State-Deacons Battle Tomorrow

Wolfpack Board Of Directors

These are the men that will direct the strategy of the State College Wolfpack in the grid battle with Wake Forest tomorrow night. Left to right: Backfield Coach Dickler; Head Coach Newton;

Line Coach Johnson; and End Coach Fortenberry. Johnson and Fortenberry are new members of the coaching staff this year replacing Coaches Herman Hickman and Babe Wood.

A.S.T.P. Trainees Instruct ROTC Unit

Military Department Has Smallest Detachment In Recent Years; 159 Men Rated As Officers

With a total of five hundred and twenty-three cadets taking Reserve Officers Training this year, the personnel of the unit is the smallest in recent years, according to Captain Marshal Shepherd, Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

This total consists of 136 sophomores and 387 freshmen. Out of this number, there are 29 commissioned officers and 140 non-commissioned officers—a total of 169 men who hold a rank of corporal or better.

This year the sophomores will have military science classes on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday with the exception of two or three times when the whole corps will drill as a unit. The freshmen will drill two days a week and will have classes two days.

The freshmen will take a course in map reading, and sophomores will study a course in the clothing and care of the clothing of a soldier. Before this year regular army officers were attached to State to teach these classes, but this year the boys who have finished basic R.O.T.C. and were called to service before they had graduated were sent back to finish their education and assist the Military Department in instructing these classes. They will also be drill instructors for the freshman personnel.

As none of the officers will be drilling when the freshmen drill, (Continued on Page 3)

During the week of October 4-9, 63 students accepted bids to the various social fraternities at State College, it was announced recently by Dean E. L. Cloyd.

Rush week closed on Saturday, October 2, at 12 midnight, and bids were turned in by the fraternities on the following Monday. Students receiving bids were given until Saturday, October 9, to consider, contact parents, and make their decisions, these five days being known as Silent Period, during which fraternity men could not talk to rushees on the subject of fraternities.

The following is a list of the students who accepted bids: Delta Sigma Phi—John S. Chamberlain, Jr., Raleigh; Sam G. Griffin, Oxford; Fred W. Mayfield, Norlina; Edward C. Tucker, Townsville; George T. Wiggins, Mt. Olive.

Pi Kappa Alpha—Levie C. Bridger, Jr., Bladenboro; Cliff H. Edwards, Greenville; Steve P. Millikin, Halifax; George W. Rivenbark, Goldsboro; W. Eugene Wade, Jr., Raleigh; Thad B. Wester, Henderson.

College Enrollment Exceeds One Thousand

Engineering School Leads With 723; Students Are From 23 States and Two Foreign Countries

It has recently been revealed by Registrar W. L. Mayer that the total enrollment in civilian classes for the fall term had reached 1,016, with the freshmen in the School of Engineering out-numbering the total enrollment in the other three schools by a wide margin.

This total, which was much larger than was expected, includes 128 ex-R.O.T.C. boys who returned, four auditors, and sixteen special students not receiving college credit.

Freshmen in engineering number 393, while the total enrollment of freshmen and upperclassmen in agriculture, textiles, and education is 273. The division of aggregate enrollment is as follows: freshmen, 524; sophomores, 163; juniors, 136; seniors, 145; graduate students, 26; professional students, two; and auditors and special students, 20.

The students came from 86 North Carolina counties, 22 other states, and two foreign countries. With 885 North Carolinians enrolled, Wake leads the counties with 128 students. Other county (Continued on Page 6)

Both Teams Seek Win In Annual Grid Classic

New A-C Squadrons Arrive For Training

New Men Replace Class Recently Shipped To Nashville; Come From Greensboro Classification Pool

Approximately one hundred and sixty new aircrew students have arrived to begin their training with the 59th College Training Detachment at State College.

The new students spent only a few hours on the train since they came from the Cadet Classification Center in Greensboro. They were met at the Southern Railway station by the new Aviation Student Colonel Arthur Bradstreet. The entire wing staff was on hand to assist in marching the men back to their new post on the campus.

Lt. William Cox was also on hand to see that the men were properly formed for their march up Hillsboro Street. Lt. Kyne was in charge of the train from Greensboro, and visited the detachment the next morning, passing very favorable comments on the detachment and military atmosphere of the training program.

The trainees will attend classes with the old Aircrew students six days each week. They will march to class with a section leader in charge. Courses include English, Mathematics, Physics, History, Geography, Military Training, and Physical Training.

While here, the trainees will be given 10 hours dual flying and ground courses in Civil Air Regulations and related subjects.

No Parade Or Decorations For Historic Game As In Past On State-Raleigh Day

State College and Wake Forest College go into their annual battle for the "Championship of Wake County" tomorrow night about as evenly matched as any two Wolfpack and Deacon teams that have entered into this football classic.

Neither of the teams will have the benefit of the Navy or Marine trainees that have strengthened so many squads throughout the country this season, so the battle will still be one between State and Wake Forest. Though both teams lack the power they have possessed in the past, and have few experienced players in the starting lineups, when the whistle sounds for the opening kick-off tomorrow night, the same fight and determination to win that is the result of the many years of rivalry between the two schools will be exhibited.

This season's Wolfpack is composed almost entirely of freshmen who have had all their varsity football experience during the games so far this year. With the exception of Sutton and Booker, who both played on the freshman team in 1941, the entire starting lineup is completely lacking in previous college experience.

The Wolfpack suffered a severe setback this week when Bill McCormick, number one blocking back from Greensboro, left school to enter the armed services. Coach Newton has announced that either Pizzuro or Sudzina, who has a bad knee and may be unable to play, probably will fill the blocking back post.

Throughout the week, the Pack has been working on special plays for the Deacons, and special emphasis has been put on the mistakes made in last week's loss to the soldiers from Camp Davis. Several men including Fitzgerald, Hayes and Zick, were nursing minor injuries, but will be in shape for the game.

The Demon Deacons this year have built their attack around three holdover starters from last season, Stanford Perry and Searinity. With these men in the starting lineup again this year, the Deacs have a good nucleus for their present team.

In years past, the highlight of the week-end featuring State-Wake Forest game was the celebration of State-Raleigh Day. The event was sponsored jointly by the college and the merchants of Raleigh.

The parade through the business section of the city was always a great spectacle with the college social fraternities and other organizations entering floats along with those from the Raleigh merchants.

The marching military cadets coupled with the gay decorations adorning the downtown stores and social fraternities and fraternities furnished a fitting prelude for the football classic of the county.

The necessary war-time restrictions on tires and gasoline have made many of the old-time festivities impossible, but the crowd will turn out for the game as before.

Get Behind Them

Tomorrow night we face one of our arch rivals when the State College Wolfpack takes the field against the Demon Deacons representing Wake Forest.

When the boys clad in red trot onto the field, let's all be behind them. Arrangements have been made for cheer leaders to be present, so there should be no excuse for a lack of organized enthusiasm during the game.

Last year, the team was a powerhouse, bowling over all comers. Naturally the entire student body was behind them and that, no doubt, was one of the major reasons for their success. Now, however, the boys on the squad are young and inexperienced, but they are giving their all for State College. If any group of athletes deserves the full cooperation and support of the entire student body, this edition of the Wolfpack does.

The game tomorrow night will be a hard fought engagement with neither side asking or giving quarter. There aren't as many to cheer the boys to victory this year as in the past, so each of us will have to cheer just that much louder.

Whether we are winning or losing, let the players know how much you appreciate what they are doing to uphold the honor and glory of N. C. State on the gridiron.

GLEANINGS

State College has already begun to readjust itself with regard to starting out the regular school year with less than half of its usual civilian enrollment. Signs of student interest in the return of campus activities to some semblance, at least, of their status in previous years are evident from the meetings of campus organizations held this week, and from the efforts being made by students to revive some of the organizations that seem to have faded completely from sight in the whirl of war-time activity.

At an unofficial meeting yesterday afternoon, tentative plans concerning the organizing of a Student Government system were laid by a group of interested students for presentation to the Faculty Council. If approved by the Council, these plans should lead to the formation, by student election, of a complete and well-balanced (with regard to the various classes and schools) Student Council within the next week. Its really a worthwhile effort, so let's get behind it and help push it through.

The most noticeable victim of that "amozin' but confozin'" little varmint commonly known as the love bug is Bill ("Ooooh, she's wonderful!") Carr, who is obviously having trouble getting down from the clouds between week-end expeditions to "Aunt Mary's" institution. Close behind "Wild Bill," though, and crowding him hard is our own infant prodigy, Frederick ("L'amour, toujours l'amour") Page, whose visits to Boylan Heights are becoming alarmingly frequent.

In a more serious mood, here's a rather interesting incident that came to light this week. One of the Air Corps cadets stationed here on the campus received a letter last week from a friend in England; like all such mail, it has been censored by the U. S. Army, but this letter was unique in that the censor had also pencilled a brief note on the back of the envelope, reading thusly, "My regards to N. C. State, a very nice place to be," and signed, "Capt. W. S. Williams, class of '42." Captain Williams is from Middlesex, N. C., and was graduated in Textile Management. . . . It's good to know the boys are still think about old N. C. State, though they're busily occupied in winning the war from Alaska to Australia.

It surely gladdens the heart of this human, as well, no doubt, as those of the other 1,015 State students, to know that plans have been made for the first campus-wide dance of the term (and, incidentally, the first of any importance since the abbreviated, but strictly "on-the-ball" Finals of last June). The sponsor is the Monogram Club, and the date is November 6.

Well, enough of this rambling—its off to some much-needed sleep for me, that is, if one Sports Editor Fowler will refrain from shuffling cards with such an anticipatory gleam in his eye; no doubt he is not aware of the caliber of my resistance to such temptations. BEV.

Re-Formation Of Student Council Begun At Open Meeting Thursday

Armory-Coliseum Being Constructed On Campus

New Structure Will Have Seating Capacity of 10,000; Furnishes Facilities For Many Activities

State College is going to have a new auditorium and armory.

The new building is now under construction on the south side of the railroad tracks between Frank Thompson Gymnasium and Alexander Hall. The coliseum will seat more than 10,000 spectators for such events as basketball games, exhibitions, meetings, community gatherings, and will provide space for an armory for the college Military Department.

The construction has been made possible by a state allocation of $100,000, a WPA grant of $100,000, and a gift of $100,000 from Mrs. Charles Babcock, the former Miss Mary Reynolds, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Reynolds of Winston-Salem.

The building will have a solid brick exterior reinforced by steel girders which are now being erected. The priorities were approved by the Priorities Rating Board in Washington since the space will be used for physical training and training in military science and tactics by the Army units stationed here. The structure will be large enough for the entire military unit to drill inside, and will have adequate storage space for military equipment as well as a rifle range on the lower floor.

Present plans call for a concrete floor, similar to that in Madison Square Garden in New York City, which can be covered with soil, animal husbandry demonstrations, making it suitable for stock shows, and military drills. A portable wooden floor will be provided for basketball games, indoor track meets, and other indoor athletic events, as well as the larger college dances.

Dormitory Telephones Closed For Duration

Lack of Funds and Other Difficulties Lead To Discontinuation of College Exchange; Install Pay Stations

The exchange for the dormitory telephone system will close in the near future because of a lack of funds and other operational difficulties.

The college has made arrangements however, with the telephone company to install one pay station in each of the civilian dormitories for the use of the students. The numbers are: Watauga, 9132; Fourth, 9426; Gold, 9338; and Welch, 9119.

In the past, a fifty-cent charge has been included in each student's registration fee to cover the costs involved in the phone operation, but the reduced number of students enrolled has cut this fund to such an extent that it no longer covers the expense. The money collected from the registration fees has already been exhausted.

As a result of the installation of the pay stations, the telephone fee has been discontinued for the duration.

New Officers Elected By Agriculture Club

Members Vote Unanimously To Continue Club Which Was Once Largest Departmental Organization

Robert N. Wood of Graham, senior in animal husbandry, has been elected president of the State College Agricultural Club, composed of students in the School of Agriculture.

The Ag Club, previously the largest departmental organization on the campus, now has a paid membership of nearly 100 students. Officers were elected after upperclassmen in the club voted unanimously in favor of continuing the organization.

Chosen to serve with President Wood were Hugh Bell of Davidson, vice president; Bruce Blackmon of Buies Creek, secretary; Ed Grosse of Gastonia, treasurer; W. B. Clark, Jr., of Wilson, program chairman; and Elbert Brown of Ivanhoe, reporter.

Commander

Col. D. N. McMillin, shown above, is the new commandant of the State College Military Department. He succeeds Col. Brown, who recently retired, as commander of all military units and activities at the college.

Election Of New Officers Thursday In Pullen Hall

Monogram Club Elects Two Sets Of Officers

Plans Laid For Annual Dance On Nov. 6; Second Set Of Officers Take Over As Others Graduate

At a meeting held by the Monogram Club last Thursday, officers were elected for the coming year. It was decided that two sets of officers should be chosen. The first set is composed of the seniors who will graduate in December. The second group will take over when the present officers leave.

The present officers are: president Joe Jones, vice president Jack Singer, treasurer Si Trentham, and secretary Charlie Fetner. The second group includes president Bob Phillips, vice president Keith Almond, treasurer Don Sapp, and secretary Jimmy Wilson. Jones, Trentham, and Phillips are from the track team. Singer, Fetner, Sapp, and Wilson earned their letters in baseball, while Almond gained his monogram in basketball.

Plans are being arranged for the annual Monogram Club Dance to be held on Saturday, November 6. It will be the first dance of the year sponsored by any student faction.

Three Representatives To Come From Each Class; Each School Has At Least One Representative

The important steps in the reorganization of the State College Student Government were made yesterday at an open meeting of the student body in the conference room of the YMCA.

E. D. Cox, student chairman of the Summer School Committee on Student Government, presided over the meeting and in the machinery for electing members of the Student Council. Because of the uneven distribution among the various schools of the college, the members of the council will be elected from the individual classes at large, three members coming from each of the four classes. The students will be classified by classes according to the number of hours credit they have toward the completion of their college work.

So that the Democratic principle of equal representation be carried on, each of the four major schools of the college will have at least one representative on the council. After the election, if any school has no representative to the legislative body, the school will be permitted to elect one representative to serve on the council.

All nominations for the Student Government officers must be turned in to the Dean of Students' office not later than 12 o'clock noon, Wednesday, October 20, so that the necessary averages can be checked and ballots printed.

The election of the officers and representatives will be held during a mass meeting of the entire student body Thursday, October 21, in Pullen Hall. The election of officers will take place first, and then the senior, junior, and sophomore classes will retire to separate parts of the auditorium to elect their three members of the council. Representatives from the freshman class will be elected at a later date.

Herman Hickman Now Line Coach For Army

Former All-American Departs From State After Seven Years Service

Coach Herman Hickman has gone to the Army! No, the rotund and popular coach is not wearing the army khaki but instead is now line coach of the famous West Point Military Academy. Last summer Hickman concluded his seven years' tenure here at State when he accepted the position as coach of the Army line. There is but little doubt that this colorful figure is being missed by the coaches, upperclassmen, newspapermen, and his numerous friends.

A native of Knoxville, Tenn., Hickman enrolled at the University of Tennessee. While playing under Col. Bob Neyland, he made All-American in 1931 as right guard. Experts agree that he was probably the greatest lineman to ever perform for the Volunteers. The Brooklyn Dodgers of professional football signed the rugged grid star after he finished college. For three years he was with the Dodgers, then he turned to wrestling professionally. The famous Dusek brothers, Rudy and Ernie, helped to guide Hickman to compile an amazing record of fifty-seven consecutive triumphs in the "grunt and groan" game. Nevertheless, his heart was not in the sport.

In 1935 Coach "Peahead" Walker sought him for line coach at Wake Forest. After staying there for two years, Hickman was selected as line coach at State by Coach Newton. The brawny coach helped to develop some splendid forward walls. Of an abundant number of excellent linemen, tackle Ed "Ty" Coon was probably the most outstanding that Hickman coached.

The versatile grid mentor also served as coach of the track and wrestling teams. Both of these teams were a credit to the school. One championship in wrestling was his achievement with Red Shiner and Woody Jones being about his best performers. His most prominent track man was undoubtedly Mike Andrews who averaged some twenty-five points for each contest. Yes, State College misses the sturdy gentleman of the coaching staff. The amiable Hickman can be depended on to do a competent job on anybody's grid team.

NOTICE

Football and volleyball may be checked out from the supplies room in the gym but they must be back by 6 o'clock of the same day. Much inconvenience can be saved if each organization would go together and buy a football.

Wolfpack Ready To Clash With Deacons

Everyone Expected To Turn Out for Pep Rally in Stadium Tonight

Tonight there will be the first pep rally of the season. Every student at State College is expected to turn out and show the Wolfpack that we're behind them all the way.

How can we expect the team to do their best playing when we don't back them up as much as possible? The boys have been working hard for this game and they are going to try to win it for you.

The Wake Forest team is not going to be a pushover, because they are going to be trying their hardest to win the championship of Wake County, but if we show our boys that we're behind them they can take this game.

Coach "Peahead" Walker announced that his squad was looking good on both offense and defense. The Forest boys have been working hard on both passing and power plays.

Don't forget, be at the pep rally!

Wolfpack Bows To Camp Davis

Fowler's Fancies

Once again, the Yankees have proven themselves the champs of the baseball world, but wasn't that last game a heartbreaker? I'll bet Russo is the big man in Flatbush about now.

It was really bad to hear about last week's game, but we all know that the Wolfpack is in there fighting to the last ditch, so what more can we ask? This week it should be a different story, as the Forest boys will have to do some hard fighting to tame the Wolves. All the State-Wake Forest games in the past have been hard fought contests, and this one should be no exception.

We should give more credit to the line men who really make it possible for the backs to star. The linemen are forced to play against larger and more experienced men, so we should tip our hats to them for showing such fine spirit.

I have seen only a few boys out practicing for the intramural football championship which is to begin next week. You had better get out and get to work or else somebody is going to run circles around you. This program was mapped out for you and you only. The rules were agreed on by your representatives. The least you can do is make an honest effort to make the program successful.

It is going to seem funny not seeing Coach Hickman around any more. His huge figure was a familiar sight to everyone on the campus. We are sure the cadets of West Point are going to have one crackerjack line this year.

Soldiers Get Third Straight Win Before Near Capacity Crowd

Turner and Andrews Star For State; Stoeckel and Mellus Spark Soldiers Team

The big and experienced Camp Davis team proved to be too much for the light, but fighting, Wolfpack last Saturday as they won by a 27 to 0 score. The Blue Brigade posted their third straight triumph before 22,000 civilians and soldiers.

From the outset, the soldiers were on the march. Stoeckel plunged over for the first score five minutes after the opening kickoff when the Wolfpack lost the ball deep in their own territory. Before the close of the period, Camp Davis tallied again. This time Stoeckel pitched a 20-yard pass to end Nessing who scampered 40 more yards for the score.

The red-shirted State eleven fought the enemy to a standstill for the next two quarters. In this time, the 'Pack started several marches toward the goal line, but beyond that point seemed to be forbidden territory. Howard Turner and Bill Andrews used the aerial game constantly for scoring threats. Andrews' booming punts kept nullifying the soldiers' drives.

However, in the fourth quarter, Stoeckel intercepted a desperate Wolfpack pass and dashed 25 yards for another six points. Later, an exchange of punts placed the ball on State's 43. Then Waugh went off-tackle and eluded the secondary for the final Davis score. Provensano place-kicked his third extra point for the afternoon.

The whole State team played hard against their veteran opponents. Turner came up with his third shining performance in as many games. Andrews passed well and kicked beautifully to share the honors. Stoeckel was the big gun for the soldiers, with Mellus, former All-American tackle at Villanova and later pro star, sparking their strong line.

Transfer students from other schools number 49.

The enrollment by classes in the various schools is as follows:

Education: freshmen, 21; sophomores, two; juniors, six; seniors, 11; and graduate students, two. Total, 42.

Square Dance Feature At Second 'Y' Party

The second party of this term for State College students was held last Saturday night at Peace College for all State College students.

About 45 State students were in attendance at the social which was sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. The affair began with group singing, and later, various groups of dancers added life to the party. The feature of the evening was the square dance which was called by Frank McDowell, one of the former juniors in military who has recently returned to school.

More of the same type parties are planned in the near future if the students show enough interest in seeing them continued.
