Over 5,000 High School Seniors Expected

Senior Class Sponsors Annual Campus Visit

Guides Wanted!
Guides are still needed to show the visiting high school seniors about the campus. We would like as many State students as possible to take their home town high school group about. Anyone desiring to do so should see me at 12:45 p.m. Saturday in the YMCA.
CARL SICKEROTT.

Classrooms, Shops and Laboratories Will Be Open Tomorrow Afternoon for Inspection By Visitors
Over 2,500 high school seniors throughout the state already have accepted invitations to be guests of N. C. State College at its third annual High School Day, October 25, William H. Blue of Carthage, president of the senior class, announced yesterday.
Blue said he expected the number of visiting seniors to reach 5,000 by kick-off time for the State-Newberry football game tomorrow night. All high school students who registered prior to the game will receive complimentary tickets to the game.
Registration for visiting seniors will start at 1 p.m. and continue to 5 p.m. in the College Y.M.C.A. Members of Golden Chain, senior honor organization headed by Reece Sedberry of Concord, will assist in the registration.
During the afternoon, the young guests will be escorted to places of interest on State College's spacious campus. Hundreds of classrooms, shops, and laboratories will be open for their inspection as well as the college's vast array of equipment used in modern technological education.
Blue Key, Theta Tau, and several other honorary organizations will provide the guides for the visiting seniors. Instead of explaining the laboratories all over the campus, however, as was done last year, the guides will only take the visitors to the different departments, where they will turn them over to special guides better qualified to explain that particular laboratory or process. These special guides are being selected by the individual departments.
Several high school bands have accepted invitations to participate in the program before the game starts. The bands will take the field at 7:40 p.m., and will parade until the game starts at 8.
Governor J. M. Broughton, Colonel J. W. Harrelson, and President Blue will all welcome the seniors to the campus in the half-time program. Other high officials of the state educational system are expected to be present as well.
On the High School Day committee are L. P. Zachary of Taylorsville, chairman; Carl Sickerott, Siler City; and Marvin Clay, Hickory. In addition to President Blue, officers of the college's senior class are Hugh Cameron, Oxford, vice president; and J. Kyle Kingsolver, Hickory, secretary-treasurer.

Kay Kyser Attends State-Raleigh Day In Surprise Visit

First Annual Event a Huge Success; Colorful Parade One of Best Ever Held in Raleigh

In a celebration highlighted by the unexpected appearance of Kay Kyser, the first State-Raleigh Day, sponsored by the Raleigh Merchants' Bureau in cooperation with State College, established itself as one of the outstanding events in the history of State College.
Gaining impetus with a colorful, mile-long parade Saturday afternoon, the festivities were climaxed by the State-Wake Forest game Saturday night.
Presented in conjunction with the annual Dads Day at State College, State-Raleigh Day was conceived to better the relationship of the students of State College and the people of Raleigh in recognition of their mutual interests. The Merchants' Bureau organized the event and furnished the material for the decoration of the campus, fraternity houses, and floats in the parade.
Applause thundered from the crowded stands as Kay Kyser greeted the crowd with his famous "Evenin', Folks." His visit came as a surprise to most of the assembled throng, and the wild wave of sound that burst from the stands after the second of startled silence that followed his introduction was one of spontaneous welcome.
During the ceremonies, Colonel Harrelson, Dean of Administration of State College, greeted the assembly and thanked the merchants of Raleigh for their contribution to the success of the day. President Thurman D. Kitchin of Wake Forest College extended greetings and congratulations, and Reece Sedberry, president of Golden Chain, welcomed the fathers attending Dads Day. Wesley Williams, executive secretary of the Raleigh Merchants' Bureau, on behalf of the Raleigh merchants paid tribute to the College. The half-time ceremonies were presided over by William Friday, who directed the campus in preparations for the day.

Student Legislature Meeting in Capitol

Two Hundred Delegates Assemble; Governor To Speak At Tomorrow's Meeting
More than 200 delegates from 16 colleges are participating in the fifth North Carolina Student Legislative Assembly which State College is sponsoring in the State Capitol this afternoon and tomorrow.
A full program of events and legislative sessions has been arranged by the Tech forensic squad. Following registration of delegates at noon, and election of officers, the Assembly will be formally opened with an address by Col. J. W. Harrelson, Dean of Administration, at a joint session of the General Assembly.
Saturday's events are highlighted by addresses by Governor J. M. Broughton and Secretary of State Thad Eure.
Several radio broadcasts have been arranged. From 5:45 to 6 p.m., WRAL will air from its studios a resume of the action in the Assembly up to that time, and an extemporaneous discussion by representatives from several colleges on an important bill under consideration.
Saturday morning at 9:45, WPTF will broadcast direct from the Senate chambers the actual debate on a measure involving United States foreign policy.
A variety of bills covering North Carolina and the nation will come under close scrutiny by the session. Wake Forest is sponsoring two bills on prohibition, Appalachian is putting up for consideration measures on compulsory automobile insurance, and gubernatorial police power, and Catawba is for the establishment of ROTC units in all high schools and colleges.
The Tech bills cover foreign policy. They ask for a declaration of war on Germany, handing an ultimatum to Japan and holding draftees until after the emergency. Two other State measures ask for the establishment of a super army, navy and air force, and request the resignation of Senator Robert Reynolds.
Other colleges attending the sessions officially are: Campbell, Louisburg, U. N. C., Greensboro, Mars Hill, Guilford, W.C.U.N.C., Elon, St. Mary's, and Duke.
David Harris and Wilbur E. Bryan, president and secretary of the campus chapter of Phi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity, hold the same offices in the legislative assembly. Percy E. Collins heads the Tech delegation, and Bill Allred is handling legislation. Jim Graham and Roderick Adams are chairmen of the entertainment and housing committees.

Trumpeter To Return For Pledge Dance Set

Bunny Berigan Signed To Play for the Second Successive Pledge Dance Set
Bunny Berigan, world famous trumpeter, and his band have been signed to play for the 1941 version of the annual Pledge Dances beginning on November 7. It was announced recently by Gregg Gibbs, chairman of the dance committee. Berigan, who played for years as lead trumpeter with Tommy Dorsey and Benny Goodman, ranks up with Ziggy Elman as a soloist. Since the organization of his band a little over a year ago, he has played at such famous night-spots as the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, the Paradise Restaurant in New York, and the Trianon Ballroom in Cleveland. The maestro made his debut on the State College campus last year when he played for the same set of dances. His music was well received then, especially the ever popular theme song, "I Can't Get Started with You."
As has been the custom in the past

Military Leaves Given To Twelve Members Of College Faculty

Civilian Defense Work and Military Duty Take Twelve Members from College Staff
Twelve members of the N. C. State College faculty have been given leaves thus far to assume military duties or engage in civilian defense work, Col. J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration, reported today.
The list does not include Col. Harrelson, Dean Blake R. Van Leer of the School of Engineering and Director Edward W. Ruggles of the College Extension Division, each of whom is playing an important part in the civilian defense program.
Col. Harrelson is chairman of the State Defense Council and North Carolina's civilian director for the First Army maneuvers now underway. Dean Van Leer is regional adviser to the U. S. Office of Education in connection with the engineering, science and management defense training program. His region includes the Carolinas and Virginia. Director Ruggles is administrator of the defense training program at the college.
Those on leave from their college duties include:
F. S. Johnson, professor of industry, now State director of civilian defense.
F. F. Groseclose, professor of mechanical engineering; W. W. Krieger, associate professor of ceramic engineering; C. E. Feltner, assistant professor of engineering mechanics; H. L. Caviness, assistant

Campus To Feature 'Religion And Life'

Outstanding Leaders of the Southeast to Conduct Observances of Religious Emphasis Week
With a talk by Dr. Albert Outler to the Young People's League of this city in Pullen Hall Sunday night at 7 o'clock, the State College Y.M.C.A. will launch its annual "Religion and Life Week."
Dr. Outler, instructor in English Bible and historical theology at Duke University, is only one of three guest speakers who will take part in this outstanding inspirational program, designed to emphasize the importance of religion in student life. Speaking to the students, also, will be that witty Scotchman, "Scotty" Cowan, minister of Religious Fellowship at Norris, Tenn., and Mr. George Williams, nationally known song leader and inspirational humorist, who will bring his own pianist with him.
Dr. Outler and Mr. Cowan will give a series of lectures in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium beginning at 7 o'clock Monday night and running through four nights. "The Bible Speaks To Us," "A New Name for God," "Winning Our Souls," and "The Unpurchasable"

New Phi Psi Initiates Entertain Textile Men

Initiates Presented to the Tompkins Textile Society at Their Regular Meeting
Phi Psi initiates entertained the members of Tompkins Textile Society at their regular meeting Tuesday night, attended by a crowd which proved the success of the society's drive for larger attendance.
Kenneth Shinn, president of Phi Psi, honorary textile fraternity, presented the "ladies," who, along with other attractions, gave imitations of faculty members.
Another feature of the program was a motion picture of the State-Mississippi State football game, shown by two Agricultural Education students.
The Tompkins Textile Society is the only textile organization that is open to all students in the textile school. During the school year many prominent men in the industry are invited to speak to the students. Variety seems to be the theme of the society, and diversified programs are usually given.

New Books in Library Of Interest To Women

New Issue of Booklets Concerns Women in Emergency Work
New issues of booklets and pamphlets concerning the training and employment of women in emergency work have been filed in the State College library and are available to the general public as well as to women students, Dean Blake R. Van Leer said yesterday.
The material was sent by James I. Woodall of Washington, D. C., chairman of the Fourth Regional Labor Supply Committee for the Federal Security Agency.
Subjects include a series on labor laws for women in various states, including North Carolina; Women's Vocational Training Needs in Defense Industries; employment of women in manufacturing; small arms ammunition; experience as to standards for women's work in periods of rapid increase in production; employment of women in the manufacture of artillery ammunition; report on women in English defense industries during the war; increase in employment of women in 1914-15 and occupations of women in defense industries; and The Woman Worker.
Dean Van Leer is regional adviser for the Carolinas and Virginia in connection with the engineering, science and management defense training program sponsored by the Federal Government through the U. S. Office of Education.

THIS UNIQUE "DADS' DAY" FLOAT from State College was one of the feature attractions in the colorful Fayetteville Street parade, which was a highlight of the State-Raleigh Day celebration last Saturday. The float was sponsored by the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, the theme being an immense check made out on "Just Any Bank" in "Anywhere, N. C." for the amount of fifty dollars and signed "DAD!"

The Iron Hand

One of the finest college bands ever to take the field in this state will be prohibited from making an appearance in Winston-Salem that will do much toward adding to the fine reputation now enjoyed by State College.

The Faculty Council seems determined to put the school spirit here at State on the skids. First, they decided that no cheerleader would be excused from Saturday morning classes to lead the cheering section at games not on the campus. This in itself was enough to put a damper on the spirit of the student body. How can a few unorganized yells spur the team on to victory?

Many derogatory remarks by prominent alumni of this school and by radio commentators have been heard after the last few games, especially since the Clemson game, the first time the ruling had much effect.

Now, the Faculty Council again comes forth with still another silly ruling. From now on, no band members will be excused from Saturday classes to attend the games as a unit, in spite of the fact that band can and does put on one of the best performances of any college band that has ever appeared in Riddick Stadium. Last Saturday, the Redcoat Band was without a doubt the best in the parade, far outshining any other outfit present. What could be a better added attraction to prospective State students present at distant games than the Redcoat Band?

The entire senior class at VPI is to be excused to attend the grid battle with the Wolfpack, along with the team and the VPI band. This game seems to be mighty important to VPI—still, we are to appear so small and cheap that we can't afford to send even our band. It appears as though the Faculty Council, rather than the Athletic Council, had to pay for the expenses incurred by the band.

And so the State College Redcoat Band is destined to sit home and twiddle its collective thumbs, simply because a small group of professors evidently can't remember what it is to have college spirit, while the college alumni, the same we constantly urge to show some spirit and help the school, keep complaining of the rapidly declining school spirit of the student body. If we are to continue in our loyalty to State after we get out of college, we ought to develop that spirit right now. But how can we be expected to have any school spirit after we finish here, if a damper is placed constantly on our spirits while we're still in college?

We Salute

State-Raleigh Day has established itself at State College, and in the city of Raleigh. To the merchants and people of Raleigh who made the event such a huge success, we extend our congratulations.

State-Raleigh Day is an example of the possible accomplishments of State College and Raleigh when working together. The common interests of the college and the city are adequate foundation for a close relationship and spirited cooperation between the students and the people.

We believe that State-Raleigh Day did much to bring the two groups closer together, and hope that the event will become even bigger in years to come. Q. W. P.

Thanks, Bill

Our wholehearted thanks should be extended to Bill Friday, chief dormitory assistant, for the commendable work he has done in bringing about the one thing for which State-Raleigh Day was inaugurated—better relations between the merchants of Raleigh and the students here on the campus.

The largest pre-sale of tickets for any football game can also be accredited in part to Bill. It was he who arranged details for a large part of the pre-game publicity and pep meetings. If more of our alumni had the spirit and faith in his school that Friday has, this college would attain even higher heights. Thanks a lot, Bill.

On Cheers and Cheerleaders

A short time ago, a plea went up from this page asking that the athletic department send our cheerleaders to State College's out-of-town football games with free cuts. That was a sincere request, and we hoped something would be done about it.

Then came last Saturday's night game with Wake Forest. Across the field we saw a comparatively small group in the Wake Forest section putting out some of the loudest and best organized yells we've heard this year. They had a cheer going almost all of the time, and the Deacon cheerleaders, the fellows-look of all their display of spirit, certainly deserve a lot of credit.

But on our own side of the field it was a different story. That same student body that had made such a hit last year with its much talked about spirit looked just about as dead as the Duke cheering section did when losing to Carolina last year.

It's hard to put the blame for our bad showing on any one person, or on any particular group of persons. It is, nevertheless, a definite fact that the Wake Forest students and leaders did show us up, and that's hard to take.

Perhaps losing the game had something to do with our spirit. True, it's hard to yell your loudest when the scoreboard is against you, but that's when your support does the team the most good.

Students, when the Wolfpack takes the field tomorrow night, try just a little harder to put the yells across. If you will show a little more pep, we'll promise to push the campaign to get free cuts for our cheerleaders when we have out-of-town games. Then the general public will get a little better impression of the spirit we of State College have.

OPEN FORUM

To the Students:

The Sophomore Assembly will be held in Pullen Hall, Tuesday, October 28, at 12 o'clock.

The names of all students who have attended State College one year or part of one year prior to September, 1941, and all transfer students whose registration cards are marked sophomore have been assigned a seat on the second year (sophomore) assembly roll.

Such students are expected to attend the assembly from 12 to 1, rather than any class they may have scheduled at that hour. Teachers have been instructed not to hold a 12-1 class on the day of an assembly.

E. L. CLOYD,
Dean of Students.

To the Students:

Students will be assigned to assemblies as follows:
All regular freshmen and all transfer students entering as regular freshmen will be assigned to first year assembly.

All students who have attended State College one year or a part of one year, and all transfer students classified as sophomores will be assigned seats in second year assembly.

All students who have attended State College two years or part of two years and all transfer students registered as juniors will be assigned seats in the third year assembly.

All students who have attended State College three or more years and any transfer students registered as seniors will be assigned seats in the fourth year assembly.

NOTICE: Except for freshmen and transfer students, the classification on your registration card has nothing at all to do with what assembly you shall attend. Every student is charged with the responsibility of finding out what assembly list his name is on and all students will be charged with loss of points for absence from assemblies just as they are for absence from class.

All assemblies will be held in Pullen Hall.

By action of the Faculty Council.

All assemblies will be held in Pullen Hall this year as follows:

FIRST YEAR (FRESHMEN): Thursday, November 13; Thursday, December 11. (Second Thursday throughout.)
SECOND YEAR: Tuesday, October 28; Tuesday, November 25; no meeting in December. (Fourth Tuesday throughout.)
THIRD YEAR: Thursday, November 20. (Third Thursday.)
FOURTH YEAR: Tuesday, November 4; Tuesday, December 2. (First Tuesday.)

FROM BOX 5308

A booklet of advice published by Isogen, senior honorary society, and written by Kat Tully of South-bridge and Mary Donahue of Newburyport, advises not only how to dress but how to act.

On "dating" a major portion of the booklet, the advice is to "hold on to your kisses 'til you find somebody you really want to give them to."

"Don't forget that boys talk about girls . . . and if you neck with one man all his 'brothers' will know it soon."

Other warnings include: "Don't be possessive. It is the easiest way to lose a good date."

"Don't drink more than two if you drink at all. You can still be sociable without drinking."

"Don't be too choosy at first. Some fellows can introduce you to some good future dates if you are smart."

And girls . . . "Don't believe an eighth of what you hear."—The Chronicle.

And then there's the case of the Ohio Wesleyan University, which selected the wrong "typical" students when preparing a picture booklet on its activities.

The photos were taken last spring. The front cover of the booklet shows a coed who since has "funkt out" of school and a boy who has transferred to Case College.—Chronicle.

MUSIC MAKERS

By JACK THURNER

The Surprise Band of 1941—Major Kutachinski and his Red Coat Band. This band which always adhered to the idea that college bands should play nothing but marches jumped into the field of swing. "Daddy" was the bombshell, and very appropriate at the time.

One thing shown was that swing is still popular with the college set regardless of what the polls say. Although it wasn't a torrid number, the stands did show a favorable reaction to it. This policy should be followed in the future to make the Red Coat Band something other than a good college band.

Birth

This swing idea for college bands moved out from the home of unorthodox football and bands, Southern Methodist University. Some benevolent alumni, who had made his fortune in the oil business, decided that the Mustangs ought to have a great band to go along with their football aerial circus. So a professional teacher and musician was hired to put some new ideas into the setup.

Immediately, a new song was written using the music of "She'll Be Coming Around the Mountain" and this little opus went under the title of "Peruna." Since this was a fast piece, the band director decided to swing more numbers and cut down on the marches. This gave birth to the "Mustangs," the band within a band; later the whole band took up swinging.

The band soon became so popular that it was as much in demand at a game as the team was. The idea spread quickly through the Southwest Conference, and when the band made its eastern invasion the swing caught on there. Every year the S.M.U. band makes a national tour spreading the idea of swing college bands. So that's the story behind "Daddy" Saturday night.

The Turntable

The newest hit, both classical and popular, seems to be Peter Tschalkowsky's "Piano Concerto in B Flat." There have been popular versions by Freddy Martin, Horace Heidt and Harry James, but the best is to come out this week.

Toscanini and Horowitz have recorded a symphonic version of this melody. Horowitz will play the Heart of the Piano Concerto, from which came the theme melody for "Rhapsody in Blue" and "Tonight We Love."

The Woodwindy Ten of the Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street will come out with a new album this week. It will not feature any particular vocals, but will be all vocals.

Will Bradley and the Texas Hot Dogs come through with some good small band stuff called "Basin Street Boogie." This is not boogie at all, but there is a good beat and some tasteful solos. Tommy Allen sings nicely on "Call It Anything, It's Love" the reverse.

Two Count Basie sides are routine, but Buddy Tate's tenor and Dickie Well's trombone keep both sides kicking. The Count takes some nice solos on them, "Diggin for Dex" and "H&J."

GLEANINGS

The City of Raleigh and State College should be highly praised for their efforts in laying a foundation for what is going to be even a bigger and better event from now on. Since the first State College Day was such a tremendous success, everyone will look forward to this day with greater enthusiasm in the future.

Say, have you ever seen so many good looking girls in Raleigh before? The trouble is too few people know them. SPICY MORSELS FROM THE "BULL SESSIONS":

Several textile students threatened to form a Black-Ball club the other night—I wonder why. Ed Parnell seems to be going strong for the high school girls here of late, especially for late dates. Who will be with Bill Brewer this week-end? He has had a different date every week-end so far. Wonder what his home town Ann thinks about the situation? . . . Bob Cathey and Bob McLaughlin were seen laughing at a girl in distress, but they couldn't very well help her. Her suitcase had fallen and spilled its contents at their feet. Even Norwood and J. Fred Blue seem very interested in women. The ladies are always their best subject of conversation. . . . "Mamma" Fry and "Pappa" Rose are rooming across the hall from each other on third floor South. Ed Grosse seems to be the only person that knows the particulars on the maternal Cecil. As for Jack, the fortune tellers have got him worried. The crystal gazers tell him he has been snipe hunting. According to the tale-toters, the freshmen in Tenth Dormitory really know how to keep a party alive. The party started on a playground on Glenwood Avenue after the game and ended at Tenth Dormitory about 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

How many of you boys will join me in anticipation of the third annual High School Day this Saturday . . . that is, other than Ed Parnell? What have college girls got that high school girls haven't—only experience, boys. But what difference does that make when you can bring them in to suit your own tastes?

Major Kutachinski's rendition of "Daddy" certainly went over in a big way Saturday night. We didn't know that the Major is also a master of swing. What about a concert of swing music sometime, Major?

These Phi Psi boys certainly make a pretty picture in their land-colored frocks. With a little more rouge Branch Whitehurst could really pass as a female. After seeing one of the Phi Psi boys, a passer-by remarked that State College really has one ugly co-ed.

The two most popular girls on the campus are Louise Morten and Marjorie Dunn. The girls can't even walk across the campus without being surrounded by a group of boys.

We are looking forward to reading the first issue of the Watawampus, as we hear it is going to be the best that has ever been published. The jokes are new, the articles interesting and well written, and the pictures . . . ah, wait and see. So says Scott, anyhow.

IN THE MAIL:

L. F. McCaskill and Lawrence McIntosh are now rooming together in the Army Air Corps at Stanford, Texas. They were caught the other day for zooming down at jetton pickers.

Don't forget, fellows, use your best manners and make a good impression on the high school students that are going to be our guests this week-end. Be at the game with the old school spirit. It will be worth it.

ED BUNN.

Enough to make your hair stand on end!

On many of the defense projects encountered by the Bell System, the work sheets—showing telephone facilities needed and time allowed—would make a good, conservative engineer's hair stand on end.

For example, take the Navy's huge new air base near Corpus Christi, Texas, which covers 14,500 acres, includes 29 separate flying fields and 481 buildings. Closely connected with the base are Defense Housing projects for 1700 families.

Imagine the complex problems involved in planning telephone facilities for this new "city" where formerly there were sand dunes—in obtaining and installing miles and miles of wire and cable, switchboards, telephones by the thousand.

But telephone engineers and construction men took hold—proceeded to shatter records—completed their huge task in seemingly impossible time. For men with the "will to do," there's a real thrill in such Bell System work!

Newton Seeks Scoring Punch As Pack Meets Newberry

COVERING ★ SPORTS

By BOB POMERANZ

Hats Off to the Redcoat Band!!

From all angles, the State-Raleigh Day activities went over with a great big bang. The parade was not as long as it might have been, but what it lacked in quantity, it made up in quality. The State floats were top-notch and showed plenty of ingenuity in putting across their ideas with a minimum of expense.

Probably the hardest working group at the events was the Redcoat Band. That gang has more guts and ability to stand plenty of hard work than any other on the campus.

They started off last week-end by a practice session early Friday evening. Then, at 7 p.m., the band formed the backbone of the pep meeting. Saturday saw them in action two big times. At 4 o'clock they led off the parade downtown, and then, of course, there were Major "K" boys on hand for the game at night.

Considering what the bandmen have to go through in all these events, when most of the rest of us are just spectators, they really deserve a big hand for their energy and perseverance. That swing rendition of "Daddy" plus their playing of all our songs puts them in the front rank as a musical organization. We can take our hats off to the Redcoat band—its leaders and members—as fine musicians and as real college men.

We're Worried About Woody

As a defensive ball club, the Wolfpack certainly toed the mark against Wake Forest last Saturday. Considering that the Deacons knocked over Furman 52 to 13, just one week before we were able to garner only a scoreless tie, most observers predicted the State-Wake encounter would be a free-scoring tussle, with the Demons doing all the scoring.

The only thing that was hard to explain was that two minutes rest which Woody Jones got in the last quarter. "Slick" played the full 60 minutes in the Richmond game, and worked for 58 minutes against Davidson. Then our Woody seemed on the down grade, playing a mere 45 minutes against the Clemson "pros." His supporters took heart when Woodrow made a comeback with a 60-minute performance against Furman.

Now comes this latest blow. Woody Jones played only 58 minutes against Wake Forest. Question of the week: Is Woody Jones here to stay?

Seriously, though, the Wolfpack linemen really were on the ball against Wake, much as they were two weeks ago in the closing minutes of play against Furman. Hoot Gibson did some first-class ending. Jimmy Allen and Cutie Carter were immovable mountains at center; John Barr, Charlie Riddle and Dink Caton were in there at guard, and Tom Gould and Pete Boltrek looked good at tackle.

Hooray, Hooray

Fred Fletcher, general manager of WRAL, told a story about last week's cheering section on his early morning "Tempus Fugit" program Tuesday.

"Eight times Wake Forest marched to the State 20-yard line," Fred stated, "and seven times the Wolfpack stopped the Demon Deacons cold. It was a magnificent performance on the field. Once, Wake moved to the State 18, and after some bang-up smears the Pack stopped the Deacons cold. Five students jumped up in the State stands and hollered, 'Hooray! Hooray! Hooray!'

A few minutes later, the situation was repeated. Wake moved to the State 20 and after working hard at it, State completely stopped the threat. This time one student jumped up and hollered, 'Hooray! Hooray! Hooray!'

Then three minutes afterward, the State cheerleaders came out with those free cough drops, and fully a thousand State students jumped to their feet and started screaming, 'Hooray! Hooray! give me one, Hooray! Hooray! Hooray!'

Incidentally, Fred Fletcher is going to be at the pep meeting tonight in Haddock Stadium. He's a State alumnus, and a loyal one, and it's up to us to show him that plenty of real spirit remains in the Tech student body.

DEFENSE BULWARKS

Dink Caton (top) and Hoot Gibson have been mainstays of the Wolfpack line this season. Both did outstanding work in the limiting of Wake Forest to one lone tally last week as State lost, 7-0. Gibson, a 200-lb. end, and Caton, a tough 180-lb. guard, are juniors, and earned their varsity letters last season.

Wrestling Finals Set for October 29

Football Standings Released For Play Through 22nd

By JIM MARTIN

Semi-finals in wrestling were run off Wednesday night in the gym to make way for the finals that are scheduled October 29. Competition is becoming keen and experienced wrestlers are being brought into the limelight. Come out and see those matches next Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m.

Tennis players are waiting too long to play off the first round in the new campus-wide tournament. You are reminded again that the first round must be completed by October 29. See your opponent and arrange your match.

Touch football schedules are at their midpoints and potential winners of each section are appearing. All-campus material is taking form and games are more organized than earlier in the season.

Two players are outstanding in the freshmen sections. Blue of 2nd 7th and Miles of 2nd 8th. The two Edwards, E. B. and Jack, spurred 9th dorm to a win, 8-0, over 2nd 7th. The second victory for 2nd 8th resulted from a 6-0 score against Basement 8th.

On the fraternity side another forfeit by PKT gave ALT its second win. An aerial combination clicking for KA, Althaus to Frazier, beat SN 6-0. Lambe's passing looked good for SN. Ben Paschal's SPC's crushed AKP 20-0. PKP bowed to Delta Sig, 12-0, when Zellweger zipped passes to Nicholson to score twice.

First downs gave Upper South a win over 6th with Shoub sparking the losers. Thundering over 1st "C" 32-0, 2nd "C" completed their second win of the season. Merrill looked good in the line. A hard blocking 3rd 8th team defeated 1st 8th, 4-0, in first downs. Another first-down win took place as Joyce, 3rd "A" passer, led the way, 5-3, against 1st "A." A good guard, Wilson, can be boasted by 5th even though they lost, 14-7, to Lower Wat. That Colenda to McKinney combination proved too much for 5th.

Teams are reminded again that "ole sol" sets early these days and 4:30 is the starting time for all games.

Football Broadcasts!

Saturday, Oct. 25

WRAL—1:45 p.m.: Minnesota tackles Michigan in one of the season's tough games, 8:00 p.m.: Ray Reeve and Tom Latimer will do the play by play broadcast of the State-Newberry encounter.

WPTF—1:45 p.m.: Carolina vs. Wake Forest in a game that will be an upset no matter which team wins.

Cross Country Team Drops Opener, 15-50

Ben Coble ran the three and a half mile cross country course in 21 minutes and 27 seconds to lead the Tech contingent in a meet with Carolina last Friday. The Wolfpack harriers lost, 15 to 50.

It was the State squad's initial debut of the year. Cross country resumed here this season after a six year lapse. Ike Hanft, track captain last year, is coach.

Seven men of the Carolina squad crossed the finish line holding hands, breaking the tape in 20:33. Two other Tar Heels finished 6 seconds before Coble. He was followed in order by Henry Cabe, Ray Small, Tom Macon, and Tom Grey. Marvin Young and Cliff Berger were the last Tech men to finish the long course.

Sutton, Frosh Star, Out for the Season With Hurt Shoulder

Buck Is Hot Varsity Prospect, But Played Only Two Quarters This Year

Paul (Buck) Sutton, probably the most publicized freshman in the state, will not see any more action this season. Sutton injured his shoulder in the Techlets' first contest of the year, and hasn't played since.

The big fellow—he weighs in at 220 and stands six feet three inches high—saw service in only the Edwards Military Institute game. Although football is his main forte, Buck is also a star baseball pitcher and a basketball center. He will probably be the backbone of the yearling pitching staff.

Recently the cast that covered the bruised shoulder was removed and although he doesn't have to carry it in a sling now, free usage of the arm is limited.

Proof that Big Buck should be a big help to the Wolfpack next season in his sophomore year is gained partially from a look at what he did in the E. M. I. game. In for only one and a half quarters, Buck carried the ball seven times, averaged six yards a trip and wasn't even moving at top speed. He also contributed several neat blocks, proved a bulwark on defense.

A "Dick Merrivell" at Brownsville, Pa., Buck can well help the Wolfpack with a few such stunts as he pulled in high school. He led his team to the state championship last year. Sutton handled the ball every time it was passed back from center—there was no tail back in the system used at Brownsville. With Buck around, the coach probably figured he wouldn't need bullet-like passes with amazing accuracy.

Buck had the shoulder in a sling for three weeks, was allowed to remove it only this past Sunday.

RELIGION-LIFE WEEK

Things of Life" are the respective topics of the evening meetings. Informal discussions following the night meetings have been arranged for each fraternity and dormitory, at which these various topics will be elaborated on with an exchange of opinions contributed by the students, speakers, and leaders in charge. So direct a bearing on classwork has religion, that the speakers will even go into classrooms to make talks. Local men assisting with the program and leading discussion groups will include: Dean of Students E. L. Cloyd, Assistant Dean of Students Ray Holder, Dr. Kenneth Cameron, Professor W. N. Hicks, all of State College; and Reverends Lee C. Sheppard, J. H. Overton, Newton Robison, Allyn Robinson, church ministers of Raleigh.

The Y. M. C. A. heartily invites the cooperation of every State College student in making this event worthwhile for the college.

F.F.A. MEETING

The F.F.A. will hold its regular meeting in Tompkins Hall, Monday, October 27, at 7 p.m. There will be a student program. All students in Vocational Agriculture are welcome.

Mechanical Engineers Initiate Thirty Men

Informal Initiation Began Tuesday, To Last One Week

Thirty-five outstanding students in Mechanical Engineering have been chosen for membership by the State College Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

The candidates for membership began their informal initiation Tuesday night by submitting a technical theme or a scale model of some mechanical object. The final initiation will take place this Tuesday night, when a prize will be awarded for the best theme or model.

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers was founded at State College in 1920 to bring into closer relationship mechanical engineering students of the college and professional engineers.

The students being initiated are: H. L. Bodner, E. L. Briggs, Jr., G. Clee, B. L. English, R. M. Foster, S. H. Huffstetler, B. E. Ivie, H. K. Jordan, R. W. Kelly, R. K. Kilpatrick, H. A. Klutz, W. R. past, the main feature of the dances will be the figure Saturday night, which will be composed of the pledges of the fraternities, and the members of the dance committee and their dates. The figure will take place just before the intermission of the final dance of the set.

Following the precedent that has been set in past years, the Pledge Dances will consist of three dances. The Friday night hop, a formal affair lasting from 9 to 12; the informal tea-dance Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6; and the climax to the week-end's festivities, the formal dance Saturday night lasting from 9 to 12.

The members of the Pledge Dance committee are: Bob Daught-ridge, Interfraternity Council, president, Delta Sigma Phi; Gregg Gibbs, chairman, Pi Kappa Phi; Lawson Ingram, Pi Kappa Alpha; Jim Graham, Alpha Lambda Tau; and Johnny Strait, Alpha Kappa Phi.

The Pledge Dances are the first of three dance sets given each year by the Interfraternity Council, and are one of the larger social functions held on the State College campus.

Community Chest Drive Starts Today

Dormitory Assistants To Canvass Dormitories Tonight for Contributions

In connection with the Raleigh Community Chest annual drive that opened yesterday morning, the dormitory assistants of State College will contact all students in their dormitories tonight at 8:00.

The assistants will visit every room and collect donations for this drive. The money collected throughout the school will be turned over to Bill Friday, head of the dormitories, Saturday morning and will then be given to the Community Chest.

The heads of the drive in Raleigh have asked that the students give freely to the drive, as part of the donations will be allotted to the fund for taking care of the visiting soldiers in Raleigh during the maneuvers of the first army in this state.

If any student is missed in the drive through the dormitories and wishes to contribute he may do so by contacting the assistant in his building.

ALL OFF-CAMPUS STUDENTS! Have your Agromech picture made next week (October 27-31) 7:00 to 11:00 p.m. in the Publications Building. W. P. BREWER, Bus. Mgr.

ASCE Hears Babcock On Gas Consumption

Professor W. F. Babcock Discusses Survey on Gasoline Consumption Made During Summer

The student chapter of American Society of Civil Engineers was given an interesting talk by Professor W. F. Babcock on "Gasoline Consumption" last Tuesday night.

In his talk Professor Babcock gave several pertinent facts on highway designs to reduce gasoline consumption. He pointed out that mileage down to three and one-half miles per gallon are not uncommon in some poorly designed and highly congested areas. Another factor contributing to low mileage is fast acceleration, and he cautioned especially against "take-offs" from stop signals.

His studies showed that traffic moving at a fairly uniform rate of 20 miles per hour gets the maximum efficiency from the gasoline consumed. In one section of Boston he found that an enormous saving could be effected by routing the traffic so that a uniform speed of 20 miles per hour could be maintained. To maintain the proper speed many changes were made in the signal cycle and several expensive traffic circles and overpasses were constructed.

Pep Meeting

A big football pep meeting is scheduled for tonight at 7:15 p.m. in Riddick Stadium. The coaches, players, Redcoat Band and guest speakers will be there.

Don't fail to attend this spirit rally and build the fighting heart that has characterized State and its football teams for many years.
