Student Air Co-op Being Formed Here

By BERT ZUCKERMAN

Simulating action of groups all over the country, a number of State College students recently banded together to form an Air Co-op. This organization has rapidly gained impetus during the past few weeks, and has finally reached the stage where a definite outline of policy has been established. This article is an appeal to all students who would like to become a part of this air co-op, and share in all its privileges.

The initial project of the air co-op is to buy a plane. In order to accomplish this end, a $60 investment will be required of each member. This investment may be paid in a lump sum or in installments, as the financial status of the student may facilitate. Stocks will be issued through local channels, and each student will own a part of the plane. This type of investment protects itself, because the air co-op has arranged to purchase a plane at an exceedingly low price, and could always resell it at a much higher price than it was bought for. Further details will be discussed at the meeting.

Has Many Advantages

One may doubt the workability of such a co-op plan, but remember this plan has already been tried and proven. The University of Texas has an organization on this order, which has flourished and grown so rapidly that they already own three Taylorcraft.

Benefits derived from the club are centered chiefly around the cost of flying. If you were to fly a hired plane the cost would probably run about $5 to $7 per hour. Under the club plan members will be able to fly at an approximate cost of $1.25 per hour.

Membership of this club is open to any student who has an interest in flying. You need not have been a pilot nor have flying experience with airplanes. The club has one of its charter members as an instructor. He will teach novices all the fundamentals of flying. The only limitation to the co-op is the number of members that may belong. At the present the number stands at 50. Any student interested in this plan is invited to attend a meeting to be held in the Faculty Club Room of the Y.M.C.A. Wednesday, November 26.

NC Stock Judging Team Wins 4th Place

The N. C. State Livestock Judging Team won fourth place out of eight teams at the Eastern National Intercollegiate Judging Contest held November 15 at Timonium, Maryland. The members of the team were Wilton Wilkerson, Harold E. Stinson, Thomas Speight, Cecil Wells, Harper A. Yanhoy, and Herbert Singletary. The team, coached by Professor J. C. Pierce, left for Timonium on November 13. Because of the scarcity of judgable houses for North Carolina, the team judged horses enroute to the contest.

Harold Stinson was the high scoring individual judging sheep, and Wilton Wilkerson placed third at judging beef cattle.

New Curriculum To Be Offered In Recreation

By BILL PENLAND

A new curriculum designed to train leaders in industrial and rural recreation has been initiated here at State College. The new four-year course was approved by the State College Faculty Council last August in an effort to supply trained men for the supervision of North Carolina's idle playground and industrial recreation facilities.

The soundness of instituting this new program is expressed by Prof. Thomas I. Hines of the college faculty. He states "that many industries, communities, and agencies furnish elaborate recreational facilities and the demand for trained recreation leadership has increased with great strides in recent years." He declared further that "this demand exceeds by far the supply of qualified leadership furnished by our colleges and universities."

Many Facilities Provided

In addition to the faculty, many facilities have been provided to make the work in the new program function efficiently. "Further increases in physical setting and equipment are planned which will give North Carolina State College the opportunity to acquire and maintain a leading role in the training of qualified leaders of industrial and rural recreation and its associated fields," commented Mr. Hines.

At present only 39 students are enrolled in this curriculum, but provisions have been made to train a capacity enrollment of 60 this year. Only freshmen are being trained in the courses this year, but the sophomore year will be added next fall and advanced work for juniors and seniors will be arranged as soon as this year's enrollment of freshmen reaches its capacity.

Glee Club Prepares Program for December

The Glee Club has recently added several new numbers to their repertoire. The Glee Club and Orchestra are now concentrating on preparations for a joint program which is to be presented with the Meredith Choir on December 14. All members of the Glee Club and Orchestra are urged to attend all remaining rehearsals as time for preparations is short. Details will appear in a later issue.

ASAE Elects Officers For Insuing Year

The American Society of Agricultural Engineers met November 13 and elected officers. A. B. White was elected president; C. H. Prout, vice-president, and C. W. Suggs, secretary-treasurer.

STUDENTS TO ATTEND ONLY HALF OF HOME GAMES: DATES TO BE ALLOWED

Redcoat Band To Attend Virginia Game

The Redcoat Band will make the trip to Charlottesville tomorrow for the football game with the University of Virginia. They will have to leave at 6:45 in the morning in order to arrive in time for the game. Because of the distance the band will probably make up a large portion of State's cheering section.

They plan to include in their between-half program the locomotive stunt that made such a hit here during the Chattanooga game.

The band has turned in a fine performance at all the games so far this year.

High Praise for Members

Major Kutschinski has high praise for the members of the band for the fine work that they have done this year with the limited amount of rehearsals.

Rehearsal will be cancelled next Thursday night because of Thanksgiving and the usual Saturday afternoon drill will also be suspended. However, on December 4 the band will hold its usual rehearsal and will spend most of the time reading through concert music in contrast with the peppy march music they have been providing during the football season.

Approval of regulations governing issuance of tickets to home basketball games was given this week by the Athletic Council. It was announced that the schedule of home games will be divided into two parts, with half the students being able to attend one part and the other half of the students being able to attend the other part of the schedule.

This system was inaugurated in an attempt to forestall any repetition of overcrowding, as was witnessed in the scheduled Carolina game here last year. In this manner members of the Wolfpack Club, which supports State College Athletics, will be able to see the Red Terrors in action. This action had the full approval of the Campus Government and other Campus leaders.

The regulations as approved are as follows:

1. The home schedule has been divided into two groups to be known as Group I and Group II. By a toss of a coin it was decided that all students whose athletic coupon books have odd numbers would attend Group I games; those whose books have even numbers would attend Group II games.

2. Students privileged to attend a game must exchange a designated coupon for a reserve seat ticket by 5:00 P.M. OF THE AFTERNOON OF THE DAY PRECEDING THE GAME. In the event any tickets allotted to the students are not called for, said tickets shall be placed on sale the day of the game with preference given to students not entitled to attend the game on their coupon books.

3. Each student will be allowed to buy one guest ticket for ONE game in his Group. If all guest tickets are not sold by a stated time, any student entitled to attend the game may purchase one as long as they are available.

4. At the January registration students will be required to show their fall term coupon books before receiving new coupon books, so that they may be placed in the proper Group.

Lampe Elected

J. H. Lampe, dean of the School of Engineering, was recently elected president of the Engineering Division of the Land Grant Colleges and Universities Association.

The election was held at the annual meeting of the Association in Washington, D. C. on November 10 to 11.

The awarding of this position to Dean Lampe comes as an honor to him and to State College. Lampe is past secretary of the Engineering Division of the Association.

Beauty Contest Entrants Get Better Each Week

Animal Industry Club Elects President

Cecil Wells of Leicester has been elected president of the Animal Industry Club, new organization for students enrolled in animal industry at State College.

Ceramic Society Sponsors Contest

At the A. S. Ceramic Engineering meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 11, it was announced that the American Ceramic Society is sponsoring a nation wide speaking contest in all the ceramic colleges. The best ceramic student speaker to be selected from each school will receive an amount equal to the coach railroad fare, round trip, from his school to Chicago, where he will remain for one week attending the Ceramic Society Convention. The speaker selected from this school will present his winning speech at the convention in competition with other schools for a cash prize.

Subjects Related to Ceramics
Subjects of the competitive speeches are to be on any topic related to ceramic engineering. The speeches are to be five to ten minutes in length.

Being a student enrolled in ceramic engineering is the only requirement for entrance to the contest. The contest will be discussed

Note!

Dormitory room rents for the Winter Term will be due in the Business Office between the dates of December 1 and December 10. Any rooms not paid for within this period will be available for reassignment.

The Picture Fee of $2.50 for the Agromeck will be added to the dormitory rental bill and collected at the same time, between December 1 and 10. Any student who does not live in the dormitories but who had his picture made for the Agromeck may pay the fee within those dates and avoid having to pay this bill at the time of registration for the Winter Term. Any other bills which have not been paid prior to December 1st will be collected during that week.

Cloyd Addresses Campus Government

Dean Cloyd was guest speaker at the Campus Government meeting on Tuesday. His topic was the building of a Student Union building at State College. He said that formerly such a building was considered a luxury on a campus, but more and more colleges are realizing that it plays an integral part in the education and training of the students.

Men's and women's lounges, a music room, feeding facilities, fountain service, and dance halls of various sizes are some of the conveniences the Union should have to offer. Dean Cloyd said he wanted the students and the campus organizations to be thinking about what other facilities they think the Union should have.

The Dean has made a study of Unions at other schools throughout the country. He has written to over 30 state-owned colleges to see what they have done about their Unions. A general conclusion reached was that most of the Union buildings were built too small and have been enlarged from time to time. He suggested that the plans should be drawn to allow for adding additional wings to the building in the future.

One of the most important factors concerning the Union is its location. It must be near the center of the campus where it will be readily accessible. Improper location is probably the greatest fault to be found at existing Unions. One example is Graham Memorial at Chapel Hill which is located too far from the center of the campus.

Dean Cloyd believes money will be appropriated at the next legislature for the building. However, since he doesn't think they will appropriate enough, he wants the campus organizations to consider raising funds for the building.

President Teal asked the Welfare Committee to look into the matter and make recommendations concerning it.

The Campus Government added another deed to its list of student services rendered when it accomplished the difficult task of providing transportation to Chapel Hill last Saturday. A chartered train could not be obtained because the track bed to Chapel Hill is too soft for safe travel. The bus company officials were astounded at the idea of transporting 3,000 students to Chapel Hill. The Council finally got a bus company to make all its stand-by buses, which would not be needed until Saturday afternoon on their regular runs, available for students Saturday morning.

Virgil Mims reported that he had been promised by the Raleigh City Council that a stop-light would be installed on Hillsboro Street by Primrose Hall. The traffic bureau is opposing the light because it is not in conjunction with a long range traffic program submitted to the city by Professor Babcock, who is a traffic expert. The members of the Council believe that the traffic light is needed very much now and that if Professor Babcock's long-range program comes into being the stop-light could easily be removed.

The Council recommended that the holiday for Thanksgiving be given on Saturday so that many students who can not go home on a regular week end can go home then. The recommendation was rejected because the Thursday holiday had already been announced and many students and faculty members have already made plans depending on Thursday. The suggestion is being considered for next year, however.

STUDENT EDITOR

Hugh A. Williams, Jr., of Spencer, senior in mechanical engineering at N. C. State College, is the editor of The Southern Engineer, official publication for students in the College's School of Engineering. A leading student, Williams is a member of the Engineers Council and the Student Board of Publications. The first issue of The Southern Engineer for the current school year will be off the press around the middle of November. The circulation stands at about 3,050 subscribers, all students at State College.

The chairmen of the School Executive Honor Committees were introduced to the other members of the Council. They are Bill Manning representing Textiles, Milton Hobbs representing Teacher Education, and Claude Kidd representing Agriculture. The chairman of the engineering school had not been chosen at this time. These men are members of the Campus Government according to its Constitution.

Student Loan Fund Helps Many Students

Dean Cloyd reported the status of the Campus Government sponsored "Student Loan Fund" in an address to the Council on Tuesday. He said that the fund, which was started in 1932, has had a continual turnover through the years, but never has it been as fast as now. Veteran students, especially, have benefited from the fund when they needed immediate money for food or rent because of delayed subsistence checks.

The fund, which received its principal from the Campus Government, is available to students below the senior class. Seniors are exempt because a separate fund is available to them. The loans are short-term and may vary from ten to fifty dollars; however, more may be loaned in extenuating circumstances. Four per cent interest was charged on loans before the war, but at present, no charge is being made at all.

Dean Cloyd said that no one has ever failed to repay a loan. Since such good cooperation has been obtained from the students who have borrowed in the past, no collateral is required except in unusual cases.

In order to borrow money, you fill out an application in Dean Cloyd's office. The Dean must then approve the loan. You sign a note and then receive the money from the Treasurer's office. Repayment is made in the Treasurer's office, also.

President Teal appointed a committee to investigate the fund and to recommend any revisions they may deem necessary. One of the recommendations may be a fee for the use of the money. The fees, if decided on, will be used to increase the amount of the fund.

Forever God's

Yesterday: forgotten born? Oh, previous dream; A ray of sol—else horrid thorn. Yesterday: history, Who but remembers thou?

Today: worry, sorrow? Joy alike; new; Hustle, bustle, frantic mortals A second, awash with the morrow, The zenith of the present.

Tomorrow: who seeks thee? Eagerly, wantingly? Reluctantly, fearfully?

Pregnant with unprophesized events, Groping, searching, pressing, rushing, hoping, Yeals, the new and obscure!

Now memories, now beyond the yonder; Roses in December! The shunning the yester, to espy the horizon We reminisce In evergone pasts.

On, on, on swirls fate-destiny; Hope, hope, hope, for morrow's entity.

Greedy nursing the gods' desire. Yesterday—today—tomorrow; A star aglow on eternity's firmament.

GIVE A HELPING HAND

some of the students are disgruntled over the idea of not being able to see all the games, the system seems to be the best and fairest one that is possible.

They are indeed grateful to the student body for the action taken by them through the Campus Government and other campus leaders.

In view of the fact that all the students could not see the games anyway, Coach Case, the Athletic Council, and the Student representatives have come across with a fine plan.

ACCORDING TO HOYLE

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series that we hope to print by Hoyle Adams. Hoyle has recently returned to State where previously he worked on the TECHNICIAN.)

We saw a first class football team in operation here last Saturday and all the excuses that our friends, the sports writers, can think up, do not change the facts a particle.

We heard some peculiar talk echoing thru the hallowed halls last week. It seems that some crackpot has started the idea that this institution is supposed to operate strictly for the benefit of the students!

Homecoming seems to have been a huge success from every standpoint. The mighty Wolfpack never looked better (what we could see of them) than it did last Saturday afternoon in its smashing victory over the favored Demon Deacons of Wake Forest.

mudiron. When the dust (mud this time) from the Deacon-killing contest had cleared and the judges had decided, Sigma Chi emerged with first prize and Sigma Pi with second.

This weekend the first of the Inter-Fraternity social events, the Pledge Dances, takes place, with music by Billy Butterfield. The dances will be held in Frank Thompson Gym on Friday and Saturday nights, the Friday dance being informal and the one on Saturday being formal.

Termite Sounds Off

By BILL PROCTOR

The thing we miss most this year is Bringle's pillar. Without it somehow we feel that we are not getting the word on what happens.

We notice from The Heel that Carolina now has Sunday night "sings." The sing has been a Sunday night must on the Duke East (wimmin's) campus for 11 years.

Duke, by the way, will bring forth a brand new fight song for the Carolina game tomorrow. While not as good as "Blue and White," it does have possibilities.

Be it hereby resolved that Bruce B. should give up the slide rule slipping game and take up after dinner speaking. Why that guy could make a Truman Tuesday meal pleasant!

Several Hollywood characters have been indicted by the "Do You Have a Pink Past?" committee for contempt of Congress. Now the courts must decide if Congress is contemptible.

Getting back to the campus comments, students in at least one engineering department are considering requesting that knowledge of the school songs be a requisite for a passing grade in Composition 101.

The Raleigh merchants are dragging out the Christmas drappings even before the Thanksgiving turkey's blood is spilled. It will probably be another big year of gorging before Santa's sack is full.

Sharps and Flats

This week our ears should be tuned to "All The World Is Mine" an instrumental platter spun by Columbia, featuring Harry James and his trumpet. The tune is based on the "57th Street Rhapsody" from the motion picture Carnegie Hall, and is a minor theme with rich chord structure and a haunting melody.

On the other side of this platter is a new version of the most beautiful and popular seasonal tunes ever to capture public fancy. Performed by every top artist at one time or another, the challenge to present a fresh version is one that Harry seemed quick to accept.

The Benny Goodman Sextet is tickling our eardrums with "Nagasaki" and "Gonna Get A Girl." Nagasaki features not only the impeccable artistry of Goodman on the clarinet, but also the brilliant Mel Powell at the piano, Red Norvo on vibes, Al Hendrickson on guitar, Artie Shapiro on the bass and Lou Bellson on skins.

"Gonna Get A Girl" is still another oldie which Goodman has grabbed and which he now presents in modern dress. On this side Al Hendrickson sings a vocal chorus and again Red Norvo and Mel Powell lend 21-karat instrumental assistance.

Remember

Some weeks ago an editorial appeared in the TECHNICIAN urging you to think of the WSSF drive which is soon to be held on the campus. Once again we call on you to remember—to remember that students in other parts of the world are starving—that they have few books, pencils, paper and other supplies—that they are trying to get an education under conditions that we cannot begin to realize.

We are too prone to listen to these student's pleas and say—"How sad,"—without making any attempt to realize how unbelievably bad conditions are in many parts of the world. We are too prone to become complacent and smug over our own fortune in the face of the misfortune of others.

The money collected in the WSSF drive will go to help students such as we. It goes to help people who are making every effort to help themselves but who cannot carry the huge burden alone.

If every man on the campus will search his mind and reflect on the principles taught to him in his home, State College will go over the top in their quota to the WSSF.

Wolfpack Club Thankful . . .

With the announcement of the regulations for the home basketball games this week have come many good comments. Although

PIKAs Win First Place With Minstrel Show At Stunt Night

By GILBERT MAXWELL

Using a full-scale minstrel as their theme, the PiKA's came through before a packed house in Pullen Auditorium Friday night to take first prize in the fraternity division of Stunt Night. Watauga won in the dorm division with a "Dr. Agony" program.

Bruce Beaman served as emcee of a program which saw Sigma Pi walk off with second place for their skit, "Dean Knucklehead's Class;" and Sigma Alpha Epsilon take third with "Life in the Hills." Other skits which attracted favorable attention were T.K.E.'s "Radio Station W.R.A. H'll," Sigma Nu's "Meeting of the Faculty Council," and "The Salesman and the Farmer's Daughter," which was Vetville's contribution to the proceedings.

The large crowd which braved the fury of the elements to witness the performances was not disappointed. What with the skits and Beaman's in-between jokes the audience was involved in a continual belly-laugh. Vetville's shotgun wedding started the ball rolling, and the merriment let up only when the final curtain had been rung down.

hem. On the whole, Stunt Night went off in a smooth manner, testifying to the amount of work the participants put into their skits. Naturally, everybody couldn't win first prize, but nobody really lost, especially the audience.

Just like Social Security. Only quicker. Pepsi-Cola pays up to $15 for jokes, gags, quips and such-like stuff to Easy Money Department, Box B, Pepsi-Cola Company, Long Island City, N. Y., along with your name, address, school and class. All contributions become the property of Pepsi-Cola Company. We pay only for those we print. (Working "Pepsi-Cola" into your gag, incidentally, won't hurt your chances a bit.) Dough-shy? Get dough-heavy! Or start a new hobby—collecting rejection slips. We'll help you out—one way or the other.

DAFFY DEFINITIONS

Here's a column inspired by one of man's most fundamental motivations—his primitive urge to make a buck. And why not?—a buck's a buck. Get daffy, chums.

Synonym—the word you use when you can't spell the word you want.

Pedestrian—a married man who owns a car.

Hangover—the penalty for switching from Pepsi-Cola.

Snoring—sheet music.

You're really got us to the wall when we'll pay a buck apiece for these. But that's the deal. $1 each for those we buy.

GOOD DEAL ANNEX

Sharpen up those gags, gagsters! At the end of the year (if we haven't laughed ourselves to death) we're going to pick the one best item we've bought and award it a fat extra

$100.00

Little Moron Corner

Murgatroyd, our massive moron, was observed the other afternoon working out with the girls' archery team. Somewhat unconventionally, however—instead of using bow and arrow. Murgatroyd was drawing a bead on the target with a bottle of Pepsi-Cola. When asked "Why?" by our informant, who should have known better—"Duuuuuuh," responded Murgatroyd brightly, "because Pepsi-Cola hits the spot, stupid!"

$2, legal tender, for any of these we buy. Brother, inflation is really here!

HE-SHE GAGS

Know a He-She gag? If you think it's funny, send it in. If we think it's funny, we'll buy it—for three bucks. We'll even print it. Sheer altruism. Take ten—and see if you don't come up with something sharper than these soggy specimens:

She: Why don't you put out that light and come sit here beside me?

He: It's the best offer I've had today—but I'd rather have a Pepsi.

He: Darling, is there nothing I can do to make you care?

She: D. D. T.

He: D. D. T.?

She: Yeah—drop dead twice!

She: Right now I'm interested in something tall, dark and handsome.

He: Gosh! Me?

She: No, silly—Pepsi-Cola!

Yep, we pay three bucks apiece for any of these we print. You never had it so good.

Get Funny . . . Win Money . . . Write a Title

What's the right caption? We don't know. You tell us. For the line we buy we'll ante $5. Or send in a cartoon idea of your own. $10 for just the idea . . . $15 if you draw it . . . if we buy it.

IFC's Pledge Dances Begin Tonight

Billy Butterfield's Band To Play For 3-Dance Set

Pledge Dance week end will officially begin tonight at 8:30 in Frank Thompson Gymnasium as Billy Butterfield and his Band swing out with "What's New." Tonight's dance, the first of three to be sponsored by the State College Interfraternity Council in honor of the pledges, will be informal. The tea dance tomorrow afternoon will follow the same pattern while the gala grand ball tomorrow night will be strictly a formal affair.

His appearance this week end marks the first time Butterfield has played at a State dance for a long time. Butterfield, a young master of the trumpet, has blown his horn straight to the top and, as a result, in all trade paper polls held in the country, Billy has finished in the top five on the trumpet.

The "Butterfield treatment" is something that is now at its peak, polished through years of being featured on commercial radio coast to coast and with such top ranking bands as Artie Shaw, Bob Crosby, Benny Goodman, Harry James and many others.

Born in Middletown, Ohio, Billy was interested in music as a child and when he attended high school in Cincinnati he was already playing with local bands. He started studying to be a doctor and already had two years of pre-med in college at Lexington, Kentucky, when he found that he was more interested in playing for college bands and "jamming" after classes than he was in a career in medicine.

Signs With Capitol
Soon after signing with Capitol Records, Billy cut eight discs and has been busily cutting ever since on both records and transcriptions. His Capitol album of Gershwin is enormously popular and has been circulated throughout the country.

Featured vocalist with the Butterfield Band is Pat O'Connor, an Irish colleen from New Jersey.

First Break
Pat's first break came when she made some demonstration records of several songs which a friend of hers had written, and the songs were heard by a number of music publishers who became more interested in the demonstrator than in the songs. The next step was a job with the Bobby Sherwood Orchestra where Pat received some valuable experience and seasoning. Her work came to the attention of Butterfield and in short order Pat had a new boss.

The dances are open to fraternity men and their guests. Both the night dances begin at 8:30 and end at 12:00. The tea dance is from 4:00 until 6:00. Sponsors for the dance appear elsewhere in the TECHNICIAN.

Horticulture Club Formed At State

Undergraduates majoring in Horticulture with the backing of the Horticulture Department have formed a Horticulture Club.

The new organization has initiated a full-scale program and framed a constitution as well as electing officers for the fall term. Officers of the club are: Bennie Eakes, president; J. C. Taylor, vice president; Bill Reid, secretary; and Dick Taylor, treasurer.

The club meets the first and third Thursday nights of each month at the Greenhouse classroom at seven o'clock. All freshmen and sophomores considering a major in Horticulture are invited to attend.

Alumnus Is Leader In Aircraft Production

The front cover of the October issue of State College News, official alumni publication, carries the picture of Mr. Harry T. Rowland, class of '19, who is vice-president and general manager of Glenn L. Martin Company, aircraft producers of Baltimore, Md.

Mr. Rowland studied textiles at State for three years with the class of 1919. He left school, entered active service in the World War, and later graduated from West Point in 1923.

Member Textile Society
While at State Mr. Rowland was a member of the Tompkins Textile Society, German Club, Phi Psi, and first lieutenant of Company F. Mr. Rowland joined the Glenn L. Martin Company in 1936. Now he is number two man in the organization, second only to Mr. Martin, himself.

During the war, Mr. Rowland negotiated all of Martin's war contracts. He was made vice-president in 1942, and general manager in '45.

Mr. Rowland has contributed widely to the advancement of the aviation industry, and has joined the company of other State men in high industrial positions.

Music Theatre Group Presents Comic Opera

Gian-Carlo Menotti's "Old Maid and The Thief," a one-act opera, was presented by the Music Theatre Repertory Group at State College last Wednesday night.

Amelia Cardwell of Greensboro, a member of the music faculty of Greensboro College, was the featured artist. Miss Cardwell, a soprano, played the role of Laetitia.

Others in the cast included Josephine Fisher as Miss Todd, Dorothea Allcorn as Miss Pickerton, and Ted Bodenheimer as Bob. The stage director was Clifford Bair. Margaret Leinback Kolb was the pianist.

The performance was sponsored by the State College Public Lectures Committee, headed by Dr. L. E. Hinkle, and the college chapter of Mu Beta Psi.

State Runners Take Fourth Place In Conference Meet

SPORTS TALK

By MAC McDUFFIE

Looking over State's football schedule, it is certain that one of this year's opponents will not be on the roster next year. The University of Maryland has announced an 11-game schedule for 1948 and it does not include the Wolfpack. There is also a strong possibility that several other changes will be effected before Athletic Director J. L. Von Glahn releases State's grid card for next year.

Of course, it is impossible to arrange a schedule absolutely suitable to the coach or the spectators and it is difficult to determine the strength of a team a year in advance, but Coach Beattie Feathers was forced to play a schedule this year that started with a tough outfit, then listed four teams which were comparatively weaker, and ended with four of the toughest outfits in the South. It can be said that he had an open date, but that failed to prove an asset because following that open date, the Wolfpack absorbed one of the worst beatings ever suffered by a team coached by Feathers.

However, the student body is assured that the athletic department is doing everything possible to get games with the top teams for State and to produce a team that can ably represent the school.

While State was giving the Wake Forest Demon Deacons a sound whipping last Saturday, a pet theory of some of the students was completely destroyed—that of not being able to win without End Coach Lyle Rich on the bench or on the phone. Last year, Wolfpack lost two regular season games, both times when Coach Rich was scouting another team. Rumors spread that Rich's keen football mind was needed at the games. Well, Coach Rich was not at the Wake Forest game. He was scouting Virginia along with Coach Carl Anderson.

Coach Rich, however, does rank high among the men who know football best and in the instances of defeat last year when State supporters were seeking excuses it was logical to use his absence as an alibi. It is true that the Wolfpack played a very spirited game last Saturday, but much credit is due both the team and the coaching staff. Personally, I'd like to give a vote of thanks to the weather also. Both teams were forced to play in the same conditions, but it probably had a different effect on the State team. It is remembered that the Wolfpack was beaten badly on the previous weekend by Carolina—a team that lost to Wake Forest on a dry field. The muddy field erased all thoughts of the members of the Wolfpack about being the underdog; hence the State eleven took the field determined to fight to the last minute and that they did. Now, with a win under their belt against a strong team, the Wolfpack should be much tougher to handle.

Carolina won seven Southern Conference championships last season and proudly made the fact known each Saturday it had a home football game this season by carrying a story about their accomplishments in the program. Unless Richmond surprises William and Mary and at the same time Carolina runs true to form and defeats Duke, the Indians will win the football title. It is not likely that Richmond will beat William and Mary. Maryland has already won the cross country championship; thus two of Carolina's 1946 titles will be surrendered.

The attitude of the Tar Heels has not been completely determined; however, because their first-string harriers were not entered in the cross country meet. They were running in the IC4A. Maybe Carolina thought it could gain more prestige by running in the IC4A than in a conference meet or it may be that the Tar Heels were willing to con-

Mainstay In State Line

Jim Rees, first-string tackle, played one of the best games of his college career against the Wake Forest Demon Deacons despite the fact that he has an injured knee and was not expected to get into the game a couple of days prior to last Saturday. Rees, a sophomore, will probably start the game against the University of Virginia on Saturday at Charlottesville.

Maryland Team Wins Cross Country Meet

By DAVE FRANKLIN
With two freshmen running first and second, the University of Maryland completely outclassed the field at the Southern Conference Cross Country meet held on the State College track Monday afternoon. There were 65 men in the race from nine of the conference teams. It was the largest number of entries ever to enter the annual cross-country meet.

Bob Palmer from Maryland finished the four and one tenth (4.1) mile race first in 22:22. Incidentally, Palmer's father died last Sunday. He beat his teammate, Jim Umbarger, in by 42 seconds, who finished the race in 22:04. Maryland also won the sixth, seventh, and twelfth places to have a low team score of 24 points.

Eight runners from each school were allowed to race. The first five members of each team to finish counted in the scoring. The places of each of the five runners were added to get the team score; the teams with the lower scores were placed first. V.P.I. was second with 73 points, Duke third with 87, and State fourth with 103 points. The other teams finished in the following order: fifth, V.M.I.; sixth, Davidson; seventh, Carolina; eighth, William and Mary; and ninth, the University of South Carolina.

David Dubow, sophomore from Hillside, N. J., ran the best race for Coach Tom Hines' State College team. He came in fifth in 22:38. The other four State men to figure in the scoring were Jimmy Adams, senior from Souix Falls, S. Dak.; Marshall Vernon, freshman from Melton, N. C.; Jimmy Crowell, sophomore from Matthews, N. C.; and M. D. McCall, sophomore from Charlotte, N. C. Jimmy Bales, Chris Davenport, and Frank Steed also raced for State.

Coach Jim Kehoe's boys from Maryland won their first conference cross country title Monday. Coaches and other qualified observers agreed that the Maryland team was one of the better teams that have performed in the conference for quite some time.

Coach Willis Casey, State's swimming mentor, was the starter for the race and used a public address system very effectively for the first time that a P. A. system had been used at the Southern Conference meet. The meet was announced over the P. A. system directly from the track.

Chancellor Harrelson Speaks at Gas Meeting

The ninth annual convention of the Mid-Southeastern Gas Association, covering four Southern states, was held in the Sir Walter Hotel last Thursday and Friday.

Delegates from Virginia, North and South Carolina, and Tennessee registered for the two-day meeting in the lobby of the Sir Walter Hotel Thursday morning at 9.

Chancellor J. W. Harrelson of State College spoke before the first general session in the Virginia Dare Ballroom of the Sir Walter Thursday afternoon at 2. Technical speeches were made by R. L. McCuen of Charlotte, an official of the Duke Power Company, and by R. W. Black of New York City, a representative of the Standard Oil Company.

C. B. Zeigler of Gastonia, president of the association, presided over the convention. Other officers are L. A. Scott of Greensboro, first vice president; H. W. Gee of Johnson City, Tenn., second vice president; and Edward W. Ruggles of State College, secretary-treasurer.

Boxing Continues to Hold Intramural Front Spotlight

Signa Pi Team Beats SAE; Welch Upset by Trailwood

By HERB BRENNER

On Wednesday night, Nov. 11th the campus glovers continued to battle it out as Tooty of 3rd Syme won a decision over Waldin of Berry in the 135 pound division, and in the 145 pound division Sanborn closed in to take the fight against Porter of Berry. Thames, slinging fighter from 3rd Becton decided Davidson of 3rd Bagwell in a rough and trying battle. Thus, we see that when the finals are reeled off, there will prove to be plenty of tough encounters as these campus boxers tip gloves to attempt to gain the championship titles.

Trailwood Wins

Meanwhile football continued in its glory as Trailwood went all out to take a close battle and victory from the Welchmen by the score of 7-0. They racked up their lone tally in the initial quarter when Thurman shot a spiraling toss to Kelley who in turn galloped the remaining twenty yards for the chalk up.

Third Becton marched off to a 21-12 victory over 2nd Bagwell on November 13th which proved to be a free scoring tilt. The Bagwell men went across the end stripes once in each of the first two periods as a result of two passes. The first went from Stryder to Suggs and the second went from May to Grant; however a determined and fighting 3rd Becton squad came out in the second half to take away the ball game by two touchdown passes and one brilliant 50-yard run. The passes came from the arms of Sexton and Thomas and the flips were received and carried into the end zone by Thames and Haudee, and speedy Thomas was the Becton lad that toted the pigskin on that long pace for the third tally.

Stroffing Rivalries

The fraternities continued their rivalry among each other as two strong teams met on the 12th, TKE and SAE; however, the SAE aggression proved to be the stronger of the two and racked up its one and winning 6 points in the second period. Riley was the gentleman that scored for the victors.

The Sammymen battled a close victory from the KA's to the margin of 7-6. The KA's scored early in the first quarter and held their six point lead until the 3rd period when Friehaf of the Sammy's passed to Sontag, who was a sleeper, and who lugged the ball the remainder of the way for the tying touchdown. The extra point through center proved to be the winning factor in the hard fought battle.

Sherrill Passes

Sigma Pi 13, SAE 6 was the final outcome of the two team's encounter on the 11th. There was no score until the 3rd quarter when the Sigma Pi's opened their dashing attack and pushed across two T.D.'s. They accounted for these by two passes thrown by "Slingshot" Sherril to Floyd and Brown, and the SAE's lone six units came in the last period when Fearington heaved the ball to Roberts.

Sigma Pi was not to be outdone in the victory column as they swept to a 13-0 win over the Kappa Sigs. Fondren returned a punt for 50 yards and later ran over from his own six yard marker for another tally.

Second Syme rolled up a high, wide, and fancy score in their victory over South Watauga to the sweet tune of 27-0. Phelps was the outstanding factor in the Syme victory as he passed to Williams for two touchdowns and to Church for one touchdown and three extra points. Phelps also showed his running ability as he speeded over the goal line from his own five yard line for another T.D.

While we are talking Intramurals, we would also like to mention a few personalities that have taken a wide interest in refereeing these fine football, volleyball, and box-

Star in Homecoming Victory

Charlie Richkus, 165-pound tailback from Hillside, N. J., played his last home game for State against Wake Forest last Saturday, and the little senior gave a performance that will be remembered in football circles for a long time. Charlie personally sparked the team to the first touchdown that started State to a surprising 20-0 victory over Wake Forest. His role in the win reminded State of the 1946 game with Duke when Richkus was the leader in the decision over the Blue Devils.

ing encounters. We salute with a great deal of pride and thanks, for all their efforts Mistery Doak, Miller, Owens, De Groat, Wood and Smith. Mr. Miller, Intramurals Sports Director has made the comment that the main, or should we say, one of the main reasons, that intramurals has progressed so well is the superb ability of these men and that he is able to place a staff man on the playing field at all times. We, too, think they deserve a lot of credit.

State Beats Wake Forest; Play Virginia Tomorrow

Charlie Richkus and Footsie Palmer Lead Wolfpack to Important Victory

State's Wolfpack, playing in the role of a 12-point underdog, soundly defeated the Wake Forest Demon Deacons, 20-0, in Riddick Stadium last Saturday as the feature of State's Homecoming Day celebration.

Coach Beattie Feathers' eleven, bothered by numerous minor injuries and fresh from a 41-6 rout at the hands of Carolina, clearly outplayed Coach Peahead Walker's charges on a rain-soaked turf that was about as soft and muddy as any gridiron ever becomes.

Charlie Richkus, senior tailback from Hillside, N. J., and Footsie Palmer, sophomore fullback from Cedar Grove, W. Va., were the offensive guns in the State attack. Palmer and Richkus ran as if they were on a dry field and Palmer's kicking was good enough to boost his average for the year to the top mark in the nation. His average for the game was 42.8 yds. for 10 kicks. Richkus, playing his last home game for State, passed for the first touchdown after setting it up with a 32-yard run into Wake Forest territory early in the second half. Richkus' driving was brilliant. He consistently made gains over tackle.

Defense Clicks

The Wolfpack's defensive record was even more outstanding than its offense. Wake Forest's line outweighed State's, but the big burly Deacon forward wall was completely outplayed by State's line. Wake Forest's back picked up only 101 yards in 40 tries. Harry Dowda, Wake Forest wingback, accounted for a major portion of the yardage on end runs.

Wake Forest's vaunted passing attack was held at a standstill by the muddy turf combined with State's defense. Tom Fetzer, ace Deacon passer, was thrown for losses on several occasions while attempting to spot a receiver and completed only one of eight attempts. One of the passes was ruled complete because of interference. Two of his aeriels were intercepted. State's team, which has displayed a disappointing offense all season, played the Deacons to a 0-0 deadlock in the first half, but cut loose with an amazing barrage of scoring power in the second half.

Second Half Different

The Wolfpack took the second half kickoff and Charlie Richkus almost broke loose for a touchdown. He returned the ball from the 1 to the 30. On the second play from scrimmage, Richkus broke loose in the Wake Forest secondary and raced 32 yards before being down, but faked and raced 34 yards for the third touchdown. His run was one of the best of the season.

The defensive standouts for State were Bob Bowlby, Fred and John Wagoner, Al Phillips, June Cheek, Charlie Musser, and Harold Saunders. Actually, it was difficult to determine who the individual stars were. The entire team played a great game and mistakes were few.

It was one of the cleanest games in the series between State and Wake Forest and neither team was forced to call for a single time out because of an injury suffered on a play.

Dave Franklin, Forestry senior and member of the Political Effectiveness Committee of the YMCA, has conducted an investigation on the coming city, state, and national elections with the aim of making it possible for as many qualified State men as will to vote.

brought down by Fullback Jeff Brogden. Palmer and Richkus carried the ball to the 17. Then Richkus faded back and tossed a perfect pass to Oscar Bozeman who was standing on the goal. It was State's first pass of the game and caught the Wake Forest defenders completely unaware. Palmer's placement was good.

Wake Forest took the next kickoff and drove to State's 39. The drive stalled at this point, however, and Fetzer dropped back to kick. End June Cheek, who moved to first-string for the Wake Forest game because of the many injuries at that position, blocked the kick. In 14 plays State covered the 61 yards for its second touchdown. Richkus and Palmer carried the ball all the way except for one pass from Richkus to George Blomquist which gave the Wolfpack a first-down on the Wake Forest 34. It was a great catch by Blomquist who was guarded closely. That pass plus the touchdown aerial to Bozeman were State's only two of the afternoon. Palmer later went over left guard from the two for the touchdown. He missed the try for the extra point.

At this point Coach Feathers began to substitute freely. Late in the fourth quarter, Footsie Palmer dropped back to punt on fourth

COACH BEATTIE FEATHERS' TEAM TANGLES WITH CAVALIERS IN NON-CONFERENCE TILT

The State College Wolfpack meets a revenge-seeking eleven from the University of Virginia in Charlottesville tomorrow afternoon. State's charges beat the Cavaliers on Homecoming Day here last year.

Virginia has been defeated only one time this season and will run a T-formation against the Wolfpack. Virginia has posted victories over Richmond, George Washington, Harvard, Washington and Lee, Virginia Tech, VMI, and West Virginia while losing only to Penn. State's record includes wins over Chattanooga, Clemson, Davidson, and Wake Forest and losses to Duke, Carolina, and Florida.

The big Cavalier line will average 210 pounds and is reported to be exceptionally fast. In the backfield, Virginia boasts two great players in Fullback Grover Jones and Halfback Bruce Bailey. Jones is a 200-pounder and a terrific runner. Bailey is a dangerous passer.

Good Performance

State probably turned in its best performance of the season against

Wake Forest, both offensively and defensively, but whether it will be able to maintain its pace on a dry field remains to be seen. Footsie Palmer and Charlie Richkus will be expected to carry a major portion of the load against the Cavaliers, but holding the Virginians will be another question.

The entire team is expected to be ready to see action against the Cavaliers. Bill Stanton and Tom Joyce, who missed the Wake Forest game because of injuries, have been back in uniform this week.

State's starting backfield will probably include Palmer, fullback; Richkus, tailback; Bozeman, wingback; and Bowlby, blocking back.

The tentative line lists Al Phillips and June Cheek, ends; Jim Rees and Ted Dostanko, tackles, Charlie Musser and Bernie Watts or John Wagoner, guards, and Harold Saunders, center.

The Wolfpack plays Maryland at College Park on the following Saturday to close out the season.

for positions on this year's squad. Approximately two hundred-forty men have tried out for the team.

The squad members will be captained by Ed Palmgren, a last season high-pointer, and will have four men from previous teams.

Matches Planned

Several matches are being planned with other colleges throughout the nation. Most important contests will be the William Randolph Hearst Trophy match and the Third Army match. State teams placed first and third in last season's Hearst Trophy. The high point teams also ranked eighteenth place among all rifle teams in the nation. State-shooters won fourteen out of eighteen postal contentions with other schools in the United States.

Matches will begin the first part of January and any State student with previous rifle team experience are still invited to become members of the team.
