Seniors Excused From Plays For Dances Sat. Final Examinations

Senior Petition Re-considered By Council and Passed Favorably; Affects Those Graduating In December,

The Faculty Council of the Col-

The Faculty Council of the College has reconsidered the petition submitted to them by the Senior Class requesting examination exemptions for graduating seniors, and has passed favorably on the request, it was announced Thursday by Dean E. L. Cloyd.

Said Dean Cloyd, "I am glad to say that the Faculty Council did reconsider the matter and took the following action: That all seniors completing their work in December 1943, March 1944, and in June 1944 who have a grade of 35 or above on a subject will be excused from the final examination on that subject."

The major reason for excusing The major reason for excusing seniors from examinations in the past has been that the Registrar's office needed the time between the beginning of the examination period and the Commencement exercises to get all senior grades in the office and take care of any re-examinations which seniors might have to take in order to graduate. This year there will be no formal nave to take in order to graduate. This year there will be no formal commencement exercises at the end of this or the following term, since the policy has been definitely settled to have only one formal commencement each year, that being in June, following the close of the Spring term.

Procrastination Is Perfidy

If American armies decided to "put off" fighting for a week; if our naval forces determined to halt the hunt for enemy submarines until next month - how long would America remain free?

If the producers of armament "just forgot" to turn out guns and tanks and planes; if American generals "didn't have time" to map our campaigns - how long would America remain an independent democracy?

This is a war of minutes; procrastination has become synonymous with perfidy. And

While we can't think of one person who hasn't commented favorably on United States Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps, and who hasn't said "I'm going to start buying Defense Stamps without fail!"-we can think of several people who have "delayed their purchasing." who "won't start buying for a few days," or who had "just forgotten" to buy a Stamp.

We're not writing this because we feel that the students of State believe that V stands for Vacillation. Rather, we want to make plain our assurance that it is vitally important for students to invest their dimes and quarters in the United States as wholeheartedly, as regularly, and as systematically as their parents invest their pay-day dollars.

Wholeheartedly, regularly, and systematically . . . just as our war is more than one isolated infantry attack; just as it requires much more than one concerted naval drive: and just as it necessitates infinitely more than a single bombing flight—everything we do must be continuous, unfaltering, and constant.

There is more to this war than victory; America is fighting not only for today, but for tomorrow . . . for future peace and for the future good of all peoples. The Bonds and Stamps we buy are not only fighting the war, but fighting for the peace.

Students of American colleges are thinking about this world to come; many of them are fighting for it. We who remain here are talking about it, reading about it, planning for it. We must also help pay for it, just as all Americans must help.

The dimes and quarters we set aside are important to the war effort, yes; but only if they are put aside regularly and systematically. Only if they reflect both the urgency of paying for this war, and the continuous, dynamic philosophy behind it.

Make a pledge to yourself. Remembering that our search in the seas and the sky is continuous, that the flow of machines and munitions is never-ending, pledge yourself to fall in line with America. . .

Start buying Defense Stamps today.

GLEANINGS

We hear from a usually reliable source (the grape vine) that last year's editor is about to become dis-gusted with life. He is soon to be welded in holy matrimony to Parker, ex-author of this column. Speaking of marriages reminds us of the present editor. The staff takes great pleasure in ann the marriage of the editor, G. West, on May 8.

. Coeds please note: The staffs of most of the other college papers are stuffed with women. Are you interested in working on the staff of The TECHNICIAN?

Of course you wolves noticed that last week's full on was accompanied by an unfortunate spell of cold weather, weather that greatly curtailed certain missions usually achieved on beautiful moonlight nights.

Question of the week: Why doesn't the A.S.T.P., S.C.U. 3421 have a newspaper? Our hats are off to the S.U. 2510 at the U. of Maryland for one of the niftiest service publications we have seen. It's the Gig Sheet.

Question two: What popular prof of the History Department has been seen around the campus with his clothes on his walking stick?

There was another unfortunate event last week in addition to the many others. B. of the "Mop-up' received a rock from a certain member of the 59th C.T.D. Well, the Air Corps always gets the best of the nation's manpower and womanpower.

Wonder what nifty chicks will be present at the Pledge Dances? We have a hot tip that our sports editor is sporting the Belle of Clinton.

Overheard: "I applied for C.T.D.

Instead I got A.S.T.P. T.S.

PPS. T.S. means tough situation."

TERMITE

Jharps and Flats

Mandel and Kaden

Well, music fans, now that "Little Caesar" Petrillo has compromised, the prospect seems very much brighter for the record collectors. The rush is now on, and all the big record companies are trying to give us the latest thing in music.

Let's get going on this week's discs: Something Old—Victor's "Bugle Call Rag" by the old Benny Goodman Band. The record opens with a bugle call by a trumpet player named Hyman Finkelman, who is better known by the name of Ziggy Elman. It is followed by the theme as played by the sax section. During this part, Gene Krupa shines with brilliant work on the cymbal. The ensemble work fades, and the soloists take over. The first one is a sax chorus by Vido Musso, followed by Ziggy Elman's trumpet. Both of these lead up to a very good example of jazz clarinet playing, in the form of a solo by Benny. The climax comes after this with the brass section and Krupa sharing equal honors. The record is good for either listening or dancing.

Something New-"Jump Town" by Harry James Columbia. I don't know whether it is Betty Grable's influence or not, but on this side, Harry seems to play like the James of old. After a short introduction, the saxes play a "riff melody," and then comes the solo that we have waited a long time -a muted trumpet chorus without the commercial "honey" pouring out of the horn. The boys in the band accompany him very nicely. Here's hoping that Harry continues to give us records like "Jump Town."

Something Borrowed-Due to circumstances over which we have no control (in the form of Termite P.) this section will have to wait until next week.

Fowler's Fancies

Three cheers for the Wolfpack in honor of their defeating the Davidson Wildcats. The boys played a good brand of football against the strong Davidson team.

In spite of the fact that the State eleven was without the services of Big Buck Sutton, the backfield did some classy running and passing. Howard Turner was the star of the game, as he threw two touchdown passes and plunged the third over himself.

The game last Saturday proves that State College has a good football team in it's own class, but we know that they are no match for such powerhouses as Duke. That is why I am in favor of dropping those teams from the schedule which have such a decided advantage in weight

The local high school eleven finishes up their schedule this week who they tangle with the Blackbirds of Rocky Mount. If the Caps take this game they will have completed a perfect season.

Joe Caruso, ex-quarterback for Elon College now coaching the Rocky Mount squad, isn't very worried about sending his team against the undefeated Raleigh squad. Joe always expects his team to win and he doesn't mind saving so.

The Blackbirds handed Raleigh an upset last year, so the Caps will be out for blood in the coming tilt.

I just got back from watching the Wolfpack scrimmage over in Riddick stadium and they are looking very good. Sutton was still out because of a knee injury he received in the Duke game and from all reports he will not be in shape for the contest with Carolina Pre-flight

Swim Team Need More Men: Breast and Back Stroke Berths Open

Students Must Support Tank Squad If State Is To Be Represented In Southern Conference Meets

Head Swimming Coach Hines announced today that there was an urgent need for back and breast strokers on the State College swimming squad. The positions are wide open to anyone interested in joining the Wolfpack team.

Mr. Hines said that he/would have to have a complete team before the meets if State College is to be represented in the Southern Conference. If the students wish to have State represented in those meets, they had better come out and see if they can be of any use to the squad. squad.

A good schedule has been worked out for the team and it was stated today that Georgia Tech and the University of Virginia could be added to the schedule if the student body shows enough interest.

Turner Sparks State To Win Over Wildcats

Wildcat March Halted On Wolfpack 24; Services Of Sutton Missed

Sutton Missed

Last Saturday in Charlotte, the Wolfpack showed football fans what it could do when playing a civilian team for a change, by handing the Davidson Wildcats a 20 to 0 defeat. State rolled up 17 first downs and 287 yards rushing to clearly outplay the Wildcats throughout the game.

Howard Turner, as usual, was the big noise of the Wolfpack attack, doing some deadly passing and fancy running. On the first play of the second quarter, he pitched a 22-yard aerial to Grafton Pearce to culminate a touchdown march from the Davidson 47. Previously, the 'Pack had been stopped on the one-yard line after a 59-yard hike. Bill Zick placekicked the extra point for the injured Buck extra point for the injured Buck the Davidson 29. Here Turner used the bavidson 29. Here Turner used the same identical pass play to Pearce to chalk up another marker. Zick's conversion was good but a penalty moved the ball back 15 yards. Andrews passed to Novick to legalize the point.

After the intermission, Turner zigzagged 16 yards in an elusive manner for the third Wolfpack touchdown. Zick's attempted placement was blocked. The boys in red nearly scored again in the last quarter when they recovered a fumble on the opponents' 10. They were stymied one yard from the goal line after the fourth down.

The Wildcats used the air lanes for a 50-yard march which the 'Pack halted on their own 24. Another opportunity was missed when the 'Cats' recovered a fumble on

With Sutton and Tony Gaeta out of the lineup, the Wolfpack played well in winning their third game of the season. Turner, Andrews, and Gibson supplied the offensive punch while Philmon, Madak, and Pearce stood out in the line.
