Count of Ballots Made Public By Pres. Murrill

In the campus-wide election last week, the students of State College voted 225 to 33 to present a $500 War Bond to the State College Foundation, Inc., an organization to receive and administer donations for the growth, progress, and general welfare of State College.

Since no candidate for the office of president had enough votes for a simple majority, a run-off election was held yesterday. The original count for president was: Poole, 108; Cole, 112; Dawson, 68. For the office of vice president, Albert ("Sleepy") Perry received 151 votes, while his opponent, Jimmy Wilson received 131. In the closest race of the election, Ed Wright was bested by R. L. Traylor by a count of 141 to 137. Gray (Whitey) Byrum received 147 votes to Bill Gupton's 133.

In the Interfraternity Council elections, I. N. Tull, Sigma Nu, of Shaker Heights, Ohio, polled 63 votes to Frank Geluso's 47. Geluso is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., and a member of Sigma Chi. For vice president, Fred Page, Lambda Chi Alpha, of Zebulon, bested Chester Gilbert, Sigma Alpha Mu, of Boston, by a count of 75 to 35. William J. Boney, Sigma Phi Epsilon, of Wilmington, defeated Drew Burton, Delta Sigma Phi, of Mebane, 79 to 29.

For Senior representative to the Athletic Council, Bob Edwards took Bob Phillips by 205 to 72. Richard W. Kennison, with 137, Clyde A. Dillon, with 132, won positions as junior class representatives on the Athletic Council, defeating Joe Pizzurro.

The vote in the Student Council election this year was exceptionally light with only 290 votes cast. Last year 880 men voted in a similar balloting. The I.F.C. vote was also lighter than usual, but it is supposed that General Lewis Hershey and Paul McNutt are responsible for that. The vote count was 112.

All students are urged to vote in the run-off. The race was to be a hot one with neither candidate given the edge. School spirit is sadly lacking when only about 30 per cent of the student body has enough interest to vote. Let's hope we made a better showing yesterday.

Pictured above are the sponsors of the "May Frolic" dances, which were held in Frank Thompson Gymnasium last Friday and Saturday. Jim Fuller and his Durham band furnished the music for the opening dance Friday night and Ernie Fields, renowned Negro band leader, brought his organization here to play for the tea dance Saturday afternoon and the grand ball Saturday night. The sponsors are: Miss Ann Paisley Hendrix of Raleigh with John M. Culp, president of the Interfraternity Council; Miss Elizabeth Morgan of Raleigh with Fred L. Page of Zebulon, member of the dance committee; Miss Eleanor Younts of High Point with Bill Gupton of High Point, member of the dance committee; and Miss Aimee Des Plands of Pinehurst with I. N. Farmer Johnson To Be Next Year's Grid Coach

Former Tennessee Guard To Pick Assistant Mentor

Louis B. "Farmer" Johnson was chosen last Saturday by the Athletic Council to be head coach of the Wolfpack next fall. He succeeds "Doc" Newton who leaves June 1st to become head football coach at the U. of South Carolina.

Johnson was given a contract lasting until Dec. 31, 1944. The same kind of an agreement was given to Beattie Feathers who was awarded the position of associate coach.

Last fall Johnson came to State College as a line coach. Previously, he was director of athletics at the Copiah-Lincoln Junior College in Mississippi. He is on a leave of absence from that institution now. Johnson was an All Southern guard in his undergraduate days at Tennessee.

Feathers replaced Phil Dickens as backfield coach last November when the latter left for the U. of Georgia. Also a Tennessee man, Feathers was an All American quarterback in 1933. He gained still more acclaim for his play with the Chicago Bears for several autumns. Before coming to State, he was director of athletics at Appalachian State from which he is on leave of absence.

The selection of an assistant coach will be left to Johnson. It seems likely that F. M. Fortenberry will be retained in this position.

Pi Kappa Delta Holds Annual Dinner

Mandel Honored

Young men and women must be able to express themselves to show their capacities, and the direct class debating system, developed at State College, has provided a "fine opportunity" for self-expression for college students, declared Secretary of State Thad Eure in an address last week to the State College chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensics fraternity.

Eure lauded Professor Edwin H. Paget, director of forensics at State College, for originating the direct clash system of debating, which is now being used throughout the nation.

Secretary Eure presented Newton Mandel of New York City, a member of the State College debating team, a certificate for national individual ranking in direct clash debating. Mandel is one of the eight American students who will receive the coveted honor this year, the State official said.

Brief speeches were made by Professor Paget, Dean of Students E. L. Cloyd, Dr. A. M. Fountain of the State College English Department, and Mandel.

Mandel was elected president for the coming year.

Lt.-Gov. R. L. Harris Will Deliver Address

Sorry

It may seem funny that there is no story in this week's TECHNICIAN about the run-off election which was held yesterday.

Let us explain what we're faced with when something happens on a Thursday around here.

Our stories must be in to the type-setters on Wednesday—and the paper reaches you on Friday. If something is to take place on Thursday, there is no way in the world we can write a story on it; because it hasn't happened when we write our stories, but it has happened by the time you get your paper. There just isn't any tense in the English language in which the story can be written—and there isn't a thing that can be done about it. Sorry!—EDITORS.

Publications Heads Selected for 1944-45

Selections for the offices of Editors and Business Managers of the campus publications were made at the regular meeting of the Board of Publications Wednesday, Chairman F. H. Jeter announced yesterday. The appointments are as follows: for The Agroneck—Editor, George W. Coble; Business Manager, Robert G. Ross; for THE TECHNICIAN—Editor, Fred Page; Business Manager, Morton Carter.

Because of the scarcity of eligible men, these appointments were made by the Board. In ordinary times, the Board recommends two or more candidates for each of The Agroneck offices to the rising Senior class. These are voted on in a special class meeting, and the winners are the holders of the positions for the following year. The Board also recommends candidates for THE TECHNICIAN offices to the President of the Student Council.

Graduating Class Smaller By 44

In addition to their diplomas, the 1944 graduating class will receive the heaviest burden of responsibility ever shouldered by a State College graduating class; for they leave here to take their place in winning the greatest conflict the world has ever known.

Diplomas will be presented to all those men who have been graduated since last June's commencement exercises, and also to those who finish their work this term. The men who were graduated at the end of either last summer, fall or winter term were not given their diplomas then, but certificates stating that they had completed their work and were entitled to a degree.

Diplomas will be awarded in graduation exercises Monday evening, May 29, at 8 o'clock. Lt.-Gov. Harris will speak during the ceremony, and a farewell message will be given by Frank P. Graham, president of the Consolidated University.

Dr. Russell, dean emeritus of Duke's Divinity School, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening, May 28 at 8.

Both functions will be held in Riddick Stadium providing the weather is favorable. In case of inclement weather the exercises will be held in Pullen Hall.

Candidates for degrees number 133, and 34 of these will finish their work at the end of this term; the others having finished their required work some time since last June. Degree candidates last June numbered 177—44 more than this year.

The degree candidates who will finish their work at the end of the current term are: Aeronautical—Roderick McIver Allen, Jr., Henry Joseph Jaworski and Charles Haywood McLemore; Civil—Floyd Powell Barnes, James Aloysius Heffernan and James Brantley Lambeth; Chemical—Harvey Darrell Davis, William Marcellino, Fred Lafayette Myers, Buford Wright Penland, Thomas Benard Pratt, Samuel Clyde Vaughn, and Fred Edward Gorter; Electrical—Charles Query Lemmond, Linwood Dawson Lewis, and Charles Wyche Parker; General—Paul Felix Hilton; Industrial—Edward Peter Breuer; Mechanical—William Royce Allen and Carlyle Aubrey Wiggins; Ceramics—Augusto Lopez Sevilla; Textile Mfg.: Donald Franklin Sapp; Textile Chemistry and Dyeing—Arthur Louis Fried; Weaving and Designing—Mary Laura McArthur; Occupational Information and Guidance—Margert Flemming; Forestry—Harold Woodrow Hinshaw and Robert Holcombe; Agron. (Field Crops)—James Arthur Grose, Jr., and Joseph Linwood Perry; Agricultural Education—Otto Robert Hecht and William Arthur Nesbitt; Floriculture—Alpheus Myron Pratt.

Spirit?

Elections were held last Friday . . . it may seem strange that such a revealing statement should come from a weekly paper, but it seems that someone should inform the vast majority of the student body. Once in a blue moon a State College man will admit that a Carolina student has more school spirit than a local resident. Most fellows know that this is not the case. But just what do you, you who didn't vote, think any outsider thought when he read that only 278 students voted in the recent election. About one third of the students here were proud enough, thought enough, were appreciative enough of our school to participate in the most vital student activity on the campus.

The fellows who did vote should most emphatically resent the laxness shown by the other half of the student body. They should be proud that they are typical of the real State College student.

GLEANINGS

Well, well, the Horne Street gang finally managed to get their little yearbook distributed around the campus. Everyone has seen those cute people who barged in on the freshman class, and from all reports they don't think very much of it. Not only did the Horne Street gang crap up the yearbook but they gave themselves a very noticeable black eye. Half the freshman class (the other half are Sig pledges) were about ready to declare war as soon as they saw the pictures and fictitious names. Enough about that, 'cause it's history now.

Last week-end sure was a good time for "western-pitching." We can't decide whether people had more fun at the dances or afterward, but we know that they felt better afterward . . . especially around on Chamberlain Street. "Hardrock" was in rare form, as usual, so naturally the party didn't slack off until the wee-small hours of the morning.

What's this about a couple of the Sigma Nu's doing a little cradle-robbing. Tull and House were squiring a couple of 13-year-olds the other night. (They couldn't help it, though, as one of the "children" called up, and it's hard to tell how old a person is over the phone.)

This is the last time you are going to have to read this dribble this year, 'cause we're closing up shop as soon as this issue is mailed. Undoubtedly the ed will have some worn out editorial about "passing on the sacred responsibility to the next man," so you will just have to bear with him. It's stuff like that that fills up space and horse stalls.

Now is a good time to give "Snookie" Harper a word of warning. It seems that two or three of the Ricks Hall basement girls are comparing notes about your line—which spells trouble in anybody's league. Don't say we didn't tell you.

We just can't close this column without another word about the Sigma Chi "Loose-leaf notebook." To Collard goes the honor of being the most photographed person ever to set his foot on this campus. Undoubtedly there will be an investigation concerning the wasteful use of scarce film at the "Sigma Chi Annual Falling-off-the-Fence Party" which was held long ago and far away. For full particulars see your Agromeek.

We are nearing the close of State's third war-time year. The times are not as gay as usual, but there's still that Wolfpack spirit. . . . To Dick and Bev we can say that we really enjoyed working for you—and to you frosh whose kind cooperation we DID NOT get, we say . . . thanks (?) . . . Best wishes to you and Martha, Dick. . . . Thanks also to the grapevine who gathered much of the dirt, which makes this column such a pleasure (?) to read. . . . The torch of leadership now falls to Fred. . . . so Goodbye.

HOWIE.

A Greek Speaks

By FRED PAGE

The dances have come and the dances have gone, and where are we. Right back in the old familiar grind, or so the authorities hope. But are we? Not yes but—yes. Many interesting things were seen by many people this last weekend. The turnout for the dances was really swell, and we think that most all the fellows and girls had a wonderful time. . . . We know we did.

Alford, Black, Troy, and Burleson seemed to be leading the Pi Kappa Phi gang. The story goes that C. V. just about vamped all the women present so the rest of the fellas ganged up and boycotted him. . . . At least, if they didn't, they should have. Sellers was seen the whole week end with that extra special date of his. . . . 'Tis rumored that he didn't want to eat or sleep, just gaze into her starry eyes. Well, we can't blame him. . . . We felt the same way.

People are beginning to talk. . . . Yep, ain't it the awful truth. The way these budding "Fred Astaires" are spring up from every bush is really becoming embarrassing to us, the less gifted males. Grafton Pearce, The Rat, this Red Wood, wee Willie Carpenter, Dixie Flowers, and the one and only Joe Monroe just about held the spotlight throughout the whole set merely by virtue of their superior dancing ability. . . . Well, let them get in shape for Uncle Sam's Army. . . . After their training on Frank Thompson's floor, any obstacle course would be child's play.

What with George Lyerly, Freddie Snyder, Grasshopper, Bill Gupton, and thousands more in fine fettle, the "other half of Clark Avenue" had a most pleasant week end. The only regrets were those so ably expressed by the female frequenters of the Sigma Pi house, to wit: "Who let the cook serve that food" or "Who ever bought such a mess," or words to that effect. The boys really didn't realize that their dates had not been subjected to a tough training course, so they let Gupton serve one of his usual meals. We think they're lucky not to have had any casualties.

Charles Coldhard reports that the Sigma Chis had a most wonderful week end except for certain noises heard by all the inhabitants of West Raleigh early, very early Saturday morning. It is thought that two or three dozen hogs escaped from the Experimental Station and somehow found their way into the Sigs' "Blue Room." This rumor has not, however, been confirmed. C. Martin was in evidence both nights as was Cousin Charlie. But Harris seemed to be more on the ball, cause Michie looked definitely stag (pardon us if we're wrong), while "Close-Shave" Charlie was with his one (?) and only, the pride of South Boston. Bobby Beam and Frank Geluso appeared to be on THE ball. In fact everybody was all right.

If you haven't already settled down for a long session with this stuff, do so now. We have at last come to the REGULARS. It would take about three times the space we have to relate all the adventures of this bunch, so we'll have to hit the high spots. The Vester twins were very much in the limelight this week end. They usually are anyway, but this time they were escorted, pulled around, and thrown all over the dance floor by those celebrated SPE's, Sleepy and Bill. . . . The fellas who lost the bet on those erstwhile "World Renowned Travelers," Jake and Red. Anyway they were there, and were they there! Keith and his date were along too, just in case anything went wrong. We understand that they, like Wake Forest's Old Gold and Black (printed in Zebulon, N. C. . . . plug, plug) "covered the campus like the magnolias." . . . Personally we think they did a fine job. We hope they're around for our next set of dances (?) so that the old spirit of happiness and joy will again prevail in and around NCS. Finis, the REGULARS. We were most proud to see Dot Ruffin and Red Wood back in the fold after having missed the St. Mary's Junior-Senior last week. It sure was swell to have our "institutions" in sight. Cole, Phipps, and Pharr were in there pitching all week end. Turk with Sally Ruffin composed about the best lookin' couple on the floor. Claude was with a mighty cute redhead. . . . Boy, he must be some Casanova. . . . True Experiences. . . . 'Tis rumored that his competition (?) admits defeat. Termite would have a word for that. The grapevine has it that Ralph Cole was an unfortunate victim of circumstance, and right in front of the Todde House, too. Termite's word would also apply here. If that last paragraph doesn't satisfy that bunch on Chamberlain, no pay next week.

What with the lights off in the PIKA house by four o'clock Saturday morning, and absolutely no noise emitting from the place, one would conclude that a very dull week end was the case around there. Don't fool yourself, friend, a dull week end has never been seen on Ferndell Lane. With that bunch of Henderson boys plus Johnny Culp, Heyworth, and Speck Murrill, how could the place be dead? We just don't get around, that's all. All we know is what we read in the newspapers (pardon me) and we do know that Miss Ann Hendrix looked mighty fine both Friday and Saturday nights. And didn't C. A. and date look noble in the figure Saturday? Grady (call him sharp in that dinner jacket) Tharrington was with one of those cuter Henderson girls as usual. In fact, if the bunch at the PIKA, Sig Ep, and Lambda Chi houses were taken away from Henderson, what would be left. . . . All right, maybe a couple of warehouses but nothin' more.

Delta Sig's Burton and Tucker were on the beam with Kitty and Jean. (Poetry). Wee Dicky Gant was hoppin' around like nobody's business, making all the girls swoon. Russel looked quite up to a large week end, and who knows just what happened.

Ike, Lew, Gene, Cootie, H, and Sweat want one and all to know that everything, and everybody connected with the snake farm is all right. Quote.

O.K., we quit now. . . . For once Brother Fowler is more than satisfied.

PIKA Beats SPE; Welch Takes ALT

Culp Stars On Mound As PiKA Wins 5 To 2

Almond, Carpenter Outstanding SPE's

Pi Kappa Alpha came out in first place in the fraternity bracket of the intramural softball league last Monday by defeating a formidable SPE team by a score of 5-2 in a play-off game on Red Diamond. "Big John Culp," who was named as the leading fraternity pitcher for this year, limited the SPE's to two safeties which accounted for the PiKA's easy win. The scoring in this game started early when the PiKA's pushed a run across in the first inning on hits by Walden and Culp. However, the SPE's came right back in the next frame to tie up the score after Carpenter tallied for the losers. The PiKA's jumped into the lead again in their half when they scored on hits by Turner and Bland. Knocking across three more runs in the fourth, the PiKA's further insured their victory. The winning pitcher for PiKA was Culp with Tharrington doing the receiving, while for the SPE's Mann and Perry took care of the pitching and catching. PKA met the softball team from Gold dormitory Thursday to determine the all-campus championship. Due to the fact that The Technician went to press before the game was played we are sorry to say that the results of this game will not be available. Now that we have come to this, the last issue of The Technician for the year, we find it necessary to announce the most outstanding stars who participated in the current intramural softball league. Candidates for dormitory and fraternity teams alike are as follows:

Fraternity

- Pitcher, Culp, PKA.
- Catcher, Urash, ALT.
- 1st Base, Gupton, Sigma Pi.
- 2nd Base, Jaworski, Lambda Chi.
- 3rd Base, Almond, SPE.
- Shortstop, Lyerly, Sigma Pi.
- Left Field, Byrum, Sigma Chi.
- Center Field, Perry, SPE.
- Right Field, Moore, ALT.
- Short Field, Walden, PKA.

Above is shown Jimmy Wilson of Scotland Neck, who plays rightfield on the State College baseball team. He was awarded the Person Trophy for outstanding sportsmanship and character last Wednesday at the end of the seventh inning of the Carolina-State Ration League game. The trophy has been given annually since 1942 by Mrs. William Montgomery Person in honor of her husband who was star catcher for the Red Terrors in 1900. The selection was made by Dean I. O. Schaub, the coaches, the players, and Mrs. Person. Wilson, a sophomore in agricultural education, is the only holdover on the State roster. He led the Red Terrors last season with a batting average of .362.

Moore Takes Two First Places To Cop High Scoring Honors

Dormitory Monopolizes On Running Events

Welch dormitory proved too much against Alpha Lambda Tau Thursday week in the all-campus track meet. The ALT's were out-pointed 37-30 in a contest that was neck and neck all the way. The "Welchers" were really rolling, though, since all were trying their hardest to prove their merit against the best that the fraternities could offer.

Speed was the determining factor in this particular contest, as the fleet-footed tracksters from the dorm took almost every running event. The final relay race proved to be the biggest heart-warmer for the dormitory boys as it was then that their representatives really proved their worth.

The ALT's, although definitely superior to any other fraternity, just couldn't seem to keep up with the determined gang from the dorm. Urash, Moore, and Rodgers starred for the fraternity team. This combination took most of the first places in the event, but were beaten by the dorm monopoly on second and third places. Welch took only three first places in the entire event.

The results of the events were:
 100 yard: Harris, Welch; Urash, Alt—Tie; Tucker, Welch; Hepler, Alt. 11 sec.
 440 yard: Tucker, Welch; Harris, Welch; Goslin, Alt. 61 sec.
 High jump: Fly, Welch; Nackos, Alt; King, Welch; Goslin, Alt. 5 ft.
 Discus: Moore, Alt; Kendrick, Welch; Whitfield, Welch; Rogers, Alt. 95 ft.
 Shot put: Moore, Alt; Dickson,

Painting Of Y.M.C.A. Founder Unveiled

Board of Directors Meets

Ninety-eight years ago a young Londoner was inspired with an idea that created one of the greatest youth movements the world has known, one that has had a tremendous influence on the lives of millions of boys and young men.

The young Englishman was George Williams; the movement was the Young Men's Christian Association.

Last Thursday, the State College Y.M.C.A. honored the memory of the movement's founder with the unveiling of a portrait of George Williams at the Board of Directors meeting in the College Cafeteria. The portrait, a full-color reproduction of an oil painting by Leo S. Trimm, nationally known portrait artist, shows Williams as he appeared when a young man, about the time he called together a small group of companions in an upper room of a London dry goods store to outline his plan for an organization dedicated to promoting Christian brotherhood and activity among young men.

The Trimm portrait shows Williams standing in the upper room in old London, one hand resting on the back of a chair and the other outstretched "to offer a fellowship, a comradeship of service and mutual helpfulness to youth." At his side, on a table, are a Bible and a global map of the world, the former signifying the source of all inspiration for service and the latter the world as the field of its application.

Secretary Ed S. King of the State College YMCA conducted the unveiling ceremonies.

Other features of the Board of Directors meeting was the re-election of four directors whose terms of office expire shortly; an address by Henry T. Ware, secretary of the Southern Field Council of the YMCA; and the donation of $1,000 for Blue Ridge, mountain conference and training center.

Directors who were re-elected are John A. Park, editor and publisher of The Raleigh Times; Dean of Students E. L. Cloyd; Dean I. L. Vaughan of the School of Engineering; and Professor Fred B. Wheeler.

Members of the nominating committee are Dr. W. G. Van Note, chairman; Prof. T. C. Brown, and Prof. A. D. Stuart.

Describing the YMCA as a "great pioneering agency," Ware reported that 10,000 units of the organization have been set up in 68 countries; that it is operating 460 USO clubs for servicemen and women; that spiritual and recreational centers have been formed in 60 congested industrial districts in the nation; and that Americans who are prisoners of war are receiving reading material and spiritual consolation from the "Y."

In addition, the speaker said, half a million soldiers stationed in the nation's leading colleges and universities are being served by the YMCA and that 13,000 missionaries have been sent abroad for foreign duty.

Secretary Ware praised State College's YMCA and the directors for providing funds for the operation of Blue Ridge.

Looking to the future, the speaker outlined the following five-point program for his organization: 1. United effort with other religious groups; 2. Learn to speak language of man in the street and get away from theological terms not understood by laymen; 3. Keep focus on the problems and adhere to eternal values; 4. Mobilize forces to find a solution for attaining a higher plane of living; and 5. Have power with people—not over them.

"Our chief job is character building—in other words, man-building," Ware concluded.

Dean of Students E. L. Cloyd lauded the contribution of Blue Ridge in promoting the YMCA program at State College and made a motion that the directors donate $1,000 to rehabilitate the center, settle the debts and to start a revolving fund. The motion, seconded by John A. Park, was passed unanimously.

Professor M. E. Gardner, chairman of the board, presided over the meeting and announced that the State College YMCA is in its best financial condition.

New President Of Alumni Announced

E. Y. Floyd of Raleigh was elected president of the State College General Alumni Association succeeding T. K. Mial of Larchmont, N. Y., Alumni Secretary H. W. (Pop) Taylor announced Wednesday. Floyd defeated R. M. Rothgeb of Raleigh in the first election ever held by mail by the State College alumni.

Other officers of the organization: T. B. Upchurch of Raeford, first vice president; G. S. Coble of Lexington, second vice president; "Pop" Taylor of Raleigh, secretary; J. G. Vann of Raleigh, treasurer. Taylor and Vann were re-elected without opposition.

Installation of the new officers will be one of the features of the annual meeting of the General Alumni Association here on May 26. Class reunions will also be held at that time.

Secretary Taylor was well pleased with the number voting in the initial mail election. Ballots were distributed in the April issue of the STATE COLLEGE NEWS, monthly alumni publication.

These are placed on the ballot and are voted on at the same time as the other student officers.

This year, however, the Board, at the suggestion of the Director of Registration, W. L. Mayer, appointed the men to the various positions, subject to the approval of the rising Senior class and the Student Body. It was also suggested that the rising Senior class meet to confirm the Board's decision.

Chairman Jeter thanked the present heads of the publications and wished them luck for the coming year. Hugh Murrill expressed the appreciation of the Student Body for the continuance of The Agromeck and TECHNICIAN.

WAR TOWN BOON!

"Community" public telephones—some even in outside booth locations—are serving residents in war-born neighborhoods.

Many such telephones handle several hundred calls every month. It's a way more persons can use the available facilities, limited now by wartime material shortages.

The nation-wide resources of the Bell System are enlisted in maintaining dependable communication services—vital in war, essential in peace.

War calls keep Long Distance lines busy ... That's why your call may be delayed.
