

32 Seniors Affected By Lowering Age For Officers' Commissions

Age Limit Dropped To 18 According to Telegram Received By Military Department

Approximately thirty-two State College seniors will be affected by an announcement issued earlier this week from the Military Department stating the minimum age limit for those men eligible to receive commissions has been lowered from twenty-one to eighteen years.

According to Major P. E. Moore, the military office here was notified of the change by a telegram from the War Department which read as follows: "The previous minimum age requirement for appointment as officers has been reduced from twenty-one to eighteen years."

This action follows the general trend displayed by all branches of the service in an effort to put all available manpower to the best possible use. The change does not necessarily mean that men receiving their commissions before their twenty-first birthday will be called immediately to active service. However it does indicate that the War Department intends to have a large reserve of trained men available and on instant call to be used whenever they may be needed.

No Juniors or Seniors will be graduated before they are eighteen, and it is doubtful if anyone now enrolled at State College will be eligible for graduation before they reach that age. However, a limited number of underclassmen, through training received at Citizens' Military Training Camps and various military schools and academic, have now become eligible to receive commissions immediately.

Previous to this year, Senior R.O.T.C. students who graduated before they were twenty-one, received certificates which could be exchanged for commissions within a certain designated period of time following their twenty-first birthdays. The new order dispenses with this procedure.

War Effort Affects Agromeck Publication

Year Book To Appear Early In May Because Of Advanced Graduation Date

In an effort to distribute the 1942 edition of the Agromeck before the present senior class graduate on May 8, Jimmy McDougal, editor of the annual, has announced that the book will probably be published about the first of May.

In previous years the Agromeck has not been issued until the last month of school but the new date has been set in accord with the early graduation plans.

Despite the fact that many employees of the engraving company preparing the annual have been drafted, most of the printing and engraving has already been done. Increased work in connection with the war effort has made it difficult to get paper, ink, and metal necessary to publishing the book, however the annual staff has been putting in more work in order to avoid as much of the delay as possible.

Nearly all of the pictures have been made for the book, and the few remaining will be made in the next few weeks. At 1:30 next Thursday pictures of the Tompkins Textile Society will be made in front of the Textile building.

Guidance Discussions Sponsored By YMCA

Informal Talks In Dormitory Rooms and Fraternity Houses Are Featured

Informal discussions in dormitory rooms and fraternity houses at which students have the opportunity of expressing themselves under the guidance of experienced discussion leaders are receiving the backing of the State College Y.M.C.A.

The popularity and value of informal and frank discussions with older, more experienced people was realized by the Y.M.C.A. during its Religion and Life Week and Short Course on "Education for Marriage and Family Life." At that time program leaders visited practically all the dormitory floors and fraternity houses on the campus to lead discussions on and further develop the topics on which they had been lecturing. The students, according to these leaders, showed and expressed their interest in and need for frank discussions on many problems which confront and baffle them.

Two faculty leaders, Dr. Kenneth Cameron and Dean Ray Holder, have volunteered to lead the discussions for the next few weeks. They have the training, both academic and theological, and are willing to give generously their time with no compensation.

State College Graduates In Action With Fleet, Army, Marines In Distant Outposts

State College's roll of recent graduates in foreign service with Uncle Sam's fighting forces includes many in the Pacific war zone and several in the thick of the battle for the Philippines, Alumni Secretary Dan M. Paul reported this week.

Records compiled by the Alumni Office, from information as up-to-date as possible under the circumstances, show that State College men are stationed at practically all of the nation's far-flung outposts—in Iceland and Hawaii, at Dutch Harbor and Kodiak Island in Alaska, in the Panama Canal Zone and British West Indies, with the fleet in the Pacific and with MacArthur in the Philippines.

One was stationed with the Marines at Shanghai, another with the Marines on Guam and a third with the Navy at historic Wake Island.

Alumni records show that Julian B. Lyon, who graduated in 1939, was a lieutenant with the Marines at Shanghai just before the outbreak of war. Whether he left before being captured is not known. His residence is Creedmoor.

G. M. Inscoc, lieutenant in the Navy, was reported safe on Wake Island during the days before it fell after a heroic battle that will rank with the nation's most magnificent military feats. He has not been heard from since. Lieut. Inscoc entered State College from Louisburg and was graduated in 1928.

MAY GRADUATION PLANS MADE

CAA Engineer

CAA Takes State Graduate As First Woman Engineer

Katharine Stinson Hired As Civil Aeronautics Administration Breaks Precedent During War Emergency; First Aeronautical Engineering Girl Graduate

Katharine Stinson, graduate of State College, class of '41, has been hired by the Civil Aeronautics Administration as a junior engineer making the first time that a woman has been employed by the Administration in such a capacity.

Miss Stinson, 24, was the first woman to be graduated from State in aeronautical engineering and since leaving school she has been employed by the Civil Service Commission as an engineering examiner. Her transfer to the CAA she says, was arranged by "mutual consent."

The daughter of Mrs. W. E. Stinson of Varina, Katharine attended Fugate high school, was secretary of the flying club at State and secretary-treasurer of the Aeronautical Engineering for two years. She is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Before coming to State Miss Stinson attended Meredith College for a year.

Although she is the first of the fairer sex to be taken by the CAA, she says she has noticed no tendency on the part of her colleagues to treat her with suspicion because she is a woman.

"On the contrary," she stated, they have been very nice to me. Although she hasn't been working in her new job long enough to find out exactly, Miss Stinson likes the work.

Although she has done some flying, Miss Stinson does not now hold a pilot's license and is more interested in engineering than in handling the controls of a plane. Her decision to become an engineer dates back to early childhood, but she admits she "only managed to get 'by' in mathematics during her school years.

1,000 Men Enrolled For Winter Defense Courses

Nearly 1,000 men are enrolled in winter term special defense training courses offered by State College, Director Edward W. Ruggles of the College Extension Division announced yesterday.

The number is larger by far than enrollment in any previous series of engineering, science and management courses offered by the college since the special courses first were made available over a year ago to supply technically trained men for the nation's defense effort.

Sponsored by the Federal Government through the U. S. Office of Education, the courses will last from 10 to 20 weeks. All are taught on the campus except the radio communication courses now getting under way in 19 communities throughout the State with approximately 860 students enrolled, and

Ring Measurements To Be Taken For Junior Class On Mon.-Tues.

Star Engraving Company Representative Will Be In First of Week; $3.00 Deposit Required

Measurements for the Junior class rings will be taken Monday and Tuesday by Ronald Reed, representative of the Starr Engraving Company.

The contract for making the rings was awarded to that company by the Junior class last week. Reed will be at the College YMCA building from 11:00 until 3:00 and Tuesday from 11:00 until 6:00.

A deposit of $3.00 is required at the time the order for the ring is filed, this deposit to be paid in cash. Student checks will not be accepted by the representative.

All juniors who desire to buy rings are urged to place their orders this spring because of the fluctuating price of gold, increasing cost of labor and the scarcity of rubies, it is likely that the price may advance before the class of 1943 will graduate. No contract on this type of goods can be guaranteed for any length of time.

The price of the ring this year advanced only sixty-five cents over the price of last year. Any junior who wishes to purchase a ring may see the various styles and weights of the ring in the dean's office and an order may be placed at any time.

New Selective Service Registration Plans Set

Committee Headed by Dan Paul To Supervise Draft Registration

Arrangements for the new selective service registration set for Monday, Feb. 16, are being made at State College by a committee headed by Dan M. Paul, with W. C. Friday and Ray Holder as assistants for supervising the registration.

Employees and students between the ages of 20 and 45, excepting men already registered, will be required to register. Cards of those registering at the college will be sent to the draft boards of their home communities.

Reserve officers and advanced cadets in the R.O.T.C. will not be required to register.

Members of the College Woman's Club have volunteered to help with the registration.

Annual Style Show To Be Held April 30

Ten North Carolina Colleges For Women Will Participate In Annual Show

Dr. Thomas Nelson, dean of the State College Textile School, announced today that 10 North Carolina colleges for women had accepted the Textile School's invitation to participate in its 15th annual Style Show here April 30.

Started in 1928 with the cooperation of Meredith College, the Style Show has developed until it is now one of the outstanding events on the college calendar. It regularly attracts a capacity audience to Pullen Hall.

Cooperating colleges this year are Appalachian State, Elon, Flora Macdonald, Greensboro, High Point, Louisburg, Meredith, Peace, Queens and St. Mary's. As part of their regular classroom work in home economics, approximately 160 young women will design, make and model garments from fabrics designed and woven by students in the Textile School.

Samples of the wide range of available fabrics have been sent to the college girls for their selection. Approximately 1,400 girls have participated in the style shows since the annual affair was started by Dean Nelson to popularize the use of cotton in feminine wearing apparel.

Three Jap Bombers Shot Down By State Graduate

Lieutenant Posten Downs Fighter Planes Over Pacific In Engagement Last Week; Last Visited Raleigh Relatives In March

Because he thought that the "trouble" would start in the Philippines, John H. Posten, 1940 graduate of State College, chose that outpost for his military service. That was a year ago.

Today, John Posten is Lieutenant Posten of the Army air corps and "trouble" has started. Dispatches last week from the Philippines brought word of how Posten and Lieutenant Earl R. Stone had shot down three Jap bombers while roaming the skies above the Pacific.

A few American planes still roam the skies, engaging in guerrilla warfare in the air. They pack a wallop, and only this morning Lieutenants Stone and Posten shot down three of Mr. Moto's dive-bombers while on dawn patrol!

Posten was graduated from State in 1940, going from here to Curtiss Field. He received his wings after he had taken additional training at Maxwell Field.

He was among the first to take flight training at the airport here in conjunction with the Federal CAA program. Lieutenant Posten whose home is at Atlantic Highlands, New Jersey, is a second cousin of Mrs. Fred Newham, Carolina country club, and of Harold O. Long, 1003 West South Street, Raleigh.

Engineering Groups Hold Joint Meeting

The A.I.E.E. and A.I.C.H.E. inaugurated a program toward closer relations between technical societies on the campus by meeting jointly Tuesday night. Bill Blue, president of A.I.E.E., acted as master of ceremony, and introduced Col. Harrelson, the speaker of the evening.

Colonel Harrelson's talk was an informal discussion of the engineer's work during and after the war. Afterwards the members of the societies asked questions pertaining chiefly to the effect of the present crisis as it applies to college students. During his discussion Colonel Harrelson outlined a general six-year expansion program for the college. This program which is expected to cost approximately $6,000,000 will begin immediately following the war.

After Colonel Harrelson's talk Bill Blue and L. P. Zachery introduced the faculty members from their respective departments.

A Sample

Each year before the campus-wide elections are held for officers about the campus, the prospective candidates for the editorship of The Technician are permitted to submit a sample of their handwriting for the approval of the students. In accordance with this policy, the paper was published this week under the guidance of Don Barndale. Other prospective candidates for editor will be given the opportunity sometime during this term.

Hudson To Play For IFC Midwinter Formals

After two weeks laden with rumors that the Interfraternity Council had signed first this band and then that one, word finally came Wednesday from Marvin Perry, dance committee chairman, that Dean Hudson and his orchestra have agreed to the terms of the contract, and will be here on February 13 and 14 to furnish the music for the Black and White Formals.

One of the most versatile bands in the country, Hudson and his orchestra are most famous for their sweet swing arrangements, but it is a sure bet that the "jive" lovers will not be disappointed. Featured with the band is a foursome of southern belles known as the Dixie Deb Quartet.

Graduating from the University of Florida almost en masse a few years ago, the band began its climb

Daniels To Deliver Graduation Address; Military Ceremony Is Set For Friday, May 8

Degrees Will Not Be Awarded To Seniors At Exercises; Will Be Mailed To Candidates In June

Plans for N. C. State College's early graduation ceremonies May 8-9 were practically completed yesterday with announcement by Col. J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration, that the baccalaureate address would be delivered by Joseph Daniels, long-time friend of the college and one of the small group instrumental in its founding.

Date of the graduating exercises, originally scheduled for June 8, was advanced recently in order to permit qualified seniors to leave school earlier for military service or for technical duties in national defense work.

Seniors without definite job assignments or not scheduled to get commissions will continue in their studies until the regularly scheduled end of the academic year.

A special military ceremony for seniors entitled to commissions in the nation's armed forces will be held Friday, May 8, at 5 p.m. The baccalaureate exercises will be held Saturday morning, May 9, starting at 10:30 o'clock.

Plans for the early graduation have been approved by the senior class, headed by President William H. Blue of Carthage, and by the Faculty Council.

Degrees will not be awarded at the early graduation but will be mailed to successful candidates in June. However, Col. Harrelson said, seniors participating in the May 9 ceremony will receive certificates in lieu of the diplomas which they will receive later.

Because of the changing situation among the military forces, no speaker has yet been engaged for the commissioning exercises May 8.

"We are delighted to have Mr. Daniels deliver our formal commencement address," said Col. Harrelson.

Marine Officer Corps Completes Recruiting

Over One Hundred Apply For The Officers Candidates Class Of The Marine Corps

Lt. Donald B. Baker U.S.M.C.R. has just completed a successful recruiting period at State College in receiving applications for the officers candidates class of the Marine Corps.

There were over one hundred applications made with only four seniors applying. The local recruiting office will receive applications from seniors for the next two weeks. The seniors who did apply are asked to send in their birth certificates, transcripts, letters of recommendation and pictures as soon as possible. Lieutenant Baker will return to the college to give the physical exams the first and second of March and to prepare the final papers for the ones who pass.

Candidates for commission in the Marine Corps will be sent to Quantico, Va. for a three month training period, where they will go through all the necessary courses including the fundamentals of drill. They will also spend some time in learning to use the different weapons of the Marine Corps.

Upon completion of this training the men will receive commissions as second lieutenants in the Marine Corps reserve with pay amounting to $183 per month. The officers will receive an additional $150 as a clothing allowance.

For those interested in receiving a commission in the Marine Corps it is necessary that he be working toward a degree. The student must be a male citizen of the United States and must not have passed his 25th birthday. The applicant must not be married and must agree to stay single until he receives his commission. The candidate must not be affiliated with any R.O.T.C. or Naval Unit at the college.

QUIZ and QUOTE

By WARD BUSHEE

This week, several Raleigh girls were asked the following question: "What do you think of State College men?" Here are the answers. Ola Lee Lilly (Kings Business): State College men are on the ball. Maude Parrish (Rex Nurses' Home): They're O.K. with me. Tops, definitely. June Johnson (St. Mary's): I won't commit myself. Kitty Turner (Revenue Dept.): How would Raleigh girls get along without them. Virginia Penne (Meredith): My heart belongs to State College. Louise Twinkbottom (Eas-dog Cabin): They ahtink (correct) . . . Give me Carolinas any day. Sue Kreigal (Hugh Morson): I have only dated a few State College men and I wouldn't want to judge the whole student body from them. Susie Glamorgone (Girl-about-town): I think dey are dwate big wonderful men.

The ACP Says

(Associated Collegiate Press)

Madison, Wis.—(ACP—A practical laboratory of democracy, created and operated by University of Wisconsin students, began work recently on the university campus when the new student court heard its first 18 cases.

Established as the "third arm" of the university's student government, the judicial, the student court was approved by the faculty last fall and set up after a general student referendum vote favored the court plan by more than 2,500 votes. It was recommended as a procedure in democratic self-government, and as a means of increasing student-faculty cooperation in enforcement of campus rules and regulations.

The court rounds out the truly American type of government for students at the university. In former years a student board has carried out the legislative functions, while the president of the student association has performed the executive duties. The court now assumes the judicial duties.

The new court has jurisdiction over all cases of student infractions of established regulations or standards of student conduct, with certain exceptions, such as cases now handled by the student life and interests committee of the faculty, or by the Women's Self-Government association.

State College, Pa.—ACP—While the present trend for college students is to place emphasis on technical courses, Dr. Charles C. Wagner, assistant dean of the school of liberal arts here, urges those interested in the liberal arts field not to be influenced by today's emergency conditions.

Before the present emergency technological jobs were few, and this will be the situation when the present crisis is over," Dr. Wagner said. "Too many students have the idea that technical subjects are the only important ones now, and are overlooking the part played by the liberal artist in defense," he added.

Many positions are open both in the army and civilian life, where the liberal artist is much in demand, he pointed out. Particular attention was called to the quartermaster corps, public relations and finances, and the publicity department of the army. Numerous jobs are now available in the fields of economics, sociology and mathematics.

Students should look forward to long-aim objectives rather than short-aim objectives," Wagner asserted.

Rockport, Mass.—ACP—It's a long stretch from first violin to fourth down, but Donald C. Greason, whose studies of the Boston Symphony orchestra won him fame, has concluded a folio of paintings and drawings made on the "playing fields of Harvard." Greason sees no incongruity between his choice of subjects. Grace and rhythm, he says, are as characteristic of football as they are of playing the viola.

Columbus, Ohio—ACP—Mrs. F. L. Fenner saw four of her children graduated from Capital University. Then she decided to attend college herself. She and her daughter, Jean, are enrolled in the same classes at Capital.

MUSIC MAKERS

By JACK THURNER

Jimmy Dorsey has been crowned the King of the Juke Boxes by the coin machine dealers of this country for this year. Jimmy records for Decca and during the past year he has really put out many hits. January 9 he opens up at the Pennsylvania with airshots nightly over the Blue network. The band has just completed "The Fleets In" starring Dorothy Lamour. Some of the hits are "Tangerine" and "I Remember You."

The Turntable "Angels of Mercy," "The President's Birthday Ball"—Irving Berlin contributes two new tunes to some prominent national causes, the Red Cross and the March of Dimes. Charlie Spivak handles both of these very capably with the Stardusters doing the vocals on the last one and Gary Stevens with them on the other. "Angels" is the prettiest of the two.

"Harvard Blues," "Coming Out Party"—Count Basie jumps and is blue on these sides. Jimmy Rushing shouts on the first one which is a blues number featuring Tab Smith's alto sax. The other is a jitterbug number with section work and trombones featured.

"You Made Me Love You," "A Sinner Kissed an Angel," "Remember You," "If You Build a Better Mouse Trap"—Helen O'Connell and Jimmy's sax team up on the first one and Bob Eberly does the other. From their picture the "Fleets In" these other two tunes come. "I Remember" is a very pretty number with the romantic voice of Bob Eberly featured. Helen and Bob combine on the other which can be classified as a cute novelty but with a lot of sense behind the lyrics.

JIMMY DORSEY

"When It's Sleepy Time Down South," "I'll Be Glad When You Are Dead"—Louis Armstrong who usually doesn't get much record publicity surprises with these two. "Sleepy" is very pretty with Louis blowing some nice horn. He sings the other.

"Somebody Nobody Loves," "Let's Give Love a Chance"—Peggy Lee is spotlighted on "Somebody" with Benny's clarinet doing some fancy solo work. This is very good jitterbug number. Art London has a slower one to handle and it's as good as the "A" side.

"Blues in the Night," "All for Love"—Harry James joins the list of many bands trying their hands at "Blues." He doesn't use any vocal but features his trumpet, Corky Corcoran's tenor and Doo-ley's trombone. "All" is very pretty with Harry's muted trumpet over the violin section with Jimmy Saunders "lyricizing."

"Tis Autumn," "Arthur Murray Taught Me Dancing in a Hurry"—the King Sisters consistently turn out good material and these are no exception. The "A" side is very pretty while the other is from "The Fleets In" and is given a novel treatment.

"Tangerine," "Tica Ti Tica Ta"—Vaughn sings the first one which is from "The Fleets In." Vaughn is usually good but this song is going limp fast. The other was introduced on the Spotlight and features Marilyn Duke and Ziggy Talent on the vocals.

"The Earl," "Somehow"—the Father cues the tune written about him by Mel Powell and he does exception. The piano pounding on Billy Eckerstein does the vocal on the other.

"The Lamp of Memory," "Absent Minded Moon"—Tony Pastor has two straight tunes with these. Johnny McAfee does the vocals on both sides with Tony's horn featured.

GLEANINGS

We are still in a daze from the recent unromantic advances made by the government on our behalf. Slogans keep whizzing around in our heads. Join the Marines and avoid the draft. No! Stay in school until you graduate and then come with us into the Naval Reserve. Sign up now for Advanced Military and get your commission. Don't do that, the Air Corps is your future, etc. The only consolation we have is that if we don't accept some of the above offers, we will inevitably end up as a private at 21 dollars a month.

As a by-thought we note that no matter what branch of the service we enter we will have one thing in common with the next fellow. We will be sailing off to war in one of two directions, and we don't mean North or South, and we will be dodging bullets of one shape or another. And, incidentally, it doesn't make much difference whether a bullet passes through you in a gutturret on a ship, in the cockpit of a plane, or while you are playing tag with the Japs in a shellhole.

And while we are on morbid subjects, we might as well pass on a morbid thought which occurred to us once while passing Memorial Tower. With the quotation "We who are about to die, salute you" in mind, it occurred to us how ironic the Memorial Day exercises last term turned out to be, in which of the 2,000 odd students who participated, many were destined to fight in another World War. We wonder to how many of these 2,000 will the student body of State College be paying tribute to say in 1965. They probably won't build another Memorial Tower after this war. It seems to be getting rather futile.

At the present writing, if the band for Midwinter has been decided on, no one is sure which band it will be. Most seem to think it will be Dean Hudson, although conflicting reports keep coming in saying that Freddy Johnson will play. Some who wanted Miller or Dorsey think either of these bands will be disappointing. To them may we offer this consolation: Mr., it ain't the band, it's the girl what makes a dance.

Suggestion of the week (from the quiz department). This week's suggestion comes from Textile Student Fried.

- Q. What is it this campus needs, Mr. Fried?
Mr. F. What this campus needs is a good five-cent subway.
Q. Where would you propose to run this subway?
Mr. F. It would start at the tower and run to the Textile Building via A and G dorms.
Q. How would you build this subway?
Mr. F. Oh, that would be easy. The Forestry students would clear the land, the Ags would dig the trench, the Mechanicals would build it and the Electricals provide the motors, track and wire. We might even have the Chemists mix whiskeys and sodas to be served by the coeds en route to class.
Q. But, Mr. Fried, what would the Weavers do?
Mr. F. They would use it.

And the guy owns a car! Special mention this week goes to the Glee Clubs of St. Mary's, Peace, Meredith, and State College for their excellent concert last Friday night. Major K. has whipped the glee club and orchestra into fine shape and the entertainment was well worth the price of admission. And for a closing observation. Did you know that the sabres our officers drill with at State were made in Germany? But don't worry, we'll soon give them back to the Heinies, blade first.

Useless Slaughter

Beside the banner lines of this week's newspapers telling of the war casualties on many fronts, headlines telling the world grim facts of loss of life in a world locked in war, one smaller story stood out, and even among the stark reality of battle reports, it still seemed a little out of place. It told of a war, momentous in its toll of human life, that was being waged by Americans vs. Americans on yet another front—civilian accidents.

Reckless as a whole, the American people permitted their fellow citizens to be the cause of 40,000 deaths on the nation's highways, and of the injuring of 1,400,000 others, of which 110,000 were permanently disabled.

But instead of merely considering the figures, compare them with the nation's war effort and in terms of the drafting of the youth of the nation into the armed forces. The unwarranted killing of 26,000 youths in the age bracket 20-45 destroyed two potential army divisions and traffic deaths alone in each of nine months of 1941 were greater than the total fatalities in the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Occupational accidents accounted for the death of 18,000 workers and another 29,000 deaths were attributed to off-the-job accidents that never should have happened—a loss of man-power-labor sufficient to build 20 battleships, 200 destroyers and 7,000 heavy bombers.

A staggering total, isn't it? The 40,000 deaths in automobile accidents represent a 19 per cent increase over the 34,501 lives lost last year and an increase of 357 over the previous high of 39,643 reported in 1937. Approximately 20,000 more people were injured in accidents than in 1940, a batting average of one American disabled out of every fourteen in our nation.

However, the most disheartening fact comes from the increase of accidental deaths in the 15-24 age bracket. In this age group the greatest increase was noted—12 per cent. The age at which a youth becomes the greatest asset of his country, at a time when his services are greatly needed, also has become the age at which he is most liable to death—and not from war but from carelessness. Certainly when this war is over there will be markers erected to those who died a heroic death fighting for ideals, but they will be greatly outnumbered by "the crosses, row on row" that mark the resting places of those who would have been alive but for a careless act of another.

Yet it seems that we are not impressed by the fate of others; that this great toll on our highways does not create an impression so profound that everyone who drives a car exercises the most intensive care to avoid accidents. A little thought here, a small act there, and when the list of dead is compiled at the end of this year, YOUR name will be among those missing. Isn't it worth a thought?

Paragraphics

From the mail we extracted this definition of an aeronautical engineering student. With apologies to the aero department, it is:

A person who passes as an exacting expert on the basis of being able to turn out with prolific fortitude infinite strings of incomprehensible formulae calculated with micrometric precision from vague assumptions which are based on debatable figures taken from inconclusive experiments carried out with instruments of problematical accuracy by persons of doubtful reliability and questionable mentality for the avowed purpose of annoying and confounding a hopelessly chimerical group of fanatics referred to altogether too frequently as airplane designers.

Nine Grid Games Listed For '42 Wolfpack

New Schedule Has Six Conference Foes; Five Home Games

Miami and Wofford replace Furman, Va. Tech. and Wm. and Mary

Nine games, including six with Southern Conference opponents, have been scheduled for the 1942 Wolfpack. It is possible that a tenth game will be added later.

Newcomers to the schedule are the University of Miami and Wofford College. They replace Furman, Virginia Tech, and William and Mary who were on the 1941 schedule. Other '41 opponents who will be played again are Davidson, Richmond, Clemson, Wake Forest, North Carolina, Georgetown, and Duke.

Five contests are scheduled for Riddick Stadium. Four of these, with Davidson, Richmond, Wofford, and Wake Forest, will be played at night. The Carolina game will take place in the afternoon.

Miami and Wofford were not played in 1941 but they have appeared on State schedules of previous years. In 1939 Miami defeated the Wolfpack, 27-7, in Miami. In 1920 State trounced Wofford, 90-7.

The schedule:

Sept. 19—Davidson in Raleigh.
Sept. 26—Richmond in Raleigh.
October 3—Clemson in Charlotte.
October 10—Wofford in Raleigh.
October 17—Wake Forest in Raleigh.
October 24—Open.
October 31—North Carolina in Raleigh.
November 6—Miami in Miami.
November 14—Georgetown in Washington.
November 21—Duke in Durham.
*—Night Games.

Grapplers Close Year Against Blue Devils Today At 2:45 In Gym

Woody Jones Pins Man For Deciding Tally Against Apprentice School

It will be farewell to the mat sport for another year following the meeting this afternoon in Frank Thompson gymnasium between Coach Herman Hickman's varsity wrestlers and the grunt and groaners of Duke University.

Last Saturday in Newport News, Va., the varsity matmen notched their first victory of the season over the classy Apprentice School outfit.

With the score 11-14 against the Techs, co-captain Woody Jones did the only thing that could have brought the win to the Hickmen. Woody pinned Tubby Lafon in seven minutes to make the final tally 16-14.

Teet Troxler came through again for the States, pinning his 136 lb. opponent in 5:07. John Stallings, 145 lbs., and Morehead Jones, 165 lbs., took their matches by decisions.

After tryout bouts on Wednesday the Tech lineup this afternoon is identical with that setup last week: T. C. Changaris, 121; Roy Coggins, 128; Teet Troxler, 136; John Stallings, 145; Ham Sloop, 155; Morehead Jones, 165; John Braston, 175; and Woody Jones, unlimited.

Co-captain George Brandt was only able to practice lightly this week following his recent illness, and will not appear in the season's finale.

PKA's, SPE's Lead Frats With Four Court Wins Each

Jenrette of Sixth Scores 18 Points In One Game

By DON NEUMANN

The steady grind of the basketball season, now past the half-way mark, is beginning to show on the weaker teams on the campus. The PKA's added two more wins to their credit this week, giving themselves four victories and no defeats. AGR went down before the shifty PKA quintet to the tune of 14-10. KapSigs was the next victim of PKA, 23-20.

The SPE's gave the KA's the worst beating of the season, ending the game with a 28-6 score. Gibbs and Paschal seemed to supply the stimulus for the winning team. This is also the SPE's fourth straight victory.

Not far behind these two teams in wins are the Sig Nu boys who, taking their game seriously, led the Sig Pi lads to a 19-9 debacle. Phi Kappa Tau was only able to score four points against AKPI who led with 13 points. Low spot of the weeks events was the game of the Del Sig's forfeited to the SPE's.

Over in the dormitories Lower Watagua was beaten by Lower South 26-14 with Bannerman and Calloway of Lower South sharing the honors. Upper South tasted defeat at the hands of Sixth in a 29-12 game. Jenrette of Sixth did an outstanding piece of work by tallying 18 points to his credit during the game.

3rd "C" came through to overcome Fifth, 16-14. 1st "A" beat 3rd

Impossible!!

Shortage of football players may be so acute by next fall that spectators will be drafted to fill in on the gridiron as players are called to fight bigger battles. There is some talk of using freshmen, a few coaches have volunteered to play, and some schools are going so far as to include students on football squads.

—Sam McDonald in the News and Observer, Thursday morning.

That's going too far!!

"A", 21-11, and 1st took 3rd 7th, 18-17. Also of 8th dormitory are the men in the basement who gave the boys of tenth a 20-10 trouncing.

Handball Forfeits Hurt

Unpardonable forfeits are occurring in the handball schedule. Although both down and frat organizations are guilty, the fraternities are further behind in their games than the dormitories. Forfeits are detrimental to the organization involved; they lead to a greater laxity in other sports and serve to tear down our intramural program.

The following teams must meet each other by the time designated below or they will have to suffer a loss of valuable points.

ALT vs. KA of Jan. 16 play before Feb. 12; Lambda Chi vs. AGR of Jan. 22 see Mr. Miller; AKPI vs. Del Sig of Jan. 26 play before Feb. 16; Sig Pi vs. PKA of Feb. 2 play before Feb. 16; 2nd 8th vs. 5th of Jan. 15 play before Feb. 13; 1st 8th vs. 3rd "A" of Jan. 30 play before Feb. 11; 1st 7th vs. 2nd "C" of Feb. 3 play before Feb. 23.

Attention Boxing Fans

Both fraternity and dormitory boxing semi-finals will be held February 9th at 8 o'clock. No admission will be charged.

Carroll's Crew Tops Virginia Tech For Initial Win Of Season

By ROYSTER THURMAN

Holding true to Coach Carroll's prediction of a sparkling performance, the State tankers handed the "fin-boys" of Virginia Tech a 38-37 defeat last Friday in Blacksburg. It was the State crew's initial win of the season.

encounter the V.M.I. Cadets and the Washington and Lee Dolphins.

Next Wednesday afternoon, Coach Carroll's swimmers tangle with the crack Duke aggregation in the State pool. Both varsity and freshman teams will compete in simultaneous meets.

Relay Team Wins

Though the score was close against V.P.I., the outcome never was in doubt as far as the State mermen were concerned. The 500-yard medley relay team of Hilker, Ritchie, and Reynolds opened the meet with a quick win. Co-captains Bower and Katterman then placed one-two in the 220 free style.

Bailey and McCabe netted second and third slots in the 50-yard dash, and Fry placed third in diving. Reynolds nabbed second position in the 100-yard dash, while Hilker won the 150 backstroke and Dammann was third. Katterman won the 440-yard free style for the State's last place.

Tournament-Bound Terrors Start Home Stand Tuesday

Techs In Fifth Place In League Standings; Duke Undisputed First

Rocky Road Still Ahead For Red Terrors

Duke's high scoring quintet maintained an undisputed hold on top spot in Southern Conference basketball standings through last week, as the sixteen member teams prepared for the season's toughest opposition in the three remaining weeks.

With two thirds of the schedule gone, places in the tournament are definitely conceded to Duke, William and Mary, South Carolina and North Carolina.

The second group of four teams—State, Washington and Lee, Wake Forest, and George Washington—still are in a spot where they will have to fight for their positions with Furman, Virginia Tech and Maryland.

The conference tourney, to be held in Raleigh on March 5-7, will offer some of the finest play seen in this section, according to Coach Bob Warren.

The Red Terrors are fifth in the standings but there's a rocky road ahead. Still to come are two games with Wake Forest, and one each with North Carolina, South Carolina, Duke, Citadel and Virginia Tech. Except for tonight's game with the Deacons all will be played on the hardwood of Frank Thompson gymnasium.

Hard Battle

Bob Warren's Red Terrors haven't been in action since Saturday when they took a 40-28 beating from Duke's high flying Blue Devils in Durham. However, the Terrors, led by Bones McKinney, conference high scorer, gave Wake Forest a hard battle, drawing within five points of a tie late in the second half.

No less known than McKinney is Wake Forest's Herb Cline who is playing his third year for the Deacs. Cline has been one of Dixie's finest ever since his sophomore year.

McKinney Faces Cline Tonight; Citadel, Carolina Come Next

Two old rivals of the basketball court meet tonight when the Red Terrors go to Wake Forest for a Big Five and Southern Conference battle with the fast improving Deacons.

It will be the start of a hard week of campaigning for the Terrors. Tuesday they begin their game stretch at home with an encounter with the Citadel Bulldogs. Thursday night the Techs play a return engagement with the Carolina White Phantoms.

Tonight both teams will be spurred on by the ancient rivalry which has produced some of the

For stay-at-homes tonight, WRAL will air a description of action in the Wake Forest game tonight starting at 8:25. At 11:05 p.m., Jim Reid will broadcast over WPTF his play-by-play of the second half of the game by delayed transmission.

State's finest basketball games and by the fact that each needs a victory to help its chances of qualifying for the annual Southern Conference championship tournament.

State has four victories in six starts against conference foes, but the remaining schedule is so difficult that one win over the Deacons is almost necessary to get them into the tournament. The Wake Forest five is in the same situation, making tonight's contest of added significance.

Covering SPORTS

By BOB POMERANZ

Ever since the Wolfpack Club banquet, when 1941 Co-captain Cutie Carter called for an undefeated season by the 1942 Wolfpack, curiosity about the prospective schedule has been mounting.

Now that the secret is out we see that there will be no rest for the weary. Six of the nine games are listed against teams who rank considerably higher than State in the national standings. And, of the remaining three contests, only one can definitely be counted on to go into the win column.

In compiling any football card for the Wolfpack it is necessary to first put down Duke, Clemson, Wake Forest, and Carolina. And those four teams are generally among the nation's leaders. Only Wofford, which plays in the same league as Newberry College, will provide any respite for the Wolfpack in the midst of the biggest trial of its open subsidation plan.

Best news of the schedule is the listing of five games on the home gridiron. This more than makes up for the four out of eleven which last year's team played in Riddick Stadium.

Practice Under Way

Pay a visit to any session of winter football practice these days and three things will impress you right away. First is the abundance of players available for each position; second comes the very apparent high quality of these boys; and third is the unquestionable effort that everyone out there is putting into his workouts.

It really is too early to make any definite predictions, what with possible flunk-outs and many probable losses to the armed forces, but the feeling is that 1942 will be State's year. And, possibly Cutie Carter's idea wasn't too far from the truth.

Lots of Sports Activity

Speaking about practice sessions, there is a great deal of sports activity on the campus these days.

Besides the football workouts in the stadium, during any one afternoon you can find the varsity and frosh basketball squads hard at work on the hardwood floor; in the back gym both varsity and frosh teams are grappling to beat the band; and downstairs in the pool the swimmers are painstakingly improving their form, speed, and stamina.

And, if you want to see plenty of intramural action pay a visit to the campus semi-final boxing bouts Monday night. Thrills galore are in store for you.

Sports Week

Friday: The varsity and freshman wrestlers meet the Duke squads here. Frosh start at 2:45 p.m.; varsity follows at about 3:45 p.m. Admission free.

Faculty Men Have Roles In New Little Theatre Play

State College may feel a sort of fatherly interest in the latest Little Theatre production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner." The cast and technical directors are largely connected with the college.

The play will open on Saturday, the seventh, and will run through Tuesday, the tenth. In accordance with the new policy of the Theatre, the Saturday night and Sunday afternoon performances will be reserved for men in uniform, who will be admitted free.

Under the direction of William Holt the play is fast on its way toward becoming one of the finest of the Little Theatre's offerings. Appearing in featured and supporting parts are Annabelle Bragg, Martha Harris, Guy Gowen, Ada Williams, Curtiss Sprague, Pauline Monroe, Marie Carroll, Elizabeth Cannon, W. E. DeBmann, Francis Douglas, Marc Leager, Baker Wynne, Agnes Gehrkir, Sam Leager, Boris Petroff, Charles Hazel, Ada Morris, Kenneth Clow, Hap Tucker, William Sumner, and James Thiem.

Personal Representative of Curtiss-Wright Corp. Will Visit State College March 6 and 7

Curtiss-Wright Corporation, pioneer manufacturer of Curtiss commercial and military airplanes, Wright aircraft engines, and Curtiss electrically controlled aircraft propellers, has recently consolidated the efforts of its airplane, engine and propeller divisions' personnel departments in regard to the employment of engineering and technical school graduates and their placement within the respective divisions of the Corporation.

For a number of years past, field representatives of these three divisions have visited engineering colleges individually for the purpose of meeting and forming a personal contact with students interested in possible employment. By establishing a central office to carry out an identical function for the entire Curtiss-Wright Corporation, many disadvantages to students and placement officers have been eliminated.

Through the succeeding years many changes and developments took place in both of these companies until 1929, when the two companies consolidated into what is now known as the Curtiss-Wright Corporation.

The Airplane Division of Curtiss-Wright is at present occupied to a great extent in the production of military aircraft of numerous types for National Defense including trainers, observation planes, dive bombers, scouting planes, interceptors, and pursuit ships, manufactured by the Airplane Division whose major plants are located at Buffalo, N. Y., Columbus, O., and St. Louis, Mo.

The Engine Division, Wright Aeronautical Corporation, manufactures high-output air-cooled radial engines of from 235 to more than 2000 horsepower in 7, 9, 14, and 18-cylinder models, in Pateron, N. J., and Cincinnati, O.

Lieut. Owen A. Daly of Selma, '38, is known to be in command of a company of soldiers somewhere in the war zone, and Lieut. B. B. Reynolds of Wilmington, '40, also is in the Pacific area on Army duty.

Known to be on duty with the Pacific fleet are Ensign Norwood Teague of Raleigh, '40, and Ensign Staton James Peele, Jr., of Belhaven, '38. Also on fleet duty is Ensign Frank G. Scarborough of Goldsboro.

Lieut. Harry V. Beck of Thomasville, '40, is with the Army in Iceland, and Lieut. Frank C. Ziglar of Charlotte, '38, is with the Air Corps in the British West Indies. Lieut. Arthur E. Rooney of Pittsburgh, Pa., '40, is with an Army parachute division stationed at Fort Kobbe in the Canal Zone.

Serving as a communications officer in infantry, Lieut. David W. Donovan of Raleigh, '40, is stationed at Dutch Harbor, Alaska. Capt. Stephen V. Sabol of the U. S. Marines is on Kodiak Island, Alaska. He came to State College from Campbell, O., and graduated in 1936 after making a splendid record as a student and athlete.

Hundreds of other State College men are serving in the armed forces, many of them as officers who received reserve commissions when they completed their R.O.T.C. training at the college.
