PLANNING LIVESTOCK DAY

Students in the School of Agriculture at State College are preparing to make a gala occasion of their first Annual Livestock Day, May 18, with a varied program including dedication of the college's new dairy barns, livestock fitting and showing contests and a banquet for visitors and participants. Amusements will include a co-ed milking contest, deans' milking contest, rooster driving contest and a race to catch a graded pig. Animals owned by the college are being fitted by students for the show ring.

David A. Sutton of Goldsboro is general chairman. Others in charge of the event, as pictured here, are: Stuart Black, Concord; Sam Mann, Washington, N. C.; Sexton Vinson, Dillard, Ga.; Henry Vanstony, Chares; D. C. Parker, Fountain; Charlie Renn, Winston-Salem, and Eston Stokes, Linwood.

Friday Elected Senior Leader In Close Race

Kaley and Clements to Head Agromeck; Barnes and Williams Chosen Vice President and Secretary-Treasurer

In one of the closest and most hotly contested elections held in recent years, 260 members of the rising senior class attended the class meeting Monday to cast the ballots which enabled Bill Friday to win over Tom Jackson for president of the senior class by the narrow margin of two votes. Friday polled 131 votes to Jackson's 129.

In the race for editor and business manager of the "Agromeck," Dud Kaley defeated Buddy Price to become next year's editor, and Fabe Clements, in another hotly contested two-vote margin election won over John Beger by a count of 94-92 to become the rising business manager of the year book. The "Agromeck" elections were run off separately, and the voting was done immediately after the meeting and in the YMCA from 2-5 o'clock.

Leroy Barnes won over Forrest Paschal in the vice-presidential race by the wide margin of 175 to 84. Ralph Williams piled up an impressive margin over R. C. Andrews and Jim Brewer for the secretary's position, polling 124 votes to 82 and 89, respectively, for Andrews and Brewer.

Delegates Leave For YMCA Camp

Thirty students leave for Camp Hanes to attend Annual Spring Retreat. Thirty State College students will leave this afternoon to attend the second annual Spring Retreat, sponsored by the college Y.M.C.A., which will be held at Camp Hanes near Winston-Salem. Around 90 delegates from various North Carolina colleges will attend. Accompanying the State College group will be the Rev. Alva P. Robinson, pastor of the United Christian Church of Raleigh, who will also be one of the main speakers at the retreat. The theme of the meeting will be "The Meaning of Christianity to the Students of 1940."

Ag Club Plans Final Elections

Speaking at the meeting of the Ag Club Tuesday night, Mr. F. K. Etheridge discussed farm marketing, especially the need of the farmer's agricultural products marketers to modernize their methods to satisfy the constantly changing demands of the public. The nominations of F. J. Koonce, Jr. and Woodley Warwick for editor of the Agriculturalist next year were announced at the meeting. The final election will be held at the next meeting of the club, Tuesday evening, May 14. Also to be elected at the time are the chairman of the Barwaremaking and the president of the Ag Fair for next year, and the officers of the Ag Club for the next term.

Winning Platoon Receives Prizes

Laurels went to the third platoon of "G" Company last week in the final platoon competition in Riddick Stadium, making the second consecutive year that this company has retained such honors. The platoon was commanded by Cadet Lieutenant N. W. Lopez. Officers of the winning platoon will be guests at a supper, and will receive a month's pass to one of the local theatres. Lieutenant Lopez will receive a sash, which is to be presented at the graduation parade. Judges of the competition were Cadet Colonel Bill Bester, Cadet Lieut.-Col. "Buddy" Means, and Cadet Major Troy Williams.

HONORED A graduate of State College, Harold F. Robinson of Bandana has been awarded a fellowship in the Agronomy Department of the University of Nebraska. He has been working this year on a college research fellowship which will receive his master's degree at the summer session.

Robinson graduated with a B.S. degree in agronomy from State College last June with a B.S. degree in soil science and plant breeding. Since then he has been working on a college research fellowship and will receive his master's degree at the summer session. Majoring in corn breeding, he expects to work at Nebraska until he wins his doctorate in two or three years. The fellowship pays $250 per year and will begin August 1. It is limited to graduate students.

Robinson Winner Of Ag Fellowship At U. of Nebraska

State Graduate Will Attend Western College to Win Doctor's Degree

A fellowship in the agronomy department of the University of Nebraska has been awarded to Harold F. Robinson of Bandana in Mitchell County, graduate student at State College, Dean I. O. Schaub of the School of Agriculture announced this week. Robinson has worked out all his expenses during his college career, graduated from State College last June with a B.S. degree in soil science and plant breeding. Since then he has been working on a college research fellowship and will receive his master's degree at the summer session. Majoring in corn breeding, he expects to work at Nebraska until he wins his doctorate in two or three years. The fellowship pays $250 per year and will begin August 1. It is limited to graduate students.

Parker Is Given U. S. Appointment

Professor Will Serve as Consultant for the United States Geological Survey. Dr. J. M. Parker, assistant professor of geological engineering, has been chosen as a consultant for the U. S. Geological Survey, it was announced this week by Dr. J. L. Stuckey, head of the department of geological engineering, and Dean Blake R. Van Leer of the School of Engineering. The appointment came after Dr. Parker took a competitive examination in which he received one of the highest rankings in the nation. He was selected by T. L. Keeler, geologist for the survey in the Southern Appalachian region, to be his assistant and an official representative of the U. S. Geological Survey in North Carolina and adjoining states. Dr. Parker's chief duties are to keep informed on all work of a geological nature in his area and to keep the U. S. Geological Survey informed. He also will be available for special assignments and field work when they do not interfere with his duties at State College. State College, by Dr. Parker's appointment, becomes the only institution in the South with a representative of the U. S. Geological Survey on its staff. It is also the only school in the nation with a department of geology less than 50 years old which has such a representative.

Action On Cut Bill Will Be Postponed Until Fall Meeting

Halsted Selected To Head Blue Key At Honor Banquet

National Honor Society Holds Formal Initiation; Elects New Officers. Bruce C. Halsted, a junior in electrical engineering, was elected president of Blue Key, national honor society, at a formal initiation banquet held last Tuesday night in the Carolina Hotel.

Named to serve with him as officers of Blue Key are John Beger, vice president; L. R. Barnes, secretary; T. F. Jackson, treasurer; and Dud Kaley, sergeant-at-arms. Major K. G. Althaus made the principal address at the banquet, attended by a number of notable honorary members. Steve Sailer acted as toastmaster for the occasion.

Seven outstanding juniors were inducted into membership immediately following the banquet. New members of Blue Key are Ralph Reeves, Hubert Willis, Bruce Halsted, and Robert F. Jackson. Paul Lehman and Henry Thomas.

A rising vote of appreciation was tendered the outgoing president, Frank Sabol of Campbell, Ohio, immediately following the election of officers. Blue Key sponsors a number of outstanding events on the campus throughout the year, including Homecoming, and next year planning to give a dance the night after the Homecoming game with Carolina. This Saturday Blue Key will sponsor the annual freshman-sophomore pushball contest in Riddick Stadium. This pushball contest is one of the traditional events on the campus which have been continued from year to year.

Chemical Society To Take New Men

Gamma Sigma Epsilon, Honorary Fraternity, Extends Bids to Twenty-three

Gamma Sigma Epsilon, national honorary chemical fraternity, extended bids to twenty-three outstanding students in chemistry at a smoker held in their honor Wednesday night. Those receiving bids were R. E. Brannon, James Call, Fabe Clements, H. L. Meyer, Martin Parcell, W. E. Angelo, J. R. Brascome, Ed Bryant, J. F. Dunn, Collins Harrell, L. J. Ingram, R. L. Karesch, M. D. Martin, J. G. Sims, D. S. Weaver, J. V. Partin, Sam Pinnell, J. W. Young, Greg Gibbs, H. C. Ferebee, Don F. Cox, B. R. Hood, and H. B. Bell.

New Club Formed By Horticulturists

Carver Elected President of Society; Jimmy Brewer Is Chosen Vice President. Another new society was added to campus organizations Wednesday night when students in the department of horticulture held a meeting and organized a Horticultural Society. Officers of the society for the coming year were elected by the students, who named Lake Carver of Durham as president. Other officers chosen were Jimmy Brewer, Clements, vice president; Tom Trobach, Morristown, Tenn., secretary-treasurer, and Arnold Krochmal, New York City, reporter.

Kappa Phi Kappa Will Give Dance

Kappa Phi Kappa, honorary fraternal organization, will hold its annual dance in the ballroom of the Carolina Hotel Saturday evening, May 11, at 8 o'clock. All members are invited to attend. The State College chapter of Kappa Phi Kappa was founded in 1931. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote the cause of education by encouraging men of high moral character and recognized ability to engage in its principles and practices.

Assembly Holds Final Meeting of Term; Hears Report From Investigation Committee

In their final session of the current school year, members of the State College assembly met last night in the State Capitol to postpone action on the much-debated cut bill until the first meeting in September. This action came about after the Assembly heard a report from a joint student-faculty committee which had been appointed for further study of the matter.

Meeting in joint session, the legislators heard a report read by Bill Sarandria, chairman of the investigation committee. The committee wrote letters of inquiry to 35 schools of similar nature to State College, requesting information concerning their cut systems. Due to lack of proper knowledge and shortage of time, members of the Assembly suggested that the committee work on the proposal through the summer and have a bill ready for presentation at the first session next year. The investigation committee was composed of W. L. Mayer and H. B. Briggs, representing the faculty, and Bill Angelo and Bill Sarandria from the Student Assembly.

Guest of the Assembly in its final session was W. L. Mayer, member of the committee and college registrar, who spoke briefly on the real purpose of the cut system. Although he gave no definite views on the proposed changes, he stressed the value of further study and action on the matter. The committee in its report suggested debate on two points, that of allowing individual professors to have the right to excuse class absences, and the extension of the college membership system. It also given the power in last night's session to draw up a bill during the summer months.

A committee of three was elected to study the matter, and to organize the Assembly next year, and to organize the first meeting. The students named on the committee were J. R. Brascome, Bill Friday of Dallas and "Spud" Davidson of Murphy. At the first meeting next year officers will be elected from the floor.

Golden Chain Men To Hold Tapping At Tower May 16

Twelve Outstanding Rising Seniors to be Selected as Links in Honorary Leadership Fraternity

The highest honor that a rising senior at State College can receive is to be inducted into Golden Chain, will be bestowed upon 12 men in the traditional twilight "tapping" ceremony May 16, on the lawn of the Memorial Tower. Names of the students selected will not be known to anyone until a few minutes prior to the ceremony. Each present member will induct a new man into the organization. The entire junior class will gather on the lawn by the tower, and will form a circle around the entrance to the tower. Every member of the class will be requested to sit in the circle.

Present members of Golden Chain will meet in Holladay Hall immediately before the ceremony, and from there will proceed to the tower, led by Golden Chain President "Buddy" Means. They will form a smaller ring inside the circle of juniors. A short address will be given before the tapping. Confirmation on the speaker has not been received to date. Following the ceremony, the incoming men will gather in Holladay Hall with the outgoing members to elect officers of the honor society for the coming school year.

Kappa Phi Kappa Will Give Dance

Kappa Phi Kappa, honorary fraternal organization, will hold its annual dance in the ballroom of the Carolina Hotel Saturday evening, May 11, at 8 o'clock. All members are invited to attend. The State College chapter of Kappa Phi Kappa was founded in 1931. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote the cause of education by encouraging men of high moral character and recognized ability to engage in its principles and practices.

Animals Made Ready For Livestock Day

Ferdinand and Stabilemates Are Being Showered With Attention as Annual Event Approaches

By QUENTIN PATTERSON. Ferdinand is getting ready for another debut. Every afternoon a boy rushes over to Ferdinand's home to give him his daily beauty treatment. The treatments are prescribed and supervised by specialists to whom the animal is indebted for the fuss that is being made over him. If he realizes his obligation, he says nothing about them, but stands contentedly gazing at his world while his horns are filed and polished and his coat is brushed until it glows like the light in his big brown eyes.

Ferdinand is getting ready for the First Annual Livestock Day. If he understands that he is going to have to outshine nearly two score others of his associates to keep the prestige that he assumes is his, he has no intention of letting the thought bother him. So his sponsor trims his hoofs, Ferdinand curls his lustrous tongue about the clump of clover that is bowing under his nose and munches it with quiet satisfaction as he looks about his peaceful domain.

Sponsored by the Ag Club, the Livestock Day was planned to give students practical experience in the work of fitting and showing livestock. The immediate interest and ensuing results have proven the merits of the plan. Forty boys have been busy in the afternoon of the last few weeks getting the animals in their care ready to exhibit. Polishing, grooming, and training their charges has occupied much of their time, and much hard work has been spent at those tasks. The forty animals in the contests are divided into two classes. Six—Continued on page 4.

Monogram Club Picks President

Tom Rowland Chosen To Lead Athletes For Next Year

Tom Rowland, co-captain of State's swimming team and a resident of Charlotte, N. C., has been elected president of the college's Monogram Club, which carries with it one of five student places on State's 16-man Athletic Council.

Red Collins Sevier, Asheville, N. C., youth and captain of the varsity basketball team, was elected vice president; Cutie Carter, Raleigh, N. C., secretary, and Jack Huckleback, Charlotte, N. C., treasurer.

Sevier and Carter served as junior representatives on the Athletic Council during the current year, while Huckleback recently was elected as one of next year's junior representatives. Rowland succeeds Tony DiYeso, White Plains, N. Y., youth, as president. Ted Johnson, Paw Creek, N. C., is the outgoing vice president; Sammy Kaufman, Miami, Fla., secretary, and Babe Ritter, Beaton, Pa., treasurer.

Alumni Club Drive Gaining Impetus

Fifty-one Members of the Graduating Class Added to Roll of Wolfpack Club

Fifty-one members of the graduating class added their names to the senior class alumni rolls during the past two weeks, bringing to approximately the number of seniors who have joined the Alumni Association.

The plan of affiliation with the Alumni Association was adopted by a unanimous vote at a recent meeting of the seniors. Those joining during the past two weeks are Sarah F. Dea, Glenn McShay, Allen Frost, D. Y. Buckingham, J. G. Getsalger, Al Webster, Kenneth Hall, J. W. Hamme, Ray Payne, Fred Decker, John Manning, D. J. Murray, William Davenport, Clifford James, Henry C. Thomas, W. L. Smith, T. C. Leake, A. J. Newman, John Holbrook, Norwood Teague, H. R. Crawford, Jim Mitchiner, Hubert Woodall, Ernest Koella, E. E. Prink, Tom Blount, Scott Bowers, Richard Davis, Pete Lee, R. B. Hoffman.

High Ranking Men To Join Pine Burr

Ten Juniors to be Inducted Into Local Scholarship Fraternity Tonight

Ten high-ranking juniors will be formally inducted into Pine Burr Society, local scholarship fraternity, tonight beginning at 6:30 sharp in the upstairs library. Men to be initiated tonight are H. M. Willis, Ted Spiker, J. T. Ferguson, H. W. Fox, J. R. Huntley, Frank Jenkins, W. H. Rivers, M. W. Parcel, E. R. Todd and J. D. Beger.

Immediately following the formal induction of these men, officers for next year will be elected by the group. Mason M. Dalton is the retiring president of Pine Burr. Pine Burr is a local scholarship organization, peculiar to North Carolina State College. It is neither professional nor departmental in its membership.

Student members are selected from those students who have attended this college for two and one-half years, who have never failed on any course, whose average grade is not below 85, and who are active, loyal and prominent in some phase of college extracurricular activity.

Aycock Addresses Council Members

Former President of Student Body Speaks at Student Council Banquet

Student Council members, both old and new, met with their dates at the Carolina Inn Wednesday night for a banquet at which Bill Aycock, former Student Body president, made the principal address. "Only about 16 per cent of the students entering high school ever graduate from college," Aycock stated, "and it should be one of the duties of every college student to do his utmost to remedy this situation."

Ernest Durham, president of the State student body, presided at the banquet. Jim Joyner, president of the Southeastern Student Federation; Dean E. L. Cloyd, and Paul Lehman, newly elected student body president, all spoke briefly at the banquet. Lehman outlined, in part, some of the objectives of the Student Council next year.

Rising Juniors Hold Nominations

Jim Graham, Scott Ferebee In Race for President Next Thursday. Scott Ferebee and Jim Graham, the two candidates for next year's junior class president, emerged victorious in the sophomore primaries, run off in the "T" yesterday. Nominations few rampant, but the number of candidates for each office was cut down to two. J. R. Brascome and Clay Ferebee are opposing each other for the vice presidency, while Bob Pleasant and Wilbur Bryant are the two remaining candidates in the race, both competing for the secretary-treasurer's job. The final decision of the sophomore class will not be made until next Thursday, when a secret ballot will be held in the Y.M.C.A. from 12 until

After One Year . . .

Last night members of the State College Assembly gathered for their final session of the year, marking the end of their first year of organization and activity on the campus. Plans call for the immediate reorganization of the Assembly with the opening of school next September, and such plans will certainly be carried out.

Although the marked successes of the Assembly could probably be counted on one hand, its work has not been in vain. In fact, it has been far on the other side of the line. For a large part of the time was spent in organizing and getting things started, which after all is the hardest part of any job. And then came the job of getting students acquainted with parliamentary procedure and the like, all of which likewise consumed more valuable time.

Finally arose the cut system, and here is where the Assembly took its first action. Something of this nature naturally requires a great amount of study and investigation, and this is just what has been done by the Assembly this year.

Their work has not been in vain. By the opening of school next year they will be in a position to do a lot of good for State College and for its students. What they are going to need most next year is cooperation from the student body, and there is where you can do your part. We, as students, have certainly gone forward with this democratic form of government, and next year will be the time that it really faces the test of whether it can produce real action or not. Time will tell.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
I want to congratulate the "Watauga" staff on the last edition of their magazine. It was really the best one they have put out this year in my estimation and I really enjoyed reading it.
I also want to tell the staff and those who distribute the magazine that two students live in every dormitory room on the campus and

NEWS HIGHLIGHTS

by "Spud" Davidson

Pushball, Rivalry . . .

Freshmen and sophomores will resume their class rivalry tomorrow when a half-hundred members of each class meet in Riddick Stadium for the annual Pushball Contest. Won the majority of the time by the first-year men, it is predicted that they will again repeat on their long line of victories tomorrow.

Early in their pre-contest demonstrations, the freshmen, it is presumed, removed the cannon from in front of 1911 Dormitory last week, and rolled it down to the middle of 1911 Field, where it was recovered by the dormitory residents. It is now residing in the bushes by the side of the dorm, but will probably take another trip before this week is gone.

Getting Close . . .

When two votes can decide an election with over two hundred students voting, that's getting pretty close. And that's just happened this week in the elections of the rising Senior Class. Not was just one office determined by this narrow margin, but two. And that goes to show that they had a couple of good men running for each job, and might as well go to illustrate that both sides in the elections did some strong politicking.

Anyway, we will say that two votes is too close for comfort.

Air Meet Trophy . . .

We understand that the "News and Observer" has purchased a very expensive cup which will be given to the winner of the forthcoming air meet a week from Sunday. The idea is to rotate the cup among the winning schools from year to year.

If more of the local establishments would go their way to co-operate, what a happy place this would be.

Therefore there should be two magazines placed in every room rather than just one as has been the case all this year.

We feel that after paying our publications fee we are entitled to a whole "Watauga" rather than just a half one.

If enough of the magazines aren't being printed, I feel that steps should be taken to see that enough of them can be printed to assure every student a copy in the future.

—OVAN FORUM

Dear Junior Class:

In behalf of my fellow classmates I want to thank you for the swell dance that you put on for the seniors last Saturday evening. We enjoyed being with you for the grand occasion.

Best wishes for great success the remainder of your stay at State College, and may your services to the college be great.

"Stately" yours,
CHARLES A. HUNTER, President Senior Class.

Warwick Chosen To Head Exhibit

Woodley Warwick and H. K. Sanders were elected chairman and co-chairman of the next year's State Fair exhibit of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers at the regular meeting of the group Wednesday night.

D. E. Jones, extension specialist of rural electrification, will speak to the society next Wednesday night on the subject, "Possibilities of Rural Electrification." All members of agricultural engineers are urged to attend.

IAeS President To Visit Campus

Major James H. Doolittle, world-famous figure in aviation circles and president of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, will visit the local student branch of the IAeS on Monday, May 15. He will be accompanied by Major Lester D. Gardner, executive vice-president of the Institute.

Major Doolittle, who is an engineer as well as a pilot, will attend a student chapter meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Chemistry Building auditorium. Awards will also be made at the meeting to outstanding members of the State College branch and new officers will be installed.

All aeronautical and CAA students have been invited to attend the meeting Wednesday.

Graduate Speaks To AICHe Men

L. L. Hedgopeth, technical director of the Pennsylvania Salt Company, Philadelphia, and a graduate of State College, presented an illustrated lecture on the handling of chlorine and other dangerous chemicals to the meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers at their meeting Tuesday night.

Initiation of approximately thirty men chosen from students enrolled in chemical engineering was begun at the meeting and will continue throughout the week. Final initiation ceremonies will be held at the next meeting of the society which will be held next Tuesday night.

For All Students . . .

All students who have dropped or changed a subject since the beginning of the spring term, please check at the Dean of Students' office to make sure you are not being marked absent from the course. You are also requested to bring your change slip. These can be checked only in the afternoons between 2 and 4:30 o'clock.

Other Papers Say--

(U. N. C. "Daily Tar Heel" May 7, 1940)

Regulating the Propaganda

Revelation that student office-seekers on the campus spent almost $1,000 in cash, plus countless sums of time, in politicking for positions of doubtful significance, clearly indicates the need for regulation. But regulation by whom? "We would like to propose vigorously that some maximum be placed on campaign expenses, that candidates be required to file them, and that the totals be published," said Party Chairman Bob Sumner and Preston Nisbet.

The "Daily Tar Heel" is wholeheartedly behind any move to emphasize politics. Good government is essential if our system of self-control is to work, but the objectives we seek cannot be brought any nearer by the use of painted banners, posters and handbills. As the party chairman admit, "Parties and candidates spend exorbitant sums against their will, only because they feel they have to keep up with their opponents."

This admission by the chairman of the wastefulness of the practice may lead to a voluntary reduction of expenditures. This method would be the best that could be undertaken, providing the rival parties play fair with each other. Candidates for a particular office have from time to time made agreements to refrain from any form of vote-seeking, and student government apparently has not been weakened by such arrangements.

It has been suggested that the student legislature might pass an act limiting expenditures and requiring candidates to file their expenses. If the legislature could tackle the problem with a non-partisan attitude and arrive at a solution fair to all (which at the same time could be made workable), we would favor legislative control of the financial side of politics.

But the legislature by such action might be invading a domain of personal right which should not be done by the candidate. "After all," the candidates might say, "it's our money; let us spend it as we will." Then too, regulation of expenditures made by friends of a candidate would be difficult.

We urge the legislature to study the problem. If a workable plan can be found, put it into action. But meanwhile the collegiate statesmen can help the general health of Carolina politics by convincing themselves that their past outlays should have been foolish and unnecessary.

Announcements . . .

There will be an important meeting of the Flying Club on Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in 102 Page Hall. Plans will be made at this meeting for the Air Meet, and all members are urged to attend.

The AIME will sponsor a five-act sound motion picture on Wednesday, May 15, at 7:30 p.m., in the YMCA auditorium. The public is invited. Admission is free cents.

Fine Burr Society will elect officers for next year tonight, May 10, immediately following initiation of new members in the upstairs of the library. Initiation of new men will begin at 8:30 sharp. All members are urged to be present.—Macon Dalton, President.

GLEANINGS

by THE STAFF

State College's Peter Pop scored again this week. In fact twice in the same week. First, he is on the receiving end of a picture and writeup in "Click," a picture magazine, and this is followed by his appearance in a syndicated cartoon, "Strange as It Seems," written by John Hicks, which is on the same order as Ripley's "Believe It or Not."

Fiats will fly galore tomorrow when the freshmen and sophomores meet in the traditional pushball contest, to be held in the stadium. And if past records are any indication, the freshmen should win—far it seems that the class of 1940 was one of the first to break the tie that seems to follow the sophomores in this activity.

New honors came to State College this week when it was learned that Curtis Craver, clarinet soloist with the Concert Band, had been entered in the final competition for the National Symphony Orchestra. Curtis passed the state and regional tests with flying colors, and will now go to Washington for the final round. Lots of luck, pal.

Freshmen and sophomores, or better known at present as rising sophomores and juniors, met this week in a couple of hotly contested sessions for the purpose of electing class officers for the ensuing year. Two candidates are remaining in the fields, and these will be decided by the end of next week.

If such would be possible, we might break down a little and tell the members of the "Watauga" staff that their last issue was the best in some time—all of which isn't saying much. But to keep from making the mistake of even intimating that the "Watauga" is good, we will say that their past issue was much better than average.

Next year should be a banner year for the college, with the Legislature in session and the demands for appropriations increasing. With adequate facilities, State College could really go places—for all that is lacking seems to be funds. And maybe some of the campus politicians are planning on spending some time around the legislators during that session—for further information we refer you to Mr. Bill Friday.

Never satisfied to let well enough alone, someone took it upon themselves to add another coat of paint to the sign on the St. Mary's campus last week, only this time going from bad to worse. Not that it could be a State College student, but someone is surely energetic.

And if you are hunting a favorite spot to take your sunbath, just take a peek into Riddick Stadium on these pretty sunny afternoons and you will find a host of boys in all manner of dress eating up the best rays . . . also look on the bank across from the freshman quadrangle.

Wonder why it is always so impossible to study during the spring term? This is our fourth spring term and from all indications it will be by far the worst along the average line. The entire staff is making dire predictions of flunking out of school, so if there is no "Technician" next year when you come back you will know the staff has gone the way of all flesh.

By far the biggest and most important campus question this week seems to be "Who's Yahootee?" It promises to be the greatest sensation since "The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round," "Knock-Knock" and the Andrews Sisters. From all indications Yahootee is a combination of Flash Gordon, Superman and the Invisible Man.

Results of a campus poll taken by three newly elected campus officers this week marked Williams P. Rorton a decided margin over both Rorton and Maxwell in the race for the democratic nomination for governor of North Carolina. Many students failed to show the proper interest in the state political campaign.

Avery Williams is in danger of starting a series of diplomatic complications between the United States and Canada with two U.S.A. and one Canadian girl on his masterfully handled string. . . . We wonder if Charlie Hunter's recent visit to Greensboro had anything to do with a Maypole. . . . Has Charlie learned to do the dance of the doves? . . .

George Bason has started correspondence through a lonely hearts club with some Connecticut woman . . . she has written numerous serious letters and is now planning to come down to see George. . . . "Honey Achorn," so named by the female staff of the "Peter Pan," claims he ran out of gas while out with three blondes the other night. Wonder if he ran out of anything else. . . . H. M. Taylor was posed for a picture in the rear of the gym during the Junior-Senior, but was sorta disappointed when the camera failed to click. . . . Since he met that Flora Macdonald lovely at the memorable press convention last month, Jones Pharr has been beating a bath to Red Springs. . . . Yes, he's asked her to Finals, too. . . . George Brandt will also answer to the name of "Bernard B. Barrelbelly." . . . That far-away look in Al Pierce's eye may be attributed to the visit of his one and only from Canada last week. . . . My nomination for the possessor of the most colorful vocabulary on the campus, Ox Cox. . . . Wonder if any of the lassies planning to attend the Delta Sig's Sailor's Ball tonight are going to appear in a grass skirt? . . . Fred "Round Boy" Gardner will not be with us next year . . . could it be matrimony that beckons? . . . Hubert Woodall knows a sequel to "She Had to Go and Lose It at the Astor" that's really worth hearing. . . .

Say, who is Yahootee, anyhow? —SPUD DAVIDSON.

Reading over the sports page of the "Daily Tar Heel" the other day, I noticed where Bill Beer, man, one of the Heel's sports writers, suggested that if Carolina did not win the Big Five championship, the members of the baseball team be lined up against a wall, one by one, and shot. Too bad. Bill didn't put his suggestion into effect at the beginning of the season. I wonder how the Tar Heel nine feels about all this? Do they feel they deserve another chance, if they don't come through? Do they feel that they've earned their keep, whether they win or lose? For the next installment in this thrilling drama, read the "Daily Tar Heel."

Council
With the election of Tom Rowland, the student roster of members of the Athletic Council for next year is complete. In addition to Rowland, Paul Sherman, John Barr, Jack Huchabee and yours truly will serve. Lehman automatically became a member of the council by being elected president of the student body. Tom Rowland is the first minor sport athlete in many years to serve as president of the Monogram group. In fact, I wouldn't be surprised if he were the first ever. Tom was co-captain of the swimming team this year, and is a swell all-around fellow. He succeeds likewise Tony DeVos.

Push Ball
The great and eagerly awaited event, the soph-fresh rush, comes off tomorrow in Riddick Stadium, weather permitting, and on 1911 field if it rains. . . Last year the soph won. . . Right before the match there was a near-riot when it was discovered some scoundrel had walked off with the ball. . . However, it was recovered in time for the game to begin. . . If the students co-operate with the school and limit their horseplay to the field tomorrow, the event will be continued. . . But if there are any pre-game festivities, in which school property is damaged, the chances of having the contest next year are mighty slim. . . So let's get together and keep the whole thing on a high level. . . and you freshmen and sophomores had better observe those rules and regulations. . . The list of referees is sufficient reason.

Class Rush Tomorrow At Two On Riddick Field

Storm Warning:
Frosh-Soph Rush
Coming Tomorrow

Ed Bryant Will Lead
Sophs, and Jimmy
Allen Captains Frosh

Members of the class of '42 will square off against members of the class of '43 tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on Riddick Field in the traditional frosh-soph rush.

Branch Whitehurst, president of the freshmen, has chosen Jimmie Miller, to lead the first-year men into battle against their hereditary foes, the sophs, who will be led by Class President Ed Bryant.

Prof. Johannes Miller, ably aided by Coaches Herman Hickman, Bob Warren, Doc Newton, Babe Wood and Nig Waller, will act as judges and referees, and try to keep the participants' interest centered on the ball rather than on each other, and will also try to keep violence and mayhem at a minimum.

The frosh-soph will start with five members of each class supporting the large rubber ball in the center of the field. At a given signal 45 additional members of each class will rush out from the end zones and try by fair means (or foul) to move the ball across their foes' goal line.

At the start of the fracas the gentle freshmen will be attired in gym shirts (with shorts, and sneakers if so desired) while the equally gentle sophomores will appear merely in shorts and sneakers, if college has siffisted them to such an extent.

Rules, Too
There are a couple of rules that will have to be observed—i.e., viz., to wit: no cleats on shoes, the entire football field is legal territory, and in case of a tie, there will be an extra period of five minutes.

Like yesterday afternoon, over violent student protests, the committee in charge voted that all blackjacks, brass knucks, guns, razors and knives would have to be checked at the gate. Both parties protested bitterly that half the fun of the affair was being taken away by this narrow-minded ruling.

In case of rain, the event will take place as scheduled, on 1911 field. The continuance of this traditional event will depend on the students' co-operation in eliminating horseplay that damages college property previous to the contest.

Remember, it's 2 o'clock tomorrow in Riddick Stadium.

Did Peter Boltrek teach Charles Atlas all he knows about muscle-building? . . . Sonny Gilbert is still hurt because he was sent out of the Duke game by the ump. . . We still love you, Sonny. . . 'MURALMUSINGS

By WALTER WILLIAMS

As the softball season draws to a close, we find the Pikas, Sigma Nus and Pi Kappa Phis leading in their respective brackets. In the dormitory division, Basement 8th, 1st A and 1911 are the pace setters in their separate sections.

In the games played this week, the Phi Kappa Taus won by the large score of 30 to 7 over the Kappa Sigs. Gell, Handy and Cochran led the Phi Taus' batting with 4 runs apiece. The Sigma Nus led by Messersmith and Robbins, kept intact their winning streak by defeating the Sigma Pias. Watts, Branson and Watson were the outstanding players for the losers. Basement 8th beat their upstairs neighbors, 2nd 8th, with a score of 15 to 9. Wasson, with four runs and a home run, and Ballard, with three runs, were the leaders at the plate for Basement 8th. Williams scored three runs for 2nd 8th.

The Pikas took a decided victory over the Kappa Sigs by 31 to 6. Bill Heyward, Bethel and "Flyball" Smart scored four runs apiece. "Sage" Win knocked two home runs and "Or" Cox also knocked out a homer and three runs. Koella and Means were the outstanding players for the Kappa Sigs.

The Delta Sigs won over the ALT's with a score of 3 to 1. C. Santore, Sayre and Herring scored the three runs, while Weber scored the lone run for the losers. Second A won by a score of 10 to 4 over 3rd C. Yingling, with two runs and a homer, and Owens, with two runs and a homer, led the batting attack for 2nd A, while Williams led the losers.

In volleyball the Pikas and the Sigma Nus play for first place on Monday, while the Delta Sigs and the ALT's are to play for third and fourth. In the dormitory division Basement 8th and 1st C play the first and second and 1911 and 1st 8th play for third and fourth.

In the semi-finals of tennis we find the Pikas playing the Sigma Nus and the ALT's have won over the SPE's in the other semi-final game.

Track Meet

Mickey Thompson Heads
Group in Southern Conference Meet

Mickey Thompson, the Weeksville, N. C. boy who holds State College records in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and broad jump, will head State's delegation to the Southern Conference track and field games at Williamsburg, Va., May 17-18, Coach R. R. Sermon revealed today.

Going with Thompson will be High Jumpers and Hardiers Dev Joslin at Raleigh and Jimmy McDougall, Jr., Charlotte; High Jumper Bill Brewer, Winston-Salem; Discus Thrower Wilber McKay, Warren, Ohio, and Pole Vaulter Ike Hanf, Scotland Neck. Hanf holds the college pole vaulting record at 13 feet, 3 inches.

Thompson twice this year has done the century in 9.7 seconds, the furlong in 21.6 seconds and has broad jumped 22 feet, 2 1/2 inches this season. His best mark is 22 feet, 10 3/4 inches, recorded a year ago.

The Weeksville boy also holds the Carolinas A.A.U. hop, step and jump record at 42 feet, 2 3/8 inches. He has been a consistent winner for the Wolfpack for the past two years and has been called "State's one-man track team." In addition to the four events already mentioned, Thompson has performed in the pole vault, high jump and hurdles races during his spectacular career.

Football, Too
In addition to performing on the track and field team, he has been a letter winner in football for two years, although he never played football before matriculating at North Carolina Tech. He is equally as versatile on the gridiron as on the cinder paths, having performed at end, tail back and wing back, although end now is considered his normal position.

Thompson is 6 feet, 2 inches tall, weighs 190 pounds and is 22 years of age. His father is sheriff of Pasquotank County.

MacDougall, son of one of State's immortal athletes, Jimmy MacDougall of football and track fame, and Hanf, whose development as a pole vaulter has been one of the most interesting developments on the State team, also have been consistent high point winners, while Joslin, Brewer and McKay have figured prominently in the team's campaign thus far.

State College returned to track and field competition three years ago after a lull of seven years due to having no track facilities. However, the new track stadium on the Wolfpack campus is said to be one of the finest layouts in the country, what with its two broad, seven-lane straightaways, 440-yard oval, concrete stands and track house.

Dr. Sermon, who has been head coach of the sport for the past three years, will be succeeded after this year by his assistant, round Herman Hickman. Dr. Sermon is retiring to private practice as an osteopathic physician.

Nine Plays Duke and Davidson; Trackmen Run at Williamsburg

Two baseball games for Coach Williams (Doc) Newton's Techs and the Southern Conference track meet at Williamsburg, Va., next week will bring down the curtain on the spring sports schedule at State.

Originally State's baseballers were scheduled to play three games but the cancellation of the Catawba-State two-game series has left the Techs with only Duke's Blue Devils in Raleigh Monday and Davidson at Davidson Friday.

Coach Doc Newton probably will call on the ace of the Tech pitching staff—big Curtis Ramsey—to hurl against the Blue Devils here Monday in State's last home game. Duke defeated State 5-2 in Durham this season.

Ray Smith, right-hander, is the probable pitcher for the Davidson game Friday. The Wildcats whipped Coach Newton's proteges 6-5 here earlier in the season.

Mickey Thompson, elongated ace of State's track team, will sing his swan song in track when he and five other of Coach Ray Sermon's Tech chidren represent State in the Southern Conference meet at Williamsburg, Va., Friday and Saturday.

Thompson will enter the 100, the 220 and the broad jump events in which he has starred in dual meets for State this season.

Entered with Thompson are Ike Hanf, pole vaulter, Mac McKay, discus thrower, Jimmy McDougall, Bill Brewer and Devereaux Joslin, high jumpers. McDougall probably will run the low hurdles also.

The half-dozen State contingent will depart for Williamsburg Thursday by auto.

Catawba Games
Are Cancelled

Indian Athletic Department
Calls Two Games Off Because of Exams

Coach Williams (Doc) Newton's State baseball team will not play Catawba College this season. That is the announcement which went out from Athletic Business Manager J. L. VonGlahn's office Wednesday.

State was scheduled to play Catawba here tomorrow and again next Thursday at Salisbury, but upon the request of the Catawba officials the games were cancelled to permit the Indian athletes to study for final exams.

The cancellation of the two-game Catawba-State series leaves Coach Newton's proteges but two games for the remainder of the season. The Techs tangle with Duke on Freshman Field Monday at 4 o'clock and travel to Davidson Friday for a game with the Wildcats.

Big Curtis Ramsey is scheduled to pitch for State against Duke Monday. Ramsey was credited with the victory over the vaunted Deacons from Wake Forest last week though he was relieved by Southpaw Sammy Kaufman in the eighth.

Frosh Tennis Team
Plays Lonsburg Here

Coach Walter Seegers' State freshman tennis team will wind up its 1940 season this afternoon at 2 o'clock in a match with Lonsburg Junior College on the State courts.

The probable lineup for the State frosh is: Emmet Shoffner, Gordon West, Elliot Winston, Robert Jackson, Ernest Mazur and Frank Brown in the singles. Playing doubles will be Shoffner and West, Winston and Jackson, and Brown and Mazur.

The Horatio Alger-Like
Story of How
State Beat the VPI
Track Team

By EDWIN PERRY

Stories, like heroes, are made, not born. Such is the case of this story. The credit for the year should go to some anonymous person who conceived the idea of elbow grease, for it was elbow grease that made this story.

It all happened this way. State and Virginia Tech had swapped the lead in last Saturday's track meet four times. Mickey Thompson had just placed first in the broad jump to put State ahead for the third time, State 59, Tech 57.

The javelin throw was all that remained to be completed. Bill Windley held State's hopes in hand (along with the javelin). If State could place second and third or place first alone, it would mean victory. The Pantego lad threw the pole 156 feet in the qualifying round. That was a second to Tech's Bo Monata, who had a 171-foot toss. Todd of Tech was third. As it stood Tech had six points in its first and third place which would give them a victory, 63-62.

Then this anonymous creature, whoever he may be, produced the elbow grease, which contained a large per cent of "oil of wintergreen." Onto the arm of Pantego Bill Windley this concoction was rubbed. Bill had two throws. With his almost limber with the fresh lubrication Bill unleashed the javelin. Up and far away it soared. The crowd caught its breath, held it and then sent up a thunderous roar. Bill had cleared 200.

SPONSORS FOR SAILORS' BALL Boys in naval attire and girls garbed in the manner of foreign ports will cast off in Frank Thompson Gymnasium tonight in the first annual Sailors' Ball presented jointly by the State and Wake Forest College chapters of Delta Sigma Phi, national social fraternity.

Dancing will last from nine o'clock until midnight. The affair will be strictly informal and there will be no figure. Jack Fayton and his orchestra will play.

Sponsors for the maritime ball are pictured here. The girls and their escorts are: Miss Margaret Martin of Raleigh with E. P. Davidson of Murphy, Miss Margaret Shepherd of Weldon with J. Toms Dover, Jr., of Bethlehem, Pa., Miss Kathrine Pollok of Durham with Jack Johnson of Fuquay Springs, Miss Billie Margaret Jones of Raleigh with D. Y. Buckingham of Jewett City, Conn., Miss Rosalind Duncan of Raleigh with W. E. Gibbons of Bogota, N. J., Miss Katherine Turner of Raleigh with Jerry Allen of Marion, S. C., and Miss Anne Bratton of Raleigh with Eldridge Allen of Marion, S. C.

SPONSORS FOR KA-KAPPA SIG FROLICS Here are sponsors for the annual Spring Frolics which the State College chapters of Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma will present Saturday, May 11. For Kappa Sigma sponsors will be Miss Margaret Durfey of Raleigh with Henry D. Means, Miss Sue Joyner of Raleigh with Charles Begg, and Miss Eugenia Cary of Greenville, S. C., with Mettan Davidson. For Kappa Alpha: Miss Virginia Foster of Raleigh with James Odegaard, Miss Judy Devereaux of Danville, Va., with Robin Hood, and Miss Charlotte Ruffner of Raleigh with Wallace Riddick. Joe Leighton and his orchestra will play for both the tea dance and the formal.

172 feet! He was a foot ahead of Tech's Monata! What a throw!!
And all on account of elbow grease. Monata tried hard to beat Windley's throw but the best the Tech flogger could do was 171 feet, 10 1/2 inches. Windley had first place by an inch and a half. First place counted five points and that was enough to give State a 64-61 victory.
But more things were yet to happen. Ike Hanf, the lad who pole vaults so beautifully for State and who usually clears better than 13 feet, wanted to try his luck with the javelin. Unorthodox in his style and a bit rusty, too, Hanf took a fling. Believe it or not, Ike threw the stick far enough to place third and displace Tech's Todd. Well, that gave State another point and victory to the tune of 65-60.
