

Welfare Group Selects Heads At Initial Meet

Haig Elected Permanent Chairman at Meeting of Student-Faculty Committee

The newly-formed Student Welfare Committee held its initial meeting Tuesday afternoon in the YMCA for the purpose of electing permanent officers and outlining its policies.

Professor F. M. Haig was elected as chairman of the joint committee and Professor C. L. Shulenberg was elected secretary. Walter Fanning was chosen to serve as vice-chairman and Steve Siller will serve as vice-secretary of the group.

Under the present set-up, matters affecting the State College community will originate in the joint committee, which will meet on the second Tuesday of each month for any hearings desired by students or faculty members. Matters to be brought before the group will have to be presented to the chairman in writing at least one week before the regularly scheduled meeting.

The Welfare Committee will study any propositions or grievances arising and then make its recommendations to the general faculty, which has the authority to accept or reject the proposal. In the event that an important problem should arise between regularly scheduled meetings, a special meeting may be called at the discretion of the executive committee which is composed of the four officers.

Students and faculty members are welcome to attend meetings of the welfare group and take part in the forum discussion. The first regularly scheduled business meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 11 at 7:30 in the YMCA.

Massey Will Join Clemson's Faculty

State Graduate of Last Year Attained High Honors in Electrical Engineering

Joe T. Massey of Raleigh has been appointed as instructor in the electrical engineering department of Clemson College, in South Carolina, Prof. William Hand Browne, Jr., head of the Department of Electrical Engineering at State College, announced today.

Massey was graduated last June from State College, where he distinguished himself in scholarship and in the R.O.T.C. regiment, which he headed as Cadet Colonel. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Massey.

Prof. Browne said it is unusual for a student to step from the classroom directly into an instructor's post without a master's degree. It is understood that Clemson considered a large list of prospective instructors before offering the post to Massey, who previously had made plans to work with Westinghouse, manufacturer of electrical equipment and appliances.

Massey was awarded high honors in his studies during each of his four years at State College. He was ranked as a superior cadet in his freshman and sophomore years. In his junior year he won a silver medal as the best junior cadet, and last year he was awarded a gold medal for being the best senior cadet in the college.

S. B. Woolard of Robersonville, who was graduated in electrical engineering with Massey, has been awarded a teaching fellowship in Texas A. and M., Prof. Browne announced.

Fraternity Announces Question For Debate In College Contests

National Pi Kappa Delta Releases Subject; Many to be Added to Local Team

Professor Edwin Padgett announced yesterday that the national Pi Kappa Delta debate question for 1938-39 has just been released, and stated that this year would see intercollegiate debates on the subject, "Resolved that the United States should cease to use public funds for the purpose of stimulating business."

As in the past the unlimited squad system will be used on the Pi Kappa Delta debate question, and no eliminations will be held during the year. Only two members of last year's squad are eligible for active debating this year, and so there will be many openings on the debate team.

The above architect's drawing illustrates how Eighth and Ninth Dormitories will look when completed. Prof. Ross Shumaker, head of the Department of Architecture, was granted a leave of absence to design the buildings. Two more dormitories, a textile building, a new chemistry building, and two animal husbandry barns will be under construction by January 1, completing the work on State's $1,400,000 building program.

Jonas To Be Featured In Address Before IRC

Opposes Senator Reynolds in November Election; Our Bob to Speak Here Later

Charles A. Jonas, Republican candidate for the United States Senate from North Carolina, will address the State College International Relations Club at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, Oct. 11, in the YMCA auditorium on the "Present Political Crisis in America."

Jonas has accepted the Republican nomination as a candidate for the United States Senate, and will oppose Robert R. Reynolds, Democratic nominee, in the coming November general elections. Senator Reynolds has tentatively promised to speak before a meeting of the International Relations Club here the latter part of November.

Mr. Jonas, a member of the Republican National Committee, served in Congress under the Hoover administration and has served two terms in the State Senate and one term in the House of Representatives. He is at present a prominent lawyer in his home town of Lincoln and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Greater University of North Carolina.

The address Tuesday night is a part of the extensive program planned by the IRC to bring outstanding speakers to State's campus this year.

The club extended an invitation to Josiah W. Bailey, United States Senator, to speak at State College, and in a letter of reply this week, Bailey stated that if his physical condition would permit, he would address the IRC on the subject "The United States Senate and Our International Relations."

The feature speaker last week was R. O. Everett, prominent Durham attorney, who spoke on the make up of the United States Constitution.

A large attendance for the meeting Tuesday has been predicted, and all students, faculty, and outsiders interested are invited to attend.

High Honors Awarded State Debating Team

State-Pennsylvania Debate Selected as One of Best Ten in Country Last Year

The State College Debate Team, which won national fame with its victories over many of the larger colleges in this country last year, has just received the highest signal honor that is awarded to a college debating team—that of having its direct clash debate with the University of Pennsylvania published in Intercollegiate Debates as one of the ten outstanding debates in the country last year.

The direct clash form of debate was first introduced into American debate in 1932 by Professor Edwin H. Padgett of State College, and has been used extensively throughout collegiate debating circles during the past four years.

Other colleges to be honored in this year's selections along with State College are Cornell, Pitt, Wisconsin, Puerto Rico, Missouri, Winthrop, Arizona, Virginia, and George Washington, and Iowa.

Homecoming Plans Made By Societies At Joint Meeting

Golden Chain and Blue Key Discuss Extensive Program For Annual Celebration

Plans for one of the most elaborate Homecoming days in the history of the college were formulated and discussed last night at a joint meeting of Blue Key and Golden Chain, annual sponsors of the program.

Homecoming and Dad's Day will be held on the weekend of the Furman football game, October 22, with the actual festivities beginning on Friday night, October 21. The traditional pep meeting held on that night will be broadcast, following which the students will assemble in Pullen Hall for Stunt Night.

A luncheon will be given in the college cafeteria in honor of the returning alumni Saturday noon, with Coach Doc Newton as the guest speaker. During the intermission at the half of the gridiron contest, a lively program of stunts and fireworks has been planned.

All the dormitories and fraternity houses are to be decorated for the gala occasion and an award will be given to the one judged to be the best decorated. Open house will be in vogue in all of the dormitories and fraternity houses.

The week-end will be climaxed by the annual Homecoming dance to be held in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium on Saturday night.

Harrelson Speaks At Textile Smoker

Proposed Site for New Textile Building Meets With Hearty Approval

The Tompkins Textile Society held its annual smoker in the YMCA on Tuesday night before one of the largest turnouts in the history of the organization.

Colonel J. W. Harrelson, Dean of Administration and the principle speaker of the evening, spoke of the rapid progress the State College Textile School has made in the past 25 years and discussed the location of the proposed new $300,000 textile building.

"The final decision has not as yet been made," said Harrelson, "but the most highly favored location at this time is somewhere between Patterson Hall and the end of the college property."

Dean Thomas Nelson, able head of the Textile School, also spoke briefly and presented the various members of the textile faculty to the students.

Accordian selections were provided by Nevada Lee, an accomplished freshman, who obliged the crowd with numerous encores. Professor Shinn, popular member of the textile faculty, came through with several gems from his collection of jokes and had the appreciative audience rolling in the aisles.

Refreshments and smokes were served and Ed Johnson, president of the organization, announced that the next meeting would be held on Tuesday night, October 18 in the textile building.

Annual Convention Of N. C. Pressmen To Be In Durham

Publication Representatives to Convene in Durham on November 5th

C. R. Lefort, permanent secretary and treasurer of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association, announced yesterday that the fall convention would be held in Durham on November 3, 4 and 5, with Duke University as host.

The annual fall meeting of the Press Association will be under the direction of Walter James, president, who is also editor of a Duke publication, and his committees are making plans for what is expected to be the largest convention in history of the association.

Although a final program for the convention has not been arranged, registration will be held on Thursday, Nov. 3. Friday morning and afternoon will consist of business meetings and general discussions, followed by a banquet and dance Friday night. Saturday, Nov. 5, will feature general meetings, and the convention will adjourn at noon on this date.

The North Carolina Collegiate Press Association consists of the representatives of the leading college publications in North Carolina, and they hold two conventions each year, in the fall and spring.

Representatives from both boys' and girls' schools are expected to attend in large numbers when the convention opens in Durham on the 5 of Nov.

Colonel Harrelson and President Kitchen Have a Word...

October 5, 1938
Wake Forest College, October 4, 1938.

Colonel J. W. Harrelson
North Carolina State College
Dear Colonel Harrelson:

Following our conference several days ago and our telephone conversation this morning, I wish to assure you that it gives me great satisfaction to be able to join you in any endeavor intended to put an end to the elements of unhappiness, unwholesome, unworthy, and unsportsmanlike activities of our student bodies on the eve of our annual football engagements.

The defacement of properties on our campuses, the all-night guarding of campuses to protect them, the hazard to our students and to the innocent public, as has been true on several occasions, are unworthy of the best traditions of both institutions. It does not commend us to the public. We are neighbors. We cherish the fine relationship between faculties and students.

We enjoy a great spirit of football rivalry and I know it is the desire of the students and faculties of both institutions to meet in these annual classics and maintain a type of sportsmanship in every way worthy of our best traditions, a spirit of conduct that will commend the students of both institutions to a growing popularity which both now so heartily enjoy.

The President of our Student Body and his council give me the assurance that they will do everything within their power, as I know yours will also, to make this engagement reflect the spirit that shall mark the members of our student bodies the sportsmen we know they are.

With best personal wishes, I am
Sincerely yours,
J. W. HARRELSON,
Dean of Administration.

Dr. Thurman D. Kitchen, President
Wake Forest College
Wake Forest, North Carolina
My Dear Dr. Kitchen:

In accordance with an agreement, which you and I arrived at by personal conference and a telephone conversation, I am very happy to join with the administration at Wake Forest College in an effort to prevent any unsportsmanlike acts by students on the Wake Forest and State College campuses.

Wake Forest College and the State College have for almost one-half century been friendly, but spirited rivals in athletic contests. State College will try in every way to preserve our happy relationship.

The President of the Student Body and the Student Council join me in reaffirming our friendliness to Wake Forest College. It is our determination to prevent, if within our power, the committing on Wake Forest College campus of any undesirable act by any student of State College.

I join you in expressing the hope that the students, alumni, and friends of the respective institutions will vent their feelings by rooting for the team of their choice at our game on October 15.

With high personal esteem and best wishes, I am
Sincerely yours,
THURMAN KITCHEN, President

Entered as second-class matter, February 10, 1920, at the post office at Raleigh, North Carolina, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

A Moral Victory

We were defeated in our football game with Carolina last Saturday by what the scoreboard indicated to be quite a wide margin.

But we were not defeated in spirit. In the last thirty seconds of play, with the game already lost, the players were fighting just as hard as they did in the first thirty seconds of play. Around such a spirit is built the success of any organization.

We, the students, cannot be on the field to help you in the physical combats, but we are all with you in spirit every second that you are fighting for State College.

We may have lost a football game, but we gained much more in spirit and loyalty.

We Apologize

The students of North Carolina State College owe the Raleigh Junior Chamber of Commerce a profound apology.

It is indeed a pity that a small group of students, freshmen and upperclassmen both, can mar the reputation of the entire college and Student Body at large. And that is exactly what happened here in Raleigh last Friday night.

This year the Junior Chamber of Commerce formed the Jay Cees Club, with the express idea of forwarding the interests of State College. With this purpose in mind, the Jay Cees spent valuable time and money on decorating Fayetteville Street with State and Carolina colors.

On Friday night preceding the game, a handful of students decided upon a downtown march, and in the course of their travels they decided to tear down all of the Carolina decorations.

Yes, this small group of students marred the reputation of State College, and we sincerely hope that the Junior Chamber of Commerce accepts this apology.

Let's Cooperate

A week from tomorrow the Wolfpack of State College and the Demon Deacons from Wake Forest will engage in their annual football classic in Riddick Stadium.

In the past there have been several instances of paint slinging, fighting, and defacing of the buildings and property of both colleges by students of the opposing institution.

The administration of both colleges are cooperating this year in an effort to put to an end such practices, which not only give both colleges a bad name, but cause considerable property damage.

In this issue of the TECHNICIAN is being published a copy of the letter Col. Harrelson wrote to Dr. Kitchin, president of Wake Forest, and a letter which Kitchin wrote to Harrelson.

In both cases the conduct of the students is left entirely up to the students, and the presidents of both student bodies have promised their complete cooperation.

It is up to us, as State College students, to do our part to fulfill the guarantee that we have given Wake Forest College that there will be no sportsman-like activities on our part.

Dear Editor:

With the plans practically completed and the site about agreed upon, it seems that our new textile building, to which we have been looking forward with so much anticipation, is about to become a reality.

Thinking Hall, present seat of the Textile School, was built some thirty years ago and named in honor of a man who has been given credit for the establishment of textile education in the South. No doubt our new building will likewise be named for some person whose contributions to the field of textiles are unquestionably outstanding. Speaking for a number of students, I propose that the name of Nelson Hall be adopted, in honor of Dean Thomas Nelson, whose untiring efforts have guided the progress of the school of textiles from infancy to the position of finest of its kind in the world. If the opinion of all textile students, past and present, were sought, I am sure they would agree that no name could be more appropriate for the building which Dean Nelson has been so instrumental in securing for us.

I only hope that this letter will gain favorable attention in the eyes of those responsible for the selection of the name.

Thirty-three Players Make Trip to Meet Crimson Tide in Tuscaloosa

The hoarse shouts of State students ringing in their ears, thirty-three Wolfpack football players entrained last night for Tuscaloosa, Alabama, where Saturday afternoon they meet the highly vaunted Alabama Crimson Tide in the latter's homecoming game.

The squad is travelling on the Seaboard Air Line railroad and will reach Birmingham at noon today. Coach Newton has ordered a light workout for this afternoon on the Birmingham-Southern College football field in Birmingham, where the squad will spend the night.

It will make the trip from Birmingham to Tuscaloosa, where the game is to be played, by bus Saturday morning and will return to Birmingham Saturday night. The homeward trip will be made by rail beginning Sunday morning, and ending here in Raleigh at 12:30 a. m. Sunday night. The train will make a special stop near the stadium to allow the football team to get off, and plans are being made for a pep meeting to welcome them home.

College Officials Seek Federal Lab

Million Dollar Construction Sought From Government For Agricultural School

According to plans released by the Federal government, four $1,000,000 agricultural laboratories whose purpose will be to study the utilization of surplus agricultural products and to find new uses for farm products, will be erected shortly in various sections of the United States.

One of the places under consideration for the location of one of these laboratories is the State College campus. The requisites for locating the lab are water, gas, heat, power, and 40 acres of land. Under the plan which has been drawn up, the nation has been divided into four sections, the one of which North Carolina is a member extending from Maine to North Carolina and west to Tennessee and Ohio.

The lab in each section will work with certain fields of agricultural endeavor. The region of which this State is a member will study tobacco, apples, vegetables, Irish potatoes, and dairy products.

North Carolina has an excellent chance to obtain the laboratory as all the above mentioned products are grown here in quantity.

Caffery Improving

Latest reports on Colonel Caffery's condition indicate a slow but steady improvement, according to a statement by Major Kenneth Althaus yesterday.

Due to his illness, Colonel Caffery has been unable to take up his duties in the military department this year. At the present time he is still in the hospital and it is feared that he will be forced to remain there for some time during his period of convalescence.

NOTICE!

There will be an important meeting of the Life Saving Corps on Thursday, October 13, at 7 o'clock in the YMCA. All members please be present.—M. H. Mason, Secretary.

The Question: What do you think of State College boys?

The place: Meredith College.

The people: Meredith girls.

Elfreda Barker, '41: "I think that the State College boys are just plain boys, with no distinguishing characteristics. They do have a tendency to wear loud socks."

Anne Johnson, '39: "They are very nice boys. They dress sort of nonchalantly, but I like it. They always seem to be in good spirits."

Alice Dale, '38: "I like them very much. All the boys are polite and well-mannered. They're definitely nicer than the Duke boys."

Mary Lanier Segraves, '40: "I think that State College boys have a lot of school spirit. Some of the boys dress nicely, but a lot of them are sloppy. On the whole they are nice. Many of them act silly when they are downtown, trying to impress people with the fact that they are college boys."

Louise Johnson, '40: "I have not been able to meet many State College boys, but the ones I have met were not very interesting."

Frances Whitley, '42: "I think State College boys are pretty nice."

Dorothy Willson, '39: "I'm prejudiced in favor of seniors, but just so he is a State man, he's all right."

Allen Hall, this special emergency meeting has been called to correct a "blot on the fair name of the city of Raleigh." W. F. Latham, chairman of the Forum, will present the problem.

All students desiring to work with the debating squad report to Prof. Edwin Padgett in room 109 Pullen Hall any time between 4 and 6 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, or Friday. This year's situation offers unusual opportunities to newcomers.

Freshmen Welcomed At Ceramic Society

At the first meeting of the State College Chapter of The American Ceramic Society Tuesday night, plans were made for the initiation of freshmen at the annual Halloween party of the society. Freshmen attending the meeting were officially welcomed, and professors Bob Stone and Greaves-Walker related the history and purpose of the society.

Freshmen initiation, publicity, Engineers' Fair, and program committees were appointed. Chairmen of these committees are: W. A. Scholes, initiation; J. N. Smith, publicity; C. M. Lamb, Jr., Engineers' Fair, and H. R. Randolph, program.

I believe it's about time someone started a movement on the campus to cut out so much ballyhoo and build-up for State-Carolina football games.

What happens? The papers build it up, the students get all wrapped up in it, the general cry is "Beat Carolina!"

This do or die attitude brings on a case of pre-game nerves about two days too early and the result, they're licked before the opening whistle blows.

Carolina in Stride

I blame all this build-up and ballyhoo primarily for our latest defeat at the hands of the vaunted Heels. The Tar Heels, on the other hand, take the State game as just another tough game and no noticeable break in their training schedule is worked up.

Moseley of Alabama

Stories come up from Bama that over-confidence will be the big like that stops the Tide, if it is to be stopped at all this year. Backed by a heavy line, Herky Moseley, diminutive halfback, has been the spear-head in the Tide's attack.

State already has eclipsed the 31,000 paid admissions for last year's four home games in the first two. This year 32,000 people have seen the Wolves in action.

Doc Newton's real name is Williams Newton. When pitching for the Baltimore Orioles was the N. C. State football coach was called Fig Newton.

Alabama Reported to be Best Team in the Country; State to Depend on Deception

Undaunted by their setback at the hands of Carolina last Saturday, the State College Wolfpack hits the trail to the South to engage the highly touted Alabama Crimson Tide.

Line Coach Herman Hickman, who scouted the Tide last Saturday, declared that, "Alabama has been called the best team in the nation and it is definitely that."

Since early this week the freshman team has been running through Alabama plays, with the varsity trying to diagnose them. State has not been able to devote any time at all to the tussle with Alabama because all practice previous to this week has been devoted to Carolina.

Alabama and State will be meeting for the first time. The game will be celebrated in Tuscaloosa as Homecoming Day.

Alabama is regarded as one of the leading contenders for the Southeastern Conference championship, and opened its season with a 19-7 victory over Southern California, closely followed by a 34-0 win over Howard University.

State will be outwitted considerably, therefore Doc Newton is expected to depend on trickiness and his publicized bootleg play.

Recently the students of the College of the City of New York threatened to stop their basketball team from playing in Madison Square Garden unless a strike of the Garden employees was settled.

Another Saturday has passed, and with it have gone hopes of sectional championships, while other hopes for honors have been bolstered.

State's future foes met with varying luck. In New York City Manhattan bounced back from a 7-6 defeat at the hands of St. Bonaventure and walloped Niagara University 19-0.

The Kelly Greens played with a wild enthusiasm that punched Niagara's line as full of holes as a swiss cheese. Their spinners and reverses left Niagara dizzy.

Alabama continued on the road up and thrashed Howard University 34-0, using three teams while doing it.

This Week's Wolf...

ACAI

Seen here is Steve Acai, hard charging guard on Doc Newton's 1938 Wolfpack and one of the six letter guards returning to school this year.

His hobby is machine work and off the football field he can frequently be found in the shop.

Steve's best course at State is sociology.

Acc, as he is known to most of his friends, finds chicken a la, anyway his favorite dish.

Acai is a member of the Monogram Club and Phi Kappa Phi, national educational fraternity.

Herman Hickman, the N. C. State line coach who scouted Alabama last Saturday, went up in the air after he heard the score of the State-Carolina game. He rode home in an airplane.

Brown Speaks To Freshman Council

Dean of Basic Division Stresses the Importance of Education

"Education is the civilizing process in which one grows in knowledge from infancy to manhood," said Dean B. F. Brown, professor of business and a famed economist, in speaking to a meeting of the Freshman "Y" Council this week.

Brown, speaking on "The Educated Man," drew a distinction between training and education. "Training forms the mind into certain habits and is the process of learning how to do something. The educated man develops and grows mentally his entire life, especially in the period after his college days," said Brown.

The speaker admitted that North Carolina is not the best State in the Union to the educated man, but he added that it is the best in some respects. In stressing his point, the Dean stated four elements of education, which included a growing up to the world around us, an understanding of the world within us, a knowledge of the world of the past, and an idea of what we want in the future.

Brown said that most people were judged by their training rather than their education, and he stated that this alone was insufficient.

In closing his speech, Brown said, "Truth is a custodian of the educated man; he is not a custodian of the truth."

State Redcoat Band To Display Uniforms At Wake Forest Tilt

Part of New Equipment Is Already Here; Rest Expected to Arrive Soon

When the Redcoat Band marches onto the field for the Wake Forest game one week from tomorrow, they will flaunt for the first time their newly acquired uniforms. At the present time about half of the number of uniforms required to outfit the entire band have arrived, and it is hoped that the rest will be here for that game. If any difficulties arise, however, and the uniforms do not arrive on time, they are certain to be here for Homecoming Day the following Saturday, when Furman plays in Riddick Stadium.

According to Major Kutschinski, leader of the band, a fine group of eighty musicians has been assembled for the first string band, and another group of about forty-five composes the freshman band. Some of this latter number may be drafted to augment the Redcoat Band, in order to boost the number appearing with the unit. This year the Redcoat Band will make the trip to Durham for the Duke game, and possibly to Wilmington for the Citadel game at the close of the season. It has also been rumored that the band will accompany the football team to New York for the Manhattan game on November 12, but no definite action has as yet been taken on the idea.

Honor Group Plans For An Active Year

Sigma Tau Sigma, honorary textile scholastic fraternity, held its first meeting of the year on Wednesday night at 7 o'clock in the textile building. The meeting was held for the purpose of discussing plans and proposals for the coming year. The fraternity is planning one of the most active years in its history at State College.

A membership committee consisting of E. A. Dees, Wm. Carter and E. Arizide was appointed by President R. B. Wood.

(Continued from page 3) surprised with the ease and deceptiveness of their triumph. The Deacons will leave for Columbia, S. C., where they will tangle with the highly touted South Carolina Gamecocks. Captain George Wirtz, crack ball carrier, who was injured last week was expected to be in shape for the game. Ringgold, Edwards, and Galovich will team with him to form the starting backfield for the Baptists.

Duke at Colgate Duke's Blue Devils headed for Buffalo, N. Y., and Saturday's clash with Colgate's Red Raiders of the Chenango. Coach Wallace Wain's Durham teams have won two previous games with Coach Andy Kerr's stalwarts and are favored to turn the trick again.

Lelanne Stars as Tar Heels' Top Wolfpack

(Continued from page 3) Tar Heels went those 36 yards in nine plays. The drive started after State punted out following George Fry's recovery of a Carolina fumble on a play starting just a foot from State's goal. Following a holding penalty on a punt, State kicked again—midway the second quarter—and it was Carolina's ball at State's 32-yard line. The penalty had set State back to the 13.

A 23-yard run by Lelanne—a great block by Jack Kraynick got him out of early trouble—put the ball just inside State's five-yard line. Radman put the ball within a yard of the goal, then sliced through the left side of State's line to get a touchdown.

State made its very close bid for a score in the final period. The Techs started at Carolina's 46 and were given a boost when interference by a Carolina back resulted in allowance of a pass which had misfired. This put the ball on Carolina's 17. Rooney, intended receiver of the pass, was banged from the back by a defender. Fehley sandwiched three runs around an unsuccessful pass try, and State had a first-down at Carolina's five-yard line.

A pass failed as Severin, a big defensive star for the Tar Heels, crowded Pitcher Fehley. The Tar Heels opened up a bit when Fehley made as if to pass on the next play, and the soph star went through the defenders to put the ball on the two-yard line. Fehley gained another yard. On fourth down, Art Rooney tried the left side of Carolina's line—the barely missed. The ball went over on downs, about six inches from the goal.
