Graduation Insurance . . .

The following editorial was gleaned from the Hi-Po, student newspaper of High Point College. It clearly shows that some colleges and universities of the nation are doing for those students who have dropped from college in order to fight for their country.

One of the most tragic things about the youth of the nation going into the army has been that those who return will not take up their education again. The president has been considerate in allowing the boys to continue in school where it was possible, but many have been taken. This school has done one thing to insure graduation which so far, none other has. It is a good plan for consideration here. We have had nine boys leave school this year. Chances are that all nine would not return. Such a plan for insurance may help the situation.

"Will they return to graduate?" is the question college authorities throughout the nation are asking as students leave their campuses to become soldiers.

The challenge of this question—answered too often negatively following the last war—is being positively met by the University of Iowa with a far reaching plan for financial assistance to former students who will return to study after war service.

Enthusiastically applauding the Iowa plan and urging its adoption throughout the country, James Ward, Co-ordinator of College Activities of the Division of Youth Activities of the Office of Civilian Defense, declared: "The Iowa plan goes a long way towards the solution of one of the knottiest student problems arising from the current war situation. It is hoped that other colleges and universities will consider their plan thoughtfully."

"If similar plans are adopted on other campuses, thousands will be brought back, and the shock (of rehabilitation) will be cushioned," commented Loren Hickerson, columnist for the Daily Iowan, college paper.

The program calls for gifts of not over $200 to each returning student in need of assistance. The money is to come from a fund made up of voluntary contributions of 10¢ a week from each student still on campus. About $10,000 is expected to be collected in this manner this semester. Administered by the Committee on Student Aid and audited by the university's treasurer's office, the fund will be invested in U. S. Defense Bonds.

Originator of the plan to help post-war University of Iowa students is Francis Weaver, 22-year-old law student from Mason City, Iowa. Mr. Weaver believes that his plan has already gone far in raising morale of those students now in school who are likely to be called into the armed forces.

"It offers those who remain on the campus the opportunity to aid in a concrete manner the development of a post-war rehabilitation program for the men who are fighting our war for us," said the Daily Iowan editorially on the plan. "It will give us a chance to do something for them in return for what they are doing and will do for us until complete victory is achieved."

Requirements for the $200 gifts to returning students include at least six months' service in a U. S. armed force, attendance at the University of Iowa from October 15, 1940, to the time of induction or enlistment, and maintenance of graduating grades during this time.

Collection of the fund is being carried out on a group basis. Presidents of sororities and fraternities, leaders of dormitories and such groups are responsible for collecting their quota.

MUSIC MAKERS

By JACK THURNER

For the last thirty-five years Easter Monday has been set aside for one of the big dances of the year, the PiKa Ball. This year Freddy Johnson gets the nod for supplying the music from 8:30-midnight. Freddy's band can really be called "the band which supplies the name bands." Tony Pastor has Tommy Farr, Dave Maser, and Hig Anderson making up his trombone section, Bruce Snyder with Tommy Dorsey, and Bob Farrington and Bill MacDougall with Sonny Dunham thus demonstrating that he has had high class musicians in his outfit in the past and now at the present. One's capable enough to take these boys places.

The band's style is a mixture of Jimmy Lunceford-Stan Kenton swing and the sweet has the five sax voicing similar to that of Glenn Miller's. The makeup of the band is two trombones, three trumpets, four rhythm and four saxes plus Freddy. Ann Russel handles the vocal department. The band has been signed for the dance with Tommy Dorsey played for last year, the May troika. Also among other big spots Freddy played the Inaugural Ball, Tantilla Gardens, Isle of Palms, Virginia, Myrtle and Wrightsville beaches.

These solos will be taken by Harry Sutfeld, clarinet and alto sax; Frank Mayne, tenor;

Frank Settemeyer, piano; Wally Anderson, trumpet; Joe Belk, trombone and Milt Norman, guitarist, who is to join Ray McKinley's new band.

Byrne

The bands for the two big dances, Fiesta and the Defense Ball have been signed. Alvino Rey is to play for the first and Bobby Byrne the other. This will be the first appearance of Byrne in this section but if he sounds as good as he has been on those airshots from the Hotel Sherman in Chicago that dance will have the best band that has played here in a long time. Bobby has hired some swell arrangers in Benny Carter and Don Redmond, ex-band leaders, and with their help his band has improved immensely. Dorothy Claire and Jimmy Palmer handle the vocals and of course Bobby's trombone is featured. His theme is "Danny Boy" and he records for Decca.

The Turntable

"Always in My Heart," "Last Night I Said a Prayer"—Dependable Jimmy Dorsey comes through with two swell treatments of these pop tunes. The first is from the picture of the same name and is the better of the two. Bob Eberly does both the vocals along with some nice Dorsey clarinet work. These are good juke box potentials along with being very danceable.

"I'll Pray for You," "Do You Miss Your Sweetheart"—more male vocalists and leader's sax solos. Hal McIntyre gives his own distinctive treatment of muted brass and soft saxes in addition to Carl Denny's vocal. Both are slow, soft and danceable.

"What to Do!" "As We Walk into the Sunset"—Bob Chester really messes these up trying to swing them. "What!" is getting a big radio buildup and has a Betty Bradley vocal. "Sunset" was meant to be slow and not swung, besides Gene Howard can't seem to catch up with the band on the vocal.

The ACP Says

Ann Arbor, Mich.—ACP—Don't complain about sugar rationing; it will be good for you. This is the advice of Dr. L. H. Newburgh, widely-known University of Michigan authority on dietetics.

As a matter of fact, Dr. Newburgh declares, it would be a Godsend if there were no sugar at all for, if there weren't we would be forced to eat more whole grains, meats, milk, green vegetables and other foods which give us everything that sugar does plus much-needed B-vitamins and other necessary food elements.

Sugar's only importance to our diets is its fuel value, Dr. Newburgh points out, adding that this fuel value may be readily replaced by a host of other foods, many of which provide more than mere fuel.

Lexington, Ky.—ACP—The college of engineering at the University of Kentucky is well prepared to help solve the increased problem of air-conditioning defense plants now operating on a day and night schedule to turn out war material.

An intricate machine designed for the purpose of performing tests and furnishing data, for research in efficiency of air filters—the most important part of any air-conditioning unit—has been constructed by a Louisville air filter company and donated to the college. The machine is one of two such pieces of apparatus located on college campuses in the United States, according to James W. May, associate professor of heating and ventilating engineering, who will be in charge of the test and research work.

A group of engineering students will work under May's direction in operating the finely-calibrated mechanism to test filters, which may be of woven wire, cloth and a special type of paper which previously has been treated with chemicals to render it incombustible. Filtration of air in defense plants is important from the standpoint of both the manufactured product and the welfare of personnel. Many kinds of medicine, surgical dressings, and kindred products have to be manufactured and packed in a dust-proof atmosphere. In construction of bomb shelters even greater problems will be created, because fresh air must be forced into them, May concluded.

CAPITAL to CAMPUS

ACP's Jay Richter Reports from Washington

The Civil Service Commission faces a tremendous task. Recent passage of the Ramspeck amendment brings 85 per cent of federal jobs—an all-time high—under commission scrutiny. Workers in non-war agencies must be funneled into at-war agencies. Countless new workers must be found and dovetailed into the government army.

This means thousands of potential jobs for college people, whose specialized training is eagerly sought. Often the government is stepping in, through civil service, to give college people on-the-job training—"majors" in lines where they are needed most.

An example is the recent move to enlist college women for "men's work." As laboratory aides in army arsenals, they inspect gages used in testing ordnance materials. Co-eds who wish such jobs should have at least two years of college work, including some physics, chemistry and trigonometry.

It's open season "indefinitely" on seniors and graduates in chemistry, physics and engineering. So hot is the pursuit that civil service has abandoned competitive examinations in these fields—probably for the duration. Simply show on your application blanks that you have had requisite training. In the case of successful candidates who are seniors, "provisional appointments" will be made. Which means jobs, come spring and graduation.

WAR . . . . . It is unlikely, according to national Selective Service headquarters, that any student in the 20-year-old draft age group will be called up before June. The lottery isn't until March. New draft registrants won't be completely classified until sometime in May.

General Hershey's office has cleared up the confusion on how new lists will be integrated with the old. The answer is, they won't be. Not exactly.

Instead the war department will begin an entirely new plan, about June 1, of specifying not only quota numbers but also the age group from which quotas are to be filled.

The latest advice to collegians from Selective Service is still, "STICK TO YOUR COLLEGE WORK UNTIL YOU'RE CALLED."

GLEANINGS

The staff this week have turned detective or detective, and are substituting the following short murder mystery in place of the usual nothingmuch. The answer to the following "guess if you can" will be found on page 4.

In order to squeeze the story into the short space, it is necessary for the reader to suspend first of all his disbelief and assume that each character had an excellent motive for murdering the beautiful blonde. All of New York's run-around-alum-around crown had heard of or knew Vernon Van Blight, just slightly out of Harvard, and whose blueblood already smelled a little of alcohol. His former diversion of weekend hinges in New York had become an occupation. Occupying New York all the time brought forth the problem of what to do on weekends so he bought a cottage at the beach where he could retire on Saturdays and Sundays from his weekly sentence in the big city. New Yorkers were amazed when they first learned that he had bought a cottage on the end of Haminaaki Pt., a piece of land that stretches miles out into Long Island Sound. Friends were even more amazed when they learned that it was the only cottage for miles around. They were stunned when he told friends that he only wanted it for a quiet little place to escape to. But, his weekly journeys to the beach were usually accompanied by friends and blondes, etc., and after a few months of the second summer the weekend jaunts had become a legend around town.

This particular weekend, as the story goes, Vernon had called Roger Blackwood late Saturday afternoon and asked him to run down to the beach with him. The Blackwood-Blight friendship was one of the town's mysteries. Roger was a sort of misanthrope, quiet, and women admired, loved, and dreaded him simultaneously. The current rumor about town was that he had at one time been an undertaker but had been boycotted out of business. Customers didn't appreciate his morbid humor—the tales he told of coming down in the middle of the night to eat ham sandwiches with bodies all over the house. When asked if he had brought any caskets with him upon arriving in New York, he had replied that he tried not to let his morbidity get the best of him.

But to get on. Roger had accepted Vernon's invitation, and between them had decided to ask Clark and Sal Steiger, and Sal's sister Jean to go along with them. Clark is the sort of person who struggles through life with the world on one shoulder and his wife on the other. Sal, of course, is his wife and requires little elaboration as all pennecked husband's wives do. Jean needs no further description as she is to be murdered by one of the others shortly. This completes the dramatis personae.

Even though it is dark when the five of them arrive at the beach, they can't resist a swim. It is about 10 P.M., high tide, when Jean first dips her dainty foot into Long Island sound. At 10:30, Roger, dripping wet, tells Vernon that he had forgotten a special Sunday morning appointment with an associate and leaves. At 10:30 they decide that they are chilly and it is time to stop swimming and return to the cottage. Jean is missing and they assume that she probably went back to town with Roger. Of course she hasn't, as is proved the next day when police check up on Roger (who has really returned to New York).

Two days later Jean's sleek body, unmarked by any bruises, is found in a cave on the rocky shore near where they had been swimming. It was a rather clever place to hide the body because of rock formations inside the cave which prevented the body from washing out of the inside once it had been inserted in there. Also the roof of the cave was a foot above the level of the ocean at low tide. Fifteen minutes either before or after low tide the cave was completely filled with water.

On questioning the four witnesses the following essential clues were uncovered: Clark and Sal were both light sleepers and slept in the same bed; either of them would have been able, with little risk, to have held Jean under water long enough to drown her without anyone else knowing; each witness knew of the cave where Jean's body was found; the tide changes every six hours and that the murderer did not have an accomplice.

QUESTION 1. Who did the murder?
QUESTION 2. What conclusively proves the identity of the killer?
By BUSHES.

Lasher wins War on Weather!
For years, telephone cable has been hung by stiff wire rings from its supporting strand. But repeated expansion and contraction caused by temperature changes sometimes proved too much for even the best cable sheath. Fatigue cracks developed near the poles—this meant leaks—possible service interruptions—expensive repairs.
Recently, men of the Bell System developed a machine that lashes the cable and strand together in such a way that the concentration of strains near the poles is minimized. The Cable Lasher has also proved a great aid in the speedy installation of some of the new cables needed for airfields, camps, bases and war factories.
There are many opportunities in the Bell System for men with the urge—and the ability—to do a job better than it has ever been done before.

Hitting Battle Looms Between Techs And Deacs Monday

Cornell Tops Netters Despite Fast Start

Owens and Winston Each Take First Set; Meet Duke Next

State's tennis squad started off their 1942 schedule against Cornell with a bang on Wednesday, as the Tech number 1 and 2 men took the first set of their three set matches. But the withering fire of the Big Red netters overtook the Techs, and the final score in matches was 9-0 in favor of Cornell.

Tomorrow the varsity netters meet Duke in Durham.

Captain Frank Owens, mainstay of Coach R. W. Green's team, and Eliot Winston, who were spotted for State in the first two matches, smashed their way to first set wins, but their opponents came back in the second and third sets to win out.

The doubles team of Frank Owens and George Barbee won the only other set for State in the afternoon's play. Coach Green was without the services of Austin Pruitt, senior regular No. 2 man, (Continued on Page 4)

MURAL MUSINGS

By DON NEUMANN

Campus sports are now entering the last regular term of the 1941-42 school year. Since two-thirds of the school year has passed, it might be well to look at the ratings of the different intramural teams to get some idea of where each stands. The points have been awarded to the teams for participation in football, swimming, wrestling, basketball, handball, and boxing.

Dormitory Standings
Over in the dormitories 2nd C is way out in front of the rest of its rivals with a total of 782 points. Next comes 1st C with 400 points.

Scores of 395, 380, and 377 belong to 1st 7th, 9th, and 10th. It looks as though the freshmen are really backing this year's intramural program.

Low, Wat., Sixth, and 2nd 8th follow these teams with 359, 310, and 382 points. 1st A, Up, So, and Bas. 8th are the next teams in order with 3rd A, 3rd C, 5th, and Lo. So. coming next. The last teams to come are 3rd 7th, 3rd 8th, 2nd 7th, and Up. Wat.

Hickman Enters Squad In Carolina Relays

By ROYSTER THURMAN

As the fourth week of official workouts gets underway, the track has undergone a decided change, with the Spring days heralding the approach of another cinder season.

One of the largest squads in many years has reported for the workouts, and Coach Jermain Hickman seems unusually pleased with the prospects for the current schedule.

Eighty-three men, both freshman and varsity, including several let-termen, have reported and they have been through intense run sessions and time trials as preparation for the Carolina Relays, tomorrow at Chapel Hill.

During time trials for the relays on Tuesday, Coach Hickman's hopes of a winning combination took a severe drop when co-captain Bill Lambe pulled a muscle. Peyton Holloman had suffered the same injury the day before, but he may be ready to run tomorrow. Co-captain Jimmy McDougal will probably team with Holloman, and the other two regulars, Mike Andrews and Norman Pease if a Tech team is entered in the 440-yard feature event.

Other State entries tomorrow will be: Mike Andrews, 100 yard dash, shot put, discus throw, and broad jump; R. W. McKay, discus; Norman Pease, 100 yard. Entered in the Frosh events are Atwood Skinner, Bob Phillips, Eddy Thurman, and J. C. Ritchie. Additional entries will be decided today.

Time trials for a meet with Richmond will be held Tuesday.

Classic Will Be Played At Devereaux Meadow

Coach Newton Will Probably Retain Starting Line-up; Hardee Gets Mound Assignment

Two ball clubs, which demonstrated terrific batting power against a common opponent last week, tangle Monday afternoon, when State's Techs meet the Wake Forest baseballers in a traditional Easter Monday diamond classic.

The game will be played in Raleigh's Devereaux Meadow park starting at 3 P.M. Student admission will be by athletic ticket, and the public charge will be 75 cents.

Both at bat and afield Coach Doc Newton's team showed ability as they trounced Cornell 8-2, last Monday. Right from the first inning when Jack Singer opened the game with a sharp drive to the left field bank for an easy two bagger, the Techs looked hot. Flueie Stewart, the third man up that inning, proceeded to rifle a long home run to center field, and Cornell never even came close after that.

But the Deacons met the Big Red on Tuesday, and they poked out 16 hits for an 11-1 victory. So, the encounter will probably develop into a power contest.

Last year, the Techs suffered an ignominious 19-0 defeat in the Easter Monday game. A second meeting with the Deacs netted a 16-4 loss for State, but the Techs bore down in a third game, though they lost a tough one, 3-2. Coach Newton is confident that no such scores are in the offing this year.

Considerably pleased with the performance of his first stringers in the Cornell encounter, and during practice games this week, Coach Newton will probably start the same lineup: Captain Len Constant, Frank Craig, and Warren Bailey in the outfield; Hoot Gibson, Earl Stewart, Jack Singer, and Gracie Wheeler at the infield; Bill Fleming, catcher, and Ray Hardee, pitcher.

Ray Hardee has been showing that he has caught control of his speed ball, and has a good share of change-of-pace with which to mix it up. Backing up Hardee on the mound, Doc Newton will probably have Forest Oak, Percy Moore, and Wed Grouten available.

Tennis Frosh Premiere With Duke Tomorrow

Forty Men Report for Yearling Net Squad

Forty men reported to Coach L. Walter Seeger for the freshman tennis squad this year. After preliminary trials, the squad will probably be pared to a workable fifteen or twenty players.

The net Techlets will unveil their wares for the first time this season against Duke in Durham tomorrow. Probable players tomorrow are Dan Kneel, Jim Messick, Newton McDiarmid, Landis Temple, Ed Barton, and Earl Frazer.

A five match schedule is on the books for Coach Seeger's team. It will meet Duke and Carolina twice, and will close the present card against Oak Ridge Military Academy. Other events may be added to the schedule at a later date.

Coach Newton will probably start the same lineup: Captain Len Constant, Frank Craig, and Warren Bailey in the outfield; Hoot Gibson, Earl Stewart, Jack Singer, and Gracie Wheeler at the infield; Bill Fleming, catcher, and Ray Hardee, pitcher.

Ray Hardee has been showing that he has caught control of his speed ball, and has a good share of change-of-pace with which to mix it up. Backing up Hardee on the mound, Doc Newton will probably have Forest Oak, Percy Moore, and Wed Grouten available.

Covering SPORTS

By BOB POMERANZ

Perhaps you get the feeling that football is the only really important collegiate sport, and that therefore sports are a dead item in the winter and spring terms.

Strictly speaking, sports are very much alive on the campus these days. And, as Percy has many times stated, whichever sport a man participates in is the most important one to him. So, there's a great number of our fellow students who, even now in the supposedly dead spring term, are vitally interested in sports.

A simple tabulation of the number of students who reported for the various activities this term bears that fact out.

Varsity Baseball	38
Frosh Baseball	46
Varsity Tennis	10
Frosh Tennis	40
Varsity Track	83
Frosh Track	60
Total	217

working club will be in at the finish again this term. And, from the intramural standings which are published on this page, 2nd "C" looks like a fair bet to cop the year's title. Get the banquet ready, boys!

Frosh Facts
It isn't easy to get a line on any of the freshman athletes this early in the season, but two boys catch your eye at any practice session.

Jim Blue, frosh trackster, is assistant coach Ike Hanf's hope to bring pole vault laurels to the campus. Jim never vaulted before he came to State, but he has been working out diligently ever since January, even during the coldest weather, and has really started to hit the heights.

Eddie Morris, frosh baseballer, was called a natural athlete by a newspaperman at practice the other day. Eddie translates the same speedy, sure-footed style he used last term for the frosh basketball team into action for Coach Bob Warren's squad. He's a flashy second baseman.

All classes are suspended from 1 to 6 p.m. on Monday, because it is Easter Monday, so everyone will be able to see the State-Wake Forest game at Devereaux Meadow.

Answer to Gleanings
Vernon Van Blight is the murderer. Jean was killed at some time during the swimming party. The mystery hinges on the fact that the body was hidden in the cave at 4 a.m. the next morning and that only one person could have been there to hide the body. Roger was in New York. Clark and Sal slept in the same bed and one couldn't have left the bed without the other's knowing it, because each was a light sleeper. 4 a.m. was the only time the body could have been hidden because that was the only time that the tide was low enough for anyone to enter into the cave with a corpse.

Electrical Engineers Select New Officers
The A.I.E.E. held its much-talked-about election of new officers March 3. The elections climaxed a week of spirited campaigning on all sides, after the list of men eligible for election had been posted at the annual A.I.E.E. dance.

The elections were held much earlier than usual this year, due to the fact that many of the seniors will be leaving the campus soon after graduation to enter industry and the armed forces.

Those elected were as follows: W. C. Ranes, chairman; A. L. Beaman, vice chairman; T. L. Watson, eng. council; R. S. Kelly, sec.-treas.; L. E. Payson, alt. eng. council; and Prof. L. M. Keever, counselor. These men will take over their new offices at the beginning of the spring term.

Annual PiKA Ball Monday Night

Easter Monday night, several hundred dancers will be the guests of the State College Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity at the 36th annual PiKA Ball in Frank Thompson Gym.

The ball was inaugurated in 1906, after the PiKA's had been on the campus only two years. The dance has constantly gained prominence, and now many out of town guests attend, along with many from neighboring states.

Furnishing the music for the dance will be Freddy Johnson and his band from the University of North Carolina. The gym will be decorated with lengthy streamers of the fraternity colors, garnet and gold, and a large electrically-lighted replica of the fraternity pin will be suspended from the ceiling above the bandstand. During the dance a myriad of colored balloons will be released from the center of the gym, and a shower of confetti will descend upon the dancers from the balcony.

The sponsors for the dance and their dates are: Miss Betty Mallory of New York, with M. E. Herndon; Miss Dorothy Jane Hodgkin, of Greensboro, with Lawson Ingram; Miss Novella Bonner, of Atlanta, with Lewis Orr; Miss Edla Walker of Elizabeth City, with Pat Morgan; Miss Ann Smith of Raleigh, with Renfrow Doak; Miss Sallie Cobb of Pine Tops, with Bill Andrews; Miss Jeanne Schlosser of Greensboro, with Hobart Ferree; Miss Ann Wiley of Charlotte, with Gene McGarity; Miss Ida Dunn Harris of Raleigh, with Ed. Farrell; Miss Martha Brandon of Scotland Neck, with Jimmy MacDouglass; Miss Lalla Marshall of Charlotte with Rex Gribble; Miss Proc Andrews of Bethel with Wendall Winn; Miss Frances Bradshaw of Norfolk, with Darden Bradshaw; Miss Nancy Oberon of Charlotte, with Bill Hayward; Miss Margaret Gamble of Charlotte with Jack Huckabee; and Miss Jean Dickenson of Leaksville, N. C., with Harry Suttonfield.

AICHe
There will be a meeting of AICHe Tuesday night at 7:00 p.m. All Chemical Engineers who are not members and who are interested in joining are urged to attend. Plans for the initiation of new members will be discussed.
TOM HUGHES, President.
