Sigma Xi Chapter Will Be Installed April 17

A chapter of the Society of the Sigma Xi, the national honorary society for the promotion of research in science, will be installed at State College Monday, April 17, it was announced by Dr. F. H. McCutcheon, president of the State College club.

Installation ceremonies will be performed by Dr. George H. Baitzell of Yale University and Dr. E. Carroll Faust of Tulane University. Dr. Faust will also deliver the evening address at the function.

Four more chapters of Sigma Xi are being installed this spring at four other of America's leading educational institutions—St. Louis University, Wayne University in Detroit, Mich., Emory University in Atlanta, and Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn.

Sigma Xi was founded in 1886 at Cornell University by a small group of graduates in science. Its designating letters are Greek initials which signify "Companions in Zealous Research." Only scientists who have completed meritorious work in original, independent investigation are eligible for membership.

Sigma Xi is now established in 130 principal universities and cities throughout the country. The organization includes in its membership a large percentage of the leaders in all branches of natural science. The total membership now stands at 50,000, and chapters elect 3,200 members and associates annually from the faculties, graduate and undergraduate bodies. Sigma Xi promotes research through grants, national lectureships, and publications. It publishes the quarterly, The American Scientist.

In addition to the State College unit of Sigma Xi, there are two other chapters of the organization in North Carolina—one at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and one at Duke University.

Approximately 600 Enrolled At College

Final figures released by the Office of Registration for the Spring term enrollment give a total of 614 students, lowest in the recent history of the College. Last year the enrollment for the Spring term was approximately 1,000.

The engineering school still leads the list with 425, while the Ag school is next with 89. There are 57 in the textile school and the Teacher Education division numbers 22.

The aeronautical engineers, numbering 123, leads the enrollment by departments in the engineering division. The other departments have the following enrollments: Chemical, 88; Electrical, 73; Mechanical, 63; Civil, 39; Architectural and General, 13; Architectural and Ceramic, 4; Industrial, 3; and Geological, 2.

There are now 42 women enrolled at State College. New freshmen for this term numbered 10 and there were 11 new transfers.

The basic division has 409 men while there are only 184 upper-classmen.

Home Of 59th

The photograph, above, shows State College's Alexander and Turlington Halls, where the 59th College Training Detachment is stationed. The former dormitories are located on the south-west side of the State College campus. The small building between the halls is a canteen.

N. C. State College Cigarette Drive To Be Staged By Theta Taus

Sometimes it's hard to realize just how much a good American cigarette means to one of our soldiers lying in a cold, wet foxhole on some battlefield.

Cigarettes are about the only "luxury" the boys in Italy's mud and snow or in New Guinea's heat and fever can have, and it's the duty of those on the homefront to see that those men get this small luxury.

The "Cigarettes for Fighting Men" drive will be sponsored by Theta Tau, an engineering fraternity on the campus, and will begin Monday and continue through Friday.

In addition to student contributions, the Theta Tau boys will canvass all the principal campus organizations.

Collection containers will also be placed in the Student Supply Store and the Y.M.C.A.

Everyone is urged to give his wholehearted support to this worthy cause.

Dr. Moffie To Take New Position for Navy

Dr. D. J. Moffie, associate professor of psychology at State College, has been granted a leave of absence from his duties at the College to conduct Naval research in the Norfolk area, it was announced last week.

Dr. Moffie, who has been connected with State College for the last three years, will work on the use of applied psychology in personnel problems of selection and classification. He will serve as a civilian and will be paid by the Navy. The Naval research project is under the direction of the National Defense Research Committee of the Office of Scientific Research and Development.

Dr. Moffie received his doctorate in psychology from Pennsylvania State College. Mrs. Moffie will continue to reside in Raleigh.

Nation's Crack Unit Is Reported Leaving

Textile Society Holds Scheduled Meeting

The second Spring Term meeting of the Tompkins Textile Society was held at 7:00 p.m., Tuesday, April 4.

Dean Nelson, who is now retired, was the speaker of the evening. He gave many helpful hints to the textile students for use in the period that will follow their graduation. He pointed out that a diploma alone does not entitle one to a position in the world. He stated that the school will help the grads to secure jobs but once employed they are entirely on their own.

An important factor was brought out by the dean in that

The War Department has announced that the College Training Detachment at State College, as well as at other schools throughout the country will be discontinued on June 30.

The 59th unit has been a credit to State since it came here, and the students and faculty will be sincerely sorry to see the boys pull out.

Their history has been one of accomplishment and merit as is shown by the following.

Since its inception on March 1, 1943, the 59th has been steadily turning out men to help operate the world's largest air fleet—the United States Army Air Corps. As the graduates go out into the "wide blue yonder," they have been assigned positions of leadership as cadet officers in more advanced training centers—signifying that they were given thorough and efficient training at State College.

The pre-cadet instructional program of less than six months is divided into academic, military, physical training, and flying sections. Within the last few weeks, several academic studies have been dropped to make more room for flying training. Each school day is made up of one-hour periods. Marching in formation from class to class and singing merry ditties as they go, the men have never been charged with tardiness by their professors.

Academically, the 59th has a fine reputation, according to the instructors. To the proverbial "readin', ritin', and rithmetic" of college level have been added geography, history, physics, and Civil Air regulations. Specified hours each day are set aside for study, and the men are really "on the beam" in keeping abreast of their scholastic pursuits.

The military phase of the training is devoted to familiarizing the aviation student with his duties and responsibilities as a potential officer and to developing well-disciplined soldiers. Since the Army emphasizes punctuality and personal neatness, stress is placed upon inspections and parades. Personal and room inspections are held regularly. Dress parades—attended by thousands of Raleigh citizens—are held each Saturday afternoon.

New men are amazed at the amount of physical training that can be crammed into a one-hour session of bodily capers. Calisthenics, double-timing, cross-country runs, and sports such as basketball, football, and volleyball receive their full share of attention at each class. Strenuous exercise is essential in making hardy pilots.

Of paramount importance in the minds of every student on the post is the ten hours of flying training which every trainee receives before leaving for pre-flight school. The dual instruction in the simple training plane, the Piper Cub, is eagerly awaited.

The boys are very appreciative of the hospitality afforded them by State College and the City of Raleigh. In story after story, The Dodo has told of parties, dances, dinners, and other social functions given for their pleasure.

Campus Mourns Death Of Veteran Steward

'Doc' Harris, College Steward for Almost Quarter of Century, Victim of Heart Attack

Louis Hines Harris, steward of State College's dining halls for the last 24½ years, died suddenly of a heart attack at about 6 a.m. Saturday in his apartment in Leazer Dining Hall on the campus. He was 65 years of age.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at four o'clock from the First Presbyterian Church, by Dr. John H. Grey, Jr., pastor of the West Raleigh Presbyterian Church and Dr. M. O. Sommers, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery with Masonic rites.

Pallbearers, members of the Masons, were C. B. Shulenberger, Ross E. Shumaker, C. M. Lambe, Sr., C. F. Parrish, I. V. Shunk, and George L. H. White.

Surviving are a half-brother, Dr. John D. Hilton, and two nieces, Mrs. Eva Allen and Mrs. Dorothy Peck, all of Swansea, Mass.

Apparently in good health until the time of his death, Mr. Harris carried on his regular duties Friday as head of the College's cafeteria, which serves approximately 6,500 meals daily. He was preparing to shave himself when he was stricken. He was found shortly after his death by H. C. Randeau, a member of the cafeteria staff.

Mr. Harris, regarded as "an institution" at State College, was one of the most popular members of the College staff. He would have reached his 66th birthday on April 7, when Miss Martha Smith, the dietitian, and the employees of the dining hall had planned an elaborate birthday celebration for him.

W. D. Carmichael, controller of the Consolidated University, declared Saturday afternoon:

"The death of Mr. Louis Harris is a great loss to State College. No man in the Consolidated University set-up has served the people of North Carolina more faithfully."

Official notification from the War Department in Washington reveals that State College's ROTC unit has been given a rating of "excellent" for the proficiency of its cadets in performing 13 different arts of modern warfare on a recent inspection day, it was announced by Col. Douglas N. McMillin, commanding officer of all Army activities at State College.

State College's rating was based by the War Department upon demonstrations on rifle marksmanship, tent pitching, map reading, aerial photographs, first aid, calisthenics, the care and repair of equipment and camouflage, articles of war and military law, interior guard duty, military discipline and customs of the service, methods of personal safety under actual battle conditions, infantry, and physical drill. Also included was the administrative inspection of the College's Department of Military Science and Tactics.

The unit is made up of a battalion consisting of four companies.

Farewell

The entire campus is in mourning for a man who for almost a quarter century had served this institution faithfully.

The man is Louis Harris, known to many as "Doc." To those that knew and worked with him he was regarded with the highest esteem and affection.

Men may become great in the eyes of their fellow man in a number of ways; some amass huge fortunes while others help to lessen human suffering; but "Doc" Harris will be remembered because of the many years of service and loyalty that he gave to this school.

His will be a difficult position to refill because of the unblemished record that he has created.

Although his body has been laid to rest the memory of his kindness and loyalty will forever be in the hearts of those with whom he lived and worked.

Be Careful

Many times we have been asked why the students persist in walking in the middle of the campus streets and defying automobiles to make them move—and at no time could we give a plausible answer.

Accidents on the campus, we are thankful to say, have been few and far between, but if some of the students don't refrain from this dangerous practice we're not going to be able to lay claim to such a record for much longer.

The worst point seems to be around the 1911 building where the already narrow street is made even narrower by the parked cars on both sides.

Ample space has been provided on the curbs for pedestrian traffic and everyone should bear in mind that the streets are primarily for automobiles.

Please don't insist on walking down the middle of the campus streets.

GLEANINGS

Spring is here, but don't put the red flannels away or you will freeze to death. Dirt, such as it is, has oozed into the office from several sources this week. The chief of the snooping force really pulled a boner last week when he made his reports on Tootie's activities. Last Sunday, in that state just a little south of North Carolina, Miss Hicks got the knot tied with a G. I., so we apologize and say "best wishes." The Senior Class prexy practically invaded our own domain when he dated the News Service secretary last week-end. . . . Now what was that you were going to do friend (?) if we let out a peep? The Sigma Chi's have a new method of getting publicity, but boys, please don't scare the pin boys to death—they are too hard to get.

May we suggest to "the man that is pushing Sinatra," J. MacCall, "the most eligible man on the campus," that if at once you don't succeed, ask her for a date some other time. . . . We believe that she will say yes. . . . Speaking of the same skirt, J. Perry, we wouldn't want you to hurt your rep(?)—you may walk alone next time. The announcement that the 59th will only be a memory after June 30 has brought sorrow to many a beautiful heart in Raleigh. . . . It looks as if the civilians are going to get control of the wimmin again!

We often wonder why there is so little social activity on the campus this spring. After all other campuses have seen fit to continue with such things as cabin parties, etc., but here it is "ours not to reason why—our but to do or die." . . . Two weeks ago our ed appealed for letters from the students. To date not a letter has found its way to Box 5308. This in itself is not important, but very frequently we hear griping from our fellow students. When we ask these students to write in their gripes they always refuse. . . . WHY? If you do not air your views, neither your student council nor your publication knows what path to take. . . . Wake up; don't be so damn lazy! ! ! !

All good things must come to an end; so it is with the 59th publication, THE DODO. For almost a year now, we have shared office space, but the order has come and we bid "goodbye" to guys we have come to respect. We will long remember after this present hell has past such swell fellows as Walter Elder, "Pinky" Dunn, Sam Miller, Bernie McGuire, Jim Hoar and many others. They put the 59th C.T.D. in the eyes of the world—they let us KNOW that the 59th was the best in the nation. To the present staff we wish the best of luck in your new assignment! . . . This week brings us news that Lt. Harry D. Epting, formerly of the ROTC Signal Corps, has been assigned to a new post. Epting was the most popular officer assigned to State College in recent years. Since he arrived we have never heard any man in his command speak unfavorably of him. This would be a record for any officer! We hate to see you leave, Lt., but it's probably a chance to really prove your worth!
—STAFF.

DEADLINE

THE TECHNICIAN, as do all other papers, operates on a definite schedule. There is a certain time for copy to be in; there is a specified time for the material to be set and proofed; and there is a certain time for the paper to be mailed to you. Without this schedule you never would know when the paper would be out.

When you want something to be put in the paper it MUST be turned in to the office before 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon—that is the deadline for all copy to be turned over to the linotype operators to be set. Copy turned in later than this cannot be used until the following week, so please get your material in early and help the staff secure the best possible coverage of campus activities.

NOTICE

The Student Book Exchange will be open Monday, April 10, through Friday, April 14, from 2:00 until 5:00. All persons having claims on books are requested to come by at this time and bring their receipts. Either the book or the money will be returned, depending upon whether or not the book has been sold.

Because of decreased enrollment and rapid changes of texts, the turnover of books has been very small for the past year; therefore, the Student Book Exchange will close April 14 for the duration.

SHARPS and FLATS

Decca has just released the record that many of us have been waiting for. It's "I Love You," by Bing Crosby, and it is one of the best sides that he has recorded in a long time. In my opinion, "I Love You" is destined to become Number One on the Hit Parade in the very near future. There is something about it that appeals to everyone. The song, plus Bing, makes a very fine record. On the reverse side is "I'll Be Seeing You," which is also good. John Scott Trotter, the man who has accompanied Bing on most of his records, is also with him on this release, supplying an excellent background.

Another good disc that was released not long ago is "Silver Wings In the Moonlight" and "Furlough Fling," by Freddie Slack's orchestra. The vocal on "Silver Wings" is by Margaret Whiting, who has a style all her own. The saxophone section backs her up very well. The reverse side is the run-of-the-mill jump standard, with the same riff being repeated over and over again. The only thing that holds it up is the clarinet solo by Barney Bigard. Bigard, who was with the Duke for a good number of years, just came with the band, and he is the man who shines. Although Slack's band is comparatively new, it has given us some fine arrangements, and it is shaping up in a big way. If you can recall, Slack first became popular when he played with Will Bradley's orchestra. His boogie-woogie piano on "Beat Me Daddy Eight To A Bar" boosted him into public limelight, and he has stayed there ever since. As the days pass, he is gaining the experience that will bring him to the top.

Two sides that will be on counters by April 17 are "After You've Gone" and "At the Darktown Strutters Ball" by Benny Goodman's band. Here are two of the famed Goodman jazz classics right out of the King's encyclopedia of swing. It is a case of follow the leader as Benny takes his talented group through some new and welcome swing variations, and Columbia promises more in the near future. With one number as good as the other, it's a tossup for the honors.

A Greek Speaks

By FRED PAGE

Once again, as young men's fancies lightly turn, it is our task to publicize that grand and glorious institution of N. C. State, the fraternity. Ah, yes, spring is really something in the houses this year. Accompanied by the traditional whack of the paddle, the ever familiar sigh of love in bloom, that old-fashioned profanity by the owner of a misplaced tie, the hum and buzz of the N. C. State houses almost drowns out the snoring of the good people of West Raleigh. But alas, gone are the days when the brethren were seen contentedly (?) sitting in that familiar circle discussing the weather. Instead a bare house greets one as one returns from the library and some six or eight hours of concentrated and condensed study. Yes, an empty house. It seems remarkable just how popular the Little Theater on Pogue Street is these days.

According to Chief Press-Agent William J. Boney, the Sig Eps were quite honored and surprised the other day when those "World Reknown Travelers," Jake and Red (with apologies to Sleepy) returned for a three-day stay at the old barn. While they were here it is reported that they induced a young and innocent lamb into their fold. Yes, even J. Frank was observed with his thumb in the air. . . . Oh shame. So far this term, absolutely nothing has been heard from the Black Shark. If anyone knows anything about this villainous character of Chamberlain Street, please don't tell the cops or Jake. 'Tis rumored that both are hot on his trail.

The Sigma Pis are continuing in fine style. Saturday night saw one of those ever familiar Clark Avenue knock-down and drag-out affairs. And, boy, did their punch pack an unorthodox wallop. . . . We know for a fact that certain parts of Raleigh were colored green for the next three days—and were certain females surprised Sunday morning. The Shadow and everyone else knows. . . . During the week, however, 2513 Clark just seems to have a different air these days. Maybe it's the absence of dear old Gus, or could be that they're studyin', but my guess is the little theatre. What say, Gupton?

PIKA's pride, that tall man from Henderson, was seen squiring Simpson of Circle Drive last week. Could be that's how gossip gets around. Large Johnny is seen with that far-away gleam in his eye these days. Is it a female or a cinder? The Shadow may know! . . . Why is it that PiKA's Eugene Wade needs additional support for his keys? Has he a weak chain or is it that he expects to receive many more before long?

That bright ray of sunshine from Burlington and Delta Sig is having troubles, as anybody should be able to see and understand. It seems that two very handsome captains, a house full of Sigma Nus and their guests, and his own brothers, almost proved too much for little Dickie Gant. He's recently changed his basic views on life. Now he believes that it takes more than glue on one's hands to hold a female. May. . . . be.

Let it be known, now and forevermore, that when Ike Tull decides to bid anyone goodbye, the shorter the ceremony, the better. His guests didn't recover for weeks. Maybe they were just out of condition. That screeching noise that is heard above the State Drug is not the sound effects of a murder. . . . oh, no, nothing so calm as that. . . . it is the melody of some top-notch name band being slowly and fiendishly tortured to death on one of Lou's home-made turntables.

Maybe this, in part, satisfies Drew. If not, T.S.

Sports Roundup

By DON SAPP

Here's a fact that some of you may not know. From 1905 to 1918, State did not play Carolina a single time in football. The reason: the Tar Heels were scared stiff. Yes, it's the unadulterated truth that Carolina didn't want to play the Wolfpack under any conditions.

Time and again State officials tried to arrange a contest with Chapel College but the boys on the "Hill" were always wary of the Wolfpack crew. However, in 1914 a game was scheduled between the two clubs.

Shortly before the teams were to meet, Carolina began to take notice of the amazing gridiron feats of State's great back, A. J. Wilson (now head of the chemistry department). They knew their chances were none with Wilson in the lineup, so they decided that by some means he should be declared ineligible.

An investigation resulted in which not one sane reason could be found to keep him from playing. Far from being satisfied, the Heels sought the easiest way out and refused to take on the 'Pack.

One Thing After Another: Doug

Page was undefeated as a pitcher for Oak Ridge Military Academy. He's a good hitter and likes to play first base. . . . In his "jet-propelled" track suit, Bob Phillips can run the 100 yard dash in 9.8 seconds.

. . . Congressman Weiss, a Republican from Pa., is still trying to get the Army to wake up and allow college trainees to play sports. The wise Tar Heel Democrats would scratch their ballots to vote for a man like Weiss.

There are some ten left-handed hitters on Coach Newton's squad of about 25 players. . . . Both Carolina and Duke have quite a few veterans out for baseball. . . . The Monogram Club is having some lively meetings with the new members in it. . . . Lloyd Ott, who played some corking good football for Duke last Fall, has two more years of eligibility at State.

E. V. Mitchell of the Durham Herald recently picked an all-time backfield for the Old North State. Jack McDowell, State's mighty fullback in '25, '26, and '27, was one of Mitchell's selections. He also placed "Ace" Parker of Duke in quartet. . . . Several high school stars of this state will be on the Wolfpack roster next Fall.

Terror Cinder Squad Prepares for Season

Coach L. B. "Farmer" Johnson is tutoring about 20 candidates for the track team in daily workouts. The successor to Herman Hickman has just one letterman, Bob Phillips of the 100 and 220 dashes, to help form a nucleus of this spring's team.

A schedule of meets hasn't been completed to date. Two duels with Davidson and one with the Chapel Hill Preflight has been arranged. If conditions are favorable, there may be meets with possibly Catawba College of Salisbury and the Apprentice School of Newport News, Va.

There are aspirants for nearly all of the events. Dave Stiles and Julian Rattelade out for the javelin throw; Bill Zick, discus and shot put; Tony Gaeta, shot put; George Sakas, pole vault and high jump; M. P. Daniels, 220; J. E. Reed, Fred Swartzberg, Nash Kenlow, half mile; E. G. Holloman, mile; and Tex Wallner, hurdles and broad jump.

Bob Phillips and J. Moore are listed in the 100 and 220 events; Jim Booker, broad jump; Howard Turner, 440. Others are working out but have not been placed for some particular event are Grafton Pearce, Joe Pizzurro, C. V. Burlison, Smith, and Swartz.

Terrors Whitewash 59th Detachment, 7-0

INTRAMURALS

The old familiar cry of "play ball" once again echoed across the State College campus last week as the 1944 Intramural Softball campaign officially got underway. The opening games were held between the various fraternities, with the dormitories expecting action some time during this week.

The opening game saw the ALT's hand the Lambda Chi's a snappy 10-3 decision. It seemed that the ALT's had the power at the plate and thus enabled them to coast to an easy victory. The batteries for the victors were Stiles and Urash, while for the losers Oatman and Carter handled the pitching and receiving.

The next game saw the PIKA's pitted against Pi Kappa Phi. In the opening frame the PIKA's took an early lead which they never lost and finished up with an 8-4 victory. Bland led the hitters for the PIKA's while Culp and Barrow did the mound and catching chores.

In a rather close game the SPE's found themselves on top of Sigma Chi's with a 6-4 verdict. Heavy hitters for the day were Geluso and Howard for the losers and King

Fine Hurling Featured As Edwards and Page Fan Total of Sixteen Men

The 1944 edition of the Red Terrors of State College defeated the 59th C.T.D. Airmen in a practice game last Saturday, 7-0. Coach Newton's nine looked fairly well in both the offensive and defensive stages of the game.

Applying the coat of whitewash to the Air Corps team were right-handers Bob Edwards and Doug Page. Edwards pitched hitless ball for his four innings on the hill. Nine of the twelve men to face him went down via strikeout route. The airmen nicked Page for three scattered blows but none of them got as far as third base. He fanned about seven in the remaining five innings.

The Terrors mixed hits, a walk, and an error to collect three runs in the second frame. They picked up a run in each the third and fourth innings and concluded the scoring with a pair of markers in the eighth. In all, the Red Terrors secured seven hits.

Camp Butler will invade Doak Field on Saturday for the Terrors second practice contest. The official Ration League season opens Monday with the Preflight here.

A big blow was dealt to the team when Lou Mauro received his orders to report to the Army Air Corps Wednesday. Jack Alford and Davis Simpson will attempt to plug the gap. Coach Newton is trying out Hardy Baker behind the plate to supply more punch.

for the victors. The batteries for the game were Humm and Perry for SPE and Geluso and Cole for Sigma Chi.

Darkness and rain ended a very close ball game between Sigma Pi and ALT in the last of fraternity games on Tuesday. The score was tied at three all when the contest was called off. The rest of the game will be played at some future date.

Mr. Miller has announced that the Intramural Track Meet will be held the last week of this month. The fraternity meet will take place on the 25th of April at 4:45, and the dormitory meet will be on the 26th, also at 4:45. An all-campus meet has been set for May 10th at 4:45.

The events to be included in the meet will be: 100 yd. dash; 440 yd. dash; 1 mile run; 440 yd. relay (4 men); 12 lb. shot; discus throw; broad jump; and high jump.

Each organization may enter two men in each event. They may enter a man in two events and the relay.

BATTLE TALK REHEARSAL!

Split-second communication in warfare calls for instant understanding—that's why it is so necessary to practice up on battle talk. Navy fliers improve their speech by playing back their own voices on the "Mirrophone," a magnetic tape recording reproducer built by Western Electric.
