, Ohio, at a tender age. St. John's High School in Bellaire and played three years of football there. In his last year he made All-Ohio Valley guard, and distinguished himself as a top notch lineman of state-wide repute.

After working for two years, Piloeno came to State College and enrolled in the School of Industrial Management but last year he changed to the School of Education. He proved himself again on the gridiron his freshman year and was one of the few sophomores to make his monogram the next season. This year Danny is playing rugged ball and is one of Coach Newton's most dependable men.

Last summer he spent his vacation getting in shape for football by working in a steel mill at his home town. He is a member of the Monogram Club.

WHO SAID SMALL?

Above are pictured Warren Wooden and Bunny Hines, stellar Wolfpack guards, who have proven themselves as mainstays in the Tech Line both on the offense and defense, regardless of the size of their opponents. Wooden weighs 175 lbs. and Hines tips the scales at 165.

'MURAL MUSINGS

by BOB COLEMAN, JR.

Judging from the results of the fraternity and dormitory wrestling semi-finals last night, the finals should be an event no wrestling fan wants to miss. Herman Hickman should be able to uncover some varsity material at these meets.

Fleets of excitement was in store for the large crowd which gathered in the gym for the matches. As the excitement would increase on one mat, the crowd would move in that direction and when the wrestling became especially interesting on the other mat, the fans would move in the other direction.

L. L. Ivey of the Student Supply Store has again volunteered to give the usual trophy to the dormitory intramural champions this year.

The horseshoe matches have reached the semi-final stage, and in the Dormitory League we find First and Second 7th vs. Fourth and First 1911 vs. First Watauga. The semi-finalists in the Fraternity League are the AKII, Sigma Nu, Lambda Chi, and Pi Kappa.

Director Miller called my attention to the fact that 30 to 40 points can be made by playing off the consolation meets. These consolation meets have been neglected in the past. Last year a fraternity won the cup, although they did not take a single first place; so if your organization lost its first meet, notice your schedule at the gym.

The undefeated, untied, unscored upon Pikas meet the untied, undefeated unscored upon AKII's on 1911 field next Tuesday in the feature game of the week in the Fraternity League. The Pikas have two victories and one forfeit for 45 points, while the AKII's have one victory and one forfeit for 24 points. Both teams have completed a hard week of practice and should be in top form for the game. This game will determine the bracket championship, and the winner will be highly favored to take the Fraternity League championship.

The feature game of the Dormitory League will be that played between the two South Dormitory teams, Second and Third South has played three games, running up 80 points, while their opponents have been unable to score. First and Basement South has won two games and gotten one forfeit for 36 points to their opponents' zero. The winner of this game will still have the Fifth Dormitory, another undefeated but tied team, before they get the championship of that bracket.

Second and Third South continued their football undefeated and untied march with a 42-0 victory over Third 7th. The passing of Tomlinson to Holyfield and Dixon accounted for five touchdowns, and the sixth came on an intercepted pass by Dixon.

The Remyney to Harris and Dulin combination proved much for a fighting Phi Kappa Tau team last Friday on 1911 field. The Pikas scored in the first, third and fourth periods to defeat the Phi Kappa Nus 29-0. The Delta Sigs took an early lead in their game with the SPE's, when Gibbons intercepted a pass and ran 70 yards for a score. The SPE's tied the game up in the third period on a pass from Summery to Paschal which netted 60 yards and the score. The SPE's took the lead when Pete Brunage stepped out of the end zone on an attempted pass. The final score was SPE 8, Delta Sig 6.

Last Tuesday, in a game attended by more than 200 students, the Sigma Nus defeated the Pi Kappa Phi 12-7. Mauney's passes paced

STATE YEARLINGS DEFEATED IN LOOSE GAME WITH BABIES

Powerful Carolina Team Too Much for 'Nig' Waller's Frosh; Lelanney Is Individual Star of Game

The State Wolflets met the Carolina Tar Babies last Friday at Chapel Hill in their second game of the season and went down to a 46 to 7 defeat.

The State team was outclassed throughout the contest but was never out-fought. They broke through the Carolina line in the third canto to block a kick which was recovered by Avery of State across the Babies' goal line. Cathey scored the extra point on a pass from Leonard.

The Carolina eleven was paced by Lelanney who heaved accurate passes for long gains and also sprinted for much yardage. The Tar Babies scored three touch-

Nig Waller Team Ready For Attack On Duke's Frosh

Small State Freshman Eleven Is Primed for Hazardous Game; Duke to Present Array of Coming Stars.

North Carolina State's Baby Wolves yet have to taste their first drop of blood this season and will get an opportunity to do so Friday afternoon when they meet Duke's freshmen footballers in Riddick Stadium. Game time is 2:30 o'clock.

The Blue Imps hold a slight edge over the Techlets Friday in the weight column. Lack of weight has been the main holdback of the locals this season with both Belmont Abbey and Carolina holding weight advantages.

Last week's game with the Tar Babies sent two of the Wolflets—Bob Cathey, end and Willard Parker, back, to the sidelines for the season. Cathey went down with broken ribs and Parker suffered a severe knee injury. Neither are expected to perform again this year.

Coach Nig Waller, the pessimist of State's coaching staff, doesn't expect his boys to win but he does, however, say that he thinks they have improved through the week and will show up better than they did against Carolina. Varsity Coach, Herman Hickman, who has observed both the local frosh and Imps says that the Techlets have a good chance to take the Dukesters.

Last season the two teams fought to a 0-0 deadlock but according to the latest dope one of the two teams will come out on top this year. They say that the winner will stack up a big score but fail to pick a definite winner.

Coach Waller has picked the following players as the probable starting lineup: Ends—Avery and Cathey; tackles—Brown and McCary; guards—White and Jones; center—Carter; quarterback—Smith; halfbacks—Sawyer and Lennon; fullback—Polley.

downs in each of the first three quarters. The Waller-coached eleven garnered a total of eight first downs as compared to 13 collected by their opponents.

OVER 5,000,000 Frank MEDICO PIPE SMOKERS AGREE WITH DR. MILLING, M.D.

DR. CHARLES J. MILLING Feb. 10, 1937 S. M. Frank & Co., Inc. New York, N. Y. Gentlemen:-

About eighteen months ago I was forced to quit smoking a pipe because the tarry products in the heel kept me chronically nauseated. Too bad, but it couldn't be helped. No use feeling miserable every time I fired up. So I stayed off tobacco for over a year.

Then one day I saw a few Frank's Medicos in a drugist's showcase, and half-heartedly decided to try one. So many patented filter systems on the market, but I'd risk a dollar on one anyhow, just in hopes . . . For six happy months, now I've been smoking that Frank's. This afternoon I bought my second one, and have it sending up incense as I write. I want to tell you - in case you don't already know it - that you're one of the benefactors of society. Lol the poor Indian Lol Sir Walter Raleigh Lol everybody who died before you brought out a filter that really works. I'm telling my friends by the dozen, but not fast enough.

You may use my name if you care to, and add that this letter is absolutely unsolicited on your part.

Very cordially yours, Charles J. Milling M.D.

Football Teams To Be Honored At Club Dance

The music of Tal Henry and the festive noises of the football party and dance, which the Piccadilly Club is giving in honor of the teams of State College and The Citadel, will be broadcast over WPTF on Saturday evening from 10 until 10:30 o'clock.

Special guests at the dance will be the members of the two squads, who will meet Saturday afternoon in Riddick Field and again that night in the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium in the presence of North Carolina's young dancing society. Invitations have been issued through Coach Doc Newton of State and Coach Tatum W. Green of The Citadel. Both Coaches Newton and Gresitt, with their wives, will be among the chaperones.

Five Raleigh girls are among the six selected by the club to be sponsors for the teams. These are Misses Mary Green Thiem, Grace Betts, Marguerite Gwynn, Katherine Turner and Rachel Riddle. The sixth is Miss Mae Spain Swanner of Washington, N. C.

A committee has been selected from among the members of the Piccadilly Club, which will be at the service of all those desiring introduction. All members of the club will be identified by white carnations worn in the lapels of their coats.

Alpha Gamma Rho

The Alpha Gamma Rho, social fraternity, celebrated Halloween with a house dance last Saturday night at their house on Hillsboro Street, chaperoned by Mrs. Martin.

Prizes were given to the boy and girl with the best costume and a floor show was presented at intermission. The two features of the evening were an act by Clarence "Red" Shimer and Charles Chestlock and a quartet composed of four members of the fraternity.

Cider and cookies were served to the twenty-four couples present.

Delta Sigma Phi

A Halloween party was given for the members and guest of the Rho chapter of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity on Saturday night by the pledges at their house on Hillsboro Street.

The chapter house was decorated throughout with symbols of Halloween and the rooms were draped with orange and black streamers.

During the evening those present participated in Halloween stunts and games that were especially prepared for the occasion by the pledges. In the latter part of the evening dancing was enjoyed in the chapter room, music being furnished by an amplifying system.

Guests of the chapter included Margaret Martin, Ann Bratton, Flora McDonald, Elizabeth Richardson, Ethel Gray Clifton, Billie Jones, Annette Sprull, Margaret Duffer, Sally Hayworth, Josephine

Dean Van Leer Talks To ASCE

Head of Engineering School Tells Civil Engineers What Will Be Expected of Them As Graduates

At a bi-monthly meeting of the ASCE last Tuesday night in the CE building, Blake R. Van Leer, dean of the Engineering School, made a very interesting talk on engineers and the duties of engineers after leaving college.

Dean Van Leer confined his speech somewhat to civil engineering, and gave some very interesting statistics on civil engineers after they were in business. He defined an engineer, and told the boys just what is expected of them after they have completed their college career.

A business meeting was held after Dean Van Leer's talk at which time plans were discussed about the forthcoming meeting of the Duke and Carolina ASCE members at State College on November 20th. After a motion was made for the ASCE to play the AGC in another game of touch football, the meeting was adjourned.

Vitamin 'A' Oil Theme of Paper By Satterfield

"Industrial and Engineering Chemistry" Publishes Professor's Article

The fourth research paper on vitamins within five months was recently published by G. Howard Satterfield, professor of biochemistry at N. C. State College.

The work, entitled "Vitamin A Content of Cod Liver Oil: A Comparison of Spectrophotometric and Chemical Methods," appeared in the October issue of "Industrial and Engineering Chemistry," Co-authored with Professor Satterfield are Arthur D. Holmes, a graduate of State College now working with the research division of the E. L. Patch Company of Boston, Mass.; and Francis Tripp, graduate student at State College. Tripp's work in the project was also in partial fulfillment of the degree of master of science.

Davidson's Wildcats at Davidson. The Tar Heels will be attempting to return to the win column after their first loss of the season, while the Cats will be trying to stay in the same column after their win over Furman.

State tackles a strong team in the Citadel. The Bulldogs are light but remarkably fast, and have eked out wins in every game but one. The game has been moved up from a night tilt to an afternoon game.

Language Association To Meet At Winthrop

The South Atlantic Modern Language Association will hold its regular annual meeting at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, South Carolina, November 26 and 27, 1937.

An interesting program has been arranged. This will consist mainly of papers and discussions divided into four sections: English, French, Spanish, and German. Several general sessions will be held.

The association is composed of teachers and students of modern languages in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Alabama. It publishes a quarterly bulletin. Professor Sturgis E. Leavitt, of the University of North Carolina, is president; Professor John A. Strausbaugh of Emory University is secretary.

BAND GIVEN NEW BENCHES BY ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

New benches on Riddick Field have been provided for the State College band by the Athletic Association, which will make possible better playing formations during the football games.

This new equipment is also expected to enable the fans on the west side of the stadium to hear the music during the games.

MOCK WEDDING PRESENTED AT FACULTY PARTY IN GYM

Faculty Members Enjoy Halloween Party Given by College Woman's Club

The State College Women's Club entertained members of the faculty and staff at a Halloween party in Frank Thompson gymnasium on Friday evening. The purpose was to give the professors and their assistants an opportunity to make an early acquaintance.

The feature of the evening was a mock wedding presented by the faculty under the direction of Mrs. Fred Haig, assisted by Lodwick Hartley. The autumn leaves, corn stalks, and crepe paper gave an atmosphere suggestive of the Halloween season.

Music for dancing was furnished by Paul Moore and his fourteen-piece orchestra. The remainder of the program consisting of bridge, contests, games, and refreshments was enjoyed by all.

J. F. Miller was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Fred B. Wheeler and Mrs. R. F. Poole acted as co-chairmen in charge of the frolic.
