NEW DAIRY BARNS TO BE DEDICATED TOMORROW

State College's new dairy barns near Method will be dedicated tomorrow as a feature of the first annual Livestock Day, presented by students in the School of Agriculture.

The barns, containing every modern improvement, are shown below. Including the manager's residence, not shown in the picture, the dairy project cost $95,000. It was constructed with PWA assistance and is located on a 1,250-acre tract, with about 600 acres fenced for pastures.

Dedication exercises will start at 2 o'clock.

Rising Juniors Cast Tie Vote For President

Graham and Ferebee Deadlocked With 159—Special Run-off Election Monday in YMCA From 12-2

Scott Ferebee and Jimmy Graham, the two candidates for the presidency of the rising junior class, tied in the election yesterday with 159 votes each to become the only two men in the history of the college to reach a deadlock in a major election by secret ballot.

Assistant Dean of Students Romeo Leforte announced last night that he and Dean Floyd will count the votes on Monday at a check on the previous tallies. However, he stated that since the ballots had already been counted twice by the Student Council he expected the tie to be authentic.

If the tie is confirmed today the election between Graham and Ferebee will be run off Monday from 12 o'clock to 2 in the Y.M.C.A.

In the race for the vice presidency Clay Ferebee defeated J. R. Branscome, and Bob Pleasant defeated victor of the race for the secretary-treasurer's job by defeating Wilbur Bryant.

Voting was unusually heavy this year since more than three hundred rising juniors attended the Y.M.C.A. and fought their way through a veritable maze of politicians to cast their ballots between the hours of twelve and one. A pouring rain falling intermittently throughout the noon hour failed to slow up the enthusiastic voters.

Seasoned political observers are predicting a record vote when the run-off balloting is held Monday, and a new high in political activity is also expected.

Reams Is Selected Golden Chain Head Following Tapping

FELLOWSHIP A fellowship at the University of Alabama has been awarded by the U. S. Bureau of Mines to James Neal Smith, Jr., below, senior in the Department of Ceramic Engineering.

A New Bern lad, Smith leads his class in scholastic ranking. The appointment came from the Federal Government, and is one of the most coveted awards in the nation.

Highest Campus Honor Given to Dozen Rising Seniors During Annual Ceremony

In a most impressive ceremony, 12 students selected as the outstanding members of the rising senior class were "tapped" into Golden Chain last evening at the twilight exercises held on the lawn of the Memorial Tower.

Following their election, the new and old members met in Holladay Hall to elect unanimously W. J. Reams of Apex as president of the senior honorary society for the coming year.

The address of the evening was delivered by Dean of Engineering Blake R. Van Leer, who spoke on "Character and Leadership." He was introduced by Col. J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration.

Introductory remarks prior to the ceremony were made by Golden Chain president "Buddy" Means, after which the 12 outgoing members of the organization, starred in Thomas, Glenard, Md.; Leroy Barnes, of Durham; Dugley Kaley, Scranton, Pa.; Paul LeMay, Winston-Salem; Nelson Strawbridge, Durham; Fabe Clements of Greensboro; and Bruce Halsted, Arlington, Va.

Following the address, each member of the organization "tapped" a new initiate, giving him a list of campus honors attained during the past three years. Robes were then switched to the incoming members, who were then led into Holladay Hall for the election of their officers.

Other campus leaders selected for membership in Golden Chain were W. C. Friday, Dallas, N. C.; Henry H. Thomas, Glenard, Md.; Leroy Barnes, of Durham; Dugley Kaley, Scranton, Pa.; Paul LeMay, Winston-Salem; Nelson Strawbridge, Durham; Fabe Clements of Greensboro; and Bruce Halsted, Arlington, Va.

Golden Chain was begun at State College several years ago as an effort to promote better citizenship among the students and to give recognition to those who had proven themselves as campus leaders. Each year 12 new members are taken into the society in a "tapping" ceremony.

College Air Meet Will Open Sunday At Local Airport

State College Host to Pilots; Stunt Contest Scheduled Sunday Afternoon

The State College chapter of the Intercollegiate Flying Club will host this week-end to Southern delegates who will visit Raleigh for the Regional Air Meet sponsored by the IFC, who are scheduled to begin arriving in the Capital City Saturday afternoon and night.

The Southern region includes 11 collegiate flying clubs, and it is predicted that the air meet will attract approximately 50 flying participants. It will be held at the local airport.

Feature of the meet will be a series of stunts and events which will be performed by the private pilots Sunday afternoon beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Included in the list of acrobatics are 360-degree spot landings, choice spot landings, bomb dropping, pants race, and altitude race.

Pilots and participants arriving Saturday night will be guests of Sigma Nu fraternity at their annual Spring formal to be held in Frank Thompson gym. Sunday morning the visitors will be entertained by Serv-Air, Inc., operators of the airport.

Plans have been planned for the meet, the first coming over WRAL Sunday morning from 9:30-10 o'clock. Radio station WPTF will broadcast the conclusion of the meet and the awarding of prizes Sunday afternoon between 5:30 and 6 o'clock.

Following a mass flight over Raleigh at 1:45 o'clock, the collegiate flyers will return to the airport to make plans for the contest events, starting at 2:30.

To the winning college in the air meet will give a handsome trophy, given to the intercollegiate.

Students Receive New 1940 Annuals Throughout Week

Jones Pharr, Lloyd Milks and Staff Do Fine Job in Turning Out Top-Notch 'Agromeck'

Containing many interesting new features, the 1940 edition of the "Agromeck" college yearbook, was being distributed to students this week at the college warehouse.

The 376-page edition is dedicated to Col. J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration and the only State College alumnus ever to leave the school. It contains several hundred more pictures than last year's book.

For the past three years the "Agromeck" has won first place among North Carolina college annuals in competition sponsored by the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association.

The book is handsomely bound in tan padded leather. A color scheme of tan, blue and red is used inside, with unusually striking color photographs decorating a number of pages. The photography is of the best.

Jones Y. Pharr, Jr., of Concord is editor of the 1940 "Agromeck" and Lloyd E. Milks, Jr., of Asheville is business manager. Editor-in-chief of next year's book is Dudley Kaley of Scranton, Pa., who will serve with Fabe Clements of Greensboro, who is business manager-elect.

Collins Elected Soph President

In a keenly contested election, members of the freshman class voted to the polls yesterday to elect Percy E. Collins, Newport News, Va., as president of their class for the coming school year. He is Dudley Branch Whitehurst in the balloting.

Meeting in Pullen Hall, the rising sophomores elected Joe Smart of Concord as vice president, Smart winning over R. M. Bobbitt. A. W. Foster defeated T. L. York for the job as secretary-treasurer of the class.

Dedication of New College Barns To Be Feature of Livestock Day

Final Project in Expansion Program to Be Officially Opened at Method

State College's new dairy barns near Method will be dedicated tomorrow, in connection with the first annual Livestock Day presented by students in the School of Agriculture.

Dr. Howard W. Odum of Chapel Hill will be the principal speaker on the dedicatory program, which will begin at 2 o'clock. The barns are located near the State Fairgrounds on a 1,250-acre tract which the State made available to the college for the development of animal husbandry.

The A.S. Club, sponsor of Livestock Day, has dedicated the program to Prof. Robert H. Ruffner, veteran head of the Department of Animal Husbandry and Dairying. A fitting and showing contest on the college track field will feature the program. The event will begin at 3:30 o'clock, and will be followed by an entertainment program and a banquet for visitors and participants. Awards will be presented to winning contestants at the banquet, which will be held in the college cafeteria.

On the entertainment program, which will begin at 5 o'clock, will be a cow-milking contest, a desam milking contest, a weight-lifting contest, a rooster-driving contest and a contest in catching a greased pig.

The general public is invited to the various events, which the Ag Club is promoting to stimulate interest in North Carolina's livestock industry.

Students have been training and fitting the animals for several weeks, using hogs, sheep, horses and dairy and beef cattle owned by the college. Merits of the individual animals will not be taken into consideration, the judges confining themselves to the degree to which the animals have been fitted and trained for the show.

David A. Sutton of Goldsboro is general chairman of Livestock Day. Others in charge of the event are Stuart Black, Concord; Sam Mann, Washington, N. C.; Sexton Vinson, Dillard, Ga.; Henry Vanstator, Charles; D. C. Parker, Fontana; Charlie Ream, Winston-Salem, and Eston Stokes, Linwood.

Cotton Specialist To Conduct Class

S. W. Holman of United States Department of Agriculture to Teach Cotton Classing

Sidney W. Holman, cotton specialist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has been engaged to conduct the summer school course in cotton classing at State College, Dr. G. K. Middleton of the Agronomy Department announced today.

Mr. Holman has had considerable experience in cotton classing, with private concerns and for the government, and also has had teaching experience.

At present, he is in charge of the Smith-Dorsey work in North Carolina, with headquarters in Raleigh. In this capacity, his office is classing all cotton grown in connection with the one-variety cotton program sponsored in the State by the Agricultural Extension Service. He will continue in charge of this work, and will be able to relate his teaching directly to the practical problems of cotton improvement and care in handling in the field.

Mr. Holman taught cotton classing at the college during the winter quarter, handling the work so satisfactorily that the college asked that he be assigned to give the summer course.

Honorary Society Initiates Scholars

Local Chapter of Phi Eta Sigma Inducts Twenty-seven in Ceremony Monday

Twenty-four freshmen and three sophomores were initiated Monday night by the State College chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman honor and scholarship fraternity.

The ceremonies were held at a banquet meeting in the Carolina Pines clubhouse, with President Roger Avery of Winston-Salem presiding. Dean B. F. Brown of the Basic Division was the speaker.

Only freshmen who average half A's and half B's in their studies are eligible for membership in Phi Eta Sigma. The sophomores became eligible by attaining the average in the closing days of their first year at the college.

Freshmen initiated were R. McEl Allen, Jr., Raleigh; J. E. Blalock, Stems; W. M. Boylan, New Bern; D. A. Craven, Fayetteville; H. L. Epstein, Far Rockaway, N. Y.; M. G. Geluso, Brooklyn, N. C.; B. L. Hardin, Salisbury; R. E. Hoover, Phoenix, N. Y.; R. S. Jackson, Cornwall, Ontario, Canada; C. S. King, Charlotte; and Quentin Patterson of Baltimore, Md.; G. A. Rose, II, Henderson; Max Sayah, Allentown, Penn.; C. H. Sheets, Salisbury; B. P. Starnes, Monroe; G. C. Swinney, Draper; J. R. Taylor, High Point; J. R. Turbeville, Hamlet; W. D. Van Arsdale, East Orange, N. J.; J. M. Watts, Statesville; M. S. Williams, Hillsboro; W. W. Womack, Winston-Salem; J. A. Wooten, Jr., Rocky Mount; and T. L. York, Waynesville.

Craver Is Chosen For Final Audition

State Student One of Ten North Carolinians to Go to Symphony Finals

Curtis Craver, Jr., clarinetist in the Redcoat Band and president of the State College Symphony Orchestra, has successfully passed three of the four stages in the elimination process of auditions for the National Youth Symphony Orchestra which the famous conductor, Leopold Stokowsky, is organizing for a concert tour of South America this summer.

A bulletin from the National Youth Administration states that the United States, ages 15 to 26, have applied for membership originally, and that the 109 best ones will be chosen in the final tryouts to be conducted by Stokowsky himself. Craver, who is an Architectural Engineering student here, is one of the ten North Carolina musicians notified to report to Washington, D. C., on May 29th for the final audition.

Two other Raleigh musicians, Herbert Bird and Jean Marie Stewart, violin teachers at St. Mary's and Meredith, respectively, have also been summoned for the final audition.

Last Chance . . .

All students are urged to check their class cards at the Dean of Students' office during the coming week, and through extra week. This will be your last chance to make sure that there are no errors in your record of attendance.

Thomas Elected Pine Burr Head

Honorary Scholarship Fraternity Selects Leaders; Boger Chosen Vice President

Henry H. Thomas, a rising senior in ceramic engineering, was elected president of Pine Burr, local scholarship fraternity, at a meeting of the organization last Monday.

Elected with him to serve next year were John Boger, vice president; Jack Neiley, secretary; Leroy Barnes, treasurer; Ted Spiker, sergeant-at-arms.

Pine Burr Society is a local scholarship fraternity peculiar to State College. It is neither professional nor departmental in its membership.

Student members are selected from those students who have attended this college for two and one-half years, who have never failed on any course, whose average grade is not below 85, and who are active, loyal and prominent in some phase of college extra-curricular activity.

Macon M. Dalton is the retiring president of Pine Burr.

Other valuable and interesting articles include one on best production on breeding methods in livestock by Carey Watkins, some pointers on summer broiler production by "Shorty" Barnes, and an article on the value of pastures by Ernest Durham.

Y Men To Attend Blue Ridge Meet

Seven representatives of the State College Y.M.C.A. plan to attend the Y.M.-Y.W.C.A. conference at Blue Ridge, North Carolina, on June 8

Students planning to attend are C. H. Kirkman, Jr., Bruce Jackson, David Whitted, Kenneth Womack, William Womack, Jacob Tinga, and Ed Bryant.

The conference will be attended by about 600 students, representing universities and colleges throughout the Southern States. The theme of this year's conference will be "Students and Contemporaneous Living."

Lectures will be held in the morning and at night. The afternoons will be devoted to sports, mountain climbing, and sight-seeing.

Eddy Duchin and Dick Stabile Selected For Interfraternity Council's Dances

By JOE MICHAEL

After a lot of sifting for a couple of the best bands in the nation to play for the annual finals, the Interfraternity Council has selected the versatile Eddy Duchin and the world-famous alto sax man, Dick Stabile. This is the first time that State College has been host to these two distinguished bands and it will be well worth while to look into the personal history of these famous musicians and their music-making personnel.

Eddy Duchin, the "Magic Piano Fingers of Radio," started his early life jerking soda in his father's drug store in Cambridge, Mass. Eddy's father, who owned a chain of stores, tried his best to make a drugstore out of his son by sending him to Pharmacy College, but Eddy had other ideas. Eddy's first band consisted of three pieces, piano, sax and violin. Like a lot of other musicians this first "feeler" was organized in a boy's camp far from Papa Duchin's watchful eye.

Began Own Band
Before graduating from college Duchin played with Leo Reisman, "The Pagliacci of the Piano," and

Livestock Day Theme of Issue Of Agriculturist

Cover Shows Newly Completed Dairy Barns; Last Issue of Year Distributed

This year's final issue of the N. C. State Agriculturist appeared on the campus early this week featuring as its main theme the first annual Livestock Day to be held Saturday.

On the cover of the latest issue appears a picture of the recently completed dairy barns. In connection with the event Saturday is included an article on the early history of the animal husbandry department by Professor R. H. Ruffner to whom State College has dedicated its first Livestock Day.

The program for Livestock Day is included as are articles on the importance of livestock production by Dean J. O. Schaub and Clarence Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer.

Other valuable and interesting articles include one on best production on breeding methods in livestock by Carey Watkins, some pointers on summer broiler production by "Shorty" Barnes, and an article on the value of pastures by Ernest Durham.

Bowles Is Elected Ag Club President

Bennett Chosen Vice President, Koonce and Burrage Head 'Agriculturist'

W. Flake Bowles of Hidentite, a junior in animal husbandry, has been elected president of the State College Ag Club for the fall term.

Other new officers are F. M. Bennett of Jackson Springs, vice president; Arnold Krochmal of New York City, secretary; Max Chestnut, treasurer; and Quentin Patterson of Hidentite, reporter.

F. J. Koonce, Jr., of Trenton, was elected editor of The Agriculturist, School of Agriculture magazine, and Bob Burrage of Concord was named business manager. Jewel Davenport of Creswell was elected chairman of the Barwarming, annual Ag Club dance. The faculty advisor is Prof. F. M. Haig of the animal husbandry department.

Keramos Inducts Six New Members

Greaves-Walker Is Principal Speaker at Initiation Banquet of Ceramic Fraternity

Six new members were initiated into the local chapter of Keramos, national professional ceramic fraternity and oldest professional engineering fraternity in the world. The initiation ceremony was held at a banquet at the Carolina Pines Hotel, headed by Dr. A. F. Greaves-Walker, head of the Ceramic Department, was the principle speaker.

New members are Forrest A. Paschal, Siler City; Howard Miller, Mooresville; Edwin R. Todd, Charlotte; Martin Parcel, Greensboro; Don Cox, Raleigh; and Wm. Gate Lambertson, Rich Square.

After the initiation, the following were elected as officers for next year: Henry H. Thomas of Ballingmore, Md., president; John Neiley of Passaic, N. J., vice-president; Edwin R. Todd of Charlotte, secretary; B. L. Thomas of Westfield, N. J., treasurer; and Howard Miller of Mooresville, herald.

Dick's brother Joe is a member of the band. If any of you have a penchant for flirting with Shirley Gay, a very charming sweetheart of song, and I do mean sweetheart, you had better get Dick's permission, because he weighs only 150. Other features of the band are Bill Dikayo, vocalist; "The Five Musical Woodwinds," and "The Stable Sette."

Teachers To Have Training In Arts

Local Instructor Will Give Practical Art Course in Summer School

Opportunities for teachers to work with materials which may be used in making meanings clearer to pupils in elementary school will be available in the State College summer session. Prof. Edward W. Boshart, of the Division of Teacher Training, announced recently.

The arrangement is especially designed, Prof. Boshart said, to aid teachers endeavoring to make use of industrial arts work in teaching younger pupils.

Teachers will have the opportunity of using shop facilities such as benches, hand tools, the potter's wheel and other features. Also available will be materials so often used in manual expression such as wood, clay, plaster of paris, paper and other art media. The teachers will work with equipment and materials well suited for meeting their individual classroom problems.

In charge of this activity will be Miss Lila Bell of Raleigh, who has been teaching "Practical Arts Problems" for a number of years. Teachers who have earned credit for this course will receive additional credit for work completed under the special plan.

Particular attention will be given to the development of skill with wood, plaster of paris and clay, the painting of murals, finger games, activities connected with puppetry. Emphasis will be placed on direct use of the materials in teaching various subjects in elementary schools, Prof. Boshart said.

The Best Ever...

We take this opportunity to cast a bouquet in the general direction of the students who were in charge of the publication of this year's "Agromeck," which in our estimation is the finest edition of the yearbook that has graced the State College campus.

Although following the general trend in annuals, our book is different. It possesses new ideas and reflects the many hours of thought and labor that went into its makeup. It is truly a book that every student will keep and refer to often, and one which we believe they will agree is the nation's finest.

And so we say, congratulations to you, Jones and Lloyd. You have done an excellent job, and your product is one of which the students are really proud.

N. C. STATE

Honesty Pays...

The saying goes that the truth will out, and we take pride in reviewing an incident involving a State College student that shows that we do have some honest and truthful students, and some real gentlemen.

A freshman at this institution was down town in his automobile recently, and by some means happened to scrape slightly the fender of a parked car. The natural tendency would be to drive away and say nothing—but not this student. In all sincerity he left the following note:

"I scratched your right rear fender slightly, and will be glad to pay for this being fixed. My license number is 639-169. I am a student at State."—H. A. Klutz, Phone 8644.

The car into which he bumped happened to belong to J. K. Coggins, associate professor in the Division of Teacher Training. Mr. Coggins proudly displayed the note as being a living display of real honesty and sincerity.

And we as students are glad to say that this is one of our fellow members. Which goes to show that honesty pays.

After We're Gone...

In a little over three weeks, 350 members of our student body will pass out through the doors of the college, completing four years of preparation for their work in which they will be engaged for the remainder of their lives.

The fact that only a few of this number will remain true to their alma mater was emphasized last week before a meet-

 To abolish the status quo is often of great importance to civilization. But, to improve the status quo is another matter indeed. We are referring to Dr. George McKie's recent statement in which he embodied proposed future action by the faculty to abolish fraternities.

Final Step...

Dedication of the final project in State College's huge expansion program will be held tomorrow as a feature of the annual Livestock Day, when the new dairy barn near Method will be officially opened for the college's use. Costing around $98,000, these buildings represent a much-needed improvement in the Department of Agriculture and mark the end of the present building spree.

It is probable that the present barns will be torn down to make room for the expansion of the college in that direction.

Up We Go...

A new venture for State College in the field of aeronautics will be held Sunday when the student chapter of the Intercollegiate Flying Club holds its first air meet at the Raleigh Airport. The meeting will be attended by students and planes from schools located all over the South. A feature of the show will be a variety of air stunts, and the winning school and winning student will each be rewarded with a beautiful trophy.

Tapping Ceremony...

The most impressive initiation ceremony on the campus was held at twilight last evening as twelve of the outstanding rising seniors were tapped into Golden Chain, senior honorary society. Described as the most beautiful ceremony at State, the organization certainly lives up to the reputation of being one of the most active on the campus.

ing of the Senior Class by Col. George W. Gillette, president of the General Alumni Association. Speaking on the part that the alumni play in the successful operation of the institution, Colonel Gillette urged the graduating men to remain in contact with their school and lend a hand when the occasion arises.

And there lies the great fault with State College today. We have a large surplus of alumni, who are willing to lend their criticisms and complaints to the college's activities, but who are seldom around when there is work to be done or support needed.

This year's group seems unusually enthusiastic over the recently inaugurated plan of the Senior Class to secure one hundred per cent membership in the Alumni Association, and it is hoped that in this manner these men will keep part of that spirit they have gotten during their four years here.

It will not be hard for this class to be above the average. We only hope that they will be the best on record, and will do their part to put State College on the top where it belongs.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor: On behalf of the Monogram Club I wish to express the appreciation of the athletes to the School Administration, Faculty and student body for their splendid cooperation, support, and spirit given us during this past school year.

We are proud of these supporters of State College for their constant loyalty even in the face of defeat, and for their words of kindness in time of victory.

Our hope is that this fine spirit will continue to increase as it has during this past year.

TONY DIYESO, President Monogram Club.

Textile Society Holds Elections

J. Taylor Shotwell of Henderson, a junior in textile manufacturing, has been elected president of the Tompkins Textile Society at State College for the 1940-41 school year. Other new officers are E. GLEANINGS

by THE STAFF

Here comes the tail end of another school year... after three years away from my native New York, I feel very little of a Yankee... as one fellow remarked, "You're not a Yankee, you were just born up there"...

Horace Richter, outgoing secretary of the Interfraternity Council, says that the existing state in Greek houses was due for some heavy fire, and accordingly sought out improvements in the status quo.

His findings and proposals entail a complete reorganization of the Interfraternity Council. The crux of the plan deals with transferring the organization of fraternity presidents into a body which can bring about closer relationship among all fraternities in order to help teach: "How to live with one's fellows and how to make the most of one's self."

The plan calls for the adoption of a program which would make fraternities an ideal training ground for citizens in later life. To be a citizen, abiding by the laws, not passing red lights or speeding through cities is all well and good. But the essential part of college graduates—in most cases the future leaders of our communities—is the realization of one's responsibility in a democracy. To know how one's particular community fits into the whole structure of government, and more important, to know what improvements and advances should be made in a particular locality is a necessary part of a college education.

Fraternities, with their closely knit organization, are able to introduce students to better modes of life, and to educate them to the responsibility they will have to bear in later life.

Horace Richter has proposed a solution to the grievances which Dr. McKie or any other critic of fraternities have put forth. Should fraternities seriously undertake these improvements they will have little fear of future charges against them.

Seniors...
 Senior invitations are now ready for distribution at the college purchasing office, and all seniors are urged to secure them as soon as possible by calling at the purchasing office.

Textbooks...
 All students who have textbooks to sell are urged to bring them to the Student Book Exchange, so that the exchange can have them immediately available for other students at the beginning of the fall quarter.

The Book Exchange, located on the second floor of the Publications Building, will be open for your convenience from 3-6 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 27-29. The Student Book Exchange is your exchange, and you are urged to use it.—Jesse Levine, Mgr.

On this page you'll find two coupons to fill in. It has been the custom for the past several years for the members of the senior class to pick an All-Four-Year football team—a team composed of the best men who have played here while you seniors were in school (five- and six-year men excluded). Fill in the coupon and put it in the box on the Technician office door. The votes will be counted and the results published in next week's Technician.

The other coupon is for the use of all students. The purpose is to determine what name the students favor giving our new track stadium. I for one think that nameless dormitories are sufficient anonymity on the campus. Let's give our track a name. Maybe you think it should be named after a dean, an outstanding alumnus or athlete, or any one else. Anyhow, write down your choice and bring it to the Technician office. All coupons must be in by Tuesday night to be counted.

Football That pushball contest last week was a real rip-sorter. It resembled, at times, a miniature of what the war in Europe must look like. A good number of the boys seemed to pay more attention to each other. Every so often one side or the other would organize a blitzkrieg of its own and come tearing in. Several chaps who tried to throw body blocks on the ball bounced back about ten or twelve feet. But the superior numbers of the freshmen resulted in an easy victory for the yearlings. The referees had a difficult time keeping their feet. The contest was rough, but it was comparatively clean, as those things go. And compliments to both classes for keeping property damage at a minimum. The night-before festivities were limited solely to the freshmen stealing 1911's cannon and setting it up in the Frosh Quadrangle.

Here and There Danny Pioseno, former State College griddler, is going to coach a high school team in his home town, Bellair, Ohio, next fall. Another State alumnus and grid star, Ren Hoek, came in for some nationwide publicity in Time magazine as a result of his recreational work at State Prison (as a member of the force, not an inmate) of the Wolfpack Club now has 40 members, each of whom pledged to donate $100 a year for the next five years. . . . that's a start in the right direction. . . . the baseball team winds up its season against Davidson College last Friday. . . . Wade Brown really was banging them out against Duke last Monday. . . . a triple and a homer are good in any man's league. . . . I hope the football team has violent red uniforms next fall. . . . in tune with the basketball team's uniforms. . . . the next year's frosh will fall heir to the varsity's old uniforms. . . . next year's nine should be enriched by the members of this year's freshman nine—Dave Wood, Ray Hardee, the Mills twins, Sonny Gilbert, Jim Barber, Doug Dickerson, Ray Sawyer, Bill Ball and a host of other fine ball players.

Spirit High Our teams have not had a particularly successful season, but the student body has shown the finest spirit of any college in the support they have given the athletes. They were out there at every game, whooping it up and cheering, win or lose. It is that kind of spirit that will make State College fa-

Nine Records Broken On New Track This Year

Mickey Thompson Leads Track Team With Three Records

State Man Holds 100 and 220-Yard Dash Marks and Broad Jump

Nine records were broken and one record was tied on State's two-year-old track during the recently completed season.

State's Mickey Thompson, the one-man team from Elizabeth City, holds three of the records set since the track was opened last year, and set two of them this year. Thompson ran the 100-yard dash in 9.7 to better the record set by Richmond's Arthur Jones in 1939. In the 220-yard dash Mickey bettered his time of 22.6 run in 1939, with a 21.6 second run this year. Thompson's record jump of 22 feet, 10 3/4 inches in the broad jump last season still stands.

The only other man to hold more than one record on State's track is James Willmott of Duke University. Willmott set a new high jump record of 6 feet and tied Richmond's Bob Keil's time of 16.5 in the high hurdles.

Records 100-yard dash—Thompson, State, 9.7, 1940. 220-yard dash—Thompson, State, 21.6, 1940. 440-yard dash—Fisher, Catawba, 51, 1939. 880-yard dash—R. Jones, Richmond, 2:12, 1940. Mile—Profeten, Duke, 4:30.4, 1940. 2-mile—Brott, Duke, 10:33.8, 1940. 120-yard high hurdles—Tie: Keil (1939) Richmond and Willmott (1940) Duke, 16.5. 220-low hurdles—Saig, Duke, 25.1, 1940. Pole vault—Hanff, State, 13 ft. 3 in., 1940. Shot—Lach, Duke, 46 ft. 1 in., 1940. Discus—Craft, Hampden-Sydney, 121 ft. 3 in., 1939. Javelin—Sinar, Richmond, 190 ft. 7 in., 1939. High jump—Willmott, Duke, 6 ft. 1940.

Of the records set, Duke would lead with six and State would be close behind with four. Richmond would place third with three records, and Catawba and Hampden-Sydney would each have one. The track team, under the able coaching of Doc Sermon, whose resignation becomes effective June 30, won two, over Virginia Tech and Davidson, and lost to Richmond and Duke.

Let's keep it up next year. And remember that we're behind our teams 100 per cent, win or lose.

Fall Football Begins On First of September

Invitations to attend fall training will be mailed out to the successful candidates for State's grid outfit early in August.

The men chosen will report to Doc Newton on September 1, and will begin practice immediately. There will be two practices daily, one at 9 in the morning and one at 3 in the afternoon. These times have been scheduled because they are the coolest times of the day. Practice will start light, but all men will wear full equipment. The first week will be devoted to learning plays; the second week will be devoted to the beginning of contact work.

The boys will have plenty to do, what with such outstanding teams on the schedule as Duke, Carolina, Wake Forest, Mississippi State and William and Mary, among others.

MURALMUSINGS

By WALTER WILLIAMS

We have almost reached the final step in our intramural sports and that is presenting the outstanding boys and teams with the trophies and All-Campus medals. These trophies and medals will be given out at the sophomore assembly next Thursday, May 23rd, in Fullen Hall at 12 o'clock.

The all-campus teams for football, boxing, and wrestling appear at the end of this column. An announcement concerning the intramural track meet was left out last week, so we wish to warn you that the fraternity meet will be next Tuesday, May 21st, and the Dormitory meet Wednesday, May 22nd. Mr. Miller has posted announcements stating: (1) the managers must have individual entries in his office the day before the meet, (2) and those entering the mile run must have a doctor's O. K. right away.

More on Softball As the softball schedule comes to an end we find the Pikas and S. P. E.'s winners in their respective brackets, while the 1st A. and 1911 are the victors in the dormitory brackets. The Pi Kappa Phi's and 1st A drew byes and will play winners of the Pikas-S.P.E. 1st 8th-1911 games. The games are scheduled for this evening at 5 o'clock.

The S. P. E. team took a decided lead at bat while Bud Kaley and Ed Edwards scored four runs and Paschal two runs and a homer. Ferguson and Branson scored the runs for the losers. Jones with three runs and Joslin with two led the Sigma Nu's to a 11 to 6 victory over the A. G. R's. Bland and Blanchard were the outstanding winners of the Sigma Nu's. The Phi Kappa Tau's eked out a win over the Lambda Chi's by the score of 8 to 7. Bob Handley led the winners at the plate with a perfect day at bat while Bud Kaley and "Schoolboy" Rowe paced the Lambda Chi's.

"Funk" Cannon, with a triple and a double, led the Pi Kappa Tau's to a 14 to 6 decision over the Delta Sig's. Buckingham and Her-ring, with two runs each, led Char-le Santore's club. Upper 9th won over 1st 8th by a score of 8 to 6 in the first dormitory game of the week. Wrenn and Huddle, with two runs apiece, led the winners while Love garnered two four-bag-gers for the losers.

The Pikas scored a 19 to 11 victory over the Phi Kappa Taus. Jolt-ing Gene McGarrity led the winners with three hits in five trips to the plate. Sovier and Morgan added three runs apiece for the margin of victory.

- The medal winners: Boxing—Cox—2nd 8th. Dunn—A. K. Pi. Kelly—Pika. Soares—B 8th. Wynn—1st A. Ross—Pika. Doak—Pika. Cameron—B South. Basketball—Sanders—1st South. Isenhour—1911. Harris—Pika. Joslin—Sigma Nu. Keiger—3rd South. Furr—Pika. Football—Sacha—S. P. E. Heatherington—1st 8th. Santore—Delta Sig's. Gaskins—2nd A. Dotger—A. L. T. Marip—1st 8th. Sauvala—Kappa Sigma. Joslin—Sigma Nu. H. S. Gibbs—Pi Kappa Phi. Furr—Pika. Baker—Watauga. Martin—2nd A.

TAKING INVENTORY of State's athletic equipment is Sergeant Glindmeir, who is in charge of the athletic supply room. In anticipation of a banner year, beginning next fall, "Sarge," as he is affectionately known, is disposing of worn-out material. The football team will appear in new uniforms next season, as will the varsity basketball team. It looks like a great year for State College!

Six Men Represent College in Southern Conference Meet at Williamsburg

When the starting gun is fired today at Williamsburg, Va., in the annual Southern Conference outdoor track meet, there will be six outstanding State men participating.

Leading the wearers of the red and white will be that shining star of the cinders, versatile Mickey Thompson, who is entered in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and who will put the finishing touches to what should be a fine performance by taking part in the broad jump.

Ike Hanff, the outstanding pole vaulter in the Big Five, will be favored to take at least a second place, though if he shows the form he did at the beginning of the season he should take first place easily. Soph Star An outstanding competitor on last year's frosh team, and a consistent point-getter on this year's varsity, is Jimmy McDougall, who

Captains Chosen For Tech Teams

Football, Swimming, Wrestling and Rifle Teams Have Chosen Captains

Despite the fact that the present sports season has scarcely run out, State rosters are already discussing the possibilities of next year's teams. If their leaders are any indication, our athletes should have a banner year.

Leading the football team will be Co-captains Howell Stroup, who plays center, and Pat Pehley, who is a back. Both have starred for two years on the Wolfpack, and great things are expected of them next fall.

State's three other major teams, basketball, baseball and track, have as yet not chosen the men to lead them next year. There are two basketball juniors in school at present, Monte Crawford, center, and Ray Smith, guard. Roy Cromartie, another junior, has dropped out of school for the time being. If Cromartie returns, it will be one of these three who will captain the team. The swimmers have Don Cox and Sid Ingram as co-captains, and Glen Sheets is leader of the rifle team. Little Able Johnson, following in his brother's footsteps, is captain of next year's grunt-and-groaners. Paul Abrams, 175 boxer, is the only rising senior on the slugging squad.

Chance Meeting Brings Two Star Athletes Here

Three-Sport Boys From Washington, D. C., to Enter State in Fall

By "ACE" KROCHMAL

A chance meeting in Washington, D. C., last fall between Doc Newton and George Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins professional football team, is the leading reason why two outstanding Washington, D. C., athletes will register at State next fall. It all happened this way. Doc, on his way with the Pack to play Detroit University, and Mr. Marshall were discussing things in general, and the Redskins owner commented on the fact that there were two lads in the Capital City, Art Faircloth and Bobby Gordon, who

Work-Study Plan Gets Enthusiastic Response

Directors Reveal New Cooperative Plan Is "Acclaimed by Industrialists"

The close of the first 30-day period following announcement of the Cooperative Plan of Engineering Education finds Dean Blake R. Van Leer and Director Frank F. Groseclose well pleased with the generous support given by a number of the outstanding industries in North Carolina and other Southern states.

Under the plan, financially hard-pressed students in the School of Engineering will attend classes at the college for six months and spend six months working in an industrial allied with their studies, alternating until they graduate, with one job filled by two students each year.

Prof. Groseclose reported today that several firms already have sent requisitions for the students they will employ beginning September 15. Many other firms have advised that they will cooperate, but have not yet decided how many students they can use and the type of experiences they desire.

Sixty-one students have applied for admittance to the cooperative program. They represent a wide range of experiences, and many have high scholastic averages. Most of them, Prof. Groseclose said, are staying in college under the most trying financial difficulties and the securing of a cooperative job might mean the completion of a college education that otherwise would be denied to them.

Long before the cooperative plan was launched at State College Prof. Groseclose urged that graduates of Southern colleges be given satisfactory employment in the South so that their skill and knowledge would be retained in this region. He feels that the cooperative plan will greatly enhance the possibilities along this line.

"These students receiving training under real working conditions, shoulder to shoulder with those in the lower ranks of industry and mixing this training with alternate periods at college studies, will furnish to our industries a constant supply of leadership that is so often lacking when the older leaders drop out or feel the need of younger blood to support them in their plans and projects," Prof. Groseclose said. "This plan offers a real challenge to every industry, firm or agency that touches this State to join in a most worthy and workable undertaking."

DEAN NELSON IMPROVED The entire college is glad to know that Dean Thomas Nelson is showing rapid improvement after several weeks of confinement in his home.

Sigma Tau Sigma Chooses Initiates

Eighteen Rising Seniors Join Honorary Textile Fraternity; Elect Officers

Initiation of eighteen rising seniors with high scholastic averages into Sigma Tau Sigma, honorary textile fraternity at State College, was announced today.

Officers for the next school year were announced as follows: Dwight L. Turner of Greensboro, president; James E. Odgaard of Montclair, N. J., vice president; and Lane C. Drye of Landis, secretary-treasurer.

The new members are W. G. Holadia, Roanoke Rapids; H. V. Edwards and D. W. Edwards, Fort Mills, S. C.; R. E. Brannon, Rockingham; D. J. Brown, Cramerton; J. J. Ryan and L. J. Wintaraki, New Bedford, Mass.; Sidney Tager and Howard Bergman, Brooklyn, N. Y.; D. L. Turner and Fabe M. Clements, Greensboro; K. A. Leer, Cliffside Park, N. Y.; T. B. Price, West Jefferson; E. W. McLeod, Carthage; W. N. Laffer, Albemarle; Lane C. Drye, Landis; James E. Odgaard, Montclair, N. J.; and William Sarandria, West New York, N. J.

Textile Graduates In Strong Demand

Dean Thomas Nelson stated today there is a strong demand for this year's graduates of the State College Textile School and said he expected every member of the class to be placed in a textile job by commencement, June 3.

Dean Nelson now is recuperating from an illness. Prof. T. R. Hart, who has been handling placements in the manufacturing division during Dean Nelson's illness, said three men representing mills in three Southern States and two men representing two of the large rayon companies have been on the campus within the last week to interview seniors. All five, Prof. Hart stated, expressed the intention of taking from one to three men out of this year's class.

Of the sixty-five seniors who will graduate next month, seventy-five per cent will be located in Southern States, while the others will become connected with commission houses in New York City, rayon producers and manufacturers of textile machinery in other states.

In Dean Nelson's opinion, the outlook for textile graduates are brighter than ever before.
