Many Hear Dr. Eddy Outline Peace Plan

Famous Author and Lecturer Gives First-Hand Description of World Leaders and Foreign Conditions

Knowledge gained through extensive travels over Europe and Asia as well as the Western Hemisphere, and personal contact with many of the world's outstanding statesmen, including Stalin, Chiang Kai-shek, Roosevelt, and Churchill, led Dr. Sherwood Eddy, world-famous author and lecturer, to declare in his address Monday night that "the Big Four can come together and can make a just—tolerably just—and lasting peace."

An audience of more than 200 people heard the noted international relations observer speak in Pullen Hall on the theme, "Can the Big Four Win the Peace?" An open forum discussion followed his speech.

The speaker told how the Japanese in their "obscene tyranny" forced deadly drugs upon the Chinese and how they made conditions unsafe for any woman in the captured cities of China. He placed the blame of the Japanese cruelty on the military authorities of that country.

Describing Hitler as "half-genius and half-madman," Dr. Eddy said that the German dictator "froths at the mouth" when he speaks. He likened Hitler to Napoleon, asserting that the retreat of the Nazi forces from the relentless pursuit of the Red Army is the beginning of the final defeat of Hitler's regime.

Turning to the Soviet Union, Dr. Eddy emphasized that he was not trying to "whitewash" the Russians because they are such staunch allies, but he encouraged a critical and sympathetic analysis of Stalin and his followers. He concluded (Continued on Page 4)

Calling All H.A.'s; Alpha Sigma Sigma Election Time Near

Out of the ranks of the students at State College always arise several who are possessed of special characteristics that should entitle them to extraordinary honors. In order that these "outjutting" men may get all the glory that they think they deserve, the Ancient and Honorable Society of Alpha Sigma Sigma was established on the campus.

For the benefit of those who don't know the history and meaning of the society, it can be best explained by saying that the name implies some relation of the chosen student to some portion of a horse's anatomy; some scholars, however, insist that the meaning is derived from a small Biblical pack animal. In either case, the basic meaning is the same, and "a rose by any other name. . ." This noteworthy organization was founded at State College, but newer chapters at Dook and Chapel College have outgrown the parent chapter. (Even a freshman should not find this hard to understand!)

In previous years, ballots for the election have been printed in THE TECHNICIAN, but the actual election and publication of results has been handled by The Wataugan. Since the famous humor magazine is now extinct (for the duration, at (Continued on Page 4)

Tau Beta Pi Initiates

WEATHERLY SIMMONS ROSE BEASLEY STEELE

NICHOLSON BRIGGS, JR. COLE BAILEY

Nine leading students in the State College School of Engineering have recently been initiated into membership of Tau Beta Pi, professional engineering fraternity which recognizes outstanding scholastic achievement and exemplary character and fosters a spirit of liberal culture among its members. Newly-initiated members, shown above, are: R. M. Weatherly, Greensboro; John M. Simmons, Greensboro; Beverly L. Rose, Wadesboro; John K. Beasley, Louisburg; Charles H. Steele, Charlotte; William M. Nicholson, Winston-Salem; E. LeRoy Briggs, Jr., High Point; E. R. Cole, Phoebus, Va.; and J. Reese Bailey, Rocky Mount.

"Housewarming"

Alpha Lambda Tau social fraternity celebrated the re-opening of its newly-remodeled house at 10 Enterprise Street last Saturday night with an "open house" for students and faculty.

Some fifty guests, including a few ASTP trainees, attended the affair, which began at 8:30 and continued until midnight. Refreshments were served, and various forms of entertainment were enjoyed by the members, pledges, and guests.

The remodeling of the fraternity house came about as a result of the fire which partially destroyed several of the rooms during exam week of the fall term.

Dave Stiles of Stafford, Conn., is president of Alpha Lambda Tau.

Class Rings

By action of the President of the Junior Class in compliance with the college rules governing the contracting for college rings, the Junior Class is called to meet Thursday, February 3, at 12 o'clock in Pullen Hall.

The purpose of this meeting is to award a contract for the State College rings for the Class of 1945.

Roy Carnes, a member of the Junior Ring Committee, will have samples of rings showing the kinds of stones that are available. These samples may now be seen at the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity house, 4 Ferndell Lane, or in the Dean of Students' Office, 108-109 Holladay Hall.

All Juniors are urged to examine these samples between Thursday, January 27, and Thursday, February 3.

E. L. CLOYD,
Dean of Students.

Phi Kappa Phi Holds Initiation For Fifteen

Banquet Precedes Initiation Ceremony; Three Faculty Members and 12 Seniors Taken Into Honorary Society

The combination banquet and initiation ceremony of Phi Kappa Phi, honorary fraternity, was held at 6:30 P.M. Tuesday night in the banquet room of the Edenton Street Methodist Church.

Following the banquet, at which President S. G. Lehman, professor of Plant Pathology of the Botany Department, presided and acted as toastmaster, the following faculty members and students were initiated: Dr. Roberts C. Bullock, Associate Professor of Mathematics; Dean Emeritus Thomas Nelson of the Textile School; Dr. Willis A. Reid, Assistant Professor of Chemistry; Joshua Reese Bailey, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Edwin D. Cox, Charlotte, N. C.; John M. Curtis, Franklinville, N. C.; Richard Dammann, Amityville, N. Y.; Oliver Max Gardner, Jr., Shelby, N. C.; Henry Gilmore, Jr., Fairhaven, Mass.; Theodore A. Hardaway, Arcadia, N. C.; Aubrey M. Kirby, Jr., Durham, N. C.; Robert W. Smithwick, Jr., Louisburg, N. C.; Clarence N. Steele, Statesville, N. C.; Homer S. Tolan, Jr., Belhaven, N. C.; and Samuel Clyde Vaughn, Jr., Charlotte, N. C.

After the initiation, the secretary announced that three men, John K. Beasley, Charles Henry Steele, and Ray L. Lyster graduated at the close of the fall term after having been initiated at a special meeting of the society on December 9, 1943.

The president signified that another special meeting will be called for the initiation of three men, Benjamin W. Greene, Beverly L. Rose, and John M. Simmons, who were unable to be present at the regular initiation.

Technician Completes 24 Publication Years

Approved

The Faculty Council, at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, approved the request submitted by the Interfraternity Council asking for permission to let the Black and White Formals consist of a closed dance for fraternity men on a Friday night at the Raleigh Women's Club and a Saturday-night dance in the gym, open to all students, and lasting until midnight.

This proposal does not represent definite plans for the Midwinters set, however, as the orchestra or orchestras to furnish the music have not been signed and the proposed dates for the set, the week-ends of February 12 and 19, have not been finally approved by the Social Functions Committee. A meeting of the Interfraternity Council has been called for this afternoon, at which time more definite plans will be laid.

Bowen Chosen Head Student YMCA Group

Earl G. Bowen of Plymouth was elected president of the State College YMCA at the student elections held last Thursday night at the regular "Y" meeting, it was announced by "Y" Secretary Ed S. King.

Other officers elected were: Marshall E. Propst, Jr., Charlotte, vice president; B. T. Williams, Jr., Stedman, secretary; and John E. Hollowell, Rich Square, treasurer.

Field Worker

A. D. STUART

A. D. Stuart, above, has been selected as field representative of the North Carolina State College Foundation, Inc. The Foundation, headed by Col. J. W. Harrelson as president, was organized to foster the growth, progress, and general welfare of State College and to receive and administer gifts and donations for such purposes. Stuart, a 1930 graduate of State College and former assistant farm agent of Cleveland County, has been connected with the institution since 1936.

February 1 Is Birthday of Campus Weekly; Began As Bi-Monthly; Professor Fountain First Editor

Almost twenty-four years ago (lacking four days, to be exact), our ancestral students gathered and stood by to watch the first State College student paper roll off the press. It was only a four-page, three-column, nine-by-twelve edition with four advertisements, but it was their own paper. The voluntary and earnest effort of a few to give the rest of the students a publication that they could call their own was bearing fruit. They were starting something big, for the students.

Two weeks later the second issue appeared with an additional four pages, the size remaining the same. More and more advertising was solicited, and, after a few more issues were printed, the students decided that most of their expenses could be met through the cooperation and support of the Raleigh merchants.

Credit for the establishment of THE TECHNICIAN on a firm footing has been given to its first editor, M. F. Trice, and to its first business manager, John Guy Stuart.

For two years the paper was semi-monthly, although there were two attempts to convert it into a weekly. Finally, in the fall of '22, the first actual weekly was established. THE TECHNICIAN that year was under the editorship of A. M. Fountain, who is now Associate Professor of English here.

The first year of the weekly was a record year. There were thirty-five issues published during the regular school year, and six additional ones during summer school, making a total of forty-one issues, which is by far the largest number ever published by one staff.

Since that history-making day, February 1, 1920, when the students received their copies of the first TECHNICIAN, many changes have been made. The paper has lived under many editorships and many staffs—the times have changed, the students have changed, the editors have changed, and the style has changed, but the fundamental purpose of THE TECHNICIAN remains the same.

The purpose of THE TECHNICIAN is two-fold. It endeavors to reflect (and, occasionally, in a small way, to mould) student opinion, and to inform the students about campus activities and about outside activities that affect the students and the college. Such a campus paper is generally recognized to be vital to the welfare and education of the students.

As THE TECHNICIAN enters into its twenty-fifth year of publication, we stop for a moment in these confusing war days of 1944 to look back and commend the efforts of those forward-thinking students who were responsible for the first State College student newspaper. They started it, and we are continuing it today with the same ideals that they had—to give the students a paper of their own.

FLASH!

Do you, dear student, realize that there are now only more studying days 'til EXAMS?

Free Press

Of the three all-important freedoms—freedom of speech, of religion, and of the press—there is no one that could very well be singled out as the most important. There is one, however, that gets punched around a good deal more than the other two; that one, of course, is the latter—freedom of the press.

Our fireball crusader, the one and only Termite, was rather taken aback this week when an employee of the college cafeteria informed him that he would have to refrain from further criticism of the cafeteria or he would not be allowed to eat there in the future.

Some might immediately ask the question, "Why, if he thinks the cafeteria is such a poor place to eat, does he eat there?" but we didn't put this question to Termite because it is actually very beside-the-point. We contend that any student has the right to eat in the cafeteria and to express his opinion of conditions there, regardless of the nature of these opinions. Hence we reply to the aforementioned employee, "We'd like to see you do it!"

It's not that our staff is trying to promote a feud with the cafeteria. We are aware, partially, at least, of the difficulties of operation that the management must contend with because of such headaches as rationing and the present labor situation. We also appreciate the improvement that has come with the hiring (about a month ago) of a full-time dietician.

It is our opinion, however, (and a goodly portion of the student body seems to agree) that there is still abundant room for improvement, and as long as such is the case, we intend to print without restraint the opinions and convictions of our staff and of the student body.

Yes, The Technician will continue to operate FOR THE STUDENTS under the free-press policy.

STUDENTS MOVING OUT OF DORMS

For nine years State College has maintained a policy of requiring all freshmen to live in the College dormitories throughout their entire freshman year.

This policy has been printed in the College catalog each year for the past nine years and in addition a letter to the parents of all students entering in September of each year has carried this same information.

The only exceptions to this policy are where a freshman lives with his parents in the city of Raleigh or where he is given permission to live with relatives in Raleigh.

Some freshmen entering College last September (September 1943) appear to have left the dormitories without permission. All freshmen (who entered in September 1943) who have moved out without first having received permission to do so through the Dean of Students' Office are expected to return to the dormitories at once or to file a request for permission to remain where they are.

Blanks for permission to move out of the dormitories may be secured at the office of the Dean of Students. By Action of the Faculty Council.

E. L. CLOYD, Secretary.

GLEANINGS

All rumors linking BXXXXX (censored—We have been blackmailed into omitting our opening sentence. . . . What we won't do for some women). Office scene: The editorial staff preparing to have a good time, while the circulation staff, complete with coed, settle down to an evening of work(?). What blond dorm-resident (male) is so handsome that Li'l Audrey doesn't go home to W.F. some nights? Seems that she prefers to bowl during blackouts—silly girl. What St. Mary's day-student keeps our ed so busy lately?

Who was the audacious soul at the corner of Hillsboro and Pogue on Sunday night about 9:20? Certain wolves residing on Vanderbilt Ave. did some bush-chopping over the week end. . . . 'Tis a long way back from Raleigh-Durham Airbase, isn't it, 88? D. Weaver is reported to be making good progress with Frances of Washington, N. C. Who is this fellow Ray G. who has so many wimmin that it takes him three weeks to get around. . . . Perhaps he could use an assistant.

Suggestion of the week: Couldn't the College whistle "get on the ball"? We see no reason why the whistle should be consistently three to five minutes "off." Also, why not make the blasts a little longer in order that they can be heard all over the campus? We hear that the Ch.E. Dept. has an excellent course in plumbing this term. Cole looks very handsome in coveralls and dragging a three-foot pipe wrench. . . . Are the boys member of the union, Prof? Who are these ASTers and aviation students who keep Gracie of the Ch.E. Dept. supplied with peanuts and doughnuts every morning? That is no way to keep that "whistled at" figure that intrigues us all.

M. Kaplan still keeps the nightly vigil in front of the Varsity box office. Rumor has it that he gets his daily exercise walking from his room to the theater. J. C. Hobbs has a neat sign in his Chev. Two penguins are pictured. The caption reads, "Aw, defrost, Honey." We want to know who Jimmy would be dating that would need such an inducement.

Ahh. . . . Only two more months 'til spring and the time when the nightly rush to the Little Theater will begin, and we will have loads and loads of material for this column. Overheard: State College student—"May I take you home? I like to take experienced girls home." She—"But I'm not experienced." S.C.S.—"You're not home yet."

And now we roll down our pants and put away our shovel until next week.

—TERMITE.

REQUESTS FOR BANQUETS & DANCES

Any organization desiring to hold a dance or a banquet during the winter term or the spring term is required to file a request for such a social function at least two weeks prior to the date on which it wishes to hold such a function.

Those organizations desiring a dance in the winter term must file their requests at once as the Social Functions Committee expects to meet within the next week to work out a calendar for the winter term.

Blanks for filing requests may be obtained in the office of the Dean of Students.

In connection with these requests all organizations should bear in mind the following College policies:

1. Dances can not be held in College class-rooms or laboratories.
2. College dances cannot be held in hotels in Raleigh.
3. The use of the Gymnasium for College dances is restricted to a certain extent in the Winter term due to the Winter Sports Program and the Physical Training Program.
4. The hour of closing all dances is eleven o'clock unless special permission is granted to allow them to run until twelve o'clock.
5. These restrictions are not placed upon our social functions to interfere with a normal social life but have been found necessary through long years of experiment and experience. All student organizations will be required to comply with these policies.
6. The office of the Dean of Students will be glad to try to assist student organizations in working out the details connected with their social functions.
7. The chairman of the Social Functions Committee is Professor F. M. Haig, whose office is 114 Polk Hall.

E. L. CLOYD, Secretary,
Social Functions Committee.

SHARPS and FLATS

By HOWARD KADEN

Oh where, oh where can those records be; oh where, —oh, nuts! The last word sums up what has been going through my mind for the past few months. I wonder what's been keeping them. A few new ones have been released recently, but the majority of the late records are reissues.

Columbia has given us a new record by Count Basie. It is "Time On My Hands," with the vocal by Earl Warren, and on the reverse side is "For the Good of the Country," featuring Jimmie Rushing. I think that "Time" is one of Basie's best releases in recent years, although it would have been better if the vocal had been omitted. The sax section, still as smooth as ever, gives out with some beautiful ensemble work. The arrangement opens with an introduction by the saxes, and then the trumpets come in with the melody, muted. There is an alto sax break, followed by the vocal; the last is good, but if it had been omitted, we would have more good instrumental music. Toward the end there is a muted trumpet solo, followed by a final vocal chorus. All you have to do now is buy the record, grab the Meredith bus, find (or FIND the Meredith bus and GRAB the gal—as your fancy dictates) the gal, and spend a very enjoyable evening dancing.

Orchids to: Artie Shaw for carrying on with some swell music despite severe handicaps.

I was Thieming to a new release by "Freddie McGurgle" yesterday when suddenly two of his rabid fans came running in. They dashed to the phonograph, gave it full volume, and then proceeded to do the standardized Form 12-E job of swooning. I do not know the cause of this, but I can say that "Freddie" has a very good publicity agent. Incidentally, the names of the records are "I Didn't Sleep a Wink Last Night" and "A Lovely Way To Spend an Evening."

Open Forum

To the Editor:

In answer to the indignant freshman of last week's issue, in defense of fearless journalism, and in defense of Gleanings I would say the following:

Of what use is a college publication if it doesn't take a stand against what it believes to be wrong? Journalism is indeed "putred" (to use indignant freshman's spelling) when it agrees with everyone and everything. Let's have more backbone in The Technician—not less.

As for the college cafeteria, I would ask this. How can Raleigh's commercial, downtown cafeteria which advertises, which is located in the high-rent business district, which maintains sufficient well-trained personnel, and which is not "non-profit" sell excellent and varied food for little or no more than the college dining hall? ROBERT ZACHARY.

To the Editor:

To begin with, I don't have any idea that what I shall write down on this page will ever find its way into print in the school paper, despite the fact that I should be very grateful to have it published with my name withheld. The reasons as to why I do not expect it to be published are rather obvious, I think! However, the writing of this down and putting it into an envelope and then mailing it will make me feel a lot better about the whole thing in general which is my firm disapproval of unjust criticism with regards to an athletic contest official. After all, what athletic contest would be any success at all without the decisions of the officials? And I think the answer to this is rather universally accepted.

"To err is human . . ."

The basketball official—or any other game official as far as the matter goes—who never makes a mistake has never been known to make his appearance on a basketball court. As anyone knows, to make a mistake is a part of any person—even the best of us. Alexander Pope didn't write, "To err is human . . ." just for the sake of doing something with words or for the fun of it all; he wrote it because he, like anyone else, knew that errors are made by all people whether great or small. And so it is that I cannot appreciate remarks about Southern Conference Basketball officials like a certain one that was made in the past issue of The Technician; the official under fire of the unjust criticism, being Footsie Knight. I don't have any idea that he or any other official would admit that he had not made a mistake sometime in his calling of basketball games. Also, I know that his reputation as a good and competent basketball official in the Southern Conference basketball circles hasn't just sprung up overnight like some magic beans. And another thing, I am quite sure that Coach Jay would have complained to him the other night had there been anything wrong with the officiating in the game with the Fort Bragg Reception Center basketball team; I saw that game, and I didn't see Coach Jay make any complaints about the officiating either. The thing of it all is that Footsie Knight was most likely calling in the Southern Conference circles of basketball a long time before the writer of the remark even knew the first thing about a basketball game, basketball rule, or even a basketball official.

I've blown a whistle a few times myself in athletic contests, and I know that you can't "day-dream" and officiate at the same time. Alertness is one thing any good official must always possess; and in case there is any doubt about Footsie Knight's alertness and quick movement on a basketball court as well as the conscientiousness with which he goes about his work, then just feel his shirt after he has called a close contest. You'll undoubtedly conclude that he was the one who played the hardest in the contest. Or better still, just try to attract his attention from the game; I don't know of a better way to find out how it feels to be ignored! This is a good way to see the poise Footsie Knight possesses—just the kind a good official needs so as not to be swayed by the opinions of the spectators.

Footsie Knight is no relative of mine nor is he a friend of mine; in fact, I know him only from having seen him officiate in many Southern Conference games; and to this day, I haven't seen a better basketball official in these parts! The most conclusive evidence that I present as proof of his good, fair, and competent officiating lies in the fact that he has been an official for a number of years at the Annual Southern Conference Basketball Tournament. This in itself, I am sure, is more than enough to show conclusively that unjust criticisms of a good and competent Southern Conference official are uncalled for—especially from a school paper put out by a school that is a member of the Southern Conference.

(Name Omitted by Request).

Ed. Note: The cause for this outburst was intended merely as a jest by its author, but the above letter was deemed worthy of print to serve as a reminder to us all of the necessity for good sportsmanship.

Red Terrors Lose To Carolina

Fowler's Fancies

(Don Sapp Pinch Hitting for Dick Fowler)

Items on Basketball:

Lt. Bob Warren, pre-war State basketball mentor, is now in the athletic program in the Navy Pre-Flight at the U. of Georgia. . . . Only a war could make a situation like that of ex-Terror Bernie Mock wearing the Blue and White of Carolina. He is eligible to play one more court season at State. Bones McKinney can play two more years for the Alma Mater. He shot 200 points his sophomore year. . . . Apparently the time clock and glass backboards are out for the duration. . . . Work to complete the new gym will begin after Berlin and Tokyo are no more.

"Peanut" Doak, who made six letters playing football and baseball, is refereeing high school and service basketball games this winter. He helped to coach the Raleigh High backfield in their pre-season drills last fall. . . . The Red Terrors would be more than warm if eight lettermen slated to return this year were back. . . . The play of Stan Kohler on the court is much like that of Leo Katkaveck last winter. Katkaveck was among the best in the conference on both offense and defense. . . . The Duke basketekers have already lost more games this year than in the past two seasons. We aren't shedding any tears. . . . Teams with the calibre of the N. C. Pre-Flight are as rare as orange groves in Maine.

Just items: There are more officers in the armed services from State College than any other college or university in North Carolina. . . . Coach Newton's daughter is studying journalism at Carolina. . . . Taylor Moser is headed for the Air Corps. This A.S.T.P. student will play tackle for the Wolfpack for one more year when things become normal again.

A football injury sustained in high school keeps Jimmy Wilson in civilian clothes. Wilson was quite a sensation as a freshman on the baseball team last spring. This left-handed slugger is the lone survivor of last year's diamond 'nine. . . .

Service Teams To Hold Tournament In Raleigh

Thrilling Contest In View For Local Fans; First Game Friday

The Southeastern Servicemens invitational basketball tournament is to be held at the Memorial Auditorium Friday and Saturday. Local fans can expect some of the best basketball ever offered in this section of the country, as the southeast has more than its share of smooth-working, top-flight service teams. These teams are, for the most part, made up of former collegiate stars who have gone into some branch of the service.

Teams of the Norfolk Naval Training Station, the Norfolk Naval Air Station, Carolina Pre-Flight, and BTC No. 10 were not able to enter the tournament because of schedule and regulation difficulties, but a strong field is scheduled to compete for the championship.

Most of the teams which are to take part in the playoff have played and often defeated the various college teams in this section. The Marines of Cherry Point have beaten both Carolina and Duke in addition to being the only team to turn back the mighty Carolina Pre-Flight five. Fort Jackson has whipped Carolina and Charleston Coast Guard has taken the Duke squad into camp.

The Ft. Bragg Reception Center quint, placed among the unseeded teams, has outclassed Carolina once and State twice.

SCORERS

Kohler	57
Turner	43
Carpenter	41
Almond	38
Johnson	19
Swartzberg	17
Jackson	8
Jaworski	7
Dawson	6

These totals are for the first seven games.

Terrors Tackle Duke Here In Last Home Game On February 1

Kohler Gets Top Scoring Honors for Game With 12 Points

Although they put up a determined fight throughout the entire contest the Red Terrors bowed to the White Phantoms of Carolina last Wednesday night at Frank Thompson gymnasium.

Carolina started the scoring soon after the opening whistle and they maintained a slight lead during most of the game. State had difficulty penetrating the tight Phantom defenses, although there were many long shots sunk by the Terrors.

State couldn't seem to get many tallies during the first as they had only 8 points when the halftime whistle sounded. The scoring was very slow to start, but once it began the game livened up and there were numerous wild scrambles for possession of the ball.

The Terrors came back strong in the second half and it looked for a while that they would overtake the favored Tar Heels as Kohler and Almond were sinking field goals from all over the court, but the pace was too fast for the tiring Terrors to maintain and Carolina went a little farther into the lead. Fast breaking by State failed to even up the score and as the final whistle blew Carolina was out in the lead 42-27.

Bernie Mock, captain of last year's Red Terror squad and now the captain of the Carolina five, failed to show his usual scoring ability as he racked up only 3 points. Mock has been the spark of the White Phantoms for the entire season, and has led them to five conference victories.

Duke is the next team on the Red Terror schedule and the game will be played at Frank Thompson Gymnasium on February 1.

Terrors Beaten By Strong Pre-Flight Five

State Unable To Overcome Naval Pre-Flight Power-house

The Red Terrors played host to the Carolina Pre-Flight five here last Saturday night and dropped the decision 71-32.

Carpenter, State guard, started off like a blaze in the opening minutes of the game as he sank the first seven points that State got. The score was pretty much even during the first half although the Pre-Flight squad maintained a small lead.

After the rest period the State quint began to tire so the star-loaded visiting squad began to creep away, and they had amassed a total of 71 points at the end of the game.

Whitey Myers was the star for the winners as he racked up a total of 30 points. Kohler was the high scorer for State, getting 10 points and Carpenter was next high-scoring for the Terrors as he got 9 tallies.

the "harsh dogmatic atheism" and the denial of liberty on the part of Russian leaders, but he was lavish in his praise of the "passionate spirit" of the Russians to end unemployment, slums, injustice, and race prejudice. "Russia is far beyond race prejudice," the author stated.

Complete unity exists in Russia as far as the war aims of the nation are concerned, the speaker explained. Stalin, who is as "ruthless as chilled steel" but not as cruel as Hitler and his henchmen, is a great general and a great statesman, he declared, and "Russia will play the game with us."

The Soviet Union is weakest on two points—liberty and religion—while the United States is very strong on these issues. On the other hand, the United States is weakest on its attitude toward justice and race prejudice, which are strong points in the Russian regime, Dr. Eddy asserted. Perhaps the two countries can be benefited by the influence of each other on issues upon which they are weak, the speaker pointed out.

The policy of "economic abundance" should be followed by the nations of the world after the war to insure widespread trade and economic security for all the people, he said. The policy of "economic scarcity" will carry the world to economic chaos, Dr. Eddy stated. The speaker asserted that he would cast his ballot for the Roosevelt administration to lead this nation through another critical four years instead of voting for the Republican candidate which would place the control of the government in the hands of the monopolists.

least), the entire burden of conducting the election, and thereby adding a bit of humor and spice to the monotonous routine, will fall upon the sturdy (?) shoulders of THE TECHNICIAN Staff.

The selection of these men without a country is left to their fellow students. Ballots for this important election will be printed in next week's issue of THE TECHNICIAN, along with directions for voting.

The men who poll the greatest number of votes will be named as brethren of the famous fraternity, and the ones receiving the majority among their brothers will be named as officers of the select group. Unfortunately, there is a rule against voting for faculty members, but certainly there are three students you know who would make excellent members and who possess all the qualifications of a real brother.

NOTICES

There will be an important meeting of the Tompkins Textile Society at 7 P.M. on Thursday, February 3, at the Textile Building. Dean Campbell will be the principal speaker; refreshments will be served.
HAROLD GIBBS, President.

Any civilian junior or senior in engineering who does not own or have the use of a good slide rule may file application to purchase a slide rule at the office of the Students Supply Store.
L. L. IVEY, Manager.

HAROLD GIBBS, President.

The meeting of the Pan-American Club originally scheduled for Wednesday, January 26, will be held at 8 P.M. on Wednesday, February 2, in the College YMCA. Dean Brown will speak at the meeting as previously announced.

All students are invited to attend the Youth Conference at 3:30 P.M. on Sunday, January 30, at the First Presbyterian Church. E. Stanley Jones, author and missionary from India, will be presented at this time.

IMPORTANT

There will be an important meeting of the A.I.Ch.E. Tuesday night at 7:00 p.m. All members are urgently requested to be present.

HARRY TAYLOR, President.

PHI KAPPA PHI

Phi Kappa Phi is open to outstanding faculty members and business and professional men, and to seniors who make high scholastic averages during their first three years in college and who exhibit certain leadership characteristics.

Visiting members of the society at the banquet and initiation included C. N. Rackliffe, a member of the original chapter at the University of Maine, and Dr. W. R. Curtis, a member of the University of Illinois chapter and brother of one of the student initiates. Recognition was given to these visitors, as well as to the following chapter members originally initiated elsewhere: Dr. A. O. Shaw, Pennsylvania State College; Dr. W. J. Peterson, Michigan State College; F. H. Jeter, Clemson College; Dr. R. L. Lovvorn, Alabama Polytechnic Institute; and Professor R. L. Stone, Missouri School of Mines.

Welcome,
Students!
