Final Returns Show College Tops Goal In War Drive By $1,520

United War Fund Drive Nets $4,107.14 In Intensive Campaign; Figure Reaches 137 Per Cent Of Quota

Final returns on Tuesday night at the close of the United War Fund campaign on State College campus showed that State College had exceeded its quota by $1,520.28. The quota for State College, the major contributor in the College division of the Raleigh and Wake County campaign, was $4,107.14, almost double the largest quota for the college in previous Community Chest drives. The final count established the fact that State College had raised $5,627.42, or 137 per cent of its quota.

Professor W. N. Hicks, head of the Department of Ethics and Religion, served as major in charge of general solicitation on State College campus. He was assisted by seventeen faculty captains and a large corps of field workers.

Jim Martin, president of Blue Key, directed the student campaign with Don Barakdale and Nick Gelsso heading publicity committees, and Tom Turner, Francis Steele and Bruce Betts heading solicitation divisions.

The United War Fund drive in Raleigh and Wake County began October 22, and was one of the many War Fund campaigns of the nation. President Roosevelt inaugurated these campaigns with a radio broadcast over all networks on October 5, 1942.

Gurney P. Hood, Commissioner of Banks for the State of North Carolina, was campaign general for the Raleigh drive. He announced at the victory dinner held at Edenton Street Methodist Church on Tuesday night, that the campaign had raised a total of more than $140,000.00 to be used by the 21 participating agencies of the campaign in the service of home, country and allies during 1943.

Several personnel changes in the Campus Office of Naval Officer Procurement have been announced by Lt. Lodwick Hartley, officer-in-charge.

Lt. S. W. J. Welch transferred to another duty station, has been replaced by Lt. R. A. Merritt, formerly of the Charlotte Office of Naval Officer Procurement, which was closed October 30. Lt. Merritt is a native of Greensboro and a graduate of Washington and Lee University and the University of North Carolina.

Two new medical officers, Lt. Com. R. A. Wallace and Lt. John M. Kidd, have been assigned to the Raleigh office to replace Lt. Com. M. S. Stover, who has been assigned to a new station.

Ensign Mary Frances Ivey, native of Durham and graduate of Duke University, is in charge of enlistment of WAVES. She is a former member of the Winthrop College faculty.

Attached to the office as executive officer of Naval Training School is Ensign Emol A. Falls, D-V(S), native of Oklahoma, who received his naval training on the West Coast.

Since closing of the Charlotte office, Raleigh has been the only office of Naval Officer Procurement in North Carolina. The office, located in Tompkins Hall at State College, is fully equipped for processing all applications. It has made a splendid record during its five months of service.

Thorne Reynolds of Columbia is advisor to the Club. His associate advisors include: Grady Martin, Ben Mann, Joe Somers, Frank Spain, and Edward Leifer.

Winner In Decorations

Syme Hall was the winner last week in the Blue Key sponsored decoration contest among the dormitories in conjunction with the Greater University Day, Homecoming celebration. All of the dormitories were attractively decorated, but the occupants of Syme Hall (South Dorm to the old boys) had that certain touch, and although the decorations aren't so apparent in the picture, the boys did a swell job.

Leipold Raised To Master Sergeant

The War Department has promoted Sgt. John A. Leipold, member of the State College military department staff, from technical sergeant to master sergeant, Col. Thomas W. Brown, commandant, reported yesterday.

Sgt. Leipold, who came to State College in June of 1940, enlisted in the Army on October 28, 1941. He has been assigned to ROTC units since 1920, and before joining the State College staff served at Hume-Fogg High School, Nashville, Tenn.; Central High School, Memphis, Tenn.; The Academy of Richmond County, Augusta, Ga.; and the Savannah High School, Savannah, Ga.

Gurney P. Hood, Commissioner of Banks for the State of North Carolina, was campaign general for the Raleigh drive. He announced at the victory dinner held at Edenton Street Methodist Church on Tuesday night, that the campaign had raised a total of more than $140,000.00 to be used by the 21 participating agencies of the campaign in the service of home, country and allies during 1943.

Y.M.C.A. Plans Work At Annual Fall Convention

Plans for the year's work were formulated at the annual Y.M.C.A. Fall Retreat, held recently at Hill Forest, recreational camp of the Forestry School near Durham.

Programs dealing with problems of particular interest to State College students during the war period were arranged in the hope that the "Y" could render the most needed and most beneficial services during this crisis. As an example of this part of the program planning, Prof. Charles M. Heck, Head of the Department of Physics, spoke on "Climate and Life Conditions You Will Find at the Front" Thursday night at the "Y" auditorium.

Ed S. King, General Secretary of the "Y," addressed the group Sunday morning on "Problems, Opportunities, and Responsibilities of Our YMCA This Year in Light of the War."

Discussions on "Religion and Life Week" deputations, and attendance and an evaluation of last year's programs were features of the afternoon session of the Retreat.

Religion-Life Week Plans Completed At Luncheon Conference

Ministers And Students Get Together For Annual Religion Week To Be Held November 15-19

A group of Raleigh ministers met with State College student leaders at a luncheon yesterday to complete plans for the annual Religion and Life Week which will be conducted Nov. 15-19 on the campus under sponsorship of the College YMCA.

Speakers for Religion and Life Week will be the Rev. William Clifford Newman, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Corinth, Miss.; the Rev. Ray Holder, rector of Calvary Episcopal Church in Wadesboro; the Rev. Robert E. Lee, pastor of the Lutheran Memorial Church in Blacksburg, Va.; and Henry T. Ware of Atlanta, Ga., Southern secretary of the YMCA.

The event will be the biggest sponsored during the current school year by the College YMCA. President Walton Thompson of Black Creek announced at yesterday's luncheon. Speakers will hold public meetings, class and group discussions, personal interviews and "bull sessions" with fraternity and dormitory groups.

The Rev. Lee C. Sheppard, pastor of Pullen Memorial Baptist Church, declared: "If ever there was a time when emphasis on religion was needed, that time is now."

Col. J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration, told the luncheon meeting: "The war today is almost a war between Christians and pagan peoples. We must keep up the religion in the United States and the allied nations in order to hold the ground we have gained through the centuries. It would be a sad disappointment to returning soldiers if we failed to keep the faith."

Dwight Umberger, secretary of the Y Self-Help Bureau, outlined the schedule of Religion and Life Week speakers, and General Secretary Ed King told how various individuals could be helpful in assuring success of the program. Support of the project was pledged by the student body, C. L. Barnhill of Scotland Neck, president of the Ag Club.

Other campus leaders in attendance at the luncheon, voiced their approval of the program.

Student Government Reorganization Plans Complete For Council

Elections Of Dormitory Officers Set For Monday And Tuesday

Final arrangements have been made for the completion of the reorganization of the Interdormitory Council, with the date for the nomination and election of dormitory officers set for next Monday and Tuesday, November 9 and 10.

Dormitory assistants and Student Council members met Monday night and made tentative revisions of the Constitution to provide for the entrance of the Interdormitory Council into the Student Government set-up. Meetings were held in the dormitories on Wednesday night to explain the entire plan to the students.

Dormitory meetings will be held next Monday night for the purpose of nominating a president and vice-president for each dormitory. Final elections will be held Tuesday night by secret ballot from 8 until 10 o'clock. The ballot boxes will be located at each of the main dormitory entrances.

It was emphasized by Student Council President Bob Boyce that the success of the new organization will depend chiefly upon the type of men first elected by the students. Boyce stressed the fact that qualities of leadership, personality, dependability, energy and loyalty were essential in the dormitory officers to be the Interdormitory Council is to function successfully to the best interests of State College and the student body. Dormitory presidents will hold equal authority with the dormitory assistants on matters of conduct and discipline, and will report all important matters of conduct to the Interdormitory Council.

The revised grouping of the dormitories for this year is as follows: Group 1: Alexander, Bagwell, Fourth. Group 2: Gold, Becton, Syme. Group 3: Berry, Turlington, Clark. "Dangling": Watauga, Welch.

To complete their sponsorship of Homecoming activities, Blue Key and Golden Chain fraternities will present showings of complete motion pictures of the State-College game Sunday afternoon in the Y auditorium.

First showing will come at 3 p.m., and the film will be presented again at 4:00. The auditorium seats 500.

Rain or shine, win or lose, hot or cold, you should be on hand at Memorial Tower about 10 o'clock Sunday night when the Wolfpack is slated to return from its Miami trip.

They're going to be Big Five and Conference champions, aren't they? Further word about the correct time will be spread around campus Sunday. You be there and bring a friend!

and if there is sufficient demand after the first two showings another may be scheduled for later in the evening.

The pictures are being loaned to Blue Key and Golden Chain by Doc Newton and the football coaching staff. Even if the subject matter is not considered, the films are regarded as the best taken this year.

Faculty Group Reviews Interfraternity Council Wrangle After Break-up

Satterfield To Play Annual Pledge Dance Set Next Week-End

Plans Complete For First Council Dance Set Despite Unsettled Break-Up

Despite the unsettled conditions within the Interfraternity Council caused by the withdrawal of five member organizations, the annual fall pledge dances will be held next week-end with Johnny Satterfield and his orchestra playing for the three dances.

One of the three annual sets of dances put on by the Council, pledge dances are given in honor of the new pledges of the member fraternities, and although the Council is handicapped this year by the inaccessibility of name bands, plans have been completed for a good set of dances. Satterfield and his band are not strangers to the State campus and his versatility is well recognized throughout the Carolina.

Plans are complete for the annual pledge figure during the Saturday night dance and although there are to be only pledges from the remaining eight fraternities going through the figure, the ceremonies of past years will be complete.

Sponsors for the dance set will be chosen by the pledges representing each fraternity and the dance committee. The members of the committee and their dates will also appear in the figure Saturday night.

Following the precedent that has been set in past years, the pledge dances will consist of three dances. The Friday night hop, a formal affair lasting from 9 to 12; the informal tea dance Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6; and the climax to the week-end festivities, the formal dance Saturday night lasting from 9 to 12, make up the schedule of the week-end.

The members of the pledge dance committee are Montgomery Steele, Sigma Phi Epsilon, president of the Council; Ed Grosse, Lambda Chi Epsilon, committee chairman; C. C. Robinson, Kappa Sigma, dance committeeman; and Paul Oliver, dance committeeman, Alpha Gamma Rho.

31 Students Petition ASME Membership

Thirty-one sophomores and juniors made formal application for membership to the campus branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers this week, bringing the group's total close to 100.

Initiation instructions will be issued at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 10, in the large dining room of Leazer Dining Hall, and sophomores and juniors who have not yet made application for membership will be given their final opportunity to do so this term at that time. The membership lists will not again be opened until the spring quarter.

The meeting, a regular one for all ASME members, will feature a talk by Prof. Robert Barton Rice, newly named Executive Officer of the M. E. department, and a technical film will be shown.

Colleges Through-Out World Observe Nov. 17

International Students Day will be observed on November 17 in colleges and universities throughout the world, it has been announced by Trude W. Pratt, General Secretary of International Students Service. The purpose of the day is to commemorate the closing of the Czech universities and the brutal murder of over 160 Czech students by the Nazis in Prague on November 17, 1939. At the same time observance of International Students Day will manifest the determination of the free students of the world to fight through to victory.

Van Note Chosen By Scientific Body

Dr. William G. Van Note, associate professor of metallurgy in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, has been notified by the McGill University chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary society for the recognition of scientific research, of his election to full membership, he reported yesterday.

Dr. Van Note was in residence at McGill as a graduate student in 1931, when he was admitted to associate membership in the highly exclusive society. The University is in Montreal, Canada.

Waacs, Waves, Among Graduates

State College, with a student body composed almost entirely of men, now has an alumna in the WAVES as well as one in the WAACS.

Lieut. (jg) Jean Atkinson McLean, formerly of Raleigh and Chapel Hill, is attached to the U. S. naval training school for enlisted women on the campus of Indiana University at Bloomington. She was graduated from State College in 1934 with a bachelor of science degree in business administration.

Lieut. McLean has been named ship's service officer for the new school, which is training approximately 600 women to serve as storekeepers at various naval shore stations, thus relieving men for combat duty.

Prior to receiving her commission in the WAVES, Lieut. McLean was employed as an accountant at the University in Chapel Hill.

Another State College alumna, Miss Maude Schaub of Raleigh, joined the WAVACS and now is stationed at Norfolk, Va., as a third officer.

Local ASCE Members Attend Meeting Of State Group Tuesday

Members of the college chapter of the A.S.C.E. attended the local meeting of the North Carolina Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers at Durham Tuesday in the Washington Duke Hotel.

The conclave was in collaboration with the meeting of the American Water Works Association and North Carolina Sewage Works Association.

Members who attended the meeting were Jimmy Kelly, Moyer Ketchie, Eugene Dysart, Carl Painter, Robert Short, Enos Winfrey, James Dean, and George Greene. The departmental faculty present were Professor W. F. Babcock, faculty advisor of the chapter, and Professor R. E. Stiemke, head of Sanitary Engineering.

Registration of members was held between 3:30 and 4:00. The meeting was opened by the president of the N. C. section, Prof. A. S. C. E., T. F. Hickerson, professor of Applied Mathematics, University of North Carolina. The first speaker was N. C. State's own T. S. Johnson, who is on leave from the college to act as state director of OPA.

Mr. Johnson gave a talk on "State Coordinate System of Maps." This was followed by a talk by Professor Louise Hall of Duke University on "How Duke University is Training Coeds in Drawing and Cartography to Take Their Place in Engineering for the Duration." Mr. William M. Pratt of Durham then gave a talk on a proposed creed for civil engineers or possibly all engineers.

After the speeches, Richard Lynch, president of the Duke student chapter of the A.S.C.E., took charge of the meeting and announced the agenda.

Four-Man Committee Hears Arguments; No Definite Decision Told

A four man faculty board, appointed by the administration, met with fraternity leaders yesterday in an open discussion in an effort to smooth out the troubles of the Interfraternity Council resulting from the walk-out staged by five member organizations.

Disension over the alleged non-rotation of dance committees is blamed for the disgruntled withdrawal of five fraternities from the Council last week.

No definite agreement was reached yesterday and although the meeting failed to settle the squabble, all of the dirty linen of the council was thoroughly aired.

A further mix-up added to the general tangle of opposing ideas when Dean Gloyd stated that the five fraternities were still members of the council and would be for six months hence notwithstanding their letter of withdrawal. If it be true, the members of the organizations attempting the wholesale break-up of the council as it now stands will be held liable for their dues for the remainder of the year and will still hold membership in the council.

The secession was brought out into the open when representatives of the five fraternities, Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Tau, Alpha Lambda Tau, and Alpha Kappa Pi, walked out of the regular Interfraternity Council meeting last week following the presentation of a letter of resignation by Claude Dawson.

Arthur Finn Bowen

A real friend of State College and of State College students has passed away.

Arthur Finn Bowen, who served the college for 43 years, as treasurer since 1922, until his death in Raleigh Tuesday, many times demonstrated his imperishable affection for young students. Never was a student in financial straits turned away without some form of assistance, and never did a State College student leave school because help from Arthur Finn Bowen was lacking. Not too widely known on the campus, Mr. Bowen was revered and loved by all who did know him. He is one of those who made State College what it is today.

Lest You Forget!

(Tear this item out and put in a conspicuous place in your room.)

The schedule for the dormitory telephones is as follows:

Sunday: From 2 p.m. until 10 p.m.
Monday through Friday: From 12 noon until 11 p.m.
Saturday: From 12 noon until 4 p.m.
From 6 p.m. until 11 p.m.

Please bear in mind that there is only one operator to control all calls to and from the dormitories, so PLEASE BE PATIENT! The operator will get to you as soon as he possibly can—it is not humanly possible to acknowledge the receipt of your call as soon as you lift the receiver from the hook.

PLEASE RESTRICT CALLS BEFORE 6 P. M. TO FIVE MINUTES, AND ALL CALLS THEREAFTER TO NOT MORE THAN THREE MINUTES.

There are only five plugs for outgoing calls, and twenty-five telephones trying to place outside calls. PLEASE WAIT YOUR TURN IF THE LINES ARE BUSY.

For Quicker Service—PLEASE DON'T JIGGLE THE HOOK—the operator can see that you desire to place a call. More often than not, when you jiggle the hook it delays your call as well as those following you. The operator will get you WHEN YOUR TURN COMES. When you jiggle the hook it slows down the efforts for efficient work of the operator.

Have your telephone number ready when the operator asks for it, and please don't have to look it up again. Tell your number to the operator CLEARLY, DISTINCTLY, AND NOT TOO FAST.

Please restrict your calls to only the vitally necessary ones when using the telephone; if you wish to talk to a friend in the same dormitory, GO SEE HIM—DON'T USE THE PHONE IF YOU ARE TOO LAZY TO WALK UP A FLIGHT OR SO OF STAIRS! Another reason for this request is that others wish to use the telephone, and are entitled to do so; therefore, please reduce your calls to a minimum.

REMEMBER, TOO—there is a contest for the best dormitory assistant, and the telephone plays an important part of the points to be judged. HELP YOUR DORMITORY ASSISTANT TO WIN!

REPAIRS ARE PRACTICALLY IMPOSSIBLE—IF YOU WANT TO CONTINUE TO USE YOUR PHONE, TREAT IT WITH CARE.

Please COOPERATE WITH US, AND IN TURN RECEIVE BETTER SERVICE FROM YOUR TELEPHONE OPERATOR.

THE OPERATORS.

OPEN FORUM

To Members of Our Faculty and Military Department:

Dear Sir:

There prevails a feeling among many students here at State College that they should be toughening themselves up in preparation for the greater fight yet to come. However, quite in contrast, our athletic program has been stepped up very little and not expanded to cover those who have completed their two years of physical education.

At Carolina the gym course has been expanded from two to four times a week. This is for all students in every class that are physically capable and includes an obstacle course which the Carolina students say is very tough, but is making them feel in better shape than they have in years.

So, on behalf of the students, especially many of those taking advanced military who in camp will have to learn how to cover such a course, and on behalf of Scabbard and Blade military fraternity who will back such a move, I would like to urge that such a course be built here.

The cost of a few logs, ropes, fences, and wires would be very little; the space beyond the track, or in Pullen Park is more than adequate, and support and help can easily be found. We feel that its merits are many and since it represents a need and wish of many students, we believe it would be a very worthwhile addition to our curriculum and campus.

H. J. STOCKARD, Jr.,
Captain, Scabbard and Blade.

SHARPS and FLATS

by R. D. GUYTON

This corner thinks that congratulations are in order for the members of Blue Key and Golden Chain. It was a fine dance last week-end, boys, and we hope the Pledge Dances will be as good.

Speaking of dances, Johnny Satterfield has been selected to play for the Pledge Dances next week. Johnny has a band as loud as any in captivity and we should be able to hear the music on this gay occasion. As a matter of fact, it is my guess that most of the dancers will be in the front of the gymnasium in order to safeguard their eardrums.

Another Glenn Miller record has just been released. "Sleepy Town Train," a slow instrumental swing tune, is polished with that typical Miller shellee. "Juke Box Saturday Night" featuring Marion Hutton, Tex Beneke and The Modernaires, gives very good imitations of our juke box favorites Harry James and The Ink Spots.

Have you heard that new ballad called "Soft-Hearted"? Jimmy Thiem has a new recording of it by Tony Pastor that is sure to be a good seller. Tony has dressed this song up in a brand new style of his own, and Eugene Baird sings one of her best vocals. On the other side is some typical Pastorized Swing called "Hey, Mabel."

"Can't Get Out of This Mood" by Kay Kyser shows promise of becoming another hit tune. Harry, Julius, Trudy, Jack, and Max sing the vocal with a background accompaniment that flows sweetly under the Kyser baton. On the other side is "Moonlight Mood."

This is one of the best recordings of the week, and the Glee Club certainly does a fine job of vocalizing.

Did You Know . . . That W. C. Handy, the "granddaddy of the blues," wrote his unforgettable "Memphis Blues" originally as a political campaign song for Memphis' Boss Crump? Crump won the election and the tune became so popular it was given new lyrics and renamed "Memphis Blues."

Claud Thornhill, last year's man of music, is in the navy now, but his records live on. Columbia has released "Rock-a-Bye Baby" and "I'm Getting Tired So I Can Sleep." The first is a duet with a very fine vocal. Perry Allen helps the other Irving Berlin tune along the road to popularity with his mellow voice.

Afterthought . . . Do you ever listen to the old popular classics? Then perhaps you can remember Glen Gray's recording of "Bugle Call Reel." The cut was about eight years ago. Bob Crosby's "What's New," or Larry Clinton's "Deep Purple"? These tunes bring back memories don't they?

Senior Spotlight

The biggest little man on the campus this year is undoubtedly William Walton Wommack, a senior in Chemical Engineering who measures only five and a half feet from tip to toe but who has a string of honors several times that length.

Bill Wommack was born in Winston-Salem, N. C., on December 12, 1922. He entered State College in September, 1939, and since that date his progress has been extraordinary.

His freshman year, Bill was elected a member of Phi Eta Sigma, and he served as president of the organization the following year. He was also made a Companion of St. Pat and became a member of Gamma Sigma Epsilon. As an outstanding sophomore he was elected to the order of 30 and 3, and he was president of the Inter-Honor Council, which he helped to organize. At this time he was also a dormitory assistant, the only sophomore ever to hold that position at the college.

Last year Bill served again as a dormitory assistant and was elected honor Junior for Tau Beta Pi, Pine Burr, and Blue Key. Bill has also been active as a member of the Y.M.C.A., the A.I.C.E., the Athletic Club, the Engineers Council, the State College House Assembly, the business staff of the Southern Engineer, and the Public Lectures Committee, and as Senior Class Marshal.

Bill is also president of Golden Chain; is this year's secretary of the Inter-Honor Council; and is ensign in the Naval Reserve. He has been elected to "Who's Who in American Schools and Colleges."

According to the best available information, Bill is on his way out of the bachelor class due to the charms of "a certain sweet someone" from Burlington, N. C., namely Miss Jean Evans. We may well believe the rumor when we recall that she has been the only girl to have sponsored at three successive football games here during the past few weeks.

PARKER: That fatal day is here, boys—eat your vitamins so that you will have plenty of vim, vigor and vitality to aid you tomorrow

We have piled scrap, we have met Raleigh, we have contributed to the War Fund Drive (or have you?), we have beat Carolina, but now we have a new obstacle course. The time has come for a surprise commando attack. The object of this attack will be obvious to you at a later date. The details are of course a deep dark military secret, but we have inside information that several new obstacle courses have just been introduced to aid the cause. All interested parties who are eligible may apply daily to your local milk wagon between the hours of five and six A.M.

The Fleet-Food Forty has just announced that they will not be out-done by the Finishing Fifty of last year's fame. The two teams have been drilling for, lo, these many months. May the best team win, we always say. This year's events will be even more important, since we are in such a great world crisis, but, alas, the race must be carried on.

It is very important that we have everyone turn out for this great day tomorrow. If you see any limp forms around that might resemble your roommate or one of your best friends, drag him out. We need all of you—and badly. You may be sorry, but we won't! You are the only ones who can help put this thing across, and we ask your full cooperation throughout the whole day. Let us get it! This means a lot to us and to know that you are behind (rather in front of us) all the way will indeed fill our tender hearts with the most humble gratitude and adoration.

We are afraid that many of you are not going to take tomorrow as seriously as it should be taken. Are you going to leave yourself wide-open for people to make disparaging remarks about your characters? It will be up to you to do your utmost to win this day a success for us. The amount of energy you will expend will of course be determined by the individual cases. We leave those small details to you. You probably will not have time to think about such things anyway. You will have just time enough to catch two good breaths and then you are off—with a shriek, if we know you! No, don't bother with your coat or tie—you won't need either of them. All you will need is two strong legs and a chest full of oxygen, and we don't mean a cedar one either! If you come out of this a better man, we offer you our heartiest congratulations. You will deserve it, and you can take our word for that.

Absolutely taboo will be top hat and tails—all we require will be yourselves plus a spirit of good will. We know that you can count on you to do the right thing and we have reason to believe that you will be a little hesitant at first to comply with our wishes, but you will come with flying colors! Another thing—don't wear rubber sole shoes—that will be first place, unpatriotic, and, in the second place, unfair to organized labor. They might help you to move too easily! If you wear slick soles you will have a chance to fall flat on your faces and that will therefore give us a chance to fulfill our duties to the cause that we will be representing. If you take vitamin pills, you will be in no better condition, because we have been in training too long to give you a fair chance. Besides, you want us to win, don't you? It's very seldom that the weaker sex has a chance to exhibit its abilities in such a light! Despite the fact that we have only one day, we mean to make the most of it! Can you blame us? If you do, we are sorry, but we can do absolutely nothing about it. Our minds are made up, and we must do our duty. Regardless of what you may think, we are under an oath, and it is the only right thing for us to do. If you have any complaints, please make them after tomorrow. We will have nothing to say after that time.

All kidding aside, we wish you the best of luck, but we are out to win, so beware! We like you and all that, but tomorrow is our day! This started out to be a discussion of our commando raid, but we may have strayed a little. It is our intention to succeed. Don't think that we are going to let an opportunity like this slip by. It's seldom that we have a chance like this, and don't think that we aren't going to take advantage of it.

Good luck on—Sadie Hawkins Day tomorrow!

GLEANINGS

We Must Stick Together

This is as good a time as any to take up the case of that freshman, Brinson by name, who wrote a letter to The News and Observer about the way student leaders were handling the ram incident last week. He griped about the lack of loyalty and guts that these leaders had, and the way that they sold out the student body on the deal, and he spewed out his "bitching" in the N. & O.'s paper of Monday, October 26. Now, let's not argue about the content of his letter, although it does seem remarkable that a freshman is such an authority about campus affairs, but the point is this: When it comes to campus affairs, keep your complaints confined to this campus. As far as anyone in the outside world is concerned, we students, all 2,500 of us, must present a solid united front. Remember it's State College against the world.

And, if these words seem harsh, we invite that fellow to use these columns, either to take that matter up again, or for any future issue. All of which brings us to the big shot senior who spent most of this week filling out his biography blank for "Who's Who Among the Students in American Colleges." For some unexplainable reason, this chap is sensitive about the fact that his dad is an iceman. So in the blank for "father's occupation" he neatly inserted "Refrigeration Engineer."

Big Dance Season Expected There's no doubt that the top spot on last week-end's calendar was the 21-14 which the Wolfpack administered to Carolina. But, if attendance figures are any indication, the Homecoming Dance, sponsored by Blue Key and Golden Chain, was surely a big success. Although Happy Brown and the Victory Band did not choose their numbers too well—an overabundance of "tear 'em down and drag 'em out" existed—they had first-rate arrangements and rate another appearance on the campus. Tommy Hughes can give the details on where to contact Brown.

But the big thing about the dance was the indication it gave for a successful dance season, even if the bands are inexpensive. Five hundred and fifty tickets had been sold by early Saturday morning, and several hundred folks were on hand at the door to buy the 50 tickets remaining. Three other dances remain on the calendar this term, and omitting Pledge Dances because they're formal, ticket sales for both the Ag Barnwarming and the Monogram Dance are expected to be brisk. So make your plans early.

That's How It Started

When we enter as Freshmen we find conditions existing a certain way on the campus, and so we assume that it has always been so. One vital campus force, that we follow without hesitation and never give another thought to, is the nine-minute period between classes. How many juniors, sophs or fresh know that until September, 1899, when the present seniors entered only seven minutes was allowed to change classes? But the new Textile Building opened that term, and after a few weeks in which the Nelson-men walked their feet off trying to get out there in time, it was decided to lengthen the period by two minutes. That's how it started.

Not many freshmen know much about Phi Eta Sigma, which is their scholarship honor fraternity. With this term now entering its home stretch, it would be swell if Phi Eta Sigma started a little publicity campaign aimed at the class of 1946.

Ten Day Laundry Service

We would like to ask the Student Welfare Committee for some report to the students about our college laundry. There have been complaints heard every year, about one thing or another, but it would appear that this year's gripe about the eight to ten days required to get a handle back is valid. Few students have enough extra shirts, etc., to stand such kind of service. Of course, there is a labor problem, but the downtown laundries are still giving their two and three day service.

Elsewhere in this paper you'll see something about the showing of the motion pictures taken of the State-Carolina game. From all reports the pictures taken are the best this year, and you can see State's "play of the year" with Faircloth strolling through the Tar Heel line. And, by the way, the Wolfpack is set to return from Miami sometime Sunday night, so let's give another warm welcome to our team. We'll meet them at Memorial Tower, sometime around 10 o'clock.

BOB POMERANZ.

You can help save 29,000 hours a day

ONE second saved in each of the 106 million telephone calls made every day would add up to well over 29,000 hours—would help greatly to keep lines open for vital military and war production calls.

A single second is that important. So answer promptly, giving your location and name, and keep your conversation brief. When making a call, be sure you have the right number—use the directory—call information only when it's really necessary. And please don't use Long Distance to defense areas unless your call is urgent.

The Bell System has a big job to do. By saving seconds you may make room for a vital war-time call.

WAR CALLS COME FIRST!

By EARLE HOLLEDAY

Three sports, touch football, wrestling, and swimming, now share the spotlight on the intramural front. The first of these is touch football, which is being played in an exciting close at this time, while the other two are right in the middle of the action.

Last night the preliminary bouts for the first four divisions of the wrestling tournament were held, and the other four classes, for boys weighing 155 pounds and up, will fight next Thursday night. Semifinals for the fraternity competition comes off Wednesday, probably in the afternoon, with the following boys taking part: King (SPE), Stewart (Sigma Nu), Harris (SPE), Woodson (Sigma Nu), Huffstetler (Sigma Pi), and Rarrell (Sigma Nu).

At another scene of play, the swimming pool, both of the dormitory divisions were run off last week with the following results. A close battle for the freshman crown went to second Becton, which gained 17 points in the meet, with second Bagwell, Berry and first Becton close behind; Bagwell getting 15 points to the other two's 14. In the upperclass competition second Turlington took a decisive victory having a six point lead over the second place team, third Alexander which had 17 points. North Watauga and first Turlington trailing these with ten and nine points respectively.

The top three men in all of the events will engage in the all-dormitory swim next Tuesday. These men include Miller, Jones, Gold, Stafford, Pons and Beecher in the 25-yard swim; Jones, Stickler, Monroe, Dickins, Stafford, and Richie in the 50-yard; Miller, Winstead, Williams, Chapman, Boyette and Bradford in the distance plunge; Weiss, Smith, Siff, Allen, Trotter and Pons in the underwater swimming; Flocker, Gold, Siff, Barton, Gilmore and Allen in the 100 yard event; Smith, Ruffin, Richie, Edwards and Bruner in the diving contest; and second Becton, third Bagwell, Berry, second Turlington, Gold and third Alexander in the four man relay contest.

Freshman Tank Team Boasting AAU Champ

Coach Hines Well Pleased With Yearling Squad In Early Season Workouts

According to Coach T. L. Hines, the newly formed yearling tank squad should accord State College students and fans a new interest after the beginning of the swimming season. This year, along with the added emphasis on minor sports, has also provided several boys to fill these newly coveted positions.

Turning to the football results for the past few days three undefeated clubs kept their records clean in games played. These teams, first and third Alexander and Berry respectively beat third and second and first Bagwell. These contests with lower Syme's victory over Wellen, 19 to 0, Pi Kappa Phi's victory over Sigma Nu by 5 first downs to 2, AKPI's 13-0 win over Phi Kappa Tau and second Becton's forfeit over first Becton were played last week.

In this week's competition four games were held through Tuesday. Behind the playing of the Brown boys and Rogers, ALT took the first of these 28 to 0 over Delta Sig. Also in the fraternity divisions Kappa Sig overwhelmed Sigma Pi 15 to 0. Pharr led the team to the victory. Upperclass play included second Turlington's close 2 to 0 triumph against first Turlington. Although the home line was played throughout the game, the win came when Montague intercepted a pass behind the goal line and was tagged by Beecher, who was outstanding all afternoon, for a safety. In the other game upper and lower Syme played to a standstill. The score was deadlocked 6-6 and the first downs 5-5. No action on the game will be taken now, but if the game has any bearing on the final standings of the division, it will be played off.

Two fraternity games will be played this afternoon when PIKA meets AKPI on Freshman field, and SPE and Sigma Pi square off on 1911. Monday the action resumes with second and third Alexander playing on 1911, and south Watauga contesting Wellen on the other gridiron. Next day Pi Kappa Tau and Kappa Sig meet Lambda Chi and Kappa Alpha respectively on Freshman and 1911 fields. Wednesday first and third Becton, the same floors of Bagwell and Gold and south Watauga will play. The latter two games are scheduled for Freshman field.

Two fraternity contests are scheduled for the following day. Sigma Pi meets KA on 1911 field, and ALT battles Pi Kappa Phi.

sitions, although the team as a whole is still weak from the lack of adequate swimmers.

Among the members of the freshman 18-man squad are several swimmers who have shown their ability in the past. Bob Hayward of Durham, who was state high school diving champion last year, has been looking good in recent drills and should be a reliable point-winner. Bill Powell, a 1941 A.A.U. champion, has also been outstanding in the backstroke and free-style distance divisions and should be able to handle most of the competition there.

Several other members of the squad who have been making an Impressions in their individual divisions are: Boyce Brown, Jr., 50 yard free-style; Allan Weiss, breast and backstroke; and Wilson Vaughn, free-style and breaststroke. These swimmers should occupy positions on the first team. The harder drills, however, which will begin soon, will show up weaknesses in their style.

At present no meets for the freshmen have been scheduled, but it is probable that five meets will be held, the first being around the first of the year. The freshmen will also meet the varsity in an intersquad meet.

The members of the yearling squad are as follows: Joe Bourne, 50 yard free-style; relay; Bobby Howard, diver; Frank W. Miller, 50 yard free-style; Bill Powell, 220 yard free-style; backstroke; Allan Weiss, breaststroke, free-style, backstroke; Wilson Vaughn, free-style, breaststroke; Ira Antim, free-style, breaststroke; Howard Weimich, free-style; Jesse Ball, Conann Gold, E. As yet, a full squad of freshmen has not been organized. More boys are urged to report to Coach Tom Hines sometime in the near future.

Carolina's Jinx

Art Faircloth finally came into his own last Saturday against Carolina, when he tucked the ball behind his back and stroled through the Tar Heel line for a touchdown. It was the big blond tailback's best game of the current season, with his running, passing, and punting consistently putting the Carolinians at a disadvantage. Art first gained popularity when he scored one of the two touchdowns against the 1941 Tar Heels, but since that time, he hadn't been performing as expected. However, indications are that his slump is past, and great things are expected from Faircloth in the future.

Tar Heels Overcome By Diversified Attack

Faircloth Stars With Hidden Ball Play, Hapless Tar Heels Baffled

We do it again! Yep, flashing one of the most diversified attacks seen this year, the State College Wolfpack sailed into the Tar Heels from Carolina last Saturday, and emerged very definitely the victor.

Once, just fifteen seconds before the first half expired, Walt Pupa heaved a long pass to the supposedly ailing Joe Austin, who had already gotten past the State safety man. If Joe's leg had been pained him in the past, certainly it was a long time before Saturday's game.

Again late in the fourth quarter, Carolina seemed to come to life after a series of short passes over center, and Myers hit right tackle for the second and last Tar Heel touchdown.

Those two scores tell the whole story of Carolina's part in last week's game. The rest of the time it was all State College. The most beautiful play of the game and one that threw the Riddick Stadium press box into a state of wild enthusiasm, was the hidden ball act put on by Art Faircloth. After the wingback came around on the play and pretended to take the ball from Faircloth, the big Washington back, tucked the pigskin up against his backbone, and casually trotted through the middle of the baffled Tar Heel line. Not until Art strolled past the Carolina safety man did anybody on Tatum's squad find out where the ball really was, and then it was too late.

In the meantime, the wingback, who was supposed to have the ball, was tackled beautifully all to no avail.

Never has there been a more exciting finale to a gridiron encounter than the fans witnessed Saturday. To begin with, Hoot Gibson intercepted a fourth down pass deep in State territory and ran it back to the Carolina 45. There he tried to lateral to Jimmy Allen, but Billy Myers came from nowhere to intercept the lateral on the Tar Heel 48. On the next play, another desperate pass from the hands of Art Faircloth was intercepted by Suniwick at the quarterback post. Co-captain Marion "Bolo" Stillwell, who is having his greatest season with the Wolfpack, will be at left end, with Jardine "Hoot" Gibson, a 195-pounder at right wing. The tackles will be Joe Kwiatkowski of Jeanette, Pa., and Taylor Moser of Burlington, N. C.; the guards, Dink Caton and Charlie Riddle, both North Carolinians; the center will be Co-captain Jimmy Allen of Raleigh; and the other three backs will be Eddie Teague, sophomore of Washington, D. C., at tailback, Foy Clark of Raleigh at wingback, and 155-pound Buck Senter of Raleigh at fullback.

The fans were too weak to move very quickly, and the crowd lingered in the stadium as if asking for more. The bands representing the two institutions rushed to the two goal posts and began playing school songs—it was the last appearance for the two organizations this season. Everybody is happy now—we beat Carolina again!

Doc Warns Pack About Hurricane's Strength

Wolfpack Meets Florida School In Orange Bowl Stadium

North Carolina State's light but tricky Wolfpack eleven, second place team in the Southern Conference race, arrived in Miami today for tomorrow afternoon's game with the University of Miami Hurricanes in the Orange Bowl. Coach "Doc" Newton took a squad of 33 men, all except two of whom were pronounced in tip-top shape.

Newton said that Ray Benbenek, fullback, and Rene Burnier, wingback, would see only limited service because of injuries in previous games. "Otherwise," he said, "we expect to use our full squad because of the heat, the long train trip, and last week's grueling battle with the University of North Carolina Tar Heels."

Coach Jack Harding of the Hurricanes is reported to have worked the Miami squad hard all week in the hopes of continuing Miami's unbeaten record in college competition this season. The Hurricanes has rolled up 149 points while yielding only 25 in trouncing Tampa, St. Louis U., Rollins and Furman after an opening game loss to the Jacksonville Naval Air Base eleven, led by George McAfee, former Duke and Chicago Bears star.

Coach Newton said that Joe Suniwick, 165-pound New Jersey boy who is playing his first season of varsity football, will start at blocking back in place of Renfrow "Peanut" Doak who played regularly at this post before being drafted last week-end. Cecil Fry, a senior of Raleigh, N. C., is expected to provide relief for Suniwick at the quarterback post.

Co-captain Marion "Bolo" Stillwell, who is having his greatest season with the Wolfpack, will be at left end, with Jardine "Hoot" Gibson, a 195-pounder at right wing. The tackles will be Joe Kwiatkowski of Jeanette, Pa., and Taylor Moser of Burlington, N. C.; the guards, Dink Caton and Charlie Riddle, both North Carolinians; the center will be Co-captain Jimmy Allen of Raleigh; and the other three backs will be Eddie Teague, sophomore of Washington, D. C., at tailback, Foy Clark of Raleigh at wingback, and 155-pound Buck Senter of Raleigh at fullback.

National Experts Are Fooled By Wolfpack

Prognosticators Call State College Games Right Only Twice In Seven Trials

With the exception of two encounters, the current edition of the State College Wolfpack has completely baffled the so-called national experts at calling gridiron final results.

To begin with, a supposedly superior Red and White team could only eke out a 9-0 tie with Little Davidson. Next, as was expected, the Pack steam-rolled over a weak Richmond University squad; to give the prognosticators a ray of hope. The only other game to go as the experts predicted has been the State-Navy Pre-Flight encounter, they saw the Navy cadets score a 19-7 victory after coming from behind in the second half.

In the rest of their schedule, the Wolves have caused prediction percentages to drop time and again. Only a few sports writers expected the Pack to top Clemson, a team counter with the Florida school were definitely knocked out from their lofty perches when they hit the turf of Riddick Stadium. Now comes the Miami University game—one to be played in the land of sunshine. In their only other encounter with the Florida school (1939), the Wolves came out on the bottom, 27-7. This year, according to the National Football News, State College enjoys a six point advantage over Miami. What will it be this week—another wrong prediction, or a win for the Wolfpack? We say a win for the Wolfpack!

MORGAN'S MUSINGS By JIM MORGAN

Another N.C.S. Gyp Just after the first Wolfpack game of the current season—the Davidson game, played in Wilmington—this corner expressed disgust over the treatment afforded the Wolves by the college athletic business staff. This "bad treatment" was in the form of terrible rooms in the coastal city, and poor transportation facilities. Our complaint was based on the fact that the Davidson Wildcats received reverse treatment—excellent rooms and comfortable transportation.

Now, we want to put a complaint on behalf of a part of the State College faculty and the majority of the Signal Corps unit of the R.O.T.C. In laying out a portion of Riddick Stadium for students and faculty for the Carolina game, someone's gross mismanagement was responsible for a group of something like 350 being forced to sit on the ten-yard line because the student section wasn't large enough.

Our argument is this—each student in the college pays an athletic fee of $15, the great majority of which is apportioned to football. At the rate of four home games a year, we are paying about the same as any outsider for a seat in Riddick Stadium. If, after a student pays for a seat, that seat is sold again to an outsider, at a price of about $6 has been paid for it.

Somebody is making a lot of money, and making it by taking an unfair advantage of the students, who can't do anything about it.

How about it, Holladay Hall—is the athletic business staff going to continue getting away with such maneuvering?

W. & M. Weaklings Now that the race for the Southern Conference crown has narrowed down to two undefeated squads—State College and William and Mary—a good many people have asked us what the chances are for a Wolfpack conference championship.

If such a situation had arisen about this time last year, the answer would be that the chances were excellent, but Carl Voyles' changes from Williamsburg do not play the Wolfpack this year, and as a result, may remain undefeated.

As it stands, William and Mary has only two conference games on the remainder of its schedule—Richmond and V.M.I. Of these two, only V.M.I. has any chance of tripping the high-stepping Indians, and that chance shouldn't be given too much weight.

William and Mary has employed clever tactics in arranging its conference schedule, in that all conference teams, of any great power were excluded. It's an easy matter to play all of the weak members of the group and stay undefeated, while other teams with decidedly more power suffer one or two defeats in playing the strong conference members.

In the past two years, William and Mary has suffered two defeats at the hands of conference opposition—both defeats being handed them by State College. When the schedule for this year was being arranged, the Virginia school politely said "no thanks, we have other plans."

That's one way to have a good record, but the Wolfpack doesn't care for it. State College still has the guts to play teams with a little backbone.

Predictions My predictions contest with Billy Prim, Wake Forest sports editor, closed its conference opposition last Saturday, and so far, out of 30 games picked, I've missed three and Billy has called five wrong. This week, Prim chose the games we would predict, and here they are as I see them:

- State over Miami.
- Wake Forest over V.M.I.
- Carolina over Davidson.
- Alabama over South Carolina.
- Clemson over George Washington.
- Duke over Maryland.
- Citadel over Furman.
- Ga. Tech over Kentucky.
- Georgia over Florida.
- Notre Dame over Army.
- Boston College over Temple.
- Vanderbilt over Mississippi.
- Minnesota over Indiana.
- Pennsylvania over Navy.
- Texas A. & M. over S. M. U.

Glee Club And Orchestra To Take Part In Community Sing Sunday Afternoon

A mammoth community sing will be held in Raleigh Memorial Auditorium Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All State College students and faculty members are invited to join the other citizens of Raleigh on this occasion and sing a lot of the old as well as some of the newer familiar songs. The State College Glee Club and the other college glee clubs and all the church choirs will be allotted certain seats in the balcony to bolster the singing of the rest of the crowd, which is expected to fill the auditorium. Sale Stapleton, State director of W.P.A. Music Projects, will conduct the sing, patterned after similar projects which played such a vital part in stimulating morale during World War I. Guest Conductor will be Dr. Augustus Zanzig, of Washington, D. C., who, representing the U. S. Treasury Department, is assisting in the organization and promotion of Victory Sings in many communities throughout the country.

Woman Manager At Varsity Theater

For the first time in the history of the North Carolina Theaters, Inc., a woman has become the manager of one of the houses. Mrs. Cleone C. Baker assumed her new duties last week as manager of the Varsity Theater replacing Dan Gattis.

Mrs. Baker has stated that she is ready to make any worthwhile improvements that the students may suggest as the Varsity is primarily the students theater.

Beginning this week suggestions for improvements at the Varsity will be received by Mrs. Baker, and to those students making the best suggestions the Varsity will give four passes. For the next best suggestions two passes will be awarded.

Pi Tau Sigma Sends Two To Minneapolis

Taylor and Pomeranz Will Represent Chapter At National Convention

Taking part in its first national convention since it was installed on the campus last year, Pi Alpha chapter of Pi Tau Sigma, national honorary mechanical engineering fraternity, will send two delegates to Minneapolis for the meeting from Nov. 12 through 14.

Roger G. Taylor and Bob Pomeranz, president and vice-president of the fraternity, will leave the campus Tuesday morning, and if connections are complete will arrive in the Minnesota twin cities via an assortment of streamliners late Wednesday night. They are expected to return to the campus the following Monday night.

Because the chapter is a new one, and can use some contact with the delegates from the other chapters, the group petitioned the Faculty Council to permit the trip. With money available for three delegates, the chapter decided to send only two in order to cooperate with travel restrictions. The Faculty Council gave its approval to the trip.

These 12 students in the School of Engineering have been initiated by the State College chapter of Theta Tau, national professional engineering fraternity which requires high scholastic and citizenship standards for admittance to membership. State Theater Opens Technicolor Thriller

Telling its thrilling love story in fiery technicolor, Paramount's powerful romance of America's far-flung timberlines, "The Forest Rangers," will open at a late show Saturday night for one big week at the State Theater with Fred MacMurray, Paulette Goddard and Susan Hayward heading the star-studded cast. Others on the stellar list include Lynne Overman, Albert Dekker, Eugene Pallette, Regis Toomey and Rod Cameron.

Directed by George Marshall from a story by Thelma Strabel, author of "Reap the Wild Wind," this latest drama of the great outdoors glorifies the men of the U. S. Forest Service, the intrepid Rangers who guard one of the nation's most vital natural resources, our forests. Plentifully supplied with comedy and exciting adventure, "The Forest Rangers" is outstanding for its musical numbers, including the Hit Parade tune, "Jingle Jangle Jingle," by Frank Loesser and Joseph Lilley, and "Tall Grows the Timber," by Loesser and Frederick Hollander.

"The Forest Rangers" is one of those rare films that just had to be made in technicolor to bring out the colorful and eye-filling timberland scenes and the thrilling forest fire sequences, said to be the most exciting and spectacular fire scenes ever filmed. Technicolor cameramen, working with Rangers of the Forest Service, ranged over most of the Pacific slope to get actual fire shots.

Gamma Sigma Epsilon To Help 1st Year Men

Honorary Fraternity Will Help Freshmen Hurdle The Elements Of Chemistry

In cooperation with the chemistry department, Gamma Sigma Epsilon, honorary chemical society, is inaugurating a project which is designed to aid first-year students. The project was stimulated by a realization of the fact that inorganic chemistry proves unusually difficult for many freshmen.

Realizing that help from a fellow-student can clear up details which might otherwise remain muddled, the members of the chapter decided to help the freshmen as much as possible. This help will be extended in the form of "questions and answers."

There is nothing binding about the offer. The members simply want to help the freshmen, and

Gardner Is Chairman Junior-Senior Prom

First Meeting of Class of '44 Held; Cloyd Explains Ring Situation

At the first meeting of the Junior class, Class President Bill Upchurch, appointed O. Max Gardner, Jr., dance chairman for the Junior-Senior prom. Other committeemen will be appointed later. Frank McDowell and Gene LeGrand were appointed to serve with Upchurch on the ring committee to consider with Dean Cloyd a ring contract. Upchurch also announced that a class budget would be drawn up and presented as soon as possible.

Dean Cloyd explained to the class the rules governing the ring contract. He also pointed out that no rubies will be available for class rings for the duration of the war, and said that some change may have to be made in the ring design.

Col. J. W. Harrelson spoke to the class in some detail upon the background of the consolidation of the Technical College at Raleigh, the Liberal Arts College at Chapel Hill and the Woman's College at Greensboro into the one unit, the Greater University of North Carolina.

He stated that State College had gone far in vindicating the confidence placed in the school by her supporters at the time of the contemplated union, and that we would continue to progress even more rapidly than formerly. The Colonel also said that educationally and financially, the consolidation was sound; that the Greater University has proven its value to the State and the nation, and that at last technical training is achieving its rightful place in the minds of educators and government officials.

Director Of Guggenheim Laboratories Brought Here By ASME, Pi Tau Sigma

Details of the development of the Boeing Flying Fortress were outlined before the Raleigh Engineers Club at State College by Prof. Everett O. Eastwood, director of the Guggenheim Aeronautical Laboratories at the University of Washington, Seattle and president of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers.

Prof. Eastwood discussed special research on high altitude flying with special reference to the Fortress, on which much of the research was conducted at the University of Washington. The lecture was illustrated.

Meeting with the Engineers Club were the North Carolina chapter of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers and the Duke University student chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The meeting was sponsored by the State College chapter of ASME and the Pi Alpha chapter of Pi Tau Sigma, honorary mechanical engineering fraternity.

E. M. Gotthard, president of the Engineers Club, presided. The State College committee in charge of the meeting was composed of R. G. Taylor, president of Pi Tau Sigma, and I. J. Hetherington, president of the student branch of ASME.

A native of Portsmouth, Va., Prof. Eastwood was educated at the University of Virginia and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He joined the University of Washington faculty in 1905 after serving with the Navy Department in Washington and then as River Shipbuilding Co. During the first World War Prof. Eastwood was in charge of special training courses for marine engineers and ensigns at the University of Washington.

WAR FUND

Professor Hicks said at the close of the State College campaign: "I am happy that our efforts in behalf of the United War Fund have been so successful. But more important than our success in exceeding our quota is the fact of high morale, united purpose, and genuine eagerness on the part of everyone to get under his full share of the tragic load that has so suddenly and brutally fallen upon the peace and freedom loving peoples of the earth. The determination so evident in this campaign of mercy and charity is symbolic of our determination with reference to the larger campaign that is ahead."

"Facts about wartime"

"I never saw a fighting man who didn't cherish the very thought of a pause with Coca-Cola. That goes for workers in factories, too. Ice-cold Coke is something more than the drink that answers thirst. It adds the feel of refreshment."

"In war, Uncle Sam restricts the supply. But there's still enough for many refreshing pauses."
