Mass Assembly Issues Protest To Legislature

Three Units Combine In Parade and Meeting; Condemn "False Economy" Measures

More than 200 college and high school students, representing institutions from all over the State, voted unanimously at a mass meeting held in Raleigh Wednesday to ask the Legislature to provide "adequate funds" for education and health and to levy additional taxes if necessary to secure the needed funds.

The students, led by Bill Bailey and Jim Joyner, presidents of the student bodies at State and Carolina, respectively, adopted a resolution to that effect. Copies of the resolution will be sent to the General Assembly and to the individual legislators.

Parade
Prior to the mass meeting, the students paraded with the UNC the Capitol and marching three bands and a sound truck, circling blocks down Fayetteville Street before veering off to the Hugh Morson auditorium. Included in the parade were representatives of State College, the University of North Carolina, the Woman's College, East Carolina Teachers College and high school students from Raleigh.

The resolution stated that it is "contrary to the interests and wishes of youth to curtail services of education and health at this time."

Fifteen Selected From Frosh Class By Phi Eta Sigma

Freshmen Elected To Honor Society on Basis of Scholarship

Fifteen freshmen, selected because of their outstanding grades during the first term, have been extended bids to join Phi Eta Sigma, honorary freshman fraternity.

Those who have received bids are: E. G. Gibbs, D. J. Hanse, J. H. Bower, J. R. Branscome, H. L. Miller, W. E. Angelo, J. G. Sims, T. P. Caldwell, E. C. Denton, Jr., K. L. Wommack, E. L. Bryant, J. D. Dodge, E. F. Wooten, L. J. Ingram and W. S. Johnson.

Entrance requirements of Phi Eta Sigma are based entirely on scholarship. To be eligible a freshman must at least average half A's and half B's for the first term.

According to P. D. Kaley, president of the society, initiation of the new members will take place early next term at the annual banquet of the fraternity. Election of officers for the coming year will be held at that time.

State Gets Share Of Debate Honors

First Day Results of Southeastern Tournery Show Fine Record for Forensic Squad

Four members of the crack State College debate team are participating today and tomorrow in the Southeastern Forensic Tournery being held in Salisbury this week-end, and telegraphic reports to this newspaper last night showed that the State team took its share of honors during the first day of the meet.

Jack "The Bard" Price, State debater, tied with Wake Forest's Eugene Worrell for first place in duplicate debating, and this victory will strengthen Price's chances for receiving both Southern and national recognition for his forensic activities this year.

George "Champ" Lippard, sophomore representative of this school, finished second in the "hostile audience" speech contest, and Cary Watkins took a second place also in after-dinner speaking.

Representatives from 25 colleges from nine Southern states have sent approximately 230 students to the tournament, one of the largest annual meets in the South.

Representing State College at the tournament are Jack Price, Cary Watkins, Howard Bell and George Lippard. The team was accompanied to Salisbury by Prof. Edwin H. Paget, debate coach.

YOUTH WANTS A VOICE IN GOVERNMENT

These three students, presidents of their student bodies, led the parade and mass assembly held Wednesday afternoon in protest to the "false economy" measures of the Legislature. Representing youth of North Carolina, they demanded that the General Assembly make available more funds for education and health.

Overalls and Gingham Barnwarming Formals

Lipstick and Stuffed Shirts Barred; Dick Jones to Furnish Music

By JOE MICHAEL
Of the various shindigs that take place during the year, the Barnwarming is the one that is gaining popularity the most rapidly. This is due to several reasons, but the main one is that everyone feels at home in a pair of overalls and doesn't have to worry about getting lipstick on his stuffed shirt.

Saturday night, after the cows have been milked and the hogs well slopped, one will see farmer boys with a kerosene lantern swinging on one arm and Daisy Mae on the other trucking it down toward the holler for a night's frolicking at the gym. If Pa and Ma was a-going to a square dance, they would have to go out and hook up the old gray mare to the surry. Pa would carry his "hard cider" in the famous Little Brown Jug, but his son Lil Abner has come to the West Raleigh institute of higher learning, and will more than likely come in a new-fangled gas buggy and his hard cider will be concentrated in a pint bottle.

Dick Jones and His Orchestra, formerly of the University of Tennessee, has the honor of being the first "Volunteer" bandman to appear here. Shown by his extended engagements at Sea Island Beach

DICK JONES

In Georgia, the Tantilla Gardens in Richmond, and a summer's work on ocean liners of the Cunard White Star Lines to be top-notch musicians, Dick Jones has the appearance of an up-and-coming hand in the South. He has the distinction of being the only band in this section featuring the new and characteristic bell-tone music which is so successfully used by Richard Himber and his orchestra. Such is the treat to dancing feet is melodic tones styled by Jones.

Student Operated Tonsorial Parlor Lowers Ears From Morning Till Night

State College students are truly versatile, and among the students you will find professionals in almost every trade. Namely, it would be rather a long list, but at the present I am interested in our barbers. Yes, sir, we have them—and quite adept they are at the tonsorial art, too.

The campus barber shop in the basement of the "Y," which is operated for the "Y" by B. A. Britt, is probably one of the busiest places on the campus. Nearly one hundred and fifty boys go in that shop each day, but it is possible for only about seventy-five of these students to have their ears lowered. Mr. Britt is the only barber in the shop at all times because his five student helpers do have classes to meet, and consequently, there is not someone behind each chair at any time of day to say "Next."

The average cost of a haircut is thirty cents, which is the cost of a haircut alone. It seems that State students prefer to administer their own concoction of hair grower, hair elixir, dandruff remover, etc., to their own hoggies, because not one student per month calls for tonics in this barber shop. Also, according to Mr. Britt, a shampoo job is quite rare, and only one customer per week goes there to get his whiskers cut and he is not a student. The busiest hours are when there are no classes being held; and just before a dance or the end of the term, business picks up considerably.

Leaders Apparent As Alpha Sig Vote Rapidly Increases

New Candidates Gain Lead As More Ballots Are Cast; Another Ballot This Week

Voting by secret ballot in the race for the high honor of placing a fellow stogie in the ancient fraternity of Alpha Sigma Sigma placed several dark horses in the lead this week, with only five days remaining in the voting period.

Although the ballots have been light during the past week, they have given evidence of several leaders among the candidates mentioned for the much-coveted offices. The lead has passed out of the hands of The Watsons and, and is being enveloped by members of the Wolfpack squad. Although last week's men still remain in the race, the potential all-America has come through with several ballots.

Then, too, two lads with the name of Ernie, both fraternity men, have been receiving their share of honors, followed by a prominent textile student and a big Phi Psi leader. He is running neck and neck with a big shot from Scabard and Blade, and a prominent member of this year's tennis squad. A resident of Watsons who does the appearance of an up-and-coming bit of "roving," is also taking his place in the keen competitive race, and a student who has the same name as a small professor in the textile school is coming in for his share of the glory.

Five days only remain in the voting period, as the polls are definitely closed Tuesday. The final favorite to cast your vote for your favorite candidate will be this week, and the last ballot will appear in this week's TECHNICIAN on page two. So get busy now, and hunt out those scissors. Fill in the three lines appearing on the ballots and drop them in the slot in the door of the Agromeck office.

Murder Occurs In News Office

Evidently the publication building is infested by rodent life other than the members of The Watsons staff.

The Sabbath Calm of last Sunday afternoon was disturbed by the sound of scuffling emerging from the building. When the noise of battle had died down and the smoke had cleared away, Jones Pharr emerged triumphantly from the tall one struggling mouse. The visitor had evidently wandered into the hallowed sanctuary and was unable to locate an exit.

"Bring-on-back-alive" Pharr brought the rodent's life to a sudden ending.

Textile Men Name Officers Of Style Show

Hanna Chosen Head Of Annual Exposition; 9 Girl Schools To Participate

Student directors of the twentieth annual Textile Exposition which the State College Textile School will present April 20, were elected today by the Tompkins Textile Society, with G. V. Hanna, Jr., chosen superintendent.

The exposition will demonstrate how the textile students take raw cotton through the various processes necessary to convert it into beautifully colored, skillfully woven fabrics. This demonstration will follow the Textile Schools twelfth annual Style Show, in which 115 girls from nine North Carolina colleges will model cloth and make themselves from fabrics designed and woven at State College.

Other Officials
E. S. Johnson was elected assistant superintendent of the Textile Exposition. The fathers of Hanna and Johnson are officials in mills at Mooresville and Kannapolis, respectively.

Other student officials are: C. H. Reynolds, overseer of weaving, and R. J. Payne, assistant; E. A. Dees, overseer of yarn manufacturing, and B. R. Rudisill, assistant; J. V. Kirkman, overseer of knitting, and J. E. Rogers, assistant; G. P. Boswell, overseer of designing, and P. L. Misenheimer, assistant; A. D. Potter, overseer of dyeing, and C. F. Begg, assistant.

Begun by Nelson
The Style Show and Textile Exposition were started by Thomas Nelson, veteran dean of the Textile School, to promote the use of the Pullen Hall was packed for the Style Show last year, and hundreds inspected the operations of the textile plant. State College's Textile School is the largest in the world.

Colleges which will send girls to this year's Style Show are Elon, Flora Macdonald, Greensboro, High Point, Louisburg, Meredith, Peace, Queens-Chicago, and Saint Mary's. The girls are making their garments from personally selected fabrics as part of their regular classroom work in home economics.

Thrice Yearly Examination Contest Shows Giant Intellect of Students

Station NCS, Raleigh (the time, next Friday): This morning we are presenting another in the series of contests sponsored three times each college year by the faculty of North Carolina State College. At the sound of the whistle it will be exactly 9 o'clock, and the contestants will be asked to sit one seat apart and to put all books and papers on the floor.

The winner of this term's contest will receive a State College scholarship; the runner-up will be awarded a portrait of his favorite professor; the third high man will be permitted to remain on the campus. The fourth will be recommended for a WPA job, and the rest will be given scholarships to Carolina.

Is everybody ready? Please don't forget the rules of the game and remember, no cheating, please. Our first contestant is Slip-Stick Sammy with a Slide-Slide. All right, Mr. S., will you pull your question out of the hat? What is the product of two and two? What? You can't work the problem because you left your slide rule in the pool room? Well, better luck next time. Next contestant. . . And what

NOTICE!

Spring holidays will begin at the conclusion of examinations on March 16, and registration for the third term of the college year will occur on Tuesday, March 21, it was announced yesterday by the Registrar's office. Classes will begin on Wednesday, March 22.

Students registering after March 21 will be required to pay a fine of $2.00 late registration fee, and $1.00 for each additional day that they are late registering. Monday, March 27, will be the last day for registration or changes in registration.

A copy of the examination schedule will be found on page two.

Formal Initiation Held For New Men By Tau Beta Pi

Van Leer Is Speaker at Banquet Following Ceremonies; 14 Are Inducted

Last night, thirteen students and one faculty member were formally initiated into Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, and immediately following the initiation, a banquet was given at the Str. Walter Hotel in honor of the initiates.

Blake R. Van Leer, dean of the School of Engineering, was the principal speaker, and he gave an illustrated lecture on the research work done in Europe during the time that he studied over there in 1927, and contrasted the standards of living in America today with that in Europe. He especially stressed the important position that engineering is taking in raising the standard of living in this country, and said that the engineer is doing everything in his power to make this an even better country.

Before beginning his talk, Dean Van Leer congratulated the new members of Tau Beta Pi on having been selected to the important position that engineering is taking in raising the standard of living in this country, and said that the engineer is doing everything in his power to make this an even better country.

Those present at the banquet included the members and newly elected members of the undergraduate chapter of Tau Beta Pi and their dates, and many of the faculty who are members of the fraternity, and their wives.

AGROMECK PROOFS

All fraternity men who have not checked their "Agromeck" proofs must do so today. The office will be open all afternoon. It is important that this be done immediately, as all copy for the "Agromeck" must be in before the spring Agromeck.

Jones, Hamilton and Mann Also Shine in Thriller; Sermonmen Tangle With Maryland Tonight

State's inspired Red Terrors continued on their victory march last night as they downed The Citadel 40-38 to chalk up their second hair-raising tournament win in as many games.

Despite the close score, it was State College all the way. Dead-eye Jim Rennie, playing with his right leg taped from the calf to well above the knee, put the home club in front with one foul four mid-court after one minute of play and they held the lead until the final gun sounded. The game was packed with thrills, however, and had the spectators sitting on the edge of their seats all the time after time the Cadets approached to within a single field goal of tying things up.

Five-Man Squad

Once again State's famous five took the iron-man role. Ray Smith, coming in for Selby Jones who had been put out on fouls four minutes before the end of the contest, was the first substitution made in the Terror's line-up during the two nights of tournament play.

The Terrors and the Cadets played a close first half with the former pulling away to a safe lead a few minutes before the stanza ended. The half-time score was 24-17 in favor of State. The second period offered lots more in the line of thrills with both teams turning on the pressure. Co-captain Hill, the mighty mite, started things with a charity toss to give the Techs a 25-19 advantage.

Cadets Threaten

Holt and Freeman retaliated for the Cadets with a pair of rapid-fire field goals to make it 25-31. Mann and Hill took matters in hand at this point and coupled a foul shot and two goals, giving the State's forces their biggest lead of the night, 30-31.

P. G. (Mole) Hill and lanky Jim Rennie paced the Terror offense, the former coming through with 12 points and the latter nine. Once again Elwin Hamilton was a bulwark of defense, coming up time after time with some brilliant guarding. Selby Jones and Bill Mann, the other two members of State's durable five, contributed more than their share of spectacular floor work.

The summaries:

The Citadel (38)	G	F	FTF
Burrows, f	5	2	9 12
Holt, f	4	2	2 10
Lockwood, f	2	2	2 4
Wilson, c	1	0	4 2

Half-time score: State 24, The Citadel 17.

Techs Down Duke In Opening Battle

Defending Champs Bow In Opening Thriller, 40-39, as Mann and Rennie Star

Duke's hopes for another Southeastern Conference championship were squashed by State's 40-39 victory over the Devils in the third game of the opening day.

State's win was definitely in the nature of an upset, as the Blue Devils, in two games during the regular season, had administered setbacks to the Techs both times, once by seven points and once by six points.

State's stars were Co-captain Bill Mann and the injured Jim Rennie, both of whom finished the hoop for 12 points. Rennie's performance was outstanding in view of the fact that the big fellow has not played for three weeks, because of a leg injury suffered in the Wake Forest fracas, and because he played last night's game with his leg bandaged from the calf to below the knee.

A Pair of Birthday Wishes...

THE TECHNICIAN wishes to take this opportunity to express its best birthday wishes to two of the most well-known figures on the State College campus... Dr. R. R. (Doc) Sermon, and C. A. (Abe) Upchurch.

Doc Sermon needs no introduction to State students. His cheery smile and friendly personality have won him a host of admiring supporters. The genial basketball coach was 46 years young Wednesday and his Red Terrors presented him with just the present he wanted... a victory over Duke's favored Blue Devils. The State players went out to win one for "Good Old Doc" Wednesday night, and they did.

To likable Abe Upchurch of the College News Bureau we offer a somewhat different sort of birthday greeting. Yesterday Abe celebrated his first milestone as a vital part of the State College community, and a splendid year of service it was. Content with remaining out of the limelight and giving the credit to others, he has done a brilliant job of spreading the glories of State College to the far corners of North Carolina.

To both of these gentlemen we say, "Congratulations, and may you see many more years of happiness and success."

N. C. STATE

Speak Your Mind...

In speaking of a banquet he attended recently, one student we know made this remark: "It was a mighty good banquet, even if I did have to make a speech."

It happens that we heard the speech and we can say, in all sincerity, that it was a good one. Notwithstanding his professed dislike of rearing up on his hind legs and saying what is on his mind, he acquitted himself befitting his high position in the State College student body.

We take upon ourselves the role of prophet long enough to predict that he will continue to be successful in his life after college. The world makes way for a man who has developed the ability to express his thoughts in a clear, concise manner... written or oral. Industry is constantly in search of technical experts who can present their knowledge to associates and subordinates.

It's not only what you know, it's how well you can tell about it.

Arranged Examinations.....Thursday, March 16—2 to 5 o'clock

1. Examinations will begin Friday morning, March 10, at 9 o'clock.

2. No examinations will be scheduled or held by any member of the faculty before Friday morning, March 10 (Afternoon Physical Education Classes Excepted).

3. Examinations will be held only between the hours indicated.

4. The examinations will be held in the rooms where classes recite.

5. Courses having both recitation and laboratory hours should use the class hours for determining when the examination will be given.

6. Arranged examinations are for those examinations not provided for elsewhere in this schedule. All scheduled classes should take their examinations at the hours indicated unless combined with other sections. Unless the entire section is eliminated, individual students are expected to take their examinations with the section they have been attending. Arranged examinations can be held during other hours in the examination week, and, therefore, no teacher should arrange for an examination if any student already has an examination that conflicts with the proposed arrangement.

7. All examinations will be given in accordance with this schedule. NO CHANGE WILL BE APPROVED EXCEPT FOR THE PURPOSE OF COMBINING OR ELIMINATING SECTIONS.

LOOKING 'ROUND

By "LE SCOOP"

The Pi Kappa Phi has had a rare case of "snaking" during the past week-end, which might better be explained as a "make" "snaking" on a "make." Seems that Gewehr, the Pi Kapp romancer, secured a date with one of his brothers' dates, and another brother sneaked the date away from him via telephone. Wonderful things, these telephones.

"Pop" Brown, right-hand man to "Doc" Newton, had a real case of worrying, when he discovered a board of health card with a 4-plus rating for him in a certain type of test that "Pop" seemed to be interested in. The infirmity had quite a job of convincing "Popie" that he wasn't the victim of a disease, but the victim of a good joke.

Billy Moore, one of the 1911 powerhouses, was carrying around a few scars of battle last Saturday night after the dances. It's the same old story—he ran into a door knob, and got a black eye, caught his hand in a door and broke a finger, and fell off a six-story building. (You ought to see the other guy.)

From the way Bob White "legs" his profits, one would get the erroneous impression that Bob was in the employ of some manufacturer of wooden legs.

The snagging that goes on with these Alpha Sig votes is really rich. It seems that the room-mate of a certain potential all-American tackle, already assured a starting position in the ancient brotherhood, is striving with might and main to shanghai his potential all-American roommate into the honorable order.

Here's one for Herman Hickman's wrestling team, all in the form of Eddie Brownstein, pledged to SAM. It seems that little Eddie, and he is little, had a blind date with some of the local talent from Hugh Morson High. During the night he tried all holds from neck-twists to half-Nelsons, in an effort to osculate gently, and with what results. He wore himself out and gave up, and then she rewarded him with a sweet kiss for his noble efforts.

They tell me that when love comes, it comes all at once. Well, cupid sure didn't use any bow and arrow when he pierced the invulnerable heart of "Schoolboy" Rowe. He used a 75 mm cannon ball. (How I like to write about myself.)

Dear Pop: How do you know when you have had too much to drink?

Dear Son: When you think that The Watson is humorous.

YOUR ROVING REPORTER

By ARNOLD KROCHMAL

The Question: "What would you do if you suddenly fell heir to a million dollars?"

L. E. Thornton, senior, Agriculture: "If I had a million dollars I would pay all my debts, finish college, and then instigate a move to rehabilitate the farms and better the housing conditions on these farms."

J. A. Graham, frosh, Ag Ed: "If I had a million dollars I would temporarily discontinue my education at State in order to travel. I would save enough, though, to continue my education at State when I had done all the traveling I wanted. I would like to own a nice, shiny new automobile."

Gusney Poole, soph, B.E.: "My first step, if I had a million dollars, would be to make it possible for a lot of young men and women to go to college. Their grades wouldn't matter, and they would not have to pay the money back. Second, I would make it a point to snub all the rich girls who had snubbed me. Then I would buy Meredith College and open the gates to allow the restrained 'angels' to see what the outside world is like. Lastly, I would supply 'Ace' Krochmal with sufficient funds and turn him loose to teach the whole crew of angels something about the finer points of love."

J. W. Brandon, junior, Aero Engineer: "I would first invest half the money in government bonds to make sure I didn't awake broke some morning. I would then finish college, and travel a while to broaden my outlook. Finally, I would build a home in the suburbs of some city and rear a brood to help me spend the money I had left."

W. D. Lewis, frosh, Ag Ed: "I would drop all the courses that I don't like and take up courses that I did like, whether they are in agriculture, engineering or textiles. I would continue my education until I had as many degrees as I could get. During this time I would take only the minimum hours, so I could devote myself to social events, and to having dates." Frank Colandrea, frosh, Chem. Engineer: "First I'd take a good long rest to recuperate from the shock and then I'd quit work and probably grow grey hairs trying to think up a lot of spending this lordly sum. It would take quite a bit to straighten out my present financial mess, so it would be a long time before I could think of charity."

A Year Ago This Week

"Final elections of campus officers will be held on April 20, preceded one week by the primaries on April 13," announced J. C. Frink, president of the student body, last night following a special conference with C. R. Lefort, assistant dean of students.

The State College Red Terror basketball team lacked that old scoring punch last night in their 1938 Southern Conference Tournament debut, dropping a hard-fought 44 to 33 decision to a high-geared Duke quintet. (Note: But the tide turned this year!)

If the plans proposed by the faculty of the engineering school are adopted, the curriculum of all courses in that department will be extended to cover a period of five years of academic work. It was learned yesterday from Dean B. R. Van Leer, head of the school of engineering.

Three Years Ago This Week

Reported rumors of an alumni drive to oust Dr. Frank P. Graham as president of the Greater University which were published this week in various state papers drew little comment from State College officials and faculty members when interviewed yesterday.

Ten states will be covered by the twenty-four forestry seniors in their 5,000-mile annual senior jaunt of the Southeastern forests. Professor L. Wyman, director of the trip, stated yesterday.

A technical foul called on Pennington, Clemson forward, and the shot made by Stuart Flythe in the extra period was the margin of victory as State turned back Clemson, 32-31, in the nightcap of the first round of the Southern Conference basketball tournament.

Five Years Ago This Week

The freshman class, at its meeting last Friday, voted unofficially 179-145 that they would be willing to wear the freshman cap the third term if the cap was brought back. The vote was taken following floor discussions by various members of the freshman class on the caps.

GLEANINGS

by THE STAFF

Thinking out loud: What we need now is some of that "examination insurance" that a group of students at Brown University have started. . . . should you flunk an exam, the campus insurance company compensates you with a sizeable sum which enables you to pay for a re-exam. . . . Wonder if you've heard about the two professors in the textile school who told the members of their afternoon class that they would be excused from class to go to the practice football game, but would not be excused to take part in the appropriations protest parade on Wednesday. . . . such splendid cooperation from the faculty!

Congratulations to "Rae" (Miss South Carolina) Sallenger and his Interfraternity Council chums on a really swell set of dances last week-end. . . . All those beautiful ladies that the boys had up for the occasion made this campus resemble a Hollywood movie lot. . . . that's my idea of the right way to beautify the campus. . . . High Johnson, the man with the well sense of humor, attending the Friday night dance in a tuxedo and a soft, white sport shirt. . . . he says he got the idea from a wealthy executive who's got enough of what it takes not to care about what people think.

Add this little tale to your list of prize embarrassing moments. . . . Steve Hundy thought he would spread some good will at the dances and went up to a faculty bangle to shake hands and wish him well. . . . As Steve stuck out his hand, a bottle of seltzer water dropped from his coat pocket and landed squarely on the big man's foot. . . . Wow!

Two good reasons why State men prefer St. Mary's. . . . lovely Maggie Taylor and Honey Feck. . . . Can't help feeling kind of proud about "Teching" to put out the "Technician" extra in the history of the college. . . . Our best get-well wishes to Colonel Harrelson, who has been in bed for two weeks with a bad case of the "flu". . . . Babe Millholland has become quite an accomplished after-dinner speaker.

Departed from our midst is Jack (Scoop) Youns, author of the "Technician" dirt column up 'til last week and from what we've heard, he picked a mighty good time to leave. . . . Fina Murphy explains yesterday's unexpected snowstorm by saying he knew something like that would happen after Carolina and Duke had been eliminated from the Conference basketball tournament on the same night. . . . It was truly a perfect night from our point of view. . . . are you listening, Chapel Hill?

"Cotton" Robinson really put the "Extension News" into circulation after having his picture in it. . . . Last we saw of him he was mailing at least a hundred copies to his fans. . . . Spring is officially here. Paul Louder has begun to spend his evenings in the vicinity of Pullen Lake. . . . The infirmity must really be overworked. "Jeep" Henley and Johnnie Miller were sharing a bed yesterday. . . . or do they "care"?

Something new and novel is proposed by students at Duke University. . . . They want their alma mater to establish "rest homes" where tired and study-worn undergrads could spend a few days catching up on their sleep without going to the infirmary. . . . To cite from their proposal: "Students need not be ill to avail themselves of a free opportunity for rest amid quieter surroundings than prevail in the average dormitory."

You have probably heard of the student who went to school several years and lost so many hours by cutting classes that he came out in the hole, but here is an authentic case in which the collegian actually broke even for one semester. . . . It seems that a Texas Murphy enrolled for a total of 11 hours. Finding that his load was too heavy, he dropped one of these. When the semester was over he had sunk nine hours, and received so many cuts that he lost the one he had passed. And so he was back where he started from. . . . even with the college.

Famous quotations: "We ought to take them out and shoot them down like dogs," Carlyle Summey. . . . "Jitterbugs are an unnecessary evil," Cactus Mueso. . . . "With East in the lineup, next year's Wolf-pack will be unbeatable," Dick East. . . . "What I need now are some knee pads," Hubert Woodall. . . . "Let's give Carolina back to the Indians," Jimmy Burnham. . . . "What day is this?" Jack Haynes. . . . "Wake me up when this class is over," Paul Wood. . . . Lots of luck on those exams, chums. . . . Competition Keen As Quintets Seek Conference Crown

Clemson Tigers Upset Favored North Carolina Team; Richmond Bows to Maryland After Beating V. M. I.; Davidson Tops W. & L.

The Old Liners from Maryland put on the pressure in the second half of their clash with Richmond yesterday to take the Spiders into camp, 47-32. The score at the half was 18-15 in favor of Maryland.

The Old Liners started the affair by racking up five points in the space of a minute and a half. Richmond came to life at this point and rang the bell for five field goals while the Liners were getting none. This was the only time in the course of the game that the Liners were headed. With Johnson and DeWitt taking the lead, Maryland went ahead after 15 minutes of play in the half on a free throw by Knepley.

At the start of the second half the Liners sewed things up by garnering eight rapid-fire baskets while the Spiders could only hit pay dirt once. The closest the Spiders got to Maryland from here on was after 15 minutes of play when the score stood 36-26.

Johnson, son of the famous pitcher, led the Liners' scoring, with 18 points. DeWitt was runner-up for the Liners with 15. Knepley paced the Maryland team on the floor.

Jones of Richmond, who played only about half the game, led the Spiders with five field goals and one gratis toss. Humbert ran a close second with five field goals.

Davidson Wins
The fighting Wildcats from Davidson, showing for the first time in a Southern Conference tournament, turned back the third seeded Generals from Washington and Lee in the best game of the afternoon in yesterday's double-header. The final score was 43-32.

In the first half the Cats took the lead at the start and held it until 10 minutes of the game had been played. With Pinck and Thompson banging away for the Generals, the Virginians took the lead at 14-10. This was the only time in the game that the Cats were headed. Iverson, Hicks and Tice got busy for the Cats and tied things up at 14-11, and then went ahead. The score at the half was 20-14.

Davidson came out red hot in the second half to rack up eight points while the Generals were being held scoreless. From here on there was no doubt about the outcome of the game.

Leaders for the Davidson team were Captain Ned Iverson, with 13 points, and J. D. Hicks, with four field goals. The floor play of the Cats was paced by little Johnny Tice, smallest man in the tournament. He was all over the place on the offense and took his share of defensive honors.

The Generals were paced by Ronnie Thompson, with five field goals, and Pinck, with nine points. Dobbins led the Generals on the floor.

Carolina Goes Down
In a ding-dong battle that had the fans on their feet cheering all through the game, the Clemson quintet wrung a one-point victory out of a scrapping North Carolina team.

The man who gave the fans their best exhibition was Clemson's elongated Banks McFadden, who tallied 18 points and held Carolina's soph star, Giamack, well in check.

It was nip and tuck all through the first half, with Clemson leading most of the way, except in the last three minutes of the first half, when beautiful shots by Dilworth and Howard gave Carolina a 21-19 advantage at the half.

The second stanza was a repetition of the first, with the lead changing hands frequently.

With five minutes to go, Clemson had the lead, 41-39. Paul Severin's basket tied the score at 41-41. A free throw gave the Tigers the lead, but a basket by Giamack made it 43-42 in Carolina's favor.

With 50 seconds left in the ball game, Banks McFadden came through with a goal--and that put the game on ice for the South Carolinians. The final score was 44-43.

Richmond Wins
The University of Richmond made its debut in the Southern Conference tournament Wednesday night by soundly whipping Virginia Military Institute.

The Keydets who boasted of a point victory over the Spiders in a game last week, were ineffective and put up a poor game. Their shots kept rolling around the rim, and out, and their passing was way off.

The Spiders were hot, and had no difficulty in checking the Cadets' stars, Shu and Fredrick. How well Richmond held VMI can be gleaned from the fact that only four of the Cadets were able to break into the scoring column.

The half-time score was 13-5 in favor of Richmond.

The nearest that VMI got to Richmond was in the third quarter, when they whittled the Spider lead to five points. However, Burge, Richmond guard, recovered the ball under the Cadets' basket and outpated the rest of the men to score on a nice crisp shot, and then Richmond put on the whole works.

The final score was Richmond 31, VMI 20.

Varsity Swimmer Ingram, winner of the silver medal at the Carolina AAU swimming meet held last week is in the infirmary with the flu.

Demon Deacons Bow To Clemson In Rip Snorter

First Seeded Team Is Outclassed in Second Half; McFadden Is Player of Night

An inspired Clemson basketball team, led by their gallant captain, Banks McFadden, turned back the number one seeded team in the Southern Conference in a thrilling contest at Memorial Auditorium last night.

Wake Forest as usual started the proceedings with a bang, scoring six points in the first three minutes. Clemson tied the score with a couple of beauties by McFadden and Moorman, aided by two gratis throws by Lancaster.

From here on it was nip and tuck throughout the remainder of the half. Waller dumped in a foul shot and Clemson's Lancaster matched this and added another to make it 8-7. Clemson took the lead on Bryce's crisp and Owen counted for the Deacons. On Owens' long shot and two fouls the Deacs took the lead and then Moorman dropped one in from the side to tie things up at 12-11.

The Deacons, led by waller and Owen, took the lead from here and the half ended with Clemson back, 18-14.

Second Half

The Wakes took the court at the start of the second half with a vengeance and banged in two field goals in one minute. At this point the combination of McFadden, Moorman and Plathman got to work and scored eleven points over a nine-minute period while the top-notch Deacons were swinging at the air. The Clemson team was all over the place--stealing the ball, breaking up passes and generally messing up anything Wake Forest started.

From here on it was thrill after thrill, with the Tigers giving their all. Waller banked in one from the side, his only score in the second half, and Bryce countered with a rip under the basket. Lancaster added a foul shot and Fuller, replacing Owen at center, who had fouled out, dropped in a long shot. This made the score 28-26 with Clemson in the lead. Then Young was fouled and tied the score at 28-28, with three minutes to play. With two minutes to score, the Clemson team broke loose and McFadden dropped in a beauty from "neath the basket."

Thinning up the scoring for the night, Clemson had the ball for a major part of the remaining two minutes and the game ended with a scramble in the center of the court.

McFadden Great

Banks McFadden completely stole the show from Captain Jim Waller, high scoring star of the Deacons, and tied the score at 28-28, down the court breaking up passes and setting up scores, and in addition he tossed in 11 points to lead his mates in scoring. Big Gene Plathman was rushed into the game in the first half and did a bang-up job of breaking up the Deacons' attack. Bryce and Lancaster kept that Wallerman and Convery sewed up all night.

The leaders for the Deacons were Waller, with 14 points, and Owen, with four. Apple and Sweet paced the Deacs on the floor.

Swimming Meet Will Open Today In Thompson Gym

State, Duke, V. M. I., and Clemson Rule as Favorites; Reynolds Expected to Star

Eight teams will toe the mark Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in State College's Frank Thompson pool for the preliminary races of the ninth annual Southern Conference swimming meet.

A capacity crowd is expected for the meet. The swimmers will push off Friday and Saturday afternoons at 4 o'clock, thus giving the fans a chance to get to the Memorial Auditorium, where the Conference basketball tournament is under way. There will be a 25 cent admission charge at the door.

C. R. Lefort, conference committee chairman, has announced that the coaches will meet Friday morning to receive final instructions, and immediately following the coaches will join the officials in a luncheon in the State College Y. The conference committee will convene after the luncheon to seed the swimmers for the preliminaries.

There is quite a bit of speculation over the probabilities of record breaking. All season mermen of the various schools have set numerous pool records and have made better time in many events than the conference marks.

Word comes from North Carolina that the Tar Heels are entering a champion 110 yd breaststroker in Ortho Ross. Ross has gone unbeaten in dual competition this season at 200 meters. Ross also is a diver.

N. C. State's co-captain, Ross Reynolds, Raleigh boy, who holds the present 220 free-style record, is expected to be among the record breakers. Reynolds has broken a pool mark in every meet this season.

P. B. Holtzendorf, Jr., coach of the Clemson Tigers, has a son, P. B. III, who swims the 50 and 100-yard dashes in better than conference time.

THOSE DEVIL KILLERS IN ACTION

Seen here is an action shot of the Devil killers in action as they downed the Dukes in a thrill-packed game last Wednesday night. Jim Rennie (17) is seen guarding a shot by Price (58) one of the stars of the Duke offense. Coming in on the shot are Duke's lanky center Holley and State's Bill Mann (8), P. G. Hill (6), and Elwin Hamilton (4). The game was one of the most thrilling played in the tournament.

Wolfpack Downs Richmond Spiders In Spring Game

Rooney Scores Lone Touchdown in Regular Game; Richmond Tallies in Two-Period Scrimmage Follow-up Game

A snarling Wolfpack bared its fangs Wednesday and chewed the Richmond University football team to the score of 6-0, in a regulation four-quarter practice game.

The score does not paint an accurate picture of the game, as State accumulated about 15 first downs to the Spiders' none. State's score came in the second quarter after Art Rooney had returned a Richmond punt 40 yards; from State's 30 to the visitors 20. Pavlovsky picked up about seven, Rooney made it a first down, and then Art carried it across for the score. The try for the extra point went wide.

Scrimmage Follows

Some amusing interludes in the game and in the second period scrimmage that followed were furnished the spectators. Lanky Mickey Thompson intercepted a Spider pass and in his anxiety to get away he pushed down two of his own players. In the second quarter scrimmage that followed the regulation game, a Richmond back tossed a long pass to one of his ends. On of the State backs got his hands on the ball, knocked it down to the hands of another State player who in turn knocked it into the hands of a Richmond player. On the next play the Spiders elected to throw a pass over the goal line. And again two State men juggled the ball into the hands of a Richmond player, for a touchdown. The try point after touchdown was good.

Keen Blocking

The Wolfpack displayed some beautiful down-the-field blocking and good hard tackling. The starting line-up for State consisted of Sullivan and Phillips, end; Savini and J. D. Jones, guards; Retter, center; Coon and Burt, tackles; and a backfield of Rooney, Thompson, Pavlovsky and Traylor. All the members of the squad played, and among the outstanding ones were tackle Walt Novick, backs Jack Hukabee and Dick Watts, centers Carter and Stroup, and ends John Tatum and Frank Owen.

Tech Swimmers Break Record

The five men who entered the Carolina's swimming meet at Duke last Saturday had the satisfaction of returning bearing a medal apiece; four gold ones for first places, and one silver one for second place.

The 400-yard relay team, composed of Co-captains Bailey and Reynolds, White and Cox came in first and broke the pool record previously held by the University of Florida. These men each received a gold medal.

S. O. Ingram, the recipient of the silver medal, came in second in the back stroke event.

State-Maryland, Davidson-Clemson Clash Tonight

Only One Seeded Team Remains in Semi-Finals; State and Maryland Have Return Battle

Two games, the semi-finals, will headline tonight's program at Memorial Auditorium when State squares off at eight o'clock against Maryland and Clemson takes on Davidson at nine.

The State-Maryland game really should be a thriller. If you can remember, State and Maryland played in an overtime battle at the Frank Thompson Gym in one of the most hectic games seen here this season. The Maryland team will be led by a group of veterans who have squared off in tournaments before. Holding the Liners' roster will be Knepley at forward and Walter Johnson at Center.

Fast Breakers

The Liners will pit a team of fast breakers and long passers. Johnson scored most of his points in yesterday's game by taking long passes under the basket and dropping them in.

The State team, without the services of Red Sevier, has become the five iron men in a period of two days. They defeated the Dukes by one point and The Citadel by two points in successive nights.

After the games last night Doc Sernon expressed his opinion of his team in just about the right language. Coach Sernon said, "They're fighting their hearts out to win and they're staying in there on their nerve. They are the fightingest bunch of kids I ever saw."

Davidson and Clemson
The finale of tomorrow's program will pit the Wildcats of Davidson against a fighting Clemson five.

The Clemson team to date has done just about the impossible in beating Carolina and Wake Forest on successive nights. Banks McFadden, the Tigers' leader, is just about the best thing seen on the local courts in several years. They will be tough for the Cats to crack tomorrow and the Wildcats have got to do just that if they expect to be in there at all.

Dorm Men Win All-Campus Bouts

The All-Campus boxing matches were fought Tuesday night before a good-sized crowd which displayed marked enthusiasm for the hard battles put up by the boys.

The night's fighting was started when Smith of Sigma Nu took a close one from Fearall of 3rd 1911. The dorms then came back through 2nd Seventh's Bledsoe's victory over the Pika's Ingram.

The dormitory men made it two in a row when Bryhill, 135-pounder from 2nd Seventh, got the nod over Ward, SPE, who was knocked down in the second round. In the 145-pound class, Kalof beat Plim-mer of Sigma Nu in a hard-fought battle.

The night's only KO came in the battle between Grady of 4th and Bloum of AGR. It was the best fight of the night, with the boys mixing it up freely. The KO came in the last stanza.

The 165-pound fighters were via Holahouser of 2nd Seventh and Dick Watts of Sigma Pi. Holahouser exhibited a little too much power for Watts, and got the decision.

In a slow fight Doak, PIKA, beat Beaber of Fourth Dorn.

The unlimited class saw Paul Lotier win because of "Babe" Retter's forfeit. Retter was unable to fight because of an injury received in spring football.

Large Crowd Hears "Y" Debate On War

Cameron and Page Clash On Pacifism; Cameron to Continue Topic Monday Night

The association of Christianity with war was debated before a large crowd of students and townspeople in Pullen Hall last Monday night when the Rev. Kirby Page and Prof. Kenneth W. Cameron clashed on the question "Must a Christian be a Pacifist?"

Page, a widely known lecturer, and author of many books, took the affirmative side of the question. He expressed the opinion that aggressor nations—Japan, Germany and Italy—were waging war because they had been treated unfairly by democracies—dating back to Versailles.

"It seems to me that the democracies are forcing these three nations into war," he asserted, recommending that democracies return "some of the things we took away from them in the last war."

"Instead of meeting aggression with force, we should follow a policy of love and compassion. . . Problems have never been solved by war," declared the minister.

Negative Side
Prof. Cameron, a member of the State College English Department faculty, took the negative side of the question. He stated that he believed war was wholly permissible when the health and the happiness of a nation were endangered by an aggressor nation.

"I do not believe that a Christian should kill, but he must defend with his life these things he cherishes more than life itself. The ideals we must defend are certainly more important to the welfare of a nation than are the lives that will be lost in defending the ideal," he stated.

To Speak Again
Prof. Cameron will speak on this same subject Monday night in a follow-up discussion, which will be held in the auditorium of the YMCA. He has been requested to take the same viewpoint that he took in last Monday's debate, although Page will not be present to defend the affirmative side. Because

ATTRACTIVE SPONSORS FOR AG "BARNWARMING"

Boys and girls in blue denim and calico will take over Frank Thompson Gymnasium tomorrow night for the annual "Barnwarming" presented by students in the school of Agriculture. Sponsors for the dance are pictured above. They are: Miss Nellie Webb with J. E. Webb, Jr., chairman of the dance committee; Miss Melba Olive with F. H. Bailey, dance committeeman; Miss Carolyn Melton with J. R. Hurst, dance committeeman; Miss Gladys Martin with J. D. Patton, president of the Student Ag Fair; Miss Virginia Parlier with R. P. Handy, business manager of the "Agriculturist"; Miss Frances Rinehart with Sam Dobson, editor of the "Agriculturist"; Miss Marie Murden with L. E. Thornton, president of Alpha Epsilon; and Miss Allen Snow with H. F. Robinson, president of the Ag Club.

Sick Students

Confined to the infirmary during the month of February were 264 boys, suffering in the majority from head colds and influenza, the infirmary announced yesterday.

Reports have been current that the College has been sieged with an influenza epidemic, but Dr. A. C. Campbell, college physician, said that this was not the case, because all sickness has been of a minor nature. However, more boys were confined to the infirmary during the month of February than have ever been before during that month.

Colonel Harrelson has been confined to his bed for nearly two weeks suffering with an attack of influenza, and Dean Cloyd was absent from his office yesterday with the same illness.

Ag Club Picks New Officials

At the weekly meeting of the Ag Club held last Tuesday night in the YMCA auditorium, J. C. Pierce was elected president of the club for the spring term to succeed Harold Robinson. The other officers elected were John Worrell, vice president, Tom Bivens, secretary and Jim Hemmings, reporter.

Following the hotly contested election, Mr. C. Swift and Mr. Paul Shaw gave highly informative and interesting lectures dealing with the Farm Security Administration and the Rural Rehabilitation program in North Carolina. Both men work with these government agencies. Mr. Shaw is a State College graduate.

An attendance record was set when more than 200 students attended the meeting.

Immediately after the meeting was adjourned, Fred Webb, chairman of the Barnwarming committee, gave out bids to the students. Script will be 85c at the door.

Textile Chemists Hear Schandler

Jack Schandler, a State College alumnus and now connected with the research laboratories of the Geigy Company, was the principle speaker at last week's meeting of the student section of the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists.

Schandler presented a very interesting and timely lecture on chrome colors and the use of mordant dyes on wool. He told of the various types of chrome colors and the different methods of application for each.

H. Sims, of the Carolina Aniline and Extract Company, also told something about the modern scouring compounds now used on wool.

State-Duke

The Red Terrors played just five of their six "Irish Men," as "Red" Sevier was held out by the recurrence of an injury to his knee, also received in the Wake Forest game.

State started the second half with three field goals in rapid succession but Duke came back with five of their own to get a 30-28 lead. Duke kept ahead until Bill Mann sank two in a row to put the Terrors ahead, 33-36. Bergman's free throw narrowed the lead State held to one point, but a goal by Bennis gave the Techs a three-point lead. Scoring for the night was closed by Swindell's long shot.

Final score, State 40, Duke 39.

Movie Depicts Life of Student

Follows State Freshmen From Enrollment Until After Graduation

Featuring only local talent, a movie is being prepared depicting the life of a State College student, and is expected to be in readiness by the middle of the spring term. The story was written by Prof. Hartley of the English Department and the filming of the scenes is being done by Prof. Weaver of the Horticulture Department. The scenario follows a freshman from the day of his matriculation at State College, through the various activities of each succeeding year until his graduation, when we finally see him applying his education as an executive in the construction engineering field.

The idea is sponsored by the General Alumni Association of State College, with the object of making the film available to student and alumni groups, as well as high schools throughout this part of the country.

Chorus Will Sing In Concert Sunday

The last in the winter term series of Sunday concerts sponsored by Mu Beta Psi, honorary musical fraternity, will be presented in Pullen Hall Sunday afternoon promptly at 4 o'clock.

The concert will feature the Raleigh High School chorus, led by Frederick S. Smith, director of music in the city schools.

Last week a record crowd filled Pullen Hall for a presentation of John Toms, tenor soloist, and the Raleigh String Quartet. Following the program Sunday, the artists and members of State's musical organizations were the guests of the State College Woman's Club at a reception.

The general public and all State students have been invited to attend this final concert Sunday.

There will be an important meeting of the A. I. M. E. Tuesday night at 7:00 o'clock, March 7, 1939. All members are urged to be present. Motion pictures
