Technician Sponsors Contest to Find New Name for Wetville

Contest Rules Announced; $25 Offered for Best Name

Do you find that your $65.00 is running out before the end of the month? Are you wondering where the cash will come from to take your best girl to the dance next week? The "Technician" offers a solution to your problems. The veterans pre-fab village has been in need of a name for a long time; the TECHNICIAN is sponsoring a contest with the intention of finding a suitable name for the veterans' community. The TECHNICIAN will present a first prize of $25.00 to the student who selects the best name. A second and third prize, which will consist of merchandise, will be given for the two next best names. The deadline for entries is Saturday, April 12th.

The judges who will select the three best entries are: Mrs. J. W. Harrelson, wife of the Chancellor; Dean Romeo Lefort, Assistant Dean of Students; Fred Wagoner, President of the Student Body; Charles McAdams, Assistant Secretary of the YMCA; and Malcolm Edwards, Mayor of the veteran community. The three best names, as selected by the judges, will be submitted to the citizens concerned at a mass meeting for final selection.

- The rules for the contest are as follows:
1. Entries must be mailed to the "Technician" to receive consideration.
 2. All students, faculty members, and staff members and their wives will be eligible to compete.
 3. Only one entry may be submitted by each person.
 4. There will be no official entry book; each entry must be written on a sheet of paper with the name and complete address of the person submitting the entry also on the paper.
 5. Entries will be judged on originality and aptness.
 6. All entries must be in the mail by midnight of Saturday, April 12.

Native of India To Speak on Hinduism

Professor R. D. Immanuel, native of India, will speak on Hinduism in Room A of the cafeteria Friday, April 4, at 6 p.m. This supper meeting will begin the series on Living Religions to be sponsored by the Baptist Student Union this term.

Professor Immanuel, an ordained Methodist minister and a teacher in the Leonard Theological College, the only Methodist graduate school of theology in India, is well qualified to discuss this topic. He has earned four degrees from colleges in India and is now studying for his Ph.D. at Duke University. Students desiring to attend this discussion should contact Bob Laster in the Baptist Student Office in the north balcony of Pullen Hall, as cafeteria facilities will allow only a limited number to attend.

Easter Sunrise Services Set for Sunday Morning

The time of the traditional Easter Sunrise Services in the Amphitheater located just two blocks from the campus on Pogue Street has been set at 5:45 Sunday morning, according to word received from the Raleigh Ministerial Association, the sponsors of the early morn observance. School, Mr. I. Harding Hughes. A special feature of the program will be the singing of the St. Cecilia Choral Group of Raleigh. Well-known and well-liked in Raleigh, this outstanding Chorus will render, among others, the old Easter favorite, "SANTUS," by Gounod. According to Rev. A. G. Arsten, Pastor of the West Raleigh Presbyterian Church and publicity chairman for the Ministerial Association, the services this year bids fair to be the most impressive ever held. He stated that State College students who do not go home for Easter services will be particularly interested in the sunrise service. While the weather bureau says that the sun is due to rise at 5:54 on Easter, they do not promise that it will not be raining. In case of rain the service is to be cancelled. The Ministerial Association is a federation of all the protestant white churches in Raleigh.

Several Distinguished Speakers Will Be Featured as Part of Varied Program

The time is rapidly approaching for the student body as a whole to turn its attention to the annual observance of "Religious Emphasis Week." The week-long program of public addresses, talks to class meetings, faculty and student luncheons, dormitory and fraternity discussions, and personal conferences will have as its central theme, "Christianity and Reconstruction." The program, as announced by YMCA secretary E. S. King, will begin on Sunday, April 13. Grove Patterson, well known newspaperman and editor of the FOLEMO BLADE will be one of the principal speakers during the week. Mr. Patterson, who has recently returned from a trip to the Orient, will speak at one of four faculty-student luncheons. These luncheons, directed by a faculty committee with Chancellor Harrelson as chairman, will be held at 1:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday in the Grill Room of the Cafeteria. Other speakers to be heard throughout the week at the evening sessions in Pullen Hall include: Reverend Robert E. Lee, Pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Silver Springs, Md.; Ralph W. Lloyd, President of Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn.; and Mr. Paul N. Derringer, General Secretary of the YMCA and one of the outstanding religious leaders in America today. College Calendar Clear Mr. King, in a letter sent to all campus organizations this week, urged all campus groups to come to the evening sessions in a body; further stating that the Dean's Office and the Public Lectures Committee had endeavored to keep the College calendar clear during the week. Mr. King noted that, "As in former years, we would like to hold one or more discussion groups on every dormitory floor and in every fraternity house." The program for the week is being sponsored by six campus organizations: The Canterbury Club, Baptist Student Union, Westminster Fellowship, Wesley Foundation, Lutheran Student Association, and the YMCA. Details of the complete program will appear in next week's TECHNICIAN. Watch for them and plan to take an active part in this splendid work.

Juniors & Seniors

Seniors pick up your bids to the Jr.-Sr. Dance in the Y.M.C.A. between 10 A.M. and 6 P.M. on Tuesday. Juniors can pay at this desk and still come to the dance. The dance will be held at the Memorial Auditorium on April 26.

120 Students Attend State-Wide IRC Meet

The International Relations Club, a statewide organization, met Saturday, March 29, 1947, at Meredith College with approximately 120 students from 14 different colleges attending. The meeting, co-sponsored by the State and Meredith College IRC clubs, had as its general topic, "One World or None." The meeting began with a combined session at 2:30 at which time Dr. James L. Godfrey from North Carolina University History Department, spoke on the British Empire. Following his speech, the group divided into four seminars where discussions were held on Great Britain, Russia, Far East, and the United States. At 5:00 p.m., dinner was served at the Meredith College Hut. After dinner the groups continued their discussions until 7:30. At 7:30 the whole group reconvened and held an election of officers. Jean Henniger of Queens College was elected president. Judson Trueblood from Wake Forest was voted in as vice-president, and James Barwell of Chapel Hill was made secretary. It was decided that the group would meet next year at Carolina. Following this business, Dr. R. E. Freund of the State College Economics Department gave a talk on "International Trade."

PiKA's Ready for Big Weekend

Sammy Fletcher Will Play for Ball Monday

The social spotlight swings this weekend to the PIKA stronghold on Hillsboro Street. The local chapter of the national student fraternity is making plans for one of its biggest and best celebrations in history, climaxed by the Thirty-Ninth Annual PIKA Ball next Monday night in Frank Thompson Gymnasium. The program will begin with an informal banquet and dinner-dance tomorrow night at the Club Bon Air, local night spot familiar to State men. Sunday afternoon, weather permitting, the members, their dates, and their guests will relax at a good old-fashioned outdoor picnic. The site for the picnic has not been established as yet. Here's hoping the boys are early enough to avoid the ants! The festivities continue on Monday with the traditional open house from two 'till five in the afternoon. Events will be brought to a fitting climax by the black and white formal dance in the gym from 8 'till 12 on Monday evening. Fletcher Will Play One of the most interesting highlights of the weekend will be the appearance of Sammy Fletcher and his Duke Ambassadors who will provide the music for the ball. This will be the Ambassadors' first engagement on the campus, but they are no strangers to those of us who can stand to listen to Sam Beard's "MOONGLOW" over Radio Station WPTF. The orchestra made a highly successful guest appearance on that program some weeks ago. Beard went "out on a limb" a short time after to predict a rapid rise to stardom for Fletcher's men. The PIKA's are to be congratulated on the signing of the group. Chaperones for the dance will include: Chancellor and Mrs. J. W. Harrelson, Dean and Mrs. E. L. Cloyd, Dean and Mrs. H. F. Dado, Dean and Mrs. C. R. Lefort, Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stockard, and Dean and Mrs. M. E. Campbell. The chairman of the dance committee is Hugh Wilson from Raleigh.

Plans Completed for First Spring Frolics Saturday

Plans have been completed for the "Spring Frolics" to be held in Frank Thompson Gymnasium on Saturday, April 12, from 9 until 12 midnight. Bill Allen and his orchestra will furnish music for the dance which will be a semi-formal affair, open to all students. Allen, a sophomore in Forestry, is well known around the campus, and his band has been gaining recognition rapidly since they played for the Blue and Gold dance here last fall. Allen's orchestra recently played for the Ag Club's Barnwarming dance, and those who attended the dance realize why the band is considered one of the outstanding college orchestras in the state. Phi Psi, Theta Tau, and Alpha Zeta, honorary societies from the three schools are sponsoring the event jointly. The dance to be an annual affair, with the profits from each dance being carried over to help make the following year's "Spring Frolics" bigger and better. If supported properly by the students, the affair may develop into a set of dances; and Johnny Perryhill of Paw Creek, newly elected president of Phi Psi, says that the students can look forward to bands of Tommy Dorsey caliber in two or three years. Admission to the dance will be two dollars per couple, and tickets may be obtained from members of the sponsoring societies. Although the dance is open to all students, the gym will not hold all the students. Therefore, students are urged to get their tickets early from any member of Phi Psi, Alpha Zeta, or Theta Tau.

Kendall, Mackie To Head 'Agriculturist'

Last Tuesday night in Withers Hall auditorium, Fred Kendall, sophomore from Johns, was elected to head the AGRICULTURIST, student magazine of the Ag School, defeating Franklin Teague, a junior, for this coveted position. John D. Mackie of Yadkinville was elected new Business Manager of the publication, replacing Harold Stinson, incumbent. The voting was fairly close and the campaigning was spirited, with all the typical Ag Club political trimmings. Presiding at the regular Tuesday night meeting was Eugene Berryhill of Paw Creek, newly elected president of the Ag Club. Other officers who were elected at the record-breaking smoker last term were Walter Ramsey, vice-president, O. C. Hester, secretary, and Paul Church, reporter. The treasurer is elected for the entire year.

Aviator, Inventor To Speak Here Tonight

Colonel Ben S. Kesey of Wright Field in Dayton, Ohio, is to be the principal speaker at a meeting of The Institute of Aeronautical Sciences at eight o'clock in Withers Hall. At the request of the Institute and of the Aeronautical Department, Colonel Kesey will speak on operational problems confronting flight in all kinds of weather. As an added topic he will discuss a problem associated with high speed flight. Kesey may be remembered by some as the man who flew the first P-38 across the country in 1939. He was Project Engineer for the initial series of P-38 airplanes and was responsible for its acceptance by the air forces. Of a series of invitations to his credit, the most notable is the revolutionary "Push Button" airplane. This completely automatic plane, not to be confused with relatively simple remote control flying, will take off, fly to a stop at the end of the runway. From the time the Destination Selector Button is pushed after the plane is taxied onto the runway until the plane has come to a complete stop on the desired runway hundreds of miles away to a plane controlled are untouched by human hand and unaided by the influence of human brain.

Get Your Tickets Now . . . Regulations Permit Only 600 Couples to Attend 'Hop'

Plans have been completed and tickets are now on sale for the annual Sophomore Hop. The "Hop", long recognized as one of the best dances of the spring social season, will be held in Frank Thompson Gymnasium on Saturday night, April 19th from 9:30 to 12. Bids for the informal dance will be available to all students at the TECHNICIAN office every day next week, while they last, from 12 noon until 2 o'clock. Because of the now rigidly enforced fire regulations, only six hundred couples will be admitted to the gymnasium. This arrangement will eliminate the impossible crowding of the facilities so well remembered by those who attended last year's Freshman-Sophomore dance. The decision to have the dance informal was made after consulting numerous members of the fairer sex who seemed to unanimously agree that a semi-formal dance is strictly "a high school substitute for a formal dance." Many of the girls felt it not quite fair that they were required to pack evening dresses from remote spots only to find that their dates were perfectly at home in sport coats and saddle shoes. Music for the dance will be provided by Herb Gupton and His 16-piece orchestra, instead of Bob Astor as was previously announced. Contract difficulties prevent the engagement of Astor. Gupton is no stranger to State dances. He has played at various times in the gym and has been well-received at Memorial Auditorium on several occasions. Tickets to the dance, on sale next week, as announced above, will be offered at $1.50 per couple. Don't miss this, one of the smoothest dances planned for next term. There'll be no breaks—continuous music from beginning to end.

To Sponsor PIKA Celebration

The queens pictured above will grace the festivities connected with the 39th annual PIKA Ball scheduled for next Monday night. They are: Miss Helen Williams of El Paso, Texas for Herb Banton, fraternity secretary; Miss Ella May Kanoy of Charlotte for Atwood Skinner, treasurer; Miss Betty Clinton of Charlotte for Don Lampke, president; Miss Kay Gaines of Tallahassee, Florida for Oscar Miller, vice president; and Miss Jean Maddrey of Raleigh for Hugh Wilson, dance committee chairman.

Nearly 4,500 Students Register This Term

The student body is expected to reach 4500 by the time registration is completed. Approximately 2400 students crowded into the Frank Thompson Gymnasium on Friday, March 28th to register for the spring term; an additional 1900 students registered on Saturday, March 29th. Students who will register late are expected to swell the student body to about the same number as was enrolled for the winter term. The new system of assigning each student to a specific time to register proved to be much more satisfactory than the method used previously. The long lines which have always been associated with registration day were almost nonexistent. Mr. W. L. Mayer, Director of registration said, "This is the first registration which I can recall when the students have not started forming in line at the Gymnasium by 4 a.m., on registration day." The new plan of registration was inaugurated by Mr. Mayer after it had received the approval of the Faculty Council. The same plan will probably be in effect for subsequent registrations, according to Mr. Mayer. There was no system of priority used in designing the time at which students registered, except in the case of juniors and seniors. All Juniors and Seniors registered on Friday. The times at which all other students registered were determined entirely at random by the Registration Office. Some students who registered on Saturday afternoon were unable to schedule all of the classes which they wanted, but Mr. Mayer explained that this difficulty arose because of the lack of teachers as well as a lack of technical laboratory space.

Honor System Ineffective

Although the fact has been all too obvious since last fall, the President of the Campus Government and Honor System admitted last Monday night at a TECHNICIAN staff meeting that the Honor system on this campus is totally ineffective.

There can be no doubt that flagrant violations of the laws and by-laws of our honor system are committed every day. The causes for such a situation are many and varied and the blame cannot be squarely placed at the doorstep of any individual or specific group.

Section I, article IV of the By-Laws of the Campus Government and Honor System state: "The conventional system of grading and the mere accumulation of credits as a basis for degrees have made it profitable for students to appear to know, as well as, to know. This factor in combination with excessive emphasis by some teachers on memorization of subject matter, largely explain academic dishonesty."

This statement, especially the latter portion, is indeed true, but since cheating is a form of stealing it cannot be tolerated.

The campus Government cannot be held responsible for the breakdown of the honor system since the government itself cannot function properly without the cooperation of all its citizens.

The major portion of responsibility for the ineffectiveness of the Honor system rests on the head of the Student Body. Our lack of cooperation, our disinterest, our laxity have allowed this spectre of dishonesty to thrive on our campus. Alone, no small minority can successfully stamp it out. Only when each and every student realizes that he is a vital part of our campus government and honor system will the honor system cease to be theory and become a fact.

Compliments to the Wataugan

Bucking a mammoth backlog of orders that have hamstrung the Print Shop for many months, the "humor-literary" magazine, THE WATAUGAN, has finally "hit the streets."

While, perhaps, we are expected to retaliate to the parody on this newspaper carried in this issue of THE WATAUGAN, lack of space does not permit us to carry on this "friendly feud." We do have several comments to make, however.

The editors of THE WATAUGAN are to be congratulated for the steady improvements they are making in the make-up and content of their publication. The most recent issue (the copy for which was turned in to the Print Shop in January) is added proof that there is a place for THE WATAUGAN on our campus, if reasonable standard of decency are maintained. The many criticisms the Publications Board may level at the magazine should be tempered with the knowledge that the campus—especially this one—needs a laugh and something light occasionally. The present trial status of the college mag should be terminated—it has earned its salt.

Warnings must be raised, however, to assure the continuation of publication of a decent, enjoyable, and worthy magazine. Suggestive stories or jokes, too many questionable jokes, and too many stories featuring the vain side (whiskey and sex) of student life are objectionable to common decency and usually lead to the death of a college humor magazine. WATAUGAN staff, don't let that happen here!

Religiously Illiterate

An important event of this term is the Religious Emphasis program which is slated to get underway April 13. While it really is an insult to the integrity of a college the size and age of our State College to lack instruction and facilities in religious education, we must face the fact, nevertheless, that an overwhelming majority of our student body (as is the case of most college students today) are religiously illiterate and have little knowledge of the tremendous place religion must hold in the hearts of man if a workable human social order is to be maintained.

It is realized that a state-owned institution is supposed not to indulge in religious procrastination; yet a college and a state is committing a fallacy of education as well as endangering the future of humanity when it fails to provide for the spiritual nourishment and development of its students and citizens. While we may not be able to see religion as a required course in our curriculum in the near future, we can have hope that our mature student body will have insight enough, or inquisitiveness enough, to search out the available sources of spiritual nourishment and religious enlightenment.

One major source for some insight into religion may be found in the special Religious Emphasis Week lectures and bull sessions, designed for the expressed purpose of arousing religious introspection on the part of all of us. The YMCA, whatever your attitudes are toward that organization, is bringing speakers to the campus who are able to both entertain and enlighten. How many students who take advantage of this opportunity will remain to be seen.

Eggs at Easter

Softcoal miners this Easter are relaxing and enjoying a six-day-rest Easter egg laid by Mr. John L. Lewis, chief champion of labor for the last half century.

To those of us who have flinched and groaned when the labor cause was dealt low blows by the seemingly "anti-labor" and "reactionary" legislatures of North Carolina and the nation, Mr. Lewis' action in declaring a mourning period for soft coal operators in lieu of his thwarted strike seems somewhat compensatory and justifiable.

To those of us who see the union chief's declaration as further demonstration of the dangerous power labor unions have and may have over capital, or the general state of the nation economically, the latest Lewis "atrocity" calls for more legislation to restrict the labor unions, and to more adequately impress John Lewis that his days are numbered as boss of the labor unions.

And to those of us who are working and praying that industrial and political strife can be avoided in this country, the "masterpiece" this man pulled darkens the horizon which once gave promise of being a meeting-ground for labor and capital. It is regrettable that his egg at Easter will only hatch ill winds for labor, the wrath of which will be directed by a congress which seems hell-bent on completing the "boom-and-bust cycle in shorter order than ever before."

We wonder if the aged game of "give and take" is dead. Certainly more of this spirit must be exercised in labor-capital relations, and certainly we consumers are charged with the duty of seeing that justice and fair play are a part of the labor-capital dealings.

The eggs of Mr. John L. Lewis and the eggs of the North Carolina Assembly, extreme as they are, may hatch out to be vultures—to pick on the remains of American civilization, if not the civilization of the world.

Two Down And One To Go

The "footprints in the sands of time" we have been making this year have now grown into an ever-lengthening trail, and there is little traveling time left. Yes, believe it or not, two terms of this school year are now history, leaving one short, spring-feverish term left to do the million-and-one things we planned to do last fall.

Since every college newspaper begins to get that feeling of frustration at the small dent made in mountainous endeavors about this time of year, we shall not take the space to pour out the many trials and tribulations that have beset us from the beginning. Nor shall we enumerate the many accomplishments, improvements, and advancements that have been made by the staff of this newspaper. We trust that the reader will be able to perceive these improvements.

What we shall point to is the term's work that is ahead of us. With the promise of six and eight-page editions from the rejuvenated Print Shop, the TECHNICIAN is in position to render greater service to projects that must be undertaken on this campus.

Rosenwald Fund Alarms Student Conservative

Editor's Note: (The following article was slated for the Wataugan until Editor Patton directed it to the editorial page of the Technician. This treatise is about the Rosenwald Fund, subject of much controversial thought in the state of North Carolina. The writer obtained his facts on the Fund from a report compiled by Mr. John Clark of Greensboro for circulation at the last Board of Trustees meeting. Comment is invited on this "conservative" treatment.)

By NED FOWLER

You have heard of the Julius Rosenwald Fund. Do you know that it is a strongly organized national movement, backed by 22,424 shares of Sears-Roebuck and Company stock that amounts to over twenty million dollars? This twenty million is to be spent to bring about the amalgamation of white and negro races in the South.

The following facts are taken from the 1946 report by the President of the Foundation, Edwin R. Embree. Mr. Embree is the man who wrote "Brown America." In that book he claims that a "brown race" is inevitable. Expenditures for 1944-45 went to:

- 1. American Council on Race Relations, for its national efforts toward the achievement of full democracy.
2. Black Mountain College.
3. Committee on Mass Education in Race Relations of the Film Center, for the development of film in race relations.
4. A Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, toward the work of the Commission on the Church and Minority Peoples.
5. Georgia Workers Education Society for its program of adult education without discrimination, among the people of Georgia.
6. Presbyterian Church, Committee on Negro Work, to make a study of the attitude of the individual church congregations on race relations.
7. Roosevelt College

7. Roosevelt College of Chicago, to aid in the founding and development of a first-class people's college giving equal educational opportunities to all students without racial or religious discrimination.
8. Southern Regional Council and Southern Conference for Human Welfare, for their programs in race relations in the South.
9. Southern School for Workers, for the development of educational programs among the workers of Virginia and North and South Carolina.

10. University of North Carolina, for a program of research and teaching in social anthropology, involving bi-racial planning and participation.
11. Y.W.C.A. for studies of racial practices on college campuses.
"Organized Religion"

"After wide consultation and careful study . . . we have selected for special cooperation (1) organized religion and (2) organized labor. . . and a new movement is stirring in many denominations, both Catholic and Protestant. . . they will work for a non-segregated church and a non-segregated society.

"These are strategic bodies for action in any social field. Each has strong central organizations and local units in every city and county in the nation. Almost every American family is connected with some . . ."

Comedy of Errors?

TO THE EDITOR: Although this letter is a statement of grievances of only fifty students, I believe the matter is serious enough to be brought before the student body. It concerns the manner in which the distribution of tickets to the basketball game at Madison Square Garden was handled by the Athletic Department.

As soon as it was announced that State would play in the tournament, students were informed that tickets could be obtained by writing or wiring Mr. J. L. VonGlahn in New York. This was all right as far as it went. When the time came to pick up the tickets . . . WHERE WAS THE ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT? No one was at the designated room at any reasonable hour; no notice as to when anyone would be there to distribute the tickets was posted; no one at the hotel desk was informed as to how and when tickets could be picked up; in other words, the students got the runaround when it came to securing the tickets to see State play.

Although there were many others in the same boat I would cite my own case as a typical example of what happened. Arriving in New York on Sunday afternoon, I called the hotel and was informed that Mr. VonGlahn was not in. This was at 1:30 P. M. At approximately 3:00 P. M. I went to the hotel in order to contact anyone who might help me get tickets—there was no one around to help. All they could tell me was to help Mr. VonGlahn. After another hour of fruitless waiting I left the hotel. In the next three hour period I called the hotel three times and each time the persons responsible for the distribution of tickets were church: Protestant, Catholic, or Jewish. Recent reports indicate fifteen million members of trade unions. When children and families of members are included, it is clear that the churches and unions directly touch almost every man, woman, and child in America. Examine pictures and articles appearing in the publications of the Protestant churches and you will see what they are accomplishing."

Objects to Daniels

This, students of State College, is the fund which is backing Professor Johnson of the Sociology Department at Carolina. In the first week of February, the Board of Trustees of the Greater University met in (according to The Technician of February 14) a wild and woolly session; but, because of Mr. Joseph Daniels, Mr. Cameron Morrison, and Dr. Frank Graham, they took no action. . . . The more important because on February 14, Mr. Joseph Daniels ran a full page advertisement in the "News and Observer" by the Carolina District of the Communist Party, U.S.A. Quoted from the advertisement:

- "Abolish segregation in education. Open all schools to all students, regardless of race, creed or color."
"Repeat all segregation and Jim Crow laws in North Carolina."
"Establish a State Fair Employment Act to provide equal job opportunities with equal pay for equal work."
"Guarantee right to vote for all by halting illegal action of registrars that prevents thousands of Negroes from voting, particularly in North Carolina."

Communist Trends

These above statements are made by the Communist Party. I fail to see any difference in the Communist Party's designs and the activities of the Rosenwald Fund. The fact that the University of North Carolina is listed in the report by the Rosenwald Fund, shows the extent of their operations in this state. And this school is not without its Rosenwald advocates. Why is it that the newspaper men of the state are acquainted with the organization. I know for a fact that the News and Observer has received to publish some open letters that have been written to the paper.

It is not the idea of this column to judge this case, but is it the right of North Carolinians and the students of the Greater University to know what is going on in the state. A full report of the above mentioned meeting would reveal many more interesting facts. The question is, do the people who are cooperating with the Rosenwald Fund and other such groups realize the implications of the movements? I saw four months of connection in Yugoslavia and saw a year of communism being organized in Italy. I am acquainted with some of the methods the party used to promote communism and I have seen the people who live under a communist government. They are not well off and we do not want communism in America.

Every American welcomes social advances, but we do not welcome, in the South, movements which can only result in race riots and internal dissent promoted under the guise of a benevolent society. The Rosenwald Fund will be acquainted the non-thinking North Carolinians with movement. It is the responsibility of the leaders of the state to inform the THINKING North Carolinians. Even though Dr. Graham, Mr. Daniels, and Mr. Morrison have what I believe, in their opinion, is a serious matter for not publishing these facts, history has shown that sometimes it is better to take the bull by the horns NOW than to wait and find that you can't handle him LATER.

conspicuous by their absence. At 7:00 P. M. I gave it up as a bad job and went home. On Monday (the day of the game) I returned to New York in the afternoon and started all over again, but it was the same old story. Mr. VonGlahn was not there and no one was informed as to when he would be. I went to the hotel at 3:00 P. M. and again at 5:00 P. M. and waited until 6:00 and the situation was repeated.

I for one would like to know the why's and wherefore's behind all this. To state it in the mildest terms possible, the matter was handled with a maximum of inefficiency and lack of interest. After all, the main function of the officials responsible for this was to distribute tickets to alumni and students desiring to see the game. Surely they were not so overwhelmed with other duties that they could not establish a schedule of hours when people could be seen or at the very least leave word as to when they could be expected. But this was not done, and in my opinion is a sad commentary on the efficiency of the Athletic Department. The situation caused much hard feeling and as well as great disappointment on the part of those students who tried, BUT DID NOT GET, tickets to the game.

If anyone has an explanation for this Comedy of Errors, I would certainly like to hear it. STUART L. ZECKENDORF

GLEANINGS

Don't let your water boil

A little incident brought to our attention tonight shows that we all get too excited over insignificant happenings. Monday a character dashed into the office, collared the little man who is our editor and demanded that the boss get a photographer over to the English department to take a flash of a professor who was sporting a shiner. The decoration was allegedly awarded by a student who received an "F" from said prof.

Best on the campus!!!

The entire TECHNICIAN staff has concluded that the WATAUGAN is the best humor publication on the State campus. Patten should be justly proud.

No goat available

It appears that Mr. Von is not to be blamed for the inadequate number of tickets available for the NIT. Some students are quite unhappy because they could not reach Von Glahn. It is a pity though that some scheme was not worked out for informing people that the tickets were exhausted instead of refusing to answer the phone.

Spring is sprung

A sure sign of spring is all these tales that are floating around the campus about some of the experiences the seniors had on various inspection trips. The I. E.'s tended to business in the industrial Piedmont. The E. E.'s enjoyed the nights around the Great White Way . . . G. I. checks arrived just in time to be invested in Easter buds for the little dears. . . . Of course, the coeds will lead the Raleigh Easter parade agh. . . . Just as a reminder, spring would be a darn good time for all us to cease walking across the

His genius gave wings to words

It was an historic moment. Alexander Graham Bell's telephone had just spoken its first words—"Mr. Watson, come here, I want you!"

That evening in Boston—March 10, 1876—Dr. Bell's crude instrument transmitted his voice only to the next room. But out of it was destined to come a whole new era—the era of quick, easy, easy nation-wide telephony, of radio telephony in all its varied forms, of talking pictures, voice and music reproduction systems and electrical aids for the hard of hearing. Few inventions have played a greater part in shaping the world we live in!

Since 1877—just one year after Bell's long experimentation was crowned with success—it has been Western Electric's privilege to help carry forward his great idea which gave wings to words. In that year Western Electric made its first telephone. More than 45,000,000 have followed it—over 4,000,000 of them in 1946 alone.

Today, from coast to coast, in factories, offices, distributing houses and central office installation crews, there are more than 110,000 Western Electric workers. Imbued with the Bell System spirit of service, they are helping to provide equipment in record quantities to meet telephone needs far beyond any envisioned by the inventor.

Alexander Graham Bell

This year marks the 100th Anniversary of Bell's birth in Edinburgh, Scotland, on March 3, 1847. From early youth, he was keenly interested in aiding the hard of hearing. He became a teacher of "visible speech" when 18 years old. This work led to experiments with "telegraphing" sound, out of which, in 1876, came his greatest invention—the telephone. Dr. Bell was a great humanitarian as well as a great scientist. His accomplishments—in aiding the deaf, in communications, in aviation and other fields—were outstanding. His rich life—came to an incalculably great influence on the world—came to an end on August 2, 1922.

State Plays Wake Forest Easter Monday

Number 3 team in the South and Southwest, number 13 team in the nation and third place in the National Invitation Tournament; that is the enviable record compiled by Coach Everette Case's Red Terrors in their first year of play together. And from all reports in New York, they will be the team to stop in 1948. I concur. Perhaps it is a little late to reiterate the fine showing the Red Terrors made in New York, but having a deep pride for the team and a personal affection for them, I feel compelled to glorify them a little more.

Even though they were knocked from the tourney by Kentucky they still were not dismayed and they showed that by coming back strong to win over West Virginia by 12 points. West Virginia was beaten only twice previously and by 2 points each time. From where I sat it looked like the team was the victim of some very questionable officiating in the Kentucky game and that with a few breaks for them instead of against them, the Red Terrors could have taken Ole Kentucky.

Don't misunderstand, I am not making excuses for the loss of the team. But that's the way it looked to me. I still think they have one of the best teams in the country and will stick by them win or lose. One thing that irks me is that so many people keep wanting to know "What happened in the Kentucky game." What happened in the Kentucky game? I think that most of them were sincere in asking, merely for information and not griping. But for those who were griping, I have only this to say. Our team played their hearts out the whole time they were there. They didn't forget that State College was behind them all the way. They won two games out of three against some of the best teams in the nation. What else could you expect the first year.

For the rest of the students, I have this to say. The team and coaches deeply appreciated the send-off given them at the Tower and Station. Captain Leo Katkavek expressed the sentiments of the whole team when he said "I've never seen anything like it." The telegrams that kept pouring in from State College, even after the defeat by Kentucky made them feel very good. Every member of the team and Coach Case asked me to thank you for the fine support given them by you—the Student Body of State College. I, in this small way, would like to commend Coaches Case and Anderson for the splendid feat achieved this year. How Coach Case didn't get the Coach of the Year award is a mystery to me. Al Crawford, wrestling coach and trainer for the New York trip, did a fine job and Bob Levin, who has managed the team for the entire season, turned in a swell account of himself for a job with little credit. Recognition for work well done.

You might be interested to know that the New York Alumni of State are very active. The night after the team arrived in New York the alumni gave a very enjoyable dinner meeting in honor of the team's achievements. They were very anxious to know all about the Ole Alma Mater and literally "ate the TECHNICIAN" up; they were distributed to them. Many of them even subscribed to the TECHNICIAN, much to the dismay of the Wataugan no doubt.

So much for Basketball. The baseball season is already upon us and will be in full swing by the time this paper "hits the streets." With a little more practice under their belts, the team looks like another winner to me, even though they lost the first two conference games. Having had little time to practice before those games because of adverse weather Coach Sorrell's men were playing under a handicap. Reports have it that the wind was so strong in those games that some of the pitchers were blown off the mound as they were winding-up for the pitch. It really takes guts, for both teams, to play in games like that.

Coach Beattie Feathers is losing no time in getting the Wolfpack into shape for next season. Spring training started last Tuesday and rumors are that the team is looking no time in getting the Wolfpack "new blood." Two of the prospects that are eyeing State have had offers from most of the big football schools in the nation. Tony Gaeta, starter from the 1944 team is back from the service and will add new strength to the tackle or guard positions.

Bob Hahn, 6-9 center of State led the Red Terrors in their first victory in the National Invitation Tournament against St. John's of Brooklyn. Besides scoring 9 points, Hahn bottled-up the high-scoring center of St. John's, Boykoff, and caused him to foul out of the game. Until Hahn went into the game, State was trailing by 9 points. He upset the Indians so much that they lost the poise they had in the early minutes of the game and floundered about the court the rest of the night.

Intramural Program Will Open on Tuesday

The spring term intramural program will open a full schedule next Tuesday. In keeping with the variety that has been offered in the past the Physical Education department will offer softball, tennis, volleyball, track, and handball for the spring's activities. All schedules have been posted on the bulletin board at the gymnasium. The manager of each team is held responsible for getting his team's schedule and having the team there at playing time. It is hoped that they will do this as soon as possible to avoid any needless forfeits.

The softball games will be played on Freshman Field and the field next to Alexander dormitory. Red Diamond, which was used last year, is not available this year. As was announced last term, the gym will

Diamond Squad Opens Home Card with game At Devereux Meadow

By MAC McDUFFIE
 Coach Vic Sorrell's baseballers open their home season with the renewal of the colorful Easter Monday series against Wake Forest at Devereux Meadows. The traditional rivals staged the contest before a capacity crowd last year, with big Curt Ramsey hurling a 6-3 victory over the Deacons' ace, Jackie Pearce.

The outcome of the dual will not affect the standings in the Big Four League, but the two teams have four regular frays carded for the loop race. Monday's game will give the local fans their first glimpse of the Techs, defending State champions, and the Deacons, currently rated as the team to beat for this year's title.

State is loaded with lettermen, whereas Wake Forest has few lettermen, but a host of heralded newcomers including 12 freshman pitching candidates. The Tech let-bevents at night for other athletic events and gym-apparatus workouts. It is hoped that this service can be offered by the first of next week. At present it is not.

The intramural tennis program will be combined with the tennis tournament being held by the Physical Education dept. in which prizes will be offered to the winners. There will be three brackets; dormitory, fraternity, and open. Prizes will be given to the winners of each bracket and a prize for the grand winner. This is a doubles tournament. Pairings are posted on the bulletin board at the gym.

Participants are urged to start playing their matches as soon as possible. The date beside the pairings are the last possible dates that the match can be played. It does not mean that the match must be played on that date but it can be played before. If the match is not played by then, it will be forfeited. Courts 5, 6, 7, and 8 will be used for these matches.

The dormitories and fraternities should pick the men to represent them immediately and arrange a date to play their matches with their opponents. The open division tennis doubles should do likewise.

Equipment for softball, volleyball, and handball can be checked out at the gym.

termen, as a group, were weak-hitters last season and it is doubtful if Coach Sorrell will give all of them the nod against the Demons.

State has a six-man mound staff, headed by Ramsey and Ernest Johnson. These two veterans were responsible for all of the Tech's triumphs last season. Also on the list of hurlers are Bob Edwards and Doug Page, prewar monogram winners, and Tootsie Holding and Everett Lail, a couple of freshmen. The sextet fails to include a left-hander.

Jim Edwards, team batting champion and dynamic catcher last season, is working behind the plate again, but is receiving a large amount of competition from Billy Fowler, Charlotte freshman. Edwards and Fowler are each slated to see a lot of action. Sorrell may elect to use Edwards against left-handed pitchers and Fowler against righthanders, because Jim bats left-handed.

In early games, Bill Stanton, Pinky Gardner, Charlie Richkus and Hank Utley formed the infield, but several candidates are still in the running for berths. Leo Katkavek, cage star, will be pushing for a position at third or first, and Footsie Palmer is an able second base caretaker. Jack McComas is expected to register a hard-fought battle for action at shortstop. Jack may be slow in getting a start because of the severe cold he suffered while in New York with Coach Everett Case's basketball outfit.

Willie Evans, Frank Craig, Bill Mussack, and Warren Bailey have shown that an trio of them can form a heavier-hitting outfield than State had last season.

Jack McComas, fastest man in Southern Conference Basketball and guard on the Red Terror team, was selected on the number 1 team of the National Invitation Tournament All-Tournament team by the New York Daily Worker. McComas was one of the leaders for the Red Terrors in the Garden Tourney. He led the pace in the Kentucky game with his race-horse brand of play and scored 12 points. Others on the first team were Arnold Ferrin and Vern Gardner, both of Utah's winners, Wah-Wah Jones of Kentucky, and Dick Holub of Long Island.—Photo by Vern Stack

Nearly 3,000 Patients Handled in March

Dr. Campbell announced today that the number of patients admitted to the hospital for treatment of colds and flu did not constitute an epidemic. During the month of March the staff handled 2,961 patients at sick call. There were a total of 172 admissions to the hospital, making a total of 441 hospital hours for the month. The majority of these admissions were for mild cases of flu. Only one case of mumps was reported. Of thirty patients questioned one day it was found that ten had taken flu shots at a previous date; twenty had not.

NSLI Term Policies Can Now Be Renewed

Further liberalizing by Congress of the National Service Life Insurance Act makes it possible for World War II veterans to reinstate lapsed term policies until August 1, 1947, without a medical examination, the State College Veterans Administration Contact Office explained today. "NSLI term policies, which have lapsed at any time, may be reinstated between now and August by payment of two monthly premiums and the signing of a statement that the insured is in as good health as at the time of lapse. Until the new law was signed by President Truman last week, the deadline for such reinstatements had been February 1. Term insurance, the VA office explained, is the type issued to Veterans while in service, and which has not been converted to a permanent plan of NSLI. It may be reinstated, up to the top amount of $10,000, in multiples of $500, with $1,000 being the minimum amount permitted. The liberalized provisions of NSLI came at a time when the VA has begun a nationwide program to inform veterans of their rights and benefits concerning "G. I. insurance." One feature of the new law is that veterans may obtain any permanent plan of NSLI from VA without having previously held term insurance, which was a requirement of the old law. Complete information about NSLI, including the new features, and assistance in reinstating lapsed term policies can be obtained by veterans at the VA Contact Office, located at Room 106 in Building 1911. The office is open Monday through Friday, but is now closed on Saturday.

Six chapters will be represented at this convention. The congress will open with a business meeting at Meredith College at 2:30 in the afternoon. Saturday night the linguists will enjoy a dinner dance at the Raleigh Woman's Club from 6:30 until 11:30. Industrial Engineers Visit Several Plants

Fifteen seniors and two juniors in Industrial Engineering made an inspection tour of several industrial plants in North Carolina during the spring holidays. These students were accompanied on the tour by Professor R. L. Wiggins, Acting Head of the Department of Industrial Engineering. Professor C. D. Hart, visiting professor in the department, and Mr. R. E. Shafer of the staff. In Winston-Salem the group visited the Western Electric Company and R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. On the visit to the Fieldcrest plant at Sproy, Mr. William McGehee, a former professor of psychology at State College, arranged a luncheon for the party. Several other industrial plants were visited at Durham, Greensboro and Thomasville. The students were very interested in the industrial engineering aspects of the work seen. They were also interested in arrangement of machinery, safety, and incentive plans for payment. The general belief is that the trip was well worth the time spent. After the completion of the trip, the students made suggestions for inspection trips for future classes.
