ROTC PREPARING FOR WAR WITH RUSSIA

'Sophomore Hop' Tomorrow Promises To Be Most Colorful Dance of Term

"Queens For A Day"

The young ladies pictured above will sponsor for the dance committee arranging the Annual Sophomore Hop to be held in the gym tomorrow night. Spotlighting the group will be the scintillating Miss M. J. Ross of Clinton (center) for J.

Some Tickets Still Available; Dance Not Restricted to Sophs

By EMMETT BRINGLE
The Sophomore Hop occupies the social spotlight this weekend, bringing to the campus for the first time for a major dance the music of Herb Gupton and his 16-piece orchestra. The name "Sophomore Hop" is a bit misleading, for although the dance is sponsored by the Sophomore class, it is open to students of all classes.

The dance, to be held, of course, in Frank Thompson Gymnasium, will get under way tomorrow night at eight-thirty and wind up at midnight.

All tickets for the dance have not been sold. Some are still available at the Lambda Chi Alpha house in the basement apartment at 2226 Hillsboro Street. Bids will also be available at the door the night of the dance while they last.

To Be Strictly Informed
As was announced previously, the dance will be strictly informal and there will be no intermissions; continuous dancing from beginning to end with the advance sale of four hundred bids promising a perfect sized crowd and plenty of dancing room.

Gupton's band presents one of the most interesting musical combinations to come to the campus in quite a while. Herb had an organized outfit for many years before the war, but had to dissolve it when he was inducted into the service. His band features a sextette comprised of Paul Montfomey, piano; Dave Moffett, Drums; Carl Mims, Bass (and a State boy); Phifer Fullenwider, Trumpet; Bob Montgomery, "a really fine tenor sax"; and Herb himself on the trombone. This group features not the Woody Herman brand of Harlem jump numbers, but the real thing—"Dixieland" and New Orleans style jazz. The band specializes in smooth, danceable beats strategically scattered with good jitterbug tunes. The group should be well worth hearing so if you haven't made your plans already, get on that phone. (Maybe the pigeon would be faster now, though).

ROTC is Broadening Its Program; History May Be Retracing the Ominous Thirties

(This is an editorial. We have used our ROTC unit solely for illustrative purposes. We could have said almost any group connected with military operations—and that includes nearly all of us—is preparing for war with Russia.)

These young Americans in bright new greens and pinks constitute the ROTC battalion of N. C. State College as they marched review last Friday. Can they possibly be just puppets dancing on the War Department's string, waiting for a war with Russia? Or is there a real need to increase our manpower to meet the threat of Russian aggression?

If the streamer above this article startles you, and you study it for a moment and then decide that the whole thing is absurd and that the editors of this newspaper are nuts, you are reacting in a perfectly natural way. But if you will think with us a moment, look into the international muddle, realize the scope and intent of the War Department's present fervor of activity, take a check into the broadening program of the ROTC at this college, take into consideration the fact that the ROTC training of the thirties, though not intended so, was preparation for the war with Germany—you may begin to see that the headline, however far-fetched, may be significant, not too far from actually, and certainly worthy of serious thought by us all.

G.E.'s Famous 'House of Magic' at Pullen Tonight

The General Electric Company's "House of Magic" science show, which will be shown at Pullen Hall, tonight at 8:00 PM, will be presented by C. Edward Gluesing, who is a real magician and master at sleight-of-hand.

The "House of Magic", however, rather than a magic show, is one which demonstrates the marvels of modern science. Demonstrations are presented which show many of the ways in which scientific research is providing new things for greater health, comfort and convenience.

Gluesing was not always a magician. During his lifetime he has taught school, been a private tutor, and served as a sailor in the U. S. Navy. A native of Wisconsin, he as graduated from the State Teachers College at LaCrosse. After teaching science and mathematics to high school students for a few years, he entered the University of Wisconsin, from which he received a bachelor of philosophy degree. It was during these college years that he took up magic as a hobby.

In Chicago Show

In 1934, when the "House of Magic" science appeared at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, Gluesing, assisted with lectures and demonstrations, thus obtaining experience which stood him in good stead when he later was placed in charge of a "House of Magic" show touring the country.

It was the late Floyd Gibbons, noted author, lecturer, and foreign correspondent, who was so impressed with what he found in the General Electric Research Laboratory at Schenectady that he called it the "House of Magic." The name "House of Magic" first was applied to the science show at Chicago's Century of Progress. It proved to be one of the outstanding features of that exposition, and since then has entertained nearly 12,000,000 persons, including 1,200,000 service men during the war years.

Now in its fourteenth season, the postwar version of the "House of Magic" presents a wide variety of scientific phenomena. Highlights of the show are: a train which obeys spoken commands, "motionless" motion, a man shaking hands with his own shadow, "hearing"

C. E. Gluesing, of General Electric's "House of Magic," demonstrating how light can be heard.

If one should try to prove that the State College ROTC unit is deliberately and directly preparing for war with Russia, he would be attempting to do the impossible, for such is not the case, we reiterate. The ROTC is broadening its program, however, and while that can not be construed to mean that they are preparing for war, it may prove to be most significant if and when our ROTC officers lead our army into combat with the Russian army.

Army Week Celebration

Dressed in pinks and greens, looking plenty good in their bright new uniforms, our ROTC boys paraded last Friday for the first time this year in celebration of Army Week. Governor Cherry and other dignitaries were present. It was a nice review. It was a credit to the college and the college is proud of the ROTC unit. But does Army Week, 1947, and parades at State College have more meaning, more far-reaching implications than we imagine? Is this "play-soldier" program a prelude to the grand finale of the world's great conflicts, to be entitled, "The Atomic Extinction of the Homo Sapiens and Their Civilization?"

General "Ike" was touring the army camps of the south recently. While seemingly on a leisurely tour of the southland, it is thought that his trip was for the purpose of assuring himself that his army was not daydreaming. It was said that the War Department's army-strengthening measures would soon be used in an onslaught with Russia, how true would that be? How soon will the army be used? Will it ever?

A man named Marshall has been to Moscow on a visit with some people about a little matter of set-

Redcoat Band to Play In Concert on May 4

The Music Department of State College, in cooperation with the Raleigh Music Club and other local musical organizations, will present, in observance of National Music Week, a concert by the Redcoat Band on Sunday afternoon, May 4.

A symphony concert by the State College Orchestra augmented by other Raleigh musicians will be presented on Sunday, May 11.

Rehearsals for these events will be held by the Band on Tuesdays from 4:00 to 6:00 PM and on Thursdays from 7:00 to 8:00 PM in the basement of the gym. The orchestra will rehearse on Tuesdays from 8:00 to 10:00 PM in Pullen Hall.

All qualified players not previously identified with either of these organizations are urged to contact Major Kutschinski, Director of Music, in No. 10 Holloway Hall, or to report at the next rehearsal for audition and assignment of parts.

The Orchestra is in need of additional strings and an oboe, while the Band desires more clarinets and other woodwinds.

Light and "seeing" sound, lighting an electric lamp with a match, and many others.

Graham Expresses Wholehearted Approval Of Student Government in Talk to Council

By ISH COOK

Did you ever feel that you were out of place, completely out of place? Well, I did at my first meeting with the campus "wheels" (the Student Council). There were Colonel Harrelson, Dr. Graham, and Fred Wagoner, on my left; Dean Brown, Lr. Cell, and Dean Cloyd on my right, and all the other "wheels" that are still rolling on this campus.

I have never before seen as much hand-shaking and back-patting, but everything must end, they say, and so it did when our speaker finished patting and shaking.

The Student Council was host to Dr. Frank P. Graham, President of the Greater University of North Carolina, and one of the most talented speakers that it has been my privilege to hear. He talked in an informal manner, and gave suggestions, not advice, to the governing body of our school.

Comments on Government
Fred Wagoner asked the administration's president to give his comments on student government. Dr. Graham recalled the past days on this campus when no form of student participation in governing the school existed. In those days part of the duty of the faculty was to make periodic rounds of the dormitories after school hours to prevent gambling and to see that the "immature subjects" of the school were studying their lessons.

Coercion like that practiced in the past did not accomplish its purpose. Dr. Graham stated that he is not an advocate of the old method of governing a college, and he talked with the voice of years of experience when he said:

"This is a democratic nation, and it needs capable men to give equitable service if it is to remain a democracy. If men and women are not taught self-government in our schools, where then, shall they receive the necessary training? And experience is still the best teacher.

Graduates Prove Theory
"That experience is a good teacher is exemplified by the reports of business executives about students that have graduated from the schools of the Greater University."

Seniors

Bids will be given out at the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday April 22, between the hours of 6 and 9:30 P.M.

This will be your last chance to obtain a bid to the big Junior-Senior Dance to be held at Memorial Auditorium April 26.

Any Juniors who have not paid their dues may do so at this time also.

Notice

The Glee Club will resume its regular rehearsal schedule next week, meeting in Pullen Hall from 7:00 to 8:00 P.M. on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, to prepare for another concert and some recordings.

However, Major Kutschinski announced that unless the attendance is better than it has been since the beginning of this term, the club will be disbanded for the remainder of the term. All members are urged to come out for practice.

Lampe, Van Note Will Attend ASEE Regional

Dean J. H. Lampe, School of Engineering, and Dr. William G. Van Note, Engineering Research Department, left last Wednesday for Louisville, Kentucky, to attend the spring meeting of the Southern section of the American Society of Engineering Education.

Dean Lampe, who is the representative to the society of the southern region, said that the main purpose of the meeting were to discuss all phases of engineering research, and map out its future educational program, and also to decide how to procure highly trained technical personnel for educational jobs. There is a shortage today, the Dean said, of experienced technicians in teacher positions in the nation's engineering schools.

Policies Announced For Campus Elections

It was announced today that all aspiring candidates should submit a letter to Dean LePorte, on or before April 23, 1947, revealing their intentions to run for office during the May 1 primaries. Each student's application will be examined by the Qualifications Committee of the Student Council, and the Dean's Office.

The past policy of appointing cheerleaders has been suspended; candidates for the cheerleading squad must submit their names through the aforementioned channels.

The award of the Alumni Trophy to the most outstanding athlete of the year is to be revived during the coming elections. This award has not been made since 1943. The winner will be judged on the basis of Athletic Ability, Sportsmanship, Scholarship, Character, and Leadership. A blank will be provided on the ballot in which to place the name of the athlete of your choice. The two men who receive the most votes will run in the final elections.

Meeting To Be Held

A meeting of the rising Junior class will be held for the purpose of nominating men to run for the Athletic Council. Two of these men will be elected to run during the May 1 primaries. The rising Senior class will hold a similar meeting to elect one representative to the Council.

A future issue of THE TECHNICIAN will devote a full page spread to the elections. Pictures of all major candidates and information about them will appear in this issue.

First Woman Speaker

Miss Helen Parker spoke at the Forestry Club last Tuesday night on the subject "Fungus in the Forest." Miss Parker was the first woman speaker in the history of the Forestry Club.

W. T. Ray Is Elected Beaux Arts President

Stephen C. Wilbur, Jr., president of the Beaux Arts Society has announced that the new officers for that organization were elected at a meeting last Thursday night.

The society, composed of students in Architectural Engineering and Architecture, has as its purpose the promoting of fellowship among students of like interest.

Those men elected are: W. T. Ray, president; W. F. Freeman, vice-president; and George Connor, secretary and treasurer. F. W. Butler, R. E. Carpenter, and R. F. Kendrick were elected representatives to the Engineers Council. R. L. Runyon and G. J. Jernigan, Jr. will serve as alternates.

'As You Like It' Plays At YMCA Auditorium

The film version of Shakespeare's romantic comedy, "As You Like It," will be shown in the YMCA auditorium tonight at 7:30. Dr. L. E. Hinkle, chairman of the Public Lectures Committee, reminds us.

There will be no admission charges and the public is invited to attend.

Instructor's Role

For the past two weeks quite a bit of fur has been flying about the failure of the honor system on the campus. Everyone seems to be in accord that it is not working as it should and that steps should be taken to eliminate the causes of its failure.

The fundamentals on which our honor system is based are as solid as the earth beneath our feet. They are not to be taken lightly or joked about especially by people who have as much influence on students as instructors.

Not only the instructor's attitude but also the manner in which he conducts and arranges his work is reflected in actions of the students.

The By-Laws of the Campus Government and Honor System (ART. IV; Sec. 5) suggest the following:

- (a) Draw up all examination questions, in so far as possible, to reduce the temptation or opportunity to cheat.
(b) Arrange all classes so that students shall sit in alternate seats and never in adjoining seats...

Although each member of the faculty is supposed to be aware of these suggestions (ART. 111; Sec. 4 of the Constitution) it is evident that many faculty members have never heard of the suggestions...

Better Cafeteria

Congratulations are long overdue for Mr. Harry Stewart, manager of our cafeteria. Mr. Stewart deserves the thanks and support of the entire staff and student body...

With the war years so fresh in our memory, it is hard to believe that the steaks served in the GRILL are real, but you only have to taste them. It goes without saying that the prices for the steaks and fried chicken are unbeatable...

Engineers Are Introverts

Are All Engineers Slide Rule Happy?

By JOE SWETT

Campus elections are just around the corner. We might do well to look into the importance of these elections to our individual futures.

Elections are to be held for every major campus office. From that list of offices and prospective office holders we can deduce one very pertinent fact. The fact that that from the entire list only one major office will be filled by a student from the engineering school.

It is an inescapable fact, like it or not, that the average State engineer is hopelessly narrow. We may rise in indignation when we hear that, but it is the simple truth. Do we ever read anything other than the newspaper and our textbooks?

I am in the engineering school, and I have no delusions that I will ever make Tau Beta Pi (although the fact that a man has the average to make that august society does not guarantee his admission as should be the case).

Will We Never Learn...?

It seems that a minority of our student body will never learn that what they do as individuals reflects upon the entire State College community.

We, as a student body, are attempting to convince the Faculty and Administration that we are earnest enough and adult enough to completely regulate our pursuits through a more useful and influential Student Council.

Student Views On Masculine Conservatives

By BERT ZUCKERMAN

It's A FARSE, brother! Try to satisfy the basic desire of "woman needs man and man needs woman" and see how far you get around Raleigh.

The person with the least inhibitions will get around this condition regardless of the social stigma involved. But take the more conservative type of male or female who permit themselves to be bound in a moral straightjacket.

While promening the streets of Raleigh, "Joe C" sees hordes of women who could gratify his desires for understanding companionship. "Joe" never would resort to the expedient of whistling, so he drops his handkerchief which is seemingly unnoticed and trampled upon by the girls.

We Men

We froze in the mountains of Italy;
We slogged to her Anzio's beach.
We sweated out mummies and 88's
And listened for Death's awful shriek.

It is well to point out that the cans are in effect here on trial. If the idea proves sound, and the campus is less subject to the careless litter of trash the present number will be substantially supplemented.

GLEANNINGS

In case you haven't noticed this column has ceased to be good reading, but rather is attempting to reach a cultural plane. Frankly we think it is like grasping at straws in the wind, but we ain't editor...

Speaking of Secretary Bill Daniels in the above paragraph, have you heard about—Oh! Oh! But we're above gossiping now so you had best ask some of his Lambda Chi brothers about that...

Have you noticed that given the State College campus is beautiful at this season? We circled the campus in a vacant period the first of the week and jotted down a few of our impressions.

Leaving the tower no stroller could miss the Court of Conglomeration or we should say the Court of North Carolina. But we did not see the ugly and allegedly necessary reassembled barracks.

While on our way to see just what changes the season had bestowed on the Court of Ceres, we mullied over some of the scenes around the dorm areas—the losing fight countless blades of green were making as hundreds of thoughtless feet sought to push them back into the earth...

Hill Grads In Majority On Board of Trustees

By EMMETT BRINGLE

The recent election of 23 members to the Board of Trustees of the Greater University of North Carolina makes evident to us the pressing need for more equitable distribution of alumni on this board.

We would be wholly unjust in questioning the discretion of any member of this august body; however, a person educated in a liberal arts school must certainly have a definite bias toward an institution which offers this type of curriculum, especially if the school happens to be his alma mater.

Baptist Student Union Sponsors Lecture Series on 'World Religions'

By WALTER M. CLARK
A very interesting and informative talk on Hinduism was given by Professor R. D. Immanuel at the supper meeting sponsored by the Baptist Student Union Friday night.

Mr. Immanuel, a native of India, stressed the fact that he is a second generation Christian although his forefathers were Hindu. He began with a comparison between Hinduism and Mohammedanism on many of their beliefs.

The ultimate purpose of the Hindu is to abolish himself from the cycle of life and death. The feat is accomplished by attaining True Knowledge. True knowledge is found through intense concentration until all material values have no lure and he senses his oneness with the Universe.

Freshman Meeting Is Slated Monday Nite

Thomas Williams of Raleigh, Freshman class president, announced today that a freshman class meeting will be held in Riddick Stadium, Monday night, April 21, at 8:30. The purpose of this meeting will be to submit plans and secure budget approval for a Freshman Dance which will be held on Saturday, May 17, in Memorial Auditorium. In the event of rain, the class meeting will be held in Frank Thompson Gym.

Tentative plans for this dance, the first since before the war, were laid at a dance committee meeting on Monday afternoon. The tremendous number of freshmen now in school and the limited space in Frank Thompson Gymnasium necessitates removal of the dance to Memorial Auditorium. This move will permit an unlimited number of students and their dates to attend, and allow plenty of room for dancing.

Negotiations toward securing an orchestra have been started, but completion of these plans hinges upon the budget approved and suggestions made by the class as a whole.

Jack Hamner Elected Mayor of Vet-Ville

In an election which was marked because of the interest that it stimulated, as well as the high percentage of the population which voted, Jack Hamner won the office of Mayor of Vet-Ville by defeating Johnny Meador, 115 votes to 72. Out of a total of 189 ballots cast, there was only one blank.

The other officers elected were Betty Surratt, Secretary-Treasurer; Fred Brown, Publicity Director; Rose Yelton, Recreation Director; Tony LeMay, Director of Intramural Sports; and Earl Hunt, Chief Fire Marshal.

Chief interest in the competition for offices centered around the voting for Chief Fire Marshal. Earl Hunt won this race by four votes in a close three-way vote with Jim Chandler and Jim Kitchens.

The incoming mayor expressed his appreciation for the support that he had been given by his friends and backers and stated that he would call a meeting for the purpose of electing aldermen as soon as possible. He also made it clear that he intends to work for the best interests of Vet-Ville, and that he is aware that there are many problems to be solved.

The election was conducted under the supervision of the retiring mayor, Malcolm Edwards. As the first Mayor of Vet-Ville Malcolm has had to overcome many problems in organizing a suitable government for the area. The fact that he and his co-workers have been successful in their efforts has been well demonstrated by the success with which the present election was conducted.

The totals for each candidate were as follows:

Plans for Stronger Campus Radio Station Shaping Up

By OREN T. BOYLES

In January 1945, students at State College were pleasantly surprised when they turned on their radios and heard a broadcast originating from a station on the campus.

Harrison Wroton, at that time a Junior in Aeronautical Engineering, had built the one-tube, carrier-current station which he called Station WOLF. With a low-power transmitter and a small public-address amplifier, however, not all the students on the campus could be reached.

The students who heard the first few broadcasts were so enthusiastic that Wroton, John Huffman and Wesley Jones started plans for a station that would reach all parts of the campus. At first these students planned to build a station from existing resources, but it was agreed that the available resources should be supplemented by the college.

Broadcasting System Formed
 In order to obtain college assistance the student broadcasting system of North Carolina State College was formed. Other interested students became members of the organization and the station was copyrighted WNCOS.

In the fall term of 1945, a studio and workshop were set up in Owen Hall. Near the end of the fall term a few trial broadcasts were made. These broadcasts were jubilantly received by students in Watauga Hall, but other students could scarcely hear them.

While the Publications Board is willing to help finance the station during its development, it is hoped the station will soon be able to support itself with local and national advertising. Although all the work that has been done for the station was done without compensation, it is hoped that station officers will receive salaries if the station is to be a function of the Publications Board.

Future Expansion
 The plans for future expansion include the conditioning and use of five basement rooms in Building 1911 for studios, office and control and transmitter room. If these rooms can be secured (they are not in use at present), the combination office, reception room, and studio in Owen Hall will be vacated.

Every effort is being made to complete the work necessary to begin operation again as soon as possible. Trial broadcasts are now being conducted almost every night of the week.

The general plan of operation will be fully as complex as that of a commercial station. All operations will be performed by students, offering valuable experience in every phase of radio broadcasting. Membership is open to all interested and qualified students.

Moved Transmitter
 In their efforts to cover the entire campus with their signal, the WNCOS engineers moved their transmitter to the basement of the 1911 building. When once again WNCOS went on the air, it could be heard in every dormitory on the campus although the signal was still weak in some of the buildings.

During the summer of 1946, the station made 7:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. broadcasts Monday through Friday. Programs were prepared and presented by students. These programs were enthusiastically received by students in Alexander and Turlington Halls and in the freshman quadrangle. In the other buildings on the campus it was difficult to pick up the station—a difficulty which has remained unsolved.

Board Allots $1100
 The Publications Board, realizing the potentialities of a good campus radio station and the need of financial assistance for WNCOS, voted that a sum of $1,100.00 be made available to the station for the purchase of equipment and the improvement of existing facilities. The station has not been operating during its renovation.

The WNCOS program staff is headed by Manager Samuel Bruce Pettaway. Many of the announcers and others of the program staff want the engineering staff to put a much stronger signal on the air. Wesley Jones, station manager and technical director, Tom Melton,

Vets Association Reorganized; Palmer Elected President

The yearly election of officers was held by the State College Veterans Association in the YMCA Thursday night of last week. Hugh C. Palmer, E. E. Sophomore from Hazelwood, N. C., was elected president; Robert S. Baker, E. B. Junior from Winston-Salem, vice president; and John D. Evans, Junior in M. E. from Kenly, secretary.

After the elections further discussion was conducted on the plan and policy of the club for the coming year. Previously, at the meeting of the winter term, ground work had been laid for the club's complete reorganization and rejuvenation. Meetings are to be held twice a month, one of which is to be a dinner meeting. All old members have been placed on an inactive status unless they have attended one of the last two meetings, mentioned. However, if any of them wish to renew their membership they should contact one of the new officers or one of the currently active members as soon as possible.

Although in the future all regular meetings are to be of the closed section type, new members will be welcomed from all of those who are eligible—any veteran of World War II. Notification of the next meeting will be by post card. All members are requested to give their address to Miss Huneccut in 104 Peele Hall if the secretary does not have it correctly.

Sorrell's Crew Tackle Duke's Blue Devils in First Conference Game

Coach Vic Sorrell's defending State Champion baseball team will try again tomorrow afternoon to break into the win column in Conference competition after being rained out in their opening conference games last Tuesday and Wednesday against Davidson and Wake Forest.

Sorrell has been experimenting with various players and seems to have found a well-knit infield in Stanton, 1b, Utley, 2b, McComas, 3b, Kalkreuth, 3b.

Stanton has power at the plate and plays a rugged game at first to hold down a vital position.

In all possibilities Coach Sorrell will start Bob Edwards against the Blue Devils tomorrow. He was originally slated to take the mound against Wake Forest on Wednesday but the game was rained out.

Duke will probably give the favorite for tomorrow's game on the basis of their win over Wake Forest, who shellacked State 13-3 on Easter Monday.

Golfers Meet Deacons Tues.; Split Opening Meets Last Week

State's golf team shared the brunt of the rainy period this week with the baseball team and tennis team by having to postpone their match with Wake Forest on Tuesday.

The linkmen will be gunning for their second win in three starts after winning from High Point College 17-1-2 to 9-1-2 last Friday after dropping their opener to Davidson 17-10 on Thursday.

Sonny Hamm had the best medal score for State with a 4 over par 78. Don Bryant of Davidson took the best medal score of the match with a one-under par 71.

Roy Dearnstine, Robert Turnbull, Weston Dixon, Charlie Gibson, Sonny Hamm, and Bill Furr were the State men making the trip for the Davidson and High Point matches.

Bouncing back after the Davidson defeat, the putter-swingers decisively downed the High Point College golfers 17-1-2 to 9-1-2 with Charlie Gibson taking the best medal score of the day with a two-under par 71.

Boxing Needed as Inter-Collegiate Sport

By GEORGE HARRELL

So far about 9 students have expressed any desire to have boxing reinstated as an intercollegiate sport here at State College.

There is definitely a need for a boxing team at State. Now that State College is moving to the forefront of college sports, we should be represented by at least all the sports that other Southern Conference schools are participating in.

Practically all the schools that dropped boxing during the war have started the sport again, and are making strong showings too.

Local fans, North Carolina that, is received some gratifying news this week in the form of the announcement that Coach Everett Case, popular and affable Case Coach at State, plans to set in motion machinery to raise the standards of Basketball in North Carolina.

I believe this is a golden opportunity for the public schools in North Carolina to show that they are in favor of progressive reform and want to better the athletic potential of the Tar Heel State, not merely for the sake of "dismissing" the non-natives that come to our schools to participate in athletics, but to be ever progressing.

It is indeed gratifying to have such a well-respected gentleman as Everett Case to lead the way in this field. I am behind him one hundred percent.

What happened to the Colesium? What happened to the new baseball field? These are the questions that most of the students are asking themselves and each other.

That seems to be the general gist of the opinions of the students, but there are several things that must be considered before "jumping down the officials' throats."

Whatever is wrong, I feel sure that the administration and the athletic department will surely set machinery in motion to get these much-needed facilities immediately. OR WILL THEY?

Football Looks Bright As Team Works Hard

By JIM REES

April has brought spring showers and flowers and football players to "death valley" practice field. Two beautiful warm spring weeks have now passed by for Coach Beattie Feather's footballers, the "warmest" days being the last two Saturdays when scrimmages were held.

At guard position, showing a lot of spirit, is Tony Gaeta, a former muscular West Virginian who can more than hold his own in the bruising play of the center of the line.

Backs that have moved up are "Slick" Williams, a hard playing wing-back and "Pee-wee" Upchurch. Although one of the smallest lads on the field, "Pee-wee" is one of the fightingest.

They'll be well-prepared for those unfortunates that will seek revenge for last season's losses.

Chambers leads attack With 14 Points

Duke's Blue Devils handed State its first Southern Conference track defeat of the current season last Saturday in Duke Stadium by the score of 74 1-3 to 51 2-3.

Duke, led by speedy Doug Ausbon, needed the last five events to clinch the victory, as they were leading by only 3 points after eight events had been run.

Chambers took firsts in the low hurdles and the 440 and a tie for first in the high hurdles to account for his points.

Pete Negley, another basketballer, tied for first in the high jump with Colvin of Duke, while Dickey and Pickett tied for third with Ausbon.

Evidently both Dickey and Byler were off form, considering their show in the Carolina Relays a week before. In the Relays Byler tossed the shot a distance of 47ft. 2 1-4 inches while the winning throw last Saturday was only 44 ft. 10 inches.

den Smith at the tail-back spot is fast developing into a triple-threat, a fact that a little more experience will prove.

He is still snaking his way through, around and over as many of his team mates bear out.

George Bloomquist hasn't lost that knack for catching passes nor Gwyn Fletcher for throwing them.

Taking the picture as a whole, with little more accuracy on blocking assignments and a little better timing at hitting the hole, the team is going to be well-along their way in being prepared for the dynamite-laden season that awaits them next year.

They'll be well-prepared for those unfortunates that will seek revenge for last season's losses.

Byler hurls the shot

Big Jim Byler, shot-put and discus specialist on the track team and place-kicking star of the football team, lets go with the shot-put against Duke. Byler hurled the shot a distance of 47 feet 2 1/4 inches in the Carolina Relays to place first. He is a Freshman in Textiles and hails from Chicago, Ill.—Photo by Charles Shuford

The high jump was won with a jump of 6 ft. while the week before Dickey leaped a height of 6 ft. 2 inches.

The summary: Shot put: Gardiner, Duke; Byler, State; Dostanko, State. 44 feet 10 inches.

Discus: Byler, State; Gardiner, Duke; James, Duke. 122 feet 5 1-2 inches.

High jump: Colvin, Duke, and Negley, State, tie for first; Ausbon, Duke, Dickey, State, Pickett, State, tie for third. Six feet.

440: Chambers, State; Neighborgall, Duke; Young, Duke. 50.2.

100: Ausbon, Duke; Hartley, Duke; Landau, State. 10.2.

120-yard high hurdles: Jones and Chambers, both of State, tie for first; Highfall, Duke. 16.1.

880: Neighborgall, Duke; Egg-lund, State, Dalton, State. 2:01.3.

Pole vault: Bowles, Colvin, Jackson, all of Duke, tie for first. 12 feet three inches.

220: Ausbon, Duke; Hartley, Duke; Orrmins, State. 22.3.

Discus: Byler, State; Gardiner, Duke; James, Duke. 122 feet 5 1-2 inches.

Broad jump: Ausbon, Duke; Dickey, State; Colvin and Sapp, both Duke, tie for third. 22 feet 2 1-2 inches.

Two mile: Gardner, Duke; Du-bow, State; Kendrick, Duke. 10:29.

220 hurdles: Chambers, State, Scrupine, Duke; Highfall, Duke. 26.

ting up a peaceful order of government in certain countries of the world. A man named Truman, backed by an alarmed Congress and some of our experts on foreign policy, has pushed through a bill to counteract the Russian influence in Turkey and Greece, opening up a new era in American statesmanship. This dreamer Wallace, who is getting under the skin of the American Congress particularly, still cries out against American and British methods and motives.

The Outcome
Will these our leaders transform a near-hopeless muddle into an order where peace and brotherhood reigns, or is war with Russia inevitable? How wrong is our headline if based on the supposition that war with Russia is the ultimate? How wrong are we to presuppose that America will be plunged into another world conflict?

The moment calls not for wishful thinking that war will not be again. The situation demands our most earnest thoughts and prayers to discern the proper course to take in what will soon be an international crisis, if not already. If we follow Wallace, are we not traveling a dangerous pathway? If we stand behind our War Department's "Stop Russia" policy, is that not also treacherous, even though it seems the best course at the present? What are we to believe? Whom shall we follow? Where is there hope?

Religious Emphasis Week Was Successful; YMCA Congratulated

Religious Emphasis Week officially ended last night, closing a successful and helpful study of religion and life. The purpose of the week of religious discussion was to concentrate the attention of the student body on the importance of religion in campus life. Religion should be thought about and practiced, not just one week in the year, but every week in every year. Yet there was a value in setting aside the period of April 13 through April 17 for concentration on religious matters. We have had leaders and speakers with broad training and wide experience to share what they have found to be true. The speakers pointed out how an integrated, socially-minded personality may be achieved for every student in State College.

Opened at Pullen Hall
A meeting in Pullen Hall Sunday night opened the week. In a message to the students, Chancellor John W. Harrelson introduced the thought behind Religious Emphasis Week. Colonel Harrelson said, among other things, the following about Religious Emphasis Week: "... the State College YMCA has, under the able leadership of Mr. E. S. King, conducted for many years a religious emphasis week. This convocation offers the religious emphasis week for the current school year. On the programs for the week days to follow are outstanding religious leaders.

"I am glad to bring greetings from the college and on behalf of the students and staff of the YMCA to invite you to hear the speakers during the week. The speaker for Sunday and Monday nights was the Reverend Robert E. Lee, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Silver Spring, Maryland. He spoke on the subjects "What You Believe is Basic" and "Putting What You Believe to Work."

bert E. Lee, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Silver Spring, Maryland. He spoke on the subjects "What You Believe is Basic" and "Putting What You Believe to Work."
Edgar A. Orr, vice-president of the YMCA and a member of the Baptist Student Union, presided Sunday night, and the music was furnished by the Meredith College Choir and the State College Glee Club and Orchestra. The Reverend Clarence E. Norman, Chaplain of the Lutheran Student Association, read the Litany. Monday night Marshall Probst, a member of the Lutheran Student Association, presided, and the Reverend Charles Hobgood, Chaplain of the Canterbury Club, read the Litany. The special music for the evening was provided by the St. Mary's College Choir.

Dr. Ralph Waldo Lloyd, president of Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee, began a series of three address Tuesday night. He spoke of the subject "Christianity and Education."

Lee Nichols, a member of the Westminster Fellowship, presided, and the Reverend Arthur G. Courtney read the Litany. The State College Glee Club and Orchestra presented music for the occasion. The program in Pullen Hall Wednesday night consisted of the address "Christianity and the Social Order," presented by Dr. Lloyd, and the Litany was read by the Reverend John M. Mamm, director of the Wesley Foundation. Edgar R. Cole, a member of the Wesley Foundation, presided, and the Peace College Choir gave religious selections.

The meeting last night consisted of Dr. Lloyd's address on "Christianity and World Citizenship," and the Litany was read by the Reverend Robert C. Lasater of the Baptist Student Union. The Duke University Triple Trio presented the special music, and Farnell Rodman, a member of the Canterbury Club, presided. Discussion groups were held in all the dormitories, in many of the

Tackle South Carolina Tomorrow
Tomorrow afternoon on the State track, the cinder team will tackle the University of South Carolina in their second Conference meet. Little is known of the Palmetto State club but they haven't failed to field a strong team in any sport this year. To get an idea of how close the meet will be it is remembered that Duke beat the South Carolina squad by a smaller score than they beat State.

Coach Hines, when questioned about the meet with South Carolina, commented that the results will be close, but we stand a very good chance of winning. The event of the day will probably be in the 440 between Chambers of State and Rucks of South Carolina. Rucks ran the 440 against Davidson in the time of 50.8 while Chambers clipped the tape in the time of 50.2 against Duke last Saturday.

fraternity houses, and in Vetteville. A group met every night at both 8:15 and 9:30 in Berry Social Room. Monday night at 8:15 the meetings were in Alexander and at 9:30 they were in Turlington. The discussion groups met in Syme Tuesday at 8:15 and in Gold and Welch at 9:30. The fraternities held discussion groups Wednesday, Watsuga, Basement Syme, and Vetteville had meetings last night.

The week of Religious Emphasis was sponsored by the following campus organizations: the Canterbury Club, the Wesley Foundation, the Baptist Student Union, the Westminster Fellowship, the Lutheran Student Association, and the YMCA.

Mr. J. T. Abrams, former president of the State College chapter of F. F. A. will show a moving picture in room 121 Thompkins Hall Monday night at 7 PM taken during his stay in Korea. The latter part of the meeting will be devoted to the election of Student Council Members to represent the teachers training division.

GRAHAM

*ity of North Carolina. These executives have asked why students from these schools have the ability to take an active part in government proceedings so soon after finishing college.

The answer, Dr. Graham said, is that a man or woman has had four years of participation in self-government when he assumes responsibility in business. To know that the top man in our school's administration department is wholeheartedly in favor of giving the students the opportunity to prove their merits, is indeed gratifying. Let us remember, though, that there is a decided difference between self-government and anarchy. When a nation, a state, or a school decides that it needs no governing body, there can be only one answer—failure.

Students' Decisions Stand
Never once in the history of our school has the administration intervened to change a decision made by our Student Council. In order to realize more liberty in our campus life, we must first prove that we deserve a more liberal form of government. Certainly the splendid record of the men that we have elected to represent us in the Student Council is evidence enough of our ability to choose between right and wrong. But we must go further.

Two important topics of discussion on the campus at this time are the cut-system and the honor system. Reports come in of students cheating on exams, which throws our cause in a negative direction. I believe that we can obtain a more lenient ruling on class-cutting if we show the faculty that our honor system is a functioning device in the college.

Temptation Lures You
But, you say, you don't mean that I have to look the other way if someone has his paper lying there staring me in the face, and it won't hurt if I just check my

Not only are you stealing your neighbor's work when you look at his paper, you are cheating yourself. "Yeh, I've heard that before," you say, but believe me it is not worth taking the chance of being caught. "Don't use that 'judge factor.'" Let's prove to the faculty that we are no longer children who need to be ruled by the iron hand. Only by the cooperation of every student on this campus can we hope to maintain standards that will enable us to get what we want, when we ask for it.

Cruel heart, you cut the sinews of my passion
Run rampant o'er my sensuous desires
Extinguish yet with dashing scorn
All of loves frenzied fires.

You hesitated not to crush
And all beauty escaped—Forever, forever.
