A Progressive Step

THE TECHNICIAN is overjoyed to make the important announcement in this edition of the "liberal" engineering curriculum that passed the Faculty Council last Tuesday and will go into effect next September.

In light of the tremendous swing of the pendulum toward technical and scientific development and in light of the need for technically trained men with knowledge of their civic and social responsibilities, the revised plan of engineering education is logical and sound.

Among the chief merits of the four-year program is the reduced number of hours. The undergraduate engineer of N. C. State has been too heavily loaded with specialized and difficult courses for many years.

An integrated and correlated social science study program has long been lacking at this institution. This makes the establishment of a Humanities Department of prime importance.

We predict that this progressive step in engineering education will bring new glory for State College, and that the college will move a long way forward in its struggle for complete and perfect accomplishment of its mission.

Civic Responsibilities

"They ought to retire Colonel Harrelson!" "Somebody oughta' kick Dean Cloyd out!" "Who owns the Mop-Up anyway? I'vey must be making a killing on those books!"

"Why doesn't THE TECHNICIAN expose some of these people?" "What does the Student Council do anyway?" No one going to this college each day could have missed hearing these typical questions.

In the first place, they are founded on partial truths in many cases; truths that are worth investigation by a college which is concerned about the morale and welfare of its students.

Secondly, the many faults and complaints registered by students today come from the chronic grippers, cultivated by the army or other armed forces.

And the third and most important indication is that civic responsibility of certain students and the general student body is being shirked. Students are not participating in their campus government; student leaders are not making the services and opportunities of the campus government and other campus organizations accessible to the average student.

The problem calls for immediate and drastic action to awaken student interest in their government. The Council must get out of the "horse latitudes" wherein it now so passively rests, or it shall continue to get the "horse laugh" from the student body.

"The strength of any government resides ultimately in the personal loyalty, intelligence and honor of the free and responsible citizens living under it." So says Dr. W. N. Hicks in the foreword of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Campus Government and Honor System.

Yes, we can blame the college and student government for a lot of things, but the basic responsibility for finding answers to our problems lies directly with each individual person on the campus. It is easy to sit back and criticize. But it is plain stupidity to expect solutions to every problem handed to you on a silver platter.

Think This Over, Students

"Before long all of State College will have an opportunity to help relieve the suffering of fellow students and faculty throughout the world where the armies of Japan and Germany have wrought havoc with education.

The returns fall into two divisions, immediate, and future. Immediately after we contribute to the World Student Service Fund we will have the satisfaction which comes from "having done it unto the least of these may brother, you have done it unto Me."

The future returns are more tangible. General Eisenhower says, "Without food there can be no peace!" The World Student Service Fund seeks first to feed students, and by so doing is making a most real contribution to the peace of the world.

The scientists of America have made it plain enough for us that the next war will mean extinction. We're giving five bucks, what about YOU?

L. M.

The Tragic Dilemma

Trying to figure out how 1170 rising juniors can be taught in engineering labs which have a 450 capacity has thrown the Engineering staff into somewhat of a dilemma.

Think of that! Over half the engineering junior class will not have the opportunity of taking their lab courses; some test will have to be given this spring to determine the students who will get first shot at the present antiquated laboratories.

To add to the worries and plight of the engineering school is the dire shortage of trained and capable instructors. Those people are hard to find; and with the severe housing shortage on the faculty staff, unless housing is promised in the deal, it is well nigh impossible to get them to accept positions.

The thing that really is causing Dean Lampe and his staff much concern at the moment is the fear that the General Assembly will not appropriate the funds necessary to establish sufficient lab facilities.

Certainly the General Assembly can realize the plight of the college and give every request State College has made the utmost consideration.

OPEN FORUM

Replace Whom?

To the editor: "Published weekly by the students"! In case you do not recognize that phrase, we will tell you where it comes from.

Our editorial staff has forgotten that the editorial policy is determined by the publisher of the newspaper. Therefore, editorials should express the consensus of student body opinion or carry a signature so the readers know it is a private opinion being expressed.

Perhaps Dean Cloyd can stand criticism. Perhaps the entire administration can stand criticism. Perhaps THE TECHNICIAN staff can stand criticism. Constructive criticism is a very useful thing, but there are much better ways to attack problems than that demonstrated by our paper last week.

A pernicious article such as the one mentioned can cause nothing except trouble. The students who do not know Dean Cloyd will naturally be on their guard whenever they contact him.

This is not the first time we have found ourselves getting hot under the collar. It has happened continuously all year, and it is high time a sense of responsibility is exhibited by our editorial staff.

(Signed) LEE NICHOLS, VERNON A. KING

(Ed. Note: We have utmost compassion for those two critics for their complete ignorance of how "un-cliched" THE TECHNICIAN is and what the student opinion of Dean Cloyd is. Please join our staff, gents; we need some copy boys.)

Picture Fee Complaints

To The Editor: Since when has the payment of picture fees been a requirement for obtaining a room in the dormitories, especially when the picture fee was assessed without any notice of any sort?

When I had my picture taken nothing was said about any money being paid for having it done, nor that it was optional. To my knowledge all that was mentioned in College Catalog was that the Agromeck was paid for out of the Student Publications fees.

Trailwood Talks

Trailwood had its first basketball game Monday night and lost 26 to 13. Trailwood might could not compare with third Turlington five, but the team put up a tough fight all the way.

This term plans are in the making for an old time square dance. Everyone at State College will be permitted to come and all the money made will be used to construct a nursery. Dean Lefort is very interested in the nursery and is willing to go the limit to see that this square dance is put over and a nursery built for Trailwood and the people in the pre-fab area.

If everyone will remember when they buy their ticket that they are helping the small children in the pre-fabs and Trailwood, I am sure they will not hesitate to buy a ticket whether you go to the dance or not.

North Carolina has got a drive on for more hospitals and now Trailwood's got a drive on to build a nursery; and with the help of every student on the campus and all fraternities, this dance will make enough money to place all our kids in school like their fathers.

Next week this reporter will give all the information on the square dance and hopes you do not hesitate to buy a ticket for a worthy cause.

Doings Of The Campus Government

The Council of the Student Government held its first meeting of 1947 on January 9 with President Fred Wagoner in charge of the meeting.

From This End of the Line

By EMMETT BRINGLE

Yep, this is the corner where Buzz, 'er Mr. Barton used to hid. Now a member of the higher editorial strata, he refers to us usually as "son" and occasionally wipes his feet on our typewriter.

At any rate, we are sharing this space with Termite, a bottle of creosote handy in case our fellow tenant gets any ideas. Bang! went a freshman illusion the other day when we read a sign out by the Textile Building: "N. C. State College" and, in smaller letters, "Erected By Blue Key 1938".

It is difficult for us to refer to the bus service on the State College run in printable language, but we are stricken with a thought. During the day, when all bus service is lighter, could not a time schedule be arranged to put a bus at the Enterprise Street stop at three minutes past the hour for the benefit of students going to the Textile Building?

This would involve the use of regular run buses during a time when traffic is comparatively light. The only unusual factor would be strict adherence to a time schedule—something done in most cities except during the hours when people are going to and from work.

We understand that the rumor about textile students being required to pay an out-of-state-fee because of the location of their school is false, but it is a helluva walk out there and disrupts many a schedule.

While we're moralizing, we've always wondered what type of student feels called upon to write on the various walls about the campus. We've always been under the impression that this was the outgrowth of a childish mentality—understandable at Carolina or Duke, but certainly not here.

Below are two of the strongest arguments against it, but we're instituting our Poem of the Week, in line with Barton and the Termite's Joke of the Week:

There once was a young circus dancer, Who tugged at the tail of her prancer. People shouted: "You fool, That horse is a mule." But they never received any answer.

A luscious young coed named Tissing, Indulged in promiscuous kissing. When told to be good, She replied, "Oh, I could, But think of the fun I'd be missing."

28-30; Bill Thornton presented their report. Joe Houston described the activities of the National Intercollegiate Christian Conference, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

P. H. McDonald appeared before the Council in behalf of the World Student Service Fund drive. McDonald was assured of cooperation from the Student Council.

A new member to the Council, J. T. Moss, senior representative from the Agriculture School, was introduced to other members of the Council. Moss was elected to the Council in the spring of 1946, but was not in school during the fall term.

President Wagoner announced that Council Committee Chairmen would meet for a round-table discussion with Chancellor Harrelson on Tuesday, January 14. Such meetings are expected to be a regular Council activity.

Before adjournment, President Wagoner emphasized the importance and significance of the Freshman Class Elections which are to be held in Pullen Hall on Tuesday, January 21. Freshman Class officers and freshman representatives to the Student Council are to be elected at that time.

Last Fall the Campus Government of North Carolina State was asked to send two delegates to the Chicago Student Conference which would be held from December 28 (Continued on Page 4)

GYM FLOOR

"The gym floor sure does look fine," says one guy. "Boy, that red and white monogram in the center of the floor sure is sharp," says another.

PUBLICITY MAN

State College needs a sports publicity man in the worst way. We would like to know what happened to the one we had, or thought we had, before Christmas.

RED TERRORS

The Red Terrors are really stepping out. Seems like at least one of them is hot as the proverbial "fire coal" every night they play. Pete Negley, six foot four freshman, from Oakland, Indiana, really laid 'em against Davidson.

TANK MEN

The basketball squad wasn't the only State College team that made news last week-end. The State swimmers, under Willis Casey, a great swimmer and a great guy, swamped Virginia 48 to 27.

MORE WELCOMES

This week we wish to welcome two members to THE TECHNICIAN'S sport staff. Nevin Dayvault, returning to school just this term, has taken on the job of reporting intramurals, so if any of you floor managers want to start plugging somebody for ALL-CAMPUS, see Dave for publicity.

Baseball Team

All members of last year's baseball team please meet Coach Sorrell in the Monogram room of the gymnasium at 12:00 noon.

January 21st. The purpose of this meeting is to award the person trophy to a member of this team.

Paul Jordan, Manager.

Get First Test Sat Against Blue Devils

The red-hot Red Terrors took a firm hold on the top spot in the Southern Conference race last Wednesday night in Frank Tompkins Gym by swamping the Clemson Wildcats 62-21.

Led by veteran floor-leader, Leo Katkaveck, Coach Casey's Basketeers completely dominated the floor play and threw up a tight defense to win with ease. Katkaveck was all over the floor most of the night, handling the ball and directing the play with clock-like precision.

Meeting Duke Tomorrow

Tomorrow night, the boys in those beautiful new uniforms will travel over to Durham to tackle the highly-rated Blue Devils of Duke. After they knock off the Devils, maybe those northern sports writers will "damn well know" who will win the Southern Conference.

Last week the Terrors whipped Davidson 53-48, and Clemson 86-54 for their first two conference wins. In downing Clemson the first time, the Terrors racked up their largest score of the season. Harold Negley pushed in 24 points against Davidson to take scoring honors and Charles Stine tossed in 22 points against Clemson to add much to the top-sided score.

Case Is An Old Veteran At Coaching Basketball Teams

Head Coach Everett N. Casey, whose record of high school, college, and service quietness has made him a national sports figure, assumed his duties here at N. C. State College July 1, 1946.

Coach Casey was detached from the Navy on June 1st, at which time he concluded a brilliant career at athletic director of the Ottumwa, Iowa, Naval Air Station, where he led the Iowa Seabawks to 27 victories in 29 starts during the past season.

The new State College coach was graduated from the University of Wisconsin with the class of 1923 as a major in physical education and education and later earned his masters degree at the University of Southern California.

He began his coaching career at the age of 18 years, starting at Connerville, Ind., High School. There but a year, he shifted to Columbus High in Indiana and in the next two seasons he took his teams to the Hoosierland state tourney.

Coached at Frankfort Case moved to Frankfort, Ind., High in 1922 to begin a 20-year coaching reign that is unequalled in Indiana's hotbed of basketball.

In 1931 Casey went to Anderson, Ind., High, remaining there two years, then moving to the University to assist Sam Barry with the Trojan Juniors varsity.

In the 19 years Casey coached at Frankfort his teams were in the state tournament 17 times. In winning state titles in 1925, 1929, 1936 and 1939, he has the distinction of coaching the only teams ever to win the Indiana championship four times.

High School teams coached by Casey won 726 out of 801 games played.

Entered Navy He was commissioned in the Navy in 1942, took his indoctrination at the United States Naval Academy and was sent to the cadet selection board in Chicago.

Assigned to Depauw University at Greencastle, Ind., he coached the Navy team to 29 wins in 32 games, his outfit taking the Indiana State Service championship and, among others, beating Purdue in the 1943-4 season.

Following his tour of duty at Depauw, Casey was made athletic director at Gross Ile, Mich., and he was assigned to the Ottumwa Naval Air Station in January of 1945. Named athletic director of the station, he also assumed the basketball coaching duties. His Iowa Seabawks won 27 out of 29 games, beating the Wright Field Kitty-hawks of Dayton, Ohio, generally rated as one of the toughest service teams in the country, and the St. Mary's Preflight team of the West Coast.

During his 20-year career as an Indiana coach, he developed such stars as Jay McCreary, Indiana University star, Ralph Vaughn, a Southern California star, and Bob Kessler of Purdue, all of whom gained All-American intercollegiate fame.

Team Not In Top Form Coach Casey believes that his N. C. State College team will be a "good team" but that it will not develop into top form until next year. He will not make a prediction regarding the outcome of the present season, but he opines that his charges will play an interesting brand of ball.

"We will have a good team composed mostly of freshmen who have played under many different systems in high school and it will take some time for them to learn a new plan," the State College coach said.

Having plenty of respect for Southern Conference basketball, Coach Casey expects the competition in this section to be stiff and that the spectators will witness some thrilling exhibitions of the sport.

Tank Squad Captures Opening Meet, 48-27

State's revived swimming team made their debut after a war-time lay-off by swamping the University of Virginia in a five-lane last Friday afternoon, 48-27.

Tutored by Willis Casey—the same man that instructed Carolina's Blue Dolphins for the past two years—State's tank squad took eight first places in the nine events.

Two newcomers, but by no means rookies, took honors for State. Bill Ward captured first place in two events and swan anchor on the winning 400-yard medley relay team. Ward is a former AAU champion. Billy Kelly of Raleigh finished out front in the 400-yard free style event with a time of 5:33.6.

Ward captured first in the 50-yard free style with a time of 24.4, and in the 100-yard free style with a time of 54.9.

In the diving, which is considered by some as the weakest link, proved to be far from that as Hayward of State took first, and Cramer took second for State.

The Summary: 50-yard free style—Ward, state, first; Schutte and Call, Virginia, second and third. (24.4).

100-yard free—Ward, State, first; Schutte and Call, Virginia, second and third. (54.9).

220-yard dash—Despres, State, first; Walton and Tuttle, Virginia, second and third. (2:31.2).

440-yard free style—Kelly, State, first; Williams, Virginia, second; Menke, State, third. (5:33.6).

150-yard backstroke—Nufer, state, first; Williams, Virginia, second; Johnson, State, third. (1:53).

200-yard breaststroke—Satz, Virginia, first; Craig, Virginia, second; Ritchie, State third. (2:50.5).

Diving—Hayward, State, first; Cramer, State, second; Craig, Virginia, third.

300-yard medley—Cramer, State, first; Craig, Virginia, second (no time given).

400-yard medley relay—State (Gold, Reynolds, Despres and Ward). (3:54.2).

THE INTRAMURAL FRONT

By NEVIN DAYVAULT

With the intra-mural basketball program already underway, dormitory and fraternity managers are turning their attention to the boxing tournament beginning January 27 and climaxing with the all campus finals on March 10.

A number of men are already working out at the gym and getting into shape for their fights, and it is expected that the number will increase daily until the fights begin.

Each Organization may enter one man in each of the following weights: 115; 125; 135; 145; 155; 165; 175; and unlimited. A four pound leeway is permitted in meeting the weight.

The preliminaries will consist of two one minute rounds; the finals of three one minute rounds. Fourteen ounce gloves will be used. An admission price of ten cents (10c) will be charged and receipts will be used for buying all campus medals and trophies for the contestants who box in the all campus finals.

Managers should see that their entries get an O. K. from Dr. Campbell (an O. K. for wrestling is sufficient). The entrant should bring his O. K. to Mr. Miller's office before 5:00 o'clock on the day of his match and weigh in.

No Organization is required to enter men in every weight class, but each entry counts toward the Organization's point total. Mr. Miller is hoping that this will be the biggest and best intra-mural boxing tournament ever held at State College. Let's don't let him down.

All bouts will begin promptly at 8:00 o'clock on the dates scheduled below: Mon. Jan. 27—Frat. prelims. Wed. Feb. 12—Dorm. prelims. Thurs. Feb. 20—Frat. and Dorm. Semifinals. Thurs. Feb. 27—Frat. and Dorm. Finals. Monday March 10—All Campus.

Basketball Wednesday night the fraternities ushered in the basketball season. The PIKAs had the distinction of being first winning team and the A. L. Ts had the misfortune of being the first loser.

The P. K. As, after being held to an 8 to 7 half-time score, came roaring back after intermission to down the A. L. Ts 20 to 12. Bridger, of the winners, was high scorer of the game with 7 points. In the second game, the S P Es swamped the Delta Sigis by (Continued on Page 4)

Charlotte Club Makes Plans for Permanency

The State College Charlotte Club held its first meeting of the year last Wednesday evening, and plans were immediately laid to give the organization a permanent foundation. Committees for the framing of a constitution, for securing a State Charter and possibly, incorporation, for more effective publicity, and for intercollegiate cooperation with other Charlotte Clubs were elected, and these groups laid out programs to be reported on at the next meeting.

The treasurer's report showed a balanced budget and profit after the recent Christmas Dance in Charlotte at the Hotel Charlotte. Johnnie Archer and his orchestra, nationally known musical organization, played for the affair which was attended by 1600 members of the collegiate set. The Secretary's report gave the State College Charlotte Club the distinction of being the largest organized Charlotte Club among North Carolina Colleges.

The next meeting of the Charlotte Club on Wednesday, January 29, is listed as the most important of the organization since its founding. All members and students from Charlotte not yet belonging to the club are urged to attend.

Joins Faculty

Capt. Donald B. May, Jr., of Asheville, above, has joined the air arm of the N. C. State College ROTC as an instructor. A graduate of Clemson College, Captain May is a veteran of World War II, having served in the British and Dutch West Indies and in South America from September, 1941, until May, 1943.

Masonic Club to Meet

All Masons are invited to attend a meeting of the State College Masonic Club to be held in the private dining room on the east side of the dining hall, Tuesday, January 21, at 6:00 p.m. All interested persons are requested to go through the tray line and come to the private dining room.

Financial Report of Student Government

The treasurer of the Student Council of the Campus Government and Honor System, George Harrell of Raleigh, has announced the financial status of the student government. This report is printed in full below for the general information of the student body.

The startling figure of $2,830.64 for the estimated balance brought several comments from students after Harrell had announced this carryover. Ike Tull of Shaker Heights, Ohio, business manager of the TECHNICIAN, wheel of the Engineer's Council, and member of Sigma Nu fraternity was quoted as saying, "That's a helluva' lot of money. Looks like some of it could be spent on the chimes for the tower or something."

The Council also received some information regarding the purposes of the Conference which are, mainly, the setting up of a National Student Organization and a National Continuations Committee which would form the backbone of the organization . . . and decided to send two representatives to the conference. the football score of 29 to 0. Martin was high scorer of the evening with 11 points. After the first few minutes there was never any doubt as to who would come out on top. However, the Delta Sigs were not as completely outclassed as the score might indicate. After a few more practice sessions, they won't be anyone's cousin.

The dormitories began their double elimination tournament Thursday night with 1st Becton edging out 3rd Alexander in the most thrilling game of this young season. After trailing 5 to 10 at the half, 1st Becton came back to completely outscrap and outplay 3rd Alexander and win 18 to 17. McLean, of the losers, led the scoring with 8 points. In the second game, 1st Syme started fast and then coasted to an easy 25 to 15 victory over Basement Becton. Stinson, of 1st Syme was high scorer with 11 points. In the final game of the evening, 2nd Alexander outscored Basement Syme, 19 to 12. Bryant, of the losers, scored 6 points. In the other scheduled game, 2nd Becton won by forfeit over 2nd Syme.

On Friday night, Sigma Pi soundly trounced Pi Kappa Phi, 32 to 6. Floyd, of Sigma Pi, hit seven baskets from the floor for a total of 14 points. In the only other game scheduled, the K. A.s squeaked out a 17 to 15 victory over Kappa

Sig. MacManus, of K A and Clovis, of Kappa Sig, led the scoring with 6 points.

Army To Be Built

Plans are now underway to build an armory. The site as yet is not definite, however, negotiations are being made with State College Officials for a plot on the State Campus for the erection of this armory. It is hoped that these negotiations will be completed in the very near future so that building may be begun. The completed armory will contain a radio station, DE-Type main propulsion plant, machine shop, carpenters shop, radar equipment, electrical equipment, ordnance equipment, signal bridge, offices, lounge, and a hobby shop. These facilities will be available to members at all times.

Men who are now in a V-6 inactive status may apply for selection in the O-1 Unit immediately. Men who are not in V-6 at present will have to first enlist in Class V-6 USNR, inactive and then apply for selection in the Organized Unit. This however, under the new "Streamlined" method of enlisting takes very little time.

Men selected recently for membership include quite a number of State students. The following men were selected this week:
Robert Cox Hurt, RM3c; William Allen Dover, CK2c; Walter Ambrose Allen, FC2c; Horace S. High, HA2c; William James Morgan, JM2c; Charles Lewis Ivey, HA2c; Hollis "E" Hawkins, PHM3c; Alfred Burman Hurt, Jr., ETM2c; Eugene M. Smith, Jr., Seal; Isaac T. Corbell, Jr., CSJ (Q) IN; Angus E. Chisholm, GM3c; F. E. Turberville, Jr., CEMA.
Commander Ward is at present located in Room 416, Post Office Bldg. in Raleigh.
