

Thousands To Throng Campus Today For Engineers' Fair

ANNUAL TEXTILE EXPOSITION TO BE HELD THURSDAY

GETTING READY FOR TODAY'S FAIR

John Lockhart and Charlton Storey are shown putting the finishing touches on the new television set which will be demonstrated in the electrical engineering department today. This set will receive images sent from another set located across the campus. The above set operates on newly developed principles and is the first of its kind to appear in Raleigh.

Beautiful and interesting displays will be exhibited by students in the department of ceramic engineering, featuring glass blowing, pottery making, and other clay products. Shown above is G. W. Derbyshire slip-casting to produce a shapely vase.

Shown above is Mack Watson adjusting the two-way teletype system that will be in operation during the fair today. It is similar to the machines used in sending and receiving press association news. Two complete machines will be set up in operation for sending and receiving.

College Girls To Be Models At Gala Event

Colorful Ensembles to be Made From Cloth Woven by State Students

Final arrangements for the twelfth annual Textile Exposition and Style Show are rapidly being completed in anticipation of the huge crowds expected to attend the event Thursday, April 20.

The entire program is under the direction of students in the State College Textile School in conjunction with the home economics departments of nine North Carolina women's colleges.

Colorful Event
The Style Show which is looked forward to as one of the most colorful and important events on the college calendar, will feature 115 girls modeling garments made by themselves of cotton and rayon fabrics designed and woven by students in the Textile School. The show will begin at 2 o'clock and will be followed by the Exposition, during which visitors will be escorted through the textile building and shown the processes by which raw cotton is converted into finished fabrics. All machinery in the various departments will be in operation so that a complete picture of the processes may be gained.

Included in the style show will be a presentation of the various types of fabrics that have been made by students in the Textile School and modeled by students in the women's colleges. The prize winners for the occasion will be judged by prominent authorities on styling and designing.

The student committee in charge of the Exposition is under the direction of Superintendent George Hanna. Other officers include A. D. Potter, Gene Dees, G. E. Bewell, B. R. Rudisill, C. F. H. Begg, C. H. Reynolds, F. L. Misenheimer, R. J. Payne, J. V. Kirkman and E. S. Johnson.

Colleges participating in the Style Show are Meredith, Peace, St. Mary's, Queens-Chicora, Elon, Lenoir, Flora McDonald, High Point and Greensboro.

Room Application Dates Are Changed

Present Occupants Given Chance to Retain Rooms for Next Year

A change was announced yesterday in the dates on which students may apply for their rooms for the school year of 1939-40, and a shift was also made in the dormitory arrangements.

Boys now occupying dormitory rooms will be given a chance to retain their present rooms from May 1-6, after which dates they will have to apply with the other members of their class for rooms.

Rising seniors will be given preference, being allowed to choose their rooms from May 8 until May 13. Rising juniors have been allotted May 15 until May 20, with the rising sophomores following from May 22 until May 27.

Several changes have been proposed in dormitory rooming, which would mainly affect students living in 1911 dormitory.

Under the proposal the left wing on the first floor of 1911 would house self-help students, and the main section and right wing would be for Forestry men. On the second floor the left wing would be for upperclassmen and the remaining sections reserved for A.A.A. workers. Upperclassmen would occupy the left wing of the third floor, with Agronomy students filling the remaining part of the dormitory.

Fourth dormitory may be converted into a dormitory for graduate students only.

Bids to Brawl

All engineering students can secure their bids to the "Brawl" which will be held tomorrow night, by going to the secretaries of their respective departments and presenting their registration cards. BIDS WILL BE GIVEN OUT WITHOUT A REGISTRATION CARD. Due to the large number of engineers and the first floor of the gymnasium of the complex in the gym to six hundred couples, these bids will not be transferable.

MAKING HIS FIRST SOLO FLIGHT

Nine of the twenty students receiving flight instructions under the CAA have already made their solo flights, and the other men will get their tries in the near future. Seen here are H. J. Carey, left, instructor, giving some last-minute advice to Lawrence H. Tate before Tate embarks on his first solo flight.

Student Body Goes To Polls On Monday

Wataugan Style Will Be Changed

Publications Board Votes to Alter Magazine at Special Meeting

Feeling that there is no need for the Wataugan in its present state on the State College campus, the Publications Board at a special meeting held Tuesday voted to change the nature of the publication beginning next year. Proposals included a change from the present humor magazine to one which featured literary contributions by members of the student body.

A committee appointed to investigate whether or not the magazine has met student needs, submitted a proposal that a change in style be made and the proposal was adopted by the Board. The exact nature of the change was not decided, but suggestions included a literary magazine, a news magazine on the order of Time and one which would be part literary and part humor.

It was also proposed that the staff work under the guidance of a faculty member should the change be made to a magazine featuring creative literary efforts by students.

Alpha Zeta Holds Annual Initiations

Honorary Agricultural Fraternity Inducting Seventeen; Odd Costumes Main Feature of Initiation

This week seventeen students from the Agricultural and Forestry schools are being initiated into Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity, and the men will receive their formal initiation next Wednesday night.

During their initiation week the pledges of the fraternity are marked by their blue overalls and red bandannas, and the various articles of farm equipment which they carry.

"The pledges will be honored with a private dance tonight," stated Chancellor Leland Thornton, "and informal initiation will be held Tuesday, with formal initiation on Wednesday night."

Requirements
To be eligible for membership in Alpha Zeta the student must have been in school five terms, have high qualities of leadership and character, and stand in the upper two-fifths of his class.

The annual spring banquet of the fraternity is being planned for May 20, and at that time new officers of the organization will be installed.

The initiates are: J. A. Dobson, C. L. James, J. N. Edge, R. K. Lee, James McGinnis, Joe O'Brian, F. H. Price, J. D. Simmons, S. C. Vinson, L. B. Vinson, J. Jones, L. L. Copley, Albert Doh, J. R. Hurst, C. K. Watkins, E. M. Greene, and B. G. Andrews.

Gala Ceremonies Will Take Place At Grand Opening

Solo Flights Are Completed By 8 Students

Nine of Twenty in Flying School Have Made First Hop Alone

Eight more students at State College were flying solo as a result of aviation training provided by the Federal government, Professor L. R. Parkinson, head of the division of pilots and mechanics training, announced this week.

Previously five students had tried their wings alone successfully. Twenty State men are taking the course as part of an experimental program which, if deemed successful, will be expanded next fall to provide training for 20,000 student pilots annually.

Latest Soloists
Latest to solo are Leon F. Williams, Jr., Paul E. Johnson, Jr., Laurence H. Tate, Robert L. Furman, Robert W. Bradham, Harold J. Pollack, Joe N. Drum and J. H. Posen.

"The Civil Aeronautics Authority seems very well satisfied with the progress we are making," stated Professor Parkinson. State College is one of the 13 colleges and universities throughout the nation included in the experimental phase of the government's air training program.

Actual flying by State students will begin until mid-March and the fact that nearly half of the group have completed their solo flight is a matter of great pride for college officials. When the students have completed 35 hours of solo flying they will be eligible to receive a flying certificate. The government will provide instruction for 50 hours, however, if it is deemed necessary.

For senior representatives on the Athletic Council, C. A. Hunter and T. R. Johnson led the rest of the candidates with 156 and 129 ballots. L. N. Boney was a close third with 120 votes.

Rollins Sevier and W. E. Carter were chosen to go to the finals for junior representative on the Athletic Council, Sevier polling 805 votes and Carter 100. W. A. Thomason was third with a count of 80.

In the count for secretary of the YMCA C. H. Kirkman and Ward Andrews led with 210 and 153 votes respectively. Woodley Warrick was third with 132.

For treasurer of the YMCA F. A. Webb was first by a count of 228, and M. E. Starnes second with 177 votes. W. A. Greenlee followed with 94.

Bunny Hines led all other candidates in the Alumni Trophy balloting with 177 votes. P. G. Hill was second with 80. Coon, Mann, Jones, and Frye followed, each receiving about the same number of votes.

Murchison Here For Style Show

President of Textile Institute to Speak Wednesday Night

Dr. Claudius T. Murchison of New York, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, will deliver public address here next Wednesday night, Dean Thomas Nelson of the Textile School announced this week.

The address is scheduled to take place in Pullen Hall and will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Dean Nelson also added that Dr. Murchison will remain at the college for the 12th annual Style Show and the 20th annual Textile Exposition.

Dr. Murchison, a native of Hickory, has been president of the Cotton Textile Institute since 1935. He served previously as head of the department of economics at the University of North Carolina.

Thirty and Three Selects Leaders

"Cutie" Carter Chosen for President of Sophomore Leadership Fraternity

W. E. "Cutie" Carter was chosen as president of the Order of 30 and 3, sophomore honorary leadership society, at their meeting held last night in the college YMCA.

Other officers chosen last night were: "Dody" Furr, vice president; Dud Kaley, secretary; and Aidine Thomason, treasurer. The society was founded in 1931 for the purpose of recognizing leadership ability, scholarship, interest in college welfare, and good character.

Five outstanding members of the sophomore class were chosen for membership, bringing the total taken in this year up to eleven. Their names will be announced next week.

A committee was appointed to investigate the expenditure of the society's funds for the improvement of the college. The committee consisted of Charlie Hunter, chairman; B. B. Crawford and E. P. Davidson.

Opening Ceremonies to be Held at 2 o'clock at Winston Hall; Mr. Stanley Winborne to be Feature Speaker

Cutting through steel bars with a flaming blow torch will mark the opening of the 13th annual Engineers' Fair this afternoon at 2 o'clock in front of Winston Hall on Hillsboro Street, President Arthur Raymond of the Engineers' Council announced yesterday.

The fair will continue through midnight, and preparations have been made to handle 10,000 visitors. Heading the opening ceremonies will be State Utilities Commissioner Stanley Winborne, who will be honored by the young engineers with initiation as an honorary knight into the Order of Saint Patrick. The order was named for the "patron saint" of engineering who invented "the first worm drive."

Winborne will kiss the Blarney Stone and be knighted by President Raymond serving as St. Pat. Governor Hoey was taken into the order last year.

Other Guests
Accompanying Winborne as special guests will be Roy Williamson, Raleigh commissioner of public works, and S. P. Vecker, general sales manager of the Carolina Power and Light Company. Scores of high school youths from many cities throughout the State also will be special guests.

The ROTC regiment of 1,300 military students will compliment the Engineers' Council and guests of honor with a parade in Riddick stadium at noon. At 1 o'clock visiting high school students will be addressed at a luncheon meeting by Dean Blake R. Van Leer of the School of Engineering.

Sitting with the Council in the reviewing box at the parade will be sponsors for the Engineers' Brawl tomorrow night, Dean and Mrs. Van Leer, and Col. and Mrs. J. W. Harrelson.

Route
The route of the fair will wind through the seven engineering departments, beginning in the chemistry building and ending at the electrical and physics buildings. Along the route, which will be marked with large arrows, will be information booths and guides supplied by Theta Tau, honorary professional organization.

Construction Work Shows Progress As Program Nears End

Dormitories and Chemistry Building to be Ready for Occupation by Fall

Ten buildings are now under construction under the $1,600,000 building program at State College, said Col. J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration, yesterday, and there are two more contracts to be let. Seven of these buildings are on the campus—five dormitories, one chemistry building, and one textile building. The other three consist of a dairy barn, a residence, and a milk laboratory at the newly acquired farm near Meredith College.

The other two contracts will also be let in the near future.

Col. Harrelson said that the bids on 8th and 9th dormitories were so low that enough money was left to begin construction on the 10th dormitory, which is to be situated behind 9th dorm. Only the first and second floors of this building will be completed under this present building program and the third and basement floors will be finished when the necessary funds are available.

All dormitories now under construction with the exception of two floors of 10th will be ready for occupation next fall, said Harrelson, and also the chemistry building.

ROTC Inspection Begins April 20

Colonel C. W. Weeks of Clemson Will Grade Local Regiment

The War Department's annual inspection of the R.O.T.C. regiment at State College will be conducted Thursday and Friday, April 20-21, by Col. C. W. Weeks of Clemson College, Major Kenneth G. Althaus, executive officer, announced today.

All phases of military instruction studied by the 1,200 youths in the corps, in classrooms and outdoors, will be covered by the inspection.

For the past eight years the War Department has awarded a rating of excellent to the State College regiment following the annual inspection.

The regiment will compliment the Engineers Council next Friday with a parade in Riddick Stadium, beginning at noon, in honor of the annual Engineers' Fair which will begin at 2 o'clock and continue until midnight.

MONARCHS OF THE ENGINEERS' FAIR

Arthur G. Raymond and Miss Ethel Grey Clifton of Raleigh, pictured here, will rule over the annual Engineers' Fair today and the colorful Engineers' Brawl tomorrow evening.

Raymond, as president of the Engineers' Council, will be St. Pat, and Miss Clifton will reign as Princess Pat. Outstanding students in the School of Engineering will be knighted at the Brawl into the Order of St. Patrick.

will be determined Monday when the 1938 final elections take place.

The senior class, at its meeting last Tuesday, decided to select one single part of the monument and pledge its support to its completion.

The program for State College's forty-fourth annual commencement exercises are rapidly being formulated, Dr. T. P. Harrison, chairman of the arrangements committee, announced today.

Five Years Ago This Week
Preparations for the seventh annual State College Cotton Style Show were well under way today as members of the Tompkins Textile Society met and elected officers for the show.

The North Carolina Collegiate Press Association's Spring Convention will be held in Raleigh at Carolina Pines the first week-end in May.

Twenty-nine athletes were among the 284 students recognized Wednesday at the annual Scholarship Day exercises held at State College.

Army Fraternity Extends Nine Bids

Upsilon Sigma Alpha Holds Informal Initiations of Junior "Goats"

Upsilon Sigma Alpha, national army fraternity, is having its informal initiation for nine new members beginning today and lasting until next Thursday night when the formal initiation will be held.

Upsilon Sigma Alpha was organized on the State College campus in the last few years and its members are restricted to advanced ROTC cadets, sons of army officers and cadets of the United States Naval and Military Academies.

The new men are: E. O. Ingram, Jr., R. Heywood Witherington, John S. Smith, Ed. M. Greene, J. Lloyd Langdon, M. W. Nakonecny, P. Porcher Gregg, C. F. Begg, Jr., C. M. Gattis.

GLEANINGS

Things I never knew 'til now (did you?): That Dean Romeo LeFort's flying trip to New York this week was directly concerned with booking the bands for Finals. . . . Don't say that I told you but Artie Shaw, Tommy Dorsey and Kay Kyser are definitely out of the running. . . . They are all reluctant to leave the big city. . . . It will probably be Glen Gray, Jimmie Dorsey and Will Osborne. . . . That handsome Selby Jones made the front page of one of the local dailies in a picture of some prominent Easter paraders. . . . That Bill Le Morte spends most of his time out at Meredith, where the angels sing.

That Walter Williams whispers sweet nothings to his one and only via that new radio station's "1210 club." . . . That Wayland (Puppy) Stuart has been receiving fan mail from Spartanburg. . . . Why Ebo Frink will tell you that love is only half blind. . . . Who the high school infant was who tried to start a scrap with burly but friendly George Boswell pulled. . . . They gave Charlie Begg 'at ease' when he left the Citadel and he hasn't snapped out of it yet.

Why Jimmie Angelo is all smiles these days. . . . That Hal Randolph has more than a scholastic interest in the Engineers' Department. . . . Whether you've read that letter Gene Dees got from a little lassie who saw his picture in the paper recently. . . . What a swell recording is Glen Gray's "Sunrise Serenade." . . . If you've heard about several members of a certain fraternity working against one of their brothers who is running for a campus office.

That Walter Fanning had quite a set-to with a gentleman named Paul but came through with a one-round decision. . . . A one-word description of "Poncho" Arizpe: volitive. . . . That Bunny Hines also answers to the name of "Fish." . . . That Bobbie Loos won a free round-trip ticket on one of the largest "Dixie" Lines for Kankakee in a model airplane building contest when he was a freshman. . . . Why that freshman from Fourth hurried into the library as soon as he gets off class.

Whether you've heard about Ernie Koella's new indoor golf game. . . . It's really different. . . . That there is a movement on foot to consolidate Meredith and Wake Forest into one co-educational institution. . . . That Jim Patton may be found in the Mop-Up daily entertaining the triple-A girls. . . . That my hat is off to Professors HIBON and Hart for the grand way in which they put up with the antics of we seniors on the annual textile inspection trip. . . . Having about 70 playful college boys on your hands is no cinch for anyone.

That Joe Massey, last year's cadet colonel, is hard at work and happy in his new role as one of Clemson's professors. . . . Whether you've seen any of the work done by that caricature artist who visited local fraternities houses recently. . . . Don't miss the one he did of the Vann. . . . Why the girls all swoon when Sam (Glamor) Welch walks by. . . . That this year's Engineers' Fair is slated to be one of the biggest and best yet. . . . And our congrats to Art Raymond and his Council.

That Tom Rowland is this corner's choice for drug-store cowboy number one. . . . Why J. V. Lyon spends so much time in the infirmary. . . . That this week's pat on the back should go to Jack Haynes and Sid Rogers for one of the best issues of the "Southern Engineer" ever published on campus. . . . That "Dean" Dick MacKenzie and Marvin Mason dated a pair of high school juniors in Greenville last week.

That the Pikas came through with a really swell affair Monday night. The music was smooth, the women were beautiful and everybody was happy. . . . Heaven can wait. . . . That Colonel Harrelson and Dean Cloyd each got one vote for winner of the Alumni Athletic Trophy in the primary elections Wednesday. . . . As if women's hats weren't silly enough, why they had to begin wearing derbies.

Where in the world Bill Bailey gleans all those fragrant jokes he tells. . . . That Don Hamilton swears this time it's the real thing. . . . That Doc Holmes has already gone in training for this year's press convention. . . . ditto "Floggie" Worrell. . . . Why Clint Winstead suddenly regained his interest in the "angel farm." . . . Who were the playboys who tried to lynch a porter at the Carolina Hotel Monday night.

What a swell sense of humor Ed Smith has. . . . That those in the know are predicting a real textile style show and exposition for next Thursday. . . . What would happen if you asked Dick McPhail how he enjoyed that bus ride from Charlotte to Greenville last Wednesday. . . . Why a stop light isn't placed in front of the College on Hillsboro Street to slow up some of those speed maniacs who endanger students' lives and limbs. . . . STEVE SAILER.

Think for Yourself . . .

Final campus-wide elections will be held Monday and those in charge are anticipating one of the heaviest turnouts in years. It is the duty of every man in State College to go to the polls and cast his vote.

But before you go to the polls it is wise to pause and carefully consider the merits and capabilities of the candidates involved. Remember, you are selecting your leaders—the men who will be at the helm of your student government and activities. They will represent you in campus life. Weigh each man's prospects sanely and vote for the man you feel will best uphold your ideals, not the man who happens to be in the same school or organization that you are.

Think before you vote, but be sure it's your own thinking. A great deal of pressure will be brought to bear upon you within the next few days. Those seeking office will approach you with numerous promises, you will be advised by your friends on how to vote, or perhaps an organization that you belong to may attempt to dictate to you. Listen to all of them and weigh each side of the issue carefully, but make your own decision.

Go to the polls Monday and cast your ballot for the man you think is most capable of holding down the position involved.

About Campus Movies . . .

Our heartiest congratulations to Secretary E. S. King of the YMCA and A. M. Smith for the splendid job they are doing in promoting free movies on the State College campus for the entertainment of students and faculty members.

The idea was put into practice on a small scale at the outset, without the fanfare and publicity that usually accompanies such pioneering efforts. But it is gradually beginning to grow and to show promise as more than just a means of recreation. Modern collegians look to radio and the movies as a valuable means of education, and justly so. The theory that is learned in the classroom is impressed much more permanently in the student's mind when he sees it in actual operation in industry or on the screen.

We look to the future, with the sincere hope that State College will soon have a much-needed auditorium capable of holding the entire student body and that Pullen Hall will serve as a campus theatre, both for our entertainment and as a valuable aid to a well-rounded education. To men like King and Smith we say, "Carry on with the good work."

By "Ace" KROCHMAL
State's baseball team finally hit its stride and turned in a 9-8 win yesterday afternoon over the visiting William and Mary team.

Captain Bob Wicker broke his batting slump by slamming out a beautiful homer into centerfield, and by getting a single.

Pitcher "Pea" Green racked up a circuit-clout when his long hit to centerfield bounced over the fielder's head. Green hurled a swell game, and fanned 14 men.

Another man who has been shining for the Techs in sports is Clint Winstead, who has filled three positions this year thus far, shortstop, outfielder and pitcher, and has turned in outstanding performances in each. Clint, who led the frosh batters last year, is leading the varsity at present.

An amusing interlude was furnished the spectators at the game yesterday, when the visitor's shortstop, Yeager, was bounced from the ball game after he and the ump engaged in a heated debate over the question of whether or not one of Green's pitches had been a ball or a strike.

Hard Luck
Dame Fortune's face was turned from the Techmen when they clashed with Wake Forest last Monday. On three separate occasions bad luck put a stop to what might have been the start of State scoring.

In the second inning Captain Wicker slugged out a beautiful line drive down the first-base line. However, a strong wind which bothered both players and fans all game, carried the ball out and it was foul. In the fourth stanza Wade Brown hit a ball down third base which, from where I sat on the base-line, appeared fair, was called foul by the ump. In the seventh Winstead reached first, but the Deacon sacker dropped the ball. However, the ump ruled that he had put Winstead out and had then dropped the ball.

Football Here Again
Doc Newton, the wily mentor of State's football team, is missing no opportunity in his efforts to assure the Wolfpack of being at top-notch form next year for their grueling schedule.

Despite the fact that spring practice was held last term, Doc has the aspiring, and perspiring griders working out every day in shorts. Most of the practice is devoted to running through plays and practicing pass work. There is no actual contact during these sessions. State will meet some of the nation's best football teams next year when it engages Tennessee, Duke, North Carolina, Detroit, Duquesne and Miami, among others.

Around Town
The boxing team has elected popular Ed Young, 135 pounder, to captain their team next year. Ed earned his monogram this year, and turned in an excellent record. He hails from Oxford, N. C., and is a rising senior in electrical engineering.

Sam Welch, sprint man on Doc Sermon's cinder team certainly receives the proper stimulus for success on the track. Every afternoon a crowd of about fifteen or twenty adoring young females from Raleigh and suburbs come out to watch the "dashing" Romeo man do his stuff. Nice going, Sam, nice going.

Boquet
This week's bunch of posies goes to "Pea" Green whose steady improvement as the season goes along is enough to warm the cockles of the heart of all loyal State supporters. Of late, the little Zebulon pitcher has not only been turning in some fine hurling performances, but has also been clouting the horsehide for plenty.

Track Resumed After Eight Years Absence

Cinder Season Opens Tomorrow Against Richmond

Spiders Are Foe In State's First Home Track Meet in Eight Years; New Track Is the Place, 2:30 Is the Time

State College will return to track competition at home tomorrow afternoon, after a lapse of eight years starting at 2:30 o'clock, when the charges of Dr. Ray Sermon and Herman Hickman take on the University of Richmond in a Southern Conference dual meet.

Business Manager John Von-Glahn announced that no admission will be charged for the meet to be staged on State's recently completed double-J track, provided with WPA funds.

A huge squad of students has been working out for six weeks, as the veteran coaches sought to build a team without a single letterman. Captain Bill Davis, crack distance runner, was the only member of last year's team to earn a letter. He completed his years of eligibility as State returned to intercollegiate competition on foreign fields.

State contestants in the dashes will be drawn from Dick East, Sam Welch, Mickey Thompson, Russell Burcham and H. S. Gibbs, Middle and distance runners include E. H. Johnson, D. S. Mattox, Art Raymond, Ted Tyren, R. W. Wrenn, Cal-Ross, Charles Hunter, Jack Nolley, P. G. Hill and R. J. Robertson.

Hurdlers expected to see service are Welch, I. H. Hanf and Dev Joslin, in the highs, and Gibbs, Welch, Joslin and G. L. Yinging, Jr. in the lows.

Weight men include Howel Stroup, Art Rooney, E. V. Helms and C. E. Peters, in the shot-put; Helms, Mickey Thompson and Paul Louder in the discus; E. H. Peters and Bill Windley in the javelin. Joslin and John Thompson are expected to be high-jump entries; Mickey Thompson, Gibbs and Joslin in the broad jump, and Hanf and S. B. Bledsoe in the pole vault.

Full Week Ahead For 'Pack Teams

Eight Events Are Scheduled, Six to be Played Here; Baseball Game With Duke at Durham Tops List

Eight events, six of them for varsity teams, are on next week's sports schedule at State College.

The Program
Tuesday: Freshman baseball vs. Duke, here; varsity tennis vs. Washington and Lee, here.

Wednesday: Varsity baseball vs. Duke, in Durham; varsity tennis vs. Wake Forest, here.

Thursday: Frosh baseball vs. Wake Forest, in Wake Forest.

Friday: Varsity track vs. Hampden-Sydney, here.

Saturday: Varsity baseball vs. Davidson, here; varsity tennis vs. Davidson, here.

The tennis team has the hardest assignment with three Southern Conference and Big Five teams to meet. The varsity nine expects to strengthen its cause in the all-important struggles with Duke and Davidson, while the freshman nine, beaten once in the conference, expects to further its bid for honors in its two games.

Track Debut
State's track and field athletes, who make their debut at home tomorrow after a lay-off of eight years, are keenly looking forward to their meeting with the Tigers from Death Valley.

Coaches Ray Sermon and Herman Hickman are expected to juggle their line-up considerably, while Coach Chick Doak of the baseball team hopes to settle on a definite lineup, after having been forced to use many combinations in an effort to bolster a team that was riddled by graduation, professional baseball contracts, and loss of his ace pitcher, who was declared ineligible for scholastic deficiencies.

TRACK COACH

Seen above is Dr. Ray Sermon who is head coach of varsity and frosh track. Doc's varsity proteges will make their bow tomorrow when they meet the University of Richmond track team here, for the first track meet held in Raleigh in eight years.

Doakmen Lose To W&L, WF and UNC

Hard Luck Dogs State Baseball Team; Pea Green, Clint Winstead, Adolph Honeycutt and Fred Broyhill Look Good

Despite State's free hitting, Carolina's baseball team got a 12-5 win when the two teams clashed at Chapel Hill last Wednesday.

The Tar Heels got away to a four-run start in the first inning. Mallory's triple scored Tompkins, and Strinwies' home run brought in Nethercutt, who had walked.

The Techs used three hurlers, Steele, Harper and Winstead. Steele retired in the fourth after yielding five runs and three hits; Harper in the seventh after yielding four runs and six hits.

Clint Winstead, sophomore, led State's slugging with three out of five. Hoyle got two for three, and Honeycutt got two for five.

Easter Monday Game
Wake Forest's ace pitcher, Ray Scarborough, pitched a two-hit game as the Demon Deacons blanked State 2-0 in their traditional Easter Monday game.

More than 3,500 fans turned out to see the oldest collegiate rivalry in North Carolina renewed. And the fans were treated to one of the greatest pitching exhibitions seen in these parts recently.

State's diminutive pitcher, "Pea" Green turned in a fine game, allowing only seven hits. Green walked six men, Scarborough walked five. A single by Adolph Honeycutt in the eighth and another by "Pig" Peatross in the ninth was all that kept Deacon pitcher from a no-hit game.

Gens Beat State 5-3
State's first Conference game was lost as the result of a single in the eighth inning by a W. & L. hitter, with bases load.

Two walks and an error filled the bases in State's half of the third. Clint Winstead's single drove in Ritter and Broyhill. The other two runs resulted from a single by Winstead, an error and a single by Hendren.

State Diamondmen Tangle With Devils

Techmen Cross Bats With Duke First Time This Year; Will be Underdogs in Game

The Tech baseball team will engage the ever-powerful Duke diamond group next Wednesday at Durham.

Despite a mediocre season last year, State was able to take two wins over the Blue Devils, who wound up on top of the Southern Conference.

Coach Chick Doak is still juggling his lineup in an effort to find the combination that will prove the most effective. The loss of pitcher Holzhusser has been an added source of woe to the Red team. "Pea" Green and Sam Kaufman have been carrying the pitching burden thus far.

Duke's best hitters are Gaddy, centerfielder, and Davis, second baseman. Russ Bergman is a standout at shortstop, and Eric Tipton, of football fame, patrols leftfield.

CANDIDATES FOR ALUMNI ATHLETIC TROPHY

Next Monday the students at State will decide which of the two men pictured above will receive the Alumni Trophy, which is awarded each year to the man the students think is the outstanding athlete in the senior class.

P. G. Hill, left, better known as "Junior," was co-captain of State's basketball team this past season. He is a senior in textiles, and his home is in Rocky Mount. Hill is vice president of the Monogram Club.

"Bunny" Hines, a diminutive guard, served as captain of State's football team this fall. "Bunny" is a textile senior from Winston-Salem, and is president of the Monogram Club.

Final Plans Made For Stupendathon

Date for Monogram Club's Annual Presentation Set for May 16; "Nig" Waller Will Be Master of Ceremonies

The date for the annual Stupendathon staged by the Monogram Club has been set for May 16, President "Bunny" Hines announced today.

The Stupendathon, which is presented in the form of a vaudeville show, is expected to hit a new high in entertainment value this year according to all indications. It will be staged in Pullen Hall with popular "Nig" Waller serving as master of ceremonies.

The detailed features of the show have not been disclosed as yet but plans are taking shape rapidly for a gala evening.

Frosh Nosed Out By Tar Babies, 2-1

Carolina Freshman Pitcher Fans 17 Batters; Game Goes Extra Inning; Gamy Hits Triple for Techlets

The freshman baseball team suffered its first defeat this season when it went down before the Carolina yearlings last Tuesday to the score of 2-1.

"Lefty" John Cheshire turned in a beautiful performance for the Tar Heels, fanning 17 State batters.

Cheshire hooked up with State's hurler, "Peanut" Doak in a pitcher's battle that was scoreless for seven innings, and which had to be played an extra stanza.

Both pitchers had a hand in the scoring. Doak opened the eighth inning with a single, and came home on Ramsey's triple. Carolina caught up with State in the ninth, with singles by Frye and Reynolds, a wild pitch, and a bunt by Jones.

CAPTAIN JIM

Captain Jim Murray, who is pictured above, is the leader of the 1939 edition of State's tennis team which won its first victory last Wednesday over Boston College.

Losing Streak Broken By Win Over Indians

Baseball Team Garner Victory Over William and Mary; Pitcher Green Fans 14 Batters and Hits Homer to Star for State

By ED FERRY
Allen (Pea) Green, was the hero in State's 9-8 victory over William and Mary here yesterday. Green fanned 14 batters and hit an eighth inning homer with a man on base for the margin of victory.

Yesterday's win was the first in four starts for Coach Chick Doak's State team this season.

The State College boys got off to a bad start and after three innings were trailing the Sovereigns by a 2-0 count. The Techs trailed until the seventh inning when they tied the count at 5-all. In the eighth State added two runs to bring the score to 7-5 in their favor.

The State boys were out ahead with a 7-6 count in the eighth inning when Green smacked his centerfield homer, scoring T. E. Hendren who had reached first on an error by Shortstop Frankie Koss.

Wicker and Green were the big guns in State's hitting, each with a homer and a single. Koss' single and homer and Al Trivette's two singles led the visitors at bat.

Tennis Team Wins Over Boston, 9-0

Netters Take First Win of Season by Defeating Visiting Team From Bean City

The State College varsity tennis team took the strong outfit from Boston College into camp last Wednesday to the tune of 9-0.

This match, the first victory for the State College netters this season, was played on the wind-swept courts at State. The high wind made several of the games very fast and exciting.

Murray defeated Bismark, 6-4, 6-7, 7-5. Boney defeated Dacey, 6-1, 6-3. Cline defeated Sullivan, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4. Sevier defeated Lynch, 6-4, 8-6. Fleetwood defeated Campbell, 6-1, 6-0.

Baker defeated Horsfal, 7-9, 8-2, 6-2. Murray and Sevier defeated Bismark and Dacey, 6-4, 6-2. Boney and Cline defeated Lynch and Sullivan, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

Boger and Lummitz defeated Campbell and Horsfal, 6-4, 6-1.

Senior Foresters Will Go To Coast

Annual Inspection Trip to Be One of Longest in History of College

Thirty-two seniors in the Forestry School will leave the State College campus on Saturday, April 22, for a forty-day inspection trip that will carry them across the continent to the Pacific coast. The students will travel in the two forestry buses, accompanied by Professor Lenthall Wyman and Dr. J. Y. Hoffman, and are not scheduled to return to Raleigh until the first of June. The itinerary of the trip includes a three day visit at Crosscut, a three-day visit at Crescent, and one of the most complete of all wood utilization centers. Also three days will be spent in Flagstaff, Arizona, at the U. S. Forestry Service experiment station. Crossing the entire length of the United States, the students will visit many notable spots such as the San Francisco World's Fair, Yosemite National Park, Red Wood Valley, the Grand Canyon, and the Norris Dam. All national parks and forests near the route of the trip will be included.

MODERN ELECTRICAL ADVERTISING

The intricate electrical sign, shown above, has been the center of attraction in the Student Supply Store since its installation last month. There are only 50 such signs in the country and only three in this State. The Chesterfield Company installs a new sign each month as part of their gigantic advertising program.

Phones Proposed For Dormitories

Student Welfare Committee To Take Room to Room Poll On Question

The possibility of installing telephones in all of the State College dormitories next year was the principal topic of discussion at a regular meeting of the Student Welfare Committee held Tuesday night. Proposals included the installation of one phone in each of the smaller dormitories and one on each floor of the larger buildings such as Watauga and South. The system would operate through the present college telephone exchange with the addition of several extra trunk lines. Local calls would be free and incoming long distance calls could be handled under the proposed set-up.

It is planned to take a room-to-room poll on whether or not dormitory residents would be willing to pay a sum not to exceed one dollar for the use of the telephones in the college dormitories. Should a sufficient number of students agree to pay the fee, an appeal would be made to the University Board of Trustees to have the amount added to the present room rent.

Professor F. M. Hagl, chairman of the Student Welfare group, appointed a committee consisting of E. S. King, Jim Murray and A. S. Sallenger to further investigate the feasibility of the project.

Electrical Course To Begin April 25

Meters and Relays to be Studied During Four-Day Institute

The 13th annual Institute on Electrical Meters and Relays will be held at State College April 25-28, Director Edward W. Ruggles of the College Extension Division announced today.

The course will be divided so two days will be spent on the study of meters and two days on relays. Registration will begin at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, April 25, in Daniels Hall. Discussions of field problems and practices will feature the program, Director Ruggles said. "The Institute this year will be held largely in the form of a clinic with panel discussions. The superintendents and factory men will serve as experts," he stated.

On the faculty will be Dean Blake R. Van Leer of the School of Engineering; Prof. William Hand Brown, Jr., head of the Department of Electrical Engineering; Prof. R. S. Fournier, R. R. Brown and L. M. Kever of the electrical engineering faculty.

Debaters Win High Honors

Price Captures Two Firsts At Grand Eastern Tourney

Additional collegiate honors were bestowed yesterday upon Jack Price of State College, when he captured both the grand Eastern Championship in radio broadcasting and the grand Eastern Title in problem solving at the Grand Eastern Tournament being held this week in Rock Hill, S. C. George Lippard, another State College debater, won second place in the radio broadcasting competition. Both Price and Lippard competed with over 250 students. This tournament will be the largest held in the United States this year, having representatives from over fifty colleges located in twenty five states. Both Price and Lippard have gathered a long list of honors this year at the Dixie Appalachian Mountain, South Atlantic, and Southeastern Tournaments.

Future Farmers Hear Goodman

John W. Goodman, assistant director of Agricultural Extension here, was the principle speaker at a meeting of the State College chapter of the Future Farmers of America held Monday evening. Goodman gave a very interesting and instructive lecture on the numerous activities of the College Extension Service and its many benefits to farmers throughout the state.

The program was concluded with several selections by the organization's quartet and a skit by the Kappa Phi Kappa pledges.

Societies Hold Joint Meeting

The Agricultural Club met with the Forestry Club Tuesday night to sponsor a joint smoker and to elect officers for the annual Ag Fair. The men elected to be in charge of the Fair are Charlie Hunter, president; Paul Whetmore, vice president and Sexton Vinson, secretary-treasurer.

Following the elections several brief talks were made by faculty members, a community sing was held and refreshments were served to complete the program.

Advanced ROTC Course

Students who are in college now and who were declared ineligible for the advanced ROTC course may apply for the course now, it was announced today. Those students who will be no more than juniors in college next year are requested to see their battalion supervisors at once. These supervisors are: First battalion, Major Jones; second battalion, Major Chase, and third battalion, Major Burman. Miss in the band and drum and bugle corps are requested to see Major Athans.

SPONSORS FOR ENGINEERS' BRAWL

A colorful conclusion to activities in connection with the 13th annual Engineers' Fair at State College will be the Engineers' Brawl Saturday evening, April 15, in Frank Thompson Gymnasium. Thousands of North Carolinians are expected to see the scientific marvels on display at the Fair Friday from 2 p.m. until midnight. The Brawl sponsors, pictured here, will be special guests. Miss Ethel Grey Clifton of Raleigh will reign as Princess Pat at the Brawl. She will be escorted by Arthur G. Raymond who, as president of the Engineers Council, will serve as St. Pat in the knighting of outstanding engineering students into the Order of Saint Patrick. Other sponsors and their escorts will include Miss Mary Louise Saunders of Rocky Mount, a senior at E. C. T. C., with J. B. Lasley of Greensboro; Miss Alma Read of Winston-Salem with E. O. Randolph, Jr.; Miss E. J. Angelo of Raleigh with E. J. Angelo; Miss Willa Drew of Raleigh with J. P. Sawyer, Jr.; Miss Elizabeth Hood of Portsmouth, Va., with J. W. Foster, Jr.; Miss Margaret Noble of Rocky Mount, with Roger M. James, Jr.; Miss Laura Bumgarner of Hickory with Glenn Yount; Miss Kathrynn Upchurch of Durham with J. V. Henderson, Jr.; Miss Mildred Askew of Raleigh with R. A. Loos; Miss Virginia Holt of Raleigh with H. F. Randolph; and Miss Frances Dees of Greensboro with Walter B. Jones. All of the escorts are members of the Engineers Council. Isaham Jones and his orchestra will play for the Brawl.

the Animal Husbandry Department will act as judges, giving the correct placing and their reasons for the placings. Since it is acting as host, State College will not enter a team in the contest.

Thousands to Throng Campus Today for Engineers' Fair

(Continued from page 1) Professional engineering fraternity. Guests will be asked to register at the entrance, and for the first time an accurate count of the visitors will be made. Last year's fair was viewed by approximately 5,000 persons, who attended despite an all-day rain. The exhibits in the various departments will be judged this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and the prizes will be awarded tomorrow night during the Grand Brawl. One of the main features of the fair will be the pouring of molten metal in the mechanical engineering foundry at 8 o'clock tonight.

Entertainment

Tomorrow morning guests of the Council will be entertained by motion pictures in the auditorium of the YMCA, beginning at 9 o'clock, and Dean Van Leer will address the visitors at 10 o'clock immediately following the pictures. Climaxing the 13th annual fair will be the Grand Brawl in Frank Thompson gym tomorrow night, which will include the knighting ceremonies, awarding of prizes, and dancing to the music of Isaham Jones and his orchestra.

Engineering students in all departments have been working for weeks on interesting and entertaining displays. Features will include reception of pictures on a television set, with the image sent from a receiver across the campus; two-way communication with distant points on the college's modern short wave radio; pouring of molten metal and glass blowing; and scores of other displays dealing with the miracles of modern science.

Each department in the School of Engineering is represented by two students on the Council, which produces the annual fair. The representatives are D. W. Donovan and E. S. Pugh, architectural; John P. Sawyer, Jr. and H. F. Randolph, ceramic; Walter B. Jones and G. E. Yount, civil; J. W. Foster, Jr. and E. O. Randolph, chemical; Arthur Raymond and R. M. James, Jr., industrial; J. V. Henderson, Jr., and E. J. Angelo, electrical; and J. B. Lasley and R. A. Loos, mechanical.
