Pack Seeking Way To Halt Oklahoma

Loss of John Wagoner Keenly Felt by Team

N. C. State's Wolfpack, forty strong, will leave Raleigh the day after Christmas for Jacksonville, Florida, where they will meet the strong Oklahoma Sooners on New Year's Day in the second annual 'Gator Bowl.'

The State squad will set up camp at Pone Vedra Beach about twenty-two miles south of Jacksonville, and will be quartered at a resort hotel there. The team will remain at the beach until the day of the game, when they will move into Jacksonville for the encounter with the Sooners.

The Wolfpack will be at top strength for the contest with the starting lineups probably consisting of Phillips and Gibson at ends, Moser and Ramsey at tackles, Watts and Burnett at guards, and Saunders at center. The starting backfield will find Turner at tailback, Bozeman on the wing, Palmer at fullback, and Bowley at blocking back.

Coach Jim Tatum's Oklahoma team is believed to be the strongest team which the Wolfpack will have faced during the entire season. The Sooners won seven of ten games, losing to mighty Army by two touchdowns, to Texas by one marker, and an upset loss to the University of Kansas by two points.

Meanwhile, headquarters for State alumni and students will be at the Hotel Mayflower. An alumni smoker is planned for the night before the game.

This year's 'Gator Bowl' contest will be the second annual affair. Last year, Wake Forest downed the South Carolina Gamecocks in the initial bowl contest, 26-14.

Meat Judging Team Wins Second Place

At the International Livestock Exposition which was held in Chicago, the representatives of the State College Agricultural school came away with their share of the honors. State College sent two teams to the Exposition, a team in meat judging and a team for judging livestock.

The members of the meat judging team were D. R. Warren of Dunn, J. W. Phillips and Walter McPherson, both of Mebane. These men rolled up a score of 2,404 points, which placed them in second place along with Iowa State College and second only to Oklahoma A. and M., who received first place in the meat judging contest.

D. R. Warren, with a score of 822 points ranked third in individual scoring. This was the first year that State College has entered this contest.

The livestock judging team composed of Keith Gregory, Franklin, Joseph E. Sanderson, Four Oaks, A. T. Lassiter, Clayton, Allan Partin, Louisburg and Hassell Byrd of Burlington placed eighteenth among the 22 teams entering this contest. The majority of the other teams were from midwestern and western colleges but State defeated all other teams from the South.

Hassell Byrd, senior in animal industry at State College placed thirteenth among the 110 contestants in the livestock judging.

Eleven Pledges Are Chosen By Blue Key

At a special meeting held last Wednesday night in the YMCA, eleven students accepted bids in the Blue Key Honorary Fraternity. The pledges who were chosen in accordance with the high standards expected of Blue Key men are:

General B. James of Oakboro, N. C. James is a senior in Agricultural Education, is vice-president of the Agriculture Club, and is a member of Alpha Zeta.

Edward O. Travis of Scotland, N. C. Travis is a junior in Mechanical Engineering, is a member of Tau Beta Pi, and Pi Tau Sigma.

B. Atwood Skinner of Charlotte, N. C. Skinner is a junior in Architectural Engineering, is president of 30 & 3, and a member of the Apromech staff.

John C. Boyter of Charlotte, N. C. Boyter is a junior in Mechanical Engineering, is business manager of the Wataugan, and a member of Pi Tau Sigma.

Dave W. Sewell of Greensboro, N. C. Sewell is a junior in Ceramics, is president of the junior

Want a Cup of Coffee?

Because many of the State College "Wolves" will be boning their textbooks for weeks next few days and because people do get sleepy at times, the Y.M.C.A. staff will serve coffee in the "Y" from 9:00 p.m. until 12:00 p.m. tonight and on Monday and Tuesday evenings next week.

College "Y" Sends Seven to Conference

The North Carolina State College YMCA will have five students and two staff representatives sent to the National Assembly of the Student Christian Association Movement which meets at the U. of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois, December 27, 1946-January 3, 1947. Delegates from State College will be: Emilio "Chile" Yachan, Alton Wilson, Joe Houston, Richard Isenhour, Avery Brock. Staff delegates will be Mr. E. S. King and Charles McAdams.

The National Assembly is the Town Meeting of the Student Christian Association Movement which meets every four years. There representatives of 914 YMCAs, YWCAs and SCAs will meet to determine program objectives and policies for the next three or four year period. The assembly will be held at the University of Kansas by two points.

The basic issues to be considered by the Assembly are in four categories: (1) What is the actual world situation in which we are living? (2) What is the relevance of Christian Faith in meeting this world situation? (3) Where should Christian Associations place major program emphasis in the next three years of 1947-50? and (4) What relationships should our movement have with other national and world student and youth organizations?

No Interruptions In Checks For Veterans

Many veterans have inquired recently as to whether or not their subsistence payments from the Veterans Administration will be interrupted for the Christmas holidays. E. S. Simpson, training officer with the VA on the campus, states that veterans attending State College should receive these payments throughout the school year—from the date of registration until June 6, 1947—without interruption.

Veterans that contemplate marriage during the holidays are reminded that they will not be eligible for increased subsistence until after the VA is notified. The increased amount is effective only from the date this notification is received by VA.

Mr. J. M. "Jim" Darby, Shelby, N. C., has recently been assigned by the VA to work as a training officer with veterans on the campus. Jim is a veteran of War II, and he served several months in the European Theater. Prior to the war he was engaged in vocational education work as an instructor in Belmont and Shelby, N. C.

22 Colleges Represented In Annual Student Legislature

Interesting Bills Passed By Assembly

"Mr. Speaker, Point of Personal Privilege! Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question." "Mr. President, I request the privilege of the floor for our distinguished guest..." Such was the order of business down at the State Capitol Friday and Saturday when 200 students from twenty-two colleges from all over North Carolina came to the Tenth North Carolina Student Legislature.

State College was ably represented by some of the most outstanding student leaders on the campus, all of whom took an active part in the discussions and parliamentary tangles. Senators Jack Fiesler, and Phil Upchurch represented State over in the upper house, while O. Max Gardner, Jr., Doug House, Dick Duncan, Tommy Garrison, Stan Swartz, John Pharr, Ernest Colton, Alfred Deane and Leroy Roper put up a good front in the House. "Dick" Fowler of State was Senate parliamentarian and he not only prosecuted to the limits of the law all persons accused of crime in this country but defended with equal vigor the rights and privileges of all its citizens.

Sheppard Leads Prayer The first session steamed out under way with an opening prayer by the Rev. Lee C. Sheppard of Tenth Memorial Baptist Church, after which Max Gardner introduced Secretary of State Thad Eure. Max not only complimented Mr. Eure on his sartorial qualifications, which Max said made "him quite popular with the women of the (Continued on Page 4)

Bob Dorsen Heads Forestry Officers

Bob Dorsen, senior from Miami, Fla., was elected president of the Forestry Club to serve for the next two terms at the meeting Tuesday night. Dorsen served as program chairman for the fall term and edited the Slats and Edgings, a "pop sheet" published by the Forestry Club twice each term. R. C. "Whitey" Boyette, junior from Clayton, is the new vice-president, replacing Dick Mahone. Bill Deaton, sophomore, who has been elected sergeant-at-arms for the past term was chosen secretary to replace J. Safley.

Fred West, junior from Burlington, was elected program chairman; Bob More, sophomore from Oxford, was elected social chairman; Paul West, sophomore, was elected publicity chairman; and Dick Welfare was elected sergeant-at-arms.

The next meeting of the Forestry Club will be on January 7.

Williams, Thornton Go to Chicago Meet

Woody Williams, engineering junior from Mt. Olive, and W. K. Thornton, Jr., junior in textiles from Richmond, Va., have been elected delegates to the American Conference of College Students to be held in Chicago, December 28-30. The election was held at the weekly meeting of the Student Council on December 5.

Junior Class Officers

Gator Bowl Tickets

The Athletic Office reported yesterday that the sale of tickets to the Gator Bowl game was brisk and that the first supply was almost gone. Students desiring tickets should get them today or place an order soon so that a new supply can be ordered from Jacksonville.

Pullman reservations are being taken at the Seaboard Station now. Reservations are not needed for the special day coaches leaving Raleigh New Year's Eve.

King Repeats Request For More Telephones

Edward S. King, general secretary of the YMCA, has recommended that nine more telephones be installed in State College. In a letter to Mr. Edwin A. Clement, district manager of the telephone company, Mr. King outlined the needs of eight dormitories and Trailwood.

First priority should be given to Trailwood, Mr. King stated. Another telephone in an outside booth should be placed near the second service house. Trailwood has one telephone, number 9488, but there are now 200 families in the community. After Trailwood, Mr. King gave his recommendations for dormitory telephones as follows:

Syme Hall, basement and three stories housing 440 men, has two telephones, needs one on the 3rd floor where 128 students live.

Becton Hall, three stories and basement, housing 340 students, has a telephone on the 1st and one on the 2nd floor, needs one on the 3rd floor where 102 students live.

Bagwell Hall, three stories, housing 380 students, has one telephone on the 1st floor and one on the 2nd, but needs one on the 3rd floor where 130 students live.

Alexander Hall, three stories housing 400 students, has a telephone on the 1st floor and one on the 2nd floor, but needs one on the 3rd floor where 136 students live.

Turlington Hall, three stories housing 400 students, has a telephone on the 1st floor and one on the 3rd floor where 136 students live.

Next come the following dormitories in point of need:

1. Berry Hall, basement and 3 stories, 43 rooms housing 100 students, has a telephone in the Social Room on the first floor, but needs one on the second floor.
2. Watauga Hall, three stories, 54 rooms housing 161 students, has one telephone on the 2nd floor, needs one on the first floor.
3. Fourth Dormitory, three stories, 23 rooms housing 46 students, has no telephone at all, needs one on the second floor.

Meredith Play Tonite

The Meredith College Little Theatre will present Barrie's popular four-act costume play, "Quality Street" in the Meredith College Auditorium tonight and tomorrow night at 8:00.

Catherine Hilderbrand, head of the dramatics department, is director. The leading roles are played by Nancy Jackson (as "Phoebe Throssell") and W. S. Bull from State College (as "Valentine Brown"). Claude Kidd, John Kidd, John Faulk, and Gabe Holmes, all from State College, are also in the play. Admission is fifty cents.

Tau Beta Pi, Engineering Honor Frat, Initiates 16

The Alpha Chapter of Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honor fraternity, announced this week the initiation of sixteen new members. The initiates are as follows:

John R. Armstrong, Jamestown, N. C.; Robert E. Brickhouse, Warrenton, N. C.; Harry P. Clapp, Greensboro, N. C.; Richard Dammann, Amityville, N. Y.; Henry Gilmore, Fairhaven, Mass.; Aubrey M. Kirby, Durham, N. C.; Harrell J. Lewis, Louisville, N. C.; Robert A. McAllister, Indianapolis, Ind.; Merlin A. Meares, Chabourn, N. C.; Herbert C. Miller, Mooresville, N. C.; Nick C. Pappas, Laurinburg, N. C.; Joseph M. Reeves, Clayton, N. C.; James C. Payne, Raleigh, N. C.; Everett G. Spurling, Fallston, N. C.; Francis M. Steele, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Edward O. Travis, Scotland, N. C.

Special Train Leaves Here New Year's Eve

So you want to go to the 'Gator Bowl' and watch State win over Oklahoma: well, you'd better see about joining the "CARAVAN."

The CARAVAN will leave Raleigh via special train on New Year's Eve and will arrive in Jacksonville the following morning. This train starts back to Raleigh on the morning after the game. The Redcoat Band, 60 strong and 10 cheerleaders will lead the CARAVAN down. Advance estimates indicates that over a thousand students, alumni, and friends will make the trip.

Tentative plans call for a banquet and dance to be held in Jacksonville following the game. No arrangements for housing facilities have been made.

The Jacksonville Alumni Association will hold open house on the Roof Garden of the Mayflower Hotel. All alumni are invited. All the Southern State Alumni Clubs have been notified and the coaches and members of the team will be present. Col. Harrelson will be a guest at this gathering. Refreshments will be served and pictures of previous State football games will be shown.

Transportation arrangements can be made by calling the Seaboard Railway.

Delta Sigma Phi Holds Banquet Here

by Marshall H. Pinnis

Rho Chapter of Delta Sigma Phi celebrated the forty-seventh anniversary of the founding of its national organization with its Annual Founder's Day Banquet at the Raleigh Woman's Club on Dec. 7, 1946. Delta Sigma Phi was organized at the College of the City of New York on Dec. 10, 1899. All active chapters, both student and alumni, observe this date of the founding of their mother chapter with either a banquet or the traditional "Sailors' Ball." Rho was forced, however, to hold its celebration three days early due to conflict with examinations.

Welcomes Alumni

Between courses of the turkey dinner Chapter President Alton Wilson welcomed the alumni and visitors; W. Z. Betts, (Rho '18), responded to the welcome for the alumni, while Miss Inez Simmons, who was escorted by Chapter Vice-President Ben Knott, responded for the alidies. H. K. Witherspoon (Rho, '15) of Raleigh, a charter member of Rho Chapter and Chapter advisor for a number of years, rendered a historical sketch of Gamma Alpha Nu Gamma, known as "The Gang," which was a local social brotherhood. "The Gang" was the nucleus of the present chapter, becoming affiliated with the national fraternal organization of May 20, 1915.

Singing of Christmas carols and dancing followed the banquet and lasted until midnight.

Several group pictures were made during the evening of the sixty brothers and guests who attended; some of these shots will be printed in the Carnation, the official publication of Delta Sigma Phi.

Merry Christmas !!!

With this issue, THE TECHNICIAN brings to a close its publications for the year 1946. This fall term of school has seen a lot of news made on the campus of North Carolina State College, by way of the Wolfpack football team, the large enrollment, Homecoming and many other events. Classes have ceased and exams begun. In the near future lies the best part of the school year to many of us, the Christmas holidays. This year will probably bring about the reunion of a great many families for the first time since before the war.

The staff of THE TECHNICIAN would like to take this opportunity of wishing the students, the faculty and the clerical staff of the college the merriest of all Christmases and happiest of New Years, and hope for an even better year in 1947.

Progress

The Tenth North Carolina Student Legislative Assembly which met last week is now history. It broke a 47 year precedent for Negroes had not sat in the legislative halls of the Capitol since 1899. This inter-racial assembly of college students was marked for its judicious action on many vital state issues.

However, let us go back a couple of generations to a legislature which sat as the governing body of the State of South Carolina in the early 1870's. In that legislature in which the whites were outnumbered by Negroes 88 to 67, there sat 155 persons, of which only 22 could read or write. A contrast between that legislature in South Carolina and the Student Assembly yields much for the State to carefully study. Not only could all of the students read and write, but also much of them were students of advanced standing in the colleges of the State. Further, particular note should be taken of the fact that the Negro delegates commanded the attention and respect of the whole student group when they spoke. They rendered valuable additions to the debates and earned the respect of all the students present. Their measures were carefully planned, well thought out and recognized the real issues to be faced. Their speaking and careful observance of parliamentary practice demonstrated that these Negroes have made much progress. They have reflected credit not only on their race but also on the State of North Carolina where they are receiving their college training.

The State should and can be justly proud of its young legislators who showed their interest in good government and their determination to understand how laws are passed in the North Carolina's General Assembly.

It will probably be as long as it has been before Negroes will be elected again to the General Assembly of North Carolina, but long before that time the State will be repaid for its efforts to educate the Negroes of the State. The resulting improvement in health, living standards, and education for members of their race will go a long way towards making and keeping North Carolina the most progressive State in the South!

L. M. and I. H.

Is Student Assembly Significant?

Is the Student Legislature a true criterion of student thought in North Carolina? After attending the 1946 Assembly last weekend, we have come to some conclusions concerning the Legislature which indicate a negative answer.

We believe that the assembly was not representative of North Carolina thought and that the interracial success of the meeting is not truly indicative of what can be accomplished among races in North Carolina. We do not overlook the beautiful harmony of the interracial meet nor do we begrudge our out-of-state friends their participation in our assembly; but we do know that the attending students, both colored and white, were predominantly from the northern states where segregation is not practised.

This fact is to be heavily considered in determining the real value of the assembly to this state. This fact should startle the people of North Carolina into realizing that our college students are not interested in our state government enough to fight for a seat in the Student Legislature. Rather we sit back and let "furriners" decide what our student opinion is and let them receive the training and practice in government which we North Carolina citizens need so desperately. The Student Legislative Council should make the seats of the House and Senate open to citizen students of North Carolina only with out-of-staters cordially invited as guests and observers.

Congratulations to Leon Mann, Ira Helms, and P. H. McDonald for staging a successful interracial Assembly. May next year's Student Legislature be even more significant.

Junior Dance

To the Junior Class:

Do you want to have your Junior-Senior Dance be one of the important social occasions of the year? Then lend an ear and a helping hand to your class officers.

The dance committee will be appointed by the class president, Dave Sewell, at the beginning of the winter term. They will work out definite arrangements for the dance in conjunction with the ring committee and Deans Cloyd and Lefort. Your girl only puts a class ring on your finger once in your lifetime so let's have all the fun we can for this once. Here is what each of you, as individuals, must do if the dance is to be made possible:

Watch for an announcement in THE TECHNICIAN for a Junior class meeting at the beginning of the winter quarter. At this meeting the budget for the dance will be submitted for your approval. The present budget calls for $5.00 in dues from each Junior and, in order to have a dance, you must accept this budget.

Pending your action, the dance will be held during the spring term at an appropriate date which will be announced in THE TECHNICIAN.

JOHN BOYTER, Secretary.

his neck due to the concrete steps just below.

If under the conditions that are mentioned above, a fire should break out, by somebody dropping a match or a lighted cigarette, or anything that can start a fire for that matter, into the trashbin it would no doubt start a pretty little fire in this old dried-out building. If this should happen at night, the question would arise, what to do? There is no fireapparatus of any kind at disposal, no fire alarm and no telephone in the building.

As the nearest telephone is in the YMCA building, the result would be that one would at first have to get a nickel, and then run down there. Another alternative would be to run over to the Power-house and report the fire there.

As anyone can easily see, both these alternatives are not at all satisfactory.

We would therefore like to bring this dangerous condition up for consideration by the right authority, and also make all the people on the campus realize that the fire fighting equipment might be defective in other places, too.

We hope, and expect that the dangerous condition prevailing in Fourth Dormitory will be remedied without delay.

Fire Hazard Here

To the editor of THE TECHNICIAN: There are many things that are not up to the standard of a perfect campus here at State. Some of these shortcomings can readily be blamed on the overcrowding of students at the present time. On the other hand, there are things that do not come under this category. The case we want to bring up for attention is the lack of equipment in the dormitories for use in case of fire. The hazard run is today still greater than it could have been at any time before, due to the fact that there are so many more students living in these buildings.

Some of the dormitories may be considered fire resistant, although the fire down in Atlanta recently proves that might not always be any guarantee. Most of the dormitories do have several stairways also, however, this is not the case in Fourth Dormitory.

Let us look into the conditions here: Fourth Dormitory has only one stairway, running in the center of the building.

On first floor, underneath this stairway, which incidentally is a wooden one, is a big bin for waste-paper and other trash.

There are still parts left of a fire-escape on the outside of the building, which can be reached from one of the hall windows on each floor, but this escape is worth just about nothing. It is broken off at about the level of second floor, and anyone that might try to jump off it from there would beyond doubt risk

Technician Critic

A gent whom we'd always thought quite rational was seen the other day butting his head against the columns at the front of Pullen Hall. Wide-eyed, we inquired the reason.

"No paper towels in the washrooms! THE TECHNICIAN can only print six pages! There's a paper shortage! he cried, foaming slightly at the mouth. "And still they waste paper like this!" he muttered, shoving a "Wataugan" under our nose.

We coughed slightly, and, moving the magazine as far from the nose as possible, decided to take a look. What we found:

Editorial: "For the first time in over three years, we present the 'Wataugan'. The Magazine For College Men."

Danger Column: "Crudities and obscenities will not be printed." If crudities by the staff were excluded, the magazine would consist of blank pages.

Trailwood Talks

By EDWARD G. ROBINSON

Trailwood had its quarterly town meeting Monday night and discussed the developments thus far on the cooperative store that is now being planned.

It seems that most of the residents in Trailwood are waiting till the store gets into operation before buying a share. For you people there is an extra fee.

The shares for the cooperative store cost fifteen dollars, and must be bought on or before January 10. Any resident desiring to buy a share after January 10 will have to wait three months and pay twenty-five dollars for a share. Ten dollars of this fee will not be refunded.

It will cost twenty-five hundred dollars to open the cooperative store in Trailwood and its up to every citizen to buy a share so we can get the store opened at the earliest possible date. There will be a membership card given every stock holder and only a stock holder with his membership card will be permitted to purchase articles in the store. If any stock holder is caught buying articles for anyone than himself he will be asked for his membership card and his fifteen dollars will be refunded.

The cooperative store in Trailwood is being established for the good of the citizens and its up to you people to get behind your Mayor and help him put this store over. All of you people in Trailwood know how much higher the store we now have is charging us compared to the prices of the surrounding stores, so buy your share as soon as possible.

Want an Easy Job?

THE TECHNICIAN circulation staff is looking for men who have time on Friday to help deliver THE TECHNICIAN to dorms, frats, and Trailwood. About half-an-hour of your time will help. Leave name and address at TECHNICIAN office in Tompkins hall.

Dillon's Dallyings

And so another school term ends—but for us, it's the final term. And as we write this final column, our memory wanders back over the past four years, and year by year, we can see where State College has made definite strides towards making a better name for itself in the athletic world.

It used to be that the wins for the Wolfpack football team were few and far between—sure, the 'Pack was always scrapping, and would generally give Carolina and Duke a hard battle—but, repeating, the wins were few and far between. And the same goes for basketball, baseball, and other sports.

But during the past year—1946—State College has gained more prominence on the athletic field than it has during its entire existence, and it's really been a pleasure to have been able to write of State's glorious victories for this school paper.

Last spring, State's baseball team, coached by Vic Sorrell, won its first State championship in nearly twenty years, and defeated Carolina twice in Chapel Hill for the first time since baseball originated at the two units of the Greater University; and this fall, our football team shares the state title with Carolina, having licked both Duke and Wake Forest. The 'Pack hadn't licked Duke since 1932, and they hadn't won over the Deacons since 1938.

And the present edition of the Red Terrors—their record is yet to be seen. But if last Tuesday night's 75-40 win over the powerful Hanes Hosiery Mill outfit is any indication of what we can expect from them, these basketball boys will be a mighty hard team for anyone to lick. We said it several weeks ago, and we shall say it again—the 1946-47 Red Terrors will be the team to beat to win the Southern Conference championship.

And State College will be proud of its other athletic teams, also. There's Al Crawford wrestling, Tom Hines on track, Willis Casey on swimming—all outstanding members of their particular field.

Yes, State College is making a real name for itself in the athletic world.

But there is one—and only one thing—that is holding State College back. It has been holding State College back since 1938 with the construction of the Greater University, when the officials moved all of the physical education to Carolina, other than basic P. E. given to all freshmen and sophomores.

In order to have good athletic teams, a school must have good athletes—and most good athletes want to stay in athletics after they finish school. State has lost and is losing many outstanding stars because there is no physical education major offered at this institution. Did you know that every other State institution in the country, other than N. C. State, has a physical education major to offer?

We have the teachers and the facilities here to operate a full time physical education major for young men who desire to enter the coaching profession or some other phase of athletics.

We are pleased to say that definite strides are being made towards having the aforementioned course here, but the 100 per cent support of State students and alumni are needed before such a proposal may be realized.

Best of luck to Buzz, and to all—a goodbye!

Athletic Council To Pay Way of Band and Cheer Squad to Bowl

The Athletic Council of State College held its regular December meeting here last Tuesday afternoon with Chairman H. A. Fisher, Head of the Math Department and President of the Southern Conference, presiding. During the three-hour deliberation many important issues were discussed, notably the coming Gator Bowl game with the University of Oklahoma.

After hearing Coach Feathers express his thanks to the alumni and "especially the student body" for their fine support of the team this year, the council unanimously voted in favor of sending the famed Red Coat Band, led by Bill Parks of Lenoir, and our cheering squad, led by "Bouncing" Bruce Beaman of Greensboro, to the Gator Bowl game with expenses paid.

Parks and Beaman were joyous over the action of the council and expressed the feeling that members of their organizations deserved the trip and that they would make a good showing for N. C. State in Florida.

New Stadium Director of Interscholastic Athletics, Mr. J. L. Von Glahn, stated that grading would begin soon on the new baseball stadium to be built west of the track stadium. Plans for new tennis courts were also initiated and are to be built next to the new ball field.

Von Glahn further stated that the rooms under the stadium would be ready to occupy by January. It is expected that members of the college athletic teams will get first preference on these rooms.

After a long discussion on the seating arrangements for basketball games, the Athletic Council voted to authorize the Athletic Office to set up a ticket system in which students are to be given first preference in seating with the faculty receiving first choice of any seats not taken by students. PIKA and Gold Lead at End of Fall Term in Intramural Race

The Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity and Gold Dormitory are leading in their respective brackets in the end of the fall intramural season, as announced by Professor Johnny Miller, director of the college's intramural program.

The PIKA's, with a sum total of 448 1/2 points lead the fraternities, an the SPE's, with 367, are second. The leaders won swimming, shared the wrestling title with the Sigma Chi's, and placed second in tennis and football. Meanwhile, the current runner up SPE entrant won both football and tennis, but failed to place in either of the other two events.

Second place in swimming was won by the Sigma Nu's, and there was a four way tie for second in wrestling between the Kappa Alpha's, Kappa Sigma's, Sigma Pi's, and the Sigma Nu's. Meanwhile in the dormitory bracket, the Gold dorm entrant is leading the other dorms in total points with 325 1/2, followed by South Watauga with 271 1/2. Gold captured the football championship and shared the wrestling title with South Watauga. 3rd Syms took first place in swimming, and 2nd Turlington came in second. The tennis singles was won by Berry, 3rd Bagwell was runner-up in the dorm football race.

Next term, the intramural program will consist of basketball, handball, and boxing.

Here are the complete totals for both fraternities and dormitories.

Dick Dickey, Warren Cartier Lead State Attack; Hampton Hot

By LONNIE WEATHERS State's red hot Terrors, on the rebound from a defeat at the hands of Cherry Point's Marines, Tuesday night exploded a fiery onslaught in Frank Thompson Gymnasium and when the smoke had cleared, a star-studded aggregation representing Hanes Hosiery from Winston-Salem found themselves on the short end of a 75-40 score.

Dick Dickey continued to set the pace for Coach Everett Case's flashy freshmen as they mounted their season total to a fantastic 241 points in their four games to date. Dickey gathered 18 points in the Tuesday evening marathon with Warren Cartier taking runner-up honors with 13 in State's last effort before they swing West following the conclusion of exams now in progress here.

Southern Court Immortals Led Knitters Victims of the wrath of the spirited State five were such southern court stars as Cedric Loftis, former leader of Duke's Blue Devils and Hugh Hampton, elongated center who teamed with Bones McKinney at Fort Bragg to murder service teams ever to take the floor for the West Raleigh school. Hampton collected 16 of the Knitters 40 points and Greer tallied 10.

After Cedric Loftis matched Negley's birdie with a set shot from the far court, the same Robert Negley, Lawrence Ind., sent State ahead with a follow-up shot that launched a scoring spree for State which was never matched by the highly-touted boys from Winston. Averaging more than a point and one-half per minute, the Red Terrors hit the hoop from every angle of the floor to amass the highest total scored against Hanes this season and undoubtedly the highest that will be scored against what is regarded as one of the strongest semi-pro teams in the South.

Leo Katkaver emerged again as the floor leader for State, although no one particular player could claim individual honors. The entire team performed creditably and the 4000 students on hand departed with visions of a red and white champion come tournament time again. Tonight's score gave conclusive evidence that State will be hard to deal with in the interstate tussle. Duke and Carolina managed only one-point victories over the Knitters.

The next test for the Red Terrors will be against Tulane University, Dec. 20, at Indianapolis, Ind.

Legion Post Backs Teachers' Pay Raise

North Carolina State College Post No. 293 of the American Legion has endorsed the resolution of the South Piedmont District Association of the North Carolina Education Association on increases in salary for North Carolina teachers, William E. Parks of Lenoir, commander of the post, announced yesterday.

The post's decision to back the South Piedmont Resolution in preference to the 20 per cent salary raise advocated by the NCEA followed a discussion of the two proposals by Professor W. N. Hicks, head of the Department of Religion and Ethics at State College, at a recent meeting of the post, Parks said.

The 40 per cent salary increase schedule backed by the South Piedmont District has caused a widening rift in NCEA ranks in the past few weeks. The schedule gives a teacher with one year's experience approximately $1,560 graduating upward to approximately $3,000 for teachers with 13 or more years of experience, Professor Hicks pointed out.

The Post passed the following resolution:

"Resolved: First, that the N. C. State College Post No. 293 of the American Legion adopt the resolution passed by the South Piedmont District Teachers Association in Charlotte on October 18 relative to salaries of teachers and other school personnel.

"Second, that a copy of the South Piedmont Resolution and a copy of this resolution be sent to the State Board of Education and to the Advisory Budget Commission."

13 Initiated Into Ag Chemists Society

The Society of Agricultural Chemists of State College, which recently became active after three years of inactivity because of the war, initiated thirteen new members in a simple but very impressive ceremony at 7:00 last Thursday night.

The following persons took the oath of the Society: Ira F. Antin, Bronx, N. Y.; Guy B. Baird, Newland; Hartley M. Boxley, Red Springs; E. W. Brower, Ivanhoe; Arthur Cacilla, New Bedford, Mass.; Eugene Glock, Brooklyn, N. Y.; J. F. Lindley, Raleigh; William G. Smart, Shelby; Maxine Smith, Raleigh; Ray Parn, Cliffside, N. J.; L. R. Roper, Franklin; R. T. Teague, Jr., Newland; and Myrtle Rhomas, Jonesboro. Mr. M. K. Berkut welcomed the new members into the society.

The newly elected officers of the Society of Agricultural Chemists are president, Ray Parn; vice-president, Maxine Smith; and secretary and treasurer, Eugene Glock.

Purpose is Fellowship
The purpose of the chapter is to promote a strong feeling of fellowship among its members and to create a close professional standing and fellowship between its members and the faculty at large. The society binds its members into a unified body for the promotion of Agricultural Chemistry and encourages a high scholastic standing and an interest in campus activities among its members.

The first meeting for the next term will be held on January 9, 1947, at 7:00 p.m. in room 101, Withers Hall. All persons interested in biological chemistry, and undergraduate and graduate students

Naval Reserve Unit Is Established Here

The Naval Reserve Unit has been established and activated in Raleigh with Lieutenant Commander Godfrey Cheshire, Jr., USNR, as commanding officer. Regular drills are scheduled every Monday night at 7:30; duration of drills approximately two hours.

The Organized Reserve offers its members many advantages, such as, (1) Exemption from all Selective Service Regulations, (2) time in the Reserve on inactive duty accrues longevity ("fogies"), (3) retention of highest war-time rating and opportunity for advancement, (4) drill pay, one day's base pay for each drill attended, (5) two-week training cruise once a year with full pay and allowances (This cruise is voluntary).

An armory is to be built in Raleigh, fully equipped with the latest Navy equipment. Negotiations are under way for procuring a building site. This armory will contain shops of all kinds, electrical, machine, etc., radio station, lounge, to mention a few of the features of the proposed structure.

Any interested veteran may contact Lieutenant Commander J. H. Ward, District Representative for Naval Reserve, at 424 1/2 Fayetteville Street, USO Club Building, for full information.

taking Agricultural Chemistry or any related courses are invited to attend.

Assembly operates. "Many of our own representatives don't know when the Assembly is going to meet." Mr. Eue complimented the students on their interest in government and told how he had cooperated through the years in an effort to make training in governmental practices available to the students in North Carolina through the Student Legislature.

Harrelson Speaks
Bill Daniels, of State College introduced Chancellor J. W. Harrelson who expressed his continued interest in the meeting. Col. Harrelson said "that many of the things you will discuss will be of great value to the people of North Carolina. It is good to see young people interested in social, economic and political changes."

Bob Morrison, and Don Shropshire of Carolina were elected President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House. Other officers included: Doug House, Speaker Pro Tempore, E. M. Brazwell, House reading clerk, Cladius Blackett, acting recording clerk, Waller Stewart, House Parliamentarian, Eunice Tucker, President pro-tempore, and A. L. Boyd, Senate reading clerk.

Liquor Control
The most interesting bills which came up were: Liquor control presented by Atlantic Christian College. The bill would refer the problem to a governmental board with the idea of having a state referendum in an attempt to have the people of the state decide whether they want a wet-dry state or a wet state. State College's liquor bill which would legalize the manufacture of liquor in North Carolina also passed.

Another interesting bill was the Domestic Relations bill presented by Dick Duncan of State. The resolution provided for marriage counseling services together with Domestic Relations Courts to solve family troubles. The resolution was amended in many places but passed in a modified form. The four-year medical college bill presented by A & T College of Greensboro caused quite a stir. It finally passed with an amendment to provide two four year medical colleges one for Negroes and one for whites.

Editor Ruled Against
Some interesting sidelights: Upholding of Jack Fisher's personal privilege stand that his character had been damaged by the remark from a Carolina lady Senator that the bill he was presenting was absurd. The chair ruled against our Editor but the Parliamentarian and the rest of the Senate upheld his character.

The neat parliamentary maneuvering of Doug House and Max Gardner in the House was something to behold.

Some girl confided to another State student that she was "so happy whenever that little fellow with the glasses (Dick Duncan) stood up and protested about the points of order."

When official registration lists were released, the long laboring people who had registered the throughs concluded with the statement "that this did not include observers, faculty advisors, interested people and newspaper photographers."

The "personal politikin" that was continually going on in various nooks of the capitol building; no doubt many bills and people were passed by this method.

... And finally, the ten observers that W. C. sent down!
